The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 10 years ago. They have become intensely popular. They sell on their own merits:

Imperial Bourbon, Sch Ward, 1888, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1880, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.

N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers.
A. A. ADAM.
Telephone call 34-12. [illegible]

IF YOU WANT TO FILL YOUR GOOD advertise them in THE BULLETIN.

REAL ESTATE.

TO RENT.
Tenement of 5 Rooms. Hot and cold water. Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. 257 West Main street. [illegible] aug9d E. R. [illegible]

TO RENT.
ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Room suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug8d

TO RENT.
A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS each with all the modern improvements, on Boswell Ave., of two rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 8 Water St. may16d

TO RENT.
Tenement 112 River Avenue.
apr19d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.
A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, 7 rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 22 Grove street, or inquire of E. M. BREWSTER, 65 Water Street. apr6d

TO RENT.
Three Large Rooms in the Bill Block. Possession immediately. Apply to may17WTh S E. E. THOMPSON.

TO RENT.
The Large Store with fine Cellar
in the Rockwell Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Service & G'eason. Apply to apr6d GEORGE D. COIT.

FOR SALE.

A GOOD PAYING AND WELL ESTABLISHED PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY in a good location in town of Colchester I will sell at a great sacrifice. Inquire of jy27d A. S. LUNTS, Colchester, Conn.

FOR SALE.
A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons, also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.
Horseshoeing in all its Branches.
—11—13—15 Chestnut Street.—
1yMaw

TO MANUFACTURERS!
A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines cheapness and efficiency, WEEK'S ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest pipe and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn., Inventor and Manufacturer. nov16d

SUMMER TRAVEL.

For New London & Ocean Beach.
THE STEAMER GYPSY,
Capt. Mathews, will make her first trip to above points, TOMORROW, (SATURDAY) AFTERNOON, leaving here at 3 o'clock, and thereafter will make two trips daily, at 8.30 a. m., and 3 p. m., including Sundays. The Gypsy will touch at all available points on the river for passengers, if signaled.
Fare round trip, 50 Cents.
1y28d PALMER SMITH, Agent.

New London Steamboat Co.
1893—SEASON—1893.
COMMENCING
SATURDAY, July 1st,
—THE—
STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND
Will make daily trips (Sundays excepted) between Norwich, Montville, New London, Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island. Leaving Norwich 8.15 a. m., Montville 8.45, New London 9.45, touching at Mystic Island and Watch Hill, arriving at Block Island 12.45 p. m.
Returning, leave Block Island at 2 p. m. Watch Hill [illegible] touching New [illegible] Norwich 6.15.
D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, G. P. A.
[illegible]

Steamer Ella.
SEASON OF 1893.
— ON —
Friday, June 23
And during the season the Steamer Ella will make daily excursions to the above resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.30, Ft. Griswold House 9.50, Mystic Island 10.30, arriving at Watch Hill about 11.15. Returning, leave Watch Hill at 2.45 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 4.45, arriving about 6.
Special Rates to Excursion Parties.
Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.
Comstock's Wharf on signal.
JAMES WALKER, Manager, Norwich Ct.
[illegible]

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION
Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices.
Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.
No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.
[illegible] 60 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD,
DENTIST,
Over Boston Store, opp. Wauregan House. Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. nov29d

DR. J. H. ELDRED,
DENTIST.
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, Ether or Cocaine administered.
OFFICE—214 Main Street,
Trumans Block Franklin Square. Residence 11 BROADWAY. [illegible]

ARCHITECTS.

C. H. PRESTON,
Architect, - - - - Central Building.
Telephone 144-3, Norwich, Conn.
Specialist on modern construction and strength of materials. mar6d

JAMES A. HISCOX,
ARCHITECT.
161 Main Street, Rooms 3 and 5. [illegible]

FINE BLANK, COMMERCIAL and MANUFACTURERS' PRINTING at this office.

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES
—OF—
DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.

As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles C. Bliss, 126 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, the entire stock of goods,
CONSISTING OF
Diamond Jewelry,
Gold and Silver Watches,
Sterling Silver Ware,
Gold Chains,
Brooches,
Rings,
French Black Marble Clocks,
French Onyx Clocks,
American Clocks,
Silver Plated Ware,
Pocket Books,
Fancy Goods,
Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.
[illegible] JOHN BLISS, Administrator.

[illegible]

BLANK BOOKS made to order. Paper ruled to any pattern. [illegible]
Bound from 1 to 100,000.
MAGAZINES BOUND
In any style of binding. Old books rebound. Back Nos. Furnished to complete volumes at low prices.
JOSEPH BRADFORD Practical Bookbinder,
Bulletin Building, up stairs, Norwich [illegible]

COWAN, the Bookbinder
will after this date be found on the ground floor,
108 Broadway.

TRAVELERS DIRECTORY.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD, NEW LONDON DIVISION.
Change of time.
Commencing MONDAY, June [illegible]
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NEW LONDON AS FOLLOWS:
[illegible] a. m., Norwich [illegible] a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Palmer, Springfield, Ware, [illegible], Brattleboro, St. Johnsbury, Burlington, Montreal, Ogdensburg, and intermediate stations.
[illegible] a. m., Norwich [illegible] for Brattleboro connecting at Willimantic for Boston, Hartford, [illegible], Middletown, New Haven, New York; at Palmer with Boston and Albany R. R. for Springfield, [illegible], and Albany, and for points west; also the Ware and [illegible], and at Brattleboro [illegible], Express, for St. Albans, Montreal, and principal intermediate points. Also to points west via Grand Trunk R. R.
[illegible] a. m., Norwich [illegible] a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, [illegible], Middletown, Colchester, etc.
12.[illegible] p. m., connecting from Providence, Boston, and intermediate stations.
1.[illegible] p. m., connecting with express from Boston, Providence, New York and New Haven, at Norwich with Norwich & Worcester Railroad.
[illegible]
[illegible] p. m., Norwich [illegible] p. m., connecting at Willimantic for Hartford, and at Palmer for Springfield, Albany and the west.
[illegible] p. m., Norwich [illegible], for Brattleboro connecting with train leaving New York at [illegible] p. m., and with N. Y., P. & B. R. R. from Providence and way stations, also Steamer for Block Island from Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island, and connecting at Willimantic for Hartford and Boston, Putnam, Boston and Providence; also for Colchester, Middletown, New Haven and New York, and at Palmer with Boston & Albany R. R., for Springfield, Albany and the west, and at Brattleboro [illegible] express for St. Albans, Montreal and [illegible], reaching Montreal and [illegible] points in Vermont the same evening.
[illegible] p. m. for Norwich. This train connects with [illegible] express from New York.
8.15 d. m. (Sundays only) connecting with express train from New York and [illegible].
GOING SOUTH.
Passenger trains LEAVE NORWICH as follows:
[illegible] a. m., connecting for Stonington, Providence, New Haven and New York.
[illegible] a. m., for New London, Stonington and Providence and Boston. New Haven and New York, connecting with steamer Block Island for Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island.
10.[illegible] a. m., for New London, New Haven, New York, Providence and Boston.
10.[illegible] a. m., for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.
[illegible] p. m., for New London, New Haven and New York.
[illegible] p. m., for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.
[illegible] p. m., for New London, connecting with Shore Line express reaching New York [illegible] p. m., with express train for Providence and Boston, and accommodation train [illegible] Westerly and intermediate stations.
[illegible] p. m., for New London and for New York, by boat from New London.
[illegible] p. m., for New London and for New York via boat from New London.
7.00 p. m. (Sundays only) connecting with express train for New York and Boston.
[illegible] D. MACKENZIE [illegible]

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.
NORWICH & WORCESTER DIVISION.
For Boston, Worcester, Providence, Hartford, Waterbury, Newburgh.
Commencing MONDAY, June 12, 1893
"Eastern" Time Standard.
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NORWICH UNION STATION.
6.10 a. m. (Mondays excepted.) Steamboat Express. Connects at Putnam for Boston, arrive Boston 9.05 a. m. At Worcester for all points north, Portland, Rochester, [illegible]
[illegible] a. m. Way Passenger Train. Connecting at Plainfield Junction for Providence, arrive Providence [illegible] a. m.; at Putnam for Boston arriving at [illegible] a. m.; at Putnam for Willimantic and Hartford, arrive Hartford 12.15 p. m. At Worcester for Boston, Springfield and intermediate stations, Albany and the west.
[illegible] a. m., connecting at Putnam for Boston (arrive at 1.20 p. m.). At Plainfield for Providence (arrive at [illegible] p. m.). At Worcester with roads north, east and west. Webster with train for Southbridge.
[illegible] p. m. Way Passenger, connects at Putnam for Hartford and Boston, arrive Boston [illegible] p. m. At Webster for Southbridge. At Worcester with Boston & Albany Railroad, B. & M. R. R. and Fitchburg R. R.
[illegible] p. m., for Plainfield, Providence and intermediate stations, through car, arrive at Providence [illegible] p. m.
[illegible] p. m., Way Passenger. Connects at Plainfield for Providence and from Providence. A train leaves Providence at 7.10 a. m. and connects at Plainfield with train for [illegible], arriving at [illegible] a. m. (Leave Plainfield at [illegible] a. m.)
TRAINS GOING SOUTH LEAVE WORCESTER.
[illegible] a. m., Way Passenger. Connecting at Webster for Southbridge, at Putnam with train for Hartford, Waterbury and intermediate points and New York, at Plainfield for Providence.
[illegible] a. m., connects with trains from B. & M. R. R., F. R. R. and Boston and Albany R. R. at Webster for Southbridge. At Putnam with train to and from Boston (Take this train for Hartford, New York, Waterbury, Fishkill on Hudson and [illegible] Plainfield from Providence.)
12.[illegible] p. m., Way Passenger. Connects at Webster with train from Southbridge, at Putnam with 12 o'clock express from Boston for Willimantic, Hartford and New York. At Norwich for New London.
[illegible] p. m., Way Passenger. Connects at Webster for Southbridge at Putnam for Willimantic and Hartford, and with [illegible] express train from Boston.
[illegible] p. m., Steamboat Express for New York (via New London.) (Sundays excepted.) Connects with trains from B. & M. R. R. and Fitchburg R. R. This train leaves Norwich for New London at [illegible] p. m.
[illegible] p. m. Plainfield and Norwich, connecting at Plainfield with [illegible] p. m. train from Providence; arrive Norwich [illegible] p. m. through car.
W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass. Agt.
F. E. DEWEY, Supt.
Norwich, June 12, 1893. [illegible]

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your goods is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Lee & Osgood. [nov15tuthsw

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this Great Cough Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at Lee & Osgood's Drug Store. Large bottles 50c and $1.00. [1] nov15tuthsw Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Lee & Osgood, Druggists. [1] nov15tuthsw

FINANCIAL.

The Co-operative Building Bank

—HAS OVER—

$120,000.00

[illegible] Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A [illegible] IN THE STATE. C. J. WOLCOTT, Treas. [illegible] 12 Franklin St.

LIVERY STABLE.

EDMUND GEER,

Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.

Good Teams at Reasonable Prices.

363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge.

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable

[illegible]

A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

LIVERY STABLES.

[illegible]

MONEY

MAKES

THE

MARE

GO.

[illegible]

O. H. REYNOLDS,

SHETUCKET ST.

Rapidly Taking the Lead.

Convenient for Guests.

Indispensable to Clerks,

Profitable to Proprietors,

Indorsed by All Hotel Men

Where we have the benefit of advertising to reimburse us for our loss, we [illegible]

THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE HOTEL REGISTER

AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.

[illegible]	Ardiyola Canvas Cover	....	$1.
[illegible]	" Tight Back	....	[illegible]
[illegible]	" Tight "	....	[illegible]
[illegible]	" Spring "	....	[illegible]
[illegible]	" Spring "	....	[illegible]

Size of page, 8 x 11.

These are the cheapest and best registers on the market.

Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and also a reasonable profit, as they cannot expect to get such favorable rates as we give our hotel patrons.

Remember, it is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.

Correspondence or Interviews Solicited.

INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,

Manufacturers of Plain and Advertising Registers, Transfer Marketers, Letter Forwarding, Cash and Call Books of every description.

Norwich, - - Conn

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin office for printing of all kinds and get fine work at living prices.

THE DAMAGE DONE.

Echoes of the Severest Gale Known For Years.

GREATEST INJURY TO SHIPPING.

Trees and Crops Injured Near Portland—Fine Yacht Wrecked.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 25.—Reports from neighboring towns this morning state that the damage from yesterday's terrific storm was very severe, especially to crops. An immense amount of apples was destroyed. At Gorham, Gray, New Gloucester, Cumberland and Yarmouth many fruit trees were completely shorn of their products, and many more were uprooted.

When the storm cleared away this morning the schooner Julia Baker was thrashing around on the rocks at Cape Porpoise. The unlucky vessel finally struck in Staple's cove at 10.30. Captain Trunday of the life saving station put off in the station's boat and Rescued Four Persons On Board.

They were taken ashore and given food and shelter until the storm went down.

The captain of the Baker is David Harding of Bucksport. He said that his vessel left Boston Wednesday, bound for [illegible], with a cargo of 200 tons of brimstone in bags, the total value of which was about about $6000. He went as far east Seguin. Yesterday morning early he was struck by the heavy southeasterly gale, and not deeming it prudent to go on, came about and made for Portland.

When he got to the entrance of the harbor his vessel ran into one of those currents which set in shore around the cape, and his Vessel Was Driven on the Shore.

The Baker is a vessel of 102 tons, her dimensions being 85 feet long, 25 wide and 8 deep. She was built in 1850 at Boothbay, and hails from Bucksport.

In this city the damage was quite severe to shade trees, etc. The schooner Amy Wixon came flying into the harbor, with bulwarks stove in and her decks flooded. The schooner George L. F. Keene was not in a much better condition, and displayed broken bulwarks and rigging.

YACHTS WERE WRECKED.

Something of the Beautiful Boats the Great Storm Destroyed.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 25.—The yacht Onelta, wrecked at Black rock yesterday, belonged to Rear Admiral H. F. Crosby of the Riverside Yacht club, who is also a member of the Shelter Island club. She was jib and mainsail rigged, 50 feet overall, and 30 feet water line. She was built about three years ago, and cost $10,000. She was among the fastest boats in these waters, and defeated the Tigress in a race at Shelter Island Saturday. She is a total wreck.

J. M. Masury of New York, owner of the schooner yacht Neta, which is also ashore at Black Rock, says that he will try to get his yacht off tomorrow. His loss he says will be about $1000. The boat belongs to the Atlantic Yacht club. The sloop yacht Stella of the New York Yacht club is a total loss.

The sloop yacht Broadbill, owned by Captain William Lewis of this city, went ashore at the east end of the city yesterday and is a total loss. T. W. Pearsall's sloop yacht Citina went ashore at Black Rock and was wrecked.

TEN VESSELS ASHORE.

Much Damage to Shipping of Nova Scotia by the Great Gale.

LOCKPORT, N. S., Aug. 25.—Much destruction was done to shipping here by the recent heavy gales. Reports from Sand point and Jordan tell of large losses to fishermen. Ten vessels lying at anchor in the harbor here were driven ashore and will be total losses.

At Freeport the schooner Ulah and Union fell in with the schooner Vanity in the Bay of Fundy Tuesday. The Vanity was boarded and found deserted, her anchor and windlass gone. She is supposed to to have broken from her moorings somewhere during the gale. Her register shows that Captain Andrew Clancy had been in command. The vessel was towed into Freeport. She was in ballast.

Reports from the country districts around Charlottetown indicate that the storm was unusually severe. At Burnt Point a number of boats were wrecked and blown out to sea. Fruit and grain crops were badly damaged. The schooners Fanny Ann and Clara May, which left Pustico last Monday, have not yet been heard from.

ISOLATED NEWPORT.

Cut Off From Outside World—People Watched the Troubled Sea.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 25.—Newport was isolated from the outside world yesterday on account of the big storm. The big fleet of yachts in the harbor had hard work to hold on to their anchors, and it was necessary to house topmasts. Tennis and polo and many social festivities were postponed.

No New York mails or New York newspapers were received. The stock wires were in trouble, and the New York financiers were unable to hear the quotations in Wall and State streets.

Thousands visited the beach and cliffs to see the surf, which was magnificent. The spouting rock was at its best, and it sent volumes of spray and foam 100 feet skyward. A large excursion party arrived from Boston and vicinity, and the visitors saw the effects of the biggest storm for years.

Wrecked Seamen Picked Up.

BREAKWATER, Del., Aug. 25.—Pilot boat E. C. Knight reports picking up yesterday evening, seven miles east of Five Fathom bank, Assistant Engineer Stillwell and Seaman Charles Olsen of relief ship 37, which foundered Wednesday night. Stillwell saw one man drown. Nothing is known of the others.

Waves Swept Boston's Deck.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 25.—The schooner M. A. Baston, from the banks, had decks swept in yesterday's storm and lost four dories, anchors and 200 fathoms of cable and was otherwise damaged. She reports speaking the schooner Mary E. Chisholm leaking badly. The Baston supplied her with a dory.

Will Swim Five Miles.

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 25.—Miss Edith Lowrie, a wealthy New York city young lady, who is in Greenwich with her parents spending the summer has entered into a wager with friends to give an exhibition swim of five miles. Miss Lowrie is an expert and strong swimmer, but her ability to swim this distance has been questioned, hence the wager. The trial is expected to take place early next month.

Found Dead in His Barn.

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Mass., Aug. 25.—James Copeland of this town, who was more than 80 years old, was found dead in his barn yesterday afternoon. There were no bruises on his body or any other evidence that he came to his death by any than natural causes. Mr. Copeland was a prominent Odd Fellow, a member of Bethesda lodge of South Boston. He leaves three children.

PLAYED WITH DYNAMITE.

Boys Picked Up Cartridges and Thought It Would Be Fun to Light One.

AUGUSTA, Me., Aug. 25.—Henry Fitzgerald, the 15-year-old, and his 9-year old brother, sons of Patrick Fitzgerald, went out blackberrying yesterday afternoon. Their route to the field lay through the Mt Pleasant cemetery, near which they found several dynamite cartridges, which somebody had left lying around.

The boys picked them up, and a storm coming up, they ran to a shed near by for protection from the rain. While idly waiting, Henry thought it would be "fun" to light one of the cartridges. He acted upon the the thought with anything except a "funny" result. When the cloud of mud had cleared away it appeared that Henry had lost the ends of the thumb and first two fingers of his left hand, and had jagged holes torn in the third finger of the same hand and in the thumb and second finger of the right hand.

Doctors amputated the ragged ends on the left hand just above the second joints. Why the boy was not killed is a perfect miracle, as his face and clothes were covered with dirt and mud, and a large hole was torn in the ground at the scene of the explosion.

TWO YACHTS RACING.

But the Satanita Was Beating the Navahoe Quite Handily.

DARTMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 25.—The four big boats were entered for the regatta of the Royal Dart Yacht club here today, but owing to the death of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg the royalty boat Britannia was withdrawn and, as the Calluna came to grief soon after the start the contest was narrowed down to the Soper boat Satanita and the American boat Navahoe. Consequently the interest was very limited.

It is a 40-mile English channel course today, from a mark boat at this place to a mark boat five miles distant, four times around, and the start was made at 10 o'clock in a light northwesterly breeze, the yachts getting away in this order: Calluna, Satanita, Navahoe.

It was not very long before the Calluna broke down and withdrew and the Satanita forged ahead, so that at the end of the first round she was leading the Carrol boat by fully three minutes.

DIAZ WILL INTERFERE.

He Commands Fighting to Stop and Will Guarantee Fair Election.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Aug. 25.—A conflict occurred on Tuesday evening near Abasolo between 250 Carídinistas and a party of Calan men, resulting in the rout of the latter party and the killing of four of their number.

News has reached here that President Diaz has decided to actively interfere in the Coahuila political campaign. He has issued imperative orders, commanding both parties to disperse and return to their homes. He guarantees a fair election and protection in all their constitutional rights to further this object. A commission appointed by him, will arrive in Saltillo within a few days, to make a thorough investigation of the state of affairs, and with authority to take whatever measures are necessary to secure a fair election and preserve the peace.

M'KINLEY FOR PRESIDENT.

Chairman Reeder of Pennsylvania Thinks He Is Certain to Be Nominated.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—General Frank Reeder, chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican State committee reached town this afternoon and spoke to a reporter about the spirit of patriotism evinced by the Republican party in the present commercial trouble.

"Instead of making, [illegible] political capital out of the [illegible] incident to the Democratic victory," he said, "it has stood quietly by, lest if the truth were frankly spoke, greater disasters yet would follow. This purchasing clause," he said earnestly, "is a scapegoat, pure and simple. The facts are that Cleveland cannot control his 'wild horses,' and men of large affairs have no idea what will be the doings of the aggregation assembled at Washington. Men elected on the Chicago platform cannot consent to any kind of a protective tariff without confessing themselves liars and hypocrites. Especially manufacturers have nothing upon which to base their business opinions."

"Who are available for the Republican nomination?"

"This silver agitation may suddenly develop some strong man unlooked for at present," he said. "If this does not happen we look to McKinley. If elected by an ordinary majority he will be available. If McKinley carries Ohio by a phenomenal majority he is absolutely certain to be nominated for the presidency."

"Has Quay aspirations toward the White House?"

"I do not think such a thing entered his head. He is a Republican and a loyal one. Last year he worked hard in his own state and would have done all in his power to aid the national committee had he been requested. As a matter of fact, I know positively that he received no word of invitation to confer with 'the powers' until two weeks before the election. Then he went to New York and did what he could to stem the overwhelming current."

FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

Fittingly Observed by Maine Odd Fellows at Portland.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 25.—The Odd Fellows of Portland and vicinity are today celebrating the 50th anniversary of the founding of the order. This morning there was a procession in which all the city lodges took part, also lodges from Westbrook, Cape Elizabeth, Deering, Brunswick, Lisbon and representatives from many other lodges. The veteran Odd Fellows rode in carriages.

After the parade through the principal streets the Odd Fellows proceeded by steamer to Peak's island, where dinner was served. After dinner addresses were made by A. D. Smith and other members of the order, of local prominence. Tonight there was a promenade concert at city hall.

Body Horribly Mutilated.

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—John G. Abbott, aged 21, living at 75 Green street, was run over by a shifting engine this forenoon at Prison Point, Charlestown, and instantly killed. He attempted to get out of the way of an approaching train and ran directly in front of the shifting engine. His body was horribly mutilated.

All Ashore But One.

GREENPORT, L. I., Aug. 25.—The yachts of the Shelter Island Yacht club started on their annual cruise last Tuesday. It is reported that all the yachts excepting the Pigeon are ashore at Sag Harbor.

Liabilities Over a Million.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The Navarro Mill company of San Francisco filed a petition of insolvency yesterday. Liabilities over $1,000,000. The assets exceed this [illegible].

Frederick Emerson Brooks, the California poet, weighs 250 pounds. He has a face like the full moon, but it lights up marvelously when he begins to recite one of his quaint, droll and pathetic poems for a roomful of his friends. He is a native of New York state, but has lived in San Francisco for 17 years.

BRYANT HAS GONE.

Lila Kidder Left Reading at the Same Time.

GOSSIP SAYS THEY HAVE ELOPED.

Bryant Leaves Wife and Three Children and is Good Looking.

READING, Mass., Aug. 25.—The inhabitants of the quiet little town of Reading have a dainty bit of scandal—an elopement case—a married man and a pretty young lady figuring as the principals in the affair.

It seems that last Tuesday William G. Bryant, aged about 45, left his house on Main street, leaving word that he should not return. He has a wife and three children, the eldest being about 12 years of age. He has lived in Reading about a dozen years. He was formerly in the junk business, but for the past two years has been running excursion barges from Reading to different localities.

On the same day that Mr. Bryant departed, Lila Kidder, a prepossessing young woman, who also lived on Main street, left home, and neither have been heard from since. The only inference which the neighbors draw from the coincidence is That They Have Eloped.

Lila lived with her mother and they were what might be called neighbors of the Bryants. Their houses are situated on the south part of the town, near the [illegible].

Now that the couple have gone, there are people who allege that they have been seen together more or less, but not enough to warrant the suspicion that they intended to shake the dust of Reading quietly from their feet and travel in the same path together henceforth.

Mr. Bryant formerly did a good business in Reading, but the tide of fortune went against him somewhat and he got out of it, and then went to letting barges for Picnics and Excursions.

He is a good-looking man and has always borne an excellent reputation. The same can be said of the young woman who is alleged to have gone off with him. In what direction they have gone no one has the slightest idea.

Friends of both will look after them as much as possible but no systematic search has been started. Many believe that both will see the great folly of their step before long and that they will return.

The scandal is being discussed all over the town, but in such a quiet way that facts have been slow to come out but they can hardly be kept quiet any longer.

AGAINST HOME RULE.

Duke of Devonshire Gives Three Reasons For His Position.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—At a Unionist meeting at Olney, west riding of Yorkshire, yesterday, the Duke of Devonshire arraigned the government for attempting to pass the home rule bill, and said he would shortly be obliged to ask the house of lords to reject that measure for three reasons.

First, that the measure was irremediably bad in its principles and in its details; second, that the bill had not undergone the discussion which its importance demanded; third, that it was not known whether the principle and the details involved would commend themselves to the [illegible].

The duke added that the house of lords must refuse to pass the bill until it had been submitted to the calm and deliberate opinion of the nation.

Rubber Works Will Start Up.

FRANKLIN, Mass., Aug. 25.—The rubber works will start up next week, giving employment to from 150 to 200 men and women. The canning shops in the vicinity are also getting ready for fall work, and will probably begin operations next week or the week after. During the season several hundred hands are employed in these shops in Franklin, Medway and Norfolk.

Shoe Firm Assigns.

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 25.—Kellaham, Hughes and company, shoe manufacturers, Washington street, Lynn, have assigned. Liabilities, $7000.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The Auburn (Me.) Gazette has suspended publication.

Spain is taking strict precaution to guard against cholera.

Well, Dreyfus & Co. of Boston expect to pay all creditors in full.

There were four wrecks on the Atlantic coast, with a loss of 40 lives.

Five thousand people were made homeless by a fire at South Chicago.

A free trade campaign has been inaugurated in the maritime provinces.

Engineers are to make tests at the reservoir which burst at Portland, Me.

St. Mary's Episcopal church edifice at Barnstable, Mass., was consecrated.

The Columbia, intended to be the fastest yacht afloat, was launched at Philadelphia.

The cruiser Marblehead is to receive her colors from the old town about Christmas time.

This year's tax rate at Portland, Me., is $20.50 per $1000, or $1 higher than last year's rate.

A steam mangle in a laundry in New York exploded, scalding nine persons, two of them fatally.

Another Chinese "underground railway" scheme was unearthed in Vermont. Two men were arrested.

Charges of burials too near the surface in Holy Cross cemetery, Malden, Mass., have been substantiated.

A Saugus (Mass.) servant girl threw vitriol in the face of a young man who she says betrayed and refused to marry her.

A 2-year-old daughter of Bernard Schurer of New Haven died from the effects of falling into a tub of boiling water.

A drunken riot occurred among Italian laborers on the Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill railroad, a mile above Haverhill, Mass. Several shots were fired, but no one was injured.

During the past week there have been nine cases of diphtheria in the Chase Home for Children at Portsmouth, N. H., and one little girl died. The spread of the disease was due to a foul cesspool.

EDUCATIONAL ECHOES.

The faculty of Andover has voted to abolish the valedictory and salutatory addresses at their commencement exercises.

At a recent school examination in Glasgow a pupil was asked to name the patron saint of Ireland. "Mr. Gladstone," was the unexpected reply.

Since the State University of Tennessee opened its doors to women the women's clubs of the state have been raising money for a building on the university grounds.

One of the school districts in the town of Rockingham, N. H., this year has but one scholar within its limits and the board of education has engaged its mother to teach it.

FIN, FEATHER AND FUR.

Perfectly white cats, if they have blue eyes, are nearly always deaf.

Huge spiders in Ceylon spin webs almost strong enough for hammocks, in which they snare birds, moths and butterflies.

Rabbits have been revived after receiving a shock of 2,500 volts and 20 amperes, a shock more powerful than is given in the execution of murderers in New York.

The trumpet bird of America follows its owner like a spaniel, and the jacana acts as a guide and guard to poultry, protecting them in the field all day from birds of prey and escorting them home at night.

A monstrosity is carefully guarded on the farm of W. H. Reynolds, at Gannon, Tex. It is a pig with head and ears like an elephant, a nose like the trunk of the beast just named and a single eye where the mouth ought to be.

Of late the naturalists have been making investigations among devilfish, and among many other curious facts have discovered that that terrible creature is not larger at the time of its birth than a common flea.

PULPIT AND PEW.

The Rev. Dr. H. R. Haweis of England is to make another preaching and observation tour in this country the coming fall.

The mosaics in the Church of St. Mark in Venice are the finest in the world. They cover 40,000 square feet of the upper walls, ceilings and cupolas and are all laid on a gold ground.

Rev. Dr. D. B. Randall, said to be the oldest Methodist minister in Maine, whose legislature he has served six times as chaplain, was at first a blacksmith's apprentice. He is still active at the age of 86 years.

President Cleveland's brother, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Chaumont, Jefferson county, N. Y., does not resemble President Grover Cleveland. He is of much lighter build and almost spare in figure.

FLOWER AND TREE.

Timothy grass is so called because first extensively cultivated by Timothy Hanson, a Maryland farmer.

A hickory tree believed to have been over two centuries old was recently demolished by a severe windstorm in Caroline county, Va.

Among the most beautiful flowers brought from Japan is the fragrant Auratum lily. It is easy of culture and free from enemies. Spring is the time for planting, and the large bulbs are the best.

The hoya has a place among the most beautiful vines. If it never blooms, it pays for itself, but if in a sunny window it is sure to reward you with bunches of velvety, starry eyed, nectar dropping blossoms that are truly wonderful.

An improved clothes pounder having inner and outer perforated funnel shaped attachments, which permit of rapid passage of suds and water, is on the market.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Dealings In Leading Securities In Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—In the outside market call money is quoted at 8 to 10 per cent, and time money is nominally 8 per cent.

The re-establishment of telegraphic communication with New York this morning brought the Boston market into touch with Wall street again and there was a little more show of business. There was no material change, however, in conditions. London came irregular, and was as large a seller as buyer. The fear that a large line of securities was likely to be thrown on to the market was temporarily dispelled, and as a result a more cheerful feeling prevailed. But the money market was the dominating [illegible].

The local market opened fairly strong, especially for Sugar and General Electric. The latter started off 1½ up at 43, fluctuated below that and then rallied to 44½. Sugar common started 1 stronger at 75¼, declined to 74¼, and subsequently advanced to 75⅝. The preferred at 78 was 1 up. Atchison manifested considerable strength. Opening at 15½ it rose to 16, while the to sold up from 69½ to 69⅝. There was considerable activity in New England, one lot of 100 shares selling at 17¾, ½ above yesterday's final sale. Later the stock advanced to 18¾. Union Pacific strengthened ½ to 18¼.

STOCKS—CLOSING.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	16¾
Bell Telephone	176
Boston and Albany	[illegible]
Boston and Maine	148
Bay State Gas	7
Calumet	295
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	77¾
Fitchburg	71¼
Lamson Cash Railway	[illegible]
Erie Tel	37½
General Electric	40
Mexican Central	6½
New England Tel	40A
Old Colony	182½
Pullman	149
Sugar preferred	75¾
West End Land	11
West End R. R.	60½
Wisconsin Central	5

New York Stocks.

Canada Southern	45½
Chicago Gas	52
Cotton Oil	30½
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western	130¾
Erie	13
Lake Shore	114½
Louisville and Nashville	55
Manhattan	112
Michigan Central	85½
Missouri Pacific	21¼
National Cordage	18
New Jersey Central	96½
Northwestern	96½
Northern Pacific	5
New York Central	98
New York and New England	18¾
Pacific Mail	10
Reading	16
Rock Island	59¾
St. Paul	54½
Sugar, com	75¾
Union Pacific	[illegible]
Western Union	75
Whisky	20½

Chicago Provision Market.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25—1 p. m.—Wheat opened rather irregular today, at 59¼c for [illegible] for August; [illegible] for September; [illegible] for October; [illegible] for December; [illegible] for May.

Corn opened weak today at 38½c for cash; [illegible] for August; [illegible] for September; [illegible] for October; [illegible] for December; [illegible] for January; [illegible] for May. [illegible] opened weak today at 24½c for cash; [illegible] for August; [illegible] for September; [illegible] for October; [illegible] for May.

Pork opened rather irregular today; prices [illegible] mainly at $13.10 for cash; $13.10 for August; $12.90@13.15 for September; $13.05 for October; $[illegible] for January.

Lard opened easy today at $[illegible] for cash; $[illegible] for August; $8 [illegible] for September; $7.80@7.77½ for October; $7.30@7.30 for January.

Short ribs opened firmer today at $6.94 for cash; $6.90 for August; $6.87½@6.15 for September; $7.77½@7.95 for October; $6.70 for January.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25—2 p. m.—Wheat closed easy today at 61¼c for cash; 60¼c for August; 60¾c for September; 61¾c for December.

Corn closed easy today at 38½@39c for cash; [illegible] for August; 37¾c for September; 38¼c for October; 39¼c for December; 40½c for May.

Oats closed steady today at 24½c for cash; 24½c for August; 24¾c for September; 24½c for October; 29¼c for May.

Pork closed firm today, at $12.90 for cash; $12.90 for August; $12.90 for September; $12.90 for October; $12.70 for January.

Lard closed nearly steady today at $8.15 for cash; $8.15 for August; $8.10 for September; $7.90 for October; $7.45 for January.

Short ribs closed firm today at $6.40 for cash; $6.60 for August; $6.65 for September; $6.65 for October; $6.75 for January.

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Cotton quiet; uplands, 7¾c; Orleans, 7⅞c; sales 1,801 bales. Futures closed steady; sales 171,100 bales. August, 7.06c; September, 7.08c; October, 7.20c; November, 7.44c; December 7.54c; January, 7.60c; February, 7.72c; March, 7.83; April, 7.90c; May, 4.00.

BIRTH STONES.

The stone associated with the first month of the year is the pretty garnet, which means constancy.

February claims the purple amethyst, which is said to bring the blessed virtue of contentment to those who wear it.

March claims the bloodstone, which means courage.

Those who are born in the month of April must wear a changeable, dazzling diamond, the meaning of which is innocence.

May is represented by the emerald, which is supposed to bring success in love to those who wear it by right of their birth month.

June claims for her children the modest pearl, the meaning of which is purity.

Those who are born in July must wear a ruby, which brings to its children nobility of mind.

August claims the moonstone, which is said to bring conjugal felicity to all who are born in August and who faithfully wear their birth stone.

To those who are born in September the sapphire brings success and prevents evil.

The opal, supposed by many to be unlucky, belongs to October, and to those who are born in that month it is said to bring happiness and hope.

Dreary November is represented by the topaz, which means that those who wear it rightfully by reason of their birth may claim fidelity in friendship.

To those born in December the turquoise is said to bring a prosperous life.

In order to benefit from the charm of your birth stone it must be worn constantly and treated as a faithful friend and omen of good.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CURIOUS FACTS ABOUT SIAM.

Each state pays tribute to Bangkok.

The modern city of Bangkok is largely on the water.

A rich man will often bequeath a limb to the birds and beasts.

Libraries are often kept in tanks to escape the ants' ravages.

The king is absolute, but claims no absolute rights over the land.

The position of woman is good, although girls can be sold as wives.

The bodies of the poor are given to the vultures and the wild beasts.

Even the cutting of the king's hair is made the occasion of rejoicing.

The people have great festivals at the beginning and end of the rainy season.

The neglect of the heir to perform funeral rites renders his claim to the property [illegible].

When a crime is committed, the family and even neighbors are held responsible for the criminal's appearance.

The rainfall at Bangkok on an average of 10 years is 67 4-10 inches, of which 50 89-100 fall from May to October.

Elephants are very numerous in the south and east. They are as intelligent as the India elephant, but usually less highly trained.

During the wet season traveling through a large section of Siam would hardly be possible without elephants, of which some are kept in every village.—Chicago Post.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Emily Faithfull smokes cigars, but does so in order to relieve the chronic asthma from which she suffers.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox wrote a novel when she was 9 years old, to which she gave the fine title, "Minnie Tightband and Mrs. Dudley."

Frost Johnson, who painted a life size portrait of Cardinal McCloskey many years ago, is at work on a similar likeness of Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore.

Mr. Edward Gay has a floating steam yacht—the Gitche Gumme—for his studio. In this he will cruise up the sound, on the Hudson, and in the fall go through the Erie canal.

Professor Zumbusch, who designed the beautiful monument to the Empress Maria Theresa, is at present busy upon a huge monument for the Emperor William. The statue of the emperor is 21 feet high and will be cast in bronze.

Mrs. Sidgwick of England has collected vital statistics concerning nearly 600 women who have studied at Cambridge and Oxford. Those women and their children are said to be physically superior to the British average.

J. H. GARDNER, JR., D. V. S.

VETERINARIAN.

Office—Chapman's Stable, 15 Bath Street. Telephone 125-12.

HORSES

TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES

at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St. by the new veterinary, DR. E. L. TOWER, graduate from Ontario Veterinary College.

THE

TIME

TO

BUY

IS

WHEN

THE

OTHER

FELLOW

WANTS

TO

SELL

WE WANT TO SELL

OFFICE

STATIONERY

WILL

NEVER

BE

CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

LET THE BABIES LIVE!

The Ignorance of Mothers Causes a Fearful Number of Deaths.

The fearful number of infant deaths this month, especially from cholera infantum, is due to the ignorance of well-meaning mothers.

Improper food is the cause of nine-tenths of all the infant mortality.

Mother's milk, when healthy and sufficient, is the ideal infant food, and it will never be surpassed.

But when in the first year of the baby's life recourse must be had to other food, or when the time comes for weaning the child, lactated food should be given in preference to anything else. It has saved the lives of hundreds of babies. There is no mother in the land but can read the following letter with profit. It is from Mrs. C. M. Childs of Elkton, Md. It is written to the manufacturers of lactated food in Burlington, Vt.:

"Lactated food was recommended to me by Dr. George Gillispie of Conowingo, Md., six years ago, when the eldest was a baby. My present baby was born May 10, 1891. At the end of six weeks my physician advised me to use sterilized milk. I did so for a few weeks, but she did not seem to thrive.

She continued to grow thin and became very much emaciated. At the end of six months she weighed the same as at her birth, which was eight pounds. The doctor thought it doubtful if she survived. Without consulting him further, I resorted to the use of lactated food, as I had done before with the others, procuring it from H. H. Mitchell of this town.

"In one week the improvement was very perceptible. At the end of two months the doctor, neighbors, and friends were amazed at the great change in her condition.

"The doctor said: 'What has caused this change?'

"My reply was: 'Lactated food.'

"He remarked: 'It is evidently the right food,' although he had at times recommended another, not being familiar with this one. I attribute her healthy appearance to the use of lactated food."

Mothers who have used lactated food agree that it best supplies the materials for baby's rapid growth and development.

Lactated food is prepared with a regard for purity, cleanliness, and freedom from possibility of contagion that merits all the praise that has been so lavishly bestowed upon it by physicians and grateful mothers.

The nutritious parts of barley, wheat, and oats are so prepared as to be easily assimilated; to these are added sugar of milk and the salts, which are the basis of mother's milk. These constituents are thoroughly cooked at high steam heat, and make a predigested, palatable, nutritious food, a perfect substitute for mother's milk, fit for meeting every demand of the rapidly growing child.

Lactated food has saved thousands of babies this summer through the sickly hot days. It should be in the hands of every parent. As one of the greatest specialists on children's diseases has well said:

"It is worse than thoughtless for mothers who think and read to neglect lactated food, when so many mothers eagerly tell of their own accord how it has saved their babies' lives and made them strong, healthy, plump, and full of life.

Lactated food can be had of any druggist. It is always pure, "keeps" perfectly, and is not affected by age or temperature. aug26d

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Five Gallon Oil Can.

LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,

91 Water St.,

AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

GROCERIES.

FILL YOUR

Lunch Baskets

—AT—

RALLION'S.

6 Broadway, Central Building,

FRUIT JARS.

Mason's Improved.

A. T. OTIS.

WE'RE STILL HERE!

AT 300 FRANKLIN STREET,

AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE.

Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or greenback.

Come and see us and bring the children.

H. D. AVERY.

Kingan Hams.

The BEST Ham in the world 16c lb. Every Ham warranted.

J. A. STODDARD & SON.,

20 Franklin St.

Cliquot Club Ginger Ale,

Cowdry's Deviled Meats,

Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken

—AT—

R. S. BARTLETT'S,

4 and 6 Broad Opera House.

Concentrated Claret Lemonade

Lime Juice and

Imported Ginger Ales, at

A. L. ALLEN'S

CAUTION.

There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. We have no agents in Norwich.

C. E. TRAFTON, Mgr.,

REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO.

Office 22 Shetucket St., Norwich, Ct

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

$10 GOLD PIECE LOST.

Friday afternoon, on electric car leaving Council street at 2:45. Finder please leave at Bulletin Office and receive reward. aug26d

LIVE LOBSTERS,
Soft Crabs and Little Neck Clams
TO DAY AT POWERS BROTHERS'.
Telephone 128-4. aug26d

NO OLD STOCK.
Two Big Drives
New Windsor Ties, 10c; worth 25c.
Lisle Thread Hose, 25c; worth 40c.
— AT —
HOUGH'S NEW STORE,
aug26d OPP. WAUREGAN HOTEL.

Now is the Time to Buy
CANNING PEACHES.
We can show you some handsome Fruit, and extra large, this morning.
C. D. BROWNING & CO.
aug26d No. 3 SIXTH STREET.

Central Baptist Church.
Sunday, Aug. 27.
Public services will be conducted by the Rev. WILLIAM COBURN,
10.30 A. M., Sermon. Subject: "Why I am not ashamed of the Gospel."
12 M., Sunday School.
6.30 P. M., Young People's Meeting.
6.30 P. M., Deacons' Meeting.
7.30 Sermon. Subject: "Wake up and get up." Sermon to be followed by an "after meeting," to be conducted by Dr. Coburn.
All cordially invited. aug26d

PORTEOUS
&
MITCHELL.

A rich harvest for Saturday shoppers. If you want to make a little money read this.

PARASOLS.

Two Prices on our entire stock of Fancy Parasols:
18 Parasols that were $1.50, to $2.00.
Saturday's price, 75c.
24 Parasols that were $2.50 to $5.00.
Saturday's price, $1.19.

FOR SATURDAY ONLY.

50 pieces of 45-inch White Flouncing and 25 pieces of Black Flouncing—2¼ yards in every piece. For Saturday 25c. a piece. It is like giving it away.

MEN'S FURNISHINGS.

All our 25c. Men's Lawn Neckwear Puffs, Tecks, Four-in-Hands and Bows, 12½c. each.
Men's Shirts, Laundered Collars and Cuffs 39c. each, have been 69c.
Men's Jersey Shirts 44c., have been 75c.
Men's Fine Negligee Shirts 49c., former price $1.00.

UNDERWEAR.

1 case men's medium weight Gray Shirts and Drawers, 25c. each.
Ladies' Richelieu Ribbed Vests 11c. each, 3 for 30c.

HOSIERY.

Children's Fast Black Imported Hose 10c. a pair.
Ladies' Fine Gauge Fast Black Hose 10c., have been 12½c.
Men's Imported Half Hose—Black, Modes, Balbriggan and Fancy 10c. a pair, 3 for 27c.

WAISTS.

These Prices for Saturday Only.

Boys' Waists 19c, regular price 25c.
Your choice of these three lines for 24c:
Ladies' White Lawn Waists that have been 69c.
Ladies' Indigo Blue Waists, Jabot front, that have been 50c.
Ladies' Lavender, Pink and Blue Waists, with Jabot front, that have been 50c.
Any of these for one day for 24c.
Ladies' Navy Blue Satteen Waists, with Jabot front, 75c, have been $1.00.
Any Silk Waist in our stock for $3.49. Some have been $6.50.

SMALL WARES.

15 dozen Pocket Fans in red, black, tan 10c. each, have been 17c. and 20c.
10 dozen Feather Fans 15c. each, have been 49c.

All 25c. Belts for 15c.
All 50c. Belts for 25c.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.
aug26daw

Do You Know Any One Who is Hard to Suit?
Bring him in. We can make all sorts of Suits for the different kinds of days to be lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable.
GEO. E. CLARK,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 4, Shannon Block. jy19

REMOVAL.
OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN
OCULIST and AURIST,
To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.
Special attention given to correcting all forms of abnormal vision with proper Spectacles or Eye Glasses. No fee charged in such cases except in ASTIGMATISM or where it is necessary to prescribe in addition to fitting glasses. ja16d

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Saturday August 26 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before 6 a. m.

Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co.

The Weather Today.

Indications for Connecticut: Southwesterly winds; fair weather; cooler.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

Timothy Dacey died in New London on Thursday.

Sunday the steamer Ella will make an excursion to Watch Hill.

Miss Daisy Kinney of Plain Hill is visiting in New London.

The city water main on Rockwell street is being extended for several hundred feet.

Friends of Mrs. Eliza Lamb of Union square will be glad to learn that she was able to sit up most of the day Friday.

Among recent Poquonoc Bridge marriages is that of Orlando R. Smith of Westerly and Jennie J. Chapman of Poquonoc.

The subject for the Wharf meeting Sunday afternoon will be "Somebody touch me." The Rev. William T. Coburn will speak.

Ralph Paine of Yale '94, the well-known oarsman, and Sherwood M. Hand recently swam five miles in 3 hours and 40 minutes.

The Rev. J. B. Dougherty of Mystic was chanter in the office of the dead for the late Bishop MacMahon, at Hartford on Thursday.

Miss Annie Brambach, an employe of the Norwich Steam Laundry company, was badly burned on the hand by a cylinder Friday morning.

Noank shipbuilders are looking for the arrival of the schooner Lizzie Chadwick from Brunswick, Ga., with 400,000 feet of yellow pine.

Local fishermen begin to speak of the blackfish season, which will open in a fortnight. The western end of Pine island is a good place to fish for them.

Supt. Phillips of the electric light system will illustrate a trip to the World's fair by means of his mammoth stereopticon at Crescent Beach tabernacle on Sunday evening.

The Day announces that the excursion on the Martha on Wednesday, when the ladies of the J. F. Trumbull Relief corps of Westerly came to Norwich, was a financial success.

Allen Risk, the well-known owner and trainer of trotting horses, will probably return to Willimantic and occupy the fair association buildings. He has spent the past season at New Britain.

The Talman street boys threw down a citizen Thursday night and injured him by stretching a string across the walk a few inches from the ground. Boys have been fined for being so "funny."

Frederick A. Verplank, a graduate of the Free Academy, subsequently teacher at Colchester, and until June last principal of the model schools, Willimantic, goes to Manchester, N. H., at an advanced salary, in September.

The moonlight excursions down the river were well patronized Friday evening. The steamer Block Island took a large crowd and sailed out with music by a full band.

During twenty years' service the United States signal office in New Haven has never recorded so heavy a wind as prevailed on Thursday. The storm known as the great blizzard of '88 did not equal that of Thursday, so far as wind power was concerned.

Two transfers in real estate in this city for the past week have been recorded in the town clerk's office. E. Walter Phillips to Edward Hadley Purvis, a parcel of land on Whitaker avenue, below Laurel Hill. James C. Gilmour to John N. Haibel, a parcel of land on Fifth street, Greeneville.

It will be of interest to many Norwich people to learn that Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Latimer of South Coventry have issued cards for the wedding of their daughter, May E., to Mr. Frank P. Williams, at their home on Wednesday, September 6. Miss Latimer was a member of the graduating class of '93, Willimantic High school, and has many friends here.

A Stranger's Ingratitude.

The Rev. B. Sachnowichts of the West Side furnished a stranger food and lodgings Thursday night, and Friday morning he found the man had decamped with some of his clothing and over $40 belonging to boarders in the house. A description of the thief was furnished to Chief Bowen and he went to New London and searched for him, but without success.

Live Otter Captured.

Samuel Chappell, Jr., of Chapila made a rare catch in a steel trap the other day, capturing a young otter, apparently about six months old. The animal was preserved alive and confined in a box. The otter is rare in this section and quite a curiosity, but it is believed that a pair of adults and litter of young are in that neighborhood. Last year a boy and a dog encountered one of the animals, but it put them both to flight.

He Couldn't Stand the Pressure.

A Thames street youth who has been brought up to offer the other cheek when struck, came home with a bruised face the other night. His mother asked him sadly if he had been fighting, and he said: "Yes, but the fellow called you a goat, and I pitched into him." The mother was astonished, and questioned the little fellow, when it developed that he had been called a kid. His mental capacity is very great for excuses for street encounters.

SUMMER TRAVELERS.

Where the Summer Days Are Spent.

R. C. Perry is enjoying his annual vacation at Niantic.

Mr. R. W. Storrs of Mansfield was in town yesterday.

Miss Hattie Noyes has passed two weeks at Cottage City.

Mr. S. A. Lewis has just returned from a trip to Wyoming, R. I.

Miss Grace Fowler is spending a week with friends in Willimantic.

E. B. Arthur and L. A. Kingsbury of South Coventry are at Chicago.

Miss Bessie A. Miner of New London sails for Europe today.

T. W. Kendall of Hartford is the guest of Charles Farnham of Niantic.

State Attorney Lucas and daughters have returned from Saratoga Springs.

Joseph Donovan of Middletown is spending a week with friends in Norwich.

Silas Bromley and family of New Britain are among recent visitors to Montville.

Mr. N. S. Gilbert of Norwich has been the guest of Mrs. S. N. Abbott of Hebron.

Mrs. Fannie Scott and daughter Edith have been visiting friends here and in Yantic.

Miss Lillian Bullard of Willimantic has been recently entertained by her brother in this city.

Mrs. Herbert Spicer and Miss Lydia Robbins of Poquetanuck started Tuesday for Saratoga, N. Y.

Mrs. Borden and Miss Jeanette Corey of Norwich are visiting Mrs. Clinton Lanphear of Lotteryville.

Mr. Everett Dean, Miss Bertha Dean and Miss Flora Lewis are spending two weeks at Narragansett Pier.

Mrs. Kate Messinger and sister, Mrs. Estella Tuttle, are the guests of Miss Ward, Main street, Hartford.

Miss Ora Ripley of Springfield, Mass., who has been visiting Miss Eunice Patrick, returned home Friday.

Master James Warr of Wareham, Mass., is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols of Laurel Hill avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Leahy of New London have been entertaining Mrs. Eugene Smith and Miss Florence Eagan of Brooklyn.

Mr. Edwin Troland and family returned Friday morning from Ocean Grove after enjoying Jersey climate and people for half a month.

Miss Annie S. Mitchell has returned from a three weeks' visit to the World's fair. While in Chicago she was the guest of Mrs. Bradford Rogers, formerly of this city.

Miss Mary Loring and Master Rocknell Gallup, who have been spending the summer at the home of Mrs. William Loring of Laurel Hill avenue, have returned to their home in Denver.

Norwich friends of Mrs. Nina Avery Townsend, now Mrs. N. T. Miller, will be pleased to hear that she is most advantageously settled in Nashville, Tenn., where her husband holds a responsible position in connection with the city's electric light system.

Recent Eastern Connecticut registrations at the Connecticut state building at the world's fair are: Willimantic, Florence M. Spencer, Hollis H. Lyman, Otto B. Robinson, Eugene M. Tilden, John H. Capen, Lottie M. Swift, Mabel Chappell; Stafford, T. J. Nelligan, Frank Leonard; Colchester, George W. Burt; Tolland, Edmund Joslyn, Mrs. E. Joslyn.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

Contracts Awarded.

Architect C. H. Preston awarded the following contracts on Friday:

The Jackson block on Franklin street to Vine S. Stetson.

The Matilda Clay block on Laurel Hill avenue to Blackledge Bros.

Eight Bells.

It is said of the Brothers Byrne who will present "Eight Bells" in the Broadway theater Monday of next week. They are a rarely progressive firm of clever artists, and in this season's production will give their many admirers a rare treat, for they have perfected a number of new and startling tricks besides several scenic effects that are a marvel of stage-craft. An outlay of a large sum of money by these inimitable pantomimists results in one of the most realistic stage productions before the public.

Brothers Byrne Entertained.

Friday night the parlors of St. Joseph's Sodality and Literary association were occupied by a large assembly of members and their friends, gathered to meet the Byrnes Brothers and a musical representation of the Eight Bells company.

Songs and instrumental music by Profs. Mettler and Farrall and Messrs. McCabe and Fitzpatrick, together with recitals by Mr. Thomas O'Donovan kept the party well entertained during the evening. Later refreshments were provided for all present.

Lost Their Dinner.

Since Walter L. Main's circus appeared in Preston, the boys have planned many small exhibitions. A day or two ago two of them decided to give a circus with a menagerie, and a large Newfoundland dog was to act the part of the trained bear.

The father of one of the boys had brought home for dinner a piece of lamb weighing about four pounds. In order to make the dog go and perform his part one of the young showmen gave the dog the meat. The "Newfoundland" bear became tractable after that, but the family had lost their dinner.

DIED.

CANTWELL—In this city, Aug. 24, Miss Maggie Cantwell.
Funeral this (Saturday) morning from the residence of her brother-in-law, J. J. O'Neil, 185 Cliff street, at 8.30 o'clock, and from St. Patrick's church at 9.

CHAPMAN—In Boozrahville, Aug. 25, B. M. Chapman, aged 67 years.
Funeral from the residence of W. F. Baily, Sunday, the 27th, at 10 a. m.

HOLMES—In Willimantic, Aug. 23, Mary A., widow of the late Dwight R. Holmes.
Funeral services in this city from her late residence, No. 255 Prospect street, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 27, at 2 o'clock. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED—A competent girl to do general housework. Apply at 18 Arnold street. aug26d

UNLESS PARTY WHO STOLE PACKAGE from Bicycle on Franklin Street, Thursday night, returns same at once to this office a complaint will be entered, as they are known. No questions asked. aug26d

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE
Norwich, Conn.
EARL M. SWIFT,
And Assistant-Teachers of Ability and Experience.
Fall Term Begins
Tuesday, Sept. 5
On and after Aug. 15 the College office will be open from 2.30 to 5.30 to receive applications for membership. aug14daw

LADIES!
Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3.00. Call and see them
Geo. W. Kies & Co.
aug26daw

"THE PRINCE OF INDIA,"
— BY —
GEN. LEW WALLACE,
Author of "BEN HUR."
THIS NOTABLE BOOK IS NOW READY.
— AT — Cranston & Co.
aug26daw

ORANGE CAKE
— AND —
ORANGE BARS!
— AT —
MRS. CHAPMAN'S Bakery,
No. 7 North Thames Street.
aug26WS

LOOK OUT
— FOR —
FRUIT JARS!
Preston Bros.
SELL
THEM
CHEAP.
aug26d

"THE PRINCE OF INDIA!"
— OR —
Why Constantinople Fell.
— BY —
GENERAL LEW WALLACE,
Author of "BEN HUR."
FOR SALE BY Noyes & Davis.
aug26daw

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.
Large and Complete Line
FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE
ARTISTIC WALL PAPER
At Reduced Prices.
SPECIAL SALE.
Large Art Carpets and Rugs
$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.
Other sizes in proportion.
Japanese Rugs and Mats.
$35.00 Japanese Carpets for $30.00.
$12.00 Japanese Rugs for $8.00.
$4.00 Japanese Rugs for $2.75.
Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels,
75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.
Quantities 1 1-4 Yards to 30 Yards.

Parties Wishing
FURNITURE,
CARPETS OR
WALL PAPER,
Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock
That we are offering at Low Prices.
aug26d

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD AT Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 25th day of August, A.D. 1893.

Present—CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge.

Estate of Harriet R. Hughes, late of Norwich, in said district, deceased.

Lucretia S. Wilbur, by her attorney, S. S. Thresher, presented to court a petition, alleging that she the said Lucretia S. Wilbur is a creditor of the estate of said deceased, and that she prays for a modification of a certain order made by said court on the 21st day of February, 1893, appointing and limiting the time within which the creditors of the said estate of Harriet R. Hughes shall bring in their claims against her estate so that the said order when modified shall read: Six months and ten days from the date hereof, viz., 21st day of February, 1893, as more fully stated in said petition on file in this office.

Ordered—That the hearing on said petition be held at the Probate Office in Norwich on the 28th day of August, 1893, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice thereof be given by publishing a copy of this order in a newspaper having a circulation in said district and return make of the notice given.

Attest— CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge. aug26d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

L. A. GALLUP,
Wholesale Grocer.
AT No. 31 WATER STREET
Norwich, Conn.
Sells at the lowest prices a full and general line of
GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS
including Tea, Coffee, Spices, Molasses, Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Flour, Wheatena, Oatmeal, Worcester Salt, London Parlor and other Matches, Etc., Etc. There is no cheaper or better place in Norwich to buy Groceries.
Gentlemanly service and prompt deliveries guaranteed. aug5TThS

UNCLAIMED LETTERS in the Norwich Post Office, week ending August 26, 1893.
R. Alexander, Octave Boisvert, John Carroll, Mrs. Sadie Chatdoun, Wm. Downs, Evans Bros., Miss Amy A. Gardine, Wm. McMahon, Miss Clara Morris, Miss Mabel Morrison, Antonio de Souza Neto, Miss Nellie Richmond, Mdme Cooley Simpson.

PUBLIC AUCTION AT BRISTOL'S STABLES,
171-173 George St., New Haven, Conn.
TUESDAY, AUG. 29th AT 10 A. M.
RAIN OR SHINE.
Assigned estate of S. A. Bailey: Eight Horses, four Surreys, three Side Bar Carriages, End Spring Corning, Phaeton, three Concords, Business Wagon, two Hacks, two Business Sleighs, three Portland Cutters, Bells, Double and Single Harness, Robes and Blankets, Whips, Stable Furnishings, Roller Top Desk, Office Chairs, Clocks, Pictures, Platform Scales, etc. Goods now open to inspection. aug26d AMOS A. BROWNING, Trustee.

WORTH TRYING.
— AN —
ICE CREAM
Made From Pure Cream
From the Makers Own Dairy.
EVERY KNOWN FLAVOR.
KEEPS HARD ONE HOUR.
QUART BRICKS, 40c. PINTS, 25c
N. D. SEVIN & SON.
aug26daw

TODAY
PEACHES
FOR CANNING
— AT —
SOMERS BROTHERS.
This is the right time for canning, as these peaches are good and very cheap. Don't miss this opportunity. aug26d

W. & S. ROOT BEER EXTRACT
Is made from the best selected materials. It contains Spikenard, Prince's Pine, Wintergreen, Dandelion, Sassafras, Gentian, Ginger Sweet Birch and Sarsaparilla, and is equal in strength and flavor to any brand whatever. One bottle makes 5 gallons of Delicious Root Beer.
WOODWORTH & SMALL,
West Side Drug Store. jy15TuThSaw

March Mallow Drops in 1-4 and 1-2 lb. Boxes.
English Wafer Lozenges.
Crystalized Ginger.
Cream Peppermint Drops
J. C. PERKINS, Confectioner.
Wholesale and Retail. aug17TuThSaw

FOR SIGNS OR AWNINGS
It Will Pay You to See J. W. MALLETT
108 Broadway, next to Theater.

PAPER BY THE POUND.
15c. Buys a Good Quality.
CALL AND SEE IT!
LOVELL BROS.
aug8TuThS WEST SIDE.

OLIVES IN BULK AND BOTTLES
— OF —
Different Styles and Quality
— AT —
WELCOME A. SMITH
aug26d

DIAMONDS
Mounted and repaired in first-class shape.
W. B. ROBERTSON,
227 Main Street,
may8TuThS Over N. E. R. Office.

THIN COATS AND -VESTS-
Dodge & Holloway.
aug17TuThS

MILLINERY.
Trimmed Hats at 98c.; former prices from $2.00 to $4.98.
25c.
Special Value in Trimmed Sailors at 25c.
49c.
Buys what White Duck Infantas I have left; reduced from $1.49.
T. E. McCLENATHAN.
aug26daw

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

On Sunday, Aug. 27,
— THE —
Steamer Ella
Will make an excursion to
WATCH HILL,
Leaving Norwich at 9 A. M. ja26

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,
CALL AT
FRISWELL'S,
who has had 20 years experience, and latest improved method, and be properly fitted with Spectacles and Eye Glasses.
jy25d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels,
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.
Collins Turbine Machine Co.
ja26

We are Showing a large and New Line of GUNS AND RIFLES
Which we offer way down at
A. PLAUT'S, Dealer in Bargains
190 Main St. aug17d

Appropriate to the Times
Is the announcement that
WHITNEY,
Of 41 Broadway,
In the Central building.
will sell the new goods now arriving almost daily at the same low bargain prices he has been getting for his old stock.
This is no time for large profits, and if you want anything at all in China, Glassware, Tinware and House Furnishing Goods, you can save money by buying at
— WHITNEY'S —
Try and See!
Free delivery of goods throughout the city and suburbs. aug26daw

MANICURE and CHIROPODIST,
SHAMPOOING,
Hair Cutting and Curling, Face Massage.
MISS H. A. GAVITT.
aa2TuThS Room 26, Shannon Building

ICE CREAM,
PASTRY, CHOICE CONFECTIONERY
and all the popular Summer drinks at
"The Confection Parlors."
54 and 56 Broadway.
ja2TuThS

TRUNKS,
BAGS,
STRAPS.

And, in fact, Everything that the traveler needs can be found in good variety at Alling Brothers,
aug26daw Breed Opera House Block.

IF YOU ARE IN WANT OF
A Good Carriage or Wagon
At a reasonable price, call at 887 and 889 No. Main St.
JOHN H. SCOTT
feb16W

Hard Wood Finishing,
Repairing, Refinishing and Renovating Furniture. Inside Painting.
Kalsomining and Refinishing in the wood. Have had an experience of twenty years. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed. Prices moderate.
W. H. SPICER,
feb16d No. 11 Thames St.

Men's Heavy Grain Shoes	$1 25
Men's Fine Calf Shoes	2 00
Men's Patent Leather Shoes	3 50
Boys' School Shoes	1 25
Youths' School Shoes	1 00
Ladies' Cloth-Top Button Boots	2 25
Ladies' Fine Dongola Patent-Tip Boots	2 00
Ladies Open Slippers	50
Misses' Kid Spring-Heel Shoes	1 00

— AT —
Herren'S,
Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's.
Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug26d

All Kinds Of
Picture Frames
And an elegant line of FRAMED
— AND —
- UNFRAMED PICTURES -
Can be found at
M. J. Farrell's
Art Parlors,
61 Broadway.
ja26daw

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,
HAMMOCKS, CHEAP,
At PITCHER & MAINE'S
jy26d 609 No. Main St.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

UNITED STATES
Savings and Loan Company,
Paid in Capital..........$1,500,000
Subscribed Capital..........5,000,000
3 Classes of Certificates are issued.
7% Guaranteed Bond Certificates @ 102.
6% Partial Dividend Bond Certificates @ 98.
Installment Bond Certificates, payable monthly. Denominations $1.00 to $50.00.
E. O. MACE and GEO. S. SMITH GEN. AGTS.
Office 7 Shannon Building, Norwich. aug1WS

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,
18 Washington Street.
GENERAL PRACTICE AND THE EYE.
Office hours: 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 p. m. Telephone 55-3. may24d

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With
SURE KILL FLY PAPER.
5 Cts.'s a Package.
-Steiner's Pharmacy-
aug16d SHANNON BUILDING.

The Last Week of Our
BLUE LETTER SALE.
A few more bargains added to our list:
Sterling Silver Pearl Pins at 10c. each.
Silver Mounted Stick Pins, 10c each.
Ladies' Fast Black Seamless Hose 15c. a pair, worth 25c.
Ladies' Wrappers 98c. reduced from $1.25.
" " $1.00 " " $1.50.
" " $1.25 " " $1.98.
Only a few of each price left. Stamped Tray Covers and Splashers at 9c. each.
White, Black and Colored Sailor Hats at 19c. each.
Also big reduction in Infant outfits.
B. GOTTHELF & CO.
139 MAIN STREET.
aug26d Wholesale and Retail.

SEASONABLE GOODS.
THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF
Refrigerators!
Ever shown in Norwich, of the Best Makes and at Reduced Prices.
WE CARRY THE LARGEST LINE OF
-OIL STOVES-
In this Section of the State. Also
Gasolene Stoves
Lawn Mowers.
Better and cheaper than ever. Call and see them before you buy.
J. P. BARSTOW & CO.
HEADQUARTERS for all Housekeeping and Farmers' Supplies.
23 and 25 Water Street, Norwich.
mar16daw

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at
HOTEL ∴ SOUTH ∴ SHORE
On Lake Michigan, four blocks from the entrance to
The World's Fair Grounds.
One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls,
All for $36.00.
R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with or without Hotel accommodations by
E. P. TURNER, 187 E. Broad St.,
aug26d Norwich, Conn.

TO RENT.
A Large Store No. 108 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St., formerly occupied by T. H. Eldredge as a Hardware store. For further particulars call on or address NICHOLAS TARRANT, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, 3 Main street. aug26d

CROCKER'S
Magical Stomach Powders
Have been known to cure the much-dreaded Kidney trouble. In its incipient state the disease readily gives way before them. Always safe to take, no matter what the complaint or time of taking. jy8d

Bargains In Odd Lots
A great variety of ODD
Cups, Plates, Pitchers,
Saucers and Platters,
That will be sold CHEAP.
SMITH BROS.
aug26d

CLOTHING.

THE PUBLIC
Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in Men's and Children's FALL SUITS!
— AT —
MURPHY & McGARRY.
aug24d

FOOT WEAR.

We are determined to close out all Summer Shoes before Sept. 1st, and in order to do this have made the price low enough to insure a ready sale.
Frank A. Bill,
aug26daw 104 MAIN STREET.

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11,685 | NORWICH, CONN. MONDAY, AUGUST 28, 1893—SIX PAGES | SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

THIS MORNINGS NEWS.

City and Vicinity.

Fair weather, followed by light local showers at night.

The drowned Sternfield brothers buried.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Holmes.

A stranger decamps with $50 and a horse and carriage.

Mr. Coburn addresses the Sunday wharf meeting.

Normal school contract awarded.

Defeat of the Clipper base ball team—West Side Neptunes win a game.

Connecticut educational exhibit at the [illegible].

Death of an old Willimantic school teacher.

Old laws of our forefathers under British [illegible].

Closing scenes at Camp Morris.

New London man suicides in the police station.

State.

Ansonia Electric company in receiver's hands.

A Norwalk woman celebrates her 103d birthday.

State Bottlers' association take steps to secure lost bottles.

Almost a riot in a New Haven synagogue.

Death of Col Burnham of the Twenty-second Connecticut volunteers.

[illegible]

Terrible accident to an excursion train.

Debate on the silver bill ended—May come to a vote [illegible].

Recommendations for New England lighthouses.

Artist Harry Furniss has his ear twisted.

Bangor and New York to be connected by a steamship line.

A Chinese smuggler in Massachusetts.

Indications that end of business depression is at hand.

British about to grab more territory.

Britannia wins again—Navahoe second.

Double tragedy at Fall River.

Latest European cholera reports.

Rome, N. Y., visited by a severe electrical storm.

SPECIAL.

USE
Shipman's
CARBOLIC
OINTMENT,
The most healing preparation in the world
FOR MAN OR BEAST.
For sale by all druggists. ja5d

DO NOT
SLUMBER
UNTIL YOU HAVE
Dr. Hough's
COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM
Ready for immediate use.
Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc
PRICE, 35 Cents.
Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers
ja8daw

FREE
Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.
ELIXIR OF LIFE
The great family medicine,
guaranteed to cure
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,
SICK-HEADACHE,
DYSPEPSIA,
And all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by LEE & OSGOOD. apr28daw

Sick Headache
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose, 40 in a vial. Purely Vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1
Carter Medicine Co., Proprietors,
NEW YORK.
Sold by all Druggists. tu1daw

Most People Like to Know
The name of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.
Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure
IS THE BEST. TRY IT.
Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.
ja24d At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD

A man can sell almost anything if he will make the price low enough. The trouble is, that most of the so called bargains are cheaply made to start with. We offer the balance of our Summer Stock—good materials and well made—at figures that ought to make trade.

R. D. JONES & SON,
Merchant Tailors .... 132 MAIN ST
(over O. O. [illegible]) aug24d

Norwich Line to New York.

Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 9.35 and 9.58 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.

Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 9 p. m., for New York.

Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 5

For state rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 63 Shetucket street. Telephone call 142-2.

THOMAS CLARK, President.
O. L. JOHNSON, JR.,
Secretary and Treasurer.

A FEARFUL MIDNIGHT SCENE.

Excursion Trains in Collision—Many Killed and Injured.

STORY OF THE AFFAIR.

Hardly One of the Passengers Escapes Unhurt—List of Victims.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., Aug. 27.—An accident that cost the lives of fourteen people occurred shortly after midnight this morning in the little village of Berlin, near Calvary cemetery, in the town of Newtown. The long Island railway train that left Manhattan Beach at 11.16 o'clock was overtaken by the train that left Rockaway Beach at fifteen minutes earlier. In the frightful collision that ensued the two rear cars of the five that made up the Manhattan Beach train were demolished and the middle car was overturned. Hardly one of the scores of passengers aboard of the train escaped unhurt. The following are the corrected lists of the dead and injured.

The Dead.

Col. E. A. Buck, 55 years, editor Spirit of the Times.

Oscar Diebel, 40 years, 129 east One Hundred and Fourteenth street, New York city, died later

Mrs. Maggie Diebel, his wife, 39 years, died at morgue.

Mrs. Bertha Weinstein, 347 East Fifty-eighth street, died at morgue; her husband at hospital.

Sidney Weinstein, 13 years, her son, dead at morgue.

Thomas Finn, brakeman Manhattan Beach train, died at hospital.

Unknown young woman, blonde; two cards in pocket with "Laura Duffy, 1991 Madison avenue," written upon one, and "Miss Young, 33 West Seventeenth street, New York," upon the other.

Unknown woman, 40 years, two cards in pocketbook, with the name "Mrs. John Conrad" upon one and "Mrs. Dyckoff" upon the other.

Unknown man, small black moustache.

Unknown man, letter in pocket addressed to Mr. Dillman, 75 W. 33d street, New York.

Unknown man with bunch of keys marked "J. J. Hyland, Westerly, R. I.," and a small prayer book, with J. J. Clancy on fly leaf.

Unknown man, shirt marked "E P." card in pocket with "George Fielding, 1786 Madison avenue," and valise tag with same name.

Unknown man with letter addressed to Miss McKenna, Clifton Terrace, Rosebank, Staten Island, in his pocket.

Unknown man with letter in pocket addressed to Mr Stein, care Mr. Goodwin, 339 East 53d street, New York.

The Injured.

John Hahn, injured internally.

James Barron, New York, scalds and internal injuries.

Theo. Graeven, New York, terribly hurt; condition critical.

Eleanor Graeven, his daughter, scalds and internal injuries.

Miss Clara Haskell, New York, broken leg.

Horace Kimball, broken spine.

Adolph Weinstein, concussion of brain, may die.

Mrs. Fleshall, leg broken.

W. Thompson, New York, head hurt, will recover.

August Jacobbson, head crushed, will die.

Dugan Weim, New York, scalded.

William Lynch, New York, badly hurt but will recover.

Frank Largis, New York, spine hurt.

J. J. Brady, New York, internal injuries.

William Livingston.

George Barnett, Long Island City.

James Coughlin, brakeman, Manhattan Beach train.

The accident happened at half an hour after midnight. It was over an hour before any news of it reached this point. It came by a messenger who walked into Long Island City. The railway company immediately dispatched a relief train with all the physicians obtainable, consisting of Dr. Valentine, the surgeon of the road, and Drs. Hulkson and Kennedy and Doyle and McKeown. They found an appalling state of affairs. The Manhattan Beach train had been standing in the block to allow another train to get at a safe distance. The Rockaway beach train came dashing along behind, ran into the same block and crashed into the rear end of the Manhattan Beach train. Both were crowded with excursionists and they were the last trains from their respective resorts. There were five cars in the Manhattan Beach train, all of them open cars. The Rockaway train plunged in and ploughed its way completely through the two rear cars and partly wrecked the third. Passengers in the cars were maimed and mangled horribly and their shrieks of terror and pain were awful.

The Rockaway engine was wrecked. Its smokestack was carried away, and on the wrecked timbers of the cars were the remains of human beings, some mangled, others gasping their last. As fast as the wounded were taken from the wreck they were carried to the relief train and cared for. Doctors on board worked swiftly but well. Others of the doctors were out in the wreck applying restoratives, and everything was done for the unfortunate sufferers.

Seventeen of the wounded were taken to the hospital in all, of whom two died upon the way there—Oscar Diebel and Brakeman Finn. The dead were taken by special train to Newtown, which is the nearest town to the scene of the accident and placed in Skelton's morgue by the order of Coroner Brandan.

The wrecked Manhattan Beach train was a special carrying away all the straggling pleasure seekers who remained late at the beach.

None of the passengers or crew on the Rockaway train were seriously hurt. All were shaken up and some were badly bruised, but they were all able to go to their homes without assistance. The Rockaway train was going at a high rate of speed, as it was the last train and was trying to get home as soon as possible.

No Such Person Known There.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 27.—Among the unknown killed in the Long Island railroad disaster was one with a bunch of keys marked "J. J. Hyland, Westerly, R. I." No such person is known in that town.

New London Man Found Dead in a Police Cell.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug 27.—Eugene Thompson, aged 48 years, of the Twenty-sixth Connecticut, was arrested for intoxication on complaint of his wife, Saturday evening, and was found dead in his cell this morning. During the night he had taken a large dose of paris green. He told his wife that if sent to jail, he would never leave it alive. His wife today said that he had had the poison secreted about him for several days.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Fall River Again the Scene of a Horrible Murder.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 27.—A double tragedy occurred here last night. One victim was Charles H. Connors, aged 30 years, and the other Andrew Gibson, aged about 45 years. Gibson cut Connors' throat with a razor and afterwards ran naked through the fields for thirty minutes, slashing and tearing his own throat, until he inflicted wounds from which he died.

The tragedy took place between 11.15 p. m. and 12.15 a. m., but Gibson did not die until 6 o'clock this morning. Just after 11 o'clock Connors was going toward his home on Healy street, in company with John Partridge, when he heard cries of "murder," "come help me," coming from a window in a four tenement house on Healy street. Connors left his companion and ran upstairs toward the place from which the cries were coming. At the head of the stairway he was met by Gibson, who was flourishing a razor. Before Connors could find out what the matter was, Gibson made a slash at his throat and cut a gash three and a quarter inches in length. Connors ran downstairs, crossed the street and ran into John Doyle's restaurant, where he fell upon the floor and expired in about fifteen minutes, without making any intelligible speech.

Gibson, who was undoubtedly insane from liquor, was disarmed by the police and taken to the city hospital.

Connors was unmarried and the only support of a widowed mother.

BASE BALL.

Saturday Games.

At New York. (First game):

Pittsburg.........0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1
New York..........0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0

(Second game):

Pittsburg.........0 1 0 0 1 0 0 [illegible] 0—2
New York..........1 0 0 0 [illegible] 1 0 1 —[illegible]

At Brooklyn:

Chicago...........2 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 0—5
Brooklyn..........1 0 0 0 0 0 [illegible] 0 [illegible]—7

At Baltimore:

Baltimore.........0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 4—[illegible]
Cincinnati........1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—[illegible]

At Washington (first game):

Washington........0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—4
St. Louis.........0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—[illegible]

(Second game):

Washington........0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—4
St. Louis.........0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—[illegible]

At Philadelphia:

Philadelphia......0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—[illegible]
Louisville........1 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—[illegible]

At Boston:

Boston............0 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 0—2
Cleveland.........0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2—7

Sunday Games.

At Buffalo:

Providence........0 1 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—3
Buffalo...........2 1 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—[illegible]

The Records.

Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	Per Ct.
Boston	71	[illegible]	[illegible]
Pittsburg	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Philadelphia	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Cleveland	[illegible]	[illegible]	.542
New York	[illegible]	[illegible]	.520
Brooklyn	51	[illegible]	.505
Cincinnati	[illegible]	[illegible]	.480
Baltimore	[illegible]	[illegible]	.461
St. Louis	[illegible]	[illegible]	.451
Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	.412
Louisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Washington	31	[illegible]	[illegible]

Shipwrecked Crew Brought to Port.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Schooner Henry Clausen, Jr., from Apalachicola, which arrived here today, suffered considerable damage during a hurricane on August 23. On August 26, when 15 miles from Barnegat light, she took on board from their boats and brought to this port, the captain and crew of sixteen men from the Norwegian bark Glengairn, from Norway for Philadelphia, in ballast. The bark had been sunk by collision with an unknown three-masted schooner on August 25, at midnight, when forty miles east of Barnegat. The schooner is supposed to have been coal laden and to have gone down immediately as nothing was seen of her, after the collision.

Bishop McMahon's Will Filed for Probate

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 27.—The will of Bishop Lawrence S. McMahon, dated April 26, 1891, was filed for probate Saturday. There is also a codicil dated the same day. The document will be proved next Thursday. The Very Rev. James Hughes is named as executor. The witnesses were Kate Sexton, Margaret Quigley and Frank E. Hyde.

Incendiary Fire at Fairfield.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 27.—At 11 o'clock Saturday night the stables in the rear of the summer residence of Philip Mulligan of New York on Main street, Fairfield, were burned. The horses and carriages were saved. Loss, $20,000; insured. Incendiarism was the cause.

Celebrated Her 103d Birthday.

NORWALK, Conn., Aug. 27.—Betsy Saunders, the oldest person in Fairfield county, celebrated her 103d birthday Saturday. Mrs. Saunders is blind, but her hearing is acute, her memory remarkable and she talks intelligently and recites poetry. She was born in Saugatuck.

STATE BOTTLERS MEET.

A Detective to Be Employed to Look up Stolen Bottles.

A meeting of the State Bottlers' association was held in New Haven Thursday. It was decided to employ a detective to obtain bottles which have been taken by junk dealers and distributed from one place to another. The result of this distribution is that many bottles of the association are being used for root beer by small bottlers and private families throughout the state.

The committee on laws reported the passage of a law at the last session of the legislature, making the penalty not less than $1 and not more than $100 for filling, vending or selling bottles belonging to the association, would do them considerable good. It is intended to make a visit to the small bottling establishments throughout the state with a view to recovering some of the association's stolen property.

TAFTVILLE.

Mr. Walter M. Ross left Saturday evening for a ten days' visit to the World's fair.

Mr. William Burgess has returned from a visit to relatives in New Bedford.

Miss Maud M. Kelly left Saturday evening for Yonkers, N. Y.

Mr. Joseph Robinson is visiting relatives in Niantic and East Lyme.

Charles W. Kellogg is visiting friends in Boston.

Miss Jennie Hosmer of Forestdale, R.I., is the guest of Mrs. Brierley.

Miss Maud Brainard of Lawrence is the guest of Mrs. Charles Brainard.

Father Thompson invited the choir and officers of the Catholic church to go down the river Saturday. They had a fine time.

Three local fishermen caught twenty-three black bass Saturday, near Baltic, that weighed twenty-eight pounds.

THE LAST NIGHT AT CAMP MORRIS.

Less Hilarity—Fewer Visitors—Grand Illuminations.

CO. C WINS THE CUP.

A Week of Work for the Men, Notwithstanding Handicaps.

CAMP MORRIS, Aug. 26.—The last night in Camp Morris did not differ materially from the last nights in camp of past years, except perhaps there was much less hilarity and boisterousness and a smaller number of visitors. The illuminations were the best I have ever seen, but the display of fireworks was curtailed on account of the damage by rain to the larger portion in the gale of Thursday morning. Thousands of lanterns however swung in the gentle breeze which swept across the ground, made the bright moon still brighter and the street more like a fairy clime.

The men attempted little in the way of caricature. They contented themselves with a more quiet time in the streets of their own regiments. Only one case of real good masquerading was seen, and that was well enough carried out to fool one of the most polite and courteous officers on the ground. A young man appeared at the band concert dressed in woman's clothes, and the character was so well carried out that he attracted the attention of the officer and the masquerader was politely given a seat on the platform of the colonel's quarters

Most of the evening was devoted to visiting and entertaining. Probably some of the non-combatants who visited will long remember their visit, notably two who appeared in C street, Fourth, and were introduced to "Mr. Stone Fence" and were afterwards on exhibition outside marked "Exhibit A" and "Exhibit B." It is safe to say they will never forget the evening they monkeyed with "stone fence" on the camp ground at [illegible].

Several of the officers of the [illegible] were entertained by the staff officers of the Fourth, between whom there is the most hospitable feeling. Lieut. Noyes and his staff assembled on his left kept open [illegible] throughout the evening and the milk of human kindness dispensed by Mr. Robert Storms to the friends who visited the quartermaster will be remembered as one of the pleasantest features of this stormy week.

The festivities did not last so long this year as in former years, and at a very early hour the camp was quiet and most of the men in their quarters. Taps, the most beautifully solemn sound of the camp, was sounded an hour later than usual on account of the illuminations

The morning gun brought the men out into the most sultry and depressing atmosphere experienced this season. The sky was like glass heated to a red heat, while the air seemed as though [illegible] from a furnace, and in a short time dry clothing was at a discount, and every surplus garment was shed and packed in the company chest.

The routine duty of camp was the same as usual—company drill, guard mount and battalion drill. Policing and inspection was, however, omitted.

In the Third the competitive drill for the Tyler cup was set for 8 o'clock. As that hour approached it was announced that all but three of the companies had dropped out, and only B, C and I would enter. B Co., Capt. Kelleher, came out first, followed by Co. C and then I. All three of the companies showed splendid work and efficiency, and received words of commendation from the U. S. A. officers who were judges of the drill. After the competition had been adjusted and the standing rated it was announced as follows, the per cent, being out of a possible 168, with 51 orders to execute, the time occupied to be considered: Co. B, 130 and a fraction; Co. C, 144 and a fraction, and Co. I, 125 and a fraction.

There was a great deal of foolish talk indulged in regarding the contest, which created some dissatisfaction, such as the statement that Co. I was to have the cup whether or no, and that Co. C was to carry it off by a prejudgment, as it would please Mrs. Tyler to have the cup go to her own home. This is sheer nonsense, as the contest was decided by judges who were wholly disinterested, and were honorable officers from the United States army who would scorn to stoop to trickery of that sort. The cup goes to Norwich again because it was fairly won in a fair and open competition by a company that has worked for a year to win it.

The Third was the last regiment to leave camp, marching out at 1 o'clock, the others going out between 11 and 1.

Notwithstanding the fact that we have been handicapped with wind and storm a portion of the time, the week has been a satisfactory one to the officers, and has been called a working week. There has been less attention paid to the picnic idea by the men, and more attention given to the work for which they came here. This fact has been pleasing to the officers and they feel that they are getting some return for their labors in behalf of the brigade.

The camp ground in a few short moments will be again in the hands of Capt. Cornell, who will take it down and store it for another year.

Did Not Admire the Rabbi and Attempt to Eject Him.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 27.—Three obstreperous members of the Congregation Beni Jacob, in Temple street, broke up service in that house of worship Saturday morning. These people, Joseph Levine, Joseph Soffe and Henry Brody, do not admire their rabbi, the Rev. Israel Sachs, and have used every effort to cause his removal from this field.

Saturday morning the three men attended services, and in various ways interfered with the ceremonies. They finally invaded the sacred precincts in which the rabbi was preaching and attempted to drag him away. The congregation, about 100 in number, sprang to their pastor's relief and a fierce struggle resulted. It required the energetic efforts of a dozen cool heads to quell quite a promising riot. Warrants have been issued for the three disturbers.

A Young Married Woman Drinks Laudanum.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 27.—Ida Gildersleeve, aged 16, the wife of James Gildersleeve, a carpenter, died this morning from laudanum administered by herself. She quarreled with her husband last night and took the dose in his absence. The couple have been married six months.

Ocean Steamers.

At New York: Anchoria, from Glasgow.

At London: Arizona, from New York; Normannia, from New York; Delaware, from New York.

A VIOLENT ELECTRIC STORM

Visits Rome, N. Y.—Great Damage Done by Hailstones.

ROME, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Shortly after 8 o'clock this morning this city was visited with a violent electric storm. Two black clouds hanging low and moving swiftly east and west met here.

Rain fell in torrents, accompanied by hail stones of enormous size. Most of them were tomato shaped and many of them weighed a quarter of a pound each. In striking the flagging they popped like pistols.

Every unprotected skylight in the city was broken. Stores were flooded and goods damaged. Plate glass half an inch thick was broken. Tin roofs were broken and set leaking. All the greenhouses in the city were destroyed and the plants and flowers badly damaged.

The fruit trees were stripped and the melons were destroyed. A farm house on the outskirts of the city was struck by lightning and burned.

A farm hand was hit on the head by a hail stone and his head was badly cut. The new Gings memorial chapel, erected at a great cost, was badly damaged. Several costly cathedral glass windows in St. Mary's church were destroyed.

The hail lasted about ten minutes. Two miles south of here no rain or hail fell. It is not thought the hop growing ground was visited. To the north and west the storm had a wider range and a great deal of damage was done. The storm was the worst that ever visited this locality.

TO PUNISH THE GUILTY PARTIES.

Investigation Demanded of the Outrage on Miss Melton, the Missionary.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The vigorous protest entered by the United States government against the assault on Miss Melton, an American missionary in the Turkish province of Loeul, has borne fruit that will insure to some extent the safety of Christian missionaries in Turkey.

Under instructions from the state department the United States minister at Constantinople demanded a rigid investigation of the facts connected with the outrage and the punishment of the guilty party which would be satisfactory to all concerned. The minister has been instructed to see that the promises given by the Turkish government are carried out.

DEATH OF COL. BURNHAM.

Was One of the First Volunteers from Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 27.—George S. Burnham, late Colonel of the Twenty-second regiment Connecticut volunteers, died tonight, aged 65 years. He was one of the first volunteers in the war from Connecticut, enlisting with Gen. Joseph R. Hawley and others in rifle Co. A. First regiment Connecticut volunteers, three months, April 16, 1861. He was made a captain and subsequently became colonel of the regiment. In 1862 he was made colonel of the Twenty second regiment. He was afterward a captain in the United States volunteers.

What Chairman Springer Says.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Chairman Springer of the house committee on banking and currency is quoted as saying: "I do not believe the committee will report a bill in favor of the repeal of the tax on state banks. I do not believe in going back to the days of the old state banking system and of being compelled to have forty four different kinds of currency in this country. The removal of the tax upon state banks and the re-establishment of the old system would be an obstruction to business. I do not believe that such a bill can pass. I favor a stable currency, good alike in all the states.

Mayor Sargent's Banking Scheme Works Well.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 27.—Mayor Sargent, since he went into the banking business for the city, has received $56,300 and placed it to the credit of the city of New Haven. From 80 to 90 per cent of this amount was in small bank bills. The mayor says that much of this wealth was hid away in old stockings or tied up in handkerchiefs, and he thinks that the placing of such a sum in circulation in these days of stringency will prove beneficial.

Unknown Woman Dies on a Sound Steamboat.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 27.—An unknown woman died in an apoplectic fit on board the steamer C. H. Northam on its way from New York to this city last night. She was about 23 years old, well dressed and prepossessing in appearance. She occupied a stateroom alone, where she was found dead by the purser. An article of clothing indicates that she lived on Third avenue, New York city. The body awaits identification.

Failure at Ansonia.

ANSONIA, Conn., Aug. 27.—The Ansonia Electric company, formerly the Electric Supply company, was placed in the hands of receivers Saturday. John B Wallace of Wallace & Sons qualified for Connecticut and J. B. Waller for Illinois. The firm did a large business in Chicago. The failure was an outgrowth of Wallace & Sons' suspension. The Electric company employed 125 hands here and 75 in Chicago.

House Ways and Means Committee to Meet Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The house ways and means committee will meet Tuesday, when a course of procedure will probably be decided upon, including such matters as the approximate date when a tariff bill shall be reported. Chairman Wilson is supposed to have prepared a bill covering the subject of tariff revision in a general way, which he will submit to the committee.

Fishing Smack Supposed to Be Lost.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Skippers of the fishing craft who came through the cyclone that struck this neighborhood on Thursday are inclined to think that the fishing smack Ella M. Johnson is lost. She is the only smack of the Jersey fleet of about seventy-five vessels unaccounted for. The boat Actae passed a lot of wreckage on Friday, supposed to belong to some fishing smack.

Savings Association Closes Its Doors.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Aug. 27.—The Central Illinois Banking and Savings association closed its doors yesterday. The assets are stated $260,000, and the liabilities at $230,000.

Suicided at 81.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 27.—George Bennett, 81 years old, committed suicide at Centerville this afternoon by taking paris green. No cause is assigned for the act.

Large Oyster Crop.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 27.—Two oyster men have just completed the examination of the beds in this vicinity and find a very promising crop—larger than usual.

RIVER SPREE CHOLERA INFECTED.

The Latest Plague Reports from European Countries.

PILGRIM VICTIMS.

French Steamship Crews Stricken with the Disease at Jeddah.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—Ten persons are under medical observation in the Moabite Cholera hospital. Three fresh cases of cholera have been found in Berlin. All the bathing places along the Spree, which flows through the city, have been closed, as the river is believed to be infected MARSEILLES, Aug. 27.—The steamship Georgovia, of the French Navigation company, arrived here from Jeddah Saturday. The captain said that many pilgrims from Mecca took the Georgovia for ports between Jeddah and Marseilles. Twenty of them died of cholera and were buried at sea. The crews of the French steamships Pictavia, Languedoc and Auvergne and the ship Lutetia, were stricken with cholera, the captain said, in the harbor of Jeddah.

ROME, Aug. 27.—Seven persons died of Asiatic cholera here Saturday.

ROTTERDAM, Aug. 27.—Nine cases of cholera have been found here in the last few days.

ANTWERP, Aug. 27.—There was one death from cholera in this city Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—A dispatch was received at the Marine hospital bureau Saturday from Consul Seymour, at Palermo, Italy, stating that up to date there had been twenty cases of cholera and six deaths. The disease is in mild form.

SPECIAL.

A Matter of Health

It costs more to make Royal Baking Powder than any other because its ingredients are more highly refined and expensive. But the Royal is correspondingly purer and higher in leavening strength, and of greater money value to the consumer. The difference in cost of Royal over the best of the others does not equal the difference in leavening strength, nor make good the inferior work of the cheaper powders, nor remove the impurities which such powders leave in the food.

Where the finest food is required, the Royal Baking Powder only can be used.

Where the question of health is considered, no baking powder but Royal can be used with safety. All others are shown by official analysis to contain lime, ammonia or alum.

Don't Get Weary because you have a large washing to do, but keep your spirits and strength by using IVORINE
WASHING POWDER.

It works like a charm in removing dirt, and is cheaper, safer, quicker, and better than any other way. With it backs will not ache, and clothes will not rot. 1½ lb. package costs no more than a pound of other kinds.

From April 1st, 1893, every package contains a splendid cake of pure Olive Oil Toilet Soap.

J. B. Williams Co. Glastonbury, Ct. For 50 years the makers of Yankee Shaving Soap.

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,
VETERINARIAN,
Office 10 Bath Street. Office hours 1.30-3. Telephone 122-12.
mar1d

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PAINT
EATON, CHASE & CO.
Sell BILLINGS, KING & CO.'S
Pure Prepared Paint.
We guarantee this to be the BEST Paint in the world.
Color cards giving instructions how to select colors and do your own painting, free upon application, or by mail.
EATON, CHASE & CO.,
HARDWARE DEALERS.
aug28d

PUBLIC AUCTION AT BRISTOL'S STABLES,
171-173 George St., New Haven, Conn.
TUESDAY, AUG. 29th AT 10 A. M.
RAIN OR SHINE.
Assigned estate of S. A. BAILEY: Eight Horses, four Surreys, three Side Bar Carriages, End Spring Corning, Phaeton, three Concords, Business Wagon, two Hacks, two Business Sleighs, three Portland Cutters, Bells, Double and Single Harness, Robes and Blankets, Whips, Stable Furnishings, Roller Top Desk, Office Chairs, Clocks, Pictures, Platform Scales, etc. Goods now open to inspection.
aug26d AMOS A. BROWNING, Trustee.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
CONSULT DR. X. J. LEWIS,
150 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I.
Specialist on private Chronic Diseases of Men. Cure guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. Office hours 9 to 3 and 4 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 2 and 4 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines, $5. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks (forwarded free.) fy26d

Now is the time that the public should secure their houses from the invasion of sneak thieves. You will find Moss's Palmer Fastener just the thing. He is ready to put them on wherever wanted. All orders promptly attended to. Address 173 East Broad St., Norwich, Conn., ALPHEUS MOSS. aug26d

Cholera Infantum
The most dreaded of all children's complaints prevented by using
RUSSELL'S
White Drops
FOR BABIES.
25c. All druggists.
aug5d

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.
E. M. BREWSTER
will do it for you very Cheap.
45 Water Street. aug28d

All those wishing Cold Spring Water from the Celebrated
PURITAN SPRING
Can have the same by applying to
PALMER G. WHIPPLE.
SUNNYSIDE AVENUE.
Drop me a postal and I will call and give estimates. aug5d

AMUSEMENTS.

BROADWAY THEATRE.
Monday, Aug. 28
The World Famous
BROTHERS BYRNE!
—IN THE—Greatest of all Pantomime Comedies,
"8 BELLS!"
Everything New.
A new last act, introducing some of the most startling tricks ever witnessed.
Seats on sale at Berrick's drug store on and after Friday, Aug. 25th. aug24d

EXCURSIONS.

CALIFORNIA EXCURSIONS
VIA SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY.
APPLY TO E. E. CURRIER, N. E. AGT.,
192 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON, MASS.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.
Large and Complete Line
FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE
ARTISTIC WALL PAPER
At Reduced Prices.
SPECIAL SALE.
Large Art Carpets and Rugs
$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.
Other sizes in proportion.
Japanese Rugs and Mats.
$35.00 Japanese Carpets for $30.00.
$12.00 Japanese Rugs for $6.00.
$4.00 Japanese Rugs for $2.75.
Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels.
75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.
Quantities, 1½ Yards to 30 Yards.
Parties Wishing
FURNITURE, CARPETS OR WALL PAPER,
Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock
That we are offering at Low Prices.
aug28d

Hack, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable.
7 TO 13 ONEOO STREET.
A. M. ETHERIDGE, Proprietor.
All orders given prompt attention. Moderate prices. marl3MWF

WANTS.

WANTED—A competent girl to do general housework. Apply at 12 Arnold street. aug26d

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,
No. 4 Franklin Square.

Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All modern improvements. Terms reasonable.
jy14d G. A. BURLINGHAM.

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN
Can find employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to COLCHESTER RUBBER CO.,
je3daw Colchester, Conn.

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER,
No. 7 Water St.,
Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods. jel4d

WANTED.
Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers. Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn. may4d

BOARDING.
PERMANENT AND TRANSIENT.
At reasonable rates. Centrally located. No. 8 Washington St. MRS. FURNER. may31d

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

TALKING
About PIANOS just now is my theme. Do you want a Piano? Then come and hear one of the purest and sweetest toned Pianos in the market. Price Low. Also Organs, and a stock of fine Violins, including the Mittel Violins on hand. A fine New Upright Piano to rent. Will be glad to see you at 28 Williams Street. fml3d GEO. E. MARTIN.

CONFECTIONERY

ICE CREAM.
ALL FLAVORS.
Wholesale and retail.
GEO. A. LEWIS,
Telephone. 89 CENTRAL AVE. may6d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Now is the Time to Buy
CANNING PEACHES.
We can show you some handsome Fruit, and extra large, this morning.
C. D. BROWNING & CO.
aug28d No. 8 SIXTH STREET.

HEAR! HEAR!
17—DIFFERENT ROUTES —TO— WORLD'S FAIR.—17
For rates, reservations in Sleepers, etc., apply to the undersigned.
G. L. CROSGROVE,
Union Station, Norwich, Ct. Ticket Agt. aug26MWF

Steamer : Chelsea.
Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.
Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M.
aug16d

The Connecticut
Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,
Sole agents in Norwich for the
New England Felt and Roofing Co.
BEE HIVE BRAND
Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.
Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn.
apr4d

FREE!
If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively [illegible] roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill roofs in the vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron paper and shingled. One great advantage of the Paint is, that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 5c per square foot, Three Ply at 4c per square foot, and Two Ply at 3c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Dressing Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Cellars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, [illegible] Street; H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn., P. O. Box 11. Residence 25 Oak Street. jy14

REMOVAL.
Dr. W. S. C. Perkins has removed to 21 Broadway. Office hours, 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m. Residence, 10 Broad street.
Dr. Chas. H. Perkins, 21 Broadway. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m. Residence, 30 Broad street. Telephone at residence. jy6d

All persons having unpaid bills against the town of Norwich are requested to present the same for payment at this office before the close of the fiscal year ending September 1, 1893. THURSTON B. LILLIBRIDGE, aug18d Chairman of Board of Selectmen.

STORAGE.
Storage of non-hazardous or imperishable goods or merchandise may be obtained in my Warehouse at 23 Commerce Street.
may15d A. T. CONVERSE.

ESTIMATES FOR ALL KINDS OF PRINTING furnished on application to this office.

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE
—OF—
Norwich Street Railway Co.,

Taft., Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side.	Franklin Sq., Falls and Bean Hill.
[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]

Remainder of time table same Sunday same as week day, except those marked *
* Not run Sundays.
† Sundays runs only to Greeneville Car Station.
‡ Runs only to Greeneville Car House.
Running time between Park Church and Square, 12 minutes.
Running time between Depot and Square, 7 minutes.
Subject to change and connection without notice.
nov21d E. F. SHAW, Jr., Supt.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Prentice has a nice assortment of soft hats.

Howe advertises the best sponges for washing carriages.

J. C. Worth will unload another car of fancy peaches this morning.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills absolutely cure rheumatism and neuralgia. Entirely vegetable. Safe.

At Smith & Gilbert's you will find sweaters, leather belts, bathing suits, etc., at popular prices.

A. Plaut will commence today to close out the balance of his bicycles regardless of cost. See advertisement.

Smith Brothers have made prices on fruit jars very low, and wish to exchange them for money. See advertisement.

Eaton, Chase & Co. sell Billings, King & Co.'s prepared paint and guarantee it to be the best in the world. Read their advertisement.

At Bristol's stables in New Haven, on Tuesday next, will be sold at auction, horses, carriages, harnesses, pictures, clocks, and other articles belonging to the assigned estate of S. A. Bailey. See advertisement.

Porteous & Mitchell have solved the silver problem and present the solution to the public in their advertisement this morning. Read it and see what can be done with a silver dollar at their store in the next three days.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

City Court—Kellogg, Judge.

In the cases of William Kehr and James Morgan, tried Saturday morning for breach of the peace, judgment was suspended for sixty days.

Stricken With Grief.

Tommy Lamoody, who accidentally shot and killed his youngest brother recently in Pomfret, appears very uneasy at present. He refuses to eat until urged, and wanders off alone to the meadows where he remains during the long days. He appears very nervous and is prostrated with grief. The family physician advised that the boy be taken for a change to some summer resort, but the youngster declines to go, and wants to be alone.

The Selected Priests.

After the funeral of the Right Rev. Bishop McMahon in Hartford the irremovable rectors of this diocese, the bishop's council, the bishops of the New England province and Archbishop Williams of Boston, met in council to agree upon the names of three clergymen of this diocese to be presented to the Roman tribunal for the position made vacant by Bishop McMahon's death.

It is understood the names decided upon were Father Tierney of New Britain, Father Broderick of Hartford, and Father Harty, now located at St. Joseph's cathedral in the Capital city.

It is now the duty of Archbishop Williams to select three names and send them to Rome with the names agreed upon Saturday. Then the successor of the late bishop will be appointed. The archbishop can select clergymen outside of the diocese. This has always been done in the past. The Hartford diocese has never had a bishop selected from among its priests.

The Weekly Summary.

The summary of The Weekly Record for the current week shows a large falling off in sales, but a heavy increase in mortgages owing to the large trust mortgages executed to secure bonds. The details are as follows:

Real estate sales—New Haven 29, Bridgeport 18, Hartford 7, Waterbury 6, Meriden 7, New Britain 8, Middletown 3, New London 1, Danbury 1, Norwalk 5, Ansonia 1, Derby 2, Shelton 3.

Real estate mortgages—New Haven $318,068, Bridgeport $29,750, Hartford $17,887, Waterbury $39,800, Meriden $9,636, New Britain $17,400, New London $1,100, Danbury $1,500, Norwalk $470, Ansonia $4,249, Derby $100, Shelton $76,900.

The total number of sales this week is 78, as compared with 104 for the preceding week and 91 for the corresponding week last year. The total of recorded mortgages is $506,488, against $157,539 the preceding week and $245,090 for the corresponding week last year.—[New Haven Weekly Record.

Connecticut's Educational Exhibit.

Prof. Will S. Monroe of Pasadena, Cal., in a review of the World's fair educational exhibits in the current number of The Journal of Education, writes:

Connecticut is represented chiefly at the educational exhibit by a work of a half-dozen of her larger cities. That of New Haven is uniformly good. The co-ordination of language, drawing and literature is better than much of similar work found in the Massachusetts exhibit. Bridgeport exhibits a series of general information and culture charts, and the written work of the pupils who follow this course. There are some good descriptions and colored drawings of colonial flags in the Waterbury exhibit, and some very fair illustrations of the historical work at Stamford.

New Britain sends a large exhibit from her State Normal school, the most striking features of which seem to be the work in drawing, and color, and the nature studies. The State Normal school at Willimantic illustrates very forcibly the possibilities in the line of home made apparatus. Bristol contributes a rather unique volume. It consists of drawn figures dressed in clothes made by the children. There are a score or more figures and representing national characteristics, as "Our Sailor Boy," "the German Peasant," etc. Yale university has a very extended collection of bromide prints of buildings, laboratories, and class rooms.

This seems a little like unjust discrimination. Certainly Prof. Monroe did not make an exhaustive study of the Connecticut exhibit or he would have had a word of commendation for the Norwich contribution, which was highly praised by all who saw it.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

OLD LAWS.

Queer Statutes of Our Forefathers Under the British Rule.

In the library of P. B. Greene is an old volume entitled "Acts and Laws of his majesty's English Colony of Connecticut, in New England, in America." It was published in 1769 and contains many curious statutes that regulated the Nutmeg state at that time.

Every town in the colony might agree at annual meetings to destroy barberry bushes. Those inhabitants who opposed their being cut down were fined five shillings, also two shillings per month till they declared their free consent.

An act for the ascertaining of town brands provided that each town should have a town brand to brand every horse on his left shoulder.

Any person committing burglary or guilty of open robbery was branded, or had one ear cut off, and was whipped fifteen stripes; for the second offence his other ear was taken off, and at the third offence he was put to death.

Sealers of leather were chosen in every town, who were instructed to search for shoes, boots and other wear made of bad leather. If, upon due consideration and trial by four or six honest men skillful in leather, the aforesaid were judged and certified to be made of insufficient leather, then the same was by the owners forfeited.

A penalty of five pounds was forfeited by any man directly or indirectly endeavoring to draw away the affections of any maid on pretence of marriage before he had obtained liberty and allowance from her parents, governors or guardians. A man that was unmarried and had no children or servants and was not a public officer, was not allowed to keep house of himself.

STORRS HORTICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Meeting of the Executive Committee Saturday Afternoon.

There was a meeting Saturday afternoon of the executive committee of the Storrs Agricultural college in the office of ex-Congressman William E. Simonds, who is one of the trustees. The members present were Messrs. J. H. Hale of Glastonbury, T. S. Gold of Cornwall and Henry C. Miller of Milford.

The meeting was held to consult concerning the new greenhouses that are to be put up on the grounds under the direction of the horticultural department. Professor Woodbury of Massachusetts, who has been placed in charge of the horticultural interests of the college, is now visiting different parts of the state in connection with his work. He will soon meet the representatives of the Hartford County Agricultural society. One of the gentlemen of the society whom he will consult with particularly is Vice President J. C. Webster of the Ætna Life Insurance company, who has taken great interest in horticultural progress in this county.

Ex-Congressman Simonds has not been able to meet with the board for some time, owing to his business associations in New York. This morning he came in from his summer home in Collinsville to participate in the deliberations of the committee.

The action of the committee relative to the appointment of teachers was confirmed. The school will not open until September 24.

United States Department of Agriculture —Weather Bureau.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 24, 1893.

The chief of the weather bureau directs the publication of the following data, compiled from the record of observations for the month of September taken at this station for a period of twenty-two years.

It is believed that the facts thus set forth will prove of interest to the public, as well as the special student, showing as they do the average and extreme conditions of the more important meteorological elements and the range within which such variations may be expected to keep during any corresponding month.

TEMPERATURE.

Mean or normal temperature 63.
The warmest September was that of 1881, with an average of 68.
The coldest September was that of 1871, with an average of 58.
The highest temperature during any September was 93, on September 7, 1881.
The lowest temperature during any September was 35, on September 30, 1881.
Average date on which first "killing" frost occurred (in autumn) October 12.
PRECIPITATION. (Rain and melted snow.)
Average for the month, 3.51 inches.
Average number of days with .01 of an inch or more, 10.
The greatest monthly precipitation was 8.90 inches in 1882.
The least monthly precipitation was 1.21 inches in 1877.
The greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any 24 consecutive hours was 4.43 inches on September 11 and 12, 1882.
CLOUDS AND WEATHER.
Average number of cloudless days, 11.
Average number of partly cloudy days, 11.
Average number of cloudy days, 8.
WIND.
The prevailing winds have been from the southwest.
The highest velocity of the wind during any September was 40 miles on September 24, 1882.

E. M. LAKEBY,
Observer, Weather Bureau.

DEBATE TO BE ENDED.

Vote on Silver Bill Will Be Taken Monday.

ORATORICAL GIANTS ARE HEARD.

House Galleries Crowded With Spectators.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The galleries of the house were filled with spectators Saturday morning before the hour of meeting (10 a. m.), attracted by the announcement that the last day of the great silver debate was to be signalized by a battle of the oratorical giants of the house.

The chaplain in his closing prayer asked God's blessing on the closing hours of this long debate. "Thou hast already sent thy blessing, for it has been conducted in a mild, christian-like spirit. May nothing occur to mar that spirit as the debate comes to its close. And we beseech thee, whatever may be the result of it, that that result may prove to be a lasting benefit to the largest number of thy people."

The speaker announced the order of the day's proceedings. Under the hour rule, he said, the time in favor of the bill would close with the member from West Virginia, Mr. Wilson, and the time in opposition to it by the member from Missouri (Mr. Bland).

The first 20 minutes was assigned by Mr. Wilson to Mr. Clarke (Dem.) of Missouri. He believed it to be the duty of congress to fix the ratio at 16 to 1. In his opinion there was no difference in the ability of the country to carry out silver coinage between a 16 and a 20 ratio. If the country could do it with a ratio of 20 to 1, it could do it with a ratio of 16 to 1. Still he would not cast a vote that would paralyze or continue the paralysis of industry all through the country; and in his section there was no question about the necessity of immediate action.

In Order to Restore Confidence.

The trouble was thought to be due to the policy of purchasing silver under the Sherman law; and, whether that belief was correct or not, he would vote to repeal that law (applause). He would do anything that would restore confidence.

Mr. Clarke was followed by Mr. Reed of Maine, who began to speak at 10:30. After an introduction, in which he outlined the general situation, Mr. Reed said that the first distrust arose from the doubt whether the United States was not rapidly approaching a system which would invariably result in a silver standard and a lowering of the value of the dollar as compared with the gold standard upon which the country was then undertaking to base itself. Added to this was the uncertainty as to policy of the present administration.

The speaker said that he was in favor of the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act for two reasons. First, because the public considered the Sherman law as the cause of the unreasonable hoarding of currency; second, because when the time came, the repeal would assist on the upward path to the next period of prosperity and progress.

Mr. Reed argued that the people want a gold standard, and do not want a silver standard thrust upon them without their knowing it. He also spoke at length on the evils of bimetallism.

DIDN'T BLOW UP.

Safe In Pawtucket Was Stronger Than the Burglars Powder.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Aug. 27.—Burglars attempted to break into the safe of P. H. Wilbor's big grain mill at Central Falls Friday night. The attempt was not discovered until Saturday morning. An entrance was affected through a rear door of the mill and the office on the second floor was easily entered.

The safe was drilled on the top. The hole was filled with powder, but the safe did not blow open. It is, however, out of order, and the services of an expert will be needed to open it. The clock over the safe was stopped by the explosion at 10:07 o'clock. Nothing was stolen but a revolver.

CHAIRMAN O'NEIL.

He Will Preside at Democratic State Convention.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The Democratic state committee at its meeting in this city named Congressman O'Neil as chairman of the coming convention. The state convention will be held in Music Hall, Boston, Wednesday, Sept. 27.

It was voted to request Josiah Quincy to withdraw his resignation as chairman of the committee.

Burglars in Beverly.

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 27.—The drug and variety store of Benjamin W. Roberts, opposite the North Beverly railway station, was entered by burglars at an early hour Saturday morning. They took about $50 worth of goods. A foreign looking man with a large bag has been around the neighborhood the last four days. About 3 o'clock in the morning the barking of dogs aroused people on Bodleigh avenue, who on looking out saw two men going down the street.

Safe Blowers Get $50.

LOWELL, Mass., Aug. 27.—Some time after midnight Friday night burglars blew open the safe at Parker's meal office on the corner of Manchester and Varnum streets. They obtained about $50 in silver.

OCCUPIED BY MILITARY.

Naples a Vast Garrison—Fights Between Soldiers and Mobs.

ROME, Aug. 27.—Thursday night and all day Friday the fighting cab drivers were fighting the police in several quarters of the city. Four regiments were brought by special train to the city Friday morning. The military and rioters had three encounters during the afternoon. More than 1000 persons were arrested.

Many of the men who led in the anti-French agitation, started after the Aigues Mortes massacre, are said to have joined the rioters and several fights, in which many were injured, were reported at 11 o'clock at night.

Within the last three days the garrison at Naples has been strengthened by 12,000 troops. The regiments are camped in the principal squares of the city.

The prefect has issued a proclamation to the people, informing them that the city has been formally occupied by the military, and that all further disorder will be repressed by summary action of the troops.

Millions of Gold En Route.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 27.—Ten million dollars in gold packed in canvas bags, came into Kansas City Friday on the Santa Fe train from San Francisco. The money was guarded by 19 United States deputy marshals armed with Winchester rifles, and is for the treasury in New York city.

Like the Five Per Cent.

MARLBORO, Mass., Aug. 27.—Tax Collector Doyle has received an aggregate of $55,000 up to last night upon the offer of the city council to make a 5 per cent reduction.

FOURTH CLASS POSTMASTERS.

Bill to Prevent Partisan Influence In Their Appointment Introduced.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—There will be an outcry among the politicians if the bill which Mr. Lodge of Massachusetts has introduced in the senate should become a law, but the clamor against it will probably prevent its ever reaching a stage where its passage will be likely. The bill bears the innocent title, "To regulate the appointment of fourth class postmasters," but its essential purpose is to exclude political influence in the appointment and removal of the great number of such postmasters throughout the country.

The bill is the outgrowth of a conference of the advocates of the extension of the non-partisan system of appointments. They furnish the following figures in its defense. In 1885 there were 810 removals, but in 1886, with the change in administration, there were 9,589, with 9,113 resignations—a change of more than 38 per cent of the postmasters of the country in a single year, where the changes were less than 14 per cent the year preceding. A like change in 1889 in the administration shows removals and resignations amounting to 18,000, or nearly 20 per cent in a single year, against less than 14 per cent the year before when there was less motive for political removals.

The figures for the present administration are, of course, not obtainable, but they will doubtless show that removals have been made with the same dexterity.

Mr. Lodge's bill provides for the selection of postmasters, when vacancies occur, in an open and public manner by post-office inspectors. The change proposed by this bill reduces the labor of the postoffice department by one-half, and it is claimed for the system that it would not be expensive after the principle was established that the tenure of the best postmasters was permanent, and that they would not be removed for political reasons. The interference of members of congress in the selection of fourth-class postmasters is especially forbidden in Mr. Lodge's bill.

IN BETTER SHAPE.

Authorities at Washington Exceedingly Gratified at Improvement.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Secretary Carlisle was seen by a correspondent Saturday and asked if he had any objection to stating his present view of the financial situation. He replied that, while he did not care to give any interview, he was willing to state that he was exceedingly gratified at the marked improvement noticeable all through the country. He attributed it chiefly to steadily increasing assurances that the Sherman law will be repealed.

Comptroller of the Currency Eckles, when questioned, replied as follows: "It is safe to say that the general public looks upon the improvement of banking conditions as the best indication of returning confidence on the part of the people in the financial institutions of the country, and therefore a bare statement of fact, so far as the national banks are concerned, will substantiate the statement that a better condition of affairs is rapidly being brought about.

During the month of July last 78 national banks suspended. During the month of August but 41 suspended. During the first week in August there were 19 suspended, during the second week seven, during the third week eight and during the present week but three. During the month of July nine national banks resumed and in August thus far 17 have resumed.

Comptroller Eckles thinks these facts speak louder than all the assurances he could give of a steadily improving condition.

ONLY THREE SAVED.

All Others On the Panther and Lykens Valley Are Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—Assistant Engineer Albert Smith of the Reading railroad company's steam collier Panther, which, with the barge Lykens Valley, was lost off the Long Island coast Thursday morning, has arrived here. Of the 29 persons on the two vessels, only three were saved, as follows: Assistant Engineer Albert Smith, Fireman Edwin Cummings and Seaman Victor England. Mr. Smith is not positive as to the name of the latter. Following is a list of the dead on the Panther:

Captain George W. Pierson, Mate John B. Newlove, Second Mate Otto M. Johnson, Engineer Henry C. Moore, Steward William Dailey, Firemen Elvy Jebrys and Frank Wilhallie, Mess-boy Frank Field, Ordinary Karl Erickson, Coal-passer William Plummer and Seaman Arvid Johnsen, Andrew Johnson and Frederick Larsen. All reside in Philadelphia except Field and Larsen, whose addresses are unknown.

On the Lykens Valley: Captain Alfred F. Sylvester, Somerville, Mass.; Engineer Robert Abs, Newark, N. J.; Cook Hiram Blodgett, North Brooksville, Me., and Deck Hand Hislont of Newfoundland.

BOTH FOUND GUILTY.

Sailors Who Murdered Mate at Sea Will Be Hanged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The trial of Herman Sharf and Hans Hansen for the murder at sea of Morris Fitzgerald, second mate of the bark Hesper, has closed in the United States circuit court, and the jury found both defendants guilty. Thomas St. Clair, another member of the crew, was convicted on a similar charge some time ago and sentenced to be hanged.

The men had formed a plot to murder the officers and take control of the vessel, which was near Tahiti at the time, but were placed in irons after they had murdered the second mate by cutting him down with an axe and throwing his body overboard.

Heirs Sued Too Late.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 27.—The federal court has decided against the heirs of Ramsen, the Mexican soldier, who claimed midway land, including the Minnesota Transfer, valued at over $6,000,000. Ramsen got the land warrant, and in 1867 his widow sold it for $100, neglecting to get permission from the court as guardian of her children. The heirs of the children brought the present suit to recover, but the court held them estopped by gross laches in having allowed 40 years to elapse before beginning.

Governor Russell Goes Home.

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass., Aug. 26.—In order to keep some very important engagements at the state house Governor Russell left for Boston on the 9:30 train Saturday morning. The governor expressed himself as having had a splendid cruise with the president and party Friday in Buzzards bay, and regrets his inability to remain here longer.

Mail Service to Be Continued.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Postmaster General Morley of Great Britain says the government has decided to continue the special Queenstown mail service until the end of the year if the steamship and railroad companies interested in the Queenstown mail deliveries will agree to certain specified conditions.

Vaulting Record Broken.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Clinton Morse of the class of '96, University of California, has broken the record for long distance pole vaulting, jumping 36ft. 8 3-8in., beating the record made by A. H. Green of Harvard, '93, by 1 1-8in.

BEHIND THE SCENES.

Virginia Earl, who was last season with "A Hole In the Ground," has been specially engaged to play Della Fox's part in "Wang."

Hal Reid has sold his new American play, "The Lily and the Rose," to Charles Mortimer, the general manager of A. Y. Pearson's interests.

Frank Blair is going to produce a comic opera called "The Sphinx," which was originally tried by amateurs of New York city at a Boston theater.

The Royal Bohemian National Opera company, which Carl and Theodore Rosenfeld will bring from Prague the coming season, is said to comprise more than 150 people.

Mme. Rosa Linde, the contralto, and Edwin M. Shonert, the pianist, have been engaged to support Henri Marteau, the great French violinist, on his first tour through America.

Lizzie and Vinie Daly have got back from Europe. They made a great success in London, and refused six months at the Folies Bergere, Paris, on account of engagements in America.

"Der Garde Husar," a comic opera in three acts—music by Max Gabriel, words by C. Walther—was sung recently for the first time in this country at the Terrace Garden, New York. Herr Gabriel, the composer, conducted the orchestra.

Some new lilliputians will be added to the company of little folk now managed by the Rosenfeld brothers. Most of them will come from abroad, but one is an American. The new lilliputians will not be intrusted with important parts at first, for they usually require a good deal of training.

ANNALS OF THE LAW.

1871—A movement was begun for the establishment of a legal university in England.

1871—The statute against lawyers as members of parliament was repealed, it having long been disregarded. It had been declared invalid by both Coke and Blackstone.

1872—A scheme of legal education was devised and published. Many changes in practice and pleading proposed.

1872—An international congress for the prevention and suppression of crime held in London.

1873—An association for the reform and codification of the law of nations met at Brussels. Subsequent meetings were held at Geneva, 1874, The Hague, 1875, Bremen, 1876; Antwerp, 1877, and frequently since.

1873—A supreme court of judicature established in England, the existing courts to be united into one supreme court, divided into the high court of justice and the court of appeal.

1874—A conference of jurists and publicists held at Brussels to consider an international code.

1874—Morrison R. Waite of Ohio appointed chief justice of the United States supreme court.

1881—The Guiteau trial for the assassination of President Garfield.

1888—Melville W. Fuller of Illinois appointed chief justice of the United States supreme court.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

In every mile of railroad there are seven feet and four inches that are not covered by the rails—the space left between them for expansion.

The Wabash new parlor cars between St. Louis and Kansas City are models of beauty and comfort and were turned out of the company's own shops.

G. H. Thomson, bridge engineer of the New York Central, is the designer of the mammoth four track drawbridge which that company is about to build over the Harlem.

The ordinary number of trains leaving the Waterloo terminus daily is 702, with some 100,000 passengers. From no other London terminus do so many general and heavy trains leave in the 24 hours.

The four luxurious hotel cars designed by General Superintendent Allen of the Old Colony for service over that line between Boston and Chicago are nearly completed. They combine the latest improvements and cost $30,000 each.

Experiments made by the scientists appointed for the purpose by the French government show that the resistance of the atmosphere to the motion of a high speed train often amounts to half the total resistance which the locomotive must overcome.

CROWN AND SCEPTER.

The sultan of Turkey has an emerald of 300 carats set in the handle of a dagger.

The queen of Siam has the smallest feet yet seen on a titled woman. She wears 1½ in boots.

The Princess May is superstitious about opals, which formed the jewels in the engagement ring which the Duke of Clarence gave her.

The queen of Spain is passionately fond of the water, and whenever she is at San Sebastian she spends hours fishing in an open boat.

The announcement that Prince Max of Saxony, nephew of the king, had quitted the army to become a priest is true, according to German papers.

King Umberto recently had sold at public auction in one of the courtyards of the Quirinal all the old furniture, porcelain, glass, etc., that had gone out of the fashion since Victor Emanuel's day.

Prince Peter Troubetskoi, the Russian nobleman who is painting Mr. Gladstone's portrait, is engaged to be married to a young English girl, Miss Ethel Wright. He stands 6 feet 4 in his stockings and is an unusually handsome man.

SIMPLE SALVE.

Bread made with sea water is said to be a good remedy for scrofula.

A quart of milk in which the juice of three mandarin oranges has been squeezed, is said to be a refreshing lotion for the complexion.

Habitual use of borax is not advisable. It is cleansing, but it dries the skin and discolors the hair, bleaching brown hair and turning gray hair an ugly yellow.

One of the best remedies for toothache is the common compound tincture of benzoin, sold everywhere in the drug stores. If a few drops are placed on cotton and put in or around the tooth, the pain will be almost instantly stopped.

For painful sore feet, caused by excessive walking, long standing or constant movement, as in the use of the sewing machine, a dusting powder of equal parts of precipitated chalk and tannin, or the tannin alone, will be of much service. Apply twice daily after bathing the feet in warm water.

The first horse cars in New York were run along the Bowery in 1852. Now there are 19 street railroads in that city, using 3,000 cars and 20,000 horses and carrying 285,000,000 passengers yearly.

A new device in the driving gear of a locomotive which equalizes the steam pressure and prevents the pounding in the cylinder has been invented and patented by David S. Patterson of North Platte, Neb., who has been blind all his life.

DON'T BE ROPED
IN.

OLD ∴ Honesty ∴ Chewing Tobacco is the purest, most delicious, and in every way the best. Sold by all dealers. Don't accept anything else.
JNO. FINZER & BROS.,
LOUISVILLE, KY.
1 aug24MWFw

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

"THE PRINCE OF INDIA!"
—OR—
Why Constantinople Fell.
—BY—
GENERAL LEW WALLACE,
Author of "BEN HUR."
FOR SALE BY Noyes & Davis.
aug23daw

"THE PRINCE OF INDIA,"
—BY—
GEN. LEW WALLACE,
Author of "BEN HUR."
THIS NOTABLE BOOK IS NOW READY.
—AT—Cranston & Co.
aug23daw

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. H. VAUGHN & SONS
IRON CASTINGS.
Feaug28 FERRY ST., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON
of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for immediate delivery.
REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Sable" brand.
SHEET IRON. Galvanized "B. B." Black and Plate.
STEEL. "Black Diamond" and "Silver," warranted Cast Steel. Machinery Steel, Tire Steel, Calking Steel.
FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.
IRON AND STEEL I BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.
A. T. CONVERSE,
Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf,
may18d 23 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.
Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Wool Machinery, Mill Gearing, Shaftings, Pulley Hangers, etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds, Gearing, Cuttings, Forgings and Castings at short notice, 129 Franklin Street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second-hand machines bought and sold on commission. jy18d

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR Fire Wood
—TO THE—
PARK WOOD YARD!
301 Franklin Street.
A discount will be made on all purchases of Four Dollars or more.
J. ROURKE.
aug21d

Before Buying Elsewhere,
Call and examine my complete line of new styles of
—WALL PAPERS.—
Lowest Prices.
E. L. GREENE,
Painter, Grainer and Paper Hanger.
aug21d

Removal.
BRECKENRIDGE BROS.
Have removed their shop to CORNER WILLOW and CHESTNUT STS. and are prepared to give estimates on all kinds of wood-work.
jy6d

—IF YOU—
Want money,
Want a cook,
Want boarders,
Want a partner,
Want a situation,
Want a servant girl,
Want to sell a farm,
Want to sell a house,
Want to rent a house,
Want to exchange anything,
Want to sell plants or grain,
Want to sell groceries or drugs,
Want to sell or trade anything,
Want to find customers for anything,
Want to sell or buy horses, mules or cattle.
Advertise
IN THE BULLETIN.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Life Was a Burden

Because of the intense pains in my stomach and side, and also on account of gall stones. After eating I would be

In Great Distress

I became so reduced in flesh that my friends thought I would not live long. I grew worse and my removal to a hospital in Syracuse was under advisement, when my father had me give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. There was an improvement at once and I have continued taking it, until I am now well. I have gained in flesh and can eat heartily without distress. I now enjoy life and I owe it all to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. MARY SHUTA, Cazenovia, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

HOOD'S PILLS assist digestion and cure headache. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

PLUMBING, ETC.

A. TROLAND & SON
Will Give You Close
Estimates on
PLUMBING and GAS WORK.

—TRY OUR—
"Big Box" Stove Polish.
—ALSO GET—
RUTLAND LINING.
IT FITS ANY STOVE.
[illegible] Prevents clinkers from forming. It makes a solid fire box, as well as being cheap. For sale by REISS & WHEELY, Plumbers 11 Ferry Street.

WE HAVE THE BEST
Water Filters and Garden Hose
in the market at Very Low Prices.
Estimates cheerfully furnished on all classes of Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting.
MCGAHER & BREED,
6 West Main, Central Wharf.

Telephone 133—3
ROBERT BROWN
Steam and Gas Fitting,
Plumbing and Steam Heating,
Pipe Cutting and Threading by Power Machinery.
All Work done Promptly and Neatly.
Pequot Building, Central Wharf.
Electric cars every half hour.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell
COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A Fine Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

A. B. KINGSBURY.

Murphy & Blackburn,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
and EMBALMERS.
57 Franklin Street.
Open day and night. Ring bell for night calls. Residence 31 High street and 3 Williams Avenue, Preston.

HAVE THAT
Lawn Mower
Put in Good Order
and it will be as good as new. Send it to
M. A. BARBER
Industrial Building, Falls Ave.

DROP ME A POSTAL
and I will call on you with a fine line of Photos and Designs of
MONUMENTAL & CEMETERY WORK
and samples of Granite and Marble of various kinds of colors.
ALVIN W. CROUCH, Norwich, Conn.

MY FIRST CAR LOAD
Bought Since the Panic Has Arrived.
C. J. Wolcott.

Alonzo H. Converse,
PAINTER.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
Wall Tinting in all its branches.
146 Laurel Water St.
Estimates done for the trade.

INTERIOR and EXTERIOR
Decorative House Painting.
D. S. UNDERWOOD,
Residence 125 Franklin St.

REMOVAL.
We have removed
From 11 to 61 Chestnut St.
Where we have superior facilities for doing all kinds of work in our line.
Steam Carpet Cleaning.
Ladies' garments, cloth of all descriptions dyed, [illegible] a specialty. Promptness and [illegible] guaranteed.
WILSON BROS.

WE CALL YOUR ATTENTION
to our fine line of Imported Sherries, Ports, Brandies, Cordials and Clarets. Also the Alt. [illegible] Walnut Hill, Cabinet, Scotch and Irish Whiskey, and the Old Tom, Royal Schiedam and Yacht Club Gins.
COATES & SHERIDAN, 48 West Main St., Dealers in the highest standards of foreign and domestic Wines and Liquors.

NOTICE.
Ceilings Whitened,
Woodwork Painted,
and Walls Papered
with Gilt Paper
For From $6 to $12 a Room.
GEO. C. BUCHANAN,
House Painter and Paper Hanger.
Wall Paper of all kinds. All paints mixed to order. Estimates cheerfully given.
[illegible] Shetucket St & 158 Central Ave.,
NORWICH, CONN.

The Bulletin.

A FLOCK OF SHEEP.

Over the field the bright air clings and tingles
In the golden sunset, while the red wind [illegible]
Upon the nibbled knolls, and from the dingles
The sheep are gathering in frightened groups.

From the wide field the laggards bleat and fal-[illegible]
A drover hurls his cry and hooting laugh,
And one young swain, too glad to whoop or holla,
Is singing wildly as he whirls his staff.

Now crowding into little groups and eddies,
They swirl about and charge and try to pass.
The sheep dog yelps and heads them off and steadies
And rounds and molds them in a seething mass.

They stand a moment with their heads uplifted
Till the wise dog barks loudly on the flank.
They all at once roll over and are drifted
Down the small hill toward the river bank.

Covered with rusty marks and purple blotches
Around the fallen bars they flow and leap.
The wary dog stands by and keenly watches
As if he knew the name of every sheep.

Now down the road the nimble sound de-[illegible]
The drovers cry, the dog delays and whines,
And now with twinkling feet and glimmering fleeces
They round and vanish past the dusky pines.

The drove is gone; the ruddy wind grows colder;
The singing youth puts up the heavy bars.
Beyond the pines he sees the crimson smolder
And catches in his eyes the early stars.
—Duncan C. Scott in Youth's Companion.

AN INSANE TROOPER.

Recently, while wandering through an old Aztec [illegible] village in which disabled soldiers were quartered immediately after the overthrow of the heathen empire, I found among some buried camp accouterments an old manuscript crumpled up with other papers in a battered leather knapsack. My knowledge of Spanish soon revealed for me the following curious and weird story, also a short explanation of it, probably written by the owner of the knapsack. As it may be of interest to some, though perhaps for no value more than that of this curiosity, I will submit the result of my discovery to public perusal.—THE TRANSLATOR.

Yes, upon that I was resolute—he must die, but how.

Why did I crave his death? you ask. Was he rich, and I poor? Was he noted for bravery and valor, and I not? Was there back in Spain a tender hearted, soft eyed senorita? No, no, man. I tell you there was no object. In truth, I loved him. Together we commanded a company of Cortes' band. Side by side we fought the Mexicans, and in dividing the spoils and honor gained we quarreled only lest the other should receive too little. No, my hate was hardly earthly. It is true the Spaniard fights for little cause, but not even he murders for so little as did I. He would, though—yes, and you, too, could you either feel the motives that impelled me. I? Yes, a Spaniard, but an exception, not only to all Spaniards, but to all mankind.

You may call me mad. Perhaps I was—according to your conception of insanity. For 'tis true that no one, unless moved by an urging no less than supernatural, unless impelled by a craving more than human, a craving in human ignorance termed insanity, could be so sensitive, so finely and delicately strung in all the fibers of the soul, as to commit the foulest of deeds for what, to the sane, seems so small a cause. But in my nature, wonderfully webbed as it was by an abnormal mind, the motive to take the life of a friend—he was a friend—was more irresistable to me than the most urgent desire for revenge is to my countrymen. Any court would convict me—judges seldom see motives, never motives supernatural—so that in telling my story I do not, cannot, expect my reader to acquit me, because to all the act will outweigh the motive. But, though criminating myself, I must leave this record. It is as necessary to my happiness now as his life was then.

And why was his life necessary? Why do you ask? Your mind is normal; you cannot understand. Yet for the sake of the record I must continue, though sure to be misunderstood. His life, then, was necessary to my happiness because of a look upon his face—an expression, nothing more. When blood flowed, as was frequent where we were, or when a vivid image of battle was recalled to his mind, whether in stories about the campfire or in dreams that look like a specter's shroud, it would settle over his face. A condition of the countenance, a phenomena of the facial muscles and nerves, a mere look—that was all, but 'twas that which brought his death. It was centered in the eye, more especially in the left one.

Perhaps pity for the slain and living wounded caused that pallor, but that was not all; no, I loved him for that. There was also dark and foreboding melancholy, a chaos of haunting sorrows. No; not that either. Must I give over my attempt at justifying myself? Oh, that I could describe that look, or that your mind were as mine. But enough; it is impossible. I must remain condemned in the eyes of my fellow men. To you I can only say that I saw there upon his face a soul destroying, living picture of the grave, which in a nature such as mine roused a ghastly sensation of horror. Every cord radiating from the eye—the left one—contracted and tightened in agony. A film such as one sometimes sees enveloping the eye of a cat, of a slight steel blue, would partially unfold itself, as the skin of a toad, over the hideous organ. It drove me to frenzy—this look. Life in the tomb is preferable to the simple recollection.

I could bear it no longer; to me this was decided. Then with a calm deliberateness that would do credit to the sluggish ease of a Hollander, but with a scheming determination equaled by no man, I decided he must die—this friend of mine. But I must suffer for his murder, annihilation of that expression would bring no happiness, and in this I schemed. Retribution I knew would fall upon me if I killed him in battle, for then there were witnesses—and in camp when we were alone together the look was not there—then I loved him. You can perceive the opportunity I needed. That expression must be upon his face and no one near. And the opportunity by my ingenuity I must soon possess, for I felt within me that I could not look upon his face in that condition again unless it be to incite me to his destruction.

An acute sensibility verges upon insanity. To save my mind I must take his life. That was decided. He must die! But how?

You would not have thought me mad had you known the oily designing with which I answered "How?" Cool, keen deliberation does not characterize a madman—not as you picture a madman.

That look must be upon his face, and no one near.

But how? I had it. The plan was clear enough, but difficult and very dangerous of execution. Others must innocently suffer, but what weight has life to the ease of a madman? I would bring him into the presence of death—his death—and I would be alone with him. And then that look would surely appear. He would be aware that he was to die by what the Spaniards in Anahuac most feared—the sacrificial stone. Yes, then the look must appear.

The sacrificial stone—in the bare words even there was fascination for me; around this legalized and sanctified agent of slaughter my plot centered. The plan, briefly, was this: The Spanish forces, in three divisions, were besieging the City of Mexico. We made simultaneous attacks, each time approaching nearer our goal, the chief temple in the center of the city, and after each assault we withdrew to our respective camps. Progress was slow; moats surrounded the city, the streets were narrow, and each house was a fortification. The besiegers could advance no step until the preceding one was secured for retreat; each house must be razed, each moat filled. These were orders and were obeyed, because capture, we knew, meant the sacrificial stone, our hearts a symbolic food for pagan gods and our bodies a material one for the religious feast of cannibalism.

For tomorrow another attack was ordered—the last one, we hoped. The same injunctions for security being repeated, we advanced. He, as usual, was at my side. The first resistance of the natives was easily overcome, and we entered the city. House after house was demolished. The mass of Aztecs before us gave way as of one accord and broke into retreat. To me there was something uncanny about their actions. If retreat at all, it was premeditated. But to our followers it meant only the victory so long striven and suffered for.

My time had come. The eagerness of our followers, which I openly encouraged, isolated us from the main army. Worse yet, I had the bugle sounded and ordered a charge. All—all but he—forgot the caution of Cortes and answered the signal with an onset that his prudence could not check. The force behind pushed us both forward. He placed his hand strongly upon my shoulder to question my conduct and to remonstrate. I turned to answer, when there, upon his face, was that picture of the grave. The ruse of the heathen succeeded.

Seeing our position apart from the others, they turned and came exultingly toward us. The deafening reverberation of the gong in the temple, a sound of woe to the Spaniards, sounded our death knell. Then it was I saw that look. I lost myself, and leaning back in my saddle yelled to him in fiendish merriment, "The sacrificial stone!" He understood. As my atrocity dawned upon him the look vanished for one of hatred and fury. He raised his sword, hissed something like "Traitor!" and came at me.

The Spaniard is quick in anger, but his stroke never fell. A score of bared arms of the snakish color of copper encircled his body; another score bereft him of the murderous weapon over my head; a myriad more dragged him from his horse. The same fate befell the rest of our band who survived, myself included. That night we found ourselves in the dungeon where Montezuma had languished. The next day we all knew we should await our turn at sacrifice before the dread stone. He knew, it and I rejoiced. Even a madman can feel the joy of triumph, can he not?

But he should not die with the others. That was not my plan. I groped in the dark to where he crouched and whispered, "Escape!" He jumped to his feet. "Where? How?" "Hush; not so loud. Follow me." He hesitated. "But the others?" he asked. "It is not possible for more than two," I answered. He said no more, but followed in silence. In this evidence of his selfishness I felt a sort of satisfaction. Though content myself, I cannot help but feel grateful to anything that may aid in justifying his death to normal minds.

During the unwelcome stay of the Spaniards in the city before their expulsion they were given for a residence the place in which we were then confined. Being with Cortes at that time, I therefore knew our prison house well. For me escape was easy. Through many rooms, corridors, passages and stairs, some known not even to the natives, we fled on tiptoe. His confidence was regained, and he followed me closely. Finally, without hindrance, we reached the flat roof. Here behind the walls, extending a few feet above the roof, we could hide in safety, and here indeed we waited throughout the next day.

I told him my idea of final escape. It was intoxication to renew his hope, a vain hope, for I should blast it. That night we were to gain the summit of the temple and there light a beacon. The besiegers outside would understand or think they understood. The Mexicans never expect night attacks, due to a superstition regarding the white man, so that they could be easily overcome. Assurance of life brought a smile to the face of my companion, though at the time in looking toward the pyramidal shaped temple or teocalli, he saw our comrades led up the spiral steps leading to the summit, saw them one by one bound by the priests to the sacrificial stone, saw over each raised the stone knife, saw it descend into the trembling breast, saw the quivering heart torn out and offered to the gods upon a golden salver.

He saw the gore spattered upon the walks and upon the dark robes of the priests. He saw the bodies carried by slaves to the banqueting hall, there to supply that night's revel. All this, I say, passed before his eyes, yet it served only to deepen the smile as he contrasted their fate with his own hopes—his hopes! How I exulted in the deception!

Night drew on, and we heard the sounds of loathsome revelry, made more hideous by our knowledge of its nature. The great temple, or teocalli, though, was deserted. All were at the feast of human flesh. Our opportunity had come. In safety we reached the street and scaled the walls of the temple. We cautiously climbed the steps of the teocalli, though with difficulty, for we frequently slipped upon the slimy gore and fell clumsily into pools of blood. The stench, too, was deathly, but we kept on, on, until the summit was reached.

We paused after our exertions. I looked around. My victim was standing at the foot of the sacrificial stone, his back turned toward it—my opportunity exactly. Horrible? Yes, but I did it—I was mad, you must remember. With my entire weight I sprung upon him. He stepped back and stumbled. We fell together, he underneath, upon the cold stone, now made soft by pulpy flesh upon it. With little difficulty I secured his wrists and ankles by the manacles fastened in the huge block of jasper.

The next thing was to make sure of safety for myself, and then I could complete my work and take pleasure in it. With tinder we had brought I lighted a beacon. Each division of the army seeing it would think the city taken by the other two divisions and advance to give aid.

This signal given, all was safe. My victim dare not cry out lest the natives be around. The beacon was rendered unnoticed to the inhabitants by their nauseous banquet below. No precautions remained—nothing except to complete my designs. Joyously I tore from his protruding breast all armor and covering, seized the sacrificial knife and raised my arm to strike. The fire of the beacon sputtered upward and cast a glare over his face. My arm paused, the glittering blade fell ringing upon the stone floor, and I trembled, powerless—the look was not there, nothing but intense anguish. I was foiled. I had expected that look.

But he must die. Yes, that was decided. No one was near, and why would that look not come? But it must appear, and soon, or the Spaniards would find him living. He would tell, and they would kill me.

I seized the knife once more, though with a weakened grasp, and leaned over him with intent expectation, waiting so intently for that look. Not happiness alone now, but life itself was in the balance. Neither could be preserved unless his tongue be silenced. Already the Spaniards must be near the city, yet even with exposure so near I could not kill him unless that look appear. That which before wrecked my happiness I now longed for to save my life! Would that look never come!

I now heard the Spaniards entering the city. They must not approach too near. I remembered the gong, the one sounded to arouse the city by the priests in time of peril. I would call the nations to arms, and my countrymen would be repulsed. I seized the huge hammer, swung it over my head, and frantically hurled it at the gong. It sounded for miles. The banquet became as silent as its lifeless victims in the caldrons, and then a tumult louder than the previous revelry prevailed as the savages hurriedly sought for weapons. Now the Spaniards would be repulsed, I hoped. They would not see me in crime. Further than that, of my treason or of my fate afterward, I had no thoughts.

The thundering of the conflict grew plainer and plainer. The Mexicans, stupefied by drink, fell back and broke into precipitate retreat. My last hope was gone; the city was taken. The clash of arms was in my ears, the conquerors were at the temple, upon its stone steps. Another instant they would reach us, find me free and him bound. In fear for myself I had forgotten him; unaware of the knife still in my hand, I stood looking in terror to where the Spaniards must soon appear.

The fire again blazed and cast away the shadows that hid his face. Saved! The look was there. Why had I not thought of it before?—bloodshed, battle, bloodshed, of course the look was there. It was nothing but a mere expression, but 'twas that which brought his death. It was centered in the eye, more especially the left one. Yes, there, there at last was that living picture of the grave. Every cord radiating from the eye—the left one—was drawn and tightened in agony. There, where the light flickered, was the film, of a steel blue hue, such as one sometimes sees enveloping the eye of a cat.

I was calm now. That look was upon his face, and no one to tell the tale. Again my arm was raised; again the knife hovered over him. I made a step forward to drive the blow, but slipped in a slushy pool of blood and fell upon his body. The descending knife by my weight buried itself to the hilt in his breast, piercing the heart and forever annihilating all looks, all expressions.

I was found lying unconscious in his blood, my head having struck the edge of the stone in falling. Through my beacon the city was taken. This service my countrymen remembered and forgot the murder.

NOTE TO MSS.

After our capture of the city we had in our palace a deranged trooper. He had killed a comrade, but being crazy we considered him irresponsible. As he had also aided in the Aztec overthrow, we felt grateful to him and made no attempt to bring him to trial. Instead, we humored him, giving him the writing materials for which he begged and allowing him to roam where he chose.

One day in walking among the ruins of the great temple I found a body lying across a long, snake shaped stone of jasper. Buried in the breast was a stone knife, such as was used by the Mexican priests. I turned the face upward and recognized the deranged trooper. When we prepared him for interment we discovered in his jerkin this parchment manuscript.

ANTONIO DEL A. G——,
Corporal of the Guard.

—Kansas City Times.

A Triton Among the Minnows.

Prince Adolphus of Schaumburg-Lippe is the hero of the following story: During the congress of princes held in Frankfort in the year 1863 a banquet was given by the authorities, to which the notables of the city were invited. The sovereign princes of the German confederation sat apart from the rest of the company and were engaged in an animated conversation when suddenly there was a general commotion among the illustrious guests. The crowned heads rose from their seats to welcome an insignificant little gentleman who had joined the circle. To everybody's astonishment Prince Adolphus alone kept his seat. Then the Elector of Hesse went up to him and whispered in his ear:

"My dear prince, won't you speak to the gentleman along with the rest? Don't you know who he is?"

"No."

"It is Baron Rothschild."

"What of that? He is nothing to me. I don't owe the fellow anything."—Seitgeist.

DECOYING FISH.

SKILLFUL INDIANS OF THE NORTH HAVE QUEER METHODS.

They Cut a Hole in the Ice, Build a Hut Over the Hole and Let Down a Decoy Through the Ice—Fooling Innocent Creatures of the Deep Lakes.

"You have heard of shooting game by means of decoy birds often enough no doubt," said an old sportsman the other day, "but I doubt if you ever heard of fishing by means of a decoy fish, where the decoy was not used for bait. I never saw it done myself till I visited Georgian bay, a part of Lake Huron, in Canada, one winter. There I found that the half breed Indians erected huts on the frozen bay and fished through holes cut in the ice by means of a queer decoy.

"In order to facilitate matters, some of them had little stoves in their huts to keep them warm while they fished. The huts had only one opening, a door, and when the fisherman had entered and closed the door no light entered the hut except what came up through the floor, reflected through the ice outside and the water underneath it. This made it possible for the fisherman to see deep down into the water and difficult for fish to see him in his dark hut. The fisherman has a chair or bench to sit upon, food and drink to keep life in him during his long watch and a little stove to prevent chill. Now comes the decoy business.

"The half breed takes out of his kit a queer looking stick, painted and shaped roughly to look like a fish, he avers, though it would hardly be breaking the second commandment to worship it, for it is the likeness of nothing in the heavens above, or on the earth beneath, or in the water under the earth: but if the fish think it is the main object is accomplished. This wooden counterfeit of a fish is loaded with lead, so that it sinks and lies in the water the right way when suspended from the middle of the back by a string attached to a short fishing pole. The Indian lets this decoy down into the water and by means of the string gives it a series of short, sharp jerks, which make it a dart hither and thither in a remarkably lifelike manner, although, of course, its range is exceedingly limited, about a yard in any direction.

"The thing is provided with tin fins and tail and is weighted with lead most heavily at the head. The string is attached nearer the head than the tail, upon the back, and the skill with which these fishermen make the queer thing shoot about in a triangle under their feet, through a hole in the ice, is truly remarkable. I did not succeed in acquiring the art myself. I should say from trying it that it is rather more difficult to learn than fly casting.

"Presently a few fish, noticing this decoy darting about as if in active pursuit of his food, swim that way to see if there is not something there for them also. They may be fresh water herring, salmon, trout, whitefish or less valuable game; but none of them, big or little, is refused by the half breed. Fine fish he sells; the coarse ones he or his dogs or his children or his squaw eat readily.

"Pulling up his decoy, the fisherman lets down a baited hook and tries his luck on the newcomers, seldom in vain. These men fish with all sorts of queer bait. I saw one man make a splendid haul one day, using for bait only a big white bone button without any hook. The fish swallowed it greedily, and he would jerk them out of the water before they could get it out of their throats. By and by a pike or dogfish, seeing the shoal of fish around the pole, darts after them. They scatter in a hurry, and the fisherman lets down his decoy again to attract the pike.

"Now all the skill at his command must be employed to make the decoy work well, for if it lags in the water long enough for the pike to suspect its genuineness he will turn away in disgust. If the decoy deceives the wily pike he dashes at it, and the fisherman jerks it away before the pike can grab it in his strong jaws. The pike turns to pursue, and as he halts to turn the fisherman drives at him with a long forked spear. If his aim is accurate, the pike is transfixed and is brought bleeding to the surface in a jiffy.

"These men are skilled hunters and know many curious habits of the creatures they pursue. They say that muskrats, for instance, are able to swim long distances under the ice in this manner: Taking a long breath, the muskrat dives from his pursuer and swims as far as he can. When he can go no longer without a fresh breath, he comes up under the ice, and pressing his nose against it breathes out all the air in his lungs. This forms a big bubble under the ice, and the Indians say that the ice has the power of making that bubble of air fresh again, oxygenizes it in fact, and that the little fellow then breathes it in again and dives once more. This he can do half a dozen times, the Indians say, before the air he took with him becomes so foul that the ice cannot freshen it again.

"Whether this property of the ice is true or not I cannot say, but the Indians firmly believe it, and I know that muskrats can travel a long way under the ice, and I have seen them come up under the ice, press their noses to it awhile and then dive again. Perhaps some scientist might explain the case."—New York Tribune.

The Southerner at Home.

The southerner at home is prone to neglect his headgear for the sake of having his feet well shod, and he will go about in public places wearing a battered and soiled slouch hat, but scrupulously neat as to his footwear. The peculiarity perhaps arises from family pride, a besetting southern sin, coupled with the belief that aristocracy is evinced in the shape and size of the feet. It is worthy of note, however, that the southern slouch hat is often a costly article of the finest and most durable felt. Such a hat for winter and a costly and indestructible Panama straw for summer are the proper headgear for a southern country gentleman.—Chicago Herald.

The first European bank, founded at Barcelona in 1401, issued no bank notes. The first ones circulated in Europe were from the Bank of Stockholm in 1668.

Turkish toweling in pure white is considered the most correct thing for the covering of chairs and couches in the summer sitting room.

THE SAND OF AN OLD TIMER.

Fatal Bravery That Won a Rare Tribute From a Band of Apaches.

A company of ranchmen sat about the railroad station in Pomona the other afternoon waiting for the belated overland train for Los Angeles. Every man in the party knew the others, and there being an hour or two to wait story telling of the early days on the border and in Arizona and California came natural. Stories of old times, when Indians were bad and the white pioneers knew what bravery meant, were related. John Wilson of El Monte told the most absorbing story of the hour:

"Talk about sand in a man, gentlemen! I am telling you that it takes sand of the genuine article in any man to try and stand off single handed 40 or 50 Apaches when he knows just how the scrap will end, and that the end will be his own death. But that was just the kind of sand that was in Felix Knox when he was killed by the Apaches. You see Knox was an all round gambler, such as the tenderfoot from the east [illegible] so much and knows so little about, but he had a heart in him bigger than any tenderfoot's head. Well, it was in the spring of 1879 Knox, with his wife and baby and a Mexican driver, was coming from Silver City to Clifton, down in Arizona. They got to York's ranch, which is on the Gila river, about 30 miles from Clifton, all right, but were told there that signs of Apaches had been seen, and that they had better go in camp there for a few days, but Knox—who had fought the Apaches dozens of times and didn't know what fear was—said he wanted to make Clifton that day, Indians or no Indians.

"Well, the Knoxes drove on. When they were about two miles from York's ranch, sure enough a big buck Indian came from behind a low, round [illegible] mesa. Knox knew there were plenty more of the red devils hid there and that it meant a fight to death for him. He was as cool as a cucumber. He jumped out of the wagon, filled his pockets with two boxes of cartridges, and then kissed his wife and baby for the last time, but saying that he would have the redskins quieted in a few minutes. He ordered the Mexican driver to lash the team for all he was worth and to drive back to York's ranch as fast as the horses could jump. Then Knox waved his hand to his wife and said he was going to stand off a few Apaches, although he was sure there was a big band of them. As the team and wagon flew back to the ranch Knox, rifle in hand, started toward the hill for his last fight. He turned once and waved his sombrero to his wife and child and then strode on to his certain death.

"The Apaches a second later rushed out from behind the hill where they were secreted. Knox faced his foes, and standing stock still pumped lead at them until he fell down dead. The next day a party of us was made up, and we went out where the fight took place. Knox's body lay there amid the cactus in the sun. The Apaches, contrary to their usual custom, had not mutilated the fellow's body in the least. They had taken a clean pocket handkerchief out of Knox's pocket and carefully spread it over his face and had fastened it there by putting a small stone on each corner of it to hold it in its place and keep the hot sun from the dead man's face. That was their tribute to the sand in Knox. Seventy empty shells were found that had been emptied from Knox's winchester, and one of the raiding Indians afterward said that their party numbered 42 and that Knox had killed seven of them."—Pomona Progress.

The Servant Was Horrified.

Dr. S. had a newly arrived Hibernian for a servant. He had also recently purchased a pair of porpoise leather boots. His wife, attracted by the novelty of the new footwear, asked the doctor in the presence of the servant what they were made of, to which he responded, "Porpoise hide."

Shortly after the lady from the Emerald Isle interviewed Mrs. S. and announced her intention of "laving whin me week is up." Mrs. S., somewhat surprised, asked the disturbed domestic the reason for her announced departure, to which Bridget responded with a horrified air:

"Your husband is a docther, mum, an I've heard them docthers do be cuttin up people, an didn't I hear um wid me own ears say that the boots of him were made of pauper's hide. It's me own ould father that died in the poorhouse, an I wouldn't be servin a haythen that uses the skin of the poor to cover his dirthy feet wid."—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Better Left Unsaid.

A certain young poet is equally famous in the world of letters as an author and among his friends for his blunt candor that is forever betraying him into one of the things one would have preferred to say differently, as Du Maurier puts it. On his last birthday he was given a charming dinner by his doting parents, at which he was bitterly disappointed by the regret of several notables. Thus, when a society girl said to him at the close of the evening, "What a delightful time we have had!" he exclaimed from the fullness of his heart: "I'm glad it hasn't seemed dull to you. We invited some awfully clever people, but not one of them came!"—Philadelphia Press.

The Science of Nose Study.

Not the least charm of the science of "nasology" is the chance which it offers to the historian of testing the characters of eminent men by its rigid and unbending standard.

The historical value of gems and engravings cannot fail to be enhanced by their bearing on this most interesting subject, and the moral value of axioms and actions whose spring has long been doubtful may be solved by reference to the nasal developments of their authors. Apologists for the money making impulse which it pleased Adam Smith to ascribe to human action will, for instance, no longer be able to urge that some such theory was necessary to a logical system of political economy.

Adam Smith possessed the Jewish nose in its highest development. The nose is the reflex of character, and the "nasological" political economist will brush aside apologies and estimate the bias of the father of the science not by the necessities of a theory, but by the hard facts of his Semitic profile.—London Spectator.

FOR THE LADIES

Profit Is Nothing
But a Memory Today.
It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.
Hats reduced to less than cost, both trimmed and untrimmed.
Trimmed Hats at 98c.
Cost or value no consideration.
RIBBONS.
All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.
Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.
Don't have to talk much about them. At our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.
New York Bazaar.
112 MAIN ST.

REDUCTION
In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.
We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits which we will close at the following prices: $6.00 and $7.95. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, as they must be sold.
Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close out.
A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St.

LADIES!
We are having a special sale in
Ladies' Shoes for Today—Monday, July 17.
Small's Shoe Store, West Side.

JUST RECEIVED.
Another lot of those Damon Spreads and Sofa Pillows at the Bouquet Millinery and Fancy Goods Parlors, No. 5 Lower Broadway. We also carry a full line of B. and A. Waste Silk, Art Threads, Fringes, and everything pertaining to Fancy Work.
STAMPING AND PINKING A SPECIALTY.
Everything in the Millinery line will be sold regardless of cost.

MILLINERY.
Hats, Bonnets, Elegant Ribbons, Laces and Flowers,
—AT—
MRS. G. P. STANTON'S,
No. [illegible] Shetucket Street.

INSURANCE.

L. and L. and G.
A. IRVING ROYCE, Agent.

THE BEST PLACE TO INSURE.
STORY'S
INSURANCE AGENCY,
30 SHETUCKET ST.
The only insurance office in Norwich on the street floor.

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y
Norwich, England. Organized 1797.
N. TARRANT, Agt.,
6 MAIN STREET.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY, JANUARY 1ST, 1893. UNITED STATES BRANCH.
—ASSETS.—
Government Bonds.......... [illegible]
State Bonds.......... [illegible]
Municipal Bonds.......... [illegible]
Cash on Hand and on Deposit.......... [illegible]
Other Assets.......... [illegible]
[illegible]
—LIABILITIES.—
Reserve Premium Fund (N. Y. Standard).......... [illegible]
Reserve for unpaid losses [illegible]
All other liabilities.......... [illegible]
[illegible]
Surplus in United States.......... [illegible]
Total Income in U. S. for 1892.......... [illegible]
Total Losses paid in U. S. from 1874 to 1892, inclusive.......... [illegible]
NICHOLAS TARRANT, Agent, 6 Main St., Norwich, Conn.

B. P. LEARNED
Insurance in all Forms.
Bonds of Indemnity.
Foreign Drafts.
Over Thames National Bank, Norwich, Conn.

MARKETS

LAMB and CHICKEN
—AT—
J. D. Murphy's,
MARKET STREET.

LOOK!
Porterhouse Steak - - 20c.
Sirloin - - - - - - 18c.
Round - - - - - - 12c.
Shoulder - - - - - 10c.
How can I do this? Why, because I have my meats shipped to me directly from the west in carload lots, thereby saving the middle profit. Don't let anyone make you think that the quality of my goods is not equal to any in the market. Try them and be convinced.
JAMES DAWSON, JR.,
144 VALLEY ST., Willimantic, Conn.
30 MAIN ST., Norwich.

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin office for printing of all kinds and get the work at living prices.

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.

Established [illegible].

NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.

Established 1796.

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 12 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 2 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application to the business office. No cuts or electrotypes inserted in either paper.

To guard against mistakes, advertisements should be sent in manuscript. We cannot be responsible for errors that occur in messages received by telephone.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their own immediate business, and their contracts do not include Wants, To Let, For Sale, etc.

All news letters should be addressed to THE MORNING BULLETIN; all business communications to THE BULLETIN COMPANY.

Money orders and checks should be made payable to THE BULLETIN CO.

All communications must be signed. Anonymous letters or news items will not be read, but thrown into the waste basket.

No manuscript preserved or returned, unless stamps are enclosed fully to prepay postage.

Entered at the post office at Norwich, Conn., as second class mail matter.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Monday, August 28 1893.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

THE ADMINISTRATION'S INTENT.

The cast of the ways and means committee makes the intent of the administration so apparent that nothing can be expected from it to relieve the fear and distrust now embarrassing the business interests of the country. This committee is made up of eleven democrats and six republicans, and of the seventeen members, nine of the democrats are free-traders of the extreme type, who endorse the statement of the Chicago platform that "Republican protection is a fraud—a robbery of a great majority of the American people for the benefit of the few; and that the federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue only." The only hope that is left to the country is in the action of the people through their representatives. A more radical declaration of free trade principles has never been uttered in the history of this country, nor a more revolutionary sentiment against the established economic policy of this government.

THE SOLDIERS RETURN.

The Connecticut national guard returned Saturday from Camp Morris after having spent there one of the most extraordinary weeks in the history of the camp, having experienced the most drenching showers, the heaviest winds and one or two days of the hottest of weather. The tactics must have been sadly neglected, but the rations and the health promoting atmosphere were up to the standard and sent the men home well and "as brown as a berry."

It is thought that the brigade's experience of the week with the elements will be used as an argument in favor of the construction of barracks on the grounds. There is no question that barracks would be much more enjoyable in such weather; but in the average camping weather for health and for comfort, good tents in every way excel wooden sheds. Those who have spent hot days and nights in barracks, and hot days and nights in tents, prefer the tents. They are more airy, cosy, and comfortable.

KEEP THEM LOOKING.

The stores, naturally, are feeling the depression. Trade is not as good as usual at this time of year. The clerks cannot find enough to do in keeping their departments cleaned up, and spend much time in "looking for customers." That is a clerk's duty. The proprietor's duty is to get customers to looking for his place of business. That may be done by advertising. Horace Greeley used to say the merchant was not wise who spent less for advertising than he spent for rent. The man who is a business success does not have to be told of the advantages of a free use of printer's ink. Those who are always doing a dull business do. They always have something in store "there is no demand for and never will be." That is the best article to try printer's ink on. Somebody is selling it. Let people know you keep it and sell it as cheap as any one, and you will have customers looking for your place instead of for some one else's place. Try it!

A FREE TRADE PICTURE.

Sir Edward Sullivan, in the following picture of the working classes in England does not show anything that would warrant the endorsement of free-trade by the working people of this country: "In the present condition of manufacturing industries it is foolish to tell the operative class to attribute the prosperity to free-trade; they are not prosperous; it is a mockery to tell them to thank God for a full stomach, when they are empty! They are not well off. Never has starvation, pauperism, crime, discontent been so plentiful in the manufacturing districts, never since England has been a manufacturing country has every industry great and small been so completely depressed; never has work been so impossible to find, never have the means and savings of the working classes been at so low an ebb."

NOT A FICTION.

The old soldiers, whatever their political proclivities, are not in sympathy with these brutal pension suspensions. Here is one from Concord, N. H., which is cruel:

CONCORD, N. H., August 5.

Mr. John E. Damon:

Dear Sir: I am sorry my husband can but send regrets year after year to his old comrades in Springfield. Today begins his ninetieth week in bed, during which time five weeks were passed in Boston for a severe operation on the left kidney. That organ may perhaps be improved for awhile, but other troubles retard a complete recovery for which he will again go to Boston when strong enough for an extended treatment at the Massachusetts general hospital. Yesterday he received "thanks"(?) from the powers that be for service rendered thirty years ago, in the way of a suspension from the pension roll. Mr. Sturtevant sends most sincere regards to all who are able to come together of his old company, U. H. A. Very truly,

MRS. H. C. STURTEVANT.

Mr. H. C. Sturtevant is a veteran of the 30th company Unattached Heavy Artillery of Massachusetts, and this is his wife's letter expressing his regrets that he was not able to attend the recent reunion in Springfield, Mass.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN SCHOOL MATTERS.

Three New London women have registered under the new woman suffrage law and they have each written letters to The Day expressing their views.

Mrs Annie C. S. Fenner writes: "As all reforms move slowly, woman must be philosophical and accept and use to the best possible advantage the slices cut for her benefit from the suffrage loaf, while never admitting that she has not a clear, uncontestable right to the whole."

Miss Elizabeth A. Mason says: "Our city fathers have taken unprecedented pride in educational matters of late, selecting sites of sacred and historic associations, erecting thereon fine buildings, which are furnished after the most approved styles in every department, not forgetting to crown them with our glorious flag, thereby stamping them not only as institutions of learning, but of national patriotism as well. They are an honor to the board of education, an ornament to our city and a benefit to the children for all time. This should stimulate every eligible woman to co-operate promptly with whatever promotes the highest interests of these schools."

Mrs. Rose Hawthorne Lathrop expresses herself thus: "I feel sure that the woman's party, if such it should be called, is to cause a vast change, though how it can be made a moral or political gain is a question to some of us who have confidence in men and a still greater reliance upon the appointments made by nature in the human array."

These are representative ladies, and there is no good reason why New London should not have three hundred registered women instead of three.

We hope Norwich ladies will take the same interest in school matters which they have shown in beneficent matters, and that instead of twelve votes in the annual school meeting there will be in future twelve hundred!

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

After two weeks of talk the house ought to act today. The country is waiting patiently for them to do something.

The New York World had a free educational fund for the workingmen last fall, and as the result of the policy they tutored them in, they now have a free bread fund to save them from starving.

Ten millions of bagged gold passed through Kansas City Saturday en route for New York. The gold coin weighed twenty-two tons and is guarded by seven men with Winchester rifles.

A hotel in Birmingham, Ala., has offered a free lunch daily to unemployed white people. They let the unemployed blacks shirk for themselves in Alabama. The blacks do it, and feed some of the poor whites into the bargain.

Senator David Bennett Hill's label "I am a democrat" did not look consistent when he "popped" with the populists. He made a demagogic stroke for Hill that time which put the White house out of his sight. The stride from the senate to the executive mansion is too much for him now.

If free trade did not threaten this country its manufactories would not be shut down or wages cut in most of the concerns running. Protection and a home market keep American mechanics at work and business booming. What advantage are open markets and cheap goods to idle men or people without money.

Hoke Smith's construction of the pension laws and his wholesale suspension of pensioners are to be legally tested. A southern idea of pension laws may differ from the interpretation put upon them by the supreme court of the United States. It certainly differs from the interpretation put upon them by northern people.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

STATE EDITORS' OPINIONS.

Should Be Reversed.

Willimantic is "short" on water and "long" on tramps.—[Stonington Mirror.

The Hardest Work.

Compulsory loafing is the hardest work that an honest workingman can do.—[Waterbury Republican.

Not Getting Any Worse.

The impression is steadily gaining ground that the financial crisis is safely passed—the improvement is slight—in fact, scarcely perceptible—but at any rate things are not getting any worse.—[New Haven Weekly Record.

The First Place Hit.

If you see a man begin to raise a beard or wear his shoes covered with mud, you may know that he is still sticking to his beer or tobacco and letting the barber and bootblack suffer. The first place hard times hits a man is in his personal appearance.—[Ansonia Sentinel.

Cash Keeps the Pot Boiling.

The banks are stronger now than they have been for two months past. It is reassuring, too, that they are beginning to show a disposition to afford a little more aid to business men than they have recently given. Good will goes far in these times, but hard or soft cash keeps the business pot boiling.—[New Haven Palladium.

The Right Decision.

The vote of the senate, and it was not a partisan one, against seating Lee Mantle, the claimant from Montana, prevents the accession of three votes to the silver side, as his admission must logically have been followed by that of the claimants from Wyoming and Washington, all appointed under similar circumstances. The decision is manifestly the right one, as to allow the appointment by a governor of senators when the legislature has had the opportunity to elect must inevitably open the door for corrupt bargaining.—[Bridgeport Farmer.

Pool Selling Not Necessary.

For years past the state fair horse exhibitions have been profitably conducted without the gamblers, and have provided good and clean sport for thousands of people who most decidedly object to the presence and play of the pool sellers. It will be the same this year, with probabilities of still better trials of speed because the fair managers have offered larger prizes than ever before to be awarded to the fastest horses.—[Meriden Journal.

Beats the Record!

New Haven has never, perhaps, had so many unemployed workmen at any time in her history. And this, too, through no fault of the working people themselves. It is a time when policy should be strained and legal points stretched to guard against hardships and distress among our honest workmen who are idle through no fault of their own.—[New Haven News.

From Staying Stock.

Thomas A. Edison should have a good long life before him. His father is living at the age of 91; he was of Dutch ancestry and now lives in Port Huron, Mich. Two great aunts lived to be 100 and the inventor's grandfather died at the age of 103.—[Bridgeport Standard.

A Surprising Statement.

The secret societies of this country—Free Masons, Odd Fellows, etc.,—will, we think, be much surprised to learn that for two years and more they have been attacking the parochial schools with "a Satanic fury." But the Rev. Father Brandi, S. J., of Rome informs Europe that this is the fact.—[The Courant.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

EASTERN CONNECTICUT.

WILLIMANTIC.

Death of an Old School Teacher—Other News of Interest.

John D. Wheeler, an old and respected resident of this city, passed away about 1 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Wheeler has been in failing health for several years but had been able to be out of doors up to within about two months. His vocation was that of a school teacher and he acted in that capacity for over twenty (20) years, being principal of the schools in the first district. He has been judge of probate, town clerk, borough clerk and held other positions of trust. He was a faithful servant of the people. His age was 73 years. The funeral was held at 4 o'clock Sunday, the Rev. J. B. Lemon conducting the services. He leaves a widow and three sons, Lewis E. superintendent of a machine shop in East Hampton, Charles, who is in business in Chicago, and John, a travelling salesman for a wholesale shoe concern in Minneapolis.

Company E arrived home from Camp Morris about 3.30 Saturday afternoon. All of the men came back looking hale and hearty and feel amply repaid for their week's work.

L. H. Rollinson leaves for the World's fair today.

The managers of the Willimantic Fair association propose to put in attractions that will attract this year, and the eleventh annual promises to be the best yet held.

The death of Miss Nannie Wilcox occurred at the residence of C. N. Barrows on Maple avenue Saturday morning. She had been a sufferer from consumption for a long time and was taken suddenly worse Friday night, which resulted in her death. She was a member of the Baptist church. Her parents reside in Colchester.

JEWETT CITY.

A Macadamized Road to Pachaug.

The voters of the town of Griswold met in the town house Saturday afternoon to take action on the resolution for the construction of a macadamized road between Jewett City and Pachaug.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. J. E. Leonard as moderator. Mr. J. H. Finn was clerk.

Mr. Briggs of Voluntown presented a resolution accepting the written statement of the survey of the road proposed by the selectmen, and was warmly seconded by Mr. P. Dolan.

Mr. Briggs next presented a resolution empowering the selectmen to immediately proceed to construct a macadamized highway from the corner of W. A. Slater's store, crossing lands owned by Messrs. Brewster, Morgan and Slater, who have donated said lands for that purpose; also to issue bonds necessary to raise the sum of $16,000; also to engage the services of a competent engineer to have charge of the same.

The question was put by the moderator and unanimously carried, and work will at once be begun.

Other matters of minor importance were transacted and the meeting adjourned.

Some second-hand bookstores, though only a few, make a specialty of old diaries. Those of this year, if in good condition, still fetch 30 or 40 per cent. of their original price, and if bound in detachable backs of good leather they go even higher. Diaries of other years fetch from 5 to 25 cents. Those at the latter price are often richly bound. Diaries of the year 1876 sell well this year, because the dates of the two years from March 1 are identical.

Some one has figured that there are so many railway lines, steam, elevated, cable and horse cars in New York city that a person may ride for six hours at a total cost of 50 cents.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

Proof of Merit.

The proof of the merits of a plaster is the cures it effects, and the voluntary testimonials of those who have used ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS during the past thirty years is unimpeachable evidence of their superiority and should convince the most skeptical. Self praise is no recommendation, but certificates from those who have used them are.

Beware of imitations and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALLCOCK'S, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth, send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums and reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP."

We think we can cure a bad case of Backache quicker with one of Carter's Smart-Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters than by any other application, and after the Backache is cured you can still wear the plaster without discomfort for two or three weeks or longer. This combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna is a great hit, and it is hard to find any pain or ache that will not yield to it. Price 25 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 137. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recommendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

Sold by N. D. Sevin & Son and Lee & Osgood.

maylMWFw

REID & HUGHES.

THE

BOSTON STORE

SPECIAL OFFERINGS.

1 Lot Fancy Colored Braids at Less than Half Price.

Our ENTIRE STOCK of Colored Guimps at just half price.

Bolero Jackets at greatly reduced prices.

25 Dozen Hair Brushes at 19c.; worth 25c.

1,000 Packages Tacks at 4c.; regular price 10c.

250 Packages Needles at 10c.; regular price 25c.

The balance of our stock of Belts at half price.

25 Dozen 4-oz. Bottles Cologne 35c; regular price 65c.

15 Sheets of Music for 10c.; worth 75c.

10 Gross Pencils 4c. doz.

25 Dozen Tray Cloths 10c.; worth 15c.

25 Dozen Tray Cloths 12 1-2c.; worth 25c.

Reid & Hughes.

augl8daw

FINE ARTS.

REMOVED.

McNickle, Picture Frame and Gilding Manuf.,

Has Removed to 26 BROADWAY. You will always find a Complete Line of Artist Proof Etchings, Engravings, Prang's Studies and fac simile Water Colors.

REMOVED—Laighton Brothers Have removed their photograph gallery from the Chelsea Bank Building to No. 88 Shetucket St., in the building with the Henry Bill Publishing Co., where all old patrons will be welcomed and new ones be heartily greeted. Their new rooms are neatly furnished, their facilities for doing first-class work have been much improved. New backgrounds have been put in, and the light for producing photographs has been arranged according to the best methods known to the business. All work promptly attended to.

LAIGHTON BROTHERS.

DURGAN'S PHOTOGRAPHIC ART STUDIO is the finest and best equipped in Norwich, centrally located, opposite the Wauregan House. Everything that taste, skill and experience can do has been done to facilitate the carrying on of the business in a high-class manner, and all customers patronizing my establishment will be sure of first-class work. Photos made in every style, and all work satisfactorily finished. Special attention given to large work, such as Crayons, India Ink and Water Colors, or Solar Photos. Copying in all its branches. A large variety of Picture Frames always on hand. J. C. DURGAN.

feb16MWFw

DRUGS, PAINTS AND OILS.

DUGGAN'S PHARMACY,

50 Main St., Norwich, Ct.

Our STRAWBERRY SODA

Retains the full flavor of the fresh fruit.

DUGGAN'S SODA FOUNTAIN,

1y2d 50 MAIN ST., Norwich.

LEE & OSGOOD,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

DRUGGISTS,

129-133 Main St. and 160-164 Water St.

ESTABLISHED : 1788

—SOLE PROPRIETORS OF—

DR. DODD'S

Nervine and Invigorator,

A NERVE TONIC

—AND—

STOMACHIC.

Dodd's Nervine aids digestion, insures good appetite, gives tone and vigor to the system, guarantees sweet and refreshing sleep and restores enfeebled and nervous constitutions to PERFECT HEALTH.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF

Atomizers and Perfumes

COLGATE'S EXTRACTS IN BULK.

TOILET ARTICLES

IN GREAT VARIETY.

We make a Specialty of

Tooth Brushes.

Large Invoice Just Received.

25 AND 35 CENTS.

LEE & OSGOOD

NORWICH, CONN.

LUMBER AND COAL.

E. CHAPPELL & CO.

COAL,
LUMBER,
SHINGLES.

Greatest Variety. Largest Stock.

Branch Office, 307 Main St. Franklin Square. Office and Yard, Central Wharf.

Telephone at both offices. may20daw

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRY

H. F. & A. J. DAWLEY

[illegible]

BUILDING LUMBER & SHINGLES.

They have the largest stock in the city and will make you low prices.

Telephone [illegible]. may2d

51 John A. Morgan & Son, 51

Coal & Lumber,

51 West Main St., Central Wharf.

Family Coal a Specialty.

Estimates furnished at short notice. Telephone.

51 jan2d 51

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY.

Goods called for and delivered free of charge. Lace Curtains and all Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.

146 Little Water St.

Family Washing at special rates. nov1d

FRANK G. SWEET,

Medical and Surgical Nurse,

Graduate from Mills' Training School for Male Nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York city. Call at 208 or 432 FRANKLIN Street, city. TERMS REASONABLE.

may2d

ESTABLISHED IN 1861.

Adam's Tavern,

NORWICH TOWN,

A. A. ADAM, Proprietor.

The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 10 years ago. They have become intensely popular. They sell on their own merits:

Imperial Bourbon, Bob Ward, 1881, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1881, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.

N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers.

A. A. ADAM.

Telephone call 24-12.

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR GOOD advertise them in THE BULLETIN.

REAL ESTATE.

TO RENT.

Tenement of 5 Rooms. Hot and cold water. Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. 227 West Main street. Rent moderate.

aug6d S. E. ROBBINS, 69 Cliff St.

TO RENT.

ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Room suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug8d

TO RENT.

A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS,

each with all the modern improvements, on Norwell Ave., of ten rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 3 Water St. may19d

TO RENT.

Tenement 112 River Avenue.

apr19d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.

A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, 7 rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 38 Grove street, or inquire of E. M. BREWSTER, 46 Water Street. apr1d

TO RENT.

The Large Store with fine Cellar

in the Rockwell Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Servine & Stevens. Apply to aug1d [illegible]

FOR SALE.

A GOOD PAYING AND WELL ESTABLISHED PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY in a good location in town of Colchester I will sell at a great sacrifice. Inquire of 1y27d A. S. LUNTZ, Colchester, Conn.

FOR SALE.

A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons; also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.

Horseshoeing in all its Branches.

—11—13—15 Chestnut Street.—

1y17daw

TO MANUFACTURERS!

A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines cheapness and efficiency. WEEKS'S ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest pipe and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn., Inventor and Manufacturer. nov15d

SUMMER TRAVEL.

For New London's Ocean Beach.

THE STEAMER GYPSY,

Capt. Mathews,

will make her first trip to above points, TOMORROW, (SATURDAY) AFTERNOON, leaving here at 2 o'clock, and thereafter will make two trips daily, at 8.30 a. m., and 2 p. m., including Sundays. The Gypsy will touch at all available points on the river for passengers, if signaled.

Fare round trip, 60 Cents.

1y28d PALMER SMITH, Agent.

New London Steamboat Co.

1893—SEASON—1893.

COMMENCING

SATURDAY, July 1st,

—THE—

STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND

Will make daily trips (Sundays excepted) between Norwich, Montville, New London, Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island. Leaving Norwich 8.15 a. m., Montville 8.45, New London 9.45, touching at Mystic Island and Watch Hill, arriving at Block Island 12.45 p. m.

Returning, leave Block Island at 3 p. m., Watch Hill 5.00, touching at Mystic Island, reaching New London at 6, Montville 6.35, and Norwich 7.15.

D. MACKENZIE, J. A. SOUTHARD,
je30d Supt. G. P. A.

Steamer Ella.

SEASON OF 1893.

—ON—

Friday, June 23

And during the season the Steamer Ella will make daily excursions to the shore resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.45, Ft. Griswold House 9.50, Mystic Island 10.30, arriving at Watch Hill about 11.15.

Returning, leave Watch Hill at 2.45 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 4.35, arriving about 6.

Special Rates to Excursion Parties.

Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.

Commerce Wharf on signal.

je3d JAMES WALKER, Manager, Norwich Ct.

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION

Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices.

Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.

No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.

jal3daw 48 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD.

DENTIST,

Over Boston Store, opp. Wauregan House. Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. nov26d

DR. J. H. ELDRED,

DENTIST.

Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, Ether or Cocaine administered.

OFFICE—214 Main Street,

Trueman's Block Franklin Square. Residence 13 BROADWAY. aur1d

ARCHITECTS.

C. H. PRESTON,

Architect, - - - - Central Building.

Telephone 144-3, Norwich, Conn.

Specialist on modern construction and strength of materials. mar1d

JAMES A. HISCOX

ARCHITECT

161 Main Street, Rooms 1 and 2. oct26d

S. S. THRESHER,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Notary Public.

mar6d Nos. 1 and 2 Broad Hall, Norwich

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES

—OF—

DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.

As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles C. Bliss, 126 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, his entire stock of goods,

CONSISTING OF

Diamond Jewelry,
Gold and Silver Watches,
Sterling Silver Ware,
Gold Chains,
Brooches,
Rings,
French Black Marble Clocks,
French Onyx Clocks,
American Clocks,
Silver Plated Ware,
Pocket Books,
Fancy Goods,
Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.

je9d JOHN BLISS, Administrator.

BOOK BINDERS.

BLANK BOOKS made to order. Paper ruled to any pattern. [illegible]

Issued from 1 to 100,000.

MAGAZINES BOUND

in any style of binding. Old books repaired. Back Nos. furnished to complete volumes by

JOSEPH BRADFORD Practical Bookbinder.

Bulletin Building, up stairs.

oct16daw Norwich Ct.

COWAN, the Bookbinder

will after this date be found on the ground floor,

108 Broadway.

mar3d

TRAVELERS DIRECTORY.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.
NEW LONDON DIVISION.
Change of time.

On and after MONDAY, June [illegible], 1893, TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NEW LONDON AS FOLLOWS:

5.05 a. m., Norwich at 5.45 a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Palmer, Springfield, Ware, [illegible], Brattleboro, St. Johnsbury, Burlington, Montreal, Ogdensburg, and [illegible] stations.

8.05 a. m., Norwich [illegible] [illegible] Willimantic for Boston, Hartford, Colchester, Middletown, New Haven, New York, at Palmer with [illegible] Albany, and [illegible] Brattleboro with [illegible] for St. Albans, Montreal, and principal intermediate points. Also to points [illegible] Grand Trunk R. R.

10.05 a. m., Norwich at 10.45 a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Waterbury, Middletown, Colchester etc.

11.05 a. m., connecting from Providence, Boston, and intermediate stations.

2.00 p. m., connecting with express from Boston, Providence, New York and New Haven, at Norwich with Norwich & Worcester Railroad.

[illegible]

[illegible] p. m., Norwich [illegible] p. m., connecting at Willimantic for Hartford, and at Palmer for Springfield, Albany and the west.

[illegible] p. m., Norwich [illegible], for Brattleboro connecting with train leaving New York at [illegible] [illegible] Providence and way [illegible] or Block Island from Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island, and connects at Willimantic for Hartford and [illegible] Putnam, Boston and Providence [illegible] Colchester, Middletown, New Haven and New York, and at Palmer with Boston & Albany R. R. for Springfield, Albany and the west and at [illegible] express for St. Albans, Montreal and Quebec, reaching Montreal and principal points in Vermont the same evening.

[illegible] p. m. for Norwich. This train connecting with [illegible] p. m. express from New York.

[illegible] (Sundays only) connecting with express train from New York and [illegible].

GOING SOUTH.

Passenger trains LEAVE NORWICH as follows:

6.15 a. m., connecting for Stonington, Providence, New Haven and New York.

9.15 a. m., for New London, Stonington, Providence and Boston. New Haven and New York, connecting with [illegible] Block Island for Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island.

10.45 a. m. for New London, New Haven and New York, Providence and Boston.

12.30 p. m. for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, [illegible] and Pier, New Haven, New York and [illegible] intermediate stations.

[illegible] p. m., for New London, New Haven and New York.

[illegible] p. m., for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, [illegible] and Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.

[illegible] p. m. for New London, connecting [illegible] Shore Line express reaching New York [illegible] p. m. with express train for Providence and Boston, and accommodation [illegible] Westerly and intermediate stations.

[illegible] p. m. for New London and for New York, by boat from New London.

[illegible] p. m., for New London and for New York via boat from New London.

7.00 p. m. (Sundays only) connecting with express train for New York and Boston.

[illegible] D. MACKENZIE [illegible]

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.

NORWICH & WORCESTER DIVISION.

For Boston, Worcester, Providence, [illegible], Waterbury, [illegible].

Commencing MONDAY, June [illegible], 1893. "Eastern" Time Standard.

TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NORWICH UNION STATION.

6.10 a. m. (Mondays excepted) [illegible] [illegible]. Connects at Putnam for [illegible] arrive Boston 9.00 a. m. At [illegible] all points north, Portland, [illegible].

6.55 a. m. Way Passenger Train, [illegible] ing at Plainfield Junction for Providence arrive Providence [illegible] a. m. [illegible] Boston arriving at [illegible] for Willimantic and Hartford, [illegible] Hartford 11.15 a. m. At [illegible] Boston, Springfield and intermediate stations. Albany and the west.

9.30 a. m. connecting at Putnam for Boston (arrive at 1.12 p. m.). At [illegible] Providence (arrive at [illegible] p. m.) [illegible] center with roads north, east and west. Webster with train for Southbridge.

1.40 p. m. Way Passenger, connects to [illegible] for Hartford and [illegible] Boston [illegible] p. m. At [illegible] bridge. At [illegible] [illegible] Railroad [illegible] burg, [illegible].

[illegible] p. m. for Plainfield, Providence and intermediate stations, through car [illegible] at Providence [illegible] p. m.

5.15 p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Plainfield for Providence and from Providence. A train leaves Providence at [illegible] p. m. connects at Plainfield with train for [illegible] [illegible], arriving at Putnam [illegible] [illegible]. (Leaves Plainfield at [illegible].)

TRAINS GOING SOUTH LEAVE [illegible] CENTER.

[illegible] a. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster for Southbridge, at Putnam train for Hartford, Waterbury and intermediate points and New York, at Plainfield for Providence.

[illegible] a. m. connects with trains from [illegible] [illegible] at Webster for Southbridge, Putnam with train for [illegible] (Take this train for Hartford, New [illegible] Waterbury. Parsall [illegible] Plainfield from Providence.

12.50 p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster with train from Southbridge, at Putnam with 12 o'clock express [illegible] Boston for Willimantic, Hartford, New York. At Norwich for [illegible] don.

[illegible] p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster for Southbridge, at Putnam [illegible] Willimantic and Hartford, and [illegible] p. m. express train from Boston.

[illegible] p. m. Steamboat Express for New [illegible] (via New London.) [illegible] Connects with trains from [illegible] and Fitchburg R. R. This train [illegible] Norwich for New London at [illegible].

[illegible] p. m. Plainfield and Norwich, [illegible] ing at Plainfield with [illegible] p. m. [illegible] Providence; arrive Norwich [illegible] through car.

W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass. Agt.
F. S. DEWEY, [illegible]

Norwich, June 12, 1893.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your business is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

FINANCIAL.

The Co-operative Building Bank
—HAS OVER—
$120,000.00
Maturity Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A larger showing than all others together. IT IS THE BEST. C. J. WOLCOTT, Treas.
[illegible] 113 Franklin St.

MONROE, MILLER & CO.,
Bankers and Brokers,
16 and 18 Broad St., New York City,
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.
DOMESTIC and FOREIGN BANKERS

Securities bought and sold for cash or on margin. Deposits received subject to Sight Draft. Interest allowed on deposits, Foreign Exchange, Commercial Credits, Cable Transfers. Circular letters for travelers available in all parts of the World. jy28MWF

LIVERY STABLE.

EDMUND GEE.
Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.
Good Teams at Reasonable Prices.
363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge.

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable
[illegible]
A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

Livery Stables
Orders for Coaches, Landaus, Landaulets and Coupes promptly attended to.
O. H. REYNOLDS,
aug24MWF TELEPHONE CONNECTION

SADLERY ETC.

LANE BROS.
—Have a—
Seven-Foot Delivery Wagon
Which you can turn around in a ten-foot circle.
67—69 Water St.
aug24d

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF
HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,
AT MODERATE PRICES.
At 115 Main St., J. G. STANDISH.

ATTORNEYS

Charles H. Carpenter,
PENSION ATTORNEY
Office with A. Irving Bacon, over Thames National Bank. Special attention given to the execution of vouchers for quarterly payments. Advice free. No fee unless claim is granted.

JARVIS' MILITARY BAND
—AND—
ORCHESTRA
Furnish Music for Parades, Picnics, Balls, Excursions and Entertainments of All Kinds at Reasonable Prices. Address, A. W. JARVIS, Leader, 43 Division St., Norwich, Conn. apr26MWF

Lawn Mowers Sharpened,
Bicycles Repaired.
CARRIAGE AND BOAT TRIMMINGS NICKEL PLATED by
A. GOULD,
Industrial Building, near Union Station.

Rapidly Taking the Lead.
Convenient for Guests,
Indispensable to Clerks,
Profitable to Proprietors,
Indorsed by All Hotel Men
[illegible]

THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE HOTEL REGISTER
AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.
Books Registering

[illegible]	Arrivals,	Canvas Cover	$1.
[illegible]	"	Tight Back	[illegible]
[illegible]	"	Tight "	[illegible]
[illegible]	"	Spring "	[illegible]
[illegible]	"	Spring "	[illegible]

Size of page, 8 x 11.
These are the cheapest and best registers on the market.
Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and also a reasonable profit, as they cannot expect to get such favorable rates as we give our hotel patrons.
Remember, it is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.
Correspondence or Interviews Solicited.
INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,
Manufacturers of Plain and Advertising Registers, Transfer Registers, Letter Forwarding, Cash and Call Books of every description.
Norwich, - - Conn.

I HAVE AN ODORLESS PUMP
and Barrel apparatus for cleaning Vaults and Cesspools. Orders sent to my address will be promptly attended to. CHAS. WOOD, Box 341 [illegible] Conn.

FINE BLANK, COMMERCIAL and MANUFACTURERS' PRINTING at this office.

TURNING ON LIGHT.

Recommendations for New England Lighthouses.

PLEASING NEWS FOR MARINERS.

Suggestions Made to the Treasury Department by Lighthouse Officers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The lighthouse officers of the New England districts have sent an interesting report to the treasury department, containing recommendations for next year's work, some of which will be included in the annual report of the lighthouse board.

The most important recommendation made for work in the vicinity of Boston is that at State Ledge, Boston harbor. The board has recognized for a long time the necessity for a light and fog signal at this point, but has postponed action while the improvement in the channel of the harbor is in progress.

It is recommended, now that the improvements admit of the work, that a light and fog signal be established near buoy No. 8, or at or near State ledge. The estimated cost of the light is $45,000. Another important improvement suggested is the establishment of range lights on Spectacle island in Boston harbor, to cost $9650. For range lights on the South Boston range it is recommended that $1000 be expended.

The other improvements suggested in the New England districts are: Whitlocks, St. Croix, Me., purchase of land for a permanent light, $250; Clark ledge, Eastport, Me., a light to guide vessels to the entrance of the river, $5000, the title to the land for such a light having been conveyed by the Maine legislature; Little River, Me., steam fog signal to cost $10 500; Libby island, a suitable dwelling to cost $6500; Petit Manan island, Me., barn to cost $400; Burnt Coat harbor, Swan island, Me., a roadway to cost $800; [illegible] island, Eagle island, Pumpkin island, Owls Head in Rockland harbor, Tennants harbor Franklin island, Pemaquid point and Burnt island, barns at each place to cost each [illegible]; Heron Neck, Penobscot, Me., replacing of present dwelling, which is damp and unfit for occupancy, with a new building, [illegible]; Matinicus rock, Penobscot bay, additional keepers dwelling, [illegible]; Two Bush island, entrance to Penobscot bay, light, dwellings and accessories, $1900, Congress having authorized the construction of the station; Perkins island, Kennebeck river, light, $5700; Squirrel Point, light, $4000; Doubling Point, light, [illegible]; Cape Elizabeth, additional dwelling for keeper, [illegible]; Spring Point ledge, Portland harbor, fog signal and light in 13 foot deep of water, $45,000; Boon island, off York harbor, Me., additional dwelling, $5600; Newburyport harbor, barns, [illegible]; Marblehead light, tower 100 feet from base to focal plane, very much needed, near the site of the old tower, $15,000; Plymouth, barn, [illegible]; Sankaty head, Nantucket, purchase of land and construction of roadway [illegible]; Nobska Point, Woods Holl, barn, [illegible]; Butler flats, New Bedford harbor, establishment of light and fog signal, $45,000.

HIS EARS WELL TWISTED.

Treatment of Artist Harry Furniss by an Indignant M. P.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—This week's Punch contains an extravagant caricature of J. G. Swift MacNeill, Nationalist M. P. for South Donegal, representing Mr. MacNeill's protruding front teeth as startling deformities. The initials in the corner indicate that Harry Furniss is the author.

Friday evening the men came together in the lobby. Mr. MacNeill immediately shoved his fist under Mr. Furniss' nose and shouted: "Your conduct has been blackguardly. If you were not such a little man I would kick you. As it is I will merely pull your ear."

Mr. MacNeill then grasped Mr. Furniss' ear, twisted it and shook it, at the same time shaking him. A group of excited members gathered at once around the two men, as a fight was supposed to be threatening.

Mr. Furniss, however, did not strike a blow, but as soon as he got his ear free he hastened to the sergeant-at-arms with his complaint. No step has been taken as yet to discipline Mr. MacNeill.

BANGOR AND NEW YORK

To Be Connected by a Line of Steamers When Business Picks Up.

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 27.—H. M. Dimock of New York, a well known steamboat man, and Henry M. Whitney of Boston, president of the West End street railway, were in this city Friday.

While little is said about their visit here, it is reported that it was made with a view to establishing a New York line of steamers from this port as soon as the business situation commences to look a little easier, and in season to meet the Bangor and Aroostook railroad's development of the great territory in eastern Maine, which has been clamoring for years for better freight facilities.

[illegible] HAWS.

Interviews With Leading Republicans Upon Gubernatorial Nomination.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The Salem News Saturday night published interviews with 150 of the leading Republicans in Salem, Peabody, Beverly, Danvers, Marblehead, Middleton, Topsfield and Ipswich, as to their choice for the party nominee for governor. Of the 150, 61 are non-committal, 43 for Pillsbury, 31 for Greenhalge, 10 for Hart and six scattering, Bancroft, Brackett, Cogswell and Walcott being included in the latter category.

The surprising feature of the canvass is the large number of thinking men who honestly affirm that they have no preference. The ratio of this class holds about the same throughout the district, very nearly one-half, it will be seen.

Danvers is opposed to Pillsbury on account of his action in the Borden trial. Salem is for Pillsbury five to one, and Beverly is about as strong. The feature of the canvass in Peabody is the strength shown by Boston's ex-Mayor. Marblehead is evenly divided. Topsfield is for Greenhalge, while Middleton and Ipswich are in the doubtful column.

Hospital Surrounded by Guards.

TRIPOLI, Aug. 27.—Several cases of suspected cholera have been found among the Mecca pilgrims and the patients have been taken to the hospital. A triple cordon of guards surround the building. Most of the pilgrims with whom the stricken persons were making the journey have been quarantined.

Sweeney Beat His Wife.

TAUNTON, Mass., Aug. 27.—In the district court here this morning, John Sweeney of Easton was given two months in the house of correction for beating his wife, and two months additional for nonsupport of the woman. He appealed.

Death Rate in Boston.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The total number of deaths reported to the board of health for the week is 212, against 194 the corresponding week last year, showing an increase of 18 deaths, and making the death rate for the week [illegible].

CHINESE SMUGGLER.

Lived in Wilmington, but Has Been Away From Home Ten Weeks.

WILMINGTON, Mass., Aug. 27.—George B. Noyes, charged by government officials with smuggling Chinese across the borders, has lived here, and his family is here now on the Child farm at the head of Sandy pond. They came here last fall and engaged in raising poultry, a business they had carried on in Foxboro.

Noyes has been away just 10 weeks, and by his family and neighbors he was supposed to be in Vermont buying poultry. Nothing had been heard from him except a letter from Nashua, N. H., asking his wife to send him a harness.

Noyes was quite well known among the people considering the short time he had been here. He could tell a good story, had traveled extensively, had much to say regarding his wanderings, and was not backward in making acquaintances.

"We have not seen him these 10 weeks, and we should like to hear from him," remarked his wife. She did not exhibit much surprise when told of the charge against her husband; in fact, she hardly thought it a crime; but when told it was such remarked: "What! my husband charged with smuggling Chinese? Is that all? Will they punish him for that?"

A few days previous to leaving Noyes took his wagon to Woburn and had some side coverings put on it. It had a top. This was put on a car here and shipped to Nashua. Noyes was accompanied when he left by young Vanderplank, who had been working for him.

A story which gained credence here, that Noyes inherited $150,000 and got rid of it in two years, is denied by his wife, who says she never heard of it. She has no money.

SITUATION ENCOURAGING.

Failures Fewer and Indications That End of Depression Is Near.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The Boston News Bureau of Saturday says: The situation is certainly more encouraging. Money is in greater supply, and the banks are paying out currency much more freely. If these conditions continue, and indications are that they will increase rather than lessen, then interest rates will shortly adjust themselves.

Sterling exchange is weaker. Foreign houses report few offerings of forward exchange. This fact would tend to the support of the prediction that gold imports will continue as the outward movement of cotton will soon begin.

Failures are becoming fewer and manufacturing industries are beginning to resume. It certainly looks as if we were nearing the end of a depression and distrust which has been largely senseless when figured on legitimate conditions.

The security markets become harder to pound, even with the limited power witnessed. There are practically few stocks offering, and the short interest outstanding, and which cannot be covered at market quotations, must be exceedingly large.

TO REDUCE EXPENSES.

No More Trial of Ships at the Expense of the Government Decreed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—No more trial trips of ships at the expense of the government is the decision which Secretary Herbert has come to. The trial of ships at the expense of the contractor will relieve the navy department of a vast deal of work and book-keeping. It has its disadvantages however, which Mr. Herbert did not lose sight of when he made the decision.

Under the system adopted by Secretary Whitney the trial trip was held under rules laid down by the navy department people, and the contractor, for the convenience of all concerned, entertained the officers who had been detailed to conduct the test, purchased the coal, etc., but was allowed to put in a bill of expenses, taking care that the cost of keeping the officers and crew should be kept within certain limits, not admitting of the luxuries of the table. Now he will do everything on his own hook and make himself good out of the total contract price.

It is believed that by the new method the department will be able to conduct its trial trips at less expense than now. The contractor will be more apt to economize with his own money than with the funds of the government, and the same end will have been attained at less cost.

It cost the government $40,000 to make trial of the cruiser New York and $6000 to ascertain whether the machines were up to the requirements.

BRITANNIA WINS AGAIN.

The Navahoe Makes Much Better Showing, Coming in Second.

DARTMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 27.—The Start Bay Yacht club regatta took place Saturday at Dartmouth. The starters were the Satanita, the Britannia, the Calluna and the Navahoe.

There was a light breeze blowing when the start was made, and soon afterward the American yacht took the lead, and after 14 miles of plain sailing she was 3m. ahead of the royalty boat, 5m. ahead of the Satanita, and 4m. 20s. ahead of the Calluna. The Satanita was 11 minutes handicapped at the start, but she slowly made her way up among the leaders.

In the second round the breeze freshened up considerably, and the boats had a dead beat to windward. On this point of sailing the Britannia weathered the Navahoe on the first tack, and took first place, and at the end of the second round she was 3 minutes ahead of her.

The Satanita made a very good showing, for at the end of this round she was only one minute astern of the Navahoe. The Calluna did not seem to feel the breeze, and she slowly dropped astern, being six minutes 10 seconds astern of the Britannia.

New Evidence in McCarthy Case.

TAUNTON, Mass., Aug. 27.—Judge Read before whom the inquest on the death of McCarthy of Attleboro was held, has not yet made his report. State Detective Seaver having secured some new evidence which will be introduced at an adjourned [illegible].

Girl Has Hydrophobia.

MALDEN, Mass., Aug. 27.—Little Gertrude Connolly is at the Malden city hospital suffering from hydrophobia. The child was bitten by a dog about three weeks ago. Her condition did not become serious until Friday.

Whipping In the Lords.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Earl of Limerick has issued a whip requesting urgently the attendance of all Conservative peers at the home rule debate in the house of lords Sept. 5.

Reports From the Sealers.

VICTORIA, B. C. Aug. 27.—The sealing schooner Pioneer arrived here Friday night with about 6000 skins, the catches of several sailing schooners. The Pioneer caught all her seals on this side of the ocean. On July 28 she took skins from the Annie C. Moore, far south of Copper island, which seems to throw doubt on the report that the Moore was seized only one day later by the Russians.

Great Boiler Makers' Strike.

BARNESVILLE, Minn., Aug. 27.—The boilermakers of the entire brotherhood, from St. Paul to Great Falls, Mont., on the Great Northern, have struck, owing to the violation of certain agreements. The men are well prepared to stand a long siege, and expect to win the strike.

SHIPS LYING IDLE.

Owners Combine to Obtain Higher Coal Rates.

PRESENT PRICES ARE RUINOUS.

One Thousand Vessels Will be Idle In Our Harbors In Next Ten Days.

SALEM, Mass., Aug. 27.—A strike among the ship owners, who are in the coal carrying business, has just come to light. Over 800 owners of vessels have signed an agreement not to haul any coal at a price less than 75 cents a ton. The coal dealers are already commencing to feel the effects of it. In this city alone are the 3-masted schooner J. R. Smith, the 4-masted schooners Cassie Bronson and Clarence H. Venner, all hauled up, the Venner the last one to lower its sails.

In other ports are other vessels laid up, while there are ship owners who will dock their boats just as soon as they arrive in port from their trips. There will be in New England coast harbors waiting the advance in prices in less than 10 days from now. The contract between the 800 owners is very binding. The Morses of Bath, Me., are the prime movers in this strike. They own the Independent and Knickerbocker, two of the largest coal carriers in the world, besides other boats of smaller dimensions.

One Thousand Vessels of All Sizes

There is one owner who has secured another contract, this time from the Boston Sugar Refining company, and the boat sails south today. As this owner does not intend to carry coal he will not violate his contract. Captain Baker of the Winnie now off Derby wharf, was seen by a reporter this noon time. He said that the 800 owners control hundreds of vessels and barges, and that as fast as the crafts made port they would haul up with the rest of them.

Up to date vessels aggregating 35,000 tons are out of the trade. The price now offered ship owners is 60 cents a ton from Baltimore to ports as far east as Portland. The owners which says that they shall not take cargoes of coal from Baltimore to Boston, Salem or Portsmouth for less than 80 cents, and from Philadelphia to those ports at 75 cents. There will be 21 more vessels in this city by next Wednesday and all of them will haul up.

Have Signed the Agreement

The claim is made that the present prices are ruinous. The owners claim that they do not get enough to pay the running expenses of the boat.

ADVANCING OUTPOSTS.

British Moving For a Land Grab in Venezuelan Guiana.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Herald's Panama correspondent cables: Encouraged by the attitude of Lord Rosebery in refusing to submit to arbitration the question of the boundary line between Venezuela and British Guiana, the Georgetown Liberal, semi-official organ of the governor of Demerara, editorially urges the advancement of the English outposts in Venezuelan Guiana.

That journal asserts that, inasmuch as possession is nine points in the British law, occupation would thus be permanently secured.

Fined For Abusing a Horse.

MILFORD, Mass., Aug. 27.—Henry White of West Upton was fined $15 Saturday morning in the local court for abusing a horse.

Bell Left No Will.

EXETER, N. H., Aug. 27.—Hon. John J. Bell left no will. His estate, estimated at $500,000, will consequently go in equal shares the widow and two sons.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Astor Curtis was found "not guilty."

Idle Poles still keep the police on the alert.

Disley, Doubeday & Co. of New York [illegible].

Longshoremen in New York are still making trouble.

The body of a man was seen whirling in the rapids at Niagara.

Colonel John A. P. Allen of New Bedford, Mass., died suddenly.

The number of houses destroyed by fire at Chicago is now placed at 131, and the loss on them at $195,000.

The North Attleboro (Mass.) Railroad company wants the courts to order the rebuilding of the station in that town.

The question of annexing a part of Deerfield to Greenfield, Mass., is in agitation again.

Another election to fill the Vermont Episcopal bishopric is to take place next Wednesday.

A new electric road is to be built through the towns of Andover and Tewksbury to Lowell, Mass.

Charles M. Shattuck of Medfield, Mass., committed suicide. The direct cause was temporary insanity, due to despondency.

Thomas W. Killikelly, a member for the past 10 years of the local staff of the Boston Herald, died suddenly. He was 37 years old.

The body of George Barnett, cashier of the defunct bank at Manitowoc, Wis., was found in the river. It is probably a case of suicide.

Dr. William H. Williams, editor of The Central Baptist of St. Louis, dropped dead on the depot platform at Alexandria. Cause, heart disease.

J. L. Laporte of Lyndon, Vt., has bought The Temperance Herald of W. A. Jones of Montpelier, and moved the office of publication to Lyndon.

Mayor Matthews says that the city of Boston cannot interfere in the trouble between the gaspipe layers and the Brookline Gas Light company.

Dr. John B. Whittaker of Fall River, Mass., is dead, aged about 70 years. He was one of the pioneers of the 10-hour agitation in Massachusetts.

Colonel F. W. Whittlesey died at Middletown, Conn., aged 65. He was at the first Bull Run, Gaines' Mill, Malvern Hill and other important battles.

Colonel John W. Locke of Wakefield, Mass., died at Manchester, N. H., aged 61. He was one of the most prominent Grand Army men in Massachusetts.

Lily Clifford 17 years old, attempted suicide by taking carbolic acid at her house at [illegible] Thirty-fifth street, New York. She was taken to Bellevue hospital, a prisoner.

INTERESTING FACTS.

Clergymen were not allowed to marry in England till 1547.

Miniature auroras have been produced artificially in Finland.

The notes used by the Bank of England cost exactly 1 cent each.

Chinese don't allow their pawnbrokers to charge less than 36 per cent.

Barnacles not only attach themselves to hulls of ships, but also to bullhead fish.

Taking all the year round, the coldest hour of the 24 is 5 o'clock in the morning.

THE MERMAID.

The surface of Lake Superior is [illegible] feet above the ocean's level.

The maelstrom is not a whirlpool which sucks ships down into the depths of the ocean. It is an eddy, which in fair weather can be crossed in safety by any vessel.

Soup creek in West Virginia passes a hamlet called Vivian, and about a mile below returns, runs around a tract of land about a half mile wide, and then passes under itself. This freak is caused by the lay of the land, which sinks spirally.

The narrowest part of the strait of Florida, through which the gulf stream flows at the rate of five knots an hour, is 50 miles wide and has a mean depth of 350 fathoms. If this were stopped up, the climate of this country in winter would be totally changed.

THE TIPPLER.

In China wine is not considered fit to drink unless it is hot.

The word punch is from the Hindoostani five, as aqua vitae, sugar, arrack, rosewater and citron were its ingredients.

The prohibition town of Portland, Me., uses $70,000 worth of liquor every year for "medicinal and mechanical purposes."

The celebrated Johannisberger wine all comes from one comparatively small vineyard, which is guarded with jealous care.

Governor Tillman of South Carolina opens his state saloons at 7 a. m. and closes them at 6 p. m. He expects to make $500,000 a year for the state in the saloon business.

THE EXHIBITOR.

A month could be profitably spent in the fine art section of the fair.

Thirty thousand tons of "staff" material were used in the walls of the World's fair buildings.

General Lew Wallace says of the World's fair, "Never in the history of the world has there been anything like it, in my judgment, and I doubt if ever again, for a hundred years at least, will there be."

One of the curious articles forming part of the colonial exhibit at the fair is a carved powder horn etched with the map of New York and the English coat of arms. It was loaned by Mrs. Heinighe of Bay Ridge.

Pathetic Appeal.

Beggar—Could you spare me a trifle, kind gentlemen? I've got five little children at home—all twins!—Hannovrischer Courier.

Harmony.

Though a man may have a rasping voice
That like a scythe will mow you,
It's sweeter than sweet music when
He says, "Here's what I owe you."
—The Sun.

The husband of Mrs. Hettie Green, the wealthiest woman in America, Edward H. Green, is a familiar character in Wall street, and presents a unique appearance. He is about 6 feet 4 inches high, broad shouldered, has a grizzly beard, wears spectacles and has a slow, shuffling gait.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Dealings In Leading Securities In Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—In the outside market call money is quoted at 8 to 10 per cent, and time money is nominally 6 per cent.

Saturday is not a day to look for any significant movement in the stock market. Especially is this the case on a sweltering August day when brokers and their customers alike are anxious to get out of town. The significant features of such days is the tone of the general [illegible] prevailing in the street. So far as this goes it can be said that both brokers and bankers were in better spirits this morning. The approach of decisive action in the house on the Sherman bill and the foregone result have already made themselves manifest in a rally. The entrance of gold into circulation is easing the interior strain, while cessation of large failure give confidence that the bottom has been touched and the rebound must follow soon.

The local market opened fairly strong and held that way until near the close, when holders of securities began to take their profits. The result was a reaction. Sugar was especially active. The common opening at 77, ¼ up, advanced to 79, and then slid to 77¼, while the preferred, starting off ½ stronger at 76½, rose to 77½. General Electric was weak. Opening ½ down at 40, it declined to 39¼. While the preferred opened 5 down at 55 and recovered only to 56. Bay State gas continues to move upward, the quotation rising from 7 to 6¾. Atchison was steady, while Chicago, Burlington and Quincy was irregular.

The most important changes comparing final sales with those of Friday were: Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, declined ¼; Atchison ¼, advanced ¼; Union Pacific, advanced ¼; New York and New England, advanced ¾; Old Colony, declined ½; Sugar, advanced 1¾; Sugar preferred, advanced 1¼; General Electric, declined 1; General Electric preferred, declined 2; Bay State Gas, advanced 1¼.

STOCKS—CLOSING.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	18
Bell Telephone	178
Boston and Albany	189
Boston and Maine	145
Bay State Gas	[illegible]
Calumet	[illegible]
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	77¾
Fitchburg	72
Lamson Cash Railway	14@15
Erie Tel	37
General Electric	39¼
Mexican Central	6¼
New England Tel	[illegible]
Old Colony	166
Pullman	147½
Sugar preferred	77
West End Land	11¼
West End R. R.	[illegible]
Wisconsin Central	[illegible]
New York Stocks.
Canada Southern	44½
Chicago Gas	51½
Cotton Oil	29¾
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western	134¾
Erie	12¾
Lake Shore	117¼
Louisville and Nashville	54½
Manhattan	110
Michigan Central	[illegible]
Missouri Pacific	21½
National Cordage	15
New Jersey Central	[illegible]
Northwestern	90¼
Northern Pacific	5¼
New York Central	99
New York and New England	20½
Pacific Mail	10@10¼
Reading	15
Rock Island	59¾
St. Paul	54⅝
Sugar, com	77¼
Union Pacific	19
Western Union	79
Whisky	21

Chicago Provision Market.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—2 p. m.—Wheat opened firm today, at 60½c for cash; closed at 62½c for August; opened at 61c, closed at 61½c for September; closed at 65½c for October; 67¾ asked for December; 75½c for May.

Corn opened easy today and closed easy at 39½c for cash; 39½c for August; 38½c for September; 37¾@38⅛c for October; 37½c asked for December; 40@40½c for May.

Oats opened steady today and closed at [illegible] for cash; 23½c for August; closed at [illegible] for September; 24½c asked for October; closed at 29½c asked for May.

Pork opened firmed today; prices ranged mostly at $13.50 for cash; $13.50 for August; [illegible] for September; closing at $1.30; [illegible] for October; [illegible] for January, closing at $12.75.

Lard opened rather firm today at $8.50 for cash; $8.50 for August; [illegible] for September, closing at $8 12½; $7.55@8 for October; $7.45 for January.

Short ribs opened rather firm today at $8.75 for cash; $6.75 for August; [illegible] for September; $7 [illegible] for October, closing at [illegible] for January.

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Cotton quiet; middling, 7⅞c; middling Orleans, 7¾c; sales 113 bales. Futures closed strong; sales 113,100 bales. September, 7.68c; October, 7.80c; November, 7.86c; December 7.78c; January, 7.89c; February, 7.98c; March, 8.03; [illegible] 8.17c; May, 8.23c.

THE CRITIC.

D. A. van der Meer once painted a landscape on the side of a grain of wheat.

Noah Brooks, for nine years editor of the Newark (N. J.) Advertiser, has resigned his position and will devote himself henceforth to literary work.

Mrs. W. K. Clifford, the English writer, was asked to put her autograph in one of her works to be sold at a bazaar. She wrote above her name, "This is a bad little book and was written by me."

John C. Ropes of Boston, the magazine writer, is the owner of what is probably the greatest collection of Napoleonic pictures and relics in America. He is considered an authority on the subject.

S. Seymour Thomas, whose painting, "An Innocent Victim," is on exhibition at the World's fair, is a Texan, formerly of San Antonio, but a resident of Paris for many years. The picture is valued at $10,000.

Of earlier American literature [illegible] was a soldier, Cooper a country gentleman, Paulding a naval agent in New York and afterward secretary of the navy; Irving studied law, but paid court to the muses by preference.

Pierre Loti, the French novelist, having finished his term of service as lieutenant on a gunboat, has decided to write a novel of the Holy Land and will soon form a caravan to start from Cairo over the route taken by the holy family in their flight to Egypt.

The real name of Caran d'Ache, the most popular of European caricaturists, is Emanuel Poire. He is of Russian descent, and his nom de plume is the Russian word for pencil. He looks like a soldier, but has never smelled powder and is the most peaceable of men.

THE CROWN PRINCE.

Queen Victoria brews her own tea and has a decided fondness for orange pekoe.

Gopal Rao, maharajah guicowar of Baroda, has an income of $7,500,000 a year, out of which he runs his government.

Prince Waldemar of Prussia, the only son of Emperor William's sailor brother, Prince Henry, is deaf and dumb, a fact of which scarcely any one outside of court circles is aware.

Marie Henriette, the handsome and soft voiced queen of the Belgians, is especially fond of driving and does it particularly well. She also rides well, talks well and is an uncommonly good musician.

King Carlos of Portugal leaped from his carriage recently to interfere with a fight and prevent a probable murder. His majesty overpowered the stronger party and turned him over to the police.

The sultan of Turkey always eats and drinks alone, although he generally has a large retinue in attendance. He uses neither table, plates, knife nor folk, but only a spoon and his fingers, with which he fishes out his food from a series of little saucepans.

The shah of Persia has 5 sons and 12 daughters. His three married sons have 21 children. The Persian official year book mentions in the royal family three brothers and two sisters of the shah, while the uncles, greatuncles and the cousins number 140.

Public speaking is the Duke of Teck's greatest trouble in life. He is an extremely modest man and nervous to a degree. He is, however, very gentlemanly, and no one can get better through a public function than he can, provided there is no formal speaking for him to do.

THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Ether will take out water marks from silk.

Remove the black from a ceiling or wall smoked by a kerosene lamp by washing off with soda water.

A pleasant odor for boudoirs is obtained from tiny sprays of dogwood and ivy arranged in vases with water.

Brass should be cleaned at least once a week. Alcohol, spirits of turpentine, benzine or kerosene will generally remove all ordinary spots on this metal.

Powdered French chalk is recommended for cleaning light woolens. Cover the soiled parts thickly with the chalk, let it remain a day or two and then remove with a camel's hair velvet brush.

Rust spots may be removed from highly polished cutlery without injury to the surface by cleaning the article with a mixture of 10 parts of tin putty, 8 of prepared buckshorn and 25 of alcohol and then rubbing with blotting paper.

Captain S. K. Meison, who entered the Confederate army in February, 1862, as an officer of the Forty-first Mississippi regiment, was wounded by 14 bullets and a shell and still lives, comparatively hale and hearty, at the age of 63 years.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES
—AT—
40C. PER THOUSAND.
They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.
COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.
The Bulletin Co.,
NORWICH, CONN.
aug24d

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Five Gallon Oil Can.
LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,
[illegible] Water St.,
jy24d AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

FLOUR
Is the lowest ever known, and Bread is the cheapest Food that can be used. The Flour that makes the Best Bread and the most loaves of Bread is
"PILLSBURY'S BEST"
For Sale Everywhere.
SMITH, NORTHAM & CO.,
HARTFORD, CONN. MILLER'S AGENTS.
aug14MWF

GROCERIES.

FILL YOUR Lunch Baskets
—AT—
RALLION'S.
aug12d 6 Broadway, Central Building.

FRUIT JARS.
Mason's Improved.
A. T. OTIS.
aug14dw

WE'RE STILL HERE!
AT 303 FRANKLIN STREET.
AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE.
Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or greenback.
Come and see us and bring the children.
H. D. AVERY. jy24d

Kingan Hams.
The BEST Ham in the world 16c lb. Every Ham warranted.
J. A. STODDARD & SON.,
[illegible] 120 Franklin St.

Cliquot Club Ginger Ale,
Cowdry's Deviled Meats,
Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken
—AT—
R. S. BARTLETT'S,
4 and 6 Broad Opera House.
jy27d

Concentrated Claret Lemonade
Lime Juice and
Imported Ginger Ales, at
A. L. ALLEN'S

J. H. GARDNER, JR., D. V. S.
VETERINARIAN.
Office—Chapman's Stable, 11 Bath Street. [illegible] Telephone 112-12.

HORSES
TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES
at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St., by the new Veterinary, DR. E. L. TOWER, graduate from Ontario Veterinary College.

CAUTION.
There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. We have no agents in Norwich.
C. E. TRAFTON, Man.
REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO.
may24d Office 28 Shetucket St., Norwich Ct.

THE TIME TO BUY IS WHEN THE OTHER FELLOW WANTS TO SELL

WE WANT TO SELL
OFFICE STATIONERY WILL NEVER BE CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,
BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

pure sure pure sure pure sure pure sure

CAKE
Keeps Fresh
if made with Cleveland's
Baking Powder.

aug14MWF

CARD.

We wish to express our thanks to the neighbors and friends who so kindly aided us in our bereavement.
aug28d F. B. and F. R. HOLMES

THE BEST SPONGES
For Washing Carriages
Can be found at HOWE'S.
aug28d

PORTEOUS
&
MITCHELL.

A Three Days' Sale,
Monday, Tuesday, Wedn'sd'y

While the whole country is anxiously waiting for Congress to legislate on the Silver Question we have solved the problem and present the solution in a nutshell.

Bring a silver dollar to us at any time during the next three days, namely—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—and this is what we will give you:

Adamantine Pins, sizes 2, 3 and 4, a paper,	.02
Hosiery Pins, a card,	.03
Mourning Pins, a box,	.03
Ink, a bottle,	.03
Hat Pins, a dozen papers,	.04
Corset Steels, covered,	.05
Pint Bottle of Ammonia	.05
Card Case	.05
Tooth Brush	.07
Lather Brush	.07
Whisk Broom	.07
White Glue	.07
Dress Shields	.08
2 ounce bottles of Perfumery	.10
Ladies' Skirt Supporters	.12
Waving Irons	.12
Total	$1 00

Actual value of the foregoing list $2.50. Bring a silver $1.00 and you can buy the entire lot or any portion of it you may desire. Bear in mind these prices are for three days only, and every article is something that enters into the every day needs of every household.

Here are a few other articles of household utility which can be bought for a little money for these three days:

Ivory Buttons, Flat and Ball, 5c for a two dozen card.
Pearl Buttons, sizes 18 to 24, 10c a card.
Whalebone Casing 12½c a piece.
Dress Belting 12½c a piece.
Nichols' Tooth Powder 12½c a bottle.
Sheffield's Tooth Paste 12½c a tube.
Cuticura Soap 15c a cake.
47-11 Glycerine Soap 15c a cake.
A 4 ounce bottle of Perfumery 15c.
A quart bottle of Ammonia 15c.
Ladies' Leather Belts 15c.
Feather Fans 15c.
Shears—sizes 6 and 7 inch, 19c.
Bath Gloves 19c.
Cashmere Bouquet Soap 19c.
A long bottle of 1492 Cologne 19c.
Ladies' Pocketbooks 20c.
Comfort Powder 35c a box.
Bath Brushes 39c.
Ladies' Shopping Bags 39c.
Alarm Clocks 65c.

The foregoing are all Staple articles. Everyone knows the regular prices. These special prices are for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.
aug28daw

Do You Know Any One Who is Hard to Suit?

Bring him in. We can make all sorts of Suits for the different kinds of days to be lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable.
GEO. R. CLARK,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 4, Shannon Block. jy1d

REMOVAL.
OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN
OCULIST and AURIST,
To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.

Special attention given to correcting all forms of abnormal vision with proper Spectacles or Eye Glasses. No fee charged in such cases except in ASTIGMATISM or where it is necessary to prescribe in addition to fitting glasses.
ja16d

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Monday August 28, 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before Six a. m.

Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co.

The Weather Today.

Indications for Connecticut: Fair weather, except light local showers Monday night.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

Regular session of Uncas lodge, I. O. O. F., this evening.

A large excursion delayed the 9.15 train from Palmer an hour on Saturday.

At the Wheel club races here September 4 the Thread City cyclers will be represented by a large delegation.

A requiem in memory of the late Bishop McMahon will be celebrated in St. Patrick's church today at 8 o'clock.

The steamer Sunshine makes excursions from Hartford to Crescent Beach on Wednesday and Thursday, the dates of the Sunday school convention.

The Putnam and Killingly companies of the Third regiment remained in Norwich Saturday till the 5.15 p. m. train, the 3 40 train not being held for them.

The house formerly occupied by Dr. R. P. Keep on Broadway is being fitted up for a kindergarten in connection with the Normal department of the Free Academy.

This is the way The Meriden Journal tells about it: "A. W. Fitch of Norwich, while fishing off Fishers Island brought up a wallet containing $90 with papers of value."

Miss Marion Otis of the Free Academy practice school has received a flattering call to a southern educational institution, which she will accept unless prevented by ill health.

In the fourth and last day's shoot of the Keystone company at New London first money in the second event, fifteen singles, amateur rules, was won by Mr. Archibald Mitchell of this city.

The Rev. E. P. Stanton supplied the pulpit of East Main street Methodist Episcopal church Sunday very acceptably. The topic of the sermon was: God's paternal relations to man.

The Rev. George S. Payson of New York city conducted the union services at the Second Congregational church Sunday. Mr. Payson was a teacher in the Academy from 1866 until 1868.

Company C arrived home on a special train from Camp Morris at 3.15 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Jarvis' full military band met the soldiers at the station and they made a short street parade.

Under the present management of the Norwich & Worcester road there is talk of taking Danielsonville from the list of boat train stations. It has been a boat train station ever since the road was opened.

Citizens who think the electric cars go at too high a rate of speed should just board them and make the round by watch. It takes a passenger three hours to cover the entire distance, which is not over six feet miles.

An emery wheel flew to pieces in Vaughn's foundry Saturday afternoon, breaking several panes of glass. An employe who had been at work on the wheel had fortunately left it for a moment.

The Greeneville Congregational church has been raised six feet and is now being turned around, preparatory to removal down the hill to its new site. Two stories of brick will be under its lower end, and the entrance to the auditorium will be from the level of Prospect street.

Among those recently registered at the Connecticut building, world's fair, are the following: Willimantic—Lucius P. Fuller, Emma Frye, A. J. Bowen, Alice Frye. Scotland—Nathan Witter. Columbia—Fred A. Abel. Andover—Edgar D. White. Chaplin—Jennie E. Griggs.

Yesterday was the fourteenth Sunday after Pentecost in the Catholic ritual. At St. Patrick's church there was the usual brief, hot weather service, and the reading of the gospel of the day, Matt. vi. 24 33. Several members of the Eight Bells company reinforced the regular choir.

The Central Baptist choir rendered as an anthem Sunday evening "Rock of Ages." The music was arranged for voices without an organ accompaniment, as it was heard and admired in the west by a deacon of the church, who brought copies of it here.

The examining committee of the Thirteenth school district, Montville, Messrs. George O. Gadbois, S. W. Strickland, S. H. Browning and G. R. Gay, have for the third time given an honor certificate to Miss Winnie Skelly, who will teach in that district for the coming school year.

The Westerly Tribune is authority for the statement that a fund is already being raised by the West Side saloon keepers, with which to pay the fines and costs of all voters in the town of Stonington who shall chance to be in jail on the first of October, and who will agree to vote for [redacted]

In the flower garden of Mrs. J. S. Cole of Hopkinton there has been a natural curiosity in the shape of a large semi-double hollyhock. The color was a pinkish dark purple, almost black. Some of the flowers measured nearly five inches across, and the stalk stands about eight feet high.

The Rev. J. G. Danielson, pastor of the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church of this city, preached Sunday, both morning and evening, in Otis Library hall. He will now locate here, and intends to devote his principal work among the number of Swedes who have come here of late years. His residence will be in Greeneville.

Few women in town are more active in all G. A. R. and benevolent matters generally than is Mrs. Emily Irish, wife of the popular patrolman. Consequently many friends will regret to hear that she was obliged to undergo a severe surgical operation last week, and all will rejoice to learn that she is comfortable today and is now considered out of danger.

The painting of the old Dennison homestead, by Miss Fannie D. Cranston of this city, has been selected for the engraving of a handsome souvenir spoon. Miss Cranston was one of a number of competitors. On the bowl of the spoon is the gable-roofed house and the date of its erection, 1646, and on the handle is the family name and coat of arms of the Dennisons.

PEOPLE WHO COME AND GO.

Where Health and Rest Seekers Are.

Miss Alice F. Griffin is expected in town on Saturday.

The Rev. J. D. Hart returns from his vacation this week.

Miss Grace Fowler of Norwich is visiting in Willimantic.

Mr. E. E. Page has returned from a business trip to Canada.

Mrs. Lemoine N. Fay of Meriden is here for a fortnight's visit.

Mrs. Rogers and Miss Helen Jillson have been visiting in Westbrook.

Miss Margaret McKiernan, an Elm City teacher, is visiting relatives in town.

Miss Kate Daniels and Miss Ella Comstock spent Sunday at Stafford Springs.

Mr. George Thorp and family of Bean Hill are visiting friends at Potter Hill, R. I.

Mr. Charles Spaulding and family returned from Lake Pleasant Saturday night.

Miss Margaret Clavin of this city is visiting friends on Burritt street, New Britain.

Mr. J. H. Cranston and wife return today from Mystic, where they have been for a week.

Mrs. John Manwarring and daughter left for Chicago and the World's fair Saturday night.

Miss Nellie Nolan of Passaic, N. J., is the guest of Mrs. Thomas B. Leahy of Grove street.

Mr. Charles N. Hulburt of the staff of The New Haven Palladium is visiting his old home for a few days.

Miss Jennie Barber of Mystic has been entertaining several young lady friends from Ledyard and Norwich.

Mrs. John A. Hibbard of North Woodstock and children have been visiting friends in Hebron and Norwich.

Mrs. C. L. Browning of Sixth street, leaves tonight for an extended study of the World's Columbian exposition.

Miss Nannie B. Ward of the city mission force is spending a three week's vacation with friends in Springfield.

Miss Louise Smith of Brooklyn will go to her home today, after a visit of five weeks with Misses Abbie and Annie Smith of Greeneville.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. Perkins returned from their wedding trip on Saturday evening, and later on will make a visit to the world's fair.

Miss Leonora Miller of this city, who has been visiting relatives in Wequetequock, returned home Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. Hattie Maine.

The Herald says that Miss Jennie Stevens has returned to her home in Middletown, after a month pleasantly spent with Miss Belle Rathbun of Norwich.

Miss Lizzie James of Norwich is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Capron of Stonington. Miss Hattie Gerr of Danielsonville is also a guest of the family.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

Normal School Contract Awarded.

The contract for the new Normal school at Willimantic has again been awarded to Tracy Brothers of Waterbury. The building is to cost $64,200 if it is finally decided to add a wing to the main structure, or $60,000 without the wing. There were five bids entered in this last competition.

Eight Bells Tonight.

This evening "Eight Bells" can be seen at the Broadway theater. The Brothers Byrne promise a revelation in the production this season. They have in readiness some startling and thrilling tricks. The last act of this clever production has been rewritten and proves to be interesting as well as one of the best scenic effects. One, in seeing "Eight Bells," can realize to a certain extent the talent and ingenuity of these clever people, the Brothers Byrne.

Free Academy Fall Term.

Normal department opens Tuesday, September 5. Art school opens Tuesday, September 26.

Entrance examinations to the Free Academy will be held on Monday, September 11 and Tuesday, September 12, commencing at 9 a. m.

Candidates conditioned last June in spelling, grammar or geography will be examined on Monday; those conditioned in arithmetic or U. S. history on Tuesday.

Old pupils of the academy will make up omitted or deficient examinations on Tuesday.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Holmes.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Holmes, widow of Dwight R. Holmes, was held at her late residence on Prospect street at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Rev. J. O. Dodge officiated and relatives acted as bearers. A male quartette, composed of Messrs. Smith, Perry, McConnell and Carpenter, sang appropriate selections. Interment was at Yantic cemetery.

Mrs. Holmes died on Wednesday in Willimantic, where she had gone to camp meeting. She was born in Preston in 1829, and has been a member of the Greeneville Methodist church for nearly thirty years. She was an earnest Christian woman and much esteemed in social circles. Her brothers are E. A. Fitch of this city, R. W. Fitch of Lisbon and Charles Fitch of Napa Valley, California. She leaves two sons, Frank R. Holmes of this city and Fred R. Holmes of Chicago.

Mrs. Holmes' only sister was the late Mrs. H. T. Phillips of Norwich.

Burial of the Sternfeld Brothers.

The funeral of Samuel and Solomon Sternfeld, who were drowned in the Shetucket river at 4.30 o'clock Friday afternoon, was held from their home on Talman street at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

They were to be buried by the town, but when two express wagons appeared to take the bodies to the graves for burial the Hebrews present objected to those conveyances and expressed their surprise that the Preston authorities had not sent a dray. They ordered the undertaker to provide two hearses, and when the services had been concluded at the house the funeral procession was composed of two hearses, twenty five hacks and one hundred friends and acquaintances of the dead men.

The burial was in the Hebrew cemetery and the Hebrew rites were performed by Rabbi B. Chachnowetz.

The men were highly respected by their people and were well informed and industrious. The report that Samuel Sternfeld was an anarchist must have arisen from the fact that he was president of the Hebrew democratic club during the last campaign, for his friends say that he never professed to belong to any other party since he came to this country and was naturalized as an American citizen.

THE WEARY MEETING.

The Rev. Mr. Coburn Makes an Interesting Address.

About two hundred men gathered at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the Y. M. C. A. service. The singing was led by James L. Case, Charles P. Potter presided at the organ, and Fred. H. Cranston played the cornet.

The address was made by the Rev. W. F. Coburn and his subject, "Somebody touched me," was treated in an interesting and instructive way. The evangelist told of the woman with an issue of the blood, who was healed immediately on touching the hem of the garment of Jesus. There was meaning in that touch, and the Saviour waited until the trembling woman came forward and told what had been done for her. The confession is what He expects from all whom He has helped. Old companionship, old habits and so many other things crowd one away from Christ, but if these are pressed aside and the way opened to Jesus, he will heal and save. It will mean everything to touch with him. The address was illustrated by appropriate anecdotes.

BASE BALL.

The Clippers Defeated.

The Clippers were defeated in Westerly Saturday by the team of that place in a well played game by a score of 6 to 1. The features of the game were the battery work of Kennedy and O'Toole for Westerly and the fielding of Fogarty of the Clippers, who made one of the finest catches ever made in Westerly, jumping in the air and catching the ball as it was going over the canvas into the road.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Clippers	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	—1
Westerly	3	0	0	2	0	1	0	0	0	—6

The Neptunes Win.

The Neptune base ball nine of the West Side defeated the Unions at Norwich Town Saturday afternoon by a score of 11 to 10 in a twelve-inning game. The battery for the Neptunes was Lyons and Clabby; for the Unions, Smith and Hyland.

ANOTHER STRANGER DECAMPS.

$50 in Cash and a Horse and Carriage Stolen.

Arthur Leary, formerly employed in the Uncas hotel, stole a ride on the Boston boat train from Worcester to this city Friday night. He went to the Uncas hotel and the clerk, Joseph Corey, furnished him with a night's lodgings. Leary arose in the night, took $50 from Corey's trousers, lunched in the kitchen and left the hotel.

He went to the Norwich & Worcester station, met the night watchman and complained of the heat, saying "It is so hot I cannot sleep." After taking a little exercise on the platform he went to Gee's stable on Main street near Preston bridge, awakened the hostler and hired a horse and carriage, saying he wanted to drive five or six miles in the country and would return about 5 or 6 o'clock.

It was about 2 o'clock a. m. when he tipped the hostler with half a dollar and bade him adieu.

Corey reported his loss to Chief Bowen and Gee became suspicious of the stranger and did the same. Chief Bowen drove to Gardner's lake, where it was reported the man had gone, and found that he had called at a house there. Gee went to New London and searched without success. A description of the thief and turnout has been sent to the police all over this section.

DIED.

KINGSBURY—At Norwich, Conn., Aug. 26, Caroline Bay Kingsbury, aged 63.

BECKWITH—In Ledyard, Aug. 26, Ann M., wife of Deacon J. H. Beckwith, aged 71 years.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

No. 10.
THIS MORNING I shall unload a fancy car of PEACHES.
J. C. WORTH.
aug28TuF

NORWICH FREE ACADEMY.

Opening of Fall Term.

Normal Department Opens Tuesday, Sept. 5

Candidates who have not seen Miss Carlisle are requested to do so at the Slater Memorial building, on Saturday, Sept. 2, or Monday, Sept. 4, between 4 and 5.30 p. m.

Art School Opens Tuesday, Sept. 26.

For full information as to the various courses address Miss A. V. V. Brown, or inquire at the Slater Memorial building.

Entrance examinations to the Free Academy will be held on Monday, Sept. 11, and Tuesday, Sept. 12, commencing at 9 a. m.

Candidates conditioned last June in Spelling, Grammar or Geography will present themselves on Monday; those conditioned in Arithmetic or U. S. History on Tuesday. Old pupils of the Academy will make up omitted or deficient examinations on Tuesday.

ROBERT P. KEEP, Principal.
aug28d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PRENTICE has a fine assortment of SOFT HATS
suitable for traveling. aug28MWF

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK!
A. PLAUT,
The well-known Bargain Dealer, will commence MONDAY, Aug. 28th, to close out the balance of his Bicycles regardless of value or cost. Headquarters 173 Main St. aug28d

WHY NOT EXCHANGE?
You Want Fruit Jars
We Want Money,
And have made our prices on Fruit Jars so low that it will be to your advantage to make the exchange with us.
SMITH BROS.
aug28d

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE
Norwich, Conn.
EARL M. SWIFT,
And Assistant-Teachers of Ability and Experience.
Fall Term Begins
Tuesday, Sept. 5
On and after Aug. 14 the College office will be open from 2.30 to 3.30 to receive applications for membership. aug14daw

I. O. O. F.

Regular session Uncas Lodge, No. 11, Monday Eve., Aug. 28th, 1893. Official visitation by D. D. G. M. Unwritten work exemplified.
Per order of N. G. aug28d TYLER D. GUY, Rec. Sec.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD AT Colchester, within and for the District of Colchester, on the 26th day of August, A.D. 1893.

Present—E. B. CARRINGTON, Judge.

Estate of Daniel C. Shailer, late of Colchester, in said district, deceased.

Festus J. Shailer of Colchester, appeared in Court, and moved that an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased (and codicil thereto) be admitted to probate, and that administration with the will annexed, be granted upon said estate.

Therefore ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Office in Colchester, in said District, on the 30th day of September, A. D. 1893, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and that said Festus J. Shailer give public notice to all persons interested in said estate, by advertising in The Norwich Morning Bulletin, a newspaper having a circulation in said Probate District, to appear, if they see cause, at said time and place, and be heard relative thereto, and make return to the Court.

Attest— E. B. CARRINGTON, Judge.
aug28d

WORTH TRYING.
—AN—
ICE CREAM
Made From Pure Cream
From the Makers Own Dairy.
EVERY KNOWN FLAVOR.
KEEPS HARD ONE HOUR.
QUART BRICKS, 40c. PINTS, 25c
N. D. SEVIN & SON.
aug28daw

LIVE LOBSTERS,
Soft Crabs and Little Neck Clams
TO DAY AT POWERS BROTHERS'.
Telephone 123-4. aug28d

NO OLD STOCK.
Two Big Drives
New Windsor Ties, 15c.; worth 25c.
Lisle Thread Hose, 25c.; worth 50c.
—AT—
HOUGH'S NEW STORE,
aug28d OPP. WAUREGAN HOTEL.

OLIVES IN BULK AND BOTTLES
—OF—
Different Styles and Quality
—AT—
WELCOME A. SMITH
aug28d

WHY?
—NOT USE—NORWICH
FOLDED
PAPER
CARPET
LINING.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS. aug28WF

LOOK OUT
—FOR—
FRUIT JARS!
Preston Bros.
SELL THEM
CHEAP.
aug28d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,
CALL AT
FRISWELL'S,
who has had 30 years experience, and latest improved method, and be properly fitted with Spectacles and Eye Glasses.
jy28d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels,
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.
Collins Turbine Machine Co.
ja2d

Appropriate to the Times
is the announcement that
WHITNEY,
Of 41 Broadway,
In the Central building,
will sell the new goods now arriving almost daily at the same low bargain prices he has been getting for his old stock.
This is no time for large profits, and if you want anything at all in China, Glassware, Tinware and House-Furnishing Goods, you can save money by buying at
—WHITNEY'S—
Try and See!
Free delivery of goods throughout the city and suburbs. aug28daw

TRUNKS,
BAGS,
STRAPS.
And, in fact, Everything that the traveler needs can be found in good variety at Alling Brothers,
aug28daw Broad Opera House Block.

We have just received a large shipment of FRANKLIN CO. CREAMERY,
IN PRINTS,
and hope from this time on to be able to supply our trade.
ALLEN, WORTH & CO.
DEALERS IN Butter, Cheese and Eggs.
aug21MW

MILLINERY.
Trimmed Hats at 98c.; former prices from $2.00 to $4.98.
25c.
Special Value in Trimmed Sailors at 25c.
49c.
Buys what White Duck Infantas I have left; reduced from $1.49.
T. E. McCLENATHAN.
aug28daw

PRICES TELL THE STORY.
THE PRICES THAT FALVEY
IS SELLING
Straw Hats and Negligee Shirts
at, are bringing the people right to his store, and all express surprise at the bargains. We have lots of them left. Come and see us. We will please you as we did your neighbors.
T. J. FALVEY,
aug28MWF Shannon Building

Men's Heavy Grain Shoes	$1 25
Men's Fine Calf Shoes	2 00
Men's Patent Leather Shoes	3 00
Boys' School Shoes	1 25
Youths' School Shoes	1 00
Ladies' Cloth-Top Button Boots	2 25
Ladies' Fine Dongola Patent-Tip Boots	2 00
Ladies Open Slippers	50
Misses' Kid Spring-Heel Shoes	1 00

—AT—
Herren'S,
Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's.
Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug28d

All Kinds Of
Picture Frames
And an elegant line of FRAMED
—AND—
UNFRAMED PICTURES
Can be found at
M. J. Farrell's
Art Parlors,
61 Broadway.
jel5daw

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,
HAMMOCKS CHEAP,
AT FITCHER & MAINE'S
jy28d 408 No. Main St.

TO RENT.

UPPER TENEMENT OF 4 ROOMS AND store room at 48 Main Street. Apply to aug7MWF E. H. BECKWITH.

Received This Day a Complete Line of
OUTING SUITS and SILK and
LAWN SHIRT WAISTS.
MRS. E. D. SYDLEMAN aug28WF

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

6%
Partial Dividend Bond Certificates.
UNITED STATES
SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY,
Paid in Capital............... $1,300,000
Subscribed Capital.......... $6,000,000
One of the oldest and largest Co-Operative Banks in America having an income of $60,000 per month and Local Boards in over 200 cities. Affords an absolutely safe investment in Cumulative First Mortgage Bonds.
H. C. RACE and GEO. S. SMITH, GEN. AGTS.,
Office 9 Shannon Building, Norwich.
mar17MTh

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,
18 Washington Street.
GENERAL PRACTICE AND THE EYE.
Office hours 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 p. m. Telephone 23-3. may2d

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With
SURE KILL FLY PAPER.
5 Cent's a Package.
Steiner's Pharmacy
aug28d SHANNON BUILDING.

The Last Week of Our
BLUE LETTER SALE.
A few more bargains added to our list:
Sterling Silver Hat Pins at 10c. each.
Silver Enamelled Stick Pins, 19c each.
Ladies' Fast Black Seamless Hose 10c. a pair, worth 25c.
Ladies' Wrappers 59c, reduced from $1.00.
" " 75c. " " $1.25.
" " $1.00 " " $1.50.
Only a few of each price left. Stamped Tray Covers and Splashers at 9c. each.
White, Black and Colored Sailor Hats at 9c. each.
Also big reduction in Infant outfits.
B. GOTTHELF & CO.
29 MAIN STREET.
aug28d Wholesale and Retail.

SEASONABLE GOODS.
THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF
Refrigerators!
Ever shown in Norwich, of the Best Makes and at Reduced Prices.
WE CARRY THE LARGEST LINE OF
OIL STOVES
In this Section of the State. Also Gasolene Stoves
Lawn Mowers.
Better and cheaper than ever. Call and see them before you buy.
J. P. BARSTOW & CO.
HEADQUARTERS for all Housekeeping and Farmers' Supplies.
23 and 25 Water Street, Norwich.
may1daw

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at
HOTEL SOUTH SHORE
On Lake Michigan, four blocks from the entrance to
The World's Fair Grounds.
One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls,
All for $36.00.
R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with or without Hotel accommodations by
E. P. TURNER, 187 E. Broad St.
aug28d Norwich, Conn.

TO RENT.

A Large Store No. 102 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St.,

formerly occupied by T. H. Eldredge as a Hardware store. For further particulars call on or address NICHOLAS TARRANT, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, 60 Main Street. mar28d

CROCKER'S
Magical Stomach Powders
Have been known to cure the much-dreaded Kidney trouble. In its incipient state the disease readily gives way before them. Always safe to take, no matter what the complaint or time of taking.
jy2d

CLOTHING.

THE PUBLIC
Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in Men's and Children's FALL SUITS!
—AT—MURPHY & McGARRY.
aug28d

FOOT WEAR.

We are determined to close out all Summer Shoes before Sept. 1st, and in order to do this have made the price low enough to insure a ready sale.
Frank A. Bill,
aug28daw 104 MAIN STREET.

LADIES!
Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3.00. Call and see them
Geo. W. Kies & Co.
aug28daw

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11.686 NORWICH, CONN. TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1893—SIX PAGES SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

THIS MORNING'S NEWS.

City and Vicinity.

Fair weather: westerly winds.

Walter Kellas drowned in Turner's pond.

Bell birds scarce—sportsmen disappointed.

The croquet tie in second division played off in Middletown.

The schooner Bee of Stonington lost—the crew saved.

Changes in the schools of the Central district.

Sudden death of the head waiter of the Wauregan house.

The Byrons Brothers open the season at the Broadway theater.

People who come and go.

State.

Wages of freight switchmen cut at Winsted.

Death of a convict at Wethersfield.

Reunion of Twenty-eighth Connecticut Volunteers.

Young Chamberlain allowed to take away the Townsend prize.

General.

Tax on state banks not likely to be repealed.

Passengers frightened on the Bar Harbor express.

Fifty new families to locate in Newburyport

The silver men beaten in the house.

Edison deserts electrical research for mining.

Riot at a bull fight in Madrid.

The Nevahoe docked and will be thoroughly overhauled.

Charles H [illegible]'s fifth elopement.

Safe arrival of $4,000,000 gold at New York.

The base ball scores.

Latest news from the Peary expedition.

Cyclone works havoc in Savannah.

SPECIAL.

USE

Shipman's

CARBOLIC

OINTMENT,

The most healing preparation in the world

FOR MAN OR BEAST.

For sale by all druggists. [illegible]

DO NOT

SLUMBER

UNTIL YOU HAVE

Dr. Hough's

COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM

Ready for immediate use.

Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc

PRICE 25 Cents.

Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers

jul8daw

FREE

Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.

ELIXIR OF LIFE

The great family medicine,

guaranteed to cure

HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,

SICK-HEADACHE,

DYSPEPSIA,

And all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by

LEE & OSGOOD. [illegible]

Sick Headache

CARTER'S

LITTLE

LIVER

PILLS.

POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose, 40 in a vial. Purely Vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1.

Carter MedicineCo., Proprietors,

NEW YORK.

Sold by all Druggists. [illegible]

Most People Like to Know

The name of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.

Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure

IS THE BEST. TRY IT.

Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.

[illegible] At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD.

A man can sell almost anything if he will make the price low enough. The trouble is, that most of the so called bargains are cheaply made to start with. We offer the balance of our Summer Stock—good materials and well made—at figures that ought to make trade.

R. D. JONES & SON,

Merchant Tailors, ... 122 MAIN ST

(over C. C. Bliss'.) [illegible]

Norwich Line to New York.

Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 9.35 and 9.55 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.

Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 8 p. m., for New York.

Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 5

For state-rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 58 Shetucket street. Telephone call 149-3.

THOMAS CLARK, President.

O. L JOHNSON, JR.,

Secretary and Treasurer.

[illegible]

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,

VETERINARIAN,

Office 18 Bath Street. Office hours 1.30-3.

mar11d Telephone 12[illegible]

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

THE APPROACHING HURRICANE.

Travelling Rapidly Northeastward —A Gale in the South

WIRES ALL GONE.

Terrible Destruction Worked in Savannah by the Cyclone.

[Special to THE BULLETIN by Long Distance Telephone.]

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 29. — Reports from the south are reaching here of the hurricane which is traveling rapidly northeastward towards the New England states.

At 11 o'clock the wind was blowing a gale at Pittsburg and Washington with the storm center at Lynchburg, Va., where the barometer showed 29.34, and the wind was blowing 30 miles an hour.

At 1 a. m. the long distance had lost all wires south of Baltimore.

At 1.30 a. m. the Philadelphia Inquirer reports everything south of Philadelphia gone, their latest information from the storm being that terrible destruction was worked in Savannah and vicinity by the hurricane. At the above hour the wind was rising rapidly in Philadelphia, being accompanied by rain.

FORTY PERSONS KILLED

And Ten Million Dollars Damage Done by a Cyclone.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 28. — Forty persons are reported killed in a cyclone at Savannah, Ga. Ten million dollars damage done.

All Southern Wires Down.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—1 a. m.—All southern wires are lost. Outlook for Washington and storm news very bad.

RUSSIAN ANARCHISTS.

Those Who Have Come to This Country Said to Be Dangerous.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Julius Harburger, grand master of the Independent Order Free Sons of Israel, addressed the members of [illegible] at the rooms of Zion Lodge [illegible], Odd Fellows' hall, [illegible] Bowery, Sunday. He said regarding the present financial crisis:

"The workingmen of the United States have been and are law-abiding citizens. Russian Israelites, in order to better their condition, have come to America. Since 1881 the influx of Russian immigrants has been enormous. The barbarities of a cruel and inexorable czar have driven the majority of those who landed in America from their mother country.

"Many of them are a dangerous, anarchistic, nihilistic set who upon the very first opportunity launch forth in diatribes against the country and the people from whom they have received a shelter and a home.

"This Russian anarchistic class must not be allowed to take the initiative in movements which are disgraceful and which only embitter the American element against them. Organized labor, through the agencies of its powerful organizations, can and will attract the attention of the commercial world to the financial depression which is existing at the present time.

"The press of our city is mentioning the fact 'that Jews are inciting to riots,' and that 'the east-side Jews are preparing for a hunger parade.' This is misleading those men who infest the ghettos on the east side, who are building up a Russian-Hebrew city of their own, who have innumerable jargon Jewish newspapers, nihilistic, socialistic, anarchistic. None favoring American sentiments is responsible for this state of affairs.

"The Jews of this country are the most loyal and freedom-loving people within its great borders; they abhor this anarchistic class who call themselves Jews and who are continually abusing the religion of which they form a supposed component part. Traveling under the name of Hebrew cloakmakers, Hebrew pants workers, Hebrew tailors' unions, they are a discredit to any race. The religion of any sect should not be used by wage earners in this free land.

"Since the advent of the Russian anarchists, privileges have been taken by them which the labor element of New York had never dreamed of before. While we honor and respect the sentiments of all creeds, many of these people do not take the advantages which our republic affords in becoming citizens of the country. These anarchists and nihilists, under the guise of workingmen, seldom, if ever, become naturalized citizens. Out of one thousand bowlers, shouters and defamers of our system of government not seventy-five are citizens of the land.

"I have as good a knowledge of this class of people as any one. As a public official I come in daily contact with them, and for six years I have made it my business to ask the question: 'Are you a citizen?' or, 'Do you intend to become one?' To the first question the answer has been invariably 'No,' and to the second evasive replies.

"The Jews have suffered in name through these malefactors and offenders against good government. The American Jew points with pride and gratification to his history as an American, to his conduct, to his ancestry, to his benevolent institutions, to his great fraternities, to the accomplishment of philanthropic and humane purposes for the betterment of the condition of the [illegible]."

Lively Providence Italians.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 28.—Michael Bochacio, a Federal Hill Italian, was arrested last night for chasing an Italian girl with a carving knife and revolver, and today was bound over to the higher court. Jealousy was the cause.

James Pickett, an Italian, was slashed with a razor by a countryman named Morone, last night. He was badly but not dangerously hurt. Morone has not yet been captured.

Allowed to Take Away His Prize.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 28.—Julian Ingersoll Chamberlain, son of ex-Governor Chamberlain of South Carolina, has settled the bill for which the Townsend prize he won at the Yale prize speaking last year was attached, and has been allowed to take away his prize. The prize amounts to $100 and was attached for debts incurred by young Chamberlain.

The Young Woman Still Unidentified.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 28.—The young woman who died on the steamer C. H. Northam, Saturday night, has not been identified. She was a handsome, well-dressed young woman of 20, and evidently of good family. The body will be kept here until tomorrow.

IN CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—There was an unusually small gathering of spectators in the senate this morning.

Notice was given by Mr. Sherman (rep.) of Ohio that he would address the senate next Wednesday on the silver question, and Mr. Wolcott (rep.) of Colorado for Thursday.

Mr. Platt (rep.) of Connecticut, from the committee on Indian affairs, reported a bill authorizing certain Cherokee allottees or claimants to purchase lands held by agreement with the Cherokees had provided for 70 of those Indians who occupied and had made improvements on the land ceded in the Cherokee outlet. It has turned out that more than 70 of them had equities in the land, and the bill simply authorizes the secretary of the interior to allow those who have such equities to purchase their holdings (not over 80 acres) paying the same price therefor as white people pay. The bill was passed.

A bill was reported from the judiciary committee by Mr. Hill (dem.) of New York for the repeal of the federal election law, and went to the calendar.

The bill to allow national banks to increase their circulation was taken up, and the vote was taken on the amendments offered by Mr. Cockrell (dem.) of Missouri for the redemption of two per cent. bonds and the payment therefor in a new issue of treasury notes. The amendment was rejected. Yeas 23, nays 29.

Mr. Cockrell then offered an amendment authorizing the holder of any United States bonds to deposit and to receive in exchange legal tender notes equal to the face value of the bond. The bond is to held in the treasury subject to redemption in the same amount of legal tender notes—which are then to be destroyed. No interest is to be paid on the bonds while they are held in the treasury; but when they are again withdrawn the interest is to be paid, less 1½ per cent per annum.

During the discussion which followed Mr. McPherson said there was no reason why under the bill the additional national bank circulation might not extend (through the deposit of additional bonds and through the issue up to their face value) to $100,000,000.

At 2 o'clock the bill was laid aside and the Lee Mantle case was laid before the senate, the question being on Mr. Vance's motion to lay on the table. Mr. Anderson's motion to reconsider the vote whereby the senate decided that Mr. Mantle was not entitled to the seat. The vote was taken and resulted yeas 31, nays 26.

So the motion to lay on the table was agreed to.

The effect of the vote is to the effect that Mr. Mantle is not entitled to the seat. The vote was then taken as to the right of John B. Allen to a seat from the state of Washington. It was also decided in the negative, by a vote of 32 to 29. No action was taken on the case of the state of Wyoming, Mr. Beckwith having resigned.

The senate then proceeded to executive business and afterwards adjourned.

House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—The fight on silver in the lower house of congress ended today with the passage of the Wilson repeal bill and the defeat of all the proposed amendments.

Although this result had been, of course, discounted in advance, the galleries and floors of the house were well filled, as the regular habitues, who had listened day after day to the two weeks' debate, were determined to be on hand during the final field day to see the closing blow of the battle struck.

The house having accomplished the purpose for which it was called in special session, will now lie on its oars and await the action of the senate.

EXCELLENT RACES.

Handicap Track Events at the Worcester Oval—The Summary.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 28.—The handicap track events at the oval this evening brought out some very fast time and two or three excellent races. J. J. McLaughlin did a half mile in 158⅘ seconds, the best time of record ever done in New England. T. P. Conneff gave an exhibition half mile run, which was slow, but pleased the crowd. The attendance was small. The following is the summary:

100 yards dash, won by Timothy O'Connor, 8 yards; F. R. Bigelow, 8½ yards, second. Time, 10⅕ seconds.

880 yards run; won by J. J. McLaughlin, scratch; J. M. Gallagher, 35 yards, second. Time, 1 minute 58⅕ seconds.

Exhibition half mile walk by W. A. Beaudette, without pace makers. Time, 2 minutes 3½ seconds.

300 yards dash, special match, won by Thomas Geane of Suffolk, Geo. Lackey, second. Time, 33½ seconds.

440 yards run, won by Timothy O'Connor, 25 yards; H. L. Dadman, scratch, second. Time, 53.

Three Girls' Perilous Adventure.

LYONS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Misses Lena, Emma and Bertha Clause, daughters of a wealthy farmer, were seriously injured in a runaway here yesterday. While returning from church the horse became frightened and bolted. Lena jumped and struck on her head, producing concussion of the brain. Emma sustained a compound fracture of the right leg; and Bertha fell under the wheels and was run over. Lena and Bertha are in a critical condition.

All Three Drowned Together.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 28. — A triple accident occurred here this afternoon. Edmund Rostarouch, aged 18 years, and Samuel and Alexander Bouchard, aged 18 and 15 respectively, were swimming when one of them was seized with a cramp and the other two went to his assistance. They were both seized in the frenzied grasp of the drowning boy and all three went down together. The bodies were recovered shortly afterwards.

Constellation Wins.

MARBLEHEAD, Aug. 28.—In the races of the Eastern yacht club today the Constellation crossed the line at 3.17, a winner in the schooner class. The Mayflower followed 10 minutes later, and the Marguerite five minutes behind the Mayflower.

Fasted 76 Days and Died.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28. — Antonio Backotich died in this city yesterday, after fasting for seventy-six days. During that time nothing but water has passed his lips. He was 50 years of age and a native of Austria. On June 11 last he went to the breakfast table and finding neither spoon, knife nor fork at his plate declared he would never taste food again —and he kept his word.

Despondency Caused the Act.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 28.—Henry Bodkin of Pawtucket committed suicide this morning by hanging in his barn. Despondency, caused by sickness, is supposed to be the reason for the act.

SPEAKER CRISP DID NOT VOTE.

Votes in House Remarkable for High Per Centage of Members Recorded.

BLAND—ALLISON RESTORATION ACT

The Votes as Divided Among the States—Ayes 136, Nays 212.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The votes in the house today were remarkable for the very high percentage of members recorded. In the last two roll calls 349 members responded to their names. Shell and Graham were paired, leaving but three representatives out of a total voting strength of 354 apparently unaccounted for. Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin would have been present, but was called away this morning by the death of his father. Speaker Crisp did not vote, leaving but one member whose absence was unexplained.

One cause of the unexpectedly large vote against free coinage of silver was the changed attitude of members from the southern states. The vote upon the restoration of the Bland-Allison act made the best showing for the silver men, the total being yeas 136, nays 212, divided among the states as follows:

State.	Aye.	Nay.
Alabama	[illegible]	[illegible]
Arkansas	[illegible]	[illegible]
California	[illegible]	[illegible]
Colorado	[illegible]	[illegible]
Connecticut	[illegible]	[illegible]
Delaware	[illegible]	[illegible]
Florida	[illegible]	[illegible]
Georgia	[illegible]	[illegible]
Idaho	[illegible]	[illegible]
Illinois	[illegible]	[illegible]
Indiana	[illegible]	[illegible]
Iowa	[illegible]	[illegible]
Kansas	[illegible]	[illegible]
Kentucky	[illegible]	[illegible]
Louisiana	[illegible]	[illegible]
Maine	[illegible]	[illegible]
Maryland	[illegible]	[illegible]
Massachusetts	[illegible]	[illegible]
Michigan	[illegible]	[illegible]
Minnesota	[illegible]	[illegible]
Mississippi	[illegible]	[illegible]
Missouri	[illegible]	[illegible]
Montana	[illegible]	[illegible]
Nebraska	[illegible]	[illegible]
New Hampshire	[illegible]	[illegible]
New Jersey	[illegible]	[illegible]
New York	[illegible]	[illegible]
North Carolina	[illegible]	[illegible]
North Dakota	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ohio	[illegible]	[illegible]
Oregon	[illegible]	[illegible]
Pennsylvania	[illegible]	[illegible]
Rhode Island	[illegible]	[illegible]
South Carolina	[illegible]	[illegible]
South Dakota	[illegible]	[illegible]
Tennessee	[illegible]	[illegible]
Texas	[illegible]	[illegible]
Vermont	[illegible]	[illegible]
Virginia	[illegible]	[illegible]
Washington	[illegible]	[illegible]
West Virginia	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wisconsin	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wyoming	[illegible]	[illegible]

The affirmative vote was made up of democrats 118, republicans 15, populists 8. The negative vote, of democrats 102, republicans 110.

At no time did the anti silver men have less than 77 clear majority. Their greatest strength was shown on the 17 to 1 amendment, when the vote stood 100 to 240, an anti-silver majority of 140. On the final passage of the bill they mustered the same strength, but on account of the rally of the silver men their majority was cut down to 130.

One of the surprises of the day was the lack of strength of the 20 to 1 amendment. It was supposed to be the strongest proposition that the silver men had in reserve, but it proved weaker than the 16 to 1 amendment.

SILVER REPEAL BILL.

New England Solid.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—All New England members, republicans and democrats, were present and voted against the free coinage amendments and in favor of repeal.

Corrected Official List of the Vote.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The total vote on ratio of 16 to 1 was 348. The membership of the house is 356. Of the eight absentees, two, Chipman of Michigan and Enochs of Ohio, are dead. There were only 6 absent, which is a very small percentage for illness.

Corrected official list of vote for 16 to 1 shows that 12 republicans instead of 11 voted for 16 to 1. The analysis of the vote is yeas for 16 to 1, republicans 12, democrats 96, populists 12.

The analysis of the negative vote is 112 republicans, 113 democrats. The first official announcement of the vote was incorrect. It should be 124 yeas to 226 nays.—[Special to Boston Journal.

Died at the State Prison.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 28.—Henry Anderson, one of the inmates at the state prison in Wethersfield, died Sunday night after a few hours' illness. Saturday noon he was prostrated with severe pains in the neighborhood of the heart and was promptly removed to the hospital for treatment. Warden Woodbridge visited him and asked him if he should notify any of his friends. Anderson replied that he had none to notify. He had a wife, he said, but had not lived with her for some time before he was sentenced. He did not know where she was. The body will be prepared for burial by the prison authorities and buried in the prison cemetery. He was sent there from Litchfield on October 20, 1886, under a ten years' sentence for theft.

Regimental Reunion.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 28.—The Twenty-eighth regiment Connecticut Volunteers, held its reunion at Seaside park today, there being about fifty present. Officers elected are: President, L. L. Schofield, Stamford; vice presidents, W. S. Taylor, Stamford; Charles H. Couley, Stamford; J. S. Sherwood, Westport; Merritt Hunt, New Milford; L. D. Jones, Salisbury; Frank Marsh, West Winsted; Horace G. Burr, Norwalk; Nicholas Fux, Port Chester; treasurer, G. E. Schofield, Stamford; secretary, Robert Bunten, Bridgeport.

Wages Cut at Winsted.

WINSTED, Conn., Aug. 28 — The freight switching crews in the New England branch of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad were this morning notified of a reduction of wages to take effect at once. Conductors are cut from $2 25 a day to $2 50, and brakemen from $2 20 to $1 80. Other employes on the same line of work suffer about the same reduction. The cause is dull freight business. It is understood that the wages will be raised again as soon as business improves.

Thrown from a Window.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Aug. 28.—At the Orphans' home today Joseph Purdiff, six months old, died from the effects of being thrown from a three-story window at the the almshouse by his crazy mother. The child was born in the almshouse about six months ago. His mother became crazy and threw the little fellow out of the window of her room about a month ago. The child struck on his head and was terribly injured.

ANNA ORR YET MISSING.

Frank Porter of Milford Has Also Disappeared.

BRIDGEPORT, Aug. 28.—The mystery attending the exit of Anna Orr is still exciting public interest and another similar disappearance has occurred. Searching parties are now beating the woods and fields along the banks of the Housatonic river looking for Frank Porter, a young man of 30 living with his aged mother in Orange, a suburb of Milford.

At 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon he started to go for the cows as usual. Since that time nothing has been heard of him. His disappearance has been as complete as though the earth had swallowed him up. Porter was simple minded, but perfectly able to talk and take care of himself. Neighborhood opinion is that the searchers will find him dead, if at all.

COMING ON THE TEUTONIC.

Mitchell Will Leave England for America on Wednesday, September 13.

NEW YORK, Aug.—Through carelessness on the part of Charley Mitchell, or whoever had the arrangements for his American tour in charge, the hubbub which is bound to occur upon his arrival on these shores has been set back some days.

It was the intention of the English boxer to sail on the Majestic next Wednesday, but when he tried to secure accommodations he found that everything in the way of rooms had been spoken for, and it was only through an accident to one of a party of Americans who had bought tickets on the Teutonic, that sails two weeks later than her sister ship, that Mitchell was enabled to get berths for that sailing.

When he gets here it will not require many days to settle the question of the meeting place, if such a thing as a fight between himself and Corbett ever takes place.

STEAM YACHTS CHALLENGED.

Owner of Yankee Doodle Ready to Race Any of Them.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 28.—McBride Bros., owners of the yacht Yankee Doodle, today issued a challenge to race either the Falcon, Vamoose or Nada for from $1,000 to $20,000 a side.

If the challenge shall not be accepted, the Yankee Doodle's owners suggest that the New York Yacht club take hold of the matter and arrange a sweepstakes race for steam launches at the time of the race for the America's cup.

BASE BALL.

At Pittsburg

Pittsburg.........[illegible]

New York..........[illegible]

At Troy:

Troy..............[illegible]

Wilkesbarre.......[illegible]

At Philadelphia:

Louisville........[illegible]

Philadelphia......[illegible]

At Brooklyn;

Brooklyn..........[illegible]

Chicago...........[illegible]

At Binghamton:

Albany............[illegible]

Binghamton........[illegible]

At Boston:

Boston............[illegible]

Cleveland.........[illegible]

Saratoga Races.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 28.—First race, five furlongs—Pallopena first; Major General second; Sprinta third. Time 1 03¼.

Second race, four and one-half furlongs —Kirch first; Carmen second; Western Star third. Time 56¼.

Third race, four and one-half furlongs —Dutch Oven first; Issie second; Jake Johnson third. Time 57¼.

Fourth race, seven furlongs—Henry Young first, La Colonia second, Judge Morrow third. Time, 1 31.

Fifth race, one and one-sixteenth miles —Ray del Mar first, Gettysburg second, Lotion third. Time, 1 55¼.

Sixth race, one and a quarter miles—Southerner first, Lijero second, Return third. Time, 2.27¼.

Protesting Against the Peddlers' License Law.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Aug. 28.—The grocers and butchers of this city are protesting against the peddlers' license law. At the time Conlon Bros. established a temporary shoe store here the resident merchants demanded that the Conlons be classed among itinerant peddlers and be compelled to pay the license demanded of such dealers.

The citizens of Portland, Cromwell and neighboring towns, taking their cue from Middletown, are demanding a license from the Middletown grocers and butchers who send carts to those places for orders and delivery of goods.

Representative Wait of this city was a member of the general assembly which enacted the law, and he says it was not intended to apply to grocers and butchers.

Interview With President Clark.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 28.—President Clark of the Consolidated road granted an interview tonight on the statement published in The Hartford Courant this morning commenting on the significance of the fall of Consolidated stock nearly fifty points since April. He said the drop was largely due to the few sales in general, and that in Boston, where the Consolidated has dropped so heavily, the stock is not very well known. He denied that the old stockholders were selling, except in rare cases of need for money, and stated that nothing had transpired to make the Consolidated road for an instant consider the question of a reduction of its dividends.

Harvey, the Inventor of the New Armor Plates is Dead.

ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 28.—Hayward Harvey, the inventor of the Harveyized steel iron plates and roller screw, died this morning from kidney trouble. He had been sick for the past five months.

Body of a Diver Washed Ashore.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 28.—The body of Diver William Collins, the only victim of the wreck at Watson's Point, Thursday morning, was washed ashore, near the scene of the disaster this morning.

Report Discredited.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The resignation of the assistant secretary of state has not been received at the state department or White House yet. The report that he is to resign is discredited here.

Decided to Reduce Wages.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 28.—The manufacturers decided today to reduce wages from 10 to 15 per cent., the cut to go into effect on the second Monday in September.

Ocean Steamers.

At New York—Spaarndam, from Rotterdam; Andes, from Greytown.

LATEST NEWS OF LIEUT. PEARY.

Discouraging Advices Brought by a Labrador Mail Steamer.

IS HE ACTING SUICIDAL?

It is Believed His Ship Will Be Frozen In Soon.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Aug. 28.—Further discouraging news of the Peary expedition comes from Labrador by a mail steamer arriving here last night. According to the last report Peary was at Davis Inlet on August 2, and on the 5th had reached Nain. There he again tried to purchase dogs, but failed. He offered the Esquimaux 40 cents each for dogs, but as they are worth $4 or $5 each, the natives would not sell. So Peary left for Okkak, the next Moravian settlement. As he would not pay greater prices there either, he could not get dogs.

Then he announced his intention of going to Hebron, Ramah and other settlements further north, making every effort to secure dogs at those places, and if unsuccessful he would depend upon getting dogs at Disco, Greenland. As the burros all perished before Nain was reached, it is impossible for the expedition to accomplish anything without a far greater number of dogs than at first was considered necessary. It is believed here that Peary's actions are suicidal. The steamer has been delayed a month behind her regular time, rendering it probable that she cannot reach her destination at all, and it is almost certain that she will be frozen up before the cargo and supplies are unloaded.

BABY LIBERTY BELL.

Covered With American Flags It Starts on Its Way to Chicago.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The Columbian liberty bell, which has been cast from the pennies of children in every part of the country, and from historical trinkets from every state and territory in the union, started on its march from the West 10th street dock at 10 15 this morning on its way to the Cortlandt street ferry.

The bell rested on a truck which was drawn by six horses. There was a large gathering of people on the dock. The bell was draped with American flags, and as it started on its long journey for Chicago three cheers were given by the crowd.

Frank S Hollohan of the public works department accompanied the truck to see that no damage was done to the city's property. The bell is valued at $10,000, and contains 78 per cent of copper and tin and 22 per cent of gold and silver.

It contains some of the oldest coins in existence, two of which were in circulation during the time of Christ and one bearing the date "161 A. D."

A number of historic medals are also in its composition, which in themselves are immensely valuable. One is a medal to commemorate the battle of Waterloo and another a medal that was voted by congress to the captors of Major Andre. There are also five gold watches, five gold wedding rings and four quarts of silver thimbles.

Body of a Missing Bristol Man Found.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 28.—Capt. Stevens of the tug Walsh of New York arrived in port today with the body of Charles M. Whelan, a fireman, who has been missing from Bristol, Conn., since August 18, in tow. The body was picked up off Bridgeport harbor and is badly decomposed. Whelan was last seen alive on the steamer C. H. Northam of the New Haven line while returning from an excursion to Coney Island.

Yacht Priscilla Ashore — Passengers Landed by Life Saving Crew.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 28.—Schooner yacht Priscilla of New York went ashore on West Bonnet reef, Watch Hill, in a thick fog this afternoon. Passengers Mrs. J. E. Cortice and Miss Cortice of Plainfield, N. J., were brought ashore by the life saving station crew, as were Captain Wright and crew.

LIVING WITH ONE LUNG.

A Man Who Has Undergone a Remarkable Operation.

[Pittsburg Special to Philadelphia Press.]

Living evidence of a wonderful and successful surgical operation is in Pittsburg in the person of Ernest Highhouse. He has only one lung, the missing one having been cut out, and nothing separates his heart from the open air except a membrane of about the thickness of the delicate skin covering a chicken's egg immediately inside the shell.

Mr. Highhouse lives with his family on a shanty boat up the Allegheny river. The craft is now tied up below the Seventh street bridge. Dr. Stewart took the man to the Mercy hospital, where he was examined by about fifty of the leading physicians of the city. They said it was the most remarkable case they had ever seen.

Four years ago Highhouse's lung was removed after suppuration had set in from an attack of pleuro-pneumonia. Three pieces of rib were cut out in front and four in the back. The lung was then removed. Highhouse says he is not a museum freak, and has refused offers to travel with circuses. He supports his family by making baskets. He states that breathing with two lungs is all a matter of habit. It is just as easy to get along with one lung, he says.

A rule is effect in Leipzig, Saxony, assesses the expense of calling out the fire department to the owner of the house where the fire originated.

The first table knife made in America was manufactured at Greenfield, Mass., in 1834.

SPECIAL.

ROYAL

BAKING

POWDER.

Absolutely Pure.

A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—[Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N.Y

NEWS OF THE NAVY.

Secretary Herbert Making Reforms—Pay Inspector Stevenson's Case.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Herbert is making several very important changes in the administration of the navy, but the most important one he can make and the one which will be of the greatest benefit to the service at large, is that which provides some remedy for the curious state of affairs which frequently develops when an officer is ordered up for promotion.

The case of Pay Inspector Stevenson is one in point, and exhibits the peculiar method which prevails in the service.

Stevenson, some months ago, was ordered before a board for promotion, and having successfully passed the examination, which, in the case of a high officer, is merely a perfunctory proceeding, was recommended by the board to Secretary Tracy for promotion.

This report, however, was disapproved of by the then secretary of the navy, with the approval of President Harrison, and another board was order to examine Stevenson.

Again he passed the examination, and was recommend for promotion, only to suffer the same fate.

Since then he has been twice examined, and has always been recommended for promotion, but the present secretary of the navy shows no more disposition to approve the findings of the board than did his predecessor, the objection to the officer being on moral and not on professional grounds.

Natives of darkest Africa, ignorant of the firewater of the whites, make their own beer out of bananas and wine out of palms. They manage to extract jags of the civilized sort out of these beverages.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PAINT

EATON, CHASE & CO.

S. H. BILLINGS, KING & CO.'S

Pure Prepared Paint.

We guarantee this to be the BEST Paint in the world.

Color cards giving instructions how to select colors and do your own painting, free upon application, or by mail.

EATON, CHASE & CO.,

HARDWARE DEALERS.

[illegible]

Now is the time that the public should secure their houses from the invasion of sneak thieves. You will find Muth's Patent [illegible] just the thing. He is ready to put them on wherever wanted. All orders promptly attended to. Address 175 East Broad St., Norwich, Conn., ADOLPHUS MUTH. [illegible]

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

CONSULT DR. E. J. LEWIS,

122 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I. Specialist on private Chronic [illegible] Cure guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. (Office hours, 9 to 12 and 1 to 5. Sundays, 10 to 2 and 5 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines, $5. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks forwarded free.) [illegible]

MANICURE and CHIROPODIST,

SHAMPOOING,

Hair Cutting and Curling, Face Massage.

MISS H. A. GAVITT.

[illegible] Room 30, Shannon Building

Cholera Infantum

The most dreaded of all children's complaints prevented by using

RUSSELL'S

White Drops

FOR BABIES.

25c. All druggists.

aug2d

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.

E. M. BREWSTER

will do it for you very Cheap.

18 Water Street.

aug2d

All those wishing Cold Spring Water from the Celebrated

PURITAN SPRING

Can have the same by applying to

PALMER G. WHIPPLE,

[illegible] AVENUE.

Drop me a postal and I will call and give estimates. aug2d

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.

Large and Complete Line

FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE

ARTISTIC WALL PAPER

At Reduced Prices.

SPECIAL SALE.

Large Art Carpets and Rugs

$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.

Other sizes in proportion.

Japanese Rugs and Mats.

$36 00 Japanese Carpets for $[illegible]

$13 00 Japanese Rugs for $8 00.

$4.00 Japanese Rugs for $2.75.

Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels,

75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.

Quantities, 1 1-2 Yards to 10 Yards.

Parties Wishing

FURNITURE,

CARPETS OR

WALL PAPER,

Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock

That we are offering at Low Prices.

[illegible]

WANTS.

WANTED—A competent girl to do general housework. Apply at 18 Arnold street. aug28d

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,
No. 4 Franklin Square.
Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All [illegible]. Terms reasonable.
jy1d G. A. BURLINGHAM.

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN for the employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to COLCHESTER RUBBER CO.,
jy28d Colchester, Conn.

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER,
No. 7 Water St.,
Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods. jel4d

WANTED.
Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers.
Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn. aug4d

BOARDING.
PERMANENT AND TRANSIENT.
At reasonable rates. Centrally located. No. 6 Washington St. MRS. TURNER. may24d

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

TALKING
About PIANOS just now is my theme. Do you want a Piano? Then come and hear one of the richest and finest toned Pianos in the market. Price Low. Also Organs, and a stock of fine Violins, including the Miller Violins, on hand. A fine New Upright Piano to rent. Will be glad to see you at 62 Williams Street.
GEO. S. MARTIN.

CONFECTIONERY.

ICE CREAM,
PASTRY, CHOICE CONFECTIONERY
and all the popular Summer drinks at
"The Confection Parlors."
54 and 56 Broadway.

ICE CREAM.
ALL FLAVORS.
Wholesale and retail.
GEO. A. LEWIS,
28 CENTRAL AVE.
Telephone. may3d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Steamer : Chelsea.
Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.
Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M.

The Connecticut
Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,
Sole agents in Norwich for the
New England Felt and Roofing Co.
BEE HIVE BRAND
Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.
Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn.

FRESH FLOWER SEEDS.
Asters, Pinks, Mignonette, Pansys, Sweet Peas, etc., 5 cents per paper.
Extra size Gladiolus Bulbs.
Fine Tuberose Bulbs, 5 cents each.
MRS. S. M. HOWIE,
119 Franklin Street.

MY FIRST CAR LOAD
Bought Since the Panic Has Arrived.
C. J. Wolcott.

FREE!

If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively upon many roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill roofs in the vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron paper and shingled. One great advantage of the Paint is that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 3c per square foot, Three Ply at 2c per square foot, and Two Ply at 1c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Dressing Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Cellars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, Water Street; H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn., P. O. Box 11. Residence 23 Oak Street. 1y14

REMOVAL.

Dr. W. S. C. Perkins has removed to 21 Broadway. Office hours, 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Residence 40 Broad street.
Dr. Chas. E. Perkins, 21 Broadway. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 6 p. m. Residence, 40 Broad street. Telephone at residence.

All persons having unpaid bills against the town of Norwich are requested to present the same for payment at this office before the close of the fiscal year ending September 1, 1893. THURSTON B. LILLIBRIDGE, aug19d Chairman of Board of Selectmen.

STORAGE.
Storage of non-hazardous or imperishable goods or merchandise may be obtained in my warehouse at 23 Commerce Street.
may12d A. T. CONVERSE.

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE
—OF—
Norwich Street Railway Co.,

Taft, Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side.	Franklin Sq., Falls and Bean Hill.
[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]	[illegible]

Remainder of time tab[illegible] Sunday same as week day, except [illegible] nov6d E. P. SHAW, Jr., Supt.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Dog lost.

A sum of money found.

Household furniture for sale.

A position as second girl wanted.

Boy wanted to carry papers and work in store.

Dr. N. P. Smith advertises his office hours in another column.

Get your fire wood at the Park wood yard, 301 Franklin street.

Buy the latest song, "He Slipped His Trolley." For sale by music dealers.

Ferris' hams and bacon are said to be the best. Get them of U. D. Browning & Co.

J. C. Perkins announces the arrival of a fresh supply of Horton's world renowned ice cream this morning.

Light-weight all wool underwear at Smith & Gilbert's. Agents for Dr. Jaeger's sanitary woolen goods.

Brown trimmed sailors—fine hats for early fall or school wear—are selling at a low price at T. E. McClenathan's Duggan's soda fountain is prepared to stand all runs upon it, and its draughts are always good. See advertisement.

Now is the time for the ladies to get fine French sateens and Scotch ginghams at a big reduction at the Boston store. See advertisement.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

The Smack Comstock Safe.

The smack John Comstock, one of the best known boats sailing out of New London, was fishing at Winter Quarter shoal on the coast of Virginia last week and rode out the storm without any difficulty, the weather not being as severe there as farther north.

Sunday night Capt. Francis Keeney wired his family at New London that the schooner was safe in port and all hands well.

A Philadelphia Party.

Steward Walter Durkin of the steamer City of Worcester was busy Monday preparing for four hundred excursionists from Philadelphia who come up on the boat this evening, on a two days' trip to Block Island. He had had special bills of fare printed and was planning to breakfast the contingent in a body, from 5 to 6.30 a. m. Wednesday. The same persons made the trip last year, taking the Block Island from New London, and were so pleased with all arrangements that they decided to come again.

City Court—Kellogg, Judge.

The hot weather of Sunday filled the cooler at police headquarters, and on Monday morning nine prisoners were arraigned in the city court. The cases of Edward Gleason and Daniel Lawler for theft were continued until September 9, with bonds of $100 in each case.

John Fitzgerald for intoxication was sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment and costs, $9.12.

William Kelles and Humphrey Brennan were tried for breach of peace and their cases continued until August 29; bonds $50.

William Ledyard, for intoxication, paid $3 and costs, $10.20.

Jerry Donovan was fined $3 and costs, $9.60, for intoxication and appealed. Bonds $100.

The continued cases of Joseph E. Kelley and William Miggkins for stealing a watch were called up. Kelley was discharged and the charge against Miggkins was nolled on payment of costs, $10.85.

LAUREL HILL UNION SUNDAY SCHOOL.

A Vote of Thanks to the Norman Family.

The Laurel Hill Union Sunday school recently appointed Mr. Levi W. Crouch a committee to draw up a resolution voicing the gratitude of that organization to the Norman family of Ledyard, for recent gifts to the society fund. Accordingly, at the last business meeting Mr. Crouch read a resolution expressing thanks to Hibbard R., Harriet S., and Sarah E. Norman and to Mrs. Charity Norman Newton, for having increased their bequest to the Union from $1,000 to $4,000.

The donors were unanimously voted honorary life-members of the association, the committee at the same time assuring them that a wise use would be made of the fund intrusted to the society's care.

The bank book for $4 000 has already been transferred by the Norman family to the treasurer of the Union Sunday school.

PEOPLE WHO COME AND GO.

Where Health and Rest Seekers Are.

Miss Ella V. Marvin has been visiting friends in Willimantic.

Howard Steadman of Westerly is visiting friends in the city.

Mrs. C. H. Post of this city is spending a few days in Lebanon.

Mr. James Gaffney of Norwich is visiting at his home in Mystic.

Mr. John F. Rathbone of this city has returned from Block Island.

Samuel Wilson and wife of Scotland are visiting relatives in town.

Misses Anna and Lizzie Fellows have returned from the White mountains.

Misses Louie and Ada Murtagh have returned to their home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Misses Lizzie Morrison and Maggie Debeau have returned from a visit to Bridgeport.

Mrs. Blood, a talented musician, is visiting Mrs. James G. Cherry of Greeneville.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bushnell of Norwich Town returned from the shore Monday.

The Hon. Charles F. Thayer and H. J. Hirsch of Norwich were in New London Monday.

J. E. W. Asselin of Webster has engaged as night operator at the Norwich station.

Mrs. J. M. Whitmore of New Haven is visiting Mrs. L. R. Perkins at White Beach, Niantic.

First Sergeant John Murphy of the police force returned from Block Island Monday night.

Miss Isabel Huntington of Washington is spending a portion of her vacation with friends in town.

Miss Libbie Gallup of Groton left for home yesterday after a pleasant visit with relatives in Norwich.

Miss Cora B. Selden of Cobalt called on friends in this city Monday, on her way to the World's fair.

Mrs. Joseph E. George and daughter of Summit street are visiting friends in New London for a few days.

Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Shumway of Webster are visiting Mrs. Charles Champlin at her home below Thamesville.

Master Harry W. Gallup has been visiting his uncle, Mr. Frank Aldrich, of the Larkin house, Watch Hill.

Miss Bertha Leavitt of Norwich and Miss Ida Johnson of Greeneville are visiting Mrs. S. Steadman of Westerly.

Arnold Hamilton, Paul Loomis and Henry Fitch of Springfield rode home on their bicycles Monday, after a week's excursions about town.

Mr. John M. Gallup of the firm of Metzger & Gallup of Hartford is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Gallup of Laurel Hill avenue.

Miss Geneva Tracy of Chicopee, Mass., is being entertained by Mrs. George W. Phillips of Prospect street. She will remain in town for three weeks.

Chester A. Ingalls, formerly of Greeneville, is employed by the Wellington Catering company at the World's fair, south end of the Horticultural building.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shepherd of Gilbertville, Mass., and Albert G. Allen, son of Major Alden A. Allen of Hartford, are visiting relatives at 363 West Main street.

Rosebud off for the Season.

Allen Risk shipped Isaac Sanderson's 4-year-old colt Rosebud to Northampton from Willimantic, Monday morning, where she is entered to race this week. Risk will handle Rosebud for the remainder of the season and expects to win a few prizes with her as she is eligible for the 3-minute class and can go better than 2.30.

A Mansfield Farmer Hurt.

George P. Swift, a farmer who lives at Mansfield Hollow, was having a barn on the premises shingled Saturday. In trying to assist he climbed up on the scaffold and pushed a pitchfork through the roof where it was leaky. Suddenly he became dizzy and fell from the scaffold to to the barn floor, receiving an ugly scalp wound and severe injuries about the body. It was reported Saturday night that he was dead, but he is still alive with good prospects of recovery.

Second-Class Croquet Prize Winners.

When the national croquet tournament at Norwich closed on Aug. 19, Butler brothers of Middletown were tied for the championship of the second division. The tie was played off Monday afternoon by mutual consent, with E. B. Smith referee. Dale won the first game in one hour and seventeen minutes, beating Earl nine points. Earl won the second game in forty-eight minutes, beating Dale twenty-four points. Earl carried the red ball around the grounds at one play. Earl won the third game in thirty minutes and but for one slip would have won it in seventeen minutes. This puts Earl in the first class and gives him first prize, and Dale second prize in the second class this year.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

Boy Loses His Life in Turner's Pond.

Walter Kallas was drowned in Turner's pond, back of Buckingham chapel, at half-past 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. In company with two other boys he went in bathing, and walked into a deep ditch that runs through the middle of the pond. Here the water was over his head and he went out of sight. When he came up to the surface he called for help but his companions could not swim enough to aid him and he was drowned.

It was some time before the boys comprehended the accident and summoned help. A young man named Hogan waded in and recovered the body a quarter of an hour later. Medical Examiner Paddock was summoned and ordered the boy removed to the home of his father, James H. Kallas of Boswell avenue. The lad was but thirteen years old, and was one of seven children. He was a pupil in room No. 3 of the Greeneville school, and a member of the Sunday school at Buckingham chapel.

WARREN LEE GOSS.

The Veteran Soldier and Author.

The very life-like portrait of Warren Lee Goss on view in Trafton's window recalls a number of interesting incidents in the career of this quietly successful author, whose "Soldier's Story" sold over 90,000; whose "Recollections of a Private," which followed the papers of Gen. Beauregard in The Century, brought him a check which would have delighted many an ambitious scribbler as the fruits of his life work; whose "Jed," a boy's book, sells at the rate of 20,000 a year, and whose "Tom Clifton" is proving a veritable gold mine to its publishers.

At the time the war broke out Mr. Goss had had a case or two, having graduated from Harvard, and studied law with his uncle. While a law clerk in Boston he had occasionally taken to rhyming and had, too, early shown an inclination for newspaper work.

Prisoner at Libby, at Andersonville and at Belle Isle, the young soldier returned from the war a cripple, to preserve the record of the terrible experiences of himself and his twelve thousand fellow prisoners in his "Soldier's Story," which appeared in '66, when the author was only 28. Subsequently he drifted into journalism in Rhode Island, with average success. Later on, having married and settled in Norwich, he accepted the commission of The Century company to furnish the "Recollections of a Private," for their series of war papers.

American generals and statesmen have commended these papers in cordial terms. Lord Wolseley, adjutant-general of the British army, in his "English View of the Civil War,"—the North American Review, July, '89—says, "If these Century articles could be as widely read among us as they have been in America, we might be saved in the future from disasters such as were entailed on us in the Crimea by very similar action. In particular, I should like those articles by Mr. Warren Lee Goss, "The Recollections of a Private," daily studied. For, after all, questions of strategy, and of tactics, and of the importance of organization of all kinds, turn upon the effect which is ultimately produced on the spirit, and well-being, and fighting efficiency of the private soldier."

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

ANOTHER WEST INDIAN CYCLONE

Sweeping Northward Along the Atlantic Coast.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU,
NEW HAVEN, Aug. 28, 7 a. m. }

There is another West Indian cyclone central over South Atlantic coast. Lowest barometer is 29 50 at Atlanta, Ga. The storm is accompanied by high winds and general rains on coast of South Virginia. Telegraph lines are down from Cape Hatteras to Key West. The storm is moving northeasterly and will be felt through Connecticut on Tuesday, probably, early in the morning, and more severe than the storm of Thursday last.

(Signed) C. J. COX, Observer.

EASTERN CONNECTICUT.

COLUMBIA.

Summer Visitors—People Out of Town—Other News of Interest.

Among our recent summer visitors are: Miss Lina Dewey and brother of Andover, guests of Mr. A. A. Latham; Miss Fannie Abbott of Rhode Island, guest of Miss Lena M. Fuller; Miss May Case of Canton, at Mr. Frank Holbrook's; Miss Addie Leonard of Los Angeles, Cal., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Tucker; Mrs. Elbert O. Little, who has been visiting relatives in other towns, has joined her husband in this place. They will soon start for New Orleans, where they are connected with the Straight university; Mrs. Rogers of New London, at her brother's, Mr. Addison F Thompson's; Mr. Burdette W. Downer of Hartford, at his old home.

Among our people who are out of town are Mr. Justin Isham, at the Columbian exposition and visiting friends in the west; Mrs. Earl M. Holbrook and Miss Holbrook with friends in East Hartford; Mr. Henry Hutchins with his sister in Manchester; Miss Grace V. Batty and brother, Walter N. Batty, at the seaside, Pine Orchard; and John W. Fuller and George H. Champlin are among the tobacco fields of East Hartford helping secure the crop.

Mrs. Harriet R. Yeomans has been visiting her niece, Mrs. Hellen Smith, at Lynn, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Amasa A. Hunt attended the meeting of the East Central Pomona grange at Snipsic grove, Rockville, last week. Mr. Hunt is master of the grange in this place.

Roadmaster Tucker is at work again repairing the highways.

Mr. Simon Hunt is giving his house and barn a fresh coat of paint.

Death has taken an infant son from Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brousseau; also a young daughter from Mr. and Mrs. George P. Carpenter.

Mr. Charles W. Bailey and wife and Mr. Allison H. Frink and wife are each rejoicing at a new arrival in their homes—both girls.

The Woman's Missionary society will have their annual tea and mite box opening at the Chapel on Wednesday afternoon of this week. This being the twenty-fifth anniversary of the formation of the Woman's board, a silver offering is the proper thing. The pastor remarked, in giving out the notice, that there was "no objection to that use of silver."

On Saturday, Mr. J. P. Little attended a "family" gathering of the local correspondents of The Rockville Journal, at Snipsic Grove, Rockville, given by the proprietor of that paper, Mr. Thomas L. Pratt. The party left The Journal office about one o'clock p. m. by special conveyance and on arrival at the lower landing, took the steamer for the grove, where one of Thompson's renowned shore dinners awaited them. After dinner there were informal speeches, and a sail on the lake. The affair was a most enjoyable one, and one to be remembered with pleasure.

This week Mr. Henry D. Hunt, of this place, a recent graduate of Yale, leaves for the west where he has accepted a position as master of modern languages and English literature in a college preparatory school in Indiana. He will take a glimpse of the Columbian exposition en route.

Samuel A. Little of Manchester was in town last week for a day or two.

The big storm of last week made great havoc in this section. Trees were uprooted, [illegible] twisted off, corn fields leveled and fruit trees shaken. It was the worst storm for years.

WHAT COMES NEXT.

Question That Is Agitating Our Congressmen.

TARIFF REFORMERS ARE ANXIOUS.

Tax on State Banks Not Likely to Be Repealed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The members of the cabinet who have remained in the city during the silver debate, Messrs. Carlisle, Gresham, Bissell, Smith, Herbert and Morton, have taken the deepest interest in the progress of the discussion and in cooperating with the managing special committee which has been in charge of the administration forces and the friends of repeal. Secretaries Carlisle, Gresham and Bissell have held the laboring oar, and their advice has been of great service to the managing committee in bringing about the result.

The paramount question among the representatives is, After repeal, then what? On this subject there is much division among the Democrats. The tariff reformers, among whom are Speaker Crisp, Chairman Wilson and his colleagues on the ways and means committee, are in favor of proceeding at once with legislation on any questions which would ordinarily be considered in regular session, the first and most important of which relates to the Currency Finances and Revenue.

There is also a strong sentiment against entering upon any of these questions. Some hold that as soon as the house has finally disposed of the repeal question is should take an adjournment of two or three days at a time until the senate has taken its action. If the repeal bill is passed in a reasonable time, and that subject is out of the way, congress could then take a permanent recess for about a month or determine upon the order of business.

While the house is taking these recesses, it is claimed that the ways and means committee can be at work formulating a new tariff revision bill, and the banking and currency committee can be working up measures for the expansion of the currency and to relieve the stringency in the money market. The enlargement of this committee to 17 members, and its peculiar construction, especially among the Democratic majority, will make it very difficult for the majority to agree upon any measure which will be satisfactory to the country.

Most of the Democrats are in favor of the repeal of the 10 per cent tax on state banks, but it is doubtful whether a bill of that character could receive a favorable report, as all of the Republicans and the eastern Democratic members of the committee are opposed to such action.

It was supposed that the bill to allow the holders of government bonds to deposit the same in the United State treasury and receive currency therefor up to their par value would be promptly reported from the committee, as the chairman and the author of the scheme, Mr. Johnson of Ohio, a member of the committee, strongly urged it. But it now appears that the more the subject has been discussed among the members of the committee, and in Congress generally, the less the scheme is favored. It is, therefore, very doubtful if this scheme, so favorably received at first, will emerge from the committee for some time.

Secretary Carlisle's views on this bill have been called for. Much will depend upon his reply. If he should say that there was no objection to it as a measure of relief, it might receive favorable consideration by the committee and the house. If, however, he should withhold his approval, the bill is not likely to receive the committee's approval.

The Friends of the Measure are making every exertion to secure favorable action. It has also many advocates among people who believe that if promptly passed the effect would be felt at once in the money centres.

These measures, together with the tariff reform question before the ways and means committee, will give both these committees plenty to do for the next 30 or 40 days, and it is claimed would thereafter keep the house busy for all the time between then and the day of the regular session. It is proposed by the Democratic leaders in the house that, after the silver complications are out of the way, a conference shall be held in order to ascertain a consensus of opinion among the majority as to what legislation, if any, shall be considered and acted upon between now and the regular December session. If the speaker's advice is followed, the house will proceed to the regular order of business in the direction already stated, and in accordance with the intimations contained in the President's Message on Tariff Revision.

The speaker is of the opinion that it is not necessary for the house to wait until the senate has disposed of the silver question, as it may occupy an indefinite period, even extending the discussion on this subject into the regular session. Nothing will be determined until the house repeal bill is sent over to the senate and some understanding can be had as to the course which is likely to be pursued there. The hot weather of the past two or three days has greatly strengthened the sentiment in favor of the recess plan in the house. The representatives are very anxious to be relieved for the present, leaving the committees to formulate measures for consideration and have them in readiness when the senate is prepared to send the silver question back to the house.

His All For the Parish Poor.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 28.—In a sermon to his congregation Fr. Victor A. Schnell, pastor of St. Patrick's church, said: "There is great distress in this parish owing to hard times. I have a deposit in the bank, which comprises my savings for some years, added to the pension I get as a Union soldier, and this is at the disposal of the destitute so long as it holds out." The sermon caused many to break into tears.

An Ancient Landmark.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Aug. 28.—One of the ancient landmarks of Hudson, and also one of the oldest business houses in the United States, is that of Solon Wood & Co. The store they occupy has been in existence for the past 96 years, and three generations of one family have been interested in the business.

Jenkins Held For Trial.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 28.—In the police court, this morning, the negro Jenkins, who made a savage assault on his colored companion, Thompson, at Carney's saloon on Green street Saturday afternoon, stabbing him over the eye, was held in $800 bonds for the October term of the supreme court. The injured man was able to be in court, but was weak from the loss of blood.

Postoffice Robbers Go to Court.

DOVER, N. H., Aug. 28.—George Holton, charged with breaking into the Rochester postoffice, and William Thompson, charged with breaking into the Mill Village postoffice, were taken from jail to-day to the United States court at Littleton.

PEOPLE'S FIRE INSURANCE.

Troubled Company Holds Its Third Monday Meeting Today.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 28.—The stockholders of the People's Fire Insurance company held their third consecutive Monday morning meeting today. The gathering, like its two predecessors, was largely attended.

That of today was different from its predecessors in this respect, that no one but stockholders, their proxy representatives and members of the press were admitted. Assistant Secretary W. H. Goggin standing at the door and checking off the holders of stock as they presented themselves.

This precaution was taken to guard against outsiders getting into the meeting and causing a disturbance. It is claimed that persons have taken part in previous meetings, and by their talk done a great deal to injure the standing of the company, when, as a matter of fact, they were not stockholders, and had no official standing.

On President Tuttle's called the meeting to order, Judge Cross addressed the stockholders in behalf of the advisory committee. He detailed the affairs of the company, and said that he came to this meeting with an entirely different feeling from that which animated him at the previous meeting.

He believed that the only thing to do was to put in more money and thereby imbue the company with life and allow it to continue business. "If the company goes into insolvency our stock will not be worth a copper. The only way is to reduce the capital stock to $100,000 and then issue new stock to the same amount."

He was followed by Hon. James F. Briggs, who presented the following financial statement: Assets admitted by the insurance commissioner: Real estate owned by the company, $4850; loans on mortgages, $173,899.99; interest, $10,000; bonds, $47,770; stocks, $51,495; personal notes, $[illegible]; cash in company's principal office, $4,455.46; cash in Merchant's National bank, $2516.73; cash in National Bank of Commonwealth, $[illegible]; interest on accrued bonds, $3000; gross premiums in course of collection, $[illegible]; total, $801,344.99.

Contingent bonds in Third National bank, [illegible], $25,000; note and mortgage of Bishop Bradley in Third National bank, Boston, $[illegible]; J. P. Goggin, [illegible], in Market National bank, Boston, $4400; W. J. Girdle, et als, Manchester, in Merchants' National Bank of Manchester, $15,000; bonds in Second National Bank of Manchester, $[illegible]; notes, not proved by commissioner, $[illegible]. In the hands of Baldwin Bros. of Boston there are held for a loan of $3000 to George D. Burton, James River Valley gold bonds, $10,000. In the hands of H. L. Marshall of Brockton, Mass., pledged for a loan of $3000 to George B. Bunton, city of Portsmouth bonds, $10,000. Total, $195,282.21.

Liabilities: unpaid losses, $70,000; unclaimed premiums, $[illegible],000; notes, $85,000; expenses unpaid, $30,000; capital, $100,000; total, $[illegible].

It was voted to reduce the capital stock to $100,000, and to make a new issue of $100,000.

PASSENGERS FRIGHTENED.

Bar Harbor Express Has Narrow Escape From a Collision.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Aug. 28.—The Bar Harbor express this morning came within a few feet of crashing with the Georgetown local at the Boston and Maine depot in this city. The express which arrives in this city at 6 a. m. was late, and was running at a high rate of speed. The Georgetown train was standing on the incoming track, when the express came turning around the curve about 300 yards from the depot.

The engineer of the Georgetown train was oiling his engine, but seeing the impending danger sprang in the cab and opening the throttle wide, shot out onto the bridge. For [illegible] distance it was a close race, but the local finally drew away from the express.

The passengers on the latter train were badly frightened, and several occupants of the sleepers were hurled from their berths when the engine was reversed. No one seriously injured.

FIFTY NEW FAMILIES

Will Come to Newburyport by Centralization of Burley & Usher's Business.

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Aug. 28.—Burley & Usher, whose business stands second in size among the shoe manufactories of this city, have decided to centralize their three factories here, thus materially increasing their output at Newburyport. The country factories of this firm are located at Milton, N. H., and Springvale, Me. These will be discontinued and the machinery removed here.

The capacity of the Newburyport factory will be increased to the extent of 30 60-pair cases per day. By the change some 50 new families will be made residents of Newburyport.

SILVER MEN BEATEN.

Astonishing Majority in Congress Against Bland's Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The first vote on the bill for the repeal of the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman law was taken shortly after 12 o'clock this afternoon, the point being the first amendment which calls for free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1. It was defeated by a majority of 226 nays to 124 yeas.

The second amendment providing for free coinage at the ratio of 17 to 1, was defeated by a vote of 240 to 100.

The 18 to 1 free coinage amendment was rejected—yeas, 102; nays, 239.

The 19 to 1 amendment was rejected—yeas, 103, nays, 237.

The 20 to 1 amendment was rejected by vote of 119 to 222.

The Wilson bill was then passed by a vote of 240 to 109.

Thunder Storm Played Havoc.

BALLSTON, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The severest thunder storm of the season occurred here at 9 o'clock last night. Several barns were struck in the vicinity. The storm played havoc with telegraph and telephone wires, and all of the 30 wires entering the Western Union office and the Delaware and Hudson station here were rendered useless by lightning.

Foreigners in France.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—The census of foreigners resident in France shows that the total number is 1,130,211. The Belgians are most numerous; next to them stands the Italians. Since 1851 the number of American residents has increased from 5000 to 12,008. The German colony has grown smaller in [illegible].

Jawbone of a Man Found.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Aug. 28.—Haverhill persons at Salisbury beach yesterday morning picked up on the beach the jawbone of a man. From the filling in the teeth it is believed that the jawbone is that of policeman Guy March of this city, who, with his wife, was drowned at the beach [illegible].

Hurlbutt is Sheriff Now.

HANOVER, N. H., Aug. 28.—The Grafton county shrievalty contest was decided this afternoon at Lebanon by the withdrawal of ex-Sheriff Brigham from the case. Hurlbutt, the Republican candidate, is now indisputably the county sheriff. Each contestant will pay his own expenses.

THE NATIONAL BARGAIN CO.

—AT THE—
BARGAIN STORE.

A GENERAL REDUCTION
—IN—
Nearly all Goods Before Taking Inventory.

This means a discount from the regular bargain prices on our goods, which are always

LOWER THAN THE LOWEST

at any time. Not a few items, but nearly everything in stock will be slaughtered for a few days.

OUR LOSS
—IS—
YOUR GAIN.

A dollar will do double duty. Call and see.

NATIONAL
BARGAIN ∴ COMPANY,
Shannon Building,
NORWICH, - - - CONN.

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. H. VAUGHN & SONS
IRON CASTINGS.
Ferry St., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON
of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for Immediate delivery.
REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Sable" brand.
SHEET IRON. Galvanized "B. B." Black and Plate.
STEEL. "Black Diamond" and "Sivyer," warranted Cast Steel. Machinery Steel, Tire Steel, Calking Steel.
FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.
IRON AND STEEL I BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.
A. T. CONVERSE,
Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf,
may12d 23 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.
Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Wool Machinery, Mill Gearing, Shafting, Pulley Hangers, etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds. Gearing, Cuttings, Forgings and Castings at short notice. 28 Franklin Street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second-hand machines bought and sold on commission. jy14d

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR Fire Wood
—TO THE—
PARK WOOD YARD!
301 Franklin Street.
A discount will be made on all purchases of Four Dollars or more.
J. ROURKE.

Before Buying Elsewhere,
Call and examine my complete line of new styles of
—WALL PAPERS.—
Lowest Prices.
E. L. GREENE,
Painter, Grainer and Paper Hanger.

Removal.
BRECKENRIDGE BROS.
Have removed their shop to CORNER WILLOW and CHESTNUT STS. and are prepared to give estimates on all kinds of wood-work.

—IF YOU—
Want money,
Want a cook,
Want boarders,
Want a partner,
Want a situation,
Want a servant girl,
Want to sell a farm,
Want to sell a house,
Want to rent a house,
Want to exchange anything,
Want to sell plants or grain,
Want to sell groceries or drugs,
Want to sell or trade anything,
Want to find customers for anything,
Want to sell or buy horses, mules or cattle.
Advertise
IN THE BULLETIN.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Swellings in the Neck

Grateful for Permanent Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough. For twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula and swelling of the glands in the neck. I consulted several physicians and took many medicines. My neck was also operated upon at the Mount Sinai Hospital, but this did not give me any permanent improvement. One day I read in a paper about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and on trying a bottle I found it was doing me good, so I took two bottles more. The swelling has entirely disappeared, and I am as healthy as anyone in the city. Anyone who should see my picture two years ago and now, would notice marked improvement." THOMAS FARRENKAMP, 69 Willett St., New York city.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

HOOD'S PILLS cure Constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal. 4 aug19daw

PLUMBING, ETC.

A. TROLAND & SON

Will Give You Close Estimates on

PLUMBING and GAS WORK.

mar16

—TRY OUR—

"Big Box" Stove Polish.

—ALSO GET—

RUTLAND LINING,

in [illegible] ANY STOVE.

[illegible] Prevents [illegible] from forming. [illegible]

[illegible] AMES & WOOLEY, Plumbers in every [illegible].

WE HAVE THE BEST

Water Filters and Garden Hose

in [illegible] at Very Low Prices. Estimates cheerfully furnished on all classes of Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting.

MOHAHER & BREED,

aug28 41 West Main, Central Wharf.

Telephone 133—3

ROBERT BROWN

Steam and Gas Fitting,

Plumbing and Steam Heating,

Pipe Cutting and Threading by Power Machinery.

All Work done Promptly and Neatly.

Pequot Building, Central Wharf.

[illegible] oct14d

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A Fine Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

A. B. KINGSBURY.

jy28d

Murphy & Blackburn,

FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS.

37 Franklin Street.

[illegible]

HAVE THAT

Lawn Mower

Put in Good Order

and it will be as good as new. Send it to

M. A. BARBER,

[illegible]

DROP ME A POSTAL

and I will call on you with a fine line of Photos and Designs of

MONUMENTAL & CEMETERY WORK

and samples of Granite and Marble of various kinds of colors.

LEWIS W. CROUCH, Norwich, Conn.

mar29daw

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES

—AT—

40C. PER THOUSAND.

They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.

COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.

The Bulletin Co.,

NORWICH, CONN.

The Bulletin.

LIGHT AND AIRY.

Plaint of a Parasol.

I used to live in a nice long box,
In tissue sheets they wound me;
But now I hang in a wardrobe dark,
And dusty gowns surround me.

My white silk lining is soiled and gray—
Most sadly flecked am I;
My ruffles of chiffon fall in shreds—
Oh, a parasol wrecked am I!

Quite often this summer a man carried me;
He kissed me one time, too.
Then with my point wrote in the sands,
"My dearest, I love you!"

And since that day my life has been
A wearisome, endless blank,
Except when she hands me out and says,
"You helped me capture Frank."
—Chicago Record.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

GOOD WORK OF THE RICHEST YOUNG WOMAN IN AMERICA.

Work of the Chicago Women's Club—Supplied Her Husband's Pulpit—Feminine Slaves of Fashion—A Visitor From Persia—Needs of the American Girl.

The negotiations of Messrs. Caleb T. Ames & Co., real estate brokers at 109 West Thirty-fourth street, for the purchase of lots on Third avenue, near Thirty-fourth street, have not been completed. The report that the intent of the purchaser is to erect thereon a hospital for a class of women unprovided for in other institutions is not denied, although they will not affirm it; neither will they deny that the would be purchaser for whom they are acting is Miss Helen Gould, elder daughter of the late Jay Gould. There are many grounds for the belief, however, that it is Miss Gould who desires to make this notable addition to New York's charities. The real estate men naively say that the publication of the statement that they desired to purchase the property for such a customer and for such a purpose would embarrass their negotiations.

Miss Helen Gould is known to be one of the most indefatigable workers in the charities which have their fountain in and are fostered by Rev. Dr. Paxton's West Presbyterian church, of which she is a communicant. She does not confine her efforts to the mere signing of checks, but personally visits the homes of the destitute and cheers by hearty words of encouragement while giving substantial relief from her purse. It is said that she takes a deep interest in the class of unfortunates for whom the proposed hospital is reported to be designed, and the establishment of such a charity cannot be too highly commended.

Rev. Dr. Paxton regards Miss Gould as an invaluable ally in the benevolent work of his church. She is personally interested in the Home for the Friendless, and she was one of the waiters at table last Christmas, when 300 little tots were made happy. She is also a liberal giver to the Potted Plants association, which gives flowers and shrubs in pots to children of the tenements, and it is said that her private benefactions are very numerous. She is said to be especially tender to poor and helpless women and little children and is known to spend many hours in visiting and reading to invalids, besides providing for their physical needs.

Miss Helen Gould is the richest heiress in America. Her fortune is estimated all the way from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. She owns the home on Fifth avenue which her father occupied and the great mansion at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, and has absolute command of the income from millions of gilt edged, dividend paying securities. Miss Gould is well along in her twenties, and while not strikingly handsome has a womanly expression and gentle manner that win the esteem of all who meet her. She was devotedly attached to her parents. She has never been a society woman in the generally accepted sense of the term. Her work among the city's poor was taken up before her father died, and her ample means since that event have been largely devoted to the same end.—New York World.

Work of the Chicago Woman's Club.

The reform committee of the Woman's club of Chicago began its earnest work with the county insane asylum, where it was found that hundreds of women were herded without proper attention—three in a bed sometimes—with insufficient food, with only a counterpane between them and the freezing winter air at night and no flannels by day. The root of the trouble was the old one—the root of all public evil in this country—the appointment of public servants for political reasons and purposes. The first step of the reform committee was to ask the county commissioners to appoint a woman physician to the asylum. Today, as a consequence, the asylums at Kankakee, Jackson and Elgin, all Illinois institutions, have women physicians also. I am assured that no one except a physician can appreciate how great a reform it was to establish the principle that women suffering from mental diseases should be put in charge of women. Mrs. Helen S. Shedd was at the front of the asylum reform work, which is still going on.

She next led the reform committee into the poorhouse, where they went, as they always do, with the plea: "There are women there. We want a share in the charge of that place for the sake of our sex."

While I was in Chicago some of the women were looking over the plans for four new police stations. It transpired as they talked that they have succeeded in establishing a woman's advisory board of the police, consisting of 10 women appointed by the chief of police and in charge of the quarters of all women and children prisoners, and of the station house matrons, two of whom are allotted to each station where women are [illegible].

The philanthropy committee of the Woman's club began its active work in the county jail, where it found a shocking state of affairs.—Julian Ralph in Harper's.

A famous French duchess rides with her friends in the morning attired in a fawn cloth coat and breeches disappearing into top boots of suede leather.

Mother Bickerdyke, whose services as nurse during the war are well known, lives now at Russell, Kan.

Supplied Her Husband's Pulpit.

The Rev. Dr. Eli McClish, pastor of Grace Methodist church, is away on an eastern tour, and for the past two or three weeks his pulpit has been "supplied" by fellow preachers. On a recent evening the "supply" was not an ordained clergyman, but Mrs. McClish, the pastor's wife.

All the previous congregations during the pastor's absence would hardly equal in size that which listened to the woman. Every seat in the big structure was occupied, and among the listeners were large delegations from neighboring churches. The Rev. James Renwick, who is a member of the church, conducted the meeting and presented the pastor's wife to fill the pastor's place.

"So long as Sister McClish is here with us," said he, "we need not worry about Dr. McClish," and the retired preacher added, "for he is sure to come back."

Mrs. McClish arose from the pulpit chair, which she had occupied during the early portion of the service, and with a calmness and deliberation that could not be surpassed by even so experienced a preacher as her husband she took position at the desk and began her address. She read with a clear, strong voice and in a pleasing manner, and nobody would have supposed that it was her first venture in the pulpit.

The subject of the address was "Motherhood," illustrated from the life of Mrs. Susanna Wesley, wife of Samuel Wesley and mother of John and Charles. Mrs. McClish presented a careful study of Mrs. Wesley's life and work, and all that she said held the closest attention of everybody present. She showed that Mrs. Wesley, in addition to being the "Mother of Methodism," was the mother of 19 children, and it was to the bringing up of that family that most of the address related.—San Francisco Examiner.

Feminine Slaves of Fashion.

Save one or two notable exceptions of rebels to fashion found in high life, all women are abject slaves to those who order and make their clothes. They have not a will of their own, and the utmost limit of their freedom of action is the arrangement of their chains—the manner in which their papers of slavery are blazoned and written out. When the order has gone forth that the sleeves are to be high and the lovely line of the finely molded shoulder is to be not only hidden but defaced, all the pretty serfs hasten to obliterate this charm in favor of unconditional submission to the tyrant decree of fashion, which is but another name for faith. When the skirts are tied back so that the whole figure is seen as clearly as if it were clothed in sealskin, the clumsy, the obese, the unequal display their defects as proudly as the beautiful display their perfections, and only a few of the more clear sighted cry aloud in despair against the ordinances of the tyrant.

Then the tyrant waves her wand, and lo, the sealskin becomes the Dutch cheese; the slim and the graceful add plait to plait and flounce to flounce till the ordained rotundity is reached and the redundant skirt measures its full tale of yards. In the bleak and bitter winter weather the poor serf perches on the top of her frizzy wig a child's tea plate, which the adepts call a bonnet, and suffers tortures from neuralgia in consequence. If the command has gone forth in the summer, she is muffled up with huge ruffs round her neck or a high collar half way up her head as a setoff against the exiguity of that winter "custard cup," miscalled a bonnet.—Mrs. Lynn Linton.

A Visitor From Persia.

A Persian woman has come to this country, not to get funds for the amelioration of the condition of her country women, like our charming Hindoo visitor, Pundita Ramabai, but to ameliorate the condition of American women. She has been giving lessons in the occult arts of Persian embroidery. Thus the Orient sends to our restless women of the Occident a messenger of peace. This dame of Persia brings light into the dark places which have never been fully illuminated by any of the fashionable stitches that have tried to work their way into the hearts of women during the past 30 years. Even Kensington stitch has suggested the rivalries of London society, but the embroideries which the Persian woman brings are suggestive of quiet, of peace, of the ability to sit still and move the fingers gracefully and not think—an ability sadly lacking in American women.

It is true that much of the brain worriment called thinking in this country is not conducive to intellectual growth and is by no means related to intellectual activity. That has its proper time and place and function, but the capacity for quiet content of head and heart needs cultivation in this busy and beclubbed country of ours, where faith that the "woman's hour has struck" is too acute and lively. The Persian woman brings suggestions of restfulness and repose into this bustling Columbian year. Under her gentle instruction the fevered minds of women may be fanned by peaceful breaths from Araby, while they "dream and dote" over embroideries learned of the little lady of Iran.

Bicycle Dresses.

If things keep on as they have been of late, the dress reformers will have to look to the women bicyclists as their leaders. From all sides come rumors of strange garments seen in a flash as a wheel woman spins past. One startled woman writes the following description of a vision she saw on a country road:

"Gray was the color of her. Coat over blouse to begin with and continuations that looked like Turkish trousers. Let me add that the sole impropriety about the costume is in my description of it."

Miss Ackerman's Feat.

The first woman, as far as known, to make a descent in a diving dress among the pearl fisheries of the Indian ocean was Miss Jessie Ackerman, the World's Woman's Christian Temperance union missionary. On her recent trip from Australia to Singapore the vessel she was on stopped for two days among the pearling fleet, and here Miss Ackerman went down 60 feet in the ocean's depths and returned in safety.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Miss Alice Heald, who has been suggested as the Republican nominee for state superintendent of public instruction in Iowa, is 35 years of age and has for several years been a county superintendent of public schools and was last year appointed a member of the state board of education.

Needs of the American Girl.

"It's high time that the American girl had a maid," said the girl in blue to the girl in white. "Just take a survey of my bruised fingers and torn and ragged nails, and you'll surely agree with me when I say that one feminine person isn't capable of handling shirt buttons successfully. I have a beautiful little diamond affair, but unfortunately it's a trifle too large for the buttonholes, so every morning the family assemble to assist me in buttoning the collar of my shirt waist. Of course I couldn't think of those horrid little white buttons, and I don't know any more about enlarging the buttonhole than I do about running a locomotive.

"Neckties are such bothers, too," continued the girl in blue as she twisted little wrinkles in her pretty forehead. "There is only one kind that I can manage at all, and that is the sort that hook on by a little loop. Four in hands make me frantic, and when I emerge from the struggle I and the tie both look as if we had been run through a clothes wringer. One of these white lawn stringy ties gets all crushed and limp before I begin to make the knot, and when I decide to wear a madeup one fastened on by two straps that hook in the back I have to prepare for a Delsarte exercise. It is quite impossible to tuck all that narrow strip of satin underneath one's collar without the assistance of a second person. Even then you stir up your ordinarily even temper and succeed in breaking the stiffness of your well starched collar."—Chicago Record.

Women In the Kansas School Elections.

Opponents of woman suffrage in Kansas who have insisted that the women do not desire the ballot find that the returns from the school elections held throughout the state do not corroborate their claims. Reports received at the Populist and Republican woman's headquarters from a majority of the counties show an increase of nearly 100 per cent in women's vote at these elections. The school elections were held only in the country districts, and the remarkable heavy vote shows plainly that the farmers' wives and daughters are abreast the equal suffrage movement in Kansas.

The opponents of equal suffrage have insisted that only a small per cent of the women in the towns and cities wanted to vote, and if left to the women in the country they would speedily squelch the suffrage question. Thursday's vote has completely nonplused them, and they find themselves without an argument. Fully 75 per cent of the male vote of Kansas own, rent or labor on farms, and if the result of Thursday's elections indicate anything it is that the equal suffrage amendment to be voted on next year will carry by a big majority.—Topeka Cor. Philadelphia Press.

Showing the Queen Is Mortal.

"Now, give me a cup of tea!" These were the first words uttered by Queen Victoria on her return to Buckingham palace after the jubilee procession. When she stepped into her carriage to go to the royal wedding the other day, her last words were these to the Duchess of Teck, "Now, mind you tell me about my dress!" It is said that the queen mislaid her bouquet at the last moment, which shows that she is both mortal and feminine—very. Whether she has become so accustomed to carrying a waterproof in the Highlands that the force of habit is strong upon her or for some other reason, the queen ordered her mackintosh to be stowed away in the carriage, though the day was hot and cloudless.—London Letter.

Wet the Head While Bathing.

Wetting the hair is very necessary when swimming. Many women never do so, as the care of their hair afterward is too great a trouble. In a number of cases the failure to do this has proven fatal from the rush of blood to the head and exposure to the sun. There has been such an instance in Hempstead harbor this summer. A young woman bathed in the heat of the noonday sun. Immediately after coming out of the water she complained of a severe pain in her head. That night the pains grew so much worse that the next day she was taken home. Within two weeks she died of brain fever, and the physicians ascribed it to her failure to wet her hair.—Brooklyn Eagle.

An American Dancer In London.

Loie Fuller has been in London, and some of the critics are now placing together the vocabularies they tore to tatters for her sake. One poor, lone man, all by his unaided self and in just two paragraphs, said that she was "wonderful, mystic, bewildering, undulating;" that her draperies were of "enormous amplitude" and were "divinely diaphanous;" that she was "a fairy," "an iridescent dragon fly," "a fragment of a rainbow stolen between sun and shower," "a soap bubble," "a humming bird," "a coruscation," "a glittering gem of many facets," "a will o' the wisp." Then he takes refuge in dashes.

Girls Going In For Fun.

The young ladies to the number of 100 have organized an association to provide entertainments. A progressive euchre party is to be held tomorrow evening, a donkey party this evening, tableaux next Tuesday and Friday evenings and masquerades on other dates. The society was thought necessary because of the scarcity of young men. Straw parties, horseback parties, dances, balls, wagon parties, tennis parties, moonlights, etc., will be of daily occurrence from now until the close of the season.—Monterey Springs Cor. Baltimore American.

Uses For a Dead Rattlesnake.

Rattlesnakes are of value to the mountain doctors of Pennsylvania for several seasons. The oil obtained by draining the reptile after skinning is used to cure deafness. The rattle suspended from a string and worn by a baby will have the power of preventing the wearer from having convulsions during dentition. The tongue of the snake when worn in the glove will have the power of compelling any girl who grasps the gloved hand to love the one so greeted, even should she ordinarily be indifferent to his attentions.—Science.

Walter Raleigh's Fine Shoes.

The most splendid pair of shoes on record were those worn by Sir Walter Raleigh on great court occasions. They were of buff leather, covered with precious stones and valued at $7,000.—Washington Star.

Miss Bostonia.

"My pretty Puritan, my sweet,
Pray pardon me my boldness,
But tell me why my jests you greet
With such a show of coldness?

"Why is it that when I let fall
A saily, pleasing surely,
You seem to scarcely smile at all,
You do it so demurely?

"Do you despise my airy chaff,
Must erudite of lasses?"
"Nay, nay," she sighed, "I dare not laugh,
For fear I'll lose my glasses."
—Vogue.

AFTER THE SUPPER.

Dating from a certain moment—the second bottle, I believe—I no more remember what happened to me. A curtain, like a misty cloud, descended upon my memory, similar to the between acts baize of fairy spectacles.

Nevertheless nothing is surer than something did happen to me; many things even. Everything proves it to me. My coat on the floor, my cravat as a nightcap and, above all else, if ever I doubted it, my haggard face, fatigued and pale.

Truly a fine business! At my age, eight and thirty years, to allow myself to be surprised by champagne like a schoolboy on a holiday! Stupidity's no name for it!

But what plagues me most is to guess what I did last night, particulars, you know, as to the events of the evening.

Question my servant?

Perish the thought of it! Expose myself to the blushing before a lackey! Besides he would only be able to formulate theories from the hour of my return and—and my behavior on reaching my bedroom.

I divine it, that behavior, 'tis enough.

They pretend that with a single bone Cuvier was able to entirely reconstruct an antediluvian animal. It remains to me then only to find some analogous thing to as readily reconstruct my existence for the last 12 or 15 hours—a suggestion, a hint, one or two indications, more or less.

Where find them?

Ah-h, my pockets!

A childish habit of burying everything there clings to me still and will now perhaps serve me well. Behold the moment of rummaging, then, like the culprit that I am.

I tremble guiltily. What am I going to discover?

Gingerly I slip two fingers into the side pocket of my vest and draw out my portmonnaie.

Empty?

By Jove!

In seeking to pick up my overcoat my notebook falls, scattering upon the carpet a heap of papers.

The first of these papers that catches my eye is the slip of the Cafe Anglais.

The trump card of the night's misdemeanor.

Thanks to this bill I learn immediately that the misdemeanor occurred in:

"Salon 14." I could have sworn it.

'Tis always, some way, "salon 14" to which I gravitate.

The total? Eight hundred and twenty francs. Peste! I've not been stingy, it appears.

How many were they, I wonder? Who were they? My habitual friends, it is probable, but still—no?

An inspiration! This menu, in betraying their tastes, will also to me reveal their names. Let us try to decipher it.

Huitres Portugaises—These are the kind that Lucien prefers and that they import from Arrachon expressly for him.

Lucien was of the suppers, then, it is clear. So much for No. 1.

Potage a la puree de gibier—I greatly deceive myself, or that potage is one to which Maxime is specially partial. Maxime, then, for No. 2.

Filets de sole a la Joinville—Fernand, to a certainty; an Orleanist filet, pure and simple.

Canetons de Rouen a l'orange—No one but Polastron for that, an out and out Rouennais, he.

Salades de legumes a la Russe—'Tis useless to ask if Semenow was there.

Bombe a la Cardinal—From whom could this have come? Stay, Marcel! Who but Marcel is cousin to a cardinal?

Lucien, Maxime, Fernand, Polastron, Semenow, Marcel—Behold my table recomposed.

Women also were at that supper then? Beyond a doubt. These scattered photographs attest it. Female suppers out or supperesses, if I may call them so, have always a rage for distributing their portraits. Henriette of the Varieties in her costume of the Revue, her great English coal hoppers squeezed into tight French slippers. Quick, conceal thyself!

And Jeanne, the eternal, in powdered hair and leaning over her shoulder at the risk of a wry neck.

The third—ah, the third, I do not know her. 'Tis strange!

Not a bad lot, either, the third. She's even pretty. Small head, low brow, tiny nose, a smile of a mouth. Nothing but eyes—superb eyes at that! Lashes like a fringe, and a genuine blond.

Deuce take it! No, I do not know her. The little yellow curls that dance about her brow look even in this photograph like a golden smoke.

Nearly a child, too—18 years perhaps, at farthest. Dressed modestly besides. A high neck robe, puritanical in cut, but which only the better develops that which it envelops. Exquisite figure, slim and lithe as a bending willow.

Decidedly she is a very pretty little girl. And—and I see in her ears neither pearls nor diamonds, nor even on her fingers a single jewel. The reason possibly for her air of disdain.

Disdain, did I say? This child, who as yet knows nothing of life, yet seems already bored and wearied! Bah! women or girls, they are all alike.

Still, where did she come from? Who is it that I have had, unknown, to sit at my table? Maybe it was her debut—the opening of a great success that I already foresee and predict.

She sat beside me, of course. I talked with her, 'tis certain—all the madnesses probably that came to my head. She refused me, or left me. Behold the reason why, perhaps—that I made myself drunk.

But let us resume. There were then in salon 14 six men and three women. My personnel's complete. What happened then? I have the actors, but not yet the drama.

Let us continue the voyage in my pocket.

THE CARTES DE VISITE.

The devil!

Two cards, as I'm a sinner!

The first bearing the name and address:

> R. DE FAYET-MORET,
> Sous-Lieutenant—Infantry.

The second:

> JULES BUROT,
> Captain 129th of the Line.

What is it that all this tells me? I've never known in all my senses as many militaires as this. There is under it of course a quarrel, a row, an altercation. These two cards, cold and glacial, have assuredly been exchanged for two of my own!

Behold the drama demanded: A duel—two duels perhaps.

But two duels with whom? Duels apropos of what? Whom have I offended? For it is I, it is I, surely, that am the offender—I, who know so well that I am truly unbearable when—when a little high up.

In this case what am I, provoked or provocator?

Now I think of it, it seems to me that my left cheek pains me a little and is bigger than the other—the scar of battle unquestionably.

Pooh! An illusion! What other nonsense will I get into my head? Stay! what is this written in the corner of the lieutenant's card, the Lieutenant R. de Fayet-Moret? "Ten o'clock at St. Maunde."

At St. Maunde! Zounds! an armed encounter; the hour of the rendezvous. Nothing could be clearer!

Quick, run! There is still time perhaps!

No, the hour has passed. 'Tis 11:30 now!

I am dishonored!

No one will believe me when I say that I slept too late and got up with a splitting headache.

I have no longer the strength to interrogate my pockets. Still, let us see.

Fine and hemstitched; an airy, cobwebby batiste. But it is not one of mine.

It bears in one of its corners, too, a baron's tortil.

What next? A handkerchief in my pocket that belongs to another! Behold me on the road to the galleys!

Ah, my head, my head!

And these flowers in my buttonhole—this wilted boutonniere. Tiny myosotis blossoms that have closed their blue eyes. The thread that holds them is half untied. A bouquet too modest and simple for me to have bought from a regular flower vender, to have stolen like the handkerchief or to have had bestowed upon me by demoiselles of the theatrical clique.

It was given to me, I know it. Just how it was given to me too. A continuation of the story of that unknown little blond. She gave me these myosotis blossoms, knowing that I was going to fight—that I was going to fight for her—in all probability.

Yes, that is it—it could be nothing else!

My apprehensions redoubled. Awhile ago I wished to know, now I fear to learn too much.

I hesitate to plunge too deep into the depths of my overcoat. Suppose, like the comedian Arnal, in the fair of the Rue de Lourvine, I draw out my hand full of soot or of blood!

What!

This overcoat—this overcoat is not mine!

No, mine was chestnut color, and this is the color of a Corinth raisin.

I have not, then, voyaged in my pockets. I have voyaged in the pockets of another.

But then, if this overcoat is not mine, no more is the duel mine!

Nor mine the bill of the Cafe Anglais!

Nor mine the photographs!

Nor mine the cards of the militaires!

Nor mine the wilted myosotis blossoms!

Nor mine the theft of the baron's handkerchief!

And the romance and friendship of the little blond?

Not mine, either!

Bah! what matters it? The address can still be found by means of the photograph.—From the French.

People Who Live Long.

Sir George Humphrey has investigated the life histories of centenarians in England with the view of ascertaining the causes and circumstances of longevity. As one reads the habits and life of these men and women who attained to the age of 100 years and more, one is struck by the fact that they were almost invariably lean people of spare habits and of great moderation in eating and drinking. Of 37, 2 took no animal food, 1 took very little, 20 a little, 10 a moderate amount and only one acknowledged taking much meat. With regard to alcohol the returns are much the same, and abstemiousness is found to be the rule of life of these centenarians.—London Hospital.

Prize Winners For Humane Stories.

To Mrs. Frances Birdsall Stearns of Harrisburg, Tex., and Miss Marshall Saunders of Halifax have been awarded two of the three prizes of $200 each offered by the American Education society of Boston for the best stories of equal length with "Black Beauty" and illustrating kindness and cruelty.

[illegible]

"I congratulate you, Mrs. Families, on your husband's safe return."

"Thank you, Mr. Cardiac. It's no joke to have the man of one's family on a steamer a week overdue in December."

"I had made up my mind that if he went down I would write you a letter of condolence."

"That was kind of you. What were you going to tell me, Mr. Cardiac?"

"Well, I wanted to express my appreciation of him, and lots of sympathy and encouragement for you, and I had about made up my mind just to say, 'There's as good fish in the sea as ever were caught,' and let you take it either way."—Life.

An English Tribute to Emerson.

When the celebrated Arthur Stanley, dean of Westminster, had finished his visit here in the year 1878, he was asked about the American pulpit. He said in reply that he had of course availed himself of every opportunity to hear the American preachers. He had heard preachers of eminence, he said, in almost every communion. "But it mattered not what was the name of the communion, the preacher," he said, "was always Waldo Emerson."—Edward E. Hale's Address.

Originated by an Old Family Physician.

For Household Use.

UNLIKE ANY OTHER

SOOTHING HEALING PENETRATING

Every Mother

Should have it in the House.

For INTERNAL as much as EXTERNAL use

Dropped on Sugar Children Love to Take

JOHNSON'S Anodyne Liniment

For Croup, Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsilitis, Colic, Cramps and Pains. Relieves Summer Complaints, Cuts and Bruises like magic. Cures Coughs, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Cholera Morbus, Chilblains, Chaps, Soreness in body or Limbs, Stiff Muscles or strains. Inhale for Nervous headache. Illustrated Pamphlet free by mail. Sold everywhere. Price 35 cents. Six bottles $2.00. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston, Mass.

FOR THE LADIES

Profit Is Nothing

But a Memory Today.

It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.

Hats reduced to less than cost, both trimmed and untrimmed.

Trimmed Hats at 98c.

Cost or value no consideration.

RIBBONS.

All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.

Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.

Don't have to talk much about them. At our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.

New York Bazaar.

112 MAIN ST.

aug28d

REDUCTION

In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.

We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits which we will close at the following prices: $6.00 and $7.95. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, as they must be sold.

Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close, at

A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St.

aug2d

MILLINERY.

Hats, Bonnets, Elegant Ribbons, Laces and Flowers,

—AT—

MRS. G. P. STANTON'S,

apr4d No. 52 Shetucket Street.

INSURANCE.

L. and L. and G.

A. IRVING ROYCE, Agent.

aug4d

THE BEST PLACE TO INSURE,

STORY'S INSURANCE AGENCY,

30 SHETUCKET ST.

The only insurance office in Norwich on the street floor. ja6d

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y

Norwich, England. Organized 1797.

N. TARRANT, Agt.,

may8d 52 MAIN STREET.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY, JANUARY 1ST, 1893. UNITED STATES BRANCH.

—ASSETS.—

Government Bonds....... [illegible]
State Bonds....... [illegible]
Municipal Bonds....... [illegible]
Cash on Hand and on Deposit....... [illegible]
Other Assets....... [illegible]
[illegible]

—LIABILITIES.—

Reserve Premium Fund (N. Y. Standard)....... [illegible]
Reserve for unpaid losses....... [illegible]
All other liabilities....... [illegible]
[illegible]
Surplus in United States....... [illegible]
Total income in U. S. for 1892....... [illegible]
Total Losses paid in U. S. from 1874 to 1892, inclusive....... [illegible]

NICHOLAS TARRANT, Agent, 52 Main St., Norwich, Conn. apr1d

B. P. LEARNED

Insurance in all Forms.

Bonds of Indemnity.

Foreign Drafts.

Over Thames National Bank, Norwich, Conn. feb24d

BILLIARD and POOL TABLES

— FOR SALE BY —

M. J. COATES, 65 West Main St.

Supplies of all kinds constantly on hand [illegible]

S. S. THRESHER,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Notary Public.

mar6d Nos. 5 and 6 Broad Hall, Norwich

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR GOOD advertise them in THE BULLETIN.

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.
Established [illegible]

NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.
Established 1796.

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 12 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 2 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application to the business office. No cuts or electrotypes inserted in either paper.

To guard against mistakes, advertisements should be sent in manuscript. We cannot be responsible for errors that occur to messages received by telephone.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their own immediate business, and their contracts do not include Wants, To Let, For Sale, etc.

All news letters should be addressed to THE MORNING BULLETIN; all business communications to THE BULLETIN COMPANY.

Money orders and checks should be made payable to THE BULLETIN CO.

All communications must be signed. Anonymous letters or news items will not be read, but thrown into the waste basket.

No manuscript preserved or returned, unless stamps are enclosed fully to prepay postage.

Entered at the post office at Norwich, Conn., as second class mail matter.

The Bulletin

Norwich, Tuesday, August 29, 1893.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

RECEDING VACATION DAYS.

The vacation term is drawing to a close and in a week more most of the summer visitors will be wending their way homeward, and the schools will be opening for the fall term. People who are going to the show must do so in the next twenty days, and the families who have children in the schools must be at home in the next fortnight. It does not seem as if the season had so far advanced, that the summer hotel is approaching the annual date for closing, and the captains of the summer excursion boats are counting the days to the date of being laid up for the winter.

The agricultural fairs will afford the next series of open air entertainments, and the excursions upon the electric cars and the drives into the country in the mellow autumn days to behold the brilliant foliage will be the popular diversions.

Yet, while August marks the decline of the summer vacations, there are those who prefer to rest in the cooler days of September and October, and these will take in the exposition, the fall hunting and nut-gathering, which are enjoyed by so many in these two fall months.

There is no doubt, if fares keep reasonably low, that the travel from the east Chicagoward will increase, and that thousands of New England people who have not yet taken in the world's fair, will do so.

WILL NOT REPORT FAVORABLY.

Treasurer Carlisle and Mr. Springer must disagree upon the policy of repealing the ten per cent. tax upon state bank issues, for during the campaign last fall, when Mr. Carlisle spoke in Norwich he said "there is no warrant whatever for an interpretation of this plank of the Chicago platform as a movement to restore state banking;" but Mr. Springer, chairman of the committee upon banking and a good democratic authority, interprets it now just as the republican speakers did then, and as the republican press has been doing ever since. He says he thinks "the committee on banks will not report favorably on a bill for the repeal of the tax per cent. tax on state bank issues. He does not believe in going back to the days of the old state banking system and being compelled to have forty-four different kinds of currency in this country. The removal of the tax upon the state banks and the re-establishment of the old system would be an obstruction to business."

This revolutionary plank of the democratic platform is one of the causes of the panic, and this acknowledgment by the [illegible] for fear, and that a halt is necessary until the manufacturers and merchants can find out just what the party in power intends to do. Mr. Springer now openly acknowledges that it was a movement against the business interests of the country, and that he is not in favor of it!

THE EXPOSITION A TRIUMPH.

The attendance at the Columbian exposition shows a steady and promising increase, and it looks now as if the stockholders might be happily disappointed and get a handsome dividend upon their investments, which at one time did not seem possible. Last week the attendance exceeded a million, and there is no reason why million-weeks should not repeat themselves during the fall.

The New York Herald on Sunday printed an interesting letter from ex-President Benjamin Harrison upon the fair, and after speaking of its importance as an educator and of its immensity, he concludes with these words: "The fair is not only a success, but a triumph—an American triumph. When it closes we can think rightly and gratefully of the men who made it such. They would be knighted in England or Germany, but perhaps all they can expect in free democratic America is that the newspapers and people, who knew all along, and in everything, a better way, shall admit that on the whole it was well they were not in the management, and that New York shall admit that there are two cities in the United States that can adequately and creditably entertain the world."

THE PARTY OF SOUND FINANCE.

The great speech of Thomas B. Reed of Maine upon the silver question in the house Saturday marks him as a worthy successor of that masterly statesman and republican leader, James G. Blaine. He dealt with this important question in a clear, comprehensive and convincing manner, and those who heard him characterize his address as the master effort of his life.

He concluded with the following reference to the loyalty and patriotism of the party of which he is a popular leader:

> We stand in a very peculiar position, we republicans, today. The representative of the democratic party just chosen president of the United States finds himself powerless in his first great recommendation to his own party. Were he left to their tender mercies the country would witness the spectacle of the president of its choice overthrown by the party charged with this country's government. What wonder, then, that he appeals to the patriotism of another party whose patriotism has never been appealed to in vain? Never, I say, in vain. The proudest part of the proud record of the republican party has been its steadfast devotion to the cause of sound finance. When this country was tempted to pay its bonds in depreciated money, the republican party responded with loud acclaim to that noble sentiment of General Hawley that every bond was as sacred as a soldier's grave. It cost us hard fighting and sore struggle, but the credit of this country has no superior in the world. When the same arguments heard today were heard fifteen years ago sounding the praises of a depreciated currency and proclaiming the glories of fiat money, the party of Abraham Lincoln marched steadily toward specie payments and prosperity. What we were in our days of victory we are in the days of defeat, champions of true and solid finance, and when the day comes, as it surely will come, for us to lead this land back to the paths of prosperity and fame, which were trodden under republican rule for so many years we shall take back with us our ancient glory, undimmed by adversity, our ancient honor unsullied by defeat.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Senator Voorhees has alluded to Hoke Smith's pension rulings as a "determined and vindictive assault" upon the pensioners. Most of the intelligent democrats of the country regard them in the same light.

An exchange says: "The recent frank admission of David A. Wells, Connecticut's illustrious free trader, that tariff reform would reduce the wages of workingmen has not been hailed with italic and double-leaded glee by the democratic press."

Chauncey Depew seems to be the mainstay of some of his friends. One-tenth of his income he has loaned to borrowers during his life. One borrower has recently bequeathed him a million for lifting him into the way of prosperity at just the right time. His loans have proved profitable.

The Hartford city council acted upon the police pensioning law passed by the last legislature Monday night. It provides for the making of a fund for the purpose from five per cent. of the receipts for license, and from moneys and rewards received by the police. When officers are retired at the end of twenty-years service, or injured in the line of duty, they can, with the approval of the commissioners, draw as high as five hundred dollars in a year.

The Waterbury Republican urges the state board of trade to hold a special meeting and adopt resolutions urging congress to immediately repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman bill. The Republican says: "No commercial body can do a more patriotic service in this hour of storm and stress, than to send a memorial to congress in behalf of sound and stable currency. Just now is the time when such work will tell. The time to catch bears is when they are around."

The house in its votes on the silver issues Monday more than met the expectations of the people. The vote for the unconditional repeal of the Sherman silver purchasing clause was carried by 129 majority, which was about twice the majority predicted. The silver advocates were defeated at every turn, and an overwhelming victory was achieved for a safe and sound currency. If the same good sense characterizes the action of the senate the country has nothing more to fear in that direction.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

Represents Only Himself.

In advocating conditionally a ratio between silver and gold of 15½ to 1 Senator Hill represents no one but himself. No other public man of conspicuous position supports this plan. The common sense and the business sense of the state of New York and the democracy of this state have nothing to do with such a proposition, however qualified.—[Buffalo Courier (dem.)

He Had to Get

Headsman Maxwell has removed a postmaster at West Milton, Pa., who received his appointment from Andrew Jackson and has filled the office ever since. Another proof that this is not a Jacksonian democratic administration.—[New York Press.

An Economic Truth.

When President Cleveland stated that the wage earner "relies for work upon the ventures of confident and contented capital" he enunciated an economic truth of the first magnitude. Incidentally he knocked the underpinning out from the "tariff reform" propaganda as it was known in this country in the late election.—[Boston Journal.

Good News.

It is announced that the democrats propose to merge the extra session into the regular session of congress and tackle the tariff question. That is good news. Manufacturers and business enterprise in general desire to see the outcome of the robber tariff talk—they want to know the worst, which is better than uncertainty. The most serious consequence will fall on wage earners if the pledges of the democratic platform are redeemed.—[Lewiston Evening Journal.

A Sensible View.

But I have no sympathy with those who threaten to boycott the exposition on account of Sunday opening. The Sabbath observer does not refuse to avail himself of the Monday train because of the Sunday train. No more should we deny ourselves the inspiring and instructive spectacle which the "White City" offers on week days. If the American Sabbath, that great conservator of health and social order, to say nothing of its higher uses, is not illustrated, there is much to the praise of man and to the glory of Man's Creator to be seen without involving the spectator in Sabbath desecration.—[Benjamin Harrison.

His Scruples will be Respected.

Governor Boies has conscientious scruples about third terms, he has told us so himself, and we guess the Iowa voters are going to respect them. By a large majority.—[The Hartford Courant.

A Bovine View.

The Hon. Francis Mileage Cockrell is a fit person to echo in the senate the ignorant clamor of the yahoos against national banks. A billy goat's knowledge of astronomy is scientific and accurate compared with Cockrell's knowledge of the national banking system.—[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The New Leader of the House.

Mr. Wilson is a free trader from 'wayback. Next after John G. Carlisle, the free trade school, in which The Courier-Journal has been a text book, has turned out no apter pupil. In congress and out of congress the new chairman of the ways and means committee has taught the gospel of free trade with an ability, an earnestness and a persistence exceeded by no one. Who that heard it can ever forget that brilliant, that magnetic speech he made when taking the gavel of the last national democratic convention?—[Louisville Courier Journal.

A Wool Puller.

Larry Neal can buy a big lot of wool to pull over the eyes of his Ohio voters this year for a very small sum of money. But Larry won't likely lug in his wool argument in connection with his $1.25 wheat.—[Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Golden Chance Lost.

That was an ill timed burst of applause in the senate which snuffed Senator Peffer into silence when he had arisen and remarked: "I am inclined to think." There are some opportunities which never come twice in a lifetime.—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

A PAINFUL CONTRAST.

CLEVELANDISM.	M'KINLEYISM.
FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 21, 1893.—The cotton mill managers decided today to appoint a committee to go to Boston to discuss the trade situation with other New England textile manufacturers, and also to endeavor, if possible, to secure a uniform schedule of wages to be paid in the cotton industry. It is stated on the best authority that a reduction of 10 per cent. in the wages paid here will be made as soon as the mills resume operation. This reduction has been under advisement since the expiration of contracts in July, but was not advocated strongly, owing, it is said, to a hope that both would improve as [illegible] congress met. [illegible] of an improvement last week there was a [illegible] decline in [illegible], and the [illegible] of contracts [illegible] a daily occurrence. The print [illegible] of the country are carrying two million pieces of goods. The time for the placing of fall contracts is rapidly going by, and the treasurers [illegible] possibly hope for [illegible] provement [illegible]. The only way to resume work in the mills, which are now almost all closed, is to [illegible] wages. Mill owners say that it is impossible to keep on piling up goods, because there is no demand for them now, and buyers expect to get foreign made goods cheaper under the new Cleve[illegible].	FALL RIVER, July 14, 1892.—The cotton mill manufacturers have just held their summer meeting and voluntarily increased the wages of all hands 5½ per cent, and decreased the hours of labor one hour per week as well. This is equivalent to an increase in wages of 7 per cent. At the time the McKinley bill was before congress not a cotton factory in the land was doing a prosperous business. Now they are all prosperous, as the volunteer increase in wages of 25,000 mill hands shows. Today new mills are going up here. The stock of cotton print cloth on hand, owing to the great demand for it is smaller than it has been at this season [illegible], and the price of the fabric here today is 3¾ cents per yard—½ cent less than it was before the McKinley law was passed. Today every one paid off received [illegible] at the rate of [illegible] per piece for weaving print cloth. Not a [illegible] here—can remember ever receiving the same rate [illegible] since he began to work as a weaver in the great [illegible]. The manager of the [illegible] King Philip mill [illegible]: "Our business has never been so prosperous as it is now under the McKinley [illegible]. We voluntarily advanced wages. That is all there is about it."

A Stonington Schooner Lost.

A large package of letters, bills of lading and private papers from the schooner William C. Bee of Stonington were washed ashore at Angelsea, New Jersey Sunday, and led the New York papers to publish the statement that the captain, his wife and the whole crew had perished. Happily this statement is untrue.

Captain William C. Rathbun of the lost schooner and his wife arrived at their home in Noank Sunday, and report that no one was lost from the vessel.

The schooner foundered off Hogg Island on the Jersey coast in the terrible blow last Wednesday night, and is probably a total loss by this time. The captain, his wife and the crew lashed themselves to the rigging and remained in that position for twelve hours, when they were rescued by a passing vessel and carried to port. All through the terrible gale they momentarily expected that the rigging would give way and all hands drown.

Rail Birds Scarce.

The prospect for rail shooting in Little River and adjoining marshes around Middletown is not very good. Usually the birds are plentiful, owing to the large quantity of wild oats which grow there. This year the crop of oats is almost a failure, and up to the present time no birds have been seen there. Ordinarily they arrive here in large numbers by the 20th of August. They are protected by law until September 1. Sportsmen are much disappointed by the non-appearance of the birds.

Effect of Salt Spray on Foliage.

All along the Connecticut shore of Long Island sound, the trees and bushes close to the water's edge now present a curious appearance.

It results from the long-continued sprinkling with salt water spray during the heavy gale of last Thursday morning. The trees and bushes look as though they had been exposed to fire. The leaves are browned, and appear to be dying, probably from the action of the salt in the spray. In some instances the foliage of trees is brown on the side toward the water and quite green on the side not exposed to the spray. The trees nearest the water are most discolored, some of them altogether brown, as when the leaves are preparing to fall in the autumn.

A rare old deed passed through the recorder's office at Ebensburg recently. It was made on parchment, and conveyed land belonging to Abraham Weaver to Richland township, Cambria county, from John Penn, one of the proprietors and governor, to Luke Morris. It was drawn up in 1776.

Every American president has had from 8 to 22 towns named for him. There are 20 cities and towns named after Alexander Hamilton, 30 Clintons, 24 Websters, 20 Bentons, 18 Calhouns, 7 Clays, 19 Quincys, 21 Douglases, 20 Blaines.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles!
SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

"How to Cure All Skin Diseases."
Simply apply SWAYNE'S OINTMENT. No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for SWAYNE'S OINTMENT.

Groves of orange rich in perfume,
With their odors freight the breeze;
SOZODONT, in healthful fragrance,
Cannot be surpassed by these.
Teeth by it are snow white rendered;
Take no substitute if tendered.

We think we can cure a bad case of Backache quicker with one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters than by any other application, and after the Backache is cured you can still wear the plaster without discomfort for two or three weeks or longer. This combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna is a great hit, and it is hard to find any pain or ache that will not yield to it. Price 25 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

PORTEOUS
&
MITCHELL.

A Three Days' Sale,
Monday, Tuesday, Wedn'sd'y

While the whole country is anxiously waiting for Congress to legislate on the Silver Question we have solved the problem and present the solution in a nutshell.

Bring a silver dollar to us at any time during the next three days, namely—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—and this is what we will give you:

Adamantine Pins, sizes 2, 3 and 4, a paper,	.03
Nursery Pins, a card,	.03
Mourning Pins, a box,	.03
Ink, a bottle,	.03
Hair Pins, a dozen papers,	.04
Corset Steels, covered,	.05
Pint Bottle of Ammonia	.05
Card Case	.05
Tooth Brush	.07
Lather Brush	.07
Whist Broom	.07
White Glue	.07
Dress Shields	.08
2 ounce bottle of Perfumery	.10
Ladies' Skirt Supporters	.12
Waving Irons	.12
Total	$1.00

Actual value of the foregoing list $2.50. Bring a silver $1.00 and you can buy the entire lot or any portion of it you may desire. Bear in mind these prices are for three days only, and every article is something that enters into the every day needs of every household.

Here are a few other articles of household utility which can be bought for a little money for these three days:

Ivory Buttons, Flat and Ball, 5c for a two dozen card.
Pearl Buttons, sizes 18 to 24, 10c a card.
Whalebone Casing 12½c a piece.
Dress Belting 12½c a piece.
Nichols' Tooth Powder 12½c a bottle.
Sheffield's Tooth Paste 12½c a tube.
Cuticura Soap 15c a cake.
4711 Glycerine Soap 15c a cake.
A 4 ounce bottle of Perfumery 15c.
A quart bottle of Ammonia 15c.
Ladies' Leather Belts 15c.
Feather Fans 19c.
Shears—sizes 6 and 7 inch, 19c.
Bath Gloves 19c.
Cashmere Bouquet Soap 19c.
A long bottle of 1499 Cologne 19c.
Ladies' Pocketbooks 20c.
Comfort Powder 25c a box.
Bath Brushes 25c.
Ladies' Shopping Bags 39c.
Alarm Clocks 89c.

The foregoing are all Staple articles. Everyone knows the regular prices. These special prices are for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.
aug28daw

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

"THE PRINCE OF INDIA!"
—OR—
Why Constantinople Fell.
—BY—
GENERAL LEW WALLACE,
Author of "BEN HUR."
FOR SALE BY Noyes & Davis.
aug23daw

"THE PRINCE OF INDIA,"
—BY—
GEN. LEW WALLACE,
Author of "BEN HUR."
THIS NOTABLE BOOK IS NOW READY.
—AT—
Cranston & Co.
aug23daw

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin office for printing of all kinds and get fine work at living prices.

DRUGS, PAINTS AND OILS.

LEE & OSGOOD,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
DRUGGISTS,
129-133 Main St. and 150-154 Water St.

ESTABLISHED : 1788.

—SOLE PROPRIETORS OF—
DR. DODD'S
Nervine and Invigorator,
A NERVE TONIC
—AND—
STOMACHIC.

Dodd's Nervine aids digestion, insures good appetite, gives tone and vigor to the system, guarantees sweet and refreshing sleep and restores enfeebled and nervous constitutions to PERFECT HEALTH.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF
Atomizers and Perfumes
COLGATE'S EXTRACTS IN BULK.
TOILET ARTICLES
IN GREAT VARIETY.
We make a Specialty of
Tooth Brushes.
Large Invoice Just Received.
25 AND 35 CENTS.
LEE & OSGOOD
NORWICH, CONN.

LUMBER AND COAL.

E. CHAPPELL & CO.
COAL,
LUMBER,
SHINGLES.
Greatest Variety. Largest Stock.
Branch Office, 207 Main St., Franklin Square. Office and Yard, Central Wharf.
Telephone at both offices. mar18daw

IT WILL PAY YOU TO SEE
H. F. & A. J. DAWLEY
if you want good
BUILDING LUMBER & SHINGLES.
They have the largest stock in the city and will make you low prices.
Telephone 69—4. may18d

51 John A. Morgan & Son, 51
Coal & Lumber,
51 West Main St., Central Wharf.
Family Coal a Specialty.
Estimates furnished at short notice. Telephone.
51 june5d 51

FINE ARTS.

REMOVED.
McNickle, Picture Frame and Gilding Manuf.,
Has Removed to 26 BROADWAY. You will always find a Complete Line of Artist Proof Etchings, Engravings, Prang's Studies and facsimile Water Colors. oct18

REMOVED—Laighton Brothers have removed their photograph gallery from the Chelsea Bank Building to No. 30 Shetucket St., in the building with the Henry Bill Publishing Co., where all old patrons will be welcomed and new ones be heartily greeted. Their new rooms are newly furnished, their facilities for doing first-class work have been much improved. New backgrounds have been put in, and the light for producing photographs has been arranged according to the best methods known to the business. All work promptly attended to.
LAIGHTON BROTHERS.

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY.
Goods called for and delivered free of charge. Lace Curtains and all Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.
145 Little Water St.
Family Washing at special rates. nov16

FRANK G. SWEET,
Medical and Surgical Nurse,
Graduate from Mills' Training School for Male Nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York city. Call at 260 or 436 FRANKLIN Street, city. TERMS REASONABLE. may2d

ESTABLISHED IN 1861.
Adam's Tavern,
NORWICH TOWN,
A. A. ADAM, Proprietor.
The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 10 years ago. They have become intensely popular. They sell on their own merits:
Imperial Bourbon, Bob Ward, 1883, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1880, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.
N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers. A. A. ADAM.
Telephone call 25-12. jan3d

REAL ESTATE.

TO RENT.
Tenement of 5 Rooms. Hot and cold water, Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. 287 West Main street. Rent moderate.
aug8d E. R. ROBBINS, 22 Cliff St.

TO RENT.
ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Room suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug9d

TO RENT.
A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS,
each with all the modern improvements, on Boswell Ave., of ten rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 3 Water St. may23d

TO RENT.
Tenement 112 River Avenue.
apr12d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.
A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, 7 rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 8 Grove street, or inquire of E. M. BREWSTER, 66 Water Street. apr6d

TO RENT.
Three Large Rooms in the Hill Block.
Possession immediately. Apply to may27TuTh E. R. THOMPSON.

TO RENT.
The Large Store with fine Cellar
in the Rockwell Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Service & Gossen. Apply to sep6d GEORGE D. COIT.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.
A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons, also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.
Horseshoeing in all its Branches.
—11—13—15 Chestnut Street.—
ly19daw

TO MANUFACTURERS!
A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines cheapness and efficiency. WEEK'S ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest pipe and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn., Inventor and Manufacturer. nov16d

SUMMER TRAVEL.

For New London & Ocean Beach.
THE STEAMER GYPSY,
Capt. Mathews,
will make her first trip to above points TOMORROW, (SATURDAY) AFTERNOON, leaving here at 3 o'clock, and thereafter will make two trips daily, at 8.40 a. m., and 3 p. m., including Sundays. The Gypsy will touch at all available points on the river for passengers, if signaled.
Fare round trip, 50 Cents.
ly2d PALMER SMITH, Agent.

New London Steamboat Co.
1893—SEASON—1893.
COMMENCING
SATURDAY, July 1st,
—THE—
STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND
Will make daily trips (Sundays excepted) between Norwich, Montville, New London, Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island. Leaving Norwich 8.15 a. m., Montville 8.45, New London 9.25, touching at Mystic Island and Watch Hill, arriving at Block Island 12.45 p. m.
Returning, leave Block Island at 2 p. m., Watch Hill 3.30, touching at Mystic Island; reaching New London at 5, Montville 5.30, and Norwich 6.15.
D. MACKENZIE, J. A. SOUTHARD,
je6d Supt. G. P. A.

Steamer Ella.
SEASON OF 1893.
— ON —
Friday, June 23
And during the season the Steamer Ella will make daily excursions to the above resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.55, Ft. Griswold House 9.20, Mystic Island 10.30, arriving at Watch Hill about 11.15.
Returning, leave Watch Hill at 3.45 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 4.35, arriving about 6.
Special Rates to Excursion Parties.
Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.
Comstock's Wharf on signal.
ta14 JAMES WALKER, Manager, Norwich Ct.

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION
Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices.
Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.
No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.
je6daw 48 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD.
DENTIST,
Over Boston Store, opp. Wauregan House. Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. nov6d

DR. J. H. ELDRED,
DENTIST.
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, Ether or Cocaine administered.
OFFICE—214 Main Street,
Trumann's Block Franklin Square. Residence 18 BROADWAY. oct6d

ARCHITECTS.

C. H. PRESTON,
Architect, ... Central Building.
Telephone 144-3, Norwich, Conn.
Specialist on modern construction and strength of materials. mar6d

JAMES A. HISCOX,
ARCHITECT,
[illegible]

ALFRED HUNT, Florist,
Funeral Designs and Choice Cut Flowers. Next to Yantic Cemetery, Lafayette street. jal7uThS

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES
—OF—
DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.
As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles C. Bliss, 126 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, his entire stock of goods,
CONSISTING OF
Diamond Jewelry,
Gold and Silver Watches,
Sterling Silver Ware,
Gold Chains,
Brooches,
Rings,
French Black Marble Clocks,
French Onyx Clocks,
American Clocks,
Silver Plated Ware,
Pocket Books,
Fancy Goods,
Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.
ja6d JOHN BLISS, Administrator.

BOOK BINDERS.

BLANK BOOKS Made to order. [illegible]
MAGAZINES BOUND
in any style of binding. Old books renewed. Back Nos. furnished to complete volumes.
JOSEPH BRADFORD [illegible]
Bulletin Building, up stairs.
[illegible] Norwich [illegible]

COWAN, the Bookbinder
will after this date be found on the ground floor.
103 Broadway.

TRAVELERS DIRECTORY.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.
NEW LONDON DIVISION.
Change of time.
On and after MONDAY, June 19, 1893,
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NEW LONDON AS FOLLOWS:
[illegible]
GOING SOUTH.
Passenger trains LEAVE NORWICH as follows:
[illegible]
D. MACKENZIE [illegible]

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.
NORWICH & WORCESTER [illegible]
[illegible]
TRAINS GOING SOUTH LEAVE [illegible]
[illegible]
W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass. Agt.
F. E. DEWEY, [illegible]
Norwich, June 18, 1893.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your [illegible] is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Lee & Osgood. nov15tuthsaw

A Leader.

Since its first introduction, Electric Bitters has gained rapidly in popular favor, until now it is clearly in the lead among pure medicinal tonics and alteratives—containing nothing which permits its use as a beverage or intoxicant, it is recognized as the best and purest medicine for all ailments of Stomach, Liver or Kidneys—It will cure Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, and drive Malaria from the system. Satisfaction guaranteed with each bottle or the money will be refunded. Price only 50c. per bottle.

Sold only by Lee & Osgood.
2 nov15tuthsaw

Guaranteed Cure.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, upon this condition. If you are afflicted with a Cough, Cold or any Lung, Throat or Chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have the money refunded. We could not make this offer did we not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottle free at Lee & Osgood's drug store. Large size 50c. and $1.
3 nov15tuthsaw

FINANCIAL.

The Co-operative Building Bank

—HAS OVER—

$120,000.00

[illegible] Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A larger showing than all others together. [illegible] C. J. WOLCOTT, Pres. [illegible] 119 Franklin St.

LIVERY STABLES.

EDMUND GEE,
Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.
[illegible]
363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge.

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable

Hacks and teams to let, also a four-seated wagon and 'bus, convenient for parties and funerals, at reasonable prices. Horse clipping done by Crosby Improved Power Machine.

A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

SADLERY, ETC.

LANE BROS.
—Have a—
Seven-Foot Delivery Wagon
Which you can turn around in a ten-foot circle.
67—69 Water St.

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF
HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,
AT WHOLESALE PRICES.
At 115 Main St., J. G. STANDISH.

ATTORNEYS.

Charles H. Carpenter,
PENSION ATTORNEY.
Office with A. Irving Royce, over Thames National Bank. Special attention given to the execution of vouchers for quarterly payments. Advice free. No fee unless claim is granted.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened, Bicycles Repaired.
CARRIAGE AND BOAT TRIMMINGS NICKEL PLATED by
A. GOULD,
Industrial Building, near Union Station.

Rapidly Taking the Lead

Convenient for Guests,
Indispensable to Clerks,
Profitable to Proprietors,
Indorsed by All Hotel Men

[illegible]

THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE HOTEL REGISTER

AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.
Books Registering
1000 Arrivals, Canvas Cover .... $1.
1000 " Tight Back 2 00
2000 " Tight " 3 00
2000 " Spring " 3.00
3000 " Spring " 3 5
Size of page, 8 x 11.

These are the cheapest and best registers on the market.

Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and also a reasonable profit, as they cannot expect to get such favorable rates as we give our hotel patrons.

Remember, it is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.

Correspondence or Interviews Solicited.

INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,
Manufacturers of Plain and Advertising Registers, Transfer Registers, Legal Forwarding, Cash and Call Books of every description.
Norwich, - - Conn.

I HAVE AN ODORLESS PUMP and Barrel apparatus for cleaning Vaults and Cesspools. Orders sent to my address will be promptly attended to. CHAS. WOOD, Box 341 Norwich, Conn.

FINE BLANK, COMMERCIAL and MANUFACTURERS' PRINTING at this office.

FIFTH ELOPEMENT.

Charles O. Metcalf's Latest Matrimonial Jump.

HEARD FROM IN PHILADELPHIA.

Seeks Recommendation From Former Employer.

MALDEN, Mass., Aug. 28.—Charles O. Metcalf of Malden, who eloped with Miss Emma Rhein, also of Malden, Wednesday, has been heard from, indirectly, in Philadelphia. Metcalf applied for a situation as paper-hanger in the store of A. L. Demarit, 1624 Chestnut street, in that city, and that gentleman has written to A. F. Crocker, the Malden wall paper dealer, for whom Metcalf had been employed for the past three years, for a recommendation.

It will be cheerfully afforded him by Mr. Crocker, together with a little story of the elopement episode. Metcalf and his latest victim are married, and his Malden wife announces her intention of suing for a divorce. This is not her first experience in desertion. This latest movement on the part of Metcalf is alleged to be

His Fifth of the Same Sort.

He has run off, in a similar manner, at Lowell, Providence, Brockton and Nashua. A reconciliation was effected with Mrs. Metcalf after the Nashua incident and the couple moved to Malden, where they have resided for the past three years, Metcalf apparently settling down for life. However, the couple left Malden last Wednesday, and it is learned that they were married Friday—in Providence, it is thought.

The girl sent home word that she should not return, and this letter was mailed from Philadelphia. Metcalf sent a letter at the same time to a fellow employe in A. F. Crocker's, asking him to send his working tools on to that city. He asked to have them addressed to C. M. Osterhaut. It is thought that or else possessed of a great amount of cheek for he applied for work at the store of A. L. Demarit in Philadelphia, and referred the firm to Mr. Crocker for a recommendation.

Metcalf Must Be Light Headed

Emma Rhein is 21 years of age, and Metcalf is 38 and leaves two children. They both resided in Faulkner, the former being employed in Cox's carpet cleaning establishment. The police have been notified of Metcalf's whereabouts, and it is likely that steps will be taken to arrest the man and bring him back to this state to answer to the charge of bigamy.

The father of the girl is also taking what steps he can to recover his daughter, but as she is of age he cannot force her to return but must rely on the police.

THE GEARY LAW.

Chinese Minister Says China Does Not Expect Its Enforcement.

OMAHA, Aug. 28.—The new ambassador from China, Yung Ku, to the United States, passed through Omaha last night on his way to Washington. He is accompanied by his suite, consisting of 38 officials, their families and servants.

He said that his government does not expect that the United States will seek further to enforce the Geary law, and until it does, and Chinese citizens suffer by its operation, the Chinese government will do nothing. If an attempt be made to enforce the law this might lead to developments, the minister said, of which he did not care to speak. In any event, China would always strive to protect her children. He does not believe that any retaliatory measures will be taken against American residents in China, "for whom," he says, "we have great regard and affection."

Fell to Bottom of the Dock.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—While walking near the edge of Simpson's dry dock in East Boston, about 7 o'clock this morning, Hugh Livingston, aged 28 years, residing in Hunnewell place, stumbled and fell to the bottom of the dock, a distance of about 40 feet. He struck on his back and shoulders. Livingston is unmarried, and is believed to be badly injured.

Negotiations at Standstill.

BANGKOK, Aug. 28.—The negotiations between M. de Villers, the French special envoy and the Siamese government for the settlement of the Franco-Siamese dispute, are at a complete standstill. It is stated that should Siam concede the demands now made upon her by M. de Villers, her commerce would be completely ruined.

Thomson Family Reunion.

HALIFAX, Mass., Aug. 28.—The descendants of John Thomson, who settled in this town in 1638, will hold their first annual reunion at the town hall the 30th inst. Several hundred invitations have been issued. The affair will consist of a reception, banquet and speech making.

Burglars at Bourne.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., Aug. 28.—The general store of Eldridge & Keene at Bourne, in which the postoffice is located, was entered last night by burglars. The thieves escaped with very little booty. An unsuccessful attempt was made to blow open the safe. There is no clue.

Reduction on Union Pacific.

OMAHA, Aug. 28.—General Manager Dickinson of the Union Pacific yesterday afternoon, at a conference with switchmen, told them that on Sept. 1 there would probably be a general reduction of wages of at least 10 per cent. It is not thought that there will be a strike.

Supposed He Had Cramps.

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Aug. 28.—While bathing in a mill pond at Cordaville, Southboro, Sunday evening, A. E. Guild, a blacksmith of that village, was drowned. It is supposed that he was seized by cramps. Guild leaves a widow and four children.

NEWS OF THE SCOURGE.

Berlin Despatches Indicate That the River Spree Is Affected.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: The occurence of two cases of cholera at Nordhafen, on the canal fed by the Spree, leaves little doubt that the river is infected. The government has therefore ordered the closing of all the river baths.

Of 14 patients in the Moabit cholera hospital some are only detained for prudential reasons. No anxiety is yet apparent in the city. Bacteriological examinations have failed to establish that the cases in Halle are Asiatic cholera. The Hamburg senate has prohibited the admission of clothes or dirty linen from Russia.

Two Leaks in Twelve Miles.

ORANGE, Mass., Aug. 28.—The new water works have been given their preliminary test, and in 12 miles of pipe but two leaks were found. The hydrants were tried, and worked properly in every case, and 120-foot streams were thrown under pumping pressure. The reservoir will be completed soon, and the pressure from this will be greater than from the pumps. The contractors will get the plant completed in six weeks.

BULL WOULDN'T FIGHT

But the Crowd Did and Many Were Wounded by the Police.

MADRID, Aug. 28.—The city of Saragossa was the scene yesterday of a serious riot, growing out of the dissatisfaction of the spectators at a bull fight with the character of the performance.

A bull that had been driven into the ring refused, despite the efforts of the banderilleros, to display spirit enough to make the fight interesting. The spectators demanded that another bull be furnished as a victim for the toraro, but the manager of the ring refused to replace the spiritless animal.

The crowd in attendance then rose en masse, smashed the seats, tore the doors from their hangings and set fire to the material which they had piled in the bull ring.

The fire was extinguished by the bull ring attendants, and the mob then began to riot outside the bull ring. The police attempted to disperse them, and were greeted with a volley of stones.

It was not until reinforcements arrived at the scene of the trouble that the rioters were dispersed. Many were wounded by the police, who had to use their swords to restore order.

There was also a furious riot last evening at San Sebastian, in the province of Guipuscoa. A concert was being given in the principal promenade, and the audience, most of whom were Basques (Guipuscoa being one of the Basque provinces), demanded that the band play the Basque hymn. The leader refused, and the mob hooted the players and assaulted them. The police drove the rioters from the vicinity of the band stand, but they proceeded in a body to the hotel where Senor Sagasta, the prime minister, is staying, and amused themselves by stoning the building.

Troops were summoned, but they were stoned by the mob, and many of them were cut and bruised.

An order was then given for the troops to fire with ball cartridge into the crowd. The order was promptly obeyed and two of the rioters fell dead, while several of them were seriously wounded.

NAVAHOE DOCKED.

Yacht Will Be Thoroughly Overhauled Before the Races Again.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 28.—The American yacht Navahoe has gone into dock here, to be thoroughly overhauled and refitted preparatory for the international gold cup, given by the Royal Victoria Yacht club.

The races will begin Sept. 6, and the Prince of Wales' cutter Britannia will defend the cup against the Navahoe. The probable courses for the races are as follows:

First race—From the Warner lightship to the Nab lightship, then 10 miles windward or leeward, and return, twice round.

Second race—From the Warner lightship to Ower's lightship, thence to a flagboat off Dunnose, east of Princessa buoys, and thence to and around the Nab lightship and back to the starting point.

Third race—From the Warner lightship to and around the Cherbourg (France) breakwater and back.

Fourth race—Around the Isle of Wight.

Any of the races which are sailed under an average of five knots an hour are to be sailed over again. This is to prevent a drifting match.

GOLD ARRIVES SAFELY.

New York Receives $4,000,000 From the Mint in San Francisco.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The gold which was started from the San Francisco mint for the sub-treasury here on the 19th, got in all right this morning, but, contrary to the report which reached here when it was shipped, it consisted of but $4,000,000 in coin. All the way from San Francisco to this city the route by which the express company's handling the gold would forward it was kept a profound secret, so that the plans of intruding robbers, if there were any such, would be frustrated. The gold came through and was delivered here without a single incident to break the monotony of the journey.

From San Francisco to Kansas City the treasure was handled by the Wells-Fargo company. It was carried in a car supposed to be burglar proof, bomb proof, fireproof and proof against all manner of schemes possible to be invented by persons with evil designs. In addition there was a score of heavily armed guards to protect the treasure.

At Kansas City the Wells, Fargo company transferred the gold to the care of the United States Express Company, which has a contract with the government by which it gets all the business of that kind from the government which it can handle. The gold, which was in small, heavy wooden boxes, was transferred to a car of the other company, which is generally used for such purposes. There were 100 boxes in all. Each was supposed to contain $40,000, and weighed 158 1-2 pounds. The boxes were placed in portable burglar and fireproof safes, of which there were 12 in all. Eight guards watched over it when it left Kansas City. Attached to the same express train was a carload of silver bullion.

Barn Struck by Lightning.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Aug. 28.—Lightning struck a large barn belonging to George Lawson at East Montpelier in a heavy thunder shower last evening, and the barn was burned with all its contents.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Gertrude Connelly, a 10-year-old girl, died of hydrophobia at Malden, Mass.

The shutdown of the York mills at Biddeford, Me., is to continue indefinitely.

An insane man cut a man's throat at Fall River, Mass., and then committed suicide.

Twenty passengers were killed and perhaps 50 injured in two accidents on New York railroads.

Albert Carson, 30 years old, blew out his brains at Long Island, Portland harbor. He had been despondent.

The state of affairs at Weir City, Kan., between the strikers and working miners is growing more strained.

Alfred M. Olren was arrested for alleged felonious assault upon Mrs. Sophronia Carlson at Cranston, R. I.

Mrs. Della Ford of Manchester, N. H., was arrested for drunkenness. She fell and broke her neck in her cell and was found dead.

A negro named Thompson murderously assaulted another named Jenkins with a knife at the Toboggan Slide, a notorious resort in Portsmouth, N. H.

Mrs. William Kibbe has sued the borough of Stafford Springs, Conn., for $3000 damages for injuries received by falling on an icy sidewalk last January.

Emma Hall, a notorious character of Providence, tried to murder Ambrose Ward, her paramour, by cutting his throat with a knife. The woman is under arrest.

Among those who suffered most severely from the recent great storm were the peach growers of Connecticut. The best Connecticut peaches will be scarce and high this year.

Ex-Sheriff Silas H. Brigham of Lisbon, N. H., who has been contesting the election of Sheriff C. O. Hurlburt of Grafton county, N. H., has agreed to stop further proceedings, giving as his reasons that the expense is more than he is willing to bear.

THE WIZARD TALKS.

Edison Deserts Electrical Research For Mining.

DISGUSTED WITH PATENT LAWS.

Says He Is Not an Electrician—Has Got Tired of It.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The "wizard" Edison, has deserted electricity for mining. He is disgusted with the constant litigation growing out of his numerous patents upon electrical appliances and only asks now to be allowed to use his inventions in peace for his own purposes. At least, this is the way he talked to a reporter who has interviewed him in this city.

"I am not an electrician," said he in response to a question as to his latest doings in the field where he grew famous. "It is a mistake to call me an electrician. I use electricity as I would use anything else to help me forward in my work—just as you would pull yourself up a tree with a rope if you wanted to climb that way."

"You have certainly used it to some purpose?"

"Oh, yes; but I have been so many years working with electricity that I Have Got Sort of Tired of It."

His eyes left those of his visitor and wandered off into vacancy and his chin lapsed into the hollow of his hand. He was recalled from this excursion into space by the question:

"What new road are you blazing now in the field of discovery?"

"Mechanics and metallurgy are what seem to be in front now. There is just as large a field in improving means and methods and processes in all industrial departments as there is in the electrical line."

"Cheap electricity for power instead of steam?"

"Not exactly that at present, though I have spent a good deal of time looking into that matter and it will come in time. What I am after now is in a different direction."

"Anything in the patent line?"

Mr. Edison's eyes flashed at the word "patent," which seemed to act as a spur for the following reply: "The fact of the matter is that if one gets up a valuable improvement in an art he is

Jumped on by a Lot of People who have been brought into the business by expectations of great reward, and the result is there is no protection whatever for your invention."

"How's that?"

"It is right here: While the patent law is all right, and the intention of the government in granting patents is all right, the trouble lies in the circuit courts of the United States. Their method of procedure is such that by no possible means can an inventor ever get anything from his invention except by accident. The popular idea is that when a man gets a patent he is secure. That is the idea, too, among a great many inventors who have not had much experience, but among the real inventors of the country—the men who produce inventions of real value—the fact has been brought home to them that there is no protection for the inventor, and therefore a large number of them are gradually leaving the ranks and using their talent in the evolution of industrial processes not protected by patents, or where patents are not required."

"Have you dropped out of electrical invention altogether?"

"I am finishing up a number of remnants of old things, but I am not undertaking anything new. I am engaged in a number of chemical experiments for cheapening processes of manufacture in one or two industries, but these are in the nature of trade secrets, and I am glad to say

Do Not Require Patent."

"In the popular mind the principal thing now to be accomplished by inventors is electric power at small cost."

"If we can get electricity direct from coal that will be accomplished. The result with the present methods is that we get about 10 per cent in electricity where we should get 70 or 80. At present we have the investment in the boilers, the engines, the dynamo, the condensers and all the paraphernalia connected with them. If we can turn coal directly into electricity we have done away with the boilers, the engines, and about everything connected with them, and we get an electric motor with probably 80 per cent of the value of the coal. Such a thing as that would mean that coal bills of the large manufacturer would be reduced many per cent. The ocean steamship could run for much less than it cost now. It would make a grand change in almost everything connected with our daily life."

"Will it be done soon?"

"That I cannot say. The men who are competent to do it will not do it because of the peculiar procedure of the United States courts in regard to patents."

"May not some one of the million or more who are feeling around for it drop on it?"

"I do not think so, because I believe it will come as the result of a vast amount of experimenting by experts, and, as I said, few or none of these experts care to spend much time with it, because of their unfavorable experience in the courts."

Bishop McRedmond Dead.

DUBLIN, Aug. 28.—Most Rev. Thomas J. McRedmond, D. D., bishop of Killaloe, died in this city yesterday.

Damaged In a Collision.

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Aug. 28.—The schooner Jonathan Cone, Captain Sherman, arrived in port on Saturday, having lost her topmast and been otherwise damaged in a collision at Vineyard Haven on Tuesday last. The schooner was loaded with coal for this port and slowly proceeded on her course, reaching Salem just in time to escape the hurricane of Thursday last.

Hawley Pleads Guilty.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 28.—Judge Gould this morning held Thomas J. Hawley in $1000 for the grand jury. Hawley plead guilty to a charge of breaking and entering and larceny.

Carnegie at Williams.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 28.—Andrew Carnegie has sent a cable message from Scotland accepting an invitation to be present at the Williams college centennial in October next.

No New Line Contemplated.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 28.—Henry M. Whitney says there is nothing in the report from Bangor that he is contemplating starting a new line of steamers between New York and Bangor.

WHITE CITY WAIFS.

Fifty-eight different varieties of wood form an attractive exhibit by California at the World's fair.

Hereafter patrons of the intramural road can make a round trip on the line for 10 cents. Formerly it was 10 cents each way.

Samuel W. Jackson has taken possession of the Lapland village, he having been appointed receiver by the court on application of Colonel Culp.

MAN'S ESTATE.

Mr. Carl Schurz is writing a history of this country covering the decade between [illegible]

The Marquis of Salisbury always breakfasts at 9 o'clock. His meal consists of one poached egg and one rasher of bacon.

Lemuel Stevenson, for 20 years a clown with Barnum's and other circuses, has connected himself with the Salvation Army.

Ex-Governor Robert P. Kennedy of Ohio is to take the lecture platform next season, one of his subjects being "Abraham Lincoln."

Isaiah Goodman, 71 years old, a veteran of the Mexican war, enjoyed his first ride on a railroad train at Jefferson City, Mo., the other day.

Alfred Mace, a son of Jem Mace, the pugilist, is an evangelist and has been preaching 20 years. Built like his father, he is a strong man and said to be eloquent.

The wealthiest member of the St. Nicholas club of New York is W. K. Vanderbilt, who wears small English side whiskers and is at all times polite and agreeable.

Anthony Drexel Biddle, a grandson of the late A. J. Drexel, who comes into $1,000,000 under the will of the dead banker, is a reporter on the local staff of the Philadelphia Ledger.

It has been noted as a curious fact that the Siamese commodore, Armand Duplessis de Richelieu, bears the same name as did the great cardinal of France, who held the naval rank of admiral.

Hugh O'Donnell, chairman of the advisory committee of the Amalgamated workers during the Homestead riots, is now living in Chicago and doing editorial work on The Eight Hour Herald.

William McKenzie of Parish Mountain, New Brunswick, is the oldest person in the maritime provinces. He is now 108 years old and was married and had children when the battle of Waterloo was fought.

President Diaz of Mexico is a hard worker and has a hobby for collecting firearms of all ages and nations. He is a practical mechanic, having constructed all the furniture in his bedroom with implements of his own make.

Mr. Bayard Thayer of Boston belongs to more clubs than any other man at the Hub. He is a member of the Somerset, the Puritan, the Athletic, the Algonquin, the Eastern Yacht, the Country, the Myopia and the Union Boat club.

An example of the mutation of fortune occurred several days ago when the supervisors of Sonoma, Cal., made a special order placing Jonquin Carillo on the poor list at $10 a month. He was once one of the richest men in California.

A Liverpool policeman who, as he thought, swallowed a sixpence 18 years ago, recently had a severe pain in his throat. A fit of coughing came on, and the long lost coin, half of its original thickness, was released from his throat.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Dealings In Leading Securities In Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—In the outside market call money is quoted at 6 to 10 per cent, and time money is nominally 6 per cent.

The most important factor in the stock market at the present moment is the difficulty of securing time loans. The anticipated favorable action on the part of the house in the disposition of the Sherman law may send prices two or three points up, as the past week bears witness. The large imports of gold and the increasing bank note circulation may give rise to a more cheerful feeling. But until time loans can be obtained with readiness and at moderate rates the market will not expand beyond its present narrow professional limits and its fluctuations come to bear any real relations to the intrinsic value of the securities involved.

The local market opened weak and irregular. General Electric was still subjected to pressure. The common opened ⅝ down at 39½, weakened to 38⅝, and then strengthened to 39. The preferred was 1 weaker at 67, while the 5s were ½ up at 88. Sugar common fluctuated between 77½ and 78⅛, while the preferred held at 77½. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy opened irregular, the extremes of the forenoon being 78¾ and 77¼, with latter figure at noon. There was considerable activity in the 4s, the price holding steady, however, at 111½. Atchison opened ⅛ off at 18, and then dropped to 15⅝, while the 4s were up ⅜ to 71. Boston and Maine weakened from 135 to 134 and Union Pacific from 19 to 18⅝.

STOCKS—CLOSING.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	16¾
Bell Telephone	178
Boston and Albany	190
Boston and Maine	132
Bay State Gas	8½
Calumet	280
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	78¼
Fitchburg	73
Lamson Cash Railway	14@15
Erie Tel	38¼
General Electric	39¾
Mexican Central	6¾
New England Tel	50A
Old Colony	168
Pullman	147½
Sugar preferred	79¼
West End Land	13
West End R. R.	58
Wisconsin Central	5¼@5½

New York Stocks.

Canada Southern	46
Chicago Gas	55¼
Cotton Oil	28¾
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western	135
Erie	13¾
Lake Shore	115½
Louisville and Nashville	58¾
Manhattan	115¾
Michigan Central	84
Missouri Pacific	22¾
National Cordage	19¾
New Jersey Central	98
Northwestern	97
Northern Pacific	6½
New York Central	99¼
New York and New England	23¾
Pacific Mail	[illegible]
Reading	15¾
Rock Island	60¾
St. Paul	55
Sugar, com	80
Union Pacific	19¼
Western Union	78
Whisky	22¼

Chicago Provision Market.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—2 p. m.—Wheat opened firmer today, at 61½c for cash; 61@61¾c for August; 61¼@62¼c for September; 66@69½c for December; 75½c nominal for May.

Corn opened firm today at 37½c for cash; 37@37¼c for August; 37½@37¾c for September; 37¼@38¼c for October; 37¼@38½c for December; 40½@41¾c for May.

Oats opened firm today at 23½c for cash; 23½c for August; 23¼@23½c for September; 24@24¼c for October; 28@28½c for May.

Pork opened firm today; prices ranged mostly at $14.00 for cash; $14.00 for August; $13.85@14.00 for September; $13.85@14.15 for October; $12@12.10 for January.

Lard opened rather easy today at $8.15 for August; $8.10@8.15 for September; $7.95@8.02½ for October; $7.35@7.45 for January.

Short ribs opened easy today at $8 for cash; $7.85@8.70 for August; $7.85@8.10 for September; $7.85@8.15 for October, $6.95@7.00 for January.

Pork closed firm today, at $14.00@14.05 nominal for cash; $14.00@14.05 nominal for August; $13.90 bid for September, $14.05 for October; $12.15 bid for January.

Lard closed easy today at $8.15 for cash; $8.15 for August, $8.10 for September, $8.05 for October, [illegible] for January.

Short ribs closed firm today at $8.05 for cash; $8.05 for August, $8.05 for September, $7.82½ for October, $6.90 for January.

[illegible], Aug. 28—3 p. m.—Wheat closed [illegible] at 62c for cash; 62c for August; [illegible] for September; 69½c asked for December.

Corn closed firm today at 37½c for cash; 37½c for August; 37¾c for September; 37¾c for October; 37⅞c for December; 40¾@41¼c for May.

Oats closed easy today at 23½c for cash; 23½c for August; 23½c for September; 24½c for October; 28¼c for May.

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Cotton futures opened steady at the decline. September, 7.31c; October, 7.48c; November, 7.60c; December, 7.74c; January, 7.82c; February, 7.89c; March, 7.95; April, 8.02c; May, 8.10c; June, 8.15.

No Limit.

An exchange has a story of a wise son who knows not only his father, but his uncle.

"Johnny," said his teacher, "if your father can do a piece of work in seven days, and your Uncle George can do it in nine days, how long would it take both of them to do it?"

"They'd never get it done," said Johnny. "They'd sit down and tell fish stories."—Youth's Companion.

A History of Crime.

"In the Gloaming."
"Silver Threads Among the Gold."
"My Grandfather's Clock."
"White Wings."
"Sweet Violets."
"Annie Rooney."
"Down Went McGinty."
"Comrades."
"Ta-ra-ra Boom-de-ay."
"After the Ball."—Chicago Record.

They Sympathized.

The girls were admiring a statuette of Andromeda, which was labeled "Executed In Terra Cotta."

"Where is Terra Cotta?" asked one of them, with probably some vague idea of Terra del Fuego.

"I'm sure I do not know," was the reply, "but I pity the poor girl, wherever it is."—Young People.

The Cotton Belt, St. Louis Southwestern, has established a through buffet sleeping car service between Waco, Tex., and Chicago via Cairo and the Illinois Central line.

"I DO NOT EAT PASTRY!"

How often you hear this expression, and the explanation that usually follows: "I am troubled with dyspepsia." The explanation is not far to seek. In the past Lard has been used as the principal shortening in all pastry, the result—dyspepsia. The dyspeptic need no longer be troubled, providing is substituted for lard in the preparation of all food. It is composed strictly of highly refined vegetable oil and beef suet. When used as shortening, it produces wholesome and healthful pastry. Physicians and expert cooks indorse it. Refuse substitutes.

COTTOLENE

Send three cents in stamps to N. K. Fairbank & Co., Chicago, for handsome Cottolene Cook Book containing six hundred recipes, prepared by nine eminent authorities on cooking.

Cottolene is sold by all grocers.

Made only by
N. K. FAIRBANK & CO.,
CHICAGO, and
Produce Exchange, N. Y.,
[illegible] State Street, Boston.

MISCELLANEOUS.

"MY PROPOSITION"

is to write up a $5,000 Life Insurance Policy on any good risk if the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL does not pay the largest DIVIDENDS, CASH VALUES and PAID-UP INSURANCE, (PARTICIPATING above a 3 Per Cent. Reserve) than any other company.

W. H. PROTHERO, - - Agent.

THAYERS DYE WORKS,
John F. Amburn, Proprietor, [illegible] Boswell ave.

All kinds of Dyeing promptly done. Bed blankets thoroughly cleaned. Ladies' and Gent's garments dyed in the best possible manner.

Watering Silk a Specialty.
Orders left with J. H. MYERS at Circulating Library, No. 164 Main St
will receive prompt attention.

Thousands of Families eat it regularly for breakfast.

Wheat Germ.

As delicious in Summer as it is in Winter. . .

Alonzo H. Converse,
PAINTER.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging. Wall Tinting in all its branches.
148 Little Water St.
Graining done for the trade.

INTERIOR and EXTERIOR Decorative House Painting.
D. S. UNDERWOOD,
Residence 125 Franklin St.

REMOVAL.
We have removed
From 11 to 31 Chestnut St.,
Where we have superior facilities for doing all kinds of work in our line.
Steam Carpet Cleaning.
Ladies' garments, cloth of all descriptions dyed. Dying feathers a specialty. Promptness and thoroughness guaranteed.
WILSON BROS.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Five Gallon Oil Can.
LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,
31 Water St.,
AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

GROCERIES.

FILL YOUR Lunch Baskets
—AT—
RALLION'S.
[illegible] Broadway, Central Building.

FRUIT JARS.
Mason's Improved.
A. T. OTIS.

WE'RE STILL HERE!
AT [illegible] FRANKLIN STREET,
AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE.
Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or greenbacks. Come and see us and bring the children.
H. D. AVERY.

Kingan Hams.
The BEST Ham in the world 15c lb. Every Ham warranted.
J. A. STODDARD & SON.,
[illegible] Franklin St.

Cliquot Club Ginger Ale,
Cowdry's Deviled Meats,
Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken
—AT—
R. S. BARTLETT'S,
4 and 6 Broad Opera House.

Concentrated Claret Lemonade
Lime Juice and
Imported Ginger Ales, at
A. L. ALLEN'S

MARKETS

LAMB and CHICKEN
—AT—
J. D. Murphy's,
MARKET STREET.

LOOK!

Porterhouse Steak	20c.
Sirloin	18c.
Round	12c.
Shoulder	10c.

How can I do this? Why, because I have my meats shipped to me directly from the west in carload lots. [illegible] Don't let anyone [illegible] that the quality of my goods is not equal to any in the market. Try them and be convinced.

JAMES DAWSON, JR.,
144 VALLEY ST., Willimantic, Conn. 39 MAIN ST., Norwich.

J. H. GARDINER, JR., D. V. S.
VETERINARIAN,
Office—Chapman's Stables, 11 Bath Street. Telephone [illegible]

HORSES
TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES
at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St. by the veterinary, DR. H. E. [illegible], graduate from Ontario Veterinary College.

CAUTION.
There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. [illegible] in Norwich.
C. E. TRAFTON, Mgr.
REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO.
Office 22 Shetucket St., Norwich Ct.

THE TIME TO BUY IS WHEN THE OTHER FELLOW WANTS TO SELL

WE WANT TO SELL
OFFICE STATIONERY WILL NEVER BE CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,
BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin office for Printing of all kinds and fine work at living prices.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

BUY THE LATEST HIT!
WHAT?
THE NEW TOPICAL SONG!
WHICH?
"HE SLIPPED HIS TROLLEY!!"
WHERE?
AT THE MUSIC STORES!
WHY?
Because Everybody is Singing and Whistling It! aug28d

WANTED—A position as Second Girl or to do General Housework. Inquire at this office. aug28d

FOUND—A sum of money. Owner can have same by calling on A. S. Kingsbury, proving property and paying for this advertisement. aug28d

THE
BOSTON STORE

French Sateens and Scotch Ginghams Reduced in Price.

We offer the balance of our Fine French Sateens and Scotch Ginghams at 12 1-2c a yard. They are reduced from 25c and 37 1-2c.

Reid & Hughes.

MILLINERY.

Brown Trimmed Sailors
69c.
A fine Hat for early Fall or School wear.

T. E. McCLENATHAN,
Wholesale and Retail.

NORWICH FREE ACADEMY.
Opening of Fall Term.

Normal Department Opens Tuesday, Sept. 5

Candidates who have not seen Miss Carlisle are requested to do so at the Slater Memorial building, on Saturday, Sept. 2, or Monday, Sept. 4, between 4 and 5.30 p. m.

Art School Opens Tuesday, Sept. 26.

For full information as to the various courses address Miss A. V. V. Brown, or inquire at the Slater Memorial building. Entrance examinations to the Free Academy will be held on Monday, Sept. 11, and Tuesday, Sept. 12, commencing at 9 a. m. Candidates conditioned last June in Spelling, Grammar or Geography will present themselves on Monday; those conditioned in Arithmetic or U. S. History on Tuesday. Old pupils of the Academy will make up omitted or deficient examinations on Tuesday.
aug28d ROBERT P. KEEP, Principal.

Do You Know Any One Who is Hard to Suit?

Bring him in. We can make all sorts of Suits for the different kinds of days to be lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable.
GEO. T. CLARK,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 6, Shannon Block. jy1d

REMOVAL.
OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN
OCULIST and AURIST,
To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.

Special attention given to correcting all forms of abnormal vision with proper Spectacles or Eye Glasses. No fee charged in such cases except in ASTIGMATISM or where it is necessary to prescribe in addition to fitting glasses.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Tuesday August 29, 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before 6 a. m.

Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co.

The Weather Today.

Indications for Connecticut: Fair weather; westerly winds.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

The schooner Texas is unloading at Stoddard's wharf.

Mr. William Burke of Preston lost a valuable horse Monday from lung fever.

Fred B. Comstock of New London has entered in the September races of the Norwich Wheel club.

Workmen are repairing the ferry slip at New London damaged by the Col. Ledyard in last week's storm

The Westerly Fat Men's association will weigh themselves and eat clams and watermelons at Wightman's pond next Tuesday.

The yacht Ferguson, Johnson of Montville, owner, is not badly damaged as reported, but can be hauled off easily by Capt. Scott.

The Bridgeport Union says: "The Rev. E. G. Selden of Springfield, Mass., preached an eloquent sermon at the North church Sunday."

Recently appointed Connecticut postmasters are Mrs. J. M. Bnell at Bantam; J. J. Linskey at Union City; W. H. Colepaugh at Woodbury.

The daily average of volumes issued from the Providence public library last week was 286 The Otis library issues on an average 200 daily.

There was a notable exodus from Fishers Island Monday. The Munnatawket brought over more trunks than passengers on her morning trip.

Mr. Frederick Verplank, a former Norwich student, has been appointed superintendent of the North district school, South Manchester, Conn.

The Crandall peach orchard at Mystic was badly shaken up by the gale last Thursday and between one and two hundred bushels of the fruit was ruined.

Representative Burlingame of Canterbury was one of the guests at Judge Lynde Harrison's swell dinner at his summer place at Leete's Island, Saturday.

Burglars in Palmertown last week stole ten bushels of potatoes from the cellar of Michael Murphy's house, and $75 from a bureau in the house of Mrs. Mary Woodmansee.

A teamster, who was carting the body of a cow through Greeneville Monday morning, stopped at a grocery store and exchanged some two-for-a-quarter cigars for five centers.

Mr. Caleb B. Tillinghast, of the Massachusetts state library, who is a native of Plainfield, has an interesting paper in the September Forum entitled: "Books and Readers in Public Libraries."

The steamer Gypsy is well patronized daily, especially on the afternoon trips. The patronage of this boat warrants Capt. Smith in running well into September if the weather be hot enough to require it.

Capt. Thomas A. Scott of New London went out to Niantic Monday morning to examine the wrecked schooner in the bay there with a view to raising her at an early day, if the conditions are at all favorable.

Patrick Connors was presented before Judge Hugh King in Preston Monday morning for breach of the peace. As Connors has three children and a wife who is ill, he was released on his promise to keep sober.

Miss Winnie Fitch of this city, who graduated from the Free Academy Normal school and taught successfully in Groton last year, goes to Red Bank, N. J., next week to take an advantageous position in a primary school.

The team stolen from Gee's stable on East Main street, early Saturday morning, was found Monday in Buffan's stable at New London. Arthur Leary, the thief, is probably on the way to the World's fair. The turnout has been returned to its owner.

The steamer Block Island tied up at her wharf in this city an hour late, Monday night, owing to the heavy fog on the sound. The landings at Mystic Island and Watch Hill were made with difficulty and between Watch Hill and Block Island the fog horn was used frequently.

The theaters in some Connecticut cities, remarks The New London Day, seems to be better than the places deserve. Neither Norwich nor New London can make them pay, and now New Britain, which city recently erected a new one, finds that the dear public are not willing to support it.

The Ella carried an unusually large number of passengers Monday morning. A dense fog was encountered in the lower part of the river; and its shade and with a stiff breeze, the passengers could think complacently of their sweltering friends up the stream. The majority of the passengers went to Watch Hill.

Letters mailed in foreign lands without postage are subject to collections of double rates when delivered here. The letter carriers report that the poor in this city seem to have hard work to scrape together even the pennies to get their letters from Ireland. Monday the head of one family broke open the children's savings bank for the coppers.

Sudden Death of Joshua S. York.

Mr. Joshua York died suddenly at his home in Preston at about 10 o'clock Monday evening. He was a carpenter by trade and a very well known resident. He was seventy-two years old and had always led an upright life, being much respected by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and son, Irving S. York.

New London Walkers.

Tyler Earl received a letter Friday from Elgin, Erie Co., Pa., which says: "Your father requested me to write you and say that he is in good health and enjoying himself. He has walked thirty-three miles today, has just had lunch and is going to bed." It is signed by J. Disbrow, postal clerk.

New London's young pedestrian, Herbert Williams, has not been heard from for some time, and his friends think that he has made up his mind not to write until he reaches Chicago, where he is nearly due if his plans have been carried out.

Death of W. B. Bennett.

The death of William B. Bennett occurred at noon Monday at the Wauregan house, where he was employed as head waiter. Death resulted from peritonitis after a short illness. Mr. Bennett was formerly a steward on the steamer City of Lawrence and was born in Dublin. He was a member of Seaside Council, No. 3, K. of C., of New London, and the Ancient Order of Foresters. His mother and a brother survive him.

During Mr. Bennett's illness he was attended by George L. Roath, the nurse, whom Landlord F. R. Parker procured at his own expense.

Personal.

James Drew is visiting his brother in Norwalk.

Mr. L. D. Armstrong of East Hampton is being entertained by his college friend, Mr. E. W. Bishop.

Misses Natalie and Isabel Huntington of Washington, D. C., are with Miss Ruth Huntington of Broadway.

Officer W. S. Doty takes his annual vacation, beginning this morning. He will go to South Wareham, Mass., for a week's stay.

Walter A. Ingalls and wife have returned from a twelve days' outing trip through Connecticut river towns in this state and Massachusetts.

Veterinary Surgeon H. L. Tower returned Monday night from North Adams where he was suddenly called on business. He had a pleasant visit in his former home.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

EIGHT BELLS

Brothers Byrne Open the Season Successfully in Broadway Theatre.

"Eight Bells," funnier, brighter and better than ever, played to all the people that the house could hold in the Broadway theatre Monday evening. Long before 8 o'clock the box office had ceased selling anything but general admission, and by the opening hour the house was crowded to the doors and beyond. It was a great night for all concerned.

The Brothers Byrne, that merry band of fun makers, renewed their olden triumphs, while the supporting members of the troupe appeared to excellent effect. From the rollicking and frisky horse to the inimitable four in the well-constructed and mad merriment of their ship scene, appear really better things than last season. The large audience was in holiday humor, and enjoyed to the full the neat and clever dancing, the wonderful whistling of Mr. Mettler, the clever balancing of Matthew Byrne, the light comedy touches of Helene Byrne, the catchy, snappy songs of the quartette, and the collapsing house, which is an acceptable innovation in specialties.

The new song, "He Slipped His Trolley," proved timely and taking, and promises to be a decided hit.

In Memoriam.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, the Chief Ranger of the Universe, to remove so suddenly from our midst our beloved brother William B. Bennett.

Whereas, The intimate relation held by our deceased brother with the members of this court render it proper that we should place on record our appreciation of his services as a Forester and his merits as a man.

Whereas, By his death his parents and relatives have been deprived of a loving son, a good and true friend; therefore be it

Resolved, That, while we recognize the Divine will of Him who doeth all things, and while we humbly bow in submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been called from his labors to everlasting rest.

Resolved, That this Court tender its heartfelt sympathy to the family and relatives of our deceased brother in this, their sad affliction.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions be presented to the bereaved family and a copy be spread on the minutes of this court and also be published in The American Forester, Norwich Morning Bulletin and Norwich Evening Record.

Signed:

JOHN MAHAR, PHILIP E. KENDRICK, ROBERT J. GALLIGAN,	Committee.

OFFICERS APPOINTED

For the Rose of New England Wheel Club's Races on Labor Day.

The following officials for the Rose of New England Wheel club's races Labor day have been appointed:

Referee—W. A. Howell, president of Rockville Wheel club, Rockville, Conn.

Judges—A. H. Chase of R. N. E. Wheel club, Norwich; D. H. Baker, Thread City cyclers, Willimantic; A. A. Young, Jr., Yaqui Wheel club.

Timers—A. W. Tilley, Norwich; C. J. Royce, Willimantic; J. C. Whittlesey, Rockville.

Starter—J. C. Quinlan, Norwich.

Scorers—John E. Fanning, I. E. Jones, Louis W. Rose.

Clerk of Course—John M. Lee.

Assistants—Chas. Parsons, George W. Rudd.

Handicapper East Connecticut Club—Charles J. Royce, Willimantic, Conn.

Umpires—E. F. Hicks, Willimantic, H. M. Kutner, Norwich.

Announcer—E. R. Corey.

Track Committee—C. L. Swan, W. H. Buteau.

Ushers—J. H. Morgan, Jr., J. W. Caddes, W. B. Young, Jr., W. H. Covey, Jr.

EDUCATIONAL CHANGES

Made in the Central District.

Pupils at Broad street school will hereafter be fitted there for the academy. Previously, after the scholars had finished at Broad street they went to the Broadway school for two years. Another teacher has now been placed in the Broad street school and, with a slight rearrangement of the course, the students will be as advanced in the senior room as at Broadway. All the teachers at Broad street will instruct the normal scholars at certain hours of the day, and during their absence from their regular duties an assistant teacher will substitute.

Besides the kindergarten the two lower rooms will find quarters in Dr. Keep's old home. The schools in the central district will be arranged in grades instead of classes as last year. The lowest grade will be one and the highest will be nine.

Better ventilation has been procured for the Broad street school house, and new windows have been cut through on the south side.

SPLIT ON THE COLOR LINE.

Southern Epworth Leaguers May Secede if Negroes are Kept In.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 28.—President W. D. Caldwell of the Memphis Epworth league has received a dispatch from the proprietor of the Hotel Endeavor at Chicago stating that he did not entertain negroes, and offering to furnish accommodations for the members of the local union who visit the World's fair next week. The offer was accepted.

The feeling against the Hotel Epworth is very bitter, and the action of Memphis in boycotting it will be indorsed by all the leagues in the south. Unless the northern leagues throw the colored brother overboard the southerners will undoubtedly secede. Telegrams have been received from leagues in several other cities indorsing the stand taken by Memphis.

House Bill to Repeal the Sherman Act Reported to Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The house bill to repeal the Sherman act was reported to the senate at 3 50 and was referred to the finance committee—Mr. Voorhees stating that there would be a meeting of that committee tomorrow and, that there would be prompt action on the bill in connection with the measure already reported from the finance committee.

Pawtucket Mills Resume Work.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 28.—The two mills of the Quidnick Manufacturing company at Quidnick closed Saturday for a week. Some of the mills in Manville have resumed work, and others have closed. The Slater and Lorraine mills in Pawtucket started in today.

Five Persons Drowned.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—A special to The Times says: The yacht Alpha capsized near Elm Point, Lake Champlain, today, and Capt. G. P. Wetherbee, Willie Braidner, Whitman Brush and persons named Gildea and Joubert were drowned. The boat sank about a third of a mile from the shore in twenty feet of water. Joseph [illegible] swam ashore.

Killed His 5 Year Old Daughter.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 28.—Frank H. Sheffield aged about 43 years, a prominent prohibitionist and educator of Westerly, killed his 5 year old daughter Margaret at Rocky Point, about 4 o'clock this afternoon. The man was arrested and taken to East Greenwich. The prisoner has been mentally unbalanced for some time and has just recovered from a severe attack of erysipelas.

DIED.

KELLAS—In this city, suddenly, August 28, Walter, son of James H. and Mary M. Kellas, aged 12 years, 2 months and 3 days. Notice of funeral hereafter.

HARTY—In Norwich, Aug. 27, Wm. Harty. Funeral from his residence, White St., Tuesday morning, Aug. 29, at 8.15. Services at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock.

YORK—In Preston, Aug. 28, Joshua S. York, aged 72 years. Notice of funeral hereafter.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DOG LOST—On Sunday night, Aug. 27, an Irish Setter, dark yellow with white spot on his head. Finder will be rewarded by returning him to 162 Forest St.

DR. N. P. SMITH,
Office No. 8 Broadway.
Hours 11 a. m., 12 m., 4.30 to 5.30 p. m.
aug8d RESIDENCE 233 MAIN ST.

WANTED
A BOY TO CARRY PAPERS AND WORK IN THE STORE.
aug28d CRANSTON & CO.

WHY DO
Ferris Hams and Bacon
Lead all other Sugar-Cured Hams in quality and flavor?
Because they are the Best.
Insist on having them. If your butcher don't keep them, call at
C. D. BROWNING & CO.'S,
aug24d No. 10 SIXTH STREET.

No Notice Required.

Duggan's Soda Fountain
Is prepared to stand all runs upon it by depositors of 5 cents and upwards. Its draughts are pronounced by all as good as gold.

DUGGAN'S SODA FOUNTAIN,
aug8d 88 MAIN ST.

HORTON'S
WORLD-RENOWNED
—ICE CREAM—
FRESH THIS TUESDAY MORNING.
I wish to apologize to the public for not being able to supply the great rush for Horton's Ice Cream during the last few days, but will endeavor to have a big supply during the remainder of the season.
One quart boxes 40 cts. One pint 25 cts.
J. C. PERKINS,
aug29TuThSaw Confectioner.

HO! FOR THE BICYCLE RACES.
Everybody come!
Why, sure!
We'll all be there!
Then let the eagle scream! Let him soar into the deepest blue of the American heavens and from azure height he can be heard in the north, south, east and west, crying
"ATTEND THE RACES!"

FIRST ANNUAL MEET
—OF THE—
Rose of New England Wheel Club,
Fair Grounds, Norwich,
Monday, (LABOR DAY) Sept. 4.
$500 in Prizes!
More than 100 entries. All the crack riders of Connecticut are entered, and many others besides.
ADMISSION TO THE GROUNDS 25 CENTS.
LADIES FREE. aug29TuThSM

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOR SALE.
Household Furniture
As good as new. Just the thing for some one going to housekeeping. Address A. B., care Bulletin. aug28d

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE
Norwich, Conn.
EARL M. SWIFT,
And Assistant-Teachers of Ability and Experience.
Fall Term Begins
Tuesday, Sept. 5
On and after Aug. 15 the College office will be open from 8.30 to 9.30 to receive applicants for membership. aug15daw

No. 10.
THIS MORNING I shall unload a fancy car of PEACHES.
J. C. WORTH.
aug29TuF

OLIVES IN BULK AND BOTTLES
—OF—
Different Styles and Quality
—AT—
WELCOME A. SMITH
aug28d

WORTH TRYING.
—AN—
ICE CREAM
Made From Pure Cream
From the Makers Own Dairy.
EVERY KNOWN FLAVOR.
KEEPS HARD ONE HOUR.
QUART BRICKS, 40c. PINTS, 25c
N. D. SEVIN & SON.
aug28daw

LIVE LOBSTERS,
Soft Crabs and Little Neck Clams
TO DAY AT POWERS BROTHERS'.
Telephone 125-4. aug28d

NO OLD STOCK.
Two Big Drives
New Windsor Ties, 15c; worth 25c.
Lisle Thread Hose, 25c; worth 40c.
—AT—
HOUGH'S NEW STORE,
aug28d OPP. WAUREGAN HOTEL.

FOR SIGNS OR AWNINGS
It Will Pay You to See J. W. MALLETT
108 Broadway, next to Theatre.

PAPER BY THE POUND.
15c. Buys a Good Quality.
CALL AND SEE IT!
LOVELL BROS,
aug28TuThSat WEST SIDE.

DIAMONDS
Mounted and repaired in first-class shape.
W. B. ROBERTSON,
227 Main Street.
may9TuThS Over N. L. R. R. Office.

THIN COATS AND -VESTS-
Dodge & Holloway.
aug21TuThS

L. A. GALLUP,
Wholesale Grocer.
AT No. 31 WATER STREET
Norwich, Conn.
Sells at the lowest prices a Full and general line of GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS
including Tea, Coffee, Spices, Molasses, Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Flour, Wheatena, Cottolene, Worcester Salt, London Parlor and other Matches, Etc., Etc. There is no cheaper or better place in Norwich to buy Groceries. Gentlemanly service and prompt deliveries guaranteed. aug8TThS

W. & S. ROOT BEER EXTRACT
Is made from the best selected materials. It contains Spikenard, Prince's Pine, Wintergreen, Dandelion, Sassafras, Gentian, Ginger, Sweet Birch and Sarsaparilla, and is equal in strength and flavor to any brand whatever. One bottle makes 5 gallons of Delicious Root Beer.
WOODWORTH & SMALL,
West Side Drug Store.
jy18TuThSaw

—THE—
Central Baptist Church,
UNION SQUARE.
REV. J. D. HERR, D. D. Pastor;
Residence 45 Church Street.
Public Services, to which all are cordially invited: Sunday 10.30 a. m.—7.30 p. m. Bible school Sunday 12 m. Young People's Meeting 6.30 p. m. Prayer Meeting Thursdays 7.30 p. m. Seats rented by the month. Persons desiring sittings may apply on any week day, or on Sunday to the undersigned Seat Rental Committee:
CHARLES E. WHITNEY,
E. G. SMITH,
aug8TuThS CHARLES D. NOYES.

ESTIMATES FOR ALL KINDS OF PRINTING furnished on application to this office

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,
CALL AT
FRISWELL'S,
who has had 20 years experience, and latest improved method, and be properly fitted with Spectacles and Eye Glasses.
jy29d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels,
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.
Collins Turbine Machine Co.
je8d

Appropriate to the Times
Is the announcement that
WHITNEY,
Of 41 Broadway,
In the Central building,
will sell the new goods now arriving almost daily at the same low bargain prices he has been getting for his old stock.
This is no time for large profits, and if you want anything at all in China, Glassware, Tinware and House-Furnishing Goods, you can save money by buying at
— WHITNEY'S —
Try and See!
Free delivery of goods throughout the city and suburbs. aug28daw

TRUNKS, BAGS, STRAPS.
And, in fact, Everything that the traveler needs can be found in good variety at Alling Brothers,
aug28daw Broad Opera House Block.

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK!
A. PLAUT,
The well-known Bargain Dealer, will commence MONDAY, Aug. 28th, to close out the balance of his Bicycles regardless of value or cost. Headquarters at 22 Main St. aug28d

WHY NOT EXCHANGE?
You Want Fruit Jars
We Want Money,
And have made our prices on Fruit Jars so low that it will be to your advantage to make the exchange with us.
SMITH BROS.
aug28d

LOOK OUT
—FOR—
FRUIT JARS!
Preston Bros.
SELL THEM CHEAP.
aug28d

IT'S A FACT!
No other Pants have had the success of
CANTBUSTEM PANTS
This success is due to their wearing qualities and it also proves the truth of our warrant that they NEVER RIP!
We have some great big bargains in Suits.
The Manhattan Clothing Co.,
aug28TuFew 110 MAIN STREET.

Men's Heavy Grain Shoes	$1 25
Men's Fine Calf Shoes	2 00
Men's Patent Leather Shoes	2 50
Boys' School Shoes	1 25
Youths' School Shoes	1 00
Ladies' Cloth-Top Button Boots	2 25
Ladies' Fine Dongola Patent-Tip Boots	2 00
Ladies Open Slippers	50
Misses' Kid Spring-Heel Shoes	1 00

—AT—
Herren'S,
Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's.
Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug28d

All Kinds Of
Picture Frames
And an elegant line of FRAMED
—AND—
- UNFRAMED PICTURES -
Can be found at
M. J. Farrell's
Art Parlors,
61 Broadway.

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,
HAMMOCKS. CHEAP.
At PITCHER & MAINE'S
jy29d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

7%
Guaranteed Bond Certificates.
UNITED STATES
SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY,
Paid in Capital.............. $1,300,000
Subscribed Capital........... $5,500,000
An Absolutely Safe Investment.
Desirable for Personal Trust Funds, etc.
Denominations $1,000, $4,000 and $10,000.
E. G. RACE and GEO. S. SMITH, GEN. AGTS.,
Office 9 Shannon Building, Norwich.
aug12TuF

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,
13 Washington Street.
GENERAL PRACTICE AND THE EYE.
Office hours: 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 p. m. Telephone 23—3. may12d

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With
SURE KILL FLY PAPER.
5 Cents a Package.
-Steiner's Pharmacy-
aug24d SHANNON BUILDING.

The Last Week of Our
BLUE LETTER SALE.
A few more bargains added to our list:
Sterling Silver Hat Pins at 10c. each.
Silver Enameled Stick Pins, 10c each.
Ladies' Fast Black Seamless Hose 15c. a pair worth 25c.
Ladies' Wrappers 98c, reduced from $1.25.
" " 75c " " $1.25.
" " $1.00 " " $1.50.
Only a few of each price left. Stamped Tray Covers and Splashers at 5c. each.
White, Black and Colored Sailor Hats at c. each.
Also big reduction in Infant outfits.
B. GOTTHELF & CO.
125 MAIN STREET.
aug24d Wholesale and Retail.

SEASONABLE GOODS.
THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF
Refrigerators!
Ever shown in Norwich, of the Best Makes and at Reduced Prices.
WE CARRY THE LARGEST LINE OF
-OIL STOVES-
In this Section of the State. Also
Gasolene Stoves
Lawn Mowers.
Better and cheaper than ever. Call and see them before you buy.
J. P. BARSTOW & CO.
HEADQUARTERS for all Housekeeping and Farmers' Supplies.
23 and 25 Water Street, Norwich.

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at
HOTEL SOUTH SHORE
On Lake Michigan, four blocks from the entrance to
The World's Fair Grounds.
One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls.
All for $36.00.
R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with or without Hotel accommodations by
E. P. TURNER, 187 E. Broad St.,
aug16d Norwich, Conn.

TO RENT.
A Large Store No. 108 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St., formerly occupied by T. H. Eldredge as a Hardware store. For further particulars, call on or address NICHOLAS TARRANT, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, 8 Main street. aug28d

CROCKER'S
Magical Stomach Powders
Have been known to cure the much-dreaded Kidney trouble. In its incipient state the disease readily gives way before them. Always safe to take, no matter what the complaint or time of taking. jy1d

CLOTHING

THE PUBLIC
Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in Men's and Children's FALL SUITS!
—AT—
MURPHY & McGARRY.
aug15d

FOOT WEAR

We are determined to close out all Summer Shoes before Sept. 1st, and in order to do this have made the price low enough to insure a ready sale.
Frank A. Bill,
aug15daw 104 MAIN STREET.

LADIES!
Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3.00. Call and see them
Geo. W. Kies & Co.
aug15daw

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11,687 NORWICH, CONN. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 30, 1893—SIX PAGES SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

THIS MORNINGS NEWS.

City and Vicinity.

Fair and slightly warmer weather, followed by cooler at night.

The Baseball Season.

The hurricane on time—Damage in different parts of the city.

Two New London men drowned at Pleasure Beach.

Another burglary in town.

People who come and go.

The effects of the storm in Putnam.

A reception to Arthur Abell in [illegible].

A sketch of B. A. Buck, editor of The Spirit of the Times.

A barber rule his cardplayer.

Funeral of Mr. Bennett of the Wauregan house.

Reunion of the Bishop family.

State.

Connecticut reports of the great gale.

A requisition made on Governor Flower by Governor Morris.

Norton's story considered fishy.

The Bridgeport savings bank.

General.

The West India hurricane plays a second engagement.

Serious fire at Rockaway beach.

The [illegible] murder.

A St. Bernard dog tied and left to starve.

Congressional doings.

[illegible]

Warrant out for the arrest of Emma Goldman, the female anarchist.

Boston market quotations.

Death of a pioneer shoemaker.

Oliver Wendell Holmes celebrates his 84th birthday.

A cholera laden steamer sailing the Atlantic.

Late news about the great gale.

Yacht Nourmahal on the rocks.

SPECIAL.

USE

Shipman's

CARBOLIC

OINTMENT,

The most healing preparation in the world

FOR MAN OR BEAST.

For sale by all druggists. jeb4

DO NOT

SLUMBER

UNTIL YOU HAVE

Dr. Hough's

COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM

[illegible]

Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc

[illegible]

Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers jeb4w

FREE

Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.

ELIXIR OF LIFE

The great family medicine,

guaranteed to cure

HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,

SICK-HEADACHE,

DYSPEPSIA,

And all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by

LEE & OSGOOD. sep8daw

Sick Headache

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose, 40 in a vial. Purely Vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1.

Carter MedicineCo., Proprietors,

NEW YORK.

Sold by all Druggists. sep8daw

Most People Like to Know

The name of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.

Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure

IS THE BEST. TRY IT.

Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.

[illegible] At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD.

A man can sell almost anything if he wi'l make the price low enough. The trouble is, that most of the so-called bargains are cheaply made to start with. We offer the balance of our Summer Stock—good materials and well made—at figures that ought to make trade.

R. D. JONES & SON,

[illegible] Tailors, ... 126 MAIN ST

(over C. C. Bliss'.) aug26d

Norwich Line to New York.

Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 9.25 and 9.56 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.

Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 9 p. m., for New York.

Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 6.

For state-rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 58 Shetucket street. Telephone call 143-3.

THOMAS CLARK, President.

O. L. JOHNSON, JR.,

Secretary and Treasurer.

je6dd

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,

VETERINARIAN,

Office 16 Bath Street. Office hours 1.30-3.

mar21d Telephone 133-32.

LATEST NEWS ABOUT THE GALE.

Southern Cities Suffer Severely—Charleston, S. C., Flooded.

PHOSPHATES WORKS RUINED.

Most Destructive Storm Ever Experienced in That Section.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 29.—A passenger train on the Atlantic Coast line reached here this evening from Charleston, S. C., having been detained twenty-four hours by the storm.

Express Messenger Beddis, who was in charge, says the wind began at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon and continued without cessation until Monday morning at 7 o'clock. There was not fifty yards space in the streets that did not contain debris, such as roofs of houses, signs, awnings, telegraph poles, etc., which were scattered in all directions.

The roof of the St. Charles hotel was blown off and the streets were flooded with water almost to its doors. Fourteen box cars were blown from their track and turned over. All the phosphate works in the city were blown down or badly damaged.

While Mr. Beddis saw no one killed or injured, it was said that eight people had been killed in the city. It was also rumored that there had been great loss of life on Sullivan's island, report placing the number in the hundreds, but as all communication was cut off there was no means of verifying the report. For many miles along the Atlantic coast line the telegraph poles were nearly all blown down. The storm was one of the most destructive ever experienced in this section.

IN CONNECTICUT.

Wind 57 Miles at New Haven—Factory Unroofed—Workman Injured.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 29.—The fierce storm which has been raging in the south and gathering force as it came north, reached New Haven this morning. It began at about 3.30 this morning, a moderate gale of twenty-five miles an hour springing up. At 8 o'clock this morning the wind had increased in velocity and was whirling along at the abnormal rate of fifty-seven miles an hour. This velocity is much greater than during the fierce storm of last week. The wind was south, while last week it was east.

Early this morning the wind demolished part of the roof of the carriage factory of the Henry Hooker company on State street. John Anderson, a workman who was on the top floor of the factory at the time, was struck by part of the roof and was badly injured otherwise. He was removed to the hospital.

Big Blow at Putnam.

PUTNAM, Conn., Aug. 29.—A severe thunder storm and a pocket-edition of a cyclone visited this town today and did considerable damage. After 6 o'clock in the morning the wind increased in violence and blew a hurricane, twisting off big limbs from the trees. In the upper village two large oak trees were uprooted. The sidewalk on Elm street was impassable part of the day, due to the falling of an elm tree. Great damage is reported to the fruit crop in Woodstock, Killingly and neighboring towns. Many apple and pear trees were completely stripped of their fruit.

Considerable Damage Done at Hartford.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 29.—A heavy southeast wind storm accompanied with rain has prevailed in this section of the state since early this morning. Considerable damage has been done in blowing over trees, signs and chimneys. The flagstaff on the tower of the Cheney building, one of the highest buildings in the city, was blown down about 10 o'clock this morning. The rain ceased about 9 o'clock, but the high wind has continued. The spires of the Fourth Congregational church and the St. John's Episcopal church were rocked violently by the wind and were at one time in great danger of falling, but withstood the great strain.

Over in East Hartford many large trees were uprooted. In the Hockanum district twenty feet of the trolley wire of the electric railway to Glastonbury was brought down by the fall of a large tree. The current was shut off for three hours. All telegraph wires running out of the city have been down since early morning, and a great many electric lighting wires are down.

At Birmingham—Fortunate Escape from Death.

BIRMINGHAM, Conn., Aug. 29.—Mrs. William Palmer and son of Derby Neck were driving through Amesbury avenue early this morning when a huge limb was blown from a tree and fell squarely across their carriage, pinning both occupants down. The woman was struck on the head and received a bad scalp wound, her shoulder was dislocated and it is feared that she is hurt internally. The boy's injuries were only a few scratches on his face.

Sam Abbot, a driver for Liveryman Alling, was taking a party of Sisters of Mercy to the depot, this morning, when his horses ran into a fire-alarm wire stretched across the street, and were thrown down. The wire crossed the trolley wire of the street cars and both horses were badly burned before they could be released. Several men who took hold of the wires to relieve them were shocked, but not seriously.

Horse Killed by Stepping on a Live Wire.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 29.—A horse belonging to George Allen of Manchester was killed at 8 o'clock this morning a mile from the end of the Glastonbury electric car line by stepping on a live telephone wire which had broken down and hung over the trolley wire of the street railroad company. As soon as the fact became known, the power was shut off and an investigation made. As soon as the cause of the accident was learned another difficulty was encountered when a big tree was blown down by the wind and in falling carried the trolley wire with it.

It was some time before the tree could be moved, and when the superintendent attempted to telephone to this city to have the power turned on again it was found that the telephone connection had been broken and a messenger had to be sent to this city. The power was off for nearly three hours.

Middletown Streets Flooded.

MIDDLETOWN, Aug. 29.—A very violent rain and wind storm began here today at 6.30 a. m. The rain fell in torrents flooding the streets and overflowing crosswalks. The wind gradually developed into a worthy successor of last Thursday's gale. Large trees, which withstood the recent storm, succumbed today and the remaining growing vegetables about the city were demolished.

Yacht owners, who had boats along the river front, prepared them for the storm by furnishing increased anchorage, or removing them to a place of safety. The downpour of rain was the heaviest for many years.

Newington Fruit Crop Damaged.

NEWINGTON, Conn., Aug. 29.—Much damaged was done by today's storm to the fruit crop. Whatever fruit was left on the trees after the gale of last week has been blown off, and in many cases the trees are completely ruined.

The New England train reaching Newington at 8.40 a. m. was stopped twice between New Britain and Newington to remove trees from the tracks.

Less Severe at Ansonia.

ANSONIA, Conn., Aug. 29.—The storm which reached here early this morning is much less severe than that of last week. With the exception of the destruction of a few trees and the loss of some fruit, little damage has been done.

Wrecks Along Niantic Bay.

NIANTIC, Conn., Aug. 29.—At Niantic the wind was more furious than during the storm of last Thursday. There are a great many wrecks of small craft along Niantic bay.

THE GALE ELSEWHERE

Fifteen Houses Swept Away at Sullivan's Island—Inmates Killed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Up to 2 p. m. the only dispatch of any kind from South Carolina received in Washington was a Florence, S. C. telegram, which says: "In a cyclone at Sullivan's Island yesterday a man by the name of A. Bryan and his wife were drowned, and Mrs. E. Holland (white) was killed by a falling house. Fifteen houses were swept away and every one on the island was more or less damaged."

Sullivan's Island is in the Atlantic ocean, seven miles east of Charleston, and is the site of Fort Moultrie. Florence is a junction 100 miles north of Charleston.

The dispatch is without signature, but it was forwarded evidently by a regular press correspondent by way by of Atlanta, Ga.

This is probably the forerunner of many dispatches which will begin to arrive from the afflicted section.

Richmond Reported All Right.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—In reply to inquiries addressed to Richmond, Va., the following was received at 3 p. m.:

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 29.—Accounts of storm meagre. Several people reported killed at Savannah. At Charleston vessels have blown ashore, docks are injured and Atlantic Coast Line tracks under water. Damage to property estimated at $1,000,000. The Atlantic Coast line trains from Richmond reached Washington at 2 o'clock, seven hours late. The cause of the delay was a washout at Quantico, thirty miles south of Washington. The train had to go by way of Gordonsville, Va., over the Chesapeake & Ohio road, in order to get here. The conductors on the train report that Richmond is all right, but nothing is known of places south of there, as the train preceded the storm by about three hours.

At Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 29.—Not since the big flood of 1868 has such a deluge of water invaded Baltimore as that of last night. The wind blew a gale all the afternoon. Early in the evening heavy rain began to fall and continued till an early hour this morning. Roofs and chimneys were torn off, shutters and window panes were smashed and trees uprooted. The telegraph and telephone poles were blown down. In the bay, mountainous seas were piled up. The waves spread over the wharves and flooded the streets and adjacent buildings.

From midnight to 1 o'clock the wind blew a gale of sixty miles an hour. Men rowed around in boats from store to store in the lower part of the city, carrying merchants and clerks to their places of business and removing valuables and books. The wharves were completely submerged. Thousands of barrels of flour were damaged.

Great Damage to Cotton and Tobacco.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 29.—The storm which came from Florida and followed the Atlantic coast Sunday has done incalculable injury to the farming interests of the southeast.

A special dispatch from Blackville, S. C., says several buildings in that town were crushed, mill dams were washed away, country roads are impassable, the cotton crop terribly damaged and tobacco to be harvested totally devastated. In Waynesboro, Ga., the storm did great damage to the cotton crop and fences were blown down.

Reports from Screven county say that the storm was very severe there, doing great damage to houses and the cotton crop. No casualties have been reported.

Chicago & Northwestern Dividend.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock, payable September 21.

A Hundred Houses Wrecked.

KERNERSVILLE, N. C., Aug. 29.—A terrific cyclone struck here at 5 o'clock this morning. A hundred houses were wrecked and a woman was killed. Many were injured.

The Baptist brick church was razed to the ground. Factories, stores and residences were unroofed and some were blown totally away. High winds and heavy rains are still raging.

Three Children Killed by Lightning.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 29.—Three children, Lawrence Blair, aged 11, and two little girls named Pullman were struck and killed by lightning while they were playing under an apple tree near A. C. Blair's house in Petersham, just previous to the thunderstorm of Sunday afternoon, the 27th. The little girls were visiting at Mr. Blair's house.

Unharvested Tobacco Crop Destroyed.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 29. Reports of the storms from various towns in South Carolina show considerable damaged to trees and fences. Corn is badly blown and the damage to the cotton crops is very heavy. Streams are much swollen and the mill dams are washed away. The unharvested tobacco crop is destroyed in places. Travel is being resumed.

150,000 Baskets of Peaches Lost.

MILFORD, Del., Aug. 29.—The storm in this vicinity has about ruined the remainder of the peach crop in this section, to the extent of 150,000 baskets. The corn crop is also greatly damaged.

American Citizens in English Prisons.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 29.—The resolution passed by the last general assembly requesting the amnesty of American citizens in English prisons have been engrossed and bound in four volumes. One volume is to be sent each to Premier Gladstone, John Morley, M. P., chief secretary for Ireland, John Redmond, M. P., and Justin McCarthy. They will be forwarded to the house of commons, London, in a few days.

Great Damage to Crops.

RALEIGH, N.C., Aug. 29.—The storm did great damage to crops all through North Carolina. Tobacco, corn and cotton were severely injured through the state.

YACHT NOURMAHAL ON THE ROCKS.

John Jacob Astor's Pleasure Vessel Reported Wrecked

OFF FORT GREEN,

In Upper Newport Harbor—Pulled Off, by Tugs.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 29.—Today's storm has, if anything, been more severe than that of last Thursday. The wind blew from southeast and kicked up a very heavy sea, which was borne across the roadway at the beach and far upon the rocky shores, which were lined with spectators.

The startling news of the day was the wrecking of John Jacob Astor's huge steam yacht Nourmahal, upon the Blue rocks, off Fort Green, which is in the upper harbor. A reception and ball were to be given during the afternoon and evening on board the yacht, but the storm prevented her taking the guests aboard while at her anchorage, and so she repaired to Long wharf.

While making a landing her head was blown off and before she could be given steerage way again she was in shoal water and among other craft. Her anchor had been dropped, but the wind was too powerful and she was soon on the ragged rocks.

Tugs pulled her off and at 7 o'clock the yacht was at Long wharf and her guests coming aboard.

Numerous stories as to her injuries were upon the street, but ex-Commodore Geary, who boarded her shortly after she was carried ashore, denies that any injury had been done.

Severe Storm on Mount Washington.

MOUNT WASHINGTON, N. H., Aug. 29.—A severe storm has prevailed on Mount Washington today. Early this morning the wind began blowing from the northeast, and it continued with great severity until this afternoon, rising at times to a velocity of upwards of 100 miles an hour. Later it shifted to southwest and continued blowing very hard until late in the afternoon. The wind was so high that no trains have reached the summit since yesterday. The morning train left at the usual hour, but was unable to return.

The Severe Storm Keeps Away Callers.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Owing to the severe storm Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes did not have many callers today. The "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" passed the 84th milestone of his life in a very quiet manner at his summer house at Beverly Farms. It is his custom to go out driving early in the morning, but the stormy weather kept him in doors until this afternoon.

Norton's Fishy Story.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 29.—Henry Hitchcock of the Quinnipiac Shirt company said today that he saw Louis Norton, the self-reported victim of pirates, on the night of Friday, August 11, at Fair and Olive streets, about 8 o'clock. He had a satchel in his hand and an overcoat thrown over his arm.

Mr. Hitchcock has known Norton all his life and could not be mistaken. Norton was coming up Olive street. William H. Stahl says he also saw Norton near St. Paul's church on the same night, shortly after.

To Support Fall River Mule Spinners!!

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The legislative council of National Cotton Mule Spinners' association met here today and voted to support "by every means in the power of the association" the Fall River Mule Spinners' association, if it should be expedient to resist the reduction of wages in that city by striking work.

Gov. Morris Makes Requisition on Gov. Flower.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 29.—Governor Morris has made requisition on Governor Flower of New York for the extradition of James P. Ferguson for the theft of a bicycle at Greenwich, and Harry R. Hall, who is wanted for theft at Willimantic.

Yacht Vigilant Not Seriously Damaged.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The yacht Vigilant which dragged her anchors and came near going on to the rocks at New Rochelle, was pulled out of harm's way by two tugs which went to her assistance this morning from City Islands. She was not seriously damaged.

TWO MEN DROWNED.

B. L. Lynch and B. Meader Carroll Lost at Pleasure Beach.

A heartrending scene occurred at Pleasure Beach at noon Tuesday, says The Day, that will bring grief to many hearts in New London. Bernard L. Lynch and B. Meader Carroll were drowned in the waters there in the sight of their friends who were powerless to aid them.

Meader Carroll and a young man named Hinckley were bathing in the heavy surf when it became evident that they were in trouble. Carroll was caught in the undertow and cried for help. Captain Lynch started to his rescue, but before he could reach Carroll, the latter had disappeared under the water.

Captain Lynch became exhausted by his battle with the waves and before help could come, he too, was drowned.

His body was recovered, but up to receipt of the last intelligence the body of Meader Carroll had not been found. Hinckley was saved in an exhausted condition.

The beach was crowded with people, but few, if any, knew what to do under the circumstances as none but the strongest of swimmers and the most skillful of boatmen could do anything off the shore.

Capt. Lynch was for many years engaged in fishing and for several years after retiring from that business held positions of trust and responsibility under the city and federal governments. He was tax collector for several consecutive terms, and during President Cleveland's first administration was an inspector of customs. He was a member of St. James church, a Mason of high degree and in all the relations of life an exemplary man respected and esteemed by the whole community.

His wife and one son, Arthur Lynch, and three daughters, Mrs. Philip C. Dunford, Miss Jessie Lynch and Miss Gertrude Lynch, survive him.

B. Meade Carroll was the only son of Benjamin M. Carroll and a lineal descendant of the Winthrop family.

He was a sweet singer and apparently destined to distinction as a vocalist, to which profession he was devoting his time and talents. His social qualities had gained him a host of friends, who will hear of his death with deepest sorrow.

IN CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Mr. Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee, reported back the house bill repealing part of the Sherman act, with an amendment in the nature of a substitute. He asked that the bill be placed on the calendar and he gave notice that he should ask the senate to consider it, after the morning business, from this time on until final action, be taken. The substitute, he said, was exactly the bill heretofore reported from the finance committee. He explained further that the bill as reported from the finance committee was identical with that passed by the house, so far as concerned the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act; and that from that point on there was a certain matter in the substitute which was not in the house bill and which, in his judgment, improved it and made it more acceptable.

Mr. Harris, a member of the finance committee, said that the substitute just reported was a majority report in which the minority of the committee did not concur. The bill was placed on the calendar.

A resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Stewart was then laid before the senate. It directs the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate whether there is danger of a deficiency in the revenues of the government during the current year; and, if so, what is the probable amount of such deficiency, and whether legislation is necessary to supply such deficiency. The resolution gave rise to a long discussion.

Senators Sherman, Voorhees Mills, McPherson and Harris opposed the resolution, as calling for problematical statements, as calculated to create needless alarm, or as reflecting on the secretary of the treasury.

A motion to refer the resolution to the finance committee was made by Mr. Voorhees. That resolution was opposed by Mr. Hill and by Mr Stewart. Mr. Hill declared that the resolution contained no manifestation of lack of confidence in the secretary of the treasury.

Mr. Stewart said there was a rumor that there was a deficiency in the revenue now, and that the treasury had difficulty in paying current expenses. There was a rumor that the gold reserve was being paid out for current expenses, and he did not suppose the senate desired that to be done.

Mr. McPherson asked Mr. Stewart whether he did not know the democratic party was in power in the senate and the responsibility was upon it.

"No," Mr. Stewart replied, "I do not know that. I know the gold party claims to be in power. I think there are more administration men on the republican side of the chamber than there are on the democratic side." [Laughter.]

Finally the resolution was referred to the finance committee, yeas 40, nays 16.

Mr. Platt said he was not in the room of the judiciary committee yesterday, when Mr. Hill was instructed to report a bill to repeal the federal election law. He did not concur in that report.

Mr. Dolph introduced a bill which was referred to the committee on foreign relations appropriating $100,000 to enable the secretary of the treasury to enforce the Chinese exclusion act.

Mr. Gordon then addressed the senate in favor of the unconditional repeal of the Sherman act. Mr. Gordon advocated the repeal of the 10 per cent. tax on state banks.

Mr. Teller made a long argument to show that the Sherman act had not caused the existing financial stringency. Without concluding his remarks, he yielded for an executive session. Afterward the senate adjourned.

The House.

The committee on appropriations was granted leave to sit during the sessions of the house.

Mr. Aitken (rep.) of Michigan offered a resolution providing for a special committee of five to investigate the Ford's theater disaster and to determine what action should be taken for the relief of the families of the victims. Referred to the committee on rules.

Mr. Catchings (dem.) of Mississippi then called up the report of the committee on rules reporting the rules for the present house. Mr. Catchings wanted the paragraphs of the rules to be read seriatim and to be debated under the five minute rule; and Mr. Reed (rep.) of Maine demanded a general discussion.

Mr. Reed said he had never heard of such a proposition as was now made to the house. If the house wished to cut off debate there was nothing that could prevent it and there was nothing that should prevent it.

Mr. Catchings finally conceded that there should be general debate, and he explained briefly the changes made in the rules.

Mr. Reed twitted the democrats upon the partial approval of the rules of the Fifty-first congress, but in a humorous vein, contended that they had not gone far enough. He then more seriously argued in favor of the rights of the majority, which rights had been firmly maintained in the Fifty first congress. Now, he said, the house was in the habit of dodging measures instead of meeting them.

MYSTIC PEOPLE STARTLED

By the Insane Act of Frank Sheffield, a Former School Teacher.

The people over Mystic way were startled Monday by the insane act of Frank Sheffield, formerly a school teacher, who killed his little 5-year-old child at Rocky Point.

Sheffield is a man about 45 years of age, who has been in ill health for some time and has shown symptoms of insanity. He had two children by a first wife, Mary Ann Hill, daughter of Mason Crary Hill of Mystic. After her death in [illegible] he married Nancy Sheffield of Westerly. He has resided at Westerly some time. He left home Sunday morning, telling his wife he was going to a store, but instead he went to Providence.

From here he went to Attleboro, to the home of his sister. Here his daughter Maggie, aged 5 years, was visiting. His relatives knew about his fits of insanity which led him to wander about, and kept watch over him, but he managed to elude their vigilance and he disappeared taking the little girl Maggie with him.

Search was immediately made for him, but before he was apprehended a frightful catastrophe had taken place. Sheffield went to Providence and from there took the steamer to Rocky Point. On the grounds he was seen chatting and having a good time with the child. Suddenly his mood changed and snatching up a large stone he beat the child on the head with it, crushing the skull like an egg shell. She lived about 20 minutes.

He then walked away and informed the few persons he met of his deed, saying he did not know why he did it. He was arrested and lodged in East Greenwich jail.

108 DEATHS ON HER TRIP.

A Cholera Laden Steamer on the Atlantic.

BOUND FOR NO PORT.

Refused Permission to Land or to Quarantine the Passengers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A dispatch from The Herald's correspondent in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, shows that the steamer Carlos is on the Atlantic ocean, bound for no port, filled with persons infected with the cholera and having a record of 108 deaths on her voyage across the ocean.

The dispatch says the steamer Carlos arrived at Rio Janeiro today from Grand Island, Canales, and that the 108 persons on board of her died from the cholera on the way over.

When the ship got into the harbor and made her report he was refused permission to land or even put her crew and passengers in quarantine. She was escorted out of the harbor by the warship Republica and ordered not to land at any Brazilian port.

Admits the Killing.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 29.—This morning a warrant was served on Frank H. Sheffield at East Greenwich jail for the death of his daughter Margie at Rocky Point yesterday. In reply to the usual question of "guilty or not guilty," he said: "I killed my little girl." Notwithstanding this admission of guilt it was decided to hold a preliminary hearing on Tuesday of next week in East Greenwich. When asked if there was anything he wished to say about the affair he replied to the reporter: "I can't think."

The body of the child was brought here last night and the funeral will probably be held at Westerly on Wednesday.

Bridgeport Savings Banks.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 29.—An inquiry at the proper quarters elicits the information that the weekly deposits in the Bridgeport banks only lack a small sum of being equal to the notices of withdrawals, showing that the panic has "slowed up" in its effects on those institutions. When the time limit expires the banks will be ready for the emergency, and it looks as if the demand would be lighter than was expected.

Charged With Bigamy.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 29.—Charles Gallegher, charged with marrying two wives was today in the district court of East Providence adjudged probably guilty and bound over to the September term of the supreme court.

French Troops Preparing for Battle in Siamese Territory.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—A Bangkok dispatch to The Times says the French troops at Chantaboon are making intrenchments and throwing up earthworks.

Col. Jerome Bonaparte Ill.

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 29.—Colonel Jerome Bonaparte is confined to his mansion at Beverly Farms, but his illness is not considered serious.

SPECIAL.

ROYAL

BAKING

POWDER.

Absolutely Pure

A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—[Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

Don't Get Weary

because you have a large washing to do, but keep your spirits and strength by using

IVORINE

WASHING POWDER.

It works like a charm in removing dirt, and is cheaper, safer, quicker, and better than any other way. With it backs will not ache, and clothes will not rot. 2½ lb. package costs no more than a pound of other kinds.

From April 1st, 1893, every package contains a splendid cake of pure Olive Oil Toilet Soap.

J. B. Williams Co. Glastonbury, Ct. For 50 years the makers of Yankee Shaving Soap.

Hack, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable,

7 TO 13 CHESTNUT STREET,

A. M. ETHERIDGE, Proprietor.

All orders given prompt attention. Moderate prices. mar28MWF

BASE BALL.

At Baltimore:

Baltimore	0	1	1	0	0	1	0	1	5	—9
Cleveland	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—1

At Wilkesbarre:

Wilkesbarre	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	0	—4
Troy	1	2	2	0	0	0	2	0	0	—8

At Buffalo: (first game.)

Springfield	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
Buffalo	2	0	1	0	2	1	0	0	[illegible]	—7

(Second game):

Springfield	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	1	—3
Buffalo	1	4	0	5	1	0	1	2	[illegible]	—13

At Erie (first game):

Erie	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	—4
Providence	1	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	—3

(Second game):

Erie	3	1	0	0	1	2	0	2	0	—9
Providence	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

Railroad Bridge Struck by Lightning.

CARLISLE, Pa., Aug. 29.—A terrific storm swept over the Cumberland valley last night, doing much damage to property and growing crops. Telegraph wires were blown down. The Philadelphia & Reading railway bridge at Brandtsville was struck by lightning and burned. Considerable water fell at Williams Grove, where the grangers' exhibition is being held, and several small buildings were blown down. The loss in this section will be heavy.

Schooner Three Sisters Wrecked.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 29.—The schooner Three Sisters with a cargo of lumber from Savannah for Philadelphia, was wrecked and abandoned off Cape Fear, on the night of Aug. 28.—Captain Isaac Stimpson of Market Hook, Pa., and Mate Johnson Heads of Baltimore were washed overboard and drowned. Four men were saved.

Fought a Draw.

CONEY ISLAND, Aug. 29.—The Smith-Ryan glove fight tonight resulted in a draw.

In Roumania a duty of 1s a bottle has to be paid on foreign wine. There is a tax on female servants, on door plates and on doctors.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

PAINT

EATON, CHASE & CO.

S. H. BILLINGS, KING & CO.'S

Pure Prepared Paint.

We guarantee this to be the BEST Paint in the world.

Color cards giving instructions how to select colors and do your own painting, free upon application, or by mail.

EATON, CHASE & CO.,

HARDWARE DEALERS.

aug29daw

Now is the time that the public should protect their houses from the invasion of cold weather. You will find Hunt's Patent [illegible] just the thing. He is ready to put them on wherever wanted. All orders promptly attended to. Address [illegible] Norwich, Conn., ADOLPHUS HUNT. aug29d

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

CONSULT DR. Z. J. LEWIS,

120 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I.,

[illegible] on private Chronic Diseases of both sexes guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. Office hours 9 to 3 and 5 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 2 and 5 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines, $5. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks (forwarded free.) jy20d

Cholera Infantum

The most dreaded of all children's complaints prevented by using

RUSSELL'S

White Drops

FOR BABIES.

25c. All druggists.

aug29d

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.

E. M. BREWSTER

will do it for you very Cheap

46 Water Street.

aug29d

All those wishing Cold Spring Water from the Celebrated

PURITAN ◇ SPRING

Can have the same by applying to

PALMER G. WHIPPLE.

[illegible] AVENUE.

Drop me a postal and I will call and give [illegible] aug29d

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.

Large and Complete Line

FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE

ARTISTIC WALL PAPER

At Reduced Prices.

SPECIAL SALE.

Large Art Carpets and Rugs

$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.

Other sizes in proportion.

Japanese Rugs and Mats.

$35 00 Japanese Carpets for $20 00.

$15 00 Japanese Rugs for $8 00.

$4 00 Japanese Rugs for $2 [illegible]

Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels,

75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.

Quantities, 1 1-2 Yards to 30 Yards.

Parties Wishing

FURNITURE,

CARPETS OR

WALL PAPER,

Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock

That we are offering at Low Prices.

aug29d

[illegible]

WANTS.

WANTED—A competent girl to do general housework. Apply at 15 Arnold street. aug29d

WANTED

A BOY TO CARRY PAPERS AND WORK IN THE STORE.

aug29d CRANSTON & CO.

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,

No. 4 Franklin Square.

Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All modern improvements. Terms reasonable.

jy14d [illegible]

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN

Can find employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to

COLCHESTER RUBBER CO.,

Colchester, Conn.

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER,

No. 7 Water St.,

Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods. jel2d

WANTED.

Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers.

Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn. may4d

BOARDING.

PERMANENT AND TRANSIENT.

At reasonable rates. Centrally located. No. 6 Washington St. MRS. TURNER. may8d

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

TALKING

About PIANOS just now is my theme. Do you want a Piano? Then come and hear one of the purest and finest toned Pianos in the market. Price Low. Also Organs, and a stock of fine Violins, including the Miller Violins, on hand. A fine New Upright Piano to rent. Will be glad to see you at [illegible]

GEO. E. MARTIN.

CONFECTIONERY.

ICE CREAM.

ALL FLAVORS.

Wholesale and retail.

GEO. A. LEWIS,

37 CENTRAL AVE.

Greeneville. may23d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

WHY DO

Ferris Hams and Bacon

Lead all other Sugar Cured Hams in quality and flavor?

Because they are the Best.

Insist on having them. If your butcher don't keep them, call at

C. D. BROWNING & CO'S,

aug23d No. 6 SIXTH STREET.

Steamer : Chelsea.

Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.

Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M. aug1d

The Connecticut

Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,

Sole agents in Norwich for the

New England Felt and Roofing Co.

BEE HIVE BRAND

Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.

Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn. apr24d

HEAR! HEAR!

17— DIFFERENT ROUTES —TO— WORLD'S FAIR. —17

For rates, reservations in Sleepers, etc., apply to the undersigned.

G. L. CROSGROVE,

Union Station, Norwich, Ct. Ticket Agt. aug2MWF

MY FIRST CAR LOAD

Bought Since the Panic Has Arrived.

C. J. Wolcott.

FREE!

If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively upon many roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill roofs in the vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron paper and shingled. One great advantage of the Paint is that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 5c per square foot, Three Ply at 4c per square foot, and Two Ply at 3c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Dressing Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Cellars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, Water Street; H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn., P. O. Box [illegible] Residence 8 Oak Street. jy7d

REMOVAL.

Dr. W. S. C. Perkins has removed to 21 Broadway. Office hours, 9 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m. Residence, 66 Broad street.

Dr. Chas. H. Perkins, 21 Broadway. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 8 p. m. Residence, 66 Broad street. Telephone at residence. jy6d

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE —OF— Norwich Street Railway Co.,

Falls, Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side.							Franklin Square, Falls, and Bean Hill.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]

nov21d E. P. SHAW, Jr., Supt.

LOCAL NOTICES.

A good bicycle for sale cheap.

Position to do housework wanted.

Tenement to rent on Laurel Hill.

Two good furnished rooms to let.

Geo. A. Kies will resume lessons on and after Sept. 1.

Two elegant high bred saddle horses for sale. See advertisement.

School books and all school supplies at lowest prices at Cranston & Co.'s.

Headquarters for everything in men's fine furnishing goods at Smith & Gilbert's.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

City Court—Kellogg, Judge.

The continued cases of William Kelles and Humphrey Brennan, for breach of peace, were settled in the police court Tuesday morning by a fine in each case of $3 and costs, $6.73.

Philip Belival, Forma Stanislaus and Joseph Stanislaus were presented for breach of peace and were fined $50 and costs, $55.16, and sentenced to jail for sixty days. They appealed and furnished bonds of $300.

John J. Jackson was fined $10 and costs, $17.45, for breach of peace.

The Woman Who Wanted to be President.

Belva Lockwood, who is to speak at the peace meetings now being held in Mystic, says her childhood remembrances, as she humorously puts it, were of "a little, dirty-faced girl on a farm, like Topsy, not afraid of snakes or rats or 'nothin'; as active as a boy and could walk rail fences for a mile and never drop off; in for everything and delighted to ride the horses after the cows; taught school at fourteen and married at eighteen."

[illegible]

A Middletown Man Who Passed Through New London for Home.

One of the many who suffered most severely by the recent storm, says The New London Telegraph, was Clark Butler of Middletown. Last spring he paid $260 for a sloop suitable for bluefishing. It represented all his savings. He was out in her off Montauk in the storm with 105 bluefish on board.

Tuesday he was at the depot in New London with a small bundle under his arm. That bundle represented all that was left of the sloop. It was blown ashore and it was with the greatest difficulty that he left her alive. He came across to this city in a smack yesterday afternoon, and started for home, as stated, with only the bundle and enough money to pay his fare to Middletown.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

[illegible]

By the New England's Cut in Wages in East Hartford.

As previously stated in The Courant, President McLeod of the New York & New England Railroad company has ordered a reduction of 10 per cent. in the wages of all officers, agents and employes, except those receiving $30 a month or less. In his circular President McLeod says that this action is taken in preference to a wholesale discharge of men and is rendered necessary by the extraordinary financial conditions. The circular further says:

It is not believed that the present partial suspension of business will continue for a very long period. However, as soon as a change for the better takes place and the receipts of the company warrant a return to the schedule of wages paid heretofore, it will give the management great pleasure to order promptly a restoration to the old rates in all departments.

About 150 men will be affected by the cut in wages in East Hartford. There are some mutterings among the men, but it now looks as though the order would go into effect without serious trouble.

The reduction will go into effect Friday, September 1. The employes in this city do not take kindly to the cut and talk of a concerted movement to offset the action of the officers of the road. They claim the passenger traffic of the road was never better and trains are constantly crowded and additional cars are put on nearly every day. The freight traffic has fallen off only slightly and all the receipts are cash down. There is no difficulty in making collections.

Just what course the men will take is not yet known, but it was understood that a meeting was held last evening near Boston to agree on some action.—[Hartford Courant.

THE GREAT GALE HERE ON TIME.

The Scenes of August 24 Repeated by Hurricane No. 2.

LARGE TREES UPROOTED.

Streets Filled With Debris—Telephone and Telegraph Service Impaired.

Twelve hours after the weather bureau's announcement at 7 a. m. Monday that another tropical hurricane was making its way northward along the Atlantic coast more furious than the great storm of the 24th inst., the advance scuds began to course the sky. While there was evidence of a gale in the heavens, the fury of the storm did not break upon Norwich until after 5 o'clock a. m. Tuesday, when the alternating showers and great gusts of wind continued, the gale increasing steadily till nearly noon. The greatest amount of damage was done between 8.30 and 10.30 in the forenoon, but there was little ruin after 5.30 in the morning.

In every street where there were shade trees the roadway was littered with broken branches.

Two large limbs were wrenched from the elm tree at the junction of Elm and Cliff streets, and the top of a large maple in front of Mr. Dion's residence on Cliff street was twisted off, completely wrecking the tree.

The big elms on East Main street yielded many cartloads of limbs and foliage.

In the rear of Wm. H. Shields' house on Washington street a large tree was uprooted, and in the rear of Christ church two elms and a willow tree were ruined. One large tree fell against the rear of the church, covering the Adams memorial window, which was uninjured.

On Broad street, near Dr. Perkins', a big tree fell and left only a narrow way on one side for travel. On Little Park and below Col. H. H. Osgood's, large trees were broken off fifteen feet from the ground. Half a dozen trees were broken or uprooted on Franklin street, and in front of Dr. Rockwell's one leans on the [illegible] feet of the sidewalk torn up by the fall.

On Sachem's terrace two large trees were uprooted and another over the drive to the hospital building.

In front of W. P. Greene's, on Washington street, a split branch fell across the avenue, stopped travel and laid low twenty-five feet of Mr. Greene's fence.

The cross on the spire of St. Patrick's church was broken off and three maples in front of Mr. Charles Bard's house lost their largest limbs.

The tin roof on the store of L. W. Carroll on Water street was stripped off by the gale.

At Norwich Town several large trees were snapped off and at the north end of the green one fell on the support of the trolley wire and carried the wire to the ground. Half a dozen brackets on the poles were broken off farther on and after 9 a. m. no cars were run on the Norwich Town route until 3.30 p. m., when the road was operated only to Wightman street.

A great tree fell over in front of Mrs. William Fitch's residence slightly damaging the house, and another was blown over in front of the Rev. Dr. Palmer's. A great elm was wrecked at the residence of Gen. Harland and the limbs were twisted from another near the residence of Deacon Butts on North Washington street.

A silver leaved maple was blown over on Ann street. The trees on the West Side were shorn of cartloads of limbs and foliage, and many handsome gardens were despoiled.

In Greeneville trees were blown down on North Main, Hickory and Sixth streets. A maple tree was split in two near the residence of John A. Morgan on Prospect street, and fell across the highway, blocking it for several hours.

The wind blew off the roof of a shed belonging to the Shetucket company.

In the harbor the waves dashed high early in the morning, and no boats ventured on the river except the steamer Skip Jack, which brings the Adams Express matter up from New London. The Norwich Line freight office was undermined and dropped down [illegible] hawsers were hitched to neighboring posts to keep it from sliding off into the Thames.

A chimney on the Austin block and another on the house of Daniel W. Clark of Church street were blown over.

The 9.25 train over the Norwich and Worcester road was delayed an hour by two trees that fell across the track at Plainfield. The New York papers did not arrive until noon.

The wires about town were mixed up and many broken by fallen limbs. Supt. Phillips of the Electric Light works, with a squad of men, worked all day in straightening out the electric light wires, and Chief Greeneberg was busy trying to keep the electric fire alarm circuits in good working order, but the erratic behavior of the fire alarm striker in the steeple of the Second church kept giving notices of "crosses" till late in the afternoon.

At New London.

In the harbor there was no especial danger as everybody having been forewarned was forearmed, and there were willing hands in plenty on shore and afloat to help anyone with more trouble than they could attend to alone.

The harbor was crowded with coasters, smacks, yachts, and in fact all sorts of sailing vessels. There were in the neighborhood of 200 vessels in port seeking a safe shelter from the storm.

The schooner Manning from Rockland is in port with most of her sails and a good part of her rigging gone. She encountered a gale off Cape Cod.

Down at Ocean beach the scene was grander, if possible, than last week. The surf was heavier and there was much more of it. It rolled in way up to the embankment, great breakers at least ten feet high washing over the wharf and striking the rocks, threw clouds of white spray high into the air. The sight was a most beautiful one. Alewife cove was filled again way to the new road, and things in that locality had about the same appearance as last week. The plank was blown up and some of the planking of the walk was torn, but there was no serious damage done. Many Norwich people were among the spectators there during the day.

A sailor on the yacht Lotus had his collar bone broken in the morning. The heavy swell in the river caused the vessel to rock violently and the swinging boom struck him and threw him to the deck, inflicting the injury.

Broke the Schooner Up.

At Niantic the schooner Bayles, that went ashore in the last storm, went to pieces, and the surf washed way up over the railroad tracks.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

THE COUNTESS DI BRAZZA.

The Summer Home of Her Mother, Mrs. Gen. Slocomb, at Groton—The Lace-Making Industry Near the Countess' Estate—The Exhibition Made at the Columbian Exposition.

Visitors to New London harbor rarely fail to notice on the Groton Heights side of the river, just below the monument, an imposing drab mansion lifting its round towers above the green of the encircling trees. The enchantment which distance proverbially lends to the sight is verified on nearer approach, when after climbing the hill to the spot where the brave Col. Ledyard met his death in those old times which tried men's souls, one views at closer range this summer home, wherein the modern architect has incorporated the best features of the past and present.

Here the widow of General Cuthbert Slocomb, a southern army officer, lives during the heated term, because in her girlhood she was a member of the old and wealthy Dey family of Stonington, and because she still admires and loves all portions of this historical Connecticut shore. Several years since she built this Nineteenth century castle, where the contrast of stained glass is embedded by artistic hand in settings of rough boulders or cobbles from the shore below; where fountains and trees and flowers without number tell of luxury without, as white and silver in walls and furnishings and decorations bespeak summer coolness and comfort within.

Mrs. General Slocomb has an only daughter who, when in Rome some eight years since made a love match with the Count di Brazza Savorgnan, brother of the traveler Giacomo di Brazza, and also of Pierre di Brazza, the celebrated African explorer. There was money and plenty of it on both sides; for the late General Slocomb was rich in Louisiana sugar estates, while the di Brazza family of Friuli consider the handsome castle in which the New Orleans bride went to preside only a modest portion of their estate; yet it was erected in 1480, so do they rank in age, and in wealth proportionate.

Interesting herself in the lives of her adopted countrymen, the young countess founded a lace-making industry on her own estates, superintending the manufacture herself and giving employment to 150 women and children. When Mrs. Thomas Bryant went to Italy as commissioner to solicit aid in making the world's fair a success, a number of Italian noblewomen were induced to begin a collection of laces; and in description of these priceless specimens of peasant handiwork, Countess di Brazza wrote "Old and New Lace in Italy," really a learned treatise on textile art, as well as a guide to the Italian exhibit to the Woman's Building.

The volume, which is bound in the colors of Italy, is a history of lace from its origin to the present day, cataloguing it under the various qualities. It contains, too, a list of books on lace-making, and discriptive notices of all the lace schools and manufactories in Italy. Anecdotes illustrative of peasant life add to the interest of the volume, which is dedicated to and contains a portrait of Queen Margherita, whose representative Countess di Brazza is at the fair.

Another portrait which adds even greater interest to the compilation is that of the author—a woman still barely thirty—with her only daughter on her knee. This baby heiress of a long line of Italian ancestors, for she is not yet five years old, is at her grandmother's Groton home, so ill with spinal trouble that she cannot walk; and every American mother will feel a new sympathy for the titled young New Orleans girl when she states in her preface that she "was prevented by the illness of her child from giving any attention whatever to the editing of the book." Her motherly devotion prevented her appearance on the opening of the fair, although her name was on the programme for an address, following the address of Mrs. Palmer and the Duchess of Veragua.

The proceeds from the sale of the laces at the fair go to the industrious poor women of Italy, and the countess' book is being sold for the same object. It is obtainable of the local booksellers. Its concluding paragraph is an index of the spirit of its author:

"Oh, hearken, fair, mighty, glorious Columbia, God child and namesake of the great Genoese, it is one of your own daughters who calls to you across the waters he traversed in search of you! Close not your doors against his kinsmen, lest in the throng you shut out one of his own children, heir to his genius, to which you owe your very being!"

Seen From Ocean Park.

Mr. C. B. Ware, well known in this city, president of the New London board of trade, one of the best known Odd Fellows of the state, and among New London's prominent citizens, says that while at his summer home at Ocean Beach about the time that young Norton of New Haven claims to have escaped from the Italians he saw a black sloop put in there and two men went ashore. Soon after a young man came out of the cabin, and with considerable difficulty got the boat under way. Evidently he was not versed in sailing, but he turned the sloop's head out in the sound and soon disappeared. Where the two men went to Mr. Ware does not know. He says that the sloop answered the description of the one in which Norton says he was carried off, and he thinks that it was about the time he states he made off with the boat. Mr. Ware does not know young Norton, and under ordinary circumstances would have thought nothing of the sensational story which has been published everywhere.

Good-Sized Bank Account.

Bootblacks, says The Hartford Post, were about as numerous at Camp Morris as the soldiers, and all one heard was "Shine! polish! shine!" The other day some members of the City Guard were having a little fun with a small Italian. They asked him how much he had earned during the week. He said $9, and exhibited at the same time a bank book. Somebody offered him a quarter if he had more than $50 in the bank. Imagine their surprise when they saw that he had over $300 to his credit. He was only 15 years old.

HURRICANE AGAIN.

West Indian Visitor Plays Return Engagement.

TELEGRAPH WIRES ARE ALL DOWN.

Wind Blowing a Gale, Rain Falls in Torrents.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The West Indian gales were so well satisfied with the destructive results of their New England tour last week, that, despite the protests and lamentations of the sections then visited, they determined to play a return engagement here, taking in on their way places overlooked on their first rampage. The storm which has howled over Boston with increasing energy since early this morning is part of this unwelcome and disastrous encore performance, and although the weather prophets, in their seats of windy wisdom in the lofty tower of the signal service bureau, ventured the opinion this morning that the effects of this second visitation would not be as direful as that of last week, the outlook all day to less practical minds seemed [illegible]

Fully as Ominous and Damaging.

The course of the hurricane since 8 o'clock last evening, when it was central at Lynchburg, Va., has been steadily northward, a little to the west of the course of last week's hurricane. Reports received at the bureau here up to 10 o'clock this morning indicate that the center of the gale had settled over northeastern Pennsylvania and eastern New York, with a well defined probability that New York city and the whole eastern section of that state would suffer very heavily. Wires were down very early in the day, precluding very accurate details as to the progress of the gale. The officials meted out a little consolation to Boston in the information that Massachusetts would bear the brunt of the gale in her inland cities, though they were careful to stop premature and selfish rejoicings over this fact, by the supplementary news that the gale here was to be no mere breeze from the tropics, and would cause more than sufficient

Loss to Property and to Life.

Since last evening, between 4 and 5 o'clock, when the wind rustled quietly along from the south at a 15-mile an hour gait, the velocity has rapidly increased.

This morning it was tearing over the city at a speed of 65 miles an hour, with the prospect of a still further rush to 80 miles during the afternoon.

The last report of the progress of the gale received at the department up to 10 this morning was from Northfield, Vt. It was very severe in that city at the time of the report, the wind velocity was rapidly increasing and

The Barometer Steadily Falling.

The course of the storm from Northfield will be in the direction of the valley of the St. Lawrence, where the force of the gale will spend itself.

The rainfall, which is always heavy with this class of storm, has been violent and persistent since early morning, but short intervals breaking the downpour.

The rage of the elements in Boston will, in the opinion of the weather officials, subside tonight. The wind will work around to the southwest and west, with the prospect of fair weather tomorrow.

To the West and South all telegraph and telephone wires are down, and Boston is practically cut off from communication with the outside world.

At 8:50 a. m. the chief operator of the Western Union in this city said:

Lost All the Wires.

Haven't had New York since 5 a. m. Can't get beyond Springfield on that route and Willimantic on the other route. At 5 o'clock New York said there was a cyclone raging there. We had New Haven at 6:30, but the wire failed soon after. New Haven said it was blowing terribly there the last we heard. At 10 a. m. they could get no one beyond Worcester, and the wire even to that point was working very badly. At that time it was blowing very hard.

RAGED EIGHT HOURS.

Terrible Hurricane at Savannah With Ruin Unmeasurable.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 29.—A special to The Courier-Journal from Savannah [illegible] Savannah was swept yesterday by one of the severest storms it has ever known. The storm began Monday afternoon and continued until the climax was reached at midnight. A terrific hurricane raged for eight hours. It began raining early Monday morning, but mainly in gusts. After the first fall it ceased entirely for several hours and did not begin again until afternoon. Then the work of destruction began and lasted until the storm was over, at midnight.

All the wharves along the river front were under water, and the ocean steamship companies' property and the Savannah, Florida and Western railroad works were inundated.

A view of the city at daylight this morning revealed a scene of wreck and ruin that surpassed that following the great hurricanes of 1881. The ruin at quarantine is unmeasurable. Nothing is standing where one of the finest outfits on the south Atlantic was 24 hours ago. A fumigating plant, which cost the city much money, is in the bottom of the sea, and nine ships waiting for relief to come to the city are high and dry in the marsh, and no doubt will be totally wrecked. Only one vessel managed to keep afloat.

A tug arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. It brought up about 60 passengers from Tybee. Many were negroes, engaged in clearing the railroad track; also a sailor and a cabin boy of one schooner, which is on her side on North beach. Eight of the crew of the Terrapin, which went ashore on the south bar, were drowned.

FLAMES SPREAD RAPIDLY.

Serious Fire at Rockaway Beach During the Hurricane.

ROCKAWAY BEACH, L. I., Aug. 29.—A fire broke out in the seaside station of the Rockaway Beach railroad at 2:15 a. m. today.

Sergeant Wolfort, wife and two children; Section Foreman Anthony Roon, with his family, and five gatemen were asleep at the time on the second floor. Wolfort saved his two children, but was badly burned. Mrs. Wolfort jumped from the second story window, and was followed by the five gatemen. All sustained serious injuries.

A hurricane prevailed at the time, and the flames spread with amazing rapidity. Daly's hotel caught fire. The building was filled with summer guests, none of whom had time to dress themselves, and they fled from the structure in their night clothes.

No headway could be made by the firemen and volunteers, and Daly's hotel was soon in ruins. Louis Reynolds' hotel was then attacked by the flames and also damaged. At this time the wind changed, blowing in the direction of the new Seaside House. It was the largest hotel on beach, and had 40 guests within its doors.

The people were bundled out with little ceremony, and the fire department devoted all its energies to an endeavor to save the hotel, but without avail. Heavy rain began falling at [illegible] o'clock, and this [illegible] the flames to be extinguished. The damage will be very heavy, as the burned [illegible] were entirely new.

STREETS NEARLY DESERTED.

Rain Falls in Torrents, Wind Thirty Miles an Hour in Woonsocket.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Aug. 29.—The southerly gale struck this city about 8:00 this morning with full force. The wind at 9 o'clock had attained an estimated velocity of 30 miles an hour, coming a trifle west of south, and rain fell in torrents for an hour.

The streets are nearly deserted. Thus far but little damage has been done, except to shade and fruit trees.

People Talked Nervously.

TAUNTON, Mass., Aug. 29.—At 9 o'clock this forenoon the first effects of the coming storm were felt in this city. The great elms on Taunton green began to sway under the great pressure of the wind, and the people talked nervously of what might happen. The weather is moist and hot, and everything portends a fulfilment of the heralded West Indian hurricane.

Fisherman's Dory Upset.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—A dory containing Michael O'Neil, a fisherman, 60 years of age, living at 7 Athens street, South Boston, was upset near State ledge, off the New York and New England railroad docks, about 8:30 this morning, and O'Neil was thrown into the water. He was rescued from drowning by the crew of the police boat Protector, which was near at hand.

Blowing in Great Gusts.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 29.—A heavy rain storm has prevailed here since 6:30 this morning. At 9 o'clock the rainfall was very heavy, and was accompanied by great gusts of wind. The maximum of the thermometer yesterday was 83 1-2 degrees. Last night the lowest was 70 degrees, and at 9 a. m. today it registered at 75 degrees.

All Traffic Suspended.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 29.—A very heavy southeast wind has been blowing here since 6 o'clock this morning, and at 9:30 it appears to be growing stronger. Local anemometers registered 32 miles an hour. A light rain accompanies the wind. As yet no serious damage is reported, but all traffic on Mount Hope is suspended.

Severe Gale at New Bedford.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 29.—A heavy wind from the southwest began blowing here about 8:30 this morning. It increased in velocity until, at 10 o'clock, it had reached the point of a severe gale. Scarcely any rain has fallen, and no damage has yet been reported.

Schooner Yacht Driven Ashore.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 29.—The schooner yacht Priscilla was driven ashore at Watch hill last night in the storm. A heavy surf was running in on the beach at the time, and with today's gale it is feared she will be a total wreck.

Car Shed Blown Down.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—During the gale this morning, a large car shed at Reading Highlands, the property of the Boston and Maine railroad, was blown down, causing a loss of about $1500.

CARLISLE DISAPPROVES.

[illegible] Deposited Will Fail.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Representative Sperry of Connecticut, who leads the opposition to the bill allowing holders of government bonds to deposit them in the treasury and receive therefor currency up to their par value, called on Secretary Carlisle today for the purpose of ascertaining in person what his views were concerning that measure. The secretary informed him that he had, after looking further into the subject, great doubts as to the propriety of such legislation at this time. He said he was decidedly opposed to issuing any more treasury notes or greenbacks which would permit the holders thereof to demand gold upon [illegible] at any of the sub-treasuries.

He very much doubted whether the measure would accomplish what its friends anticipated, an immediate relief of stringency in the money market. "The measure at first glance," the secretary said, "attracted many supporters, but it was soon discovered that such legislation might be used in such a manner as to complicate and unsettle the financial methods of the department. Therefore," he added, "I cannot give the measure my approval."

Representative Sperry laid these facts before the banking and currency committee, which was a great surprise to its friends, especially to Representative Johnson of Ohio, the author of the measure. They expected to be authorized to report the bill back to the house without delay, and ensure its passage at an early day, but the outlook now is not encouraging. It is now doubtful whether a favorable report from the committee can be obtained unless a provision is incorporated in the bill that the notes issued to the holders of these bonds shall not be redeemable in gold. If such a provision should be inserted, it is doubtful whether the holders of bonds would avail themselves of the law.

Ships Take Shelter.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 29.—A southeast storm of considerable energy began here early this morning, and is increasing in violence. A large number of vessels have taken shelter in the outer harbor. No marine mishaps have as yet been reported.

Trees Block the Streets.

LOWELL, Mass., Aug. 29.—The high wind this morning blew down a large number of trees in this city, blocking up the streets in many instances. The telephone and telegraph wires are also affected.

Yacht Vigilant Goes Ashore.

CITY ISLAND, N. Y., Aug. 29.—It is reported that the yacht Vigilant, the cup defender, has gone ashore or is in a dangerous position at New Rochelle. Two tugs have gone to her assistance.

Temperance Picnic Postponed.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Temperance men do not object to cold water, but, when it comes in overdoses, with a West India hurricane as a "chaser," on a day which they had reserved for a picnic, they feel a slight inclination to shift their principles. Hence it is that the union picnic of the temperance and benevolent societies, which was to have been held today at Melville Garden, has been postponed until Saturday, Sept. 2.

Burglars at Hingham.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Burglars entered the dwelling of Francis Jones at Hingham Centre at an early hour this morning, and carried away $100 in silver ware and $6 in cash. Mr. Jones saw them leave the house and drive toward South Hingham. There were four in the party. Several unsuccessful attempts were made to enter dwellings in the vicinity of Mr. Jones.

Tickers Are Not Working.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The following notice was posted on the New York stock exchange at 9:30 a. m.: "Ticker service is not working; no public quotations."

REID & HUGHES.

THE

BOSTON STORE

French Sateens and Scotch Ginghams Reduced in Price.

We offer the balance of our Fine French Sateens and Scotch Ginghams at 12 1-2c a yard.

They are reduced from 25c and 37 1-2c.

Reid & Hughes.

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. H. VAUGHN & SONS

IRON CASTINGS.

aug9d PERRY ST., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON

of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for immediate delivery.

REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Sable" brand.

SHEET IRON. Galvanized "B. B." Black and Plate.

STEEL. "Black Diamond" and "Silver," warranted Cast Steel. Machinery Steel, Tire Steel, Calking Steel.

FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.

IRON AND STEEL I BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.

A. T. CONVERSE,

Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf, may19d 3 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.

Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Wool Machinery, Mill Gearing, Shaftings, Pulley Hangers, etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds, Gearing, Cuttings, Forgings and Castings at short notice, 12 Franklin Street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second-hand machines bought and sold on commission. jy14d

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR

Fire Wood

—TO THE—

PARK WOOD YARD!

301 Franklin Street.

A discount will be made on all purchases of Four Dollars or more.

J. ROURKE.

aug3d

Before Buying Elsewhere,

Call and examine my complete line of new styles of

—WALL PAPERS.—

Lowest Prices.

E. L. GREENE,

Painter, Grainer and Paper Hanger. mar13d

Removal.

BRECKENRIDGE BROS.

Have removed their shop to CORNER WILLOW and CHESTNUT STS. and are prepared to give estimates on all kinds of wood-work. 1y6d

—IF YOU—

Want money,

Want a cook,

Want boarders,

Want a partner,

Want a situation,

Want a servant girl,

Want to sell a farm,

Want to sell a house,

Want to rent a house,

Want to exchange anything,

Want to sell plants or grain,

Want to sell groceries or drugs,

Want to sell or trade anything,

Want to find customers for anything,

Want to sell or buy horses, mules or cattle,

Advertise

IN THE BULLETIN.

[illegible]

Rich Red Blood

Is the natural result of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Mary F. Tousa, of Niantic, Conn., author of a very beautiful volume of poems, entitled "Sunset Songs," says: "I had that tired feeling of deadness of the limbs, constipation and poor circulation of the blood, has no rival. I have been troubled severely with a fibroid tumor, besides seven fatty tumors on my left arm. My blood was in very poor condition, watery and deficient in color. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I have good rich, red blood, and do not bloat as I used to.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved its merit to me as it will to all who take it fairly." N. B.—Be sure to get HOOD'S

HOOD'S PILLS act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

PLUMBING. Etc.

A. TROLAND & SON
Will Give You Close
Estimates on
PLUMBING and GAS WORK.
mar1d

—TRY OUR—
"Big Box" Stove Polish.
—ALSO GET—
RUTLAND LINING.
[illegible]
[illegible]
For sale by [illegible]

WE HAVE THE BEST
Water Filters and Garden Hose
in the market at Very Low Prices.
[illegible] cheerfully furnished on all classes of Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting.
MOHANER & BREED,
[illegible] 3 West Main, Central Wharf.

Telephone 133—3.
ROBERT BROWN
Steam and Gas Fitting,
Plumbing and Steam Heating,
Pipe Cutting and Threading by Power Machinery.
All Work done Promptly and Neatly.
Pequot Building, Central Wharf.
Electric cars every half hour. oct14d

INSURANCE.

L. and L. and G.

A. IRVING BOYCE, Agent,
aug3d

THE BEST PLACE TO INSURE.
STORY'S
INSURANCE AGENCY,
30 SHETUCKET ST.
The only insurance office in Norwich on the street floor.

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y
Norwich, England. Organized 1797.
E. TARRANT, Agt.,
[illegible] 33 MAIN STREET.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY, JANUARY 1st, 189[illegible], UNITED STATES BRANCH
—ASSETS.—

Government Bonds	[illegible]
State Bonds	[illegible]
Municipal Bonds	[illegible]
Cash on Hand and on Deposit	[illegible]
Other Assets	[illegible]
	[illegible]

—LIABILITIES.—

Reserve Premium Fund (N. Y. Standard)	[illegible]
Reserve for unpaid losses	[illegible]
All other liabilities	[illegible]
	[illegible]
Surplus in United States	[illegible]
Total Income in U. S. for 189[illegible]	[illegible]
Total Losses paid in U. S. from 1874 to date, inclusive	[illegible]

NICHOLAS TARRANT, Agent, 33 Main St., Norwich, Conn. apr1d

B. P. LEARNED
Insurance in all Forms,
Bonds of Indemnity.
Foreign Drafts.
Over Thames National Bank, Norwich, Conn. feb1d

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell
COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A Fine Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

A. B. KINGSBURY.
jy1dd

Murphy & Blackburn,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
and EMBALMERS.
37 Franklin Street.
Open day and night. Ring bell for night calls. Residence 18 High street and 3 William Avenue, Preston. may1dd

HAVE THAT
Lawn Mower
Put in Good Order
and it will be as good as new. Send it to
M. A. BARBER
may7d Industrial Building, Falls Ave.

DROP ME A POSTAL
and I will call on you with a fine line of Photos and Designs of
MONUMENTAL & CEMETERY WORK
and samples of Granite and Marble of various kinds of colors.
LEVI W. CROUCH, Norwich, Conn.
may1d&w

FRANK G. SWEET,
Medical and Surgical Nurse,
Graduate from Mills' Training School for Male Nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York city. Call at 309 or 430 FRANKLIN Street, city. TERMS REASONABLE. may9d

The Bulletin.

A BATTLE STRANGELY WON.

An Army Put to Flight by One Man and With the Loss of Only One.

It was probably one of the most remarkable battles that was ever fought. The advance had been well planned by the attacking force, the idea being to surprise the enemy at the dead of night. Every detail had been carefully considered. The advance would be hidden by a wood, and the first the enemy would know of it would be when the troops swept out of the wood and carried the camp by storm. There were apparently no pickets in the wood, and there seemed to be no possibility of a failure.

The colonel in command was gloating over his expected victory, when one of his officers called his attention to a bright light some distance to the left of the advancing column.

"What is it?" asked the colonel anxiously.

"I don't know," replied the officer. "It flashed up there only a minute ago."

"Well, if any one suspected we were here he wouldn't go along swinging a lantern to make a target of himself," asserted the colonel.

The column had barely begun to move again when a light appeared on the right and a little to the rear of the one that had just disappeared. Another halt was made, and the colonel was tempted to order a volley in the direction of the light, but of course that would betray the exact whereabouts of the column and would be almost suicidal.

"We are being surrounded!" exclaimed one of the officers excitedly.

Then a light appeared in the shrubbery immediately ahead of the retreating column. The first man yelled "Rifle pit!" and cleared the whole thing at one bound. The second man was not so fortunate. He stumbled and fell, and as he fell he instinctively made a reach for the light. He was the only man killed, but his death completed the panic. Ranks were broken, and the retreat became a wild race to get out of the wood.

And the lights seemed to dance here and there, appearing at the most unexpected points and adding to the confusion.

When the excitement was at its height a man climbed out of a pit some distance in the rear of the retreating force. He stretched himself and peered after the fleeing soldiers.

"Hanged if I wasn't cramped in that hole," he said. "I suppose I might as well turn a cannon or two loose just to wake the boys up and scare those foot racers a little more."

He lay down on the ground at the edge of the pit, reached his hand down to some keys on a sort of switchboard, and in an instant cannon boomed out. Then he raised himself to a sitting posture, lit a pipe and chuckled to himself.

Two or three men rushed up and breathlessly inquired what the trouble was.

"Oh, I had a little brush with the enemy," replied the man with the pipe calmly. "They tried to surprise the camp."

"And you beat them!"

"Why, they're running yet."

Quite a crowd from the camp had gathered by this time, and one of them cried, "Three cheers for the electrician!" but the man with the pipe raised his hand to stop them.

"The credit is not all mine," he said. "Remember my able force of linemen who ran wires through this wood and made it possible for me to win this victory."

Just then some of the men who had gone into the wood after the retreating enemy returned with the news that one man had been killed.

"What!" cried the electrician, jumping up. He hurried to the place where the body lay.

"Too bad! Too bad!" he said regretfully, "but then accidents will happen, even in a battle. He had no business to catch hold of a live wire."

"Oh, well, there's no use feeling bad about it," put in one of the officers. "A victory has been won, and only one life has been lost."

"But why have one lost?" asked the electrician. "Of course it was tiresome work in that pit, and when I got them on the retreat I was glad of it, but I never supposed any one was going to grab hold of the light. It's too bad!"

And the man who had won the victory could not be consoled.—Chicago Tribune.

The Goliath of Big Basin.

In Big Basin, Santa Cruz county, Cal., there are thousands of giant redwoods that will measure from 10 to 23 feet in diameter. But the Titan of them all is a giant known far and near as "the Goliath of Big Basin." This monstrous vegetable growth is 28 feet in diameter at the ground and is perfectly solid, a fact noted as a rarity in these colossi of the forest. Goliath is a fraction over 200 feet in height, the lower 100 feet of the trunk being free from branches or unsightly excrescences. Experienced woodmen declare that the tree would weigh more than 100,000 tons and that it would "cut" 1,500,000 feet of clear board measure lumber, besides 100 cords of wood that could be gotten out of the limbs and waste.—St. Louis Republic.

Astounding Memories.

Horace Vernet is the best example of visual memory. He could paint a striking portrait of a man, life size, after having once looked at his model. Mozart had a great musical memory. Having heard twice the "Miserere" in the Sistine chapel, he wrote down the full score of it. There are soloists who during 24 hours can play the composition of other masters without ever skipping a note.—M. Binet in Revue des Deux Mondes.

Magna Charta, the great charter of Englishmen's liberties, is preserved in the British museum. It is somewhat stained by time, but King John's seal and name are still quite legible at the bottom of it.

Kansas farmers have reaped more wealth off the earth's surface in grain than has been dug out of its interior in precious metals in the same time in all the states and territories west of her.

Nash, a writer of the sixteenth century, says, "If a hogge loseth an eye, he dyeth presently." Also, "Goats take breath not at the mouth and nose only, but at ye eares (ears) also."

The Way of the World.

There never was a dewdrop
That filled a flower's cup,
But quick there came a sunbeam
To drink the dewdrop up!

There never was a dollar
That jingled in the till,
But quick there came a fellow
And scooped it with a bill!
—Atlanta Constitution.

A Wish.

"Great Cæsar," thought the fisherman
Beside the waters blue,
"I only wish the fish would bite
As these mosquitoes do!"
—Harper's Bazar.

Fleeting and Elusive.

"Kiss and don't tell," we say, but there
There's apt to be a slip.
A kiss always and everywhere
Must go from lip to lip.
—Truth.

A VITAL CLEW.

"My life hangs on that scrap of paper! If it cannot be found, Edith, it is impossible to prove my innocence. The facts are dead against me."

"Gilbert, I am so confident that you are innocent and all that you have said is true that I will not rest until the paper is found."

He took her in his arms and impressed a passionate kiss on her brow.

Gilbert Stanton was under arrest on suspicion of having caused the death of Raymond Wild. The facts of the case were, as he said, "dead against him."

Stanton lived in chambers in White's inn and was reading for the bar. Wild, who justified his name, was an old college acquaintance, who had attempted several things in life and failed in all. Gilbert had not seen him for several years, when Wild suddenly turned up at his chambers and announced that he was "stone broke."

The man had no claim whatever on Gilbert Stanton, who told him so and also gave him the benefit of some candid opinions as to his past career. Raymond Wild was hot blooded, and high words resulted. The quarrel was at its height when Mrs. Morton, Gilbert's old laundress, who had been completing her morning duties in another room, closed the door of the chambers and passed out.

Shortly afterward the tempers of the two men cooled. Wild apologized for some offensive remarks he had made, and they shook hands. Gilbert now promised to do his best to help his old acquaintance and invited Wild to remain for an hour while he went out to keep an appointment.

When Gilbert Stanton returned, he mounted the stairs to the door of his chambers, but did not immediately enter. He stood for a few minutes on the landing, considering what course he should adopt with regard to the man inside. Should he give him money? Or might not that be doing such a person a positive injury?

As he leaned against the door smoking a cigarette he was startled by a loud explosion inside. What could it be? He hastily unlocked the door and went in. The place was full of gunpowder smoke, and he rushed into the sitting room. It was empty. There was a door communicating with his bedroom, and he opened it.

A horrible sight was before him. Stretched upon the floor was Raymond Wild—dead! Stanton immediately found that a bullet had passed through the man's brain, and that his own revolver, which he always kept loaded in the room, was lying on the floor beside the body.

The evidence at the inquest was simply this: The police, when called in, had found the dead body of a man, identified as Raymond Wild, with a bullet wound in his head. A revolver was also discovered, which Gilbert Stanton had admitted was his, and the contents of one chamber had been discharged. Mr. Stanton had said: "The man committed suicide. I was not inside the chambers at the time."

William Carey, a solicitor's clerk, deposed that he was looking out of the office window on the ground floor, when he saw Mr. Gilbert Stanton enter the building and heard him run up the stairs. About five minutes afterward—certainly when ample time had elapsed for Mr. Stanton to enter his chambers—he heard the explosion.

The result was that Gilbert was arrested, brought up before the magistrate and committed for trial.

His defense was that Wild had found the revolver during his absence; that he was standing outside the door of his chambers, as we have described, when the shot was fired; that although they had quarreled they were on pacific terms when he went out, and that the deceased had left a written confession of his own guilt and Gilbert's innocence.

But where was this written confession? Gilbert Stanton declared that he found it on the bedroom mantelpiece, but during the excitement of the hour had mysteriously lost or mislaid it. He had searched everywhere for it, but without avail!

He distinctly remembered that, after examining the body and finding it was lifeless, he went into his sitting room with the confession in his hand to consider what he should do. He placed the paper on a small table in front of him, and glancing out of the window saw a policeman in the quadrangle. He at once decided to call the constable and ran down stairs to do so, leaving his door ajar.

On his return the paper had disappeared, and he had never seen it afterward. The most diligent search had failed to discover it.

"Now, Mrs. Morton," said Edith as they stood alone in the chambers, "this is a matter of life and death. That piece of paper must be found."

"Yes, miss," was the laundress' commonplace reply.

"First of all, you must please answer very carefully some questions I shall put to you. Did you on that day destroy any paper?"

"No, miss."

"Have you destroyed or removed any since?"

"Not a scrap, miss. You see there ain't no fires this time o' the year, and the little cooking I does is all done on the gas stove."

"What do you do with your waste paper and rubbish?"

"What little there is I takes down in a pail once a week, or more often if I finds it necessary."

"And has the pail been down since that day?"

"No, miss."

"Then the paper must be here somewhere, unless it was deliberately stolen, which I cannot believe. We will begin our search, and take the sitting room first."

Everything was being turned upside down and inside out, when Edith suddenly stopped.

"Do you remember whether the windows were open on that day?" she asked.

"Yes, miss; Mr. Stanton always used to 'ave 'is winders open."

"Well, just open them as they would be if he were here."

The woman did as she was bid. Edith then placed a piece of paper on the table where Gilbert said he had laid the confession, the door leading into the bedroom and the entrance door having first been opened. There was a considerable draft, and the paper trembled on the table.

"Perhaps there was more air on that day," said Edith. "I will substitute a lighter piece of paper."

This she did and almost immediately it was caught by a current, and it floated across the room. As it fell on the floor they were both startled to see a little kitten spring from the open doorway and pounce upon the paper, rolling over and over with it in her teeth.

"That explains it all!" exclaimed Edith, catching up the little animal in her arms. "Oh, Kitty! Oh, Kitty! How little you know the terrible mischief you have done!"

Her eyes were full of tears, and she was pale and trembling with apprehension. The kitten must have carried off the confession in this way to play with, and its recovery was hopeless.

"Lor, miss," suddenly broke in Mrs. Morton, "now I remember! When the gent shot 'isself, I was working in the 'ouse opposite, and came back to see what was the matter. That little kitten belongs to the party in the next set, and when I come up to the landing she was a-playing just like that with a bit o' paper, which she runs away with and leaves on the stairs."

"Yes," said Edith, in breathless eagerness.

"Well, paper about the stairs looks so untidy, miss, so I picked it up and"——

"What did you do with it?"

"I threw it in the pail with the other rubbish."

For the second time the contents of the pail were emptied by the laundress and carefully examined. It was absolutely certain that the paper was not there.

"Are you positive that you put the paper in the pail?" asked Edith.

"I'd take my 'davy on it, miss. And it was just such a scrap of writing as you say."

Edith sent the laundress home, shut herself in the solitary chambers and began the hunt afresh.

It was late in the evening when she ceased her fruitless search.

Next morning she returned to her hopeless task. Mrs. Morton she had relieved from further attendance, and was walking up and down the chambers in thought when there came a knock at the door. It was the laundress herself.

"I know where that bit o' paper is, miss! I remembers that, when the police was here that morning, I steps into the bedroom to hear what they has to say. One of 'em says to me, impodentlike, 'Well, what do you want, old lady?' and I says I wanted the bedroom candlestick."

"Yes," interrupted Edith, "but where is the paper?"

"I'm just coming to that, miss. I stays a bit in the kitchen—just to see if I might be any use, you understands—and while I was waiting, I puts a new candle in the candlestick. Them 'nines' is rather small for the candlestick, so I takes a bit o' paper out o' the pail to make it fit. Come into the bedroom, miss—why, it's gone!"

"Good heavens!" cried Edith. "Do you mean to say that the paper round that candle was the missing document?"

"That's my belief, miss. Where is it gone?"

"I was here late last night, and I burned the candle very low—and the paper took fire!"

"And you burned it, miss!"

"Only slightly, I remember. I blew it out, threw the paper away, and put in a new candle that I removed from the piano. What did I do with the paper? Oh, I remember, I threw it under the grate. You'll find it there. Thank heaven, we have found it at last! Gilbert is saved!"

"There is nothing here, miss," said the woman on her knees. "The grate is quite empty!"

It was true, and the shock was a terrible one to Edith. She fainted in the old laundress' arms. Mrs. Morton, however, soon restored her to consciousness.

"You can take my word for it," she said, "that paper's bewitched."

"I don't care whether it is bewitched or not," said Edith. "I mean to find it. Fetch me that magnifying glass from the table in the next room."

Edith removed the fender and carefully examined the dust that Mrs. Morton's not overscrupulous cleanliness had allowed to accumulate.

"I thought as much," she said. "Mice! They have been attracted by the candle grease and have dragged the paper to their hole. Every moment now is valuable, or it will be all destroyed."

They searched round about everywhere, but no mouse hole could be found. Edith then directed the woman to mix a quantity of whiting which she placed in a large flat dish on the floor in the middle of the room. In the dish was laid a small saucer, and in that a piece of toasted cheese. They then left the chamber for several hours. When they returned there was a track of little white footprints across the room that led to a little hole above the narrow skirting board, hidden by a loose piece of the wall paper. A man was called in, and after breaking down some of the plaster and taking up a corner of the flooring the coveted scrap of paper was at last secured.

The confession was of course in part destroyed and required very delicate handling, but when the precious relic had been carefully mounted on another piece of paper it was found to read as follows, the words in brackets being supplied by supposition:

> [I am] sick of my life [and [resolved] to put an end [to it]. In case suspicion falls on Gilbert Stanton, [he is] innocent. I die [by my] own hand.
> RAYMOND WILD.

Gilbert and Edith are now married, and Stanton insists that he owes his life to the persistent and intelligent manner in which his wife followed up that vital and mysterious clew.—London Tit-Bits.

FARM, FIELD AND GARDEN.

FODDER AND ROOT CROPS.

The Relative Growths of These Various Crops Under Similar Conditions.

With a view to determine the amount of food material which might be produced per acre in Maine, southern corn, flint corn, sweet corn, sugar beets, mangelwurzels, rutabagas, English flat turnips, black eyed marrowfat peas and Hungarian grass were grown on similar areas of land, all manured in the same manner, on the state station grounds. The yield of these crops, together with the calculated yield of digestible matter per acre, is tabulated, and a summary of the average results for two years is given in the station record. No attempt was made to produce the maximum crop. The object was merely to test the relative growth of these crops under conditions as nearly similar as it is possible to make them. The results are given as a report of progress in an investigation to be continued. The question of cost was left out of account.

The large variety of fodder corn—namely, the Southern White Horse Tooth—under the conditions in which the crops were grown, greatly excelled the other varieties of corn and the roots in the production of total and of digestible dry matter. The crops which rank next in the production of digestible dry matter are Hungarian grass and rutabagas. Special attention is called to the very favorable comparative showing of Hungarian grass as a fodder producing crop.

The common impression seems to be that the varieties of field corn and sweet corn which mature in the latitude of this station and which are harvested for the silo after the plants have reached maturity or nearly so contain much less water and more dry matter than the larger varieties of southern corn. While these experiments show a difference in the percentage of dry matter in favor of the field corn and sweet corn, the difference has not proved to be as great as many would expect. The average results for three years show that the northern field corn contained only two pounds of dry matter per hundred more than the southern corn at the time the crops were harvested.

Influence of Sire In Poultry Breeding.

In poultry breeding the influence of the previous sire is seldom discernible after 10 days have elapsed, although cases are known where the previous sire influenced the progeny of the three weeks following. The Farmers' Journal has also noticed in some instances where the influence of the previous sire was lost after the third day. This journal says:

In breeding several varieties of fowls every year we have often allowed breeds to mix early in the spring prior to mating up, but have never noticed any ill effects among the progeny, each variety breeding true to form and color. Only one remarkable case occurred in our experience which might give the contamination advocates a straw to catch on. About eight years ago we bred Andalusians, and among the culls were three pullets marked white and black, and as they were good layers we kept them until the succeeding year, when they were allowed to run with a golden spangled Hamburg cockerel. We set the eggs for the purpose of hatching broilers.

Among the latter we found several perfectly marked blue Andalusian chickens, yet the dams were white and black and the sire a totally different breed, and we will add there was no Andalusian male in sight. This is a case of reversion rather than of a case of misalliance, although some would consider it an argument against the mixing of breeds. At all events, no poultry keeper need lose any sleep over the contamination theory, and while it may not be exactly nonsense it is of no serious consequence.

A Celery Storehouse.

If you want to winter celery until March or April and grow hard varieties like Boston Market, American Gardening says that it is best to build a temporary shed 18 to 20 feet wide and as long as need be. Excavate one foot deep in dry, well drained land, set a ridgepole through the center on poles and lay on boards. Set the celery out and pack it tightly so it will bleach. Cover the roof with manure or straw to prevent freezing. This is the Boston method of storing celery and the best for storing for a long season. If you are growing the hard varieties to keep until spring, do not blanch before storing, but if you expect to sell by the holidays it is necessary to start the blanching in the field, unless you grow by the new method.

Buckwheat After Buckwheat.

The buckwheat crop may be grown successfully many years on the same land, and the soil will constantly tend to grow better. It is not a very exhaustive crop, and its numerous leaves draw carbon from the air. American Cultivator finds, however, that buckwheat responds to the use of mineral fertilizers, especially if the season be wet. The later buckwheat can mature before frost the better and plumper will be the grain. That early sown and ripened in very hot, dry weather is usually light weight.

A Cheap Icehouse.

High cost is not essential to the construction of an icehouse. The essentials are ground from which the water will run away, sides stiff and tight enough to securely hold the fine packing with which it must be surrounded, a roof good enough to turn rain and free ventilation over the top of the material with which the ice is covered. Any shed that will furnish these requisites and 18 inches of chaff, sawdust, fine charcoal, cut corn, fodder or straw packed hard and tight under, on all sides and above the ice, with both gable ends wide open, will keep the ice better than a $250 stone building, says one who claims to have tried it, in the Philadelphia Farm Journal. A pile of ice 8 by 10 feet and 6 feet high will, according to the same authority, hold enough for an ordinary farm family.

The Poultry Keeper's Dog.

The poultry keeper's dog, says the Fanciers' Journal, should be one of varieties of terriers: 19 to 22 pounds weight is about the size. Two or three of these little fellows will, if the building be so arranged that they can get about, keep the place free from rats, skunks, coons, minks and all the list of predatory animals which make war on chickens.

CABBAGES FOR WINTER MARKET.

How These Are Stored by Long Island's Progressive Truck Farmers.

The gardeners of Long Island have made a specialty of cabbages, and hundreds of tons are shipped to New York, Brooklyn and other places all through the winter. These cabbages are grown by progressive methods on soil well adapted to their culture. Then their methods of storing cabbages to keep them fresh all through the winter are worth considering, for probably they send as fresh looking cabbages to market in the middle of winter as they do in November. It is described as follows in The American Cultivator:

"Late in the fall, before the garden is hard frozen, the location that is well drained should be selected, and in the land thus marked out the cabbages are stored. Sometimes the storage pit is made carefully and used only for this purpose every season. If naturally drained, artificial methods are employed to keep the water from collecting in the soil. This is a very important point, for nothing causes cabbages to rot quicker than damp, wet soil.

"Furrows are then thrown open with a deep plow, although on a small scale the spade is sometimes used for this work. Make the furrows deep and scoop out the loose earth in the middle. The cabbages are placed in the furrows with the head down, although this is contrary to methods of many farmers in other parts of the country, who place the roots downward. The stems are placed at an angle of 45 degrees, which almost brings the cabbages on their sides instead of directly perpendicular. The leaves are kept close to the heads, and then the earth is packed closely around them. The plow and spade can be used for packing the earth around and over the cabbages.

"Beware of too deep covering, for this is worse than too shallow. Two furrows with the plow are considered sufficient. These large gardeners never use straw or leaves on the cabbage for protection. They consider dirt sufficient, and surely their results are enough to prove the wisdom of their simple methods. Generally for the winter store cabbages that are not fully ripe are selected, as they keep better, and the dead ripe ones are marketed at once. In this way fresh cabbages are had the year round, and as the market demands them they are dug up for use."

Handling the Tubers So as to Prevent Rot and Insure Long Keeping.

By postponing the harvest until the cold rains of autumn set in potato rot is often induced by the accumulation of mud on the tubers. The ordinary crops should be dug, as a rule, not later than the end of August, according to directions given in The American Cultivator, from which the following is gleaned:

"When growing in dry, gravelly soil, they should be dug a day or two after a shower of rain, so that the soil will not adhere to them, but on muddy, loamy soil it is better to dig them when the ground is very dry. One can easily select a time when the soil is in the right condition to fall away from the potatoes when turned up either with the plow, potato digger or fork. By having a clean crop in this way the labor of harvesting is greatly lessened. Potatoes should not be washed, as a rule, yet they must if we dig them with the soil adhering to them. A dirty crop of potatoes will not keep well.

"Sometimes, however, potatoes will get muddy from necessity, and then some place to keep them while they are washed should be provided. It is not such an easy job to wash potatoes, for the mud is only loosened and not washed off by throwing water over them. If they are piled up in a heap and then washed with a hose for some time, the tops will be as clean as a whistle, but down toward the bottom the mud has accumulated. The easiest way to wash them is to make a temporary lattice work on the top of four barrels. Lay lean poles across the four rails so close that the potatoes cannot slide through. On top of this place one bushel of potatoes at a time and then turn the hose on them. The water and dirt will drip through the lattice work to the ground and leave the potatoes bright and clean. And as fast as cleaned the potatoes should be spread out on a canvas or boards to dry before storing. They will dry in a very short time in harvesting season. They must not be stored away in a damp, cold place while wet, or the rot will surely set in.

"A good drying and storing place for potatoes should be provided beforehand in the barn. A latticed floor should be made somewhere on the north side of the barn, and either stretched from mow to mow or constructed on a cheap frame work. The floor can be made of bean poles or cheap scantling. The spaces between the slats should be only about an inch. If such a storage place is provided, the potatoes can be placed there even when they are wet, for the dry air circulating through them soon carries away the moisture. All through the rest of the summer and the early fall the potatoes can be kept in this cool place in the best of condition. If potatoes are to be kept until sale in the winter for sale, they will turn out 20 per cent better if cared for in the summer in this way. All of the moisture is dried out of them, and heat has no chance to rot them."

Improving Grass Land.

There are several ways in which worn-out grass lands may be restored to productiveness at various degrees of expense. The most efficient, perhaps, says The Country Gentleman, is to plow the field, pulverize the sod and add manure and such a quantity of ashes as may have been found beneficial or may be had. Other crops may be introduced. One of the best, without plowing, is to scratch the surface thoroughly and pulverize it with a slightly sloping tooth harrow with sharp teeth, reseed and roll, with a fine top dressing of such fertilizers as have proved valuable on other crops. Simply top dressing with common barn manure with a Kemp spreader will be useful, the value varying with the amount applied and with its freedom from lumps. Scarifying alone with the sharp tooth harrow, or with added seeding if required, may prove beneficial. In connection with this treatment a top dressing with the adjacent soil will in some instances greatly add to the product. Much, however, will depend on the character of the land in all these applications.

FOR THE LADIES

Profit Is Nothing
But a Memory Today.
It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.
Hats reduced to less than cost, both trimmed and untrimmed.

Trimmed Hats at 98c.
Cost or value no consideration.

RIBBONS.
All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.

Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.
Don't have to talk much about them. At our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.

New York Bazaar.
112 MAIN ST.
aug1d

REDUCTION
In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.
We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits which we will close at the following prices: $6.00 and $7.95. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, as they must be sold.
Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close, at
A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St.
aug1d

MILLINERY.
Hats, Bonnets, Elegant Ribbons, Laces and Flowers,
—AT—
MRS G. P. STANTON'S, apr1d No. 21 Shetucket Street.

JUST RECEIVED.
Another lot of those Demon Spreads and Sofa Pillows at the Brosport Millinery and Fancy Goods Parlors, No. 1 Lower Broadway. We also carry a full line of B. and A. Wash Silk, Art Threads, Fringes, and everything pertaining to Fancy Work.
STAMPING AND PINKING A SPECIALTY.
Everything in the Millinery line will be sold regardless of cost. aug1d WS

ARCHITECTS.

C. H. PRESTON,
Architect, - - - - Central Building.
Telephone 1[illegible]-4, Norwich, Conn.
Specialist on modern construction and strength of materials. mar1d

JAMES A. HISCOX.
ARCHITECT.
161 Main Street, Second Floor, [illegible] oct1d

NOTICE.
Ceilings Whitened,
Woodwork Painted,
and Walls Papered
with Gilt Paper
For From $6 to $12 a Room.
GEO. C. BUCHANAN,
House Painter and Paper Hanger.
Wall Paper of all kinds. All orders attended to order. Estimates cheerfully given.
58 Shetucket St & 188 Central Ave.,
[illegible] NORWICH, CONN.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES
—AT—
40C. PER THOUSAND.

They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.

COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.

The Bulletin Co.,
NORWICH, CONN.
aug1d

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.

Established 1858.

NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.

Established 1796.

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 12 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 2 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application in the business office. No cuts or electrotypes inserted in either paper.

To guard against mistakes, advertisements should be sent in manuscript. We cannot be responsible for errors that occur in messages received by telephone.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their own immediate business, and their contracts do not include Wants, To Let, For Sale, etc.

All news letters should be addressed to THE [illegible] [illegible] ness to THE BULLETIN COMPANY.

Money orders and checks should be made payable to THE BULLETIN CO.

All communications must be signed. Anonymous letters or news items will not be read, but thrown into the waste basket.

No manuscript preserved or returned, unless stamps are enclosed fully to prepay postage.

Entered at the post office at Norwich, Conn., as second class mail matter.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Wednesday, August 30, 1893

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

THE PREDICTED CYCLONE.

The accuracy with which the weather observers, by the aid of the telegraph, can lay out the course of a heavy storm was well illustrated Monday. The second West Indian cyclone was announced twenty hours before its arrival, and it filled the bill, arriving on time; blowing harder than the hurricane of August 24 and doing more damage, although the rainfall was considerably less.

It reached its height in this neighborhood at about noon Tuesday and came in gyrating gusts of such power that big elm trees were overturned, and limbs of shade trees a foot and a half in circumference were twisted off. The flawy and whirling gusts were similar to those known along the Atlantic seaboard as "twisters," and the uprooted and damaged trees gave evidence that they have been properly classified.

Neither of these great August blows was equal to the great September gale of 1815, which lasted for twelve hours without rain, the wind uprooting old elms and oaks and blowing the mists from the sea thirty miles inland. The mist left a salty deposit which could be tasted. At this day in the vicinity of New Haven, mounds are to be seen which were formed by great overturned trees seventy-three years ago.

WEATHY HIGH OFFICIALS.

The wasp's nest of this administration is the pension bureau, and both Secretary Hoke Smith and Commissioner Lochren are stingers of more than ordinary power. They have been stirring up the pensioners and their friends; and now Gen. Lochren has been stung and he doesn't behave as well in his distress as a corporal ought to.

It appears that an old soldier in Plymouth county, Mass., lost an eye by accident last November and the other eye was so badly affected that he had to give up work. He applied for a pension under the invalid pension act, and the local examining board of surgeons declared upon examination that his disabilities entitled him to $12 a month. The pension office examiners rejected his claim. The applicant is over sixty, has a mortgaged house and a feeble wife, and is now left "between the devil and the deep sea."

At this point Congressman Morse, himself a veteran soldier, demanded of Commissioner Lochren a reopening and re-examination of the case, and his demand was not honored, and a hot correspondence ensued. Congressman Morse threatened to call the attention of congress and the country to the case at his earliest convenience, and Gen. Lochren charged him "with sending his letter in a franked envelope contrary to law, for the purpose of saving two cents!"

Both these high officials have shown their contempt for one another, and the country is looking at them!

INCONSISTENT.

The injustice of the Geary Chinese exclusion law is too patent to require reiteration. These people who come from a country where the annual payment of all debts is scrupulously lived up to, and where drunkenness is a disgrace, and who are peaceful, thrifty and honorable, are forbidden to enter this country for the purpose of settling, while the ten-dollar immigrants from European countries, who are ignorant and pauperized, are permitted to enter the ports on the Atlantic, with anarchist ideas and the black flag, and to go to the great cities of the west, where they join the rioters at the first opportunity, and increase and infuriate the dangerous classes, as they did in Chicago the other day. Congress must take care of this class of immigrants or they will make trouble in this country. For such trash to be pouring into the country at the rate of five hundred thousand a month is an abuse of the right of asylum and a menace to the future well-being of the nation.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES.

The public library has been aptly called the university of the people, says Commissioner Caleb B. Tillinghast of Massachusetts in the September Forum, and its value as an adjunct of the public school, extending the educational influences of good reading after school days are over, is of itself a sufficient reason for the maintenance of a supply of free books at the public expense.

Experience demonstrates that the modern library to be of use to the largest number of people must be free. This fact has been demonstrated repeatedly by actual statistics, notably in the city of Springfield, where in one year from the date the library was made free the number of cardholders increased from eleven hundred to more than seven thousand, and the circulation of books from forty-one thousand to one hundred and fifty thousand.

He says the most popular book in our libraries today is "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Wherever lists of books having the widest circulation are kept this book usually leads them. "Ben Hur" retains a remarkable fascination for the reader. "Lorna Doon," "The Scarlet Letter" and "The Marble Faun" are among the books most circulated. Some of the stories that delighted the readers of a generation ago, like "The Lamplighter," "Queechy" and "The Wide, Wide World," are much read today. While "Looking Backward" and "Robert Elsmere," after a wonderful run, have dropped out of the list of books widely called for. Scott's novels are in increasing demand, and the call for Dickens' works diminishing.

Mr. Tillinghast says: "It is a mistaken generosity which provides a town with a library for whose care or maintenance it is never to assume any responsibility. The final and absolute control of the libraries should not in any case be vested in a centralized board. It should remain in the hands of the people of the local community the library is to serve."

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

If the democratic policy prevails we are to have low tariff, no wages and soup houses the coming winter.

The United States senate had a fine object lesson on Monday in the house. It should go and do likewise.

A New York woman writes "that the Woman's Relief Corps is the bride of the Grand Army of the Republic." It is about time they celebrated the wedding anniversary.

Holman says "the pension depression" is so great in his district that he can see no chance for the election of a democrat to office. Hoke Smith has suspended the democratic party there.

Down in Biddeford, Maine, where liquor is only sold for medicinal and "mechanical purposes," the sales reach thirty-eight every hour the agency is open. It takes a good deal of "the stuff" to keep things lubricated in that firm, old prohibition state.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

A Robust Maiden.

Congressman Pigott made his maiden speech Saturday afternoon and it was the opinion of his friends that it was one of the most robust maidens thus far introduced to this garrulous congress.—[Hartford Post.

It Was a Rout?

The defeat of the free silver cohorts in the house was more than a defeat; it was a rout.—[Boston Journal.

Must Go Back to Low Tariff.

We should have to go back to the low tariff period in this country to find parallels to the free bread distribution in New York and the raids on the markets in Buffalo.—[Boston Journal.

A Splendid Unanimity.

Republican unanimity on the honest money side was splendid. If there had been like soundness among the democratic representatives the country would not now be afflicted with an epidemic of distrust.—[Boston Journal.

Free to do Anything But Work.

The corporations have been downed. The factory kings are kings no longer. The tariff robbers rob no more. For the first time in its history not a spindle is turning on the Amory; for the first time in half a century not a loom is working on the Amoskeag. Half the Stark is idle and the Manchester runs four days in a week. "The white slave" is free; free to go and come as he pleases; free to do anything except work and get his pay for it. —[Manchester Mirror and American.

Georgia Now Marching Through Us.

"Boys," said a sage old veteran to some comrades, "Hoke Smith of Georgia is boss at the pension bureau, and Representative Moses, also from Georgia, has now been made chairman of the house committee on pensions. Boys, I say, in '64 we were marching through Georgia,' but Georgia's called the turn on us at last, boys. Georgia's now marching through us."—[Oswego (N. Y.) Times.

The New Refrain.

Last fall the democratic workingman sang merrily as he went about his work,

Grover!
Grover!
Four years more of Grover.
In he goes,
Out they go,
Then we'll be in clover.

Now he is wandering up and down the earth hunting a job, and he sings dolefully:

Rover!
Rover!
Four years more a rover!
In he went,
Out I went,
I'm no more in clover!
—[The Leavenworth Times.

An Expensive Diet.

Poor people in New Haven are said to be living on mushrooms, of which there is an excellent crop which may be had for the gathering. But mushrooms are expensive diet, just the same. These poor people would do much better to send their crop to market and buy better and more substantial food with the money they would obtain for them. The writer once knew an Englishman living in one of the suburban wards of Boston who during the proper season used to gather mushrooms enough on his way to business to pay for a first-class dinner at Parker's.—[Springfield Union.

An Irrevocable Decision for Sound Finance.

The repeal of the Sherman law by a vote of 240 to 110 is a revelation. Sometimes a vote in congress or at the polls expresses a whim, not a conviction, and therefore is afterward reversed. There is every reason to believe that the verdict rendered Monday is an irrevocable decision for sound finance. It certainly is not a final settlement of the monetary problem, but it may be gratefully accepted as an authentic declaration that the American people see the way of honor and safety and can never again be tempted to leave it. It is an immense satisfaction to witness such a proof that the great republic is sound in head and at heart.—[New York Tribune.

This Promise Must Be Kept.

It is especially important that our republican friends make their position clearly understood. The party pledged itself to a bimetallic currency and solemnly promised to maintain the parity between the two metals. This promise must be kept or the party, particularly in the west, will become more thoroughly demoralized than ever, and hope of future victory will vanish. Western republicans have in times gone by rolled up immense majorities for the republican ticket, and our leaders will make a great mistake if they do not take immediate steps toward bringing about some agreement on this question which will not leave this important element of the party disappointed and embittered.—[New York Press.

Not the Main Cause of the Trouble.

It was especially fortunate that a leader so widely honored as Mr. Reed should make the fact clear that the present silver law has not been the main cause of business troubles, and that its repeal will not be a sufficient remedy. With the courage to state the truth exactly as it is, the republican leader showed that a part of the existing trouble had been caused by the failure of the act itself to accomplish what the silver men expected from it, and a part by the partisan anxiety of democrats to make this measure the scapegoat for disasters which their own success was likely to cause. Some part of the trouble can therefore be remedied by getting the act out of the way, and that is reason enough for the votes of the republicans. When it is out of the way, the party in power will have to face and deal with other causes of disaster.—[New York Tribune.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

THE LATE COL. E. A. BUCK.

Who Was Killed in the Accident on the Long Island Railroad.

Mr. Buck was born in Pomfret, Conn., about 55 years ago. He had only an ordinary district school education, and began his commercial career at an early age, in a country store. He showed an aptitude for business, and formed the acquaintance of Dean Richmond, who was at that time president of the New York Central railroad and a power in the democratic party. Mr. Richmond took a deep interest in Mr. Buck, and in 1865 sent him to Green Bay, Wis., in charge of the Western Transportation company, a steam freight line plying on the lakes. Mr. Buck went to Cleveland in 1869 and started the Cleveland trotting park. He moved to Buffalo two years later at the request of Mr. Richmond, to take charge of another branch of the freight business for the Central railroad.

Mr. Buck at this time became a director in the Buffalo driving park, and took great interest in trotting races. He owned Harry Harley and Plato, two famous trotting horses, and in August, 1870, trotted Harley for a $20,000 purse, the largest ever offered, and won it, after the horse had been knocked down in a collision with Lady Augusta. He made several investments which did not turn out well and went to Europe. He spent several years abroad and returned in 1878 and went into partnership with Jack Haverly in the mining business at Gunnison, Col. He made $1,000,000 in this business in a short time, and on coming east in October, 1875, bought a half interest in The Spirit of the Times and went into partnership with George Wilkes. They did not get on well together and Mr. Buck bought out Mr. Wilkes' interest September 25, 1879, and took charge of the paper.

Mr. Buck was a judge at the trotting circuit meetings for several years and his only venture in thoroughbred stock was three years ago, when he started a racing stable, with English Lady as star performer. It did not prove a successful venture and he sold out the stable. He took a deep interest in theatrical matters, and was instrumental in bringing Henry Irving to this country. Among his intimate friends in the profession were John McCullough, Billy Florence and E. A. Sothern. Irving when in this country spent all his spare time with Mr. Buck.

Mr. Buck's hospitality was often displayed on the yacht Rambler, and his steam yacht. He was exact in his business affairs, but his kindness of heart and liberality to the poor had been shown in hundreds of cases. He was married in Cincinnati in 1860, and Mrs. Buck and his two sons survive him. John A. Buck, who is the business manager of The Spirit of the Times, will take charge of the paper.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

Proof of Merit.

The proof of the merits of a plaster is the cures it effects, and the voluntary testimonials of those who have used ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS during the past thirty years is unimpeachable evidence of their superiority and should convince the most skeptical. Self praise is no recommendation, but certificates from those who have used them are.

Beware of imitations and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALLCOCK'S, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth, send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums and reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP."

We think we can cure a bad case of Backache quicker with one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters than by any other application, and after the Backache is cured you can still wear the plaster without discomfort for two or three weeks or longer. This combination of smart Weed and Belladonna is a great hit, and it is hard to find any pain or ache that will not yield to it. Price 25 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc. The long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are considerably weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

Sold by N. D. SEVIN & SON and LEE & OSGOOD. 5 may16wfmaw

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

A Three Days' Sale, Monday, Tuesday, Wedn'sd'y

While the whole country is anxiously waiting for Congress to legislate on the Silver Question we have solved the problem and present the solution in a nutshell.

Bring a silver dollar to us at any time during the next three days, namely—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—and this is what we will give you:

Adamantine Pins, sizes 2, 3 and 4, a paper,	.03
Nursery Pins, a card,	.03
Mourning Pins, a box,	.03
Ink, a bottle,	.03
Hair Pins, a dozen papers,	.04
Corset Steels, covered,	.05
Pint Bottle of Ammonia	.05
Card Case	.05
Tooth Brush	.07
Lather Brush	.07
Whist Broom	.07
White Glue	.07
Dress Shields	.09
2 ounce bottles of Perfumery	.10
Ladies' Skirt Supporters	.12
Waving Irons	.13
Total	$1 00

Actual value of the foregoing list $2.50. Bring a silver $1.00 and you can buy the entire lot or any portion of it you may desire. Bear in mind these prices are for three days only, and every article is something that enters into the every day needs of every household.

Here are a few other articles of household utility which can be bought for a little money for these three days:

Ivory Buttons, Flat and Ball, 8c for a two dozen card.
Pearl Buttons, sizes 18 to 24, 10c a card.
Whalebone Casing 12½c a piece.
Dress Belting 12½c a piece.
Nichols' Tooth Powder 12½c a bottle.
Cuticura Soap 15c a cake.
47-11 Glycerine Soap 15c a cake.
A 4 ounce bottle of Perfumery 15c.
A quart bottle of Ammonia 15c.
Ladies' Leather Belts 15c.
Feather Fans 15c.
Shears—sizes 6 and 7 inch, 19c.
Bath Gloves 19c.
Cashmere Bouquet Soap 19c.
A long bottle of 1492 Cologne 19c.
Ladies' Pocketbooks 29c.
Comfort Powder 35c a box.
Bath Brushes 39c.
Ladies' Shopping Bags 39c.
Alarm Clocks 69c.

The foregoing are all Staple articles. Everyone knows the regular prices. These special prices are for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

aug29daw

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

"THE PRINCE OF INDIA!"

—OR—

Why Constantinople Fell.

—BY—

GENERAL LEW WALLACE,

Author of "BEN HUR."

FOR SALE BY

Noyes & Davis.

aug26dew

WE CALL YOUR ATTENTION

To our fine line of Imported Sherries, Ports, Brandies, Cordials and Clarets. Also the Ashland, Walnut Hill, Cabinet, Scotch and Irish Whiskey, and the Old Tom, Royal Schiedam and Yacht Club Gins.

COATES & SHERIDAN, 65 West Main St., Dealers in the highest standards of foreign and domestic Wines and Liquors.

apr18MWF

STORAGE.

Storage of non-hazardous or imperishable goods or merchandise may be obtained in my Warehouse at 25 Commerce Street.

may16d A. T. CONVERSE.

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

DRUGS, PAINTS AND OILS.

No Notice Required.

Duggan's Soda Fountain

Is prepared to stand all runs upon it by depositors of 5 cents and upwards. Its draughts are pronounced by all as good as gold.

DUGGAN'S SODA FOUNTAIN,

aug24d 30 MAIN ST.

LEE & OSGOOD,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

DRUGGISTS,

129–133 Main St. and 150–154 Water St.

ESTABLISHED : 1786

—SOLE PROPRIETORS OF—

DR. DODD'S Nervine and Invigorator,

A NERVE TONIC

—AND—

STOMACHIC.

Dodd's Nervine aids digestion, insures good appetite, gives tone and vigor to the system, guarantees sweet and refreshing sleep and restores enfeebled and nervous constitutions to PERFECT HEALTH.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF

Atomizers and Perfumes.

COLGATE'S EXTRACTS IN BULK.

TOILET ARTICLES

IN GREAT VARIETY.

We make a Specialty of

Tooth Brushes.

Large Invoice Just Received.

25 AND 35 CENTS.

LEE & OSGOOD

NORWICH, CONN.

LUMBER AND COAL.

E. CHAPPELL & CO.

COAL,
LUMBER,
SHINGLES.

Greatest Variety. Largest Stock.

Branch Office, 207 Main St., Franklin Square. Office and Yard, Central Wharf.

Telephone at both offices. may16d

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRY

H. F. & A. J. DAWLEY

If you want good

BUILDING LUMBER & SHINGLES.

They have the largest stock in the city and will make you low prices.

Telephone [illegible] [illegible]

51 John A. Morgan & Son, 51

Coal & Lumber,

61 West Main St., Central Wharf.

Family Coal a Specialty.

Estimates furnished at short notice. Telephone.

51. jan5d 51

FINE ARTS.

REMOVED.

McNickle, Picture Frame and Gilding Manuf.,

Has Removed to 38 BROADWAY. You will always find a Complete Line of Artist Proof Etchings, Engravings, Prang's Studies and fac simile Water Colors. oct1d

REMOVED—Laighton Brothers have removed their photograph gallery from the Chelsea Bank Building to No. 8 Shetucket St., in the building with the Henry Bill Publishing Co., where all old patrons will be welcomed and new ones be heartily greeted. Their new rooms are neatly furnished, their facilities for doing first-class work have been much improved. New backgrounds have been put in, and the light for producing photographs has been arranged according to the best methods known to the business. All work promptly attended to.

mar8d LAIGHTON BROTHERS.

DURGAN'S PHOTOGRAPHIC ART STUDIO is the finest and best equipped in Norwich, centrally located, opposite the Wauregan House. Everything that taste, skill and experience can do has been done to facilitate the carrying on of the business in a high-class manner, and all customers patronizing my establishment will be sure of first-class work.

Photos made in every style, and all work satisfactorily finished. Special attention given to large work, such as Crayons, India Ink and Water Colors, or Solar Photos. Copying in all its branches. A large variety of Picture Frames always on hand. J. O. DURGAN.

feb16dWFew

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY.

Goods called for and delivered free of charge. Lace Curtains and all Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.

145 Little Water St.

Family Washing at special rates. nov1d

REAL ESTATE.

TO RENT.

Tenement of 6 Rooms. Hot and cold water, Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. [illegible] West [illegible] [illegible]. Rent moderate.

aug8d [illegible] [illegible]

TO RENT.

ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Rooms suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug4d

TO RENT.

A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS,

each with all the modern improvements, on Boswell Ave., of two rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 2 Water St. may16d

TO RENT.

Tenement 112 River Avenue.

apr19d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.

A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, [illegible] rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 8 Grove street, or inquire of E. M. BREWSTER, 45 Water Street. apr18

TO RENT.

The Large Store with fine Cellar

in the Rockwell Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Service & Stetson. Apply to aug8d GEORGE D. COIT.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.

A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons, also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.

Horseshoeing in all its Branches.

—11–13–15 Chestnut Street.—

jy17daw

TO MANUFACTURERS!

A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines cheapness and efficiency. WEEK'S ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest pipe and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn., Inventor and Manufacturer. nov18d

SUMMER TRAVEL.

New London Steamboat Co.

1893—SEASON—1893.

COMMENCING

SATURDAY, July 1st,

—THE—

STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND

Will make daily trips (Sundays excepted) between Norwich, Montville, New London, Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island. Leaving Norwich 8.15 a. m., Montville 8.45, New London 9.45, touching at Mystic Island and Watch Hill, arriving at Block Island 12.45 p. m.

Returning, leave Block Island at 3 p. m., Watch Hill 3.30, touching at Mystic Island; reaching New London at 5, Montville 5.50, and Norwich 6.15.

D. MACKENZIE, J. A. SOUTHARD,
jun2d Supt. G. P. A.

Steamer Ella.

SEASON OF 1893.

— ON —

Friday, June 23

And during the season the Steamer Ella will make daily excursions to the above resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.30, Ft. Griswold House 9.45, Mystic Island 10.30, arriving at Watch Hill about 11 M.

Returning, leave Watch Hill at 3.45 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 5.30, arriving about 7.

Special Rates to Excursion Parties.

Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.

Commerce's Wharf on signal.

je24d JAMES WALKER, Manager, Norwich Co.

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION

Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices.

Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.

No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.

jakdaw 38 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD.

DENTIST,

Over Boston Store, opp. Wauregan House. Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. nov1d

DR. J. H. ELDRED, DENTIST.

Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, Ether or Cocaine administered.

OFFICE—214 Main Street,

Tremont's Block Franklin Square. Residence 19 BROADWAY. nov1d

ESTABLISHED IN 1861.

Adam's Tavern,

NORWICH TOWN.

A. A. ADAM, Proprietor.

The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 10 years ago. They have become immensely popular. They sell on their own merits:

Imperial Bourbon, Bob Ward, 1888, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1880, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.

N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers. A. A. ADAM.

Telephone call 34–12. feb6d

All persons having unpaid bills against the town of Norwich are requested to present the same for payment at this office before the close of the fiscal year ending September 1, 1893. THURSTON B. LILLIBRIDGE, aug19d Chairman of Board of Selectmen.

NORWICH BIRD STORE.

Parrots, Rabbits, Squirrels, Guinea Pigs, African Finches, etc.

Bird Seed and Mocking Bird Food and all kinds of Bird Supplies.

Bird Cages in great variety.

56 Main St., Norwich, Conn.

aug8W

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR GOODS advertise them in THE BULLETIN.

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES

—OF—

DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.

As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles C. Bliss, 126 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, the entire stock of goods,

CONSISTING OF

Diamond Jewelry,
Gold and Silver Watches,
Sterling Silver Ware,
Gold Chains,
Brooches,
Rings,
French Black Marble Clocks,
French Onyx Clocks,
American Clocks,
Silver Plated Ware,
Pocket Books,
Fancy Goods,
Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.

jy25d JOHN BLISS, Administrator.

BOOK BINDERS.

BLANK BOOKS

made to order, Paper ruled to any pattern, Pages numbered from 1 to 100,000.

MAGAZINES BOUND

in any style of binding. Old books repaired. Back Nos. furnished to complete volumes by

JOSEPH BRADFORD, Practical Bookbinder,

Bulletin Building, up stairs, Norwich, Ct.

COWAN, the Bookbinder

will after this date be found on the ground floor,

103 Broadway.

TRAVELERS DIRECTORY.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD, NEW LONDON DIVISION.

Change of time.

On and after MONDAY, June 26, 1893, TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NEW LONDON AS FOLLOWS:

5.25 a. m., Norwich at 6.02 a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Palmer, Springfield, Ware, Gilbertville, Brattleboro, St. Johnsbury, Burlington, Montreal, Ogdensburg and intermediate stations.

8.00 a. m., Norwich 8.35 for Brattleboro, connecting at Willimantic for Boston, Hartford, Colchester, Middletown, New Haven, New York; at Palmer with Boston and Albany R. R. for Springfield, Pittsfield, Albany, and for points west; at Ware and Gilbertville, and at Brattleboro with Express for St. Albans, Montreal, and principal intermediate points. Also to points west via Grand Trunk R. R.

11.05 a. m., Norwich at 11.40 a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Waterbury, Middletown, Colchester, etc.

11.55 a. m., connecting from Providence, Boston, and intermediate stations.

3.00 p. m., connecting with express from Boston, Providence, New York and New Haven, at Norwich with Norwich & Worcester Railroad.

[illegible]

4.00 p. m., Norwich 4.35 p. m., connecting at Willimantic for Hartford, and at Palmer for Springfield, Albany and the west.

5.05 p. m., Norwich 5.40, for Brattleboro, connecting with train leaving New York at 1 p. m., and with N. Y., P. & B. R. R. from Providence and way stations; also Steamer Block Island from Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island, and connects at Willimantic for Hartford and Boston, Putnam, Boston and Providence; also for Colchester, Middletown, New Haven and New York; and at Palmer with Boston & Albany R. R., for Springfield, Albany and the west; and at Brattleboro with night express for St. Albans, Montreal and Quebec, reaching Montreal and principal points in Vermont the same evening.

8.30 p. m., for Norwich. This train connects with 1.00 p. m. express from New York.

9.25 p. m. (Sundays only) connecting with express train from New York and Boston.

GOING SOUTH.

Passenger trains LEAVE NORWICH as follows:

6.15 a. m., connecting for Stonington, Providence, New Haven and New York.

9.15 a. m., for New London, Stonington, Providence and Boston, New Haven and New York, connecting with steamer Block Island for Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island.

10.45 a. m., for New London, New Haven and New York, Providence and Boston.

12.00 a. m., for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.

2.00 p. m., for New London, New Haven and New York.

4.00 p. m., for New London, Stonington and Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.

5.15 p. m., for New London, connecting with Shore Line express reaching New York [illegible] p. m., with express train for Providence and Boston, and accommodation train to Westerly and intermediate stations.

6.00 p. m., for New London and for New York, by boat from New London.

8.00 p. m., for New London and for New York via boat from New London.

7.00 p. m. (Sundays only), connecting with express train for New York and Boston.

[illegible] D. MACKENZIE, Supt.

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.

NORWICH & WORCESTER DIVISION

For Boston, Worcester, Providence, Hartford, Waterbury, Newburgh.

Commencing MONDAY, June 12, 1893. Eastern Time Standard.

TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NORWICH UNION STATION.

6.10 a. m. (Sundays excepted), Passenger 6.[illegible] Connects at Putnam for Boston, arrive Boston 9.00 a. m. At Worcester for all points north, Portland, Rochester, [illegible]

[illegible] a. m. Way Passenger Train. Connecting at Plainfield Junction for Providence, arrive Providence [illegible] a. m.; at Putnam for Boston arriving at [illegible] a. m.; at Putnam for Willimantic and Hartford, arrive at Hartford 12.12 a. m. At Worcester for Boston, Springfield and intermediate stations, Albany and the west.

2.00 p. m., connecting at Putnam for Boston (arrive at 5.10 p. m.). At Plainfield for Providence (arrive at 12.45 p. m.). At Worcester with roads north, east and west. At Webster with train for Southbridge.

3.40 p. m. Way Passenger, connects at Putnam for Hartford and Boston, arrive Boston 6.15 p. m. At Webster for Southbridge, at Worcester with Boston & Albany Railroad, B. & M. R. R., and Fitchburg R. R.

5.25 p. m., for Plainfield, Providence and intermediate stations, through car, arrive at Providence 6.55 p. m.

8.15 p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Plainfield for Providence and from Providence.

A train leaves Providence at 7.10 a. m. and connects at Plainfield with train for Putnam, arriving at Putnam 8.45 a. m. (Leave Plainfield at 8.00 a. m.)

TRAINS GOING SOUTH LEAVE WORCESTER.

6.45 a. m., Way Passenger. Connecting at Webster for Southbridge, at Putnam with train for Hartford, Waterbury and intermediate points and New York, at Plainfield for Providence.

9.05 a. m., connects with trains from B. & M. R. R., F. R. R., and Boston and Albany; at Webster for Southbridge. At Putnam with train to and from Boston. (Take this train for Hartford, New York, Waterbury, Fishkill on Hudson and at Plainfield from Providence.)

12.00 p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster with train from Southbridge, at Putnam with 12 o'clock express from Boston for Willimantic, Hartford and New York. At Norwich for New London.

[illegible] p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster for Southbridge; at Putnam with [illegible] p. m. express train from Boston.

6.00 p. m., Steamboat Express for New York (via New London). (Sundays excepted.) Connects with trains from B. & M. R. R. and Fitchburg R. R. This train leaves Norwich for New London at 9.35 p. m.

9.00 p. m., Plainfield and Norwich, connecting at Plainfield with 4.35 p. m. train from Providence; arrive Norwich 9.50 p. m., through car.

W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass. Agt.
F. E. DEWEY, Supt.
Norwich, June 12, 1893. je13d

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your goods is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

Were You Ever Buttonholed by a tobacco dealer and told that some other Chewing Tobacco was just as good as

OLD. HONESTY

That man had an axe to grind. There's nothing so good as

OLDHONESTY

Insist on having it.

JNO. FINZER & BROS, Louisville, Ky.

FINANCIAL.

The Co-operative Building Bank

—HAS OVER—

$120,000.00

Maturity Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A larger showing than all others together. [illegible] C. J. WOLCOTT, Pres. 13 Franklin St.

MONROE MILLER & CO.,

Bankers and Brokers,

16 and 18 Broad St., New York City,

STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

DOMESTIC and FOREIGN BANKERS

Securities bought and sold for cash or on margin. Deposits received subject to Sight Draft. Interest allowed on deposits. Foreign Exchange, Commercial Credits, Cable Transfers. Circular letters for travelers available in all parts of the World. jy26MWF

LIVERY STABLE.

EDMUND GEE,

Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.

Good Teams at Reasonable Prices.

363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge.

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable

Hacks and teams to let, also a four-seated wagon and 'bus, convenient for parties and picnics, at reasonable prices. Horse clipping done by Cooper's Improved Power Machine.

A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

Livery Stables.

Orders for Coaches, Landaus, Landaulets and Coupes promptly attended to.

O H REYNOLDS,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened, Bicycles Repaired.

CARRIAGE AND BOAT TRIMMINGS NICKEL PLATED by

A. GOULD,

Industrial Building, near Union Station.

Rapidly Taking the Lead.

Convenient for Guests,

Indispensable to Clerks,

Profitable to Proprietors,

Indorsed by All Hotel Men.

[illegible]

THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE HOTEL REGISTER

AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.

BOOKS REGISTERING

1000 Arrivals, Canvas cover		$1.
1000	Tight Back	2 00
2000	Tight	2 50
3000	Spring	3 00
5000	Spring	3 4

Size of page, 8 x D.

[illegible] on the market.

Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and also a reasonable profit, as they cannot expect to get such favorable terms as we give our hotel patrons.

Remember, it is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.

Correspondence or interviews Solicited.

INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,

Manufacturers of Plate and Advertising Registers, Transfer Registers, Letter Forwarding, Cash and Call Books of every description.

Norwich, - - Conn.

I HAVE AN ODORLESS PUMP

and Barrel apparatus for cleaning Vaults and Cesspools. Orders sent to my address will be promptly attended to. CHAS. WOOD. Box 641 Norwich, Conn.

IN BOSTON MARKETS.

Butter Firmer With Declining Receipts for a Week.

NO PROMPT CHANGE EXPECTED.

Settled Prices for Green Vegetables Hoped for.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—A firm market, with declining receipts, tells the story of the past week's trade in butter at Boston. These two features are the natural sequence of a prolonged drought in the butter-producing regions, and the stress in financial circles, which has now come to make its effect felt by the humblest laborer.

The farmer is perhaps the last who will be affected, for, although his fine productions will not bring the fancy mark he has been wont to receive, yet his staple products are necessities of life, and must be obtained at some price to sustain the life of the city man.

Best butter is now under consideration. Choice western creamery is readily taken at 23 to 24 cents. Northern extra creamery brings 1 cent more, and good eastern creamery sells for 20 to 22 cents. It is said that the small receipts current here are the rule in the western centers, and therefore the firm feeling extends all over.

This argues that no change in the situation may be expected for some time to come.

Vegetables.

In the green vegetable market dealers are hoping for a settled price list for such jumps as prices made last week are not conducive to profitable and intelligent buying. Unsettled weather is the attributed reason for these changes. Some of the prices are: Native onions, $1.10 to $1.25 a bushel; tomatoes, $1.50 to $2 a bushel; cabbage, 5 to 8 cents a head, white turnips, 75 cents to $1 a bushel; green string beans, 75 cents to $1.25 a bushel box; marrow squash, $1 to $1.25 a barrel; good Crosby corn, 75 to 90 cents a bushel; Rose and Hebron potatoes, $2.75 to $3 a barrel; tomatoes, 25 to 40 cents a bushel of three dozen.

In the Fruit Market

the transition from southern and California varieties to native grown fruit is being made. Nearby orchards are now picking nice apples and pears, while peaches from Delaware are seen in place of those from California.

Grapes from Delaware and Maryland are abundant.

In prices also Crawford peaches are worth all the way from 75 cents to $1.25 a basket. Of course with the very large number arriving some are of second quality. These go at a much lower rate to the hucksters. Red Astrachan apples are worth $4.50 to $5 a barrel, Williams the same, and Sweet Boughs and Pippins at a range from $3 to $4.

Bartlett pears are worth $5 to $6.50 in barrels for the best.

Moore's early grapes bring 25 to 30 cents for a 10 pound basket.

The Quotations.

POTATOES—The potato market is down. The arrivals have been heavy of late, and the stock is early, and some of it is not standing the hot weather well. Quotations are: Rhode Island and natives, $2 00@2 50 per bbl; New Hampshire rose and hebrons, 60c per bushel; Aroostook rose and hebrons, [illegible] per bushel; New York white star, 60c. Sweets sell at $2@2 50 for ordinary to good, and at $2 75@3 per bbl for the best.

HAY—The hay market is steady and quiet. Straw is dull. Millfeed is easy: Good to choice hay, $18 50@20; choice to fancy, $20 50@21; fair to good, $16@17; eastern choice, $16@18; poor to good, $12@14; eastern swale, $10@10 50; rye straw, $14@15; oat straw, $8@9; sack spring bran, to arrive, $16 50@16 75; sack winter, $17; sack middlings, $16 75@18; cottonseed meal, $26 25 to arrive and $26 75 for spot.

PORK—The market on pork provisions is quiet, with quotations the same as noted yesterday: Choice fancy steers, [illegible]; prime, [illegible]; good, [illegible]; light, [illegible]; extra heavy hinds, 13c; good, [illegible]; light, [illegible]; heavy fores, [illegible]; light, [illegible]; backs, [illegible]; rattles, [illegible]; chucks, [illegible]; rounds, [illegible]; rumps, [illegible]; rumps and loins, [illegible]; short ribs, [illegible]; loins, [illegible].

MEAL—The position of cornmeal is easy, following the position of corn. Oatmeal is quiet and unchanged: Kiln-dried cornmeal for export, $2 15@2 20 per bbl; bag meal, $1@1 05; yellow granulated, $2 50@3; ground, cut and rolled oatmeal, $4 50@4 70 per bbl; rye, [illegible] per bushel for dealers, and at [illegible] from the trade in job lots; rye flour, $3 10@3 75 per bbl, as to quantity.

BUTTER—The butter market is steady and unchanged: Western creamery, [illegible]; first, [illegible]; imitation creamery, [illegible]; factory, 17@17½c; northern creamery, extra, 23½@24c; northern dairy, 21@22c; eastern creamery, extra, 20@22c. These are prices for round lots. Jobbing lots and fancy lots cost more.

LAMBS AND MUTTONS—Muttons and lambs are easier; Choice spring lambs, [illegible]; common to good, [illegible]; poor and ordinary, 7@8c; Brightons, [illegible]; yearlings, [illegible]; muttons, [illegible]; choice heavy Brightons, [illegible]; choice eastern veals, [illegible]; common to good, [illegible]; Brightons and fancy, 10@11c.

FLOUR—The flour trade is quiet. There is little change in quotations: Fine and supers, $2@2 50; extra and seconds, $2 40@3 75; Minnesota bakers', clear and straight, $3 40@3 90; winter, clear and straight, $3 30@3 75; winter pat, $3 75@4 25; spring pat, $4 10@4 75.

OATS—Oats are steady and unchanged. Clipped, to arrive, are quoted at [illegible]. The spot market is quoted at: Clipped, [illegible]; fancy, [illegible]; No. 2 white, [illegible]; No. 3 white, nominal, at [illegible]; clipped, mixed, nominal, [illegible].

EGGS—Eggs are steady. Some fancy well known marks of western, sold yesterday at 18c, to arrive: Western, 15@16c; Michigan, 16@16½c; provincial, 16½@17½c; eastern and northern, 21@22c.

CHEESE—Cheese is steady, with quotations unchanged. Northern full creams, [illegible]; fair to good, [illegible]; western choice, [illegible]; fair to good, [illegible]; sage, 9c. There was no London cable.

CORN—Corn is easier. The quotations on No. 2 yellow, to arrive, are at [illegible]. The spot market is easier, with quotations at: Steamer yellow, [illegible]; steamer mixed, [illegible].

M'CREARY'S RESOLUTION.

Kentuckian Proposes a Commission on the Monetary Question.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Representative McCreary of Kentucky has prepared the joint resolution which he will introduce at the earliest opportunity, providing for an investigation of the monetary question. Mr. McCreary says there have been but two commissions on this subject in recent years, the one in this country of 1876 and the Herschel commission in Great Britain, which has recently made its report.

The United States commission, he says, was of vast benefit, preparing a way for the Bland-Allison act of 1878, and, so far as that went, remonetizing silver, and the British commission has had an immense influence on Europe in favor of bimetallism.

The joint resolution provides for a commission constituted to consist of three senators, to be appointed by the president of the senate; three representatives, to be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, and three experts to be selected by the President of the United States, with authority to determine the time and place of meeting and to take evidence as to double standard and the banking system, either in Washington or in any other city of the United States, before the whole committee or before subcommittees.

THE SENATE BATTLEGROUND.

Old Force Bill Combination Coming Troublesome Silver Question.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The house having disposed of the silver question, the friends of the administration who managed that subject in the house are turning their attention to the senate. Secretary Carlisle and other members of the administration are in conference with the senate special committee, of which Senator Gorman is chairman, endeavoring to unite the Democrats of that body on a line of policy which will insure an early vote. They propose to allow the silver senators full opportunity to discuss the silver question in all its phases. Nor will any attempt be made to abridge the debate in the slightest degree. The friends of the administration say that when the subject has been fully discussed, as it was in the house, the silver senators should then allow a vote to be taken on all amendments to the bill reported from the finance committee by Senator Voorhees to repeal the purchasing clause in the existing law.

To the present time the administration managers have not been able to secure an understanding with the free silver advocates who are antagonizing the repeal bill. The difficulty in the way of securing the cooperation of the free silver Democrats is the old agreement which was effected with the Republican silver senators on the force bill. These Republican senators were the means of defeating the measure. There has been a general understanding since that time that the Democratic senators who were benefited by their action would, when an opportunity offered, reciprocate.

Senator Gorman was the principal party in making those arrangements, and now the senator is not supposed to be held by an understanding had two years ago. He and other friends of the administration have taken the position that the question now at issue is not defined by party lines, but is one in which every business and financial interest is involved. Therefore, they should not be held to the terms of the agreement.

Secretary Carlisle was in the senate at that time and was a party to the conference which led to that result. He does not think that the Democrats in the senate should be called upon by the Republican silver senators to help them out of their present embarrassment. There is a clear majority of Democratic senators who hold to this view. There are a few who are inclined to stand by their old agreement with the Republicans who aided them in the force bill contest.

WARRANT FOR GOLDMAN.

Noted Female Anarchist Wanted by Officers For Incendiary Utterances.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—It is said on good authority that a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Emma Goldman, the female anarchist, for her incendiary utterances at one of the meetings of the anarchists in this city last week. Miss Goldman has left the city, having received an inkling of her intended arrest, and she is now believed to be in Buffalo. Detective Jacobs, of Inspector McLaughlin's staff, is said to have gone to Buffalo for the purpose of executing the warrant.

According to Superintendent Byrnes, who is giving the anarchists his personal attention in the absence of Inspector McLaughlin, who is on his vacation, no further arrest of anarchists have been made since Timmerman's. The superintendent would not discuss the report that Detective Jacobs had started after Miss Goldman.

At the district attorney's office Acting District Attorney Davis said that he believed the anarchists had been completely squelched, and he did not think they would again attempt to speak in violation of the law. "Of course," added Mr. Davis, "they may hold meetings, but they may rest assured that they will be watched, and any speakers uttering incendiary and illegal language will be arrested."

No effort, Mr. Davis said further, had been made to secure a bondsman for the $2000 bail under which Claus Timmerman, the anarchist, is now languishing in the tombs, and the indications are that he will stay there for some time. Things are now very quiet in the anarchist district, and, as far as could be learned, no effort would be made to hold another meeting.

At the anarchist headquarters, 11 Pike street, a half dozen men were discussing Timmerman's arrest and the reports about Miss Goldman's intended capture. One of the men said that it was proposed to have another meeting to denounce any action looking towards Miss Goldman's incarceration, but it could not be learned where the meeting would be likely to be held.

RIPE OLD AGE.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes Celebrates His Eighty-fourth Birthday.

BEVERLY FARMS, Mass., Aug. 29.—Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes is celebrating his 84th birthday today.

Last evening he received a beautiful floral remembrance from his publishers, Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and this day's mail brought many letters of congratulation. The poet is in good health, and was very cordial to his visitors, who were mostly newspaper men.

To a reporter he said: "Yes, I am 84 today. I am the same age as Gladstone. I was born in the same year as four of the greatest men of the century—Tennyson, Lincoln, Darwin and Gladstone. Four remarkable men. Gladstone is still quite vigorous, but the others are gone.

"Yes, I am pleased to say, I am quite well in health, but I suppose my work is about over."

PIONEER SHOEMAKER DEAD.

Lemuel Burrill, the Oldest Voter in Avon Passes Away.

AVON, Mass., Aug. 29.—Lemuel Burrill, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of this section, died at his late residence on Page street, yesterday, at the age of 96 years.

Mr. Burrill was a shoemaker by trade and manufactured boots for several years at home. This was long before the war, and in those days, when there were no large shoe factories, and every manufacturer made his boots at home, carrying them over the road to Boston once a week to market.

He was the oldest voter in town and always voted the Republican ticket, his first vote for president being for William Henry Harrison.

Harry Robinson's Body Found.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The body of Harry S. Robinson, the colored lad who was drowned in the Charles river, near Cottage Farm, last Saturday afternoon, was recovered this morning on the Cambridge side by the police of that city.

[illegible]

"This confounded thermometer isn't worth retaining any longer," said Uncle Peter.

"What is wrong with it?"

"Why, one day it says one thing and the very next it is something altogether different."—Tit-Bits.

Optimistic.

Dr. Bragg—Well, I can say truly that I never lost a case.

Dr. Quickley—It is better to have had and lost than never to have had at all.—Boston Transcript.

WORK OF A DEMON.

Frank Sheffield Has Been Flighty for Years.

NO MOTIVE TO KILL HIS CHILD.

Renounced Christianity a Few Years Ago.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Aug. 29.—The father of Frank A. Sheffield, Rev. John E. Sheffield, who is now visiting at Rev. George E. Brightman's, is prostrated by the news of the murderous work of his son, who so horribly butchered his child yesterday afternoon at Rocky Point. It has completely unnerved him. He says that Frank had no motive to kill his child, and that it was the work of a demon, rather than a man. The old man, who is now about 70, will say but little of the terrible crime. It has just been learned that Frank Sheffield has been "rather flighty" for years on religious matters.

A few years ago he renounced Christianity and was an earnest follower of the materialistic philosophy. He taught his children to believe that and forbade them to speak to any one who called himself a Christian. He took great pleasure in arguing against all manner of Christian thought, and in studying the writings of the agnostic scientists.

A Christian Was a Demon,

A few weeks ago he went into a Methodist class meeting and arose to ask for prayers. This astonished those who knew his strong anti-Christian prejudices.

It has been Sheffield's custom, when he was troubled about any matter, to come to the home of his brother-in-law, Rev. Mr. Brightman, and tell his woes. It was only a few days ago that he put in an appearance at Attleboro, and at that time he was in a terrible condition. It was then, it is presumed, that he was seized with the impulse Impulse to Kill His Child.

The little one was at the house of Mr. Brightman, and Sheffield slyly took her and went to North Attleboro with her yesterday morning. From there he went to Providence.

A newspaper representative was the first to inform Rev. Mr. Brightman of the work of his brother-in-law. The reverend gentleman was at a class meeting in the church. He was called out and the terrible news imparted to him.

Mrs. Brightman, the sister of Sheffield, is very much affected by her brother's horrible deed. The body of the little girl will be buried in Westerly, Rev. Mr. Brightman having made arrangements for the funeral.

HEARTLESS BEYOND BELIEF.

St. Bernard Dog Tied to a Tree and Left to Starve to Death.

LOWELL, Mass., Aug. 29.—The Humane society has offered a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of the person who tied a dog to a tree in the woods and left it there to starve.

The case is a peculiar one, and heartless beyond belief. Frank Scott, while roaming through the woods near the Windham road, about three miles from Lowell, found a dog tied to a tree.

It was a fine brute, a mixture of Newfoundland and St. Bernard, about three feet high, and weighing 100 pounds. A week or 10 days of suffering had made a changed animal.

The dog was dying. A wire was fastened to the dog's collar, then tied to the tree. It was so short the animal could not lie down without hanging by the head. He had gone round and round the tree until the wire had cut a deep groove in it. All the grass and shrubbery within reach had been eaten, and the dog's neck was cut to the bone and bleeding, the result of his efforts to break away or get more food.

When Scott found him the dog was in a pitiful sight, his ribs showing out through a once glossy coat, the tongue hanging from his mouth, the neck bleeding from the collar, and while too weak to stand, the dog was unable to lie down.

Scott brought the animal food and water, but it could not eat or drink, and when released fell to the ground, never to get up again. Scott shot him and notified the Humane society.

President In Perfect Health.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—A. H. Wood of Wood, Pollard & Co., who has been at Buzzard's Bay for the past few days with President Cleveland, was seen this morning by a Clay Press reporter and asked if there was any truth in the report that Mr. Cleveland had had an operation performed on his jaw. Mr. Wood said there was no truth in the report, and that the president was in perfect health.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Fall River manufacturers have decided to cut wages.

Three Manchester (N. H.) boys were drowned in the Merrimac.

Rev. Frank H. Sheffield of Providence killed his 5-year-old daughter.

A yacht accident on Lake Champlain caused the death of five persons.

Percy H. Brundage, commission merchant at New York, has assigned.

Anna Flannigan of Nashua, N. H., fell into the Nashua river and was drowned.

Scarlet fever is raging at South Eliot, Me., some 15 or 20 families being attacked.

William O'Brien, 9 years old, was drowned at Danielsonville, Conn., from a raft.

Twenty-one persons were hurt by the fall of a church upset by a tornado in Texas.

Miss Lillian Russell is to wed Howard Osborn and to receive three-quarters of a million.

It is thought that Lieutenant Peary's steamer will be frozen up before it can be unloaded.

Stockholders of the People's Fire Insurance company offered a reward for Merrill's apprehension.

Charles De Lang, a member of the crew of the schooner Harry G. French, was washed overboard and drowned at Gloucester, Mass.

The house of A. E. Milligan of Holbrook, Mass., was entered by burglars. Seventy dollars in cash and jewelry valued at $60 were taken.

A terrible tornado swept over Georgia and a portion of North Carolina and Virginia. Telegraphic communication is shut off, but it is reported that 40 persons were killed at Savannah, and that $10,000,000 damage was done.

Dispelled.

I dreamt I dwelt in marble halls;
I felt at ease, with life content,
Till fancy brought the landlord's calls;
He came, alas, to get the rent.
—Buffalo Courier.

Her Objection.

He—How do you like Lord Foppington, Miss Barrow?

Miss Barrow—Not at all. He can't pronounce his r's, and I do detest being addressed as Miss Bowwow.—Tit-Bits.

A Happy Result.

"Well, is your visit to the seaside having the desired effect, madam?"

"Oh, yes, doctor! One of my daughters has already become engaged."—Tit-Bits.

THE CONDUCTOR.

A circular city railway is to be constructed in Vienna.

Last year the total valuation of the railroads of Kansas was $50,000,000. This year it is increased $10,000,000.

William Jones, blacksmith, recently completed his fiftieth year in the employ of the Boston and Albany railroad.

On many of the railways in Germany the practice of starting locomotive fires with gas instead of wood has been adopted and proves economical.

CURIOUS CULLINGS.

The Yezidees, a peculiar Turkish sect, cut off the head of any one who inadvertently speaks the word "devil," "satan" or anything with a similar meaning.

The Turkish mother loads her child with amulets as soon as it is born, and a small bit of mud, steeped in hot water prepared by previous charms, is stuck on its forehead.

There is a tribe in central Africa among whom speakers in public debates are required to stand on one leg while speaking, and to speak only as long as they can so stand.

THE INVENTOR.

Artificial grass is a new English industry.

A music box in which a disk instead of a cylinder carries the little pegs which strike the keys is new.

A new finger moistener for bank tellers, paper counters, etc., consisting of a sponge and receptacle, can be attached to the clothing.

A fire or water proof paint composed of coal tar, petroleum, benzine, rosin, sulphate of zinc, sal soda and linseed oil in fixed proportions is the latest.

Appropriate.

Mrs. Bingo—My husband calls this my velvet dress.

Mrs. Kingly—Why, there isn't any velvet about it.

Mrs. Bingo—No. But he won it at poker.—Truth.

So They Were Married.

Featherstone—How did Malton come to marry so soon that rich girl he was engaged to? I thought he was going to wait.

Ringway—He was. But he wanted to see the World's fair.—Detroit Free Press.

If a man commits a murder in Tungora none of the natives will defile his hands or weapons by killing him. He is supposed to be haunted by the spirit of his victim until he goes mad and kills himself; but, as a matter of fact, the priests capture and strangle him unknown to the rest of the community.

An Observation.

When deep in love, we groan about
Its travail and its pain;
But, senseless men! when safely out
We long to love again.
—Truth.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Dealings In Leading Securities In Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—In the outside market call money is quoted at 6 to 10 per cent, and time money is nominally 6 per cent.

There is value in numbers. This fact is demonstrated by the vote in the house yesterday upon the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman law and the course of the stock market. That the house would vote for such a disposition of that piece of legislation no one doubted. Indeed, such a result had already been discounted in the rally in the narrow list of active stocks during the last two days. But that the repeal of the clause would be carried by any such majority as 131 was beyond the predictions of the most sanguine. The significance of this to the stock market is that it makes almost certain now the speedy action of the senate in the same direction. It cannot be, in the face of such overwhelming popular desire as is manifest in that vote, that that body will long delay action. This belief was immediately manifest in the rally which followed the announcement and the strong and buoyant close of the Boston and New York Exchanges.

The chief obstacle in the way of the expansion of the stock market is the difficulty in obtaining time loans. The market as it is now is narrow and professional. So it must continue until the general investing public returns to it. That cannot be until the money market becomes normal.

This does not mean that prices are likely to go at once to the figures which prevailed during the first part of the year. There is an industrial depression which it will take time to recover from, and which meanwhile must seriously tell on the earnings of many of the great railroads. This reduction in receipts will of necessity influence the prices of the shares when quotations are compared with those prevailing during the swelling traffic of the companies. But it does mean that with a return of confidence quotations are likely to bear some closer relation to intrinsic value. They are divorced now.

How far the upward movement started yesterday would have gone there is no way of telling, as the interruption of the telegraphic service this morning practically isolated the Boston market. London, however, came from ½ to 1 per cent above prices here. As it was, the local market opened dull and featureless. Sugar was active, the common opening ¼ up at 80 and declining subsequently to 79⅛, while the preferred, starting off 1¼ up at 80¼, lost the ¼. General Electric advanced from 40 to 41 and then sold to 39¼, while the preferred dropped from 66 to 63. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy was fairly strong, advancing from 78 to 79, while Union Pacific was 1 stronger at 22. Bay State Gas worked up ⅛ to 8, and the first 5s sold from 69¼ to 66. Boston and Maine and Pullman were each up 1, while Bell Telephone dropped from 173 to 174.

Such meagre reports as could be gotten from New York indicated that the market there was weaker. The decline was attributed to the illness of President Cleveland, the pith of the story being that he had been undergoing some kind of a surgical operation.

STOCKS—CLOSING.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	19⅛
Bell Telephone	173
Boston and Albany	199
Boston and Maine	145
Bay State Gas	8
Calumet	[illegible]
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	79¼
Fitchburg	71
Lamson Cash Railway	14@15
Erie Tel	[illegible]
General Electric	40¼
Mexican Central	7
New England Tel	[illegible]
Old Colony	187
Pullman	160
Sugar preferred	80¼
West End Land	12⅛
West End R. R.	65
Wisconsin Central	[illegible]

New York Stocks.

Canada Southern	46
Chicago Gas	58⅛
Cotton Oil	31¼
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western	138¼
Erie	15
Lake Shore	118¼
Louisville and Nashville	54
Manhattan	114½@115
Michigan Central	94@97
Missouri Pacific	26⅛
National Cordage	20⅛
New Jersey Central	99@100
Northwestern	97⅜
Northern Pacific	6⅛
New York Central	100¼
New York and New England	22¼
Pacific Mail	10@11
Reading	17
Rock Island	60⅛
St. Paul	56⅛
Sugar, com	79⅛
Union Pacific	21¼
Western Union	79⅛
Whisky	25⅛

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Cotton dull; middling uplands 7⅝c; Orleans 7⅞c; sales 131 bales. Futures closed steady; sales 141,200 bales: September, 7.39c; October, 7.49c; November, 7.51c; December 7.61c; January, 7.70c; February, 7.80c; March, 7.88c; April, 7.97c; May, 8.05c.

WORK TOO MANY HOURS.

The Cause of Much Sickness in August.

Those Who Cannot Travel May Gain Renewed Strength.

Expressman Seaver Tells of a Remedy in Reach of Every One.

Sick men and women are met on every hand, here and across the continent of Europe, scattered up and down the sunny shores of the Mediterranean, steaming across the ocean in search of rest and health.

But where one can afford the luxury of such recreation there are hundreds who work, work, work all summer.

Those who work too many hours soon lose their only wealth—their health. The nervous system and the brain do not get rest enough; exhaustion and excitability gradually take the place of love of work. Sound sleep deserts, their appetite fails, indigestion troubles, and they are sick. Then it is that they should take the remedy that makes people well. For Paine's celery compound supplies the system with nerve and brain food, and sustains the vital force and energy. It takes away the drowsiness and nervous headaches which result from protracted work coupled with anxiety. Paine's celery compound lays the foundation of health by making sound sleep possible. It soothes and quiets the nerves when they are working confusedly. It tones up the digestive organs.

One of the most enterprising expressmen in Boston, Mr. H. Seaver of 59 Warren St., Roxbury, Mass., who owns an express business running from Boston to Roxbury and the Highlands, says: "On the recommendation of a friend I got some of Paine's celery compound for my family. We have used it as a family medicine, and in every case it has proved a cure. We will use it and recommend it to all as long as it proves to be such an all curing remedy. The friend mentioned is a commercial traveler, and was cured of dyspepsia by using three bottles of Paine's celery compound, and felt in duty bound to recommend it."

In these days of hot and pouring sun rays all those who are obliged to labor and who feel the enervating effects of the summer should take Paine's celery compound. It makes people well, as it did in the home of Mr. Seaver. aug30d

MARKETS

LAMB and CHICKEN

—AT—

J. D. Murphy's,

MARKET STREET.

LOOK!

Porterhouse Steak	20c.
Sirloin	18c
Round	12c
Shoulder	10c.

How can I do this? Why, because I have my meats shipped to me directly from the west in carload lots, thereby saving the middle profit. Don't let anyone make you think that the quality of my goods is not equal to any in the market. Try them and be convinced.

JAMES DAWSON, JR.,
144 VALLEY ST., Willimantic, Conn.
[illegible] MAIN ST. Norwich.

SADLERY, ETC.

LANE BROS.

—Have a—

Seven-Foot Delivery Wagon

Which you can turn around in a ten-foot circle.

67—69 Water St.

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,

AT MODERATE PRICES

At 115 Main St., J. G. STANDISH.

ATTORNEYS.

Charles B. Carpenter,

PENSION ATTORNEY.

Office with A. Irving Royce, over Thames National Bank. Special attention given to the execution of vouchers for quarterly payments. Advice free. No fee unless claim is granted.

MISCELLANEOUS.

JARVIS' MILITARY BAND

—AND—

ORCHESTRA

Furnish Music for Parades, Picnics, Balls, Excursions and Entertainments of All Kinds at Reasonable Prices. Address A. W. JARVIS, Leader, 45 Division St., Norwich, Conn. apr26MWF

Alonzo H. Converse,

PAINTER.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging

Wall Tinting in all its branches.

148 Little Water St.

Graining done for the trade.

INTERIOR and EXTERIOR

Decorative House Painting.

D. S. UNDERWOOD,

Residence 135 Franklin St.

REMOVAL.

We have removed

From 11 to 31 Chestnut St.,

Where we have superior facilities for doing all kinds of work in our line

Steam Carpet Cleaning.

Ladies' garments, cloth of all description dyed. Dyeing feathers a specialty. Promptness and thoroughness guaranteed.

WILSON BROS.

S. S. THRESHER,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Notary Public.

Nos. 6 and 8 Broad Hall, Norwich

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Five Gallon Oil Can.

LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,

91 Water St.,

AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

FLOUR

Is the lowest ever known, and Bread is the cheapest Food that can be used. The Flour that makes the Best Bread and the most loaves of Bread is

"PILLSBURY'S BEST"

For Sale Everywhere.

SMITH, NORTHAM & CO.,

HARTFORD, CONN. MILLER'S AGENTS.

GROCERIES.

FILL YOUR

Lunch Baskets

—AT—

RALLION'S.

6 Broadway, Central Building.

FRUIT JARS.

Mason's Improved.

A. T. OTIS.

WE'RE STILL HERE!

AT 300 FRANKLIN STREET,

AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE.

Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or greenback. Come and see us and bring the children.

H. D. AVERY.

Kingan Hams.

The BEST Ham in the world 14c lb. Every Ham warranted.

J. A. STODDARD & SON.,

Franklin St.

Cliquot Club Ginger Ale,

Cowdry's Deviled Meats,

Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken

—AT—

R. S. BARTLETT'S,

4 and 6 Broad Opera House.

Concentrated Claret Lemonade

Lime Juice and

Imported Ginger Ales, at

A. L. ALLEN'S

HORSES

TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES

at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St. by the new Veterinary, DR. E. L. TOWER, graduate from Ontario Veterinary College.

J. E. GARDNER, JR., D. V. S.

VETERINARIAN,

Office—Chapman's Stables, 11 Bath Street. Telephone 128-12.

CAUTION.

There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. We have no agents in Norwich.

C. E. TRAFTON, Mgr.

REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO., Office 52 Shetucket St., Norwich Ct.

THE TIME
TO BUY
IS WHEN
THE OTHER FELLOW
WANTS
TO SELL

WE WANT TO SELL

OFFICE
STATIONERY
WILL NEVER BE CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

sure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure sure sure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure sure

CAKE
Keeps Fresh
if made with Cleveland's
Baking Powder.

sure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure
sure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure sure pure aprl8WF

TO RENT.
Tenement on Laurel Hill.
Apply to office of estate of Henry Bill. aug8d

FOR SALE.
A good BICYCLE in good running order.
Will be sold cheap. Inquire at this office. aug8d

Two Furnished Rooms to Let,
With or without board. Apply at aug8d No. 26 SHETUCKET ST.

George A. Kies
Will resume lessons on and after
FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, 1893.
aug8d&w

FOR SALE.
Owner going abroad desires to sell immediately at low figures
3 ELEGANT HIGH-BRED SADDLE HORSES,
Extra Style, Perfect Action, Very Handsome, Fearless, Safe and Sound. Can be ridden by a lady; also can be driven. One is a Kentucky Thoroughbred, the other an English Hunter.
aug8d BOX 146, Springfield, Mass.

STEAMER GYPSY.
CHANGE OF TIME.

On and after FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, until further notice, this steamer will leave here on her morning trip at 6.35, or on arrival of 6.30 electric cars, and on her afternoon trip at 1.30, a half hour earlier than heretofore. This change will give patrons the usual time at the beach and enable them to reach home at 6.30 instead of 7 p. m.

Hereafter when the Gypsy cannot land at beach with safety, car tickets will be furnished to patrons for that point free to and from New London by the agent on board.
aug8d PALMER SMITH.

SCHOOL BOOKS,
SCHOOL SUPPLIES,
AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
SCHOOL DISTRICTS FURNISHED with every requisite
AT LOWEST PRICES.
Cranston & Co.
aug8d&w

HORTON'S
WORLD-RENOWNED
--ICE CREAM--
FRESH THIS TUESDAY MORNING.

I wish to apologize to the public for not being able to supply the great rush for Horton's Ice Cream during the last few days, but will endeavor to have a big supply during the remainder of the season.
One quart boxes 40 cts. One pint 25 cts.
J. C. PERKINS,
aug8 TuTh&w Confectioner.

Do You Know Any One
Who is Hard to Suit?
Bring him in. We can make all sorts of Suits for the different kinds of days to be lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable.
GEO. E. CLARK,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 4, Shannon Block. jy1d

REMOVAL.
OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN
OCULIST and AURIST,
To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.
Special attention given to correcting all forms of abnormal vision with proper Spectacles or Eye Glasses. No fee charged in such cases except in ASTIGMATISM or where it is necessary to prescribe in addition to fitting glasses. to18d

WORTH TRYING.
— AN —
ICE CREAM
Made From Pure Cream
From the Makers Own Dairy.
EVERY KNOWN FLAVOR.
KEEPS HARD ONE HOUR.
QUART BRICKS, 40c. PINTS, 25c
N. D. SEVIN & SON.
aug8d&w

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Wednesday August 30, 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before 6 a. m.

Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co.

The Weather Today.

Indications for Connecticut: Fair weather; slightly warmer during the day, followed by cooler at night; westerly winds, decreasing in velocity.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

The New London schools will be opened on September 1.

Alderman W. H. Palmer is confined to his bed by illness.

Officer John Royston patroled W. S. Doty's beat Tuesday night.

Horace Johnson prophecies another gale on September 6th and 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Miller, from the missionary field in Burmah, are visiting in North Stonington.

On and after Friday, September 1, the steamer Gypsy will leave Norwich at 6.35 a. m. and 1.30 p. m.

Mr. Frank O'Neil of this city succeeds Frank T. Valentine as salesman for Goldie, the New London clothier.

The children of Ocean Beach cottage owners raised $106 65 by their recent sale for the benefit of Memorial hospital, New London.

The Swedish summer school at New Britain will close Friday. In the evening there will be examinations and an entertainment.

Virginia Dare Council, D. of L., take the Summer Girl for an outing at Bushy Point today and will be joined by members of the order in New London.

The steamer City of New York did not make her regular trip Tuesday night, and will lay over until Thursday. Extensive repairs are being made on her boilers.

The Rev. Wm. F. Coburn, the evangelist, will address the afternoon session of temperance revivalist meeting at Crescent Beach today; subject, "Soul evincing."

Miss Louise P. Gates of Mystic, who has many acquaintances in town, was married on Tuesday to Chauncey G. Stephens, manager of the Lantern Hill [illegible] works.

This is the third time in his long and eventful career as a priest that Vicar General Hughes of Hartford has had charge of the Catholic diocese of Connecticut owing to the death of a bishop.

The United States dispatch boat Dolphin is in the harbor waiting for Secretary Herbert who is to come here to witness the trial of the new cruiser Castine that is expected to take place this week.

The Very Rev. James Hughes has been appointed administrator of the Catholic diocese of Hartford, and the Rev. Dr. J. P. Donovan will continue as chancellor and secretary to the administrator.

Pattison & Sprague, who catered for the Third regiment and other organizations at Camp Morris this year, Tuesday finished loading their paraphernalia on the cars, ready for shipment to Norwich.

A buggy belonging to Captain C. F. Foote had a collapse on Main street Tuesday afternoon, due to the falling apart of a hind wheel. A borrowed wheel was substituted and the vehicle was taken to the repair shop.

The Rose of New England Wheel club held a meeting Tuesday evening and completed arrangements for the tournament of Labor day. All the clubs in this vicinity have received invitations to attend the meet and eighty-four entries have been made. Prizes have been contributed and are on exhibition in the show window of N. S. Gilbert & Sons.

Pride of the East Lodge of Good Samaritans gave a prize walk for an oil painting in Lucas hall Tuesday night. It was won by Miss Sally Shepardson and Reuben Powers. Frank Lee, George E. Tonsit and William Carter of Providence were judges. Jackson's orchestra furnished music.

The seventh annual reunion of the Stone family will be held at the Milford hotel on Wednesday, October 20. All bearing the name or affiliated by marriage are invited to attend this meeting at the ancestral home. Many of the descendants of Thomas Hooker are connected with the Stone family. Dinner will be served at 12:30.

The Alert Hose company of Willimantic is having considerable trouble over its proposed trip to the World's fair. A few days ago a contract was made with the New England road through a sub-agent to transport the members. Saturday they received word that the contract made was void. They are now in a dilemma how to get transportation.

H. I. Read, fireman on the Consolidated road, met with a peculiar accident on Sunday, whereby he almost lost the sight of one of his eyes. He was attending to his duties on a trip to New London, when the sight feed glass of the air pump lubricator broke, throwing the broken glass with great force, several pieces striking in and around one of his eyes. As a result the eye-ball is badly gashed, although the eye will be saved if inflammation does not set in.

The schooner Dreadnaught, with Captain Thomas Saunders aboard, is again afloat and riding at anchor off Pendleton's wharf, Stonington. It will be remembered that this vessel was cast ashore on the west side of the harbor during the recent gale. She was floated by Captain Greenman with his tug Westerly Saturday evening. The schooner received no injury by the adventure, and is ready to take another similar chance at any time.

PEOPLE WHO COME AND GO.

Where Health and Rest Seekers Are.

Mr. J. Harry Holbrook will leave Saturday night for the World's fair.

Mr. Allan T. Bear, of The New York Herald, is in town for two weeks.

Walter Bussey and Miss Helen Sharpe of Putnam are visiting in Norwich.

Willis W. Clark, a former Norwich business man, is in town for a few days.

Mrs. Charles B. Chapman and daughter of Athol, Mass., are visiting N. L. Bishop.

Mrs. Joseph E. George and daughter of Summit street are guests of friends in New London.

Miss Estella Yost of Rockville is visiting her cousin, Miss Grace Eldredge of Fairmount street.

Fred. Bliss, of Bliss, Taft & Co., wool stock dealers, leaves town today on a business trip to Maine.

Mrs. H. Willey and daughter of this city are being entertained by Mrs. H. L. Manley of Middletown.

Misses Gertrude Browning, Sarah Browning and Mary Greenman are summering at East Hampton.

Mr. H. J. Pettengill of Boston, superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company, was in town Tuesday.

Miss Alice E. Reynolds, principal of the Broad street school, has returned from her vacation at West Haven.

Mr. Arthur Gulliver and Mr. Robert J. Gulliver will go to Chicago to see the World's Columbian exposition next week.

Miss Etta Hollister of Manchester, a graduate of the New Britain normal school, will teach in Jewett City the coming year.

Miss Sarah Crawford of the Boston store returns to duty on Monday, after a pleasant fortnight spent at Eastern Point and elsewhere.

James F. Cosgrove has returned from Marlboro, Mass., where he attended the funeral of his aunt, Miss Margaret McNally. He, with five other nephews, were bearers.

Dr. Cyrus Packham and wife of the Marine hospital, St. Louis, who have been the guests of relatives here and in New London for several weeks, return to their western home on Saturday.

Dr. Gilroy, after two days at the World's fair, has returned, says The Bridgeport Union. The fair did not come up to the doctor's expectations and he did not stay until winter, as he intended.

W. P. Brown, who at one time was manager of Chappell's music store branch in this city, is visiting his friends in New London. He is now musical director of Evans & Hoey's Parlor Match company, soon to open the season in Indianapolis.

Geo. Hathaway, formerly with the Button company, and two companions, started down the river Tuesday in a rowboat for their home in Chicopee Falls, Mass. They have traveled for two weeks in the boat and have taken photographs of points of interest all along the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Tuttle, the latter formerly Miss Estella N. Martin, daughter of George H. Martin of Williams street, have leased a house on Commonwealth avenue, in fashionable Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle leave for the White mountains on Saturday, to remain until October.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

A Thrifty Cactus.

Friends of Mr. Wm. N. Hawes of 5 Washington street, gathered at his residence Tuesday evening to witness the blossoming of two buds of a single night blooming cereus plant.

At the World's Fair.

Recent World's fair visitors: New London—Dion Williams, Wm. D. Harris, Henry Badet, Herbert Starr, Herbert R. Smith, Wm. R. Munger, Mrs. M. A. Elliott, Wm. Kingsbury and wife. Groton—Mrs. D. P. Chapman, Emma Chapman, Wm. Dipple, T. W. Dealy. Mystic—Wm. H. Crandall.

Burglary in Greeneville.

Mrs. Michael McGuire of Greeneville was disturbed by a moving table between 9 and 10 o'clock Monday night and found a burglar in the house. He was frightened away and went out of a back window, taking with him some silver spoons. Mr. McGuire is conductor for the street railroad company and was absent on his trip at the time.

Between Malaria and Typhoid.

A few physicians in the United States now distinguish between malaria and typhoid fever in the early stages of each by what is esteemed an absolutely certain diagnosis. The blood from a pin prick upon the patient's body is smeared on a glass plate and placed under a microscope. If the characteristic bacillus of malaria is discovered the proof is taken as conclusive.

A Family Reunion.

A Bishop family gathering was held at the home of Mr. E. P. Bishop of East Broad street, Tuesday night. About thirty were present and they represented three generations. A bountiful repast was served in the dining and sitting rooms and partners were chosen by the blindfolded gentlemen. Social games, singing and story-telling by the four college students present made the evening one of great enjoyment.

Tramps Try Chief Hillhouse's Residence.

An attempt was made to enter the residence of James W. Hillhouse on Church street, Willimantic, early Monday morning, by two tramps, who were frightened off by the screams of a lady in a neighboring house, who saw the men, one of whom was a negro, moving around the premises in a suspicious manner. Upon investigation, the bulkhead and cellar door were found unfastened. They had been thoroughly secured by Mr. Hillhouse before leaving on the vacation he is now enjoying with his family.

Funeral of W. B. Bennett.

The body of W. B. Bennett, late head waiter at the Wauregan house, was conveyed to the Boston boat train Tuesday night. Two hacks accompanied the hearse and twenty members of the Ancient Order of Foresters acted as escorts. The remains were taken to New York.

W. P. Bennett, who died in this city on Monday, was a member of Seaside Council, K. of C., of New London, and a committee consisting of Matthew McNamara, Peter Dorsey, John Hanners, M. J. Flanagan and Edward D. Murray represented that council at his funeral Tuesday.

Not as They Thought.

About the time that people were exclaiming over the havoc made by the storm, Tuesday, the large sign of the H. F. & A. J. Dawley Co., which had blown down, was taken by one of the firm's men to be repaired. Having occasion to stop at the office of the transportation company, almost opposite the lumber yard, he left the sign at the outer door. Here some of the clerks discovered it and at once theorized that it had blown across the river. A telephone message was about to be sent Mr. Dawley, when his man appeared and explained matters, when the clerks, somewhat subdued, went back to work.

The State Prohibitionists.

The executive committee of the prohibition party for Connecticut has during the past week issued into the several town committees a statement of the party work during the past eighteen months, from January 1, 1892, to July 1, 1893 with descriptions of the work in progress for the present year. It appears that the committee are asking only an average of 50 cents per prohibition voter to carry on this year's plans, which include the payment of some indebtedness left from the '92 campaign, also the keeping of the state field secretary at work during the present year. The plan now in vogue does not, as last year, leave the bulk of the work to the state executive committee, but an effort is making to place the responsibility for action upon the several town committees, encouraging the prohibitionists of each town to local self-help, rather than to put so much dependence upon the central committee.

A RECEPTION

To Arthur Abell Who is Soon to Return to Germany.

The Meriden Republican says: One of the pleasantest affairs that has taken place in this city in some time was that of Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Abell.

The delightful part of the affair was that it was a sort of family reunion, all of Mr. and Mrs. Abell's children and relatives being present; also a few friends.

The affair was given in honor of Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abell, who has been in Germany for the past three years studying music under some of the famous masters. Mr. Abell will return to Germany in about two weeks, where he will remain for three years to finish his studies.

Mr. Abell rendered several selections on his violin, composed by well-known writers, in a most excellent manner, which showed that he has worked hard and most certainly has his reward for it. It is safe to say, that on his return from Germany he will be in the front rank.

Mr. Arthur Abell is a graduate of the Academy, a member of the Orpheus club, and a former pupil of Mr. Eugene Wallner.

A DISHONEST BARBER.

He Schemed To Get Away with Several Hundred Dollars but Failed.

Tuesday morning, when C. O. Christman, the Wauregan house barber, opened his shop he found razors, strops and $6.20 in change missing as well as a young employe, Harry Waters. Inquiry reached the fact that Waters had left on the 9.45 boat train Monday night with his haul.

Since Waters came to this town from New York he has had a reputation for honesty and truthfulness but he has been playing a big game. He pretended to have a brother, who was interested in the Oneck racing stables and who would enter his horse "Nonesuch" in the race in Gloucester today. He has received letters about wagers on the horse, purported to have come from sporting men out of town, but in reality written by himself. He had arranged to take wagers of $50 and $100 from Norwich parties whom he had duped by these letters.

The cause of Waters' sudden departure was a remark made by his fellow barber, W. A. Lancaster, about a diamond, which he had intrusted to Waters to send by express to Tiffany of New York to be set in a ring. Lancaster had heard nothing from it, and began to suspect something wrong. The stone had been kept by Waters, who lit out as soon as he feared detection.

Another phase of Waters' career was disclosed Tuesday afternoon, when a note was brought into Christman's barber shop, addressed to the thief. Mr. Lancaster read it and called in Herrick's drug store on the writer, a Washington street woman whom Waters had promised to meet at that time and go with her to be married. She was furious when she learned the facts in the case. Waters obtained a ring from her, on pretence of learning the proper size for a diamond ring which he would give her, the stone being already purchased at Tiffany's, he said. He told her also that he had made arrangements to buy out Christman, and said she might tell any one after Tuesday "he had taken Christman's shop."

He has most of it tonight, and the amount of his stealings here is about $100.

DIED.

KELLAS—In this city, suddenly, August 28, Walter, son of James H. and Mary M. Kellas, aged 22 years, 3 months and 3 days. Funeral from the residence of his parents, No. 373 Boswell avenue, this (Wednesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

HURLBUTT—At Gales Ferry, August 28th, Lois, daughter of the late George W. and Lucy A. Hurlbutt, aged 11 years.

YORK—In Preston, Aug. 28, Joshua York, aged 73 years. Funeral from his late residence, No. 25 York avenue, Thursday at 1 p. m. Burial private.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED—By a middle-aged lady, a position to do general housework—to work by the day preferred. Inquire at this office. aug30d

Received This Day a Complete Line of
OUTING SUITS and SILK and
LAWN SHIRT WAISTS.
MRS. E. D. SEDLEMAN 30MWF

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DOG LOST—On Saturday night, Aug. 26, an Irish Setter, light yellow with white spots on his head. Finder will be rewarded for returning him to 161 Forest St. aug30d

DR. N. P. SMITH,
Office No. 8 Broadway.
Hours 11 a. m., 1 p. m., 4.30 to 5.30 p. m.
aug8d RESIDENCE 263 MAIN ST.

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE
Norwich, Conn.
EARL M. SWIFT,
And Assistant-Teachers of Ability and Experience.
Fall Term Begins
Tuesday, Sept. 5
On and after Aug. 15 the College office will be open from 3.30 to 5.30 to receive applicants for membership. aug16d&w

OLIVES IN BULK AND BOTTLES
—OF—
Different Styles and Quality
—AT—
WELCOME A. SMITH
aug8d

MILLINERY.
Brown Trimmed Sailors
69c.
A fine Hat for early Fall or School wear.
T. E. McCLENATHAN.
Wholesale and Retail. aug8d&w

NORWICH FREE ACADEMY.
Opening of Fall Term.
Normal Department Opens Tuesday, Sept. 5
Candidates who have not seen Miss Carlisle are requested to do so at the Slater Memorial building, on Saturday, Sept. 2, or Monday, Sept. 4, between 4 and 5.30 p. m.
Art School Opens Tuesday, Sept. 26.
For full information as to the various courses address Miss A. V. V. Brown, or inquire at the Slater Memorial building.
Entrance examinations to the Free Academy will be held on Monday, Sept. 11, and Tuesday, Sept. 12, commencing at 9 a. m.
Candidates conditioned last June in Spelling, Grammar or Geography will present themselves on Monday; those conditioned in Arithmetic or U. S. History on Tuesday. Old pupils of the Academy will make up unfilled or deficient examinations on Tuesday.
aug8d ROBERT P. KEEP, Principal.

LIVE LOBSTERS,
Soft Crabs and Little Neck Clams
TO DAY AT POWERS BROTHERS'.
Telephone 123-4. aug8d

NO OLD STOCK.
Two Big Drives
New Windsor Ties, 15c; worth 25c.
Lisle Thread Hose, 25c; worth 50c.
— AT —
HOUGH'S NEW STORE,
aug8d OPP. WAUREGAN HOTEL.

THE BEST SPONGES
For Washing Carriages
Can be found at HOWE'S.
aug15MWF

ORANGE CAKE
—AND—
ORANGE BARS!
—AT—
MRS. CHAPMAN'S Bakery,
No 7 North Thames Street.
aug8 WS

IF YOU ARE IN WANT OF
A Good Carriage or Wagon
At a reasonable price, call at 231 and 233 No. Main St.
JOHN H. SCOTT
feb13MW

PRENTICE has a nice assortment of
SOFT HATS
suitable for traveling. aug8MWF

WHY?
—NOT USE—NORWICH
FOLDED
PAPER
CARPET
LINING.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS. jy8MWF

We have just received a large shipment of FRANKLIN CO. CREAMERY,
IN PRINTS,
and hope from this time on to be able to supply our trade.
ALLEN, WORTH & CO.
DEALERS IN Butter, Cheese and Eggs.
aug8MW

TO RENT.
UPPER TENEMENT OF 4 ROOMS AND store room at 45 Main Street. Apply to aug7MWF E. E. BECKWITH.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,
CALL AT
FRISWELL'S,
who has had 30 years experience, and latest improved method, and be properly fitted with Spectacles and Eye Glasses.
jy29d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels,
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.
Collins Turbine Machine Co.
ja8d

Appropriate to the Times
Is the announcement that
WHITNEY,
Of 41 Broadway,
In the Central building,
will sell the new goods now arriving almost daily at the same low bargain prices he has been getting for his old stock.
This is no time for large profits, and if you want anything at all in China, Glassware, Tinware and House-Furnishing Goods, you can save money by buying at
— WHITNEY'S —
Try and See !
Free delivery of goods throughout the city and suburbs. aug8d&w

TRUNKS,
BAGS,
STRAPS.
And, in fact, Everything that the traveler needs can be found in good variety at Alling Brothers,
aug8d&w Broad Opera House Block.

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK!
A. PLAUT,
The well-known Bargain Dealer, will commence MONDAY, Aug. 28th, to close out the balance of his Bicycles regardless of value or cost. Headquarters at 209 Main St. aug8d

WHY NOT EXCHANGE?
You Want Fruit Jars.
We Want Money,
And have made our prices on Fruit Jars so low that it will be to your advantage to make the exchange with us.
SMITH BROS.
aug8d

LOOK OUT
—FOR—
FRUIT JARS!
Preston Bros.
SELL THEM
CHEAP.
aug8d

PRICES TELL THE STORY.
THE PRICES THAT FALVEY
IS SELLING
Straw Hats and Negligee Shirts
at, are bringing the people right to his store, and all express surprise at the bargains. We have lots of them left. Come and see us. We will please you as we did your neighbors.
T. J. FALVEY,
aug8MWF Shannon Building

Men's Heavy Grain Shoes	$1 25
Men's Fine Calf Shoes	2 00
Men's Patent Leather Shoes	2 50
Boys' School Shoes	1 25
Youths' School Shoes	1 00
Ladies' Cloth-Top Button Boots	2 25
Ladies' Fine Dongola Patent-Tip Boots	2 00
Ladies Open Slippers	50
Misses' Kid Spring-Heel Shoes	1 00

—AT—
Herren'S,
Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's.
Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug8d

All Kinds Of
Picture Frames
And an elegant line of FRAMED
—AND—
-UNFRAMED PICTURES-
Can be found at
M. J. Farrell's
Art Parlors,
61 Broadway.
jal8d&w

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,
HAMMOCKS, CHEAP,
AT FITCHES & MAINE'S
jy8d 128 No. Main St.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

UNITED STATES
Savings and Loan Company,
Paid in Capital $1,500,000
Subscribed Capital 5,000,000
3 Classes of Certificates are issued.
7% Guaranteed Bond Certificates @ 100.
6% Partial Dividend Bond Certificates @ 91.
Installment Bond Certificates, payable monthly. Denominations $1,000 to $10,000.
E. O MACE and GEO. S. SMITH GEN. AGTS.
Office 8 Shannon Building, Norwich.
aug7WS

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,
15 Washington Street.
GENERAL PRACTICE AND THE EYE.
Office hours: 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 p. m. Telephone 22-3. may8d

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With
SURE KILL FLY PAPER.
5 Cent's a Package.
-Steiner's Pharmacy-
aug8d SHANNON BUILDING.

The Last Week of Our
BLUE LETTER SALE.
A few more bargains added to our list:
Sterling Silver Hat Pins at 10c. each.
Silver Enamelled Stick Pins, 15c each.
Ladies' Fast Black Seamless Hose 15c. a pair worth 25c.
Ladies' Wrappers 98c, reduced from $1.25.
" " 75c. " " $1.25.
" " $1.00 " " $1.50.
Only a few of each price left. Stamped Tray Covers and Splashers at 5c. each.
White, Black and Colored Sailor Hats at a [illegible]
Also big reduction in Infant outfits.
B. GOTTHELF & CO.
98 MAIN STREET.
aug8d Wholesale and Retail.

SEASONABLE GOODS.
THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF
Refrigerators !
Ever shown in Norwich, of the Best Makes and at Reduced Prices.
WE CARRY THE LARGEST LINE OF
-OIL STOVES-
In this Section of the State. Also
Gasolene Stoves
Lawn Mowers.
Better and cheaper than ever. Call and see them before you buy.
J. P. BARSTOW & CO.
HEADQUARTERS for all Housekeeping and Farmers' Supplies.
23 and 25 Water Street, Norwich.
mar8d&w

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at
HOTEL ∴ SOUTH ∴ SHORE
On Lake Michigan, four blocks from the entrance to
The World's Fair Grounds.
One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls,
All for $36.00.
R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with or without Hotel accommodations by
E. P. TURNER, 187 E. Broad St.,
aug8d Norwich, Conn.

TO RENT.
A Large Store No. 108 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St., formerly occupied by T. H. Eldredge as a Hardware store. For further particulars, call on or address NICHOLAS TARRANT, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, 60 Main Street. mar8d

CROCKER'S
Magical Stomach Powders
Have been known to cure the much-dreaded Kidney trouble. In its incipient state the disease readily gives way before them. Always safe to take, no matter what the complaint or time of taking. jy8d

CLOTHING.

THE PUBLIC
Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in Men's and Children's FALL SUITS!
— AT —
MURPHY & McGARRY.
aug8d

FOOT WEAR.

We are determined to close out all Summer Shoes before Sept. 1st, and in order to do this have made the price low enough to insure a ready sale.
Frank A. Bill,
aug8d&w 104 MAIN STREET.

LADIES!
Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3.00. Call and see them
Geo. W. Kies & Co.
aug8d&w

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

NORWICH, CONN. THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1893—SIX PAGES.

SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11,688

THIS MORNINGS NEWS.

City and Vicinity.

Fair weather, westerly winds.
New electric arc lights.
Norwich men supposed to be drowned.
Karcht, the national croquet champion.
Home weddings.
Oysters and oystering—Thames river oysters.
Two Norwich men supposed to have been drowned in Fisher's island sound.
The life-saving station crews go on duty.
Groceries stolen from a car at the West Side.
Failure of Orin Atwood & Son—Liabilities not stated.
Bishop McMahon's donation to the cathedral.
The Connecticut Catholic T. A. & B. union's meet and election of officers.

[illegible]

A sneak thief betrayed by a card in his pocket.
A brakeman's terrible experience.
The coroner's verdict in the Ansonia malpractice case.
Burglars found the cash in a side of beef.
Meriden follows the example set by New Haven.
General strike on the New York & New England.
Fall meeting of Connecticut division, L. A. W.

General.

The president undergoes a surgical operation.
[illegible]
The question of wages at Fall River.
Silver men threaten to kill repeal bill with [illegible]
Further accounts of the storm's ravages.
Closing debate on the bill for home rule.
The [illegible]
The races at Fleetwood park.
Total wreck of steamship City of Savannah.

SPECIAL.

USE
Shipman's
CARBOLIC
OINTMENT,
The most healing preparation in the world
FOR MAN OR BEAST.
For sale by all druggists.

DO NOT
SLUMBER
UNTIL YOU HAVE
Dr. Hough's
COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM
Ready for immediate use.
Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc.
PRICE 35 Cents.
Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers.

FREE
Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.
ELIXIR OF LIFE
The great family medicine,
guaranteed to cure
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,
SICK-HEADACHE,
DYSPEPSIA,
And all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by
LEE & OSGOOD.

Sick Headache
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose, 40 in a vial. Purely Vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1.
Carter MedicineCo., Proprietors,
NEW YORK.
Sold by all Druggists.

Most People Like to Know
The name of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.
Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure
IS THE BEST.—TRY IT.
Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.
At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD

A man can sell almost anything if he will make the price low enough. The trouble is, that most of the so called bargains are cheaply made to start with. We offer the balance of our Summer Stock—good materials and well made—at figures that ought to make trade.
E. D. JONES & SON,
Merchant Tailors ... . 185 MAIN ST
(over C. G. Hiss'.)

Norwich Line to New York.

Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 9.36 and 9.56 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.

Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 9 p. m., for New York.

Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 5

For state rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 62 Shetucket street. Telephone call 142-3.

THOMAS CLARK, President.
O. L. JOHNSON, JR.,
Secretary and Treasurer.

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,
VETERINARIAN,
Office 12 Bath Street. Office hours 1.30-3.
Telephone 128-12.

ESTIMATES FOR ALL KINDS OF PRINTING furnished on application to the Bulletin

STEAMER CITY OF SAVANNAH LOST

All Hands Saved—The Passengers Now at St. Helena Island.

GRAPHIC DETAILS

Of the Steamer's Experience in the Late Hurricane.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 30—The steamship City of Birmingham of the Ocean Steamship company, two days overdue, arrived in Savannah at 7 p. m., bringing a portion of the passengers and crew of the steamer City of Savannah, wrecked at 5 o'clock Monday morning on the shoals, six miles from St. Helena lighthouse, South Carolina.

The City of Savannah left Boston Thursday afternoon. She met one storm after another, there being three storms in all. Sunday's storm was the worst. The steamer beat about all day Sunday, when her steam whistle was knocked off and the water began pouring into her hold and threatened to stop her engines.

Seeing that the ship could last but a few minutes longer, Captain Savage headed her for shoal water. The stokers were plied with stimulants and food and every effort made to reach shoal water before the vessel sank. All night long the vessel ran in the storm, the passengers expecting death every minute.

Early Monday morning the steamer was heard bumping and scraping against the bottom, and the passengers knew they had reached shoal water. The vessel was run as far aground as possible. She could not be gotten into an easy place, however. The huge waves broke over her with increasing force and beat the boat to pieces. The cabins were smashed and carried away, first one side and then the other.

Captain Savage, the officers and crew used every effort to prevent loss of life and, wonderful as it may appear, they were successful. Not a life was lost from aboard the ship. The passengers were moved from one side to the other to the low water portion of the ship, where the waves seemed to beat with less force.

No signs of a rescue appearing and the boat being undoubtedly doomed, Captain Savage took steps to save his passengers. Monday afternoon a small boat with three sailors, who volunteered from the crew, was sent out to find a place on the shore where the boats could land. They did not return and it was not known whether they reached the shore or not.

Tuesday morning the only two life boats left were manned, the first officer being in command of one and the second officer in the other. Four of the strongest sailors were placed for each boat. The boats were filled with women and children, about fifteen in all, including the stewardess and female employes of the Savannah. Dr. G. W. Lamar and another passenger, being young and able bodied men, were called upon to go in the boats, which they did. Dr. Lamar's wife and two little children were in the boat which set out for the shore. The boats finally arrived at Coffin Point, St. Helena island, where they now are at present.

The shipwrecked people are well cared for by a gentleman who has a residence at that place. It is Senator Cameron's place. Those who remained on the steamer were rescued by the steamer City of Birmingham.

The City of Birmingham left New York August 26th. The voyage was pleasant until Cape Hatteras was reached. The cape was rounded Sunday between 10 o'clock and midnight. At about 3 a. m. the wind and sea increased. At daylight as far as the eye could reach were seen enormous seas. From 10 to 3 o'clock it was a scene fearful to behold and the ship, which had long since been headed for deep water, seemed to be but a toy in the hands of the elements.

At 1 p. m. Monday, the storm began to abate and the ship was put on her course. At daylight Tuesday parts of vessels, such as spars, portions of decks, lumber, and paraphernalia of all descriptions pertaining to vessels and cargo, was seen in every direction. At 6 o'clock the City of Birmingham came upon the schooner Joseph Sutherland with Captain Harvey Hudson and a crew of six men. The vessel was water logged and the sea was breaking over her.

The captain and crew were rescued. In a few moments later a vessel was passed bottom upwards. Other vessels were seen with their masts and rigging partly gone, and one with hardly a mast or sail left was spoken and an offer of assistance made, but her captain declined to leave his ship.

Tuesday at 6 p. m. a ship was sighted ashore in the breakers, about six miles south of St. Helena light house. Her captain saw the Birmingham and signalled with a light, and as Captain Berg of the Birmingham recognized the signal he exclaimed: "Good God, that must be the City of Savannah." A boat was lowered, and First Officer Johnson was sent to her and brought back the message that it was the city of Savannah aground in the breakers, three miles from shore, going to pieces with her passengers and crew, numbering in all about seventy. It was impossible to attempt to rescue the unfortunates until daylight.

The Birmingham was anchored and Wednesday morning boats in charge of First Officer Johnson and Second Officer Hamilton reached the ship and the rescue of those on board was effected with safety.

The Birmingham was then headed for Savannah and everything possible was done for the rescued ones by the officers and crew. The passengers of the wrecked steamer who were seen on the ship, spoke in the highest terms of Captain Savage, of the sailors, and of Captain Berg of the Birmingham. To the bravery of these two men they owe their lives.

The City of Savannah was the oldest ship of the Ocean Steamship fleet. She was built in Chester, Pa., in 1877 by John Roach & Sons. She was a schooner rigged iron steamship of 2,029 tons, 254 feet long and 38 feet beam. The cargo was a miscellaneous one, consisting of boots and shoes, tanned leather, canned goods, fish, groceries, cloth, etc., valued at from $50,000 to $75,000.

Third Death from Cholera at Jersey City.

NEW YORK, Aug 30—The third of Jersey City's suspected cholera cases proved fatal last night. Martin Crowe, an attache of the Jersey City hospital, who was stricken on Monday night, died about midnight. Crowe attended Mrs. Josephine Smith who died yesterday, and it is suspected that he caught the malady from her.

Dr John T. Cooney, the house surgeon, expressed a belief that Crowe, Mrs. Smith and her brother in-law, Morton, died of entero-colitis, an inflammation of the colon, a part of the intestines. This disease, the physician says is a species of cholera morbus, with symptoms very similar to Asiatic cholera.

IN CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—After the routine morning business the bill for the repeal of the Sherman act was taken up, and Mr Sherman (rep., Ohio), proceeded to address the senate. He said that if the repeal of the purchasing clause of the act of July, 1890, were the only reason for the extraordinary session, it would seem to him insufficient. It was, however, justified by the existing financial stringency.

On one thing, he said, congress and the people agreed, and that was that both gold and silver should be continued in use as money. Monometallism pure and simple had never gained a foothold in the United States. If senators wanted cheap money and an advance in prices, free coinage of silver was the way to do it; but they should not call it bimetallism. Mr. Sherman then proceeded to discuss the history of the act that bears his name. He was not in favor of the free coinage of free silver, and regarded it as but another name for the monometallism of silver, and was only in favor of the purchase of silver for the purposes of coining.

After discussing other matters contributing to the present condition, Mr Sherman declared that an erroneous impression had been created when it was claimed the Sherman law was the cause of all the trouble, and this he said with all due deference to Mr. Cleveland. Still the fact was that congress must deal with a situation and not a measure.

This was a currency famine, not a fear that the money of the country was not good, and the people should not be deceived as to the reasons for the repeal.

Mr. Sherman did not believe the repeal of the law would in any considerable degree relieve the country from the existing stagnation. Its repeal would ease the money market from the dreaded fear of the free coinage of silver. The law was denounced by the democratic party as a miserable makeshift. It was a makeshift and a good one, intended to prevent the ills growing out of the free coinage of silver.

The democratic party was now charged with a great responsibility and Mr. Sherman warned them that if they attempted to alter the existing tariff laws they would plunge the country into deeper distress than now exists.

Mr. Sherman caused general laughter among senators and in the galleries when he quoted from one of Mr Stewart's speeches in the debate on the bill he was discussing, in which he (Stewart) said "gold is the universal standard of the world," and argued in favor of the gold dollar, which removed every element of doubt.

Mr. Sherman's speech occupied two hours and ten minutes, and was listened to with much attention.

Soon after the senate went into executive session, and afterwards adjourned.

The House.

The house resumed the consideration of the new code of rules. Mr. Hopkins (Ills) advocated a rule which would prevent filibustering.

Mr Kilgore (Tex) criticised the rules of the Fifty first congress and declared that they had been denounced by the people.

Mr. Grosvenor (Ohio) defended the Reed rulings during the Fifty first congress.

Mr. Holman spoke in opposition to the rule making 100 members a quorum in committee of the whole.

Mr Dingley (Me) advocated the adoption of the rules recommended, with the exception of the proposed amendment regarding what is known as the "consideration morning hour," which he said would result in the delay of public business.

Mr. Outhwaite defended the changes in the rules, which have been assailed.

The rules were then considered by paragraphs.

Amendments were offered increasing the membership of the ways and means and appropriations committees and appointing a house health committee, but all were rejected.

A motion to increase the committee on rules from 5 to 11 was discussed, but before a vote was taken the house adjourned.

L. A. W. FALL MEETING.

All the Crack Riders to Be Present—235 Entries in All.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 30—Sixty-two men have entered for the Hartford Wheel club's tournament and fall meeting of the Connecticut division L. A. W., at Charter Oak park September 4 and 5. There are in all 235 entries, many of the men having entered for several different events.

Almost all the crack riders will be present. Bliss, Bullard, Githens, Munger and Wagner are entered from the Chicago Cycling club, and Billy Murphy, Hoyland Smith and George Smith from the New York Athletic club.

Other entries include W. C. Sanger, A. C. Crooks, U. F. Diesberger and Harry Arnold of New Britain. From the Springfield Bicycle club are entered Tyler, Windle, Nelson and Broadhead. Kaufman will do fancy trick riding.

Twenty men are entered in the one-half mile international race and the entries in the one mile open include all the crack riders. In the one mile international race there are 24 entries.

Terrible Fall of a Brakeman.

TORRINGTON, Conn., Aug. 30—A brakeman named King, who lives in Waterbury, employed on the Naugatuck division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, had an almost miraculous escape from a terrible death here this forenoon. He was on the top of a car on a south-bound freight passing through here at 9.30, and by a sudden lurch of the train, lost his balance and fell. His clothing was caught by a projecting part of the car and he was dragged for nearly twenty feet. His body was then thrown some distance from the tracks. He was picked up half unconscious and bleeding. His side was badly cut and lacerated, and the top of his head cut severely. His wounds were dressed and he was taken to his home in Waterbury. He is severely injured, but will recover.

Matthews' Mortgages Valid.

Judge Patterson, the supreme court, Tuesday dismissed the complaint in the suit brought by William Ottman & Co. to set aside the chattel mortgages on the Sturtevant house property made by James O. Matthews to his father-in-law Albert P. Sturtevant in October, 1891.

Mr. Matthews was obliged to give up the management of the hotel on account of ill health. The mortgages were given to Mr. Sturtevant to secure debts of $70,000, and a trust agreement was made by which Marvelle Cooper and William Waddell were to manage the hotel.

William Ottman & Co., to whom Matthews owed $7,977, claimed the mortgages were made to defraud creditors.—[New York Herald.

THE HONORS WENT TO DIRECTUM.

Sensational Races on the Old Track at Fleetwood Park.

THE CHARTER OAK STAKE.

After a Desperate Battle of Six Heats It is Won by Harrietta.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—This afternoon was a memorable time for the old track at Fleetwood park. Not only did its attractions draw a large attendance, but in spite of its irregular shape and heavy grades the trotters did some of the most sensational work in the history of harness racing.

The honors went to Directum, a 4-year-old, who lowered the record for his age and placed the mark for trotting since a second lower than it was last season. The colt won an unexpected victory over Walter E and five other famous flyers, putting in the heats at an average never before made by a trotter. His best mile was the fifth heat, in 2.08¾, which equals the fifth heat trotted by Alix at Columbus last week, and the average for the race is the fastest made for that number of miles. The [illegible] for the five is 2.10¾, while Directum's average for the three heats won by him is 2.10¼.

There was a desperate battle of six heats for the classical Charter Oak stake, which was won by Harrietta, the third mare to carry off the prize in consecutive years. Lee Pilot, Eilard and Miss Alice were all disappointments to their backers, but Angelina, a well bred mare and handled with all the skill of the veteran, Hickok, came nearly pulling it out of the fire, for an outsider.

Two other races for trotters were decided, making sixteen heats during the afternoon. The attendance was estimated at from 8,500 to 6,000, a large number coming from Connecticut, to see the great Charter Oak stake. Summaries:

Free for all trotting, purse $5,000:

Directum, bl. c. by Director	5	1	1	1	1
Walter E, b. g. by Fairbanks	1	1	2	4	2
Lord Clinton bl. g	2	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Martha Wilkes, b. m.	3	4	4	3	4
Rylands b. g.	3	dis
Greenleaf, ch. g.	dis.

Time, 2.11, 2.12¾, 2.10, 2.10¼, 2.08¾.

2.15 class; trotting; Charter Oak stake $10,000.

Harrietta, b. m., by Alcyone	3	7	1	1	2	1
Angelina, b. m.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hairy C., b. g.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Lees Pilot, g. g.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	4	ro
Miss Alice, b. m.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	ro
Leicester, ch. g.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	7	7	ro
Eilard, b. g.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	8	ro

Time—2.12, 2.12¼, 2.12, 2.13¼, 2.13, 2.15¼.

2.21 class, trotting, purse, $1,500.

Marguerite, b. m., by Dexter Dunston	1	1	1
Dudley Gloster, ch. g.	2	2	2
Joseph McLaughlin, b. g.	3	3	3
Vera	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Time—2.21¼, 2.20¼, 2.20¼.

2.30 class, trotting, two-year-olds, purse $1,000, best two in three.

Directors Flower, b. f. by Director	1	1
Chris Lang, br. c.	2	2
Altoner, br. c.	3	3
Idolet, ch. m.	dis.
Ohara Madison, b. f.	dis.

Time, 2.26¼, 2.30

PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICANS

Nominate a Candidate for Supreme Court Judge and State Treasurer.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 30—At 10.45 this morning the republican state convention, to choose a candidate for judge of the supreme court and state treasurer, assembled in the opera house. Two hundred and fifty-three delegates were in attendance. The Hon. George W. Hood was made temporary chairman. Upon assuming the gavel he made a brief address. After the appointment of the usual committees a recess was taken.

Convention reassembled at 1.30. The Hon. H. B. Packer was made permanent chairman. Mr. Packer in his address contrasted the business existing a year ago, when the last state convention was held, with the present condition, and attributed the present depressed condition of affairs not to the silver question but to the democratic policy on the tariff.

A platform was adopted demanding the unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act; favoring the expansion of the circulating medium of the country to forty dollars per capita of population, and demanding the enactment and enforcement of laws which shall effectually prohibit the importation of ignorant and undesirable immigrants.

Judge Newfall was elected for judge of the supreme court by acclamation, as was Col. Samuel A. Jackson for state treasurer.

The convention then adjourned.

THE VERDICT.

Coroner Mix Says Maggie Sloan Died from Drastic Purgatives.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 30—Coroner Mix has completed his report on the cause of the death of Maggie Sloan of Ansonia, for which three persons, William Cash of Ansonia and Drs Lee and Whitten of this city, are under arrest.

He finds that the girl died from the result of an abortion induced by drastic purgatives, also a complication destroying the normal condition of the kidney; and as the tissue of the uterus was not lacerated, there is no evidence that mechanical appliances were used.

The trial of the three above persons will be held Saturday.

The more that is learned in the case, the more the impression grows that the state will find it very difficult to prove the guilt of the doctors.

Dropped a Lighted Lamp.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 30.—Mrs. Samuel Flamme narrowly escaped a horrible death tonight. She dropped a lighted lamp and was instantly enveloped in flames. Prompt action by several firemen who were present extinguished the blaze. Mrs. Flamme escaped with only a few slight burns.

Appointed Temporary Guardian of a Millionaire.

BOSTON, Aug 30—In the supreme court this forenoon John D. Long was appointed as temporary guardian of William H. King, the Newport millionaire, with authority to investigate his case and report whether or not Mr. King's place of confinement is to be changed, and make any other recommendations proper in the case.

Meriden Follows Suit.

MERIDEN, Conn., Aug. 30—This city has followed the example set by New Haven, and tonight the mayor and city clerk issued notes in sums of $100 and upwards to the amount of $30,000, bonding the city to pay five per cent. interest on them by Jan 31, '94. Other Connecticut cities are expected to fall into line and issue similar notes.

Ex-Congressman Alley Seriously Ill.

BOSTON, Aug. 30—Ex-Congressman John B. Alley is seriously ill at his son's residence in West Newton. His present illness is caused in part by the contracted law suit which has become famous as the Snow-Alley case, and which cost the greater part of his fortune.

FALL RIVER WAGES.

Interview with Secretary Howard of the Spinners' Association.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug 30—In an interview today Secretary Howard of the Spinners' association said: The men members of the executive committee used very strong language in discussing their supposed cut down last night. They said they could not understand why a reduction should be thought of, when only a month or six weeks ago the published reports showed great earnings in the mills in the last quarter. They ask why it is that Fall River manufacturers are always the first to talk of reducing wages and the last to increase them.

Two years ago the Fall River manufacturers were the first to give notice of a cut down. After a short and sharp discussion in and out of the newspapers, it was decided to lay the matter over. In two months there came a boom and business has been prosperous since that time. Now Fall River has again taken the initiative and its manufacturers are the first in all the cotton centers to prepare for the posting of notices of a reduction. The spinners have been content to remain idle and await the return of better times.

If the men feel Friday night like resisting a reduction, the committee will not oppose such action. In viewing the situation they found that half their men were idle and without wages. They are not receiving a cent of support, and if a strike results they will go under paying funds from the union. The committee think a vote for a strike will be the best thing to do at Friday night's meeting. The condition of trade as they look at it is that no one seems to want cloth at any price. History shows that this condition lasts only a short time, and as reducing wages would make it shorter, the committeemen say they would agree at once to meet the treasurer half way.

A reduction would be an injury to the operatives without benefiting the manufacturers. The only beneficiaries will be the buyers, who will be able to purchase goods at a lower figure—admitted that a reduction in the price of goods succeeds a reduction in wages—and no one, not even the manufacturer, is a gainer. At the conclusion the committeemen say that if in the wisdom of the association it is decided to add their recommendation and strike, they will give all assistance possible to carry the strike to a successful end.

OVER NIAGARA IN A BARREL.

Perilous Trip to Be Taken Next Week by a Cincinnati Man.

BUFFALO, Aug. 30—Some time next week Stanley Meredith of Cincinnati will arrive in Buffalo with a peculiarly built barrel, in which he will make an attempt to go over Niagara falls. The barrel will will at least save him from any disfiguring physical injury in his perilous leap.

He intends to shut himself in it and have some friends send him out into the rushing Niagara above the American falls and to go over the brink into the deep boiling waters 180 feet below.

No one has ever made this trip successfully. The only danger is that the shock of striking the water below the falls will kill him.

The barrel is conical, of hard wood four inches thick, the staves held together with thick wrought iron hoops placed only a few inches apart. It is covered with pure rubber six inches thick.

Inside the barrel is a hammock swung on swivels. Meredith will be strapped in this, and the head of the barrel clasped down. In this way he will go over the falls and into the whirlpool below.

Drowned Under Peculiar Circumstances.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 30—Willie W. Knott, the 9 year old son of William F. Knott of Fair Haven, was drowned under peculiar circumstances in the Quinnipiac river this afternoon. He accompanied his father to the river bank, where his father was at work.

When his father finished his work he could not find his boy. He dragged the river for his body for three hours, and found it in a hole within three yards of where he had been at work. The boy probably tried to wade along the shore, stepped into the hole and sank.

Bicycle Road Race at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 30.—In a bicycle road race this afternoon Bert Sayer of Providence covered ten miles in 33 34, and Harry West of Newport in 34.13. There were eight other starters.

Will Not Reopen Sept. 5

LAWRENCE, Aug. 30.—The Everett mills will not reopen Sept. 5, as was first announced, but notice will be given by the management one week previous to the date of resuming work.

Sudden Death from Heart Disease.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 30—Mrs. Henrietta Strouse, widow of the late Isaac Strouse, a wealthy merchant of New York city, died suddenly of heart disease at Savin Rock this evening. She was 73 years old.

LIFE SAVERS TO THE FRONT.

The Watch Hill Station Opens Friday.

The life saving crews all along the coasts of the United States will return to service on Friday, Sept. 1.

Capt. Walter H. Davis will be in command of the Watch Hill crew which will be composed of the following men: Elnathan Burdick, Charles E. Champlin, Charles J. Bood, Albert Lanphear, Axel N. Clarke, Alonzo Brown.

Captain Davis is a brave and reliable man, and well qualified for the place. His six men, all of whom have served with him in previous years, know, full well, that the trust confided in them is full of hardships.

A tramp of nearly five miles, through trackless sand and along a lonely stretch of seacoast, contending with driving storms and the fierce biting winds of winter, is not a desirable job. When to this is added the launching of life boats and the rescuing of crews from ill fated vessels, the duties of these brave men can be, in a measure, comprehended.

Bishop McMahon's Donation.

When Bishop McMahon was installed in his position ten years ago, says The Bridgeport Standard, he decided to give his entire income, with the exception of his living expenses, to the fund which was being raised to complete St. Joseph's cathedral in Hartford. He did not expect to live till the building was finished, but he thought his donations would aid greatly in paying for the construction of this costly edifice. The expense of maintaining the bishop's establishment was not small, but he managed to keep the amount below $5,000, and consequently his personal donations to the cathedral fund during his reign were more than $100,000

Lightning is believed to be visible a distance of 150 miles.

A GENERAL STRIKE THREATENED

On the New York and New England On Account of Wages.

MEN OBJECT TO A CUT.

A Committee of Employes to Interview President McLeod.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 30—A general strike of employes is threatened on the New York & New England railroad on account of the ten per cent. cut in wages which will go into effect September 1. At a meeting held in East Hartford Tuesday noon, committees of three were appointed by the engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen, shopmen and others to go to Boston today and place the matter before President McLeod.

The men object to any cut, but are willing to go on short time if necessary. They are afraid that the president's promise to restore wages to the original rates "when the business of the road will warrant it," may mean that a long period may elapse before the officials deem it right to increase the wages. Some of the men intimate that if the conductors and engineers refuse to accept the cut, providing President McLeod will not grant any concession, all railroad hands will strike. It is believed that the Brotherhoods of Engineers and Conductors do not regard the cut as necessary.

BASE BALL.

At Boston (first game):

Chicago	1	0	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	[illegible]
Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	1	[illegible]

(Second game):

Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

At Erie Pa.:

Erie	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Albany	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

At New York:

New York	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	1	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	14
St. Louis	1	[illegible]	[illegible]	1	1	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	7

At Buffalo:

Buffalo	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	1	1	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	1	7
Troy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Heroism Rewarded.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—As a recognition of the brave services of Joseph Tilton, Captain Timothy Aiken, Jr., Isaiah H. Tilton, Fred Aiken, Eugene Brightman and Hiram Jackson, who risked their lives, and all of whom but Joseph Tilton perished while attempting to rescue the crew of the brig Aquatic, which was wrecked on the island of Cuttyhunk, $3,300 is to be given to the one survivor and the relatives of those who died. The drowning occurred on the night of February 24, and the money which has been appropriated by the state will be distributed some time during the coming week.

A Sneak Thief Betrayed by a Card.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 30—On the night of August 6 the room of Oscar Vermilya, a conductor living in the Hurlburt block, was entered and a suit of clothes and several other articles were stolen. The thief left his own clothes, much the worse for wear, and was indiscreet enough to leave his card in one of the pockets. This led to his arrest. The police were notified, and word was sent out to various cities. Today a dispatch from Boston announced that the man had been arrested in that city. His name is Harry Forrest, and he is a brakeman. Officer Sullivan went to Boston this afternoon to bring the man back.

Burglars Found the Cash in a Side of Beef.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., Aug. 30—During the heavy gale early yesterday morning, burglars visited the meat market of Bennett & Husted and secured about $200 in cash. They crawled in through a small window. In the market there is an old-fashioned safe. The proprietors feared to leave their money in it because it is so easy to open. Accordingly they placed their surplus cash, as usual, in a side of beef when they left Monday night. The burglars were evidently acquainted with this habit and confined themselves to the particular side of beef in which the money had been placed. They got the $200.

Reunion Second Connecticut Light Battery.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 30—The Second Connecticut Light Battery at its twenty-seventh reunion today elected these officers: President F. O. Bessey of Bridgeport; vice president, Peter Peterson of New Milford; secretary and treasurer, W. P. Burrows of Bridgeport; chaplain, C. W. Rowe of Bridgeport; executive committee, W. S. Nichols and W. H. Palmer of Bridgeport.

Town Nearly Wiped Out.

LAGRANDE, Ore., Aug. 30—The town of Elgin was almost wiped out by fire yesterday. Loss $50,000; insurance small.

Wheel Club Notes.

Already considerable interest is being shown in the races of the Rose of New England Wheel club Labor day, by out of town people.

The Rockville Wheel club has entered six men, Willimantic seven, Stafford Springs two, and many others will enter. The list includes such men as Saow, Hinman, Buchanan, Wilmot and Comstock.

The eighth event has seventeen entries, while the race between the local wheelmen Lester, Tracy and Comstock will excite no little interest among the friends of each.

The railroads have offered very low excursion rates, which should have the tendency to largely increase the attendance.

SPECIAL.

ROYAL BAKING
POWDER.
Absolutely Pure
A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—[Latest U. S. Government Food Report.
Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

Receiver for the Nicaragua Canal Company.

NEW YORK, Aug 30—In the United States circuit court today, Judge Benedict appointed Thomas B. Elkins of New York receiver for the Nicaragua Canal and Construction company, on application of Louis Chap-l, one of the stockholders. The application for a receiver was acquiesced in by President Warner Miller, who says the company no longer intends to meet its obligation.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

PAINT
EATON, CHASE & CO.
A. S. BILLINGS, KING & CO.'S
Pure Prepared Paint.
We guarantee this to be the BEST Paint in the world.
Color cards giving instructions how to select colors and do your own painting, free upon application, or by mail.
EATON, CHASE & CO.,
HARDWARE DEALERS.

Now is the time that the public should secure [illegible] the invention of [illegible] [illegible] just the thing. He is ready to put them on wherever wanted. All orders promptly attended to. Address 123 [illegible] ALPHEUS [illegible]

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
CONSULT DR. Z. J. LEWIS,
123 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I.,
Specialist on private Chronic Diseases of men. Cure guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. Office hours 9 to 8 and 1 to 7, Sundays, 9 to 2 and 5 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines $1. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks (forwarded free.)

Cholera Infantum
The most dreaded of all children's complaints prevented by using BUSSELL'S White Drops FOR BABIES. 25c. All druggists.

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.
E. M. BREWSTER
will do it for you very Cheap
18 Water Street.

MANICURE and CHIROPODIST,
SHAMPOOING,
Hair Cutting and Curling, Face Massage.
MISS H. A. GAVITT.
Room 70 Shannon Building

AMUSEMENTS.

HOI FOR THE BICYCLE RACES.
Everybody come!
Why, sure!
We'll all be there!
Then let the eagle scream! Let him soar into the deep-blue of the American heavens and from azure height be seen or heard in the north, south, east and west, crying
"ATTEND THE RACES!"
FIRST ANNUAL MEET
OF THE
Rose of New England Wheel Club,
Fair Grounds, Norwich,
Monday, (LABOR DAY) Sept. 4.
$500 in Prizes!
More than 60 entries. All the crack riders of Connecticut are entered, and many others also.
ADMISSION TO THE GROUNDS 25 CENTS
LADIES FREE.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.
Large and Complete Line
FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE
ARTISTIC WALL PAPER
At Reduced Prices.
SPECIAL SALE.
Large Art Carpets and Rugs
$15 00 Art Squares for $10.00.
[illegible]
Japanese Rugs and Mats.
$25 00 Japanese Carpets for $20 00.
$12 00 Japanese Rugs for $8 00.
$4 00 Japanese Rugs for $2 75.
Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels,
75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.
Quantities, 1 1-2 Yards to 30 Yards
Parties Wishing
FURNITURE,
CARPETS OR
WALL PAPER
Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock
That we are offering at Low Prices.

ALFRED HUNT, Florist,
Funeral Designs and Choice Cut Flowers.
[illegible]

WANTS.

WANTED—By a middle-aged lady a position to do general housework—to work by the day preferred. Inquire at this office.

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,
No. 4 Franklin Square.
Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All modern improvements. Terms reasonable.
jy1ss G. A. BURLINGHAM.

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN
Can find employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to COLCHESTER RUBBER CO., Colchester, Conn.

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER,
No. 7 Water St.,
Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods.

WANTED.
Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers. Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn.

BOARDING.
PERMANENT AND TRANSIENT
at reasonable rates. Centrally located. No. 61 Washington St. MRS. TURNER.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

TALKING
About PIANOS just now is my theme. Do you want a Piano? Then come and hear one of the newest and finest toned Pianos in the market. Prices Low. Also Organs, and a stock of fine Violins, including the Miller Violins on hand. A fine New Upright Piano to rent. Will be glad to see you at 89 Williams Street.
GEO. E. MARTIN.

CONFECTIONERY

ICE CREAM
ALL FLAVORS.
Wholesale and retail.
GEO. A. LEWIS,
37 CENTRAL AVE.
Telephone.

ICE CREAM,
PASTRY, CHOICE CONFECTIONERY
and all the popular Summer drinks at
"The Confection Parlors."
54 and 56 Broadway.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

George A. Kies
Will resume lessons on and after
FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, 1893.

WHY DO
Ferris Hams and Bacon
Lead all other Sugar-Cured Hams in quality and flavor?
Because they are the Best.
Insist on having them. If your butcher don't keep them, call at
C. D. BROWNING & CO.'S,
No. 3 SIXTH STREET.

Steamer : Chelsea.
Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.
Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M.

The Connecticut
Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,
Sole agents in Norwich for the
New England Felt and Roofing Co.
BEE HIVE BRAND
Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.
Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn.

MY FIRST CAR LOAD
Bought Since the Panic Has Arrived.
C. J. Wolcott.

FRESH FLOWER SEEDS.
Asters, Pinks, Mignonettes, Pansys, Sweet Peas, etc., 5 cents paper.
Extra fine Gladiolus Bulbs.
Fine Tuberose Bulbs, 5 cents each.
MRS. S. M. HOWIE, 150 Franklin Street.

FREE!
If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively upon many roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill roofs in the vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron paper and shingles. One great advantage of the Paint is that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 4c per square foot, Three Ply at 3c per square foot, and Two Ply at 2c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Draining Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Collars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, Water Street; H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn., P. O. Box 11. Residence 18 Oak Street.

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin office for printing of all kinds and get the work at living prices.

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE

Norwich Street Railway Co.,

Tait., Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side.	Franklin Sq., Falls and Rose Mill.
[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible]

novl6d E. F. SHAW, Jr., Supt.

LOCAL NOTICES

Lower tenement to rent.

A dry goods salesman wanted.

House at Norwich Town to rent.

A position to do housework wanted.

Dodge & Holloway advertise new neckwear.

Get your fire wood at the Park wood yard, 301 Franklin street.

Horton's ice cream in one quart and one pint boxes can be had of J. C. Perkins.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills absolutely cure rheumatism and neuralgia. Entirely vegetable. Safe.

Herren, opposite Porteous & Mitchell's, makes a specialty of wedding shoes. See advertisement.

Noyes & Davis have a large stock of school books and school supplies at wholesale and retail at lowest prices.

Go directly to Smith & Gilbert's to find what you want in negligee shirts, bathing suits, sweaters, leather belts, etc.

Ladies' trimmed white felt sailors are all the go. B. Gotthelf & Co. are selling them low. Also a full line of millinery and fancy goods at wholesale and retail.

If your furnace needs repairing, J. P. Barstow & Co. will do it for you, or will sell you a steam or hot water heater, or a Richmond range at a low price. See advertisement.

This morning at 8 o'clock Porteous & Mitchell will begin the sale of a line of sample hosiery, which they have purchased of one of the biggest importers of ladies' fancy hose in this country. See advertisement.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

City Court—Kellogg, Judge.

David Barry was presented in court Wednesday morning charged with a breach of the peace and was fined $5 and costs, $14 18. He appealed and furnished bonds of $100.

Jacob Weight, for breach of the peace, was unable to pay the fine of $5 and costs, $12 30, and was committed to jail.

David Barry, for resisting an officer, was fined $6 and costs. He appealed from the sentence and gave bonds of $100.

THE NATIONAL CROQUET CHAMPION.

Knecht Is Also a [illegible] Long-Distance [illegible]

The Springfield Union of August 30 printed a portrait of Willie Knecht, the 17-year-old national croquet champion, of Mattawan, N. J., and spoke of him as follows:

To be able to do a thing better than anybody else in the whole of America can do that same thing is enough to make the fortunate person an object of interest to his fellow beings.

Willie Knecht, a boy of 17, who has won the croquet championship of America for 1893, is in consequence conceded by general consent to be the most important personage in the little town of Mattawan, N. J. He is certainly the only figure of national interest of which the place can boast. Willie wears his honors modestly, despite the sensational manner in which he virtually mowed down the men who stood as obstacles in his road to the championship.

Knecht is not neglecting his education and is still a regular attendant at school. He first cast his eye upon the championship in 1891, when he appeared as a contestant at the annual meet in Norwich. Being supposedly a "green" player, he was assigned to the third division, but he defeated all of his opponents without trouble and was of course promoted. Last year he appeared in the second division, and again he walked away from his field with comparative ease. Willie, now, for the first time, began to be looked upon as a veritable mallet wonder, and his second victory having entitled him to advancement to the first class and a chance for the championship in 1893 the veterans of the past decade like Strong, Smith, Jacobus, Germond and Johnson, who were to meet him, realized that the Mattawan boy was likely to give them trouble.

Knecht came up to and surpassed their expectations, for although the struggle was more stubborn than in his freshman and junior years, he emerged with flying colors and the championship of America. The most noteworthy feature of Knecht's achievement is that he took very little preliminary practice prior to his meeting with the giants of the wickets. Knecht is a fine long distance bicycler, and he and his "safety" are almost inseparable. Together it is said that they have covered nearly 2,600 miles during the present season.

OYSTERING AND OYSTERS.

The Thames River Oysters—Oystering as an Industry—The Increase in Prices and the Falling off of the Demand.

The opening of the oyster season on September 1 recalls an industry which a quarter of a century ago was an important source of revenue to local fishermen. This was oystering in the Thames.

Of late years the waters of this river have become so polluted by dye stuffs, etc., from manufactories up the stream that its oysters have lost both their flavor and their reputation. Time was, however, when this river furnished to one oysterman alone from 10,000 to 20,000 bushels a year. In one day Captain Harvey Chapman has dug $200 worth of marketable oysters at Long Rock, opposite Trading Cove.

Church Brothers of this city, whose schooner, the "Lizzie Morse," is always busily employed in the oyster trade between this city and Long Island, gives Thames river oysters the reputation of still being the best seed oysters on the market. They receive throughout the season something like 15,000 bushels of oysters in the shell, and have their principal beds in Quaimbauge cove, between Mystic and Stonington, and also in Mumford cove, just beyond Eastern Point.

Chapman, Church, Story, Long, Pettigrill, are familiar names in connection with the Connecticut oyster industry, both ancient and modern. Since before the war, local sloops and schooners loaded with oysters from Redfield, from Fire Island, or gathered by the tongmen of the Maryland and Virginian ports of Chesapeake bay, have made their way to Osgood's wharf for the supply of the local trade.

The principal territory employed in modern oyster culture is in the waters of Connecticut, although considerable progress has been made in this direction in New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Rhode Island. It is estimated that the beds in Long Island sound, under proper cultivation, would supply the United States with enough oysters for consumption, leaving a balance sufficient to meet the European demand. New Haven is the center of the Connecticut oyster interest, although with it must be united Fair Haven, South Haven, West Haven, and Milford, since the business all around and off the mouth of the harbor is substantially united. From the earliest times the borders of the Quinnipiac river, on New Haven's eastern boundary, have been the scene of oyster operations, since shell heaps along the banks to this day prove that the Indians were not unacquainted with the merits of the oyster on the half shell.

Among the first places in New England to import oysters from New Jersey and later from Virginia, to be transplanted for additional growth was Fair Haven. The Virginia trade began about 1825. In 1857 over 200 schooners were employed in supplying Connecticut establishments with oysters of Virginia growth. The capital invested at this port—Fair Haven—was nearly $1,000,000. Prominently connected with the business were the Smiths, Hoyts, Barneses, Maltbys, Mallorys and Townsends.

The number of the steam oyster dredges and the capital invested have largely increased of late years. The most valuable ground for oyster culture is now—with very few exceptions—located where the water is from eighteen to sixty feet deep. This method of "deep-sea culture" has revolutionized the trade in Connecticut, adding hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to the value of stock marketed, besides increasing the quality.

The jurisdiction of the state oyster commission extends to the middle of Long Island sound, and nearly all this territory fit for cultivation of oysters has been bought by growers. The beds are disposed of to oystermen at $1.10 per acre, the commission collecting an annual tax based on the valuation of the oyster farms.

When the business was commenced in Connecticut, Virginia oysters were brought in the spring and laid down in shallow water on ground which was bare at low tide. This stock—Virginia plants—had to be taken up before cold weather to prevent freezing.

Another phase of the Virginia business was freighting of stock to Connecticut, to be immediately opened for market, a trade still in vogue.

In oyster-planting about 200 tons of sand or gravel are spread over the surface of an acre of ground. In July those beds are covered with a layer of oyster shells, called stools. Then mature oysters, or those about to spawn are spread over the beds.

Young oysters will attach themselves to wood as readily as to shells; but it is impracticable to use the former to any great extent, except in shallow water, where stakes may be driven into the ground, although experiments have been made of running chains through brush and anchoring it to the bottom.

The much talked of Poquonock river experiment is a case in point. White birch bushes were stuck in the river bottom, where the water was from ten to fourteen feet at low tide in the summer months, during the spawning season. The innovation proved so successful that the average yield was five bushels to a bush. In one case a bush which had been set eighteen months yielded twenty-five bushels. About fifty acres of ground were devoted to this culture. Scows with derricks were employed in gathering the bushes, which were pulled up with ease, the oysters being shaken off on the decks like apples from a tree.

Captain Chapman speaks of oysters attaching themselves to the bottom of a schooner after the fashion of barnacles, to bushes, wires, etc., and even getting into the necks of bottles.

Tongs and rakes, which at one time were the only implements of the oysterman, have become of no account in deep water. Steam dredges are now largely used, each steamer carrying four dredges, two of which—one on either side—are in operation at a time. The dredge consists of an iron frame, upon which is fastened a bag of net-work. As the dredges are pulled along by chains, the net-work becomes filled with oysters. The dredges are then pulled up by a steam windlass, and the oysters dumped upon the deck.

The first oyster planting in Connecticut was begun by Capt. Charles H. Townsend of South Haven in 1867.

Oyster bedders have to contend not only with severe storms, which, by washing sand and mud upon the beds will destroy hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth in a single night, but principally against the starfish, which go in such numbers against an oyster bed as to destroy the entire crop on a hundred acres of ground in a few hours. So numerous are these enemies of the oyster that one steamer has been known to catch ten tons of them in a single day. For protection, the oystermen dredge over their beds, destroying the starfish by leaving them on shore above high-water mark.

"As stupid as an oyster," is an entirely misleading comparison. The oyster is really a very tender and sensitive animal. Allow one to fall a short distance, and although the shell may not be broken, the shock will kill the oyster. Thunder will kill oysters. An entire cargo has often been killed while coming up the Chesapeake in a thunder storm. Pounding on the deck or side of a vessel, wood chopping, etc., will kill every oyster that feels the jar. Steamers cannot be used in transporting seed oysters from Virginia, because of the jar of the machinery. Their shells close the instant a boat comes near an oyster bed. This is not because they see, as an oyster has no eyes, but because they feel the approach of an enemy by the jar in the water. In

"Ye Olden Tyme."

As early as 1631, it was stated in a letter to the old country that "very large oysters" were so abundant at New Amsterdam that they could not be sold. In 1665 the Dutch Council enjoined "all persons from continuing to dig or dredge any oyster shells between this city and fresh water." The digging of shells was for the purpose of making into lime, and also for paving the streets, in which process many live oysters were wasted. Pearl street, New York, received its name because it was paved with oyster shells. As late as 1675 to sell in their canoes; and in 1659 pickled oysters were a staple article of export from Boston to the West Indies. In 1748 Kalm stated that an industrious oysterman could earn eight or ten shillings a day. In 1763 "blue points" and "sounds" were worth 2 shillings a bushel and were generally eaten raw, a stew being an expensive luxury, and the present fancy styles of cooking unheard of. Even as late as 1825 30 the whole city of New York had but one wholesale establishment, which, curiously enough, was kept by Benjamin Story. In 1853 in New York 1,000 [illegible] were engaged in the trade, and of East river oysters alone about $500,000 worth were sold annually. In 1855 the oyster trade was next to the meat trade, and one company alone was annually sending $20,000 worth to California, besides pickling in one week over 15,000 oysters, and shipping eight barrels a month to Europe.

Indians Brought Oysters

The supply of oysters ceased to be equal to the demand about 1875 and the price of oysters began to go up. Then the best quality sold for 35 cents a quart and the wholesale oyster business here used to be large. In those days the city used to expend from one to two hundred dollars a year for the oyster shells to improve the streets, but the demand grew less as the prices advanced, and for years only a retail business has been done here at the regular fishmarkets. The price reached 60 cents a quart and has kept between 50 and 60 cents a quart for many years. The cause of the dearth was said to be the increased exportation and the increasing demand elsewhere.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

A TON OF SHOT.

Five Kegs of Powder and 20,000 Targets Used in the Keystone Shoot.

Persons who did not attend the Keystone shooting tournament in New London, and probably many of those who did, will no doubt be surprised to learn the amount of lead that was scattered back of the traps and into the river during the shoot, and also the large amount of powder burnt to propel the shots.

In round numbers 20,000 [illegible] Keystone targets were used, representing 20,000 shots. A pound of [illegible] in trap shooting will load about ten shells, consequently 2000 pounds or more of lead was thrown over the fence.

Five kegs of powder, weighing 100 pounds each, were used to expel the shot. To the uninitiated this may seem exaggerated, but it is not.—The Day.

EASTERN CONNECTICUT.

NORTH STONINGTON.

Picnic—Baptism—Summer Visitors—Burial of J. D. Wheeler.

The Sunday school of the Second Baptist church held their annual picnic in the grove near the residence of Mr. Charles W. Vincent on Friday last. About 150 were present. A bountiful collation was served, after which remarks were made by Judge Richard Wheeler of Stonington and Deacon N. A. Brown. Vocal and instrumental music by the school.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Miller, returned missionaries, whose work has been among the Karens in Burmah, were the guests of Mrs. Bessie Whitman last week.

The two daughters of the Rev. H. A. Green of Lynn, Mass., are the guests of Mr and Mrs. E. W. Main and family.

Mr. George Cheever of New York was in town Sunday.

The ordinance of baptism was administered to three candidates by Rev. C. G. Savage in the village, at the close of the morning services.

Mr. Charles W. Vincent spent two days with his son at Narragansett Pier recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Packer of Mystic, Mr. James Wheeler of New Haven, Miss Braman of Providence, Dr. W. A. Hillard and Mr. Hall of Westerly, Miss Mattie Main of Providence, and Miss Pearl Taft of Aiken, S. C., are among the guests from out of town.

Town Clerk C. A. Snyder and family are making their annual visit to Canterbury Green, Conn.

The remains of the late Judge John D. Wheeler of Willimantic were brought to this town for burial on Monday. He was widely and favorably known in southeastern Connecticut as one of the best school teachers of his day.

Considerable sickness prevails in town at present.

PUTNAM.

Mills Shut Down for Repairs—Other Matters of Interest.

Hammond, Knowlton & Co.'s silk mill is shut down to put in a new water wheel.

The Putnam Manufacturing company has been stopped since Monday, due to the breaking of a shaft.

There is no prospect yet of the starting up of No. 2 woolen mill.

John R. Thayer, the noted Worcester lawyer, is hunting farms in Pomfret.

Rev. Father Vander Noot is sight-seeing at the World's fair.

The examination for admission of pupils to the academy will take place in the high-school building Wednesday, September 6.

A remarkable piece of engineering has been completed in Lake Angeline, near Ishpeming, Mich., where pumps have been in operation the past sixteen months. The lake covers 150 acres of ground and was seventy feet deep. The water covered extensive deposits of iron ore, and it was on this account that the lake was pumped dry.

SENATE WILL TALK.

Silver Men Threaten to Kill Repeal Bill That Way.

MAY BE QUESTION OF ENDURANCE.

Filibustering Will Be Met With Some Form of Closure.

WASHINGTON, Aug 30.—The silver debate in the senate is to be made a test of physical endurance. This, at least, is the program which the senators from the silver states announce. Mr. Teller of Colorado says he has brought his winter clothes with him and will wear them before unconditional repeal shall pass. The senators from the silver states stand alone in this determination. They will not be aided to any great extent by the free coinage Democrats, unless Mr. Morgan of Alabama should take a hand. Most of the free coinage Democrats, it is believed, agree with Mr. Hill that to filibuster on this question would be to lower the character of the senate and diminish public respect for its deliberation.

Threats analogous to those ascribed to the silver men have been heard before in the senate on other burning public questions, but somehow, after two or three weeks of talk and at most two continuous all-night sessions, a compromise was reached, and an agreement entered into for a Vote to Be Taken at a Fixed Time.

Little doubt is entertained that this will be the result in this instance. The supply of ammunition of the silver senators is not inexhaustible. They have been prodigal of its use in the debates heretofore, and should the debate be unreasonably prolonged, the contest may be temporarily transferred from the silver question to the amendment of the senate rules, so as to permit a closure. With the retirement of Mr. Edmunds from the senate the most influential opponent of a change of the rules was withdrawn. Mr. Sherman and other prominent senators who once agreed with the Vermont senator on this point have since changed their views, and it would not require much provocation to induce the senate to take up in earnest a proposition to propose some other limitation besides senatorial courtesy on Endless and Fruitless Debate.

It has been assumed in certain quarters that after the Voorhees repeal bill passes the senate (if it does pass) as a substitute for the Wilson bill, it must, upon its return to the house, be referred to a committee. The proper reference in this case would undoubtedly be to the coinage committee, but as this committee is known to be bitterly hostile to the repeal bill, it has been presumed that the house will send the bill to the banking and currency or even the ways and means committee. This course is feasible, but it is not likely to be followed, for the anti-silver men think that they have found a shorter road to the desired end. This will be found in a motion, made as soon as the bill is returned by the senate, to concur in the senate amendments. It so happens that under the new rules the

Bill May Be Disposed of In This Way

at the pleasure of the house at that time, provided it is not in such shape as to require consideration in the committee of the whole.

The bill, as originally introduced, and as reported in amended form from the senate finance committee, does not contain any paragraph involving an expenditure of money, so it does not fall under the terms of the proviso requiring consideration of committee of the whole. It is to be presumed that the silver men in the senate will endeavor to attach some such amendment to the bill before it returns to the house, but if they fail, according to the anti silver view, there is no obstruction to speedy concurrence by the house if the great majority disclosed on its passage last Monday can be held together.

The secretary of the treasury has had several conferences with Senator Voorhees and other members of the finance committee in which the financial situation was discussed at considerable length. They desired to know from the secretary whether he wished any financial legislation at this time as a relief to the treasury, the balance of which has run very low. The secretary said that he had given this subject much thought, but after mature deliberation he had come to the conclusion not to suggest anything at present, but to on the repeal of the purchasing clause in the existing law. He is of the opinion that if that law is repealed without much delay the situation will be immediately benefited, and matters will adjust themselves readily to the new conditions. He admitted that the outlook for the treasury was not very promising at present, but with careful and prudent management and prompt action by the senate he might run along smoothly for 20 or 30 days at least.

Await the Action of the Senate

The secretary is decidedly opposed to any legislation that will increase the public debt or in any manner interfere or trench upon the gold reserve.

Hundreds Made Homeless.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 31.—A wood yard, an oil well and 15 residences were destroyed by fire yesterday in this city. Two hundred persons were made homeless. The loss is [illegible]

Temperance Workers Confer.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Aug. 30.—The Essex county W. C. T. U. convention is being held in the [illegible] Baptist church here today. The address of welcome this forenoon was given by Mrs. Rachel Humphrey, and the response was read by Miss M. J. Floyd of Peabody. The reports of committees were very pleasing, showing that a great deal of work has been done in the last six months. This afternoon an address was given by Mrs. E. T. Hill of Boston and Mrs. Howes of Somerville.

The Sarnia Spoken.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—Agents of the Dominion line received a message last night stating that the steamship Canopus, at Sydney, N. S., had spoken the overdue steamer Sarnia in lat. 39 degrees, long. 8 degrees. All are well. The vessel is in tow of the Allan steamer Monteridian, bound for London.

Grateful Arbitrators.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Baron de Courcel, president of the Bering sea court of arbitration, visited President Carnot at Fontainbleau yesterday to express the gratitude of the members of the tribunal for the hospitality extended to them during the sitting of the court.

Will Not Shut Down.

DEDHAM, Mass., Aug. 30.—The report comes that the four tanneries at Norwood of Lyman Smith's Sons and Winslow Bros. are to continue running as usual, and will not shut down because of the stringency in the money market as was announced on Monday.

Sent to Jail.

LOWELL, Mass., Aug. 31.—Patrick J. Smith, charged with the larceny of wool from the storehouse of George C. Moore in North Chelmsford, was held by Judge Hadley in $2000 for one week. In default of sureties Smith was committed to jail.

THE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Ex-Senator William M. Evarts and Wife Celebrate the Happy Event.

WINDSOR, Vt., Aug. 30.—At their beautiful summer home, Runnymede, in this historic old town Mr. and Mrs. William Maxwell Evarts celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage today. Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Evarts were congratulated by their many and warm friends, and the grand old estate was made merry by a large number of sons, daughters, cousins and grandchildren, for it was a notable reunion of the Evarts family.

The ex-senator was in his happiest mood, and chatted pleasantly with those around him. His face, though still full of power and rugged as of old, has been somewhat softened by age. Deep furrows are beginning to roughen its clear surface, and a certain pallor tells the tale of years.

Mrs. Evarts is a woman of most estimable character. It would be impossible to remain long in her presence without feeling that the many excellent qualities and charming characteristics ascribed to her by her friends are unquestionably deserved.

She was the eldest daughter of Allen Wardner, a prominent banker of Windsor, Vt., where Mrs. Evarts was born about 71 years ago. After graduating from Yale in 1837 William M. Evarts went to Windsor to study law and teach, and the acquaintance between the grave, learned law student and the pleasant, practical young girl, then only 18, which began then, culminated in their marriage Aug. 30, 1843.

The couple were the recipients today of many congratulatory letters and messages.

CHICAGO'S UNEMPLOYED.

Enormous Crowd Congregates — Police Feared Serious Disturbance.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—An enormous crowd of unemployed men and women has congregated on the lake front for the purpose of holding a mass meeting. The number of people assembled is so very much larger than was expected that 300 policemen have been hurriedly placed on duty at the Park and 1000 additional men have been summoned from distant police stations to be in readiness in case of trouble.

The police are very apprehensive of a disturbance and are taking every precaution to prevent a serious outbreak. The police are making ready to use gatling guns. The mob was finally dispersed without the use of gatling guns or the shedding of blood.

ABOUT AN EVEN CHANCE.

Naumkeag Steam Cotton Mill at Salem May Resume Tuesday.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—There is about an even chance that the Naumkeag Steam Cotton company will resume running its mill at Salem next Tuesday, when the time of the original shut-down of two weeks shall have expired. The employes of the mill have had but little faith in the promise of the directors that business would be resumed after a vacation of two weeks, and many of them have left the city for their homes in Canada. There has been a feeling in the place that the shut-down might be continued for a longer time than was at first anticipated, and even the directors themselves do not know whether they will be able to begin business next week.

John L. Bremer, one of the directors of the mills and also closely connected with the Amoskeag mills, when asked this morning if business would be resumed at the Salem Mills, said frankly: "I wish I might find some one who could tell me. When we closed the mills, the understanding was that they would stay closed for two weeks, and there is no question but that they will. We hope to start at least a part of the mills at the end of that time: but in times like these there is no knowing what may happen within 24 hours. We have no intention regarding the matter, but we simply hope to resume next Tuesday."

Award For Colonel Noyes.

NASHUA, N. H., Aug. 31.—John G. Foster post, Grand Army, last evening presented a magnificent award to Department Commander of the State Colonel F. G. Noyes. He is a member of the post.

Members of Latin Union to Confer.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—The French government has agreed to call a conference of the members of the Latin union in Paris to decide the question of the nationalization of fractional silver currency.

Will Not Reopen Sept. 5.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Aug. 31.—The Everett mills will not reopen Sept. 5, as was first announced, but notice will be given by the management one week previous to the date of resuming work.

Great Forest Fires Raging.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—A great forest fire is raging in the vicinity of Bordeaux. The fire now covers a tract extending from Pessac to St. Jean d'Illac.

Supposed Cholera at Nantes.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—A suspicious malady, supposed to be cholera, has broken out in Nantes. Many persons are suffering.

Cholera in Hungary.

BUDA-PESTH, Aug. 31.—During the last 24 hours 142 new cases of cholera and 73 deaths were reported in Hungary.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Another movement is on foot to pension Jefferson Davis' widow.

The city of Boston is unable to secure evidence against consumers of soft coal.

Professor William Patten, Ph. D., was elected to the chair of biology at Dartmouth.

Marie Prescott, the actress, died in New York city from the effects of a surgical operation.

Some Manchester (N. H.) taxpayers have petitioned the courts to annul the city's electric light contract.

The Amoskeag corporation of Manchester, N. H., is to shortly start up in full with no reduction in pay.

Port Royal, S. C., was almost swept away by the tornado. One hundred or more lives are reported lost.

The Beverly (Mass.) selectmen will call a meeting to vote upon the question of a city charter Thursday, Sept. 7.

Maine's governor and council heard petitioners for the pardon of James M. Lowell, serving a life sentence for wife murder.

Fishing schooner Ursula went ashore on Matinicus Island, Me., during a gale and became a total loss. The crew escaped in boats to the shore.

Massachusetts is not to be represented at the annual convention of the International Association of State Factory Inspectors at Chicago next month.

The annual session of the national convention of the Independent Order of Daughters of St. George opened in Lawrence, Mass. The session continues four days.

Great destruction was wrought in Charleston by the cyclone. Scores of houses were unroofed, the St. Charles hotel was damaged and water was up to coast line [illegible]

In the [illegible] Lawrence, Mass., James [illegible] of the Pacific boarding [illegible] was fined $10 [illegible] of serving [illegible]

REID & HUGHES.

THE
BOSTON STORE

French Sateens and Scotch Ginghams Reduced in Price.

We offer the balance of our Fine French Sateens and Scotch Ginghams at 12 1-2c a yard.

They are reduced from 25c and 37 1-2c.

Reid & Hughes.

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. H. VAUGHN & SONS
IRON CASTINGS.
PERRY ST., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON
of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for immediate delivery.
REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Sable" brand.
SHEET IRON, Galvanized "B. B." Black and Plate.
STEEL, "Black Diamond" and "Silver," warranted Cast Steel, Machinery Steel, Tire Steel, Calking Steel.
FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.
IRON AND STEEL I BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.
A. T. CONVERSE,
Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf, 22 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.
Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Wool Machinery, Mill Gearing, Shaftings, Pulley Hangers, etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds, Gearing, Cuttings, Forgings and Castings at short notice. 125 Franklin street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second-hand machines bought and sold on commission.

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR Fire Wood
—TO THE—
PARK WOOD YARD!
301 Franklin Street.
A discount will be made on all purchases of Four Dollars or more.
J. ROURKE.

Before Buying Elsewhere,
Call and examine my complete line of new styles of
—WALL PAPERS.—
Lowest Prices.
E. L. GREENE,
Painter, Grainer and Paper Hanger.

Removal.
BRECKENRIDGE BROS.
Have removed their shop to CORNER WILLOW and CHESTNUT STS. and are prepared to give estimates on all kinds of wood-work.

—IF YOU—
Want money,
Want a cook,
Want boarders,
Want a partner,
Want a situation,
Want a servant girl,
Want to sell a farm,
Want to sell a house,
Want to rent a house,
Want to exchange anything,
Want to sell plants or grain,
Want to sell groceries or drugs,
Want to sell or trade anything,
Want to find customers for anything,
Want to sell or buy horses, mules or cattle.
Advertise
IN THE BULLETIN.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Almost Blind

With Humor and Inflammation in the Eyes

[illegible] little boy fell from his high chair, injuring his arm, and severe inflammation appeared in his eyes. He grew worse and worse until we feared he would lose his sight entirely. Medical advice and various medicines failed to benefit him until, hearing the good Hood's Sarsaparilla had done for others, we concluded to try it. I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla worked like a charm. While taking [illegible] bottles the inflammation gradually disappeared, his eyes grew stronger so [illegible] he could bear the light. He was soon

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

[illegible] cured." MRS. J. S. PURSELL, [illegible] Place, 309 South St., Piqua, Ohio.

N. B.—Be sure to get HOOD'S.

HOOD'S PILLS cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache and constipation. 25c.

aug1Sdaw

PLUMBING, ETC.

A. TROLAND & SON

Will Give You Close Estimates on

PLUMBING and GAS WORK.

mar14

—TRY OUR—

"Big Box" Stove Polish.

—ALSO OUR—

RUTLAND LINING, OF FIRE ART STOVE.

[illegible] linings. Repairs broken [illegible] from [illegible]

[illegible] & WHOLEY, [illegible] 13 [illegible] Street.

WE HAVE THE BEST

Water Filters and Garden Hose

to be [illegible] at Very Low Prices.

[illegible] Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting.

HOBANSE & [illegible]

[illegible] 8 West Main, Central Wharf.

Telephone 133—3

ROBERT BROWN

Steam and Gas Fitting,

Plumbing and Steam Heating,

Pipe Cutting and Threading by Power Machinery.

All Work done Promptly and Neatly.

Pequot Building, Central Wharf.

[illegible] cars every half hour. oct14d

INSURANCE.

L. and L. and G.

J. IRVING ROTCH, Agent,

aug1d

THE BEST PLACE TO INSURE.

STORY'S

INSURANCE AGENCY,

60 [illegible] ST.

The only [illegible] office in Norwich on the [illegible] floor. jy14

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y

Norwich, England. Organized 1797.

E. TARRANT, Agt.,

[illegible] 63 MAIN STREET.

[illegible] STATEMENT OF THE WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY, JAN. [illegible] UNITED STATES BRANCH.

—ASSETS.—

[illegible]

—LIABILITIES.—

[illegible]

[illegible] TARRANT, Agent, 63 Main St. Norwich, Conn. apr1d

B. P. LEARNED

Insurance in all Forms.

Bonds of Indemnity.

Foreign Drafts.

[illegible] National Bank, Norwich, Conn. feb14d

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell

COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A Fine Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

A. B. KINGSBURY.

jy2d

Murphy & Blackburn,

FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS.

87 Franklin Street.

Open day and night. Ring bell for night calls. Residence 22 High street and 8 Williams Avenue, Preston. may24d

HAVE THAT

Lawn Mower

Put in Good Order and it will be as good as new.

M. A. BARBER

may23d Industrial Building, Falls Ave.

DROP ME A POSTAL

and I will call on you with a fine line of Photos and Designs of

MONUMENTAL & CEMETERY WORK

and samples of Granite and Marble of various kinds of colors.

LEVI W. CROUCH, Norwich, Conn. mar14daw

FRANK G. SWEET,

Medical and Surgical Nurse,

Graduate from Mills' Training School for Male Nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York city. Call at 223 or 449 FRANKLIN Street, city. TERMS REASONABLE. [illegible]

The Bulletin.

A ROUMANIAN FOLK SONG.

He whom I loved so well
Is in his long, long sleep.
Yet I lament him not,
For he told me not to weep.

More dear to him the grave
Than I could ever be,
For though I go to him,
He does not come to me.

I envy not the grave
What yesterday was mine,
But bow my head and say,
"Keep him, for he is thine."

But keep not, grave, my youth,
Which cannot profit thee.
My smile and my light step—
Oh, give them back to me."

But the grave answered, "No.
For these things still are dear,
Since he, deprived of them,
Would be too lonely here."

Then to the dead I pray.
"Restore my youth to me,
That when we meet again
I be not old to thee!"

But he now hears nor sees,
For his eyes like mine are dim.
So to his grave I come
To get them back from him.

For only in the grave
Are tears no longer shed
And the living happy made Beside the happy dead.
—R. H. Stoddard in Harper's.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

A SELF MADE WOMAN.

How Mrs. Amelia E. Barr Attained Fame After a Late Start In Life.

Mrs. Amelia E. Barr is a Lancashire woman who married a Scotchman and came with him to Galveston, where he was a merchant and where his married life was spent. In the terrible yellow fever visitation of 1867 Mr. Barr lost his life in his gallant efforts to minister to the stricken Indians, and three sons also perished in the pestilence. With three daughters left her at 35 and passed from affluence to poverty, Mrs. Barr came to New York with an introduction to Mr. Bonner, the well known editor of the New York Ledger. He took from the first an interest in the brave woman, who showed such an undaunted spirit in her heavy calamities. He put work in her way.

At an age when successful writers have usually made their mark Mrs. Barr was struggling with the initiatory drudgery of the profession. She wrote advertisements, circulars, paragraphs, verses, etc. She spent hours daily in the Astor library studying the secrets of her craft, getting up materials for descriptive articles and historical stories. For a long time she considered herself rich if a $10 note stood between her and the future. "Jan Vedder's Wife" established her reputation as a novelist, and easier times began for her.

She has the business as well as the creative spirit highly developed, executes her literary engagements with scrupulous punctuality and exacts from her publishers the same punctuality. She tells how on one occasion a firm had engaged to pay $15,000 (£3,000) down for the serial right of one of her stories on the receipt of her manuscript. The novel was punctually delivered, but the publishers asked for a short delay, which she granted on condition of receiving 10 per cent for the loan of the sum until payment was made.

Mrs. Barr's study in Cherry Croft, her home in Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, is a large, uncarpeted room, plainly and solidly furnished. The lady writes standing at a high desk set in the embrasure of a window overlooking a magnificent mountainous landscape, through which the course of the Hudson may be traced for 40 miles. Here may be seen sets of drawers, in which are stored the penciled first drafts of her books, that run along one wall that is nearly covered with files holding her business letters, contracts with publishers, etc. Her husband's portrait, the only picture in the room, looks down from the opposite wall. Above the bookcase hangs the motto she chose when first she entered upon her literary career, "I say to my Maker, 'Thanks for the day's work that my Lord gives me.'"

She is as tireless a worker now as she was when her own and her children's daily bread depended upon her exertions. She rises winter and summer at dawn. In the summer breakfast is often laid on the veranda at 4 a. m. The meal is partaken of in the open air as the sunrise glows behind the hills and the river reflects the dawn of the new day, while the birds weave above a network of song. Cherry Croft is known for the feathered minstrels that haunt its orchards and gardens. It is computed that about 300 different species are to be found there, attracted by the nuts and other dainties specially prepared for them by the mistress of the place. After breakfast Mrs. Barr goes up to her study and works till noon, at which primitive hour dinner is served. After a siesta she returns to her study to type the penciled draft of the morning.—Providence Journal.

Julian Hawthorne's Bright Daughter.

Julian Hawthorne and his beautiful daughter Hildegarde have been in Chicago nearly ever since the World's fair opened in quest of the literary possibilities of the same. Miss Hawthorne has done little work so far, but she has shown herself not only the granddaughter of her grandfather, but also one of the youngest writers of the times. She was but 13 when a most Hawthornesque sketch of hers appeared in Harper's Magazine. She is an active, robust girl, fond of all athletic sports and outdoor life, and does not bear in her pleasing personnel any token of the undoubted genius she possesses. Her father's seven children are all handsome and bright, and all rejoice in odd and "high falutin" cognomens. This eldest daughter is like a mother to the younger ones.—Philadelphia Press.

Recent "News" About Women.

The little "unpleasantnesses" which have arisen to mar the harmony of the board of lady managers occupy more space in the daily newspapers than their importance really warrants. No doubt the reason for this is that contention and quarreling is the exception rather than the rule in women's assemblies. Bodies of men may wrangle and dispute in a most undignified manner, and as long as they refrain from fisticuffs no special notice is taken of it, but let a body of women forget in a wordy battle the usual amenities and it is forthwith given prominence as "news."—Union Signal.

The Women of the Bayard Family.

Here are some notes on the ladies in the family of our first ambassador to England:

Mrs. Bayard is a woman in every way fitted for the position that she will occupy for the next four years. Tall and slender, of commanding presence and with delicate features, she is eminently representative of our American aristocracy and culture. The elder of Mr. Bayard's living daughters is Mrs. Samuel D. Warren of Boston. The present Miss Bayard is extremely slight, dark haired and dark eyed and possessing unmistakable charm of person and manner. The next daughter, Florence, is a general favorite, be it in a sumptuous drawing room at our nation's capital, at tennis or out sailing in the summer or in the highly charged atmosphere of a Paris salon. The last is her latest field of conquest, her past year having been spent abroad. Of the two remaining daughters, Louise Lee (named for her mother) was married about two years ago to Dr. Frank Angell, now of the Leland Stanford university, and resides at Palo Alto. The youngest of the Bayard daughters and perhaps the most beautiful is Ellen, who, since the sudden death of her young husband, Count Loewenhaupt, which occurred almost immediately after their marriage, has resided with his relatives in Sweden. She will undoubtedly now take her place among the "ladies of St. James."

A Laudable Work.

The members of the federated charities of Kansas City will never have a more laudable cause than the one they are now engaged in—that of petitioning the county court to return the insane poor of the county to the asylums. The ladies who are circulating the petitions are meeting with no difficulty in securing signatures. The sentiment is unanimous in favor of returning the insane poor to the asylums.

A few years ago Jackson county determined to keep its insane poor in the poorhouse as a means of saving to the county. There is little difference in the cost and a very great difference in the advantages of treatment. It is impossible to properly care for the poor creatures at the county asylums, and [illegible] ladies of Kansas City have taken up [illegible] laudable work of having them returned to the state asylums, where proper treatment may be given to them. For the good of the unfortunate creatures in whose interest they are working it is to be hoped that the ladies will succeed.

Other counties have adopted the same economic measures. It is unfortunate that they have. No treatment could be too good for such unfortunate creatures.—Nevada (Mo.) Mail.

Miss Hosmer's Statue of Isabella.

The absence of Harriet Hosmer's statue of Queen Isabella, which was heralded a year ago, from the World's Columbian exposition is explained in the Chicago Inter Ocean by a correspondent as follows:

"The Isabella statue failed of its place because the association which hoped to have it put into marble has been financially unable to have the order executed. Miss Hosmer completed the plaster model months ago, but not in time to send it with the Italian exhibit, which was shipped at so early a date that many American sculptors in Rome were also prevented from sending examples of their work. Miss Hosmer, in the interval, has made a copy in bronze for Pope Leo XIII. In a private letter received from her by a resident of Chicago, Miss Hosmer wrote a few weeks ago that she expected to start for Chicago shortly with the model of the Isabella statue, which would be given a place in the Woman's building. She had made a second copy, not wishing to risk the loss of the original on so long a journey. This had detained her, but she expressed no doubt that the model would eventually be given proper prominence."

Mrs. Weaver on Politics.

Mrs. J. B. Weaver, wife of the Populist presidential candidate last fall, is the guest of Mrs. T. Zeller of Denver. Mrs. Weaver is a bright, progressive woman, always up with the times and constantly studying the questions of the day. She is reported as saying:

"The Populist party is growing in Iowa. There are fresh accessions all the time. Suffrage sentiment is gaining very rapidly. It is running ahead of its ticket—that is, gaining much faster than the Populist party. The state is becoming thoroughly organized. There is an active association in every large town and in many of the smaller ones. There is a lecturer and organizer in the field all the time at a good salary. At the last meeting of the association to which I belong in Des Moines we had 120 women present. Still Colorado is ahead of us. We have never succeeded in getting a suffrage bill through the legislature yet. I certainly think from all I can learn that the measure has a fair show of success this fall."

Some Women and Their Good Looks.

Mrs. Jenness Miller made some [illegible] ments to a Kansas City [illegible] which her sex may feel inclined to take her to task. "Don't you know," said the fair dress reform enthusiast, "that a woman can be better reached through her looks than through her intelligence? Don't you know that the average woman in society cares more for her appearance than for her soul's salvation? Why, I have known hundreds of women who would rather commit suicide than become passe. I know this, for I have made women a study."

Women's Day at the New England Fair.

Tuesday, the second day of the New England fair at Worcester, Mass., has been set apart as women's day. The women of New England will have the opportunity of meeting and hearing on that day some of the representative women of the country. Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant of London is one of the speakers engaged. Mrs. Chant was in Boston three years ago and captured the people of that city with her charming manners and bright sayings at the meetings of the Woman Suffrage association. She is prominently and actively identified with woman's work of various kinds in her own country, and her appearance in Boston at that time won for her the highest popularity and praise. Mrs. Chant is in love with New England people and New England life, and the women who go to the fair to see her will never forget her. Among the other women who are to speak on that day are Mrs. Lucy Stone, Miss Alice Stone Blackwell and Mrs. Mary Livermore [illegible] field Homestead.

THE SPECTROSCOPE.

IT PROMISES TO REVEAL WONDERFUL STAR SECRETS.

A Modern Astronomical Instrument That May Teach Observers Something Relating to the Composition of the Heavenly Bodies.

The corps of astronomers at the observatory on Mount Hamilton are now completing the results of Professor Schaeberle's observation of the great eclipse of the sun observed in Peru, speculating on that wonderful heavenly visitant, the comet; studying the "bright line" stars, and other matters incidental to the work of this, the greatest observatory of the world.

It has never been definitely known of what comets were composed, but Professor Campbell has been observing the recent additions to the firmament at all favorable opportunities with the big telescope and its spectrum attachment. The result of his observation has been that the spectrum lines show that the comet is composed of incandescent carbon and nitrogen, being itself luminous. This has been the theory heretofore, but it had never before been actually determined. The spectrum revealed the hitherto suspected truth. While the astronomers are satisfied with the observations of this comet, yet much is still in doubt, and will not be solved until some big comet appears, such as has presented itself in past years before the present means of observation were known. If such a comet should heave in sight all other work would be suspended, and all eyes turned upon it, resulting undoubtedly in astonishing and almost unhoped for results.

Professor Campbell at present is devoting most of his time and attention to the study of the "bright line" stars, training the great lens upon them night after night. His work is greatly aided by the spectroscope. Of these stars there are only 29 in this hemisphere capable of being observed, the remainder, about 10 in number, being in the southern hemisphere, and not visible at the Lick. When the spectrum is placed on the telescope, and the lens trained upon one of these stars, the light from the star is broken up and analyzed by the spectrum, and the colors obtained arranged in a broad band according to their intensity. Intersecting this band are bright lines, whence these stars receive their name. The lines, according to their position among the colors, denote a preponderating abundance of some element, one position indicating hydrogen, another tin, another iron, and so through the list of elements. In some of these stars the number of bright lines is much greater than in others, and this shows that the stars are in different stages of development.

From these observations Professor Campbell hopes to perfect a definite theory in regard to sidereal evolution, which will show whether the star is a new one or one partly burned out or one entirely dead. All observations hitherto have been made with comparatively small telescopes, and but few lines were brought out in any of the spectra, but when the 36 inch lens, with its wonderful power, was turned upon them many new bright lines were brought out, revealing the fact that the state of the stars was far different from what was supposed. Continued observations will be made upon these stars, and many new and interesting facts may soon be discovered.

A very interesting object of observation has been the new star in the constellation of Auriga, called Nova Auriga, discovered on Nov. 1, 1892, by Professor Andrews of the Edinburgh observatory. When first discovered, this star was of the fifth magnitude and was visible to the naked eye. It remained in this state for six weeks. It then decreased in intensity and was visible only in the large telescope for a period of six weeks more, when it totally disappeared. In August it again appeared, having increased to the tenth magnitude, and it has remained in sight ever since, increasing in brilliancy and commanding great attention in all the observatories of the world. It is now supposed to be in the first stage of sidereal evolution. In the past 20 centuries only 20 of these new stars have been discovered, and the extreme rareness of their appearance adds greatly to the interest in them.

The most important question in regard to Nova Auriga was the nature of it. Here and at Pulkowa, Russia, where the second largest telescope in the world is located, the lens being 30 inches in diameter, the observation tended to show that it was a planetary nebula or a nebulous star, but this theory has been denied by leading English and German astronomers, who have claimed that it was a true star. Recent observations at Mount Hamilton disprove the theory of its being a true star, and establish the fact that it is a nebulous body. The spectrum exhibited exactly the same features as the spectrum of those stars which are admitted to be nebulæ.

Without doubt the spectrum has proved to be the most valuable scientific aid to astronomers of all discovered in recent years. While it has been in use for nearly 30 years, yet it has been only in the last five years that it has proved to be of much value. It is now used both visually and photographically. The Lick observatory will soon be furnished with a new spectroscope of the latest and best manufacture, D. O. Mills having given a sum of money sufficient to purchase such a one as is needed.—San Jose Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

The Gather-no-moss Young Man.

Young men who are "everything by turns and nothing long" may possess even more than average ability, but they never make good business men. As "rolling stones gather no moss," neither do these shifty creatures add any power to their character or wealth to a store. They are respectable tramps, always on the move from one vocation to another, often waiting like Micawber for "something to turn up."—Dry Goods Economist.

Times Have Changed.

Thieves who entered the house of the pastor of St. James Methodist Episcopal church in Harlem stole $300 worth of silver. The surprise is not that they stole it, but that the minister had it. Times have changed since the apostolic itinerant said, "Silver and gold have I none." —Brooklyn Eagle.

DANGER IN A WALKING STICK.

An English Physician Has Discovered a New Disease That Attacks Men.

As a medical man with a fairly large practice I meet with and treat cases which cover a very wide ground. But never until last night have I met with a case the trouble and very probable suffering from which may be distinctly traced to the carrying of a walking stick!

A man came to see me who had completed a week's walking tour in Devonshire. He looked well and healthy. There was no mistake about that, but his left arm was almost numb, the muscles were contracted, and it was with great trouble and evident pain he lifted it from his side. It puzzled me at first. His right arm was all right, but on examining it I noticed the skin on the hand was peeling off, while his left hand had no sign whatever of this.

"Been boating?" I asked.

No, he had not been boating. Then I suddenly caught sight of a walking stick resting by the side of his chair, and which he had brought into the room. The secret of it all was soon out then—a very simple secret. It was a thick and heavy stick weighing quite a pound. He had carried that in the right hand for a whole week, while he admitted that his left hand generally occupied his trousers pocket. The constant using of the stick had worn the skin away, while the carrying of it—not having been equally balanced between the two hands—had caused the one not thus exercised to become stiff and positively useless for the time being.

A walking stick, to my mind, is not the most desirable thing. Still I suppose they will always be carried, but I would warn those who carry them to excess. Sticks should be avoided with plated tops. Either they should be of silver or gold or some perfectly pure metal, or, better still, only the polished top of the natural stick should come into contact with the flesh of the hand, which often—as in the case of clerks and those not occupied in manual labor—is as tender and susceptible to disease as any part of the body. A glove might, however, overcome this difficulty.

Then as to the weight of the stick. It is only reasonable to suppose that too great a drag on the muscles is not calculated to improve them. Stretching the muscles in this manner is far from advisable. A man should carry a stick in proportion to his own weight, and a stick from 8 to 10 ounces will be found as good as any.

But the great danger appears to me to be that of constantly carrying this wooden companion in the same hand. I may be called a faddist, an old woman among medicos, and the like, but here I have just had a practical proof [illegible] the difficulty which does arise from this practice. It means a certain amount [illegible] pleasant labor to the hand and arm [illegible] carry a stick, and in this labor—more particularly when the stick is carried for any length of time, as in the case I have just quoted—the work of the hands and arms should be fairly divided.

I know this view will be severely questioned, but let any who have their doubts just set out and carry a stick of the same weight my patient did for only a few hours and note the result.—London Tit-Bits.

Tea and Camphor In Transit.

One of the big English tramp steamers which a week ago was unloading at a pier between the sectional docks and the bridge filled the east side with a mixture of odors peculiar to the far east, the most prominent among them being the pungent aroma of camphor.

"Halloo," said one of a group who were walking down South street. "Let's go down and see them unload the tea ship."

"No you don't," said a second man, "no tea there."

Argument followed, suppers were wagered, and the question was settled by a visit to the Hankow, the steamer which was at the pier. The first speaker knew more when they went away from the pier, for he learned that no tea is carried on a steamer which carries camphor, and that no matter what composed the rest of the cargo, the camphor was kept in a separate, closed room and was only taken at an exceedingly high rate of freight.

So carefully is tea handled and so penetrating is the odor of camphor that the two are not allowed on the same pier together, even in the open air, with 300 feet of space between them. The next time he smells camphor he will not go down to the ship to see tea unloaded.—New York Tribune.

They Both Had It.

The man that always has a joke to be printed came in with a ha-ha in his voice.

"Oh, I say," he exclaimed, "I've got a corker."

"What is it?" inquired the helpless victim.

"Did you celebrate the twenty-fifth of the alphabet?"

"The what?"

"The twenty-fifth of the alphabet—the Fourth of July?"

"Come off. What's the twenty-fifth of the alphabet got to do with the Fourth of July?"

"That's what it is."

"I don't see it."

"I'll show you," and the joker ha-ha'd some more. "You see, the twenty-fifth of the alphabet is one letter; that one letter is y; y is the fourth of July, and there you have it."

"And there you have it too," added the helpless victim as he fired a pastepot into the joker's neck.—Detroit Free Press.

A Dangerous Barber Shop.

The funniest street sign that ever hung over a New York door is that of a barber on Hudson street near where the city's thoroughfares get tangled up in such confusion at Abingdon square. The owner of the shop is a darky and is very fond of big words. So when he had his sign painted he had it made to read, "Tonsorial Parlor," instead of just plain "Barber Shop." This sign hung for nearly a year. Then some wag probably told him that there was a more elegant wording which might draw custom to his shop. Within a week a new sign, resplendent in red, white and blue, hung out proclaiming that a "Tonsorial Abattoir" might be found within. It is not known whether the shop is more liberally patronized under its new designation as a hairdressing butcher shop or not, but certainly the darky is very happy over the length and impressive appearance of the new word on his sign.—New York Press.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS.

REMEDIES THAT HAVE BECOME FAVORITE MEDICINES.

During the Past Ten Years Many New Drugs Have Been Brought Into Service For Diseases and Complaints Which, Though Common, Were Hard to Treat.

Only a few years ago coal tar was looked upon as a "waste product." At the present day, however, it is no longer treated as such, for through the almost ceaseless activity of the German chemists enough new remedies have already been obtained from coal tar to fill a good sized pharmacopœia.

About the first one of these products to attract any considerable attention was antipyrine, which made its appearance some 10 years ago and became popularly known during the epidemic of la grippe of several years ago. This was soon followed by antifebrin, which, although it had a new name, was an older drug than antipyrine, having been known for several years as acetanilid, a name derived from the substances from which it was made. It is prepared by the action of acetic acid on aniline oil.

The acetanilid is now used by many doctors in preference to antipyrine. The principal features in its favor are smallness of dose, less danger of a depressing effect on the heart and cheapness. The price of acetanilid is hardly one-tenth that of antipyrine.

Phenacetine is another drug of this class which has met with much success and apparently deservedly so. It has been used with excellent results in the treatment of influenza, the hyperæsthesia or soreness of la grippe and rheumatism, both muscular and articular.

The drug is often combined with salol and quinine in the treatment of the above mentioned affections, and the results reported are invariably of a very satisfactory nature.

One of the most interesting of the coal tar derivatives is saccharin, a substance that is 280 times sweeter than sugar. The medicinal properties of this drug are antiseptic and sweetening. As a substitute for sugar it is used in the dietary of gout, diabetes and all diseases in which saccharine foods are contraindicated. It has also been used to disguise the taste of medicines for children. To give one an idea of the sweetening power of saccharin it is only necessary to say that one grain of the drug will sweeten an ordinary cup of coffee. If sugar were used at least a half ounce or a tablespoonful, would be necessary.

In the treatment of mental disease sulphonal is considered a very valuable agent. The drug could hardly have achieved success had it been introduced under its chemical name, which contains just two letters more than the entire alphabet. Diethylsulphondimethylmethan is the "jawbreaker" by which it is known technically.

The value of sulphonal as a hypnotic seems to be pretty well established. It has been used with marked success in the treatment of sleeplessness caused by fatigue and worry. It is also said to be of equal service in cases of acute mania, imbecility, melancholia, dementia, epilepsy, hallucinations and acute alcoholism. One observer stated that in every case treated "the slumber was accompanied by no disturbances of circulation or respiration and lasted from two to five hours or longer." From 15 to 30 grains are usually given as a dose. Even in very large doses the digestive functions are not disordered, and there are no disagreeable after effects beyond a slight drowsiness and a feeling of lassitude the next day.

In combination with hyoscine hydrobromate, sulphonal is said to form a very good treatment for the insomnia and restlessness of opium habitues. When a coal tar product is introduced, it can almost be taken for granted that one of the four medicinal properties is claimed for it. The four properties are antipyretic, analgesic, antiseptic and hypnotic.

Trional, which hails from Elberfeld, Germany, is brought forward as a candidate for therapeutic favor. It possesses the last named property. Brie of Bonn has found trional of value in treating insomnia or hysteria and neurasthenia in cases of great obstinacy and which had failed to respond to any other treatment. In maniacal excitement and paralytic mania, he reports excellent results in 90 per cent of the cases treated.

Salophen, although not distinctly a "coal tar derivative," is partly so, as one of its component parts, carbolic acid, is derived from coal tar. It is said to be a valuable remedy in the treatment of articular rheumatism. The dose is from 15 to 30 grains three or four times a day.

The very latest in the long line of coal tar products is gallanol. It is prepared by boiling tannin with aniline. It is introduced as a substitute for pyrogallic acid, having the advantage of being nontoxic and nonirritant. In the treatment of skin affections it has been used with success.

Cazeneuve, the introducer of the drug, reports great success in treating psoriasis by painting the spots with gallanol suspended in chloroform and covering them with a solution of gutta percha in chloroform, called traumaticin.—New York World.

Choice Woods on the Farm.

There is money in the choice woods of the farm. A letter from a prominent New Jersey tool manufacturer offers $30 per 1,000 for beech seasoned one year and $50 for apple wood. Birch, maple, cherry, elm and hickory also sell for much more than they are worth at the woodpile. The wood must be sawed in some shape and can be sold in a great many directions, principally for making plane and other tool handles.—Detroit Household.

Pensions For Workingmen In Austria.

Under the provisions of the Austrian poor law, at 60 years of age a man may claim from his native town or commune a pension equal to one-third of the daily wages which he had received during his working years. The amount varies from 2 to 6 florins a month. In Vienna alone there are 15,000 persons who receive these pensions from the city.

She Had Been There.

Perdita—You haven't the faintest idea how much I love him.

Penelope—Oh, yes I have—I used to love him that way myself.—Brooklyn Life.

ARE YOU BILIOUS?

THEN USE

PARSONS' PILLS

"Best Liver Pill Made"

Positively cure BILIOUSNESS and SICK HEADACHE, all Liver and Bowel Complaints. Put up in Glass Vials. Thirty in a bottle, one a dose. They expel all impurities from the blood. [illegible] Full particulars free. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston, Mass.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

For INTERNAL as much as EXTERNAL use. ORIGINATED By an Old Family Physician.

Cures Croup, Colds, Sore Throat, Cramps, [illegible] Illustrated Book free. Price, 35 cents; six $2. Sold by druggists. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass. dec17

FOR THE LADIES.

Profit Is Nothing

But a Memory Today.

It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.

Hats reduced to less than cost, both trimmed and untrimmed.

Trimmed Hats at 98c.

Cost or value no consideration.

RIBBONS.

All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.

Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.

Don't have to talk much about them. At our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.

New York Bazaar.

112 MAIN ST.

aug19d

REDUCTION

In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.

We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits which we will close at the following prices: $6 00 and $7 95. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, as they must be sold.

Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close, at

A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St.

aug9d

MILLINERY.

Hats, Bonnets, Elegant Ribbons, Laces and Flowers,

—AT—

MRS. G. P. STANTON'S,

apr6d No. 8 Shetucket Street.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES

—AT—

40C. PER THOUSAND.

They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.

COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.

The Bulletin Co.,

NORWICH, CONN.

aug8d

STORAGE.

Storage of non-hazardous or imperishable goods or merchandise may be obtained in my Warehouse at 22 Commerce Street.

may12d A. T. CONVERSE.

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.

Established 1791.

NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.

Established 1798.

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 12 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 2 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest, and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application to the business office. No cuts or electrotypes inserted in either paper.

To guard against mistakes, advertisements should be sent in manuscript. We cannot be responsible for errors that occur in messages received by telephone.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their own immediate business, and their contracts do not include Wants, To Let, For Sale, etc.

All news letters should be addressed to THE MORNING BULLETIN; all business communications to THE BULLETIN COMPANY.

Money orders and checks should be made payable to THE BULLETIN CO.

All communications must be signed. Anonymous letters or news items will not be read, but thrown into the waste basket.

No manuscript preserved or returned, unless stamps are enclosed fully to prepay postage.

Entered at the post office at Norwich, Conn., as second class mail matter.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Thursday, August 31, 1893

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

GRISWOLD'S FORWARD MARCH.

The campaign for good roads has been a long one, and the battle has been and is being well fought out. The daily press has made itself felt upon the subject, and now the agricultural papers are coming in as a reserve force and striking the finishing blows.

Griswold is the first town in the state to make a start, and we are not surprised that her action is being considered worthy of comment and commendation by many papers in the state.

The Ansonia Sentinel says: "The little town of Griswold in New London county, has taken a step forward in the matter of good roads. A town meeting unanimously voted to expend $15,000 in building a macadamized road between Jewett City and Pachaug. This will be the means of giving employment to a number of people as well as giving to the town the benefit of being known as an enterprising place. If all the towns in Connecticut would follow this example, building a piece of road each year, we would eventually have cause for self-congratulation instead of being the victims of self-abasement."

Griswold is to be congratulated upon having set the pace for every enterprising town in Connecticut, and it is safe to say this will not be the last movement the town will make in the way of building good and permanent roads.

THEY ADMIT IT.

The Springfield Republican which is a mugwumpian leader, admits "that manufacturers must know what the tariff is going to be in the near future before business can resume its course in full confidence." Most of the democratic papers recognize the truth of this statement. The idea that the Sherman law was the sole cause of present distrust and business stagnation has been entirely exploded, and for that reason the tariff tinkerers are anxious to get at work at once on their reform schedule. Until business has a firm basis to start on, it can only proceed by assuming that the democrats intend to do their worst and placing wages upon a free trade basis. This no American manufacturer wants to do, and had the workingmen known last fall that the issue they were making would produce such losses and embarrassment in every kind of business, and such idleness among themselves, they could not have been induced to have endorsed a free trade policy. The business of the country is all waiting to take a start on the democratic plane; and although the trial has been a hard one to labor and capital, both will be glad when a new start is made and work and wages remove from the future prospect idleness and soup houses.

STRIKES AND LOCKOUTS.

A Meriden man has taken upon himself the task of warning the republican editors of the state against inadvertently playing into the hands of the enemy by a careless use of the words "strike" and "lockout." The warning seems to us to be unnecessary, and the fellow's political interpretation of these words is a curiosity in the way of a bold and conceited partisan application of two business words which express the action of employe and employer, and which he defines in a way not acceptable to the parties concerned or the class he addresses.

A "strike" is the refusal of employes to work on account of a grievance, a violation of contract or a notice of reduction of pay. A lockout expresses the action of employers, who shut down in anticipation of a strike, or who turn the men out who are willing to work, because the employes in another department are on a strike and embarrassing their business.

In times like these when goods are stacked up, the markets dull and orders not in the least encouraging, with a prospect of having to sell the stock on hand for less than the cost of manufacture, and with no new basis established upon which to resume business, a "shut down" is not in any sense a "lockout," but business paralysis in which employer and employe are not in conflict, but are equal sufferers, and equally anxious to see business start up again.

The republican editors of Connecticut do not need any assistance in the use or interpretation of these simple words, and the "cooper" who seriously warns them of danger in the careless use of them has merely amused the editors and exhibited himself.

THE PRESIDENT'S HEALTH.

The report that President Cleveland went on board of Mr. Benedict's yacht for the purpose of undergoing a critical surgical operation for the removal of a cancerous growth upon his upper jaw, described in detail by "Holland" of the Philadelphia Press is confirmed by Dr. Hasbrouck of New York. The president has been kept away from Washington on account of a severe surgical operation, and it is strange that the fact did not get out before his preparation for return; and that his affliction was not discovered when he returned to Washington to send his message to congress.

It is not at all likely that the president has been doing the yachting and fishing in Buzzards bay that has been telegraphically credited to him in the past six weeks.

President Cleveland will have the sympathy of the people of the country regardless of political affiliations, and it is gratifying to know that his physicians regard the operation as successful and the dangerous affliction as eradicated. It would be a sorry day for the country in a crisis like the present one, to have anything serious happen to the president.

SILVER AN AMERICAN PRODUCT.

The repeal of the Sherman law does not destroy the use or the importance of silver as an American product or circulating medium. The republican party has pledged itself to keep gold and silver equivalent, and this country has done so regardless of all the talk about "short weight dollars," "dishonest money" and "cart-wheels"; but it has not kept its coin up to the ratio, and cannot fix a ratio that is constant between silver and gold. Intrinsically gold and silver coins have not been and can not be of equal value for any length of time, although the ratio is exactly fixed at the time a coinage law is passed. When the law under which the present silver dollar is coined was passed the market value was 15½ to 1 and the law fixed the ratio at 16 to 1. Within the past two months the ratio has been 33 to 1, and the intrinsic value of the dollar fell to forty nine cents.

The value of silver and gold depends upon the law of supply and demand; as does the value of other metals. The value decreed on the face of a coin, if not found in its weight, is to be found in the credit of the nation by which it is issued. This is where the value nest in the United States silver dollar has been when a gold dollar has been given in exchange for a fifty-cent dollar at home; and it is where it ought to be if the coins are to be kept of a convenient size. Lightness is a great desideratum when a good and convenient circulating medium is being considered, and the reason paper money is preferred to coin nine times out of ten is because it is light, and a large amount of money may be carried about the person. If silver coin is to be regarded only as collateral possessing the intrinsic value represented by bills or certificates issued upon it, that is another thing.

The United States cannot compel the gold-standard nations to take silver at other than bullion rates; but it can give protection to its silver industries, labor for a conference of all the mercantile nations with a view of getting a uniform ratio adopted by all nations using silver money; and it ought to strive to wrest from England the power to fix the market value.

It is claimed that the United States does not control the silver output of the world, although western enthusiasts allege that they do; but no one can dispute that the mines of North and South America could control the output, and a union of American silver interests might bring about a result which would prove advantageous to all the silver producing nations of America.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

The Test.

Congressman Allen, the Mississippi humorist, thinks that "confidence" hasn't been restored. Just after the repeal of the silver purchase clause in the house he tried to borrow $100 of a New York representative, and being unsuccessful, pointed out that the "stringency" continued just the same.—[Springfield Republican.

A Proud Spectacle.

David B. Hill working cheek by jowl with the cheap money senators must be a proud spectacle for the bankers, merchants and manufacturers of the great Empire state. However, as New York deliberately elevated Hill, knowing precisely what manner of man he was, it need not ask for any pity.—[Boston Journal.

The Gauntlet Taken Up.

So far as the house is concerned Gov. Waite's gauntlet has been taken up and flung back in his face in good fighting spirit. But after all he will probably not now proceed to wade in blood, even up to his horse's fetlocks.—[Providence Journal.

It Is Bad News.

The reduction of wages in the Fall River mills is bad news to the industrious workers in that busy city; but if it is true that at the present market prices goods are sold at an actual loss, there must either be a reduction in the cost of manufacture or a cessation of operations.—[Boston Journal.

The Health of President Cleveland.

While The Press has always been an unhesitating critic of President Cleveland's official actions, it has a keen realization of the importance of his health and life to the country just now. It is important that Surgeon General Bryant should now give the public the fullest information. President Cleveland should certainly take the greatest care of his health.—[New York Press.

An authentic refutation of the disquieting reports about President Cleveland's health would be exceedingly welcome, and we most sincerely hope that a satisfactory statement of the truth can and will be made. The people have no inclination to intrude upon the president's retirement, but their interest in his physical condition is as natural as it is deep, and they would rejoice to be assured that current rumors are without foundation.—[New York Tribune.

A Pertinent Question.

Mr. Russell Sage is kind enough to inform the public that President McLeod of the New England is "a biger man" than President Clark of the New Haven and Old Colony; that his failure hitherto has been his misfortune and not his fault, and that he "is going to beat Mr. Clark" and get an independent entrance into New York for his road. All this is extremely interesting, but it seems pertinent to ask how much more Mr. Sage knows about it than anybody else.—[Providence Journal.

Come on With Your Revival.

Bring on your business revival. Let us have it at once, sled-length with the bark on. It may embarrass some of us who believe in a protective tariff and are called upon to explain why things are as they are, but never mind that. Don't spare our feelings in the least. Mental embarrassment is preferable to pecuniary stringency and an empty stomach is more disturbing than political discomfiture.

And if you can't revive all at once and on a grand scale, do it to the best of your ability. You promised us last year that if Cleveland was elected our business should be improved, our wages increased and our progress greatly accelerated, and we might fairly hold you to that pledge, but we will be more than fair and let you off if you will simply give us back what we have lost—the old wages, the old business, the old rate of advancement.—[Manchester Mirror and American.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

BAD NEWS ABOUT THE PRESIDENT.

A Surgical Operation Performed on Board the Benedict Yacht.

["Holland" in Philadelphia Press.]

It is useless longer to conceal the fact that Mr. Cleveland is a sick man, perhaps a very sick man, and that the physicians have fear that mortal disease is lurking in his system, notwithstanding heroic efforts of surgery to remove it during the summer. Secretary Lamont, who was here last week, and whose anxiety was impressive and pitiful to see, said with something of the tone of sadness in his voice that there would be and could be no attempt on the part of the administration to make any interference in the local politics of New York, and when asked why this was so, Lamont replied, saying it to Colonel Monroe: "The president is a sick man, how sick we cannot tell."

The news which is here reported for the first time has been received from those whose sources of information are so accurate as to justify, even to compel, its publication. It comes from men, some of whom saw and had part in what is described.

. . . .

It was late in the spring that Mr. Cleveland began to be tormented by pain which seemed to proceed from a tooth. He endured it like a hero. Many times when congressmen and others were consulting with him his face was racked with pain, while the struggle to endure it without suggesting emotion caused him to appear to them indifferent, phlegmatic and unimpressed by the gravity of the political situation. The pain cost him sleep, and doubtless did much so to lower his vitality as to develop the rheumatic trouble which has always lurked in his system.

He concealed his suffering from his family, and it is probable that no one, excepting Secretary Lamont, knew that he had physical torture as well as mental anxiety to contend with. The pain did not yield to local and usual treatment. When the first careful examination was made, or when the suspicion was created that this trouble was due to no exposure of a dental nerve or to any usual disease of the teeth, my informants do not know; they do know that there was a time shortly before the president issued his call for the extraordinary session of congress, when it was determined that an operation was inevitable, how grave or extensive could not at first be determined.

Mr. Cleveland left Washington quite suddenly upon the day when the call for the extraordinary session of congress was issued. Arrangements were made in this city with celerity, and Mr. Cleveland was met when he arrived here by Dr. Bryant and another physician, and by Dr. Hasbrouck, all of whom boarded the yacht with him. The baggage of these physicians contained the instruments of surgery and the apparatus for anaesthetic administration. Dr. Hasbrouck had this latter apparatus in charge.

The president yielded easily to the anaesthetic, and the surgeons then began their task of awful responsibility. The operation did not require very long, but it entailed the cutting away of a considerable part of the upper jaw bone upon one side, the instrument boring through the bone and tissue as far as the orbital plate. The operation was thorough. The physicians believe that they have removed all of the diseased tissue and bone, although in doing it the removal of so much of the jaw as that was entailed. Of course in doing this teeth were extracted, so that the physicians were truthful when they afterward said that the president had had some teeth pulled out while he was on Mr. Benedict's yacht.

The wound seemed to heal easily, naturally, and that of itself furnishes considerable hope that the disease which called for this heroic treatment may after all not be malignant as was feared, but of that nature which the physicians call benign. It is the truth to say that there were suspicions that the disease might be of that malignant type which is called sarcoma, another form of the same disease which brought General Grant, with beautiful pathos, to his deathbed. There is now encouragement that it may not be that trouble; that the complaint, whatever it is, is not beyond the power of surgical science to control.

. . . .

There is more encouragement this week than there was last, far more than was the case when the president, being warned, departed from Washington to the seashore again. Dr. Bryant, who has been faithfully at Mr. Cleveland's side ever since he returned to Gray Gables, will probably not leave him excepting for brief intervals until his hopes are established and the country is assured that it has escaped a great sorrow, of whose nearness it did not know when the crisis was very great.

Those persons who do not need iron, but who are troubled with Nervousness and Dyspepsia, will find in Carter's Little Nerve Pills a most desirable article. They are mostly used in combination with Carter's Little Liver Pills, and in this way often exert a most magical effect. Take just one pill of each kind immediately after eating and you will be free from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. In vials at 25 cents. Try them.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles!

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

Conscience Makes Cowards

Of us all, says Hamlet, but there are some people who have no conscience at all. Among them are dealers who endeavor to palm upon the public cheap, corrosive substitutes of pure and fragrant SOZODONT. Let the public be on its guard against such shams.

"How to Cure All Skin Diseases."

Simply apply SWAYNE'S OINTMENT. No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for SWAYNE'S OINTMENT.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

THE NATIONAL BARGAIN CO.

—AT THE—

BARGAIN STORE.

A GENERAL REDUCTION

—IN—

Nearly all Goods Before Taking Inventory.

This means a discount from the regular bargain prices on our goods, which are always

LOWER THAN THE LOWEST

at any time. Not a few items, but nearly everything in stock will be slaughtered for a few days.

OUR LOSS —IS— YOUR GAIN.

A dollar will do double duty. Call and see.

NATIONAL BARGAIN :-: COMPANY,

Shannon Building,

NORWICH, - - - CONN.

lyTuThS

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

SCHOOL BOOKS, SCHOOL SUPPLIES,

AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS FURNISHED

with every requisite

AT LOWEST PRICES.

Cranston & Co.

aug19daw

ARCHITECTS.

C. H. PRESTON,

Architect, - - - - Central Building.

Telephone 144—3, Norwich, Conn.

Specialist on modern construction and strength of materials. mar8d

JAMES A. HISCOX,

ARCHITECT.

161 Main Street, Rooms Third & [illegible] oct8d

BILLIARD and POOL TABLES

— FOR SALE BY —

J. J. COATES, 65 West Main St.

Supplies of all kinds constantly on hand. Repairing done.

REMOVAL.

We have removed

From 11 to 81 Chestnut St.,

where we have superior facilities for doing all kinds of work in our line

Steam Carpet Cleaning.

Ladies' garments, cloth of all description dyed. Dying feathers a specialty. Promptness and thoroughness guaranteed.

WILSON BROS. nov8d

ESTABLISHED IN 1861.

Adam's Tavern,

NORWICH TOWN,

A. A. ADAM, Proprietor.

The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 10 years ago. They have become intensely popular. They sell on their own merits:

Imperial Bourbon, 2nd Ward, 188, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1881, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.

N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers.

A. A. ADAM.

Telephone call 24-12.

DRUGS, PAINTS AND OILS.

No Notice Required.

Duggan's Soda Fountain

is prepared to stand all runs upon it by depositors of 5 cents and upwards. Its draughts are pronounced by all as good as gold.

DUGGAN'S SODA FOUNTAIN, 37 MAIN ST.

aug2d

LEE & OSGOOD,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

DRUGGISTS,

129-133 Main St. and 150-154 Water St.

ESTABLISHED : 1788.

SOLE PROPRIETORS OF

DR. DODD'S

Nervine and Invigorator,

A NERVE TONIC

—AND—

STOMACHIC.

Dodd's Nervine aids digestion, insures good appetite, gives tone and vigor to the system, guarantees sweet and refreshing sleep and restores enfeebled and nervous constitutions to PERFECT HEALTH.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF

Atomizers and Perfumes

COLGATE'S EXTRACTS IN BULK.

TOILET ARTICLES

IN GREAT VARIETY.

We make a Specialty of

Tooth Brushes.

Large Invoice Just Received.

25 AND 35 CENTS.

LEE & OSGOOD

NORWICH, CONN.

LUMBER AND COAL.

E. CHAPPELL & CO.

COAL, LUMBER, SHINGLES.

Greatest Variety. Largest Stock.

Branch Office, 207 Main St., Franklin Square. Office and Yard, Central Wharf.

Telephone at both offices. nov22daw

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRY

H. F. & A. J. DAWLEY

If you want good

BUILDING LUMBER & SHINGLES.

They have the largest stock in the city and will make you low prices.

Telephone 63—4. may13d

51 John A. Morgan & Son, 51

Coal & Lumber,

51 West Main St., Central Wharf.

Family Coal a Specialty.

Estimates furnished at short notice. Telephone.

51 jan6d 51

FINE ARTS.

REMOVED.

McNickle, Picture Frame and Gilding Manuf.,

Has Removed to 56 BROADWAY. You will always find a Complete Line of Artist Materials, Etchings, Engravings, Fancy Goods and Photographic Water Colors. oct3d

REMOVED—Laighton Brothers have removed their photograph gallery from the Chelsea Bank Building to No. 56 Shetucket St., in the building with the Henry Bill Publishing Co., where all old patrons will be welcomed and new ones be heartily greeted. Their new rooms are neatly furnished, their facilities for doing first-class work have been much improved. New backgrounds have been put in, and the light for producing photographs has been arranged according to the best methods known to the business. All work promptly attended to.

mar13d LAIGHTON BROTHERS.

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY.

Goods called for and delivered free of charge. Lace Curtains and all Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.

145 Little Water St.

Family Washing at special rates. nov1d

All persons having unpaid bills against the town of Norwich are requested to present the same for payment at this office before the close of the fiscal year ending September 1, 1893. THURSTON B. BILLINGS, Chairman of Board of Selectmen.

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR GOOD advertise them in THE BULLETIN.

REAL ESTATE.

Two Furnished Rooms to Let,

With or without board. Apply at aug8d No. 32 SHETUCKET ST.

TO RENT.

Tenement of 5 Rooms. Hot and cold water. Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. 257 West Main street. Rent moderate.

aug8d E. R. ROBBINS, 66 Cliff St.

TO RENT.

ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Room suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug8d

TO RENT.

A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS,

each with all the modern improvements, on Boswell Ave., of ten rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 3 Water St. may8d

TO RENT.

Tenement 112 River Avenue.

apr29d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.

A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, 7 rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 35 Grove street, or inquire of E. M. BREWSTER, 46 Water Street. apr7d

TO RENT.

Three Large Rooms in the Hill Block.

Possession immediately. Apply to may27TuThS E. R. THOMPSON.

TO RENT.

The Large Store with fine Cellar

in the Rockwell Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Service & Gleason. Apply to aug8d GEORGE D. COIT.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE.

Owner going abroad desires to sell immediately at low figures

2 ELEGANT HIGH-BRED SADDLE HORSES,

Extra Style, Perfect Action, Very Handsome, Fearless, Safe and Sound. Can be ridden by a lady; also can be driven. One is a Kentucky Thoroughbred, the other an English Hunter.

aug29d BOX 1463, Springfield, Mass.

FOR SALE.

A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons, also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.

Horseshoeing in all its Branches.

—11—13—15 Chestnut Street.—

jy18daw

TO MANUFACTURERS!

A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines cheapness and efficiency. WEEKS'S ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest pipe and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn., Inventor and Manufacturer. nov14d

SUMMER TRAVEL.

STEAMER GYPSY.

CHANGE OF TIME.

On and after FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, until further notice, this steamer will leave here on her morning trip at 8.35, or on arrival of 8.30 electric cars, and on her afternoon trip at 1.35, a half hour earlier than heretofore. This change will give patrons the usual time at the beach and enable them to reach home at 6.35 instead of 7 p. m.

Hereafter when the Gypsy cannot land at beach with safety, car tickets will be furnished to patrons for that point free to and from New London by the agent on board.

aug30d PALMER SMITH.

New London Steamboat Co.

1893—SEASON—1893.

COMMENCING

SATURDAY, July 1st,

—THE—

STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND

Will make daily trips (Sundays excepted) between Norwich, Montville, New London, Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island, leaving Norwich 6.15 a. m., Montville 6.45, New London 8.45, touching at Mystic Island and Watch Hill, arriving at Block Island 12.15 p. m.

Returning, leave Block Island at 2 p. m., Watch Hill 3.30, touching at Mystic Island; reaching New London at 5, Montville 5.30, and Norwich 6.15.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, G. P. A.

jn1d

Steamer Ella.

SEASON OF 1893.

— ON —

Friday, June 23

And during the season the Steamer Ella will make daily excursions to the shore resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.45, Ft. Griswold House 9.55, Mystic Island 10.35, arriving at Watch Hill about 11.15.

Returning, leave Watch Hill at 3.45 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 4.35, arriving about 6.

Special Rates to Excursion Parties.

Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.

Comstock's Wharf on signal.

jn22d JAMES WALKER, Manager, Norwich Ct.

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION

Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices.

Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.

No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.

jy24daw 62 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD.

DENTIST,

Over Boston Store, opp. Wauregan House. Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. nov1d

DR. J. H. ELDRED,

DENTIST.

Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, (Ether or Cocaine administered.

OFFICE—214 Main Street,

Trueman's Block Franklin Square. Residence 12 BROADWAY. nov1d

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES

—OF—

DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.

As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles G. Bliss, 128 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, his entire stock of goods, consisting of

Diamond Jewelry,

Gold and Silver Watches,

Sterling Silver Ware,

Gold Chains,

Brooches,

Rings,

French Black Marble Clocks,

French Onyx Clocks,

American Clocks,

Silver Plated Ware,

Pocket Books,

Fancy Goods,

Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.

JOHN BLISS, Administrator.

BOOK BINDING.

BLANK BOOKS made to order.

MAGAZINES BOUND

in any style of binding. [illegible]

JOSEPH BRADFORD [illegible]

Bulletin Building. [illegible]

COWAN, the Bookbinder

[illegible]

108 Broadway.

TRAVELERS DIRECTORY.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

Change of time.

On and after MONDAY, June 26, 1893, TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NEW LONDON AS FOLLOWS:

[illegible]

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.

NORWICH & WORCESTER DIVISION.

[illegible]

TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE UNION STATION

[illegible]

W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass. Agt. [illegible]

Norwich, June 25, 1893.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE YOUR GOODS is before the season opens. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Lee & Osgood. [nov15tuthsaw

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever Sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by Lee & Osgood's Drug store. 2 nov29tuthsaw

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free at Lee & Osgood's Drug Store. Large size 50c. and $1.00.
2 nov29tuthsaw

FINANCIAL.

The Co-operative Building Bank

—HAS OVER—

$120,000.00

[illegible] Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A [illegible] than all others together. 12 [illegible] C. I. WOLCOTT, Treas.
[illegible] 118 Franklin St.

LIVERY STABLE.

EDMUND GEE.

Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.

Good Teams at Reasonable Prices.

363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge.

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable

[illegible]

A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened.
Bicycles Repaired.
CARRIAGE AND BOAT TRIMMINGS
NICKEL PLATED by
A. GOULD,
Industrial Building, near Union Station.

Thousands of Families eat it regularly for breakfast

Wheat Germ.

As delicious in Summer as it is in Winter. . .

Rapidly Taking the Lead.

Convenient for Guests.
Indispensable to Clerks,
Profitable to Proprietors,
Indorsed by All Hotel Men.

Where we have the benefit of advertising to reimburse us for our loss, we will furnish to Hotel Keepers ONLY

THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE HOTEL REGISTER

AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.
Books Registering
[illegible] Arrivals, Canvas cover.......$1.
[illegible] Light Back......[illegible]
[illegible] Tight......[illegible]
[illegible] Spring......[illegible]
[illegible] Spring......[illegible]
Size of page, 8 x 11.

These are the cheapest and best registers on the market.

Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and also a reasonable profit, as they cannot expect to get such favorable rates as we give our hotel patrons.

Remember, it is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.

Correspondence for Interviews Solicited.

INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,

Manufacturers of Plain and Advertising Registers, Transfer Registers, Letter Forwarding, Cash and Call Books of every description.

Norwich, - - Conn.

I HAVE AN ODORLESS PUMP

and Barrel apparatus for cleaning Vaults and Cesspools. Orders sent to my address will be promptly attended to. CHAS. WOOD, Box 341 Norwich, Conn.

TREACHEROUS SEA

Swallows Up Five Hundred Sea Island Lives.

STARTLING SOUTHERN DISPATCH.

Water Two Feet Deep in Charleston's Streets.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A special to The Herald from Richmond says "Five hundred persons are reported to have been drowned on the Sea Islands."

That was the startling news obtained in a dispatch received by the Atlantic Coast line from Florence, S. C. The Sea Islands skirt the coast of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. No verification has been received. The dispatch [illegible]

The storm carried the waters from the rivers into the Atlantic Coast line sheds at Charleston to the depth of six feet, and in Meeting street, in the center of Charleston, the water was two feet deep.

A four-masted schooner was forced into the railroad shed by the rushing waters.

Streets are filled with debris. Many dead sea birds are strewn about. The roof of every third house in the city is gone.

DESOLATION AND DEATH.

Ravages of the Waves at Charleston—Six Lives Were Lost.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A special to The World from Charleston, says: The loss of life has been remarkably light, considering the damage which was done to property in every quarter of the city. In all six persons were killed. Three met death in the city and three on Sullivan's island. Sunday afternoon Mary Barnwell, colored, was killed in a small house. The wind wrecked the house in an instant, badly injuring several others. Sunday night a colored child was drowned in a lot, and in an effort to save it a negro man and a boy were drowned.

Charleston's beautiful battery presents a scene of desolation. The terrible flood of waters which dashed their angry waves over the ramparts have done their work effectually, and the receding torrent when it swept back to sea carried with it the glory of the handsomest water front of the south Atlantic coast. In the wake of the rushing waters were left shattered and dismantled walls, prostrate trees and shrubbery and masses of wreckage and debris.

White Point Garden has been swept from the angle of the sea wall to the foot of King street, and several of the live oaks and nearly every one of the young umbrella trees measured their length upon the ground. On South Battery several breaches were made, one of them being 20 feet in length. The shell walk was destroyed.

The churches, of which there are upwards of 70, all suffered more or less. The Mount Zion A. M. E. church is almost a total wreck. The Second Presbyterian church was unroofed. The new bridge over Ashley river is totally destroyed. The loss is about $60,000. The wreck on the river front is almost complete.

Along the wharves yesterday scarcely anything but the tops of piles could be seen, while the adjacent streets were waist deep in water. Every fence was flat on the ground. Huge trees were broken off at the roots, and great piles of tin and slate were heaped up in the streets and on the wharves.

The ferry wharf is an appalling sight, while the southern wharf is swept clear, as is also the pier at North Commercial wharf. The South Commercial wharf is covered with wreckage. Brown's wharf, the landing of the Clyde steamers, is one of the most disastrous wrecks on the water front. The Charleston Rice Milling company's buildings and Bennett's mill are down.

Pregnal's wharf and dry dock is broken in halves and one-half is gone. The loss is $50,000. At Marshall wharf three barks are on shore, and the Canarina, a bark of 500 tons, and the Maria, of about 450 tons, are ashore, and numerous small boats are nothing but firewood.

Hundreds of residences all over the city are badly damaged. Many buildings are unroofed and some are partially submerged. All the parks and lakes are ruined.

Sullivan's island, seven miles from Charleston, presents a terrible picture—a house in ruins here, a structure about to break in pieces there; here a stricken family without shelter; there a rich man's cottage in ruins. The streets are filled with debris and cattle are roaming about with borders. During Monday night the wind blew 125 miles an hour. Mounds of sand that were 25 feet high were leveled. By midnight the entire island was submerged. In some places the water was seven feet deep.

Several storehouses are completely wrecked, and the balance are badly injured.

REPORTS CONFIRMED.

Over One Hundred Lives Lost on Port Royal Coast.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A special from Augusta says that A. M. Averill, general freight and passenger agent on the Charleston, Sumter and Northern railroad, who arrived last night from Port Royal, S. C., confirms the reports in regard to the terrible loss of life. He thinks over 100 persons perished by the storm at that place.

He says that just as he left Port Royal reports of several fatalities on the island were received. Several prominent citizens were killed. There were 25 lives lost between Port Royal and Seabrook, a small station only four miles from this harbor. All were negroes who were plantation hands. One negro family of seven were lost and several other whole families were wiped out.

Three strangers were drowned, one in Beaufort and two in Port Royal. Their bodies were recovered, but not identified. Houses were blown down and carried in every direction. Only meager reports have been received from other points near Beaufort. It is feared that many more lives have been lost.

The negroes were so frightened and horror stricken that in many cases they were killed by not having enough sense in them to desert their shanties and seek places of safety.

Twenty persons were drowned on Paris island, a short distance from Beaufort, where United States naval stores are kept, and where they are building large dry docks. One of these was a white man, one a mechanic engaged on the dry dock, and the other a resident physician of the island.

People of Beaufort and Port Royal were apprehensive in regard to the fate of St. Helena, a small island four miles from Beaufort, as they were unable to hear a single word from there.

STEAMERS OVERDUE.

Great Anxiety Over the Non-Arrival of Two Southern Boats.

SAVANNAH, Aug. 30.—Captain Savage of the Boston steamship City of Savannah, due here Sunday night, is a good seaman. If human power could save the vessel he has done so. Several passengers are on board, and she carries a large cargo of cheese, provisions and furniture.

Captain Foster of the steamship William Crane, who experienced such a terrible time, but arrived with his ship badly damaged, says he sighted a lot of wreckage in the shape of cabin doors, railings, pieces of masts, which indicate a steamer had gone to pieces.

This was off Charleston, but the sea was running so high that he was not able to ascertain anything as to the identity of the vessel from which the wreckage came. The steamer is now overdue 60 hours, and much anxiety is felt for her safety. The steamship City of Birmingham, from New York, due last night, has not yet been sighted.

BOATHOUSES BLOWN OVER.

Damaging Work of the Hurricane Reported From Plymouth.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Aug. 30.—The hurricane struck here about 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and blew at a furious rate until late yesterday afternoon.

Trees were blown down and uprooted, vegetables and garden flowers laid low, and all small trees and shrubs more or less injured. The large shade trees on Summer and Court streets were badly damaged, large limbs being blown off. Many of the small boats in the harbor lost sail and rigging.

Near the head of the beach several of the boathouses were blown over, and when the wind blew the strong at large sheets of water were carried into the air several feet.

Three schooners at anchor in the lower harbor safely rode out of the storm.

DRAGGED HER MOORINGS.

Schooner Wrecked at Hampton Beach. Narrow Escape of a Yacht.

EXETER, N. H., Aug. 30.—Frank Nudd's schooner, used for pleasure and fishing purposes at Hampton beach, dragged her moorings during yesterday's storm, drifted upon the rocks, and is probably a total wreck. Her bottom was stove and her [illegible]

A majority of the small craft, moored off the beach sought refuge in Hampton river. A small yacht vainly essayed to make an anchorage off the beach, and for a time her destruction seemed imminent. She finally avoided the perilous shore, and when last seen was apparently headed for Portsmouth. Whence she came is unknown.

THE LAST TOUCHES

Being Put to Boston Cup Defenders Before the Final Test Races.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—The last touches are now being put to the two Boston cup defenders, preparatory to the final test of the trial races, the first of which takes place next Thursday. The Jubilee will go to Brooklyn to make preparations, while the Pilgrim hauls out at Boston. She will use the navy yard dock, as it is the only one here deep enough to receive her. Permission to use the dock was asked of the government as long ago as Aug. 5, but it was only late last night that a telegram was received granting it. This makes the time very short.

The yacht went into the dock on this afternoon's tide, but the time is very short to make the desired alterations in a satisfactory manner. She must be ready to sail for Newport on Monday, and this will give only four days to do the work, which is decidedly small time. However, sail on Monday she must, in order to reach Newport on Wednesday, and all will be done that is possible between now and then.

The changes contemplated in her outside ballast will necessitate the removing and recasting of the bulbs on the fin, which will be done at the navy yard. Her sail plan will also be enlarged, the mast, boom and bowsprit being each lengthened a little.

The Jubilee left for New York shortly after noon today. She will go to Poillon's yard in Brooklyn, where she will have her bottom scraped and painted. The bad places in her sails have been smoothed out, and the jaws of the gaff strengthened, and she will be in excellent shape when she goes into the water next week.

AMNESTY DECLARED.

Political Suspects in Chili Released from Further Annoyance.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The Herald's Valparaiso correspondent cables: President Montt of Chili has promulgated an amnesty law under which many political "suspects" will be released from further annoyance on account of their support of the late Dictator Balmaceda.

Under this law all Chilians who served under Balmaceda, except the members of Claudio Vicuna's cabinet and the persons responsible for the Lo Canas massacre, are permitted to return to Chili and resume the rights and privileges of citizens.

Annual Festival of Children.

COTTAGE CITY, Mass., Aug. 30.—The annual festival of the children of Martha's Vineyard was held here today. Five hundred children participated. The exercises were held in the Methodist tabernacle, where refreshments were served.

Burglary at Roxbury.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—The house of Frederick O. Hinckley, 47 Adams street, Roxbury, was entered by burglars this morning and a gold seal ring, a Knights of Pythias badge and three gold studs were stolen.

Flying by the Navahoe.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The race for the Town cup was sailed off Plymouth today by the Britannia, Satanita and Calluna. The course was triangular and 40 miles long. The three cutters got a fair start in a light northwest breeze. The Navahoe, which takes no part in the Plymouth races, has had her mainmast shortened three feet, and her mainsail is being reduced considerably.

Old Safe Not Disturbed.

NORWALK, Conn., Aug. 30.—Burglars forced an entrance into Bennet & Husted's meat market, South Norwalk, and stole money and checks to the value of $500. An old safe in which there was about $100 was not disturbed, although it was unlocked.

Town Almost Wiped Out.

LAGRANDE, Ore., Aug. 30.—The town of Elgin was almost wiped out by fire yesterday. Loss, $25,000; insurance, small.

Sticks in Mercantile Life.

Many young men choose a mercantile position for the present only without thought or intention of making it a permanent business. The result is that oftentimes we find these men at 30 years receiving no more pay than they did when only 18.

There is an army of this class of young men behind counters today. They are an aimless, pliable class. They stand listlessly in their departments and are as unobservant of what's going on around them as are the inanimate figures which one sees at the entrance of clothing establishments.

Many of them let slip grand opportunities of becoming great business factors in the commercial world and have doomed themselves to the treadmill of common drudgery. Singleness of purpose implies self reliance, without which a young business man is not thoroughly furnished for a successful business career. —Dry Goods Economist.

IRELAND'S CAUSE.

Closing Debate on the Bill for Home Rule.

GLADSTONE GIVEN LOUD CHEERS.

Moved the Third Reading of the Measure —A Forcible Address.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The last stage of the home rule bill began in the house of commons today. As usual on Wednesday the house met at noon.

The exceptionally large attendance showed that the majority of the members who went to the country for their holidays recently had returned to hear the final speeches of the party leaders and to take part in the final division on next Friday night. On the Irish benches hardly a seat was vacant. The Liberals and Radicals were present almost to a man.

All the party leaders were cheered as they entered, but no great enthusiasm was shown until Mr. Gladstone and John Morley came in together. Then the Irish members rose cheering, the Liberals and Radicals joined them, and for nearly two minutes

The House Rang With Shouts.

Before Mr. Gladstone rose to move the third reading a few amendments were added to the bill at the instance of Mr. Morley, chief secretary for Ireland. After they had been disposed of without debate, Mr. Gladstone rose amid a storm of cheers.

He began his speech with reference to the criticisms made by Unionist leaders on the historical precedents he had cited on a former occasion for home rule in Ireland. The opposition, he said, had contended that in no other countries could analogies be found for changing the union Between Great Britain and Ireland.

Their contention could not be supported by historical facts. In Austria-Hungary, in Norway and Sweden, in the United States and in the British colonies were to be found the abundant proofs that it was altogether desirable to separate local from imperial affairs.

Throughout European and American literature it was not possible to find a writer entitled to consideration who approved of the conduct of England toward Ireland or attempted to apologize for the grievous and shameful history which since the union, they had felt compelled to deplore.

Mistakes of Missionaries.

Come behind the curtain with me while I whisper into your ear a few of the mistakes made by missionaries who talk so much about the mistakes of the heathen. One evening an English missionary in Peking took a friend who was visiting him to a regular Chinese theater. It happened that the play for that evening was a burlesque on foreign preaching. A Chinaman dressed up to represent a foreigner came upon the stage with his arms full of books, attended by his Chinese servant. He began to preach a mock sermon, making the mistakes in talking which a foreigner is likely to make. These mistakes were received with bursts of laughter from the audience, to whom the books were distributed. The fun came to a climax when the preacher, after delivering a sentence particularly full of laughable mistakes, turned to his servant and said: "How did I speak? Did I do pretty well?" and the servant replied with great gravity: "The foreign teacher speaks the Chinese language exceedingly well. No mistakes at all were made."—New York Independent.

An Invention For Steamships.

An English mechanical genius has devised a method of indicating and stopping a leak by the use of compressed air. He divides a ship into airtight compartments, fitted with doors provided with packing material and connected by tubes with a room on deck called the "switch room." In this room is a junction chest supplied with compressed air from fixed or portable compressors and so arranged that the air can be delivered to any of the compartments. Other tubes lead from the compartment from which water can be forced out when required, and electric indicators are also connected with the switch room to indicate the accumulation of water in any of the compartments. Should the vessel "spring a leak" the indicator will show which compartment is affected, so that the compressed air may be forced in to drive the water out.—Boston Journal.

True Love Side Tracked by an Orange.

A young lady said the other day that she hated oranges because one had come between her and her lover. He had called on her one evening, and after sitting awhile had produced a couple of bright Florida oranges out of his pocket and suggested that each eat one. She now says that she cannot drive out of her mind the sight of his nose, cheeks and chin dripping with juice, and he has been whispering something horribly similar about her. Evidently you cannot love a girl and a citrus aurantium at the same time.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Evading a Law.

When Ben Butler was a young lawyer the selectmen of Lowell, then a town, issued a mandate that all dogs should wear muzzles. The next morning Ben walked down town, followed by his big Newfoundland dog, with a very small muzzle tied to the end of its tail. Ben remarked, "My dog is wearing a muzzle." A callow imitator of Ben living in Ward One has fastened a bicycle bell under his saddle and anticipates much fun when a bluecoat stops him because he has no bell on his "bike."—Springfield Homestead.

Altogether Too Familiar.

Dr. A. T. Pierson, in some pithy, practical hints on pulpit oratory, says that to be winning is to be wise, but it must not be overdone. He has a friend, an evangelist, who got into the habit of calling his audience "dear souls." Inadvertently he would say as he passed from place to place, "Dear Belfast souls," "Dear Dublin souls"—and before he knew it he was saying, "Dear Cork souls," which convulsed his Irish audience.—London Tit-Bits.

The latest "strike" in fashionable circles in Germany is distinctly original, as the unmarried ladies and debutantes of garrison towns have refused to grace the military balls if so much attention is paid to the married women.

In Paris there are several women who are empowered by police permits to wear masculine clothing. These include a famous artist and several whose professions [illegible] are arduous.

BOSTON PRODUCE MARKET.

MUTTONS AND LAMBS—The supply of muttons and lambs has been too large for the extremely hot weather of late, and prices are off. Veals are in about the same state as muttons: Choice spring lambs, 9@10c; common to good, 6@8c; poor and ordinary, 5@6c; Brightons, 9½@10c; yearlings, 7@7½c; muttons, 7½@8c; choice heavy Brightons, 9@9½c; choice eastern veals, 9@10c; common to good, 6@8c; Brightons and fancy, 10½@11c.

HAY—Hay is a little easier and straw is dull, especially for some poor lots in: Good to choice hay, $18.50@20; choice to fancy, $20@20.50; fair to good, $15@17; eastern choice, $18@19; poor to good, $12@14; eastern swale, $10@10.50; rye straw, $15@16; oat straw, $9@10; sack spring bran, to arrive, $16.50; sack winter, $18; sack middlings, $16.75@18; cottonseed meal, $26.50 to arrive and $26.75@27 for spot.

MEAL—The cornmeal market is easier and prices are off, following the easier position of corn: Kiln-dried cornmeal for export, $2.15@2.20 per bbl; bag meal, 96@98c; yellow granulated, $2.50@2.60; ground, cut and rolled oatmeal, $4.50@4.70 per bbl; rye, 56@58c per bushel for dealers, and at 65@70c from the trade in job lots; rye flour, $3.10@3.75 per bbl, as to quality.

POTATOES—Potatoes are about steady at the lower quotations noted yesterday: Rhode Island and natives, $2.25@2.50 per bbl; New Hampshire rose and hebrons, 65c per bushel; Aroostook rose and hebrons, 60@65c per bushel; New York white stars, 65c. Sweets sell at $3.50@3.75 for ordinary to good, and at $4@4.25 per bbl for the best.

BUTTER—Butter is steady to firmer, with some dealers claiming better prices: Western, 22@24c; State, 20@22c; imitation creamery, 18@19c; factory, 17@17½c; northern creamery extra, 24@25c; northern dairy, 21@22c; eastern creamery extra, 23@24c. These are prices for round lots. Jobbing lots and fancy lots cost more.

OATS—Oats are rather uncertain, to arrive, the wires being down, but dealers were offering clipped at 35½c and at 36c. No. 2 white, to arrive also, they were offering at: Clipped, 36@36½c; fancy, 37c; No. 2 white, 35@35½c; No. 3 white, nominal, at 35c; clipped, mixed, [illegible]

THE STOCK MARKET.

Dealings in Leading Securities in Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—In the outside market call money is quoted at 6 to 8 per cent, and time money is nominally 6 per cent.

What would probably have been witnessed yesterday had it not been for the interruption in the telegraphic service appeared today. That is, the opening of the stock market was strong and buoyant. While the market as yet appears to be little if any broader, the outside conditions are such that the shorts feel the necessity of reducing their lines. Such news as the brokers receive from Washington relative to the senate is of a decidedly favorable nature. The premium on currency is fast disappearing, and London has again come to figure as a purchaser here. To be sure, the buying from that source this morning was only moderate, but prices were from ⅛ to ¾ above the close, except Louisville and Nashville. That was unchanged.

Sugar was the strongest stock on the list at the opening. Starting off at 83, ⅛ above the final sale of yesterday, it advanced irregularly to 84¾, while the preferred, opening at 88¼, an advance of 1½, rose readily. This rally is in a measure due to the skilful manipulation of a pool, but as helping it is the statement that the usual 3 per cent quarterly dividend will be declared on the common stock on Saturday. General Electric was irregular. The opening was at 40, 1 down, and after declining to 39⅛ it hung about 40 until noon. Distilling and Cattle Feeding sold up to 22¼. The officers of the Trust are to meet in a few days, so it is given out, to see about starting up its distilleries in preparation for the fall trade. Bay State Gas advanced from 9 to 9¼, while Chicago Gas was stronger under the dividend announcement.

Atchison was strong. Opening ¼ up at 17¼, it advanced to 17¾, while Chicago, Burlington and Quincy weakened during the morning from 79¼ to 79. Pullman started off 1 up at 150 and rose to 152, and Union Pacific strengthened from 21 to 22. In local railroad shares Boston and Albany was ½ stronger at 189½. Central Massachusetts preferred 1 stronger at 30, Old Colony steady at 167, New York and New England steady at 21, and Fitchburg preferred up 1 at 72. There was a manifestly better tone in the bond market.

STOCKS—CLOSING.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	17¾
Bell Telephone	182
Boston and Albany	189½
Boston and Maine	146
Bay State Gas	10
Calumet	265
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	79¼
Fitchburg	72
Lamson Cash Railway	14
Erie Tel	38¾
General Electric	38¾
Mexican Central	7¾
New England Tel	50
Old Colony	167
Pullman	152
Sugar preferred	88½
West End Land	13¾
West End R. R.	58½
Wisconsin Central	7
New York Stocks.
Canada Southern	47
Chicago Gas	56
Cotton Oil	23
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western	136
Erie	14¼
Lake Shore	118¾
Louisville and Nashville	64¾
Manhattan	117¾
Michigan Central	[illegible]
Missouri Pacific	18¾
National Cordage	22
New Jersey Central	101¼
Northwestern	98
Northern Pacific	6½
New York Central	101¾
New York and New England	20¾
Pacific Mail	11½
Reading	17½
Rock Island	62½
St. Paul	55¾
Sugar, com	84¼
Union Pacific	20¾
Western Union	79¾
Whisky	21½

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Cotton quiet; middling uplands 7⅝c; Orleans 7⅞c; sales 150 bales. Futures closed steady; sales 19,000 bales; September, 7.21c; October, 7.41c; November, 7.52c; December 7.71c; January, 7.80c; February, 7.84c; March, 7.92c; April, 8.00c; May, 8.17c.

Alonzo H. Converse,
PAINTER.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging
Wall Tinting in all its branches.
148 Little Water St.
[illegible] Graining done for the trade

INTERIOR and EXTERIOR
Decorative House Painting.
D. S. UNDERWOOD,
Residence 135 Franklin St.

REMOVAL.

Dr. W. S. C. Perkins has removed to 21 [illegible] Office hours, 1 to 3 and 7 to 8 p. m. [illegible] Broadway. Office hours, 1 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. Residence, 50 Broad street. Telephone at residence.

THAYERS DYE WORKS,
John F. Amburn, Proprietor, 69 Boswell ave.
All kinds of Dyeing promptly done. Bed blankets thoroughly cleaned. Ladies' and Gent's garments dyed in the best possible manner.
Watering Silk a Specialty.
Orders left with J. B. MYERS at Circulating Library, No. 154 Main St
will receive prompt attention.

S. S. THRESHER,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Notary Public.
Nos. 3 and 4 Broad Hall, Norwich

JOY FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

How to Secure a Clean Bill of Health for Baby.

Cholera Infantum Picking Out Badly Nourished Infants

Five Thousand Little Graves Are Dug Each Year in Philadelphia.

"Five thousand little graves are dug each year in Philadelphia, for little babies," says that excellent journal, Health and Home, "and 5,000 little headstones are yearly set up over their graves, all due to deaths traceable to diseases which spring from wrong feeding."

High temperature with improper feeding brings cholera infantum, diarrhoea, and convulsions.

But with the use of proper food, and there is nothing so absolutely good as lactated food, this danger may be avoided. Statistics show that babies thrive best upon lactated food. It is worth more as a preventive of cholera infantum than all the medicines ever made.

The superlative importance of pure, nutritious infant food, and the long study by some of the most prominent physicians in the country of infant disorders from mistakes in diet, led to the preparation of lactated food. Next to pure mother's milk it is the most nourishing, strengthening, readily digested, and palatable food that can be given a baby. It more closely resembles mother's milk than any other food known. Its basis is sugar of milk, which is the basis of mother's milk. With it is combined the nutritive elements of wheat, barley, and oats, in such proportion as best meets the requirements of the growing child.

In recommending the use of this food at this season, one of Norwich's best physicians said to a BULLETIN reporter yesterday: "This food should be in the hands of every mother. For in all cases of defective lactation the infant's health is best protected either by weaning and using lactated food altogether, or in any event by supplementing the natural aliment of the child with lactated food. The wonderful preservative influence of lactated food is too well known to require any further statement. It is the purest and most nourishing thing that we can find to recommend to mothers."

The thousands of testimonials from the mothers of children whose lives have been saved by lactated food, are equally as convincing as the statements of the physicians. Here is what is said by the mother of as healthy a baby as can be. Mrs. George Morine, of West Lynn, Mass., writes:

"I send one of my baby's pictures to prove that lactated food is the best food for babies. I have used it since he was two weeks old and it agrees with him in every respect. He has never had one sick day since he was born, and I shall always think I owe this to lactated food. He was born November 7, 1892, and was nine months old when the picture was taken." aug21d

Those who have a

Good Digestion

have little sympathy for the dyspeptic. They can eat everything that comes along. While they can eat rich food without fear of the dyspeptic's bad experiences, they nevertheless greatly appreciate a delicate flavor in their pastry.

Cottolene

when used as a shortening, always produces the finest flavored pastry, which is entirely free from the many objections which the use of lard always produces. Test its value by one trial.

[illegible]

Send three cents in stamps to N. K. Fairbank & Co., Chicago, for handsome Cottolene Cook Book containing six hundred recipes, prepared by nine eminent authorities on cooking.

Cottolene is sold by all grocers.

Made only by
N. K. FAIRBANK & CO.,
CHICAGO, and
Produce Exchange, N. Y.,
[illegible] State Street, Boston.

ATTORNEYS

Charles H. Carpenter,
PENSION ATTORNEY
Office with A. Irving Royce, over Thames National Bank. Special attention given to the execution of vouchers for quarterly payments. Advice free. No fee unless claim is granted

MARKETS

LAMB and CHICKEN
—AT—
J. D. Murphy's,
MARKET STREET.

LOOK!

Porterhouse Steak - - 20c.
Sirloin - - - - - - - 18c
Round - - - - - - - 12c
Shoulder - - - - - - - 10c.

How can I do this? Why because I have my meats shipped to me direct from the west in carload lots, thereby saving the middle profit. Don't let anyone make you think that the quality of my goods is not equal to any in the market. Try them and be convinced.

JAMES DAWSON, JR.,
144 VALLEY ST., Willimantic, Conn.
20 MAIN ST. Norwich.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Five Gallon Oil Can.
LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,
91 Water St.,
AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

T. P. FITZPATRICK,
Is receiving daily
Watermelons, Peaches, Pears, Muskmelons, and all kinds of Produce, direct from the growers. Bananas, Oranges, Grapes and Lemons.
36 MARKET ST.

GROCERIES.

FILL YOUR Lunch Baskets
—AT—
RALLION'S.
6 Broadway, Central Building.

FRUIT JARS.
Mason's Improved.
A. T. OTIS.

WE'RE STILL HERE!
AT 209 FRANKLIN STREET,
AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE
Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or greenbacks
Come and see us and bring the children.
H. D. AVERY.

Kingan Hams.
The BEST Ham in the world 16c lb. Every Ham warranted.
J. A. STODDARD & SON,
20 Franklin St.

Cliquot Club Ginger Ale,
Cowdry's Deviled Meats,
Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken
—AT—
R. S. BARTLETT'S,
4 and 6 Broad Opera House.

Concentrated Claret Lemonade
Lime Juice and
Imported Ginger Ale, at
A. L. ALLEN'S

SADLERY, ETC.

LANE BROS.
Have a
Seven - Foot Delivery Wagon
Which you can turn around in a ten-foot alley.
67—69 Water St.

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF
HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,
[illegible]
At 115 Main St., J. G. STANDISH.

HORSES
TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES
at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St. by the new Veterinary, DR. E. L. TOWER, graduate from Ontario Veterinary College.

J. B. GARDNER, JR., D. V. S.
VETERINARIAN,
Office—Chapman's Stables, 16 Bath Street. Telephone 132.

CAUTION.
There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. We have no agents in Norwich.
G. H. TRAFTON, Man.
REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO.
Office 23 Shetucket St., Norwich C.

THE TIME
TO BUY
IS WHEN
THE OTHER FELLOW
WANTS
TO SELL

WE WANT TO SELL

OFFICE
STATIONERY
WILL NEVER BE CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,
BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOR RENT.

Room on the Green in Norwich Town. Inquire of James E. Fuller, Cor. Main and Shetucket Streets, or A. W. Dickey, Norwich Town. aug31TTh3

TO RENT.

3 minutes from Post Office, Lower Tenement, 7 rooms, hot and cold water, with separate bath and closet. J. BRADFORD, aug4d Bookbinder, Bulletin Building

WANTED.

A Position to do General Housework or Second Girl in a small family. aug31d Inquire at this office.

WANTED.

A bright, active young man as DryGoods Salesman. Apply to or address the New York Store, JOHNSTON & SHURTS, aug31d 134 State St., New London, Conn.

HORTON'S -ICE CREAM-

In one quart, one pint boxes. For delicacy of flavor and purity of materials Horton's Ice Cream stands unrivaled. 40c per quart, 25c per pint. Sold only by J. C. PERKINS, aug11TuThSat Confectioner.

—OUR STOCK OF—

School Books and School Supplies

IS NOW READY.

Wholesale and Retail at Lowest Prices.

Noyes & Davis. aug31daw

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.

Ladies' Trimmed Hats at 75c.
Untrimmed Hats from 10c up.
$1.25 will buy a Ladies' Trimmed White Felt Sailor. They are all the go.
Flowers from 10c a bunch up.
Children's White Dresses 50c, worth 85c.
[illegible] Pink and Blue Striped Flannel [illegible] at 35c, reduced from 50.
Corsets in White and Red at 50c, were 75.
A large line of the 5c Stamped Splashers and Tray Cloths.
Also a large line of Stamped Bureau Scarfs, Pillow Shams, Table Covers, etc., at

B. GOTTHELF & CO.

98 MAIN STREET. aug31d Wholesale and Retail.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

We are all creatures of habit.

Do you doubt it? Just study yourself and see if it isn't true.

For eight years we have been in the "habit" each year of buying the sample line of one of the biggest importers of Ladies' Fancy Hose in the country.

Each year the public watch for the announcement of the sale of these samples and attend in large numbers, because it provides an opportunity to secure good quality hosiery for a very little money.

The habit of buying these samples each year has become fixed with us.

The public have got into the habit of attending these yearly sales and watch for the announcement.

All of which proves that "we are all creatures of habit."

The sale of Sample Hosiery will begin THURSDAY MORNING, Aug. 31, at 8 o'clock, and will continue until all are sold.

There are exactly 33 2-3 dozens—404 pairs of Fancy Hose, in Silk, Lisle and Fine Cotton. There are plain colors, russet, boot patterns and fancy colors.

The regular value of these samples are from 50c to $1.25 a pair.

The price during this sale will be 31c a pair, 3 for 90c.

Everything goes at that price.

The lowest price we have ever before sold these samples for was 39c a pair.

Be on hand early. There is a choice and first comers will get the pick.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL. aug31daw

Do You Know Any One Who is Hard to Suit?

Bring him in. We can make [illegible] Suits for the different kinds of days he has lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable. GEO. E. CLARK, MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 4, Shannon Block. jy15

REMOVAL.

OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN

OCULIST and AURIST,

To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.

Special attention given to correcting all forms of abnormal vision with proper Spectacles or Eye Glasses. No fee charged in such cases except in ASTIGMATISM or where it is necessary to prescribe in addition to fitting glasses. jai9d

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Thursday August 31 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before Six a. m.

Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co.

The Weather Today.

Indications for Connecticut: Westerly winds, fair weather.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

Water street is receiving a top-dressing of crushed stone.

Mr. Walter Gallup is ill at his home on Washington street.

Warren S. Sheffield is seriously ill at his home in Stonington.

A number of people are camping on the banks of Beach pond.

Hay fever has struck on and the sufferers go about the streets weeping.

Casper Isham of Stamford succeeds F. A. Verplank at the Willimantic Model school.

Plans from the architect for the new Y. M. C. A. building arrived by express Tuesday.

The Rev. Archibald Wheaton was due in Mystic Wednesday to assume charge of the Union Baptist church.

The Clippers will play the Westerlys on the Greeneville grounds on Labor day, both morning and afternoon.

The improvement at the junction of Thames, West Thames and High streets is being hurried along by the city.

Rutger Jewett sprained his ankle Tuesday, while jumping from the wharf at Pleasure Beach during the attempt to rescue Messrs. Lynch and Carroll.

The bell buoy at Watch Hill, off Lighthouse Point, now lies on the bottom, near where it was formerly stationed. A new one was set in place on Saturday night.

About a score of members of the Union Sunday school attended the Peace meeting at Mystic Wednesday. Many people drove down to the grove from this city during the day.

The Neptune base ball nine defeated the Shamrocks of Franklin street Wednesday afternoon by a score of 20 to 17. The Neptunes would be glad to play any nine under nineteen years of age.

The Rev. Oliver Hopson, who had been for eighteen years the only survivor of the first class which was graduated at Trinity college—that of 1827—died on Saturday at his home in Tivoli-on-the-Hudson, in the 89th year of his age.

Andrew Chapman and B. Toomey, Jr., were arraigned before Justice Frank W. Tracy of Preston Wednesday morning for breach of peace. Chapman was fined $5 and costs, $14 91, and Toomey was fined $8 and costs, $9 61.

It is announced that next year Manager Denison will run a steamer from Norwich to Bushy Point, making two or three trips a day and stopping at New London both ways. Judging from the patronage that has been given the Gypsy he thinks there is money in it.

The Meadow Woods 'Coon club of Essex will meet next Saturday evening and reorganize for the fall campaign. This club, which has been in existence for the past fifteen years, has several fine trained 'coon dogs. Last season the club captured some seventy coons.

Thirteen women appeared before Town Clerk Freeman Wednesday afternoon to be made voters. They are among the best educated and most influential ladies in the town, and now have the privilege of voting at school meetings and for school officers at town meetings.

Workmen on the electric road extension find hard work getting over the ledge in front of the Gallup property, being obliged to blast repeatedly Wednesday. It is rumored that the pole placed by the men opposite the Holyoke house is to be moved to the edge of the walk which is very narrow at that point.

Gen. Joseph R. Hawley will visit Pot Island next Friday. The veterans of his old regiment, the Seventh Connecticut Volunteers, will hold a reunion there that day, and General Hawley has written to Capt. L. E. Peck, secretary of the regimental association, that he will be present.

The teachers from the International Young Men's Christian association tramping school, who have been camping out at Harvard bluff through the summer vacation, broke up their encampment Tuesday. Part of the party returned to Springfield, while the others remained to take care of the tents, being hindered by the high winds.

The Hon. James A. Bill of Lyme, one of the largest stock raisers in New London county, has received within the past few days three large loads of ashes from Canada, and has distributed them at Lyme, East Haddam and Newport. Mr. Bill claims that ashes is the best fertilizer for land that can be used.

The schooner Priscella, sixty-four feet long and owned by W. T. Lambert, went ashore in the fog near Watch Hill Monday afternoon. As soon as the yacht struck guns of distress were fired, and the life saving crew from Watch Hill put off in surf boats and took the crew of seven men safely to the shore.

Norwich visitors to the recent camp meeting at Willimantic will recall the Rev. George E. Brightman of Attleboro, Mass., whose name has been mentioned so frequently in connection with the murder of little Maggie Sheffield by her insane father. Mr. Brightman married Sheffield's sister, and the murdered child was at their home visiting when taken away by her father. In disposition Mr. Brightman is notably quiet and retiring, and the unpleasant notoriety forced upon him by his brother-in-law's shocking deed is a matter of deep regret.

A new rule has been made by the Consolidated road in regard to the transportation of bicycles and tricycles which goes into effect September 1. All bicycles will be accepted as baggage at the same rates as before, but tricycles will not be received owing to the space the three-wheeled vehicles takes up in a car, and will have to be transferred by express or freight

Free Reading.

The unemployed citizens of Norwich should not forget that these days of enforced rest may be pleasantly and profitably used if they have or desire to cultivate a taste for reading. Otis library is now a people's institution, and books may be procured free by any citizen upon application.

Bill Library Anniversary.

The twenty-sixth anniversary of the Bill library will be celebrated at Ledyard Centre, Wednesday, Sept. 13. The exercises connected therewith will take place in the church, commencing at 11 a. m. They will be public, and be followed by a basket picnic on the grounds near the library building lately erected.

A Failure.

Orlo Atwood & Son, silk manufacturers, with an extensive plant in New London and a weaving mill in New York, made an assignment Wednesday to Wm. A. Gilberts of Stonington, Conn., for the benefit of creditors. No schedule of liabilities and assets is yet filed. The weekly pay roll in the two mills amounted to about $4,000.

No One Allowed to Trespass.

Inspector W. S. Schley of this district has instructed Lighthouse Keeper Joseph T. Fowler as follows: "No permits are recognized as given by keeper. You are the custodian of the lighthouse property. You will permit no one to encroach there on for any purpose, and if necessary this office will protect you in your rights. Cultivate the grounds for your own use and benefit, and do not allow any other to trespass."

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

New Electric Arc Light.

The police commissioners have ordered an electric arc light placed in front of the Central building on Broadway and it will be in operation in day or two.

Two electric arc lights will be hung over the central ground of the National Croquet association grounds on Rockwell street tonight and for the month of September the players will play social games when the weather is favorable.

Tents Wrecked at Niantic.

Quartermaster-General John P. Harbison heard from Captain Cornell at the state military rendezvous, Niantic, Tuesday evening that the storm had damaged the state canvas tents to the extent of $1,000. Contrary to the usual former custom, the tents although perfectly dry on Saturday morning when the troops broke camp, were not struck. They were left standing. Since then there has been very thick weather along shore and probably the tents were not dry enough to take down.

Groceries Stolen From a Freight Car.

A freight car on the switch at the union station was broken into Tuesday night. Half a barrel of sweet potatoes and an orange box of cocoanuts, shipped by J. C. Worth, were the only things taken. The car had been loaded for forwarding by the 8 o'clock train Wednesday morning, and was filled with miscellaneous groceries, consigned to way stations between Mooson and Palmer. In the car and untouched were cases of lobster, salmon, whiskey, etc. The burglar entered by breaking a sealed door, as the door on the other side of the car was locked.

Norwich Men Reported Drowned.

A message was received from New London late Wednesday night stating that two Norwich men had been drowned outside of New London harbor. They were camping out on Fishers Island and went for a sail. Wednesday their boats, a yacht and a sharpie, were found bottom up near Spicer's, off Eastern Point, by Thomas Storey, who has charge of the oyster beds at Mumford's cove.

The men were unknown to the residents of Fishers Island and inquiry about town failed to discover their names. The only Norwich campers on Fishers Island, as far as could be learned, are Ed. Chappell of Norwich Town and W. Hamilton Burnett.

HOME WEDDINGS.

Wilson—Breckenridge.

A pleasant wedding took place in Greeneville Wednesday evening, the contracting parties being Mr. William E. Wilson of this city and Miss Edith Breckinridge of Goodrich, Canada. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. B. Rankin of Philadelphia at the home of the bride's brother, John Breckenridge of Fifth street.

The bride was dressed in a gown of white Lansdowne, with veil and orange blossoms. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Coughlin, was garbed in blue silk. Mr. James Oberty acted as best man. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mr. Dowsett, and Marshall served a bountiful refection to the many guests.

Many beautiful presents were received by the couple. The gift of the groom to the bride was a piano. Amidst a shower of rice the happy pair were driven away. They left on the boat train for New York, and will pass three weeks in Canada, Chicago and Michigan, returning to their pleasant home on Thirteenth street late in September.

Mowry—Williams.

The marriage of Mr. S. Jared Mowry and Miss May Williams took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Williams of West Main street, Rev. A. S. Brown officiating. The bride was attired in a gown of pearl grey lansdowne and carried roses. The couple left on the 3 20 train for Cranston, R. I., where they will reside.

PEOPLE COME AND GO.

Where Health and Rest Seekers Are.

Miss Hannah Lentz is visiting friends in Monson, Mass.

I. M. Sanborn of Springfield is in town for a few days.

L. H. Bolles is passing a week with relatives in Uncasville.

Ezekial Browning and son of Lebanon are visiting in Perryville.

G. L. Parker of Norwich is registered at the New Haven house.

Miss Sadie Plaut has returned from a two weeks' visit to Crescent beach.

Miss Annie Browning of Norwich is the guest of Miss A. C. Spicer of Hopkinton.

O. H. Reynolds and wife went to New York Wednesday night for an outing of a week.

Mr. C. M. McNamara, wife and sister left town Tuesday evening for a visit to Kentucky.

Noyes A. Ecclestone and wife of South Griswold have been visiting Norwich friends of late.

Mrs. Julia F. Eccleston of Uncasville is visiting her niece, Mrs. Eliza Ranger of Chestnut street.

Hollis C. Frost of River avenue will return to his studies at Mystic Valley institute next week.

Miss Lizzie J. Galligan of Preston is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. A. Chapin of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cranston have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Denison of Mystic.

Miss Alice Leach and daughter have recently been entertained by Mrs. John Turner of Rogers avenue.

Miss Mamie E. Conner has returned home after a fortnight spent at Narragansett Pier and with friends in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Rev. Horace L. Stillman of Ashaway has written a poem, "The Hero of the Ocean," which is being generally commended.

John M. Lee, George W. Beardow and H. N. Kutner were in Willimantic, Wednesday, as delegates of the E. N. E. Wheel club to the Eastern Connecticut meet.

Mr. Robert S. Ross arrived in town Wednesday, after a four weeks' outing trip in Canada and Lake Champlain, where he was in camp with forty young men.

Mr. Julian R. Bishop of New London spent Wednesday in town. He is the second son of Dr. H. M. Bishop, formerly of this city, and has lately been admitted to the bar in New London, where he has made his home with his grandfather. Mr. Bishop is a nephew of ex-Governor Waller and has all the requisite ability to make another brilliant lawyer in that family.

STATE CATHOLIC T. A. AND B. SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting in New Britain.

The annual meeting of the Catholic Total Abstinence and Benevolent union was held in New Britain Tuesday. There are 53 societies in the union with a membership of 4,838, a gain of 1,104 last year. There is a balance in the treasury of $348.58.

The officers elected are as follows:

President—Walter Fitzmaurice of New London.

First Vice President—H. F. Hagerty of Meriden.

Second Vice President—Miss Maria Moran, New Haven.

Secretary—William Gaffney, Ansonia.

Treasurer—Charles Fitzgerald, Middletown.

State Editor—W. H. Doyle, Bridgeport.

Delegate to the National Convention to be held in St. Paul, Minn., next year—Joseph J. Riley of New Haven. John F. Storey of New Britain was chosen as alternate.

The county director for New London is John O'Hea.

REPAIRING THE DAMAGE

Done by Tuesday's Hurricane.

Workmen were busy on Laurel Hill all day yesterday repairing the damage done to shade trees by Tuesday's storm. A handsome tree in front of the property of Mr. A. S. Comstock had swayed so in the high wind as to loosen the flags of the walk and to require falling. The same fate awaited a beautiful maple in front of the house of the Rev. C. C. Frost on River avenue, the wind having broken it off about eight feet from the ground. Branches of trees on the Ray property, on the lawn at Mr. D. T. Ruby's on the park, near the homes of Mrs. Dolbeare, Mr. George Greener and others, chestnuts in the grove, and young maples at other points on the Hill required the amputating ax of the city's men at different times through the day.

The old petition "Woodman, spare that tree!" must yield to "Cyclone, spare those trees!" and not only trees but shrubs, vases and flowers. The plants on the park have the appearance of having been nipped by frost, so severely were they lashed by Tuesday's gale.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

MARRIED.

WILSON—BRECKENRIDGE—In Greeneville, on Wednesday, Aug. 30, by the Rev. H. B Rankin of Philadelphia, Mr. William E. Wilson of Norwich to Miss Edith Breckenridge of Goodrich, Canada.

DIED.

YORK—In Preston, Aug. 29, Joshua York, aged 72 years.

Funeral from his late residence, No. 25 York avenue, Thursday at 1 p. m. Burial private.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A WOMAN'S CHANCE TO MARRY.

¼ of 1 per cent. from 50 to 56 years of age.

½ of 1	"	45 to 50	"
3¾	"	35 to 40	"
15½	"	30 to 35	"
18	"	25 to 30	"
52	"	20 to 25	"
14½	"	15 to 20	"

Wedding Shoes a Specialty at Herren's,

Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's. Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug31d

DR. N. P. SMITH,

Office No. 8 Broadway.

Hours 11 a. m., to 1 p. m., 4.30 to 5.30 p. m. aug8d RESIDENCE 282 MAIN ST.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FURNACES.

Now is the time to have your Furnaces put in order, or if you need a new one now is the best time to have it set. If you wish a

Steam or Hot Water Heater

The Richmonds

are ahead of anything with the latest improvements, and

J. P. BARSTOW & CO.

Will make you the Lowest Prices possible.

RICHMOND RANGES!

A SPECIALTY.

HOUSEFURNISHING GOODS.

Quality the best and prices lowest. Call and see us.

23 and 25 Water Street aug31daw

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD AT Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 9th day of August, 1893.

Present—CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge.

Estate of Jane G. Thomas, late of Norwich, in said district, deceased.

Ordered—That six months from the date hereof be, and the same are limited and allowed for the creditors to bring in their claims against said estate, and the Administrator, Stephen B. Meech of said Norwich, directed to give public notice to the creditors of said estate to bring in their claims within said time allowed, by posting the same on the public sign-post nearest the place where the deceased last dwelt within the same town, and by publishing the same in a newspaper having a circulation in said district, and return make to this Court of the notice given.

Attest— CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge. aug10d

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE

Norwich, Conn.

EARL M. SWIFT,

And Assistant-Teachers of Ability and Experience.

Fall Term Begins Tuesday, Sept. 5

On and after Aug. 28 the College office will be open from 8.30 to 3.30 to receive applicants for membership. aug16daw

WORTH TRYING.

—AN—

ICE CREAM

Made From Pure Cream From the Makers Own Dairy.

EVERY KNOWN FLAVOR.

KEEPS HARD ONE HOUR.

QUART BRICKS, 40c. PINTS, 25c

N. D. SEVIN & SON. aug31daw

OLIVES IN BULK AND BOTTLES

—OF—

Different Styles and Quality

—AT—

WELCOME A. SMITH aug3d

MILLINERY.

Brown Trimmed Sailors 69c.

A fine Hat for early Fall or School wear.

T. E. McCLENATHAN.

Wholesale and Retail. aug26daw

NORWICH FREE ACADEMY.

Opening of Fall Term.

Normal Department Opens Tuesday, Sept. 5

Candidates who have not seen Miss Carlyle are requested to do so at the Slater Memorial building, on Saturday, Sept. 2, or Monday, Sept. 4, between 4 and 5.30 p. m.

Art School Opens Tuesday, Sept. 26.

For full information as to the various courses address Miss A. V. V. Brown, or inquire at the Slater Memorial building.

Entrance examinations to the Free Academy will be held on Monday, Sept. 11, and Tuesday, Sept. 12, commencing at 9 a. m.

Candidates conditioned last June in Spelling, Grammar or Geography will present themselves on Monday; those conditioned in Arithmetic or U. S. History on Tuesday. Old pupils of the Academy will make up omitted or deficient examinations on Tuesday.

aug31d ROBERT P. KEEP, Principal.

LIVE LOBSTERS,

Soft Crabs and Little Neck Clams

TO DAY AT

POWERS BROTHERS'.

Telephone 125-4. aug29d

W. & S. ROOT BEER EXTRACT

Is made from the best selected materials. It contains Spikenard, Prince's Pine, Wintergreen, Dandelion, Sassafras, Gentian, Ginger Sweet Birch and Sarsaparilla, and is equal in strength and flavor to any brand whatever. One bottle makes 5 gallons of Delicious Root Beer.

WOODWORTH & SMALL, West Side Drug Store. jy15TuThSat

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NEW NECKWEAR.

Dodge & Holloway. aug31TuThS

FOR SALE.

A good BICYCLE in good running order. Will be sold cheap. Inquire at this office. aug30d

DOG LOST—On Saturday night, Aug. 26 an Irish Setter, light yellow with white spots on his feet. Finder will be rewarded for returning him to 101 Forest St. aug30d

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,

CALL AT

FRISWELL'S,

who has had 30 years experience, and latest improved method, and be properly fitted with Spectacles and Eye Glasses. jy28d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels.
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.

Collins Turbine Machine Co. ja20d

Appropriate to the Times

is the announcement that

WHITNEY,

Of 41 Broadway,

In the Central building.

will sell the new goods now arriving almost daily at the same low bargain prices he has been getting for his old stock.

This is no time for large profits, and if you want anything at all in China, Glassware, Tinware and House Furnishing Goods, you can save money by buying of

— WHITNEY'S —

Try and See!

Free delivery of goods throughout the city and suburbs. aug31daw

TRUNKS, BAGS, STRAPS.

And, in fact, Everything that the traveler needs can be found in good variety at

Alling Brothers,

aug31daw Broad Opera House Block.

All Kinds Of Picture Frames

And an elegant line of

FRAMED

—AND—

UNFRAMED PICTURES

Can be found at

M. J. Farrell's Art Parlors,

61 Broadway. je20daw

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,

HAMMOCKS CHEAP,

At PITCHER & MAINE'S

jy20d 125 Bo. Main St.

L. A. GALLUP,

Wholesale Grocer.

AT No. 31 WATER STREET

Norwich, Conn.

Sells at the lowest prices a full and general line of

GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS

including Tea, Coffee, Spices, Molasses, Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Flour, Wheatena, Cottolene, Worcester Salt, London Parlor and other Matches, Etc., Etc. There is no cheaper or better place in Norwich to buy Groceries. Gentlemanly service and prompt deliveries guaranteed. aug29TTh3

FOR SIGNS OR AWNINGS

It Will Pay You to See J. W. MALLETT 103 Broadway, next to Theater.

—THE—

Central Baptist Church,

UNION SQUARE.

REV. J. D. HERR, D.D. Pastor. Residence 46 Church Street.

Public Services, to which all are cordially invited; Sunday, 10.30 a. m.—7.30 p. m. Bible school Sunday 12 m. Young People's Meeting 6.30 p. m. Prayer Meeting Thursdays 7.30 p.m. Seats rented by the month. Persons desiring sittings may apply on any week day, or on Sunday to the undersigned Seat Rental Committee.

CHARLES B. WHITNEY,
E. G. SMITH,
dec9TuThS CHARLES D. NOYES.

NO OLD STOCK.

Two Big Drives

New Windsor Ties, 15c; worth 25c.
Lisle Thread Hose, 15c; worth 25c.

—AT—

HOUGH'S NEW STORE,

aug31d OPP. WAUREGAN HOTEL.

PAPER BY THE POUND.

15c. Buys a Good Quality.

CALL AND SEE IT!

LOVELLL BROS,

aug10TuThS WEST SIDE.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

6%

Partial Dividend Bond Certificates.

UNITED STATES SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY,

Paid in Capital.............. $1,322,070
Subscribed Capital.......... $8,000,019

One of the oldest and largest Co-Operative Banks in America, having an income of $80,000 per month and Local Boards in over 300 cities. Affords an absolutely safe investment in Cumulative First Mortgage Bonds.

H. G. MACK and GEO. S. SMITH, GEN. AGTS., Office 9 Shannon Building, Norwich. oc17MTh

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,

18 Washington Street.

GENERAL PRACTICE AND THE EYE.

Office hours: 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 p. m. Telephone 25-2. may8d

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With

SURE KILL FLY PAPER.

5 Cents a Package.

-Steiner's Pharmacy-

aug3d SHANNON BUILDING.

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK!

A. PLAUT,

The well known Bargain Dealer, will commence MONDAY, Aug. 28th, to close out the balance of his Bankrupt Stock regardless of value or cost. Headquarters at 58 Main St. aug28d

WHY NOT EXCHANGE?

You Want Fruit Jars.

We Want Money,

And have made our prices on Fruit Jars so low that it will be to your advantage to make the exchange with us.

SMITH BROS. aug28d

LOOK OUT

—FOR—

FRUIT JARS

Preston Bros.

SELL THEM CHEAP. aug8d

DIAMONDS

Mounted and repaired in first-class shape.

W. B. ROBERTSON,

227 Main Street,

may30TuThS Over N. E. R. Office.

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at

HOTEL SOUTH SHORE

On Lake Michigan, four blocks from the entrance to

The World's Fair Grounds.

One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls.

All for $36.00.

R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with or without Hotel accommodations by

E. P. TURNER, 187 E. Broad St.,

aug14d Norwich, Conn.

TO RENT.

A Large Store No. 108 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St.,

formerly occupied by T. H. Eldredge as a Hardware store. For further particulars, call on or address NICHOLAS TARRANT, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, 62 Main street. mar28d

CROCKER'S

Magical Stomach Powders

Have been known to cure the much-dreaded Kidney trouble. In its incipient state the disease readily gives way before them. Always safe to take, no matter what the complaint or time of taking. jy6d

CLOTHING.

THE PUBLIC

Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in

Men's and Children's FALL SUITS!

—AT—

MURPHY & McGARRY. aug31d

FOOT WEAR

We are determined to close out all Summer Shoes before Sept. 1st, and in order to do this have made the price low enough to insure a ready sale.

Frank A. Bill,

aug16daw 104 MAIN STREET.

LADIES!

Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3.00. Call and see them

Geo. W. Kies & Co. aug31daw

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11,689 NORWICH, CONN. FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1 1893—SIX PAGES SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

THIS MORNINGS NEWS.

City and Vicinity.

Increasing cloudiness and rain.
The loss of Messrs. Chappell and Burnett cor[illegible].
Official opinions of the Connecticut National Guard.
St. Andrew's Sunday school's eleventh anniversary.
The national encampment of the Grand Army.
A schooner grounds at Eastern Point.
Professor Harding's brave act at Block Island.
Bad Birds—Open season and marshes.
Mrs. Dr. Pratt injured in a railway accident.
Opinions of the National Guard at Camp Morris.

State.

Bishop McMahon's will admitted to probate.
Sudden death at the state prison.
New Britain to furnish work for the unemployed.
Connecticut business outlook improving.
Eight C. V. reunion—officers elected.
Chaplain's pension cut off.
New Haven's mayor raises $150,000.

General.

Big strike started on the Louisville & Nashville road.
Boston produce market quotations.
Baseball scores.
[illegible] accident on the Boston & Albany; many lives lost.
Silver-men claim they are bound to win in the senate.
Italians flocking back to Italy.
[illegible] in a collision near Attleboro, Mass.
[illegible] falling off.
[illegible] finished.
The tariff question soon to take the place of the silver controversy.
Unable to pay its employes in gold.
A missing bridegroom found in a hay loft.
Ragged Indians on the warpath.
The races at Fleetwood park.

SPECIAL.

USE
Shipman's
CARBOLIC
OINTMENT,
The most healing preparation in the world
FOR MAN OR BEAST.
For sale by all druggists. jaöd

DO NOT
SLUMBER
UNTIL YOU HAVE
Dr. Hough's
COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM
Ready for immediate use.
Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc.
PRICE 35 Cents.
For sale by all druggists and medicine dealers.
jaöd

FREE
Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.
ELIXIR OF LIFE
The great family medicine,
guaranteed to cure
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,
SICK-HEADACHE,
DYSPEPSIA,
And all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by LEE & OSGOOD. apr[illegible]

Sick Headache
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER
PILLS.
POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose, 40 in a vial. Purely Vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1.
Carter Medicine Co., Proprietors,
NEW YORK.
Sold by all Druggists. [illegible]

Most People Like to Know
The name of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.
Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure
IS THE BEST. TRY IT.
Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.
[illegible] At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD.

A man can sell almost anything if he will make the price low enough. The trouble is, that most of the so called bargains are cheaply made to start with. We offer the balance of our Summer Stock—good materials and well made—at figures that ought to make trade.
R. D. JONES & SON,
Merchant Tailors ...... 133 MAIN ST
(over C. C. Bist'.) aug[illegible]

Norwich Line to New York.
Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 9.35 and 9.55 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.
Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 9 p. m., for New York.
Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 5.
For state rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 53 Shetucket street. Telephone call 142-3.
THOMAS CLARK, President,
O. L. JOHNSON, JR.,
Secretary and Treasurer.
ja6d

FOUR WAGNER COACHES CRUSHED.

Chicago Limited Express for Boston Breaks Through a Bridge

ON THE BOSTON & ALBANY.

Many Passengers Killed and Injured—Details of the Accident.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 31.—The Chicago limited express train for Boston broke through a frail iron bridge on the Boston & Albany railway, one and a half miles east of Chester, about 12.30 today, and four Wagner cars were crushed, killing at least thirteen people and fatally injuring several others, while at least a [illegible] badly hurt. The wreck is the [illegible] ever known on the railroad.

The bridge was being strengthened for the big locomotives, and the workmen who were putting on plates were at dinner when the crash came. The locomotive passed over the structure, but was smashed, the water tank being thrown a long distance. The buffet, two sleepers and a dining car were smashed to kindling when they struck the stream twenty feet below, but two day coaches and a smoker in the rear did not leave the track.

There had been 13 dead bodies taken out at 5 o'clock and 12 of them had been identified. It is believed that there are two more bodies in the ruins.

The list of the identified dead is as follows:

J. F. Dewitt of Portland, president of the Union Mutual Life Insurance company.
T. Kelley and E. E. Cotting of Boston.
Mrs. C. Bisham of Philadelphia.
Miss Emma Delarty of Columbus.
H. C. Ives of Chicago.
Frank Sedgwick of Palmer, express messenger.
John McMasters of Springfield, brakeman.
J. H. Murry of Greenbush, N. Y., baggage master.
George W. Morse of Boston, Wagner car conductor.
J. C. Stackpole of Hartford, Conn.

There were about fifteen seriously injured and five or six may die.

The train was seven minutes late at Chester and the railway hands say it was going at the rate of twenty miles an hour when it struck the first of the two spans across the Westfield river. The locomotive seemed to leap across the bridge as the trusses collapsed and fell over to the south. The conductor was taking tickets in a day coach, and although thrown violently, escaped serious injury. There are only a few houses in the vicinity and a man driving by whipped his horse and gave the alarm throughout the village.

In a few minutes hundreds were on the scene. The shrieks of the imprisoned were terrible and scores of people looked on completely unnerved.

The heroes of the hour were Dr. Geo. L. Wood of Collinsville, who went to the train to meet his wife, and the colored porters and waiters in the dining car, although their faces were bruised and cut and covered with blood, they did splendid work.

The village people soon recovered from the shock and were hard at work. The hospital was a group of apple trees in an adjoining orchard, where scores were taken. Ox teams arrived with loads of straw, cushions, bedding and food.

The wounded were soon removed to the houses of H. A. Harwood, Washington Moore and J. Crocker, and [illegible] remained on the apple strewn ground were thirteen bodies, covered with red blankets from an adjoining stable. The dead were, many of them, horribly mutilated, heads crushed in, limbs torn and often only recognized from the clothing. Mr. Scull of Philadelphia was with his sister, Mrs. Bisham. She was instantly killed and he was pinioned down, but finally extricated. When her body was laid out the wrong name was placed upon her [illegible] but Mr. Scull identified it as that of his sister.

Injured.

Mrs. Rev. Dr. Lewellyn Pratt of Norwich, head cut, right thigh sprained.
Robert Carson of Boston, Wagner car porter, badly scalded.
Murray Graves of Boston, fracture of right thigh and broken forearm.
Ethel Carson of Dalton, shoulder hurt.
John D. Carson of Dalton, bruised.
Louis Buchanan of Boston badly bruised.
Rose Stephens of Springfield, fractured ribs.
Mary Sadie of Springfield, bruised.
John Platt of Riverton, N. J., bruised.
Mrs. John Platt of Riverton, N. J., bruised.
Mrs. Dr. Alice Littell of Brookline, bad scalp wound.
M. F. Leach of Rainfall, Col., fractured thigh.
Mrs. James T. Eldredge of Boston, broken hip, fractured shoulder.
Mrs. H. E. Whitney of Cleveland, O., badly bruised.
Mrs. J. N. Winchester of West Roxbury, bruised.
Sumner Cummings of Worcester, bruised and sprained knee.
Mrs. Sumner Cummings, compound fracture of the leg and bruised.
Wellesley Porter, buffet car porter of Boston, fractured thigh.
Arthur Williams of Lenox, bad scalp wound.
Frank Lang of Chicago, bruised chest and back.
Winthrop Wade of Boston, fracture of thigh.
Mrs. Helen Rich of Pittsfield, cut face.
Walter Hawkins of Pittsfield, bad scalp wound and serious contusion of mouth and nose.
Louis Mitchell of Albany, badly bruised.
Wm. Horton of Albany, locomotive engineer, badly bruised, left hip broken and internal injuries feared.
J. Waldron Johnson of Boston, porter, bad scalp wound.
John Emerson, brakeman, of Boston, left eye badly bruised.
W. H. Russell of Westfield, left leg injured.
E. B. Adams of Holyoke, head bruised.
Mrs. Avery of Holyoke, hip injured.

Corrected List of the Dead.

Miss Emma Delarty of Columbus, O.
T. Everett Sedgwick of Palmer, express messenger.
James McMasters of Springfield, brakeman.
J. H. Murray of Greenbush, N. Y., baggagemaster.
George H. Morse of Boston, Wagner car conductor.
J. C. Stackpole of Hartford, Conn.
R. C. Hitchcock of Bellows Falls, Vt.
J. E. DeWitt of Portland, Me., president of the Union Mutual Life Insurance company.
Thomas Kelly of Boston, blanket manufacturer.
Miss Susie Cotting of Boston.
Mrs. C. Bisham of Philadelphia.
Mrs. J. C. Winchell of Oneida, N. Y.
An unknown woman, plainly dressed, about twenty-five years of age.

The bridge looks as though it had been thrown from its abutments rather than broken down. It has fallen to the right of the track, and the locomotive also lies off to the right. These facts suggest the theory that the blow of the locomotive as it struck the bridge from the curve sent it bounding off its foundation into the river. The repairs on the bridge which were going on at the time of the accident were similar to those made on the other bridges of the line. Their object was to strengthen the bridge and enable it to carry the increased weight of the rolling stock.

The floor had been completed, new and heavier timbers and ties had been put in. The trusses were not finished and it was these that the men were at work upon when they left their work at the dinner hour.

R. F. Hawkins, whose employes were at work on the bridge, and the railroad officials are confident that the bridge did not fall from weakness and there is no evidence that any carelessness of the men, such as leaving tools around, helped to derail the train. The railroad officials say that they find no marks on the bridge, such as would be made by a derailed train. They have no theories to offer to account for the fall, but promise a complete investigation.

The townspeople deserve unstinted praise for the way they threw their houses open to the sufferers. There was no want of medical assistance. Drs. T. F. Breck and Charles P. Hooker of this city, Medical Examiner Shepard of Westfield, Dr. Shepard's son, of Chester, and Dr. Dean of Blanford did valuable work.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—Thomas Kelley of this city, who was one of those killed in the railway accident at Chester today, was at the head of the firm of Thomas Kelley & Co., Chauncey street, the largest blanket dealers in the United States, and said to be the only concern that confines its entire attention to the blanket trade.

Improved Business Outlook in Connecticut.

WATERBURY, Conn., Aug. 31.—Business is believed to be improving slowly but surely in this city and it is thought that within the next twenty days all of Waterbury's factories will be running on full time. None of them have been entirely shut down because of dull business and many of them have large orders ahead and more coming in. The Waterbury Watch company will [illegible] its works Monday morning after the [illegible] annual vacation of one month which the company has for years given its employes. The Waterbury Clock company has already opened and given work to 1,200 hands, after a two weeks' rest. Business in the brass foundries is good and looking brighter every day. Money is not so scarce as it was and employers are now experiencing no trouble in making up their pay rolls.

GROUNDED AT EASTERN POINT.

The Schooner Sunbeam Set in by the Tide.

Schooner Sunbeam from the quarry on the Thames, bound to Block Island with stone for the breakwater, was set in by the strong tide Thursday morning and went ashore on Eastern Point.

The Steamer Summer Girl made fast to her and tried to haul her off, but the hawser parted and she gave up the attempt to assist the Sunbeam.

The tug Wellington hitched on to her and succeeded in pulling her off into deep water. The Sunbeam was not damaged, and went on to work her way out of the harbor and proceed to her destination.

NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT.

Connecticut Grand Army Men Who Will Go to Indianapolis.

The members and representatives of the Connecticut Grand Army, who are to attend the national encampment in Indianapolis next week, will rendezvous in Jersey City Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and will leave immediately for Indianapolis. The officers and official staff of the state department who will leave Jersey City are:

Commander Wilbur F. Rogers of Meriden, Senior Vice Commander B. G. Blakeman of Birmingham, Junior Vice Commander John M. Brewer of Norwich, Medical Director John A. Hutchinson of New Haven, Assistant Adjutant General John H. Thacher of Hartford, Assistant Quartermaster-General William E. Morgan of New Haven, Inspector George W. Coy of Milford, Judge Advocate O. A. Harrison of Wallingford, Chief Mustering Officer Henry R. Jones of New Hartford, Senior Aid-de-Camp James R. Stone of Meriden.

Delegates—G. L. Bates of Putnam, W. L. Ames of Southington, T. L. Bartholomew of Bridgeport, N. Burton Rogers of Danbury, Caleb Weed of South Norwalk, George W. Anderson of Stamford, W. H. Loomis of Rockville, Ralph Wright of New Haven, alternate at large, and D. Newland Davis of Middletown, member of the council of administration.

Public Improvements.

The widening of West Main street from the city line to Backus' corner on the easterly side, voted by the town, the seven feet of land necessary for the purpose having been given by the land holders, will be done before the October meeting. The men were getting ready to begin work upon it Wednesday.

There are many unemployed men about town now, and it would not be a bad idea for the town to make the contemplated improvement in the road opposite the W. W. Backus hospital, which will be asked for at the next town meeting. Men would prefer to earn bread rather than apply to the selectmen for help. That would be a movement to kill a little of the dullness.

St. Andrew's Eleventh Anniversary.

St. Andrew's Sunday school at Greeneville will celebrate its eleventh anniversary Sunday, Sept. 3, with special services and a memorial of Wm. Morris, for ten years a faithful worker in the Sunday school.

The officers of the school are: Rector, W. A. Wasson; superintendent, P. J. E. Kendall; secretary and treasurer, George Morris.

The teachers, W. A. Wasson, P. J. E. Kendall, Charles Erwin, William McNeely, Walter Banfield, Mrs. H. Draper, Mr. John Jennings, Mrs. George Archer, Mrs. D. Dean, Miss C. A. Carpenter, Miss Selina Fitzpatrick, Miss Mary Fitzpatrick, Miss Martha Campbell, Miss Sarah Sandhurst, Miss Louise Balfour, Miss Emma Roberts.

Heavy Robbery on the Campania.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—It is announced that Mrs. C. H. Fiske, a wealthy widow of Boston, was robbed of diamonds worth $40,000 and a letter of credit for $30,000 on the Campania, on which vessel she arrived from Europe last Saturday. The valuables were taken from Mrs. Fiske's stateroom. No clue to the thieves.

GENERAL CONNECTICUT NEWS

Improved Business Outlook—New Britain's Unemployed.

BISHOP M'MAHON'S BEQUESTS.

Will Admitted to Probate—Rev. Father Hughes of Hartford Executor.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 31.—Right Rev. Bishop McMahon's will was admitted to Probate Thursday. The only personal bequest is $5,000 to his sister, Miss Rosanna McMahon, who has been his housekeeper many years.

To St. Joseph's Hospital corporation, New Bedford, Mass., $500.

To the pastor of St. Lawrence's Roman Catholic church and the pastor of St. James' Roman Catholic church of New Bedford, $500 each.

To the church of St. Thomas Aquinas of Bridgewater, Mass., $750.

To the St. Francis Roman Catholic church of Hartford, $500, to be used equally for the two orphan asylums maintained by the church.

To his executor $1,000, to be distributed among the priests of the diocese in such amounts to each as the executor shall in his discretion determine: and he specially requests the priests to offer up the holy sacrifice of the mass for the repose of his soul.

To his executor he leaves his rings, pectoral crosses, chains, jewelry, breviaries, and such like articles of personal property to such of my friends as in his opinion will be best pleased to possess such souvenirs of me.

After all his bequests and indebtedness are paid, he releases to St. Joseph's cathedral all claims he may have against the corporation, and bequeaths it the residue of his estate.

He names the Rev. James Hughes of Hartford his executor, and in case of his death, refusal or inability to act, I appoint in his stead the Rev. William A. Harty of Hartford; and in case of his death, refusal or inability to act, I request that the judge of probate for the district in which my estate is settled shall appoint as my administrator, with the will annexed, such person as the most reverend archbishop of Boston shall nominate, and I request that no bonds be required from my executor or administrator.

Work for the Unemployed at New Britain.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Aug. 31.—Mr. Peter Long, chairman of the sewer department, announces today that the department has secured another loan of $4,000, and that it is well supplied with money now. The department will begin at once the construction of smaller sewers on Camp street and on other streets for which they have been ordered. They will have work for all who may apply.

This action on the part of the sewer commission is warmly commended by the public. It will be a great relief to the working people.

Cold Weather at Shore Resorts.

WESTBROOK, Conn., Aug. 31.—At 6 o'clock this morning the temperature here was below 50°. Cottages were closed as if it was winter. Visitors say that if the present cool wave continues over Sunday, Monday morning will witness a great exodus from the shore. The season here has been the liveliest ever known.

STONY CREEK, Conn., Aug. 31.—The thermometer was 52° here this morning. It was uncomfortably cool. The last few days have had their effect on the shore visitors and some have already left for home.

Mayor Sargent Raises the $150,000.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 31.—Mayor Sargent has just returned from New York, where he negotiated the loan of $150,000 at 6 per cent and interest. The mayor borrowed $250,000 from the Ætna Life Insurance company to meet the running expenses of the city until the payment of taxes September 1, last February. Ex-Governor Bulkeley of the Ætna company paid all but the last $50,000, declining to pay this last amount owing to the stringency of the money market.

Sudden Death at Wethersfield Prison.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 31.—Edward Bonnelly, convicted of statutory burglary and serving a sentence of ten years, died at state prison today. He was at work in the shop as usual on Wednesday morning, when he made complaint of illness. He was taken to the hospital, and acute meningitis developed rapidly, causing his death twenty four hours later.

Bonnelly was convicted in the superior court of Hartford county, June 9, 1893, of statutory burglary, the crime having been committed at Southington. He was 22 years of age at the time of his conviction.

Slight Damage to Norwalk Oyster Beds.

NORWALK, Aug. 31.—After a thorough examination of the oyster beds in this vicinity last night and this morning the oystermen report that the set here has been damaged but slightly by the storm of Tuesday. It was thought that the loss would be heavy and a thorough investigation by the owners proves that it will not be over $3,000 or $4,000.

Reunion of the Eighth, C. V.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 31.—The twenty fourth annual reunion of the Eighth C. V. was held at Seaside park today. There was a business meeting this morning and the veterans enjoyed a shore dinner this afternoon and voted to hold their next reunion in Hartford.

The officers elected are: President, John Lane, Hartford; vice presidents, Thomas Cunningham, Norwalk; Thomas Smart, Southington; secretary and treasurer, H. Chapin, Munson, Mass.; color bearer, D. Matthews, Southington.

Found Whiskey and Beer.

PUTNAM, Aug. 31.—Officer Carver searched the tea store of Albert Jasmin on Province street Wednesday night at 9 o'clock and found twenty six bottles of larger beer, three quart bottles full of whiskey and a two-gallon jug containing one quart of whiskey. It was a surprise to all when the search was reported around town, as no one thought that Jasmin had been selling rum. The trial is set for September 7, before Judge Chessbro.

McAuliffe Almost Drowned.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The following special cable from London has been received at The Police Gazette office: "Jack McAuliffe, the American champion pugilist, while swimming at Brighton came near being drowned. Charley Mitchell had to swim to his rescue. Tommy Barnes, the champion aerial diver of England, will sail with McAuliffe and Mitchell on the Teutonic on Sept. 13."

Entire Coast Strewn with Wreckage Debris.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 31.—Mr. Jacob Paulsen left this morning for Coffin Point, S. C., to bring the survivors of the wrecked steamship City of Savannah. Reports of the disastrous work of the storm are still coming in. The entire coast is strewn with wreckage debris and vessels are high and dry in exposed harbors.

IN CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Mr. Frye (rep., Maine,) offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the secretary of the treasury to furnish to the senate a statement showing for the last two years the exports and imports carried under the several flags engaged in the foreign carrying trade.

Mr. Cockrell (Dem. of Missouri) introduced a concurrent resolution directing the secretary of the treasury (under the provision of section 254 of the revised statutes) to issue certificates not to exceed 30 per cent. of the amount of gold coin and bullion in the treasury and to use and expend the same in payment of interest on the public debt, or any other demand, liability or obligation of the United States. He read the section referred to which authorizes the deposit of gold coin or bullion in the treasury and the issue thereon of gold certificates, and which also authorizes the issue of gold certificates to the amount of 20 per cent. of gold coin and bullion in the treasury. He said that the passage of the concurrent resolution would allow the issue of $25,000,000 to $35,000,000 in gold certificates. The concurrent resolution was, at his own request, laid on the table for the present.

Mr. Voorhees (dem.) of Indiana, chairman of the committee on finance, moved that the senate proceed to the consideration of the house bill for the repeal of the Sherman act.

The motion was agreed to. The bill was taken up, and M. Wolcott (rep.) of Colorado addressed the senate in opposition to it.

The House.

The house resumed consideration of the rules, and Pickler's amendment to increase the membership of the committee on rules from five to nine was rejected. Mr. Hooker's amendment to increase the membership to 11 was also lost.

On motion of Mr. Kilgore (dem.) of Texas, an amendment was adopted giving the committee on ways and means jurisdiction over all measures purporting to raise revenue.

BASE BALL.

At Wilkesbarre:
Wilkesbarre........[illegible]
Providence........[illegible]

At Boston:
Chicago........[illegible]
Boston........[illegible]

Danny Russell Booked for the Danbury Fair.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 31.—Danny Russell, champion lightweight pugilist of Connecticut, today signed an agreement to fight and knock out Billy Forsythe and Charles Matthews, both of Danbury, in six rounds, at the Danbury fair, in October. Tom Ryan of Chicago has been engaged to train Russell.

Derby Bicycle Races.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 31.—There are 174 entries for the Derby, Connecticut, bicycle races Saturday, including the following riders of national reputation: Walter C. Sanger of Milwaukee, George C. Smith of New York, Harry C. Tyler and W. W. Windle of Springfield, L. D. Munger of Chicago, W. F. Murphy of New York. Champion Zimmerman is also expected.

The Chaplain's Pension Cut Off.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 31.—Chaplain C. Collard Adams of the Twenty second Connecticut regiment, has been notified that his pension is cut off for the present. He claims that he was seriously injured in his health in the service. He received a pension of $12 a month, and has been notified by Pension Commissioner Lochren at Washington that payment will be stopped until he is again examined.

Meetings at Ashwillet Chapel.

From South Griswold comes the following pleasant personal notice: One of the very best meetings ever held at the Ashwillet chapel was that of last Sunday afternoon. Mr. L. A. Frazier of Norwich is one of the most earnest and wide-awake speakers in the land. His talk to the people there last Sunday was powerful and impressive, and the entire congregation was highly pleased and held in rapt attention during the delivery of his very excellent address.

Mrs. Dr. Llewellyn Pratt Injured.

Mrs. Dr. Llewellyn Pratt, wife of the pastor of the Broadway Congregational church, was a passenger on the ill-fated Chicago limited express, bound east over the Boston & Albany road, which was wrecked at Chester, Mass., twenty-five miles west of Springfield, Thursday noon. She was presumably on her way home from Chicago, intending to take the New London Northern at Palmer. It cannot be learned at this hour whether Dr. Pratt was accompanying his wife or not.

Mrs. Pratt's injuries, according to the telegraphic report in another column, consist of cuts and bruises on her hands and thigh. They are probably very painful wounds, though not serious.

Foliage Killed by Salt Mist.

In Mystic, New London and other shore towns a curious freak of Tuesday's storm appears as time has worked the change. The foliage on the trees has shriveled and curled up, looking as yellow as if all the frosty nights of an autumn had nipped it. The leaves were saturated with salt mist blown over from the sound by the recent gale and such quantities of moisture was carried inland by the force of the wind that for a long distance from the shore these effects can be noted.

If other proof were wanted to substantiate this theory of saline destruction it is found on the windows of houses along the coast. One was especially noted in Mystic that seemed to be covered with frost, but when the coating was scraped off and tasted it was the saltest of salt.

Prof. Harding's Brave Act.

The Block Island Mid Ocean publishes a lengthy account of the rescue of Mrs. Green of St. Louis, from drowning at Crescent beach on Aug. 26. Mrs. Green is a good swimmer but ventured too far out in the surf and was at the point of drowning when Prof. Harding and her son went to her rescue. Young Green at once became exhausted and Prof. Harding with two helpless persons in his charge was in danger himself when Messrs. Quinby, Cook, McGuinness of the Ocean View band, came to their assistance in a boat. As the boat approached Prof. Harding said "Look after that boy. I can hold out a little longer." He was supporting Mrs. Green. Prof. Harding through The Mid Ocean "warmly thanks the three band men for their services, as without them three people would have been drowned." But Norwich feels proud of him not only for his valor but for the unselfish grace with which he awards the praise of rescue to others.

12,000 PEOPLE SEE NANCY HANKS.

Beats the Track Record by Three Seconds—Time 2 05 3-4

AT THE FLEETWOOD RACES.

Exceedingly Good Programme of Trotting Events.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Twelve thousand people gathered at Fleetwood park today to see Nancy Hanks driven and an exceptionally good programme of trotting events. Nancy Hanks, with Bud Doble on the seat, went to beat the track record of 2 08¾ made yesterday by Directum. Adam Forepaugh, the pacemaker, was half a dozen lengths behind at the start, and could not catch up. Time by quarters: 31¼, 1 02½, 1.34¼, 2 05¾. This beats the track record by three seconds.

Summary of other events: Free for all pace, unfinished, owing to lateness of the hour.

2 16 trot, purse $2,000. Fannie Wilcox, b. m., won in four heats, Clara D., b. m., second, Jennie Wilkes third. Best time, 2 15¾.

2 20 trot, purse $1,000.
Alar, br. m........[illegible]
Frank R........[illegible]
Adah Look, ch. m........[illegible]
[illegible] & Kate, b. m........[illegible]
Phalco, blk. g........[illegible]
Aristotle, br. h........[illegible]
Harry S., br. g........[illegible] 7 dr.
Time, [illegible].

Third race, free-for-all, pacing, purse $[illegible], unfinished:
Flying Jib, b. g........[illegible]
Blue sign, b. g........[illegible]
Manager, gr. [illegible]........[illegible]
Guy [illegible], br. h., Davies........[illegible]
Vitello, br. h........[illegible]
Time, 2.[illegible], 2.[illegible].

The $10,000 Race Between Domino and Dobbins Results in a Dead Heat.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, Aug. 31.—The match race for $10,000 a side over the Futurity course between Domino and Dobbins resulted in a dead heat.

PENSION SUSPENSIONS.

Order Issued by Commissioner Modifying the Practice Hereafter.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Commissioner Lochren of the pension bureau issued an order modifying the practice of the office as to the suspensions of pensions. Hereafter there will be no suspensions except in cases where the record shows that the soldier was not entitled to any pension whatever.

Cleveland Wheel Club Races.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31.—Cleveland Wheel club races. Winners, mile, 2 40 class, E. C. Johnson, 2 47 2 5; half mile, open, Zimmerman, 1 15 4 5; one mile, handicap, E. C. Johnson, 2 36; mile, open, Zimmerman, 2.40 2 5; two mile, handicap, Owen Barker, 5 08; quarter mile, open, Zimmerman, 30 1 5; three-minute class, Davis, 2 55¾.

SPECIAL.

ROYAL BAKING
POWDER.
Absolutely Pure.
A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—[Latest U. S. Government Food Report.
Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

"That Tired Feeling"
does not trouble women who use
IVORINE
WASHING POWDER.
It makes the washing so easy and all household work so light that they don't have a chance to get tired. To prove this, buy a package, and follow the directions given.
From April 1st, 1893, every package contains a splendid cake of pure Olive Oil Toilet Soap.
J. B. Williams Co. Glastonbury, Ct. For 50 years the makers of Yankee Shaving Soap.
6 sept1MWF

Hack, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable.
7 TO 13 ONECO STREET.
A. M. ETHERIDGE, Proprietor.
All orders given prompt attention. Moderate prices. mar[illegible]MWF

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,
VETERINARIAN,
Office 13 Bath Street. Office hours 1.30-3. Telephone 135-12.
mar11d

ESTIMATES FOR ALL KINDS OF PRINTING furnished on application by telephone

Men, Women and Money Missing.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Aug. 31.—Geo. Tobenka, a Pole, has been boarding with John Koch. He was a hard working man and kept his savings in a trunk in his room. This noon he found the trunk broke open and Koch and wife with $350 of the money missing. Tobenka reported his loss and the couple were traced to Hartford where all clue was lost.

Great Neck Quarry Shut Down.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 31.—The Great Neck quarry, owned and operated by the Hurricane Island Granite company and Booth Brothers, shut down today for a month, owing to dull times. The quarry employed 115 men.

Asiatic Cholera Epidemic at an English Seaport.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The epidemic in Grimsby has been declared officially to be Asiatic cholera, after having been called a "choleraic disease" for many days. The last victim of the disease was a woman, who died last Tuesday. Several other cases before her's ended fatally.

Yesterday a seaman died from cholera aboard a Grimsby steamer in the harbor of [illegible], Scotland.

Ocean Steamers.

At New York—Aller from Bremen; Gallia from Liverpool.
At Boston—Colorado from Hull.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PAINT
EATON, CHASE & CO.
B. B. BILLINGS, KING & CO.'S
Pure Prepared Paint.
We guarantee this to be the BEST Paint in the world.
Color cards giving instructions how to select colors for your own painting, free upon application, or by mail.
EATON, CHASE & CO.,
HARDWARE DEALERS.
aug[illegible]

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD AT Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 31st day of August, A. D. 1893.

Present—CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge.

Estate of Mary A. Holmes, late of Norwich, in said district, deceased.

Frank E. Holmes of Norwich appeared in Court, and moved that administration be granted upon the estate of said deceased alleged to be intestate.

Therefore, ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Office in Norwich, in said district, on the 5th day of September, A. D. 1893, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that said Frank E. Holmes give public notice to all persons interested in said estate, by advertising in a newspaper having a circulation in said Probate District, to appear if they see cause, at said time and place, and be heard relative thereto, and make return to the Court.

Attest— CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge.
sept1d

Now is the time that the public should secure their homes from the invasion of sneak thieves. You will find Hush's Patent Fastener just the thing. He is ready to put them on wherever wanted. All orders promptly attended to. Address 173 East Broad st., Norwich, Conn., ADOLPHUS HUSH. aug[illegible]

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
CONSULT DR. E. J. LEWIS,
150 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I.
Specialist on private Chronic Diseases of men. Cure guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. Office hours 9 to 2 and 5 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 2 and 5 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines, $5. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks (forwarded free.)
[illegible]

Cholera Infantum
The most dreaded of all children's complaints prevented by using RUSSELL'S White Drops FOR BABIES. 25c. All druggists.
aug24d

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.
Large and Complete Line
FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE
ARTISTIC WALL PAPER
At Reduced Prices.
SPECIAL SALE.
Large Art Carpets and Rugs
$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.
Other sizes in proportion.
Japanese Rugs and Mats.
$25 00 Japanese Carpets for $20 00.
$12 00 Japanese Rugs for $8 00.
$4 00 Japanese Rugs for $2 75.
Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels
75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.
Quantities, 1 1-8 Yards to 20 Yards.
Parties Wishing
FURNITURE,
CARPETS OR
WALL PAPER,
Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock
That we are offering at Low Prices.
aug[illegible]

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR Fire Wood
—TO THE—
PARK WOOD YARD!
301 Franklin Street.
A discount will be made on all purchases of Four Dollars or more.
J. ROURKE.
aug[illegible]

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin office for printing of all kinds and get fine work at living prices.

WANTS.

WANTED.
A bright, active young man as Dry Goods Salesman. Apply to or address the New York store, JOHNSTON & SHURTS, 134 State st., New London, Conn.
aug24d

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN
Can find employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to COLCHESTER RUBBER CO., Colchester, Conn.

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,
No. 4 Franklin Square.
Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All modern improvements. Terms reasonable.
jy15d G. A. BURLINGHAM.

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER,
No. 7 Water St.,
Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods. jul6d

WANTED.
Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers. Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn. may4d

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

TALKING
About PIANOS just now is my theme. Do you want a Piano? Then come and hear one of the purest and finest toned Pianos in the market. Prices Low. Also Organs, and a stock of fine Violins, including the Miller Violins on hand. A fine New Upright Piano to rent. Will be glad to see you at 62 Williams Street.
GEO. H. MARTIN.

CONFECTIONERY

ICE CREAM.
ALL FLAVORS.
Wholesale and retail.
GEO. A. LEWIS,
62 CENTRAL AVE.
Telephone. may4d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

George A. Kies
Will resume lessons on and after
FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, 1893.

WHY DO
Ferris Hams and Bacon
Lead all other Sugar-Cured Hams in quality and flavor?
Because they are the Best.
Insist on having them. If your butcher don't keep them, call at
C. D. BROWNING & CO.'S,
No. 3 SIXTH STREET.

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.
E. M. BREWSTER
will do it for you very Cheap
46 Water Street.

Steamer : Chelsea.
Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.
Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M.

The Connecticut
Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,
Sole agents in Norwich for the
New England Felt and Roofing Co.
BEE HIVE BRAND
Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.
Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn.

HEAR! HEAR!
18 — DIFFERENT ROUTES — TO — WORLD'S FAIR. — 18
For rates, reservations in Sleepers, etc., apply to the undersigned.
G. L. CROSGROVE,
Union Station, Norwich, Ct. Ticket Agt.

MY FIRST CAR LOAD
Bought Since the Panic Has Arrived.
C. J. Wolcott.

FREE!
If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively upon many roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill roofs in the vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron, paper and shingled. One great advantage of the Paint is that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 4c per square foot, Three Ply at 3c per square foot, and Two Ply at 2c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Dressing Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Cellars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, Water Street; H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn., P. O. Box 11. Residence 8 Oak Street. 3y1d

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE — OF — Norwich Street Railway Co.,

Taft, Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side. | Franklin Sq. Falls and Bean Hill.

[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]

E. P. SHAW, Jr., Supt.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Get a fall Dunlap hat of Prentice.

See advertisement of Grodotzke Brothers.

Regular meeting of veteran firemen this evening.

Church Brothers have fresh-caught Block Island bluefish.

All kinds of fruit for canning can be had of Wheeler Brothers.

Turner's great consumption cure is for sale by Appley & Jordan.

Frank A. Bill invites inspection of his new lines of school shoes.

Choice lot of fresh bluefish, oysters, etc., at Powers Brothers today.

Smith & Gilbert's fall woolens are all in. Call and make your selections.

Columbian flakes, the new breakfast dish, for sale by Welcome A. Smith.

Alling Brothers have all the latest styles in mens', womens' and children's shoes, which they sell at low prices. See advertisement.

In the upholstery department of the Boston store today can be found a magnificent assortment of fine quality Smyrna rugs at low prices. See advertisement.

The cry of hard times does not affect the sale of the Oneibustem pants at the Manhattan Clothing company's store. They have also reduced their whole line of clothing to hard-times prices.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

What They Were Looking For.

Two carriages with "citified" looking old people in them crossed the new Laurel hill bridge Thursday, and at the top of the avenue hill abruptly stopped a gentleman who was driving a donkey and asked him: "Where is the tree the cat-tails grow on?"

The Connecticut Library Association.

The Connecticut Library association will hold its autumn meeting at the library in Norfolk, on Monday, September fourth, at two o'clock p. m.

Reports from the Library congress and the American Library association conference at Chicago, and papers and discussions on the "Access of Borrowers to the Shelves" and "Printed Catalogues" with other addresses, may be expected. All librarians and friends of libraries in this vicinity, are invited to attend this meeting.

Train going west on the New England division of the Reading road leaves Hartford at 10.20 a. m.

Assignments for the Superior Court.

The following assignments have been made for the September criminal term of the superior court, to be held in New London, Tuesday, September 5, with Judge Hamersley on the bench:

Cases of the state against Frank Balcom and William Brown, John Williams, Reuben E. Brown, Edwin Gardner, Kate Getchell and Coleman Jerome, Michael Mathews, James H. Osborn, Frank Quartropenal, John Sullivan, Edward Carpenter, Amasa D. Main (two cases), DeWitt E. Bronson, William Welch, Jr., John McDonough.

On September 8, cases of the state will be tried against Aaron Walpinsky, Ransom S Sholes, Jr., Charles H. Babcock, William A. Millikin and Charles E. Tinker.

School Notes.

Tuesday the town board of school visitors adopted as text books under the new law "The Child's Health Primer—Pathfinder Series, No. 1" for primary grades, and the "Young People's Physiology, No. 2" for the intermediate and higher classes, with the recommendation that Steele's Hygienic Physiology (No. 3) be used as a reference book by the teachers. This action affects the following districts: Greeneville, Taftville, Falls, West Town Street, Yantic, East Great Plain, Plain Hill, Scotland Road, and Wawecus Hill.

Mr. Harmon B. Niver, the new principal of the Greeneville schools, was examined by and received his certificate from Messrs. Franklin H. Brown and Joseph T. Fanning of the examining committee Thursday, the third member of the committee, Superintendent N. L. Bishop, being out of town. Mr. Niver's examination was thorough and creditable in all respects, and the school bids fair to have in him a well equipped and capable head.

THE DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Confirmatory Reports of the Loss of W. H. Burnett and E. L. Chappell.

Confirmation of the reported drowning of William Hamilton Burnett and Edward L. Chappell of the Otrabando road, Norwich Town, reached this city Thursday. The two men were at Brier's camp, Fishers island, and started out Tuesday morning in a sharpie to get a yacht on the west side of the island and then tow it around to the east side, where it would be secure from the storm.

On the return the tide and wind became so strong that the boat became unmanageable and they were blown away towards New London and have not been seen or heard of since.

C. W. Scott, Jr., went to New London from Fisher's Island to see if there were any traces of the men, and both boats were found ashore and broken to pieces on Spicer's Point.

Mrs. Chappell and her two small children are with C. W. Scott's family at the island. She is a sister of Mr. Burnett. Mr. Chappell is a painter and carriage repairer and a member of the R. N. E. Wheel club.

Mr. Burnett has for many years been assistant to City Surveyor Chandler. He was born in Greeneville and his father was a member of the police force. He is a member of the local bicycle club, a member of Miantonomo Council No. 20, O. U. A. M., and secretary and treasurer of the Norwich Croquet club.

Mr. M. A. Barber, who married Mr. Burnett's sister, went to Fisher's Island Wednesday night. He will return with the Chappell family today.

THE RAIL SEASON.

The Outlook for Shooting Not Encouraging—The Bird and How It Is Hunted.

The rail shooting season opens today in Connecticut, and for the next two weeks hunters will be ranging along shore looking for this favorite game bird, which so far this season has given no signs of being plenty in its usual haunts along the banks of the Connecticut river, where the wild oats grow.

The hunters pay little attention to the habits of the bird, and are looking for him to arrive; but if Abbott is right, and he is a careful observer, the rails arrive early in the summer, but keep themselves to the muddy, wood-grown marshes so closely that their detection is well nigh impossible.

Down in New Jersey the gunners have been hunting them for the past week or two, and will continue to hunt them till after the first frost.

This is the migratory season and the rails gather together and stay upon good feedings until the September frosts and then disappear next day en masse, none but the weak and crippled birds remaining behind. These birds are slow and clumsy on the wing, but as runners have few equals among game birds.

They are most successfully hunted from boats, as many of them fall into the water when shot and many are lost to hunters who shoot them from the shore of the rivers or banks of the marshes. Many thousands of them are killed every year along the Atlantic seaboard.

These cold nights are more against them than the scarcity of wild oats, which are not the rail's exclusive diet.

STONINGTON POINT.

The Gales—Injury to Crops—Times Good—Summer Visitors.

The echoes of the severe gale of last week had hardly died away before another one materialized. Tuesday made a record for boisterousness that is seldom equaled. Early in the morning indications of what was coming began to be apparent. Profiting by the experiences of last week, boatmen and captains of vessels at once commenced to prepare for the inevitable. Two anchors were put overboard and a long scope of cable given, to prevent the dragging of anchors and landing on the rocks along the lee shore.

Quite a large number of vessels were in the harbor, but they rode out the gale without material damage. One cat boat parted her cable and went ashore on the west side of the harbor, and two rowboats got adrift, but the damage was slight.

The full value of our breakwaters has been ascertained during the past two weeks. During the prevalence of the gales the ocean outside has been excited to its most mighty effort. Huge waves have come rolling in from the ocean and threatened to engulf the borough and surrounding country, but they have been checked and vessels have ridden out the gale within the protected waters.

Considerable damage was done to growing crops. Corn was twisted in all directions, broken off, and many fields are nearly destroyed. Fruit trees suffered considerable damage, and the fruit was blown from the trees, much of it in an unripe condition. The loss in this direction will be quite heavy.

Notwithstanding the business depression that exists in nearly all sections of the country, Stonington has been favored with good times, nearly the full force of men being employed at Atwood's. The velvet factory is running full time and with a full force, and the boiler shop is employing their usual number of men.

Prof. Frank H. Sheffield, who killed his daughter at Rocky Point, Monday, as fully related in THE BULLETIN, was at one time principal of the borough schools. He was a man universally respected by all classes of our citizens. The sad calamity that has befallen him is a subject for sincere sorrow.

The borough still retains nearly a full complement of summer boarders.

Mrs Jennie W. Palmer and Mrs Jennie M. Kees, from Washington, who are spending the summer here, have been on a visit to Mr and Mrs. George A. Haskell of Jewett City.

Mr. and Mrs. William Donovan and daughter, Kittie, of Washington, who have been sojourning in the borough this summer, left for their homes Wednesday evening.

Mr. George W. Stanton, who left the borough several years ago, for California, is on his way back, for a visit with his old time friends and neighbors.

Mrs. S Goodwin Fields of Norwich, is here taking care of her sister, Mrs. J. F. Joseph, who has been confined to the house by sickness for the past two weeks.

PRESTON.

The Storm—Base Ball—The Peace Meeting.

The heavy storm of Tuesday did considerable damage, uprooting trees, breaking and splitting of limbs and blowing down corn nearly level with the ground. The rain fell in torrents till nearly noon.

A horse owned by Fred Nomer, who lives a short distance from Poquetanuck, was taken out of the wagon Monday and shot by an agent of the Humane society.

The town was well represented at the twenty-sixth annual "peace meeting at Old Mystic, Wednesday and Thursday.

A large crowd assembled at the ball ground at Brewster's Neck Saturday to witness a battle between the Hallville and Gales Ferry teams. It was evident from the beginning to the end that the Gales Ferry nine was completely barred out.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Hallville	2	0	4	2	0	4	6	2	3	—23
Gales Ferry	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	— 0

Thirteen 'bus loads of people en route to the peace meeting at Old Mystic passed through town Wednesday.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

THE NEW MAGAZINES.

McCLURE'S MAGAZINE for September occupies its own field and is alone in its monthly presentation of "Human Documents:" portraits at different ages of Eugene Field, Emperor William of Germany and Col. Albert A. Pope grace its pages. It opens with an illustrated paper upon "Edward Everett Hale." Other illustrated papers are: "Dreams go by Contraries," "Pasteur at Home," "An African Story," "How Cassie Saved the Spoons," "At the Throttle," and "Among the Gorillas." S. S. McClure, publisher, Broadway, New York city.

The FORUM for September contains the following timely papers: "A Century's struggle for Silver," "The Vatican and the United States," "Phenomenal Aspects of the Financial Crisis," "The Brooklyn Idea in City Government," "Criminals Not the Victims of Heredity," "Books and Readers in Public Libraries," "Federal and Confederate Pensions Contrasted," "Woman's Excitement Over Woman," "The Scotch Banks, Their Branches and Cash Credits," "The Pay of American College Professors," "Food Waste in American Households," and "Compulsory State Insurance, Its Effect in Germany." Henry Irving contributes, "My Four Favorite Parts." The Forum Publishing Company, Union Square, New York.

The complete novel in Lippincott's for September is "A Bachelor's Bridal," by Mrs. H. Lovett-Cameron. The illustrated sketches are "In the Plaza de Toros," "The Cross-Roads Ghost," "Ishmael" and "The Carthusian." The other Papers are: "A Girl's Recollection of Dickens," "Uncle Sam at the Fair," "Hypnotism: Its Use and Abuse," "Don't! to Young Contributors," and "Men of the Day." J. B. Lippincott company, publishers, Philadelphia.

The NEW PETERSON for September has the following illustrated sketches: "The Memories of Augsburg and Innsbruck," "New England Nooks," "The Taming of Derrick Dieffendorfer," "The Rise of the Bootblack," "Old English Iron Work." The other titles are: "As the Tide Drifted," "Her Absolution," "A Typhoon of Utility," "Beyond the Law," "What Did Not Happen," "Divination," "A Dream in the Night," "A Seaside Circe," "It Was a Dream," "Nor's Fidelity," "Liza's Mate," "My Wild Companions," "A Reminiscence of Good Times," "True Stories of Old Virginia," "Among the New Books." The Peterson Company, publishers, Philadelphia.

The ARENA for September presents the following table of contents: "A Money Famine in a Nation Rich in Money's Worth," "Seven Facts About Silver," "An Inquiry Into the Law of Cure," "Moral and Immoral Literature," "Japan and Her Relations to Foreign Powers," "The Currency Problem Through a Vista of Fifty Years," "Spiritual Phenomena from a Theosophic View," "A Study of Benjamin Franklin," "The Bacon-Shakespeare Case, Verdict No. 2" (Portraits of four of the jurors form the frontispiece) "The Man who Feared the Dark," "The New Education and the Public Schools," and "Books of the Day." The Arena Publishing company, Copley square, Boston.

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL for September is a breezy and attractively illustrated number. It not only brings amusing and entertaining sketches and stories to the home, but practical information which makes housekeeping more of a success than it could possibly be without this monthly visitor, which does not even forget the children. It treats of almost everything a woman likes to know. The Curtis Publishing company, Philadelphia.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION for August presents the following table of contents: "University Extension and the Working Classes," "The Written Exercises," "How to Lecture," Notes of "The Summer Conferences at Chicago and Chautauqua," "The Summer Meeting," "News From New York." Published by American Society for Extension University Teaching, Philadelphia.

The current number of LITTELL'S LIVING AGE contains the following papers: "Notes on Scottish Medicine in the Days of Queen Mary," "Links and Chains," "The Study of English Language and Literature as Part of an English Education," "The Foreign Tours of Lady Mary Coke," "The New Forest," "An Old Medicine Woman."

THE SOUTHERN STATES for August has illustrated papers upon "Atlanta, the Gate City of the South," and "The Florida Phosphate Industry." The other papers are "A Creole Girl's First Ball," "Northern Sentiment Towards the South," Film," "Stock Raising and Dairying in the South," "The Southern Outlook," "Notes on Southern Progress." Manufacturers' Record Publishing company, Baltimore.

THE AMERICAN AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHER opens with a fine marine blue print and a paper upon "Marine Picture Making." The illustrated articles are: "The Quaker Preacher" and "Photography at the World's Fair." It contains twenty papers and more than a score of practical suggestions. Published by the Outing company, Fifth Avenue, New York.

The September DEMOREST'S is the exposition number, and its illustrations are works of art. It opens with three frontispieces, one colored, entitled "A Silent Petition;" the second is four pictures of Princess Eulalie of Spain, and the third "A Balloon View of the 'White City'" that is very fine. The illustrations number over 200. Its subjects are: "The World's Columbian Exposition," "From Fire to Fair," "The Parliament of Religions," "Familiar Talks on the Different Schools of Art," "The Story of the Millenium," "The Diary of an Athletic Girl," "Home Art and Home Comfort," "The World's Progress," and "Mirror of Fashions." Office of publication, 15 East 14th street, New York.

According to the method which is now adopted for reckoning leap years in England December, January and February will be the summer months about 720,000 years hence.

SILVER MEN TALK.

Claim They Are Bound to Win in the Senate.

LONG, HARD FIGHT PREDICTED.

Accuse Southern and Western Congressmen of Being Weak Kneed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Secretary Carlisle has been in constant communication with the president pending the silver controversy in the house, and kept him fully advised of the situation. He is more gratified at the result on account of the large majority, which the friends of the administration did not anticipate. The secretary has not doubted from the beginning that the repeal would receive a fair majority. He expressed only his anxiety respecting the danger of adopting the proposition of 20 to 1. But before that ratio was reached the silver wine went to pieces.

The extremes of stories which have again been revived concerning the health of the president, in anticipation of his return to Washington are not sustained by the reports which Secretary Carlisle and other close friends are daily receiving. An unofficial friend who left the president and Mrs. Cleveland within the last 48 hours, and who lunched with them, says that the president and Mrs. Cleveland and that the former, according to all appearance, was in excellent health and spirits. The latest reports are accredited to Secretary Lamont. Secretary Carlisle says if this is all the foundation they have for the latest stories he gives them no credence whatever, as Secretary Lamont is not in the habit of talking or insinuating concerning such matters.

Never Looked Better In Their Lives

The return of the president with such an overwhelming vindication in the house will aid him in organizing his friends in the senate. The extreme advocates in that body like Stewart, Teller, Wolcott, Jones and a few other lesser lights are talking very bravely today concerning their plans to compass the defeat of the repeal bill. They admit that the silver people were fearfully routed in the house after the first vote, and attribute it to the desire on the part of

The Weak-Kneed Brethren

from the south and west to get under cover. They say that the administration forces will find a different class of men to deal with in the senate. If the free silver advocates stand firm they say the repeal bill cannot be passed in the next three months without some recognition of silver. They intend to make their fight on this line. "The Democratic silver wing in the senate," said Senators Wolcott and Jones, "will never abandon its advocacy of silver. If it adheres to its promises," the senators continued, "the holidays will have arrived before any repeal legislation has been adopted."

GOING BACK HOME.

Italians Flocking to Their Native Country in Great Numbers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Italians are flocking back to Italy in numbers so large that the steamship companies can scarcely accomodate them. The natives of Southern Italy always return home in the fall and come back again in the spring, but the exodus this year has set in unusually early and is remarkably large.

The Noordland of the Red Star line, which sailed for Antwerp yesterday, carried the 800 men who had been encamped on the the Hoboken dock of the North German Lloyd company for three days. These were left over from the Werra, which sailed for Naples last Saturday.

The men camped on the deck and were cared for by the steamship company. They were allowed to sleep on the Trave until she sailed yesterday. The company then bought tickets on the Red Star line for today.

The Deadly Electric.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—A fatal electric car accident occurred in the Roxbury district this morning. The victim was the 3-year-old daughter of Andrew Chaplin. Shortly before the accident occurred she was standing on a curbstone at the junction of Dudley and Clarence streets. Just as an outward bound Meeting House Hill electric came along at a fair rate of speed, the little one ran directly in front of the deadly electric. The car struck the girl, knocked her down and the wheels passed over her body, almost severing it in twain.

Dr. J. M. Boothby Dead.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—Dr. J. M. Boothby of 112 Salem street, Malden, dropped dead at his home this morning from heart trouble. He was born in Clinton, Me., 50 years ago, and graduated from Dartmouth college. For several years he practised in Newton, this state, and then located in Chelsea, where he resided for a number of years. He leaves a wife and child.

Admirals Exchange Visits.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Russian warship Dimitri Donskoi, which was cruising in American waters in July and early in August, has arrived at Southampton. Yesterday afternoon Admiral Kaznakoff and Admiral Urben of the United States cruiser Chicago exchanged visits.

Penobscot Indian Killed.

OLDTOWN, Me., Aug. 31.—Joseph Sockbasin, an Indian, was run over by the Bangor and Aroostook train in this city last night and instantly killed. He had represented the Penobscot tribe of Indians in the Maine legislature for many years.

China Will Take a Hand.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Standard's Shanghai correspondent says: The Chinese government is greatly incensed at France's new demands on Siam. The Siamese envoys are having frequent interviews with Li Hung Chang. It is reported that firm instructions have been telegraphed to the Chinese minister at Paris.

New Haven Schooner Stripped.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 31.—The 3 masted schooner Harry and Grace Reynolds of New Haven, Mass., Captain M. A. Mills, cargo of lumber, Darien, Ga., for New York, was towed into Southport yesterday. She lost her jib foresail, main and mizzen masts, yawl boat, turntable and deck load. The vessel is full of water.

Railroad Company Exonerated.

BREWSTER, N. Y., Aug. 31.—The inquest on the Harlem road disaster, which occurred near Dykeman's last Saturday, was held here yesterday. The jury exonerated the railroad company from all blame. Assistant Dispatcher Dunn and Operator Wakeman were not held.

Tramps Captured a Train.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—A gang of 30 tramps took possession of a Boston and Albany freight train at Ashland. The train was stopped and the tramps were arrested at South Framingham.

Wages to Be Cut 10 Per Cent.

DOVER, N. H., Aug. 31.—The announcement was made this morning that when the Cocheco mills start up on Sept. 1, a cut down of 10 per cent in wages will be made in all departments.

TRAMP CONVENTION.

Billy the Kid and His Gang Most Merrily in Attleboro.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Aug. 31.—"Billy the Kid" and his gang of tramps are making things lively for the residents of this town who are unfortunate enough to live in the immediate neighborhood of the tramps' retreat.

The gang had a great celebration last night, when about 150 tramps, filled with whiskey, were making the welkin ring at South Attleboro.

These fellows are holding some kind of a convention at the retreat, and the residents of the town who live near the camp are locking up their barns and putting extra fastenings on their henhouses.

The "tramps' retreat is a notorious place. It has for some time been the rendezvous of a gang of thieves and "weary wanderers."

It was stated by a tramp who slept in the lockup the other night that the retreat is the place where tramps go to find out at what houses in the different towns they are likely to be given food. Every tramp makes a record of the street and number of every house where he is fed. These addresses are exchanged at the retreat, and by this means every tramp knows just where to call for food in every town from New York to Providence and Boston.

A tramp who left the retreat last night said that one of the gang brought in the names of more than 800 people in the Blackstone valley who feed the walking gentry.

The addresses obtained, especially those of houses where clothing is given as well as food, are sold or exchanged for tobacco or rum. Every year at this time the tramps hover around the retreat, and then after a few days separate, and are seen no more until the next year.

WHISKY TRUST HARDUP.

Sales Are Considerably Less Than One-Half Those of Last Year.

PEORIA, Ills., Aug. 31.—Never before has trade been so dull with the Distillers' and Cattle Feeding company as during this month. One of the managers of a distillery here says that the sales this month were considerably less than half the average of last year, which is confirmed by the light revenue collections in this district, and for that reason the company is hard pressed for cash to pay the rebate on goods sold six months ago.

Some of the directors are in favor of suspending all rebate payments until business improves. If it is forced into such a position, it is said by those well informed, the company would speedily go into the hands of a receiver, as some of the larger dealers who have rebates coming to them, and who are not friendly to the company, would immediately enter suits and apply for a receiver.

That the situation is a very serious one for the company is evidenced by the fact that President Greenhut, who has been sojourning at Mackinac island for the summer, has been notified of the existing state of affairs and has called a hasty meeting of the directors, to be held in Chicago this week, to determine what remedy, if any, can be applied to save the company from its financial embarrassment.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

No Tidings Or Trace of the Two Missing Holbrook Boys.

HOLBROOK, Mass., Aug. 31.—The whereabouts of George A. Townsend and Everett Baker, the two boys who suddenly disappeared from home about 10 days ago, is still shrouded in mystery. Both boys worked in Boston. Townsend lived with his parents on Plymouth street; Baker lived with an aunt, Mrs. Belcher, also on Plymouth street.

Yesterday Mr. Townsend stated that he saw no reason why his boy should go away. He always had a good home and was used well by his parents. On the Sunday before his disappearance while his mother was at church, he prepared supper for the family.

After supper he went to a livery stable and hired a team, and went to Abington to see a young lady who is receiving his attention. He returned about 1 a. m., and retired as usual. Upon investigation early the next morning he was found to be missing. He took with him all his clothes.

The report that he had $50 with him on his departure is denied by the father.

PRISONERS BANISHED.

Columbian Liberal Prisoners Are Expelled to the South Coast.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A special from Cartagena says that the Liberal prisoners recently captured in Bogota, the capitol of Colombia, will be expelled to the south coast, the government fearing to permit them to go to the United States or Europe, where, it claims, it is easy to organize revolutionary movements.

General Collante of Cartagena, who was released from prison on account of illness, has died. His death is a great loss to the Liberal party.

Six Men Washed Overboard.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A dispatch from Para, Brazil, says that the British steamship Justin, which sailed from New York, Aug. 12, arrived at Barbadoes Tuesday. She passed through a series of terrific storms. Her decks were swept day after day, her small boats, wheelhouse and engine room skylight were smashed or carried overboard. Her second mate, boatswain and four seamen were washed overboard.

BRAZILIAN REBELS

Cross the Boundary of Uruguay and Kill Those in Hiding There.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Herald's correspondent in Rivera telegraphs that the Castilhistas of Rio Grande do Sul have again crossed the boundary into Uruguay. They killed a number of revolutionists who had sought refuge there, and also some citizens of Uruguay who had given them shelter.

The Uruguayan government has demanded that Brazil prevent these outrages. General Saravia, leader of the revolutionists of Rio Grande do Sul, led a force against the town of Cacapava, which was captured. The government forces were made prisoners of war.

Six Stores Damaged.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 31.—Fire yesterday afternoon damaged six stores in the Lindsay block to the extent of $105,000. The largest losses were those of the McCormick Harvester company, $60,000; W. H. Starkweather, $15,000, and customers of the Milwaukee Transfer and Storage company, whose losses aggregate about $20,000.

Mexicans Lay Down Their Arms.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Aug. 31.—All the Carcenhistas in northern Coahuila have laid down their arms and returned home on the assurances of General Reyes that they will be protected in their rights. General Reyes is now in Allende pacifying the two elements, who were very bitter with each other in that town.

Thirty Years' Active Ministry.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Aug. 31.—After 30 years of active life in the ministry, 18 of them as pastor of the First Congregational church of this town, Rev. Walter Barton has retired. A farewell reception was given the pastor and his family last night at the Congregational church.

MARKETS

LAMB and CHICKEN
— AT —
J. D. Murphy's,
jy24d MARKET STREET.

LOOK!
Porterhouse Steak - - 20c.
Sirloin - - - - - - - 18c.
Round - - - - - - - 12c.
Shoulder - - - - - - 10c.
How can I do this? Why, because I have my meats shipped to me directly from the west in carload lots, thereby saving the middle profit. Don't let anyone make you think that the quality of my goods is not equal to any in the market. Try them and be convinced.
JAMES DAWSON, JR.,
144 VALLEY ST., Willimantic, Conn. jy14d 220 MAIN ST. Norwich.

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. H. VAUGHN & SONS
IRON CASTINGS.
aug7d FERRY ST., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON
of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for immediate delivery.
REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Sater" brand.
SHEET IRON Galvanized "R. B." Black and Plate.
STEEL "Black Diamond" and "Silver," warranted Cast Steel. Machinery Steel, Tire Steel, Calking Steel.
FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.
IRON AND STEEL BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.
A. T. CONVERSE,
Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf,
mary19d 23 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.
Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Wool Machinery. Mill Gearing, Shafting, Pulley Hangers etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds, Gearing, Cutting, Forgings and Castings at short notice, 129 Franklin Street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second hand machines bought and sold on commission. jy16d

SADLERY ETC.

LANE BROS.
— Have a —
Seven - Foot Delivery Wagon
Which you can turn around in a ten-foot circle.
67—69 Water St.
aug14d

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF
HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,
AT MODERATE PRICES
At 115 Main St., J. G. STANDISH.

JARVIS' MILITARY BAND
— AND —
ORCHESTRA
Furnish Music for Parades, Picnics, Balls, Excursions and Entertainments of All Kinds at Reasonable Prices. Address, A. W. JARVIS, Leader, 49 Division St., Norwich, Conn.

NOTICE.
Ceilings Whitened,
Woodwork Painted,
and Walls Papered
with Gilt Paper
For From $6 to $12 a Room.
GEO. C. BUCHANAN,
House Painter and Paper Hanger.
Wall Paper of all kinds. All paints mixed to order. Estimates cheerfully given.
58 Shetucket St & 168 Central Ave.,
feb1WFS NORWICH CONN.

Before Buying Elsewhere,
Call and examine my complete line of new styles of
—WALL PAPERS.—
Lowest Prices.
E. L. GREENE,
Painter, Grainer and Paper Hanger.

Removal.
BRECKENRIDGE BROS.
Have removed their shop to CORNER WILLOW and CHESTNUT STS. and are prepared to give estimates on all kinds of woodwork.
jy1d

ELY'S CREAM BALM
Cleanses the Nasal Passages.
Allays Pain and Inflammation.
HEALS THE SORES.
Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.
Try the Cure.
CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM.
HAY FEVER
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents.
ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.
nov19MWFnw

—IF YOU—
Want money,
Want a cook,
Want boarders,
Want a partner,
Want a situation,
Want a servant girl,
Want to sell a farm,
Want to sell a house,
Want to rent a house,
Want to exchange anything,
Want to sell plants or grain,
Want to sell groceries or drugs,
Want to sell or trade anything,
Want to find customers for anything,
Want to sell or buy horses, mules or cattle.
Advertise
IN THE BULLETIN.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Life Was a Burden

Because of the intense pains in my stomach and side, and also on account of gall stones. After eating I would be

In Great Distress

I became so reduced in flesh that my friends thought I would not live long. I grew worse and my removal to a hospital in Syracuse was under advisement, when my father had me give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. There was an improvement at once and I have continued taking it, until I am now well. I have gained in flesh and can eat heartily without distress. I now enjoy life and I owe it all to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. Mary [illegible], Cazenovia, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

HOOD'S PILLS assist digestion and cure [illegible]. Sold by all druggists, 25c.

PLUMBING, ETC.

A. TROLAND & SON

Will Give You Close Estimates on

PLUMBING and GAS WORK.

—TRY OUR—

"Big Box" Stove Polish.

—ALSO GET—

RUTLAND LINING.

[illegible]

WE HAVE THE BEST

Water Filters and Garden Hose

in the market at Very Low Prices. [illegible] Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting.

MONAHEB & BREED, 8 West Main, Central Wharf.

Telephone 133—3

ROBERT BROWN

Steam and Gas Fitting,

Plumbing and Steam Heating,

Pipe Cutting and Threading by Power Machinery.

All Work done Promptly and Neatly.

Pequot Building, Central Wharf.

INSURANCE.

L. and L. and G.

J. IRVING ROYCE, Agent.

THE BEST PLACE TO INSURE.

STORY'S INSURANCE AGENCY,

30 SHETUCKET ST.

The only insurance office in Norwich on the [illegible] floor.

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y

Norwich, England. Organized 1797.

N. TARRANT, Agt.,

23 MAIN STREET.

[illegible] UNITED STATES BRANCH

—ASSETS.—

[illegible]

—LIABILITIES.—

[illegible]

N. TARRANT, Agent, 23 Main St., Norwich, Conn.

B. P. LEARNED

Insurance in all Forms.

Bonds of Indemnity.

Foreign Drafts.

[illegible] National Bank, Norwich, Conn.

"MY PROPOSITION"

is to write up a [illegible] Life Insurance Policy [illegible] the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL [illegible] the largest DIVIDENDS, [illegible] VALUE and PAID-UP INSURANCE, PARTICIPATING above a 3 Per Cent. Reserve, than any other company.

W. E. FROTHERO, - - Agent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell

COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A Fine Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

A. B. KINGSBURY.

Murphy & Blackburn,

FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS.

37 Franklin Street.

Open day and night. Ring bell for night call. Residence 25 High street and 1 William Avenue, Preston.

HAVE THAT

Lawn Mower

Put in Good Order and it will be as good as new.

M. A. BARBER

[illegible], Falls Ave.

FRANK G. SWEET,

Medical and Surgical Nurse,

Graduate from Mills' Training School for [illegible] Hospital, New York city. Call at 309 or 430 FRANKLIN Street, [illegible]. TERMS REASONABLE.

The Bulletin.

THE BICYCLE GIRL.

The bicycle girl is plump and round,
Her cheeks are rosy, her skin is browned,
Her eyes are bright with health.
In her modest gown of navy blue,
She gets all the admiration due
To a woman's greatest wealth.

Her flesh is firm and her muscles strong,
Her rounded limbs might well belong
To a goddess of olden time.
As she [illegible] along on her silent wheel
All men admire, for all men feel
That her vigor is sublime.

Then hail to the bicycle girl, and long
May she live and grow more strong,
As a woman ought to do.
Till her weaker sisters also try
With her in her health and her strength to vie,
And get them bicycles too.

—Toronto Mail.

GOODBY.

The two friends had finished their dinner. From the windows of the cafe they overlooked the boulevard, which at this hour was crowded with people. The soft breezes that sweep through the streets of Paris on warm summer nights fanned their cheeks, inviting them to go down among the trees, somewhere, anywhere, to dream of moonlit streams, inspired poems and chanting nightingales.

One of them, Henri Simon, said to his companion, with a profound sigh:

"I feel that I am growing old, my friend. On such a night as this in days gone by I was keenly alive to the pleasures of existence. Tonight I have nothing but regrets. Life is short at best."

He was a man about 45 years old, a little stout and quite bald.

The other, Pierre Carnier, not his senior in appearance by any means, but more slender and vivacious, replied:

"I, my friend, have grown old without noticing it. I was always gay and jolly, vigorous and all that. For, when one looks at himself in the glass every day in the year, the ravages of age are not apparent. They are slow and regular and work such gradual changes that the transition is not noticeable. We can hardly perceive it. To see it plainly, one should not look into a mirror for six months at least, and then—ah, what a shock!

"And the women, old fellow—how I pity them! All their happiness, their power, their life, is in their beauty, and that lasts but 10 years at best.

"As for myself, I grew old without suspecting it! I thought myself still a youth when I was near 50 years of age. Free from infirmities of any kind, I was going my way, happy and content. But the revelation of my decline came upon me in such a simple yet startling manner that I felt the effects of the shock six months afterward. Then I accepted my fate gracefully.

"I have often been in love, like all men, but once in my life I was quite hard hit.

"I met her at the seashore—Etretat—about 12 years ago, not long after the war. There is nothing more delightful than that beach in early morning at the bathing hour. It is not very extensive, is curved like a horseshoe and encircled by tall, white cliffs, pierced with singular holes called 'The Gates.' One of these cliffs is enormous and stretches its gigantic length to the water's edge. The other is round and flat. The women swarm over this narrow strip, with its pebbled walks, and transform it into a brilliant garden of summer toilets within walls of rock. The sun shines full upon the coast, over parasols of every imaginable color, and over the sea of topaz blue. It is a jolly picture, enchanting to the eye. Close by the water's edge the people lounge in the sand, watching the bathers as they come tripping down in their flannel bath robes, which they discard with a pretty movement as soon as the white fringed waves play around their feet. Then they run in with swift little steps, while the water sends thrills of a delicious chill through their veins.

"Few women are made to endure the crucible test of the bath. Their figure stands revealed from ankle to throat. As they emerge from the embrace of the briny waters, either their shortcomings are made plain to the eye or the rounded contours of form and limb are enhanced by the clinging, dripping garments.

"The first time I saw the young woman of whom I have spoken I was carried away by her charms. Few women possess the beauty of form that is startling and overpowering at the first glance—that seems to a man as if he had suddenly met the creature he was born to love. I experienced that sensation and that shock.

"I was introduced to her and was more deeply smitten than ever in my life. She made me her slave, and it was both terrible and delicious to submit thus to the reign of a woman. It is torture and indescribable felicity at once. Her look, her smile, the little tendrils of hair round her neck ruffled by the breeze, every line in her face, her slightest movement, captivated my senses and ensnared and drove me to distraction. She took complete possession of me. It grieved me to see her veil lying on a chair or her gloves thrown carelessly on the sofa. Her toilets seemed matchless in my eyes, and no other woman had ever worn hats more becoming than hers.

"She was married. Her husband came every Saturday and departed again on Monday. I was not in the least concerned about him nor jealous of his relation to her. No living creature ever seemed of less consequence to me than this man.

"Ah, how I loved her—she who was so gay, so pretty and so graceful! She was youth, elegance and freshness personified. I never felt more keenly than I did then that a woman is a sweet, lovely and delicate being made of charms and graces. Never before had I discovered the beauty that lay in the rounded contour of a cheek, the movement of a lip, the curves and creases of a little ear, the shape even of that stupid feature, the nose.

"This lasted three months, when I was called to America, whither I went with a crushed and broken heart. Even away from her I was her slave still. Years went by. I could not forget her. Her charms were constantly before my eyes and in my heart. I cherished her memory with a tenderness that had grown calm, and I loved her as one loves a dream of a most beautiful and enchanting thing.

"Twelve years do not mean much in the life of a man. They pass almost unnoticed. One follows upon the other, slowly yet swiftly. Each is long, yet soon at an end. Although they multiply rapidly, they leave few traces behind and vanish so completely that, when one looks back upon them there is nothing left to remind us of their flight, and age creeps on without warning.

"It seemed to me that only a few years separated me from that delightful season on the beach at Etretat.

"One day last spring I went to dine with friends at Maisons-Lafitte. Just as the train was about to start a portly matron entered the coach I occupied accompanied by four little girls. I could not help looking curiously at this large, rotund, motherly creature, whose face was like the full moon under a beribboned hat. She puffed and panted from the exertion of her hurried walk. The children began to babble, and I unfolded my newspaper and commenced to read. As we passed Asnieres my neighbor suddenly accosted me:

"'I beg your pardon, sir. Are you not M. Carnier?'

"'Yes, madame.'

"She laughed with the contented laugh of a cheerful woman, but there was just a tinge of sadness in her voice.

"'Do you not recognize me?'

"I hesitated. It seemed to me that I had seen her face before, but I could not tell when and where. I answered:

"'Yes—and, no—I certainly know you, but I cannot recollect your name.' She blushed a little.

"'Mme. Julie Lefevre.'

"I was startled out of my wits. For a moment the earth seemed to reel around me, and a veil was rudely torn from my eyes which made me see things with terrible, heartrending clearness.

"It was she! This stout, common woman, the mother of these four girls! I eyed the little creatures with as much astonishment as I did their mother. They had followed her; they had taken their places in life, already half women, and she counted for nothing—she, who had once been such a marvel of delicate and coquettish [illegible].

"It seemed to me that I had known her but yesterday, and to find her thus again! It was impossible! A violent pang wrung my heart. I rebelled against nature and her brutal, infamous work of destruction! I looked at her with frightened eyes. When I took her hand in mine, tears dimmed my vision. I wept for her youth; I wept for her death. This stout woman was a stranger [illegible].

"She, too, was touched, and she faltered: 'I am much changed, I know, but it is only natural. I am a mother now—nothing but a mother—a good mother. Farewell to everything else that is passed. I did not think that you would recognize me or that we should ever meet again. You yourself are not as you used to be. It took me some time to decide whether I was mistaken in my surmise. Your hair has grown quite gray. Think of it—12 years is a long time. My oldest daughter is nearly 10 years old.'

"I looked at the child and discovered in her some of the old charms of her mother, undefinable as yet, unformed and in the bud, and life seemed to me nothing more than a rapidly passing train. We arrived at Maisons-Lafitte. I kissed my old friend's hand and parted from her with a few trivial phrases. I was too deeply moved to speak.

"In the evening when I was alone I examined my face a long time in the mirror and ended by recalling to my mind the picture of myself as I had been in bygone days, with brown mustache and black hair and a young, fresh face. But now I was old. Farewell!"—Guy De Maupassant.

Blue Jeans at the Fair.

Two World's fair visitors, in hickory shirts, jeans pantaloons and immense straw hats, stalked into the Missouri state building the other day, and were at once the center of a curious crowd. The visitors were brothers named Hart, and they had taken a novel way of reaching the World's fair. They left their home in Camden county, Mo., about the middle of June and came up through the Illinois bottoms by easy stages in camping wagons.

Camden county, Mo., is where they raise good harvest hands. The Hart brothers are typical members of this profession. Along about early harvest in June they allowed it to be a good plan to work their passage to Chicago and the World's fair via the harvest fields. Camping outfits were stowed away in wagons and the pair started northward. When they found a farmer who needed extra help in making hay or harvesting early crops they hired out for a few days. They not only paid their traveling expenses in this way, but laid by a snug sum with which to see the fair at their leisure.

When the Hart brothers reached Chicago they selected a grove about four miles west of the fair grounds and pitched camp for a four weeks' stay. World's fair hotels had no allurements for them. Their first visit in the fair grounds was to the Missouri building, and it took them some hours to get accustomed to their new fangled surroundings. The piano in the parlor pleased them immensely, but the typewriter machines in operation simply astounded them.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Criticism by Disraeli.

Bernal Osborne was for a long time bribed to silence by his political opponents by appointment to office. When the trammels were eventually removed, he celebrated his liberation by a rattling speech. "The voice of the honorable member has not been heard in this house for some years past," thereupon observed Disraeli. "Throughout that period he has felt the irksomeness of restraint, and we now hear the wild shriek of freedom."—San Francisco Argonaut.

The Name of Stebbins.

The Stebbins family is fairly numerous. It is not now a classic name. Its owners wear it ignorantly. More the shame for them. It is by right a classic name, borne as it was by the first of Christian martyrs—St. Steven, sometimes spelled Stephen. Steven is the Dutch way of spelling it. Spell it in Spanish—Esteban. Drop the initial silent e and then you have Steban. Among the ignorant the step to Stebbins is very short. And the honorable name of St Steven takes on degradation, even as the fine old Norman-French name D'Aubaine becomes the homely Dobbins.—Davenport Democrat.

MUSIC WITH MEALS.

One Respect In Which Oklahoma Hotel Keepers Are Up to Date.

The hotels of Oklahoma up to last fall were few and far between. Having tried several with little satisfaction, a party of hungry "tenderfeet" was directed by a commercial traveler to a little place on a corner. The commercial man said it did not look inviting, but it was clean. That was an inducement the party had not heard of in that section, and it turned in for supper. The dining room was one in which the family lived. A folding bed stood in one corner. An old time bureau was opposite. A box stove was in the way, and about it were several old fashioned rockers. A few family pictures hung from the wall, with the old, old motto, invoking the blessing of the powers celestial on the household. The party asked for supper and was told to be seated until the meal was prepared. Two girls, delicate and with much weariness in their faces, spread the table. When the meal was brought on, they simply said, "Supper is ready" and disappeared.

The party gathered about the meal, and it was agreeably disappointing. While it was being devoured—that is the best word to use, even at this distance from the table—the two girls came into the room, accompanied by their mother, a woman whose hair was white and whose face was a study. There must have been a time when she was beautiful. They came in as if they had been billed for the occasion. They went to one corner of the room, and then the party discovered that there was one of those old time melodeons in an out of the way place. The mother took her place at the keys, and as the mournful melodies responded to her touch the daughters sang, "Nearer My God to Thee," "Nellie Gray," and then "Lorena."

Think of "Lorena" on a melodeon in Oklahoma! The party having finished supper, one of them paid the bill, and then the music ceased. It was a question which no one of that party was ever able to agree upon, or they had not up to last accounts. Was the music of that night for the purpose of entertainment or to forestall the possibility of duplicating any of the orders?—Chicago Tribune.

Friendships of Snakes.

There is a certain coolness almost to be called a positive want of cordiality between snakes and human beings. More, the snake is never a social favorite among the animals called lower. Nobody makes an intimate friend of a snake. Popular natural history books are filled and running over with anecdotes of varying elegance and mendacity, setting forth extraordinary affection and co-operation between a cat and a mouse, a horse and a hen, a pig and a cockroach, a camel and a lobster, a cow and a wheelbarrow and so on, but there is never a snake in one of these quaint alliances. Snakes do not do that sort of thing, and the anecdote designer's imagination has not yet risen to the feat of compelling them, although the stimulus of competition may soon cause it.

The case most nearly approaching one of friendship between man and snake known to me is the case of Tyrrell, the zoo snakekeeper, and his "laidly worms." But then the friendship is mostly on Tyrrell's side, and, moreover, Tyrrell is rather more than human, as any one will admit who sees him hang boa constrictors around his neck. Of course one often hears of boys making pets of common English snakes, but a boy is not a human creature at all. He is a kind of harpy.—Arthur Morrison in Strand Magazine.

Exasperating Days.

Aren't there some times in your life when everything seems to go wrong no matter how hard you try to have them go right? Those are the trying days when you want to blame all the trouble on the way you got out of bed in the morning or on other people instead of looking the matter squarely in the face and saying, "It's one of my exasperating days, and if I can only keep my temper until night comes tomorrow will be different."

The trouble is when we feel ruffled ourselves we somehow impart the feeling to others, and nine times out of ten we either get into a quarrel or do some ugly, horrid little thing that we wouldn't think of on other occasions. If you can, on these hateful days, manage to think twice before you speak once it will save a lot of worry on the morrow. In fact, that is a good rule to go by at all times, for of all the unruly, mischief making members the tongue is the most prominent.—Philadelphia Times.

Sleeps on the Floor.

"I have never slept in a bed since the war." This remark was made yesterday by A. M. Warner of Boston.

"The reason," he continued, "is not because I am a vegetarian or a crank. I simply am unable to go to sleep in a bed, and for 20 years I have not tried. During the war I was in service four years and in all that time never slept in a bed. I had no home and consequently had no furloughs. The habit of rolling in a blanket and sleeping grew so fixed with me that when I got back from the war and settled down a bed was a nuisance. I have rolled and tossed and tried hard to sleep night after night, but was not able to keep my eyes closed until I sought the floor. For 10 years I tried to reconcile myself to a bed, but it was no use. Finally I gave it up, and now in my home in Boston I sleep in a room in which there is no bed. I simply roll myself in a blanket or two, according to the temperature, and I sleep soundly. My health is good, and I am sure that I shall live just as long as if I slept on a down mattress."—Chicago Tribune.

Phenomena Allied to Lightning.

Subterranean thunders have occasionally been heard preparatory to an aerial eruption. The sea has cast up volumes of water, as if volcanoes were exploding below. The ground has burst open, and floods of water have gushed forth from the sides of hills or from fissures in the rocks. Taking another class of effects, cures have been performed by lightning—gouty men have been enabled to walk freely, epileptic persons have been healed, amaurosis has been removed and rheumatism dispelled by a flash. But one dare not look too closely into the subject of medical electricity nor venture to recommend any one to tempt lightning in the hope of experiencing its curative effects.—Chambers' Journal.

The "Walking Stick" Business.

Under the general term "walking stick trade" is included the manufacture of sticks for umbrellas, etc., of which an incredible number are produced annually. In England—which, by the way, almost supplies the world—the number of men employed is about 4,000. The trade is rather scattered, though by far the greatest part is done in London, where in the east end it is carried on extensively. The workmen are chiefly drawn from the poorer classes of St. Luke's, Finsbury, Shoreditch, Whitechapel and Bethnal Green, in which parishes the principal workshops are situated. The trade is strictly a season one. It is among the first to feel depression and among the last to recover. A large number of the men employed earn on the average a fair living, especially those in the largest houses, who enjoy, as a rule, the most regular employment.

But a large section of the trade pays bad wages—in fact, in some cases it is a mere existence. A great quantity of sticks produced by these latter are manufactured in dwelling houses—nay, in the very living rooms, though in this respect there is a gradual improvement going on. The people among whom this state of things exists are mostly small manufacturers who work on their own account. In busy times it often happens the man is compelled to work nearly all night in order to get the work done in time for payment on Saturday. It has been known for wives' and even children's help to be put to account. This is true when the trade is busy, which is generally from March to November, when slack time begins and continues with more or less abatement till the following spring.—Chambers' Journal.

An Amusement of Youth.

"Every middle aged man of sound memory who was brought up in town," said Mr. Greather, "will recall the fact that when he was a boy he found great delight in rattling a stick along the picket fences. This amusement of childhood, like many others of that period of life, appears to have been transmitted from generation to generation without material change. The strings of spools and the soldier hats and so on of the children of today are substantially like those of their forefathers. But it might seem to some that this succession is in danger of being broken. In many suburban towns and villages there is now no picket fence. The modern spirit says lawns, and so there are many places where the houses are as if in parks, and where the younger children might not know a picket fence if they should see one. I have two children, for instance, who I am quite sure have never enjoyed the felicity of rattling a hard stick against the resounding pickets.

"It might indeed seem under such circumstances that this is one of the enjoyments of childhood which in some families might be lost altogether; that one could scarcely expect the children of these children who have never rattled pickets to think of it themselves, but I cannot believe this. I believe, rather, that if in their youth the children of these children should come upon a town where picket fences still remained they would pick up the handiest stick and go quite naturally and very gleefully rattling it along the pickets, for I cannot believe that a habit grounded for centuries in the human race can be utterly lost by its lapse in a single generation."—New York Sun.

A Chessboard Brain.

The most wonderful deformity in the human brain that has ever been noted by the scientists and made a matter of record was that of the phenomenal chess player, Richard Rockwoode. Rockwoode could play 12 games of chess simultaneously, but no more, not even being able to begin on the thirteenth. After death his brain was carefully examined by skilled anatomists, who found in the region known to phrenologists as "locality" that the molecules of that portion of the brain had actually arranged themselves into a combination of squares resembling a chessboard and that each of these squares had certain marks upon it, supposed to represent the final positions of the pieces in the last 12 games played by the great expert while he was blindfolded. The doctors who make this wonderful report declare that it is true in every particular, but that the arrangement of the atoms of the brain into the chessboard squares referred to could only be distinguished by microscopes of the highest power.

More than 40 years ago, when Sir William Dean Bakker made an examination of the brain of Forbes, the shipbuilder, and reported that the molecules of the brain had arranged themselves (the "gray matter" separating from the other constituents of the brain and "lining up") into a rude form of a vessel hull, he was only laughed at. The Rockwoode investigation proves that Bakker knew what he was talking about.—St. Louis Republic.

The "Devil's Nose" and "Lot's Family."

There are at least two queer freaks of nature on the island of St. Helena—or rather four, for one of them is a group of three figures—known the world over as the "Devil's Nose" and "Lot and His Daughters." Any one who is able to study the island as it is and not run wild over the Napoleonic legends which have clustered about that "sea bound rock" since the days when the "Little Corporal" was housed there in his living grave will find much that will repay for investigation, time and study.

The queerest of the natural formations are the oddities above alluded to. The first of these imitative forms is a rocky promontory which has been known by names which signify Old Nick's nasal projection since May 22, 1502, when Juan Castella and his men sighted the island just in time to see the devil disappear beneath the waves in the best harbor, leaving his nose as a reminder of what might happen should the venturesome Spaniard seek to take possession of his satanic majesty's favorite haunts.

"Lot and His Daughters" are three conical rocks which can only be conjured into representing a man and two women by a strong play of the imagination. According to the views of some writers they are weather worn statues of colossal size, probably the work of some aborigines of the island. Their gigantic size, however, would seem to preclude this idea. When or by whom they were dubbed "Lot and His Daughters" no authority has ventured to say.—St. Louis Republic.

AN INNOCENT IN A HOTEL.

A Stranger Gets Into a Hotel Office and Makes Things Lively.

There is stopping at the Great Northern an old countryman, who was in former years an intimate acquaintance of Colonel Saye, the night clerk. He went out Sunday afternoon and returned to the hotel some time after midnight feeling a bit frisky. Presuming upon his acquaintance with the night clerk, he opened the gate and went behind the counter to show the clerk how to attend to his business. While Colonel Saye's attention was called away, the old fellow sat down on a stool behind the counter and innocently leaned his broad and weary back against about 80 of the push buttons on the annunciator.

An electric wire connects these buttons in the rooms above with gongs which make a peculiar and astonishing amount of noise, especially when they start suddenly after midnight and keep up the racket without cessation. Well, when the old man leaned his back against the annunciator the noise began up stairs, but of course he didn't hear it, so he continued to sit there and push the buttons.

Many people had left calls so as to catch their trains. They got up and began to dress, but they couldn't imagine why the deafening noise continued after they had pushed the button in response to signify that they were up. The others were panic stricken. The halls were soon filled with men and women in all kinds of deshabille. Each door as it was opened let an additional noise into the hall, until with the oaths of the men and the screams of the women it seemed a perfect bedlam. People became mixed up and got into rooms with others whom they had never seen. One man, after the scare was over, never discovered that he was in the wrong room until getting in bed he almost mashed a baby.

Of course there was a rush for the office. The clerk opened his eyes and grabbed his gun as everybody fired questions at him at once. He said he couldn't explain it, but they must be crazy. Then he looked around and saw the old "chump" sitting on the stool, with an innocent, inane, toothless smile stretching across his sun bronzed face. Colonel Saye pulled him up by the collar and told him what he had been doing.

"Well, I'll be gol darned," was all he said then, but as the people started up stairs he said, "I'm sorry I disturbed the good people, but who'd ha' believed that that darn board could make all that noise when it only had a man's back a-leanin against it." Then he went over and began to push a white spot on the new postal box. He thought he was ringing for the elevator.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Knew Her Own Game Best.

Just beside that triumph of sculpture representing the late Samuel S. Cox in the act of trying to catch an Eighth street car a tired truck horse stood in the shafts. The driver had gone to refresh himself in a nearby saloon and had first unshipped the horse's headstall that he might stand the more easily. A little wizened woman, ugly as Punch, dressed in rusty black clothes and carrying an old fashioned reticule embroidered with colored worsted, came ambling along the walk, mumbling to herself. When she saw the horse, she stopped and took some lumps of sugar out of her little bag. She put one of them between her lips and marched up under the horse's nose. The intelligent animal sniffed, looked and saw the sugar. He also saw the little old woman who held the sweet morsel in such a forbidding setting. The horse hesitated, wiggled his upper lip and gathered in the sugar. The woman rubbed her hand over her face where the horse's lips had brushed it. The ceremony was repeated several times, and just as the last lump was gone the driver reappeared.

"What yer doin to that horse?" he demanded.

"Gimme 5 cents," said the old woman stoutly. "I've been giving your horse all my sugar because you went off to drink alone and left him."

The man refused. The crowd howled with laughter and gave all sorts of advice. The little old woman repeated her demand. The driver finally fished out the coin and drove off, while the old woman went her way talking to herself and smirking and courtesying as the crowd parted to let her pass.—New York Times.

Mr. Edison Hates a Telephone.

"What makes you work?" I asked with real curiosity. "What impels you to this constant, tireless struggle? You have shown that you care comparatively nothing for the money it makes, and you have no particular enthusiasm in the attending fame."

"I like it," Mr. Edison answered after a moment of puzzled expression, and then he repeated his reply several times as if mine was a proposition that had not occurred to him before. "I like it. I don't know any other reason. You know some people like to collect stamps. Anything I have begun is always on my mind, and I am not easy while away from it until it is finished. And then I hate it."

"Hate it?" I asked, struck by his emphatic tone.

"Yes," he affirmed, "when it is all done and is a success I can't bear the sight of it. I haven't used a telephone in 10 years, and I would go out of my way any day to miss an incandescent light."—C. D. Lanier in Review of Reviews.

The Nick In a Man's Coat Collar.

The little V shaped nick at the juncture of the coat collar and lapel is said to have had its origin as follows: When the first Napoleon gave way to his ambition, he tried to implicate General Moreau in Pichegru's conspiracy. Moreau had been Napoleon's superior and was very popular, but under the circumstances it was not safe to express publicly any sympathy with Moreau, so his admirers secretly agreed to nick their coat lapels to show who they were. It shows the outline of the letter M upside down.—Washington Star.

A Modern Nimrod.

Jimson—Where are you going?

Billson—Only off for a day's shooting.

Jimson—Great snakes! With that carload of freight!

Billson—Those boxes contain books, the latest and most complete compendiums of the game laws of the state. I don't want to shoot anything out of season.—New York Weekly.

FOR THE LADIES

Profit Is Nothing

But a Memory Today.

It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.

Hats reduced to less than cost, both trimmed and untrimmed.

Trimmed Hats at 98c.

Cost or value no consideration.

RIBBONS.

All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.

Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.

Don't have to talk much about them. At our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.

New York Bazaar.

112 MAIN ST.

REDUCTION

In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.

We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits which we will close at the following prices: $6.00 and $7.95. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, as they must be sold.

Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close, at

A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St.

MILLINERY.

Hats, Bonnets, Elegant Ribbons, Laces and Flowers,

—AT—

MRS. G. P. STANTON'S,

No. 25 Shetucket Street.

A Narrower Shoe, a Better Fit, and More Comfort Guaranteed.

PERFECTION ADJUSTABLE SHOE.

"It rests across the ball and joint of foot, making it comfortable and stylish.

It is the best-fitting ladies' shoe in the world

PRICES, $2, $2 50, $3, $3 50.

Consolidated Shoe Co., Mfrs., Lynn, Mass.

For Sale by the Leading Shoe Dealer in Norwich.

J. F. COSGROVE.

WE CALL YOUR ATTENTION

To our fine line of imported Sherries, Ports, Brandies, Cordials and Clarets. Also the Ashland, Walnut Hill, Cabinet, Scotch and Irish Whiskey, and the Old Tom, Royal Schnapps and Yacht Club Gins.

COATES & SHERIDAN, 49 West Main St., Dealers in the highest standards of foreign and domestic Wines and Liquors.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES

—AT—

40C. PER THOUSAND.

They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.

COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.

The Bulletin Co.,

NORWICH, CONN.

STORAGE.

Storage of [illegible] or merchandise may be obtained in my Warehouse at 23 Commerce Street.

A. T. CONVERSE.

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.
Established 1858.
NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.
Established 1796.

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 12 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 2 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application to the business office. No cuts or electrotypes inserted in either paper.

To guard against mistakes, advertisements should be sent in manuscript. We cannot be responsible for errors that occur in messages [illegible].

Yearly advertisers are limited to their own immediate business, and their contracts do not include Wants, To Let, For Sale, etc.

All news letters should be addressed to THE MORNING BULLETIN; all business communications to THE BULLETIN COMPANY.

Money orders and checks should be made payable to THE BULLETIN CO.

All communications must be signed. Anonymous letters or news items will not be read, but thrown into the waste basket.

No manuscript preserved or returned, unless stamps are enclosed fully to prepay postage.

Entered at the post office at Norwich, Conn., as second class mail matter.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Friday, September 1, 1893

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

THEY DON'T COME UP.

For the past two weeks not an applicant for a pension has been before the Norwich board of examining surgeons. In view of the policy of the present managers of the pension bureau the number of applicants will diminish. This falling off will be in consequence of wrongdoing in Washington and not wrong doing on the part of the men who fought in the Union army.

Within the past ten days two pensions have been granted to Norwich applicants. One growing feeble with years was under the invalid pension act allowed the munificent sum of $3 a month. The other was, after examination, pronounced to be totally disabled, the case was proven satisfactorily to the pension department, and he was allowed $6 a month, which is half the sum usually allowed to a soldier's widow.

But soldiers' widows are having their trials too. The new rules require after affidavits have been made and sworn to, that the persons alleging the facts therein contained shall each write a letter to the department to corroborate the sworn statements made in the affidavits.

The policy of the pension bureau under its present management is one of suspension, obstruction, reduction, and destruction, if law and public sentiment were not against it. The pensioners are being plucked by their enemies

AS PICTURED WEST.

Mr. M. M. Hobart, who is a native of Eastern Connecticut and spends his vacations here when he can leave his law business in Ohio, contributes to The Cleveland Leader a statement of the condition of business in this vicinity. He says:

> The manufacture of cotton and woolen goods is the special industry of this portion of the state of Connecticut. Upon the results of these industries, the laborer, capitalist and merchant are largely dependant; upon their success depends the success of towns and villages; their failure impoverishes the whole community in which they are located. Never, in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant, have these industries been so thoroughly paralyzed in this vicinity as at present. I [illegible] more than twenty-five cotton [illegible] mills (most of which are [illegible] too), located within a few miles radius of Norwich, Conn., that have, within the past two weeks, shut down or are only running on partial time. These mills represent an aggregate capital and investment of more than $9 000,000 and employ, when running full force, more than 8,000 operators and employes. Some have shut down indefinitely; some for two weeks or more, and a few of them are running every alternate week. The loss in either case will be great, not only to the capitalist, but to the laborer; and the latter will be the greater suffer. Never were so many men out of employment in this vicinity as at present.

He shows that under the Sherman silver bill and the McKinley tariff the country prospered, business was good, wages high and work steady, and that the fear of a change which the democratic party has pledged itself to make is the sole cause of the present business depression and distress.

AN UNANSWERABLE QUESTION.

Gov. Flower of New York is one of the many democrats in this country who think fooling with the tariff better be omitted; but the administration was elected on this issue and the ways and means committee is made up of anti-protective tariff men who have theories which must be submitted for experiment whatever the cost. While they are preparing to make the change, James Swank of the American Iron and Steel Association, has filed an argument against revision of the tariff, in which he asks:

> If there is no surplus in the treasury to be reduced; if prices of domestic products are fixed by home competition and not by tariff duties; if they are now lower as a rule than they have ever been in our history; if a day's wages of an American workingman will purchase more of the necessaries of life under our present tariff than ever before; if the "patriotism" that cares for the general welfare is sanctioned by the constitution and by the exact terms of our first tariff act, what reason, or show of reason, remains for a revision of the tariff at this time?

Mr. Swank believes uncertainty about tariff changes has much to do with the present condition of the business of the country, and that a low tariff will encourage the importation of many articles which can be made at home. That is undoubtedly true, and the men who could make them will be suffering for work to maintain themselves and their families.

JOSIAH QUINCY'S RESIGNATION.

Josiah Quincy's career as assistant secretary of state has nothing in it to be commended except his activity as a rewarder of spoilsmen and as a political solicitor of offices for about all the hack-politicians of Massachusetts. It has leaked out that his duties at Washington have not been agreeable to him. He brought himself to the level of a political lackey, and was always willing to use his influence for political claimants of offices as a reward for work. He has impaired the consular service by his appointment of inexperienced men to important positions, and now he has resigned to go back to Massachusetts to take the chairmanship of the democratic state central committee. He seems to be regarded as the democratic Niagara of influence in Massachusetts, and he hopes by his hypnotic power to pull the party through the fall campaign in triumph. He has withdrawn from Washington without honor, and while the spoilsmen give him a heartier welcome home than ever, the citizens have less faith in him and his party than they had a few months ago. He is overestimated by his party, and will disappoint them in his home work.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

England poses as a friend to Siam and then winks at France as she robs that feeble heathen nation of its jewels

The Nashville American thinks the pension rolls show "the Federal army was composed entirely of men who were not able-bodied, and who instead of being on the battle field should have been in the hospital!" If it adds anything to the valor of the south to confess it was beaten by invalids, no one should find fault with the claim. It was a desperate conflict for a noble cause, and the pension roll tells but half the story of its maiming and health-destroying results.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

Big Men and Little Towns.

Every American president has had from three to thirty-two towns named for him. There are thirty cities and towns named after Alexander Hamilton, thirty Clintons, twenty-four Websters, twenty Bentons, thirteen Calhouns, seven Clays, nineteen Quincys, twenty-one Douglases, twenty Blaines.—[Chicago Inter Ocean.

If He Can!

If President Cleveland can induce his wild team to exercise as much horse sense in dealing with the tariff as it manifested in handling the silver question he will deserve considerable credit.—[Springfield Union.

A Cheering Fact!

Nearly one third of the 154 national banks which have suspended since the beginning of the year are now open again. This is a cheering announcement, and every day will probably witness additions to the list.—[Boston Journal.

Brought as a Lamb.

The democracy of Massachusetts believe that they have at last found a gubernatorial candidate in the Hon John E. Russell. The Boston Journal refers to him as the "sheepless flockmaster of Leicester." He is in a fair way to learn what it is to be "brought as a lamb to the slaughter."—[New York Press.

Not Extinct?

For a man whose political extinction has been repeatedly announced with great solemnity by Cleveland organs, Senator David Bugbear Hill seems to be remarkably, not to say, perniciously active.—[New York Press.

It's Real Nice!

The Charlestown News and Courier which adheres to the constitutional right of secession, denies that the right to coerce states to remain in the union is there in that sacred document. Well, we found it there in 1861, walloped the south beautifully, pinned the union together with bayonets and there you are. It's a real nice old constitution yet and will so continue unless the southern brigadiers get a chance to tinker it.—[New York Morning Advertiser.

Why Canadians Come Here.

"There is no real movement in Canada in favor of annexation to the United States. The fact that a large number of French Canadians come to this country is no evidence that a sentiment in favor of the United States exists, either. They come because they can find more work and higher wages here. That is all."—[J. A. Chapleau, the lieutenant governor of Quebec.

The Fruit of Experience.

Senator Sherman's emphatic declaration that the repeal of the act misnamed after him will not remedy the existing stagnation, and that tariff legislation on the lines of the Chicago platform will plunge the country into still further distress, deserves to be carefully pondered by his democratic colleagues. These opinions are the fruit of 40 years of unselfish, patriotic statesmanship.—[Boston Journal.

George is a Philosopher.

Mr. George Thatcher, the play actor, in his jeremiade over the decay of negro minstrelsy, gives unconsciously in a paragraph the history of opera. He states a fact, however deplorable the fact may be. "The thing to be studied is the whim of the public. The manager who caters to the public's ideas instead of his own is the one who will find fame and fortune."—[Boston Journal.

Misdirected Economy.

Through misdirected economy the life-saving patrolmen are laid off from May 1 to September 1, congress having over and over again refused to provide sufficient money for the continuance of the service through the entire year. What is the result of such economy—and what, too, is the money value of human life? The direct result has been seen off the New Jersey coast, where last week 24 men were drowned within a line of 10 miles, where there were four life-saving stations closed up.—[Springfield Republican.

It Really Looks So!

Sometimes we get depressed and blue. Men tell us that "there's no business," "everything is flat," etc., and we think that things are going to destruction. Then we pick up the newspapers, and read of one democrat after another who declines to run for office in Massachusetts, or to manage a campaign, because they are so "awfully driven with business," and we feel lifted up and encouraged. It really looks as if business was improving when Massachusetts democrats are so overrun with work that they can't run for office.—[Cambridge Chronicle.

A Wild Cat in Essex.

A wild cat has been seen of late in the northern section of the town coming out of the woods in early evening. Hunters have been scouring the woods for the animal but without success. The cry of this wild cat at night is hideous and can be heard for half a mile or more, making the farmers a little nervous and sleepless nights.

The animal has been playing havoc with the hens and chickens at the farm houses on the old river road during the night time. Niles Andrews has lost from his place fifty hens and chickens, Ezra Post thirty, Thomas Post forty, and Graves about forty which this midnight thief has captured and carried away to his cave or hiding place in the woods within the past three weeks. Elijah Sheldrick, the old meadow woods veteran trapper and hunter, has been engaged to trap the cat and the farmers hope that he will soon rid them of the animal.

OPINIONS OF THE NATIONAL GUARD

An Incident that Pleased Gen. Haven.

The National Guard's annual encampment is over and official opinions are in order.

Gen. Bradley is reported to have said "he had not seen a more successful camp week for 12 or 14 years."

Gen. Haven expressed satisfaction and pleasure at the results of the encampment.

Capt. Wetherell, U. S. A., says the men did not profit by the opportunities they had offered them. He did not believe there was a company in the entire Connecticut brigade who could go through the bayonet drill properly. However, considering the advantages of instruction which are offered to the men, he considered that they had done themselves great credit at Camp Morris

The New Haven Register prints the following story as told by General Haven:

> I think the Connecticut soldier may be depended upon. He is self reliant. One night I was going by the guard and I gave him the countersign which I had given out for use in the camp. I was surprised when the following conversation took place:
>
> Guard—That countersign is not the right one You can't pass.
>
> General—Well, I have reason to know it is correct. Do you know who I am, by the way?
>
> Guard—Oh, yes; you are General Haven. But you have got the wrong countersign, general.
>
> General—Call the corporal of the guard.
>
> The corporal of the guard came up and General Haven told him the circumstances. The corporal shook his head and said, "the countersign is wrong, general."
>
> Then General Haven demanded to be taken to headquarters, where it was discovered that no countersign had been given out from General Haven, and that the corporal posting the guard found that he had not been provided with a countersign and that he had put in a substitute.

A Boston merchant sent a letter directed to Broadway, New York, without a number. The letter came back with the postmark of every station the whole length of Broadway, and a form filled out by the various postmasters detailing the search.

A cold of unusual severity developed into a difficulty decidedly catarrhal in all its characteristics, threatening a return of my old chronic malady, catarrh. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm completely eradicated every symptom of that painful and prevailing disorder.—(E. W. Warner, Rochester, N. Y.

When I began using Ely's Cream Balm my catarrh was so bad I had headache the whole time and discharged a large amount of filthy [illegible] a headache since.—(J. H. [illegible] Conn.

Those persons who do not need iron, but who are troubled with Nervousness and Dyspepsia, will find in Carter's Little Nerve Pills a most desirable article. They are mostly used in combination with Carter's Little Liver Pills, and in this way often exert a most magical effect. Take just one pill of each kind immediately after [illegible] and you will be free from Indigestion [illegible] Dyspepsia. In vials at 25 cents. Try them.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth, send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums and reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP."

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

Proof of Merit.

The proof of the merits of a plaster is the cures it effects, and the voluntary testimonials of those who have used ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS during the past thirty [illegible] is unimpeachable evidence of their [illegible] and should convince the most [illegible]. Self praise is no recommendation, but certificates from those who have used them are.

Beware of imitations and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALLCOCK'S, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous you wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

A Retired Business Woman

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 26 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs Morgan, 589 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from all opiates or dangerous drugs.

Sold by N. D. Sevin & Son and Lee & Osgood. may19mwaw

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

We are all creatures of habit.

Do you doubt it? Just study yourself and see if it isn't true.

For eight years we have been in the "habit" each year of buying the sample Hose of one of the biggest importers of Ladies' Fancy Hose in the country.

Each year the public watch for the announcement of the sale of these samples and attend in large numbers, because it provides an opportunity to secure good quality hosiery for a very little money.

The habit of buying these samples each year has become fixed with us.

The public have got into the habit of attending these yearly sales and watch for the announcement.

All of which proves that "we are all creatures of habit."

The sale of Sample Hosiery will begin THURSDAY MORNING, Aug. 31, at 8 o'clock, and will continue until all are sold.

There are exactly 23 2-3 dozens—284 pairs of Fancy Hose, in Silk, Lisle and Fine Cotton. There are plain colors, russet, boot patterns and fancy colors.

The regular value of these samples are from 50c to $1.25 a pair.

The price during this sale will be 31c a pair, 3 for 90c.

Everything goes at that price.

The lowest price we have ever before sold these samples for was 39c a pair.

Be on hand early. There is a choice and first comers will get the pick.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.
aug31dew

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

SCHOOL BOOKS, SCHOOL SUPPLIES,
AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
SCHOOL DISTRICTS FURNISHED
with every requisite
AT LOWEST PRICES.
Cranston & Co.
aug29daw

—OUR STOCK OF—
School Books and School Supplies
IS NOW READY.
Wholesale and Retail at Lowest Prices.
Noyes & Davis.
aug29daw

ARCHITECTS.

C. H. PRESTON,
Architect, - - - - Central Building.
Telephone 145—5, Norwich, Conn.
Specialist on modern construction and strength of materials. mar8d

JAMES A. HISCOX,
ARCHITECT,
161 Main Street, Rooms 2 and 3. oct8d

REMOVAL.
We have removed
From 11 to 31 Chestnut St.,
where we have superior facilities for doing all kinds of work in our line.
Steam Carpet Cleaning.
Ladies' garments, cloth of all description dyed. Dyeing feathers a specialty. Promptness and thoroughness guaranteed.
WILSON BROS. mar25d

DROP ME A POSTAL
and I will call on you with a fine line of Photos and Designs of
MONUMENTAL & CEMETERY WORK
and samples of Granite and Marble of various kinds of colors.
LEVI W. CROUCH, Norwich, Conn.
may24daw

ESTABLISHED IN 1861.
Adam's Tavern,
NORWICH TOWN.
A. A. ADAM, Proprietor.
The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 11 years ago. They have become intensely popular. They sell on their own merits:
Imperial Bourbon, 1ob Ward, 1882, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1881, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.
N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers.
A. A. ADAM.
Telephone call 23—12. feb1d

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR GOOD advertise them in THE BULLETIN.

DRUGS, PAINTS AND OILS.

No Notice Required.
Duggan's Soda Fountain
is prepared to stand all runs upon it by depositors of 5 cents and upwards. Its draughts are pronounced by all as good as gold.
DUGGAN'S SODA FOUNTAIN,
aug29d 99 MAIN ST.

LEE & OSGOOD,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
DRUGGISTS,
129-133 Main St. and 160-164 Water St.
ESTABLISHED : 1788.
SOLE PROPRIETORS OF
DR. DODD'S
Nervine and Invigorator,
A NERVE TONIC
AND
STOMACHIC.
Dodd's Nervine aids digestion, insures good appetite, gives tone and vigor to the system, guarantees sweet and refreshing sleep and restores enfeebled and nervous constitutions to PERFECT HEALTH.
WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF
Atomizers and Perfumes
COLGATE'S EXTRACTS IN BULK.
TOILET ARTICLES
IN GREAT VARIETY
WE MAKE A SPECIALTY OF
Tooth Brushes.
Large Invoice Just Received
25 AND 35 CENTS.
LEE & OSGOOD
NORWICH, CONN.
dec23daw

LUMBER AND COAL.

E. CHAPPELL & CO.
COAL,
LUMBER,
SHINGLES.
Greatest Variety. Largest Stock.
Branch Office, 207 Main St., Franklin Square. Office and Yard, Central Wharf.
Telephones at both offices. nov16daw

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRY
H. F. & A. J. DAWLEY
[illegible]
BUILDING LUMBER & SHINGLES.
They have the largest stock in the city and will make you low prices.
Telephone 63—4. may18d

51 John A. Morgan & Son, 51
Coal & Lumber,
51 West Main St., Central Wharf.
Family Coal a Specialty.
Estimates furnished at short notice. Telephone.
51 [illegible] 51

FINE ARTS.

REMOVED.
McNickle, Picture Frame and Gilding Manuf.,
Has Removed to 36 BROADWAY. You will always find a Complete Line of Artist Proof Etching, Engravings, Prang's Studies and fac simile Water Colors. oct1d

REMOVED—Laighton Brothers
have removed their photograph gallery from the Chelsea Bank Building to No. 86 Shetucket St., in the building with the Henry Bill Publishing Co., where all old patrons will be welcomed and new ones be heartily greeted. Their new rooms are neatly furnished, their facilities for doing first-class work have been much improved. New backgrounds have been put in, and the light for producing photographs has been arranged according to the best methods known to the business. All work promptly attended to.
mar25d LAIGHTON BROTHERS.

DURGAN'S PHOTOGRAPHIC ART STUDIO is the finest and best equipped in Norwich, centrally located, opposite the Wauregan House. Everything that taste, skill and experience can do has been done to facilitate the carrying on of the business in a high-class manner, and all customers patronizing my establishment will be sure of first-class work.
Photos made in every style, and all work satisfactorily finished. Special attention given to large work, such as Crayons, India Ink and Water Colors, or Solar Photos. Copying in all its branches. A large variety of Picture Frames always on hand. J. O. DURGAN.
feb16dWFew

S. S. THRESHER,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Notary Public.
[illegible] Nos. 2 and 3 Bond Hall, Norwich

REAL ESTATE.

Two Furnished Rooms to Let,
With or without board. Apply at aug30d No. 58 SHETUCKET ST.

TO RENT.
Tenement of 8 Rooms. Hot and cold water. Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. 257 West Main street. Rent moderate.
aug2d E. H. ROBBINS, 66 Cliff St.

TO RENT.
ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Room suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug5d

TO RENT.
A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS,
each with all the modern improvements, on Boswell Ave., of ten rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 3 Water St. may1d

TO RENT.
Tenement 112 River Avenue.
apr18d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.
A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, 7 rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 83 Grove street, or inquire of R. M. BREWSTER, 69 Water Street. apr7d

TO RENT.
Tenement on Laurel Hill.
Apply to office of estate of Henry Bill.
aug24WF

TO RENT.
The Large Store with fine Cellar
in the Boswell Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Service & Swanson. Apply to aug4d GEORGE D. COIT.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.
A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.
Horseshoeing in all its Branches.
—11—13—15 Chestnut Street.—
jy17daw

FOR SALE.
Owner going abroad desires to sell immediately at low figures
2 ELEGANT HIGH-BRED SADDLE HORSES,
Extra Style, Perfect Action, Very Handsome, Fearless, Safe and Sound. Can be ridden by a lady; also can be driven. One is a Kentucky Thoroughbred, the other an English Hunter.
aug2d BOX 148, Springfield, Mass.

TO MANUFACTURERS!
A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines convenience and economy, WEEKS' ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest size and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn., Inventor and Manufacturer. nov16d

SUMMER TRAVEL.

STEAMER GYPSY.
CHANGE OF TIME.
On and after FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, until further notice, this steamer will leave here on her morning trip at 8.35, or on arrival of 8.30 electric cars, and on her afternoon trip at 1 31, a half hour earlier than heretofore. This change will give patrons the usual time at the beach and enable them to reach home at 6.30 instead of 7 p. m.
Hereafter when the Gypsy cannot land at beach with safety, due tickets will be furnished to patrons for that point free to and from New London by the agent on board.
aug30d PALMER-SMITH.

New London Steamboat Co.
1893—SEASON—1893.
COMMENCING
SATURDAY, July 1st,
—THE—
STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND
Will make daily trips (Sundays excepted) between Norwich, Montville, New London, Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island. Leaving Norwich 8.15 a. m., Montville 8.45, New London 9.45, touching at Mystic Island and Watch Hill, arriving at Block Island 12.45 p. m.
Returning, leave Block Island at 2 p. m., Watch Hill 3.20, touching at Mystic Island; reaching New London at 5, Montville 5.50, and Norwich 6.15.
E. MACKENZIE, J. A. SOUTHARD,
je30d Supt. G. P. A.

Steamer Ella.
SEASON OF 1893.
— ON —
Friday, June 23
And during [illegible] will make daily excursions to the shore resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.45, Ft. Griswold House 9.50, Mystic Island 10.30 arriving at Watch Hill about 11.15.
Returning, leave Watch Hill at 3.45 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 4.35, arriving about 6.
Special Rates to Excursion Parties.
Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.
[illegible]
JAMES WALKER, Manager,
je20d Norwich Ct.

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION
Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices.
Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.
No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.
[illegible] 18 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD.
DENTIST.
[illegible]

DR. J. H. ELDRED,
DENTIST.
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, Ether or Cocaine administered.
OFFICE—214 Main Street,
Trueman's Block Franklin Square. Residence 18 BROADWAY. cur4d

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES
—OF—
DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.
As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles C. Bliss, 126 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, his entire stock of goods.
CONSISTING OF
Diamond Jewelry,
Gold and Silver Watches,
Sterling Silver Ware,
Gold Chains,
Brooches,
Rings,
French Black Marble Clocks,
French Onyx Clocks,
American Clocks,
Silver Plated Ware,
Pocket Books,
Fancy Goods,
Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.
je8d JOHN BLISS, Administrator.

BOOK BINDERS.

BLANK BOOKS [illegible]
ruled from 1 to 1½.00.
MAGAZINES BOUND
in any style of binding. [illegible]
JOSEPH BRADFORD [illegible]
Gallaudet Building, up stairs. Norwich [illegible]

COWAN, the Bookbinder
will after this date be found on the ground floor,
108 Broadway.

TRAVELERS DIRECTORY.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD
NEW LONDON DIVISION
Change of time.
On and after MONDAY, June 26, 1893,
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NEW LONDON AS FOLLOWS.
[illegible]
GOING SOUTH.
[illegible]
D. MACKENZIE [illegible]

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.
NORWICH & WORCESTER DIVISION
For Boston, Worcester, Providence, Hartford, Waterbury, Newburgh.
Commencing MONDAY, June 12, 1893
"Eastern" Time Standard.
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NORWICH UNION STATION
[illegible]
TRAINS GOING SOUTH LEAVE NORWICH UNION STATION
[illegible]
W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass. Agt.
F. E. DEWEY, Supt.
Norwich, June 12, 1893.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your [illegible] is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

A SURE SIGN

FINZER'S O. H. HONESTY of a good Chewing Tobacco is the red H tin tag on

OLD HONESTY PLUG

It is every chewer's choice; because it is the choicest tobacco in the land. Try it.

JNO. FINZER & BROS.
Louisville, - Ky.

FINANCIAL.

The Co-operative Building Bank
—HAS OVER—
$120,000.00
Security Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A larger showing than all others together. IT IS THE BEST. G. J. WOLCOTT, Treas. 112 Franklin St.

MONROE MILLER & CO.,
Bankers and Brokers,
16 and 18 Broad St., New York City,
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.
DOMESTIC and FOREIGN BANKERS
Securities bought and sold for cash or on margin. Deposits received subject to Sight Draft. Interest allowed on deposits. Foreign Exchange, Commercial Credits, Cable Transfers. Circular letters for travelers available in all parts of the World.

LIVERY TABLE.

EDMUND GEB,
Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.
Good Teams at Reasonable Prices.
363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge.

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable
Horses and teams to let, also a four-seated wagon and 'bus, convenient for parties and picnics, at reasonable prices. Horse clipping done by Oster's Improved Power Machine.
A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

Livery Stables
Orders for Coaches, Landaus, Landaulets and Coupes promptly attended to.
O H REYNOLDS,
TELEPHONE CONNECTION

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened, Bicycles Repaired.
CARRIAGE AND BOAT TRIMMINGS NICKEL PLATED by
A. GOULD,
Industrial Building, near Union Station.

Rapidly Taking the Lead.
Convenient for Guests,
Indispensable to Clerks,
Profitable to Proprietors,
Indorsed by All Hotel Men.

Where we have the boards of advertising to reimburse us for our loss, we will furnish to Hotels. Expense only

THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE HOTEL REGISTER
AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.
Books Registering
[illegible]
Size of page, 8 x 11.

These are the cheapest and best registers on the market.

Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and also a reasonable profit, as the amount expect to get such favorable rates as we give our hotel patrons.

Remember, It is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.

Correspondence or Interviews Solicited.

INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,
Manufacturers of Plain and Advertising Registers, Transfer Registers, Letter Forwarding, Cash and Call Books of every description.
Norwich, - - Conn.

TARIFF QUESTION

Will Take the Place of Silver Controversy Soon.

HOPES OF VACATION FADING.

Extra Session Will Run Into the Regular —Carlisle Will Go Into Retreat.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The tariff question is now undergoing a course of "understudy" preparatory to taking the place of the silver question as soon as that drama is removed from the boards, and perhaps before that event occurs.

The cry "repeal the Sherman law and go home," has been virtually abandoned as impracticable of execution. It has been the expressed wish of the administration that congress should take this course because President Cleveland, Secretary Carlisle and Mr. Wilson, the chairman of the ways and means committee concurred in thinking that a tariff bill could be better prepared while congress was not in session. Mr. Carlisle finds his time during office hours almost wholly taken up by visits from senators and members on matters of patronage, and he has been able to give but little attention to the recommendations which he will make as to the shape which the new tariff bill should assume. He was very anxious that and yesterday it is said he visited the Capitol and had a quiet talk with friendly senators and with Speaker Crisp and Mr. Wilson as to the practicability of bringing this to pass.

Congress Should Adjourn Quickly,

The result of his survey of the field convinced him that all hope of making any break in the continuous course of the extra and the regular session must be abandoned. It is conceded that general legislation will be entered upon in the extra session, and that tariff consideration must run along under all these disadvantageous circumstances. It is understood, therefore, that Mr. Carlisle now contemplates going into "retreat" for a month or so, in order to bring his mind uninterruptedly to the consideration of tariff questions.

The present expectation of Chairman Wilson is that his committee will have a tariff bill ready for the consideration of the house by Nov. 1, next, but certainly not before. A very urgent question which may be forced to the front at an early day is the necessity for making some provision to meet the current obligations of the government. There is a deficiency of from $10,000,000 to $11,000,000 in sight already, and the revenues are running behind the expenditures to the amount of fully $800,000 a day. It is obvious that some method must be devised to check or meet this alarming deficit.

To Put Money in the Treasury

The alternatives before congress seem to be limited to three: 1, a new issue of government bonds; 2, an income tax or some other new impost; 3, an increase of rate in one or more of the existing forms of taxation. Rigid economy in appropriations will not suffice to meet the difficulty. The fixed and unavoidable expenditures of the government are at the present moment

In Excess of Its Income.

It is expected that there may be a test vote in the senate today on Mr. Voorhees' motion to displace the pending national bank bill by the amended Wilson repeal bill. The silver men regard the national bank bill as quite as objectionable as the repeal bill, but they will endeavor to keep it in its place so as to delay action on the silver bill, and if they can succeed in doing so they hope to kill it with kindness by so loading it with amendments as to make its passage impossible. It is, therefore, quite possible that the vote on the question of precedence may give an insight into the relative strength of the silver and anti-silver forces in the senate.

TOTALLY DESTROYED.

Terrible Loss to Shipping Caused by the Storm in Southern Waters.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 31.—The following has been received by the Morning News from Beaufort, S. C.

The shipping at Beaufort and Port Royal suffered almost total destruction in Sunday's storm. The following vessels are either sunk or ashore.

Clara McGilvray, Ragama, Alma Cumming, Will Sumner, tugs Reliance, Juno, Weymouth, Kinkora, Kent, Stone, Ida and Ivanhoe, and steamer Pilot Boy.

The schooner Messenger was blown up Broad river, but sustained no damage, but loss of anchor and cable.

The tugs Bessie Bristol and Cecilia, steamer Rydal Water and schooners O. H. Schuel and Florence [illegible] are safe.

An unknown [illegible] is ashore and [illegible] bottom up in Port Royal sound.

WILL PAY IN GOLD.

Uncle Sam Will Put the Yellow Metal Into Circulation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Gold will be paid out tomorrow by the government to all its employes. The amount that will be disbursed here alone is about $800,000. Congressmen, clerks and all will receive shining gold coin. Much of it is already in circulation here, nearly $700,000 having been paid out in gold here since last Thursday.

The bank runners and others having checks on the treasury now come provided with a heavy hand satchel, in which they place the clinking metal instead of the old large pocketbooks.

Look Out For Smith.

WESTPORT, Conn., Aug. 31.—Sheriff Driscoll has notified the authorities in adjoining towns to be on the lookout for Patrick Smith, a book agent, who disappeared very suddenly on Sunday morning before liquidating a board bill of $37 and returning various sums of borrowed money from business men and others about town.

Lost Two Men Overboard.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Steamer Knickerbocker, which arrived last evening from New Orleans, experienced terrific weather. Her port and starboard rails and bulwarks were carried away fore and aft, and she received other damages about decks. Two men, a seaman and cook, were washed overboard and lost.

Storm Light on Western Banks.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 31.—Fishing vessels arriving from the vicinity of La Have and Western Banks report the recent storm of no account in that region.

Taunton's Electric Running.

TAUNTON, Mass., Aug. 31.—The first electric cars were run over the line of the Taunton Street railway today. They were loaded with officers of the road, city officials and invited guests. The road was found in good condition.

A Fellow Feeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitts must be both of them philosophers, though in different ways.

The other day they were out driving, and after an interval of silence Mrs. Fitts remarked:

"I wonder just what a horse thinks when he is driven in this way. It must be very uncomfortable to be driven here and there, without any idea of what it is all for or where you are going."

THAT MISSING BRIDEGROOM.

Found Hiding in the Hay Loft of Samuel Gove's Barn.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 31.—Mark Alderman, who spent yesterday morning making ready for his wedding at North Adams in the afternoon with Miss Carrie Leveridge, and then failed to put in an appearance at the appointed hour, has been found.

Immediately after his disappearance the police were notified, and with the men at the house started a search, which was unavailing for five hours. The story went around town, and every one was on the lookout for Alderman.

About midnight Samuel Gove went out to his barn, and with a lantern climbed the loft to throw down hay for the morning meal of his horses. He had heard of the missing bridegroom, but was none the less astonished to find him hidden in the hayloft.

Alderman looked a little sheepish when dragged out and asked to explain his strange conduct.

All he would say that he lost his money and could not afford to marry at present. He would not consent to have the ceremony performed so late, and said it must be postponed.

As he had little money to lose people think there must be some other cause. Perhaps he lost his courage, as did Abraham Lincoln, whose wedding was postponed, although it was not related that the war president hid in a hay-mow.

ON THE WARPATH.

Gagui Indians Murder White Settlers and Steal Their Stock.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A special to The Times from Cathuahua, Mex., says: The Gagui Indians are still on the warpath, and hardly a day passes that they do not commit some crime or depredation upon the white settlers living adjacent to their territory. Information reached here yesterday of a raid made on a hiacenda by a band of Gagules near Sanguin. A family name Mangus, consisting of husband, wife and two children, was murdered and several head of stock driven off.

The crime was discovered soon after it had been committed, and about 30 ranchmen, cowboys and sheep herders started in pursuit of the band. The Indians were overtaken in the mountains, and a skirmish ensued, which resulted in several of each side being badly wounded. The Indians were compelled to beat a hasty retreat to their rendezvous, leaving the stolen cattle behind them. A call has been made for more government troops to protect the settlers.

NEWS OF THE SCOURGE.

Habitual Drunkards Are the First and Greatest Sufferers.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Vienna correspondent of The Times telegraphs: There are five patients in the hospital here with choleraic symptoms, but it is believed that they are only cases of choleraic nostras. It is officially announced that four more districts in Galicia are infected with cholera.

Owing to the prevalence of cholera in Italian frontier provinces, the sanitary authorities of Goerz, in Austria, and Barbania and Monte Santa, in Italy, have forbidden the annual religious processions in which thousands of pilgrims take part.

All of the cases of cholera in Buda-Pesth—five cases and three deaths—have occurred in the suburb Altbofen. The cholera returns from Hungary indicate that habitual drunkards are the first and greatest sufferers from cholera and that only a few women have succumbed to the disease.

MINERS' RESUME WORK.

Great Strike in South Wales is Over. [illegible]

LONDON, Aug. 31.—More than 60,000 miners resumed work in South Wales today. Their return to the mines means practically the collapse of the strike in South Wales and Monmouthshire. During their absence from work about 20 of the 204 collieries in those two districts have been shut down.

Some 40,000 men still hold out in South Wales and Monmouthshire, but their yielding to the terms of the owners is regarded as a matter of only a few days. It is understood that in no case have the men who went back to work today obtained the 20 per cent increase in wages for which they struck.

High School Principal Elected.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Aug. 31.—Albert W. Tenyer, a graduate of the Wesleyan university, has been elected principal of the Maynard high school. He has filled a similar position at Westboro for four years past.

Moody Merrill Heard From.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—Moody Merrill of Boston paid this city a flying visit about a fortnight ago, and from all accounts is now in the United States.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

A fatal affray occurred at a French wedding at Grand Falls, Me.

Senator Sherman delivered a speech on the silver repeal question.

Rev. A. C. A Hall, formerly of Boston, was elected bishop of Vermont.

Wrenn defeated Hovey for the national tennis championship at Newport, R. I.

The Nicaragua Construction company has passed into the hands of a receiver.

There is great remonstrance to the granting of druggists' licenses at Melrose, Mass.

Melrose (Mass.) selectmen have granted the Lynn and Boston street railway a location.

Schooner William Rice, loaded with lime, has her cargo on fire in Salem (Mass.) harbor.

The New England Associated California Pioneers of '49 are to meet on Sept. 9 at Boston.

The ninth annual meeting of the Vermont Horse Breeders opened with excellent races.

The Steamship City of Savannah was lost in the storm. The crew and passengers were landed.

Two men were killed and five probably fatally injured at Philadelphia by the falling of a scaffolding.

The Boston city council committee on bicycles favors restriction of speed in the city, but does not favor lanterns.

President Cleveland left Gray Gables for Washington. The operation so much talked of was for a decayed tooth.

The effects of the storm have not yet been felt by the dealers in fruits and garden stuffs at the Boston markets.

The dedication of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and the inauguration of its new president, Rev. C. S. Murkland, Ph. D., took place at Durham.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

The work of four tracking the New Haven will involve an outlay of $13,146,000.

The Pennsylvania is expending $1,300,000 this year on its line between Pittsburg and Altoona.

The railway which is to be built across Alberta will be 1,240 miles long. It is to be completed in 1894.

The Union Pacific has discontinued 10 trains on branch lines and will take off any others which do not show a profit.

ESSEX VETERANS.

Grand Parade of Old Soldiers in Amesbury.

CITY HANDSOMELY DECORATED.

Visiting Grand Army Posts Royally Entertained.

AMESBURY, Mass., Aug. 31.—The parade of the Essex county Grand Army men here today was a successful and pleasant affair for everybody concerned. The weather was cool and delightful, and never before in the history of Amesbury has there been such a large procession as that of this forenoon. Thousands of visitors have thronged the streets. Along the whole line of march the decorations are most profuse, especially on Main street, which is one continuous line of bunting and flags. Being such a perfect day, the veterans who belong to the Essex County Grand Army association turned out in full ranks, and, with the music, made up a Total of Eighteen Hundred Men.

Upon the arrival of the several posts in town, they were escorted by the chief marshal's aids to their several designated places. Division 1 formed on Elm street, right resting on Spring. The second division formed on Carriage avenue, right resting on Elm, and the third division on Congress street, right resting on Elm.

The procession moved over the following route: Elm street to Market square, Market street to Southampton road, countermarch to Market square through Main, Friend, School, Sparhawk, Hillside avenue Greenwood, Main to Monument square, where the parade was reviewed.

The parade disbanded on Elm street, and transportation was taken for Grand Army park, where A Sumptuous Feast Was Served.

After the inner man had been supplied, Senator E. P. Shaw arose and welcomed the guests. Other speakers were Senator Dame, Department Commander Hall, A. F. Currier, Representatives Prevaux and Ricker, and others.

During the afternoon an entertainment was provided in the pavilion, and in quiet, shady nooks in the park could be seen groups of Grand Army men relating their experiences in the battles of Gettysburg, Antietam and Petersburg, and at the fall of Richmond. Sports were held in which only Grand Army men were allowed to participate.

In the evening there was a display of fireworks, followed by dancing until midnight.

VENEZUELAN TROUBLES.

Conspiracy to Overthrow the Government of General Crespo Frustrated.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A conspiracy between the partisans of ex-President Rojas Paul and General Casanas, one of the leading followers of ex-Dictator Palacio, to overthrow the government of General Crespo has been discovered in Venezuela.

Their plan was to overturn the state government of Zulia, seize the forts at the mouth of the lake and from there begin the war upon Crespo's government in Caracas.

National troops and the warship Marriscal de Ayachcho reached Maracaibo just in time to prevent the execution of these plans. Members of the revolutionary committee have been arrested.

MEANS GENERAL TIEUP.

Louisville and Nashville Railroad Has a Big Strike Started.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 31.—Nine hundred men employed in the shops of the Louisville and Nashville railroad in this city struck yesterday afternoon owing to a 10 per cent reduction in wages.

The shopmen in Bowling Green, Memphis and Mobile have gone out. The trainmen, engineers, firemen and conductors, it is said, will not accept a cut in wages. This means that the entire system of 2000 miles will be tied up.

THE MERMAID.

Labrador's great waterfall, the rival of Niagara, was discovered by John McClane in 1839.

The Croton aqueduct is 40 miles long, having 16 tunnels and a collecting reservoir of 3,000,000,000 gallons capacity.

The largest waves are seen off Cape Horn, between latitude 58 south, and longitude 116 west, rising to 40 feet in height and 767 feet long from crest to crest.

The Kennebec river is said to pour a greater volume of water into the sea than any other river on the Atlantic or gulf coast from the St. John to the Mississippi.

Following are the estimates of the five great oceans: Pacific, 71,000,000 square miles; Atlantic, 35,000,000 square miles; Indian, 28,000,000 square miles; Antarctic, 8,500,000 square miles; Arctic, 4,500,000 square miles.

THE ELECTRICIAN.

An electrical horsewhip is the latest in France.

Twenty-five years ago electricity as a mechanical power was unknown. Now $600,000,000 is invested in various kinds of electrical machinery.

A new loud talking telephone has been invented in England. The receiving instrument is said to speak loud enough to be heard all over the room.

The success which attended the use of the electric light in fishing off the California coast has led to the devising of various improved apparatus for that purpose.

The duplex and quadruplex systems of telegraphy, begun by Mr. Edison in 1869 and finished after six years of work, have saved in this country alone the enormous sum of $15,000,000.

THE PHILOSOPHER.

War is the butcher shop of diplomacy.

Grumbling won't pay 1 per cent on the investment.

The golden calf never grows into a cow that gives milk.

If you want to be a happy old man, be a useful young one.

The man who has no business of his own to attend to generally goes to bed tired.

Opportunity rings the doorbell and is gone around the corner before the sluggard gets out of bed.

THE EPICURE.

Port wine is famous for its gout producing qualities.

Oysters are sometimes used in the place of chickens for supper salad.

Lettuce is the best salad served with fish, but all cooked and cold vegetables go well with fish.

A good cheese will be mellow to the touch. Cheese which feels so hard that you cannot press it or the rind is either sour, salted or smoked too much.

Alligator's tail is one of the queer delicacies much prized by southern Creole gourmands, but not the tail of any alligator is desirable. It must be of the proper size and condition. When it is properly cooked, it is most toothsome. It tastes something like turtle.

WAVES OF WATER.

The Nile has a fall of only six inches in 1,000 miles.

In Noble county, W. Va., there is a fathomless sea (of small area, to be sure) of oil and salt water from which gas escapes with a tremendous roar.

The sea is salt by reason of the earth washings which are poured into it. It has different densities because of the influence of rainfalls, evaporations, etc., and would become stagnant but for the working of the great ocean arteries—the currents.

The biggest waterfall in the world is the Kaieteur, or Old Man's fall, of the River Potaro, a tributary of the Essequibo. From a height of 741 feet a sheet of water about 300 feet wide falls perpendicularly into a basin and continues in a series of rapids below.

THE ARCHITECT.

Amsterdam, the capital of Holland, rests on forests of piles.

The city of Ghent, Belgium, stands upon 26 islands, which are connected by 98 bridges.

The old theater of Æmilius Scaurus at Rome comfortably seated 80,000 persons. It was built 1,950 years ago.

Flying buttresses were first employed to support the roofs of churches. Their origin dates from the thirteenth century.

The Roman houses and palaces were so imperfectly lighted that in many living rooms the inmates were forced to depend on lamps by day as well as by night.

BOSTON PRODUCE MARKET.

OATS—The market on oats is irregular. Prices to arrive are fully sustained, to higher, but the stock market is off. Clipped to arrive are quoted at 36½@37c; No. 2 white are quoted at 36½c; No. 2 mixed at 34½c. The spot market has felt the depression of a desire to sell on a dull market, and prices are easier: Clipped 37@38c; fancy, 38c; No. 2 white, nominal at at 37c; mixed nominal, 34@35c.

POTATOES—Potatoes are very steady, at the figures noted yesterday. Sweet potatoes are firmer: Rhode Island and natives, $2@2.50 per bbl; New Hampshire rose and hebrons, 65c per bushel; Aroostook rose and hebrons, 65@70c per bushel; New York white stars, 65c. Sweets sell at $2.75@3, for ordinary to good, and at $3@3.50 per bbl for the best.

MUTTON AND LAMBS—Mutton and lambs are dull and in full supply. Quotations are easier: Choice spring lambs, 9@9½c; common to good, 8@7c; poor and ordinary, 5@6c; Brightons, 9@10c; yearlings, 6½@7c: muttons, 7@8c; choice heavy Brightons, 9@9½c; choice eastern veals, 10@11c; common to good, 6@9c; Brightons and fancy, 10@11c.

FLOUR—The flour market is firm, from the standpoint of the millers. Agents are refusing to sell flour to arrive, at present prices, unless the flour is to be shipped out at once. The millers do not care for orders to be shipped in the future, at present prices. Quotations for this market are steady and unchanged.

CORN—Corn is about steady. No. 2 yellow, to arrive is quoted at 50½c; with No. 2 yellow at 50½c. No. 2 corn is quoted at 49½c. The spot market is steady with sales of steamer yellow at 50½c. Quotations are steady at: Steamer yellow, 50@50½c; steamer mixed, 51@51½c.

CHEESE—Cheese is steady, with the market not changed: Northern full creams, 9½@10c; fair to good, 8@9½c; western choice, 9½@9½c; fair to good, 7½@9c; sage, 9c. Liverpool is cabled at 45s 6d for white, and at 45s 6d for colored.

HAY—There are no changes in hay, while millfeed is pretty firm. Sack spring bran, to arrive, is quoted at $16 50; sack winter, $17 75 @18; sack spring middlings, $17@17 50; sack winter, $18@19 50.

MEAL—The meal markets are quiet and unchanged, at $1 15@1 20 per bbl. on cornmeal, and at 95c@$1 on bag meal. Oatmeal is quoted at $5 00@5 50 per bbl.

EGGS—Eggs are in very fair request, with quotations steady: Western, 16½@18c; Michigan, 16@18c; provincial, 16½@17½c; eastern and northern, 18@20c.

BEEF—In beef, trade is rather quiet, but it is claimed that prices are [illegible]. Still the market favors the buyer.

BUTTER—The butter market is firm at the quotations noted yesterday. Still trade is not lively.

PORK—Pork provisions are steady, with the market unchanged. Trade is quiet.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Dealings in Leading Securities in Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—In the outside market call money is quoted at 8 to 10 per cent, and time money is nominally 6 per cent.

As was to be expected from the sharp rally in stocks, a disposition to take profits on the part of those who had bought on the decline must follow very soon. The movement began to manifest itself this morning, and as there were no orders from investors to sustain prices, it resulted in an irregular and weaker opening. London came steady, but was only a moderate buyer. Fear of a strike on the Louisville and Nashville roads on account of the recent reduction in wages was a disturbing factor in the southwest. Rumors of further trouble among the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company magnates, on account of some heavy bills falling due on the first of the month, and the sacrifice of a block of 15,000 shares by Goodhart, who has been one of the most active buyers of the stock during the rise, unsettled the industrials.

Distilling and Cattle Feeding, then, was the weakest stock on the list, selling down to 16⅝, as against 21⅜ yesterday. The rebates for the half year fall due tomorrow, and the trust is said to be exceedingly pushed to raise the money. The reaction in the stock, however, is no surprise, as the rally has been brought about by the same operators who effected before and by the same stories of prosperity which preceded the other decline. Sugar was weaker on pressure to sell. The common opened ⅛ down at 84, declined to 83¼ but rallied 1, while the preferred was ⅛ off at 84⅝. General Electric dropped to 36, with subsequent recovery, while the preferred held at 60. Atchison was up to 18¼, an advance of ¼, and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy down ⅜ to 78¼. London is a buyer of the first lost now. New England dropped ⅜ to 22, Boston and Maine 1 to 145, while Fitchburg preferred advanced 1 to 75. Union Pacific is ¼ stronger at 20¾, and New York, New Haven and Hartford ¼ up at 183½.

STOCKS—CLOSING.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	17¾
Bell Telephone	182
Boston and Albany	200
Boston and Maine	145
Bay State Gas	9
Calumet	280
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	78¼
Fitchburg	75
Lamson Cash Railway	18¼
Erie Tel.	40
General Electric	37¼
Mexican Central	7¼
New England Tel.	48
Old Colony	180
Pullman	183
Sugar preferred	84¾
West End Land	15
West End R. R.	56
Wisconsin Central	[illegible]

New York Stocks.

Canada Southern	45
Chicago Gas	53¼
Cotton Oil	28¾
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western	133¼
Erie	14¼
Lake Shore	117¾
Louisville and Nashville	58¼
Manhattan	115¼
Michigan Central	98
Missouri Pacific	22¾
National Cordage	20¾
New Jersey Central	101
Northwestern	97¾
Northern Pacific	7¾
New York Central	101¼
New York and New England	27¾
Pacific Mail	11¼
Reading	17¾
Rock Island	62
St. Paul	60¾
Sugar, com	80¾
Union Pacific	21¼
Western Union	79¾
Whisky	16

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Cotton easy; middling uplands 7⅝c; [illegible] sales 7,831 bales. Futures closed barely steady: [illegible] October, 7.80c; November, 7.85c; December, 7.93c; January, 8c; February, 8.07c; March, 8.15c; April [illegible] May, 8.26c.

THE LISTENER.

Ex-Mayor J. W. Kitchens of Fayetteville, Ga., stands 6 feet 4 inches in height and weighs 540 pounds.

Wolf, chief of the Palouse Indians who dwell in California, is claimed to be one of the richest Indian chiefs in the country.

Paul Porlier, who resides near Butte des Morts, Wis., is 104 years old, but as well preserved as the ordinary man of 70. He was born at Green Bay in 1789.

Professor Heinrich Kiepert, the eminent geographer, author of the best existing ancient atlas, has just celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday at Berlin. He is in excellent health.

Prince Bismarck expressed regret the other day that he had not kept up his pianoforte practice and said that he thought that persons having talent for music should cultivate it assiduously.

James Holroyd of Ormskirk, England, a survivor of the famous Light brigade which charged the Russian guns at Balaklava, is a tall and broad shouldered man of 73, soldierly and erect.

Congressman McCall, the newly elected member from the Eighth Massachusetts district, is a tall, slender individual, with a long, preternaturally solemn visage and a head as bald as a baby's.

Philip Macaulay was a little less than 60 years old when he arrived in this country from Ireland in 1849. He is still living, tolerably strong and bright, at the age of 103 years, in Middletown, N. Y.

Congressman W. C. P. Breckinridge of Kentucky, who knows how to talk well and eloquently, says that hard work and plenty of it is essential to a public speaker if he expects to talk effectively.

Sir Samuel Lewis, who has just been raised by Queen Victoria to the dignity of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, is a full blooded negro. He is a member of the legislative council of Sierra Leone.

Robert Bonner is aging rapidly. His hair and beard are white, and he stoops perceptibly. He has long ago given up any active participation in the conduct of his paper, which he has turned over to his sons.

Barnes Greeley, the only surviving brother of Horace Greeley, lives, at the age of 79 years, on the old Greeley homestead at Chappaqua. He is tall, loosely jointed, shambling of gait, with snowy hair and beard and mild blue eyes.

Sir Arthur Sullivan, the song writer, is a short necked, thickset, beetle browed man with curly black hair, mustache and side whiskers, and is somewhat stilted as to manner. He is 51 years of age and has been composing during 35 of them.

Representative Martin of Texas, whose inexperience with gas was made painfully apparent when he first went to congress, is said to have saved more of his salary than any other congressman of recent times. "I may have blown out the gas," he is reported to have said, "but I didn't blow in my cash."

Judge John F. Phillips of the United States court in Kansas City bears the odd middle name of Finis. It was bestowed upon him by his parents [illegible] he was born on the last minute of the last hour of the last day of the last week of the last month of the year. He was the last born of a large family too.

THE CASUAL OBSERVER.

Boston was the first American city to produce an American made umbrella. That was over 80 years ago.

In Holland it is customary, when there is infectious disease in a house, to notify the fact to intending visitors and the public generally by tying a piece of white rag rag round the bell handle.

Sunday dances are said to have become a recognized institution with the "smart set" of London, and, singularly enough, it is the Hebrew portion of society in the metropolis who most rigidly oppose them.

Goust, the smallest separate and independent territory in the world, is situate in the lower Pyrenees, about 10 miles from Oleron, between the boundaries of France and Spain. The people speak a language of their own, a cross between French and Spanish.

The word "ye," as it appears in all old books and legal documents, should always be pronounced as "the," the "y" being only a corruption of the old thorn letter, a symbol which stood in the place of "th," and which was formerly used by printers when difficulties were experienced in "spacing out."

The Height of Courtesy.

Clara—Did you have a nice time on your visit to the Twickenhams?

Maud—They couldn't have treated me better. I had so much attention that I didn't take dinner with them once.—Exchange.

ATTORNEYS.

Charles H. Carpenter,
PENSION ATTORNEY
Office with A. Irving Royce, over Thames National Bank. Special attention given to the execution of vouchers for quarterly payments. Advice free. No fee unless claim is granted.

REMOVAL.
Dr. W. S. C. Perkins has removed to 23 Broadway. Office hours, 1 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Residence, 20 Broad street.
Dr. Chas. H. Perkins, 21 Broadway. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m. Residence, 20 Broad street. Telephone at residence.

Alonzo H. Converse,
PAINTER.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging. Wall Tinting in all its branches.
145 Little Water St.
Graining done for the trade.

INTERIOR and EXTERIOR
Decorative House Painting.
D. S. UNDERWOOD,
Residence 55 Franklin St.

VIOLIN INSTRUCTION.
Fall term begins Sept. 1st. For terms address, until Sept. 1st, E. E. BAKER, Pequot House, New London, Conn.

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY.
Goods called for and delivered free of charge. Lace Curtains and all Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.
145 Little Water St.
Family Washing at special rates.

All persons having unpaid bills against the town of Norwich are requested to present the same for payment at this office before the close of the fiscal year ending September 1, 1893. THURSTON B. LILLIBRIDGE, Chairman of Board of Selectmen.

I HAVE A ODORLESS PUMP
[illegible] Vaults and Cesspools. Orders sent to my address will be promptly attended to. CHAS. WOOD, Box 641 Norwich, Conn.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Five Gallon Oil Can.
LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,
191 Water St.,
AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

FLOUR
Is the lowest ever known, and Bread is the cheapest Food that can be used. The Flour that makes the Best Bread and the most loaves of Bread is
"PILLSBURY'S BEST"
For Sale Everywhere.
SMITH, NORTHAM & CO.,
HARTFORD, CONN. MILLER'S AGENTS.

GROCERIES.

FILL YOUR Lunch Baskets
—AT—
RALLION'S.
[illegible]

FRUIT JARS.
Mason's Improved.
A. T. OTIS.

WE'RE STILL HERE!
AT 300 FRANKLIN STREET,
AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE.
Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or a wildcat bank. Come and see us and bring the children.
H. D. AVERY.

Kingan Hams.
The BEST Ham in the world 16c lb. Every Ham warranted.
J. A. STODDARD & SON.,
[illegible] Franklin St.

Cliquot Club Ginger Ale,
Cowdry's Deviled Meats,
Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken
—AT—
R. S. BARTLETT'S,
4 and 6 Breed Opera House.

Concentrated Claret Lemonade
Lime Juice and
Imported Ginger Ales, at
A. L. ALLEN'S

HORSES
TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES
at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St. by the new Veterinary, DR. E. L. TOWER, graduate from Ontario Veterinary College.

J. H. GARDNER, JR., D. V. S.
VETERINARIAN.
Office—Chapman's Stables, 16 Bath Street.
Telephone 183-12

CAUTION.

There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. We have no agents in Norwich.

G. E. TRAFTON, Mgr.
REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO.
Office 27 Shetucket St., Norwich, Ct.

THE TIME TO BUY IS WHEN THE OTHER FELLOW WANTS TO SELL

WE WANT TO SELL

OFFICE STATIONERY WILL NEVER BE CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,
BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

pure pure pure pure pure pure pure pure

CAKE
Keeps Fresh
if made with Cleveland's
Baking Powder.

pure pure pure pure pure pure pure pure

VETERAN FIREMEN.
Regular Meeting this Friday Evening, Sept. 1st, Steiner's Building. Per order President. sept1d EZRA S. HOWARD, Secretary.

Bluefish. Bluefish.
FRESH CAUGHT
Block Island Bluefish at CHURCH BROTHERS.
sept1d

FALL DUNLAP HATS OPENED TODAY AT PRENTICE'S
sept1MWF

FRUIT OF ALL KINDS
FOR CANNING,
—AT—
WHEELER BROS'. sept1

THE BOSTON STORE

Upholstery
Department.

We open today a magnificent assortment of fine quality

Smyrna Rugs!
at LOW PRICES.

The designs are new and the colorings most effective. The sizes are 18, 21, 26, 30 and 36 inches.

Reid & Hughes.
sept1daw

Do You Know Any One
Who is Hard to Suit?
Bring him in. We can make all sorts of Suits for the different kinds of days to be lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable.
GEO. E. CLARK,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 4, Shannon Block.
jy1d

REMOVAL.
OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN
OCULIST and AURIST,
To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.
[illegible]
jel6d

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Friday September 1, 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before 6:30 a. m.
Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co.

The Weather Today.

Indications for Connecticut: Increasing cloudiness and probably rain in the evening.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

Royal Arcanum meets tonight at 7.45.

Mrs. John Irish was very comfortable Thursday.

Today is Temperance day at the Mystic peace meeting.

The county commissioners will meet in New London today.

No offenders were prosecuted in the city court Wednesday.

The Willimantic county fair is to be held September 26, 27 and 28.

Westerly people are insisting that their unsightly telephone poles be painted.

Wheelmen are invited to trim their wheels and join the parade on Labor day.

Dr. Pendleton and family of North Stonington are soon to remove to this city.

The holiness meeting at 3 p. m. today, opposite the post office, will be led by G. W. Ela.

Regular meeting of Gen. Burnside Council, O. U. A. M., this evening at 8 o'clock.

The schooner Bayles, lying on the beach at Niantic, is being stripped of everything valuable.

The Rev. Silas Weaver, formerly of Leffingwelltown, is at present preaching in Shannock, R. I.

Lieutenant Remsey, secretary of the board of naval examiners, is registered at the Crocker house, New London.

The father of Frank Sheffield, the Westerly man who killed his child at Rocky Point, formerly lived on Cott street in this city.

B. J. Marley, who has been assistant superintendent of the People's Industrial company of Willimantic, has been called to the office in this city.

Among other changes due to general depression is the discharge by the Adams Express company of two old employes, Joseph Tucker and Henry D. Capen.

The funeral services of Mr. Joshua S. York were held at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon at his late home in Preston. Burial was in the Poquetanuck cemetery.

The current number of The Moslem World contains an interesting article from the pen of Lyman B. Pendleton of New London, entitled "An Algerian Incident."

Thomas F. Callahan of this city graded and turfed the handsome terraces on the new hospital grounds. He has laid 41,848 square feet of turf in the past three months.

Watch Hill hotel guests are having an opportunity of purchasing goods from two Shakeresses from Lebanon, N. H., who are at the Hill disposing of fancy goods.

Two of the brothers whom the trustees of the Odd Fellows' home had voted to admit to the home have died before the time came to take up their residence at Fairview.

The New Haven Union of Thursday published a description of the new Masonic temple in course of construction here. The article was illustrated by a cut of the building.

The funeral of B. Meader Carroll of New London, one of the lamented victims of Tuesday's storm, was held Thursday afternoon from the Second Congregational church at 2.30.

Members of Riverside division, Sons of Temperance, and friends of New London will visit Buckingham division of Norwich this evening, when a public meeting will be held.

Carpenters of the Transportation company from New London came here Tuesday and, with rollers, removed the Norwich freight office from its dangerous position on to the wharf.

A Norwich man who walked from Westerly across country Thursday saw men and boys out hunting, contrary to law, and the boys were amusing themselves killing a bevy of young quail.

George L. Tirrell of the Wesleyan university ball team is pitching winning ball for a Northampton nine, this summer, in a series of games for the semi-professional championship of Massachusetts.

Mr. Frank S. Aldrich, of the firm of Larkin & Aldrich, proprietors of the Larkin house at Watch Hill, returns to Providence on Saturday, to resume his old position as treasurer in Keith's opera house.

Visitors to Peace meeting at Mystic have been interested in watching the manipulation of the new seaweed rake along the water front opposite the grove. This implement is the invention of Ambrose Clark, a deaf mute of Mystic.

The remains of little Maggie Sheffield were brought to Westerly Tuesday afternoon in charge of Undertaker Hinckley. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at her father's home, 27 Liberty street. Her uncle, the Rev. G. E. Brightman of Attleboro, Mass., conducted the services.

The American Wool and Cotton Reporter makes note of the fact that the cotton mills of the Williamsville Manufacturing Co., Danielsonville, employing 600 looms and 400 employes, closed Aug. 26 for a week, on account of the depression and for repairs.

An epidemic is quite prevalent among horses in New Haven, Bridgeport, New York and Fall River and in many other seaport towns. It takes the form of typhoid diphtheria, choking the animal in a short time. The disease has proved fatal in many instances and seems to have its best hold near the salt water.

It is stated along the Rhode Island shore that fruit trees were injured, at a distance of five miles back from the ocean, by spray from the breakers being driven inland by the fierce wind that prevailed during the heavy gale accompanying the storm of last week.

Hon. J. N. Harris of New London has given another sum of $50 to the New London Business college, and the scholars in that institution will have an opportunity to gain another J. N. Harris prize by excelling in attendance, deportment and proficiency. The prize will be divided into three awards of $25, $15 and $10 respectively.

A special meeting of Union lodge of Masons of New London was called for last evening to take such action as was proper in recognition of the death of Mr. Lynch, who was for so many years one of the most active members of that body. He was also a member of Pequot lodge of Odd Fellows, and that society will be represented at the funeral.

Connecticut will be represented in the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., which will meet in Milwaukee, Wis., Monday, Sept. 18, by ex Judge George H. Cowell of Waterbury, and P. G. M., C. P. Ware of New London. The Grand Encampment will be represented by J. E. Camp of New Haven and J. S. Kinney of Norwalk.

It is reported that the yacht Priscilla is for sale where she now lies, off Napatree Point. The sudden calm of Tuesday afternoon so quieted the waves that the boat was saved from the fury of breakers. Captain A. E. Wright of the yacht has been in consultation with wrecker Scott of New London.

Two fire alarm boxes, 36 and 52, at the Falls, were burned up by getting in the circuit of the electric trolley Tuesday. A gong on the William M. Williams engine house and another on a pole at the Falls were also burned out. At present box 37 is the only one in that section that can be used and the others cannot be replaced for a week.

Among the acts of the last legislature was a section that provides that "no street or highway shall be obstructed by a railroad train for a longer time than five minutes. Any person so obstructed may recover from the railroad company $10 and costs, provided the suit be brought within thirty days from the date of the offense complained of."

The New London Day says: Congressman Charles A. Russell hopes to push New London's public building scheme forward so contracts can be made this fall and winter to begin work in the spring and carry it along without interruption then to completion. He anticipates that they will begin preparation of plans for the New London building in from four to six weeks.

A motor man and a clerk went down the river Thursday afternoon and stopped off at Stoddard's wharf, where a wagon was to meet them and conduct them to a rendezvous three miles distant. The wagon was not on hand and they walked the three miles expecting to find it there. Here they were again disappointed and were obliged to walk home. The motor man was off duty at night, and the clerk fell asleep while waiting for customers.

Mrs. Enoch F. Chapman of Laurel Hill avenue is weakening rapidly, and her death is only a question of a few days at the most. An incurable illness which has repeatedly required surgical treatment has kept Mrs. Chapman indoors since April last. Her relatives have been with her for some time, and all that solicitous care can do to make her last hours comfortable has been done with persistent tenderness.

Thomas Jennings, son of Charles B. Jennings, while bathing at Ocean beach Wednesday, dove into shallow water with the result that he struck on his head and so injured himself that the concussion almost paralyzed his right side. It left him almost powerless to use his right arm. Gradually he became better and was able to go home. Mr. C. B. Jennings is a brother-in-law of Mrs. John F. Parker of this city.

Superintendent Alec Seymour and his force of road builders will leave the Laurel Hill extension today and return to the Thames street portion of the electric road, which will be rapidly pushed to completion, a matter of probably two weeks' work. The Laurel Hill portion is now laid as far as the store, with the exception of the stretch where blasting is required on this line. The poles are not all set. Under favorable conditions the men are able to place on an average twenty-five poles daily.

PEOPLE WHO COME AND GO.

Where Health and Rest Seekers Are.

Fred Vergason leaves today for Chicago and the World's fair attractions.

Miss Sarah Crawford of Norwich is visiting friends in Willimantic.

Robert H. Breckenridge of Prospect street is attending the World's fair.

Mr. Chas. Dobbrow of Wood River is at his home in Baltic for a brief visit.

The Rev. and Mrs. Wm. S. Palmer have returned to their Norwich Town home.

Miss Louise Bailey of Montville is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Frank Green of Charlestown.

The Rev. Hanson Closson of Norwich, so states The Tribune, was in Middletown Wednesday.

Shepard B. Palmer, Arthur H. Lathrop and Herbert B Carey go tonight to the World's fair.

G. Percival Bard will be in Chicago next week attending the World's Columbian exposition.

Miss Ada L. Martin of Prospect street will go to Providence today for an outing trip.

The Rev. J. V. Osterhout and wife of Providence are being entertained by Niantic cottagers.

R. S. Bartlett left Thursday afternoon for Fisher's Island, where he will rest for a few days.

Miss Alice V. Brown of the Free Academy art school and her mother left town Thursday for a brief vacation trip.

Mr. Conrad Schlemmer and Mr. Conrad Volmer of Bean Hill are visiting relatives in Brooklyn and New York City.

Letter Carrier Frank Murtha is on his annual vacation. He will visit Providence, Hartford and New York while off duty.

Miss Alice Hunt of North Windham, who has been taking in the wonders of the Columbian exposition, started for home Thursday.

Mr and Mrs. Edward F. Kinney are spending a few days at the home of Deacon F. S. Kinney and Mrs. Joseph Yerrington of Preston.

Miss Mary L. Hinckley and mother, who have been occupying a cottage at the Willimantic camp ground since June, will return to town on Monday.

Mrs. Frank Clark, formerly Miss Henrietta Safford of Summer street, who has been visiting her parents, has returned to her home in Lima, N. Y. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Morgan Safford, and goes by the way of Springfield, where both will be the guests of Mr. Gurdon Bill, a relative.

Mrs. Ephraim Stoddard, with her granddaughter, the daughter of City Attorney Crandall, has been spending the summer at her home at Stoddard's wharf, in which neighborhood she has lived 78 years. She has decided not to return to her city home for the present. Miss Mary S. Crandall will return on Monday.

Miss Polly Sanders of Fountain street left Norwich for Carbon, Wyoming, on Monday evening, where she will meet and be wedded to Mr. Thomas Buckley, a young Englishman to whom she is engaged. Miss Sanders met Mr. Buckley in England while on a visit there two years ago. Mr. Alfred Freeman and Miss Gertrude Sanders accompanied her to New York.

MARRIED.

MOWRY — WILLIAMS — This 30th day of August, by the Rev. A. S. Brown, Mr. S. Jared Mowry to Miss May E. Williams, both of Norwich.

DIED.

CONNELL—At Bean Hill, Aug. 31, Grace, daughter of John and Mary Connell, aged 1 year 7 days.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TURNER'S Great Consumption Cure and Indian Remedy—Sure cure for a Cough, Cold, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Throat and Lung troubles; the worst cases of Consumption have been cured by this Wonderful Remedy. 50 and 25c per bottle. For sale by Appley & Jordan, Grocers, 63 Central Wharf. L. C. TURNER, sole proprietor, Norwich, Conn.
sept1d

O. U. A. M.
Regular Meeting of Gen. Burnside Council No. 53, O. U. A. M., this Friday Evening, Sept. 1st, at 8 o'clock, in Red Men's Hall. Work in the First degree will be exemplified. All members of the council and persons entitled to the First degree requested to be present.
Per order of C.
sept1d TYLER J. HOWARD, R. S.

For FRESH BLUEFISH Caught THURSDAY
Go to POWERS BROS'.
Choice lot received last evening.
Their Oysters R Good.
Telephone 136 4. sept1d

School Shoes.
See our new lines at
$1.00, $1.25 and $1.50.
Frank A. Bill,
sept1daw 104 MAIN STREET.

A CYCLONE
Struck our CLOTHING. Prices blown to fragments. SUITS and PANTS so low can't go any lower unless we give them away. Don't wait. Buy now and
SAVE MONEY.
The cry of hard times does not effect the sale of
CANTBUSTEM PANTS
Never rip. Get back your money if they do
The Manhattan Clothing Co.,
sept1TuF&w 119 MAIN STREET.

SHOE TALK!
The close attention we give to our Shoe Department to make it satisfactory to the people is rewarded by a constant increase in our sales, and we are very thankful to know that our efforts are well appreciated.
We offer this week:
Men's Genuine Kangaroo Shoes, Lace and Congress, $2 25, were $3.00.
Men's Genuine Dongola Lace and Congress Shoes, $2 00, were $2 50
Men's Light, Stylish Lace and Congress Shoes, $1.50, worth $2 00.
Boys' Tap Sole Shoes, Strong and Serviceable. 95c.
Boys' Base Ball Shoes, Genuine Calf Trimmed, 50c, worth $1.00.
Men's Tennis Shoes, 40c.
Boys' Tennis Shoes, 35c.
Child's Tennis Shoes, 35c.
Alling Brothers,
sept1daw Broadway Opera House Block.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.
THE CROSOTKE BROTHERS
Have enlarged their business by purchasing the Barber Shop of W. G. Carey, No. 25 West Main St.
sept1d

NOTICE—WHEELMEN!
Trim your wheel and join the parade of Wheelmen on LABOR DAY. Line will form on Washington square and marching to Franklin square will be joined by the band and proceed to the Fair Grounds. Form at Washington square at 12. Parade leaves Franklin square at 12.30.
Rose of New Eng and W. C. men, remember. Full uniform.
sept1d W. F. LESTER, Capt.

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE
Norwich, Conn.
EARL M. SWIFT,
And Assistant-Teachers of Ability and Experience.
Fall Term Begins
Tuesday, Sept. 5.
On and after Aug. 15 the College office will be open from 1.30 to 3.30 to receive applicants for membership.
aug15daw

COLUMBIAN FLAKES
The New Breakfast Dish. Try them.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL AT
WELCOME A. SMITH'S.
aug31

On Sunday, Sept. 3.
—THE—
Steamer Ella
Will make an excursion to
WATCH HILL,
Leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.
ja5d

NO OLD STOCK.
Two Big Drives
New Windsor Ties, 15c; worth 25c.
Lisle Thread Hose, 25c; worth 50c.
—AT—
HOUGH'S NEW STORE,
aug29d OPP. WAUREGAN HOTEL.

DOG LOST—On Saturday night, Aug. 26, an Irish Setter, light yellow with white spots on his head. Finder will be rewarded for returning him to 101 Forest St. aug30d

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.
Ladies' Trimmed Hats at 75c.
Untrimmed Hats from 10c up.
$1.25 will buy a Ladies' Trimmed White Felt Sailor. They are all the go.
Veilings from 15c a yard up.
Children's White Dresses 25c, worth 50c.
Infants' Pink and Blue Striped Flannel Jackets at 25c, reduced from 50.
Corsets in White and Red at 50c, were $1.
A few more of the 5c Stamped Splashers and Tray Cloths.
Also a large line of Stamped Bureau Scarfs, Pillow Shams, Table Covers, etc., at
B. GOTTHELF & CO.
120 MAIN STREET.
aug30d Wholesale and Retail.

NORWICH FREE ACADEMY.
Opening of Fall Term.
Normal Department Opens Tuesday, Sept. 5
Candidates who have not seen Miss Carlisle are requested to do so at the Slater Memorial building, on Saturday, Sept. 2, or Monday, Sept. 4, between 4 and 5.30 p. m.
Art School Opens Tuesday, Sept. 26.
For full information as to the various courses address Miss A. V. V. Brown, or inquire at the Slater Memorial building.
Entrance examinations to the Free Academy will be held on Monday, Sept. 11, and Tuesday, Sept. 12, commencing at 9 a. m.
Candidates conditioned last June in Spelling, Grammar or Geography will present themselves on Monday; those conditioned in Arithmetic or U. S. History on Tuesday. Old pupils of the Academy will make up omitted or deficient examinations on Tuesday.
aug8d ROBERT P. KEEP, Principal.

TODAY
PEACHES
FOR CANNING
—AT—
SOMERS BROTHERS.
This is the right time for canning, as these peaches are good and very cheap. Don't miss this opportunity.
aug31d

A WOMAN'S CHANCE TO MARRY.
¼ of 1 per cent. from 50 to 60 years of age.
¾ of 1 " " 45 to 50 " "
2½ " " 40 to 45 " "
3¾ " " 35 to 40 " "
15½ " " 30 to 35 " "
18 " " 25 to 30 " "
52 " " 20 to 25 " "
14½ " " 15 to 20 " "

Wedding Shoes a Specialty at
Herren'S,
Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's.
Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug31d

-:-FURNACES.-:-
Now is the time to have your Furnaces put in order, or if you need a new one now is the best time to have it set. If you wish a
Steam or Hot Water Heater
The Richmonds
are ahead of anything with the latest improvements, and
J. P. BARSTOW & CO.
Will make you the Lowest Prices possible.
RICHMOND RANGES!
A SPECIALTY.
HOUSEFURNISHING GOODS.
Quality the best and prices lowest. Call and see us.
23 and 25 Water Street aug30daw

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO RENT.
3 minutes from Post Office, Lower Tenement, 7 rooms, hot and cold water, with separate bath and closet. J. BRADFORD, aug1d Bookbinder, Bulletin Building

DR. N. P. SMITH,
Office No 8 Broadway.
Hours 11 a. m., to 1 p. m., 4.30 to 8.30 p. m.
aug31 RESIDENCE 263 MAIN ST.

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,
CALL AT
FRISWELL'S,
who has had 20 years experience, and latest improved method, and be properly fitted with Spectacles and Eye Glasses.
jy28d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels,
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.
Collins Turbine Machine Co.
je6d

Appropriate to the Times
[illegible]
WHITNEY,
Of 41 Broadway,
In the Central building,
will sell the new goods now arriving almost daily at the same low bargain prices he has been getting for his old stock.
This is no time for large profits, and if you want anything at all in China, Glassware, Tinware and House Furnishing Goods, you can save money by buying at
— WHITNEY'S —
Try and See!
Free delivery of goods throughout the city and suburbs. aug29daw

All Kinds Of
Picture Frames
And an elegant line of FRAMED
—AND—
UNFRAMED PICTURES
Can be found at
M. J. Farrell's
Art Parlors,
61 Broadway.
jel6daw

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,
HAMMOCKS CHEAP.
At PITCHER & MAINE'S
jy28d 60 No. Main St.

WHY?
—NOT USE—NORWICH
FOLDED
PAPER
CARPET
LINING.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS. je8MWF

TO RENT.
UPPER TENEMENT OF 4 ROOMS AND store room at 46 Main Street. Apply to aug7MWF B. H. BERKWITS.

WORTH TRYING.
—AN—
ICE CREAM
Made From Pure Cream
From the Makers Own Dairy.
EVERY KNOWN FLAVOR.
KEEPS HARD ONE HOUR.
QUART BRICKS, 40c. PINTS, 25c
N. D. SEVIN & SON.
aug26daw

MILLINERY.
Brown Trimmed Sailors
69c.
A fine Hat for early Fall or School wear.
T. B. McCLENATHAN.
Wholesale and Retail. aug29daw

No. 10.
THIS MORNING I shall unload a fancy car of PEACHES.
J. C. WORTH.
aug29TuF

Received This Day a Complete Line of
OUTING SUITS and SILK and LAWN SHIRT WAISTS.
MRS. E. D. SYDLEMAN je8MWF

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

7%
Guaranteed Bond Certificates.
UNITED STATES
SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY,
Paid in Capital $1,000,000
Subscribed Capital $3,000,000
An Absolutely Safe Investment.
Desirable for Personal Trust Funds, etc.
Denominations $100, $1,000 and $10,000.
E. G. MACE and GEO. E. SMITH, GEN. AGTS.
Office 6 Shannon Building, Norwich.
aug18fuF

THE BEST SPONGES
For Washing Carriages
Can be found at HOWE'S.
aug28MWF

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,
13 Washington Street.
GENERAL PRACTICE AND THE EYE.
Office hours: 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 p. m. Telephone 33-3. may3d

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With
SURE KILL FLY PAPER.
5 Cent's a Package.
-Steiner's Pharmacy-
aug19d SHANNON BUILDING.

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK
A. PLAUT,
The well-known Bargain Dealer, will commence MONDAY, Aug. 28th, to close out the balance of his Bargains regardless of value or cost. Headquarters at 210 Main St. aug28d

WHY NOT EXCHANGE?
You Want Fruit Jars.
We Want Money,
And have made our prices on Fruit Jars so low that it will be to your advantage to make the exchange with us.
SMITH BROS.
aug29d

LOOK OUT
—FOR—
FRUIT JARS
Preston Bros.
SELL THEM
CHEAP.
aug29d

PRICES TELL THE STORY.
THE PRICES THAT FALVEY
IS SELLING
Straw Hats and Negligee Shirts
at, are bringing the people right to his store, and all express surprise at the bargains. We have lots of them left. Come and see us. We will please you as we did your neighbors.
T. J. FALVEY,
aug21MWF Shannon Building

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at
HOTEL SOUTH SHORE
On Lake Michigan, four blocks from the entrance to
The World's Fair Grounds.
One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls.
All for $36.00.
R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with or without Hotel accommodations by
E. P. TURNER, 187 E. Broad St.,
aug10d Norwich, Conn.

TO RENT.
A Large Store No. 105 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St., formerly occupied by T. H. Eldredge as a Hardware store. For further particulars, call on or address NICHOLAS TARRANT, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, 31 Main Street. mar10d

CROCKER'S
Magical Stomach Powders
Have been known to cure the much-dreaded Kidney trouble. In its incipient state the disease readily gives way before them. Always safe to take, no matter what the complaint or time of taking. jy6d

CLOTHING.

THE PUBLIC
Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in Men's and Children's FALL SUITS!
—AT—
MURPHY & McGARRY.
aug31

FOOT WEAR.

LADIES!
Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3.00. Call and see them
Geo. W. Kies & Co.
aug26daw

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11.690 NORWICH, CONN. SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2. 1893—SIX PAGES SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

THIS MORNINGS NEWS.

City and Vicinity.

Southerly winds; light showers.
The railroad accident at Chester—Return of Dr. Pratt and wife.
People who come and go
Reception to Principal Nivers at Greeneville.
Norwich people at Watch Hill.
Miss Mary Witter seriously injured
A harvest of clams at Saybrook.

State.

A $20,000 fire at Rockville.
Dr. Lee of New Haven succeeds in getting his bail reduced from $10,000 to $3,000.
A New Haven lumber vessel lost—crew saved.

[illegible]

[illegible]
The experience of a penniless bride.
Anxiety over the non-arrival of steamship Alva.
Disabled steamship Sarnia arrives at Queenstown.
No receiver expected for the whiskey trust.
The Chester bridge alleged to have been in a weak condition.
All arrangements completed for the G. A. R encampment at Indianapolis.
Cholera rapidly spreading in Austrian Galicia.
Another chapter in the Central American wrangle.
The president and Mrs. Cleveland back in Washington.
A Pennsylvania coal mine on fire.
The Thorndike worsted mill destroyed by fire.
Racing at Fleetwood park.
Mexicans invade Texas.
Emma Goldman to be tried for inciting to riot.

SPECIAL.

USE

Shipman's

CARBOLIC

OINTMENT,

The most healing preparation in the world

FOR MAN OR BEAST.

For sale by all druggists. jy6d

DO NOT

SLUMBER

UNTIL YOU HAVE

Dr. Hough's

COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM

Ready for immediate use.

Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc.

PRICE 25 Cents.

Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers jy6dw

FREE

Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.

ELIXIR OF LIFE

The great family medicine.

guaranteed to cure

HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,

SICK-HEADACHE,

DYSPEPSIA,

and all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by

LEE & OSGOOD.

Sick Headache

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose. 40 in a vial. Purely Vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1

Carter MedicineCo., Proprietors

NEW YORK.

Sold by all Druggists. eodldaw

Most People Like to Know

The name of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.

Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure

IS THE BEST. TRY IT.

Sold by all Druggists and Grocers. At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD.

Norwich Line to New York.

Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 9.25 and 9.55 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.

Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 9 p. m., for New York.

Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 5

For state-rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 28 Shetucket street. Telephone call 149-2.

THOMAS CLARK, President.
O. L. JOHNSON, JR.,
Secretary and Treasurer.

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,

VETERINARIAN,

Office 10 Bath Street. Office hours 1.30-4.

Telephone [illegible]

THAYER'S DYE WORKS,

John F. Amburn, Proprietor, 180 Boswell ave.

All kinds of Dyeing promptly done. Bed blankets thoroughly cleaned. Ladies' and Gent's garments dyed in the best possible manner.

Watering Silk a Specialty.

Orders left with J. B. MYERS at

Circulating Library, No. 164 Main St

will receive prompt attention.

ESTIMATES FOR ALL KINDS OF PRINTING furnished on application to this office

SLASHED HIS FACE WITH A WHIP.

The Judges Fine Budd Doble $100 for Striking Kelly

AT FLEETWOOD PARK.

Margrave Easily Wins the Hartford Purse for 3 Year Olds.

FLEETWOOD PARK, N. Y., Sept. 1.—In spite of the threatening weather, 3 000 persons attended the races at Fleetwood today. In the opening heat of the free-for-all pace the horses got away on very even terms. When they reached the lower turn Blue Sign, Roy Wilkes and Vitello got into a scrimmage, in which the Blue Sign was cut down very badly and crippled for life in the forward leg.

In the meantime Budd Doble and Kelly were fighting it out with Manager and Flying Jib, and at the last half mile Doble tried to go through next to the rail, when Kelly drew in on him, thinking he would pull his horse up. Instead of doing this Doble ran the pacer up to Kelly's sulky and deliberately slashed him with his whip, causing an ugly wound on Kelly's face. The latter then opened up the space and Doble tried to gain, but Kelly held him up to the stretch, when Doble used his whip to good advantage on Manager, and landed him a winner by half a length.

The behavior of the two drivers displeased the judges, so they decided to fine Doble $100, and Kelly had to be satisfied with fifth place in the heat. Manager took the race.

In the fifth heat Flying Jib went to the half in 1 01¼, beating all previous track records.

The Hartford purse for three year olds brought only two horses to the post, Margrave winning easily.

In the final heat of the 2.24 trot, King Wood finished first, but he was put back for being out of his stride, and the race was given to Charley Green. Gray Dawn won the four-year-old race easily.

BASE BALL.

At Buffalo:
Albany [illegible]
Buffalo [illegible]

At Binghamton:
Providence [illegible]
Binghamton [illegible]

At Erie, Pa.:
Erie [illegible]
Troy [illegible]

A Stranger Royally Welcomed at Willimantic.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., Sept. 1.—A jaunty appearing young man, wearing a straw hat bound with red ribbon, came here on Saturday. He gave his name as "Lawrence P. Graham, with the Sidney Drew Theatrical company," then summering at Newport, and said he was on the way to join the company in New York, and stopped over to see friends at the Eight Bells company. He was royally entertained by the Thread company's people and the city bicyclists. On Monday night he received a $30 check from a rich uncle in Providence, and had it cashed by W. H Carr & Co. Tuesday night he received a $40 check from his uncle, scolding him for spending money so freely. He had it indorsed by Dr. Wilcox On Wednesday Graham left town suddenly. This morning notices of protest were received. The checks were drawn on the old National bank of Providence by Charles M. Berry. More checks are said to have been passed here.

Loss of a New Haven Lumber Vessel.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 1.—Information has just arrived here of the loss of the big lumber vessel Harold C Beecher of this city. She started from Brunswick, Ga., on Monday with a cargo of 345,000 feet of lumber, bound for this city, but was caught in the cyclone off the Maryland coast and sunk. The loss of the cargo alone is estimated at $15,000.

The vessel was owned by several New Haven capitalists, E Harris Weaver being the managing owner. The crew of the vessel escaped to an island, but all got away in safety, and are on their way back to this city

Last Sad Rites.

PUTNAM, Sept. 1—The funeral of the Rev. Fr. Chapdelaine of Voluntown took place this morning from St Mary's church. All the Catholic societies turned out. Seventeen priests from various parts of the state attended. Among them was the Rev. Fr Kennedy of Norwich. The St. Mary's and Cadet bands escorted the funeral procession from the church to the place of burial in St. Mary's cemetery. The pall bearers were: Louis Chapdelaine, Louis Chapdelaine, Jr., Eustache Bibeau and Alfred Authier.

Taken to the Springfield Hospital.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 1.—Ten injured persons from the Chester wreck on the Boston & Albany railway were brought to the Springfield hospital this afternoon. They are Winthrop Wade of Boston, a lawyer; A. H. Porter of Chicago, a Wagner car porter; Ralph De Forest of Boston, a cook on the dining car; Murray Graves of Boston, another cook; Louis Buchanan of Boston, Sumner Cummings and wife of Boston. Almost all these injured have broken hips or legs, except Porter and DeForest, who are severely scalded.

Trying to Save the Oyster Crop.

NEW HAVEN, Conn, Sept. 1—A large gang of laborers have been employed for several days in an arduous plan to save the local oyster crop. They dig over the entire farms, scraping aside the deep layer of sand, bringing the oysters to the surface and then transplanting them in another spot. This is an expensive resort, but it is thought that it will result in saving about half the oyster crop.

Disastrous Fire at Rockville.

ROCKVILLE, Conn., Sept. 1.—Tolland street, four miles from this city, was visited by a disastrous fire early this morning, resulting in a loss of many thousand dollars.

The post office building and the County house, the ancient hotel of the place, were entirely destroyed, and the Tolland county jail, adjoining the hotel, was badly damaged.

The total loss was about $20,000, with only $5,000 insurance.

Great Damage to the Fishing Fleet.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 1.—Fishing schooners arriving daily from Grand Banks report great damage resulting in consequence of the severe gale of last week. Many vessels were driven from their anchorage, losing their cables, anchors and fishing tackle. Many lost sails, dories and spars. A number of men tending trawls were driven away in dories and have not yet been rescued. Several vessels were badly damaged.

IN CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Sept 1.—After 30 minutes spent in the ordinary routine morning business of the senate (none of which was of public importance) the house bill to repeal part of the Sherman act was taken up and Mr. Vance (dem.) of North Carolina, one of the minority members of the finance committee, addressed the senate in opposition to the bill.

The House.

After the reading of the journal, Mr. Weadock (Dem) of Michigan offered a resolution, postponing from tomorrow until September 15 the delivery of eulogies upon the late J. Logan Chipman of Michigan.

Mr. Reed (Rep.) of Maine said that that resolution presupposed that the house would be in session at that date. He had hoped that "the country would have been relieved of us before that time."

The resolution was adopted.

The consideration of the rules was then resumed.

MISER GETS BACK HIS GOLD.

One of the Thieves, Granted His Liberty, Restores It.

WALCOTT, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Three months ago Jacob Livingstone, a miser living in the northeastern part of this town, was robbed of about $7000 in gold and bills, after being chloroformed. The money was in an old purse, a sack which contained $2000 in gold and a package of rags in which was about $5000 in bills.

A month later John Early and Fred McPherson of Cayuga county were arrested on suspicion. Both had been laborers, but they bought a farm, the price of which was supposed to have been money from the theft. It is claimed that Early, a man nearly 60 years of age, planned the crime, which he had had in view for a number of years, and led McPherson, a young, weak-minded sort of a fellow, into it.

In default of bail the prisoners were confined in the Wayne county jail at Lyons. McPherson weakened and entered into an arrangement with the district attorney, whereby he agreed to give up his share of the stolen money, if the attorney would guarantee him immunity.

This was frustrated by an order of the court granted to counsel for Early, forbidding McPherson's removal from jail.

To avoid this the miser, Jacob Livingstone, bailed out McPherson, and, accompanied by the district attorney, McPherson yesterday went home and dug up the money, which was given to Livingstone.

Lieut. Foulk, U. S. N., Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 1.—The steamship Caica, which arrived from Yokohama and Hong Kong yesterday, brings word that Lieut. Foulk, late of the United States navy, and also a professor in Doshisha college, Kyoto, was found dead on a mountain path on August 14, near Miyanoshita.

Presence of Cholera Spirillum Shown.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The bacteriological examination of material obtained from the body of Martin Crowe, who died recently in Jersey City, shows the presence of cholera spirillum. The case is therefore one of Asiatic cholera. An emergency hospital has been established near Jersey City.

The Shipwrecked Passengers Arrive at Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 1.—The tug Paulsen, that left Savannah yesterday forenoon to get the remainder of the passengers of the wrecked steamer City of Savannah arrived here at 2 p. m. today. The passengers were enthusiastically greeted by a large crowd. Part of the shipwrecked people were found on St. Helena island and the rest on Hunting island.

A Preston Lady's Fall.

Miss Mary Witter, a well known and estimable resident of Preston, who lives a mile this side of Shawville, slipped on a rock while gathering apples late Thursday afternoon and fell to the ground, badly injuring her thigh. She was carried unconscious to the house and Dr. Gallup of Preston City was summoned, who called in Dr. G. B. Harris of this city. Miss Witter was in a serious condition Friday.

Academy Notes.

Arrangements have been concluded by which Mr. Geo. W. Breck, vice-president of the Art Students' league, will make a weekly visit to Norwich during a part of the present term and give instruction in composition and the elements of the illustrator's art.

Mr Breck is an illustrator of established reputation, and his engagement will bring much advantage to the Art school

The Normal school will open Wednesday, Sept. 6, at 8 30 a. m.

THE CHESTER ACCIDENT.

The Rev. Dr. Pratt and Wife Return to the City—Mr. W. W. Ives Has a Cousin Killed.

The Rev. Dr. Llewellyn Pratt and Mrs. Pratt arrived at the union station on the 9.20 train Friday night from Springfield. Dr. Pratt was helped to his carriage but his wife followed without assistance.

When the accident on the Boston & Albany railroad occurred at Chester, Thursday afternoon, both had just gone from a rear drawing room car to the dining car in front. This was the last car that left the track and was precipitated by the falling bridge to the river twenty feet below. Dr Pratt was thrown violently backward and had his right leg cut to the bone, below the knee, and a severely bruised back and side. Mrs. Pratt's injuries were a cut on the head and slight bruises.

After the accident Dr. Pratt crawled through a window and assisted his wife out of the car. Injured severely as he was, he rendered valuable aid to others on the ill fated train. Had he and his wife remained in the parlor car they would have been uninjured, as their bundles were not disturbed. Their other baggage was all lost.

Mr. W. W. Ives, on reading THE BULLETIN Friday morning saw that his cousin, Harry C. Ives of Chicago, assistant to the first vice president of the Santa Fe road, was among the killed, and went to Chester to identify the remains and render what service he could. Harry C. Ives was born in Newark, N. J., in [illegible] and leaves a widow and three children, aged 15, 10 and 6. He was bound for York beach, Me., where his daughter Edith was spending the summer. Mr. Ives was an experienced railroad man and for a number of years was superintendent of the Chicago and Kansas City division of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, and later the purchasing agent of that road. Mr. W. W. Ives returned to the city Friday evening.

WILL BE BROUGHT TO TRIAL.

Emma Goldman Will Not Be Allowed to Escape This Time,

FIRST CLASS EVIDENCE

Against the Female Anarchist—Other Arrests to Follow.

NEW YORK, Sept 1.—Superintendent Byrnes said this morning that Emma Goldman would not be brought to this city for at least seven days, and it may be fifteen days, the full period for requisition which the Pennsylvania authorities may hold her if they so desire.

There will be no loophole by which she may escape the strong hand of the law if Superintendent Byrnes can help it.

Superintendent Byrnes said that he has three separate affidavits that Emma made speeches contrary to law at as many different meetings on the East Side.

Superintendent Byrnes spoke plainly. He said that Emma was a lawless woman. Not only was she a law breaker in the sense of endeavoring to incite riot among honest working men, but she was morally bad.

The evidence we have against her is first class, said the superintendent, and will no doubt put an end to her vicious talk for some time to come.

"I want to say further, that there are others who have made speeches similar to those made by this woman, and they will be taken care of in due time."

Broncho in a Grave Yard.

MALDEN, Sept. 1.—The superintendent of Forestdale cemetery found a broncho pony wandering through the cemetery this morning with saddle and bridle on. It was thought the broncho might have plunged and thrown its rider into the pond.

The pond was dragged, but no body was found. The pony probably strayed, and is at the cemetery stables awaiting an owner.

Dr. Lee's Bail Reduced.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 1—The cases of Drs. Lee and Whitten, charged with being accessory to the murder of Maggie Schloss, were called in the city court this morning to see whether the bonds of Dr. Lee would be reduced from $10,000 to $3,000. The petition was granted.

The announcement was made that James Lee of Ontario, Canada, had gone insane over the knowledge of the connection of his son, Dr. Lee, in the affair.

Rioting in Spain.

MADRID, Sept. 1.—An anti-government manifesto was sent out last evening in Bilbao, capital of the province of Biscay. Crowds gathered in the streets to read the copies posted on the walls, and they refused to disperse when the police were called out. Several street fights between the police and the crowds occurred from 9 o'clock until midnight. Eight civilians were wounded, and 20 were arrested.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The public debt statement issued today shows: Net increase in the public debt, less cash in the treasury during August of $10,449,-596.98. The interest bearing debt increased $150,000. The non-interest bearing debt decreased $180,908, and the cash in the treasury decreased $10,608 656.91.

Female Homing Pigeon Flies 1,168 Miles in 26 Days.

FALL RIVER, Sept. 1.—Fred Bowers' homing pigeon, Johanna, arrived home at 7 15 a. m. from Pensacola, Fla. The bird was liberated on Saturday, Aug. 5, at 10 30 a. m and has made the trip of 1,168 miles in 26 days, which is the world's record for a female bird Great Damage to Telephone Wires.

General Superintendent Baker of the Southern New England Telephone company, estimates that the damage to the telephone wires of Connecticut by the recent storms will exceed $10,000. Superintendent Baker has been in the telephone business since its inception, and states that this is the most disastrous season that he has ever experienced, winter or summer.

The Sea Serpent Viewed at Early Morn.

Capt. Ed. Bottomly and Steward Owpey McLaughlin of the yacht "Star," which was at Niantic last Friday, claim that they saw the sea serpent while walking to the boat at 4 a. m. on Saturday, after having spent the night in one of the tents of the camp. One says that it was about 65 feet long, with eyes like saucers, and a tongue like a pitchfork; and the other says that it looked like a bunch of snakes, with heads sticking out all over the wriggling mass. They must have taken something with snakes in it?

THE NEW PRINCIPAL RECEIVED.

The Greeneville School Committee Entertain in School House Hall.

The district committee of the Greeneville schools gave a very pleasant reception to the teachers and officers and the principal, Mr. Harmon B Niver, Friday evening. Social exercises were held in the brightly lighted hall, and the introductions of the new teachers were charmingly made by Mr. P. B. Green, who made an address of welcome and instilled in the minds of the teachers the necessity for exertion to make the Greeneville schools the models of Connecticut.

Mr. Timothy Kelly, in an earnest speech, said the school was built and maintained to give its scholars the best possible instruction, and hoped that every teacher would do her best to keep up the standard.

M. H. M. Hurley recalled the fact that fifty years ago scholars came to the Greeneville schools from all over the town and many from Norwich town, Broadway and Washington street. Twenty-five scholars and the principal went to the war. Such noted men as the missionary William Atchison, Park Brewster, the author, and Hunt, who was knighted by the British government, were graduates. Latin and Greek were taught and scholars fitted for college.

The new principal made a pleasing address and welcomed the chance to meet the teachers and have an understanding with them. He hoped his management of the school might not be misinterpreted, but felt progress was only possible through change.

A bountiful supper was spread in the lower hall and many delicacies served. The table was very prettily arranged and everyone was delighted with [illegible] and this last surprise that the committee had quietly but abundantly provided.

PEOPLE WHO COME AND GO.

Where Health and Rest Seekers Are

Rev. Dr. Howe of Park church and family have returned.

Officer John Kane leaves for Chicago with his mother tonight.

Charles E. Mesch and wife of Greeneville are in New York city.

Mr. C. H. Adams and sister of Norwich have returned home from Saratoga.

Lieut. Swift of the United States navy and family arrived in town Friday morning.

Ex-Postmaster George W. Rouse and son of Voluntown are at Narragansett Pier.

Mrs. W. H. Hodgerny and son of Springfield, Mass., are visiting relatives in this city.

Mrs. Z. R. Robbins and Master LeRoy Robbins are visiting friends in Washington, R. I.

Organist George A. Kies of Park church and his family have returned from Eastern Point.

Mr. Walter Woodward will return today from New York, where he has been for several days.

Robert Tighe of the People's Insurance company, New London, goes to their Waterbury office.

Miss Mamie L. Moore of Elm street, Preston, is spending her vacation with friends in Patchogue, L. I.

Mrs. J. A. Hibbard and children have returned to North Woodstock after a fortnight spent in this city.

Mr. John T. Collins, who has been in Europe for two years, will arrive in town today to enter in the bicycle tournament.

The Misses Joanna and Nellie Murphy have returned to their home in Norwich, after spending several days at White Rock, R. I.

Lieut. Frank Marson, engineer in the United States navy stationed at the Mare Island navy yard, Vallejo, Calif., is in town for a day or two visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Briggs of Norwich, the former an ardent photographer, have been visiting I. F. Babcock of Pendleton Hill and securing some valuable views.

Mr. David E. Matterson, wife and two children of Grass Valley, California, are visiting this city after an absence of many years. They are the guests of Selectman Lillibridge.

Mr. A. F. Dean and wife leave this city today for Springfield, Mass., where they will reside with their daughter. Mr. Dean has been a carpenter in Norwich for the past twenty five years.

Miss Mamie Murray of 23 Washington street, New London, Conn., and Annie L. Stott are enjoying a month's vacation with friends in New Haven, South Manchester and Hartford.

Miss Lucy P. Arnold of Greeneville will go to Glenwood, Iowa, Monday, where she will make her home for the present in the family of the Rev. F. L. Hayward, formerly of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Robbins and daughter Fannie leave for the west Thursday, the 7th. Past Great Sachem Robbins goes to Des Moines, Iowa, as representative from Connecticut to the National Great Sun Council of the Improved Order of Red Men which is held in that city, Sept. 12 to 15. Mrs. Robbins and daughter will stop at Chicago to do the fair where Mr. Robbins will join them upon his return from Des Moines.

Library Notes.

The Otis library will be closed on Labor day.

Librarian Trumbull has placed upon the catalogue table four little volumes designed to help searchers for interesting books in the domain of fiction. They are entitled respectively, Romantic, International, English, American City and American Country Life novels, and are brief digests of standard stories under these heads, prepared by Wm Griswold; A. M.

Any person looking for a good novel is not obliged to depend solely upon the title for a guide, but in a few lines gets an idea of the gist of the story. If the book be in the library its number is indicated in red on the margin. The scheme is both clever and helpful.

Other Candidates Named.

The Middletown Tribune is authority for the following item: A prominent gentleman who claims to have inside knowledge reports that the three men selected by the permanent rectors and council of this diocese have selected these eminent clergymen as candidates for the vacant Catholic bishopric of this state: Rev. Father Tierney of New Britain, Rev. Father Murphy of Cromwell and Rev. Father Kennedy of Norwich. Either one of these presbyters would make a good bishop, but no one knows whom the bishops of the eastern province will select as their three, or whom the pope will finally select.

A man in Washington county, Pennsylvania, has a bantam rooster that is so familiar with a cat that it can get on the feline's back and crow without the cat taking any notice of it.

SPECIAL.

ROYAL

BAKING

POWDER.

Absolutely Pure.

A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—[Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

TEXAS INVADED BY MEXICANS.

High-Handed Proceedings on the Part of Their Customs Officers.

3,000 SHEEP SEIZED.

The Old Story About the Uncertainty of the Boundary Line.

FORT RINGGOLD, Tex., Sept. 1.—Some rather high handed proceedings have occurred on the part of the Mexican customs officers.

The commanding officer at Fort Ringgold received a letter from the sheriff of Hidalgo county, reporting that just below Havana, about 29 miles from that fort, a party of armed men had crossed over from Mexico.

They had seized a flock of 3,000 sheep, belonging to a herder named Sitenas, who was absent, and arrested his brother, at that time in charge of the herd. They were driving the sheep to Mexico.

Immediately upon the receipt of this information the commanding officer sent a detachment of cavalry to investigate.

The sheriff's representation was found to be correct.

A party of 20 armed Mexicans, under command of a Mexican customs officer from Reynosa, acting under instructions from the customs officials at Matamoras, had seized the sheep on the ground that they were grazing on Mexican territory.

The sheep were held by the troops, and Gen. Wheaton, commanding the department of Texas, ordered his captain to use any force necessary to prevent the armed Mexicans from returning to Mexico.

Gen Schofield has telegraphed Gen. Wheaton that the war department approves his course as far as he has gone.

The controversy, although in a new form, is the old story about the uncertainty of the Mexican boundary line.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS in the Norwich Post Office, week ending September 2, 1893: Fred L. Baldwin, Ignatio Francisco Corderio, Thos Donohue, J. E Gaumond, Miss Margaret Harding, Rev. Hen ick Johnson, D. D., Harry Miner, Miss Catherine O'Rourke, Rev. T. M. Quinn, Mrs. John P. Smith 2, Mrs. Minnie Smith.

Central Baptist Church.

Sunday, Sept. 3d.

DR. HERR

Will conduct the services.

10.30 A. M., Sermon, to be followed by the ordinance of the Lord's Supper.

12 M., Sunday School.

6.30 P. M., Young People's Meeting.

6.30 P. M., Deacons' Meeting.

7.30 P. M., Sermon. sep2d

COLUMBIAN FLAKES

The New Breakfast Dish. Try them.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL AT

WELCOME A. SMITH'S. sep1d

FURNACES.

Now is the time to have your Furnaces put in order, or if you need a new one now is the best time to have it set. If you wish a

Steam or Hot Water Heater

The Richmonds

are ahead of anything with the latest improvements, and

J. P. BARSTOW & CO.

Will make you the Lowest Prices possible.

RICHMOND RANGES!

A SPECIALTY.

HOUSEFURNISHING GOODS,

Quality the best and prices lowest. Call and see us.

23 and 25 Water Street. aug1daw

All Kinds Of

Picture Frames

And an elegant line of

FRAMED

—AND—

UNFRAMED PICTURES

Can be found at

M. J. Farrell's

Art Parlors,

61 Broadway. jy8daw

CLOTHING.

THE PUBLIC

Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in

Men's and Children's

FALL SUITS!

—AT—

MURPHY & McGARRY. aug29d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PAINT

EATON, CHASE & CO.

EM BILLINGS, KING & CO'S

Pure Prepared Paint.

We guarantee this to be the BEST Paint in the world.

Color cards giving instructions how to select colors and do your own painting, free upon application, or by mail.

EATON, CHASE & CO.,

HARDWARE DEALERS. aug29daw

TURNER'S Great Consumption Cure and Indian Remedy—sure cure for a Cough, Cold, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Throat and Lung troubles, and cases of Consumption have been cured by this Wonderful Remedy. 50 and 25c per bottle. For sale by Appley & Jordan. Or own, 16 Central Wharf. L. C. TURNER, sole proprietor, Norwich, Conn. aug31d

NOW is the time that you should secure their houses from the invasion of sneak thieves. You will find Mush's Patent Fastener just the thing. He is ready to put them on wherever wanted. All orders promptly attended to. Address 135 East Broad st., Norwich, Conn. ADOLPHUS MUSH aug3d

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

CONSULT DR. E. J. LEWIS.

120 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I. Specialist on private Chronic Diseases of men. Cure guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. Office hours 9 to 2 and 5 to 8, week days, 9 to 2 and 5 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines, $5. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks (forwarded free.) jy23d

Cholera Infantum

The most dreaded of all children's complaints prevented by using

RUSSELL'S

White Drops

FOR BABIES. 25c. All druggists. aug29d

MANICURE and CHIROPODIST, SHAMPOOING,

Hair Cutting and Curling, Face Massage.

MISS H. A. GAVITT.

aug1TuThS : Room 30 Shannon Building

AMUSEMENTS.

HO! FOR THE BICYCLE RACES.

Everybody come!
Why, sure!
We'll all be there!

Then let the eagle scream! Let him soar into the deepest blue of the American heavens and from there height he can be heard in the north, south, east and west, crying

"ATTEND THE RACES!"

FIRST ANNUAL MEET

—OF THE—

Rose of New England Wheel Club,

Fair Grounds, Norwich,

Monday, (LABOR DAY) Sept. 4.

$500 in Prizes!

More than 100 entries. All the crack riders of Connecticut are entered, and many others besides.

ADMISSION TO THE GROUNDS 25 CENTS

LADIES FREE. aug29ToThSM

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.

Large and Complete Line

FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE

ARTISTIC WALL PAPER

At Reduced Prices.

SPECIAL SALE,

Large Art Carpets and Rugs

$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.

Other sizes in proportion.

Japanese Rugs and Mats.

$25 00 Japanese Carpets for $20 00.
$12 00 Japanese Rugs for $8 00.
$4 00 Japanese Rugs for $3 75.

Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels

75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.

Quantities, 1 1-2 Yards to 30 Yards

Parties Wishing

FURNITURE,
CARPETS OR
WALL PAPER,

Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock

That we are offering at Low Prices. aug29d

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR

Fire Wood

—TO THE—

PARK WOOD YARD!

301 Franklin Street.

A discount will be made on all purchases of Four Dollars or more.

J. ROURKE. aug21d

THE BULLETIN JOB DEPARTMENT supplied with all the facilities for doing work promptly and in the most approved style

WANTS.

WANTED.

A bright, active young man as Dry Goods Salesman. Apply to or address the New York store, JOHNSTON & SHURTS, 124 State St., New London, Conn. aug24d

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN

Can find employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to COLCHESTER RUBBER CO., Colchester, Conn. je6dw

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,

No. 4 Franklin Square.

Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All modern improvements. Terms reasonable. G. A. BURLINGHAM. 1y14d

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER,

No. 7 Water St.,

Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods. jel4d

WANTED.

Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers. Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn. may4d

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

TALKING

About PIANOS just now is my theme. Do you want a Piano? Then come and hear one of the purest and finest toned Pianos in the market. Price Low. Also Organs, and a stock of fine Violins, including the Miller Violins, on hand. A fine New Upright Piano to rent. Will be glad to see you at 66 Williams Street. GEO. H. MARTIN.

CONFECTIONERY

ICE CREAM.

ALL FLAVORS.

Wholesale and retail.

GEO. A. LEWIS,

88 CENTRAL AVE.

Telephone.

ICE CREAM,

PASTRY, CHOICE CONFECTIONERY

and all the popular Summer drinks at

"The Confection Parlors."

54 and 56 Broadway.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

George A. Kies

Will resume lessons on and after

FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, 1893.

WHY DO

Ferris Hams and Bacon

Lead all other Sugar-Cured Hams in quality and flavor?

Because they are the Best.

Insist on having them. If your butcher don't keep them, call at

C. D. BROWNING & CO.'S,

No. 8 SIXTH STREET.

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.

E. M BREWSTER

will do it for you very Cheap

45 Water Street.

FRESH FLOWER SEEDS.

Asters, Pinks, Mignonette, Pansys, Sweet Peas, etc., 5 cents paper.
Extra fine Gladiolus Bulbs.
Fine Tuberose Bulbs, 5 cents each.

MRS. S. M. HOWIE,

110 Franklin Street.

BILLIARD and POOL TABLES

— FOR SALE BY —

J. J. COATES, 65 West Main St.

Supplies of all kinds constantly on hand.

Steamer : Chelsea.

Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.

Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M.

The Connecticut

Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,

Sole agents in Norwich for the

New England Felt and Roofing Co.

BEE HIVE BRAND

Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.

Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn.

FREE!

If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively upon many roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill roofs in the vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron paper and shingles. One great advantage of the Paint is, that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 5c per square foot, Three Ply at 4c per square foot, and Two Ply at 3c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Dressing Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Cellars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, Water Street; H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn., P. O. Box [illegible] 21 Oak Street.

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE

— OF —

Norwich Street Railway Co.,

Taft., Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side.	Franklin Sq., Falls and Boss Hill.
[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]

E. P. SHAW, Jr., Supt.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Pleasant tenement to let.

Carriages for sale. See advertisement.

Competent nurse and girl to do housework wanted.

Dodge & Holloway have a new line of fall overcoats.

C. J. Wolcott has received a car of new straw in bundles.

Get your fire wood at the Park wood yard, 301 Franklin street.

Fresh novelties in men's fine furnishing goods at Smith & Gilbert's.

Fresh boiled lobsters and choice oysters at Powers Brothers' today.

New and second hand school books sold and exchanged at Lovell Brothers'.

Reid's delicious ice cream pleases everybody. Get it of N. D. Sevin & Son.

Somers Brothers have spring ducks, roasting chickens, Brighton beef, etc.

Read James Dawson's advertisement and see what cash will do at his market.

Noyes & Davis' stock of school books and school supplies is complete and prices low.

Mrs. Chapman has nice squash pies, baked fresh every day, at No. 7 North Thames street.

The Rev. J. D. Herr, D. D., will conduct public services at the Central Baptist church on Sunday.

R. D. Jones & Son offer the balance of their fancy light weight suitings and trouserings for sale by the yard at cost.

Charles R. Brady, at the American house stables, will furnish hacks for funerals, weddings, parties or pleasure riding, or single teams, stylish and not afraid of cars, at low prices. See advertisement.

Today, "Silver Dollar Day," is going to be a great day at Porteous & Mitchell's. A silver dollar today will buy more merchandise at their store than at any other time for many years. They will not refuse gold or greenbacks, but they prefer silver. Read all about it in their advertisement.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

City Court—Kellogg, Judge.

The only case occupying the attention of the court Friday was that of Patrick McBrien, charged with intoxication. He was found guilty, fined $5 and costs, $11 89, and sent to jail.

New Law Partnership.

Mr. Charles W. Comstock has entered into partnership with Senator C. F. Thayer and will remove his office to the Uncas bank building on Monday. Another story is to be added to the bank building, and the new firm will have the finest law offices in the city. Mr. Comstock has been with L. W. Carpenter in the Richards building for ten years.

A Stranger Falls Ill.

A stranger visited the Jewish Rabbi at the West Side Friday noon and complained of illness. On leaving the house he fell on the pavement. A crowd gathered and carried him into the yard. He could not speak English, and through an interpreter it was learned that he had walked from New York to New London and came here on the cars.

An express wagon was called and conveyed the sick man to the station house, and he was placed on a cot in the women's room. At 4 o'clock the ambulance conveyed him to the almshouse and Dr. Tingley was summoned to attend him. He seemed to be afflicted with chills and fever.

The Thirteen Club's New Quarters.

The Thirteen club will next week occupy its new quarters in the fourth story of the Shannon building. Two days will be given up to entertaining visitors, after the rooms are comfortably settled. The suite consists of a parlor tinted in old gold, two blue card rooms trimmed in white, a pink billiard room, a buffet room, a dining room seating sixty, and kitchen.

Painters and calcominers have been at work on the rooms for ten days. There are no doors in the suite, but all the rooms can be thrown together or shut off by portieres of the same shade as the rooms. The club will have the finest quarters of any society in the state. It numbers fifty, and is very strong financially.

A Harvest of Clams!

Hundreds of bushels of monster long clams were washed out of the mud by the rolling surf and cast up on the beach into shallow water, opposite Old Lyme during Tuesday's storm. They lay thick as peas and in regular windrows. This curious freak of the storm was discovered Wednesday, and one boat belonging in Lyme scooped up ten bushels in a very short time. It was not possible to keep the secret very long and in a few hours a fleet of small boats were at work there gathering up the clams by the wholesale. It is estimated that at least 100 bushels were taken from the water in two days' time, and as many more were covered by the continuous wash of sand over them.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

The Norwich Israelites to Unite in Its Observance.

On the 9th of September three congregations of Norwich Hebrews will commemorate the Purim or Jewish New Year, which commences at sunset on the previous night. Dr. S. S. Kohn will preach in English and German, taking as his text, "The Essence of the Days."

As is well known the Jews reckon their year from creation (5654) the Egyptians, Chinese, Romans and Mohammedans—although differing in time—still regarding this New Year's day as a day of special interest. It is celebrated in the seventh month of their lunar calendar, called in Chaldean, "Tishre," and is based on the biblical and talmudical traditions that on the first day of this month the creation of the world began.

The command given in Lev. xxiii. and xxxix to blow the trumpet in proclamation of the new year, a command emphasized in Numbers, xxix, I, determined every orthodox Hebrew of the ten millions upon the globe to so commemorate the revelation on Mount Sinai, and to symbolize the trumpet of judgment day, as to incite to repentance for sins against God and man. Devout worshipers are enjoined to practice justice, charity, patriotism and general good will; to salute even the stranger with the words, "Thou art my brother!"

Purim is observed by every orthodox Hebrew as the one great day of the Judaical year.

AT WATCH HILL.

Norwich Ladies and Gentlemen Who Took a Walk During the Big Blow.

When the yacht Priscilla went ashore on Napatree Point, Tuesday morning, four gentlemen from the Atlantic house, Messrs. Russell of Providence, Wheeler of Utica, N. Y. Sawtelle of Hartford and Cranston of Norwich were over an hour making the journey of two miles along the shore to where the yacht was beached. A fierce wind, hot as though from a furnace, and blowing a fifty or sixty mile-an-hour rate, swept across the narrow peninsula, filling the air with spray and sand.

Of the few ladies who braved the journey Miss Ward and Miss Bradford of Springfield and the Misses Baldwin of Detroit reached the wreck first. They were tightly belted sweaters, and were minus any head covering.

At times the yacht was entirely hidden from view by the tremendous seas which broke over her, the spray flying higher than her mast-head. On their return trip, the party, while climbing to the ridge to avoid a huge wave, were blown over into the eel-grass on the bay side. Occasionally they were forced to dodge big rollers which swept entirely across the narrow neck of land which they were traversing.

The yacht Priscilla, which went ashore on Napatree point in the dense fog, Monday, lies in the same position, and is to be sold as she lies. There is no water near her at low tide.

TWO OLD PAPERS.

Interesting Notes from Them.

Mr. Charles E. Chapman of Jewett City has in his possession a couple of old papers which are both valuable and interesting just now. One is a copy of THE NORWICH COURIER dated Wednesday, March 1, 1815. THE COURIER had then almost attained voting age, being a good, sturdy, stripling of nineteen years. The greater part of its front page of five columns is given up to the treaty of peace with Great Britain, ratified by President Madison. The inner pages are given to foreign and local news, while the fourth page is largely advertisements. Evidently human nature was quite the same in those days as now, since one of the first advertisements runs in this wise:

NOTICE—Whereas, my wife, Jennet Prince, has heretofore been in a habit of involving me in debt, I do therefore hereby forbid any person trusting her on my account, as I will not pay any debts of her contracting after this date. PHILLIP PRINCE. Feb. 23d, 1815. X His mark.

The news from Louisiana, including an address by Major General Jackson, was dated January 24th, and other correspondence was equally timely.

The second paper is a time-stained issue of the New London "Republican Advocate," dated Feb. 6th, 1822. As in all these old papers lottery advertisements are very prominent. The editor runs into poetry, giving a conspicuous place to some "Verses to a young lady afflicted with the tooth-ache." Doings in congress for Jan. 21st are reported at length. Tidings from France by way of Charleston are prominently placed. There is a mildly exciting novelette entitled "The Pride of the Village," ending with the curt notice ("Remember next week,") and a letter from Thomas Jefferson on the appointment of judges.

TAFTVILLE.

Matters of Local Interest.

Miss Romana Reeves of Danielsonville is visiting relatives in this place.

Mr. and Mrs Nott, guests of Mr. William Booth, have returned to their home in New York.

Miss Jennie Hall, who has been visiting friends here, has returned to her home in Forestdale, R. I.

The Wequonoc school opens next Tuesday morning with a capable set of teachers.

Mr. George W. Whittlesey and family are guests at Block Island for a few days.

Miss Amelia Crosley has returned from a visit to friends in Boston.

Mr Prentice of Danielsonville was the guest of his son, Charles W. Prentice, this week.

Mr. George W. Weller returned to his position as clerk in Ponemah store this week from a two week's vacation.

Miss Maud M. Kellogg is the guest of friends in Yonkers, N. Y., for a few weeks.

Miss Alice Livingstone starts Monday for Willimantic to attend the Normal school.

Miss Clara Larkin of South Windham is the guest of Miss Alice Boardman.

A party of fifteen met at the home of Mr Albert Boardman Thursday evening. Singing and recitations helped pass a very pleasant evening.

Mr. George Thompson has returned from a long visit to relatives in Maine.

United States Department of Agriculture —Weather Bureau.

Observer Lazenby has kindly furnished the following meteorological summary for the month of August, 1893:

SUMMARY.

Mean barometer, 29.98.
Highest barometer, 30.2[illegible], date, [illegible].
Lowest barometer, 29.[illegible], date, 29.
Mean temperature, 69°.
Highest temperature, 8[illegible]°, date, 15; lowest temperature, 50°, date, 14 and 31.
Greatest daily range of temperature, 20°, date, 15.
Least daily range of temperature 4°; [illegible].

Mean Temperature for this month in

1871....71	1877....72	[illegible]....69	1889....69
1872....72	1878....70	1884....66	1890....70
1873....69	1879....69	1885....66	1891....71
1874....69	1880....70	1886....68	1892....70
1875....70	1881....70	1887....66	1893....69
1876....71	1882....70	1888....70	1894....

Mean temperature for this month for 23 years, 70°.
Total excess in temperature during month, 3[illegible]°.
Total deficiency in temperature since January 1st, 58°.
Prevailing direction of wind, N. W., 23 per cent.
Total movement of wind, 5[illegible] miles.
*Maximum velocity of wind, direction, and date, 37 miles from the S. [illegible] on the 29th.
Total precipitation, 2 [illegible] inches.
Number of days on which .01 inch or more of precipitation fell, 10.
Total precipitation (in inches) for this month in

1871....3.71	1877....4.00	[illegible]....3.70	1889....4.15
1872....4.08	1878....8.64	1884....7.73	1890....2.42
1873....3.88	1879....7.72	1885....7.80	1891....4.99
1874....10.44	1880....6.52	1886....8.04	1892....2.45
1875....4.85	1881....2.06	1887....4.19	1893....2.40
1876....0.49	1882....2.10	1888....3.81	1894....

Average precipitation for this month for 23 years, 4.8[illegible].
Total deficiency in precipitation during month, 1.51.
Total deficiency in precipitation since January 1, 2.88.
Number of clear days, 16; partly cloudy days, 8; cloudy days, 7.
Monthly mean dew point, 60°.
Monthly mean relative humidity, 81 per cent.
NOTE.—Barometer reduced to sea level. "T" indicates trace of precipitation.
*To be taken from any five-minute record.

H. O. LAZENBY,
Observer, Weather Bureau.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

First Congregational Church, Norwich Town, the Rev. Charles A. Northrop, pastor. Services at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday school at 12 m. Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6.30 p. m.

Taftville Congregational church, the Rev. G. N. Kellogg, pastor. Services at 10.30 a. m. and 6.30 p. m. Sunday school at 12 m.

Young Men's Christian Association tenth open air meeting on the steamboat wharf for men, at 4 p. m. An address to all classes of men will be delivered by Rev. Lewellyn Pratt, D. D.

First Baptist church (West Side), the Rev. A. S. Brown, pastor. Preaching by pastor at 10.30 a. m., and 7.30 p. m. Sunday school at 12 m. Young People's meeting at 6 p. m. Seats free. All are welcome.

Central Baptist church, the Rev. J. D. Herr D. D., pastor. Preaching morning and evening. Bible school at 12 m. Pastor's class in large room at the same hour. Young people's meeting at 6.30 p. m.

Third Baptist church, Greeneville. Services at 10.30 a. m., and 7.30 p. m. Sunday school at close of morning service. Preaching by George W. Swan.

Mt. Calvary Baptist Church, West Side, the Rev. N. A. Marriott, pastor. Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. R. A. Motley of Jersey City. Sunday school at 1.30 p. m. Communion at 3 p. m., and at 7.30 preaching by Rev. R. A. Motley. All are welcome.

Union Holiness meeting Sunday and Friday at 3 p. m. in Mission hall, opposite the post office. All are welcome.

East Main street M. E. church, the Rev. J. H. Allen, pastor. Preaching at 10.30 a. m. Sunday school at 12 m. Prayer meeting of the Epworth League at 6.30 p. m. Preaching at 7.30 p. m.

Sachem street M. E. church, the Rev. Geo. A. Grant, pastor. No service.

Central M. E. church, the Rev. Augustus W. Kingsley, pastor, residence, 28 Pearl St. Preaching at 10.30 a. m. by Rev. John Tryland. Sunday school at 12 m. Epworth League prayer meeting at 6.30 p. m. Preaching at 7.30 p. m. by Rev. J. O. Dodge.

North Main street M. E. church. Preaching services omitted. Sunday school at 12 m. Epworth League meeting at 6 p. m.

Norwich Town M. E. church. The Rev. J. O. Dodge, pastor. Preaching at 10.30 a. m. Sunday school at 12 m. Young people's meeting at 6 p. m. General prayer meeting at 7 p. m.

A. M. E. Zion church, 36 Franklin street, the Rev. S. W. Hutchings, pastor, residence 36 High street. Preaching at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday school at 12 m.

Grace church chapel, Yantic, The Rev. Percy Barnes, rector. Morning service and sermon at 10.30 a. m. Evening service and sermon at 7 o'clock. Sunday school at 12 m.

German Evangelical Lutheran church, the Rev. D. Cuns, pastor. Hours of service, 10.30 a. m. Sunday school 12 m. Service of Sunday school concert the first Sunday of each month at 3 p. m.

Swedish Lutheran Society, David Magnusson, pastor, hold services in Otis Library hall every other Sunday at 10.45 a. m., and every Wednesday evening at 7.45 p. m.

Salvation Army Barracks, Washington square. Meetings will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. Public meetings are held every night in the week commencing at 8 o'clock.

Gospel Temperance Union, Moses Lewis president. Prayer and praise service every Sunday at 5 p. m., at No. 8 Water street.

Service at the Sheltering Arms, Sunday, at 3.30 p. m.

Advent chapel, Norwich Town. Sabbath school on the Sabbath at 10.45 a. m.; Preaching at 11.45.

Universalist church, Rev. Charles A. Bidwell, pastor. Residence 389 East Main street. Services will be resumed tomorrow. The pastor will preach at 10.30. Subject, "Immortality," followed by Holy Communion. Sunday school at 12.00. Y. P. C. U. at 6.30.

Broadway Congregational Church, the Rev. Lewellyn Pratt, D. D., pastor. Preaching at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday schools, church at 12 m., Buckingham chapel at 3 p. m. Young people's union at 6.45 o'clock.

Park Congregational church, Rev. S. H. Howe, pastor. Public worship at 10.30 a. m. Sunday school at 12.00 m. Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at 7.00 p. m.

Second Congregational Church. The Rev. Cornelius W. Morrow, pastor. Divine worship Sunday at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. The communion will be observed at the morning service. Sunday school at 12 m. Thursday, prayer meeting at 7.30 p. m. Strangers welcome.

The Young people's Society of Christian Endeavor will meet Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the lecture room, in the basement of the Second Congregational church.

Greeneville Congregational church, the Rev. L. W. Browning, pastor. Preaching in the morning at 10.30 a. m.; evening at 7.30. Communion in connection with morning service. Sunday school at 12 m.

Trinity church, Main and Church streets, the Rev. E. B. Schmitt, rector. The fourteenth Sunday after Trinity. Morning prayer, sermon and Holy Communion at 10.30 a. m. evening prayer at 6 p. m. Sunday school at 12 m. Evening prayer, Fridays at 5 p. m.

Christ church, the Rev. H. H. Nelson, rector. Fourteenth Sunday after Trinity. Litany and Holy Communion at 11.00 a. m. Evening prayer at 7.30 p. m.

St. Andrew's church, Greeneville, the Rev. Wm. A. Wesson, rector. Fourteenth Sunday after Trinity. Morning prayer and sermon at 10.30. Sunday school at noon. At 2.45 p. m. the Sunday school will commemorate their eleventh anniversary with special services.

The city of London is sacred from intrusion by the royal troops, and only two regiments in the British service have the right to march through it in martial array, with bands playing, bayonets fixed and colors displayed.

PENNILESS BRIDE.

Deserted by Her Husband in a Strange Land.

EVEN THE BAGGAGE IS MISSING.

Mrs. Hall, a Middle-Aged English Woman, the Victim.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Hall, a middle-aged Englishwoman, but a bride, is extremely anxious to find some trace of her husband, George, who has disappeared with $1000 of her money, her jewelry and $500 belonging to her widowed sister, Mrs. Bland.

Mrs. Hall arrived in this country Saturday on the steamship New York and is prostrated by the disappearance of her husband. She at first believed he had met with foul play, as he had considerable money about him, but she now mourns his absence as another instance of men's perfidy.

Mrs. Hall two weeks ago was a Miss Darling, living in London. She conducted a private school for children and had saved a competence. Hall appeared upon the scene about four months ago. He was an American, about 40 years old, of dignified appearance and dressed in the latest style. He was a most plausible conversationalist and took great pains to be entertaining to Miss Darling. She told him the story of her life, which was not much to tell, and he spoke in glowing terms of his busy career in New York. He mentioned vast business interests in which he had a part, and said he longed for the time when he could wind up his business affairs and retire to the Happiness of a Quiet Domestic Life.

Hall repeated his visits to Miss Darling's school, and there were many unexpected holidays for the scholars in consequence. It was not long until Hall asked her to become his bride and go back to America with him. She consented. Then arose a hitch. She was a strict Episcopalian and he a Hebrew. "Let not the trifle of religious prejudice bar the union of two affectionate souls," he said. He proposed that they be married by a clergyman of her church, and after marriage it would be her pleasing duty to teach him the truths of her faith and convert him.

So the marriage was performed and the couple prepared for their bridal tour across old ocean. Mrs. Bland, the bride's sister, lived nearby. She was in rather delicate health and somewhat melancholy over the recent death of her husband. Hall suggested that she take a trip across the Atlantic with them. He said the sea air would do her good and America was a fine country to visit. Mrs. Bland accordingly got ready and first cabin passage for the three was engaged. Mrs. Hall drew $1000 from her savings at the bank. Hall said he had better take care of it for her and

He Slipped It Into His Pocket.

Mrs. Bland had $500 and Hall suggested that it be entrusted to him for safe keeping. The confiding widow passed it over.

Arriving in New York Hall took his bride and sister-in-law to the house of W. C. Boyle, 316 East Forty-second street, and hired two rooms, paying for a week's board in advance. He explained to his wife that this arrangement was only temporary while he should get his own house in order. On Monday morning he told his wife he was going out to have their baggage sent to the house and to attend to some pressing business. He said he would be back before evening, but evening came and went as did the night, and no husband made his appearance.

Mrs. Hall was alarmed for she thought some accident might have befallen him. As the night wore on and he did not come she expressed her fears to Mr. Boyle. He advised her to consult Mrs. Butler, a sympathetic missionary at Ellis island. Mrs. Butler called in Detective Peter Groden, who started out

To Search For the Missing Husband.

Groden learned that Hall had called Monday and had the baggage taken away, but where no one knew. The expressman could not be found. All trace of Hall was here lost.

It was some time before the bride could realize that she had been abandoned and robbed of money, jewelry and baggage. Her sister's money too was gone, and all their clothes was in the missing trunks. In spite of Hall's treachery Mrs. Hall is disposed to forgive him, and Detective Groden is trying to run him down.

WHERE IS THE ALVO?

Sailed From New York Aug. 16 and Not Since Reported.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The Atlas line steamship Alvo sailed from this port Aug. 16, for West Indian ports, with a dozen passengers and a general cargo. From the time she passed outside Sandy Hook until the present she has been unreported.

The first port of arrival scheduled on her papers is Gonaives, Hayti. The passage from New York to that port usually takes the Alvo from six to seven days. The course is directly in the path of the late hurricanes, and this fact causes alarm at her non-arrival.

A possibility exists that she may have put into some island in distress. To the south, within easy reach from her course, are numerous small islands.

The vessel's passengers are wealthy residents of the West Indies. So far as known, there are no citizens of this country among them.

Caught With Their Spoils.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—Dennis Quinlan, 19 years of age, living at 170 Dorchester avenue, and Thomas Mahoney, 19 years of age, having no home, were arrested by officers of station 6 early this morning for breaking and entering the liquor store of Michael Doherty, and the larceny of whisky and cigars. They were caught by the officers when coming out with their spoils.

Floods in New Zealand.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—In New Zealand the rivers Riga and Waikato on the North island have overflowed their banks, swept away the government railroad and inundated all the towns situated on them. Cattle were drowned by thousands. Business has been suspended and the people are starving.

Will Start Next Tuesday.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—The Boston Manufacturing company will start up next Tuesday as expected, and run every other week until further notice. The company makes cotton cloth and employs about 2000 hands.

Tried Twice to Kill Himself.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—George W. Uulton of Moncton, N. B., made two attempts today to take his life. It is probable that the last attempt will be successful and that before many hours have elapsed his death will be chronicled at the Massachusetts General hospital. He had been on a spree.

Leading Odd Fellow Dead.

PLYMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 1.—William G. Billings, grand master of the grand lodge, I. O. O. F. of New Hampshire, died at his home in this city this morning at 10 o'clock. Several weeks ago he was stricken by diptheria and paralysis of the throat. Heart failure followed.

PEFFER'S LITTLE BILL.

Anybody With Gold and Silver Can Have It Coined at the Mint.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The bill introduced yesterday in the senate by Mr. Peffer for the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver bullion provides that the standard for both gold and silver coins shall hereafter be such that of 1000 parts by weight 900 shall be of pure metal and 100 of alloy, the alloy of silver coins to be copper and that of gold coins copper and silver, the silver not to exceed one-half of the whole alloy.

The silver dollar is to contain 412 1-2 grains, the half dollar 206 1-4 grains, the quarter 103 1-8 grains, and the dime 41 1-4 grains. The coins are to be legal tender for any sums whatever.

In gold coin the eagle is to contain 258 grains, the half eagle 129, and the quarter eagle 64 1-2.

The silver and gold coins heretofore issued are to continue to be legal tender on the same terms as if they were coined under this act.

Gold and silver bullion brought to the mints is to be received and coined for the benefit of the depositor.

All provisions of existing law relating to coinage which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act are to be construed in aid of its execution, and laws that conflict with its provisions are repealed.

REPEAL AT THE FRONT.

National Banks Increase Bill Lost Its Position on the Calendar.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—By the operation of the parliamentary law, or of senatorial rules, which are equally difficult of comprehension, the bill allowing an increased issue of circulating notes to national banks lost yesterday its vantage ground as "unfinished business" on the senate calendar, and the house bill for the repeal of the Sherman act has taken its place. And so, at the end of the morning business today, and as long as it retains its precedence, the repeal bill will be laid before the senate, unless Mr. Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee, may choose to let other business be transacted. And the repeal bill will not necessarily be laid aside at the close of the morning hour, but will remain as the question before the senate throughout the day.

Mr. Vance (Dem., N. C.), one of the minority members of the finance committee, today turned his batteries of wit, anecdote scriptural illustrations and knowledge of financial and other laws against the house bill and the committee substitute for it. Mr. Stewart (Rep. Nev.) had an opportunity of repelling Mr. Sherman's charges of inconsistency in figuring alternately in senate debates as a pronounced advocate of a gold standard and of the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

SARNIA IN PORT.

She Is Towed About One Thousand Miles. Passengers Are All Well.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 1.—The steamer Montevidean towed to anchorage into harbor early this morning the steamer Sarnia, which she picked up adrift in mid ocean. All the passengers are well and the cattle are uninjured.

The Sarnia sailed from Montreal on July 29, and on Aug. 6 she broke her thrust shaft. All efforts to repair the damage were fruitless, and for days the vessel drifted helplessly.

As the weather remained calm the passengers experienced little inconvenience, although they suffered keen anxiety after two weeks had passed without the sight of a sail.

On August 26 the Montevidean was sighted. She took the Sarnia in tow about 1000 miles from Cork. The rest of the voyage was uneventful. The Sarnia now awaits the arrival of tugboats to take her to Liverpool.

WHISKY TRUST ALL RIGHT.

No Trouble in Meeting Obligations and No Receiver Expected.

PEORIA, Ills., Sept. 1.—Regarding the reports detrimental to the financial credit of the Peoria distilleries, Vice-President John Begge says that the company has no trouble in meeting all its obligations as they come due, and that they are being promptly met. There are no rebates due and unpaid, and there is not the slightest intention of postponing the payment of them. Checks have been made out for those due today, and they were mailed yesterday.

Mr Begge says that he knows of no movement for the appointment of a receiver and he can see no occasion for one so long as the company is in as good financial condition as it is today.

MINE ON FIRE.

Three Miners Overcome and Bodies Lie Six Hundred Feet From Entrance.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Sept. 1.—Fire was discovered in mine No. 6 of the Berwind White Coal company at Horatio early yesterday morning.

Twenty-two men were at work at the time the alarm was given, and 19 of them escaped. Moses Hughes, aged 45, and his two sons, Aaron, 21, and John, 18, were overcome, and their bodies now lie in the mine, 600 feet from the entrance.

One fire company from Altoona and one from Tyrone responded to an appeal for aid, but despite all efforts but little headway has been made. It is now thought that the mine will have to be flooded, which will require several weeks. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

ECHOES OF THE STORM.

Ten Bloated Bodies Found in the Drift. Fruit Badly Damaged.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 1.—Reports of the damage of the storm in the outlying districts are coming in slowly. Ten bloated bodies of victims of Sunday's cyclone were discovered in a drift 14 miles from Jacksonville yesterday. They were almost nude and could not be identified.

The damage to fruit trees and orange groves is enormous. In many cases the trees are stripped of every vestige of leaves and fruit. Wires are nearly all down in every direction.

Fall Trade Encouraging.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Sept. 1.—The jewelry business in this town has taken on a new lease of life. The salesmen who went west a few days ago are now sending in orders. Firms now say that the fall trade looks quite encouraging, but it will be long after Christmas before the shops will have their full complement of hands. There are to be two new shops built next spring if there is any possibility of a boom in business the coming fall.

Grimsby Has the Cholera.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The port of Grimsby, in Lincolnshire, has been declared to be infected with cholera, and traffic between it and other British ports have been prohibited. During August there were 80 deaths in Grimsby from what was called at first diarrhoea and later a choleraic disease. The general belief now is that many of these deaths was due to cholera.

Business Picking Up in Australia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—Business was picking up all through Australia and New Zealand when the steamer Alameda left there. The banks were beginning to resume business, and money was more plentiful.

Chicago, Denver and Cincinnati Physicians Fail to Help Mrs. Willey.

DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY AGAIN CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAIL.

[From The Cincinnati (O.) Post.]

TO THE EDITOR:—I believe that I can help the sick and suffering by giving them the benefit of my experience.

For years I have suffered from rheumatism, complicated with neuralgia and severe headaches, and at regular intervals with the illness peculiar to my sex, at times almost crazy with pains in my head and body. I have employed physicians in Denver, Chicago, here and other cities who have given me but temporary relief.

Some time ago I began the use of Dr. David Kennedy's favorite remedy, and it has done me more good than all the doctors put together. I am better now than I have been in years, and my neighbors will vouch for the great improvement Favorite Remedy has made in me. I have recommended Favorite Remedy to many of my friends and it has in every case helped them.

Having found a medicine that has demonstrated its power to benefit and cure in such a complicated case as my own, I feel it a duty to make it known publicly so that the many suffering ones of this city can avail themselves of it.

MRS A. WILLEY, Cincinnati, O

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has certainly made many wonderful cures in cases where the skill and methods of other physicians have been baffled. Dr Kennedy has prescribed Favorite Remedy and it has produced permanent recovery in rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver and kidney complaints which always arise from acidity of the blood.

MARKETS

LAMB and CHICKEN

— AT —

J. D. Murphy's,

MARKET STREET.

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. H. VAUGHN & SONS

IRON CASTINGS.

FERRY ST., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON

of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for immediate delivery.

REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Sable" brand.

SHEET IRON. Galvanized "B. B." Black and Plate.

STEEL. "Black Diamond" and "Silver," warranted Cast Steel. Machinery, [illegible] Steel, Calking Steel.

FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.

IRON AND STEEL I BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.

A. T. CONVERSE,

Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf, 23 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.

Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Woolen Machinery, Mill Gearing, Shaftings, Pulley Hangers etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds, Gearing, Cuttings, Forgings and Castings at short notice, 128 Franklin Street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second-hand machines bought and sold on commission.

SADLERY, ETC.

LANE BROS.

— Have a —

Seven-Foot Delivery Wagon

Which you can turn around in a ten-foot circle.

67—69 Water St.

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,

AT MODERATE PRICES.

At 115 Main St., J. G. STANDISH.

Thousands of Families eat it regularly for breakfast.

Wheat Germ.

As delicious in Summer as it is in Winter.

—IF YOU—

Want money,
Want a cook,
Want boarders,
Want a partner,
Want a situation,
Want a servant girl,
Want to sell a farm,
Want to sell a house,
Want to rent a house,
Want to exchange anything,
Want to sell plants or grain,
Want to sell groceries or drugs,
Want to sell or trade anything,
Want to find customers for anything,
Want to sell or buy horses, mules or cattle.

Advertise IN THE BULLETIN.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Swellings in the Neck

Grateful for Permanent Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough. For twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula and swelling of the glands in the neck. I consulted several physicians and took many medicines. My neck was also operated upon at the Mount Sinai Hospital, but this did not give me any permanent improvement. One day I read in a paper about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and on trying a bottle I found it was doing me good, so I took two bottles more. The swelling has entirely disappeared, and I am as healthy as anyone in the city. Anyone who should see my picture ten years ago and now, would notice marked improvement." THOMAS FARRENKAMP, 38 Willett St., New York city.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

HOOD'S PILLS cure Constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal. augl5daw

PLUMBING, ETC.

A. TROLAND & SON

Will Give You Close Estimates on

PLUMBING and GAS WORK.

mar14

—TRY OUR—

"Big Box" Stove Polish.

—ALSO GET—

RUTLAND LINING.

IT FITS ANY STOVE.

To strengthen loose linings. Repairs broken lining. Prevents clinkers from forming. It makes a good fire box, as well as being cheap. For sale by [illegible]. BAILEY & WHOLEY, Plumbers 12 Ferry Street.

WE HAVE THE BEST

Water Filters and Garden Hose

In the market at Very Low Prices.

Estimates cheerfully furnished on all classes of Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting.

HOSAGEE & REED,

augl28 31 West Main, Central Wharf.

Telephone 138—8

ROBERT BROWN

Steam and Gas Fitting,

Plumbing and Steam Heating,

Pipe Cutting and Threading by Power Machinery.

All Work done Promptly and Neatly.

Pequot Building, Central Wharf.

Electric cars every half hour. oct14d

INSURANCE.

L. and L. and G.

J. IRVING BOYCE, Agent.

augl6 S

THE BEST PLACE TO INSURE.

STORY'S INSURANCE AGENCY.

30 SHETUCKET ST.

The only insurance office in Norwich on the ground floor. jan4

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y

Norwich, England. Organized 1797.

N. TARRANT, Agt.,

augl6d 38 MAIN STREET.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY, JAN. 1st, 1893. UNITED STATES BRANCH

—ASSETS.—

Government Bonds	[illegible]
State Bonds	137,[illegible]
Municipal Bonds	171,[illegible]
Cash on Hand and on Deposit	[illegible]
Other Assets	[illegible]
	$1,[illegible]

—LIABILITIES.—

Reserve Premium Fund (N. Y. Standard)	[illegible]
Reserve for unpaid losses	[illegible]
All other liabilities	[illegible]
	$1,[illegible]
Surplus in United States	[illegible]
Total income in U. S. for 1892	[illegible]
Total losses paid in U. S. from 1877 to 1892, inclusive	[illegible]

NICHOLAS TARRANT, Agent, 38 Main St., Norwich, Conn. apr16

B. P. LEARNED

Insurance in all Forms,

Bonds of Indemnity,

Foreign Drafts.

Over Thames National Bank, Norwich, Conn. feb14d

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell

COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A Fine Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

A. B. KINGSBURY.

jy18d

Murphy & Blackburn,

FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS.

87 Franklin Street.

Open day and night. Ring bell for night calls. Residence 34 High street and 8 Williams Avenue, Preston. may16d

HAVE THAT

Lawn Mower

Put in Good Order

and it will be as good as new.

M. A. BARBER,

augl4d Industrial Building, Falls Ave.

FRANK G. SWEET,

Medical and Surgical Nurse,

Graduate from Mills' Training School for Male Nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York city. Call at 362 or 432 FRANKLIN Street, city. TERMS REASONABLE. may6d

Before Buying Elsewhere,

Call and examine my complete line of new styles of

—WALL PAPERS.—

Lowest Prices.

E. L. GREENE,

Painter, Grainer and Paper Hanger. jan12d

The Bulletin.

A LEAF FROM THE DEVIL'S JESTBOOK.

Beside the sewing table, chained and bent,
They stitch for the lady, tyrannous and proud—
For her a wedding gown, for them a shroud.
They stitch and stitch, but never mend the rent
Torn in life's golden curtains. Glad Youth went
And left them alone with Time, and now if bowed
With burdens they should sob and cry aloud,
Wondering, the rich would look from their content.

And so this glimmering life at last recedes
In unknown, endless depths beyond recall,
And what's the worth of all our ancient creeds
If here at the end of ages this is all—
A fair face floating through the merry ball,
A dead face plashing in the river reeds?
—C. E. Markham in California Illustrated.

UNCLE PETER.

From constantly telling the story of Uncle Peter and his wealth, good old Captain Cogolin had come to believe in it himself. The truth really was that the said Uncle Peter had been the despair of his family from his very childhood, and had finally embarked on an American ship as a cabin boy, after which nothing more had been heard of him.

This was the plain, unvarnished truth, but Captain Cogolin was a native of Marseilles and had an imaginative mind, consequently this plain truth had to be embellished. One day he happened to come across a sailor who had just returned from the United States, and after drinking a glass or two of spirits together the two men became communicative. The captain happened to mention the fact that he had an uncle living out in America. He drew upon his imaginative mind and was able to describe the said uncle.

The accommodating sailor remembered having met just such an individual, and, what was more, the supposed Uncle Peter had even confided a box of piasters to the care of the sailor for distribution among his relations on the other side of the water. Unfortunately on the way home there had been a terrible storm, and the box had been dropped overboard, but still the fact remained that Uncle Peter had made a fortune out in the new country and had sent word to his friends that he should not forget them.

Two or three years went by, and at the end of that time Uncle Peter owned plantations, slaves, gold mines, petroleum mines, and everything, in fact, that an American uncle is expected to possess.

The Cogolin family became the envy of the little village where they lived, and in the evenings, when the women gathered together round the doorsteps of the steep, narrow streets for their daily gossip, the name of the famous Uncle Peter was frequently heard.

The Cogolins themselves waited patiently.

"Poor fellow," the captain would say; "let him live as long as God wills. We are in no hurry."

* * * * * *

One day a letter arrived for Captain Cogolin. It was from New York, and the envelope had the embassy stamp. It was a heavy letter and might have contained any number of bank notes.

There was, however, nothing more in it, and nothing less than the certificate of death of Peter Cogolin.

"He is really dead, then!" said the captain's wife.

"Of course he is, since the embassador has taken the trouble to send us this."

There was a solemn silence, and then, although no one but the captain had ever set eyes on the American uncle, a few tears were shed in honor of his memory.

The wife then spoke again. "All the same, your embassador does not say a word about his money!"

"You would perhaps have liked him to have written about that first and then told us of his death in a second letter. No, no, they don't do like that in America. They know what's what, and they would not write to us point blank about money as though they thought we were starving. We have only to wait, and as soon as he decently can the embassador will write to us about the money matters."

Unfortunately the embassador, no doubt through negligence, did not send another letter, and in place of the peaceful dreams with which they had deluded themselves a fever—the money fever—seized the whole Cogolin family. They did nothing now but dream of Uncle Peter's millions, and on Sundays when they were all gathered together in their cabin it seemed as though the sun had lost its brightness and as though even the garlic had no flavor.

One morning the captain announced his intention of taking a trip.

"I can very well get off for a month or so," he said. "The lads will manage the boat during my absence, and I feel as though I can't rest without seeing for myself what's going on in New York."

He had to embark from Havre, which made him furious, as he looked upon money spent in railway traveling as money stolen from him.

The enormous ship, however, with all its sailors and passengers, the gilt of the saloons and the bright, marvelous machinery, threw him into an almost religious admiration.

From 8 o'clock in the morning until evening he never uttered a word, but just wandered about from one end of the deck to the other or gazed at the foaming waves.

His speech only returned to him toward the end of the journey, when he began to speculate on what he should find awaiting him in New York.

He began to be restless and wanted to talk to some one about his errand. The steward was a compatriot, and therefore inspired him with confidence, but the steward was busy and referred him to two tall, lanky, sunburned men who were always strolling up and down the deck together, and who looked like Americans.

"Those gentlemen will tell you all about New York," said the steward. "They know the place like A B C."

Captain Cogolin was delighted at the idea of making the acquaintance of people who knew the city of his dreams so thoroughly, and he followed them about everywhere, from the stern to the bridge, up and down deck, and into the narrow corridors of the cabins, trying all the time to enter into conversation with them.

They, however, did not seem anxious to meet his advances. Each time that the captain, with his hat in his hand, approached them and commenced in his most affable manner, "Excuse me, gentlemen, but do you happen to know"—they turned around quickly, pretending not to hear, and walked off, leaving him standing there.

"They certainly have odd manners," said the captain to himself, and then he consoled himself with the idea that, after all, every country had its own customs.

The two Americans, in their turn puzzled by the eccentricities of this man, who followed them about everywhere, questioned the steward, and as he was fond of a joke he drew upon his imagination for their benefit.

"You know there has been a great diamond robbery in Paris?" he said confidentially. "Well, that man is Ernest, the celebrated detective. He is on the track of the thieves and to avoid suspicion has disguised himself like that."

The two Americans looked at each other and soon afterward went down into their cabin and shut themselves in.

They did not appear again on deck, not even when the ship sighted New York, and all the passengers were admiring the panorama. On landing, Captain Cogolin looked out for them, but in vain. They had slipped away amid the confusion.

* * * * * *

"The embassy, sir. Can you tell me the way to the embassy?"

It was the captain, who after wandering about all day in a network of streets and avenues, all exactly alike and all mercilessly numbered, was trying for the hundredth time to get some information.

"How in heaven's name shall I ever make these hurrying, crowding, English speaking savages understand!" he exclaimed at last in despair. "Why in all the round world couldn't my Uncle Peter have taken himself somewhere else to [illegible]"

Suddenly the captain caught sight of a face he knew. Yes, it certainly was one of the Americans with whom he had traveled. There could be no mistaking him, although he had changed his clothes and his hair and beard were cropped close.

"Sir!—sir!"

The other one hears and makes off. But no, this time he shall not escape, and the captain follows him.

The American has long legs, but the captain has strong ones.

"What!" he says below his breath, "this fellow knows New York like A B C, and he won't just tell me where to find the embassy."

The American cannot escape, he skims round corners, and he dodges down streets, but the captain keeps up behind him.

The chase goes on until at last the American is incapable of running another step, and he takes refuge in a restaurant. The captain follows him and says, breathlessly:

"Excuse me, sir, but can you tell me"—

The American turns pale, pushes a chair to the captain, and says in excellent French:

"Hush! let's have no fuss and no useless scandal. Sit down here a minute in this corner."

"Good!" thought the captain, "he's a queer stick, but he's getting more reasonable."

The American continued:

"I know what you've come to New York for. Now, the question is, Can we come to an understanding?"

"Why, certainly we can. Certainly we can," exclaimed the captain, rubbing his hands. "It seems to me straightforward people can always come to an understanding."

"Hang the straightforwardness, but let's come to business," said the American desperately. "In this pocketbook there are £2,000 in bank notes. If you'll say the word, they are yours, and £1,000 more shall be brought to you tonight when the Brittany weighs anchor. Is it understood that you start with the Brittany?"

"Why, certainly, certainly, on those terms," said the captain, who was more and more bewildered at every word uttered by the American.

He tried in vain to understand it all, but it was and ever remained a hopeless mystery to him. He pocketed the money and then found his way to the docks and made inquiries about the Brittany. He secured his passage, and sure enough the money promised him was brought to the boat that night, and Captain Cogolin was not sorry to set sail, for he had had enough of New York.

* * * * * * *

And so the captain returned to the bosom of his family, but to this day it is a mystery to him why he should have received his Uncle Peter's legacy in so extraordinary a manner. It certainly was extraordinary on taking into consideration the fact that the said uncle had died insolvent in the hospital.—Millon.

A "Mourning" Dinner.

A somewhat eccentric dinner was once given in New York by a lady who was wearing very deep mourning for her husband. The table was decorated in black, purple and white, the napery of course was white, but embroidered with the darkest purple pansies—with the monogram in black. Silver vases, filled with the same dark flower, were at the corners of the table, and the ices and small confectionery were all in violet and white. To make the whole thing consistent, the hostess requested all her friends to wear black, and a guest who presided at the foot of the table—and afterward, by the way, married the hostess—appeared with a broad band of crape around his left arm.—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Devout Celestial.

In one of the Sunday schools at Olympia is a little Chinese boy who takes great interest in all the proceedings. When impressed with the propriety of bringing a nickel to put in the contribution box, he promptly responded, but as he parted with it he asked, "What for?" The kind teacher replied, "It's for Jesus, my dear." The second Sunday the same question and the same answer. The third Sunday the same, but now the little Celestial's eyes opened with earnestness as he further asked, "Jesus allee bloke?" The reply of the teacher is not recorded.—Portland Oregonian.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 3. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—How a Christian can make the best of things. Acts xxvii, 33-36; Ps. v, 11, 12.

This is a practical topic. The Christian not only has many blessings and encouragements in his life, but many adversities and discouragements. There are both bitter and sweet, shadow and sunshine. The fact that he is a Christian does not exempt him from the ordinary trials and tribulations of this life. The rain falls alike upon the just and the unjust. So, alas, do the sorrows and cares of life. How then may a Christian meet these things? How may he rise above them? How may he make the best of them?

1. By recognizing the hand of God in all things (Acts xxvi, 33-36). Paul, on his way from Cæsarea to Rome, has been cast by a terrible storm toward an island in the Mediterranean sea. But he does not despair. The ship has not yet landed, and although great danger still surrounds it Paul calls upon all aboard to partake of something to eat, assuring them that they shall not be harmed. He furthermore sets them the example, and by his inspiring words and actions brings cheerfulness when just before had been utter despair. How was Paul able to make the best of such discouraging surroundings? Because he saw the hand of God in them. He had had a vision telling him they should not be injured. God is in the storm as well as the calm, the shadow as well as the sunshine. Believing that fact, we should act upon it by making the best of the most discouraging circumstances.

2. By trusting God in all things (Ps. v, 11, 12). "Let those that put their trust in Thee rejoice," says the psalmist. When shall they rejoice? "Rejoice in the Lord alway," answers the apostle. But how may we be able to rejoice at all times? By trusting in the Lord at all times. It is not enough to recognize the hand of God in all circumstances, but we must trust Him entirely and implicitly. Many believe that God controls all things, but instead of trusting in Him as a kind and wise Father, who does all things for the best and will bring good out of all things, they complain and murmur against Him that they are mistreated. Such a position is erroneous; it is un-Christian; it has not the spirit of the Master who said, "Thy will be done." Let us see God in all things. Let us trust Him in all things, and then we can make the best of all things.

Bible References—Ps. xlvi, 5; lxxix, 73; Prov. iii, 12; Isa. lxv, 18; Jer. xvi, 19; xxxix, 17; Nah. i, 7; Luke i, 46; Acts xxvii, 29-36; Rom. xii, 12; II Cor. vii, 15; Phil. iii, 1; iv, 4; I Thess. v, 16; II Tim. i, 12; Rev. iii, 10.

Christian Endeavor Statistics.

New York state still leads, with 2,966 societies. Pennsylvania is a good second, with 2,638; Illinois, third, with 1,822; Ohio, fourth, with 1,786, and Iowa, fifth, with 1,156. Massachusetts and Indiana are not far behind, however.

In Canada there are 1,863 societies. Ontario leads, with 1,072 societies; Nova Scotia has 208; Quebec, 135; Manitoba, 94, and New Brunswick, 89, and so on through the Dominion.

Maryland, Tennessee and Texas each have over 200 societies, and Georgia, Florida, West Virginia and Arkansas each have over 100, with Virginia and South and North Carolina not very far behind.

England has over 800 societies, Australia over 525; India, 71; Turkey, poor persecuted Turkey, still has 41 societies; New Zealand, 39; Japan, 34; Madagascar, 32; Scotland, 30; Mexico, our neighbors, 22; West Indies, 19; Africa, 15; China, 14; Ireland, 10; France, 9; Samoa, 8; Sandwich Islands, 6; Bermuda, 3; Brazil, 2; Persia, 2, and Chili, Colombia, Norway and Spain, each 1; in all, nearly 1,000 societies in foreign lands, making a grand total enrollment for the wide, wide world of 26,284 local societies, with a membership of 1,577,040.—Report of John Willis Baer.

Looking For Excuses.

We get up reasons why we should not follow Christ closely. We see in our conditions exemption or excuse. It is not ourselves we doubt, our interpretation, our fidelity. We don't take our slack lives and measure them back against Jesus' life and mark how far short we fall and resolve with a great conviction to become more Christlike.—Selected.

Christian Endeavor Notes.

Thirty of the Congregational Endeavorers of Wessington Springs, S. D., went 15 miles out into the country and held an Endeavor meeting, which resulted in the organization of a society at Anina.

Battersea Park Tabernacle Endeavorers, London, have agreed to regular and definite prayer for the divine blessing to rest upon the labors of their pastor. Would that every society in the world would do the same!

A list of 40 English societies lately enrolled, which list, by the way, ends with number 618, shows 19 Baptist societies, 10 Congregational, 5 Methodist, 4 mission, and 1 each of the Presbyterians and Friends.

Chicago now has a full fledged and pledged Chinese Christian Endeavor society.

One Australian Society.

From the very tasteful little leaflet containing the "Second Annual Review" of the Dawson Street Baptist society of Ballarat, Victoria, we glean the following notes of interest: Of the membership all but six are church members, 16 having been baptized this year. The contributions have nearly doubled this year. Three regular cottage meetings and a weekly service at the reformatory have been carried on by the lookout committee, help also having been rendered a gospel mission and a Chinese mission. The tract and visiting committee has 36 members engaged in the work who visit 490 homes weekly. Twenty-six parcels of clothing and large quantities of provisions have been distributed by this committee.

The missionary committee provides for the entire support of a missionary in India. The Sunday school missionary of the society has brought 30 children into the Sunday school, and much other more or less unrepeatable work has been faithfully done by these model Endeavorers. This "review" also contains warm commendation of the society by both the pastor, Rev. Thomas Porter, and the Sunday school superintendent.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON X, THIRD QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, SEPT. 3.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xxvii, 30-44—Memory Verses, 42-44—Golden Text, Ps. xlvi, 1—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

30. "And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under color as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship." I feel grieved to begin this lesson with the treachery of these sailors, when such rich food for the soul is in verses 22 to 29, so strangely omitted by the lesson committee.

31. "Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship ye cannot be saved." Paul was only promised the lives of those with him in the ship (verse 24); if they should start off in the boat by themselves, he could not be responsible for them. Noah was given those with him in the ark, and Rahab those with her in the house. Only those can be saved who are in Christ, and abiding in the evidence that we are truly in Him (John x, 27, 28; I John ii, 19).

32. "Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat and let her fall off." It looked like throwing away their only hope, but it was really their only safety. In order to be saved by Christ we must let go our own righteousness, our own works and even our own ways and thoughts—in fact, all that we have (Isa. lxiv, 6; Titus iii, 5; Isa. lv, 7, [illegible]).

33. "And while the day was coming on Paul besought them all to take meat." They had endured 14 days of such tempestuous weather that they had little opportunity and perhaps little desire to taste food. In verse 20 we read that all hope of ever seeing land had been given up. But now there is light in the darkness. He who controls the winds and the sea (Mark iv, 39) had for His servant's sake sent a message of peace.

34. "This is for your health, for there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you." This is a common Old and New Testament illustration of perfect safety. See I Sam. xiv, 45; II Sam. xiv, 11; I Kings i, 52; Math. x, 30; Luke xii, 7; xxi, 18. Even concerning Daniel's friends who were cast into the seven times heated furnace it is written that there was not a hair of their heads singed (Dan. iii, 27).

35. "And when he had thus spoken he took bread and gave thanks to God in the presence of them all, and when he had broken it he began to eat." Thus he glorified God, whose he was and whom he served. Thus he magnified Christ in his body (Phil. i, 20). He testified before all that he knew God, that he trusted in God and that he had dealings with God. He gave thanks for deliverance when it was not yet visible except to faith.

36. "Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat." He not only exhorted them to be of good cheer, but being of good cheer himself he influenced others to do likewise (verses 22, 25). Compare Acts xxiii, 11; Math. ix, 2, 22, and John xvi, 33. If we steadfastly believe God, we will be filled with joy and peace (Rom. xv, 13), and inasmuch as it is impossible for any of us to live only unto ourselves (Rom. xiv, 7) we must of necessity influence others to be cheerful also.

37. "And we were in all in the ship two hundred, threescore and sixteen souls." Think of 276 people saved from a watery grave by one man. Ten righteous men would have saved Sodom from its fiery overthrow. How many thousands have been saved from eternal death by such men as Spurgeon, Moody, Mueller, Needham and others! What is your influence in the world? Does it tend to the health and safety of others, or are you a troubler and a dishonor to the Prince of Peace?

38. "And when they had eaten enough they lightened the ship and cast out the wheat into the sea." The angel had told Paul, and he had passed it on that the ship would be lost (verse 22). There was therefore no object in attempting longer to preserve the cargo. The life is more than meat, and to lighten the ship would tend to their safety. If some Christians would unload some of their wealth for the good of others and for Jesus' sake, it would be better for them, both for this world and for the world to come.

[illegible] "And when it was day they knew not the land." How welcome the daylight would be and also the sight of the land, since they knew that all would somehow reach it in safety! The storm was still on, and on a lee shore as they were there would seem to be more danger of their lives than ever, but the word of God had been given that no life would be lost. How happy and peaceful should those be whose anchor is within the vale, sure and steadfast (Heb. vi, 19)!

40. "And when they had taken up the anchors they made toward the shore." Now came the greatest danger apparently, for might they not all be dashed to pieces? No, for the word of God was pledged on their behalf. One who trusts in that word can say, "Therefore will not we fear though the earth be removed and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea" (Ps. xlvi, 2).

41. "And falling into a place where two seas met they ran the ship aground." The fore part remained immovable, while the rest was soon broken by the waves, and the vessel that had held together through all the tempest on the sea and kept them from going to the bottom was now a hopeless wreck. It came to pass as Paul had been told—the ship should be lost (verse 22).

42. "And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out and escape." It was because of one of these prisoners that all were alive. They were glad enough to listen to his words of encouragement in the storm, but now they would ruthlessly take his life if permitted. Ah, Paul, thou hadst much fellowship with thy Master, for those whom He came to bless actually took His life. When shall we learn the lesson that the servant is not greater than his master and be well content to be as He (John xv, 19, 20)?

43. "But the centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose." The records of the centurions whom the Lord used to accomplish His purposes or who were led to know Him as their Lord is most instructive. The name of this one is given in verse 1. Compare chapter x, 22, and see also Math. viii, 5, 8, 10; xxvii, 54.

44. "And so it came to pass that they escaped all safe to land." What God and angels testify we may surely believe, for "The Lord of Hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought so shall it come to pass, and as I have purposed so shall it stand" (Isa. xiv, 24). May the fulfillment of the words of this angel lead us to believe firmly the words of some other angels who said, "This same Jesus shall so come in like manner." And also the words of Gabriel, that "The Lord God shall give unto Him the throne of His father David, and He shall reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of His kingdom there shall be no end" (Luke i, 32, 33).

An electric alarm bell for use on trains, to supersede the unsatisfactory cord communication, has been successfully tried in Scotland. In addition to serving as an alarm, it can be used for starting trains.

Over the seaside areas of Wyoming the rainfall averages 13 inches. It is heaviest in spring and summer, though a month has never been known to pass without any precipitation whatever.

Old Timers on the Ohio River.

The Ohio river steamboat captain of 35 years ago has never been equaled in point of assumed dignity by anything except the modern postoffice clerk and the officers of the "mosquito fleet" during the war. When he came on board and the mate took his place at the bell with the roustabouts ready to haul in the gangplank, one could imagine that about all that was admirable in the universe was about to move out. And it was a quaint picture, with merry and homelike [illegible].

The old timer along the banks of the Ohio loves to talk of the good old days only to bewail the degeneracy of the times. He never tires of telling of the exploits of the Bostona, Boston, Wild Wagoner, Lady Franklin, Alice Pike and a score of other familiar names. What if the old timers were profane? The natives along the shores expected it. When the steamer of 30 years ago rounded to for the purpose of taking on wood, the poor devil who sawed the wood just as firmly expected a cursing as he did a salutation. The wood was too blank long, too blank short and too blank green. Everything was wrong. In fact, the stamp of brutality pervaded every transaction and all intercourse. But it was not a spirit of mutality. It was their way—the way of the tribes. It was as natural for an Ohio river steamboat officer to swear as it was for him to hit a deckhand with a board or as it is for a dude to look silly.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Wendell Phillips as a Lecturer.

Wendell Phillips as a lecturer, and apart from his extraordinary power as a convention orator on occasions, was quite the most interesting, the most convincing, the most polished and delightful platform speaker that America has produced. He owed his success to his wit, to the most felicitous and incisive vocabulary, to the most melodious and entrancing voice and to his perfect command of himself and all his resources. He was never slovenly. He always brought his best thought most carefully arranged to his audience, and he never met an audience, even one hostile to him and his opinions, that he could not at length subdue to his potent influence. Nothing was left to chance.

He would no more have produced an unfinished lecture than a great artist would have exhibited an unfinished picture. He respected his audience, and the audience always felt this. The sympathy that he gained from it, even when it disagreed with him, was the more remarkable because he never, or rarely ever, improvised. Yet he had such consummate art that he seemed to be improvising, the golden words apparently dropping freshly coined from the brilliant mint of his mind. He was eloquent without a single burst of cheap rhetoric. And of all orators on the platform he was the most convincing and plausible for the hour.—Charles Dudley Warner in Harper's.

Cheap Hats For Artists.

All the young women in an art school are doing their studying this summer under the shade of Japanese peasant hats. These are mere disks of loosely plaited straw about two feet wide and cost 10 cents. They have no peak nor crown and are just as suitable for use as table mats as for anything else. To make hats of them it is only necessary to sew a ribbon to one surface of them, leaving its two ends free to tie under the chin as bonnet strings. Thus they become hat and parasol in one.—New York Letter.

If the Atlantic's Bed Were Raised.

An elevation of the seabed 100 fathoms would suffice to lay bare the greatest part of the North sea and join England to Denmark, Holland, Belgium and France. A deep channel of water would run down the west coast of Norway, and with this a majority of the fiords would be connected. A great part of the bay of Biscay would disappear, but Spain and Portugal are but little removed from the Atlantic depression. The 100 fathom line approaches very near the west coast, and soundings of 1,000 fathoms can be made within 20 miles of Cape St. Vincent, and much greater depths have been sounded at distances but little greater than this from the western shores of the Iberian peninsula.—Nautical Magazine.

Unusually Flush.

Charlie Hardup—Say, old man, lend me $5.

Dick Uppers—Sorry, but I just had to borrow $10 myself.

Charlie—Well, then, you can lend me five, can't you?—Truth.

Those who have a

Good Digestion

have little sympathy for the dyspeptic. They can eat everything that comes along. While they can eat rich food without fear of the dyspeptic's bad experiences, they nevertheless greatly appreciate a delicate flavor in their pastry.

Cottolene

when used as a shortening, always produces the finest flavored pastry, which is entirely free from the many objections which the use of lard always produces. Test its value by one trial.

Refuse all substitutes.

Send three cents in stamps to N. K. Fairbank & Co., Chicago, for handsome Cottolene Cook Book containing six hundred recipes, prepared by nine eminent authorities on cooking.

Cottolene is sold by all grocers.

Made only by

N. K. FAIRBANK & CO.,

CHICAGO, and

Produce Exchange, N. Y.,

[illegible] State Street, Boston.

DR. JOHNSON'S SPECIALTIES.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

UNLIKE ANY OTHER

FOR HOUSEHOLD USE.

Was originated and first prescribed by AN OLD FAMILY PHYSICIAN in 1810. Could a remedy without real merit have survived over eighty years?

Generation after Generation Have Used It.

For INTERNAL as much as EXTERNAL use. It is Soothing, Healing, Penetrating. Once used always wanted; and dealers say "Can't sell any other kind."

Every Mother Should have Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in the house for Croup, Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsilitis, Colic, Cuts, Bruises and Burns. Stops Pain, Cramps, Inflammation in Body or Limb. Cures Coughs, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Cholera Morbus. For Muscular Rheumatism, Lame Back, Stiff Joints, Strains, best remedy made. Pamphlet for Nervous Headache. Full particulars sent free. Sold everywhere. Price, 35 cents; Six, $2.00. If you can't get it send to us. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston, Mass. deod

[illegible]IES

Profit Is Nothing

But a Memory Today.

It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.

Hats reduced to less than cost, both trimmed and untrimmed.

Trimmed Hats at 98c.

Cost or value no consideration.

RIBBONS.

All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.

Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.

Don't have to talk much about them. At our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.

New York Bazaar.

112 MAIN ST.

aug19d

REDUCTION

In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.

We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits which we will close at the following prices: $6.00 and $7.95. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, so they must be sold.

Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close, at

A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St.

aug8d

MILLINERY.

Hats, Bonnets, Elegant Ribbons, Laces and Flowers,

—AT—

MISS S. F. STANTON'S, aug4d No. 18 Shetucket Street.

JUST RECEIVED,

Another lot of those Down Spreads and Sofa Pillows at the Bouquet Millinery and Fancy Goods Parlors, No. 5 Lower Broadway. We also carry a full line of B. and A. Wash Silk, Art Threads, Fringes, and everything pertaining to Fancy Work.

STAMPING AND PINKING A SPECIALTY.

Everything in the Millinery line will be sold regardless of cost. aug8dWS

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES

—AT—

40C. PER THOUSAND.

They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.

COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.

The Bulletin Co.,

NORWICH, CONN.

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.

Established [illegible].

NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.

Established 17[illegible].

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 12 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 2 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application to the business office. No cuts or electrotypes inserted in [illegible].

To guard against mistakes, advertisements should be sent in manuscript. We cannot be responsible for errors that occur in messages received by telephone.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their own immediate business, and their contracts do not include Wants, To Let, For Sale, etc.

All news letters should be addressed to THE MORNING BULLETIN; all business communications to THE BULLETIN COMPANY.

Money orders and checks should be made payable to THE BULLETIN CO.

All communications must be signed. Anonymous letters or news items will not be read, but thrown into the waste basket.

No manuscript preserved or returned, unless stamps are enclosed fully to prepay postage.

Entered at the post office at Norwich, Conn., as second class mail matter.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Friday, September 1, 1893.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

VACATION DAYS OVER.

Today the summer vacation of the schools of the city ends. The two months have been pleasurably and profitably spent by teachers and pupils in various ways. As a rule the fond parents do not enjoy the long vacation, but the children do. They have played in the open air, been on excursions and picnics, visited and made liberal additions to their strength and energy. Many of the teachers and scholars have visited Chicago and the world's fair, and will carry back to the schools a fund of information, which will be helpful and entertaining to those who have remained at home. However much the long vacation may tax the patience of the parents there is no doubt it blesses and benefits the children, and on Tuesday they will return to their desks and their studies with new life and stored vigor for a full year's work.

PEARY'S EXPEDITION.

The last reports adverse to Peary's expedition, stating he is a month behind, bear the stamp of fabrication in this very assertion. It is only about a month ago that he started north from St. John, and he has been advancing, according to programme, every day since. The statement is not plausible. On the 3d of August he was at Nain, Labrador, which is ten days' sail from Bowdoin bay, on which he will make his winter quarters. Men experienced in arctic travel do not believe there is any scarcity of dogs, or that prices have advanced from forty cents a dog to five dollars. The ice goes out of Malville bay the last of July, and there is open water there from seven to ten weeks. The probability is that the Falcon has reached her destination, and that the party is pretty well established at Redcliffe, as the steamer is due at St Johns on September 15.

BAD TREATMENT.

Six men representing the great army of unemployed were found by two Hartford policemen sleeping in an ice-house early Thursday morning and locked up. At the regular hour these men were brought before the city court and told a reasonable story about themselves; and their hands bore evidence of hard labor. They represented four different states, and the statement made by them, evidently, favorably impressed Judge Barbour, but he could not resist the temptation to do his duty, so he sentenced them to one day in jail without costs.

None of these men had ever been arrested before and yet they were given a police record. Judge Barbour should not be censured for doing what he thought was right, but we hope no other judge in the state will follow his example in these times when men are suffering for want of work and forced to find shelter anywhere for a night on the road. The intent of the law under which these men were imprisoned was right, but any law might be made oppressive and unjust by an injudicious application of it.

SILVER RALLYING.

These are times when the incidents of finance do not harmonize with certain popular theories. Although the Sherman bill was the cause of the entire financial stress and distrust, according to democratic authorities, while the repeal of the bill was being considered and the chances for an unconditional repeal seemed uncertain, gold came flowing back into the country, and the first week the silver question was being discussed ten million dollars in gold was imported. On Monday last the Sherman law was unconditionally repealed, and probably there was not a financier in the country who would have said Monday night that silver would advance in price immediately, but it rose to seventy-five cents on Thursday, and has advanced five cents an ounce since August 2.

The papers that thought the five thousand tons of silver accumulated in the treasury was worth nothing must admit that during August it has had several millions added to its value. The government can afford to hold it, and it may some day be worth more than it cost. Silver has its ups and downs as well as everything else.

The free-silver heresy is an egg the democratic hen laid; but the cock-of-the-walk would not permit her to hatch it!

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Maxwell is still slaughtering fourth-class postmasters. He made a record of 120 in a day recently.

The United States senate has the repeal bill and are dallying with it. The New York Tribune says: "Senators may do a large amount of talking, but eventually they will have to 'play ball!'"

The Lowell Courier thinks "the democratic party as a whole has lost caste!" We cannot comprehend how that can be. It always appeared to us to be an incongruous mass without any cast whatever.

"Holland," of The Philadelphia Press, is E. J. Edwards, years ago editor of THE BULLETIN. His diagnosis of the president's case surprised the doctors. We hope the president's loss of an ulcerated tooth will not further alarm the country.

When "intrinsic value" and the cent meet, the cent always smiles. The cent carries a forty-eight million dollar face in this country on metal, the intrinsic value of which is not half a million! His Uncle Sam has "the rocks."

The fact that the wrecked Chester bridge was being strengthened shows the Boston & Albany company was aware of its weakness; and the slaughter there shows that the structure had been neglected too long.

The democrats are seriously talking of taxing sugar, and Congressman John De Witt is in favor of "a 20 per cent duty on all sugars." They think the workingmen were getting too much "sugar" under the republican administration.

The Chicago platform of the democratic party was never built to place confidence in. It was a "hurrah platform," but the result of its policy has taken the "hurrah" out of most of the workingmen of the party.

Those who have asked themselves the question whether physical or mental agony is the worst have the question solved. In the railroad accident at Chester on Thursday, where thirteen were killed and more than a score badly wounded, the woman who wrung her hands and moaned loudest was one mentally distressed for fear the railroad would never pay for the seal skin sack she had lost.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

That Compromise.

But for democratic financial heresy and demagogy there would have been no need for the Sherman law and no need for its repeal.—[New York Press.

They Were Not all There.

There was a reunion of the Smith family in New Jersey the other day, and there were 10,000 persons present. And yet it is doubtful if the family was as fully represented as it might have been.—[Boston Herald.

An Interesting Plank.

The Iowa democrats, in their latest political platform "favor the establishment by law of a free public employment office in connection with the bureau of labor statistics." The plank was tucked away toward the end and will not excite any discussion, but it's rather interesting.—[Springfield Republican.

Hoke Surrenders.

Hoke Smith surrenders to the union veterans on the pension suspension business. The Georgia cracker has the solace of knowing that Bourbons did something similar at Appomattox some years ago.—[New York Press.

The People Can Be Trusted.

Governor McKinley says that the people of Ohio can be trusted to vote for themselves this year. The same thing can be confidently said of the people of other states. The result of voting for frauds and fallacies is not a success.—[New York Tribune.

Repeal an Inadequate Remedy.

Perhaps the most important part of Senator Sherman's speech is his warning that the repeal of the silver purchase act is an inadequate remedy for the troubles of the monetary and industrial situation.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

A Mighty Concern.

Among the great industrial concerns which has started up again in the past few days after a period of idleness is the Weldringhaus Tin Plate works of St. Louis, "employing 1,000 hands." The McKinley tariff may be killed, but some of its fruits will live after it. Such a mighty establishment as this is not going to succumb without a mighty struggle.—[Boston Journal.

Not Looking for It.

Until the tariff legislation is completed, and it is known to what extent the democracy intends to live up to its platform, we do not look for a return of the good times of the past few years. Confidence is easily impaired but slowly re-established. It is in the general prosperity that we all share, and not until it returns and the large stock of goods in the hands of printers, several times larger than the gray goods in sight, is converted into cash, do we look for marked change for the better in our local industry.—[Fall River Evening News.

Why Did He Go Abroad for His Yacht?

The arrival of W. K. Vanderbilt's British built steam yacht Valiant, with a foreign crew, presents a sorry spectacle of how far an American citizen will go toward humiliating native producers and ignoring native productions. There cannot be one iota of native pride for the American shipbuilder and kindred interests in the breast of any man who will place an order for a pleasure craft to cost over $500,000 with a foreign builder and especially at a time when his countrymen were on the verge of financial distress.—[Marine Journal, September 1.

Wants the Matter Postponed.

"Extremely bad policy," is the New York World's opinion of the attempt to prepare a democratic tariff bill next autumn. It would have the whole subject postponed till after the election. The World is a workingman's newspaper. It perceives the ominous drift among wage earners. But its plea to its party's southern bosses to stop the work of tariff smashing is as unavailing as it is ignominious.—[Boston Journal.

The continent of Europe is said to contain 4,095,000 more women than men. The female sex preponderates most strongly in Portugal and Norway.

In noble Roman houses a slave was kept to read to the family while at their meals. Sometimes this office was performed by a member of the family. The Emperor Severus often read aloud while his wife and friends ate.

NEW BOOKS.

"THE BOOK OF THE FAIR," part I., by Hubert Howe Bancroft. The Bancroft company, Chicago and San Francisco.

The first is a series of twenty-five handsome parts perpetuating the best in the Columbian Exposition. The letter-press is perfect and the engravings, with which the book is copiously supplied, are both artistic and correct. It contains a chapter on Fairs of the Past, from the London Crystal Palace of 1851 to the Paris Exposition of 1889, followed by a readable and pithy sketch of Chicago.

"The Book of the Fair," part II.

Devoted to a sketch of the inception and development of the World's fair idea. Engravings of the buildings in different stages of construction, a ground-plan of the site, key to the Midway Plaisance, portraits, etc., add to the literary and artistic value of the work. To possess such a book is the next best thing to seeing the White city; and even visitors to the exposition must value such a handsome and faithful memorial of the fair.

"THE ROAD OF THE ROOFS," by Maurice M. Minton. The Illustrated American Publishing company, New York.

A strong story of the lights and shadows of New York, marked by truthful contrasts and by graphic pictures of wealth and misery, sin and innocence, joy and sorrow, as the acute observer sees them day after day in the hurrying panorama of metropolitan life. The little tale serves admirably to point many a moral. For sale by Noyes & Davis.

JOSEPH ZALMONAH, a novel by Edward King. Lee & Shepard, publishers, Boston.

This book is an oasis of readable sense in a desert of trash and sensationalism. It is the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" of the Russian Jew, furnishing a graphic picture of life in the sweating dens of New York, repulsive because true, yet never exaggerated. The Humane Society bought thousands of copies of "Black Beauty" for distribution; some humanitarian should do the same with Joseph Zalmonah, and so disseminate among the press and people of America correct ideas of this white slavery which is a disgrace to modern civilization. The book possesses an intense human interest by reason of the love story which forms its groundwork, and a touch of humor lightens its sadness through the antics and adventures of Ben Zion, a typical peddler. It is of local interest as furnishing a representative picture of the Hebrew colonies in Connecticut. What George Eliot has done for the aristocratic Jew, Edward King is doing for the oppressed Russian refugee. "Joseph Zalmonah" is a character to excite admiration and respect. For sale by Noyes & Davis.

EXERCISES IN GREEK PROSE COMPOSITION: By Wm. R. Harper, president, and Clarence F. Castle, assistant professor of Greek, University of Chicago. The American Book Co., New York.

A handy little volume designed to secure not only readiness in the construction of sentences, but a working knowledge of the principles of the Greek language, and a first acquaintance with its literature. To this end 100 of the 125 pages are devoted to practical experiences based on the Anabasis, the last eight chapters being inductive studies in the uses of the Greek modes. Of course the text supplies vocabulary, idioms, and model sentences. For sale by Cranston & Co.

PRACTICAL LESSONS IN LANGUAGE. By [illegible] Y. Conklin, Principal of Grammar School [illegible] Brooklyn, N. Y. The American Book Co., New York.

An attractive volume, evidently the work of a practical teacher. The lessons are arranged under two heads: "Things to Notice" and "Things to Do." The various exercises are so prepared as to lead the pupil to see and to think for himself. Considerable attention is given to correct forms of letter writing. For sale by Cranston & Co.

Those persons who do not need iron, but who are troubled with Nervousness and Dyspepsia, will find in Carter's Little Nerve Pills a most desirable article. They are mostly used in combination with Carter's Little Liver Pills, and in this way often exert a most magical effect. Take just one pill of each kind immediately after eating and you will be free from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. In vials at 25 cents. Try them.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles!

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

Conscience Makes Cowards

Of us all, says Hamlet, but there are some people who have no conscience at all. Among them are dealers who endeavor to palm upon the public cheap, corrosive substitutes of pure and fragrant SOZODONT. Let the public be on its guard against such shams.

"How to Cure All Skin Diseases."

Simply apply SWAYNE'S OINTMENT. No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for SWAYNE'S OINTMENT.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

SCHOOL BOOKS,
SCHOOL SUPPLIES,
AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
SCHOOL DISTRICTS FURNISHED
with every requisite
AT LOWEST PRICES.
Cranston & Co.
aug9daw

DROP ME A POSTAL
and I will call on you with a fine line of Photos and Designs of
MONUMENTAL & CEMETERY WORK
and samples of Granite and Marble of various kinds of colors.
LEVI W. CROUCH, Norwich, Conn.
mar9ddaw

ESTABLISHED IN 1861.
Adam's Tavern,
NORWICH TOWN.
A. A. ADAM, Proprietor.

The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 10 years ago. They have become intensely popular. They sell on their own merits:

Imperial Bourbon, Zeb Ward, 1865, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1880, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.

N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers.
A. A. ADAM.
Telephone call [illegible]. [illegible]

REID & HUGHES.

THE
BOSTON STORE

Upholstery Department.

We open today a magnificent assortment of fine quality

Smyrna Rugs!
at LOW PRICES.

The designs are new and the colorings most effective. The sizes are 18, 21, 26, 30 and 36 inches.

Reid & Hughes.
sep2ddaw

THE NATIONAL BARGAIN CO.

—AT THE—
BARGAIN STORE.

A GENERAL REDUCTION
—IN—
Nearly all Goods Before Taking Inventory.

This means a discount from the regular bargain prices on our goods, which are always

LOWER THAN THE LOWEST

at any time. Not a few items, but nearly everything in stock will be slaughtered for a few days.

OUR LOSS
—IS—
YOUR GAIN.

A dollar will do double duty. Call and see.

NATIONAL
BARGAIN COMPANY,
Shannon Building,
NORWICH, - - - CONN.
jy20TuThS

STORAGE.
Storage of non-hazardous or imperishable goods or merchandise may be obtained in my Warehouse at 23 Commerce Street.
may1dd A. T. CONVERSE.

DRUGS, PAINTS AND OILS.

No Notice Required.

Duggan's Soda Fountain

Is prepared to stand all runs upon it by depositors of 5 cents and upwards. Its draughts are pronounced by all as good as gold.

DUGGAN'S SODA FOUNTAIN,
aug2dd 50 MAIN ST.

LEE & OSGOOD,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
DRUGGISTS,
129–133 Main St. and 150–154 Water St.

ESTABLISHED : 1788.

—SOLE PROPRIETORS OF—
DR. DODD'S
Nervine and Invigorator,
A NERVE TONIC
—AND—
STOMACHIC.

Dodd's Nervine aids digestion, insures good appetite, gives tone and vigor to the system, guarantees sweet and refreshing sleep and restores enfeebled and nervous constitutions to PERFECT HEALTH.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF
Atomizers and Perfumes
COLGATE'S EXTRACTS IN BULK.
TOILET ARTICLES
IN GREAT VARIETY

We make a Specialty of
Tooth Brushes.
Large Invoice Just Received.
25 AND 35 CENTS.

LEE & OSGOOD
NORWICH, CONN. dec[illegible]daw

LUMBER AND COAL.

E. CHAPPELL & CO.

COAL,
LUMBER,
SHINGLES.
Greatest Variety. Largest Stock.

Branch Office, 207 Main St., Franklin Square. Office and Yard, Central Wharf.
Telephone at both offices. nov2ddaw

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRY
H. F. & A. J. DAWLEY
If you want good
BUILDING LUMBER & SHINGLES.
They have the largest stock in the city and will make you low prices.
Telephone 63–4. may[illegible]

51 John A. Morgan & Son, 51
Coal & Lumber,
51 West Main St., Central Wharf.
Family Coal a Specialty.
Estimates furnished at short notice. Telephone. june6
51 51

FINE ARTS.

REMOVED.
McNickle, Picture Frame and Gilding Manuf.,

Has Removed to 35 BROADWAY. You will always find a Complete Line of Artist Proof Etchings, Engravings, Prang's Sundries and fac simile Water Colors. oct1d

REMOVED—Laighton Brothers have removed their photograph gallery from the Chelsea Bank Building to No. 36 Shetucket St., in the building with the Henry Bill Publishing Co., where all old patrons will be welcomed and new ones be heartily greeted. Their new rooms are neatly furnished, their facilities for doing first-class work have been much improved. New backgrounds have been put in, and the light for producing photographs has been arranged according to the best methods known to the business. All work promptly attended to.
mar8d LAIGHTON BROTHERS.

REMOVAL.
We have removed
From 11 to 31 Chestnut St.,
Where we have superior facilities for doing all kinds of work in our line.
Steam Carpet Cleaning.
Ladies' garments, cloth of all description dyed, Dying feathers a specialty. Promptness and thoroughness guaranteed.
WILSON BROS. mar9d

S. S. THRESHER,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Notary Public.
[illegible]

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR GOODS advertise them in THE BULLETIN.

REAL ESTATE.

TO RENT.
Tenement of 5 Rooms. Hot and cold water. Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. 257 West Main street. Rent moderate.
aug8d S. E. ROBBINS, [illegible]

TO RENT.
ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Room suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug5d

TO RENT.
A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS,
each with all the modern improvements, on Boswell Ave., of ten rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 3 Water St. may28d

TO RENT.
Tenement 112 River Avenue.
apr18d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.
A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, 7 rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 8 Grove street, or inquire of E. M. BREWSTER, 45 Water Street. apr7d

TO RENT.
Three Large Rooms in the Bill Block.
Possession immediately. Apply to may2TuThS E. E. THOMPSON.

FOR RENT.
House on the Green in Norwich Town.
Inquire of JAMES B. FULLER, Cor. Main and Shetucket Streets, or A. W. DICKEY, Norwich Town. aug8TTh8

TO RENT.
The Large Store with fine Cellar
in the Boswell Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Servine & Gordon. Apply to aug8d GEORGE D. COIT.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.
A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.
Horseshoeing in all its Branches.
—11—13—15 Chestnut Street.—
jy17daw

FOR SALE.
Owner going abroad desires to sell immediately at low figures
[illegible]
Extra Style, Perfect Action, Very Handsome, Fearless, Safe and Sound. Can be ridden by a lady; also can be driven. One is a Kentucky Thoroughbred, [illegible]
aug8d

TO MANUFACTURERS!
A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines cheapness and efficiency, WEEK'S ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest pipe and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn. Inventor and Manufacturer. nov1d

SUMMER TRAVEL.

STEAMER GYPSY.
CHANGE OF TIME.

On and after FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, until further notice, this steamer will leave here on her morning trip at 8.35, or on arrival of 8.30 electric cars, and on her afternoon trip at 1.30, a half hour earlier than heretofore. This change will give patrons the usual time at the beach and enable them to reach home at 6.30 instead of 7 p. m.

Hereafter when the Gypsy cannot land at beach with safety, car tickets will be furnished to patrons for that point free to and from New London by the agent on board.
aug30d PALMER SMITH.

New London Steamboat Co.

1893—SEASON—1893.

COMMENCING
SATURDAY, July 1st,
—THE—
STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND

Will make daily trips (Sundays excepted) between Norwich, Montville, New London, Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island. Leaving Norwich 8.15 a. m., Montville 8.45, New London 9.45, touching at Mystic Island and Watch Hill, arriving at Block Island 12.45 p. m.

Returning, leave Block Island at 2 p. m., Watch Hill 3.30, touching at Mystic Island; reaching New London at 5, Montville 5.55, and Norwich 6.15.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, G. P. A. june6

Steamer Ella.
SEASON OF 1893.
— ON —
Friday, June 23

And during the season the Steamer Ella will make daily excursions to the shore resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.45, Ft. Griswold House 9.45, Mystic Island 10.30, arriving at Watch Hill about 11.15. Returning, leave Watch Hill at 3.45 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 4.55, arriving about 6.

Special Rates to Excursion Parties.

Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.

[illegible]

JAMES WALKER, Manager, Norwich Ct.
ju2d

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION
Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices.
Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.
No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.
jy6daw 23 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD,
DENTIST,
Over Boston Store, opp. Wauregan House. Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. nov2d

DR. J. H. ELDRED,
DENTIST.
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, Ether or Cocaine administered.
OFFICE—214 Main Street.
Trueman's Block Franklin Square. Residence 15 BROADWAY. [illegible]

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES
—OF—
DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.

As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles C. Bliss, 125 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, his entire stock of goods,

CONSISTING OF
Diamond Jewelry,
Gold and Silver Watches,
Sterling Silver Ware,
Gold Chains,
Brooches,
Rings,
French Black Marble Clocks,
French Onyx Clocks,
American Clocks,
Silver Plated Ware,
Pocket Books,
Fancy Goods,
Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.
jul6d JOHN BLISS, Administrator.

BOOK BINDERS.

BLANK BOOKS made to order. Paper ruled to any pattern. Tickets numbered from 1 to 100,000.
MAGAZINES BOUND
in any style of binding. Old books repaired. Back Nos. furnished to complete volumes by JOSEPH BRADFORD Practical Bookbinder.
Bulletin Building, up stairs. Norwich, Ct.

COWAN, the Bookbinder
will after this date be found on the ground floor,
103 Broadway.

TRAVELERS DIRECTORY.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.
NEW LONDON DIVISION.
Change of time.

On and after MONDAY, June 26, 1893, TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NEW LONDON AS FOLLOWS:

5.25 a. m., Norwich at 6.05 a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Palmer, Springfield, Ware, Gilbertville, Brattleboro, St. Johnsbury, Burlington, Montreal, Ogdensburg and intermediate stations.

8.00 a. m., Norwich 8.15 for Brattleboro, connecting at Willimantic for Boston, Hartford, Colchester, Middletown, New Haven, New York; at Palmer with Boston and Albany R. R. for Springfield, Pittsfield, Albany, and for points west; also for Ware and Gilbertville, and at Brattleboro with Express, for St. Albans, Montreal, and principal intermediate points. Also points west via Grand Trunk R. R.

10.05 a. m., Norwich at 10.25 a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Waterbury, Middletown, Colchester, etc.

11.55 a. m., connecting from Providence, Boston, and intermediate stations.

2.30 p. m., connecting with express from Boston, Providence, New York and New Haven, at Norwich with Norwich & Worcester Railroad.

2.50 p. m., Norwich 3.05 p. m., connecting at Willimantic for Hartford, and at Palmer for Springfield, Albany and the west.

5.05 p. m., Norwich 5.25, for Brattleboro connecting with train leaving New York at [illegible] p. m., and with N. Y., P. & B. R. R. [illegible] Providence and way stations; also Boston or Block Island from Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island, and connecting at Willimantic for Hartford and Bristol, Putnam, Boston and Providence; also for Colchester, Middletown, New Haven and New York, and at Palmer with Boston & Albany R. R., for Springfield, Albany and the west and at Brattleboro with express for St. Albans, Montreal and Quebec, reaching Montreal and principal points in Vermont the same evening.

[illegible] p. m. for Norwich. This train connects with [illegible] a. m. express from New York.

8.15 a. m. (Sundays only) connecting with express train from New York and Boston.

GOING SOUTH.

Passenger trains LEAVE NORWICH as follows:

6.15 a. m., connecting for Stonington, Providence, New Haven and New York.

9.15 a. m., for New London, Stonington and Providence and Boston. New Haven for New York connecting with steamer Block Island for Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island.

10.55 a. m. for New London, New Haven and New York, Providence and Boston.

12.34 p. m. for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.

2.50 p. m. for New London, New Haven and New York.

6.00 p. m. for New London, Stonington and Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.

6.15 p. m. for New London, connecting with Shore Line express reaching New York [illegible] p. m. with express train for Providence and Boston, and accommodation train for Westerly and intermediate stations.

[illegible] p. m. for New London and for New York, by boat from New London.

9.26 p. m. for New London and for New York via boat from New London.

7.00 p. m. (Sundays only) connecting with express train for New York and Boston.
[illegible] D. MACKENZIE, [illegible]

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.
NORWICH & WORCESTER DIVISION.
For Boston, Worcester, Providence, Hartford, Waterbury, Newburgh.
Commencing MONDAY, June 12, 1893
"Eastern" Time Standard.
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NORWICH UNION STATION.

5.10 a. m. (Sundays excepted) Steamboat train. Connects at Putnam for Boston, arrive Boston 8.00 a. m. At Worcester for all points north, Portland, [illegible]

6.55 a. m. Way Passenger Train, connecting at Plainfield Junction for Providence, arrive Providence 8.25 a. m.; at Putnam for Boston arriving at 9.45 a. m.; at Putnam for Willimantic and Hartford, arrive Hartford 10.15 a. m. At Worcester for Boston, Springfield and intermediate stations, Albany and the west.

9.30 a. m., connecting at Putnam for Boston (arrive at 1.10 p. m.) At Plainfield for Providence (arrive at 12.45 p. m.) At Worcester with roads north, east and west. Webster with train for Southbridge.

2.00 p. m. Way Passenger, connects at Putnam for Hartford and Boston, arrive Boston 5.35 p. m. At Webster for Southbridge. At Worcester with Boston & Albany Railroad, B. & M. R. R., and Fitchburg, R. R.

5.35 p. m., for Plainfield, Providence and intermediate stations, through car, arrive at Providence 8.00 p. m.

8.15 p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Plainfield for Providence and from Providence.

A train leaves Providence at 7.15 a. m. and connects at Plainfield with train for Putnam, arriving at Putnam [illegible]
[Leave Plainfield at 8.00 a. m.]

TRAINS GOING SOUTH LEAVE WORCESTER.

6.45 a. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster for Southbridge, at Putnam with train for Hartford, Waterbury and intermediate points and New York, at Putnam for Providence.

9.34 a. m., connects with trains from B. & A. R. R., F. R. R. and Boston and Maine R. R. at Webster for Southbridge, Putnam with train to [illegible] [Take this train for Hartford, New York, Waterbury, Fishkill on Hudson and Plainfield from Providence.]

12.30 p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster with train from Southbridge, at Putnam with 12 o'clock express from Boston for Willimantic, Hartford and New York. At Norwich for New London.

4.00 p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster for Southbridge, at Putnam for Willimantic and Hartford, and with [illegible] p. express train from Boston.

[illegible] p. m. Steamboat Express for New York (via New London.) (Sundays excepted.) Connects with trains from B. & A. R. R. and Fitchburg R. R. This train leaves Norwich for New London at 9.35 p. m.

8.00 p. m. Plainfield and Norwich, connecting at Plainfield with 8.00 p. m. train from Providence arrive Norwich [illegible] a through car.

W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass Agt.
F. E. DEWEY, Supt.
Norwich, June 12 1893.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your [illegible] is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Lee & Osgood. [nov15tuthsaw

All Free.

Those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery know its value, and those who have not, have now the opportunity to try it Free. Call on the advertised Druggist and get a Trial Bottle, Free. Send your name and address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills Free, as well as a copy of Guide to Health and Household Instructor, Free. All of which is guaranteed to do you good and cost you nothing. Lee & Osgood's Drug store. dec6tuthsaw

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the Liver be inactive, you have a Bilious Look, if your stomach be disordered, you have a Dyspeptic Look and if your Kidneys be affected you have a Pinched Look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and Tonic acts directly on these vital organs. Cures Pimples, Blotches, Boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Lee & Osgood's Drug store, 50c. per bottle. dec6tuthsaw

FINANCIAL.

The Co-operative Building Bank

—HAS OVER—

$120,000.00

Security Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A larger showing than all others together. IT IS THE BEST. C. J. WOLCOTT, Treas. 112 Franklin St.

LIVERY TABLE.

EDMUND GEE,

Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.

Good Teams at Reasonable Prices.

363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge.

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable

Hacks and teams to let, also a four-seated wagon and 'bus, convenient for parties and picnics, at reasonable prices. Horse clipping done by Electric Improved Power Machine.

A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

LIVERY STABLES.

NOT MUCH MONEY AT THAT · GET MY PRICE BEFORE HIRING.

MONEY

MAKES

THE

MARE

GO.

O. H. REYNOLDS,

SHETUCKET ST.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Rapidly Taking the Lead.

Convenient for Guests,

Indispensable to Clerks,

Profitable to Proprietors,

Indorsed by All Hotel Men

Where we have the benefit of advertising to reimburse us for our loss, we will furnish to HOTEL KEEPERS ONLY

THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE HOTEL REGISTER

AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.

BOOKS REGISTERING

1000 Arrivals,	Canvas Cover	$1.
1000 "	Tight Back	2.00
[illegible] "	Tight "	2.50
[illegible] "	Spring "	3.00
[illegible] "	Spring "	3.5

Size of page, 8 x 11.

These are the cheapest and best registers on the market.

Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and also a reasonable profit, as they cannot expect to get such favorable rates as we give our hotel patrons.

Remember, it is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.

Correspondence or Interviews Solicited.

INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,

Manufacturers of Plain and Advertising Registers, Transfer Registers, Letter Forwarding, Cash and Call Books of every description.

Norwich, - - Conn

FACTORY IN ASHES.

Thornton Woolen Mill is Totally Destroyed.

THE LOSS ESTIMATED AT $300,000.

Bicycle Riders Summon Aid From Providence.

CHESTER, Mass., Sept. 1.—The disaster on the Boston and Albany railroad, by which 14 people lost their lives and 25 were injured here, yesterday, was undoubtedly caused by the fact that the bridge was in a weak condition.

The gang of workmen employed in repairing the structure was at dinner when the bridge fell. Many of the main girders were in an insecure position. Several long iron plates were out of their places while new ones were being substituted.

When the train crossed the bridge the lateral momentum of the cars caused the insecure support to give way. The bridge collapsed gradually, allowing the engine, with the high rate of speed at which the train was moving, to reach the farther abutment in safety. When the forward car was in the center of the bridge the iron superstructure Fell With a Crash.

An examination of the bridge as it lies in the river bed shows that for a distance of more than 20 feet on one of the main supports there were absolutely no fastenings. There are numerous holes in the heavy steel plates binding the upper part of the trellis work where the rivets had been removed and had not been replaced.

John E. Williams, an eminent New York engineer, whose son was injured in the wreck, says that the bridge was in an unsafe condition. He made an examination of the structure this morning, and said that the accident was due to criminal negligence. At 11 o'clock this morning, it was reported that in the wreck in the river by the men clearing away the debris and looking for unaccounted for passengers.

Two More Bodies Could Be Seen

The wounded are being cared for by Medical Examiner Breck, Dr. Hooker of Springfield, Dr. Dean of Blanford and Dr. Maguire of Wilmington. The majority of the wounded are at White's hotel in this town.

Ralph de Forest of Boston, one of the attaches of the Wagner buffet car, was badly scalded, and today is reported as in a very critical condition, and will probably die before the day is out.

Lewis Buchanan of Boston colored, who was deadheading his way home from Milwaukee in the buffet car, and who was asleep at the time of the accident, says that the only recollection he has of the catastrophe begins when he Found Himself on the Outside of the overturned car. He doesn't know how he got there.

Mrs. James C. Winchell of Mount Vernon street, Boston, who was injured in the accident, has sufficiently recovered to be able to return home today. She is accompanied by a young son, who is uninjured.

It is feared that Mrs. Etta Sumner lost her life at the time of the wreck. She was sitting in a seat in the parlor car with her daughter, Miss Rita Sumner when the accident occurred. That is the last that that is known of her.

The girl was rescued from the demolished car in an insensible condition and removed to the residence of James B. Crocker, about half a mile from the wreck, where she now is. Her condition, Dr Wilton, the attending physician, states, is serious

Though Not Necessarily Fatal.

It is thought here that Mrs. Sumner's body is now in the ruins of the wrecked car.

Frank Lang, the train barber, was held between two timbers and is in a critical condition. He is suffering severe pain by reason of his chest being crushed.

The rest of the injured at the houses of residents of this place are in a fairly good condition and those at Springfield are reported to be as comfortable as could be expected.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED.

Everything Ready For the Grand Encampment of Veterans Next Week.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—The extensive and elaborate arrangements for the meeting of the Grand Army national encampment next week have been completed. The attendance of members is estimated at from 75,000 to 100,000, and free quarters in temporary barracks and school buildings have been provided for 25,000.

The railroads, as usual, have given lower rates for this than for any other event of the year, and it is probable that there will be 200,000 visitors in the city during the week.

PEST AND PILGRIMS.

Epidemic Spreading Rapidly Near Delatyn—Business is Suspended.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—It is reported from Tangia that cholera has broken out among Jeddah pilgrims landed on the island lying off the city of Mogador.

A telegram from Delatyn in Austrian Galicia says that 28 deaths from cholera have occurred there, and the epidemic is spreading rapidly in the neighborhood. Business is at a standstill and the wealthier residents are fleeing from the town.

Sixteen fresh cases of cholera and 10 deaths were reported in Galicia yesterday.

Three Days Without Food.

WILMINGTON, N. S., Sept. 1.—The 3-masted schooner Kochantress of New York, Captain Pallent, with a cargo of railroad ties, is ashore 25 miles south of Cape Fear, with deck load lost and cabin and forecastle washed away. The crew were three days without food or water. The mate was washed overboard Saturday night, and the captain was injured.

Lead Ore Jumping Up.

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 1.—The price of lead ore is jumping up, and although the zinc market shows no improvement, the advance in the lead market is causing a general feeling of encouragement among the mine operators. Prospecting is going on at a good rate.

Ashore on Shovelful Shoal.

CHATHAM, Mass., Sept. 1.—Schooner Dora M. French, with a cargo of lumber, from Bangor, Me., for New York, went ashore on Shovelful shoal last night. The crew remain aboard safe.

A Wise Agent.

Wife—That insurance agent who dined with us last night seemed a very gentlemanly fellow. Is he going to take you, dear?

Husband—No. He says I am too great a risk.

Wife—Why, there isn't anything the matter with you, is there?

Husband—Oh, no. But he accidentally learned that you cooked the dinner.—Detroit Free Press.

A Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton train is scheduled for seven miles at a speed of 105 miles an hour. The grade is all down hill, the track is perfectly straight, and the train almost invariably reaches Indianapolis on time.

WAR IS THREATENED.

Another Chapter In Central American Wrangle—New President Probable.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—A special dispatch to The World from Salvador says: It is reported that Carlos Ezeta will surrender the presidency to his brother, Vice President Antonio Ezeta, before the close of the year.

Foreign merchants are depositing their cash as fast as received with the respective consuls as a precaution against forced loans.

The action of Ezeta in mobilizing the troops is believed to mean an intended blow against Nicaragua on the pretext of preserving peace.

Vice-President Ezeta has issued orders to the troops to be ready to preserve the neutrality of the soil and to admit no armed person over the border even though he may come seeking protection.

The World's Guatemala special says: Salvadorean influences are at work to keep up the the turmoil in Nicaragua and Honduras, and it is feared that Ezeta may yet provoke a Central American war.

THE STORE A WRECK.

Burglars at Collinsville Blow Up Post Office and Secure $800.

LOWELL, Mass., Sept. 1.—Hodge & Stevens's store, which contains the postoffice at Collinsville, was broken into early this morning. The safe was blown open and $800 was taken.

Collinsville is not a very large village. In less than half an hour nearly every resident was down at the postoffice. The explosion shook the ground like an earthquake, and made the store a wreck. The corner devoted to government business was knocked all to pieces. Four windows were shattered and the door of the safe was blown through a partition 10 feet away.

A man named Maker who lives across the street got out of bed in time to see one of the burglars coming out of the store. When Maker approached the man told him to stay where he was or he might get hurt, and to show that he meant what he said the burglar sent a bullet in the vicinity of Maker's head.

The thieves escaped to the woods in the direction of Lawrence. This is the second safe blown open in this vicinity within a week. Both jobs were done in the same manner.

IN DRENCHING RAIN.

President and Mrs. Cleveland Are Driven to the White House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—President Cleveland, accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland, their daughter Ruth, nurse and Maid, arrived in Washington this morning at 4:10—on schedule time—from Buzzard's bay, Mass., over the Pennsylvania road in a special car attached to train 23, which left New York at 9 o'clock last night.

The party remained on the train until 7 o'clock, when they were met by Private Secretary Thurber with carriages and driven to the White House in a drenching rain. The president and Mrs. Cleveland will not go out to "Woodley" their suburban residence today.

Mr. Thurber was afterward asked as to the general health of his party, and he replied that everybody was feeling first rate, and the sojourn at Gray Gables had been beneficial to all. Mr. Cleveland, in particular, was in excellent spirits, his eye was bright and complexion clear, and he looked vigorous and strong.

DAYLIGHT HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

Portland Man Attacked In Boston. Both Highwaymen Arrested.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—A daring daylight highway robbery was perpetrated at the West End this forenoon about 11 o'clock. By good work of the police, both of the bold highwaymen are now under arrest, and one of them has admitted the whole affair, and he could hardly do otherwise, as he was caught almost in the act of committing the robbery.

The victim of the daring affair is George C. Hubbell of Portland, Me., who has recently been living at 47 Lynde street. He was passing down Wall street at the above named hour when suddenly he was attacked by two men. In a twinkling of the eye they forced him into a doorway, and while one of the fellows held him by the throat the other proceeded to rob him. Hubbell is a slim man of medium size, while his assailants are large, powerful men, in whose grasp he had but little opportunity to defend himself or even make an outcry.

After forcing him into the doorway, one of the men threw him down on his back and seized him by the throat, beside placing his knee on Hubbell's chest. Although completely overcome, the man from down east made a pretty fight to get away, and in his struggling the other highwayman found it a hard task to get into his pockets, where it was believed that his money was kept. This was his right hand pocket in his trousers, and was of the lapel pattern. Finding that they could not accomplish the robbery easily, one of the men took a jackknife out of his pocket and tried to get the money by cutting away the pocket. In this way he was partly successful and managed to get some of the man's cash.

Just as the men were putting their finishing touches on their bold deed, Patrolman John J. Ryan of division 3, happened to see that trouble was going on up Wall street and rushing up that thoroughfare he managed to catch one of the highwaymen. He was the one had cut away the pocket and who had done the stealing part. At the time that the officer arrived the fellow's hand was filled with silver coin belonging to Hubbell and he tried to throw it away but was not successful.

The officer grabbed the fellow and after a lively tussle managed to get the twisters on his wrists. He was then hustled into the wagon, but when the police and the large crowd that had collected began to look around for the other highwayman, he was found to be missing.

But the policeman had gotten a good look at the fellow and recognized him. It was for that reason he did not feel the least bit concerned about the man, and went off to certain places known to be frequented by the fellow, hoping that he would turn up. This hope was realized and one of the first places entered by the blue coated guardian of the peace he was at once recognized.

The first man sent to the station was recognized as a well known West End character, and he was booked as Lawrence Sullivan, 40 years of age. He lives on what is known as Billerica court, an alleyway leading from Lowell street. He admitted the whole affair.

The other fellow gave the name of Peter F. Carr, 37 years of age, of Charlestown. Hubbell identified both of the men. Lawrence was the fellow who went through his pocket and the other fellow is the one who held him by the throat.

Will Dispense Cold Tea.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The house committee on public buildings and grounds has reappointed Thomas J. Murray of New York manager of the house restaurant. There were several other applicants for the position.

Was Kicked by a Mule.

DANIELSONVILLE, Conn., Sept. 1.—Joseph Whalen, aged 8 years, was seriously, perhaps fatally injured yesterday, by being kicked by a mule.

BRIDGE AT CHESTER

Was Weakened by Removal of Important Parts.

WORKMEN LEFT TO EAT DINNER.

Did Not Supply the Missing Portions—Bolt Holes Tell the Story.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 1.—The Thornton worsted mill, about four miles from Providence, was burned just after midnight last night, and the whole plant was nearly destroyed. The mill was operated by William H. Shaw, and the first quality of worsteds were manufactured.

The main building was three stories in height, built of brick, and employed 400 to 500 hands. The property destroyed was valued at from $150,000 to $300,000, and just now the blow is a serious one to the thriving little hamlet, which is peopled by English emigrants brought over especially for the conduct of the fine worsted manufacture.

The Property Is Well Insured in the local and foreign companies for something above $100,000.

The fire was discovered a short while after midnight, but the telephone wires had burned off at that time, and there was no way to get help from Providence, the nearest place having fire apparatus, but by special messenger. A couple of bicycle riders volunteered to go for aid, and two fire machines from this city were called by the wheelmen, but when they reached the scene the flames had destroyed everything, and the fine mill was A Furnace of Cracking Timbers.

The Thornton mill was a new one, built not many years ago by enterprising manufacturers of the Olneyville district, and it was one of the most substantial of modern factories. The flames occasionally set fire to some of the tenement houses, and sparks floated over several other mills in the neighborhood and endangered them for a short while, but the wind was light and the men and women of the village formed a bucket brigade and kept the other buildings from burning.

The mill started up on Monday last with a full force of operatives, after A Shutdown of Three Weeks.

The origin of the fire is supposed to have been in and about the engine and boiler room, from whence it spread rapidly to the mule room and caught the woolen waste and goods in process of manufacture. The watchman says there was no sign of fire about the place on his rounds a few moments before it was discovered.

SUSPENDED PAYMENT.

Equitable Mortgage Company Goes Into the Hands of Receivers.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—The Equitable Mortgage company, Boston, New York and Kansas City, with its Boston office at 117 Devonshire street, suspended payments on interest today and is in the hands of receivers. Denman Blanchard, who resides in Lynn, is the manager. The company advertised its capital to be in May last $2,100,000; surplus and profits, $1,000,000. It does business in investment securities and municipal bonds.

A bill in equity was brought against the company in the United States circuit court yesterday. It was uncontested, and the court appointed President Charles N. Fowler of New York, president of the company, and James M. Gifford, also of New York, receivers. There is due in interest, before Dec. 1 of this year the sum of $[illegible].

SEVERAL WERE KILLED.

South Bound Freight Train Wrecked and Burned Near Brenham, Tex.

BRENHAM, Tex., Sept. 1.—A south bound freight train loaded with merchandise was wrecked and partially burned yesterday about 10 miles from here, on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad. A prairie fire had burned a long piece of track, and as the train came along at the rate of 30 miles an hour it dashed into a wide creek.

Engineer Swensen was killed and Fireman Demeron and Brakeman Ford fatally injured. Two unknown tramps were killed and a number of others were reported to be in the ruins. The wreck is a costly one financially.

Four Girls Suffocated.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—The hotel in Salmbach, a hamlet in the Wurtemburg black forest, was burned yesterday morning. Sixty young women from cities of Baden, who were passing their holidays in Salmbach, were in the house when the fire broke out. A few saved themselves by jumping from the second story windows, and four were suffocated in their rooms.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The financial panic is now believed to be over.

The Barnett hotel, Logansport, Ind., was burned.

The longshoremen's strike in New York is at an end.

Sixty thousand miners returned to work in South Wales.

Italy raised nearly 115,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

New York Republicans are to meet in Syracuse, Oct. 6.

There are still no tidings of the steamships Seminole and Yamassee.

The scheme to overthrow the Venezuelan government has failed.

The loss of life by the storm near Port Royal, S. C., is now put at 500.

A dead heat was run at Sheepshead Bay between Domino and Dobbins.

Broker Macolm H. Hathaway of Fall River, Mass., has gone to the wall.

The epidemic in the Lincolnshire district, Eng., is admitted to be cholera.

It is estimated there will be a treasury deficit of $50,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year.

New York insurance companies have advanced rates on their $100,000,000 of loans by 1 per cent.

Senator Cockrell proposes the issue of gold notes against the coin and bullion held in the treasury.

Fourteen persons were killed and many injured by a train on the Boston and Albany road crashing through a bridge at Chester, Mass.

Mrs. O. K. Fiske of Boston was robbed of diamonds and letters of credit amounting to about $100,000 while on board the steamer Campania.

INTERESTING FACTS.

The first cabin was built on the site of Salt Lake City in 1847.

In Iceland it is not as cold as in many parts of the United States.

Australians eat more meat and Italians less than the people of any other nations.

Since 1840 37 vessels of which a part of the name was "City of" have been wrecked or lost.

In ancient days nearly all Grecian maidens dressed in white. Any other color was considered immodest.

I think I can appreciate his feelings, said Mr. Fitts. "I imagine he feels just about as I do when you take me out on a shopping trip."—Indianapolis Journal.

THE TRAGEDIAN.

Edith Evans, a new star, is to appear in "A Modern Heroine," a society drama.

W. B. Watson and E. M. Ryan will be joint stars next season in the new comedy "A Put Up Job."

Carrie Turner is anxious to star and will grant herself that indulgence when she discovers a satisfactory play.

Paul Barnes has bought a play called "The Chamois Hunter," a German comedy, in which he intends to star.

Edward Mawson will produce a new play in the spring. It has been written by Harry Mawson and is entitled "New Orleans."

Hall Caine, author of "The Deemster," will be in New York to witness the production of his latest play, "Mohammed," by E. S. Willard.

Theodore Northrup is the composer and Hal Newton Carlyle the translator of Vernona Jarbeau's new play, "Fi Fi, Just From Paris."

Felix Morris, whose first tour as a star begins early in October, filed articles of incorporation of the Felix Morris Comedy company at Springfield, Ills.

M. Siegfried Wagner, son of the famous composer, who is only 20 years of age, will conduct the performances of his father's works at Beireuth this year.

Margaret Reed, who will replace Camille d'Arville in "Robin Hood," sang with marked success in the production of "Hamlet" at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Minchen Becker, the tallest of the Lilliputians, was recently married to Herr Hoffheimer, a nonprofessional of New York city. Miss Becker will retire from the stage.

THE GUNNER.

Russian troops are to be equipped with snowshoes.

Most of the recruits for the British army are under 20 years of age, and many are not over 17.

Germany is reported to intend spending 40,000,000 marks for new warships during the coming year.

A field marshal does not receive any allowance except when on active service, when 16 guineas a day, with forage for 44 horses, is the usual grant.

It has been decided that hereafter in the offensive equipment of British war vessels the Maxim gun shall take the place of the five barrel Nordenfelt and Gardner guns.

Easily Remedied.

Smoker—You sell cigars, and yet you are opposed to smoking in your store. Why?

Druggist—The smoke is offensive to many of my customers.

Smoker—Of course. But that's easily remedied. Sell better cigars.—New York Weekly.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Dealings In Leading Securities In Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—In the outside market call money is quoted at 8 to 10 per cent, and time money is nominally 6 per cent.

The opening of the stock market this morning was unsettled and irregular. With the close of the week and two holidays at hand, the most of the traders were not disposed to delay the taking of their profits. Furthermore, the conditions were against the shorts putting out new lines or letting their present ones stand without change. Under the influence of these factors, therefore, the market was without significant movement in either direction. London was without important change, but the buying orders from there were light.

Dispatches from Whisky Trust magnates declared that the stories relative to the company's embarrassment were false. Nevertheless, the stock continued to weaken, the opening here being 15¾ as compared with the final sale yesterday at 16¼. Sugar took another turn upward, the chief factors in the change being Dominick & Dickerman, and Wormser. The common opening at 83¼, the final sale yesterday advanced to 86, and the preferred from 82¼, registered 84½. General Electric was a little stronger, despite large selling by Boston. The common was up 1 to 36, the highest point of the forenoon being 36¼, but the preferred was off 2½ to 57½. In local railroad shares Boston and Albany dropped 3 during the morning on account of the loss of the company sustained or would sustain on account of the Chester disaster. New England enjoyed a rally from 21¼ to 23¾. Union Pacific from 21¾ to 22¼ and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy from 79 to 80¾. Atchison was fractionally stronger about 18. The bond market was a trifle better.

STOCKS—CLOSING.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	19¾
Bell Telephone	180
Boston and Albany	199½
Boston and Maine	140
Bay State Gas	10
Calumet	280
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	80¾
Fitchburg	74½
Lamson Cash Railway	16¼
Erie Tel	50
General Electric	35½
Mexican Central	[illegible]
New England Tel	50
Old Colony	170
Pullman	156
Sugar preferred	[illegible]
West End Land	13
West End R. R.	56
Wisconsin Central	[illegible]
New York Stocks.
Canada Southern	46
Chicago Gas	54½
Cotton Oil	[illegible]
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western	139¼
Erie	14¼
Lake Shore	117½
Louisville and Nashville	54¾
Manhattan	116¼
Michigan Central	[illegible]
Missouri Pacific	28
National Cordage	21¾
New Jersey Central	101
Northwestern	99¾
Northern Pacific	5¼
New York Central	101@102
New York and New England	21¾
Pacific Mail	13
Reading	17¾
Rock Island	63¾
St. Paul	56¾
Sugar, com	86
Union Pacific	20
Western Union	79½
Whisky	16¼

Chicago Provision Market.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1—9 a. m.—Wheat opened easy today at 66@66¼c for cash; 66¼c for September; 66¾@67¼ for October; 71¾@72c for December; 76c for May.

Corn opened easy today at 37@37¼ for cash; 37¼@37½c for September; 38@38½c for October; 39¾c for November; [illegible] for December; 41@40½c for May.

Oats opened rather easy today at 22¾c for cash; 22@22¼c for September; 23½@23¾c for October; 25½c for December; 29@29¼c for May.

Pork opened rather easy today; prices ranged mostly at $14.50 for cash; $14.00@14.25 for September; $14.25@14.50 for October; $12.60@12.70 for January.

Lard opened rather easy today at $7.85 for cash; $7.90@7.95 for September; $7.75@7.77½ for October; $7.10@7 for January.

Short ribs opened rather easy today at $6.70 cash; $6.65@6.75 for September; $6.77½@6.85 for October, $6 @6.25 for January.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1—1 p. m.—Wheat closed easy today at 66¼c for cash; 66¾c for August; 66½c for September; 67¾c for October; 72¾@c for December; 78½c for May.

Corn closed easy today at 37¼c for cash; 37¼c for August; 37¾c for September; 37¾c for October; 38c for December; 40½c for May.

Oats closed easy today at 22¾c for cash; 22¾c for September; 24½c asked for October; 25¾c for December; 29¾c for May.

Pork closed firm today, at $14.50 for cash; $15.00 for September; $14.70 for October; $12.80 for January.

Lard closed easy today at $7.05½ for cash; $7.87½ asked for September; $7.75 for October; $7.10 for January.

Short ribs closed steady today at $6.70 for cash; $6.70 for September; $7.00@7.07½ for October; $6.85 for January.

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Cotton quiet; uplands 8 13-16c; Orleans 9 1-16c; sales 600 bales. Futures closed barely steady; sales 150,300 bales; September, 7.88c; October, 7.74; November, 7.82; December 7.91c; January, 8.00c; February 8.17c; March, 8.22c; April, 8.30; May, 8.40c.

BABIES ARE SICK.

Unprecedented Number of Deaths.

Prevalence of Diarrhœa and Cholera Infantum.

Ignorance of Mothers the First Cause.

Physicians Advise the Use of Lactated Food.

Infants Thrive Best Upon It and It is Easy to Get.

There was never a time for mothers to be more careful than now.

Nearly a third of the deaths in Chicago for a month past have been deaths of babies! Chicago is not an exception. Diarrhœa and cholera infantum are now more prevalent in every city in the country than ever before at this season.

The cause of this state of affairs is improper feeding.

Half the deaths in July, August and September every year are of children under 5 years old. Yet it was never intended; and the investigation of health societies everywhere has shown that there is no reason but the ignorance and carelessness of mothers, for such an abnormal loss of life in early years.

Mothers whose breast-milk is faulty should understand that lactated food is the food that is nearer mother's milk than any other. And they should never fail to use it in preference to any other. It has been shown in every investigation that babies fed upon lactated food live longer and thrive better than those brought up on other diet. Lactated food makes vigorous, well-nourished, active babies when other foods fail. It contains the very elements for easy, perfect nutrition. Long trial has shown it to be perfectly adapted to the age of growth when the digestive organs are making enormous demands to meet the needs of growth and development.

"For upwards of eight years I have been familiar with lactated food," says the well-known Boston physician, Dr. C. P. Thayer, "and my immediate professional friends and myself have it always at hand." One cause of the high esteem of the food among physicians lies in the known cleanliness and scrupulous care used in its preparation.

In lactated food the combination of the necessary elements of pure, healthy mother's milk is accomplished. Using pure milk sugar as a basis, there is combined with it the richest elements of barley, wheat and oats which by long subjection to high steam heat under pressure have been perfectly cooked. Combined with the other elements of the food, the result is a homogeneous product that is easily assimilated by the feeblest stomach.

Infants thrive upon it; they grow plump, strong, bright eyed, and clear-skinned.

The child who is puny, pale, and sallow is likely to become an adult of inferior mental and physical powers. The child that is brought up on lactated food starts life with everything in favor of health. Physicians of all schools recommend lactated food; thousands of mothers who have used it praise it; babies like it; it is within the reach of simple homes

Complete Manhood

AND HOW TO ATTAIN IT.

A medical work that tells the causes, describes the effects, points the remedy. Scientifically the most valuable, artistically the most beautiful medical book ever published; 96 pages, every page bearing a half-tone illustration in tints. Subjects treated: Nervous Debility, Impotency, Sterility, Development, Varicocele, The Husband, Those Intending Marriage, etc.

Every man who would know the Grand Truths, the Plain Facts, the Old Secrets and New Discoveries of Medical Science as applied to Married Life, who would atone for past follies and avoid future pitfalls, should write for this WONDERFUL LITTLE BOOK.

It will be sent free, under seal, while the edition lasts. Address the publishers, ERIE MEDICAL CO. Buffalo, N. Y. apr1TuThSaw

ALFRED HUNT, Florist,

Funeral Designs and Choice Cut Flowers Next to Yantic Cemetery, Lafayette street. jel1TuThS

Removal.

BRECKENRIDGE BROS.

Have removed their shop to CORNER WILLOW and CHESTNUT STS. and are prepared to give estimates on all kinds of wood-work

REMOVAL.

Dr. W. S. C. Perkins has removed to 21 Broadway. Office hours, 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m. Residence, 60 Broad street.

Dr. Chas. H. Perkins, 21 Broadway. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 4 to 6 p. m. Residence, 60 Broad street. Telephone at residence.

Alonzo H. Converse

PAINTER.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging. Wall Tinting in all its branches.

145 Little Water St.

Graining done for the trade.

INTERIOR and EXTERIOR

Decorative House Painting.

D. S. UNDERWOOD,

Residence 135 Franklin St.

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY.

Goods called for and delivered free of charge. Lace Curtains and all Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.

145 Little Water St.

Family Washing at special rates. nov16

I HAVE AN ODORLESS PUMP

and Barrel apparatus for cleaning Vaults and Cesspools. Orders sent to my address will be promptly attended to. CHAS. WOOD, Box 841 Norwich, Conn.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your goods is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Five Gallon Oil Can.

LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,

91 Water St.,

AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

GROCERIES.

FILL YOUR

Lunch Baskets

—AT—

RALLION'S.

45 Broadway, Central Building.

FRUIT JARS.

Mason's Improved.

A. T. OTIS.

WE'RE STILL HERE!

AT 200 FRANKLIN STREET,

AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE.

Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or greenback

Come and see us and bring the children.

H. D. AVERY.

Kingan Hams.

The BEST Ham in the world 16c lb. Every Ham warranted.

J. A. STODDARD & SON.,

126 Franklin St.

Cliquot Club Ginger Ale,

Cowdry's Deviled Meats,

Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken

—AT—

R. S. BARTLETT'S,

4 and 6 Broad Opera House.

Concentrated Claret Lemonade

Lime Juice and

Imported Ginger Ales, at

A. L. ALLEN'S

ATTORNEYS.

Charles H. Carpenter,

PENSION ATTORNEY.

Office with A. Irving Boyce, over Thames National Bank. Special attention given to the execution of vouchers for quarterly payments. Advice free. No fee unless claim is granted

ARCHITECTS

C. H. PRESTON,

Architect, - - - - Central Building,

Telephone 164-3, Norwich, Conn.

"Specialist on modern construction and strength of materials.

JAMES A. HISCOX,

ARCHITECT.

161 Main Street, Room 2 and 3.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened,

Bicycles Repaired.

CARRIAGE AND BOAT TRIMMINGS NICKEL PLATED by

A. GOULD,

Industrial Building, near Union Station.

HORSES

TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES

at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St by the new Veterinary, DR. H. L. TOWER, graduate from Ontario Veterinary College.

J. H. GARDNER, JR., D. V. S.

VETERINARIAN,

Office—Chapman's Stables, 10 Bath Street. Telephone 128-12.

CAUTION.

There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. We have no agents in Norwich.

G. E. TRAFTON, Mgr.,

REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO.,

Office 22 Shetucket St., Norwich C.

THE

TIME

TO

BUY

IS

WHEN

THE

OTHER

FELLOW

WANTS

TO

SELL!

WE WANT TO SELL

OFFICE

STATIONERY

WILL

NEVER

BE

CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

DIED.

CONNELL—At Bean Hill, Aug. 31, Grace, daughter of John and Mary Connell, aged 1 year 1 month and 9 days.
Funeral from the residence of her parents, Bean Hill, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

GREEN—In Norwich, at the house of the Rev. L. W. Bacon, Friday, September 1, Katharine, eldest daughter of Jasper and Elizabeth Shippen Green of Philadelphia.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO LET.

Pleasant tenement, centrally located; five good rooms; city water; rent, $11; prompt pay. Apply L. H. HATTIN, 37 Washington street. sept2d

NEW LINE OF

FALL OVERCOATS!

Dodge & Holloway. sept2TuThS

CAR NEW STRAW,

(in bundles) just received.

C. J. Wolcott. sept2daw

Spring Ducks,
Roasting Chickens,
Brighton Beef, etc.,
—AT—
SOMERS BROTHERS.
Telephone 86. sept2FS

NEW AND SECOND HAND
School :- Books
Bought, sold and exchanged at
LOVELL BROS,
sept2TuThS [illegible]

Fresh Boiled Lobsters.

Also CHOICE OYSTERS, at
POWERS BROS'.
Telephone 123-4. sept2d

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE CHELSEA BOAT CLUB

TUESDAY, SEPT. 5, AT 5 P. M.
Per order Commodore.
sept2d ARTHUR L. PEALE, Secy.

NOTICE

On and after Monday, Sept 4, the Steamer ELLA will leave Watch Hill at 2.30 p. m. and New London at 4.30. sept2d JAMES WALKER, Manager.

A SPECIAL TRAIN OF

Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars,

With a select party, will leave the Union Station, Norwich, at 9.30 a. m., September 8, for Chicago and the

WORLD'S FAIR,

Stopping seven hours at NIAGARA FALLS.
Arrangements for Sleeping Car accommodations, for a limited number of persons, can be made, and excursion tickets at low rates obtained, on application to E. P. TURNER, sept2d Norwich, Conn.

American House Hack, Livery, Boarding & Feeding Stables.

Large Hitching Sheds by the hitch or year.
Fine Coaches, Landaus and Cabs for weddings, funerals, parties and theater work.
Also a fine line of LADIES' and GENTLEMEN'S DRIVING HORSES, not afraid of Electric Cars, with any style of Carriage desired.
Best of attention paid to all orders.
Telephone connection 89—5.
All work done at moderate prices.
Stables in rear of Hotel on Shetucket St.
All orders left in the Hotel Office will receive prompt attention.
sept2d C. E. BRADY.

We offer the balance of our fancy light-weight Suitings and Trouserings, for sale by the yard, at cost. This gives particularly good value for the money and is worthy the attention of those economically inclined.

R. D. JONES & SON,
Merchant Tailors..................123 MAIN ST
(over C. C. Bliss'.) sept2d

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE

Norwich, Conn.

EARL M. SWIFT,
And Assistant-Teachers of Ability and Experience.

Fall Term Begins
Tuesday, Sept. 5.

On and after Aug. 15 the College office will be open from 2.30 to 3.30 to receive applicants for membership. aug15daw

Do You Know Any One Who is Hard to Suit?

Bring him in. We can make all sorts of Suits for the different kinds of days to be lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable.
GEO. E. CLARK,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 4, Shannon Block. jy18

REMOVAL.

OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN

OCULIST and AURIST,
To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.

Special attention given to correcting all forms of abnormal vision with proper Spectacles or Eye Glasses. No fee charged in such cases except in ASTIGMATISM or where it is necessary to prescribe in addition to fitting glasses. tu18d

NO OLD STOCK.
Two Big Drives
New Windsor Ties, 15c; worth 25c.
Lisle Thread Hose, 25c; worth 35c.
—AT—
HOUGH'S NEW STORE,
aug8d OPP. WAUREGAN HOTEL.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Friday September 1, 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before Six a. m.

Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co.

The Weather Today.

Indications for Connecticut: Light showers; southerly winds.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

The Rev. Wm. S. Palmer will continue to preach at Lebanon.

There will be no meeting in the Sachem street church on Sunday.

The steamer Ella will go to the shore resorts at 9 a. m. Sunday.

The fall term of the Sachem street school will begin next Tuesday.

One week from today is the event of the season, the excursion to Middletown.

Special meeting of the Chelsea boat club Tuesday, the 5th inst. at 5 p. m.

The steamer Block Island will make her last trip for the season on Monday, the 4th inst.

As Monday is Labor Day, a legal holiday, all notes coming due on that day must be paid today.

On and after Monday the steamer Ella will leave Watch Hill at 2 30 p. m. and New London at 4 30.

The Tyler cup, won for the second time by Company C, is on exhibition in the show window of N. S. Gilbert & Sons.

One story of the front of the Masonic temple on Broadway has been laid. The bricks are buff color with terra cotta trimmings.

The ladies of the Mohegan Sewing society will hold their thirty-second annual festival on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

A special train of Pullman palace sleeping cars will leave the Union station in this city at 9.30 a. m., September 8th, for Chicago and the World's fair.

At one time Oebrook grove used to be a familiar name to local excursionists. The Stonington Congregational Sunday school had a picnic there this week.

The Greeneville Congregational church is on the ways. Her bow has been headed toward Prospect street and she will be launched into the new haven in a few days.

The new concrete sidewalk through Central avenue, Greeneville, has been laid from Prospect street to Eleventh street. The remaining block will be completed next week.

William Edwards and O. W. Walden of Norwich and Alvord D. Chappell and John Foster of Willimantic, attended the annual reunion of the Eighth regiment Wednesday.

There are so many people who want to go to Bridgeport this season that the officers of the steamer Block Island have about decided to make the excursion there on Friday next.

While the family of Benjamin M. Carroll of New London was at a funeral Thursday a sneak thief entered the house. Later on he was captured and four rings found in his possession.

Not since the days preceding the civil war has wheat been brought into the market so cheaply as now. In consequence flour has been bought by wholesalers at unprecedently low rates.

Superintendent E. P. Shaw personally supervised the removal of the offending electric poles on Laurel Hill avenue Friday to positions as near the edge of the sidewalk as was practicable.

Judge Shumway has been requested by the judges of the superior court to act as state's attorney during the September term of the superior court. They are not as yet ready to appoint a state's attorney for this county.

The Neptunes defeated the Snow nine Friday by a score of 18 to 9. Manchester and Lyons were batteries for the Neptunes and Snow and Lucy for the Snow team. The Neptunes play the Taftville nine on the Cranberry lot this afternoon.

Mr. Will B. L. Cranston of the firm of Cranston & Co. is spending his vacation at Watch Hill. Although he has been an annual summer visitor at the wind-swept peninsular, Mr. Cranston has never seen anything to compare in severity with the recent storm.

At St. Mary's Star of the Sea church Friday morning a solemn requiem high mass was sung by the Rev. Father Joynt for the repose of the twelve Portuguese sailors who were lost in the recent cyclone on the Jersey coast and who had been members of the parish.

Governor Morris has asked the railroad commissioners to investigate the transportion facilities furnished the militia during encampment week. The action was taken on complaint of Colonel Healy and others, who were unable to meet engagements by failure to make connections.

A civil case with J.C. Judge Kellogg on the bench and a petit jury was heard in the police court Friday, between James M. Hopkins and D. E. Sullivan and George C. Park. The suit grew out of a dispute as to the rightful tenant of the store in the Coon building on Water street. The hearing of evidence was not concluded and at 4 30 an adjournment was taken until Tuesday at 10 a. m.

The Southern New England Telephone company has issued a new and up-to-date list of subscribers and operating exchanges in all the principal cities and towns of Connecticut. It contains besides an immense amount of useful telephonic information compactly and handily arranged, so as to save that time, which is money, to most of the company's patrons.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL

Today, Saturday, IS SILVER DOLLAR DAY.

Ever heard of "Silver Dollar Day" before? Probably not. It is going to be a great day. Read what follows and see if you don't agree with us.

Silver has depreciated! Everybody knows that. Silver dollars contain less than sixty cents worth of silver! Nearly everybody knows that. There is, however, something everybody doesn't know and something we want they should know. It is this:

Today—Saturday—a great big silver dollar, a car wheel, as they are sometimes called—whether it bears the date of 1878 or any other year, will buy more merchandise at our store than at any other time within our recollection.

Read carefully and see for yourself what a Silver Dollar will buy today.

Incidentally we might mention if you find it inconvenient to get silver we will accept gold or greenbacks, but we prefer silver.

These Prices are for Today only.

Garments.

For One Silver Dollar.

You can have your choice of any Lady's White Lawn Waist in stock. Regular prices have been $1 50 and $2.00.

A first quality Boy's Laundered Star Waist. Regular price $1 50.

A Lady's Navy Blue or Black Sateen Shirt Waist. Regular prices $1 25 and $1.50.

A first quality Lady's Star Waist. Regular price $1.50.

A Lady's Wool Square Shawl, slightly soiled. Regular price $2.50.

Two of these for a Silver Dollar.

All of our Ladies' White Lawn Waists that sold from 85c to $1.25, for 50c each, two for a silver dollar.

Boys' Laundered Star Waists 50c each, two for a silver dollar. Former price 87½c.

Ladies' Cambric Shirt Waists, figured and striped, that were $1, 50c each, two for a silver dollar.

Misses' White Lawn Blouses that were 75c, 85c and $1, 50c each, two for a silver dollar.

Mother's Friend Boys' Laundered Shirt Waists that were 75c, 50c each, two for a silver dollar.

Ladies' second quality Star Waists that were $1.25, 50c each, two for a silver dollar.

Ladies' Silk Vest Fronts that were $1.25, 50c each, two for a silver dollar.

Three of these for a Silver Dollar.

All White Lawn Waists that sold from 60c to 75c, 33c each, three for a silver dollar.

Boys' Laundered Shirt Waists that were 75c, 33c each, three for a silver dollar.

"Mother's Friend" Boys' Shirt Waists that were 50c, 33c each, three for a silver dollar.

Boys' Blouse Waists that sold for 65 and 75c, 33c each, three for a silver dollar.

All Ladies' Waists, including Indigo Blue, Black, Light colors, that were 50c, for 33c each, three for a silver dollar.

Six of these for a Silver Dollar.

Boys' Cambric Waists 17c each, six for a silver dollar.

Black Goods and Silks.

Our regular $1 25 Black Silks for Silver Dollar Day will be $1 a yard.

Black and Colored Bengaline $1.00 a yard. Regular price $1 50.

Figured Changeable Silks $1.00 a yard. Regular price $1.37½.

Figured Black Silks $1.00 a yard. Regular price $1.25.

All Silk Warp Henrietta that was $1.25, for Silver Dollar Day will be $1.00 a yard.

All Silk Warp Lansdowne that was 1 37½, for Silver Dollar Day will be $1.00 a yard.

50 inch Black Serge that was $1.25 a yard, for Silver Dollar Day will be $1.00 a yard.

New styles in Black Novelty Goods that were $1.25 a yard, for Silver Dollar Day will be $1.00 a yard.

Colored Dress Goods.

Nine yards Scotch Gingham—a dress pattern—for a silver dollar, regular price has been 25c a yard.

Nine yards Satteen—a dress pattern—for a silver dollar, regular price has been 25c a yd.

Nine yards of Worsted Dress Goods—plain and fancy—36 inches wide, for a silver dollar.

Double-width Bedford Cords 25c a yard, four yards for a silver dollar. Just enough for a school gown.

Hosiery Department.

All our 25c Lawn Neckwear, 12½c each, 12 for a silver dollar.

Silk Four-in-hand Ties that were 50c, 20c each, five for a silver dollar.

Men's Negligee Shirts, laundered collars and cuffs, 33c each, three for a silver dollar, former price 50c. each.

Men's Fine Negligee Shirts 50c each, two for a silver dollar. Former price $1 each.

All our Men's 25c Half Hose, five pairs for a silver dollar.

Ladies' Black Hose 25c, five pairs for a silver dollar.

Ladies' Black Hose 50c, three pairs for a silver dollar.

Domestics.

10-4 Gray Blankets $1 a pair, were $1.25.

10-4 White Blankets $1 a pair, were $1.25.

Comfortables $1 each, were $1.25.

20 yards of 4-4 Brown Sheeting for a silver dollar, or 5c a yard.

15 yards of 4-4 Bleached Sheeting for a silver dollar, or 6c a yard.

12 yards of 42 inch Brown Sheeting for a silver dollar, or 11c a yard.

12 yards of 42 inch Bleached Sheeting for a silver dollar, or 11c a yard.

12 yards of Flannelette for a silver dollar, or 10c a yard.

These Prices for TODAY only.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

sept2daw

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

Today, Saturday, IS SILVER DOLLAR DAY.

Ever heard of "Silver Dollar Day" before? Probably not. It is going to be a great day. Read what follows and see if you don't agree with us.

Silver has depreciated! Everybody knows that. Silver dollars contain less than sixty cents worth of silver! Nearly everybody knows that. There is, however, something everybody doesn't know and something we want they should know. It is this:

Today—Saturday—a great big silver dollar, a car wheel, as they are sometimes called—whether it bears the date of 1878 or any other year, will buy more merchandise at our store than at any other time within our recollection.

Read carefully and see for yourself what a Silver Dollar will buy today.

Incidentally we might mention if you find it inconvenient to get silver we will accept gold or greenbacks, but we prefer silver.

These Prices are for Today only.

Small Wares.

Paper Covered Novels, 10c. each, 12 for a silver dollar.

Lemon Juice Soap—three cakes in a box—25c. a box, five boxes for a silver dollar.

Glasgo Lace Thread—a dozen spools for a silver dollar.

Dressing Combs, 25c. each, six for a silver dollar.

Ladies' Combination Pocketbook and Card Case, have been $1.25 and $1.50, for a silver dollar.

Box of Writing Paper, 25c., six for a silver dollar.

Writing Paper, Initialed and with the day of week, 33c. a box, three for a silver dollar.

The World Photographed for a silver dollar, formerly $1 50.

Linens.

Bedspreads $1, that were $1.37½.

A good Chenille Cover for a silver dollar, former price $1.50.

Turkey Red Table Spreads $1, formerly $1.37½.

Napkins $1 a dozen, formerly $1.25.

Bleached Table Damask, $1 a yard, formerly $1 25.

Large size Towels 25c each, four for a silver dollar.

Trimmings.

25 Boleros, $1 each, former prices $2 50 to $3.

15 Girdles, $1 each, former prices $3 25 to $4.

30 yards Jet Passementerie, $1 a yard, former prices $1.50 to $2.50.

All our Fringes $1 a yard, former prices $1.25 to $1.75.

Hand Crochet Trimming, $1 a yard, former prices $1.15 to $2.

Centre Counter.

A silver dollar will buy any Fancy Parasol in stock, former prices from $1 50 to $5.

1 4½ yards of White Swiss Flouncing for a silver dollar, former prices 50c. to 85c a yard.

Black Lace Scarfs $1 each, former prices $1.25 to $2.50.

Gloves and Handkerchiefs.

Ladies' 5-Hook Kid Gloves, $1 a pair, former price $1.25.

Ladies' 8-Button Length Suede Gloves, $1 a pair, former price $1.50.

Ladies' Swiss Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 12c each, eight for a silver dollar.

Men's and Ladies' Initial Handkerchiefs, 12½c. each, 10 for a silver dollar.

Print Department.

25 yards of Challie for a silver dollar, or 4c a yard.

20 yards of Pongee for a silver dollar, or 7½c a yard.

20 yards of Printed Lawn for a silver dollar, or 5c a yard.

25 yards of Fancy Print for a silver dollar, or 4c a yard.

12 yards of Best Dress Gingham for a silver dollar, or 12½c a yard.

Cotton Underwear.

Ladies' Night Dresses $1, were $1.25.
Ladies' Skirts $1, were $1 25.
Ladies' Drawers $1, were $1.25.
Ladies' Chemises $1, were $1 25.
Babies' Robes $1, were $1 25.
Ladies' Black Sateen Skirts $1, were $1.25.

Woolen Department.

Checked Overalls 33c. each, three for a Silver Dollar.

Checked Jumpers, 33c. each, three for a Silver Dollar.

Striped Overalls 50c. each, two for a Silver Dollar.

Striped Working Coats 50c., two for a Silver Dollar.

Black Alpaca Coats $1 each, were $1.50.

Black and Brown Cardigans $1 each, were $1.25.

[illegible] 30c. a yard. 3¼ yards, a Trousers Pattern, for a silver Dollar.

Carpet Department.

A Silver Dollar will buy a Rug, size 18x36, that was $1.25

A Silver Dollar will buy a Rug, size 21x42, that was $1.50.

A Silver Dollar will buy a Rug, size 22x45, that was $1.50.

A Silver Dollar will buy a Rug, size 18x36, that was $1 25.

A Silver Dollar will buy a pair of Lace Curtains that were $1 50.

A Silver Dollar will buy a Table Scarf that was $1.37.

A Silver Dollar will buy a Wire Door Mat that was $1.25.

These Prices for TODAY only.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

sept2daw

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED.

A Competent Nurse, also a Girl to do General Housework. Reference Required.
sept2d Apply at Bulletin Office.

MRS. AMANDA ANDERSON WILL receive wash for private families at her home No. 21, cor. 4th and Main streets, Greeneville. Will do first-class work. [sept2d

CARRIAGES FOR SALE.

One End Spring Corning Buggy, Nearly New.
ONE PHAETON AND ONE CARRYALL, Both in Good Order. Cheap for Cash.
Address A. H. WILCOX. sept2d Norwich Town.

SEE WHAT YOU CAN BUY FOR CASH!

Porterhouse Steak - - -	20c
Sirloin Steak - - - -	16c
Round Steak - - - -	12c
Shoulder Steak - - - -	10c

JAMES DAWSON, JR.,
sept2d 350 MAIN ST.

—OUR STOCK OF—
School Books and School Supplies is complete and prices low.
Wholesale and Retail
Noyes & Davis. sept2daw

Squash :- Pies

FRESH EVERY DAY AT
MRS. CHAPMAN'S Bakery,
No 7 North Thames Street.
sept2WS

WELCOME TO THE WIGWAM!

THE LADIES OF THE
MOHEGAN SEWING SOCIETY
WILL HOLD THEIR
THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL FESTIVAL
Wednesday and Thursday,
Sept. 6 and 7, 1893.

Bedquilts, Baskets, Aprons, Fancy Articles, both useful and ornamental. Oysters, Succotash, Yokeag, Ice Cream, Cake and Confectionery will be offered for sale. We would respectfully invite our friends and patrons to give us a call. Teams will be at depot to convey passengers, free of charge, from the Depot to the church. ADMISSION 15 CENTS. N. B.—If said day be stormy, the sale will take place next fair week day. sept2w

REID'S

ICE CREAM

Delicious as Nectar.

PLEASES

The Perfection of Delicate Flavor.

ALL.

N. D. SEVIN & SON.
sept2daw

On Sunday, Sept. 3.

—THE—

Steamer Ella

Will make an excursion to
WATCH HILL,
Leaving Norwich at 9 A. M. ja30

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.

Ladies' Trimmed Hats at 97c.
Untrimmed Hats from 10c up.
$1.50 will buy a Ladies' Trimmed White Felt Sailor. They are all the go.
Veilings from 10c a yard up.
Children's White Dresses 25c, worth 50c.
Infants' Pink and Blue Striped Flannel Jackets at $1, reduced from $2.
Corsets in White and Red at 25c, were 50.
A few more of the 5c Stamped Splashers and Tray Cloths.
Also a large line of Stamped Bureau Scarfs, Pillow Shams, Table Covers, etc., at

B. GOTTHELF & CO.
125 MAIN STREET.
aug2d Wholesale and Retail.

NORWICH FREE ACADEMY.

Opening of Fall Term.

Normal Department Opens Tuesday, Sept. 5

Candidates who have not seen Miss Carlisle are requested to do so at the Slater Memorial building, on Saturday, Sept. 2, or Monday, Sept. 4, between 4 and 5.30 p. m.

Art School Opens Tuesday, Sept. 26.

For full information as to the various courses address Miss A. V. V. Brown, or inquire at the Slater Memorial building.

Entrance examinations to the Free Academy will be held on Monday, Sept. 11, and Tuesday, Sept. 12, commencing at 9 a. m.

Candidates conditioned last June in Spelling, Grammar or Geography will present themselves on Monday; those conditioned in Arithmetic or U. S. History on Tuesday. Old pupils of the Academy will make up omitted or deficient examinations on Tuesday.
aug12d ROBERT P. KEEP, Principal.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO RENT.

5 minutes from Post Office, Lower Tenement, 7 rooms, hot and cold water, with separate bath and closet. J. BRADFORD, aug2d Bookbinder, Bulletin Building

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,
CALL AT
FRISWELL'S,
who has had 20 years experience, and latest improved method, and be properly fitted with Spectacles and Eye Glasses.
jy28d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels,
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.
Collins Turbine Machine Co. ja8d

Hard Wood Finishing,
Repairing, Refinishing and Renovating Furniture. Inside Painting.
Kalsomining and Refinishing in the wood. Have had an experience of twenty years. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed. Prices moderate. W. H. SPICER, feb18d No. 11 Thames St

DIAMONDS
Mounted and repaired in first-class shape.
W. R. ROBERTSON,
227 Main Street,
may6TuThS Over N. E. R. Office.

A WOMAN'S CHANCE TO MARRY.

¾ of 1 per cent. from 60 to 65 years of age.
[illegible] of 1 " " 45 to 50 " "
[illegible] " " 40 to 45 " "
[illegible] " " 35 to 40 " "
15½ " " 30 to 35 " "
18 " " 25 to 30 " "
51 " " 20 to 25 " "
14½ " " 15 to 20 " "

Wedding Shoes a Specialty at Herren's,

Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's.
Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug2d

Appropriate to the Times
Is the announcement that
WHITNEY,
Of 41 Broadway,
In the Central building,
will sell the new goods now arriving almost daily at the same low bargain prices he has been getting for his old stock.
This is no time for large profits, and if you want anything at all in China, Glassware, Tinware and House Furnishing Goods, you can save money by buying at
— WHITNEY'S —
Try and See!
Free delivery of goods throughout the city and suburbs. aug19daw

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,
HAMMOCKS. CHEAP.
At PITCHER & MAINE'S
jy28d 423 No. Main St.

MILLINERY.

Brown Trimmed Sailors
69c.
A fine Hat for early Fall or School wear.

T. E. McCLENATHAN.
Wholesale and Retail. aug29daw

HORTON'S
--ICE CREAM--

In one quart, one pint boxes.
For delicacy of flavor and purity of materials Horton's Ice Cream stands unrivalled.
40c per quart, 20c per pint. Sold only by
J. C. PERKINS,
aug2TuThSaw Confectioner.

W. & S. ROOT BEER EXTRACT

Is made from the best selected materials. It contains Spikenard, Prince's Pine, Wintergreen, Dandelion, Sassafras, Gentian, Ginger, Sweet Birch and Sarsaparilla, and is equal in strength and flavor to any brand whatever.
One bottle makes 5 gallons of Delicious Root Beer.
WOODWORTH & SMALL,
West Side Drug Store.
jy13TuThSaw

SHOE TALK!

The close attention we give to our Shoe Department to make it satisfactory to the people is rewarded by a constant increase in our sales, and we are very thankful to know that our efforts are well appreciated.

We offer this week:

Men's Genuine Kangaroo Shoes, Lace and Congress, $2.25, were $3.00.

Men's Genuine Dongola Lace and Congress Shoes, $2 00, were $2 50.

Men's Light, Stylish Lace and Congress Shoes, $1.50, worth $2 00.

Boys' Tap Sole Shoes, Strong and Serviceable. 95c.

Boys' Base Ball Shoes, Genuine Calf Trimmed, 50c, worth $1.00.

Men's Tennis Shoes, 40c.

Boys' Tennis Shoes, 38c.

Child's Tennis Shoes, 35c.

Alling Brothers,

sept2daw Bond Opera House Block.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

UNITED STATES
Savings and Loan Company,

Paid in Capital..............$1,270,000
Subscribed Capital..........$6,000,000

3 Classes of Certificates are issued.

7% Guaranteed Bond Certificates @ $100.
6% Partial Dividend Bond Certificates @ $1.
Installment Bond Certificates, payable monthly. Denominations $1,000 to $10,000.
H. G MACE and GEO. S. SMITH GEN. AGTS.
Office 9 Shannon Building, Norwich.
aug2WS

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,
18 Washington Street.
GENERAL PRACTICE AND THE EYE.
Office hours: 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 p. m. Telephone 35—3. may2d

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With
SURE KILL FLY PAPER.
5 Cents a Package.
-Steiner's Pharmacy-
aug2d SHANNON BUILDING.

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK

A. PLAUT,
The well known Bargain Dealer, will commence MONDAY, Aug. 28th, to close out the balance of his Bicycles regardless of value or cost. Headquarters at 2 6 Main St. aug2d

WHY NOT EXCHANGE?

You Want Fruit Jars
We Want Money,
And have made our prices on Fruit Jars so low that it will be to your advantage to make the exchange with us.
SMITH BROS.
aug28d

LOOK OUT

—FOR—
FRUIT JARS
Preston Bros.
SELL THEM CHEAP.
aug2d

FOR SIGNS OR AWNINGS
It Will Pay You to See J. W. MALLETT
103 Broadway, next to Theater.
feb28TuThS

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at
HOTEL SOUTH SHORE
On Lake Michigan, four blocks from the entrance to
The World's Fair Grounds.
One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls,
All for $36.00.
R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with or without Hotel accommodations by
E. P. TURNER, 187 E. Broad St.,
aug12d Norwich, Conn.

TO RENT.

A Large Store No. 108 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St., formerly occupied by T. H. Eldredge as a Hardware store. For further particulars call on or address NICHOLAS TARRANT, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, 3 Main street. mar8d

CROCKER'S
Magical Stomach Powders
Have been known to cure the much-dreaded Kidney trouble. In its incipient state the disease readily gives way before them. Always safe to take, no matter what the complaint or time of taking. jy6d

L. A GALLUP,
Wholesale Grocer.
AT No. 31 WATER STREET
Norwich, Conn.
Sells at the lowest prices a full and general line of
GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS
including Teas, Coffee, Spices, Molasses, Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Flour, Wheatena, Oatflakes, Worcester Salt, London Parlor and other Matches, Etc., Etc. There is no cheaper or better place in Norwich to buy Groceries.
Gentlemanly service and prompt delivery guaranteed. aug28TThS

YOU WEAR

LADIES!

Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3 00. Call and see them.

Geo. W. Kies & Co.
aug8daw

School Shoes.

See our new lines at
$1.00, $1.25 and $1.50.
Frank A. Bill,
aug2daw 93 MAIN STREET.

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin office for Printing of all kinds and fine work at living prices.

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11,691 NORWICH, CONN. MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 4 1893—SIX PAGES SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

THIS MORNINGS NEWS

City and Vicinity.

Fair and slightly warmer weather.
The Rev. E. G. Selden called to Albany
Review of the annual peace meetings in Mystic.
The Rose of New England Wheel club's cycling tournament.
August mortality in Norwich.
Preston Chapel Sunday school celebrates an anniversary.
Special services at St. Andrew's church.
City Missionary Swan speaks at the Steamboat wharf.
New London county petitions before the state board of pardons.
Labor day observance.
The Rev. Mr. Adams writes a play.
The Unions defeat the Clippers.
Hunting the Block Island swordfish.
The game laws that are "on" and "off."
A change in color in voting envelopes.

State.

Bridgeport's unemployed to be furnished work.
A new feature in the Ansonia malpractice case.
Second company governor's foot guards organized.

General.

Secretary Carlisle objects to bonds—Will not [illegible].
Bradstreet's announces growth of confidence in the business world.
Health endangered by the dead—1,500 believed to have perished in South Carolina.
Eva Poet's [illegible].
Alonzo Kennedy shot at Salisbury beach
Hitman calls the country's finan cial robbers of the people.
[illegible] in India.
Dr. T. Thatcher Graves commits suicide in the county jail at Denver.
A Cincinnati electric car jumps the track on a down grade with fatal results.

SPECIAL.

We offer the balance of our fancy light-weight Suitings and Trouserings, for sale by the yard, at cost. This gives particularly good value for the money and is worthy the attention of those economically inclined.

R. D. JONES & SON,
Merchant Tailors .... 139 MAIN ST
(over C. C. Bliss') sept2d

USE
Shipman's
CARBOLIC
OINTMENT,
The most healing preparation in the world
FOR MAN OR BEAST.
For sale by all druggists. je6d

DO NOT SLUMBER
UNTIL YOU HAVE
Dr. Hough's
COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM
Ready for immediate use.
Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc.
PRICE 35 Cents.
Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers
jan6two

FREE
Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.
ELIXIR OF LIFE
The great family medicine,
guaranteed to cure
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,
SICK-HEADACHE,
DYSPEPSIA,
and all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by LEE & OSGOOD. apr6dlaw

Sick Headache
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose, 40 in a vial. Purely Vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1
Carter Medicine Co., Proprietors
NEW YORK.
Sold by all Druggists. ocl6daw

Most People Like to Know
The name of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.
Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure
IS THE BEST. TRY IT.
Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.
At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD

Norwich Line to New York.

Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 9.25 and 9.50 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.

Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 9 p. m., for New York.

Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 5

For state-rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 52 Shetucket street. Telephone call 143-2.

THOMAS CLARK, President.
O. L. JOHNSON, JR.,
Secretary and Treasurer.
je6d

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR GOOD advertise them in THE BULLETIN

DR. GRAVES SUICIDES IN JAIL.

Found Dead in His Cell Sunday Morning by a "Trusty."

SWALLOWED MORPHINE.

Once Sentenced to Be Hanged for the Murder of Mrs. Barnaby.

DENVER, Col, Sept. 3.—Dr. Thatcher Graves, the convicted poisoner of Mrs. Josephine Barnaby, committed suicide in his cell in the county jail last night, presumably by taking poison. He was found stiff and cold in death at 9 a. m. today by the "trusty" who had been caring for him. Half a dozen or more letters addressed to various persons were found in a bundle of manuscript under the doctor's satchel, which stood near the head of the cot. Among the letters was the following:

"DENVER, Col., Aug. 9.—To the Coroner of Denver—Dear Sir: Please don't hold any autopsy on my remains. The cause of death may be rendered as follows: Died of persecution. Worn out; exhausted. Yours respectfully,
T. THATCHER GRAVES, M. D.

There were also found letters to his wife and to John W. Bridges, the "trusty," who discovered the doctor dead in his cell, also an address to the public.

Mrs. Graves and several gentlemen visited the doctor yesterday. As is the custom, they were searched, but nothing of any suspicious nature was found on them. It is evident from the letter addressed to the coroner, Dr. Graves undoubtedly committed suicide, but by what drug, the authorities alone will tell. It is supposed, however, that he took morphine.

Mr Graves concludes his letter to the public (which is of considerable length) in these words:

Allow me to repeat which I have always said publicly and privately: "Upon my solemn Masonic oath, I, T. Thatcher Graves, did not have anything to do, in any way, shape or manner with the death of Mrs Barnaby. I write this knowing what the future will soon have in store for me. The people will believe me. They will know that the strongest man can be beaten down by persecution. I leave little Iky Stevens (the district attorney) to the people of Colorado." Please take care of him.

T. THATCHER GRAVES, M. D.,
Harvard University.

Attorney I. N. Stevens has prepared a long statement to the public defending his conduct in the Graves case and giving out the new evidence obtained on the eastern trip.

Second Company, Governor's Foot Guards.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 3.—A military company has been organized in this city by Major Benjamin E. Brown. It is to be known as the Second company, Governor's Foot Guards, and includes 125 members, some of whom are leading citizens of the city. The following commissioned staff have been chosen: Paymaster, James M. Townsend; quartermaster, Edward M. Clark; commissary, Edwin McIntyre; inspector of rifle practice, T. Atwater Barnes; judge advocate, William Neely; assistant quartermaster, John H. Platt, chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Twichell; surgeon, Dr. Robert S. Ives.

A New Sensational Feature in the Ansonia Case.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 3.—The last sensational feature in the trial of Drs Lee and Whitten, two prominent local physicians for complicity in a criminal operation resulting in the death of Maggie Schloss of Ansonia, is that Dr. Whitten has transferred the greater part of his property—in amount $25 000. There are rumors of a heavy suit against him for his part in the operation, and he took this means to escape it in a measure.

BURGLARS AT NIANTIC.

The Morton House Safe Cracked with Small Reward.

The safe in the office of the Morton house, the leading summer hotel in Niantic, was broken open and robbed Friday night. The robbery was discovered early Saturday morning. The cracksmen had succeeded in tearing the safe down from its fastenings after much hard work, leaving behind a valuable kit of tools, much more valuable than the booty. A hole had been drilled in the door of the safe and a screw thread cut in the aperture, into which was inserted an eye bolt connected with another by a short piece of heavy steel.

The second bolt had been used as a lever and the door was pried open, breaking [illegible] three sliding bars. Eight or ten drills, bits, jimmies, crowbars, an oil can, and a bottle partly filled with brandy, were left behind by the robbers. They secured only $3 or $4 in coin which Landlord Beatley had in the safe. They probably secured entrance through a window. A paper wrapper found near the tools bore the imprint of well known dealers in machinery and tools in New York city.

THE ELEVENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Special Commemorative Services in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church.

The teachers and scholars of St. Andrew's Sunday school, with friends who completely filled the church, at 3 p. m. yesterday celebrated their eleventh anniversary.

A special service had been prepared with much care, in which thanksgiving, intercession and consolation were the leading thoughts. The report showed generous offerings, increased attendance, now numbering 133, and bore loving tributes to the memory of Mrs. Thomas Holden and of Mr. William Morris.

The rector, the Rev. Wm. A. Wasson, added much interest to the service by his address taken from Jesus' words, "I am the bread of life."

The generous floral tributes of the children made altar and chancel glorious. The singing of school and choir together was most effective.

The appropriate musical selections and the inspiring manner in which they were rendered, added greatly to this memorable service. At 3 30 there were four candidates presented for holy baptism, two of whom were adults.

THE WHARF SERVICE.

City Missionary Swan Speaks Under the Y. M. C. A. Auspices.

The tenth meeting of the summer series on the steamboat wharf Sunday afternoon was addressed by City Missionary George W. Swan in place of the Rev. Mr. Pratt, who was confined to the house by injuries received at the recent railroad accident at Springfield.

The meeting was well attended and a more attentive audience has not gathered on the wharf. Mr. Swan's address was replete with telling illustrations from his personal knowledge of many men who had been reclaimed by the power of the gospel from lives of gambling, drunkenness and debauchery.

Numerous lively gospel hymns were sung, conducted by Mr. James L. Case with organ and cornet accompaniment.

An unusual amount of interest has been secured in these wharf meetings. The speaker next Sunday will be the Rev. Rev. George A. Grant, pastor of the Sachem Street M. E. church.

AUGUST MORTALITY.

Town Clerk Freeman's List of Deaths in the Town.

Following is the list of deaths in the town of Norwich during the month of August, as returned to Town Clerk S. H. Freeman.

Whole number of deaths 55. Causes of death: From cholera infantum 13. Bright's disease of the kidneys 2, chronic albuminuria 2, dysentery 3, heart disease 2, hydrocephalus 2, peritonitis 2, phthisis pulmonalis 2, valvular disease of heart 2, abscess of lung 1, anaemia 1, cerebro-spinal fever 1. chronic nephritis 1, consumption 1, convulsions 1, diarrhoea 1, drowning 1, eclampsia 1, enteritis 1, entrocolitis 1, infantile diarrhoea 1, killed on railroad 1, meningitis 1, oedema of lungs 1, old age 1, paresis 1, peritonitis puerperal 1, pneumonia 1, premature birth 1. pulmonary hemorrhage 1, pulmonary tuberculosis 1, tubercular meningitis 1, still birth 3. Under 5 years 26; 70 years or over, 7; females 25; males 30; 9 were buried out of town.

A SCORE OF YEARS.

The Preston Chapel Sunday School Celebrates Its Twentieth Anniversary.

The Preston chapel, which is located about a quarter of a mile easterly from the bridge connecting Norwich and Preston, is the property of the Central Baptist church of this city. The Sunday school, which is held there, is conducted mainly by members of the Central church who reside in the vicinity of the chapel, assisted by other members who reside in the city. Since the school was organized in September, 1873, its sessions have been held continuously, as well as other religious services on Sunday and during week day evenings.

Sunday this school celebrated its twentieth anniversary. At 3 o'clock the main room of the chapel was filled to overflowing, and the following programme, which was interspersed with the usual introductory exercises and singing was rendered.

Opening remarks by George R. Gresser, superintendent.
"Recollections of Early Work," by Deacon Moses H. Sisson.
"Its Further Progress," by Deacon Wm. E. Hiscox.
"Original Roll Call," by John H. Powelson.
"The Organization of the school," by Welcome A. Smith.
Poem, by Miss Josephine Tyler.
"Our Relations to the Future," by J. P. Collins.
"Words of Encouragement," by the Hon. Lucius Brown.
"Would a Unification of Our Schools Increase Their Efficiency," by the Rev. J. D. Herr, D. D.

Mr. George R. Gresser, who has been the efficient superintendent during the last ten years, presided and conducted the exercises. Miss Hiscox officiated at the organ and assisted in rendering acceptable music, in which the audience heartily joined. The first speaker, Dea. Sisson, spoke of the religious zeal which had characterized the inception of the enterprise and the support to resident members by pastors and laymen of the Central church. He noted the influence of the school upon the community and was gratified that whereas in former years but few families were regular church-goers, now a large percentage attend church regularly.

The next speaker, Deacon Hiscox, spoke of the faithfulness of the teachers under all circumstances. He remembered that many had gone forth to other fields of usefulness, while their places had been supplied with others who were prosecuting the work with commendable earnestness. At this point the "original roll" was called by the first clerk, John H. Powelson. Of the seventy-eight in attendance on the first Sunday the school was organized, twenty were present and responded when their names were called. He stated that the school rapidly increased to almost two hundred and fifty and afterwards declined to about two hundred; the present membership being about one hundred and fifty.

The first superintendent, Welcome A. Smith, was the next speaker. He recalled the days and years of the past, as the years of the courtship of Jacob, which had passed quickly because of the love he bore for the school, the work and the people. He commended the faithfulness of those who had continued in the work while he had been called to other duties. The fruit gathered had been good fruit, and the prospects of the future offered only encouragement to the laborers in the vineyard.

Miss Josephine Tyler, who was the first organist of the school, being unable to be present, sent a character poem, which was read by Dr. Herr.

In speaking of "Our Relation to the Future," Mr. J. P. Collins read a carefully prepared paper in which he, "though not a prophet, or the son of a prophet," expected that the school would be more and do more during the next twenty years, than during the last twenty, because of better facilities and more ability and intelligence ready to be applied. The Hon Lucius Brown, the superintendent of the Central school, was the next speaker. He offered only words of commendation and encouragement. To the superintendent of the Chapel school he promised all needed assistance by supplying any deficiency of teachers. He commended activity to those who desired religious growth.

The Rev. J. D. Herr said the parent school and the child were one in aim and purpose. He not only looked for greater usefulness from the Preston school, but was already contemplating forming a new school in a distant part of the city.

Many letters were received from former members. The Rev. Henry Bromly of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is visiting his sister, Mrs. Martha Loomis of this city, was present at the meeting. At 5 o'clock the services were dismissed, Dr. Herr pronouncing the benediction.

A Distinguished Guest.

Congressman Hendrix of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is mentioned as a future presidential possibility, is the guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. John F. Rathbone, of the East Great Plain.

Work for the Unemployed.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept 3.—In order to give some of the idle men of the city employment, the street commissioners today decided to at once take up the work of repairing the streets of the city wherever repairs are needed.

ELECTRIC BRAKES DID NOT HOLD.

Fatal Accident on a Cincinnati Street Railway Line.

TWO PASSENGERS KILLED.

Six Fatally Injured and Twenty-two Seriously Hurt.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 3.—Soon after the Eden Park Sunday concert had closed this evening, the audience made a rush for cars down town. An electric car packed with people ran without incident until it reached the grade, a mile long, that descends into the business portion of the city. Suddenly the brake became unmanageable and the car began to descend with perilous speed. The conductor rushed to the assistance of the motorman, but the brake would not work and they bent their efforts to keeping the passengers from jumping off.

The car, now swaying to and fro, shot down the hill with awful velocity until reaching the intersection of Hunt street and Broadway it left the track, smashed a telegraph pole and plunged into George Schmidt's saloon.

There were forty five people in the car and not one escaped injury. The motorman and conductor jumped just before the car struck the pole, and thus escaped death. The car was smashed into splinters, as was the front of the saloon and the bar. From the debris arose agonizing cries and moans.

Six patrol wagons were soon upon the scene and the dead and dying were quickly transferred to the city hospital where the entire medical corps was soon busy rendering assistance.

Marie Maloney, aged 13, and Mrs Sarah Dublin were killed.

The following were fatally wounded: Lizzie Johnson, Clara Beckley, Mrs. Joseph Beckley, Edna Ford, Louise Best and Allen Best. Twenty-two persons were seriously injured and some of these may die. The coroner has begun an investigation.

BASE BALL.

Saturday Games.

At New York:

Louisville	3	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	3	—14
New York	3	1	3	0	1	1	1	0	*	—[illegible]

At Brooklyn:

Cleveland	0	0	1	1	0	0	2	1	0	—5
Brooklyn	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	*	—6

At Boston:

Boston	0	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	*	—6
St. Louis	0	2	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	—3

At Pittsburg (first game):

Pittsburg	0	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	—12
Washington	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	1	—3

(Second game):

Pittsburg	0	3	0	4	0	1	0	0	*	—12
Washington	0	1	2	1	0	0	1	1	1	—9

At Philadelphia—(First game):

Philadelphia	0	1	0	1	2	0	2	0	*	—6
Cincinnati	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—2

(Second game):

Philadelphia	1	2	0	2	0	1	1	0	*	—14
Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	—1

At Chicago:

Chicago	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	—[illegible]
Baltimore	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—[illegible]

The Records.

Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	Per Ct.
Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Pittsburg	[illegible]	[illegible]	.580
Philadelphia	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Cleveland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
New York	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Brooklyn	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Cincinnati	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Baltimore	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
St. Louis	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Louisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Washington	[illegible]	71	[illegible]

Sunday Games.

At Chicago:

Chicago	0	0	0	2	0	4	1	0	1	—9
Baltimore	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	2	2	—6

At Buffalo:

Troy	4	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—14
Buffalo	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	—6

At Albany:

Albany	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2
Providence	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2

SUDDEN DEATH.

Edward Messer Suddenly Expires from Heart Disease.

PUTNAM, Sept. 3.—In the death of Mr. Edward Messer, at his home on North Main street, Saturday morning, Putnam loses one of her most respected townsmen. On Friday night prior to his death, Mr. Messer was seized with pains in the back. During Friday night the pains gradually increased, and on Saturday morning Dr. Morrell was summoned. After the doctor had gone Mr. Messer said he would go down to the store at about 9 o'clock, as he was feeling better; but when that time arrived he was unable to go. There was no appearance of serious illness till 11.30 o'clock, when suddenly he turned in bed and expired. The deceased was 42 years of age and came from Hartford to Putnam in 1879. Since then he has successfully conducted "The People's Store." He has acted in the capacity of treasurer for the order of United Workmen since 1889, and he was also a member of the I O O F. Both societies will attend in a body his funeral. He was a man of plain manners, and liked by all who knew him Mrs. Messer has the sympathy of many friends.

Brief Telegrams.

Locust lodge hotel, a famous summer resort on Long Island, was burned early Sunday morning. Loss $20 000.

Phineas Fisher died at Hartford, Vt., Sunday morning, aged 100 years.

Miss Leal, a young Scotch woman, recently won £30 000 in one hour at Monte Carlo tables and broke the bank.

Jack Frost has appeared in the Mohawk valley and in New Hampshire.

Labor's Day of Rest.

Today is Labor day and therefore a legal holiday. It will not be so extensively observed by the labor unions and trade organizations as last year, but, nevertheless, the importance of the day will not be forgot by the great mass of toilers in whose honor the day was singled as a national holiday. With pleasant weather the ball games, Roath's grove picnic and wheelmen's tournament will be well patronized.

The post office will be closed from 1 to 6 p m. Carriers make the regular morning and noon deliveries and collections, the 4 15 p m. delivery will be omitted Last collection from street letter boxes will be made at 6 p. m. Carriers' window will open as usual from 7 to 8 p. m.

CHIEF KILEY DEAD.

Head of New London's Fire Department Succumbs to Bright's Disease.

Chief Engineer Kiley of the New London fire department died early Sunday morning of Bright's disease. The deceased was 56 years old and had been a member of the fire department over forty years. He had the reputation of being one of the best fire-fighters in Connecticut.

Ready for the Meet

Messrs. L. M. Bruce and A. L. Peale of this city and I. A. Bissell and C. J. Royce of Willimantic, the committee on races for today's Rose of New England Wheel club races, met in this city Saturday and perfected all arrangements for the tournament.

Many of the stores will recognize the event by closing this afternoon.

OUR FOLKS AND OTHER FOLKS.

The Home-Comers and Departures

Congressman Charles A. Russell was in the city Saturday.

Mrs. William Jacobs has returned from a visit to New Bedford

Miss Minnie C. Chamberlain has returned from the World's fair.

Mr. E. A. Prentice returned from Chicago on Saturday evening.

Mrs. John C. Perkins is entertaining Mrs. Lizzie Fowler of Arlington, Mass.

Mrs. James Alden of Springfield, Mass., is a guest in the home of Mrs. John Irish.

Alderman John F. Sevin has gone to the White mountains to join his wife and child.

Miss Frances Miller of Bridgeport is visiting Mrs. James Olcott of Thames street.

Mrs. Charles McChesney of School street is entertaining friends from Massachusetts.

S. P. Keppler will represent Sedgwick Post at the national G. A. R. encampment at Indianapolis.

Miss Annie Codling, formerly of Norwich, now of Little Falls, N. Y., is visiting Miss Annie Ferguson on High street.

Mr. Walter Gallup of Greene avenue, who has been suffering from a severe bilious attack, is still unable to leave his room.

Frank Oscar Maxson, U. S. navy, in command at Mare Island, San Francisco, left for the west Saturday after a several weeks' visit in this vicinity.

Policeman John Kane and mother are among the late pilgrims to the Columbian exposition. Supernumerary Brown is doing duty on the West Side beat.

Judge John C. Kellogg has been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kellogg of New Haven and Anna Kellogg of Meriden, the latter a student in Wesleyan Annex.

Harry W. Trafton, Walter M. Buckingham and Albert Reynolds have returned from a seven weeks' stay at the Columbia boat-house. They report a pleasant outing.

Messrs. G. Percival Bard of the First National bank, and J. Harry Holbrook, bookkeeper for George F. Bard, left for the World's fair and other western points of interest Saturday night.

Dr. and Mrs Cyrus Peckham, who have been spending a month with Mrs. Peckham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stanton of the East Great Plain, left for their home in St. Louis Saturday afternoon.

Mr. J. W. Cadden returned Saturday night from a fortnight's trip to the World's fair, in company with a party of Hartford friends. Their tour embraced visits to several of the large cities, including Washington, where Senator Hawley did the honors with his accustomed grace.

CALLED TO ALBANY.

The Rev. Edward G. Selden to Become Pastor of the Madison Avenue Reformed Church.

Eastern Connecticut friends of the late Col. Joseph Selden will be gratified to learn of the flattering call to the Madison Avenue Reformed church of Albany which has just been tendered his son, the Rev. Edward Griffin Selden of Springfield, Mass. The latter gentleman is a graduate of the Free Academy class of '66 and of Yale '70. Of the twenty years since his ordination twelve were spent as pastor of the Congregational church in Manchester, N. H., and the remaining eight in his present position, the pastorate of the wealthy and influential South Church of Springfield, where his home is in the aristocratic "McKnight district."

Mr. Selden's letter of resignation was read to his Springfield congregation Sunday, at the same time that his letter of acceptance was being read in Albany. Regarding his new charge, it is emphatically a case of the place seeking the man. His ministration has been persistently sought by the Albany delegation; and the church over which he is called to preside offers every inducement of pastoral activity and usefulness.

It was organized in 1643, incorporated in 1720 and re-incorporated in 1815, the society's present modern edifice being dedicated in March, 1881. It numbers upwards of 600 communicants, its yearly receipts are between $20,000 and $30 000, and the church property is valued at $110,000. Active church societies exist under the titles of Olivet Mission, Franklin club, Women's, Girls' and Boys' clubs, Mothers' Mission, Girls' Mission Band, Sesame Reading club and Circle of King's Daughters. The society maintains a double quartette choir of acknowledged excellence, directed by a fine organist and choir master.

The salary attached to the position is naturally commensurate with the wealth and age of the church corporation, which, whether in its names, Groots, and Hooglands, and Ten Eycks, and Van Zandts or in the old beaten brass weathercock which has swung over its church tower since 1656 and bears the marks of revolutionary bullets—speaks of strength, and solidity, and general well-being.

Mr. Selden will remove to his new field of labor very speedily, as his services are in demand, while his Springfield congregation still maintain as pastor emeritus the Rev. Samuel Buckingham, D. D., brother of the late Governor Buckingham. Mrs. Selden is the only daughter of William H. Jennings, Esq., of this city, and has always been an efficient assistant in her husband's pastoral work.

Of Mr. Selden's brothers, the Rev. J. Henry Selden who married Florence, daughter of the late Henry Bill of this city, is pastor of a flourishing church at Elgin, Ill., while Mr. George Selden is manager of the famous Arlington mills of Lawrence, Mass.

The Bicycle Tournament Today.

A fair day, a good track, fast racing and a big crowd are the probabilities for the tournament of the Rose of New England Wheel club at the fair grounds today. As this is the first bicycle meet that has ever taken place in Norwich, considerable interest is being manifested by the general public, and it is expected that in addition to the local patronage many of the residents of the surrounding towns will take advantage of the low excursion rates and swell the crowd.

The local club, preceded by Tubbs' band, will make a uniform parade, starting from Franklin Square at 12 30 o'clock and riding to the grounds. Tubbs' band will give a concert at the grounds between 1 and 2 o'clock, and the racing will begin at 2 o'clock.

Busses will be at the terminus of the car route to convey passengers to the grounds. The announcement that ladies will be admitted free ought to induce members of the fair sex to attend, as it is an indication that their presence will be appreciated.

The Clippers Defeated.

The Clippers met the Union ball nine of Norwich Town on the Greeneville grounds Saturday afternoon, and owing to their inability to bat safely and an unusual propensity for making errors were defeated by one run. Foster pitched winning ball for the Unions, and won great praise for his work. Phan Lee, that old time agile, chipper, cool headed Norwich nine player, was in his old position at short stop, and showed up in good form. The Unions were elated over their accomplishment. The score by innings is:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Clippers	0	1	0	2	1	0	1	0	1	—6
Unions	3	0	0	0	[illegible]	0	0	0	*	—7

The Westerly ball team, who play two games with the Clippers on the Greeneville grounds today, will run an excursion here on the steamer Martha.

The Taftvilles played the Clintons of Bean Hill on Norwich Town green Saturday. The game ended in a tie in the eighth inning. Score, 15 to 15.

The Neptunes of the West Side will play the Wauregan house nine on the Cranberry lot this afternoon. The public are invited and a good game will be put up. The Neptunes would like to play any nine in the city whose members are under 19 years of age.

SPECIAL.

The Royal Baking Powder is indispensable to progress in cookery and to the comfort and convenience of modern housekeeping. Royal Baking Powder makes bread wholesome. Perfectly leavens without fermentation. Qualities that are peculiar to it alone.

sept1Maw

"That Tired Feeling"
does not trouble women who use
IVORINE
WASHING POWDER.

It makes the washing so easy and all household work so light that they don't have a chance to get tired. To prove this, buy a package, and follow the directions given.

From April 1st, 1893, every package contains a splendid cake of pure Olive Oil Toilet Soap.

J. B. Williams Co.
Glastonbury, Ct.
For 50 years the makers of Yankee Shaving Soap.

5 sep1MWF

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,
VETERINARIAN,
Office 19 Bath Street. Office hours 1.30-3.
mar11d Telephone 123-22.

Hack, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable,
7 TO 13 ONECO STREET,
A. M. ETHERIDGE, Proprietor.
All orders given prompt attention. Moderate prices. mar11MWF

ESTIMATES FOR ALL KINDS OF PRINTING furnished on application to this office

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

EATON, CHASE & CO.
HAVE A FINE STOCK OF GUNS,
Rifles and Ammunition.
Are Agents for the sale of
"Dupont's" Celebrated Gunpowder,
and will guarantee to give you
MORE FOR YOUR MONEY
than any other house.
EATON, CHASE & CO.,
HARDWARE DEALERS, Commerce Street.
sep1d&w

G
U N
S

TURNER'S Great Consumption Cure and Indian Remedy—sure cure for a Cough, Cold, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Throat and Lung troubles and even consumption have been cured by this Wonderful Remedy. 50 and 25c per bottle. For sale by Appley & Jordan, Grocers, 14 Central Wharf. L. C. TURNER, sole proprietor, Norwich, Conn. sep2d

Now is the time that the public should secure their houses from the invasion of sneak thieves. You will find Mush's Patent Fastener just the thing. He is ready to put them on wherever wanted. All orders promptly attended to. Address 173 East Broad st., Norwich, Conn., ALMPHEUS MUSH. For sale by Preston Brothers aug23d

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
CONSULT DR. Z. J. LEWIS,
120 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I.
Specialist on private Chronic Diseases of men. Cure guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. Office hours 9 to 2 and 5 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 2 and 4 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines, $5. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks (forwarded free.) jy25d

JARVIS' MILITARY BAND
—AND—
ORCHESTRA
Furnish Music for Parades, Picnics, Balls, Excursions and Entertainments of All Kinds at Reasonable Prices. Address, A. W. JARVIS, Leader, 47 Division St., Norwich, Conn. apr18d&wly

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,
CALL AT
FRISWELL'S,
who has had 20 years experience, and latest improved methods, and be properly fitted with Spectacles and Eye Glasses.
jy25d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR Fire Wood
—TO THE—
PARK WOOD YARD!
801 Franklin Street.
A discount will be made on all purchases of Four Dollars or more.
J. ROURKE.
aug4d

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.

Ladies' Trimmed Hats at 98c.
Untrimmed Hats from 10c up.
$1.50 will buy a Ladies' Trimmed White Felt Sailor. They are all the go
Veilings from 10c a yard up.
Children's White Dresses 25c, worth 50c.
Infants' Pink and Blue Striped Flannel Jackets at 19, reduced from 25.
Corsets in White and Drab at 39c, were 50.
A few more of the 9c Stamped Splashers and Tray Cloths.
Also a large line of Stamped Bureau Scarfs, Pillow Shams, Table Covers, etc., at

B. GOTTHELF & CO.
90 MAIN STREET.
aug4d Wholesale and Retail.

Cholera Infantum
The most dreaded of all children's complaints prevented by using
RUSSELL'S
White Drops
FOR BABIES.
25c. All druggists.
aug4d

AMUSEMENTS.

WELCOME TO THE WIGWAM!
THE LADIES OF THE
MOHEGAN SEWING SOCIETY
WILL HOLD THEIR
THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL FESTIVAL
Wednesday and Thursday,
Sept 6 and 7, 1893.
Bedquilts, Baskets, Aprons, Fancy Articles, both useful and ornamental. Oysters, Succotash, Yokeag, Ice Cream, Cake and Confectionery will be offered for sale. We would respectfully invite our friends and patrons to give us a call. Teams will be at depot to convey passengers, free of charge, from the Depot to the church. ADMISSION 15 CENTS.
N. B.—If said day be stormy, the sale will take place next fair week day. sep1

HO! FOR THE BICYCLE RACES.
Everybody come!
Why, sure!
We'll all be there!
Then let the eagle scream! Let him soar into the deepest blue of the American heavens and from azure height he can be heard in the north, south, east and west, crying
"ATTEND THE RACES!"

FIRST ANNUAL MEET
—OF THE—
Rose of New England Wheel Club,
Fair Grounds, Norwich,
Monday, (LABOR DAY) Sept. 4.
$500 in Prizes!
More than 100 entries. All the crack riders of Connecticut are entered, and many [illegible] besides.
ADMISSION TO THE GROUNDS 25 CENTS
LADIES FREE. aug28TuTh&M

THE BULLETIN JOB DEPARTMENT is supplied with all the facilities for doing work promptly and in the most approved style

WANTS.

MRS. AMANDA ANDERSON WILL receive wash for private families at her home No. 21, cor. 4th and Main streets, Greeneville. Will do first class work. [illegible]

WANTED.

1 bright, active young man as DryGoods Salesman Apply to or address the New York store.
JOHNSTON & SHURTS, aug31d 124 State St., New London, Conn.

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN

Can find employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to COLCHESTER RUBBER CO.,
jy3dtw Colchester, Conn.

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,

No. 4 Franklin Square.

Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All modern improvements. Terms reasonable.
jy11s G. A. BURLINGHAM.

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER,

No. 7 Water St.,

Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods. jy14d

WANTED.

Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers.
Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn. may14d

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

TALKING

About PIANOS just now is my theme. Do you want a Piano? Then come and hear one of the purest and finest toned Pianos in the market. Price Low. Also Organs, and a Stock of fine Violins, including the Miller Violins, on hand. A fine New Upright Piano to rent. Will be glad to see you at 65 Williams Street.
feb9d GEO. R. MARTIN.

CONFECTIONERY

ICE CREAM.

ALL FLAVORS.

Wholesale and retail.
GEO. A. LEWIS,
35 CENTRAL AVE.
Telephone. may6d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

George A. Kies

Will resume lessons on and after
FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, 1893.
aug31daw

CAR NEW STRAW,

(in bundles) just received.
C. J. Wolcott.
sept4daw

American House Hack, Livery, Boarding & Feeding Stables.

Large Hitching Sheds by the hitch or year. Fine Coaches, Landaus and Cabs for weddings, funerals, parties and theater work. Also a fine line of LADIES' and GENTLEMEN'S DRIVING HORSES, not afraid of Electric Cars, with any style of Carriage desired.
Best of attention paid to all orders.
Telephone connection 89—3.
All work done at moderate prices.
Stables in rear of Hotel on Shetucket St.
All orders left in the House Office will receive prompt attention.
aug6d C. R. BRADY.

WHY DO
Ferris Hams and Bacon
Lead all other Sugar-Cured Hams in quality and flavor?
Because they are the Best.
Insist on having them. If your butcher don't keep them, call at
C. D. BROWNING & CO.'S,
aug8d No. 5 SIXTH STREET.

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.
E. M BREWSTER
will do it for you very Cheap
45 Water Street, aug8d

Steamer : Chelsea.

Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.
Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M.
aug8d

The Connecticut Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,

Sole agents in Norwich for the
New England Felt and Roofing Co.
BEE HIVE BRAND
Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.
Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn.
apr26d

FREE!

If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively upon many roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill [illegible] vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron paper and shingled. One great advantage of the Paint is that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 3c per square foot, Three Ply at 2c per square foot, and Two Ply at 2c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Dressing Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Cellars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, Water Street; H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn, P. O. Box 11. Residence 38 Oak Street. jy1d

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE
—OF—
Norwich Street Railway Co.

Taft., Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side.	Franklin Sq., Falls and Bean Hill.
[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]
* Not run Sundays.
[illegible]
nov21d E. F. SHAW, JR., Supt.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Competent girl wanted.

Good steady agents wanted.

Position to do housework wanted.

Special meeting of Boys' Militia company tonight.

Hough advertises a few specialties for school use and will soon have more.

The new fall styles of hats are now ready, and a good place to buy them is at Prentice's.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills absolutely cure rheumatism and neuralgia. Entirely vegetable. Safe.

Smith & Gilbert have the most complete assortment of fine woolens for fall ever shown by them.

Allen, Worth & Co. sell butter, cheese and eggs only at wholesale. But their goods are only the best.

Noyes & Davis quote the lowest prices for a large stock of second hand school books in good condition.

This is just the season to take Crocker's magical stomach powders. They make good health possible to all. Try them.

Smith Brothers call attention to the fact that it is almost time to house the plants. They have flower pots in all sizes at low prices.

Eaton, Chase & Co. have a fine large stock of guns, rifles, ammunition, etc., and are agents for Dupont's celebrated gunpowder.

Cranston & Co have secured a large stock of second-hand books for the schools, which they offer at the lowest prices. See advertisement.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week will be Hermsdorf days with Porteous & Mitchell, and during those days the firm will present to their patrons the exposition souvenir furnished by Louis Hermsdorf as a compliment to his American customers. The full meaning of "Hermsdorf days" is fully explained in the advertisement this morning.

H. F. & A. J. Dawley.

The lumber dealers, have just finished unloading a vessel containing 135,000 feet spruce timber and 120,000 laths from Maine, and now have a large schooner on the way from Brunswick, Georgia, with 300,000 feet of yellow pine timber. They have orders enough on hand now at their mill to keep the mill running night and day for at least six weeks at its full capacity. They have three more schooners yet to come from Maine and the South. They will bring at least three-quarters of a million feet more timber for the Dawleys.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

End of the Block Island Season.

The season at Block Island ended, practically, Saturday. The big hotels close during the week, although some of the smaller ones will remain open through September. The steamer Block Island stops running today. The Mount Hope will stop during the week, the Frances and the City of Richmond make excursions only, and cannot be depended on. This leaves regular communication to the mail steamer George W. Danielson, which runs between Block Island and Newport daily during September.

NEW VOTING ENVELOPES.

Instructions to Town Clerks of a Change in Color.

The following order has been issued by the secretary of the state:

SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 1, 1893 }

Town Clerk ———

Dear sir:—It has been determined to change the color of the official envelopes to be used in coming elections from the color heretofore in use. You are therefore requested to destroy at your earliest convenience all the official envelopes now in your possession or control, in order that errors in voting may be prevented on election day by the use of the new instead of the old envelopes. Please forward to this office the enclosed certificate when the old envelopes are destroyed.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN J PHELAN, Secretary.

EASTERN CONNECTICUT PEOPLE

Registered in the Connecticut Building at the World's Fair.

Norwich—Mrs. Francis W. Robinson, Juliet W. Robinson, Julius W. Gadden, Miss Sadie N. Plant, Miss Minnie Cadden, A. Chelty, W. S. Alling, John M. Higgins, F. E. Tracy, Mr. Barden and wife, J. Hunt Smith, F. S. Ulmer, Cleonora Ulmer, Eleanor Ulmer, Josie T. Ulmer, W. A. Heath, Louis J. Richards, E. A. Prentice, Augustus Colt, Charles Colt, Emily H. Beckwith, Andrew Hyde, Mrs. H. Hyde.

New London—Mrs. James H. Weeks, Mrs. Albert Elmendorf, William R. King, A. G. Parmelee, J. M. Williams, D. Harris, Miss Harris, Dr. N. O. Harris, Elizabeth L. Wheeler, W. Hamilton Smith.

Willimantic—H. E. Lewis, J. E. Haggerty, A. J. Bowler, Sadie F. Hughes.

East Lyme—Charles S. Smith.

Old Lyme—Matthew Griswold.

Madison—Walter S. Buell.

Chester—Myron Abbey and wife, Emma Buell, George Wilcox, Miss Canfield.

Clinton—J. G. Johnson.

Mystic—I. D. Gates.

Colchester—E. Ransom, Julia M. Patten, Emma S. Patten.

Stonington—Mrs. J. W. Vincent, G. W. Stanton, E. P. Hyde.

Salem—John M. Fox, Nettie Fuller Fox.

Montville—C. A. Lyon.

Ledyard—Jacob Gallup.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

HUNTING THE SWORDFISH.

Captain Frank Dodge Successfully Pursues the Monster by Steam—Some of the Perils of the "Sport."

The use of a steam yacht for hunting swordfish is reported to have been tried this season, for the first time, with success, by one of the Block Island fishermen. Captain Frank Dodge, the successful innovator in this new departure, is said by The Hartford Times to have taken no fewer than twenty seven big swordfish on his first trip. If the moss-bunkers, or bony-fish, caught by the million to be ground up for oil and to manure Connecticut cornfields can be successfully hunted by steam, there seems no good reason why swordfish cannot also be hunted by the aid of steam power.

The swordfish, a creature weighing about 300 to 600 pounds, is evidently the wickedest fish in the sea. He kills his victims out of sheer wanton malice, and without provocation. The shark, voracious and destructive as he is, swallows his victims because he is hungry. The swordfish has not even that excuse, which the shark shares with the tiger, and indeed with pretty much every other creature. The swordfish kills for the mere love of killing. If he cannot find anything else to kill, it is said he will kill a whale, if the opportunity offers. Nature, mindful of the law of the effect of force in moving bodies that gives success to the swiftest and dooms to disaster the slower one in a contest or collision, has made the swordfish the swiftest of all the denizens of the deep. His big tail, forked like the swallow's, acts with the creature's other advantages, of nearly round or cylindrical form, great strength, etc., to send it like an arrow through the sea and enable it by mere force or swiftness to drive its sword through a man's or a fish's body, or even through the bottom of a boat, although the sword itself is not a very hard substance, being simply a bony extension of the creature's upper jaw. A man in the water is promptly attacked and is quickly killed if unable to escape. Even in the small boat in which he goes out to capture the fish he has harpooned from the vessel, he is by no means safe. Instances are many in which the vicious fish finding himself fastened to the floating barrel to which the long line is made fast, and tired and angry in its efforts to get free from the ugly harpoon, has turned upon his pursuer, and darting up at the boat, has thrust his sword clear through it, and far enough up into it to seriously if not fatally wound the occupant if it happened to hit him. Some exceedingly narrow escapes from that sword thrust from beneath have been reported. [illegible] Block Islander was killed by such a thrust. Instances not unfrequently occur of ships' bottoms being perforated by the sword of this vicious fish—who, however, is apt to pay the penalty with the loss of his sword.

August (with perhaps the first half of September added) is the chief month for sword-fishing, at least for amateurs. But the work is carried on, for market, at other times. The fish has for many years been a well-known feature of fish markets in Hartford. It makes a remarkably good dish, though rather inclined to be a little dry. The flesh is solid, like old pork, and fried with a slice of that article it makes one of the best of the Friday dishes. The Block Island fishermen go out to the region around No-Man's Land, and farther to the shore edge of the gulf stream to get their swordfish. But the swordfish often comes into Long Island sound.

THE HUNTING SEASON.

Law "Off" Now on Certain Kinds of Game—The New Statutes.

The law is "off" September 1 sora rail, wild duck, wild geese and wild brants. The law is not "off" ruffed grouse (partridges), quail, woodcock and gray squirrel until October 1. The following laws relating to game were passed by the general assembly of the state of Connecticut, at the January session, 1893:

CONCERNING THE KILLING OF GAME.

Each wild duck, wild goose, brant, sora rail, snipe, ruffed grouse, quail, woodcock, gray squirrel, or other bird or animal killed, taken, or possessed contrary to the provisions of the law relating to said birds or animals shall be deemed a separate and distinct offense.

CONCERNING PRESERVATION OF GAME.

Section 2,530 of the General Statutes is amended to read as follows: Any person found with dog and gun upon the land of another, upon which the notices have been placed as prescribed in the preceding section, shall be deemed prima facie to be there for the purpose of hunting; and the owner or occupant of such land, with such others as he may command to assist him, may arrest such person, and forthwith take him before a justice of the peace, who, upon complaint of a grand juror, shall proceed to try such person.

TO PROTECT [illegible]

SECTION 1. Any person who shall hunt, kill, attempt to kill, chase, or take any deer, buck, doe, or fawn in this state, during the ten years succeeding October 1, 1893, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars.

SEC. 2. Justices of the peace shall have jurisdiction in complaints brought for violation of this act.

CONCERNING GAME WARDENS.

In all prosecutions relating to the laws for the preservation of game, the game warden, deputy game warden, special detective, or other officer making the arrest, shall be entitled to a fee of ten dollars in each and every case where conviction is had, which shall be taxed by the court as costs in the case against the defendant; and said game warden, deputy game warden, special detective or other officer shall be paid said sum and one-half of the fine or fines imposed; provided that the court taxing the costs in any additional cases shall do so only as justice may require.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

THE PEACE MEETING.

An Interesting Review of the Week's Work—Distinguished Speakers—Mr. Taylor Believes in Peace if You Have to Fight for It!

One of the fiercest gales of this stormy August assailed the Peace convention on their opening day, and for which they were ill prepared under their flimsy cotton canopy. It is time a more substantial structure was erected in which to welcome the ever increasing crowd of visitors.

In the absence of many of the prominent speakers, now in Chicago, who usually grace this rude platform by their presence, it was not expected that the meetings would be of great interest, and that the thousands who last year thronged this place would be absent; but it was not so in any noticeable degree.

The president, A. H. Love of Philadelphia, was not in his place, but Mr. Earle of Boston, editor of The Contributor, acceptably presided throughout the session with much tact, and greatly added to the occasion by his short and pithy remarks between the exercises.

Mrs. Earle was also listened to with much pleasure in frequent solos.

The Whipple quartette interspersed original songs and familiar pieces to the pleasure of their hearers.

There was noticed the absence of familiar faces on the platform, but Hamilton Wilcox of New York, for 38 years a member of this society, was in his accustomed place, and his voice was frequently heard in exhortation and rejoinder in the interests of peace.

Early in the meeting a letter was read from President Cleveland, of such tenor that it was acceptable to all assembled.

Mrs. Ida Whipple Benham, whose poems are read by wide-spread lovers of poetry, contributed several original poems during the three days' session.

The principal speaker of the first day was William Evans Darby, L.L.D., secretary of the London Peace society, and editor of The Herald of Peace. He represents the oldest peace society in existence, which was organized in 1816, soon after the battle of Waterloo. On its roll of membership were such illustrious names as Richard Cobden and John Bright.

Wednesday morning dawned bright and beautiful and the pleasant grove on the banks of the Mystic river was thronged with people from near and far, many different states of the union being represented. The services under the canopy though interesting did not hinder the exuberance of the greetings, the handshaking, the neighborly and family gossip, the story-telling and peanut-shucking of those around the stand, though it did seriously disturb the listeners. The babies, too, were there of all sizes, and lifted up their voices in wails of various keys to the embarrassment of mothers, no less than the disturbance of the hearers.

But though peace was the keynote of the meeting, much liberty was allowed those who took part to air their various hobbies, and thus improved the occasion. A. B. Taylor of Old Mystic believed we ought to have peace if we had to fight for it.

Capt. John Tuttle, familiarly called "Uncle John" by a large constituency, took the ground that the power of God could keep nations or individuals from warfare and all wish to fight.

A young scion of the Whipple flock recited a poem on "The Coming Man," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Miss Benham again spoke against the formation of boy brigades in the public schools.

Mr. George Roorbach gave testimony to the value of peace.

Other speakers, among them Mr. Rogers of New London, who urged the women present to enroll themselves as voters in the school district elections. He believed this to be the opening wedge for further enfranchisement and wider usefulness.

Mr. Wilcox here introduced a woman's suffrage resolution, which was unanimously passed.

Friday was another lovely day, the temperature just right for an out door meeting. The morning attendance was large and composed of those who came to listen, in pleasing contrast to Thursday afternoon. The subject for the day was "Temperance," and the whole programme well and impressively carried out. That veteran temperance leader, E. H. Palmer of Montville, forgot his increasing age and weakness in a vigorous speech on his favorite topic. Miss Bertha Cheney, state superintendent of the Y. W. C. T. U., made an impassioned address in favor of temperance, and was followed by her sister in the recitation of a poem quite as effective as a speech and with a power of delineation unusual in one of her age.

The audience were introduced to the Whipple brothers, who were imprisoned for conscience sake during the war, and afterwards for refusing to pay the military tax. Ira Whipple, formerly of Ledyard, now of Westerly, spoke of his grandfather, Samuel Whipple, the founder of this society, for which he labored, and his posterity after him, being represented on the platform by a good half dozen active workers in the cause of peace and temperance.

John F. Miner of Groton advocated prohibition; A. B. Taylor spoke against the use of tobacco; Mr. Benham was moved to speak of the influence of the home in restraining the youth from falling into either of these vices.

Frank Lamb had the opportunity of giving a well prepared speech against capital punishment.

As the afternoon began to wane there was a sudden exodus, team after team found their way down the rocky hill, past the vociferous ice cream dealers whose stock, if not their voices, was nearly exhausted—to the dusty highway, on which they went in slow procession to their homes.

A number of Norwich wheelmen were seen on the grounds, and their trip, whether over the corduroy road over Gallup hill or the sandy highway to be found in the Sandy Hollow route, must have been a tedious one.

The convention adjourned till next August, when the leaders hope to have the usual array of distinguished speakers.

The Trade in Alcohol.

A leading drug firm of Hartford, reports The Courant, has received the following letter from a New York house as to the trade in alcohol:

Owing to the recent ruling of the secretary of the treasury all internal revenue taxes have to be paid in actual currency at the distilleries in the west. Such being the case, and as it is impossible to get currency in the west, currency has to be bought here in the east at a premium and shipped west before goods can be gotten by the distilleries. This of course practically brings the alcohol [illegible] down to [illegible] basis, and as a general result people are paying cash instead of buying on a ten days' basis. Out west the distributors will not ship goods unless they actually receive currency by express along with the order and in advance of shipment. We here have not got as bad as that, but all of these strange rulings of the treasury department are causing a great deal of inconvenience to all purchasers of alcohol, whether they buy in one barrel lots or carload lots.

CLOUDS BREAKING

Growth of Confidence in the Business World.

MERCHANTS ARE FEELING BETTER.

Wool Dealers Think Prices Have Touched Bottom.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Bradstreet's of Saturday says: The clouds over the general business situation throughout the country have continued to break away through the second week in which an actual improvement has been recorded as indicated by an increase in volume and distribution of merchandise reported at Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha.

More travellers have been sent out from these and other points, and manufacturing industries there, as well as at larger eastern centres, have in a number of instances begun starting up, some without special orders. At cities other than those specified, with few exceptions, there is an improvement in the feeling among merchants and bankers as to the prospects for fall trade, and at all points, with very few exceptions, there is a growth of confidence in a revival of demand during the autumn months.

Larger wool dealers at eastern markets believe prices have touched bottom, and are no longer pushing sales.

Bankers at Chicago, Atlanta, New Orleans, Minneapolis, Memphis and elsewhere at points to which some of the more important agricultural regions are tributary, have arranged to provide funds as needed to raise staple crops, and in that respect than formerly. Spring wheat at the northwest is beginning to make itself felt. Louisiana rice is in good demand and firm in price, but naval stores markets were paralyzed by storms at the south.

Less Anxiety Exists

Numerous resumptions of suspended banks have been a feature of the week, and this, with manifestly less hoarding of money and increased bank deposits, has brought increased ease to almost all money markets, and a decline in rates of New York exchange at western centers, in many instances almost to normal proportions. Some banks too are beginning to increase lines of discount conservatively, although the larger financial centers report no great ease as yet in placing mercantile paper.

There are 309 business failures reported throughout the United States this week, which marks a sharp decrease, 97, although weekly totals thus far do not indicate a permanent tendency to decrease, being week after week first very large indeed and then quite large. A year ago the total number of business failures throughout the country was only 155, two years ago 178, three years ago 162, and in the corresponding week of 1889 148.

The speculative stock market at New York reflects the improvement in the financial situation and the belief in early relief [illegible]

Lessons of the Sherman Act.

In spite of bearish attacks on General Electric or other valuable stocks, bank clearings throughout the country this week amounted to only $851,182,209, nearly 4 per cent less than last week's small total, but 33 per cent less than in the like week last year. The August total, as wired Bradstreet's, is $3,356,212,966, the smallest single month's aggregate of clearings since August, 1885. The decrease last month from the July total was 19 per cent, while in August, 1892, the falling off was only 2.5 per cent, in 1891 only 5 per cent, in 1890 only a trifle, and in August, 1889, 7.3 per cent.

Owing to heavy bank clearings early in the year the total for eight months, $41,851,212,277, is only 4 per cent less than in 1892, or 6 per cent larger than in 1891, and only 3 per cent smaller than in 1890. Indications multiply that the financial situation at New York is improving, although loaning rates were still held up and supplies of funds restricted.

Savings banks authorities report that only about 10 to 20 per cent of notices of withdrawals have been enforced, while for the first time in some weeks certain banks have paid clearing house balances in cash instead of in loan certificates, indicating that country institutions are paying off rediscounts and increasing their deposits.

The premium for currency has fallen to 1-8 at 1-4 to sell and 1-8 at 3-4 to buy, with a limited inquiry, the premium for gold to arrive from Europe having virtually disappeared.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

How Cotton Broker Hathaway Stands With the World at Large.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 3.—The liabilities of Mr. Hathaway are stated to be as follows: First National bank, $55,000; B. M. C. Durfee Trust company, $25,000; Massasoit bank, $24,000; Union bank, $19,000; Pocasset bank, $14,000; Bourne mills, $10,000; Fenner Brownell, $5000; accounts, small personal bills, $5000; on real estate mortgages, $35,000; total, about $170,000.

His assets are represented as being: Equities in stocks, $3000; $37,000 in accounts, $64,000 in equities in real estate, besides warehouse receipts aggregating about $87,000, mostly supposed to be good. The item of $37,000 in accounts is estimated as not worth more than from $7000 to $10,000. It is believed that the equities in real estate are too high by several thousand dollars.

The First National bank has warehouse receipts amounting to $5600; the Trust company, $11,180, Fenner Brownell, $2800, Bourne mills, $12,000. All the cotton for which these receipts have been given has not yet been found.

The Bourne mills loss will be at least $9000, and it is feared that it may be $12,000. Among the real estate is a valuable warehouse, where some cotton was stored.

ROOTING FOR ADAMS.

Massachusetts Veterans Off For the Indianapolis Grand Encampment.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, the delegates of the department of Massachusetts to the Grand Army encampment next week, started for Indianapolis on a special train on the Fitchburg railroad. For the next three or four days large numbers of Grand Army men will leave for Indianapolis and Massachusetts is sure to be well represented at the encampment.

In regard to the commander-in-chief for next year, the Massachusetts delegation is very confident that Sergeant-at-Arms John G. B. Adams will return home in that position. Great encouragement has been received at Massachusetts headquarters from Mr. Adams' Grand Army Republic friends all over the country, and the delegation has no fear of defeat. Thirty delegates from the Massachusetts Woman's relief corps are to attend the encampment, and they are all rooting for Mr. Adams.

The Massachusetts delegation to the encampment consists of the following men: Silas A. Barton, post 5, Lynn, at large; John E. Killam, post 26, Roxbury; B. E. Savery, post 13, Brockton; Charles S. Anthony, post 3, Taunton; John H. Putnam, post 190, Revere; John W. Walker, post 30, Cambridge; William H. Evelath, post 30, Cambridge; John G. McCarter, post 32, Milford; Thomas O'Hara, post 10, Worcester; Frank E. Orcutt, post 4, Melrose; Jesse Prickett, post 123, Pittsfield; A. M. Stickney, post 66, Medford; Charles C. Adams, post 123, Boston; Henry Walker, post 15, Boston; John H. Adams, post 137, Dalton; Sylvester C. Frost, post 36 Arlington; John H. Abbott, post 46, Fall River; Walter S. Sampson, post 7, Boston; Hubbard M. Abbott, post 86, Northampton; Henry W. Downs, post 62, Newton; Joseph W. Hill, post 11, Charlestown; Gilbert L. Jewett, post 70, North Adams; William H. Nichols, 3d, post 34, Salem; Charles H. Hunt, post 16, Springfield, and William Reynolds, post 32, Marblehead.

From all indications the encampment will be one of the largest in the annals of the Grand Army. Most all the members who went Saturday morning bought their tickets with the intention of going to Chicago after the convention is over, and the delegates from other states are said to have done the same, so that there will really be a second encampment at Chicago during the week, after that at Indianapolis.

The special rates offered by the railroads and permitting a stop-over at the encampment are, in reality, World's fair rates. From Indianapolis the tickets are good to Chicago, and for the direct return to Boston.

MYSTERY NO LONGER.

Eva Peet Identified as the Daughter of a Well-to-Do Farmer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The mystery of the young woman, Eva Peet, who died at the Bellevue hospital a week ago from injuries sustained on Aug. 14 in Tompkins park by falling from a bench, has been cleared up by the appearance of her parents at the morgue. The body, which remained unclaimed until Friday was then shipped to Hart's island for interment in Potter's field.

Mrs. Peet, who was only 19 years old, was the wife of a laborer. Her father is Wallace Knapp of Stony Point, Rockland county, New York. He is a prosperous farmer and his daughter was the belle of the place. She fell deeply in love with a poor laborer named Peet, and after a short courtship the pair were married.

Three weeks ago the young couple came to this city and were said to have begun housekeeping on Manhattan street. That was the last heard of his daughter by Mr. Knapp until he read of her mysterious death in the newspapers. Eva Peet's photograph was shown to the farmer by Morgue Keeper White. Mr. Knapp instantly identified it as that of his married daughter. The remains will be disinterred and taken to Rockland county for interment. Peet's whereabout is unknown.

HOW SOME VOTED.

Gladstone Will Propose to Give the Government Whole Time of the House.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—On the liberal side of the house of commons on the home rule bill William Saunders, member of the Walworth division of Newington, voted against the government; Mr. Wallace abstained from voting and William Rathbone, for the Arfon division of Carnarvonshire was absent. On the Unionist side Sir Edward Watkin and Baron Henry de Worms were absent.

Mr. Gladstone will propose on Monday a resolution, the effect of which will be to give the government the whole time of the house for the remainder of the session, to suspend the 12 o'clock rule, and to appoint Saturday sittings.

The Welsh party at a meeting Friday, carried a resolution demanding that disestablishment of the church in Wales be the primary item on the government program for 1894.

Candidate For Mayor.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—Hon. John R. Murphy fire commissioner of the city of Boston, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Mayor and will be a candidate in the municipal convention. This statement is on the authority of those who are closest to Mr. Murphy, politically and personally, and it is now publicly announced for the first time, that the Charlestown leader's candidacy is not a conditional one.

Suspended Specie Payment.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A cable message received here states that the Banco Espanol of Havana, Cuba, had suspended specie payment. This is the largest bank of its kind in Havana, and has had the backing of the Spanish government. It had a large amount of gold notes out, and it is expected that the refusal of the bank to continue payment will create no end of [illegible]

Tin Plate Works Close.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Most of the tin plate works in Swansea, Llanelly and Neath shut down Saturday, as their contracts to deliver goods have expired during this week. All would have remained open, despite the lack of orders, had they not been embarrassed by the coal strike. The closing of the tin plate mills will deprive 7000 men of work.

Organized to Drive Out Chinese.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 2.—The sheriff of San Bernardino county has telegraphed the governor asking for troops to prevent a threatened attempt by an organization of whites at Red Lands to drive out the Chinese.

Settled and Was Released.

COTTAGE CITY, Mass., Sept. 4.—Frank A. Lewis of New York, arrested for obtaining money under false pretences, has been released on making a settlement satisfactory to all concerned.

FINANCE IN INDIA.

Believed That the Ratio of Exchange Will Soon Be on a Settled Basis.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Calcutta correspondent of The Times says: It is believed that the result of the refusal to allot council bills at 1s 3d per rupee will be that the rate of exchange will shortly settle down to a basis of 1s 4d.

It is expected that when the busy season arrives the secretary of state for India will be able to sell more than enough to meet his obligations, and that gold will be gradually attracted to India to replace the silver in currency and in reserve.

Prominent Waltham Man Dead.

WALTHAM, Mass., Sept. 3.—The death of ex-Representative Charles Moore occurred at 6 o'clock Saturday morning at his home on High street after an illness of nearly a year. Death was caused by a general breaking up of the system superinduced by an attack of the grip.

Two Children Asphyxiated.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—Two children, Rachel Wase and Martha, her child nurse, respectively 7 and 14 years of age, were asphyxiated by gas early Saturday morning, in their home, 10 Kensington street.

Tax Collector Is Short.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 2.—A special to the Commercial from Little Rock, Ark., says: A. S. Reinhardt, sheriff and tax collector of Prairie county, Ark., one of the best known officials in the state, is short nearly $14,000 in his accounts. This is the third sheriff in Arkansas that has turned up short within three weeks.

Wanted to Lynch Him.

BELLAIRE, O., Sept. 2.—Policeman John Murphy of Martin Ferry was shot dead Friday by James Wilson, an employe of a traveling circus. Eighteen hundred people gathered around the jail and would have lynched him, but the police interfered.

MARKETS

Fresh Boiled Lobsters.
Also CHOICE OYSTERS, at
POWERS BROS'.
Telephone 13-4. sept2d

SEE WHAT YOU CAN BUY FOR CASH!

Porterhouse Steak - - 20c
Sirloin Steak - - - - 18c
Round Steak - - - 12c
Shoulder Steak - - - 10c

JAMES DAWSON, JR.,
sept2d [illegible] MAIN ST.

LAMB and CHICKEN
—AT—
J. D. Murphy's,
jy21d MARKET STREET.

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. R. VAUGHN & SONS
IRON CASTINGS.
aug7d PERRY ST., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for immediate delivery.
REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Sable" brand.
SHEET IRON. Galvanized "S. R." Black and Plate.
STEEL. "Black Diamond" and "Silver," warranted Cast Steel. Machinery Steel, Tire Steel, Calking Steel.
FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.
IRON AND STEEL I BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.
A. T. CONVERSE,
Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf,
may12d 13 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.
Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Wool Machinery, Mill Gearing, Shafting, Pulley Hangers etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds, Gearing, Cuttings, Forgings and Castings at short notice, 128 Franklin Street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second-hand machines bought and sold on commission. jy16d

SADLERY ETC

LANE BROS.
—Have a—
Seven - Foot Delivery Wagon
Which you can turn around in a ten-foot circle.
67—69 Water St.
aug24d

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF
HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,
AT MODERATE PRICES.
At 115 Main St., J. Q. STANDISH.
[illegible]

ELY'S CREAM BALM
Cleanses the Nasal Passages.
Allays Pain and Inflammation.
HEALS THE SORES.
Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.
Try the Cure.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM.
HAY FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents.
ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., novl7MWFnw New York.

LADIES!
We are having a special sale in
Ladies' Shoes for Today—Monday, July 17.
Small's Shoe Store, West Side.
jy17d

NOTICE.

Ceilings Whitened,
Woodwork Painted,
and Walls Papered
with Gilt Paper
For From $6 to $12 a Room.
GEO. C. BUCHANAN,
House Painter and Paper Hanger.
Wall Paper of all kinds. All paints mixed to order. Estimates cheerfully given.
58 Shetucket St & 188 Central Ave.,
feb1WFM NORWICH, CONN.

REMOVAL.
We have removed
From 11 to 81 Chestnut St.,
Where we have superior facilities for doing all kinds of work in our line
Steam Carpet Cleaning.
Ladies' garments, cloth of all descriptions dyed, Dying feathers a specialty. Promptness and thoroughness guaranteed.
WILSON BROS. [illegible]

—IF YOU—
Want money,
Want a cook,
Want boarders,
Want a partner,
Want a situation,
Want a servant girl,
Want to sell a farm,
Want to sell a house,
Want to rent a house,
Want to exchange anything,
Want to sell plants or grain,
Want to sell groceries or drugs,
Want to sell or trade anything,
Want to find customers for anything,
Want to sell or buy horses, mules or cattle.
Advertise
IN THE BULLETIN.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Rich Red Blood

Is the autumn result of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Mary F. Tome, of Niantic, Conn., author of a very beautiful volume of poems, entitled "Sacred Songs," says, "I find relief for feeling of deadness of the limbs, congestion and poor circulation of the blood, has no rival. I have been troubled severely with a fibroid tumor, besides seven fatty tumors on my left arm. My blood was in very poor condition, watery and deficient in color. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I have good rich, red blood, and do not bloat as I used to.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved its merit to me as it will to all who take it fairly." N. B.—Be sure to get HOOD'S

HOOD'S PILLS act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

PLUMBING, ETC.

A. TROLAND & SON

Will Give You Close Estimates on PLUMBING and GAS WORK.

—TRY OUR—
"Big Box" Stove Polish.
—ALSO GET—
RUTLAND LINING.
IT FITS ANY STOVE.

[illegible] Frambors 13 Ferry Street.

WE HAVE THE BEST Water Filters and Garden Hose

At the lowest of Very Low Prices. [illegible] Steam and Gas Fitting.

ROSAKER & BREED,
6 West Main, Central Wharf.

Telephone 133—3

ROBERT BROWN

Steam and Gas Fitting,

Plumbing and Steam Heating,

Pipe Cutting and Threading by Power Machinery.

All Work done Promptly and Neatly.

Pequot Building, Central Wharf.

INSURANCE.

L. and L. and G.

A. IRVING ROYCE, Agent,

THE BEST PLACE TO INSURE.
STORY'S
INSURANCE AGENCY,
90 NANTUCKET ST.

The only Insurance office in Norwich on the ground floor.

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y
Norwich, England. Organized 1797.
E. TARRANT, Agt.,
6 MAIN STREET.

[illegible]

J. P. LEARNED
Insurance in all Forms.
Bonds of Indemnity.
Foreign Drafts.
[illegible] National Bank, Norwich, Conn.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell
COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A New Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

A. B. KINGSBURY

Murphy & Blackburn,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS.
87 Franklin Street.

Open day and night. Ring bell for night calls. Residence 18 High street and 4 Williams Avenue, Preston.

HAVE THAT
Lawn Mower
Put in Good Order
and it will be as good as new. Send it to
M. A. BARBER,
Industrial Building, Falls Ave.

FRANK G. SWEET,
Medical and Surgical Nurse,
Graduate from Mills' Training School for Male Nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York city. Call at 203 or 463 FRANKLIN Street, city. TERMS REASONABLE.

Before Buying Elsewhere,
Call and examine my complete line of new styles of
—WALL PAPERS.—
Lowest Prices.
E. L. GREENE,
Painter, Grainer and Paper Hanger.

The Bulletin.

THE OLD MAN SINGS.

There's a wabble in the jingle and a stumble in the meter,
And the accent might be clearer and the volume be completer.
And there might be much improvement in the stress and intonation,
And a polish might be added to the crude pronunciation,
But there's music such as once was played before the ancient kings,
When the old man plays the fiddle and goes feeling for the strings;
There is laughter chocked with tear drops when the old man sings.

And we form a ring around him, and we place him in the middle,
And he hugs up to his withered cheek the poor old broken fiddle;
And a smile comes on his features as he hears the strings' vibration,
And he sings the songs of long ago with faltering intonation;
And a phantom from the distant past his distant music brings,
And trooping from their dusty graves come long forgotten things,
When he tunes the ancient fiddle, and the old man sings.

And while the broken man is playing on the broken fiddle,
And we press around to hear him as he sits there in the middle,
The sound of many wedding bells in all the music surges.
Then we hear their clamor smothered by the sound of funeral dirges.
'Tis the story of his lifetime that in the music rings,
And every life's a blind man's tune that's played on broken strings;
And so we sit in silence while the old man sings.

—S. M. Stacey in Californian.

THE LOST YVONNE.

Steamer King Philip, Br., McDowell, Liverpool, India, and 83 cabin passengers, arrived at 1 p. m. yesterday. Fine weather, with moderate westerly winds throughout passage. Reports picked up sixth day out canvas covered canoe Yvonne, built by Higgins & Co., Boston. Found a "sweater" and silver Waltham watch, No. 1,257,183, in Yvonne. Owner supposed lost.

This is an extract from the shipping news published by a Boston paper one morning last August. My attention was called to it by a young man who sat beside me on a train coming into town from Riverside. He put his thumb on the place and handed me the paper with an excited gesture.

"My canoe—my watch—my sweater!" he said. "Been afloat three weeks today. I must go down to the King Philip and claim my property."

"Floated away by a rising tide from some place where you had drawn the canoe up, I suppose," said I.

"No. Haven't you heard how I lost my canoe? I've told so many people about it that I thought everybody in West Newton knew. But I was forgetting; you're almost a stranger there. Well, the Yvonne was blown out to sea and I with her."

"You don't say so! How did you manage to get ashore without her?"

"That's the story. I'll tell you all about it. There's time enough before we get to Boston.

"Three weeks ago today I got into the Yvonne at Kennebunkport and paddled out beyond the pier to sea. The weather was fine and the sea calm. There wasn't a curl on the water; nothing but the long ocean swell. Still I didn't feel quite comfortable out there. Were you ever at sea in a canoe? No?

"Well, perhaps you can imagine how the size of the water affected me. I had never before been out in a canoe on anything wider than the Charles between Riverside and Waltham. It wasn't that I felt in danger of capsizing or being unable to get back to land, but an oppressive sense of the enormous spread of the sea grew on me as I knelt in my cockleshell away out there, with my head only three feet or so from the billows.

"There was no island on the offing—nothing but sea and sky and gulls, except the red canoe of a young Englishman named Albert Edward Jones, who had gone out from Kennebunkport half an hour or so before I did.

"We called him 'Wales' Jones, and I must say that a more unsociable chap I never came across than he seemed. I suspect now that nothing worse than shyness was the matter with him.

"All day long he was paddling, generally out at sea, and certainly he was a wonderful hand in a canoe.

"Often he would stay out in a wind that sent bigger surf ashore than most of the bathers liked, and in he would come, fairly sliding along on the crest of some curling wave that would welter around his canoe near the pier so that you'd be sure he must go down before reaching quiet water in the river.

"I thought him foolhardy, though I could appreciate his great skill with the paddle. Most of the summer people regarded him as demented to run such risks.

"Well, it was the wish to practice on big water and the hope to pick up some of Wales' knack that took me out into the open that day. I said to myself, 'I'll go out first in a calm, and afterward in a gentle breeze, and after that in one not quite so gentle, and if I don't get drowned I'll gradually learn how to manage a canoe like Wales.'

"But the sea is treacherous. You don't catch me fooling with it any more on the calculation that it will stay just so.

"As I withstood my nervous feeling it nearly disappeared, and I paddled out perhaps a mile. The weather was perfectly clear. There was just a breath of air from the south at first. This died away after awhile. The afternoon sun beat fiercely down, and yet I sat so close to the cool water that I was not uncomfortably hot.

"I was paddling in 'trunks,' with my well tanned arms and shins bare. My sweater and my watch were in the stern, for I knelt before the second thwart.

"Instead of coming toward me, as any American fellow would have done on seeing me, Wales stood farther out, and I could barely make out the gleam of his red canoe through the heat spirals and faint mist that cling close to the sea on a hot, calm day. When I became convinced that he either didn't see me or wouldn't come in for a chat, I began to think of turning back to shore.

"In fact I did turn, but I still had plenty of daylight ahead of me. The shore seemed not more than a mile away, and I just sat there without paddling and let her swing on the billows.

"I suppose I must have fallen into a sort of dream. Though I did not sleep nor close my eyes, I wasn't taking notice of anything. How long this lasted I can't say, but I was suddenly roused by a faint shout from seaward. At that I turned to see Wales Jones coming in at a great pace.

"His double bladed paddle was going like the arms of an old fashioned windmill. He was within a quarter of a mile or so of me, and I could make out that he was down on one knee, with the other leg thrust out in front of him—his favorite attitude for putting on all steam.

"I got it into my head that he was 'hitting it up,' as he calls speeding, by showing me his superior pace, but pretty soon he jumped to his feet, pointed to shore with his paddle and shouted some words that I couldn't make out.

"There was no mistaking the gesture, though. I looked ashore to see the sky blackening with the coming of a squall.

"Well, sir, in about one minute, I guess, there was no shore to be seen. It had been blotted out. A front rain and wind came fairly shrieking over the water. I knew there was no use trying to paddle or control the Yvonne. The best thing I could do was to lie down and so give her my body for low ballast.

"As I stretched myself out in the bottom the squall broke over me with a fury that passed almost as quickly as it came. It was just as though some vast mouth had opened, given one long, mighty puff and closed again.

"Little more sea had risen than would come on a big pond with such a sudden gale. But where was Wales? I looked back as I turned toward shore. In the distance I saw the squall racing away. I was confident that it had fled past where I had seen the Englishman, yet not a glimpse of his red canoe did I [illegible]

"Before I had fairly searched the seaward horizon the wind came up of which the squall had been a forerunner. It was not what you'd call a great wind, but from the first I could feel that it was going to be a steady and a rising wind. It blew straight from shore, and I put in my paddle with wonder whether I had strength to make head against it long enough to save myself from being blown out to sea.

"I was in good condition, for I had been paddling on the Riverside reach six or eight miles almost every day since April, but pretty soon I began to see that I could not make the shore.

"The wind was no gale, you understand, but it was dead against me, and its pressure was as steady as a jackscrew's. The Yvonne is one of these 'girling' canoes, made on the bark canoe model and too high in the sides and ends for work in wind. Perhaps you know how hard it is to keep a canoe of that model straight into the wind's eye?

"Well, then, you can fancy how she fell off first to this side, and then when I corrected her to the other, as her nose caught the wind on coming up over wave after wave.

"The sea was rising. It was not high; it was not yet dangerous. I was under no fear of capsizing or being swamped. My fear was only that I could not make head against wave and wind. Not to do so meant to be blown out to sea.

"I could, I soon saw, get through the water more quickly by steering half across seas instead of dead against them, but I was sure the Yvonne drifted sidewise when I gave her quarter at all to the breeze. These wide bottomed canoes have no such hold on the water as a Peterboro or a Rob Roy. Of course I could gain nothing by running quickly at an angle to the shore if I were drifting out from it at the same time, so I doggedly stuck to my straight-at-the-wind paddling.

"My one hope was that some yacht or catboat would come to me before my strength went, but not a vestige of canvas could I see except the sprit sail of some boat running to and fro in the river inside the Kennebunkport pier. I could see many people ashore, like puppets moving about, but I well knew that they were so accustomed to the sight of Wales at sea that they would never imagine me to be in danger in waves much smaller than the Englishman played with.

"Sea and wind gradually rose till I doubted whether I was gaining an inch. Little whitecaps began to break near me and greater ones in the northern and southern distances. If waves with formidable crests arose, I was sure they would pour over the Yvonne's sides.

"All the time I was thinking of the fate of Wales, fancying how his body was drifting down and down far behind me and imagining the same ending for myself. Twice I had turned to glance behind without making out his low sided, red canoe, so I was the more convinced she had been rolled upside down in the squall.

"Hello! Is this Brighton Station? I shall have to hurry up with the story. Well, I suppose I struggled in that situation for three-quarters of an hour without gaining 50 yards. All the time the waves were coming up higher till the crests ran past me in a swirl of bubbles. As the boys say, I thought my name was Dennis, and then I heard a distinct 'Ahoy, there!'

"I turned to the north to see Wales not more than 200 yards away. He was easily making head against the sea, though not running into the eye of the wind, but half across seas. I never saw anything prettier.

"Up he would climb lightly. On the crest his bow hovered in a boil of white water which he took always on his quarter with a movement that seemed to tip his canoe away from the crest. Then out would shoot the red witch of a Peterboro till half her length seemed to glisten clear of water, and down she went with the careless sweep of a gull.

"But Wales was not making as if to reach me. His course was northwestward at an angle away from mine, and from the peculiar swing of him it was plain that he was in a state of high satisfaction.

"'Ahoy, there!' he shouted again.

"'Ahoy!' I answered.

"'Are you all right?'

"'No, all wrong.'

"'That so? Then I'll come to you.'

"With one stroke of his long paddle he turned to the left in the trough, rose, taking the next crest on his north quarter, and in a few minutes was close alongside.

"'Are you making headway?' he asked [illegible]

"I told him I thought not.

"'Let me see,' said he, and kept even pace with me for a minute.

"'No, you're losing,' he said. 'I wondered why I was not catching up faster. Of course she drifts if you give the wind her quarter. It's a bad scrape. Are you doing all you can?'

"'Every pound,' I said.

"'Well, what are you going to do about it?'

"'Nothing to do. I might as well let her drift, but for the shame of giving up so.'

"'Gammon!' he said and laughed.

"I thought this rather heartless, but said nothing.

"'I must get ashore and send out a catboat,' he said doubtfully.

"'I wish to goodness you would then,' I answered.

"'But then no catboat might be ready, or it might miss you. No, one of us must lose his canoe.'

"'That's pretty clear, and myself, too,' said I.

"'Gammon! The question is, Shall I get in with you or you get in with me?'

"'Gracious, you can't change into my canoe in this sea! And your canoe won't carry us both.'

"'She won't, eh?' he said as if annoyed.

"I suppose my remark decided him, for he was extremely proud of his canoe. Next instant he ran her bow close alongside of the Yvonne and spoke with an air of settling the whole matter.

"'Now do exactly what I say. When my canoe touches the side of yours, grab it and hold the two—both rails, mind—hold them together. Then rise up quickly, keep both hands on the two edges—the canoes will steady one another that way—then step right into my bow in front of the forward thwart. You understand? All right then. The moment you're on your knees in my canoe let yours go, and we'll daddle this old sea yet,' he concluded, with a queer burst of exultation.

"On going up the next crest I did exactly as he said. The Yvonne took the curl on her quarter and sheltered his red canoe so perfectly that she didn't ship a dipperful. As I knelt Wales shifted back to his canoe's stern and cried, 'Let go!'

"Next instant we were rising up a wave. My Englishman was so clever that he somehow shouldered off that crest without wetting me at all, and so we went on up and down, up and down, every wave threatening to swamp us and every crest thrust away as by a sort of miracle.

"After my nerves had got a little used to this sort of thing—mind you, we hadn't more than six inches of free board, and but for his dexterous tipping her away from the crests any one of them would have poured over—after I had begun to feel a bit easy I said:

"'Hang it all, I forgot my watch and sweater.'

"'Well, I don't think we can turn back safely,' he said as if he seriously thought of doing so.

"'Turn back! Not for all the watches at Waltham and all the sweaters in America,' I said.

"Well, we're almost at Huntington avenue. There's nothing more to tell, except that we got into the lee of the shore in half an hour and landed all right. When we did so, I turned to Wales—I was pretty grateful, you may be sure—and I said, holding out my hand:

"'You've saved my life. I thank you from the bottom of my heart.' What do you suppose he answered?"

"I can't imagine. What was it?"

"Simply 'Gammon!' Then he went off alone to his hotel, and I've never seen him from that moment."—Edward W. Thomson in Youth's Companion.

New Styles Are Sometimes Started.

The two sets in Paris that indulge in costly and stylish dress are the fashionable society ladies and the actresses who figure in the society plays that are given at the best theaters. These last named dress superbly and always in exquisite taste. Very often some new fashion becomes popular and spreads throughout the civilised world from having first been seen on the stage of the Comedie Francaise or the Vaudeville.

The oddest case of this kind took place at the last named theater when hoops were at the height of their vogue, and when the splendors in female attire of the second empire had been carried to their highest point. A piece intended to satirise these extravagances in dress and called "Loud Dressing," was brought out. The actress who played the part of the heroine wore an enormous hoop and a dress loaded with ornaments and trimmings of every kind. This toilet produced exactly the contrary affect from what had been intended. The fashionable Parisian ladies were delighted with it, and it was copied and reproduced in all leading drawing rooms, beginning with that of the Tuileries.—Lucy Hooper in Home Journal.

A Happy Termination of a Duel.

At Cimarron two years ago one rancher accused another of cheating him at poker. They nearly killed one another on the spot, but finally decided to settle the matter by duel. It was agreed that two pistols should be put on a table under a blanket, only one being loaded, and that the combatants toss up for choice of weapons and then fire simultaneously.

The challenged man fired first, however, and finding that he had drawn the unloaded revolver he folded his arms and awaited death. The other took aim at his forehead, then slowly raised his pistol and fired through the ceiling, declaring that his opponent was too brave a man to be guilty of cheating at cards. The combatants became fast friends.—London Tit-Bits.

The Art of Graceful Walking.

It would seem sometimes that the art of graceful walking might be numbered among the lost sciences, so few women master the accomplishment or even acquire any approach to perfection in this exercise, which is the foundation of all others. Every one succeeds in propelling themselves along by means of their feet, but that is not true walking. An English authority says, "The body should be held erect, the shoulders down, chest extended and the leg moved from the hip, the whole figure above being immovable."—Philadelphia Times.

Overfastidious Taste.

Men overfastidious in their choice of tea have been victims of their too vivid imaginations. One man objected to a brand of tea purchased by his wife, pronouncing it "weeds," and accordingly selected a choice kind. His next cup of tea was pronounced perfect. The color was good, and "That's a cup of tea for you" was said with emphasis as he drank the second cup made from the "weeds" his wife had bought.—Good Housekeeping.

WHERE "FAKE" COMES FROM.

It Was a Theatrical Term, Which Found a Champion In Mr. Howells.

There is one word which the larger vocabulary of the public has lately taken from the smaller vocabulary of the playhouse and which some strolling player of the past apparently borrowed from some other vagabond familiar with thieves' slang. This word is fake. It has always conveyed the suggestion of an attempt to deceive.

"Are you going to get up new scenery for the new play?" might be asked, and the answer would be, "No, we shall fake it," meaning thereby that old scenery would be retouched and readjusted so as to have the appearance of new. From the stage the word passed to the newspapers, and a fake is a story invented, not founded on fact—"made out of whole cloth," as the stump speakers say.

Mr. Howells, always bold in using new words, accepts fake as good enough for him and prints it in "The Quality of Mercy" without the stigma of italics or quotation marks. Just as in the same story he has adopted the colloquial electrics for electric lights—i. e., "He turned off the electrics." And hereafter the rest of us may use either fake or electrics with a clear conscience, either hiding ourselves behind Mr. Howells, who can always give a good account of himself when attacked, or else coming out into the open and asserting our own right to adopt either word because it is useful.

"Is it called for? Is it accordant with the analysis of the language? Is it offered or backed by good authority? These are the considerations by which general consent is won or repelled," so Professor Whitney tells us, "and general consent decides every case without appeal." It happens that Don Quixote preceded Professor Whitney in this exposition of the law, for when he was instructing Sancho Panza, then about to be appointed governor of an island, he used a Latinized form of a certain word which had become vulgar, explaining that "if some do not understand these terms it matters little, for custom will bring them into use in the course of time so that they will be readily understood. That is the way a language is enriched. Custom and the public are all powerful there." Sometimes the needful word which is thought to be too common for use is Latinized, as Don Quixote preferred, but more often it is ennobled without change, being simply lifted out from among its former low companions.—Scribner's.

The Saucy Magpie.

The sauciest creature alive is the magpie of Australia. He is also a handsome fellow, and as he flies in undulating waves he gleams beautifully in the sunlight. Glossy black and pure white are his colors. His beak is sharp and can be very cruel, although he belongs not to the carnivora.

I once owned a magpie of this ilk. I lost him with the deepest regret. Our friendship was of the most pleasant character. It is true that he often put me to some inconvenience. He robbed me, but not as man steals. He stole for fun. My cat hated him with fervor. He haunted her dreams. It was his habit when puss was asleep to seize her by the tail, give it a vicious tweak and then fly to the back of the chair, laughing heartily. She never caught him, and in time her tail became to her a tail of [illegible]

As I have said, he and I became fast friends. He visited me every morning, perched himself on the footrail of my bed and sang his merry song. Then he would come and get into bed with me. It was my custom to smooth his feathers, place him on his back beside me and pull the sheet over him up to his chin, so to speak. He would then close his eyes, and he and I would take a nap. I have known him to sleep in this position for two hours. This seems incredible, but I am not dealing in fiction. Since I lost him it has been my hope that he fall in with those who understood his character. Wherever he is, I wish him well, for I could have spared a better friend.—Donahoe's Magazine.

Signals at Sea.

The international code of signals was prepared and first published in April, 1857, in accordance with the views and recommendations of a committee appointed by the board of trade. The code is described as consisting of 18 flags—namely, one burgee, four pennants and 13 square flags, and in addition an "answering pennant," which is displayed when the message is completed and understood. The 18 flags represent the consonants of the alphabet, and it is by a combination of two, three or four of these flags hung perpendicularly to each other that arbitrary signs are made which represent words and sentences of the same signification in all languages. Each signal has throughout the code but one signification. A signal is always made in "one hoist" in one place.

The nature of the signals is indicated by the number of flags hoisted, whether two, three or four together. Signals of two flags relate to danger or distress; signals of three flags to general subjects of inquiry or communication, including latitude, longitude and time signals, and signals with four flags relate to names. Single flags are not used in code signals, with the exception of "yes" and "no" and "answering" pennants. The flags to be hoisted at one time never exceed four. It is an interesting mathematical fact that, with 18 variously colored flags, and never using more than four at a time, no fewer than 78,642 distinct signals can be given.—Pearson's Weekly.

A Novel Parrot For Sale.

A novel parrot, possessing, according to the advertisement, powers of mimicry and a vocabulary of 50 words, is for sale in London, but no gentlemen need apply. The precocious fowl is destined to pass into the keeping of a woman or never to change its owner. Why? Well, James Payn suggests that the bird may have hung in a drawing room where for a long time it has listened to the after dinner talk of the ladies, who now fear a betrayal of their secrets.—London Letter.

In Dr. Nansen's five years' drift across the arctic regions he takes with him a stove which at a cost of 4 cents will cook as large a dinner as any party of 30 could eat. A supply of paraffin costing this amount will produce an excellently cooked salmon, leg of mutton, vegetables and tarts.

Advice For Young Rhymesters.

Ridicule and serious advice are both bestowed freely upon youthful versifiers to convince them of what is usually evident to everybody but themselves—that they are not poets.

Poetry, they are told, can only be produced by men and women born to genius and is a sorry recreation for sensible young people, who would do better either to play or to study than to waste time in making rhymes and sentimentalizing. All such nonsense should be put aside, and if writing is to be done at all it should be in plain prose.

In the main the advice is good. Real poets are almost as rare as white blackbirds. Struggling rhymesters who regard themselves as the Great Unrecognized and who think their homely critics ignorant persons who will be confuted in the distant future by the dazzling fame of immortal works they some day will produce are absurd enough. Nevertheless versifying is a gift which may be turned to agreeable use even when it does not approach the realm of poetry.

We do not consider that the person gifted with a facile pencil should not draw lest he should fancy himself an artist. Why then need we discourage the person gifted with a knack at rhyme from versifying lest he should believe himself a poet?

Indeed stern discouragement rather than kindly criticism or judicious praise is what oftenest drives young and ardent writers of verse to believe the power which they know themselves to possess something more important than it is.

Rhyming is a pretty art in itself. There is something winning to most ears in its swing and lilt, and it may frequently be used effectively by amateurs if they will accept the limits of their talent and deal with thoughts and themes which are not imitated, but honestly their own.—Youth's Companion.

A Problem of the Future.

There really seems to be no hope for words which we class as common gender, so that we shall perhaps forever hear some people refer to their "lady friend" or their "gentleman cousin." Nor can we desire such a complete differentiation that would compel us to be strictly logical in giving the feminine of "Michigander" or constrain us to follow an example already set in referring to woman's convention as "moving in the even soprano of their ways."

This latter might be improved upon by saying mezzo soprano of her way. But, joking aside, how are we to refer to the presiding officer of an assembly of women? Will Mrs. President do? Or shall we in our rules of parliamentary practice suggest the chair? Perhaps this would answer. But suppose the chair appoints a committee, and in announcing the members desires that Mrs. A. should preside at the deliberations of this committee, how shall she indicate it? Shall she say, "I appoint Mrs. A. chairman" or chairwoman? This latter bears too close a resemblance to charwoman to be popular, and in the broad pronunciation of some might be mistaken for it. Would it do to say chairmistress? If not, what shall we advise?

Again, we are likely soon to see women on our juries, and it is more than probable that one of them would be selected to render the verdict. In such an event confusion might result, inasmuch as our statutes prescribe the functions of the foreman. Shall these states as soon as they admit women on the jury revise their statutes in this regard? If so, what change must be made—foreman or forewoman, foreman or forematress, or what?—J. Howard Gore in New Peterson.

"The" Hague.

Did you ever stop to ask yourself or your knowing friend the meaning of "The" in the place named The Hague? If you are looking for something that will knock the above mentioned knowing friend off his feet, just ask him the significance of the three letters quoted. When he fails to answer the question, tell him that the The as it occurs in the instance cited is simply the anglicised form of the Dutch word "S Gravenhaag" or "S Gravenhage," either of which, in the Dutch language, means "the count's hedge" or "the count's grove" or "woods."

Originally the location now occupied by the city of The Hague was the hunting grounds of the counts of Holland. About the year 1240 a palace was built in the grove. Presently a village sprung up around the palace—still it was called "The Count's Hedge"—and finally and lastly a large city, which in the Dutch language has its original signification, but which in modern parlance has been evoluted into "The Hague."

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.

Large and Complete Line
FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE
ARTISTIC WALL PAPER
At Reduced Prices.

SPECIAL SALE.
Large Art Carpets and Rugs
$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.
Other sizes in proportion.

Japanese Rugs and Mats.
$26.00 Japanese Carpets for $20.00.
$12.00 Japanese Rugs for $8.00.
$4.00 Japanese Rugs for $2.75.

Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels
75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.
Quantities, 1 1-8 Yards to 30 Yards

Parties Wishing
FURNITURE,
CARPETS OR
WALL PAPER,
Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock

That we are offering at Low Prices.

STORAGE.

Storage of non-hazardous or imperishable goods or merchandise may be obtained in my Warehouse at 23 Commerce Street.
A. T. CONVERSE.

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

When You
SPOT
A Good Thing
stick to it. Old Chewers long ago spotted
OLD HONESTY PLUG
Chewing Tobacco as the best in the world, and have stuck to it ever since. Try a piece. Sold everywhere.
JNO. FINZER & BROS.,
Louisville, - Ky.

FOR THE LADIES

Profit Is Nothing
But a Memory Today.
It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.
Hats reduced to less than cost, both trimmed and untrimmed.
Trimmed Hats at 98c.
Cost or value no consideration.
RIBBONS.
All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.
Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.
Don't have to talk much about them. At our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.
New York Bazaar.
112 MAIN ST.

REDUCTION
In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.
We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits which we will close at the following prices: $6.00 and $7.95. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, as they must be sold.
Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close, at
A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St.

MILLINERY.
Hats, Bonnets, Elegant Ribbons, Laces and Flowers,
—AT—
MRS. G. P. STANTON'S,
No. 23 Shetucket Street.

JUST RECEIVED,
Another lot of those Demon Screens and Sofa Pillows at the Bouquet Millinery and Fancy Goods Parlors, No. 3 Lower Broadway. We also carry a full line of B. and A. Wash Silk, Art Threads, Fringes, and everything pertaining to Fancy Work.
STAMPING AND PINKING A SPECIALTY.
Everything in the Millinery line will be sold regardless of cost.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES
—AT—
40C. PER THOUSAND.
They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.
COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.
The Bulletin Co.,
NORWICH, CONN.

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.
Established [illegible].
NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.
Established [illegible].

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 12 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 2 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application to the business office. No cuts or electrotypes inserted in either paper.

To guard against mistakes, advertisements should be sent in manuscript. We cannot be responsible for errors that occur in messages received by telephone.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their own immediate business, and their contracts do not include Wants, To Let, For Sale, etc.

All news letters should be addressed to THE MORNING BULLETIN; all business communications to THE BULLETIN COMPANY.

Money orders and checks should be made payable to THE BULLETIN CO.

All communications must be signed. Anonymous letters or news items will not be read, but thrown into the waste basket.

No manuscript preserved or returned, unless stamps are enclosed fully to prepay postage.

Entered at the post office at Norwich, Conn., as second class mail matter.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Monday, September 4, 1893

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

LABOR DAY.

In this legal holiday labor is honored. Although the title of the day has been made a target by many papers because it is a rest day, and seems to be the opposite of what it is entitled, the name expresses the fact that it is a day set apart in honor of labor. There is no country on the face of the earth where labor has been made so honorable and laboring classes given such opportunities for advancement as in this; and the intelligence and organization, the comfort and prosperity of the laboring classes here has improved the condition of labor in other lands. It is a day on which the workingmen receive national recognition and by united celebrations set their standard high; and that says to the workingmen of all countries, "Here is a great and prosperous country where labor is respected and honored, where men are free and the people advance from the lowest to the highest positions in life, disputing the claims of the divine right of kings to rule and the special creation of certain classes to shape the policy of governments." Next to the flag this day symbolizes and emphasizes the American idea of "a government of the people by the people for the people." It is a day that deserves to be perpetuated. The people should enter into the spirit of it, because it is the day that is set apart in their honor, and honors the nation of which they are the moving spirit, the makers and the defenders.

FUTURE EXPOSITIONS.

Following the close of the Columbian exposition in Chicago there are to be two great fairs held, one in California and one in New York. In the Golden Gate Park at San Francisco ground has been broken for the erection of exposition buildings for which half a million dollars has already been subscribed; and the projectors are in hopes that many of the fine exhibits at Chicago will be transferred to that city for exhibition. The "World's Fair Prize Winner's Exposition," which is to be held in February and March in Grand Central Palace, New York, has been for some time announced. Already the main floor has been taken by exhibitors from Great Britain, Germany, France, Austria, Belgium, Italy, Russia and Spain, now in Chicago.

The Spanish government opens in April next at Madrid the "Universal Exposition," in the Palace of Industry, and the managers will receive exhibits from all parts of the earth. In May, 1894, at Antwerp, Holland, another exposition will be opened under the patronage of the king, and the main building will cover 190,000 square feet of ground and be built of iron and steel and roofed with zinc. Exhibitions are also to be held at Berne, Switzerland, at Rome and at Lyons, France. At Milan a great international electrical exhibition will be opened. Puerto Rico, in November, 1894, will celebrate with a fair the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the island; and Hobart, on the Island of Tasmania, is booked for a great exhibition during the summers of 1894-95. Next year promises to be one of the greatest exposition years in the history of the world.

CHANGES IN WASHINGTON.

Under pressure of public sentiment and the stirring influence of two west Indian hurricanes the atmosphere in Washington has changed; and changed for the better That is shown by two occurrences, one the positive conviction of Gen. Hawley that the senate will repeal the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman silver bill, and the other Commissioner Lochren's inglorious retreat from an arbitrary and unjust ruling against the pensioners of this country.

This positive and hopeful assurance of Senator Hawley shows that he has assuring evidences today which he did not have a few weeks ago, when his sentiments on the subject were less hopeful and confident. Senator Platt cherishes the belief that the vote upon the silver question will be reached in the senate much sooner than the silver men look for it, and he avers that the honest money senators have no speeches to make, but are ready to act at the first opportunity.

The reversal of the pension office rule which has declared pensioners guilty of being impostors, and then challenged them to prove their innocence, after more than seven thousand have suffered by it, is an acknowledgment of wrong-doing, which was not to have been expected from the democratic party.

A CONTINUOUS SESSION.

Senator Platt does not take a very cheerful view of effect of the action of congress upon the manufacturing interests of the country. He believes the revision of the tariff will be taken up as soon as the financial issues have been disposed of, and he does not regard the work of a free-trade and partisan ways and means committee as at all likely to help the industrial sections of the country. He fears that the opposition of the administration to the protective tariff will prove to be as rank and noxious a blossom as the Chicago platform pledges the party to foster, and he fears that future legislation promises more instead of less distress to the business of the country.

The workingman is told that with free trade and lower wages, as soon as an "equilibrium" is established, he will be better off than ever. Most of them will start with their savings exhausted and many in debt, and it is not at all likely that they will approve of this democratic change which takes them from the republican plane of prosperity and starts them from the English plane of labor—with no savings and an appetite that needs satisfying.

It is to be hoped that there are enough democrats in congress who recognize the advantages of protection, to join the republicans and rout the free trade crew who are at the helm of the ship of state determined to carry out a destructive policy.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Governor Tillman of South Carolina is in favor of state beer and state bank bills.

Six hundred years of poverty is the record the English working classes have made.

The Grand Old Man has sent the Irish home rule bill booming for the house of lords, and the opposition are inquiring: "Where are we at!"

France has just launched a new torpedo boat that is the largest and spryest of this class of war vessels. She will make twenty-six knots, which is equivalent to thirty miles on land.

Just as the veterans are assembling at Indianapolis, two hundred and fifty thousand strong, Hoke Smith and General Lochren came down. They have left their party up a tree!

A free-trade difference in prices: The Saturday before Cleveland was nominated for the presidency wool sold for 24 cents a pound—the next Saturday it sold for 16 cents, a shrinkage of 33 1-3 per cent.

The whaleback steamer Christopher Columbus has made twenty-three miles an hour for four hours and a quarter, covering ninety-seven miles and breaking steamboat records on the lakes for speed.

Under the fostering care of republican protection the silk industry has more than doubled in the last decade, and silk was never cheaper. Until the free traders came to the front these American industries promised soon to supply all the silk used in this country.

"Several exchanges," says the Ansonia Sentinel, "tell how to learn to eat pie. It is a funny way to spell pie, but most people learn to eat it naturally, though we have seen Waterburians eat pie with a knife." At some places in Eastern Connecticut, when the ground is covered with apples and new apple pie is at its height, certain persons eat it in crescent style. They begin to eat on the nigh edge, as though it were illegal to cut a pie, and eat right in till the points of the crescent touch their ears. These "Turks" always finish the pie by chewing up the crescent. This astronomical style of eating a pie came into fashion before knives and forks were invented.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

STATE EDITORS' OPINIONS.

The New Peddlers' License.

The new peddlers' license bill is causing considerable dissatisfaction. Like many other bills hastily passed, it is ambiguous in its meaning and vague in its phraseology. The discussions in regard to it are many and the different interpretations put upon it by town officials only increase the confusion it creates.—[New Britain Herald.

A Problem for the Boys.

Seven peaches stolen by two railroad men secured them a sentence of thirty days in jail by a New London magistrate. Now here is a mathematical problem for certain Ansonia boys: If stealing seven peaches means thirty days in jail what does stealing half a bushel from an orchard mean, if the boys are caught at it? —[Ansonia Sentinel.

From Pulpit to Playwright.

The Rev. Henry A. Adams is a versatile gentleman. First he was an Episcopal clergyman, then he joined the Catholic church, and now he has written a play which is to be produced by Richard Mansfield. Queer phase of the times, when preachers write plays and actors occupy pulpits.—[New London Day.

Taking Time by the Forelock.

The democrats in congress are taking time by the forelock in an attempt to repeal all federal election laws. The measure was taken up in committee of the senate unexpectedly and even designedly when the republican senators were busy elsewhere, having been led to suppose that the committee meeting was for another purpose. Senator Hill is evidently trying to make capital out of the proceeding in the south, where his party is "solid" against election laws.—[Waterbury Republican.

Sharp Practice.

The silver men in the house, in the absence of many anti-silver men Thursday, secured the adoption of an amendment to the new rules giving the banking and currency committee and the committee on coinage the privilege, now enjoyed exclusively by the ways and means and appropriations committee, of bringing in a bill at any time and calling for its consideration. The importance of the amendment consists in the fact that the coinage committee now stands 9 to 8 for free coinage. This sharp practice is not likely to enure to the practical benefit of the silver mongers; yet it points afresh to the familiar moral as to the perils of absenteeism.—[Hartford Telegram.

Fifteen Days Grace.

Fifteen days are to be given to hearings on the tariff revision bill, in which time the great industries of the country which are alarmed by the threat of tariff tinkering and have slowed down or entirely stopped the wheels of their factories and mills, may be heard as to how far they can stand a reduction towards a free-trade basis. The time is short, for the committee promises to report the bill to the house by the twentieth of the present month, and it must be thought out and digested by that time. It looks very much as if some one had made up a bill which is in all essentials ready for action and the scheme of an "alleged hearing" was the thin veil behind which it is to be worked. They must appear to cite in the industries affected whether they change their predetermined plan of action or not.—[Bridgeport Standard.

Heap Coals of Fire.

An exchange says:

C. Collard Adams has been notified by the pension department at Washington that his pension of $12 a month has been cut off, pending an investigation. Mr. Adams, who claims to be a democrat, is highly indignant at what he terms an outrage and will write a letter to President Cleveland. He claims that he is in impaired health, unable to do any work and is entitled to a pension.

It will be remembered that Mr. Adams contributed some lively campaign matter to the papers of the state during the recent congressional campaign in this district, making some sharp attacks upon James P. Pigott. The latter is now in a place where he can heap coals of fire on the head of his old enemy by aiding him to retain his pension. Some people are saying that Congressman Pigott has paid off Mr. Adams by getting that gentleman's name stricken from the pension rolls, but there is probably no truth in the statement.—[New Haven Leader

NEW BOOKS.

A SCHOOL HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES: By Wm. Swinton. The American Book Co., New York.

A new and handsome edition of a book which for twenty years has met the approval of teachers in all sections of the country. In their work of revision and readjustment the editors have added a timely and valuable introductory chapter on Prehistoric America, and a chapter giving some account of the settlement and growth of the three great colonial centers—Boston, New York and Philadelphia. Copious notes and handsome cuts, maps and portraits add to the utility and appearance of the work. For sale by Cranston & Co.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

IN SPLENDID CONDITION.

The Bright Outlook of the Connecticut Odd Fellows' Fairview Home.

The monthly statement of the treasurer of the Odd Fellows' home shows that the donations to the home made to date amount to nearly $22,000, of which there now remains in the treasury, clear of all present demands, over $6,000. From this showing the management is confident that they will have the $50,000 endowment fund in from six months to a year less than the time expected.

A meeting of the board of management will be called at the home the second week in September to provide means for heating the building, either by hot water or steam.

In farm produce the year has been a profitable one, as they have raised enough vegetables to carry them through the year. There is enough hay and bedding in the barn now to keep six head of cattle well fed for the next twelve months, and enough has been sold to pay for housing the hay and straw.

All of which the interested Odd Fellows will read with much gratification. There is no fear but that this splendid charity will be well cared for by its present board of managers.

With Ely's Cream Balm a child can be treated without pain and with perfect safety. It cures catarrh, hay fever and colds in the head. It is easily applied into the nostrils and gives immediate relief. Price 50 cents.

My catarrh was very bad. For thirty years I have been troubled with it—have tried a number of remedies without relief. A druggist advised Ely's Cream Balm. I have used only one bottle and I can say I feel like a new man. I make this voluntary statement that others may know of the Balm.—[J. W. Mathewson, (Lawyer) Pawtucket, R. I.

Those persons who do not need Iron, but who are troubled with Nervousness and Dyspepsia, will find in Carter's Little Nerve Pills a most desirable article. They are mostly used in combination with Carter's Little Liver Pills, and in this way often exert a most magical effect. Take just one pill of each kind immediately after eating and you will be free from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. In vials at 25 cents. Try them.

The Best in the World.

Senator Henry C. Nelson, of New York, writes:

"On the 5th of February, 1892, I was taken with a violent pain in the region of the kidneys. I suffered such agony that I could hardly stand up. As soon as possible I applied two ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS, one over each kidney, and laid down. In an hour, to my surprise and delight, the pain had vanished and I was well. I wore the plasters for a day or two as a precaution, and then removed them. I have been using ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS in my family for the last ten years, and have always found them the quickest and best remedy for colds, strains and rheumatic affections. From my experience I believe they are the best plasters in the world."

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth, send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums and reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP."

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous you wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

Surrounded by Mystery!

A GREAT MISTAKE.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nervine is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

Restorative Nervine positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

For sale by N. D. Sevin & Son and Lee & Osgood. maylddaw W F&w

REID & HUGHES.

THE BOSTON STORE

Upholstery Department.

We open today a magnificent assortment of fine quality

Smyrna Rugs!

at LOW PRICES.

The designs are new and the colorings most effective. The sizes are 18, 21, 26, 30 and 36 inches.

Reid & Hughes.
sept1daw

Alonzo H. Converse.
PAINTER.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
Wall Tinting in all its branches.
143 Little Water St.
mar1d Graining done for the trade.

INTERIOR and EXTERIOR Decorative House Painting.
D. S. UNDERWOOD,
ly26 Residence 125 Franklin St.

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY.
Goods called for and delivered free of charge
Lace Curtains and all Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.
145 Little Water St.
Family Washing at special rates. nov1d

I HAVE AN ODORLESS PUMP
and Barrel apparatus for cleaning Vaults and Cesspools. Orders sent to my address will be promptly attended to. CHAS. WOOD, Box 311 Norwich, Conn. mar1d

DROP ME A POSTAL
and I will call on you with a fine line of Photos and Designs of
MONUMENTAL & CEMETERY WORK
and samples of Granite and Marble of various kinds of colors.
LEVI W. CROUCH, Norwich, Conn.
may5ddaw

ESTABLISHED IN 1861.
Adam's Tavern,
NORWICH TOWN,
A. A. ADAM, Proprietor.
The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 10 years ago. They have become intensely popular. They sell on their own merits:
Imperial Bourbon, Zeb Ward, 1882, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1880, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.
N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers.
A. A. ADAM.
Telephone call 31-12. feb1d

DRUGS, PAINTS AND OILS.

No Notice Required.

Duggan's Soda Fountain
is prepared to stand all runs upon it by depositors of 5 cents and upwards. Its draughts are pronounced by all as good as gold.

DUGGAN'S SODA FOUNTAIN,
aug1d 36 MAIN ST.

LEE & OSGOOD,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
DRUGGISTS,
129–133 Main St. and 160–164 Water St.
ESTABLISHED : 1788.
–SOLE PROPRIETORS OF–
DR. DODD'S
Nervine and Invigorator,
A NERVE TONIC
AND
STOMACHIC.
Dodd's Nervine aids digestion, insures good appetite, gives tone and vigor to the system, guarantees sweet and refreshing sleep and restores enfeebled and nervous constitutions to PERFECT HEALTH.
WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF
Atomizers and Perfumes
COLGATE'S EXTRACTS IN BULK.
TOILET ARTICLES
IN GREAT VARIETY
We make a Specialty of
Tooth Brushes.
Large Invoice Just Received.
25 AND 35 CENTS.
LEE & OSGOOD
NORWICH, CONN.
dec1daw

LUMBER AND COAL.

E. CHAPPELL & CO.
COAL,
LUMBER,
SHINGLES.
Greatest Variety. Largest Stock.
Branch Office, 207 Main St. Franklin Square. Office and Yard, Central Wharf.
Telephone at both offices. mar1ddaw

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRY
H. F. & A. J. DAWLEY
IF YOU WANT GOOD
BUILDING LUMBER & SHINGLES.
They have the largest stock in the city and will make you low prices.
Telephone 29—4. may1d

51 John A. Morgan & Son, 51
Coal & Lumber,
51 West Main St., Central Wharf.
Family Coal a Specialty.
Estimates furnished at short notice. Telephone.
51 jan1d 51

FINE ARTS.

REMOVED.
McNickle, Picture Frame and Gilding Manuf.,
Has Removed to 48 BROADWAY. You will always find a Complete Line of Artist Proof Etching, Engravings, Prang's Studies and fac simile Water Colors. oct1d

DURGAN'S PHOTOGRAPHIC ART STUDIO is the finest and best equipped in Norwich, centrally located, opposite the Wauregan House. Everything that taste, skill and experience can do has been done to facilitate the carrying on of the business in a high-class manner, and all customers patronizing my establishment will be sure of first-class work.
Photos made in every style, and all work satisfactorily finished. Special attention given to large work, such as Crayons, India Ink and Water Colors, or Solar Photos. Copying in all its branches. A large variety of Picture Frames always on hand. J. G. DURGAN.
feb1dMW Faw

REMOVED—Laighton Brothers
Have removed their photograph gallery from the Chelsea Bank Building to No. 86 Shetucket St., in the building with the Henry Bill Publishing Co., where all old patrons will be welcomed and new ones be heartily greeted. Their new rooms are neatly furnished, their facilities for doing first-class work have been much improved. New backgrounds have been put in, and the light for producing photographs has been arranged according to the best methods known to the business. All work promptly attended to.
mar1d LAIGHTON BROTHERS.

S. S. THRESHER,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Notary Public.
mar1d Nos. 5 and 6 Broad Hall, Norwich

REAL ESTATE.

TO LET.
Pleasant tenement, centrally located; five good rooms; city water; rent, $11; prompt pay. Apply L. H. HATTEN, 27 Washington street. sept2d

TO RENT.
Tenement of 8 Rooms. Hot and cold water. Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. 27 West Main street. Rent reasonable.
aug9d E. E. ROBBINS, 67 Cliff St.

TO RENT.
ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Room suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug5d

TO RENT.
A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS,
each with all the modern improvements, on Boswell Ave., of ten rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 3 Water St. may1d

TO RENT.
Tenement 112 River Avenue.
apr1d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.
A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, 7 rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 20 Grove street, or inquire of E. H. BREWSTER, 44 Water Street. apr1d

TO RENT.
The Large Store with fine Cellar
in the Rockwell Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Service & Gleason. Apply to sep1d GEORGE D. COIT.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.
A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.
Horseshoeing in all its Branches.
—11—13—15 Chestnut Street.—
jy13daw

FOR SALE.
Owner going abroad desires to sell immediately at low figures
2 ELEGANT HIGH-BRED SADDLE HORSES,
Extra Style, Perfect Action, Very Handsome, Fearless, Safe and Sound. Can be ridden by a lady; also can be driven. One is a Kentucky Thoroughbred, the other an English Hunter.
aug30d BOX 143, Springfield, Mass.

TO MANUFACTURERS!
A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines cheapness and efficiency. WEEKS' ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest pipe and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn. Inventor and Manufacturer. nov1dd

SUMMER TRAVEL.

STEAMER GYPSY.
CHANGE OF TIME.
On and after FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, until further notice, this steamer will leave here on her morning trip at 6.30, or on arrival of 6.30 electric cars, and on her afternoon trip at 1.30, a half hour earlier than heretofore. This change will give patrons the usual time at the beach and enable them to reach home at 6.30 instead of 7 p. m.
Hereafter when the Gypsy cannot land at beach with safety, our tickets will be furnished to patrons for that point free to and from New London by the agent on board.
aug30d PALMER SMITH.

New London Steamboat Co.
1893—SEASON—1893.
COMMENCING
SATURDAY, July 1st,
—THE—
STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND
Will make daily trips (Sundays excepted) between Norwich, Montville, New London, Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island. Leaving Norwich 8.15 a. m., Montville 8.45, New London 9.45, touching at Mystic Island and Watch Hill, arriving at Block Island 12.45 p. m.
Returning, leave Block Island at 3 p. m., Watch Hill 3.30, touching at Mystic Island, reaching New London at 5, Montville 5.30, and Norwich 6.15.
D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, G. P. A.
jy1d

Steamer Ella.
SEASON OF 1893.
—On—
Friday, June 23
And during the season the Steamer Ella will make daily excursions to the shore resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.45, Ft. Griswold House 9.50, Mystic Island 10.30, arriving at Watch Hill about 11.15.
Returning, leave Watch Hill at 3.30 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 4.30, arriving about 6.
Special Rates to Excursion Parties.
Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.
Comstock's Wharf on signal.
JAMES WALKER, Manager, Norwich Ct.
je21d

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION
Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices.
Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.
No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.
jan1daw 69 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD.
DENTIST.
Over Boston Store, opp. Wauregan House,
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. nov1d

DR. J. H. ELDRED,
DENTIST.
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, (Ether or) Cocaine administered.
OFFICE—214 Main Street,
Trumann's Block Franklin Square. Residence 39 BROADWAY. apr1d

WE CALL YOUR ATTENTION
To our fine line of Imported Sherries, Ports, Brandies, Cordials and Clarets. Also the Ashland, Walnut Hill, Cabinet, Scotch and Irish Whiskey, and the Old Tom, Royal Schiedam and Yacht Club Gins.
COATES & SHERIDAN, 45 West Main St., Dealers in the highest standards of foreign and domestic Wines and Liquors.
apr1dMWF

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES
—OF—
DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.
As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles C. Bliss, 126 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, his entire stock of goods,
CONSISTING OF
Diamond Jewelry.
Gold and Silver Watches,
Sterling Silver Ware,
Gold Chains.
Brooches,
Rings,
French Black Marble Clocks,
French Onyx Clocks,
American Clocks,
Silver Plated Ware,
Pocket Books,
Fancy Goods,
Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.
je26d JOHN BLISS, Administrator.

BOOK BINDERS.

BLANK BOOKS Made to Order. Paper ruled to any pattern. Numbers 1 to [illegible]
Issued from 1 to 1,000,000.
MAGAZINES BOUND
in any style of binding. Old books repaired. Back Nos. furnished to complete volumes by JOSEPH BRADFORD Practical Bookbinder.
Bulletin Building, up stairs.
may1ddaw Norwich, Ct.

COWAN, the Bookbinder
will after this date be found on the ground floor,
108 Broadway.
mar1d

TRAVELERS DIRECTORY.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD
NEW LONDON DIVISION.
Change of time.
On and after MONDAY, June [illegible]
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE New LONDON AS FOLLOWS:
5.35 a. m., Norwich at 6.[illegible] a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Palmer, Springfield, Ware, Gilbertville, Brattleboro, St. Johnsbury, Burlington, Montreal, Ogdensburg and intermediate stations.
8.40 a. m., Norwich 9.15 for Brattleboro connecting at Willimantic for Boston, Hartford, Colchester, Middletown, New Haven, New York; at Palmer with Boston and Albany R. R. for Springfield, Pittsfield, Albany, and for points west also for Ware and Gilbertville, and at Brattleboro, [illegible] Express, for St. Albans, Montreal, and principal intermediate points. Also to points west via Grand Trunk R. R.
10.45 a. m., Norwich [illegible] a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Waterbury, Middletown, Colchester, etc.
11.[illegible] a. m., connecting from Providence, Boston, and intermediate stations.
1.[illegible] p. m., connecting with express from Boston, Providence, New York and New Haven, at Norwich with Norwich & Worcester Railroad.
R. R.
2.[illegible] p. m., Norwich [illegible] p. m., connecting at Willimantic for Hartford, and at Palmer for Springfield, Albany and the west.
5.00 p. m., Norwich 5.[illegible], for Brattleboro, connecting with train leaving New York at [illegible] and with N. Y., P. & B. R. R. from Providence and way stations, also Steamer for Block Island from Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island, and connects at Willimantic for Hartford and [illegible] Putnam, Boston and Providence, also for Colchester, Middletown, New Haven and New York, and at Palmer with Boston & Albany R. R. for Springfield, Albany and the west and at Brattleboro with the express for St. Albans, Montreal and Quebec, reaching Montreal and principal points in Vermont the same evening.
[illegible] p. m. for Norwich. This train connects with [illegible] p. m. express from New York.
8.15 a. m. (Sundays only) connecting with express train from New York and Boston.
GOING SOUTH.
Passenger trains LEAVE NORWICH as follows:
6.1[illegible] a. m., connecting for Stonington, Providence, New Haven and New York.
9.1[illegible] a. m., for New London, Stonington and Providence and Boston, New Haven and New York, connecting with steamer for Block Island for Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island.
10.[illegible] a. m. for New London, New Haven, New York, Providence and Boston.
12.[illegible] p. m. for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.
[illegible] p. m. for New London, New Haven and New York.
[illegible] p. m., for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.
[illegible] p. m., for New London, connecting with Shore Line express reaching New York [illegible] p. m., with express train for Providence and Boston, and accommodation train for Westerly and intermediate stations.
[illegible] p. m., for New London and for New York, by boat from New London.
[illegible] p. m., for New London and for New York via boat from New London.
7.00 p. m. (Sundays only) connecting with express train for New York and Boston.
D. MACKENZIE, Supt.

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.
NORWICH & WORCESTER DIVISION.
For Boston, Worcester, Providence, [illegible] Waterbury, Newburgh.
Commencing MONDAY, June [illegible]
"Eastern" Time Standard.
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NORWICH UNION STATION.
6.10 a. m. (Mondays excepted.) Steamboat express. Connects at Putnam for Boston; arrive Boston [illegible] a. m. At Worcester for all points north, Portland, [illegible]
[illegible] a. m. Way Passenger Train. Connecting at Plainfield Junction for Providence, arrive Providence [illegible] a. m.; at Putnam for Boston arriving at [illegible] a. m.; [illegible] for Willimantic and Hartford, arriving Hartford 10.1[illegible] a. m. At Worcester for Boston, Springfield and intermediate stations, Albany and the west.
[illegible] a. m. connecting at Putnam for Boston (arrive at 1.1[illegible] p. m.) [illegible] Plainfield for Providence (arrive at 12.[illegible] p. m.) [illegible] connect with roads north, east and west. At Webster with train for Southbridge.
2.[illegible] p. m. Way Passenger, connects at Putnam for Hartford and Boston, arrive Boston [illegible] p. m. At Webster for Southbridge. At Worcester with Boston & Albany Railroad, B. & M. R. R., and Fitchburg R. R.
[illegible] p. m., for Plainfield, Providence and intermediate stations, through car, arrive at Providence [illegible] p. m.
6.15 p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Plainfield for Providence and from Providence a train leaves Providence at [illegible] p. m. connects at Plainfield with train for Putnam, arriving at Putnam [illegible] (Leave Plainfield at [illegible])
TRAINS GOING SOUTH LEAVE NORWICH CENTRE
[illegible] a. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster for Southbridge, at Putnam with train for Hartford, Waterbury and intermediate points and New York, at Plainfield for Providence.
[illegible] a. m. connects with trains from B. & A. R. R., F. R. R. and Boston and Albany R. R. at Webster for Southbridge. At Putnam with train to and from Boston. (Take this train for Hartford, New York, Waterbury, Fishkill on Hudson and Plainfield from Providence.)
12.[illegible] p. m., Way Passenger. Connects at Webster with train from Southbridge, at Putnam with 12 o'clock express from Boston for Willimantic, Hartford and New York. At Norwich for New London.
[illegible] p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Webster for Southbridge; at Putnam for Willimantic and Hartford, and with [illegible] p. m. express train from Boston.
[illegible] p. m. Steamboat Express for New York (via New London.) (Sundays excepted.) Connects with trains from B. & M. R. R. and Fitchburg R. R. This train leaves Norwich for New London at [illegible] p. m.
[illegible] p. m. Plainfield and Norwich, connecting at Plainfield with [illegible] p. m. train from Providence; arrive Norwich [illegible] through car.
W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass. Agt.
F. R. DEWEY, Supt.
Norwich, June 12 1891.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your [illegible] is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results

FINANCIAL.

MONROE MILLER & CO.,
Bankers and Brokers,
16 and 18 Broad St., New York City,
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.
DOMESTIC and FOREIGN BANKERS
Securities bought and sold for cash or on margin. Deposits received subject to Sight Draft. Interest allowed on deposits, Foreign Exchange, Commercial Credits, Cable Transfers. Circular letters for travelers available in all parts of the world. jy28mwy

The Co-operative Building Bank
—HAS OVER—
$120,000.00
Maturity Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A larger showing than all others together. IT IS THE BEST. C. J. WOLCOTT, Pres. 112 Franklin St.

LIVERY TABLE.

EDMUND GEE,
Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.
Good Teams at Reasonable Prices.
363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge. jeöd

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable
Horses and teams to let, also a four-seated wagon and 'bus, convenient for parties and picnics, at reasonable prices. Horse clipping done by Cooper Improved Power Machine.
A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

Livery Stables.
Orders for Coaches, Landaus, Landaulets and Coupes promptly attended to.
O H REYNOLDS,
TELEPHONE CONNECTION

ATTORNEYS

Charles B. Carpenter,
PENSION ATTORNEY
Office with A. Irving Royce, over Thames National Bank. Special attention given to the execution of vouchers for quarterly payments. Advice free. No fee unless claim is granted.

ARCHITECTS

C. H. PRESTON,
Architect, - - - - Central Building
Telephone 184—4, Norwich, Conn.
Specialist on modern construction and strength of materials. mar6d

JAMES A. HISCOX,
ARCHITECT
Main Street. Rooms 7 and 8

MISCELLANEOUS

Lawn Mowers Sharpened.
Bicycles Repaired.
CARRIAGE AND BOAT TRIMMINGS NICKEL PLATED by
A. GOULD,
Industrial Building, near Union Station. apr26d

HORSES
TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES
at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St. by the new veterinary, DR. E. L. TOWER, graduate from Ontario Veterinary College. mar6

J. H. GARDNER, JR., D. V. S.
VETERINARIAN,
Office—Chapman's Stables, 16 Bath Street. Telephone 129-12.

CAUTION.
There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. We have no agents in Norwich.
C. E. TRAFTON, Mgr.
REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO.
Office 39 Shetucket St., Norwich Ct.

Removal.
BRECKENRIDGE BROS.
[illegible] shop to CORNER WILLIAMS [illegible] STS. and are prepared [illegible] all kinds of wood-work

Rapidly Taking the Lead.
Convenient for Guests,
Indispensable to Clerks,
Profitable to Proprietors,
Indorsed by All Hotel Men.
Where we have the benefit of advertising to reimburse us for our loss, we will furnish to HOTEL KEEPERS ONLY
THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE HOTEL REGISTER
AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.
Books Registering
Arrivals, Canvas Cover.........$1.
" Tight Back.........2 00
" Tight " 2 15
" Spring " 2 40
" Spring " 2 5
Size of page, 8 x 11.
These are the cheapest and best registers on the market.
Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and a reasonable profit, as they cannot [illegible] such favorable rates as we give our home trade.
Remember, it is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.
Correspondence or Interviews Solicited.
INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,
Manufacturers of Plain and Advertising Registers, Transfer Registers, Letter Forwarding, Cash and Call Books of every description.
Norwich, - - Conn.

MENACE TO HEALTH.

Many Victims of the Storm Lying Unburied.

NUMBER OF PERISHED UNKNOWN.

Believed to Be Upwards of Fifteen Hundred.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A special to The World from Savannah, says: S. Friedling, a reputable citizen, returned from Beaufort last night on a special tug, having left there Friday morning. Mr. Friedling says that at least 500 persons were drowned in that vicinity, and that, when all reports are in, upward of 1500 will be found to have perished. Up to Friday, the coroner had held an inquest on 200 bodies, 37 of which were buried in one pit and 50 in another. It is impossible to procure coffins.

Captain R. D. Elliott's place on Cane island suffered severely from the storm. As it grew worse, Captain Elliott brought his family out of the house and fastened them to trees with life lines. I. T. Densler lost his building and contents on Paris island, and he and his wife spent Four Hours on the Top of a Tree.

The aggregate loss at Beaufort will exceed $500,000. The phosphate industry near Beaufort has been ruined, and the crops on the Sea Islands are a complete loss. Unless immediate relief comes the suffering will be indescribable.

An attempt at identification of bodies has been abandoned. All that is desired now is to get them out of the way as quickly as possible to prevent epidemics resulting from their rapid decomposition.

No accurate record is kept of the number dead, and the statistics of the disaster will never be fully known. On each island and on the mainland the survivors are burying the remains of the victims that can be found. Coroners' certificates are out of the question. Searching parties make their way around the plantations and homes, and as soon as a body is found it Is Put Under the Ground.

Whenever whites are with these parties, some sort of record is kept but the greater number of burials are made by negroes.

The black belt on the coast has lost not less than 1000 of its negro population with a probability that it is twice that number. It will be a week before all the dead are found, as there is still much water on the islands, beneath which there are undoubtedly many bodies. The sea, too, is slowly casting up its dead.

The sufferings of the negroes, who constitute 99 per cent of the unfortunates, are almost indescribable, and several days must yet pass before their necessities can be relieved.

The Menace to Health from the decomposition of human and other bodies, scattered all over the islands, makes the situation worse.

Not a vestige is left of houses and farm buildings, all having floated away. Whole settlements were swept away; families are all gone. All boats and flats and means of getting from point to point are gone, and, except when an occasional foot traveler comes into town, there is no getting any authentic or minute description of what happened in remote places.

CHOLERA RIOT.

People Resist Removal of a Corpse. Vienna Free From Scourge.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times telegraphs that all the patients in the cholera hospital have been cured. No deaths have occurred since Tuesday.

Reports from Galicia are unfavorable. Fifteen districts are infected. At Obecse, in Hungary, there was a cholera riot yesterday, the people resisting the removal of a corpse of a patient who had died of cholera. During the riot a peasant was shot by a gendarme.

Floquet Stoned by a Mob.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Standard's Paris correspondent says that M. Floquet on leaving a stormy political meeting in the Rue Angouleme Friday, was stoned by a mob of 6000 persons. Two revolver shots were fired into his carriage, but he escaped without injury. Many persons were hurt in the struggle.

Rubber Goods Robbery.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—C. J. Bailey & Co. of this city discovered Saturday morning that their store had been robbed in a clever manner of Mackintoshes of the value of $800 or more. The thieves got in over the transom, took the goods from the boxes and replaced the latter in their places.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Burglars entered the postoffice at Dracut, Mass.

A case of Asiatic cholera is reported in Jersey City.

Plimmer is willing to fight Dixon for $10,000 a side.

Kingston and Santa Anna run a dead heat at Sheepshead.

The business part of De Pauw, Ind., was destroyed by fire.

London purchasers wish to get $1,000,000 of city of Boston bonds.

The damage to New Haven oyster beds is estimated at $2,000,000.

A towerman is held responsible for the Long Island collision last week.

There was a decline in the general treasury balance of $10,000,000 in August.

The home rule bill was passed by the house of commons by a majority of 34.

A new road and bridge are to be built between Bourne and Falmouth, Mass.

The loss of the New Haven lumber schooner Harold G. Beecher, is reported.

The national bank note circulation has gained over $22,000,000 in two months.

Louisville, St. Louis and Texas road employés will not strike against a reduction.

Joseph Rheinstrum was arrested in New York for passing worthless checks at the Tremont House, Boston.

House repealers are mapping out their plan of action on the Voorhees bill when it comes from the senate.

The Lynn (Mass.) Cycle company has assigned to F. A. Very of the A. G. Very Cycle Manufacturing company of Boston.

Prince Bismarck's rheumatism is still so acute that he is unable to leave Kissengen. He takes only one short walk daily.

The Boston and Maine Railroad company has made eight hours a day's work in all its shops, except those at Salem and Lawrence.

[illegible]

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"
"I'm going in bathing, sir," she said.
"Can I go with you, my pretty maid?"
"The water's too salt for you," she said.
—Truth.

Great Excitement.

Clara—I fell off my bicycle yesterday in front of a club window.

Maude—Was anything broken?

Clara—The window was.—Life.

Too, Indeed.

How pleasant it is when dog days come,
And the cares of business vex,
To go to the beach for a day with a chum—
Ahem!—of the other sex.
[illegible]

TILLMAN TALKS.

Denounces the Country's Financiers as Robbers of the People.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 3.—The State publishes an interview with Governor Tillman on the money question, in which he says:

"The condition of things only shows the viciousness of the financial policy adopted by the Republicans and now being perpetuated by the Democrats. The currency of the country will have to be decentralized and put out of the control of a few hundred capitalists and bankers in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, with power to contract and expand the currency at will. The only way I see to accomplish it is by issuing fiat money, so called. They are now fighting to reduce the metallic currency one-half by making a gold standard. It is the most gigantic scheme of robbery ever attempted, and the people ought to rise in their might and put a stop to it, hanging some of the men who are causing it all if it is necessary.

"They destroy the debt-paying power of one-half the coin, for the benefit of the debt-holders, bondholders and capitalists, and then tell the bankrupt people who contracted these obligations under the bimetallic standard that this country is entitled to as good money as any other country. The panic crisis is serious, and I cannot foretell the future."

In conclusion, the governor, after a brief reflection, said: "They object to greenbacks as fiat money; they object to silver as a dishonest dollar; they demand gold to become the standard of the country, although it means 50 cent wheat and 6 cent cotton and the loss of the titles of their homes by millions of American farmers. I told the 'ring' in this state in 1888 that it was damming up the water when the demand for reform was refused in the state convention. I now make the prediction that a similar crisis is approaching in national affairs, and the floodgates of the people's wrath will be raised and the present conspirators against the people's liberty will be swept from the face of the earth in the next presidential election."

FEMALE ANARCHIST ARRESTED.

Emma Goldman In the Hands of the Police in Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Emma Goldman, the most notable female firebrand among the anarchists, and Oscar Timmermann, editor of the anarchist organ, are both behind the bars. One is in Philadelphia and the other in the tombs. They are in a fair way to undergo a little of the hard labor which was found so salutary in the case of Herr Most.

These two have been responsible for most of the seditious language which did so much to stir up the ignorant people of the east side. Both of them wanted to pose as martyrs, and Superintendent Byrnes obligingly gave them the opportunity. They are both foolish, blatant and unintelligent and sadly in need of prison soap and water.

Emma Goldman will not be brought to this city for some days yet, according to Superintendent Byrnes. The superintendent said to a reporter that Emma Goldman had been arrested in Philadelphia on warrants obtained at his orders and taken to Philadelphia by Detective Sergeants Jacobs and Kush, who followed Emma when she disappeared from here.

"It will be several days before we can bring the woman back to this city," said the superintendent. "She cannot enter any waiver, as stated, and the law must be complied with. We will have to have her indicted by the grand jury and bring her back on requisition papers in the regular way. This will take some time."

When asked about her movements after her disappearance from this city the superintendent said she had never been from under the eyes of his men. They had followed her to Newark, where she remained several days, and finally left for Philadelphia, where the detectives left the warrant, with orders to arrest her on her first public appearance.

The superintendent finished by saying she was one of the worst characters that the city had for years, not only morally and mentally, but crafty and dangerous. In addition Superintendent Byrnes said that every other person in the city guilty of the same offence as that of the Goldman woman would be gathered in.

MAY PROVE FATAL.

Alonzo Kennedy Shot In the Head at Salisbury Beach.

AMESBURY, Mass., Sept. 3.—A shooting affray took place at Salisbury beach late Friday evening, which may prove fatal to Alonzo Kennedy, a traveling photographer. Kennedy, with five companions, tried to gain entrance to the Atlantic House at a late hour.

The proprietor, Michael Kelley, had just retired when he heard several sharp raps at the front door. He got up and dressed, and found several drunken people at the door. They asked to be admitted to get a drink. Mr. Kelley refused their request and went to bed.

The rapping continued, and in a short time the men outside began to break windows and smash doors. Kelly again arose and ordered them away, threatening to shoot them. They paid no attention to what he said, and continued to smash things in general. Kelly then fired two shots from a breechloader at the intruders.

Some of the shot lodged in Kennedy's head and he bled in a horrible manner. He was taken to his boarding house, where he was found to be in a weak condition from loss of blood. The other five men escaped uninjured, but are known and will be arrested.

More Strikers Returned.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Ten thousand more miners in South Wales and Monmouthshire have gone back to the collieries, making some 70,000 men who struck for a 20 per cent advance in wages now at work again, with the old scale in operation. The number of men still out in South Wales and Monmouthshire is approximately 30,000. The total loss of wages during the strike has been £600,000.

Highwaymen Held for Grand Jury.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—The highway robbers, Lawrence S. Sullivan and Peter F. Carl, who were arrested Friday afternoon by Officer Ryan of division 3, for robbing George C. Hubbell on Paul street, appeared in the municipal criminal court Saturday forenoon before Chief Justice Parmenter. The men waived examination and were held each in $3000 for the Suffolk grand jury.

Accidentally Shot.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 3.—William J. Briggs, whose house is on Maple street, was accidentally shot by a young boy named Patrick Corcoran on Linden street at 11 o'clock Saturday. The boy was firing at a target, and the bullet struck Briggs in the throat as he was walking along the street. His condition is precarious.

The Rise Falls.

"Mr. Ardup," the landlady said,
"Till confidence is restored
I am sorry to say you will have to pay
In advance for your lodging and board."
—Chicago Tribune.

Careful.

Simpson—Is your watchman a careful man?

Robinson—Very. He eats mince pie every night before retiring.—Brooklyn Life.

OBJECTS TO BONDS.

Secretary Carlisle Will Not Issue Them.

APPROVES VOORHEES' BANK BILL.

Something Must be Done to Relieve the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The discouraging condition of the public finances and the continued falling off of revenue from customs, internal revenue and other sources, it is now expected will necessitate some special legislation within 30 or 40 days to relieve the treasury by raising additional revenue. Unless something is done there is liable to be a large deficiency in the treasury long before the expiration of the fiscal year.

There has been considerable discussion between Secretary Carlisle and the committee on ways and means on this subject. Secretary Carlisle has always maintained that as soon as the silver purchasing clause in the Sherman act was passed, the conditions would speedily change and the treasury would feel the effects. But if the silver advocates in the senate carry out their threats and protract the discussion until the holidays the treasury is likely to be in a very bad plight. Therefore much depends on the action of the senate as to whether the secretary will be compelled to call upon congress to Adopt Some Method of Relief.

The pressure on the secretary to sell bonds to replenish the gold reserve is still kept up, but he does not believe in this mode of relief, nor does he believe in issuing any more treasury notes, greenbacks, or other forms of paper circulation subject to redemption in gold. To this he says he never will consent. This is the chief reason for his opposition to the bond deposit bill of Representative Johnson.

The only measure which has been brought forward which meets the hearty approval of the secretary of the treasury is the Voorhees bill to allow the national banks to issue circulation up to the par value of their bonds. This measure would afford instant relief, but it is assured, the secretary says, in both houses by the silver advocates. It should have been passed, he thinks, without delay. Senator Voorhees, however, has been compelled to sidetrack it in order to Force the Fighting on the Repeal Bill.

In public debate the criticism is often made that the government conducts its business in a way that would bring ruin and disgrace upon any private enterprise. The late accident at Ford's old theater has been pointed to as an instance of this sort. Now members of congress have taken up a later case of neglect, and point to the great loss of life in the recent hurricane as partly the result of the niggardliness of congress in failing to make proper appropriations for the life-saving service. A great point of weakness of this admirable system is the short term of service of many of the crews. The term is fixed by treasury regulation. There are about seven men to each station, and of the total of 1841 comprising the service, only 102 remain on duty during the entire year. Of the others 331 work eight and one-half months, 1024 eight months, and 135 five months. With the exception of the insignificant handful who work the year round there are none of these men at work between the first of May and the first of September, while the records of the departments show that there have been almost as many wrecks during the period of intermission as

During the Stormy Period.

The department, it appears, still clings to the idea that September is the proper month to look for storms and crippled vessels, because in former years the annual storms began during the first week of September. Investigation and meteorological records have proven though that these storms now come upon us earlier, and are now due any time between Aug. 20 and Sept. 1, and each year the wind appears to blow harder and the entire Atlantic shore front is strewn with wrecks. The only legislation resulting in the improvement of the life saving service was the increase of salaries of the men, which was granted by the last congress, and which increased the appropriation annually for that purpose by about $130,000. The expense of this service has grown year by year as it has been extended, but the extension has been in the number of stations and not in the extension of the terms of service.

A number of senators are in receipt of letters from their constituents along the coast urging them to take some action that will still further improve the life-saving service, which, even as it is, is acknowledged to be the finest and most complete in the world. It is not unlikely that a bill with that end in view will soon be introduced in the senate by Senator Hunton of Virginia.

The recent storm also directs attention to an important bill introduced early this session by Mr. Frye, which appropriates $50,000 for the purpose of making experiments as to the best means of communicating between lighthouse stations and lightboats and the shore, so as to give warning of vessels in distress.

One Thousand a Low Estimate.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Herald's Beaufort, S. C., special says: More than 200 colored persons were drowned on St. Helen's island and 100 on Ladies' island. No reports have been received from the other islands, but 1000 lives lost is considered a low estimate for this county.

Short of Money.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Thousands of Poles have left the Warsaw district in the last two weeks with the intention of going to America. It is doubtful whether their money will enable them to get beyond England.

THE FISHERMAN.

One species of perch crawls from one stream to another over dry land and is known to climb trees.

The mullet can jump higher than any other fish. It sometimes leaps up from the water a distance of 15 feet.

The jellyfish lays thousands of tiny eggs which, being covered with natural oars in the shape of numerous hairs, row themselves into some quiet place and await development.

A female codfish will lay 45,000,000 eggs during a single season. Piscatorial authorities say that were it not for the work of the natural enemies of fish they would soon fill all the available space in the seas, rivers and oceans.

Fish balance themselves in water by the muscular contraction of the air bladders. At death the muscles relax and the air bladder expands, with the result that the fish is thrown on one side and rises to the surface.

Too Much Bent.

Raynor—The best thing to do with your boy, it seems to me, is to let him follow his natural bent.

Shyne—His natural bent! Great Scott he rides his bicycle three-fourths of the time already!—Chicago Tribune.

No Conference Yet.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—New York and New England railroad officials say that no committee of the employes has waited upon them with reference to the recent order of President McLeod, making a reduction of 10 per cent in wages, and that so far as they can learn no meetings of the men have been held and no committees appointed.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Dealings in Leading Securities In Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—In the outside market call money is quoted at 8 to 10 per cent, and time money is nominally 6 per cent.

There are signs of the breaking away of the heavy financial clouds that have hung over the market for so long. For a market that is recovering from a panic its general tone must be said to be exceedingly firm. The recovery of a market after a panic depends upon the cause. It was from a scare the reaction would be rapid; if from commercial collapse it is slow.

Every advance starts with professional trading. This has already given impetus to the bond market in which the buying has not been professional. The advance in prices has brought with it confidence. The almost daily announcement of the resumption of banks and corporations shows that the people are gradually regaining their lost strength.

The London market opened irregular and closed active, with considerably higher figures for American securities. The local market opened with the list at about 1 per cent better prices than the closing of last night. This was in no small measure due to the anticipation of the issuing of gold bearing bonds by the treasury, and a general better feeling seems to prevail, with the feeling that the government has some scheme on foot that will benefit the valuations of securities in general. The bond issue has been the wish of the banking interest of the country.

Sugar common opened up 1 point to 86, and then reacted to 85¾. The stock then took a spurt, and toward 11 o'clock it rose to 88¼. It then fell to 86. This stock was the feature of the close, having a rise to 87⅝, but sold down closing at 87. General Electric also was very strong and active, up 1 to 40 and sold strong around 40¼. There was a spurt toward noon which carried the price up to 41. At the close the price was unchanged. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy advanced from 80¼ to 81¼ at the first half hour, and rose steadily until it reached 82¼. Atchison climbed a little also and sold at 1¼ per cent better prices to 19⅞. This price was somewhat weaker at the close. New York and New England gained materially and sold at 28⅝, an increase of 2 per cent. The price fell off and closed at 28. Union Pacific came with a steady tone selling at 20¾, an increase of 1¼ per cent.

STOCKS—CLOSINGS.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	19⅞
Bell Telephone	185
Boston and Albany	200
Boston and Maine	144½
Bay State Gas	10
Calumet	280
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	82
Fitchburg	78½
Lamson Cash Railway	16¾
Erie Tel	40½
General Electric	40¼
Mexican Central	7¼
New England Tel	50
Old Colony	170
Pullman	150
Sugar preferred	85¼
West End Land	15¾
West End R. R.	56½
Wisconsin Central	[illegible]

New York Stocks.

Canada Southern	[illegible]
Chicago Gas	56¾
Cotton Oil	32¾
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western	137¾
Erie	15⅛
Lake Shore	118¼
Louisville and Nashville	56¾
Manhattan	117½
Michigan Central	95½
Missouri Pacific	25
National Cordage	20
New Jersey Central	108
Northwestern	99¾
Northern Pacific	6¾
New York Central	101½
New York and New England	28¾
Pacific Mail	15¾
Reading	18
Rock Island	64¼
St. Paul	61¼
Sugar, com	90½
Union Pacific	20¾
Western Union	82¼
Whisky	20

THE HISTORIAN.

The African king Prester John never had an existance.

There never was such a person as Pope Joan, the so called female pontiff.

Portia did not swallow the burning coals. The whole story was certainly an invention.

Francis I, after the battle of Pavia, did not say "All is lost save honor." The expression he used was entirely different.

The organ of the middle ages which, when moved into the sunshine, played tunes of itself was a play of the medieval fancy.

Seneca was not a half Christian philosopher, but a grasping money lender and usurer, who died worth over $15,000,000.

The pharaoh of the Exodus was not drowned in the Red sea. His mummy has been found, the skull split by a battleax.

Cæsar did not say "Et tu, Brute." Eyewitnesses to the assassination deposed that "he died fighting, but silent, like a wolf."

Alfred the Great did not visit the Danish camp disguised as a minstrel. There is no good reason to believe that he could either play the harp or speak Danish.

The luminous paintings said to have been common among the Japanese 300 years ago were luminous only in the imagination of the traveler who invented them.

Fair Rosamond was not poisoned by Queen Eleanor, but after a long residence as a nun in the convent of Gadstow died greatly esteemed by her associates.

Philip III of Spain was not roasted to death by a roaring fire because court etiquette forbade any one to go to his assistance. He died a natural death, and the same story is told of a dozen different monarchs who were sticklers for ceremony.

The hanging gardens of Babylon did not hang, nor were they gardens. They were terraces supported by arches and overgrown with trees. They were erected for the amusement of a Babylonian queen who had come from a mountainous country.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE BRAKEMAN.

The Southern Pacific has erected new shops at Ogden, U. T., which will be unusually complete in their appointments.

The Winchester and Beattyville Railroad company has consolidated with the Beattyville and Cumberland Gap Railroad company, taking the name of the latter.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy offers free transportation to its employees to the World's fair on condition that the journey be made while business is light.

The annual report of the Wagner Palace Car company for the year ending June 30, 1893, shows gross earnings of $4,108,589 and expenses $4,349,160, a deficit for the year of $240,571.

The stock train from New York on the Wabash, leaving Kansas Aug. 10, made the run to Toledo in 27 hours and 3 minutes, including all stops. This is almost equal to fast passenger service.

Kansas City has special trains for shoppers' excursions on two of its roads. They bring people from 57 towns and cities. The fare in no case exceeds $2, and tickets are good to return the next day.

There is talk of a railroad being built from Medix, Elk county, Pa., to connect with the Pennsylvania at Clearfield. The line will be 20 miles long and will connect the Beech Creek and the Low Grade division of the Allegheny Valley.

WAS NOAH BURIED TWICE?

Two Graves of the Patriarch, One of Which Is Sixty-four Feet Long.

In a former article I gave a pen picture of the "tomb of Noah" as it now exists near the ruins of an old fortress at Nakhitchevan, Armenia. According to Eastwick's "Three Years In the East," this old Armenian tomb is annually visited by thousands of pilgrims of all faiths, including Mohammedans and Turcomans, who make wearisome journeys of hundreds of miles in order to do reverence to our common ancestor. But, like all other relics which have the beginning of their history in tradition, this supposed tomb of the builder of the ark, half hidden among the hoary ruins on the Armenian plains, has a rival standing almost within the shadows of the cedars of Lebanon.

Henniker's "Palestine In 1890" says: About two miles east of Zakhle is the village of Kerak, not far from which, on the last declivity of Lebanon, there is a round mosque. This is erected over still older relics which are held in great reverence by Moslems and Christians alike, it being the reputed tomb of Noah the Patriarch. The structure is now a part of an ancient aqueduct and is regarded by superstitious thousands as being a place of eminent sanctity. Walls have been built around it, and at certain seasons of the year the Maronites in particular make long pilgrimages to visit it.

In his old age, so tradition says, Noah entreated God as a particular favor that he might be allowed to end his days in the shade of the beautiful cedars of Lebanon, and there to prepare his place of burial. The patriarch's prayers were granted, but shortly before his death he committed some transgression, and to punish him God cut off a part of the tomb which had been constructed to receive the patriarch's remains.

This being the case, it is clear that Noah could not be buried at full length, but was laid to rest with his legs doubled up under his thighs, so as to make the remains conform with the size of the diminished tomb. But, taking everything into consideration, he must have been a giant of giants, for the tomb, even in its curtailed state, is 64 feet long.—St. Louis Republic.

Delayed the Train to Look For Teeth.

Several years ago, while temporarily in charge of a division on one of the southern trunk lines, an incident came under my observation which for oddity seemed worthy of notice outside of the regular office record. We were handling an unusually large amount of freight, and, as is the custom in such cases, were watching delays to trains very closely, calling to account all offenders who could not show a good excuse. On going to the telegraph office one evening to look over the situation the dispatcher on duty called my attention to a delay of 40 minutes to a freight train, for which the conductor had sent a message report reading, "Delayed looking for fireman's teeth."

As this seemed to be a piece of levity, I ordered him to report to the office on arrival. This he did, and to my surprise he confirmed the telegraphic report. It seemed that the fireman had just purchased a new set of "store teeth," and not being accustomed to them had lost the upper plate while standing in the "gangway" getting a breath of air. He promptly told the engineer, who stopped the train, and the whole crew went back with lanterns to look for the property. It was found and restored to the owner, and the train then proceeded. The master mechanic was instructed to direct the fireman to keep his mouth closed while on duty, and the papers were duly filed in the records, where they can still be found. I have seen many excuses for delays, but no other cases like this.—Pittsburg Post.

The Affections of the Arab.

An Arab—meaning a tent dweller, for in an equal sense the town dweller is no Arab—loves first and above all his horse. No need to recite the oft sung affection he will lavish upon him. Next he loves his firearm. This, poetically speaking, ought to be a six foot, gold inlaid, muzzle loading horror of a matchlock, which would kick any man but an Arab flat on his back at every shot, but actually, in Algeria or Tunis, when he lives near a city, it is rather more apt to be a modern English breechloader. You must fly from the busy haunts of men to find the matchlock.

Next to his gun he loves his oldest son. Last comes his wife or one of his wives. Daughters don't even count. I mean the Arab scarcely takes the trouble to count them, unless in so far as they can minister to his comfort, dietetic or otherwise. Until some neighbor comes along and proposes to marry—in other words, to make a still worse slave of one of them, she is only a chattel, a soulless thing. And yet she is said to be a pretty, amiable, helpful being—said to be, for no one by any hap ever chances to cast his eyes on one worth seeing. This disregard for women, be it said to their honor, does not always apply to the Bedouins of the Syrian and Arabian deserts.—Colonel T. A. Dodge in Harper's.

Nail Biting Among Children.

The subject of nail biting among children is well worthy consideration. M. Berillon, a French doctor, has been directing his attention for some time past to it. He finds that the habit or disease is extremely common. In a public school in Paris out of 285 pupils examined during the month of April last 68—that is to say, nearly one-fourth—were addicted to biting their finger nails. Curiously enough, results vary greatly in different districts and in different schools in the same districts.

It seems that girls are more given to the habit than boys. In one girls' school in the department of the Yonne 11 out of 21 were confirmed nail biters. In another girls' school the proportion was 61 out of 207 pupils, and of these 61, 15 were found to be in the habit of biting the nails of both hands and the others of biting only those of one hand. M. Berillon recognizes that nervousness has much to do with the habit.

A Monster Sundial.

A large promontory in the Ægean sea, known as Hagion Horos, extends 3,000 feet above the level of the water. As the sun swings around the shadow of this mountain touches one by one a circle of islands separated by regular intervals, which act as hour marks. It is the largest sundial in the world.—St. Louis Republic.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Five Gallon Oil Can.
LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,
91 Water St.,
AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

GROCERIES.

COLUMBIAN FLAKES
The New Breakfast Dish. Try them.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL AT
WELCOME A. SMITH'S.

FILL YOUR Lunch Baskets
—AT—
RALLION'S.
48 Broadway, Central Building.

FRUIT JARS.
Mason's Improved.
A. T. OTIS.

FLOUR
Is the lowest ever known, and Bread is the cheapest Food that can be used. The Flour that makes the Best Bread and the most loaves of Bread is
"PILLSBURY'S BEST"
For Sale Everywhere.
SMITH, NORTHAM & CO.,
HARTFORD, CONN. MILLER'S AGENTS.

WE'RE STILL HERE!
AT 300 FRANKLIN STREET,
AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE.
Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or greenback
Come and see us and bring the children.
H. D. AVERY.

Kingan Hams.
The BEST Ham in the world 16c lb. Every Ham warranted.
J. A. STODDARD & SON.,
160 Franklin St.

Cliquet Club Ginger Ale,
Cowdry's Deviled Meats,
Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken
—AT—
R. S. BARTLETT'S,
4 and 6 Broad Opera House.

Concentrated Claret Lemonade
Lime Juice and
Imported Ginger Ales, at
A. L. ALLEN'S

REMOVAL.
Dr. W. S. C. Perkins has removed to 81 Broadway. Office hours, 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m. Residence, 50 Broad street.
Dr. Chas. H. Perkins, 81 Broadway. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 8 p. m. Residence, 50 Broad street. Telephone at residence.

THE TIME
TO BUY
IS WHEN
THE OTHER FELLOW
WANTS
TO SELL

WE WANT TO SELL
OFFICE
STATIONERY
WILL NEVER BE CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,
BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Baking Powder?
"If you want the best,
buy Cleveland's."

WANTED.

A Competent Girl for General Housework. References required. Apply at this office. sep4tf

TO THE PEOPLE'S INDUSTRIAL INSURANCE CO., NORWICH.

Please accept my thanks for the prompt payment of which my late father was insured in the company for.

NORA HARTY.

On Monday, Sept. 4, and during the rest of the season, the fare to Watch Hill and return on Steamer Ella will be 50c.

JAMES WALKER, Manager.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

Monday, Sept. 4,
Tuesday, Sept. 5,
Wednesday, Sept. 6
Will Be

HERMSDORF DAYS,

and will be celebrated all over the United States in recognition of the great services which Louis Hermsdorf, the great Saxon Dyer, rendered to humanity in giving to the world a True Fast Black. We shall present our customers on these days with the beautiful

EXPOSITION SOUVENIR

furnished by Louis Hermsdorf as a compliment to his customers in America. This Souvenir was prepared for the World's Fair and was presented to visitors there until Sept. 1, when it was withdrawn to be presented to the patrons of the Hermsdorf Fast Black through the retail merchants of the country.

To Make This Occasion Eventful

we will on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday offer the following special prices on

HERMSDORF FAST BLACK HOSIERY:

Infants' Fine Ribbed Imported Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—11c a pair, 3 for 30c.

Infants' Plain and Ribbed Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—19c a pair. Regular price 25c.

Infants' Plain Lisle Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—26c a pair. Regular price 33c.

Ladies' Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—22c a pair, 5 for $1.00.

Ladies' Fine Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—29c a pair, 3 for 85c. Regular price 37½c.

Ladies' Fine Hose—in Lisle and Cotton—Hermsdorf Fast Black—35c a pair, 3 for $1.00. Regular price 50c.

Men's Half Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—12½c a pair. Regular price 17c.

Men's Embroidered Half Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—23c a pair, 5 for $1.00.

Ask for an Exposition Souvenir. They are Unique and Useful.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

sep4d&w

Do You Know Any One Who is Hard to Suit?

Bring him in. We can make all sorts of Suits for the different kinds of days to be lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable.

GEO. E. CLARK,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 4, Shannon Block. jy1d

REMOVAL.

OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN

OCULIST and AURIST,

To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.

Special attention given to correcting all forms of abnormal vision with proper Spectacles or Eye Glasses. No fee charged in such cases except in ASTIGMATISM or where it is necessary to prescribe in addition to fitting glasses. ja16d

---

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Monday September 4, 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before Six a. m.

Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co.

The Weather Today

Indications for Connecticut: Fair, slightly warmer, southwest winds.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

Meeting of the court of common council this evening.

Noank glories in the latest secret society—the Ancient Order of Lobster Pullers.

City Missionary Swan occupied the pulpit at the Greeneville Baptist church Sunday.

City Missionary Swan opened the weekly services at the jail Sunday afternoon.

The regular weekly session of the Buckingham chapel was resumed Sunday afternoon.

The 3 o'clock vesper hour was resumed in St. Patrick's church yesterday, until spring.

Regular meeting of Niagara Hose company, No. 2, will be postponed until September 11.

The electric poles on the Thames street extension are armed and wired as far as the stove foundry.

The annual meeting of the Connecticut Law and Order League will be held in New Haven, Sept. 20.

Temperance Apostle Thomas E. Murphy will hold meetings in Willimantic Sunday, September 17.

The steamer Block Island will give greatly reduced rates to all the shore resorts today—Labor day.

During the rest of the season the fare to Watch Hill and return on the steamer Ella will be at a reduced rate.

Arthur J. Seymour of this city will give a jumping exhibition at the athletic games in Willimantic today.

Miss Carlisle will meet candidates for the Normal school today at the Slater Memorial building from 4 to 5.30 p. m.

The Broadway, Second and Park Congregational churches resumed separate services Sunday after union services of six weeks.

Work upon the dam of the Taftville reservoir is nearly completed. The barrier is about twenty feet wide, with a firm backing of stone.

The steamer Block Island will make two excursions this week—one to Bridgeport, Friday, and the annual to Middletown on Saturday.

The Rev. George A. Bryan occupied the pulpit of the Broadway Congregational church Sunday morning. The evening service was omitted.

Many trees in the vicinity of Spalding's pond which were uprooted by the recent storms, lie across the road leading to the dam and make it almost impassable.

At the Sunday morning service of the Broadway church it was announced that Dr. and Mrs. Pratt, although suffering severely from their injuries, were more comfortable.

Mr. Learned B. Denison of Hartford, a member of the Connecticut division, L. A. W., a former Norwich resident, is the guest of Mr. J. H. Cranston of West Thames street.

Large quantities of seaweed are being washed ashore at Watch Hill and at Noyes beach. The farmers are taking advantage of the storm's work, and are getting a large quantity of good fertilizer.

A New London man who goes to business up the Norwich turnpike daily says he never knew so many tramps to be abroad as there are at present. They prefer the highway to the railroad tracks.

A Block Island farmer, who lives "up on the Neck," makes a living by putting tires upon his neighbors' wheels, with the use of on an ordinary beach stone. He does th work quickly and well.

The members of the Taftville Foot Ball club are preparing for the playing season. Saturday afternoon a number of players were out on the ground by the Shetucket, practicing the association game.

The schooner Sunbeam, en route from the Thames river to Block Island, went ashore on Eastern Point, below New London, yesterday morning. She was floated towards night by the tug Wellington, when she proceeded to her destination.

Allen Risk, the well known horseman who removed from Willimantic last spring to New Britain with his string of trotting horses, will return next week to the Willimantic track and take up his residence in that city. He will probably be made superintendent of the Willimantic Fair association grounds.

The steamer Gypsy leaves the city at such accommodating hours that the desires of all can be met. By going at 8.35 a. m. one can have a long stay at Ocean beach; while the 1.30 p. m. boat provides a delightful sail and a leisure hour at the beach. It is a pleasant way to put in the time devoted to Labor day.

Louis J. Hoss of Boswell avenue found a dime bearing the date of 1835 in the woods near Spalding's pond recently. A year ago Mr. Hoss discovered in his garden a fruit penny, a form of currency common in war days, and last May he picked up in the same place a curious old coin, which has not yet been identified.

The Rev. L. W. Barney, Ph. D., of the Greeneville Congregational church returned Saturday from a month's visit to the Catskill mountains. He was cordially welcomed by his parishioners on Sunday and preached soul-stirring and impressive sermons from Matt. v, 53, in the morning and Eph. iv, 14 in the evening. Large congregations greeted him.

Horatio N. Warner, a victim of dipsomania, has been taken to the town farm in New Haven at his own request. He is well educated and taught school in this city. He studied law and was admitted to the bar. He has worn out all those who would befriend him by his persistent drunkenness, and his family and all his friends have left him to his fate!

Editor Carter comes promptly to the front with the September issue of the Laurel Hill Eagle. Besides readable editorials, personal gossip and other good matter he reprints by request his poem on "The Midnight Ride of ———" (with apologies to Mr. Longfellow) and its sequel, an explanation of the mysterious ride over the new bridge July 24. The latter ends with the suggestive lines:

I'm plainly convinced it would only be right
That the names of the guilty appear in gilt
On the bridge, with those by whom it was built."

Fall Overcoats in Season.

Saturday and Sunday nights' cool weather indicates the rapid approach of fall. There was a light frost on the lowlands Sunday morning.

Back to the First Love.

Local merchants notice in their daily mail a continued increase in the use of the old-fashioned two-cent stamp. The huge Columbian substitute has evidently fallen from grace.

Making Cider Already.

For several days after the two recent hurricanes the rural country was ankle deep in windfallen apples, the trees being stripped of half their fruit. As a consequence the cider mills are now in busy operation, and there will be no lack of "orchard tea" this winter.

A Former Norwich Resident.

Cards have been received by Norwich friends announcing the marriage of Dr. George Henry Payne to Miss Bertha Lillian Luce in Boston, Wednesday, August 16. Dr. Payne is well remembered in this city as a student with Dr. W. W. Clapp.

Thinks the Depredator Left-Handed.

A resident of Laurel Hill, who has carefully examined the trees upon the park which were cut two weeks ago, thinks that the man who did the work was left-handed. He says that he found knee prints upon the right side of the tree, looking north, which will indicate to one familiar with the spot that the saw was held in the left hand.

Block Island Guests in an Ox-Cart.

Many interesting stories are told of Block Island years ago, before the present conveniences existed. A lady who has spent the summer there for the past twenty years tells of seeing a number of the guests at the Spring house taken down to the landing in a large farm wagon, provided with comfortable seats and drawn by four large, sleek oxen, whose horns were gaily decked with the national colors. There were few horses upon the island at that time.

Norwich Men Entered.

Norwich will be represented at the second annual games of the Willimantic Young Mens' Athletic club, which take place at the fair grounds in that city today, by Herbert F. Armstrong, who is entered in the 100-yard dash, quarter, half and mile runs; Thomas P. Brady in the hop, step and jump and putting the sixteen-pound shot, and John M. Swahn in the latter event. Armstrong has run six races this year and won five first medals. In the short dash he has been defeated only by Leu Oliner of Hartford, who holds the state amateur record of 10 1-5 seconds.

Block Island's Old Windmill.

Block Island's old windmill will begin its work of grinding the islanders' winter supply of corn the middle of September. The mill is owned by John E. Littlefield, and all the corn meal used upon the island is ground there. The mill was erected upon the present site of the Central house fifty years ago, and was moved to its new location a few years ago. It is an object eagerly sought out by artists during the summer season.

Johnny Jencks to Play.

John Jencks, whom everyone in Norwich knows as an expert croquet player, has announced his intention of entering the championship tournament next year. Since he won first place in the second class in 1881, he has had little time for practice, but when in form he has defeated Johnson, Jacobus and Germond more than once. This city has twice furnished a national champion, Gen. Edward Harland in 1884 and Superintendent N. L. Bishop in 1886, and there is no reason why the local club should not give the association another player to hold that honor.

A Crack New York Company.

New London members of the Connecticut National Guard will have the pleasure of witnessing an exhibition drill by a crack New York company, today, when Company D, Twelfth regiment, comes up to spend two days here on the farm of Commodore David Banks. The company reached there on the boat Sunday morning, went direct to the farm and will remain there until this afternoon. A street parade and an exhibition drill is on the programme for the outing. This is said to be the crack company of the Twelfth. The arrangements for the trip were made some time ago at the invitation of Mr. Banks.

The Rev. Mr. Adams a Playwright.

The Rev. Henry A. Adams, formerly of this city, who was a summer guest at the Fort Griswold house for several weeks past, has written a play for Richard Mansfield that has been accepted. The play is named Gentleman Waifs. Mr. Adams is the clergyman who recently left the Episcopal denomination and became a convert to Catholicity. During the summer, The New London Day says, he was a constant attendant at St. Mary's Star of the Sea church in that city.

The Vessel May be Sold.

The owner of the schooner yacht Priscilla, which went ashore at Watch Hill last Monday, cannot make a satisfactory arrangement with Captain Scott of New London for the floating of the boat. It is reported that Captain Scott wanted $1,900 for the job, and that it would be necessary to carry her across the peninsula into the bay. Captain Wright will negotiate with the Dexter Wrecking company of New York. It is probable that if no satisfactory arrangements can be made, the boat will be offered for sale.

Bonyfish in the Harbor.

The annual pilgrimage of bonyfish to this harbor occurred Sunday, and the waters about the wharves were lively with millions of the fish all day Sunday.

Heavy Beer Drinking.

The receipts of the internal revenue collector's office for the month of August were $196,088.07, an increase of $113,211.09 over August of last year, the greater part of the gain being because of an increase of 11,653 barrels of beer consumed in the district.

The Succulent Oyster is Here.

September 1 has arrived and with it the opening of the oyster season, and the oyster dealers are correspondingly happy. It is the general opinion among growers and dealers that the price of oysters will be much higher this season on account of the damage done by the recent storms.

Scottish Clans to Gather.

There will be a grand gathering of the Scottish clans of Connecticut in Middletown today, under the auspices of Clan McGregor. Four hundred dollars in prizes in the athletic contests. Clans will be present from Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport, Meriden and other cities.

Drunk on Apples.

An eastern Connecticut correspondent writes to an exchange of numberless cows having high old times getting drunk on the apples and pears which the recent gales blew off, and wandering with an eighteen-karat jag on about the pastures for several days. The quantity of milk was materially diminished, the eating of apples by milch cows having a tendency to "dry them up."

The Catholic Congress.

Lawyer J. J. Desmond of this city, of the delegation from Connecticut to the Catholic congress at Chicago, which assembles today, left last Friday for the White city.

A. H. Chappell and George Parsons Lathrop of New London, of the delegation, appointed by the late Bishop McMahon, will not be able to attend owing to their personal engagements. Mr. Lathrop has prepared a paper which he will forward to the congress to be read.

Safety of Westerly Vessels.

The safety of the persons who shipped previous to the late storm on vessels from Westerly and vicinity has been a source of anxiety to relatives. Thus far all the schooners and fishing smacks have been reported as having braved the storm. Word reached Mrs. T. Harvey of Stonington Saturday from the owners of the fishing steamer Quickstep of Niantic, Conn., announcing the safety of boat and crew. Thomas and James Harvey of Stonington were of the crew. At one time during the week it was reported that the boat was lost in the storm off the Delaware coast.

Petitions from New London County.

The adjourned semi-annual meeting of the state prison board of pardons will be held at Hartford today. State Attorney Lucas of this city will appear in opposition to petitions for amnesty presented by the following New London county inmates at Wethersfield: Robert Edwards, horse stealing, sentenced January 1893, for two years; Richard Coyle, murder in second degree, sentenced in 1883 for life; Dwight F. Steers, murder, sentenced in April, 1876, for life; Frank E. Munn, theft, sentenced in October, 1890, for four years; W. H. Jenks, arson, sentenced in January, 1893, for four years, six months; Emanuel Montarin, assault with intent to kill, sentenced in September, 1883, for twenty years; H. Graham, arson, sentenced in 1887 for ten years; John Whelton, burglary.

DIED.

WARREN—In Chicago, Aug. 31, Horace Warren, aged 37 years.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED—3 or 4 good, steady Agents, with commission or salary. Inquire of C. H. MARTIN, Hanover, Ct. sep4d

WANTED

A Position to do General Housework.

sep4d Apply at 28 Franklin Street.

A SPECIAL MEETING

will be held at the residence of C. H. Osgood by the Boys' Militia Company to-night at 8 o'clock. All must appear in full uniform.

Per order of sep4d CAPT. WM. L. BETTS.

YOU WILL FIND

School Bags, - - - -	10c
Sponges, - - - -	1c, 5c, 8c
Tablets, - - - -	5c, 8c
Desk Slates, -	50c and $1

All of these at

HOUGH'S.

sep4d

THE RATES ON Steamer BLOCK ISLAND

Today, LABOR DAY, will be

$1 to Block Island and Return.
50c to Watch Hill and Return.

sep4d

DON'T FORGET THE TWO

-GRAND EXCURSIONS-

—ON THE—

Steamer BLOCK ISLAND

THIS WEEK TO

Bridgeport, Friday, and Middletown, Saturday. sep4d

PEACHES

Car Peaches No. 13

will be unloaded THIS MORNING ready for sale at

J. O. WORTH'S, 37 Water St.

sep4TuF

No Better Place to Buy a

--HAT--

THAN AT

PRENTICE'S.

Fall Styles now ready. sep4MWF

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Butter, Cheese, Eggs,

At WHOLESALE ONLY, by

ALLEN, WORTH & CO.,

sep4MW Norwich and New London, Ct.

CROCKER'S

Magical Stomach Powders

Make good health possible to all through good digestion. Bad digestion reduces vitality—weakens the circulation of the blood, which alone makes disease possible. sep4d

As it is Nearly Time to House the Plants, be prepared with the necessary sizes of

FLOWER POTS.

We have them in all the sizes and our prices are low.

SMITH BROS.

sep4d

SCHOOL BOOKS,

SCHOOL SUPPLIES,

AT LOWEST PRICES.

Appreciating the necessity which many feel of making a little money go a great ways, we have secured a large stock of which we offer at LOWEST PRICE.

SECOND-HAND BOOKS

Liberal allowance in Cash or Exchange for Second-Hand Books.

Cranston & Co.

sep4d&w

DON'T FORGET

that we have the Lowest Prices

—ON—

SCHOOL BOOKS.

LARGE STOCK OF

Second-Hand School Books

in good condition.

Noyes & Davis.

sep4d&w

WHY?

—NOT USE—

NORWICH
FOLDED
PAPER
CARPET
LINING.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS. ja6MWF

VIOLIN INSTRUCTION.

Fall term begins Sept. 1st. For terms address, until Sept. 1st, E. R. BAKER, Pequot House, New London, Conn.
je26MWFeo

-.-FURNACES.-.-

Now is the time to have your Furnaces put in order, or if you need a new one now is the best time to have it set. If you wish a

Steam or Hot Water Heater

The Richmonds

are ahead of anything with the most improvements, and

J. P. BARSTOW & CO.

Will make you the Lowest Prices possible.

RICHMOND RANGES!

A SPECIALTY.

HOUSEFURNISHING GOODS,

Quality the best and prices lowest.
Call and see us.

23 and 25 Water Street
aug4d&w

SHOE TALK!

The close attention we give to our Shoe Department to make it satisfactory to the people is rewarded by a constant increase in our sales, and we are very thankful to know that our efforts are well appreciated.

We offer this week:

Men's Genuine Kangaroo Shoes, Lace and Congress, $2.25, were $3.00.

Men's Genuine Dongola Lace and Congress Shoes, $2.00, were $2.50.

Men's Light, Stylish Lace and Congress Shoes, $1.50, worth $2.00.

Boys' Tap Sole Shoes, Strong and Serviceable, 95c.

Boys' Base Ball Shoes, Genuine Calf Trimmed, 50c, worth $1.00.

Men's Tennis Shoes, 40c.

Boys' Tennis Shoes, 35c.

Child's Tennis Shoes, 25c.

Alling Brothers,

sep1d&w Broad Opera House Block.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO RENT.

3 minutes from Post Office, Lower Tenement, 7 rooms, hot and cold water, with separate bath and closet. J. BRADFORD, aug31d Bookbinder, Bulletin Building.

THE BEST SPONGES

For Washing Carriages

Can be found at HOWE'S.

aug28MWF

DR. N. P. SMITH,

Office No. 8 Broadway.

Hours 11 a. m., to 1 p. m., 4.30 to 5.30 p. m.
aug28d RESIDENCE 222 MAIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels,
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.

Collins Turbine Machine Co. ja5d

A WOMAN'S CHANCE TO MARRY.

¾ of 1 per cent. from 30 to 35 years of age
¾ of 1 [illegible] 45 to 55 [illegible]
[illegible] 40 to 45 [illegible]
[illegible] 35 to 40 [illegible]
[illegible] 31 to 35 [illegible]
15 [illegible] 25 to 30 [illegible]
50 [illegible] 20 to 25 [illegible]
14½ [illegible] 15 to 20 [illegible]

Wedding Shoes a Specialty at

Herren'S,

Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's.
Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug31d

Appropriate to the Times

is the announcement that

WHITNEY,

Of 41 Broadway,

In the Central building,

will sell the new goods now arriving almost daily at the same low bargain prices he has been getting for his old stock.

This is no time for large profits, and if you want anything at all in China, Glassware, Tinware and House-furnishing Goods, you can save money by buying at

— WHITNEY'S —

Try and See!

Free delivery of goods throughout the city and suburbs. aug31d&w

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,

HAMMOCKS, CHEAP,

At PITCHER & MAINE'S

jy5d 400 No. Main St.

PRICES TELL THE STORY.

THE PRICES THAT

FALVEY.

IS SELLING

Straw Hats and Negligee Shirts

at, are bringing the people right to his store, and all express surprise at the bargains. We have lots of them left. Come and see us. We will please you as we did your neighbors.

T. J. FALVEY,

aug18MWF Shannon Building

REID'S

ICE CREAM

Delicious as Nectar.

PLEASES

The Perfection of Delicate Flavor.

ALL.

N. D. SEVIN & SON.

aug5d&w

MILLINERY.

Brown Trimmed Sailors

69c.

A fine Hat for early Fall or School wear.

T. E. McCLENATHAN.

Wholesale and Retail. aug5d&w

All Kinds Of

Picture Frames

And an elegant line of

FRAMED

—AND—

UNFRAMED PICTURES

Can be found at

M. J. Farrell's

Art Parlors,

61 Broadway.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

6%

Partial Dividend Bond Certificates.

UNITED STATES SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY,

Paid in Capital..............	[illegible]
Subscribed Capital.........	[illegible]

One of the oldest and largest Co-Operative Banks in America having an income of $40,000 per month and Local Boards in over 50 cities. Affords an absolutely safe investment in Cumulative First Mortgage Bonds.

E. O. MACE and GEO. S. SMITH, GEN. AGTS., [illegible] Building, Norwich.

aug17MTh

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,

18 Washington Street.

GENERAL PRACTICE AND THE EYE.

Office hours: 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 p. m. Telephone 35—3. may3d

A SPECIAL TRAIN OF

Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars,

With a select party, will leave the Union Station, Norwich, at 5.30 a. m., September 6, for Chicago and the

WORLD'S FAIR,

Stopping seven hours at NIAGARA FALLS.

Arrangements for Sleeping Car accommodations, for a limited number of persons, can be made, and excursion tickets at low rates obtained, on application to E. P. TURNER,
aug31d Norwich, Conn.

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE

Norwich, Conn.

EARL M. SWIFT,

And Assistant-Teachers of Ability and Experience.

Fall Term Begins

Tuesday, Sept. 5.

On and after Aug. 18 the College office will be open from 9.30 to 3.30 to receive applicants for membership. aug4d&w

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With

SURE KILL FLY PAPER,

5 Cent's a Package.

-Steiner's Pharmacy-

aug1d SHANNON BUILDING.

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK

A. PLAUT,

The well-known Bargain Dealer, will commence MONDAY, Aug. 28th, to close out the balance of his Bicycles regardless of value or cost. Headquarters at 2 0 Main St. aug28d

Received This Day a Complete Line of

OUTING SUITS and SILK and LAWN SHIRT WAISTS.

MRS. H. D. SYDLEMAN je26MWF

LOOK OUT

—FOR—

FRUIT JARS

Preston Bros.

SELL THEM
CHEAP.

aug9d

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at

HOTEL SOUTH SHORE

On Lake Michigan, four blocks from [illegible]

The World's Fair Grounds.

One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls,

All for $36.00.

R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with or without Hotel accommodations by

E. P. TURNER, 187 E. Broad St.,

aug16d Norwich, Conn.

TO RENT.

A Large Store No. 108 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St., formerly occupied by W. H. Eldredge as a Hardware store. For further particulars call on or address NICHOLAS TARRANT, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, 86 Main street. mar27d

CLOTHING.

THE PUBLIC

Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in

Men's and Children's

FALL SUITS!

—AT—

MURPHY & McGARRY.

FOOT WEAR.

LADIES!

Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3.00. Call and see them.

Geo. W. Kies & Co.

aug4d&w

School Shoes.

See our new lines at $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50.

Frank A. Bill,

aug11d&w 104 MAIN STREET.

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin office for Printing of all kinds and fine work at living prices.

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11,692 NORWICH, CONN., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1893—SIX PAGES SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

THIS MORNINGS NEWS.

City and Vicinity

Fair and slightly warmer weather.
A successful tournament under the Rose of New England club auspices.
September meeting of the court of common council.
The Clippers win and lose a game of ball.
Burglar in a Water street dwelling house.
Painters' union picnic in Roath's grove.
The Rev. Mr. Selden's call to Albany.
Book Nook home gifts acknowledged.

State.

Business will be resumed today in Waterbury watch and clock factories.
Willimantic has a sensation.
Two girls struck by an engine on the Valley road.

General.

Directum trots a mile in 2:07.
How Labor day was observed.
Monday's base ball games.
Bicycle races at Charter Oak park.
Catholic congress opened at Chicago.
Steamer Alvo given up as lost.
Cholera reports from Galicia.
Five men killed at a cockfight in Mexico.
No lives lost at Port Royal during the hurricane.
Rhode Island mills starting up.

SPECIAL.

We offer the balance of our fancy light-weight Suitings and Trouserings, for sale by the yard, at cost. This gives particularly good value for the money and is worthy the attention of those economically inclined.

E. D. JONES & SON,
Merchant Tailors.......... 59 MAIN ST
(over C. C. Ellis'.) sept2d

USE
Shipman's
CARBOLIC
OINTMENT,
The most healing preparation in the world
FOR MAN OR BEAST.
For sale by all druggists. 3d4

DO NOT
SLUMBER
UNTIL YOU HAVE
Dr. Hough's
COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM
Ready for immediate use.
Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc.
PRICE 25 Cents.
Sold by all Druggists and medicine dealers
jy8daw

FREE
Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.
ELIXIR OF LIFE
The great family medicine.
guaranteed to cure
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,
SICK-HEADACHE,
DYSPEPSIA,
And all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by LEE & OSGOOD. oct16daw

Sick Headache
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER
PILLS.
POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose. 40 in a vial. Purely Vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1.
Carter Medicine Co., Proprietors
NEW YORK.
Sold by all Druggists. oct4daw

Most People Like to Know
The name of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.
Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure
IS THE BEST. TRY IT.
Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.
At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD.

Norwich Line to New York.

Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 8.25 and 9.35 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.

Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 9 p. m., for New York.

Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 6

For state-rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 88 Shetucket street. Telephone call 142-3.

THOMAS CLARK, President.
O. L. JOHNSON, Jr.,
Secretary and Treasurer.

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR Fire Wood
—TO THE—
PARK WOOD YARD!
301 Franklin Street.
A discount will be made on all purchases of [illegible]
J. ROURKE.

HOW LABOR DAY WAS PASSED.

A General Cessation From Work—Parade of Organizations.

AT HARTFORD.

Fifteen Hundred Men in Line—Celebrations at Other Points.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 4.—The parade this morning of labor organizations was the best and largest of any seen in this city before. About 1,500 men were in line. Fifteen unions were in line and nearly each one had music. The horseshoers had a float on which workmen were making horseshoes. The parade was witnessed by large crowds and everything passed off orderly. Afterwards the men started for Union Grove, where a picnic and athletic games occupied the remainder of the day.

Quietly Observed at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 4.—Labor day was quietly observed in this city by a general cessation from work and trade and by two processions of trades unions and laboring men's organizations.

General Holiday at Providence.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 4.—Labor day was observed here quite generally as a holiday. Many stores were closed and the labor organizations made a big parade this morning. They then took steamers down the bay to Rocky Point, where a monster demonstration was held, with dinner, addresses and games occupying the entire day.

Great Occasion at Portland, Me.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 4.—Labor Day was a greater occasion here today than ever before. The weather was cloudless and cool. The city was full of people to witness the great parade in the morning. The procession included all the labor organizations of Portland, Lewiston, Auburn, Westbrook and neighboring towns, and there were over 5000 men in line.

At New York City.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Perfect weather characterized Labor day in New York. Although the city did not wear the festal air that is a feature on other holidays by decorations, it was evident that today is not a working day. All the big manufactories were shut down and most of the business establishments were closed for the day.

All Labor Unions in Line at Meriden.

MERIDEN, Conn., Sept. 4.—Labor day was celebrated here in grand style. All labor unions were in line, about 3000 men parading.

At Bergen Point, N. J.

BERGEN POINT, N. J., Sept. 4.—About 830 spectators gathered around the quarter mile track of the New Jersey Athletic club today, the reason being the annual Labor day carnival. The event of the day was the four mile scratch race between Conneff and Willis Day, the fast amateur distance runners. Conneff won in 20 minutes 53.5 seconds.

RIOT IN MEXICO.

Five Men Killed—The Cause Was a Dispute at a Cock Fight.

JARAL, MEX., Sept. 4.—The town of Pathos, about 30 miles south of here, was the scene of a riot Saturday, which resulted in the killing of five men. The news of the affair was brought here by Marciano Perezo, a merchant of Pathos. He says that a Saturday afternoon celebration was being given at the old bull ring, which was attended by a large crowd of people.

One of the features of the programme was a cocking main. In one of the fights between two cocks a dispute took place as to whether it was conducted fairly, and the trouble soon spread into a general riot. The men killed were stabbed to death. Several others were wounded. The disturbance was quelled by the authorities and a number of the leaders of the rioters have been arrested.

A Norwalk Farmer Drowned.

NORWALK, Sept. 4.—Henry Abbott, a farmer, aged 37, of Broad River, this town, was drowned in the Great Marsh canal in Westport harbor while bathing yesterday afternoon. Abbott, in company with two other men, went to the Great marsh after clams. Just before leaving for home they went into the water for a swim. Abbott was seized with cramps and sank. The body was recovered.

Waterbury Watch and Clock Companies Start Up Today.

WATERBURY, Conn., Sept. 4.—Tomorrow the Waterbury watch and clock companies, employing over a thousand hands, will start after a month's absence. The brass foundries will also start in a few days. Business is picking up in this section of the state and money is less stringent.

Steamer Alvo Given Up as Lost.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Sept. 4.—No tidings of the missing Atlas line steamer Alvo have been received at Fortune Key, one of the Bahama Islands, where she would put in if disabled, or had met with any severe stress of weather. News has been received from Gonaives, Hayti, where she was to call, but the steamer had not put in there or any other Haytian port. She has been given up as lost.

Attacked by Hydrophobia.

NORWALK, Conn., Sept. 4.—William Ackerman, an Easton young man, was attacked by hydrophobia a few days ago, and he become so violent at times that the family have to keep him continually bound with ropes to a bed. Ackerman was bitten by a mongrel cur several weeks ago.

Business Resumed at Homestead.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 4.—Every department of the Carnegie steel plant at Homestead was started this morning, giving employment to about 2,000. About 3,000 are yet idle. They will also be provided with work within a few days.

About 700 men were given employment in the Braddock wire works, which resumed operations today.

Rhode Island Mills Starting Up.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 4.—Nearly 900 looms in the Valley Falls mill were started this morning. The rolling mill there will resume operations tomorrow. Keech & Brown of Valley Falls started up today. The two mills of the Quidnick company at Quidnick started up this morning. Several Burrillville mills announce that work will be resumed next Monday.

The Carolina Mills Start Up.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 4.—The Carolina mills of Carolina, R. I., started this morning after a shut down of two weeks.

Ocean Steamers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Arrived, steamers Ocean, from Rotterdam; Taunis, from Liverpool; Colorado, from Hull.

CATHOLIC CONGRESS.

Opened at Chicago—Cardinal Gibbons Delivers an Address.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Solemn high mass at St. Mary's church marked the formal opening of the Columbian Catholic congress of the United States this morning, a large number of the delegation being in attendance.

There were fully 5,000 people in the audience when Secretary Onahan of the committee on organization called the gathering to order in the hall of Columbus. After the reading of the official call by the secretary, Archbishop Feehan of Chicago welcomed the visitors to the World's fair city and to the Catholic congress.

The opening address was delivered by his eminence Cardinal Gibbons, archbishop of Baltimore. He was received with great enthusiasm and was obliged to wait several minutes before his voice could be heard.

The following papers were presented: "The Relation of the Catholic Church to the Social, Civil and Political Institutions of the United States," Edgar H. Gans, Baltimore; "Missionary Work of the Church in the United States," the Rev. Walter Elliott, New York; "Civil Government and the Catholic Citizen," Walter George Smith, Philadelphia; "Independence of the Holy See," Martin F. Morris, Washington; "Columbus—His Mission and Character," Richard H. Clarke, New York; "Isabella, the Catholic," Mary J. Onahan, Chicago; "Consequences and Results of the Discovery of the New World," George Parsons Lathrop, Connecticut.

IN CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—After the ordinary routine morning business and the passage of the two house joint resolutions for the observance of the hundredth anniversary of laying the corner stone of the capitol, an amendment to the silver repeal act was offered by Mr. Butler (dem., S. C.) and referred to the finance committee, repealing the 10 per cent. tax on state banks.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Gallinger (rep., N. H.), supplemental to the pension act of June 27, 1890. It provides, among other things, that except in cases of established fraud, no pension shall be suspended or withheld until after a full and impartial investigation. Mr. Gallinger addressed the senate in explanation and advocacy of the bill, which was then referred to the committee on pensions.

Mr. Allen offered a resolution inquiring of the secretary of the treasury why silver bullion was not coined. Referred.

Mr. Cullom then addressed the senate in favor of repeal.

The senate proceeded with the consideration of the house bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, and afterward adjourned.

FACTS FROM THE MAYOR.

No Lives Lost at Port Royal, S. C., During the Hurricane.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 4.—The following dispatch is printed from the mayor of Port Royal, S. C.:

"It is currently reported that during the hurricane of August 27 many lives were lost in Port Royal and that almost the entire town was swept away. In view of these statements, I deem it proper to announce the facts. There was not a single life lost or a person injured by the storm; business houses and residences were not damaged to an amount exceeding $5,000. While Port Royal does not solicit or need aid, the adjacent sea islands are a scene of death and desolation, which strongly appeals to every charitable heart.

[Signed] ROWN PRICE, Mayor.

Encountered the Hurricane.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Captain Wall of the schooner Adalia T. Carleton of Rockport, Maine, from Charleston, ten days, with lumber, reports that on August 27, thirty miles east by north of Charleston, he encountered a hurricane, carrying away his foresail and splitting mainsail. He also lost his long boat and the doors in the forward house were smashed in, filling it with water. The vessel sustained other damage about the decks. The Carleton left port in company with the schooners William Smith, James Boyce and Jonathan May, all bound for New York, and has not seen any of them since.

Results of First and Second French Ballots.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The Pall Mall Gazette prints this dispatch from Paris concerning the total results of the first and second ballots: "The final result in 574 constituencies is known; the remaining constituencies (seven in number) are colonial and the ballotages are between opposing republicans. The chamber virtually consists of 63 conservatives and 515 republicans of all shades, embracing 60 socialists and 26 conservateurs 'ralliés.'"

Sloop Josephine Given Up as Lost.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Sept. 4.—Sloop Josephine of this port has been given up as lost. She sailed Aug. 26 from Woods Holl for Newport, and was probably swamped in the gale of that day. She was an old boat. The crew were John Rich, Manuel Barnes and Charles Petersen. The last two belong here and leave widows.

Shipwrecked Crew Brought to New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The steamer City of Birmingham from Savannah, which arrived last night, brought the crew of the ill-fated steamer City of Savannah, which was wrecked off Hunting island; also three of the crew of the schooner Joseph Southard, which was wrecked forty miles east of Georgetown.

$2,000 Fire at New Britain.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Sept. 3.—Fire in Pierce's laundry in the Judd Block this evening caused a loss of $2,000; partially insured.

The Block Island's Last Trip.

The steamer Block Island made her last trip to Block Island Monday for the season of 1893 and brought back a large party. She cleared the island of nearly all the visitors, and only those remain who live there the year round. The Ocean View, the Spring, the Manisses and about all the other houses closed Monday and Block Island was a lonely looking place as the steamer left as compared with a month ago. The Block Island has had a very prosperous season notwithstanding the closeness of the money matters.

Today she will leave for Middletown to take the Baptist Sunday school of that place on their annual excursion. She has carried them every year since she was built. She will return home Thursday and take their third annual excursion to Bridgeport Friday and twelfth annual excursion to Middletown Saturday which ends her season.

WORLD'S 1-2 MILE RECORD BROKEN

Zimmerman's Time Beaten by Tyler at Charter Oak Park.

WINDLE'S QUARTER IN :26 3-5.

The Springfield Men Capture All the Big Events.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 4.—The bicycle races at Charter Oak park today were attended by more than 5000 people.

Sanger and a number of crack Chicago riders were entered, but did not appear.

The Springfield men captured all of the big events.

Tyler broke the world's record for the half mile, riding in 1 01 2-5. This is 2-5 of a second lower than Zimmerman's time. He also cut the ¼ mile, flying start, record in competition down to 28 4-5.

Windle did a quarter in 26 3-5. This was also under Zimmerman's record of 27 seconds made last year at the same track.

There was a stiff breeze blowing down the home stretch which is partly responsible for the fast time.

It is expected that Hoyland Smith and George Smith will ride tomorrow.

The referee was H. F. Raymond, chairman of the L. A. W. racing board, and Abbott Barrett, the league's secretary, was one of the judges.

One mile, 2 35 class—E. C. Bald, Buffalo, first; C. T. Nelson second, McLean, Brooklyn, third. Time, 2 41.

One mile, novice—G. E. Nettleton, Hartford, first; T. Astor, Bridgeport, second. Time, 2 49 4-5.

One half mile, open—W. W. Windle first, H. C. Tyler second, E. A. Nelson third. Time, 1.01 2-5. Last quarter made in 28 3-5.

One-half mile, international—H. C. Tyler first, W. W. Windle second, E. A. Nelson third. Time, 1.12. Last quarter in 28 4-5.

One mile, handicap—E. C. Bald, Buffalo (65 yards), 1; D. McLean, Brooklyn (135 yards), 2; E. W. Heyer, Hartford (150 yards), 3. Time, 2 10 4-5. Windle and Tyler, scratch men, did not finish.

One mile, L. A. W. state championship—A. W. Warren, Hartford, 1; F. R. Fuller, Hartford, 2; E. M. Alexander, Hartford, 3. Time, 2 38 3-5.

One mile, 2 40 class—E. W. Heyer, Hartford, 1; F. R. Fuller, 2; F. A. Landry, Springfield, 3. Time, 2 36 2-5.

BASE BALL.

At Pittsburg:

Pittsburg	2	1	0	0	0	2	0	2—7
Washington	0	0	0	3	1	0	0	1—5

At Binghamton:

Binghamton	1	0	1	1	0	2	0	0—5
Wilkesbarre	0	0	0	3	0	0	0	1—4

At Brooklyn:

Cleveland	0	0	0	4	1	2	0	2—9
Brooklyn	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1—2

At New York:

New York	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0—1
Louisville	3	1	1	0	1	1	2	0—9

At Springfield: Springfield 6, Providence 15.

At Boston:

Boston	0	4	0	0	1	5	4	*—14
St. Louis	1	0	2	0	0	0	0	0—3
Philadelphia	0	0	1	0	0	3	5	1—11
Cincinnati	0	0	0	4	3	0	1	0—20

(Second game):

Cincinnati	0	0	1	1	0	2	1	0—7
Philadelphia	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—1

At Chicago:

Chicago	4	7	0	2	1	0	0	0—15
Baltimore	10	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—10

At Philadelphia—(First game):

G. A. R. Encampment.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 4.—For the third time, this city today opened its arms in hospitable welcome to the members of the G. A. R.

The convention was opened with prayer by the Rev. Samuel Alman of Brooklyn, and who afterwards in presenting his report commented upon the fact that the number of naval veterans that had passed away during the year was considerably less than for many years previous.

Commander Osborne then made the annual address.

A large number of veterans from the East and West availed themselves of the opportunity this morning of paying their respects to ex-President Harrison at his home on North Delaware street. The ex-president will keep open house, in a measure, during the week.

To Purchase the Reading 7s of 1893.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 4. An arrangement has been made with Messrs. Drexel & Co., and Brown Bros. & Co. to purchase the Reading 7s of 1893 from the holders at par on their maturity, October 1, 1893, and to extend them as gold bonds for forty years at five per cent. Interest, also payable in gold and free of taxes. Messrs. Drexel & Co. and Brown Bros. & Co. announce that the holders of the above bonds may extend them as above stated at the price of 102½, provided notice be given not later than September 23d. There are $2,700,000 of these bonds outstanding; they are prior to the consolidated mortgage, and together with the first mortgage make the prior lien, amounting to $5,245,700 upon the Reading railroad.

Cholera Reports from Galicia.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The Times Vienna correspondent says that the official cholera reports from Galicia show the situation there has neither improved nor become worse since the last previous report. Several suspicious deaths which have occurred at Kulin, a long distance from the infected districts, and which has hitherto been free from the ravages of the disease, are held to prove that the epidemic in Galicia is of Russian origin. From August 31 to September 2 there was reported throughout Hungary 120 new cases of cholera and 110 deaths from the disease. On the 31 instant thirteen fresh cases and three deaths were reported at Giurgevo, a town of Roumania, on the Danube, opposite Rouschouk.

Fatal Injuries to a Bicyclist.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Sept. 4.—James H. Beatty of Saco, while spurting on a bicycle at the Saco Driving park this forenoon, ran into the pole of a team attached to a roller and received injuries which will probably prove fatal.

Tragedy at Meriden.

MERIDEN, Conn., Sept. 4.—Dominic Bartholomew, employed at the Meriden Bronze company, fatally stabbed his wife this afternoon and then shot himself dead.

It is said that jealousy was the cause. Bartholomew was a well to do mechanic.

To Be an Evening Paper Hereafter.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Sept. 4.—The St. Johnsbury Daily Republican, which started as a morning paper about fourteen months ago, announces that it will be issued hereafter as an evening paper, as they find the field too limited for a successful morning daily.

WHEELMEN'S TOURNAMENT.

The First Rose of New England Meet at the Fair Grounds.

An ideal September day, resplendent in all the glories of the autumnal season, characterized the first meet of the Rose of New England Wheel club at the fair grounds Monday. A crowd of twenty-five hundred people, among whom were spectators from nearly every town in eastern Connecticut, was present. Willimantic was the best represented of outside towns, and her contingent outstripped even the Norwich "booters" in the earnestness of their enthusiasm. They brought with them a handsome full blooded bulldog as a mascot, and credit the fine showing made by their men to his all-powerful influence. The Thread city riders captured all the leading events, taking first in every race they started in with only one exception. They have a big find in C. R. Newton of Stafford springs. He took three first prizes, riding away from the older and more experienced men with ridiculous ease. Geo. E. Hinman, the newspaper representative bicyclist from Willimantic, took first in the three mile scratch race by excellent riding. He was mounted on a strange wheel, having collided with E. J. Snow in the third event and knocking out every spoke of the rear wheel of his machine. Snow, who has done such remarkable riding in the eastern Connecticut meets before, has been overtrained. He only appeared twice on the track after his collision with Hinman; once in the team race, where he made second place, and again in the three mile race, in which he was obliged to give up at the second mile. Of the local riders A. D. Smith, Jr., won the most prizes, capturing three firsts.

It was just 2 o'clock when the races were started by a one mile novice race. There were six starters. H. D. Tracy of the R. N. E. club set the pace to the three-quarter mile, where he was passed by F. E. Comstock of the Pequot club and H. O. Converse of Stafford Springs. Converse finally won in 2 42 3-5, with Comstock second and Tracy third.

In the second event, a one-half local handicap, Smith, the limit man, won in 1 15 2-5. W. F. Lester, scratch man, was third in 1,17 4-5. R. Fairbanks finished second.

Nine started in number three, a one mile open race. It was won by Newton, T. C. C., in 2 36 3-5, with Fred Rees of Meriden second and William Buchanan of Rockville third.

Fairbanks won the R. C. C. club team race handily in 2 54 3-5, but Rockville took eleven points against Norwich's ten, which gave them the first prize. The Thread City club withdrew before starting.

There were six starters in the one mile open three minute class race. Newton won in 2 52, Rees making a good spurt at the finish and capturing second place, with W. P. Jordan of Willimantic third.

The three mile scratch race was started with nine contestants. C. F. Silcox of Rockville led the way till the home stretch was reached, being passed there by Hinman, who won in 10 44 3-5, Silcox got second and Fairbanks, R. N. E., third place.

In the seventh event, the 2 30 class for local riders, there were three starters, Smith, Tracy and W. F. Lester. They finished in the order named. Time, 2.51 3-5.

Newton took first in the one mile handicap in 2 36 2-5. He was the scratch man and had a field of eleven to mow down ahead of him. Wm. Buchanan of Rockville took second and Jordan, T. C. C., third. Fairbanks, while riding too close to the fence, caught the handle bar of his machine just before finishing the first half. He got a bad tumble and was pretty well shaken and bruised up, but not seriously hurt. B. D. Yawger, who was following him closely, went over the prostrate wheelman, but was not hurt. Hinman dropped out before the race was finished.

The sixth event was a one-half mile race for city riders. Smith won in 1 20, with Tracy second and Jawger third.

The closing race was the one-mile championship of the R. C. C. club, but as there had been some misunderstanding about the entries, only three Rockville men started, W. F. Tangier finishing first, in the poorest time of the afternoon—3 13 4-5. Buchanan was second and F. C. Smith third.

The races were all managed with a fairness and dispatch that was commendable to both the local club and the officers of the day. They were:

Referee—W. A. Howell, president of Rockville Wheel club, Rockville.

Judges—A. H. Chase of R. N. E. Wheel club, Norwich; D. H. Baker, Thread City Cyclers, Willimantic; A. A. Young, Jr., Yaqui Wheel club.

Timers, A. W. Tilley, Norwich; C. J. Royce, Willimantic; J. C. Whittlesey, Rockville.

Starter, J. C. Quinlan, Norwich.

Scorers, John R. Fanning, I. S. Jones, Louis W. Ross.

Clerk of course, John M. Lee.

Assistants, Charles Parsons, George W. Rudd.

Handicapper Eastern Connecticut club, Charles J. Royce, Willimantic.

Umpires, Z. F. Hicks, Willimantic; H. M. Kutner, Norwich.

Announcer, E. R. Corey.

Track committee, C. L. Swan, W. H. Buteau.

Ushers, J. N. Morgan, Jr., J. W. Cadden, W. B. Young, Jr., W. H. Corey, Jr.

PAINTERS' UNION PICNIC.

A Happy Company at Roath's Grove.

The members of the local painters' union improved their holiday Monday afternoon and evening by picnicing in Roath's grove. Messrs. Timothy Leahy, John Lyons and James Gallegher, the efficient committee of arrangements, had provided a shooting gallery, refreshment table, phonograph, and other ways of entertainment for the large crowd in attendance. Yaeger's orchestra furnished spirited music for dancing, while the young men played ball with great ardor and interest.

Mr. John Crawford was master of sports, and had arranged an entertaining programme of games, and provided suitable prizes for the fortunate contestants.

The prize winners were as follows:

In the painters' race Charles Ruch won first prize and John Ryan carried off second honors.

Miss Maggie Riley won the J. F. Cosgrove prize in the young ladies' race. In the children's contest Dennis Donovan's daughter came out ahead, and young Murphy of Roath street took the boys' race.

An American half dollar of the issue of 1796 is worth 60 times its original value to collectors.

DIRECTUM'S GREAT PERFORMANCE.

A New Record Established at Fleetwood Park

A MILE IN 2.07

Track in Fine Condition—Last Day's Attendance Was 12,000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The trotting meeting, which terminated today at Fleetwood park, was one of the most brilliant of the many trotting meetings given this year. The attendance today was 12,000 and the track was in fine condition. The feature of the day was the performance of Directum, the greatest of all trotting stallions, who trotted a mile against time with a running mate in 2 07 and established a new record.

The fractional time was as follows: The quarter was reached in 30 seconds; half 1 03¼; three-quarters in 1.35¼; mile in 2 07.

In the 2 20 trot Favor took one heat, but Nellie McGregor, the favorite, easily captured the next three and the race.

The yearling trot was won by Princess Clara in 2 34, the best time ever made in the east by a yearling.

At Saugus Park.

BOSTON, Sept. 4.—There were 5000 people at Franklin park, Saugus. The weather was perfect, track good and eleven fine heats were trotted. Summary:

2 21 class trotting, purse $600.

Ben H., b. g.	1	1	7	1
Twang, br. s.	3	2	1	3
Lady Thompson, g. m.	2	3	2	4
J. M. T., b. m.	7	4	6	2
King Darlington, b. s.	7	5	5	3
Silver Thread, b. m.	5	6	4	5
Little Ethan, b. g.	10	7	10	6
Addie L., b. m.	6	10	8	9

Time, 2.22, 2.19¼, 2.20¼, 2.21¾.

2 18 class, pacing, purse $600.

Sabattis, b. m.	2	1	1	1
Claybourne, b. m.	1	4	8	8
Alpeo, b. s.	3	2	5	3
Frank P., b. g.	6	4	2	4
Snowman, ch. g.	8	9	7	2
Psyche, rd. m.	5	3	4	7
Charlie P., ch. g.	4	7	8	6

Time, 2.18¼, 2.18¼, 2.20, 2.20½.

2 32 class, purse, $600.

King Charles, b. s.	1	1	1
Kiste, blk m.	2	2	4
Prince G., b. g.	3	4	3
St. James, b'k. g.	4	3	4
Coiffeur, blk. s.	dr.

Time—2.28, 2.31, 2.30.

REGATTA AT BOSTON.

Annual Fall Championship Rowing Events on Charles River.

BOSTON, Sept. 4.—In the annual fall championship regatta of the New England Amateur Rowing association held on Charles River today, the entire programme was carried out without a hitch. The barge race was two miles with a turn, the eight-oared race 1½ miles straightaway, the canoe race one mile with a turn, and the others 1½ miles with a turn. The following is a summary of the events:

Single canoe—Won by David Butterick, Arlington. Clarence Ensign, Springfield, capsized. No time taken.

Junior singles—Won by Niall Buckley, West Lynn. No time taken.

Intermediate single scull race—Won by Joseph J. Whitehead, Columbian association, East Boston. Time, 12 53.

Senior single sculls—Won by Edwin Hedley, Passaic B. C., Newark, N. J. Time, 11 55.

Junior four-oared working boats—Won by West Lynn B. C. Time, 11 12.

Senior double scull shells, won by Riverside B. C., Cambridge. Time, 11 14.

Double scull shells, junior, won by Union B. C., Boston. Time, 12 05.

Senior four oared shells, won by Riverside B. C., Cambridge. Time, 11 15.

Junior four-oared shells, won by Arlington B. C. Time, 10 53.

Senior four oared working boats, won by West Lynn B. C. Time, 10 35.

Junior eight-oared shells, won by the Wachusetts, Worcester. Time, 8 18.

Senior eight-oared shells, won by Columbian Rowing association of East Boston—a row-over. No time taken.

Twelve-oared barge race, won by the Charles River crew of the West End.

Fatal Railroad Accident at Middletown.

MIDDLETOWN, Sept. 4.—Sadie, a 5 year-old daughter of Mrs. William Gleeson of Green street and Elisa Bell, a Swedish girl of about the same age, were struck by the switching engine in the yards of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad at the foot of Green street this morning. The Gleeson girl had both legs broken. The Bell girl had three fingers on her right hand cut off and may have a fractured skull. The children live in the vicinity of the tracks and started to cross just ahead of the engine. It is doubtful if the Bell girl recovers. No blame is attached to Engineer Smith. Dr. Edgerton is attending the patients.

Alleged Malpractice Case at Willimantic.

WILLIMANTIC, Sept. 4.—Dr. Weldon was called to "The Oaks" last night to attend Flora M. Lillie, formerly Miss Chappell of Lebanon. He pronounced her sickness caused by malpractice; said she was dying and refused to prescribe. This morning the woman died. Coroner Bill was summoned and will hold an inquest this afternoon.

Mrs. Lillie's attorney has been threatening to bring a breach of promise suit for some time against a prominent man here who recently married and had his property placed in his wife's name. The gentleman declared it an attempt to blackmail.

Jerome Bonaparte Dead.

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 4.—Jerome Bonaparte died at his summer home at Pride's Crossing at 9 30 last night

SPECIAL.

ROYAL BAKING
POWDER.
Absolutely Pure

A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—[Latest U. S. Government Food Report.
Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,
VETERINARIAN,
Office 10 Bath Street. Office hours 1.30-4.
mar31d Telephone 30-12.

A Bill to Pension Disabled Government Employes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—A bill has been prepared and will be introduced in the senate and house simultaneously, granting a disability pension to government employes, and providing compensation for injuries received in the line of duty. Widows and minor children of employes killed while in the service of the government shall also be pensioned.

Disreputable Houses Raided.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 4.—The police made a general raid upon the disreputable houses in this city tonight. Five were visited and a large number of inmates captured.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

GUNS
EATON, CHASE & CO.
HAVE A FINE STOCK OF GUNS,
Rifles and Ammunition,
Are Agents for the sale of
"Dupont's" Celebrated Gunpowder,
and will guarantee to give you
MORE FOR YOUR MONEY
than any other house.
EATON, CHASE & CO.,
HARDWARE DEALERS, Commerce Street.
sept4daw

TURNER'S Great Consumption Cure and Indian Remedy—Sure cure for a Cough, Cold, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Throat and Lung troubles, the worst cases of consumption have been cured by this Wonderful Remedy. 50 and 25c per bottle. For sale by Appley & Jordan, Gr cers, 56 Central wharf. L. C. TURNER, sole proprietor, Norwich, Conn. aug21d

Now is the time that the public should secure their houses from the invasion of sneak thieves. You will find Wood's Patent Fastener just the thing. He is ready to put them on wherever wanted. All orders promptly attended to. Address 173 East Broad st., Norwich, Conn., ADOLPHUS MUSH. For sale by Preston Brothers. aug24d

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
CONSULT DR. E. J. LEWIS,
189 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I.
Specialist on private Chronic Diseases of men. Cure guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. Office hours 9 to 2 and 4 to 8. Week days, 10 to 2 and 5 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines, $5. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks forwarded free.) jy15d

On Monday, Sept. 4, and during the rest of the season, the fare to Watch Hill and return on Steamer Ella will be 50c.
JAMES WALKER, Manager.
sept4d

FOR SIGNS OR AWNINGS
It Will Pay You to See J. W. MALLETT
108 Broadway, next to Theatre.

MANICURE and CHIROPODIST,
SHAMPOOING,
Hair Cutting and Curling, Face Massage.
MISS H. A. GAVITT.
apr7TuTh8 Room 10, Shannon Building

DIAMONDS
Mounted and repaired in first-class shape.
W. S. ROBERTSON,
227 Main Street,
may9TuTh8 Over N. & R. R. Office

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,
CALL AT
FRISWELL'S,
who has had 30 years experience, and latest improved method, and be properly fitted with Spectacles and Eye Glasses.
jy18d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.

Ladies' Trimmed Hats at 98c.
Untrimmed Hats from 10c up.
$1.50 will buy a Ladies' Trimmed White Sailor. They are all the go.
Veilings from 10c a yard up.
Children's White Dresses 25c, worth 50c.
Infants' Pink and Blue Striped Flannel Jackets at 25c, reduced from 50.
Corsets in White and Red at 50c, were $1.
A few more of the 5c Stamped Splashers and Tray Cloths.
Also a large line of Stamped Bureau Scarfs, Pillow Shams, Table Covers, etc., at
B. GOTTHELF & CO.
199 MAIN STREET.
aug24d Wholesale and Retail.

Cholera Infantum
The most dreaded of all children's complaints prevented by using
RUSSELL'S
White Drops
FOR SALE BY [illegible] etc. All druggists.
aug24d

AMUSEMENTS.

WELCOME TO THE WIGWAM!
THE LADIES OF THE
MOHEGAN SEWING SOCIETY
WILL HOLD THEIR
THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL FESTIVAL
Wednesday and Thursday,
Sept. 6 and 7, 1893.
Bedquilts, Baskets, Aprons, Fancy Articles, both useful and ornamental. Chowder, Succotash, Yokeag, Ice Cream, Cake and Confectionery will be offered for sale. We would respectfully invite our friends and patrons to give us a call. Teams will be at depot to convey passengers, free of charge, from the Depot to the church. ADMISSION 15 CENTS. N. B.—If said day be stormy, the sale will take place next fair week day. sept2d

WANTS.

WANTED—3 or 4 good, steady Agents, with commission or salary. Inquire of C. H. MARTIN, Hanover, Ct. sep1Sd

WANTED.

A Competent Girl for General Housework. References required. Apply at this office. aug1Sd

MRS. AMANDA ANDERSON WILL receive wash for private families at her home No. 21, cor. 4th and Main streets, Greeneville. Will do first-class work. [aug25d

WANTED.

A bright, active young man as DryGoods Salesman. Apply to or address the New York Store, JOHNSTON & BRUETS, aug31d 124 State St., New London, Conn.

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN

Can find employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to COLCHESTER RUBBER CO., jy29dw Colchester, Conn.

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,

No. 4 Franklin Square.

Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All modern improvements. Terms reasonable. jy1dd C. A. BURLINGHAM.

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER, No. 7 Water St.

Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods. je1dd

WANTED.

Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers. Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn. may1d

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

TALKING

About PIANOS you are in the them. Do you want a Piano? Then come and hear one of the purest and finest toned Pianos in the market. Price Low. Also Organs, and a stock of fine Violins, including the Miller Violins, on hand. A fine New Upright Piano to rent. Will be glad to see you at 57 Williams street. GEO. E. MARTIN.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

George A. Kies

Will resume lessons on and after

FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, 1893.

aug30dw

CAR NEW STRAW,

(in bundles) just received.

O. J. Wolcott.

sep1d1w

American House Hack, Livery, Boarding & Feeding Stables.

Large Hitching Sheds by the hitch or year. Fine Coaches, Landaus and Cabs for weddings, funerals, parties and theater work. Also a fine line of LADIES' and GENTLEMEN'S DRIVING HORSES, not afraid of Electric Cars, with any style of Carriage desired. Best of attention paid to all orders. Telephone connection 25—3. A 1 work done at moderate prices. Stables in rear of Hotel on Shetucket St. All orders left in the hotel Office will receive prompt attention. aug1d C. E. BEADY.

WHY DO

Ferris Hams and Bacon

Lead all other Sugar-Cured Hams in quality and flavor?

Because they are the Best.

Insist on having them. If your butcher don't keep them, call at

C. D. Browning & Co.'s,

aug1d No. 25 SIXTH STREET.

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.

H. M. BREWSTER

will do it for you very Cheap

22 Water Street. aug29d

Steamer : Chelsea.

Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.

Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M.

aug18d

The Connecticut Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,

Sole agents in Norwich for the

New England Felt and Roofing Co.

BEE HIVE BRAND

Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.

Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn.

apr6d

FREE!

If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively upon many roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill roofs in the vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron paper and shingled. One great advantage of the Paint is that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 5c per square foot, Three Ply at 4c per square foot, and Two Ply at 3c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Dressing Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Cellars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, Water Street; H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn., P. O. Box 11. Residence 53 Oak Street. jy1d

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE

— OF —

Norwich Street Railway Co.,

Taft., Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side.	Franklin Sq., Falls and Bean Hill.
[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]

[illegible]

novdd E. P. SHAW, Jr., Supt

LOCAL NOTICES.

Gold watch lost.

Get your fire wood at the Park wood yard, 261 Franklin street.

Welcome A. Smith sells the White Lion brand of flour wholesale and retail.

Lovell Brothers are selling second-hand school books at half price. See advertisement.

Smith & Gilbert have just what you are looking for in the way of a fall suit or overcoat.

If you are going to the World's fair be sure and get an accident ticket before leaving home of J. Palmer Story.

A large line of remnants of cloakings and dress goods can be found at the Hallville mills store at the lowest prices yet quoted.

All school books and school supplies can be found at Noyes & Davis'. They have a large number of second-hand books in good condition at greatly reduced prices.

Cranston & Co. offer new and second-hand books at the lowest prices, and offer the best bargains for second-hand books in exchange or for cash. Bargains in school supplies.

T. E. McClenathan has received the Infanta hat in light weight felt, in navy and black, also in velvet and cloth. This is the hat which takes the place of the Sailor. See advertisement.

It is worth something to know where money can be saved in times like the present. Housekeepers are always spending money for things necessary or seasonable; and those who have need of anything in the line of fruit jars, jelly glasses, tumblers or crockery should not fail to call at Whitney's, 41 Broadway, Central building. It is generally profitable to do so when anything is needed in the line of housefurnishing goods or crockery.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

City Court—Kellogg, Judge.

In the city court, Monday, Michael Reardon was arraigned before Judge Kellogg for using abusive language to an officer of the law. He went to jail in default of $10 and costs, $15 93.

Officers Elected.

At the closing session of the Connecticut Baptist Bible School union, held at Crescent Beach, the following officers were elected for the following year: President, Rev. J. S James, D. D., of Hartford; vice presidents, Rev. J. W. Ashworth of Putnam, the Hon. W. S Bronson of Hartford, the Rev. E C Sage, D. D., of New Haven, the Rev. H. W. Pinkham of Bridgeport, Deacon B G. Smith of Norwich, and Prof J. K. Buckiye of Mystic; secretary, the Rev. Robert B. Fisher of Hartford; treasurer and musical director, Charles Edward Prior of Jewett city. The meetings of the union this year have been largely attended, and the enthusiasm was greater than for many years previous. Norwich was well represented.

A WATER STREET BURGLAR.

Mrs. Joseph Connor Frightens an Intruder from Her House.

A stranger with burglarious intentions was frightened away without booty from the house of Joseph Connor, the Water street liquor and grocery dealer, Sunday night. Mrs. Connor, who was alone with her daughter in the house at the time, had occasion to go into a bed room, when she discovered the intruder industriously ransacking a bureau drawer. On her appearance the man ran to the window, and jumping to the ground, disappeared unidentified.

There was a large sum of money in the room, which would undoubtedly have been purloined but for Mrs. Connor's timely arrival on the scene. As it was, nothing of value was missing.

THE REV. MR. SELDEN'S CALL.

Springfield Regrets his Departure From that City to Albany.

The Springfield Republican says concerning the Rev. Mr. Selden's retirement from that city to Albany: "The personality and influence of the Rev. Mr. Selden will be missed, not only by the church he has served so well but by the community. In the church he has filled the delicate position of active and associate pastor with rare tact and unselfish interest. His relations with the Rev. Dr. Buckingham, the veteran and loved pastor, have been filial and loyal. Mr Selden is about 45 years old, and the South church is his second congregation. A native of Norwich, Conn., he was fitted for college in the well-known academy there, and was graduated from Yale in 1870. After a theological course at Andover he was for twelve years pastor of the First Congregational church at Manchester, N. H., and resigned to accept his duties in this city in 1885. His relations with the people have been most cordial, and his power of attracting men and cementing warm friendships has extended outside the church and denomination. The church is harmonious and united, and his pastorate has been a most happy one. The Albany church, although differing somewhat in government from the Congregational forms, holds practically the same beliefs in doctrine and faith.

"At the communion service in the afternoon the Rev. Dr. Buckingham made fitting allusion to the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Selden, and the loss it would be to the church, adding counsel to the members regarding their reception of such changes."

Tolland County's Agricultural Society.

The races of the eastern Connecticut trotting circuit open in Rockville September 12, 13 and 14, in connection with the annual fair of the Tolland County Agricultural society. The purses have been largely increased this year and aggregate $10,000, and it is expected that the large purses offered this season will attract many entries. The purses offered for the Rockville races amount to $3,000, and are as follows:

First day—Gentlemen's driving horses without record, $150; 3 00 class, pace and trot, $150.

Second day—2 50 class, trot, purse $300; 2 27 class, trot and pace, purse $300; running race, purse $101.

Third day—2 38 class, trot and pace, purse $300; 2 32 class, trot and pace, purse $300; free-for-all, trot and pace, purse $300; running race, purse $100; appropriation for special attractions, $600.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

THE WEEKLY SUMMARY.

Gain in Real Estate Sales, but a Prevailing Dullness.

The summary of THE WEEKLY RECORD for the past week shows a gain over the previous week in real estate sales and an equal number with the corresponding week of last year. Nevertheless it is a dull period in real estate circles. The details are as follows:

Real estate sales—New Haven 14, Bridgeport 14, Hartford 2, Waterbury 9, Meriden 3, New Britain 7, Middletown 3, Norwich 11, New London 3, Danbury 5, Norwalk 16, Shelton 3.

Real estate mortgages—New Haven $40,827, Bridgeport $40 391, Hartford $34,840, Waterbury $9 793, Meriden $3 175, Norwich $27 300, New London $39,500, Danbury $7 580, Norwalk $35,726, Shelton $900

The total number of sales last week was 93, as compared with 78 for the preceding week and 93 for the corresponding week last year. The total of recorded mortgages is $231,623 against $305,494 the preceding week and $167 816 for the corresponding week last year.

For the corresponding week last year New Haven reported 17 sales, Bridgeport 17, Hartford 14, Waterbury 17, Meriden 4, New Britain 3, Middletown 3, Norwich 4, New London 2, Danbury 5, Norwalk 10, Ansonia 1.

The mortgages for the same week were: New Haven $30 167, Bridgeport $44,699, Hartford $35 500, Waterbury $27 350, Meriden $14 400, New Britain $16 464, Middletown $1,600, Norwich $3 000, New London $1,300, Danbury $3 530, Norwalk $4,163, Ansonia $4,500, Derby $1,600.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

PURE WATER.

Puritan and Cold Spring Water Examined With Satisfying Results.

The recent lease of the Puritan spring, situated just north of Thamesville, by Palmer G. Whipple, and its proposed adoption to household uses, recalls a few facts relating to the Cold Spring in Preston.

Two years ago it was proposed to utilize the water of the Preston spring for use in the soda water fountains in several pharmacies. At that time Mr. Charles F. Engler made a careful examination of the spring, and found it to be of a high degree of purity. The spring is upon the land of Wm. A. Bedent, the tallow chandler, within a quarter of a mile of the center of the city, and upon the edge of the woods to which Hammond avenue is the entrance. Near it are the houses where the bait fish, brought from the coves along the river are kept for winter use, and for which Chester W. Barnes finds a ready market.

The Puritan spring, however, is by its thorough analysis, the purest water in this vicinity. About the time Mr. Engler made his examination of the Preston spring water, that of the Puritan spring was analyzed by Dr. E. P. Keep and M. E Jensen of the Academy faculty, and it was then found that in one gallon of the water only fifty five ten thousandths of a grain of organic matter could be found. Finally Mr. E H. Beckwith, the owner of the land upon which the spring is located, sent a sample of the water to State Chemist Herbert E. Smith for examination. The result was highly creditable to the water of Puritan spring.

Dr. S. L Geer has also subjected the water to a very critical test, a comparison with Poland water, and believes that it is purer than its famous rival. Placing a quantity of each in two sealed glass jars, he treated each with a chemical preparation calculated to bring to the surface all impure matter. The Poland water could not long withstand the test, but that of the Norwich spring retained its natural state for a fortnight.

Mr. H. B Winship of Laurel Hill avenue has in his possession the printed figures of an analysis of the water, and even then it was pronounced, as alone, "as pure as water can be."

TAFTVILLE.

Albert Boardman leaves for New Britain Monday to attend the normal school.

Fred Spencer and wife of South Manchester are visiting William Sanderson.

Miss Clara Larkin, who has been visiting friends here, has returned to South Windham.

Arthur Dawson of Providence is visiting his parents.

Jennie Goldsborough of Willimantic is visiting Ida M Weller.

Mr. and Mrs. William Booth are visiting relatives in Providence.

Not to Teach.

Miss Agnes Coyle, a popular and successful teacher in the West Chelsea district, will not resume her duties as a teacher. Miss Coyle was best known in Pearl street, and from parents and children received marked evidence of sincere regard and affection.

The Union Sunday School Picnic.

Labor day was pleasantly commemorated on the Sunnyside grounds, Monday afternoon, when the members of the Union Sunday school met for a picnic and a general good time. About two hundred of the members and their friends enjoyed a chowder prepared by Messrs. Brown, Turner and Baker, the ladies, under direction of Mrs. Henry Sweet, serving light refreshments with the hospitality for which this neighborhood is noted.

Held for Trial.

Charles Shea, the burglar who entered Benjamin M. Carroll's house on Huntington street, New London, Aug 31, while the family was absent attending a funeral, was brought before the police court Monday morning, his case having been adjourned from Friday. He was charged with statutory burglary, and pleaded not guilty. The court found that probable cause existed for the support of the complaint, and he was bound over under $500 bonds for trial at the September session of the superior court.

Appraisers Appointed.

Daniel D. Latham, George C. Strong and Thomas W. Potter have been appointed by the superior court as a committee of appraisement on the land matter concerning the Truman's Brook valley sewer in controversy between George F. and President M. Rogers and the city of New London. During the pendency of proceedings Contractor Driesbeck is pushing along his work on other parts of the sewer.

"Prince" Williams' Monument.

The monument erected to the memory of George Washington Williams, known as "Prince" Williams, son of "Tom" (King) Williams, is a very imposing shaft. It is of light Barre granite, and is surmounted by a bronze horse twenty-two inches high. The monument is of five pieces, and the third, which is the ornamental piece, bears this inscription: "George Washington Williams, died February 1, 1891, aged 58 years." The monument stands in the center of a beautiful burying lot in the northeast corner of the Center cemetery and will attract considerable attention. The design and workmanship, together with the erection, is that of John Hanna of New Britain.—New Britain Record.

GIFTS ACKNOWLEDGED.

Rock Nook Home Donations During July and August.

The United Workers acknowledged the following gifts to the Rock Nook home, received during July and August:

From Mrs. D. A. Wells, Mrs. C. P. Cogswell, Mrs. Twerdy, Mrs. Dr. Brewer, Mr John Mitchell and other friends, $55 56.

Also from George E. Kumpf (receipted bill), $2 77; from Capt. Walker, excursion on steamer Ella; from the Eureka club, a basket of peaches; clothing, books, fruit and ice cream from Mrs J. P Barstow, Master Edward Ely, Mrs. Fairbrother, Mrs. E D Fuller, Misses Gilman, Miss Holt, Mr. E D Johnson, Mr L. W. Lee, Miss Lee, Miss Merriman, Mrs John Mitchell, Miss Sutherland, Mrs. Rogers and Mr. George Williams, and doll's playhouse from Faith and Delia Leavens.

LOUISA G. LANE, Secretary.

Sept 3, 1893.

SHRIVELLED FOLIAGE.

Niantic a Lonesome Place.

The two blows of the past ten days distributed salt all over the trees and shrubs in Niantic, and in some degree for three miles inland, says The New London Day, destroying the foliage as though a hard frost had done the job.

It has made Niantic look as desolate as a desert and hurried along the signs of fall at least two months. There was a heavy rain before the blow and but little during the height of the gale, so that the salt stuck with nothing to wash it off. The second blow was not accompanied with rain and that made the work complete.

This gives color to the stories of the great September gale of 1815, when, as it is told, the trees in Colchester felt the influence of the gale in the same way and the leaves were affected in the same manner.

It was a great gale, the greatest of the century, no doubt, in this locality. On Fishers Island all the big trees were blown down, and they never grew again. Niantic, with the militia gone and the foliage blasted, is lonesome enough to look upon.

WOMEN MAY VOTE.

Have Equal Voice in School Elections and Meetings.

Following is the text of the new Connecticut school law:

Section 1. Every woman who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, and shall have resided in the United States for twenty-one years, with the intention of permanently residing, and in any town in this state for one year next preceding shall have the right to vote in any meeting of any school district of such town in which she shall then reside, and shall have resided for the preceding six months, and in all meetings of such town upon matters relating to the public schools within said town, and in the election of all officers of said towns whose duties relate exclusively to public schools.

Sec. 2 If the vote of any woman, offering to vote under the provisions of the foregoing section, shall be challenged by a legal voter at any such meeting or election, the presiding officer at such meeting or election shall reject her vote unless she shall make oath before such presiding officer, or some magistrate designated by him, that she has the qualifications prescribed in the foregoing section, and is entitled to vote at such meeting or election; and it shall be the duty of such presiding officer or magistrate to administer such oath at her request. Any woman who, after taking such oath, shall knowingly vote illegally at such meeting or election shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for thirty days.

Sec 3 In all elections for school officers in any town that is a school district all women entitled under this act to vote in such school district shall be allowed to cast ballots, either written or printed, and without being enclosed in envelopes.

Sec. 4. The provisions of section 2170 of the general statutes (relating to registration of voters) shall not apply to women authorized to vote by this act.

Midwives Must Register.

It is not generally known that midwives as well as physicians are compelled to have their names registered in the office of the state board of health in New Haven. Those midwives who neglect to get their names registered before October 1 must stand an examination before they can practice.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

COUSIN BEN FOLSOM'S SPEECH.

A Full Report in Which He Outlined the Democratic Policy.

[Published by Request.]

The following is the full and complete text of the speech of the United States consul to Sheffield, Mr. Benjamin Folsom, a cousin of the democratic president, Grover Cleveland, as delivered in the Cutler's hall, Sheffield, England, on the Fourth of July, 1893, and reported in The Sheffield and Rotherham Independent of Wednesday, July 5, 1893:

The chairman, Mr. Benjamin Folsom, United States consul to Sheffield, who was loudly cheered, said:

I ask you to fill your glasses for the first toast I have to give you. I ask you to drink to the queen and the president [applause] — she the best beloved of queens; he the most honest and upright of presidents. [Applause]

The toast was enthusiastically honored.

The chairman, again rising, said: Mr. Mayor, Mr Master Cutler and friends:—It is customary in my country on this day to inflict an oration upon as many innocent and unoffending people as the orator can get within the sound of his voice. [Laughter.] It is not my intention to bore you with an oration today, but I wish to tell you why you are here. [Hear, hear and laughter] It is because you are big hearted, loyal, thorough Englishmen. It is because you love and admire courage and valor whenever and wherever they may be shown. [Hear, hear] On the fourth day of July, 1776, there was signed by the American representatives gathered together in congress, one of the most remarkable documents that has ever had existence. For more than two years these loyal, faithful British subjects had been beseeching their king to grant them such privileges as today would not have to be asked for. [Hear, hear]

At length it became necessary that these English subjects should assume the control and responsibility of their own affairs. They signed the Declaration of Independence upon the fourth of July, 1776, and it was followed by seven years of weary, wasting war. That war would scarcely be considered today as more than a skirmish or guerilla fighting, for at that time the total population of the thirteen colonies amounted to only a few over three million souls. The fighting force that was placed in the field to contend against the mother country was not so great as the men who were killed on the field of battle in the struggle which took place in the years that followed.

Today we can all look back upon the conflict, and we can all see that it terminated for the best interests of the world. (Applause.) The spirit of enterprise which was given to the United States by the new birth would not have been there had they been separate and dependent colonies. I need not linger upon the subject. There are many things I should like to say. There are two or three practical things I can say to you, which are of more importance than any resume of our history. England's greatest customer has been the United States; and in spite of tariffs that have been raised against foreign countries, there is, and must continue to be, a great and gigantic trade flowing from England to America. (Hear, hear)

You have passed the worst period; you have crossed the highest barrier that can be raised between the United States and England in the way of trade obstruction. [Applause] I will tell you why this is: For the first time since 1860 the democratic party, which has been the party of free trade, is for the first time in power, not only in the executive, but in both the legislative branches [Applause.] During the former term of Mr. Cleveland he was blocked by the senate standing between him and the house of representatives, which was democratic, and therefore no bill could be passed which was not in the shape of a compromise. When the struggle came on for the presidential election last year the democratic party for the first time in its history, took fair and square ground, and made a straight out-and-out issue between protection and tariff for revenue only. [Hear, hear.]

If you will pardon me, I will read to you the two slight planks in the democratic platform upon which the president of the United States was elected, and upon which the congress which is now in power, and which is to be convened upon the 7th of next month, was elected, and you will see that so soon as the financial question is disposed of, which is merely a preliminary and must be disposed of before the regular meeting of congress, the next great question is the tariff in which you are interested, and which the president and both houses of congress are pledged to reduce. [Applause] The democratic platform sets forth, upon which Mr Cleveland was elected, says:

"We denounce republican protection as a fraud; a robber of the great majority of the American people for a few. We declare it to be a fundamental principle of the democratic party that the federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purposes of revenue only, and we demand that the collection of such taxes shall be limited to the necessities of the government when honestly and economically administered. We denounce the McKinley tariff law, enacted by the Fifty-first congress, as the culminating atrocity of class legislation; and we indorse the efforts made by the democrats of the present congress to modify its most oppressive features in the direction of free raw materials and the cheaper manufactured goods that enter into general consumption; and we promise its repeal as one of the beneficent results that will follow the action of the people in intrusting power to the democratic party. Since the McKinley tariff went into operation there have been ten reductions of the wages of laboring men to one increase. We deny that there has been any increase of prosperity to the country since the tariff went into operation, and we point to the dullness and distress, the wage reductions and strikes in the iron trade as the best possible evidence that no such prosperity has resulted from the McKinley tariff."

I am not saying one word as to whether protection or free trade, or a tariff for revenue only, is the best thing for the United States or not. I am simply giving you the facts, and you can judge for yourselves. [Applause] In closing my career in Sheffield as consul of the United States, it affords me satisfaction to think that before twelve months has rolled by Sheffield will not be subjected to the onerous and oppressive tariff duties that have restricted her trade. [Applause.] I further want to thank you each one individually for coming here today, for showing your broad-mindedness, for showing your liberality, for showing your friendship, not only to me, but to my country. [Applause.]

DREAMS THAT COME.

STRANGE FANTASIES OF THE DAY TROUBLE US IN SLEEP.

A Few Examples of Disturbed Slumber That Illustrate a Bright Remark Made by an Illustrious Poet—Remarkable Experiences in Sleep.

A lawyer who had been overworked rose in his sleep, went into the hall of his house and discharged a pistol. The household hurried to the place and found him at the head of the stairway, awake, but much bewildered. He had dreamed of burglars and had gone to attack them. One member of the family slept through the noise. When he came into the dining room—before he had heard of the events of the night—he complained that his sleep had been much disturbed. He had dreamed that he had been condemned to be shot, that he had been led to the place of execution and had fallen senseless when the guns were fired.

A lady dreamed that a man came into her room, poured some water into a basin, carried the splashing water to her bedside and began to sprinkle it over her. She awoke and heard a loud splashing. At first she was motionless with fear, but presently she lighted a candle and went to the basin, where she found a mouse making frantic efforts to get out of the water.

Another dreamed that she had a severe earache, that she rose, unlocked a door that separated her room from one in which two children slept and went to a shelf where was a lotion which she applied to her ear. When she awoke, she found herself in her own bed and without pain. The door was still locked, but in a few minutes one of the children began to cry that his ear ached, and she rose and went to the shelf for the lotion.

A young man dreamed that he was in his office, busy with a troublesome estimate, when a woman came in with a screaming baby and began to walk rapidly up and down the room, so that it was impossible for the calculator to remember his figures. Presently the woman thrust the child into his arms, and he was so startled by this that he awoke, but the screams still troubled his ears, for a mother in a neighboring room was walking about vainly trying to quiet a crying child.

Another incident appears to be a case of thought transference. Several years after the death of her husband, a widow, lying awake one night, recalled vividly some scenes of her husband's last illness. Presently her daughter, who was beside her, awoke and said, "Oh, mamma, I have been going over in my dreams all the scenes of papa's illness." She then told her dream, in which the scenes were almost the counterpart of those that had been recalled by her mother.

Dreamers sometimes answer questions and carry on more or less coherent conversations.

A lady had a summer cottage on an island in Muskoka. One night her sons were stormstaid on the mainland, and a young English visitor went to sleep full of apprehension that Indians might visit the house while their protectors were absent.

In the night the hostess was suddenly roused by some one clutching her arm, and when she opened her eyes she saw her guest standing by the bedside.

"Oh, Mrs. Laughton, Mrs. Laughton" exclaimed the girl in a hoarse whisper, "there's a man at the window—an Indian He's gone to get something to climb in by."

The next moment Eva was fumbling about on the floor.

"What are you doing?" asked Mrs. Laughton.

"I have some liniment in my valise," was the answer. "I'm going to get it out, and when he puts his head through the window again I'll throw it in his eyes."

Mrs. Laughton, who was not nervous, began to laugh, but Eva paid no attention and presently asked, "Where's the button hook?"

"What do you want it for?"

"Why, Mrs. Laughton," said Eva aloud, and in a very indignant tone, "do you think I would allow myself to be seen anywhere with my shoes unbuttoned? No man would respect that kind of girl."

In the morning when Mrs. Laughton awoke and looked across the room to Eva's bed she saw the girl sitting up, gazing with dismay at her crookedly buttoned shoes in which she had slept. She had no recollection of the remarks she had made in the night, and it was evident that she had been asleep all the time.

One night in camp I heard a peculiar sound near the middle of the tent, and by the dim light I saw one of the campers apparently trying to climb up the tentpole.

"What are you doing?" I asked.

"There's a snake in my bed," she answered, "so I'm going to sleep up there."

"Up there!"

"Yes, why not? It will be more comfortable."

Then, with a sudden change of tone, she exclaimed, "I forgot to say my prayers." But instead of kneeling she picked her way through the tent to the foot of one of the beds and lay there till morning. She did not remember the conversation of the night, but told us that she had a habit of talking in her sleep, and that she had often conversed with her sisters while she was sleeping soundly.—M. Bourchier Sanford in Kate Field's Washington.

Summary Treatment.

Old Uncle Gabe's young masters love to mystify him with long words, which he will never own that he does not understand.

One day one of them said to him: "Uncle Gabe, if you and your wife were walking down the street and a man should come up and recognise you, what would you do?"

"I'd knock him down," promptly returned Uncle Gabe.—Harper's Bazar.

Married Over Sixty Years.

John Ewing and wife of Warwick, Chester county, have been wedded 65 years; William W. Rhoads and wife of Pottstown were married Nov. 20, 1829, nearly 64 years ago, and David Wells and wife of North Coventry, Chester county, were married March 26, 1830, over 63 years since.—Cor. Philadelphia Ledger.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Lee & Osgood. [nov15tuthsaw

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood.—Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers.—For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters—entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.—Price 50 cts. and $1 00 per bottle at Lee & Osgood's Drugstore.

5 dec15tuthsaw

It Should Be in Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free Trial Bottles at Lee & Osgood's Drug Store. Large bottles, 50c. and $1 00.

5 dec15tuthsaw

MARKETS

Fresh Boiled Lobsters.

Also CHOICE OYSTERS, at

POWERS BROS'.

Telephone 23-4. sep1d

SEE WHAT YOU CAN BUY FOR CASH!

Porterhouse Steak	20c
Sirloin Steak	18c
Round Steak	12c
Shoulder Steak	10c

JAMES DAWSON, JR.,

aug29d 99 MAIN ST.

LAMB and CHICKEN

— AT —

J. D. Murphy's,

jy8d MARKET STREET.

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. H. VAUGHN & SONS

IRON CASTINGS.

aug1d FERRY ST., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON

of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for immediate delivery.

REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Noble" brand.

SHEET IRON. Galvanized "B. B." Black and Plate.

STEEL. "Black Diamond" and "Silver," warranted Cast Steel. Machinery Steel, Tire Steel, Calking Steel.

FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.

IRON AND STEEL I BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.

A. T. CONVERSE,

Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf, may18d 22 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.

Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Woolen Machinery, Mill Gearing, Shaftings, Pulley Hangers etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds, Gearing, Cuttings, Forgings and Castings at short notice, 129 Franklin Street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second-hand machines bought and sold on commission. 21dd

SADLERY, ETC.

LANE BROS.

— Have a —

Seven-Foot Delivery Wagon

Which you can turn around in a ten-foot circle.

67—69 Water St.

aug1d

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,

AT BOTTOM PRICES

At 115 Main St., J. G. STANDISH,

jy1d

REMOVAL.

We have removed

From 11 to 31 Chestnut St.

Where we have superior facilities for doing all kinds of work in our line.

Steam Carpet Cleaning.

Ladies' garments, cloth of all descriptions dyed. Dyeing feathers a specialty. Promptness and thoroughness guaranteed.

WILSON BROS.

—IF YOU—

Want money,
Want a cook,
Want boarders,
Want a partner,
Want a situation,
Want a servant girl,
Want to sell a farm,
Want to sell a house,
Want to rent a house,
Want to exchange anything,
Want to sell plants or grain,
Want to sell groceries or drugs,
Want to sell or trade anything,
Want to find customers for anything,
Want to sell or buy horses, mules, or cattle.

Advertise

IN THE BULLETIN.

WHY BABIES DIE.

Difficulties of Feeding at This Season.

One Food That Meets the Tests of a Perfect Diet.

What Science Has Done to Help Mothers.

Lactated Food Fulfils All Requirements.

September is a Serious Month Where It Is Not Used.

Babies die, nine times out of ten, from improper feeding.

At this season indigestion, diarrhea, and cholera infantum do their fearful work quickly.

Mothers, whose children have lived through August, too often think that the great peril is over, and often grow careless in attention to baby's diet. But this is a serious month for children, as the high death rate for September shows.

The mournful spectacle is presented of infants pining away and dying from causes which might be avoided if mothers knew more about the great advances of science in infant feeding.

Physicians and nurses who have had large experience with sick children in cities and towns emphasize the fact that [illegible] where lactated food is used [illegible] disease is a most significant [illegible].

Lactated food is prepared with the [illegible] scientific knowledge that nothing [illegible] can be done than to follow nature as closely as possible in the feeding of [illegible]. Lactated food is most like mother's milk. It has saved the lives of thousands of little ones. It is within the reach of all. Use it. sep5d

INSURANCE.

"MY PROPOSITION"

Is to write up a $5,000 Life Insurance Policy on any good risk in the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL. Does not pay the largest DIVIDENDS [illegible] and PAID-UP INSURANCE [illegible] above a 5 Per Cent. Basis [illegible] any other company.

W. H. PROTHERO, - - Agent. aug14TuF

L. and L. and G.

[illegible] IRVING ROYCE, Agent. augdd

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y

Norwich, England. Organized 1797.

F. TARRANT, Agt., 35 MAIN STREET.

[illegible] STATEMENT OF THE WEST. [illegible] ASSURANCE COMPANY, JAN. [illegible] UNITED STATES BRANCH.

—ASSETS.—

[illegible]

—LIABILITIES.—

[illegible]

F. TARRANT, Agent, 35 Main St., Norwich, Conn. apr14d

S. P. LEARNED

Insurance in all Forms.

Bonds of Indemnity.

Foreign Drafts.

[illegible] National Bank, Norwich, Conn. febl4d

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell

COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A Fine Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

F. B. KINGSBURY. tyl4d

Murphy & Blackburn,

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

and EMBALMERS.

37 Franklin Street.

Open day and night. Ring bell for night calls. Residence 14 High street and 4 Williams Avenue, Preston. may14d

HAVE THAT

Lawn Mower

Put in Good Order

and it will be as good as new. Send it to

M. A. BARBER,

[illegible] Building, Falls Ave.

FRANK G. SWEET,

Medical and Surgical Nurse,

Graduate [illegible] Training School for Male Nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York City. Call at 308 or 486 FRANKLIN Street, city. TERMS REASONABLE. mayad

Before Buying Elsewhere

Call and examine my complete line of new styles of

—WALL PAPERS.—

Lowest Prices.

E. L. G[illegible],

[illegible]

The Bulletin.

OLD WINTERS ON THE FARM.

I've just about decided
It'd keep a town boy hoppin
Fer to work all winter choppin
Fer a old fireplace, like I did.
Lawz! Them old times was contrairy—
Blame backbone o' winter, 'peared like
Wouldn't break, and I was skeerdlike
Clean on into Feb'uary.
Nothin ever made me madder
Than fer pap to stomp in, layin
On a extra forestick, sayin,
"Groun'hog's out and seed his shadder."
—James Whitcomb Riley.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

SOMETHING ABOUT ENGLISH WOMEN IN POLITICS.

Women as School Commissioners—A New Field For Women's Clubs—Make Life For Store Girls Easier—The Summer Coiffure. Can a Woman Reform a Man?

The part the women play in an English election is one of the things which no American can accept as an improvement over our own methods. It may either amuse him or shock him, but he would not care to see it adopted at home. The canvassing in the country from cottage to cottage he can understand. That seems possible enough. It takes the form of a polite visit to the tenants, and the real object is cloaked with a few vague inquiries about the health of the children or the condition of the crops and the tractlike distribution of campaign documents. But in town it is different. The invasion of bachelor apartments by young primrose dames is embarrassing and un-nice and is the sort of thing we would not allow our sisters to do, and the house to house canvass in the alleys of Whitechapel or among the savages of Lambeth, which results in insult and personal abuse, is, to our way of thinking, a simple impossibility.

The English as a rule think we allow our women to do pretty much as they please, and it is true that they do in many things enjoy more freedom than their British cousins, but the men in our country are not so anxious to get into office, greedy as they are after it, as to allow their wives, in order to attain that end, to be even subject to annoyance; certainly not to be [illegible] and hustled off their feet or splattered with the mud of the Mile End road. Any one in England who followed the election last year knows to the wife of which distinguished candidate and to the daughters of which cabinet minister I refer.

I have seen women of the best class struck by stones and eggs and dead fish, and the game did not seem to me to be worth the candle. I confess that at the time I was so intent on admiring their pluck that it appeared to me as rather fine than otherwise, but from this calmer distance I can see nothing in the active work of the English women in politics which justifies the risks she voluntarily runs of insult and indignity and bodily injury. A seat in the house would hardly repay a candidate for the loss of one of his wife's eyes or of all of his sister's front teeth, and, though that is putting it brutally, it is putting it fairly.

It would not be fair, however, if I left the idea in the reader's mind that the women go into this work unwillingly. On the contrary, they delight in it, and some of them are as clever at it as the men and go to as great lengths—from Mrs. Langtry, who plastered her house from pavement to roof with red and white posters for the Conservative candidate, to the duc[illegible] who sat at the side of the member for Westminster and regretted that it threatened to be an orderly [illegible]

It is also only fair to add that many of the most prominent Englishmen in politics are as much opposed to what they call the interference of women in matters political as they are to bribery and corruption and regard both elements of an electoral campaign with a pronounced disfavor. The reply which the present president of the United States made to those enthusiastic and no doubt well meaning women who wished to form leagues and name them after his wife illustrates the spirit with which the interference of women in politics is regarded in this country.

But then it is a new thing with us, and it is only right to remember that from the days of the Duchess of Devonshire's sentimental canvass to the present English women have taken a part in general elections; that there is a precedent for it, and when you have said that of anything English you have justified it for all time to come. The young American girl who would not think it proper to address men from a platform and give them a chance to throw things at her must remember that the English girl would not give the man she knew a cup of tea in the afternoon unless her mother were in the room to take care of her. And I am sure the women in my candidate's campaign almost persuaded me that they, as the political agent declared, did more than himself to win the election.—Richard Harding Davis in Harper's.

Kate Claxton (Mrs. Stevenson), the actress and playwright, has an exquisite bijou cottage in Larchmont manor. It is decorated and furnished like an oriental summer house and has every comfort. Mrs. Stevenson's small son has become a great fisherman.

A lady in Copenhagen has been officially registered as a carpenter and joiner. She expects to do more than superintend workmen, and in order to perfect herself in making furniture she has found her way to this country in search of new ideas.

The mother of the late mind reader, Washington Irving Bishop, has recently married Lucius Langton Nicholas, a great-grandson of an emperor of Russia. During the war Mrs. Nicholas was a famous nurse in military hospitals.

Having done our pretty girls up in Eton jackets, how long will it be before cadet jackets are the style? They will be just the length of Etons, only fitted in front as well as in the back and double breasted.

The wife of ex-Senator John J. Ingalls of Kansas is rejoicing in the recently acquired possession of a chair which her great aunt bought when she went to housekeeping in 1798.

Women as School Commissioners.

The public will watch with interest the novel canvass of Mrs. Martha H. Almy for school commissioner in Chautauqua county. Mrs. Almy prudently disclaims partisan affiliations, and backed by the Woman's Christian Temperance unions and several local organizations favorable to female suffrage her supporters of both sexes propose to make a fight in her behalf in caucuses of all parties. As the women of her district are generally and warmly enlisted in the contest and now enjoy the right of franchise in choosing a school commissioner, it is not improbable that Mrs. Almy may eventually have the entire field to herself. With the women thoroughly united in her support the candidates of the regular parties would certainly struggle against odds.

It is this apprehension undoubtedly that prompts some of the partisan newspapers in Chautauqua county to look with favor on Mrs. Almy's candidacy. The circumstance is another proof that when women as a body show an earnest desire for additional political privileges their demand is likely to be heeded. Without pretending to understand fully the political conditions in Chautauqua county, The Press sees no good reason why Mrs. Almy should meet with opposition solely on the ground of sex. A number of women are already serving as school commissioners in New York state, and so far as can be learned they are serving with marked efficiency.

In announcing her candidacy to the public Mrs. Almy declares that "the women believe that there are yet some departments of education and some phases of school life that need that patient consideration and painstaking effort that woman is pre-eminently qualified to give." In view of the advances and changes that are being made in schoolwork, there is much force in this suggestion. The social and domestic training of women unquestionably gives them certain advantages in this respect that might be made of great value in the mental and moral discipline of the young.—New York Press.

A New Field For Women's Clubs.

An experiment is being tried this summer which will be watched with unusual interest by those who are conversant with it. A year and a half ago a club was organized among the women living on the east side of New York city. The genesis of this club was due to the fact, borne with tremendous force into the mind of an observer, of the heavy monotony of the lives of the women in that region. With limited means it was impossible for them to have any diversion that cost money. Their rooms were so crowded that there was opportunity for no social life, even in the immediate family.

It is no uncommon thing to find a woman who for weeks at a time does not go down to the street level, her nights and days being spent within the walls of the rooms that she calls home. Others are found who never own bonnets because the extent of their migrations is to the front doorstep. Is it any wonder that some grow dull or stupid or irritable under these conditions?

Women's clubs, it has been said over and over again, have been the means of education and development to those who have every social opportunity and who have had educational opportunities as well. It was deemed wise to try the experiment of a woman's club for such as had neither, and so one was organized. The dues were placed at 10 cents per week. This paid for the cake and coffee, that were always part of the entertainment, and left a margin besides.

At first no attempt was made beyond the purely social end for which the club was established. Quite frankly it was said, "This club is organized to try to get you out of your home once a week, because we believe that to break in on the monotony of your lives, to meet different people, to have this little diversion, will make you better wives and mothers." It is not necessary to go into the history of the last year and a half, but certain it is that the results have justified the belief that a woman's club of a social character, established among the wives of workingmen, would make happier homes.—Altruist Exchange.

Make Life For Store Girls Easier.

The question of seats for shopgirls or "shop assistants," as they are called in London, has been recently agitated afresh over there. Nearly all the tradesmen who were called as witnesses before the parliamentary committee at the time of the discussion of the shop hours bill testified to their willingness to provide seats during the low pressure hours of business. In Liverpool an association of ladies has been formed for the purpose of petitioning shopkeepers to provide seats for their employees, which has already met with gratifying success.

Every woman shopper in the land must feel an interest in this question. A woman physician the other day, commenting on the matter, said that it was a constant wonder to her that shopgirls did not faint daily at their posts. The strain of standing is so much more severe than that of walking the same length of time. And when, as is most often the case, the shopgirl is poised on high heeled, ill shaped shoes, frequently cruelly short and narrow, it is not strange that their faces grow lined and careworn, their voices sharp and their tempers rasped with the positive suffering they undergo.

The women of England took up the half holiday question and brought it about. Many New York women never visit a shop on Saturday afternoon. Acting on the same principle, and if all would similarly refrain, that respite to a deserving sisterhood might become here, too, a permanent instead of a transient thing.—New York Times.

The Australian Kea.

The Australian kea has been written about considerably, and a writer in The Cornhill Magazine ascribes to them an intelligence which can be called nothing but devilish. He says the kea was once a harmless bird, but with the introduction of slaughter houses it has developed a taste for animal food, and especially for kidneys. They like the kidneys of dead sheep so well that when these failed they proceeded to eat out the kidneys of living sheep, leaving the poor beasts to die a most agonizing death.

Three thousand workers in the Girls' Friendly society attended the recent convention in St. Paul's, London.

The Summer Coiffure.

An inquirer, who is anxious to learn how the women dressed their hair at the recent gala entertainments in London, is thus replied to in The Queen:

In nearly every case the front was arranged—and there is a great disposition among fashionable women to form curls—in a decided point in the center of the front, a pretty and becoming style. Anything like an untidy fringe is not tolerated in good society, but the Princess of Wales and Princess May wore small curls close set together, forming a somewhat high fringe over the temples, while the Princess of Wales on the day of the wedding had a somewhat low, soft coil at the back, the bride having small, close curls like marteaux placed somewhat higher on the head.

All kinds of twists and soft curls are introduced according to the ornaments required to be worn, and it seems that while for day wear it is necessary to understand the art of twisting a long coil of hair into a double knot, utterly inexplicable by words, in the evening the hairdresser's art lies chiefly in frizzing ends of hair lightly and twisting them with skill so as to fill every interstice. Some of the smart hairdressers have brought out the 1830 style of hairdressing, with upstanding loops of hair in front, which have found favor with certain ultrafashionable women, but not with the world in general, though certainly the hair is dressed higher at the back in the evening than in the daytime.

Can a Woman Reform a Man?

A most interesting series of prize letters appeared last week dealing with the great question, "Can a woman reform a man?" or in other words the reverse of the still greater social problem enunciated in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" and touched upon slightly in "The Heavenly Twins." Nearly all the writers seemed to consider the question only from the view of reformation by marriage, whereas a far nobler and heroic case could be put for the woman who, though by her love and tenderness she brought a man back to his manhood, yet still made him feel that the dark past must leave its forbidding shadow at the portal of matrimonial happiness.

The general opinion seems to be that a woman can reform a man, although in most cases she ought not to try to do so. One writer, however, very powerfully says: "She is entering upon the most sacred relation of life without any sanctity in the bond. She is violating the divine ideal of marriage and has no warrant for expecting God's help or blessing." No one answer can be given, but I think the truth is that if a man—i. e., a certain man—is to be reformed it will be by a woman's tenderness and loving self sacrifice, and gradually the dust will be blown from his eyes, and he will come nearer the appreciation of God's most perfect gift—a noble woman.—Lady's Pictorial.

Advice For Thin Women.

"What shall I do to make my arms and neck plump?" writes the thin woman despairingly to the oracle of her favorite fashion paper. Alas, that a prompt and satisfactory answer should be so hard to give!

The best way to make the arms and neck round is to increase the plumpness of the entire figure by flesh producing diet. Moreover, inunctions of oil are recommended by some physicians. These consist simply of applications of olive oil rubbed into the skin by vigorous friction. The oil is applied not only to the parts that especially need filling out, but to the entire body impartially, since what fattens one part will fatten all. The oil is absorbed by the skin, which thus lends its aid to the stomach in taking in and assimilating nourishment. The process is a slow one, but it is the best that is as yet known.—Mrs. C. T. Herrick in Harper's Bazar.

How One Girl Lives.

"I always hate dreadfully to ask my father for money," said one of the sweet girl graduates of the high school to two girl companions with whom she was walking, "although papa's always good to me. He always gives me three times as much as I expect, but I hate to ask him just the same." This suggests two ideas. One is that if the father of this high spirited girl should give her a regular allowance he would save her from the annoyance of a dependence which evidently mortifies her pride. The other is that if he should make the allowance exactly equal to her expectations he would save just two-thirds of what she costs him now.—Somerville Journal.

A Very Unique Birthday Present.

Miss Charlotte M. Yonge, whose "Heir of Radclyffe" has been the favorite of every young woman's bookshelf for years, completes her seventieth year next month, and her English friends are planning a unique souvenir of the occasion. Her admirers throughout the world are being asked to send their signatures under a brief statement of their pleasure and appreciation of her writings. These sheets of signatures will be bound and presented to Miss Yonge on her coming birthday.

The Eighteen Inch Waist.

With panniers, which some prophet has promised for 1893 if not sooner, will return the excruciatingly tight lacing and the 18 inch waist of its former reign. Already the reaction from the empire grace of naturalness is apparent in the slenderness of the belted bodice. With the coming of the long pointed waist there is sure to be a tightening of the laces.—Exchange.

A Forgetmenot Luncheon.

A forgetmenot luncheon is now given by the bridesmaids of an engaged young woman in honor of her approaching marriage. The decorations are all of blue, the guests wear posies of the forgetmenot dear to lovers, and the flowers at the feast, all in blue, are arranged in hearts and true lover's knots.

Let the Children Sit Up.

It is the foolishly methodical mother who sends her children to bed on warm summer evenings just because the clock points the hour. If part of the long afternoon can be spent in sleep and the cool, restful evening enjoyed a little later, it will be a beneficial exchange for the small folks.

It is said that the number of German women journalists at the World's fair exceeds the total number from all other foreign countries.

THE STORY OF A DOG.

WHY A SOLITARY WAYSIDE GRAVE IS MARKED "PHANTOM."

A Lost Baby In the Wilds of Western New Mexico Was Traced by the Faithful Canine—He Killed the Abductor and Led the Father to a Coyote's Den.

The tourist who visits the region of Lower Plaza, N. M., will see, among other things, as he drives along the trail from the railroad a grave with a thick headboard on which is painted the one word, "Phantom."

"It's only a dog's grave," the guide will explain, "but I reckon he'd more sense than some men."

Phantom was the property of Bernard Wismer, a cowboy living near the Datil mountains some years ago, but he was buried near the house of Daniel Chapman, whose wife was the sister of Wismer. Mrs. Chapman, when her brother first got the dog, had a hearty dislike for it. It was a big mongrel, with hound blood predominating, and, like all mongrel hounds, it had an enormous appetite that was never so well satisfied as with food stolen from somebody's kitchen.

For many offenses of this kind Mrs. Chapman had good reason to complain, and she would have taken the winchester and shot the hateful brute on more than one occasion but for two reasons. It was a very good hunting dog, and it would now and then play with the baby when she wanted to do housework—come over from her brother's house a mile away as if for the express purpose of having a romp with the little tot of 3.

However, the dog's manner kept growing worse, and one day when she saw it come sneaking around the corral she started for the gun, but stopped half way because she was reminded by the sight of the dog that the little one had not been about the house for an hour or two, perhaps more, so far as she could remember. So she ran out of the house quickly without the gun and called aloud:

"Baby! Baby!"

Then she listened and grew faint, for she heard no reply, and fainter still when she remembered that her husband had told her of seeing a panther's tracks down in the hollow near by. To think of this was to send her flying toward the hollow, but no baby or trace of it was to be found, although she looked behind every one of the scattered pines and cedars growing there. Then she came running back to the house, ringing her hands and calling "Baby" distractedly. She found the dog standing right beside the door, but she would not have noticed him, she was so near wild about the baby, only for the fact that he stood looking intently at her instead of taking to his heels with his tail between his legs, as he always done when she came toward him.

Even as it was she paid little attention to the dog, but ran hither and yon about the house and corral and horse shed, crying and calling the child, until at last she saw the dog come square before her, and after a grave look into her face start running around the house with his nose to the ground. She remembered afterward that he circled around the house two or three times and then disappeared, but by that time her fears had so overcome her that she fell headlong on the floor in a faint, and there she lay nobody knows how long.

When she came to her senses, the dog was licking her face, and at once began to caper about and bark in extraordinary fashion when she opened her eyes and sat up. Then he ran out the door and stopped and looked back, and directly came back and grabbed the skirt of her dress, which he pulled so hard that he tore it. Then she picked up a club and drove the dog out the house, and when her burst of anger was over fainted again at the thought of the lost baby. When she revived this time, she was too weak to get up, but she saw that the dog was still acting in the same unusual fashion she had noticed before. A little later the sound of horse's hoofs gladdened her ears, and with a last effort she got up, staggered out the door, saw her husband as he jumped from his horse, and, gasping out the words that "Baby is lost," fainted for the third time.

Chapman carried the woman to the bed, took one look around the room in order to assure himself that he had rightly understood what she had said, and then grabbing the winchester said to the dog:

"Hi, Phantom! where's Baby?"

"Wow!" replied the dog, and started away on a lope that kept Dan humping himself to equal. The trail zigzagged about for nearly half a mile, then crossed a broken lava bed and ran off down a draw to the creek valley. Had any other dog than Phantom been on the trail Dan would have not believed the child could have gone that way, but he banked on Phantom and kept trotting along until at last a thicket was reached just two miles and a half from home. Into the thicket the dog plunged by what was really a sort of tunnel through the brush, and Chapman had to get down on his hands and knees to follow. Two rods in he came to an opening, and there on the dry sand lay the baby fast asleep. It was apparently in the den of some wild animal.

As Dan picked up the child the growl of the dog made him look around. Phantom was standing over the dead body of a recently killed coyote.

Phantom died of old age last spring, and was buried with many tears near the public highway, where all who pass can see it. It was only a dog that was buried there; but, then, as the cowboys say, "I reckon he'd more sense than some men."—Cor. New York Sun.

A Grease Filter For Boilers.

A filter for removing grease, which often passes into boilers with the feed water, consists of a metallic chamber or filter box in which are a series of gratings, and between these gratings are placed layers of wire gauze and flannel of a special texture, which forms the filtering medium. The feed water from the donkey pump enters the filter box from one side, passes upward through the filter cloths and thence out to the boiler, the scum passing away through another outlet. By this means it is found that all grease and greasy matter, as well as other impurities, are arrested by the filter cloths, which can be readily taken out for cleaning or renewal. The filter is equally applicable to land and marine boilers.

Sympathetic Inks.

Rabelais compiled a curious list of inks of a sympathetic nature, which were largely in vogue in his days. In his book entitled "Pantagruel," he makes his readers acquainted with Panurgue's exploits in trying to decipher the invisible characters of a letter which a Parisian female had written to Pantagruel. "He held it up before the fire," says Rabelais, "to see if it was written with spirits of ammonia mixed with water. Then he placed it in water to discover if the writing had not been done with sirup of tithymal. When this would not work, he held it over a candle, which would have brought out the characters had they been written with the juice of white onions. By rubbing a part of it with nut oil he tried to find whether it had not been written with the sap of a fig tree. And if frog's blood had been used in the place of ink the milk from the breast of a woman suckling her firstborn daughter would have betrayed the secrets of that letter."

While at Rabelais' time during the seventeenth century French people adhered strongly to the belief that sympathetic inks of this character could be and were used, they are now in high feather over the discovery of a luminous ink by one of their countrymen. This ink makes it possible for letters to be read in the dark. One of the French journals recently gave the recipe for this ink. A phosphorescent compound can be obtained by calcinating carbonate of chalk with sulphur.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Puzzled Mother.

"It takes a 14-year-old boy to see through his mother," laughed such a mother the other day. "Last week I planned to take a friend to the theater, and her only free night was Thursday. Now, I often take my boy to see a play, but I make it a rule it shall not be on a night preceding a school day. So on this occasion I explained to my son that he could not go, and as an offset to his disappointment arranged an outing for the Saturday following. He acquiesced most dutifully and beautifully, and the matter rested. Thursday came, and as the afternoon waned, I found that my son was to be all alone part of the evening, and I began to wish that he was going with us. At last I made up my mind, and calling him said:

"I think, after all, you may go tonight. You are going to be alone, and I know you always count upon these trips to the theater. So if you'll study hard till dinner you shall be of the party."

"'That's all right, mother,' replied the young scamp with a laugh. 'I knew you'd weaken at the last, so I've managed my lessons, and I'm all ready.' And now I'm alternately deploring my want of strength and wondering how to preserve a semblance of authority with so shrewd a son."—New York Times.

Eat Bananas and Turn Brunette.

Those who eat heartily of bananas may run some risk of becoming tawny or copper colored. This may be inferred possibly from the peculiarities of plumage in the turacos of Africa. As long as the weather is dry these birds are gay, the primary and secondary feathers being gorgeously crimson, but when rain comes the color is washed out, and the birds seem to be humiliated and ashamed at the transformation. But the color returns in dry weather. The cause of the coloration has been traced to copper in a very pure state. A single feather burned gives the characteristic indication. The source of the turacin has now been traced to bananas, on which the turacos feed chiefly. All the aborigines who make bananas a diet are very deeply tinted, but the color is sooty rather than red. The North American Indian cannot owe his coppery hue to bananas. He has only known of this fruit on reservations and chiefly by the peelings.—San Francisco Call.

Expressive Nicknames.

They have a rage for nicknames down at Marblehead. There are so many of them that now a directory is seriously under consideration. A veteran boatman whose nether limbs describe almost a circle is given the euphonious appellative of "Ice Tongs," and answers to it now among his friends congenial as readily as to his own family patronymic. Another townsman walking stiffly along the winding streets with both arms hanging straight down before him is hailed as "Half Past Six," both hands down, you know.—Boston Journal.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.

Large and Complete Line

FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE

ARTISTIC WALL PAPER

At Reduced Prices.

SPECIAL SALE.

Large Art Carpets and Rugs

$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.

Other sizes in proportion.

Japanese Rugs and Mats.

$25 00 Japanese Carpets for $20 00.
$12 00 Japanese Rugs for $6 00.
$4 00 Japanese Rugs for $2 75.

Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels

75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.

Quantities, 1 1-8 Yards to 60 Yards

Parties Wishing

FURNITURE,
CARPETS OR
WALL PAPER,

Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock

That we are offering at Low Prices. aug28d

STORAGE.

Storage of non-hazardous or imperishable goods or merchandise may be obtained in my Warehouse at 23 Commerce Street. may19d J. T. CONVERSE

S. S. THRESHER,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Notary Public.

[illegible] Rooms 1 and 3 Shannon Building, Norwich

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Almost Blind

With Humor and Inflammation in the Eyes

"My little boy fell from his high chair, injuring his nose, and severe inflammation appeared in his eyes. He grew worse and worse until we feared he would lose his sight entirely. Medical advice and various medicines failed to benefit him until, hearing the good Hood's Sarsaparilla had done for others, we concluded to try it. I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla worked like a charm. While taking two bottles the inflammation gradually disappeared, his eyes grew stronger so that he could bear the light. He was soon completely cured." Mrs. J. B. Putnam, Favorite Place, [illegible] Fourth st., Piqua, Ohio.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

N. B.—Be sure to get HOOD'S.

HOOD'S PILLS cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache and constipation. 25c. aug?dew

FOR THE LADIES

Profit Is Nothing

But a Memory Today.

It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.

Hats reduced to less than cost, both trimmed and untrimmed.

Trimmed Hats at 98c.

Cost or value no consideration.

RIBBONS.

All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.

Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.

Don't have to talk much about them. As our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.

New York Bazaar.

112 MAIN ST. aug19d

REDUCTION

In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.

We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits which we will close at the following prices: $6 00 and $7 95. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, as they must be sold.

Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close, at

A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St. aug3d

MILLINERY.

Hats, Bonnets, Elegant Ribbons, Laces and Flowers,

—AT—

MRS. G. P. STANTON'S,

apr6d No. 52 Shetucket Street.

Complete Manhood

AND HOW TO ATTAIN IT.

A medical work that tells the causes, describes the effects, points the remedy. Scientifically the most valuable, artistically the most beautiful medical book ever published; 96 pages, every page bearing a half-tone illustration in tints. Subjects treated: Nervous Debility, Impotency, Sterility, Development, Varicocele, The Husband, Those Intending Marriage, etc.

Every man who would know the Grand Truths, the Plain Facts, the Old Secrets and New Discoveries of Medical Science as applied to Married Life, who would atone for past follies and avoid future pitfalls, should write for this WONDERFUL LITTLE BOOK.

It will be sent free, under seal, while the edition lasts. Address the publishers, ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y. 3prl?TuThdew

FRESH FLOWER SEEDS.

Asters, Pinks, Mignonette, Pansys, Sweet Peas, etc., 3 cents paper.
Extra size Gladiolus Bulbs.
Fine Tuberose Bulbs, 5 cents each.

MRS. S. M. HOWIE,

mar?TuThF 169 Franklin Street.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES

—AT—

40C. PER THOUSAND.

They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.

COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.

The Bulletin Co.,

NORWICH, CONN.

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.
Established 1858.

NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.
Established 1796.

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 12 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 2 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application to the business office. No cuts or electrotypes inserted in either paper.

To guard against mistakes, advertisements should be sent in manuscript. We cannot be responsible for errors that occur in messages received by telephone.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their own immediate business, and their contracts do not include Wants, To Let, For Sale, etc.

All news letters should be addressed to THE MORNING BULLETIN; all business communications to THE BULLETIN COMPANY.

Money orders and checks should be made payable to THE BULLETIN CO.

All communications must be signed. Anonymous letters or news items will not be read, but thrown into the waste basket.

No manuscript preserved or returned, unless stamps are enclosed fully to prepay postage.

Entered at the post office at Norwich, Conn., as second class mail matter.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Tuesday, September 5, 1893

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

THE OUTLOOK.

The money market shows steady improvement and there is an encouraging and apparently healthy advance in stocks which warrants the hope of better times in the near future. The changed tone in the business and industrial world has set the democratic papers to singing the refrain: "The Times Are Growing Brighter;" and they prophecy in such a sincere way of the great advantages which are to accrue from three months depression in the way of increased trade and increased orders for everything, that one would think that the shrinkage of two thousand millions in the value of properties in the United States in a brief ten months and the reduction in wages were a blessing instead of a calamity.

The republican press prints everything of an encouraging nature that can be relied upon, and joins in the hope that the wheels of industry may start up in every section of the country, and that the recovery from the national shock and loss which the people have passed through may be commenced at once. But it took the nation seven years to recover from the two hundred and twenty-three millions lost by the panic of 1873, and it is safe to say that the tremendous losses of this year cannot be made up in less time.

It is to be hoped that the legislation passed by the democratic party will be such as to inspire confidence, and to give advantage to American industries as against the products and manufactures of foreigners; but there is nothing that the party is pledged to do that warrants any confidence whatever in a state of affairs different from that which the Chicago platform foreshadows.

THAT SEMI-OFFICIAL DECLARATION.

No little after-dinner speech made in the past year has attracted the attention which has been given to the semi-official utterances of Cousin Ben Folsom, consul to Sheffield, England. Not only the republican press has seen fit to present that speech to their readers, but it has been made a subject for comment in the United States senate. Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, in a speech before the senate last month, said: "An office holder of the United States and a cousin of the president of the United States, saying to an English audience that he was not discussing the question as to whether the legislation of the democratic party would aid the United States or not, but he was congratulating them that it would roll from Sheffield the onerous burdens that are upon them at the present time! Is it any wonder, Mr. President, when that utterance was being made in the great city of Sheffield, that the cutlery manufacturers of New England were alarmed? Is it any wonder that under those circumstances the only cutlery manufactory in my state concluded to close its doors for a portion of the time? The cutlery manufactured in my state is protected under the McKinley tariff law sufficiently to enable it to be manufactured in competition with the cutlery made in Sheffield, England. But a consul of the United States, and a cousin of the president, assures our English competitors that that tariff duty is to be removed, and that they will have increased prosperity at the expense of American manufacturers. Is it any wonder, under such circumstances, that American cutlery establishments close their doors? Is it any wonder that American manufacturers refuse to accumulate manufactured goods which they may have to sell in competition with the product of the underpaid labor of English manufacturing towns?"

Under these conditions the democratic press cannot see what the matter with the industries of the country is? The intelligent workingmen after reading the above will have no difficulty of seeing the effect in the case cited.

DR. THATCHER GRAVES' SUICIDE.

The suicide of Dr. Thatcher Graves, who was charged with the murder of Mrs. Barnaby, immediately following the action of the jury authorizing the expenditure of sufficient money to bring witnesses from the east and the discovery of the most important clue yet unearthed in the case against him, does not impress the public that he was the innocent and persecuted man he pretends to be in his written declarations. A man of pluck and good character would not have taken his life to have escaped a second trial whether he felt that he was being persecuted or not. Dr. Graves is well known in Connecticut, and he had made a criminal record before this case was brought against him, but owing to respectable connections and his appearance and education has escaped, when a man less fortunately circumstanced would have been found guilty. Those familiar with his history were not surprised when he was arrested for the crime, and they are not surprised at his self-destruction by poison. His suicide forever leaves the Barnaby poisoning case unsettled, with the presumption that he was the guilty party, strengthened by the closing act of his life.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

It is a cold September for the summer hotel keeper.

The free-silver senatorial gas is so poor it won't burn!

Senator Wolcott of Colorado is a bright and brainy young man, but he hasn't the brawn to break the republican party in two!

If congress does not pass some relief measure to improve the condition of the treasury it will not do its duty by the country.

Free coinage having been given a back seat, the democrats are now getting ready to dawdle with that other delusion—free trade.

The democrats who did not believe in "free niggers" are the ones who are now howling loudest against pensioning veterans and in favor of free coinage and free trade.

It is predicted that "the lords" will sit down upon the Irish home rule bill! The day is near at hand when their hereditary power will end, and the people will sit upon them.

The congressional debates have amounted in volume to over twenty million words, and make a book as large as a family Bible. The stuff comes high, but it must be preserved.

It is a fact worth considering, that the American born citizen is not the rioter or labor striker who disregards law and property rights and ventures to do violence in this country when things do not suit him.

The economy that closes the life saving stations along the coast all summer is a disgrace to the country. No guard is of more importance to this country than the coast guard, and it should be kept constantly at its post.

The highly colored theories of the populists are referred to west as "rainbows." Governor Waite had a little too much red in his "rein-bow," and he should take a lesson or two in art in order to keep his "reign-bows" what they ought to be!

The democrats who are shouting "Pig silver must go!" haven't a great deal of it. There are plenty of idle men in Norwich who would like to adopt a few pigs of that sort! These make the nicest kind of parlor pigs, and would keep "the wolf from the door!"

The Boston Post's "forecast for labor day" had a parade of American workingmen with dinner pails upon their arms approaching mills "running full blast!" We suppose those tin pails were made of American tin! If they were not they ought to have been!

The New York Press of Monday notes that "the industrial interests of the republic would be placed upon the operating table of the ways and means committee today, and the unskilled tariff quacks will begin their crude and cruel work of mutilation."

The New York Commercial Advertiser says: Calhounism is a good thing to forget, or at least to slur over without comment, though we are reminded that it was fifty years ago this month that in a speech he declared for "Free trade, low duties, separation from banks," etc. Add to this 'free silver and free soup' and it makes a very good working democratic creed for today."

A New Yorker advises the establishment in that city of eight soup houses as a permanent thing for the hungry, at a cost of $300,000 a year. He wants to know "what such a paltry sum as that amounts to in a city like New York?" He has never thought that the outlay of $300,000 for industry alleviates as much misery and does more good than the same amount spent to increase vagrancy.

In commenting upon the death, destruction and suffering which the last hurricane caused in South Carolina, The Boston Journal says: "It is not an altogether discreditable characteristic of our southern brethren that all their constitutional scruples seem to vanish like a flash when their section is stricken by storm, pestilence or famine, and there is need of the helping hand of the federal government. But private beneficence can and will do much to relieve the distress of the hurricane-swept country. Times have never yet been hard enough to paralyze the generous impulses of the American people."

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

BIGGEST ON RECORD.

Horace Johnson's Dire Prediction for the Last of the Week.

Horace Johnson was in Hartford a day or two ago and said that the people needn't think that the storm of last Monday was the big one he predicted for September 8 to 12. The last two he says were intermediate and they were practically one, having got broken in two. An intermediate storm is one which rages furiously for a short period of time and does considerable damage. He shows where he has had this intermediate marker on his calendar for months.

"We shall have," he says, "good weather from now till about the end of this week, with the exception of a slight storm which will be simply a forerunner of the great one to come. All the papers in seaport towns ought to warn skippers of this. It will be a great general storm covering by far a larger territory than the recent storms. It may not be more furious, but it will be accompanied by a great tidal wave which will do great damage. The storm will last for several days, and will be one of the biggest on record.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

Those persons who do not need Iron, but who are troubled with Nervousness and Dyspepsia, will find in Carter's Little Nerve Pills a most desirable article. They are mostly used in combination with Carter's Little Liver Pills, and in this way often exert a most magical effect. Take just one pill of each kind immediately after eating and you will be free from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. In vials at 25 cents. Try them.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles!

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

Conscience Makes Cowards

Of us all, says Hamlet, but there are some people who have no conscience at all. Among them are dealers who endeavor to palm upon the public cheap, corrosive substitutes of pure and fragrant SOZODONT. Let the public be on its guard against such shams.

"How to Cure All Skin Diseases."

Simply apply SWAYNE'S OINTMENT. No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for SWAYNE'S OINTMENT.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous you wife is and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

Monday, Sept. 4,
Tuesday, Sept. 5,
Wednesday, Sept. 6
Will Be

HERMSDORF DAYS,

and will be celebrated all over the United States in recognition of the great services which Louis Hermsdorf, the great Saxon Dyer, rendered to humanity in giving to the world a True Fast Black. We shall present our customers on these days with the beautiful furnished by Louis Hermsdorf as a compliment to his customers in America. This Souvenir was prepared for the World's Fair and was presented to visitors there until Sept. 1, when it was withdrawn to be presented to the patrons of the Hermsdorf Fast Black through the retail merchants of the country.

EXPOSITION SOUVENIR

To Make This Occasion Eventful

we will on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday offer the following special prices on

HERMSDORF FAST BLACK HOSIERY:

Infants' Fine Ribbed Imported Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—11c a pair, 3 for 30c.

Infants' Plain and Ribbed Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—19c a pair. Regular price 25c.

Infants' Plain Lisle Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—25c a pair. Regular price 33c.

Ladies' Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—22c a pair, 5 for $1.00.

Ladies' Fine Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—29c a pair, 3 for 85c. Regular price 37½c.

Ladies' Fine Hose—in Lisle and Cotton—Hermsdorf Fast Black—35c a pair, 3 for $1.00. Regular price 50c.

Men's Half Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—12½c a pair. Regular price 17c.

Men's Embroidered Half Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—22c a pair, 5 for $1.00.

Ask for an Exposition Souvenir. They are Unique and Useful.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.
myt16dw

Breakfast
Well
In order to Dine
Well.

A heavy breakfast upsets the stomach, clogs the brain, spoils the day. Avoid all pastry, starchy, indigestible food. Don't be a victim of the oatmeal "fad." The correct thing for breakfast—light, nourishing and almost self digesting,—is FOULDS'

WHEAT GERM
MEAL.
ASK YOUR GROCER FOR IT.
Sep5TuThS

REID & HUGHES.

THE BOSTON STORE

Upholstery
Department.

We open today a magnificent assortment of fine quality

Smyrna Rugs!
at LOW PRICES.

The designs are new and the colorings most effective. The sizes are 18, 21, 26, 30 and 36 inches.

Reid & Hughes.
myt16dw

FINE ARTS.

REMOVED.
McNickle, Picture Frame and Gilding Manuf.

Has Removed to 55 BROADWAY. You will always find a Complete Line of Artist Proof Etching, Engravings, Prang's Studies and fac simile Water Colors. oct1d

REMOVED—Laighton Brothers Have removed their photograph gallery from the Chelsea Bank Building to No. 56 Shetucket St., in the building with the Henry Bill Publishing Co., where all old patrons will be welcomed and new ones be heartily greeted. Their new rooms are neatly furnished, their facilities for doing first-class work have been much improved. New backgrounds have been put in, and the light for producing photographs has been arranged according to the best methods known to the business. All work promptly attended to.
mar6d LAIGHTON BROTHERS.

YOU WILL FIND
School Bags, - - - - 10c
Sponges, - - - 1c, 5c, 8c
Tablets, - - - - 5c, 8c
Desk Slates - 50c and $1
All of these at
HOUGH'S.
myt4d

THAYERS DYE WORKS,
John F. Amburn, Proprietor, 489 Boswell ave.
All kinds of Dyeing promptly done. Bed blankets thoroughly cleaned. Ladies' and Gent's garments dyed in the best possible manner.
Watering Silk a Specialty.
Orders left with J. H. MYERS at Circulating Library, No. 164 Main St will receive prompt attention. may6TuThS

Alonzo H. Converse
PAINTER.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging. Wall Tinting in all its branches.
149 Little Water St.
jan4d Graining done for the trade.

I HAVE AN ODORLESS PUMP
and Barrel apparatus for cleaning Vaults and Cesspools. Orders sent to my address will be promptly attended to. CHAS. WOOD, Box 941 Norwich, Conn. mar2d

DROP ME A POSTAL
and I will call on you with a fine line of Photos and Designs of
MONUMENTAL & CEMETERY WORK
and samples of Granite and Marble of various kinds of colors.
LEVI W. CROUCH, Norwich, Conn.
mayt16dw

ESTABLISHED IN 1801.
Adam's Tavern,
NORWICH TOWN.
A. A. ADAM, Proprietor.
The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 10 years ago. They have become intensely popular. They sell on their own merits. Imperial Bourbon, Zeb Ward, 1883, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1881, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.
N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers.
Telephone call 35-12. A. A. ADAM.
febd

ESTIMATES FOR ALL KINDS OF PRINTING furnished on application to The Bulletin

CONFECTIONERY.

HORTON'S
ICE CREAM
In one quart, one pint boxes.
For delicacy of flavor and purity of materials Horton's Ice Cream stands unrivalled.
40c per quart, 25c per pint. Sold only by
J. C. PERKINS,
aug31TuThSaw Confectioner.

ICE CREAM,
PASTRY, CHOICE CONFECTIONERY
and all the popular Summer drinks at
"The Confection Parlors."
54 and 56 Broadway.
jan7TuThS

ICE CREAM.
ALL FLAVORS.
Wholesale and retail.
GEO. A. LEWIS,
60 CENTRAL AVE.
Telephone. may6d

DRUGS, PAINTS AND OILS.

No Notice Required.

Duggan's Soda Fountain

Is prepared to stand all runs upon it by depositors of 5 cents and upwards. Its draughts are pronounced, by all as good as gold.

DUGGAN'S SODA FOUNTAIN,
aug6d 31 MAIN ST.

LEE & OSGOOD,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
DRUGGISTS,
129–133 Main St. and 150–154 Water St.

ESTABLISHED · 1788

SOLE PROPRIETORS OF
DR. DODD'S
Nervine and Invigorator,
A NERVE TONIC
AND
STOMACHIC.

Dodd's Nervine aids digestion, insures good appetite, gives tone and vigor to the system, guarantees sweet and refreshing sleep and restores enfeebled and nervous constitutions to PERFECT HEALTH.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF
Atomizers and Perfumes
COLGATE'S EXTRACTS IN BULK.
TOILET ARTICLES
IN GREAT VARIETY.

We make a Specialty of
Tooth Brushes.
Large Invoice Just Received.
25 AND 35 CENTS.

LEE & OSGOOD
NORWICH, CONN.
dec18dw

LUMBER AND COAL.

E. CHAPPELL & CO.
COAL,
LUMBER,
SHINGLES.
Greatest Variety. Largest Stock.
Branch Office, 207 Main St., Franklin Square. Office and Yard, Central Wharf.
Telephone at both offices. mar6dw

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRY
H. F. & A. J. DAWLEY
If you want good
BUILDING LUMBER & SHINGLES.
They have the largest stock in the city and will make you low prices.
Telephone 65–4. may18d

51 John A. Morgan & Son, 51
Coal & Lumber,
51 West Main St., Central Wharf
Family Coal a Specialty.
Estimates furnished at short notice. Telephone.
51 jan4d 51

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY.
Goods called for and delivered free of charge
Lace Curtains and Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.
145 Little Water St.
Family Washing at special rates. nov1d

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR GOODS advertise them in THE BULLETIN.

REAL ESTATE

TO RENT.
Tenement of 5 Rooms. Hot and cold water, Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. 257 West Main street. Rent moderate.
aug4d Z. R. ROBBINS, 69 Cliff st.

TO RENT.
ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Room suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug4d

TO RENT.
A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS,
each with all the modern improvements, on Boswell Ave., of ten rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 3 Water St. may1d

TO RENT.
Tenement 112 River Avenue.
apr19d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.
A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, 7 rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 18 Grove street, or inquire of E. M. BREWSTER, 48 Water Street. apr7d

TO RENT.
Three Large Rooms in the Bill Block.
Possession immediately. Apply to may31TuThS E. S. THOMPSON.

FOR RENT.
House on the Green in Norwich Town.
Enquire of JAMES E. FULLER, Cor. Main and Shetucket Streets, or A. W. DICKEY, Norwich Town. aug31TThS

TO RENT.
The Large Store with fine Cellar
in the Boswell Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Service & Gleason. Apply to aug6d GEORGE D. COIT,

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.
A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.
Horseshoeing in all its Branches.
—11—13—15 Chestnut Street.—
jy17daw

FOR SALE.
Owner going abroad desires to sell immediately at low figures
2 ELEGANT HIGH-BRED SADDLE HORSES,
Extra Style, Perfect Action, Very Handsome, Fearless, Safe and Sound. One can be ridden by a lady; also can be driven. One is a Kentucky Thoroughbred, the other an English Hunter.
aug8d BOX 148, Springfield, Mass.

TO MANUFACTURERS!
A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines cheapness and efficiency, WEEK'S ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest pipe and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn., Inventor and Manufacturer. nov18d

SUMMER TRAVEL.

STEAMER GYPSY.
CHANGE OF TIME.
On and after FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, until further notice, this steamer will leave here on her morning trip at 9 30, or on arrival of 9.30 electric cars, and on her afternoon trip at 1 30, a half hour earlier than heretofore. This change will give patrons the usual time at the beach and enable them to reach home at 6.30 instead of 7 p. m.
Hereafter when the Gypsy cannot land at beach with safety, car tickets will be furnished to patrons for that point free to and from New London by the agent on board.
aug30d PALMER SMITH.

Steamer Ella.
SEASON OF 1893.
ON
Friday, June 23
And during the season the Steamer Ella will make daily excursions to the shore resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.45, Ft. Griswold House 9.55, Mystic Island 10.30, arriving at Watch Hill about 11 M.
Returning, leave Watch Hill at 3.30 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 4.30, arriving about 6.
Special Rates to Excursion Parties.
Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.
Crosswell's Wharf on signal.
je22d JAMES WALKER, Manager, Norwich Ct.

PLUMBING, ETC.

A. TROLAND & SON
Will Give You Close
Estimates on
PLUMBING and GAS WORK.
mar6d

—TRY OUR—
"Big Box" Stove Polish.
—ALSO OUR—
RUTLAND LINING.
IT FITS ANY STOVE.
It remedies loose linings. Repairs broken lining. Prevents clinkers from forming. It makes a solid fire box as well as being cheap.
For sale by REISS & WHOLEY, jy20d Plumbers 12 Ferry Street.

WE HAVE THE BEST
Water Filters and Garden Hose
in the market at Very Low Prices.
Estimates cheerfully furnished on all classes of Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting.
MONAHEE & REED,
may17d 61 West Main, Central Wharf.

Telephone 133—3
ROBERT BROWN
Steam and Gas Fitting,
Plumbing and Steam Heating,
Pipe Cutting and Threading by Power Machinery.
All Work done Promptly and Neatly.
Pequot Building, Central Wharf.
Electric cars every half hour. oct18d

INTERIOR and EXTERIOR
Decorative House Painting.
D. S. UNDERWOOD,
jy8d Residence 151 Franklin St.

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES
OF
DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.
As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles C. Bliss, 126 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, his entire stock of goods,
CONSISTING OF
Diamond Jewelry,
Gold and Silver Watches,
Sterling Silver Ware,
Gold Chains,
Brooches,
Rings,
French Black Marble Clocks,
French Onyx Clocks,
American Clocks,
Silver Plated Ware,
Pocket Books,
Fancy Goods,
Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.
je30d JOHN BLISS, Administrator.

BOOK BINDERS.

BLANK BOOKS [illegible]
bound from 1 to 12,000,
MAGAZINES BOUND
in any style of binding. Old books rebound. Back Nos. furnished to complete volumes [illegible]
JOSEPH BRADFORD [illegible]
Bulletin Building, up stairs.

COWAN, the Bookbinder
will after this date be found on the ground floor,
108 Broadway

TRAVELERS DIRECTORY.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD
NEW LONDON DIVISION.
Change of time.
On and after MONDAY, June [illegible]
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NEW LONDON AS FOLLOWS:

5.50 a. m., Norwich at 1.25 a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Palmer, [illegible] Ware, [illegible] Brattleboro, [illegible] bury, Burlington, Montreal, [illegible] and intermediate stations.

7.40 a. m., Norwich 8.15 for [illegible] connecting at Willimantic for [illegible] ford, Colchester, Middletown, New Haven, New York; at Palmer with Boston and Albany R. R. for Springfield, [illegible] Albany, and for points west [illegible] and Gilbertville, and at [illegible] Express for St. Albans, Montreal, principal intermediate points. [illegible] points west via Grand Trunk R. R.

10.05 a. m., Norwich at 10.35 a. m., [illegible] Hartford, Waterbury, [illegible] Colchester etc.

11.25 a. m., connecting from Providence, Boston, and intermediate stations.

2.50 p. m., connecting with express [illegible] Boston, Providence, New York and New Haven, at Norwich with [illegible] Railroad. R. R.

3.50 p. m., Norwich 3.50 p. m., connecting [illegible] Willimantic for Hartford, and at Palmer for Springfield, Albany and the west.

5.00 p. m., Norwich 5.35, for [illegible] necting with train leaving [illegible] p. m., and with N. Y., P. & B. R. R. [illegible] Providence and way stations [illegible] or Block Island from Mystic Island, [illegible] Hill and Block Island, also [illegible] at Willimantic for Hartford and [illegible] Putnam, Boston and Providence [illegible] Colchester, Middletown, New Haven, New York, and at Palmer with [illegible] Albany R. R., for Springfield, [illegible] the west; and at Brattleboro [illegible] express for St. Albans, Montreal [illegible] ton, reaching Montreal and [illegible] points in Vermont the same evening.

[illegible] p. m. for Norwich. This [illegible] with 5.00 a. m. express from New [illegible]

6.15 a. m. (Sundays only) [illegible] express train from New York and [illegible]

GOING SOUTH.

Passenger trains LEAVE NORWICH [illegible]

6.15 a. m., connecting for [illegible] lington, New Haven and New [illegible]

8.15 a. m., for New London, [illegible] Providence and Boston. [illegible] New York, connecting with [illegible] Island for Mystic Island, [illegible] Block Island.

10.30 a. m., for New London, New [illegible] New York, Providence and Boston.

12.20 p. m., for New London, [illegible] Providence, Boston, Mystic, [illegible] and Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.

2.00 p. m., for New London, New [illegible] New York.

4.00 p. m., for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, [illegible] New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.

5.15 p. m., for New London, connecting [illegible] Line express [illegible] with express train for [illegible] Boston, and accommodation [illegible] Westerly and intermediate [illegible]

[illegible] p. m., for New London and [illegible] York, by boat from New London.

[illegible] p. m., for New London and [illegible] York via boat from New London.

7.00 p. m. (Sundays only) [illegible] express train for New York [illegible]
[illegible] D. MACKENZIE [illegible]

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.
NORWICH & WORCESTER [illegible]
for Boston, Worcester, Providence, Waterbury, [illegible]
Commencing MONDAY, June [illegible]
"Eastern" Time Standard.
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE [illegible] UNION STATION.

6.10 a. m. (Sundays excepted) [illegible] from [illegible] at Putnam, [illegible] arrive Boston 9.[illegible] a. m. [illegible] all going north, Portland [illegible]

[illegible] a. m., Way Passenger, [illegible] ing at Plainfield Junction for [illegible] arrive Providence [illegible] Boston arriving at [illegible] for Willimantic and Hartford [illegible] Hartford 10.15 a. m. [illegible] Boston, Springfield and [illegible] Boston, Albany and the west.

2.30 p. m., connecting at Putnam for [illegible] (arrive at 1.15 p. m.) At [illegible] Providence (arrive at [illegible]) [illegible] with roads north [illegible] Webster with train for Southbridge [illegible]

3.40 p. m., Way Passenger, [illegible] nam for Hartford and [illegible] Boston 6.30 p. m. At [illegible] bridge. At Worcester with [illegible] tuny Railroad [illegible] bury R. R.

5.35 p. m., for Plainfield, Providence and intermediate stations, [illegible] at Providence 6.30 p. m.

8.15 p. m., Way Passenger, [illegible] field for Providence and [illegible]

A train leaves Providence at [illegible] connects at Plainfield with [illegible] ways, arriving at [illegible] (Leaves Plainfield at [illegible])

TRAINS GOING SOUTH LEAVE [illegible] CENTER.

5.46 a. m., Way Passenger, [illegible] Webster for Southbridge, at [illegible] train for Hartford, Waterbury [illegible] mediate points and New York, [illegible] for Providence.

9.45 a. m., connects with [illegible] N. Y. P. & B. R. R. and [illegible] R. R. at Webster for Southbridge [illegible] Putnam with train to and from [illegible] Take this train for Hartford, New [illegible] Waterbury, Fishkill on [illegible] Plainfield from Providence.

12.20 p. m., Way Passenger. [illegible] Webster with train from Southbridge [illegible] at Putnam with [illegible] Boston for Willimantic, Hartford [illegible] New York. At Norwich for [illegible]

[illegible] p. m., Way Passenger, [illegible] Webster for Southbridge at [illegible] Willimantic and Hartford, and with [illegible] express train from Boston.

9.00 p. m., Steamboat Express for [illegible] (via New London.) (Sundays [illegible]) Connects with trains from [illegible] and Fitchburg R. R. This [illegible] Norwich for New London on the [illegible]

9.00 p. m., Plainfield and Norwich [illegible] ing at Plainfield with 4.[illegible] p. m. [illegible] Providence arrive Norwich [illegible] through car.

W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass. Agt.
F. E. DEWEY, [illegible]

Norwich, June 13 1893.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE [illegible] is when business is dull. [illegible] LETIN and note results.

DR. JOHNSON'S SPECIALTIES.

Originated by an Old Family Physician.
For
:-: Household :-:
Use.
UNLIKE ANY OTHER SOOTHING
HEALING PENETRATING
Every Mother
Should have it in the House.
For INTERNAL as much as EXTERNAL use
Dropped on Sugar Children Love to Take
JOHNSON,S Anodyne Liniment

For Croup, Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsilitis, Colic, Cramps and Pains. Relieves Summer Complaints, Cuts and Bruises like magic. Cures Coughs, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Cholera Morbus, Chilblains, Chaps, Soreness in body or Limbs, Stiff Muscles or Strains. Inhale for Nervous headache. Illustrated Pamphlet free by mail. Sold everywhere. Price 35 cents. Six bottles $2.00. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston, Mass.

FINANCIAL.

The Co-operative Building Bank
—HAS OVER—
$120,000.00
Maturity Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A larger showing than all others together. IT IS THE BEST. C. J. WOLCOTT, Treas.
126 Franklin St.

LIVERY STABLES.

EDMUND GEE,
Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.
Good Teams at Reasonable Prices.
363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge.

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable
Hacks and teams to let, also a four-seated wagon and 'bus, convenient for parties and picnics, at reasonable prices. Horse clipping done by Coates' Improved Power Machine.
A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

ATTORNEYS

Charles E. Carpenter,
PENSION ATTORNEY
Office with A. Irving Boyes, over Thames National Bank. Special attention given to the execution of vouchers for quarterly payments. Advice free. No fee unless claim is granted.

ARCHITECTS

C. H. PRESTON,
Architect, - - - - Central Building
Telephone 86-4, Norwich, Conn.
Specialties on modern construction and strength of materials.

JAMES A. HISCOX,
ARCHITECT
161 Main Street. Rooms 7 and 8.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened,
Bicycles Repaired.
CARRIAGE AND BOAT TRIMMINGS
NICKEL PLATED by
A. GOULD,
Industrial Building, near Union Station.

HORSES
TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES
at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St. by the new veterinary, DR. E. L. TOWLE, graduate from Ontario Veterinary College.

J. E. GARDNER, JR., D. V. S.
VETERINARIAN.
Office—Chapman's Stables, 15 Bath Street.
Telephone 123-12.

CAUTION.
There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. We have no agents in Norwich.
G. E. TRAFTON, Mgr.
REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO.
Office 28 Shetucket St., Norwich Ct.

Removal.
BRECKENRIDGE BROS.
Have removed their shop to CORNER WILLOW and CHESTNUT STS. and are prepared to give estimates on all kinds of wood-work.

Rapidly Taking the Lead.
Convenient for Guests,
Indispensable to Clerks,
Profitable to Proprietors,
Indorsed by All Hotel Men.

Where we have the benefit of advertising to reimburse us for our loss, we will furnish to HOTEL KEEPERS ONLY

THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE
HOTEL REGISTER
AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.
Books Registering
1000 Arrivals, Canvas Cover..............$1.
1500 " Tight Back.............. 2.00
2000 " Tight " 2.50
3000 " Spring " 3.00
5000 " Spring " 3.5
Size of page, 8 x 11.

These are the cheapest and best registers on the market.

Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and also a reasonable profit, as they cannot expect to get such favorable terms as we give our hotel patrons.

Remember, it is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.

Correspondence or Interviews Solicited.

INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,
Manufacturers of Plain and Advertising Registers, Transfer Registers, Letter Forwarding, Cash and Call Books of every description.
Norwich, - - Conn.

[illegible]ETS.

Near the [illegible] is
Of a flow[illegible] wood,
W[illegible] weaves
Canopies [illegible] leaves,
And [illegible] still
Both the [illegible] fill
With his [illegible] call,
We [illegible] all
Lo[illegible] give, save vain regrets
Underneath the violets.

Sleep for aye, bud that was lost
By an all too bitter frost;
Sleep for aye in that lone spot,
By our fond hearts unforgot.
Oft a-near the thrushes sing,
And the brown bee stills her wing
Many a time, that she may sip
From the honeysuckle's lip
Sweets, as we from our regret
Tears, O lost Violet!
—Almont Barnes in Kate Field's Washington.

A WARWHOOP.

In one of the quiet, pleasant, picturesque valleys of eastern Connecticut nestles the pretty, old fashioned village of Windham. A century ago this was one of the most important towns in the state east of the Connecticut river. Here were located the county jail, the county courthouse and other public institutions, which, with its prominent public men, raised the town to a position of influence and wide reputation.

During the last half century, or a little over, these institutions one by one have been removed to more thriving centers, bright and ambitious young men have sought other and more promising fields of activity, and the town, once so important, has been shorn of its old fame and power, until it has become simply a relic of the "good old times"—a typical New England village, the everyday existence of which has become dreamy and monotonous, and which lives chiefly in its traditionary history.

A century and a half ago Squire Elderkin and Colonel Dyer were the two most prominent men of Windham and were well known throughout the state. Both were lawyers, both were prominent in public affairs, both were wealthy for the times in which they lived, both had large social followings, and both were intensely jealous of each other.

Squire Elderkin was a tall, lean, bilious looking man, with heavy, raven black hair and piercing dark eyes. He was of aristocratic lineage, and in manner cold, selfish and ambitious. He was a learned lawyer, an able advocate and a merciless wit. Few could give a more rapierlike thrust than he—a thrust that never failed to reach its mark and always left a rankling wound and an ugly scar.

Colonel Dyer was a different kind of a man in every respect. In person he was short and stout. He had a merry blue eye, a beaming countenance and a good word for every one. Few could tell a better story or more surely make one laugh without knowing the reason why. Genial, happy, sociable, always bubbling over with fun and good humor, he never was happier than when surrounded with company, and his wide circle of friends always found him a royal entertainer. As a result he became one of the most popular men in the state. His magnetic, winning qualities were more than a match for the squire's learning and brilliancy.

Colonel Dyer was prominent, too, in military as well as political matters. Windham in those days was a frontier town, and the red man caused a great deal of anxiety at times. Whenever the situation became threatening Colonel Dyer was called to lead, and he always proved a willing soldier and a skillful commander.

Squire Elderkin was very envious of the colonel's popularity and made him the butt of many a keen, piercing shaft of wit. The colonel in time became very sensitive to these wounds, and although hatred was foreign to his nature he conceived a thorough dislike for the squire and frequently in defense made a sharp, stinging retort. The situation went on from bad to worse until finally there was many a sharp encounter between the friends of the contending parties. The little town, which had hitherto been blessed with happiness and contentment, became a factious, quarrelsome community.

Where these divisions would have ended, if an event destined to make "old Windham" famous had not intervened, no one can tell.

* * * * * *

The spring and early summer of 1758 was a season of intense anxiety for the settlers of New England. The memorable French and Indian war, with its unparalleled atrocities, was at its height. Massacres, in which whole villages were destroyed, were of frequent occurrence.

Windham had been especially stirred up by the bloodcurdling reports that were frequently borne from the north. Several times rumors of threatened invasion by the warlike savages and their more savage allies aroused the town to a wild pitch of excitement. On these occasions the villagers put implicit faith in the colonel's military sagacity and leadership. He was always placed in command, and his word was law—in short, he was the Miles Standish of this interior Connecticut town.

In early summer of this year the Connecticut settlers were called upon to render additional assistance in the struggle against the French. The French forts of the north were now the objective point, and Colonel Dyer immediately began raising a regiment to help in the reduction of Crown Point. The men were sent forward as fast as they enlisted, while Colonel Dyer remained to continue raising recruits.

One dark, sultry night of this memorable year the long looked for and dreaded crisis seemed at hand. Late in the evening an excited alarm was given by the village parson's slave. The negro was badly scared and rushed from house to house, wildly shouting: "The French are coming. The French are coming."

The excited villagers ran to their windows and doors and were met with a din and roar that filled them with amazement and terror. Such shrieks! Such yells! The very heavens seemed filled with unearthly sounds. The earth seemed to quake beneath the tread of the coming enemy.

"We will have Ker-nel Dy-er. And El-der-kin too. We will have Ker-nel Dyer. And El-der-kin too. Ker-nel Dyer Elderkin, too," shrieked the hideous voices in unison. Colonel Dyer and Squire Elderkin had been particularly active against the French. The whole village jumped to the conclusion that the French and Indians were anxious to capture these two [illegible]. As the outlandish shrieks seemed to increase in volume, and to grow nearer and nearer, the last doubt that the savages were upon them passed from every mind.

Colonel Dyer hurried to the village green when the alarm was given, and the clanging church bell soon called the villagers together. Squire Elderkin, badly frightened, promptly responded, well armed with a trusty flintlock. Very soon the ablebodied men of the town were in line, and Colonel Dyer was unanimously chosen commander.

The old feud that a few hours before divided neighbor from neighbor was forgotten. All united like brothers to defend their common homes.

Orders were immediately given to advance, and the Windham villagers marched up the hill to the east to check the enemy. The shout for "Colo-nel Dy-er and El-der-kin, too," steadily grew stronger and stronger, and the gallant colonel was reported to have shown unusual caution on this occasion, while Squire Elderkin, who had never had military experience, implored the colonel to halt his command on the hill and wait until daybreak before he proceeded, as everything seemed to indicate overwhelming odds in favor of the enemy.

The last half of the night was one of terror. The villagers who had been left behind waited to hear the roar of battle, but as the hours dragged their tedious length along without the discharge of a single piece all gave way to the fear that some great horror was impending. The night, however, finally wore away; the east began to grow gray, and the light was slowly creeping over the hills when the clamor for "Colonel Dyer and Elderkin, too," began to subside. Daylight quelled the hideous sounds.

The morning brought a strange story to the little army and the panic stricken villagers.

A mile and a half to the west of the village was a large millpond, which furnished water for power to grind the grain for the surrounding country. The miller reported that he had been awakened by the outlandish noises in early evening and on going to the pond found the frogs in a great state of commotion, but owing to the intense darkness nothing could be seen. In the morning many dead frogs were found upon the shore.

No wounds were visible; no marks of violence could be seen; no cause for the strange commotion could be found. Some argued that there had been a battle, but there was never any evidence to support this theory. Others advanced the idea that some mysterious, malarial contagion, some deadly epidemic, had broken out and caused the cries of distress which had driven terror to the hearts of the the Windham villagers. This theory, too, has been laughed at, and the truth is that the cause of the great disturbance has always been a dark, impenetrable mystery.

The state of mind of the townspeople the next morning can better be imagined than described. All seemed sick with humiliation at the ludicrous ending of their frantic fright of the evening before. Squire Elderkin was particularly mortified and is reported to have suffered a two weeks' sickness and confinement to his chamber, during which he was said to have frequently stated that he had much rather have lost his scalp than to have been the victim of such a huge joke.

It was wonderful how the story of the Windham frogs sought out and found every little nook and corner of the country. There were no railroads, no telegraphs or newspapers in those days. The stagecoach was the only means of intercommunication. Yet the story, greatly exaggerated and elaborately dressed up by the imagination, was told in almost every tavern in the land.

The Windham wits had been famous for years. Those who had suffered at their hands now eagerly seized the opportunity to pay back old scores with usurious interest. Ballads were written, songs were composed and sung, and every chance for a practical joke was utilized. Colonel Dyer was a delegate to the first congress held in New York. During his journey to that city some wag tied an immense frog to the rear of his carriage. His arrival is said to have been greeted with shouts and laughter, and the joke became the talk of the city.

On one occasion Squire Elderkin was said to have been making a very learned and eloquent plea, when some buffoon raised the shout of "Colonel Dyer and Elderkin, too," in the long drawn tones which the frogs had made famous. The judge lost his gravity, the jury laughed, and the audience shouted in the most boisterous manner. The squire, famous for his self possession, lost his temper, which greatly added to the amusement of the onlookers.

The humiliation of the Windhamites, however, soon passed away, and they regained their native shrewdness. Colonel Dyer was the first to turn the tide. He adopted the bullfrog as a coat of arms. He had a metal frog made for a door knocker and in various other ways showed his disposition to accept the situation good naturedly. The squire soon saw this was the better way and felt very kindly toward the colonel for his tact in stemming the current of popular persecution. He ever after accepted any mention of the frog story with a smile and apparent good nature, although it was generally believed that the smile was forced and the good nature was entirely assumed.

The memorable fright had one good effect. Colonel Dyer and Squire Elderkin became fast friends. Peace and good will reigned throughout the community, and the little village has since become noted for the spirit of neighborly kindness and brotherly love which seems to hover over it and pervade the very air.—Fred M. Hopkins in Romance.

A Substitute For Leather.

Leather possesses such excellent qualities for the many purposes to which it is put that it would seem idle to seek a substitute. Nevertheless there are many persons who, while they find that leather serves as an effectual protective covering for the foot, find also that it is often obstinate in adapting itself to the requirements of individual feet or to the more or less physical abnormalities to which so many are subject. In such cases, if comfort is to be expected, only the most supple and yielding quality should be worn. At the same time, of course, it should be waterproof and durable. These qualities, so far as we have been able to judge, belong in a satisfactory degree to an interesting and new material called "flexus fibra." It appears to be a flax derived material, suitably prepared and oiled, so that to all appearance it is leather. It is particularly supple and flexible and takes a polish equally well with the best kinds of calf.

We have recently had occasion to wear a boot of which the "vamp" or cut front section consists entirely of flexus fibra and have purposely submitted it to somewhat undue strain, in spite of which no cracking of the material was perceived, while the sense of comfort to the foot was very evident. Flexus fibra, being a material of vegetable origin, is calculated also to facilitate free ventilation and thereby to obviate the discomfort arising from what is called "drawing" the feet.—London Lancet.

The Benefit of Work.

Though we all welcome a season of rest, yet if we were never to have anything in the way of regular duties to perform what a purposeless, worrying existence ours would become! The cricket disporting itself gayly through the summer hours thinks that no life can be as pleasant or as sweet as its happy go lucky improvident hours of idleness spent under blue skies and in the full glare of the glorious sunlight, yet when winter comes and the lack of thought for the morrow has proved disastrous, then it wishes that there had been less play and more serious employment that would have brought about more worthy results.

Outside of the worldly benefit that accrues from conscientious work, there are other advantages that few realize unless they have experienced them for themselves. The blues speed away before its helpful influence, time never drags, the edge of sorrow is made less keen, and a healthier mind and body stand forth as examples of the benefit to be derived from having something to do beyond idle gossiping, desultory fancy work or a round of dressing and dancing that may seem blissful in contemplation, but is in reality not one-half as satisfying as the discharge of regular duties that make one feel that one has accomplished something worth talking about.—Philadelphia Times.

Literary Veterans.

Every one knows what the tontine system of life insurance is. A number of people pay equal sums of money into a pool, the amount is put out at interest and the surviving subscriber takes the accumulated sum. Similarly every man of letters gradually comes to be joint owner with other persons of a mass of valuable literary material which cannot be used by any of the joint owners so long as the others survive. But if he outlives the rest it all becomes his, and he can do what he will with it, without fear of hurting any one's feelings or disclosing anything that would work injury to the living or to the memory of the dead. Who is there that writes and is still under 50 who will not admit that the stories he knows the best and are the best worth telling are those that he cannot tell because of the score of people still on earth who would strip the disguises from his characters and read as biography what he designed to have pass as fiction? Which of us does not think he might do a magnum opus if there were no lives in being to hinder?—Scribner's.

Rare Books, Not Old Ones, Are Valuable.

Age only gives value to comparatively few books. Hundreds of volumes printed in the seventeenth century are to be had at our secondhand shops at prices ranging from 10 to 25 cents apiece, and the average vellum of 330 years ago is worth 50 per cent less in the market today than is one of Hawthorne's or of Whittier's cunning little first editions printed between 1838 and 1842. Going over an English catalogue a few days ago, we made a note of the prices of items bearing dates from 1490 to 1510 and found that the 16 volumes offered for sale could be had for $5.02, about 33 cents apiece. Not long ago here in Chicago, a 24 volume edition of Melancthon printed in Amsterdam in 1600 was sold to the Armour Institute library for $5. By actual weight and by actual measurement (for they were monstrous folios in double thick vellum) they were cheaper than coal by the ton or wood by the cord.—Chicago Record.

Grownup Girls and Dolls.

As nothing in The Master Builder has exercised the minds of the critics and the public so much as Mrs. Solness' "nine lovely dolls," you will perhaps allow me to put on record a little incident connected with them which strikes me as curious. At a recent first night I happened to be seated just behind a well known critic. He turned around to me and said: "I want you to tell me what is your theory of those 'nine lovely dolls.' Of course one can see that they're entirely symbolical."

"I'm not so sure of that," I replied, remembering a Norwegian cousin of my own who treasured a favorite doll until she was nearer 30 than 20, and may do so for aught I know to this day. "They of course 'symbolize' the unsatisfied passion of motherhood in Mrs. Solness' heart, but I have very little doubt that Ibsen makes use of this 'symbol' because he has observed a similar case or cases in real life." "What!" cried the critic. "He has seen a grownup, middle aged woman continuing to 'live with' her dolls."

I was about to say that it did not seem to me so very improbable when a lady who was seated next me, a total stranger to both of us, leaned forward and said, "Excuse me for interrupting you, but it may perhaps interest you to know that I have three dolls to which I am deeply attached!" I will not be so rude as to conjecture this lady's age, but we may be sure that a very young woman would not have had the courage to make such an avowal. Does it not seem that Ibsen knows a thing or two about human nature—English as well as Norwegian—which we dramatic critics, though bound by our calling to be subtle psychologists, have not yet fathomed?—Westminster Gazette.

The Discovery of Lithography.

One of the greatest discoveries ever made was the result of the purest accident. It was the year 1796. The citizens of Munich had just witnessed the first triumphant performance of Mozart's opera "Don Juan," and the theater was deserted by all save one man, Alois Senefelder, who, after making a round of inspection in the building to see that no sparks had ignited anything combustible, retired to his room to stamp the tickets of admission for the day following. When he entered his apartment, he had three things in his hand—a polished whetstone which he had purchased for sharpening razors, a ticket stamp still moistened with printing ink and a check on the treasurer of the theater for his weekly salary. As he placed the latter upon the table a gust of wind swept it high up in his room for a moment and then deposited it in a basin filled with water.

Sennefelder dried the wet paper as well as he could and then weighted it down with the whetstone, upon which he had before carelessly placed the printing stamp. When he returned to his room the following morning, he was astonished at seeing the letters of the stamp printed with remarkable accuracy upon the dampened paper. A thought came to him. He wondered whether by some such means he could not simplify his work of continually copying the songs of the chorus. He went out and purchased a large stone, commenced making experiments, and, as we all know now, finally discovered the art of printing from stone—lithography.—Boston Herald.

Prices of a Few Autographs.

Some prices on autograph letters are as follows: From Charles Francis Adams, 1859, 50 cents; long letter in German by Hans Christian Andersen at Copenhagen, $5; John Quincy Adams, 1841, $5; P. T. Barnum, 1867, 75 cents; Joseph Bonaparte, in regard to the sale of his diamonds and on political matters, dated at Philadelphia, 1833, $4; Ole Bull, $4.50; President Cleveland, letter regarding Mrs. Cleveland, 1890, $3; C. Corot, on art subjects, $8; Edward Eggleston, on sending copy of a novel, 75 cents; Nathaniel Hawthorne, Concord, 1862, $12.50; Leigh Hunt, three page letter on note paper without date, $4; Jean Ingelow, $2.50; Washington Irving, $8.50; Andrew Jackson, $7.50; Louis XIII of France, signed document, $3; President Monroe, commission of a major in the army, on vellum and signed by J. C. Calhoun, $2.50; Joaquin Miller, autograph verse, $1; Marshal MacMahon, $3; Ouida, $3; Ellen Terry, $1; President Tyler, $2.50; Victoria, Duchess of Kent and mother of Queen Victoria, $3; Benjamin West, $10.

An order of arrest signed by Robespierre, also signed by Couthon, is valued at $25; a salary advance agreement of Richard Brinsley Sheridan, $7.50; Jonathan Swift, with seal of the deanery, $10; photograph of Theodore Thomas, signed and dated, 75 cents.—New York Telegram.

American Levity.

Singularly enough it appears that Poe, the only absolutely distinct genius our country has yet produced, was incapable of humor and that even his levity was artificial. Hawthorne, next to Poe in originality and far above him in style, was but meagerly equipped with smile provoking material. Bryant, our greatest poet, maintained a lofty seriousness throughout his work.

It may be sacrilege to say so, but the truth is Lowell was the founder of our levity. He never could be quite a reliably serious thinker, but could at any moment break off into funmaking. Humor is good in a fresh and natural state, but so is a peach. Cut and dry either, and you have a poor article for a regular diet. We Americans have fed upon laughable things until our faces show the wrinkles of a grin even when in solemnest repose.

We are never sure of one another, but must wait awhile after each communication to find out whether or not it is a joke. The effect of highest sincerity cannot be reached in the midst of all this hurly burly of chaffing voices. How can one be serious while everybody else is grimacing?—Chautauquan.

There Was Just One Man.

There is a gallant congressman who once had the reputation of sowing wild oats broadcast. When he was first running for congress, many breezy stories were told about him. At last he gave it out in the heat of his campaign that he would speak shortly in defense of his morals. It was a Populist district, and he had a big audience. The speech every one liked, but until the last sentence not a word was spoken about the advertised subject. At the last the candidate stuck his hand under his desk and pulled out several boxes of imported cigars.

"Gentlemen," he cried, "I am accused of having certain bad habits. Particular instances have been alleged in fact. I wish to make some one in this assemblage a present of a box of good cigars. If there is any one here who has never done what I have done, will he please step up and take it?" No one moved. For a long time the big crowd kept silent. But an old Baptist minister in a far back seat after awhile arose and said in a high, squeaky voice, "Colonel, I don't smoke."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Didn't Know His Own Child.

At Antietam, just after the artillery had been sharply engaged, the Rockbridge (Va.) battery was standing waiting orders. General Lee rode by and stopped a moment. A dirty faced driver about 17 said to him:

"General, are you going to put us in again?"

Think of such a question from such a source to the general of the army, especially when that general's name was Lee.

"Yes, my boy," the stately officer kindly answered; "I have to put you in again. But what is your name? Your face seems familiar somehow."

"I don't wonder you didn't know me, sir," laughed the lad; "I'm so dirty, but I'm Bob."

It was the general's youngest son, whom he had thought safe at the Virginia Military institute. "God bless you, my son; do your duty!" and the general rode on.—Washington Post.

Customers Too Particular.

Some years ago the proprietors of a so called "ulster house" in London placed in their windows a placard setting forth a new rule of their establishment, namely, that no orders given by Americans would be executed unless the orders were paid for beforehand. The proprietor on being interviewed declared that American ladies were much too hard to please—infinitely more so than English ones. They insisted upon having their things made to fit or they refused to take them. "I had an ulster sent back to me the other day, for instance," he remarked, "by an American customer merely because it was longer in front than it was at the back." Only that and nothing more!—Lucy Hooper in Home Journal.

Those who have a
Good Digestion
have little sympathy for the dyspeptic. They can eat everything that comes along. While they can eat rich food without fear of the dyspeptic's bad experiences, they nevertheless greatly appreciate a delicate flavor in their pastry.
Cottolene
when used as a shortening, always produces the finest flavored pastry, which is entirely free from the many objections which the use of lard always produces. Test its value by one trial.
Refuse all substitutes.
Send three cents in stamps to N. K. Fairbank & Co., Chicago, for handsome Cottolene Cook Book containing six hundred recipes, prepared by nine eminent authorities on cooking.
Cottolene is sold by all grocers.
Made only by
N. K. FAIRBANK & CO.,
CHICAGO, and
Produce Exchange, N. Y.,
224 State Street, Boston.
aug31TuTh&w

THE NATIONAL BARGAIN CO.

—AT THE—
BARGAIN STORE.
A GENERAL REDUCTION
—IN—
Nearly all Goods Before Taking Inventory.
This means a discount from the regular bargain prices on our goods, which are always LOWER THAN
THE LOWEST
at any time. Not a few items, but nearly everything in stock will be slaughtered for a few days.
OUR LOSS
—IS—
YOUR GAIN.
A dollar will do double duty. Call and see.
NATIONAL
BARGAIN -:- COMPANY,
Shannon Building,
NORWICH, - - - CONN.

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION
Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices.
Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.
No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.
8 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD.
DENTIST,
Over Boston Store, opp. Wauregan House. Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered.

DR. J. H. ELDRED,
DENTIST.
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, Ether or Cocaine administered.
OFFICE—214 Main Street,
Trueman's Block Franklin Square. Residence 11 BROADWAY.

BILLIARD and POOL TABLES
— FOR SALE BY —
J. J. COATES, 65 West Main St.
Supplies of all kinds constantly on hand.
Repairing done.

ALFRED HUNT, Florist,
Funeral Designs and Choice Cut Flowers.
Next to Yantic Cemetery, Lafayette Street.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

PEACHES
Car Peaches No. 13
will be unloaded THIS MORNING ready for sale at
J. C. WORTH'S, 37 Water St.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Five Gallon Oil Can.
LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,
91 Water St.,
AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

GROCERIES.

FILL YOUR Lunch Baskets
—AT—
RALLION'S.
46 Broadway, Central Building.

FRUIT JARS.
Mason's Improved.
A. T. OTIS.

FLOUR
Is the lowest ever known, and Bread is the cheapest Food that can be used. The Flour that makes the Best Bread and the most loaves of Bread is
"PILLSBURY'S BEST"
For Sale Everywhere.
SMITH, NORTHAM & CO.,
HARTFORD, CONN. MILLER'S AGENTS.

WE'RE STILL HERE!
AT 300 FRANKLIN STREET,
AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE.
Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or greenback.
Come and see us and bring the children.
E. D. AVERY.

Cliquot Club Ginger Ale,
Cowdry's Deviled Meats,
Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken
—AT—
R. S. BARTLETT'S,
4 and 6 Broad Opera House.

Concentrated Claret Lemonade
Lime Juice and
Imported Ginger Ales, at
A. L. ALLEN'S

REMOVAL.
Dr. W. S. C. Perkins has removed to 31 Broadway. Office hours, 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m. Residence, 50 Broad street.
Dr. Chas. H. Perkins, 31 Broadway. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m. Residence, 50 Broad street. Telephone at residence.

THE TIME
TO BUY
IS WHEN
THE OTHER FELLOW
WANTS
TO SELL

WE WANT TO SELL

OFFICE
STATIONERY
WILL NEVER BE CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,
BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE "WHITE LION" BRAND OF FLOUR

makes the Whitest Bread. Wholesale and Retail by WELCOME A. SMITH, septld

I. O. O. F.

Regular meeting Shetucket Lodge, No. 27, Tuesday Evening, Sept. 5th. Work in the Initiatory Degree, and full attendance is desired.

Per order N. G.
septd B. W. BAUMANN, Rec. Sec.

SECOND-HAND SCHOOL BOOKS AT HALF-PRICE.

Some a little less, others a little more, but all are bargains.

LOVELL BROS,
sept5TuThS WEST SIDE.

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL SCHOOL BOOKS
—AND—
SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

We have a large number of
SECOND-HAND BOOKS
in fine condition, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.
Noyes & Davis.
septdaw

SCHOOL BOOKS
AT LOWEST PRICES.
SECOND-HAND BOOKS
AT LOWEST PRICES.

Best figures on Second-Hand Books in exchange or for cash.

BARGAINS IN SCHOOL SUPPLIES.
Cranston & Co.
septdaw

WORTH KNOWING.

FRUIT JARS,
JELLY GLASSES,
TUMBLERS,
CROCKERY,
CAN BE BOUGHT CHEAP
—AT—Wholesale or Retail,
—AT—
WHITNEY'S,
41 BROADWAY, CENTRAL BUILDING.
septdaw

MILLINERY.

INFANTA

Have received the above in light weight Felt in Navy and Black; also in Velvet and Cloth. It is THE Hat to take the place of the Sailor.

Felt 69c, value $1.00.
Velvet and Cloth 79c, value $1 25.

T. E McCLENATHAN.
Wholesale and Retail. septdaw

—ON SALE TODAY—
AT LOWEST PRICES YET
A LARGE LINE OF
-REMNANTS-CLOAKINGS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.

We invite inspection and guarantee buyers will find bargains.

Hallville Mills Store,
29 Commerce St.
Open until 8 o'clock. septdaw

Do You Know Any One Who is Hard to Suit?

Bring him in. We can make all sorts of Suits for the different kinds of days to be lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable.

GEO. R. CLARK,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 4, Shannon Block. jy1d

REMOVAL.
OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN
OCULIST and AURIST,
To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.

Special attention given to correcting all forms of abnormal vision with proper Spectacles or Eye Glasses. No fee charged in such cases except in ASTIGMATISM or where it is necessary to prescribe in addition to fitting glasses. tuld

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your goods is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

The Bulletin

Norwich, Tuesday September 5 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before Six a. m.

Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co

The Weather Today.

Fair till Wednesday night; slightly warmer; west to southwest winds.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

Regular meeting of Shetucket lodge, I. O. O. F., this evening.

Business generally was suspended Labor Day, and the day locally was given over to enjoyment.

General Hawley is of the belief that the senate will surely repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman act.

Thanksgiving, this year, will come on Thursday, November 30, the latest date that it has occurred on for years.

E. D. Church, the Rockville correspondent of the Hartford Courant, was in Norwich yesterday looking after the Rockville interests in the bicycle races for his paper.

James B. Palmer shipped 22 head of pure bred Guernseys and 17 Dorset horned sheep for the New England fair at Worcester, which opened Monday. Good judges say the herd of Guernseys was the finest that were ever shipped from Jewett City. Mr. Palmer must have a trunk full of prizes and an album filled with "special mentions," and he intends to keep right on taking his full share of money, medals and "mentions."

The New Haven Journal of Monday said: J. D. Rice, who has for the last five years been organist and director of music at St. James' Episcopal church in New London, has been engaged as organist at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church on Hillhouse avenue, and began his duties there Sunday. Mr. Rice was one of the most prominent pupils of his class with Prof. Stoeckel of Yale, and has also studied with the best masters in Germany, residing in that country two years for that purpose.

Superior Court.

The superior court will convene with a jury in New London at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Fire System Repaired.

Chief Greeneberg has just got his fire alarm system in working order, after a week of arduous work. The recent gales played havoc with wires, boxes and gongs.

Born at Wethersfield.

Mary Hurst, who was sent from New London county to the Wethersfield prison for one year on May 10, for bigamy, gave birth to an eight and one-half pound boy Sunday morning and was unable to attend the hearing before the board of pardons Monday.

Judge Shumway to Act.

Judge Shumway has been requested by Chief Justice Andrews to act as state's attorney for Windham county during the September term of superior court. This was to obviate the necessity of the judges coming together to choose a permanent successor to Mr. Penrose during the summer vacation.

Westerly Quarries Resume.

The Smith Granite company of Westerly have reopened its large granite quarries after a shut-down of two weeks. In consequence, over 300 men resumed work. Business in this industry is slowly improving. The reason for the shut-down two weeks ago was mainly due to the inability of the company to secure small bills to pay off the employes.

Accidentally Shot Himself.

Capt. James Riley of Mystic, formerly of the Mallory line of steamers, accidentally shot himself in the foot Saturday afternoon, at Mystic, with a shot gun. He had just loaded the gun to fire, when in some unaccountable way the piece discharged prematurely, letting the charge go into Captain Riley's foot.

In a Pitiful State.

Ten-year-old John O'Connell will follow his two sisters to the Orphan asylum at New Haven today, under whose helpful influence he will be reared to man's estate. Johnny and his mother have been on the verge of starvation for several weeks past, and Sunday, when Mrs. Dr. Cassidy received notice of their condition and sought them out in Myers' alley they were nearly famished. Work will be found for the mother.

Late Excursion.

Tubbs' military band and the Blackstone Hose company will take an ocean trip to Block Island on Thursday, Sept. 7, on the City of Richmond. Bluefish are plentiful at the island at present, and fishing can be indulged in freely. A trip to the south cliffs after the late storm is well worth the time. The shore dinner will be gotten up for the occasion. The low price and long stay at the island will prove popular. The price of a ticket and state room is about what it usually costs for a ticket alone.

Cascapedia Salmon Fishing.

The Rev. Dr. Smythe of New Haven, who, with a party occupied this season the cottage built by the Marquis of Lorne on the Cascapedia river, which was occupied by Messrs. Archibald Mitchell, W. A. Briscoe and John M. Johnson last year, says: "The most excellent salmon fishing in Canada is found there. A number of American gentlemen have obtained control for a number of years of the fishing on forty miles of the Cascapedia river, for which they pay $800 per year, and they obtain about two or two and a half months' fishing."

The Pequot House Season.

The Pequot house will close about the 20th, and at the same time the other resorts will haul down their flags and the hotel men hie themselves to their city homes after a fairly profitable season. None of them hereabout seems to have made much money, but all appear to be satisfied.

At the Pequot the Saturday night hops will be continued until the doors are finally closed, and the gay assemblages at the more exclusive new Casino will be held as long as enough cottagers remain in the vicinity to make up a quadrille.

HONORS EASY.

The Clippers Lose and Won a Ball Game Labor Day.

The old Mystic base ball nine, somewhat rejuvenated after a long period of rest and quiet, ordered after their treatment at the hands of Norwich's former team, came to town on the steamer Martha Labor day and faced the Clippers on the Greeneville diamond. They professedly were a Westerly aggregation, and the spectators really believed they represented that borough till Brother Jonathan Shackley flitted on to the greensward, his jaws champing rythmically as of yore and encased in his old-time Mystic uniform.

The morning game was as easy a victory for the visitors as the afternoon contest was for the Clippers. There were good plays in abundance, the fielding was brisk and brilliant and the batting interesting, and the spectators were often moved to applause. The scores:

MORNING GAME.

CLIPPERS.

	A.B.	R.	1B.	P.O.	A.	E.
Moore, p., cf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Manchester, ss., 1b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Counihan, c., 1b., p.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Driscoll, 3b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
O'Brien, cf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Fogarty, lf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ford, cf., p.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Shea, 2b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hayes, c, 1b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
	30	2	4	24	19	7

WESTERLY.

	A.B.	R.	1B.	P.O.	A.	E.
Tuckerman, lf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Robinson, 3b, c.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Kennedy, cf., p.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
O'Toole, c.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Moriarty, ss.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
McCarren, rf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Shackley, 1b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Baker, 2b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Clancey, cf., p.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
	[illegible]	14	[illegible]	27	15	[illegible]

SCORE BY INNINGS.

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Clippers	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	2
Westerly	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	14

AFTERNOON GAME.

CLIPPERS.

	A.B.	R.	1B.	P.O.	A.	E.
Moore, 2b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Manchester, ss.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Counihan, c.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Driscoll, p.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Lucy, 1b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Fogarty, lf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
O'Brien, rf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Shea, 3b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hayes, cf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Totals	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

WESTERLY.

	A.B.	R.	1B.	P.O.	A.	E.
Tuckerman, cf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Robertson, 2b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Kennedy, p.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
O'Toole, c.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Moriarty, ss.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Morgan, lf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Shackley, 1b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	14	[illegible]	[illegible]
McGennon, rf.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Baker, 3b.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	27	13	[illegible]

SCORE BY INNINGS.

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Clippers	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Westerly	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Passed balls, Counihan 1, O'Toole 2; bases on balls, off Kennedy 2, off Driscoll 1; hit by pitched ball, Hayes; struck out, by Kennedy 4, by Driscoll 6; left on bases, Clippers 10, Westerly 3; double play, Counihan; umpires, Ryan and Burke.

COMMON COUNCIL MEETING.

A Policeman and Two Supernumeraries Appointed—Other Business Transacted.

The common council met in their chamber Monday evening, Mayor C. L. Harwood presiding, and Alderman Sevin the only absentee. The meeting was rapped to order promptly at 8 o'clock.

Alderman Aborn of the street committee moved that the council rescind the resolution adopted at the last meeting approving the layout of the west line of Broadway, in front of the Otis library, as due notice had not been given to interested parties. The motion was carried and an opportunity will be granted for a discussion of the proposition at the next meeting.

At the request of Mayor Harwood, Alderman Palmer moved that when the council adjourn it be to September 12. The motion was carried.

The street committee reported favorbly on the petitions of Patrick Morris to build a house on Thames street, and Jennie A. Rice to erect a cottage on Asylum street. Their action was approved by the council.

A favorable report was given the petition of W. B. Ricker and twenty-nine others, asking to have a concrete walk ordered laid on the easterly side of Mt. Pleasant street, extending from West Main street to Elizabeth street. Remonstrants will be given an opportunity to be heard at the meeting September 12.

City Treasurer Tibbit's report for the quarter ending August 15 was presented and referred to the finance committee and the street committee's August statement was accepted.

Alderman Aborn handed in a petition remonstrating against the request of Wm. Witter and nineteen others that a concrete sidewalk be ordered laid on the northwesterly side of Central avenue from Prospect street to Twelfth street, urging that the desire for the improvement was not general, that the time was not adapted to it and that the walk on the east side of the street obviated the necessity of the one proposed.

The report of the street committee on the matter, presented by Chairman Aborn, which was accepted, gave the opinion that public necessity did not require the sidewalk, and the petitioners were given permission to withdraw.

A petition signed by Nathan Small and others proposing City Sheriff Myron O. Morgan for supernumerary policeman was referred to the police commissioners. Charles McFadden's and Walter E. Foster's applications for positions on the supernumerary force were also referred.

Peter Eikler's petition to build a house and remove a tree on Central avenue, Hugh Kelleher's to cut down a tree at 172 North Main street, C. G. Willis' to build an addition to his house on Pearl street, and S. A. Chapman's to erect a two-story cottage on Fairmount street were sent to the street committee.

Warranty deeds of the property purchased by the city from D. W. Grant and James Murphy, trustee of the estate of William Maloney, used in the widening of Thames street, were accepted by the council, and on motion of Alderman Aborn $1,500 was appropriated in each case to settle the accounts.

Alderman Aborn presented a resolution that the location of the tracks of the Norwich Street railway on Thames street from a point one hundred feet south of the junction of the east side of High street to three hundred and eighty feet north of the junction be adopted and approved. The resolution was carried unanimously.

Alderman Perkins placed the name of Richard Connell in nomination for promotion from the supernumerary list to the regular police force. Councilman Henderson proposed Henry B. Lewis. The vote by ballot revealed seven in favor of Mr. Lewis and four for Mr. Connell. The former was declared elected.

Councilman Whittaker nominated Walter E Foster for supernumerary and Councilman Brewster named Sheriff Morgan. Mr. Foster received seven of the ten ballots.

Charles L. Perry was elected supernumerary on motion of Councilman George.

The appropriation to the street department for August was $2,033 50. After authorizing the payment of the usual number of bills, the council adjourned to next week Tuesday evening.

OUR FOLKS AND OTHER FOLKS.

The Home-Comers and Departures.

Attorney Julian Bishop of New London was in town Labor day.

Mrs. Caryl of Norwich is the guest of Mrs. S. B. Case, Jr., at Crescent beach.

Mrs. John Powers, who has been visiting New London friends, has returned home.

Frank Ulmer and family have returned from the World's fair, where they spent ten days.

Miss Bessie Millea has returned home from a ten days' stay with relatives in Worcester.

Captain Fred A. Johnson of the Yale crew and Mr. E. E. Johnson are at the World's fair.

Mr. Fred Perkins has returned to Norwich, after residing in Chicago for the past year and a half.

Mrs. Dolbeare and son Louis will return from their cottage on the Willimantic camp ground tomorrow.

Major N. R. Gardner, wife and daughter of Sprague, left Monday for a two weeks' trip to the World's fair.

Mrs. W. F. Rawson of Norwich is being entertained by Mrs. P. H. Billings at the family cottage at White beach.

Mr. Frank L. Payne of Laurel Hill avenue will enter the Eastman Business college at Poughkeepsie, this fall.

Misses Lizzie and Mary Browne returned home Sunday morning from a week's stay with relatives in New Jersey.

A number of local members of the state Fat Men's association will attend the annual clam bake at Brightman's beach, near Westerly today.

Snow, Rockville's famous bicycle racer, who was at the fair grounds Monday, will be unable to participate in today's Hartford contests, owing to his overtrained condition.

George L. Tyrell of the Wesleyan baseball nine arrived in town last night. He has been doing great work for the crack Northampton, Mass., club, the past few weeks.

Striking on the L. & N.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 4.—Last evening the Louisville & Nashville employes of all classes, except the telegraph operators in this city, struck. At the principal yards of the company at Howell, two miles from here, not a wheel is turning.

DIED.

LESTER—In North Stonington, Sept. 3, Orrin Lester, aged 84 years.

GRAY—In this city, Sept. 4, Phillip Earl, son of Hadley G. and Mary M. Gray, aged 11 months.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

ELLIOTT—In this city, Sept. 3, Michael J. Elliott, aged 37 years.

Funeral from his late residence, No. 43 North Main street, Tuesday morning, Sept. 5, at 8 15. Services at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LOST.

On Steamer Gypsy or wharf between 4.30 and 7 p. m., Monday, small OPEN-FACE GOLD WATCH. Finder will be rewarded on leaving at this office. sept5d

GREAT FIRE SALE
—OF—
GROCERIES.

Our entire stock to be sold at ONE-HALF its actual value. Sale opens WEDNESDAY, Sept. 6, at 100 FRANKLIN ST.

J. A. STODDARD & SON.
sept5d

World's Fair Accident Tickets.
$3,000
Issued for 5 days, cost .50
" " 10 " " $1.25
" " 15 " " 1.50
" " 30 " " 2.50
For Sale at STORY'S INSURANCE AGENCY. sep5d

THE LAST OCEAN EXCURSION OF THE SEASON
UNDER THE AUSPICES OF TUBBS' MILITARY BAND
—AND THE—
BLACKSTONE HOSE CO.,
on the Excursion Steamer
CITY OF RICHMOND,
—TO—
BLOCK ISLAND,
THURSDAY, Sept. 7th, 1893.

Steamer leaves Norwich at 8 a. m., stopping at New London and Watch Hill. A stay of 3 hours will allow passengers plenty of time for boating, bathing and fishing. Also a chance to visit the many places of interest on the island. TUBBS' BAND will render good concert music. Steamer will arrive home early.

Fare for the Trip Only 75c.

And the tickets are for sale by members of both organizations. sep5d

A FINE DAY'S OUTING
New scenery and no seasickness.
THE STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND
will make her third annual Excursion to
BRIDGEPORT, on FRIDAY, September 8.

Jarvis' full Military Band and Yeager's Orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

This sail offers a fine view of Long Island Sound by daylight and the scenery along the shores of Connecticut is picturesque and beautiful.

The steamer has been chartered for this trip by her officers, and will leave Norwich at 8.15 a. m., Montville 8.35, New London 9.00, giving two full hours' stay at Bridgeport to visit their friends and view the many interesting points of interest. Patrons should visit the famous Seaside Park. Horse cars run direct to the Park. Plenty of refreshments and a first-class dinner at reasonable rates. For State Rooms and Tickets call on Noyes & Davis, Norwich, Bishop & Macnab, Greeneville, and W. H. Parmelee, New London.

Fare for round trip, - 75c.
sep5d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LOST.

On Monday, between the Fair Ground and Mt. Pleasant street, a LADIES' GOLD WATCH. The finder will be rewarded on leaving it at 117 Mt. Pleasant St. sept5d

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD AT Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 4th day of September, 1893.

Present—CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge.

Estate of Mary A. Holmes, late of Norwich, in said district, deceased.

Ordered—That six months from the date hereof be, and the same are limited and allowed for the creditors to bring in their claims against said estate, and the Administrator, Frank B. Holmes of said Norwich, directed to give public notice to the creditors of said estate to bring in their claims within said time allowed, by posting the same on the public sign-post nearest the place where the deceased last dwelt within the same town, and by publishing the same in a newspaper having a circulation in said district, and return make to this Court of the notice given.

Attest— CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge.
sept5d

To whom it may Concern:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT at a meeting of the Court of Common Council of the City of Norwich, held September 4th, A. D., 1893, the following report was accepted and approved.

Attest— ARCHIBALD S. SPALDING,
City Clerk and Clerk of the Court of Common Council.

To the Court of Common Council of the City of Norwich:—

The Committee on Streets to whom was referred the petition of W. B. Ricker and others asking that a concrete walk be ordered on the easterly side of Mt. Pleasant Street from West Main Street to Elizabeth Street, beg leave to report that they have given the matter their attention and they recommend the passage of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That owners of the land fronting on the northeasterly side of Mt. Pleasant Street between West Main and Elizabeth Streets be, and they hereby are, ordered to duly form, curb, and pave with concrete, at their own expense, the sidewalks in front of their respective premises in accordance with the grade and width established by the Court of Common Council, and all of said work must be completed on or before the 15th day of October, 1893, to the satisfaction and acceptance of the Street Commissioner.

And Resolved, That provided said walks are not formed, curbed, and paved with concrete, as directed in the foregoing resolutions to the acceptance of the Street Commissioner by the —— ——, 1893, and Street Commissioner is hereby directed to form and pave with concrete the same in accordance with the intent of the foregoing order; and the City Sheriff is hereby directed to notify the parties aforesaid at once by leaving with them a copy of this report and accompanying resolutions.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. E. ABORN, }
J. H. HENDERSON, } Committee on VINE S. STETSON, } Streets.

Norwich, Sept. 4th, 1893.

Resolved, That the consideration of the foregoing resolutions recommended by the Street Committee relative to sidewalks on the northeasterly side of Mt. Pleasant Street, in said City of Norwich, be postponed to a meeting of the Court of Common Council, to be held at the Council Chamber in said city, on the 12th day of September, A. D., 1893, at eight o'clock p. m., and that due notice of said meeting be given to all parties interested, to appear, if they see cause, and be heard in relation thereto.

I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true copy of record.

Attest—ARCHIBALD S. SPALDING,
sept5d City Clerk.

CROCKER'S
Magical Stomach Powders

Make good health possible to all through good digestion. Bad digestion reduces vitality—weakens the circulation of the blood, which alone makes disease possible. sept5d

As it is Nearly Time to House the Plants, be prepared with the necessary sizes of
FLOWER POTS.
We have them in all the sizes and our prices are low.
SMITH BROS.
sept5d

TO RENT.

8 minutes from Post Office, Lower Tenement, 7 rooms, hot and cold water, with separate bath and closet. J. BRADFORD, aug5d Bookbinder, Bulletin Building.

NEW LINE OF
FALL OVERCOATS!
Dodge & Holloway.
sept5TuThS

—THE—
Central Baptist Church,
UNION SQUARE.
REV. J. D. HERR, D. D. Pastor:
Residence 46 Church Street.

Public Services, to which all are cordially invited: Sunday, 10.30 a. m.—7.30 p. m. Bible school Sunday 12 m. Young People's Meeting 6.30 p. m. Prayer Meeting Thursdays 7.30 p.m. Seats rented by the month. Persons desiring sittings may apply on any week day, or on Sunday to the undersigned Seat Rental Committee:

CHARLES B. WHITNEY.
E. G. SMITH.
dec17TuThS CHARLES D. NOYES.

SHOE TALK!

The close attention we give to our Shoe Department to make it satisfactory to the people is rewarded by a constant increase in our sales, and we are very thankful to know that our efforts are well appreciated.

We offer this week:

Men's Genuine Kangaroo Shoes, Lace and Congress, $2.25, were $3.00.

Men's Genuine Dongola Lace and Congress Shoes, $2.00, were $2 50.

Men's Light, Stylish Lace and Congress Shoes, $1.50, worth $2 00.

Boys' Tap Sole Shoes, Strong and Serviceable, 95c.

Boys' Base Ball Shoes, Genuine Calf Trimmed, 50c, worth $1.00.

Men's Tennis Shoes, 40c

Boys' Tennis Shoes, 38c.

Child's Tennis Shoes, 35c.

Alling Brothers,
septdaw Broad Opera House Block.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DR. N. P. SMITH,
Office No. 8 Broadway.
Hours 11 a. m., to 1 p. m., 4.30 to 6.30 p. m.
aug31 RESIDENCE 362 MAIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels,
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.
Collins Turbine Machine Co.
jald

A WOMAN'S CHANCE TO MARRY.

¼ of 1 per cent.	from	60 to 80	years of age.
¾ of 1	"	"	45 to 50	"
2½	"	"	40 to 45	"
3¾	"	"	35 to 40	"
15½	"	"	30 to 35	"
18	"	"	25 to 30	"
52	"	"	20 to 25	"
14½	"	"	15 to 20	"

Wedding Shoes a Specialty at
Herren'S,
Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's.
Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug24d

L. A. GALLUP,
Wholesale Grocer,
AT No. 31 WATER STREET
Norwich, Conn.

Sells at the lowest prices a full and general line of

GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS

including Tea, Coffee, Spices, Molasses, Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Flour, Wheatena, Cottolene, Worcester Salt, London Parlor and other Matches, Etc., Etc. There is no cheaper or better place in Norwich to buy Groceries. Gentlemanly service and prompt deliveries guaranteed. aug5TThS

LOOK OUT
—FOR—
FRUIT JARS
Preston Bros.
SELL THEM
CHEAP.
aug5d

W. & S. ROOT BEER EXTRACT

Is made from the best selected materials. It contains Spikenard, Prince's Pine, Wintergreen, Dandelion, Sassafras, Gentian, Ginger Sweet Birch and Sarsaparilla, and is equal in strength and flavor to any brand whatever. One bottle makes 5 gallons of Delicious Root Beer.

WOODWORTH & SMALL,
West Side Drug Store.
jy18TuFuSaw

FURNACES.

Now is the time to have your Furnaces put in order, or if you need a new one now is the best time to buy. [illegible]

Steam or Hot Water Heater
The Richmonds
are ahead of anything with the latest improvements, and
J. P. BARSTOW & CO.
Will make you the Lowest Prices possible.
RICHMOND RANGES!
A SPECIALTY.
HOUSEFURNISHING GOODS,
Quality the best and prices lowest.
Call and see us.
23 and 25 Water Street.
aug5daw

REID'S
ICE CREAM
Delicious as Nectar.
PLEASES
The Perfection of Delicate Flavor.
ALL.
N. D. SEVIN & SON.
septdaw

All Kinds Of
Picture Frames
And an elegant line of FRAMED
—AND—
UNFRAMED PICTURES
Can be found at
M. J. Farrell's
Art Parlors,
61 Broadway.
jeldaw

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

7%
Guaranteed Bond Certificates.
UNITED STATES
SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY,
Paid in Capital............ $1,000,000
Subscribed Capital........ $2,000,000
An Absolutely Safe Investment.
Desirable for Personal Trust Funds, etc.
Denominations $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.
R. O. MACE and GEO. S. SMITH, GEN. AGTS.
Office 9 Shannon Building, Norwich.
aug21TuT

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,
15 Washington Street.
GENERAL PRACTICE AND THE EYE.
Office hours: 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 7 to 8 p. m. Telephone 25-3. may26d

A SPECIAL TRAIN OF
Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars,

With a select party, will leave the Union Station, Norwich, at 4.30 a. m., September 6, for Chicago and the

WORLD'S FAIR,

Stopping seven hours at NIAGARA FALLS.

Arrangements for [illegible] tions, for a limited number of persons, can be made, and reasonable [illegible] at low rates. [illegible] E. P. TURNER.
sept5d Norwich, Conn.

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE
Norwich, Conn.
EARL M. SWIFT,
And Assistant-Teachers of Ability and Experience.
Fall Term Begins
Tuesday, Sept. 5

On and after Aug. 16 the College office will be open from 9.00 to 5.00 to receive applications for membership. aug5daw

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With
SURE KILL FLY PAPER.
5 Cent's a Package.
-Steiner's Pharmacy-
aug5d SHANNON BUILDING.

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK
A. PLAUT,

The well-known Bargain Dealer, will commence MONDAY, Aug. 28th, to close out the balance of his Big [illegible] of [illegible] at cost. Headquarters at 2.6 Main St. aug25d

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,
HAMMOCKS. CHEAP.
At PITCHER & MAINE'S
jy20d [illegible] Main St.

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at
HOTEL SOUTH SHORE
On Lake Michigan, four blocks from the entrance to
The World's Fair Grounds.
One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls.
All for $36.00.
R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with the [illegible] Hotel accommodations by
E. P. TURNER, 167 E. Broad St.,
aug5d Norwich, Conn.

TO RENT.

A Large Store No. 108 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St., formerly occupied by [illegible] Hardware store. For further particulars call on or address NICHOLAS [illegible] Real Estate and Insurance Agent, [illegible]

CLOTHING.

A CYCLONE

Struck our CLOTHING. Prices torn to fragments. SUITS and PANTS at low [illegible] go any lower unless we give them away. Don't wait. Buy now and

SAVE MONEY.

(The day of hard times [illegible] sale of

CANTBUSTEM PANTS
Never rip. Get back your money if they do
The Manhattan Clothing Co.
sept5TuFaw 119 MAIN STREET.

THE PUBLIC
Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in Men's and Children's FALL SUITS!
—AT—
MURPHY & McGARRY.

FOOT WEAR.

LADIES!

Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3 00. Call and see them.

Geo. W. Kies & Co.
septdaw

School
Shoes.
See our new lines at
$1.00, $1.25 and $1.50.
Frank A. Bill,
septdaw 86 MAIN STREET.

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11.693 | NORWICH, CONN. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6 1893—SIX PAGES | SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

THIS MORNINGS NEWS.

City and Vicinity.

Fair and cooler weather.
Norwich athletes at Willimantic.
Dr. Graves' request to be buried in Thomp[illegible]
A Norwich party for the World's fair.
Ransom Sholes, Jr., trial postponed.
The New York & New England employes not [illegible]
Nolan wins two more in Patterson, N. J.
A compliment for the national guard.
Proposed reunion of the 7,000 veterans of the state.
Power oleomargarine licenses issued.
Superior court cases disposed of in Putnam.
Eastern Connecticut convicts who pray for release from Wethersfield.
[illegible]
A North Stonington pond drained.
Insurance agent in Willimantic charged with [illegible]
A [illegible] man on trial.
Improvements in the West Chelsea school dis[illegible]

State.

Last day's racing of the Hartford Wheel club.
Erection of Hockel in high school.
Stabbing affray between well-known New Haven people.
Peculiar phenomena noticed in New Haven.
Parade of Odd Fellows at Bridgeport today.

[illegible]

[illegible]
Latest advices from the Peary expedition.
A peculiar case of violent death at Great Barrington.
Members of congress piling up many bills.
An English murder mystery.
Two thousand operatives resume work at Lawrence, Mass.
Death of John S. Dwight, musical critic.
Dunn's mills burned at Westbrook, Me.
Trouble probable between France and Siam.
Grand circuit trotting at Point Breeze.
Accident to the World's fair Big Four express.
Trotting at the New England fair at Worcester.

SPECIAL.

We offer the balance of our fancy light-weight Suitings and Trouserings, for sale by the yard, at cost. This gives particularly good value for the money and is worthy the attention of those economically inclined.

E. D. JONES & SON,
[illegible] 88 MAIN ST
(over C. C. [illegible]) [illegible]

USE
Shipman's
CARBOLIC
OINTMENT,
The most healing preparation in the world
FOR MAN OR BEAST.
For sale by all druggists.

DO NOT
SLUMBER
UNTIL YOU HAVE
Dr. Hough's
COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM
Ready for immediate use.
Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc.
PRICE 25 Cents.
Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers.

FREE
Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.
ELIXIR OF LIFE
The great family medicine,
guaranteed to cure
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,
SICK-HEADACHE,
DYSPEPSIA,
And all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by
LEE & OSGOOD.

Sick Headache
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose, 40 in a vial. Purely vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1.
Carter Medicine Co., Proprietors,
NEW YORK.
Sold by all [illegible]

Most People Like to Know
[illegible] of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.
Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure
IS THE BEST. TRY IT.
Sold by all Druggists and Grocers. [illegible] At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD.

Norwich Line to New York.

Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 9.26 and 9.55 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.

Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 9 p. m., for New York.

Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 5.

For state-rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 69 Shetucket street. Telephone call 169-3.

THOMAS CLARK, President.
O. L. JOHNSON, Jr.,
Secretary and Treasurer.

THE PEARY EXPEDITION LANDED

At Bowdoin Bay, West Greenland—Story of the Voyage.

HAS 87 DOGS.

House Erected and Stores Pushed—Will Return Next Summer.

ST JOHNS, N.F., Sept. 5.—The steamer Falcon returned to this port this afternoon from Bowdoin bay, West Greenland, having accomplished the landing of the Peary expedition at that place. The Falcon left here July 15, bound for Labrador to purchase the dogs necessary for the success of the expedition. She arrived at Battle harbor on the 17th, and cruised along the Labrador coast, calling at Turnagik, Okak and Cape Munford, meeting with but indifferent success in the purchase of dogs, and after getting only twenty left Labrador. On the 22d she reached the Greenland coast and on the 27th four donkeys belonging to the expedition perished of exposure.

The Falcon sailed along the Greenland coast, calling at Holsteinberg, Disco, Upernavik, Cape York, Holsteinborg and Dalrymple, getting the balance of the dogs needed, a greater number being necessary because of the loss of the donkeys. Altogether the party got eighty-seven dogs.

At Cape York Lieut. Peary got five native Esquimo to assist in caring for the dogs and to do general work. The Falcon arrived at her destination on August 3. The voyage was fairly pleasant, as little ice and no bergs were encountered.

The Falcon made the passage across Melville bay in twenty-four hours and fifty minutes. This is the quickest trip ever made across the bay by eleven hours. On reaching her destination the Falcon cast anchor in a harbor selected and christened by Lieut. Peary as Falcon harbor, thirty miles north of his former headquarters. The party immediately began landing the stores and the house. The house was immediately set up, after which the stores were pushed in and about it.

On Aug. 13 the ship started north on a walrus hunt, Messrs. Peary, Entriking and Vincent accompanying her to get enough walrus to supply the dogs with food. They spent three days in the ship and got beyond Littleton island, 80 miles north and then went within fifteen miles of Cape Sabine, when an ice pack was met and being impenetrable the ship was forced to return. Thirty one walrus were killed, their edible meat weighing 25 tons. The party reached their headquarters on the 17th and landed the meat and the few stores that had not been taken out of the ship.

The Falcon started on her return here on the 20th. The house was nearly completed and the party was living in it. There were several men employed daily in carrying stores to an interior ice camp, where they were camped in readiness for the great inland expedition next spring. The work was very difficult and only one trip could be made daily, even with the burros. The remainder of the party were engaged in completing the house and arranging the stores. It was found that the house used by the last expedition had been torn down and used for various purposes by the natives.

A whole colony of natives living on Inglefield gulf moved near Lieut. Peary's to remain with him during his stay. The lieutenant will explore the adjacent country during the winter, and immediately upon the opening of spring will start on his great journey across Greenland to the highest point reached by him last year, on Independence bay. Thence he will proceed north as far as it is possible to get, even to the pole itself, though this part of the plan is likely to be abandoned, as he has decided to return next summer and not remain till 1895, as was his original intention. It has been definitely settled that the Falcon will return next year.

The Falcon made a good voyage and arrived here without injury. The northward voyage was made without any special incident. All on board were well and in good spirits at the time she left Falcon harbor.

One incident of the expedition will be the birth of a child. Late in September, Mrs. Peary is expected to become a mother. The infant will be the first white child born in this latitude. In fact it will be born farther north than the habitation of any human being of the present day.

The party staying in Greenland until next year is as follows: Lieut. Peary and Mrs Josephine Peary, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Peary's maid; Dr. Vincent, surgeon; S. J. Entrekin, second in command; Eavind Astrup, W. S. Swain, secretary; George H. Clark, taxidermist; E. Baldwin, geologist; George W. Carr, Hugh Lee and J. W. Davidson. Mrs. Hodge, Lieut. Peary's stenographer, returned in the Falcon. Lieut. Peary sent letters highly commending the management of the steamer by Captain Bartlett.

SIX LIVES LOST.

World's Fair Big Four Express in Collision With a Freight.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 5.—The World's Fair Big Four express, No. 19, which consisted of ten Wagner sleepers and day coaches, filled with Cincinnati people from the exposition, crashed into a freight train this morning.

The first report was that thirty persons had been killed. Later reports were to the effect that only six lives were lost, mostly trainmen.

The express was due in Cincinnati at 7 45 a. m. The freight with which it collided left Cincinnati for Indianapolis. The accident took place at the bottom of a steep grade known as Bates' hill, six miles north of Aurora, and it is reported that the express telescoped the freight, owing to its superior momentum.

Arrested on Charge of Murder.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Sept. 5.—This morning, Chief of Police Pilon arrested Thomas Kelly and William S. Malloy, charged with shooting Seigfried Alder, who was found dead yesterday from the effect of a rifle bullet. Kelly and Malloy were employed in a livery stable, and had been shooting a 22-caliber rifle out of the barn window and it is supposed that Kelly fired the fatal shot. They surrendered themselves voluntarily and will be examined tomorrow.

Money Ready for the Cotton Crop.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 5.—All of the banks in this city were notified yesterday by their New York banking connections that they are prepared to ship all the money necessary to Memphis to move the cotton crop. This news was received with joy by local financiers, who regard the financial stringency in this section as a thing of the past. The cotton crop will begin moving in earnest about September 15. If the receipts are favorable, several million dollars will be distributed in this section this month.

HOME RULE BILL.

House of Lords Filled to Listen to the Opening of Debate.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The house of lords was filled today with members and visitors eager to hear the debate on the home rule bill opened. All the conservative whips will not muster their full force before the evening of the final division. The opposition had in attendance today five members to every one on the liberal side. The galleries were filled with peeresses. The strangers' gallery was packed to suffocation. A peculiar feature of the crowd was the conspicuousness of the clerical element.

Earl Spencer, first lord of the admiralty, moved the second reading of the home rule bill. He made a tame speech, claiming for the government all honesty of intentions in its work for the bill.

The duke of Devonshire, liberal unionist, moved the rejection of the bill.

KANSAS CORN CROP.

Largest in State's History Except in the Year 1889.

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 5.—The reports coming to the agricultural department of monthly crop bulletins show that the total yield of corn this year will exceed 200,000,000 bushels, the largest in the history of the state except in 1889.

Massachusetts State Prohibition Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 5.—The prohibition state convention will be called to order at 10 30 tomorrow morning in Mechanics hall by Walcott Hamlin, temporary chairman. It is expected that 1,000 delegates will be present.

John Bascom of Williams college will be permanent chairman. Robert F. Raymond of New Bedford is chairman of the committee on resolutions, William B. Partridge of Newton chairman of the committee on permanent organization and John Hewett of Worcester chairman of the committee on credentials.

The following is the ticket now slated: Governor, the Rev. L. A. Banks of Hyde Park; lieutenant-governor, H. C. Smith of Haydenville; secretary, Samuel B. Shapleigh of Boston; treasurer, Wilbert D. Farnham, Jr., of West Somerville; auditor, Alfred H. Evans of Ashburnham; attorney general, Robert F. Raymond of New Bedford.

Peculiar Phenomenon Along the Sound Coast.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 5.—A peculiar phenomenon is noticed in this city and all along the coast as a result of the two recent big storms. It results from the long continued sprinkling with salt water spray during the heavy gale of last Thursday morning. The trees and bushes look as though they had been exposed to fire. The leaves are brown and appear to be dying, probably from the action of salt in the spray. In some instances the foliage of trees is brown on the side towards the water and quite green on the side not exposed to the spray. The trees nearest the water are most discolored, some of them altogether brown. Not only where the spray actually fell is this true, but also where it was carried as mist even to a distance of five miles from the sound.

L. A. W. Officers' Meeting.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 5.—The board of officers of the Connecticut division, L. A. W., held a meeting tonight and nominations were made as follows: Chief consul, L. A. Tracy of Hartford; vice consul, F. N. Kinney of New Haven; secretary-treasurer, F. W. Westlake of Bridgeport. The representatives were nominated, headed by D. J. Post of Hartford. Five hundred and fifty dollars was appropriated for expenses of delegates to special meeting of National assembly to be held in Buffalo on Sept. 24.

Natick Wins in the Hook and Ladder Tournament.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 5.—The hook and ladder tournament held here in connection with the New England fair this evening by electricity, was won by the Natick company. There were three entries, Westboro, Spencer and Natick. Natick was first in 59 4 5 seconds, Spencer second in 61 4-5 seconds, and Westboro last in 64 seconds.

Fatal Shooting Affair at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—At 9 o'clock this morning John H. O'Connor shot his partner in business, P. Ford, inflicting wounds that will probably prove fatal. He also shot and killed a little girl whose name is not known. The tragedy occurred at Green and Madison streets. Ford and O'Connor were partners in the tin and sheet iron business at 2,055 West Madison street.

Rockville High School Reunion.

ROCKVILLE, Conn., Sept. 5.—Graduates and ex-members of the Rockville High school held a reunion in town hall this evening. A banquet was served and Charles W. Burpee of Bridgeport acted as toastmaster. Responses to toasts was made by Col. Lucien F. Burpee of Waterbury, J. M. Turner of Northampton, George A. Kellogg and others. Music was furnished by an orchestra.

Odd Fellows to Meet at Bridgeport Today.

BRIDGEPORT, Sept. 5. — The annual demonstration of the lodges, councils, and patriarchies, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows of the New England states, will be held here tomorrow under the auspices of Marine lodge. It is expected that 1,200 men will be in line.

2,000 Hands Resume Work.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—The South Boston Manufacturing company's mill at Waltham started this morning after a suspension of work for a month. The company intends to keep the operatives at work every other week until the business outlook is brighter. The company employs 2,000 hands.

Killed by a Cable Car.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—One of the oldest residents of Washington, Robert S. Wharton, 88 years of age, was struck by the cable cars Sunday afternoon and killed. Mr. Wharton originally came to Washington from Nashville, Tenn., in 1832.

Spinners Seeking a Compromise.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 5.—A large meeting of the Spinners' union was held tonight, when the spinners discussed the notice of the reduction posted in the mills. It was decided to appoint a committee of six to confer with the manufacturers and see if some compromise cannot be effected.

New Haven Schools Reopen.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 5.—All the public schools of this city opened today, with the usual quota of teachers and about the usual attendance of pupils. No radical changes have been made in the management of local school affairs nor in the local common schools.

TROTTING AT NEW ENGLAND FAIR.

Track in Fine Condition—Attendance Up to the Average.

3-MINUTE TROT UNFINISHED.

Tom Gillig Wins the 2-Year-Old Colt Stakes.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 5.—The attendance at the New England fair was quite up to the standard of the previous years, and the weather was fine, the track was in excellent condition. After three heats had been trotted in the 3 minute class the race was postponed till tomorrow. The following are the summaries:

Two-year old colt stakes, purse $[illegible], divided, distance waived, best two in three.

Tom Gillig, ch. c.	[illegible]	1	1
Hermutes, b. c.	1	4	3
Gusse Dore, b. f.	[illegible]	[illegible]	4
Prince Lorillard, g. c.	[illegible]	2	3
Trouble, ch. c.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Cary, bl. f.	4	5	[illegible]
[illegible], b. c.	[illegible]	7	5
Casque, b. c.	[illegible]	8	7
Cadi, b. c.	[illegible]	9	6

Time—2.41, 2.39½, 2.41¼.

2.30 trot, purse $400, divided.

Nemo-ine, b.m.	1	1	6	3	1
Pure Wilkes, b.s.	3	6	1	1	2
Dot, bl.m.	4	2	3	2	7
Joe Alcyone, ch.g.	5	6	2	4	3
Dan Wilkes, g.f.	6	3	10	9	5
Duke Wilkes, [illegible]	8	4	4	5	6
Marrow, ch. f.	10	9	10	8	dr

Time—[illegible]

3 minute trot, purse $[illegible], unfinished.

G. L. K., ch. f.	1	1	2
Sultan, b.g.	3	2	1
King Star, bl.g.	2	3	3
Ben Addison, c.c.	4	4	4

Time—2.25½, 2.26½, 2.24½.

GRAND CIRCUIT TROTTING.

Opening Day at Point Breeze—A Surprise in the 2.26 Class.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—The grand circuit trotting meeting began here today at Point Breeze. The attendance was rather poor, owing probably to the rather unattractive nature of the entertainment offered. The track was swept by a stiff wind straight on the stretch.

In the 2.17 trot Sadie M was the favorite. Zambia won the first heat, because nobody else seemed to want it. Tipple took the second heat, and there was a rush to get money on him. The third heat produced the finest trotting of the day. Sadie M. got off away in the rear. She caught the bunch at the head of the stretch, and the racers came thundering down the home stretch neck and neck, Sadie M finally winning from Tipple by a short head. Sadie M took the next two heats and the race. Time, 2.17¼, 2 16½, 2 16¾, 2 17¼, 2.15.

The 2 26 trot furnished something of a surprise. Bay Ali was the favorite. Daylight was not regarded as being in the race at all, but to the surprise of the crowd he won in straight heats, never being headed. Time, 2 16½, 2 16½, 2.18.

Trotting at Washington Park, Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Five thousand people saw the first day's trotting at Washington park today. It was a card of surprises to those who thought they had the winners picked, and was the weakest programme probably of the meeting. Fantasy was the favorite in the 2.30 class for 3 year olds, and won handily. Vassar, backed as favorite for the pacing race, could do no better than fourth, and Mary Marshall was distanced. Quinette won in the fastest time of the day. Jennie K won in the 2.39. Mary D won in the yearling heat from the favorite, Atalina.

HEARINGS ON THE TARIFF.

Reasons Why Duty on Cement Should be Retained.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The ways and means committee continued its hearings on the tariff today. E. W. Lesley of the American Cement company, representing the American cement industry, appeared in advocacy of the retention of the present specific duty of 8 cents per 100 pounds on imported cement. He gave five separate reasons for this request. In substance they were:

First—That the present tax is a revenue duty and has increased the amount realized by the government while increasing the cost to the consumer.

Second—That cement is not a raw material, but essentially a labor product, and labor to the extent of 90 or 95 per cent of the selling price of the article entered into that price.

Third—That the industry was not controlled by a trust, but was closely competitive, and the cement was sold, bulk for bulk for less price than the ordinary lump lime, unground and unbarrelled.

Fourth—That the present duty is the same as that named in the act of 1883, the Randall bill of 1887, the Mills bill of the same year, and the Senate bill of the same year.

Fifth—That imported cement comes in practically as ballast, the rate being as low as 10 to 15 cents per barrel, as against 30 to 40 cents to the same points from American works.

BASE BALL.

At Springfield:
Springfield......0 0 1 0 0 1 3 0 0—4
Providence......0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—2

At New York:
New York......0 2 5 0 4 1 0 1 [illegible]—13
Philadelphia......0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 4—6

At Troy:
Troy......2 1 0 0 4 0 1 0 0—8
Albany......0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0

At Buffalo:
Buffalo......0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—[illegible]
Erie......1 1 0 0 1 2 0 0 0—5

At Northampton: Louisville 5, Northampton 0.

Four Children Die From Eating Rat Poison.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Sept. 5.—Wilson Bayser and wife of Clinton township attended the Labor day celebration in this city, leaving at home their four children, the oldest 14 years of age and the youngest 3. When they returned home last evening they found them all stretched out on the floor dead. Evidence showed that they had got hold of and eaten some rat poison.

Cup Defenders Leave for New York.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 5.—The cup defenders Volunteer, Mayflower and Alaska, which were prevented from leaving the local harbor by fog, left early this afternoon for New York.

Sealer Having Been in Bering Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The Hawaiian sealing steamer Alexander has arrived from the Japan sealing grounds with a catch amounting to over 15,000 skins. C. H. McLean denies having been in the Bering sea.

They had hot weather at times in the good old days. At Bologna, in 1779, the heat was so excessive that many people were stifled, and in 1793 the heat dried up the fruit on the trees.

In Shakespeare's time the prices of admission varied from a penny to a shilling.

THE G. A. R.

A Monster Parade—Next Commander-in-Chief.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 5.—A discharge of artillery from Camp Wilder this morning ushered in the glorious autumn day and gave the signal to citizens and visitors to prepare themselves for the festivities of the day and the great parade. No such crowds have ever before been seen at the capital.

The line of march was so arranged as to take in both the fashionable residence quarter and the business district, starting from Seventh and Meridian streets and continuing south to New York, thence to Pennsylvania, thence to Market, east to New Jersey, south to Washington and west to Tennessee, a total distance of between three and four miles, posts forming on the intersectional streets and falling into line in proper order as the columns passed.

Major-General John R. Carnahan was chief marshal of the day, and he was surrounded by experienced assistants in the persons of General N. R. Ruckle as chief of staff, Eli F. Ritter as adjutant general and Charles Kohlo as senior aide-de-camp.

At 10 30, the designated hour, the booming of a fifty-pounder gave the signal that all was in readiness for the head of the column to move. The boys from Illinois, by virtue of seniority, had the honor of right of line following immediately after the chief marshal and his staff. Following the Illinois division came the detachment from the Keystone state, and behind them a large and creditable representation of the veterans of Ohio.

New York followed the Buckeyes, and what the boys from the Empire state lacked in numbers they made up by their bearing and carriage and the brisk way in which they stepped to the music.

The department of Wisconsin made a good showing both in point of numbers and appearance, and the Massachusetts delegation came in for many loud cheers.

Connecticut was sandwiched in between New York and Massachusetts, and after the latter the departments followed each other in this order: New Jersey, Maine, California, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont, Potomac, Virginia and North Carolina in one department. Maryland, Nebraska, Michigan, Iowa, Colorado and Wyoming combined; Arkansas, New Mexico, Utah, Tennessee, Louisiana and Mississippi in one department; Florida, Montana, Kansas, Idaho, Arizona, Alabama, North Dakota, Indian Territory, Georgia and Oklahoma.

The rear of the column was brought up by the department of Indiana, which comprised nearly one-half of the entire number of veterans in line. There were bands of music by the score, flags and banners too numerous to count.

Now that a majority of the delegates are on the ground the preliminaries of the contest for the next commander in chief are beginning to wax warm, and several new candidates have appeared in the field. Among them are Colonel Charles P. Lincoln of Washington, General E. Burd Grubb of New Jersey, ex minister to Spain, and Edgar Allen of Virginia. While all have their local supporters, the real contest remains between the original candidates, Captain G. B. Adams of Massachusetts and S. H. Hurst of Ohio.

The only place so far mentioned for the next encampment is Lincoln, Neb.

There are many familiar figures here—Jack Crawford, "the poet scout," General Norton of Texas, who has kept his vow never to cut his hair or beard until Clay became president, and J. A. Sutherland, the custodian of the taxidermized skin of "Old Abe," the famous war eagle, who enlisted, as it were, in the Eighth Wisconsin and served throughout the war instead of a flag for his regiment. The stuffed eagle will be carried by Sutherland at the head of the Wisconsin troops in the parade.

There was no lack of enthusiasm, and the special features of the parade were cheered in an echo from square to square. The vice president would have felt complimented could he have heard the rousing cheers that welcomed the Adlai E. Stevens Post 20 of Bloomington as it marched along.

Numerous stands were erected along the route, the official reviewing stand being placed on the grounds of the court house on East Washington. From here the veterans were reviewed by Commander-in-Chief Weissert.

Ex-President Harrison stood on his right and Generals Lucius Fairchild of Wisconsin, and Lew Wallace, both of whom marched in line until the stand was reached, on his left. Each veteran saluted the commander-in-chief and the ex-president as they passed.

A cursory estimate places the number in line at 25,000.

REPULSIVE TO MRS. GRAVES.

The Widow Does Not Wish the County to Pay Funeral Expenses.

DENVER, Sept. 5.—Attorney Macon, representing the widow of T. Thatcher Graves, the suicide, has asked the county commissioners to ignore the dying request of Dr. Graves that the county pay his funeral expenses and Mrs. Graves' traveling expenses east. The idea is repulsive to the widow, who says her brothers will pay all expenses. The body is now being embalmed and an autopsy is now impossible.

Notable passages in Dr. Graves' letter to his wife, first published today, are as follows:

"You will soon find hosts of friends, who will advise you when I am gone. I want to begin preparing for that course which I have fully determined on if Stevens gets the money from the county commissioners. It is no use, Kitty, for me to use up every cent we have fighting him. I must leave something for you and mother. Kitty, dear, I do hope you will get all of the Barnaby legacy and make a good thing on the book. You will, if you will rush it through while the public are ready to buy it. Don't let any one prevent you from doing it, for it will make you independent for life."

The above is the first intimation that the doctor contemplated suicide.

"My dear precious: I have not the slightest fear or objection to passing away. All will be well, I trust, and I do it willingly and cheerfully, satisfied in my own mind it is the best course. You publish the book as soon as possible and work it for your advantage.

"Ask Judge Macon to please guard my name as much as possible and reply sharply to any newspaper articles that may assert, as they will, that I am afraid to meet another trial. But this is enough for today. Hope. I hate to leave you; but it is the only way, for you must have the money. My own love, God bless you; God keep you forever. Good bye.
"T. THATCHER GRAVES."

Death of a Talented Musician.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 5 — Adam Itzel, Jr., a talented musician, died this morning of consumption. He was 29 years old. Prof. Itzel was a prolific composer. His greatest popular success was the opera "The Tar and the Tartar."

EMIN PASHA DECAPITATED

Smote With an Arab Scimeter and His Body Eaten.

A MISSIONARY SAYS SO.

Emin's Nubian Followers Subsequently Suffer the Same Fate.

LONDON, Sept. 5. — The Rev. Mr. Swann, a missionary who has just returned from Ujiji, on the east shore of Tanganyika, says that it is impossible to doubt that Emin Pasha is dead.

"The most circumstantial reports reached me from four independent sources," said Mr. Swann, "and all agreed as to the details."

According to the reports received by Mr. Swann, Emin had arrived at the residence of Seyd Bin Abed, in the country of the Manyemas, in the eastern part of the Congo state.

A party of Arabs approached. The leader, who was armed with a scimeter, said: "You are Emin Pasha, who killed the Arabs at Victoria Nyanza."

Without waiting for an answer, he struck off Emin's head with the scimeter. Emin's body was thrown to the Manyemas, who ate it. Subsequently the Manyemas murdered Emin's Nubian followers and ate them.

CASHIER FRANCIS' ESTATE.

Judge Robinson Appoints an Administrator—Developments Expected.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 15.—In the probate court this afternoon, Judge Robinson heard arguments on petitions for the appointment of an administrator of the late Cashier E. S. Francis of the Pittsfield National bank, whose suicide in July created such a sensation. Mrs. Francis, now residing in Boston, petitioned through her attorney, James Prince of that city, for appointment.

Lawyer Marshall Wilcox, representing the cashier's daughter and others of the heirs, opposed Mrs. Francis' appointment and asked for the appointment of Homer F. Nash, a real estate dealer of this city.

Lawyer Henry J. Ryan representing the American Surety company, Francis' bondsman, also opposed Mrs. Francis' appointment, on the grounds of unfitness.

Mrs. Francis is represented as being unfriendly to the heirs and incompetent to manage the complicated affairs involved in the settlement of the estate and Judge Robinson granted their petition and appointed Mr. Nash administrator. Interesting developments are expected, when Mr. Francis' safety deposit drawer in the bank is opened.

First Colored Man to Send in an Application.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 5.—H. W. Williams of this city applied for a position on the local fire department tonight. He is the first colored person to ask for a situation on the department of this city since its organization.

SPECIAL.

ROYAL BAKING
POWDER.
Absolutely Pure.
A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—[Latest U. S. Government Food Report.
Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N.Y.

"That Tired Feeling"
does not trouble women who use
IVORINE
WASHING POWDER.
It makes the washing so easy and all household work so light that they don't have a chance to get tired. To prove this, buy a package, and follow the directions given.
From April 1st, 1893, every package contains a splendid cake of pure Olive Oil Toilet Soap.
J. B. Williams Co. Glastonbury, Ct. For 50 years the makers of Yankee Shaving Soap.

Hack, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable.
7 TO 13 ONEOO STREET,
A. E. ETHERIDGE, Proprietor.
All orders given prompt attention. [illegible]

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,
VETERINARIAN,
Office 11 Bath Street. Office hours [illegible] Telephone [illegible]

HARTFORD WHEEL CLUB.

The Last Day's Racing—Windle Wins the Main Event.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 5.—There were nearly 3000 in attendance at the last day's racing of the Hartford Wheel club at Charter Oak park today. The main event, the mile international, the prizes for which were diamonds, was won by Windle. Githens pushed Bald for third place. The quarters were: 34, 1 06 1 5, 1 49 2-5, 2 20 2 5. Warren won a special prize by leading at the first quarter, and Bald got a prize for leading at the half. The other quarters were behind the limit. In the mile open Tyler won handily. He was paced by Windle, who was in the race for that purpose. Warren of Hartford and Arnold of New Britain were the scratch men in the mile handicap for Connecticut riders, but they could not overcome the handicap [illegible]. No fast time was made, and the racing was rather tame. Summaries:

One mile, 2 40 class. C. T. Nelson, 1; T. J. Titus, Brooklyn, 2; F. S. Lundy. Time, 2 24¾.

One mile, international. W. Windle, 1; H. C. Tyler, 2; E. C. Bald, 3. Time, 2 20 2 5.

One mile handicap, Connecticut riders. C. N. Newton, Stafford Springs, 80 yards, 1; G. E. Nettleton, Hartford, 120 yards, 2; Wm. Harding, 3. Time, 2 16 1-5. Warren and Arnold scratch men.

One mile, open. H. C. Tyler, 1; H. A. Githens, Chicago, 2; J. Clark, 3. Time, 2 29 1-5.

One mile, 2 30 class. E. C. Bald, Buffalo, 1; E. A. Nelson, 2; R. F. Miller, Vineland, 3. Time, 2.30.

One quarter mile open. H. C. Tyler 1; E. C. Bald, Buffalo, 2; W. W. Windle 3. Time, .30 4 5.

One half mile handicap. G. E. Nettleton (65 yards) 1; G. F. Sieling (30 yards) and E. W. Nelson, Springfield, (30 yards) tied for 2d. Time, 1 08 4 5.

One mile consolation. R. M. Alexander, Hartford, 1; L. Foster 2; F. M. Broadhead 3. Time, 2 37 1 5.

Nihilist Plotters Arrested.

VIENNA, Sept. 5.—Letters from Moscow state that eighty-five students, eight professors and five women of rank have been arrested there on suspicion that they were implicated in a nihilist plot against the czar's life.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

GUNS
EATON, CHASE & CO.
HAVE A FINE STOCK OF GUNS,
Rifles and Ammunition.
Are Agents for the sale of
"Dupont's" Celebrated Gunpowder,
and will guarantee to give you
MORE FOR YOUR MONEY
than any other house.
EATON, CHASE & CO.,
HARDWARE DEALERS, Commerce Street

TURNER'S Great Consumption Cure, an Indian Remedy—sure cure for a Cough, Cold, Bronchitis, asthma, Catarrh, Croup and Lung troubles. [illegible] have been cured by this Wonderful Remedy. 50 and 25c per bottle. For sale by [illegible] Jordan, Gr. cers, 70 Central street. L. C. TURNER, sole proprietor, Norwich, Conn.

Now is the time that the people should secure their houses from the invasion of [illegible] thieves. You will find Bush's Patent [illegible] just the thing. He is ready to put them on wherever wanted. All orders promptly attended to. Address 175 East Broad St., Norwich, Conn. ADOLPHUS BUSH. [illegible]

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
CONSULT DR. E. J. LEWIS,
130 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I.
Specialist on private Chronic Diseases of both sexes. Cure guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. Office hours 9 to 9 and 4 to 8, Sundays 10 to 2 and 5 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines, $5. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks forwarded free.)

Cholera Infantum
The most dreadful of all children's complaints prevented by using RUSSELL'S
White Drops
FOR BABIES
25c. All druggists.

EXCURSIONS.

THE LAST OCEAN EXCURSION OF THE SEASON
UNDER THE AUSPICES OF TUBBS' MILITARY BAND
—AND THE—
BLACKSTONE HOSE CO.,
on the Excursion Steamer
CITY OF RICHMOND,
—TO—
BLOCK ISLAND,
THURSDAY, Sept. 7th, 1893.
Steamer leaves Norwich at 8 a. m., stopping at New London and Watch Hill. A stay of 3 hours will allow passengers plenty of time for boating, bathing and fishing. Also a chance to visit the many places of interest on the island. TUBBS' BAND will render good orchestral music. Steamer will arrive home early.
Fare for the Trip Only 75c.
And the tickets are for sale by members of both organizations.

A FINE DAY'S OUTING
New scenery and no monotony
THE STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND
will make her third annual Excursion to
BRIDGEPORT, on FRIDAY, September 8.
Jarvis' full Military Band and Tyler's Orchestra will furnish music for dancing.
The sail offers a fine view of Long Island Sound by daylight and the scenery along the shores of Connecticut is picturesque and beautiful.
The steamer has been chartered for this trip by her officers, and will leave Norwich at 8.15 a. m., Montville 8.35, New London 9.15, giving two full hours' stay at Bridgeport to visit their friends and view the many interesting points of interest. Patrons should visit the famous Seaside Park. Horse cars run direct to the Park. Plenty of refreshments and a first class dinner at reasonable rates. For sale [illegible] Davis, Norwich, [illegible] Greeneville, and W. E. Fairbanks, New London.
Fare for round trip, 75c.

WANTS.

WANTED.
A Competent Girl for General Housework.
References required.
Apply at this office. sept4d

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN
Can find employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to COLCHESTER RUBBER CO., Colchester, Conn. jy26tf

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,
No. 4 Franklin Square.
Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All modern improvements. Terms reasonable.
jy14d G. A. BURLINGHAM.

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER,
No. 7 Water St.,
Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods. ja14d

WANTED.
Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers. Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn. may4d

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

TALKING
About PIANOS just now is my theme. Do you want a Piano? Then come and hear one of the purest and finest toned Pianos in the market. Prices Low. Also Organs, and a stock of fine Violins, including the Miller Violins, on hand. A fine New Upright Piano to rent. Will be glad to see you at 68 Williams Street.
GEO. E. MARTIN.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

George A. Kies
Will resume lessons on and after
FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, 1893. aug30daw

CAR NEW STRAW,
In bundles just received.
C. J. Wolcott. sept5daw

American House Hack, Livery, Boarding & Feeding Stables.
Large Hitching Sheds by the hitch or year. Fine Coaches, Landaus and Cabs for weddings, funerals, parties and theatre work. Also a fine line of LADIES' and GENTLEMEN'S DRIVING HORSES, not afraid of Electric Cars, with any style of Carriage desired. Best of attention paid to all orders. Telephone connection 99-5. A 1 work done at moderate prices. Stables in rear of Hotel on Shetucket St. All orders left in the Hotel Office will receive prompt attention. sept5d C. E. BRADY.

WHY DO
Ferris Hams and Bacon
Lead all other Sugar Cured Hams in quality and flavor?
Because they are the Best.
Insist on having them. If your butcher don't keep them, call at
C. D. Browning & Co.'s, aug9d [illegible] STREET.

JARVIS' MILITARY BAND
—AND—
ORCHESTRA
Furnish Music for Parades, Picnics, Balls, Excursions and Entertainments of All Kinds at Reasonable Prices. Address, A. W. JARVIS, Leader, 46 Division St., Norwich, Conn. apr26MWF

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.
E. K. BREWSTER
will do it for you very Cheap
46 Water Street. aug30d

Steamer : Chelsea.
Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.
Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M. aug28d

The Connecticut Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,
Sole agents in Norwich for the
New England Felt and Roofing Co.
BEE HIVE BRAND
Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.
Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn. apr24d

FREE!
If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively upon many roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill roofs in the vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron paper and shingled. One great advantage of the Paint is that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 5c per square foot, Three Ply at 4c per square foot, and Two Ply at 3c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Dressing Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Cellars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, Water Street; H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn., P. O. Box 11. Residence 22 Oak Street. jy1d

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE
—OF—
Norwich Street Railway Co.,

Taft., Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side.	Franklin Sq., Falls and Rose Hill.
[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]

nov818 E. P. SHAW, Jr., Supt

LOCAL NOTICES.

Competent girl wanted.

Russia leather card case lost

Premises No. 58 Union street for sale.

Mrs. H. D. Sydleman has received a new line of capes and jackets.

T. J. Falvey has fall hats in all the leading styles, and invites the gentlemen to call and see them.

The National Pure Food Co.'s soups are applicable to this season. Get them of Welcome A. Smith.

J. A. Stoddard & Son begin this morning a fire sale of groceries. Everything goes at half price or less.

All the latest designs and colorings in fall and winter suitings are now on exhibition at Smith & Gilbert's.

Scholars can save money by buying second hand books. Noyes & Davis have a big lot in splendid condition.

Cranston & Co still have many good second hand school books. They are giving bargains in all school supplies.

J. C. Worth opens car No 14 this morning, and says this is the last week for preserving peaches at a reasonable price.

The latest style of the Lamson & Hubbard hat has been received and is for sale by Perkins & Montgomery. See advertisement.

B. Gotthelf & Co. have a few words to say to the school children in their advertisement this morning. They can find bargains in [illegible].

[illegible] Hughes are making a general clearance of all summer goods left in their store, and consequently have made effective reductions all along the line, especially in their glove department. Their advertisement today gives facts and figures which tell the story.

R. E. Baker will repair and tune organs and pianos on reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly attended to. As violinist he has just finished his engagement at the Pequot house, where he enjoyed the distinction of having furnished the best music ever employed at that summer resort.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

Nolan Wins Again.

J. D. Nolan of Norwich was the winner of the half mile and one mile races at the Labor day sports in Patterson, N. J.

Young Sholes' Trial Postponed.

Attorney W. H. Jennings went to New London Tuesday, and asked before Judge Hamersly of the superior court that the trial of Ransom S. Sholes, Jr., charged with the death of a stranger in Preston several weeks ago, be continued from the September to the January term of the court. The request was granted.

Not to Strike.

The committee of the New York & New England employes met President McLeod Monday and he talked freely with them. The meeting was agreeable and harmonious and the men retired perfectly satisfied. The men were assured a return to the old standard of wages would be made as soon as the road could do so.

To Be Buried in Eastern Connecticut.

Dr. T. T. Graves, who suicided in the Denver jail Sunday, left the following letter to the board of county commissioners: "Gentlemen: Will the county of Arapahoe please defray my burial expenses to Thompson, Conn., also the expenses of my wife and mother and a female escort for my wife. I would not ask this, but all my available funds are exhausted and I cannot but feel that the county owes this to me and mine for the trouble which they have caused me. My wife is not strong enough to travel alone, therefore I have made the request."

Norwich Athletes at Willimantic.

The second annual field contests of the Willimantic Young Men's Athletic club were carried out Labor day. T. Brady of this city won second place in putting the 16 pound shot, 32 feet 9½ inches, and first place in the hop, step and jump, 41 feet 8 inches. H. Armstrong of Norwich won second in the 440-yard dash, and second in the half-mile run. Time, 2.17¼.

The Willimantic correspondent of The Hartford Courant writes: "An interesting exhibition of fancy jumping was made by A. J. Seymour of Norwich, formerly of the Manhattan Athletic club. He seemed to be able to accomplish almost any feat in jumping. At one trial of three jumps he covered thirty seven feet, the last jump over three barrels standing on end."

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

Floating the Priscilla.

Mr. Wright, the owner of the yacht Priscilla, has determined to undertake the job of removing the boat himself. He has engaged Charles Greene of Napatree point to oversee the work. He will be assisted by two members of the crew and several workmen. The boat will be put upon a cradle in her present position, and then launched into the bay by means of a railway. In order to do this it will be necessary to dig away part of a sand hill. The necessary tools are now being carried there, and a tent has been erected on the beach for two of the men.

The Championship of the State.

A series of games for the championship of the state between the Meridens and the Acme team of Waterbury, both well known in this city, for $250 a side is now under discussion, and it is probable that such a series will be arranged. The managers of the Waterbury team but a few days ago offered to meet any team in the state for $300 or less, and they are still confident that they have the best team in Connecticut. It is proposed that a series of three games be played. The manager of the teams will probably meet within a few days and endeavor to make some arrangement.

The National Guard Encampment.

In closing an exhaustive article on the recent encampment of the Connecticut National Guard at Camp Morris, The Army and Navy Journal says: "To sum up, Connecticut has a magnificent and most healthful camp ground, first-class tents, good uniforms, though poor guns and equipments; ambitious officers, studious non-commissioned officers and intelligent, appreciative privates—all in all a national guard of which any state might well feel proud. It is worth all it costs the taxpayers and more. I believe that the records show that no state conducts its finances better than Connecticut; surely no state, if this National Guard may be taken as a criterion, knows better where to put its money for the best, even though not the most tangible return. A little better judgment as to how to arrange duration of camp in order to get best results is all that is needed."

FEWER LICENSES ISSUED.

Restrictive Effect of Legislation on the Sale of Oleomargarine.

The laws passed at the last session of the general assembly regarding the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine in Connecticut have largely diminished the sale of the article in the state, judging from the number of licenses issued as compared with last year. Thus far there have been only three retail and one wholesale licenses issued in Connecticut, as compared with ninety-one retail and two wholesale licenses last year. The number of licenses issued in Rhode Island has also fallen off considerably. Last year Rhode Island had 324 retail and nine wholesale dealers, against 262 retail and five wholesale dealers this year. While the figures given for last year include the whole period, and those of this year only a portion of a year, there are not nearly so many licenses issued as usual by this time.

TROUT A COLD-WATER FISH.

Commissioner Follett Says 75° is Fatal to Their Existence.

Fish Commissioner Follett of this state, has found out definitely that trout will not thrive—indeed, will not live—in ponds where the temperature of the water gets as high as 75°. That degree is reached, in summer, in many trout ponds in Connecticut, that have been made with great care and at some expense; and the owners have been puzzled to account for the failure of the trout. In a running brook, the trout can stand, for a little while, a temperature of 75°, though probably the water in most brooks does not attain that temperature; for in a running brook, not only is a space of such tepid water likely to be quickly replaced by cooler, but the trout can at will go to the "spring holes" and cooler places which naturally suit him. A temperature of 50° does very well for a trout; but he can't stand the tepid water of summer, in even the clearest and most carefully made artificial pond, where the temperature of the water reaches 75°.

REUNION OF VETERANS.

Proposed Convention of Connecticut's Seven Thousand Survivors.

A possibility exists that, next year, instead of individual reunions of the thirty odd regiments that went from Connecticut to the late war, there will be a general reunion of all surviving Connecticut volunteers. The plan is said to have originated with Col. John F. Lane of Hartford, recently elected president of the Eighth Regimental association, and has met with considerable favor everywhere. It has been informally discussed at most of the reunions, although no action has yet been taken on it.

Most veterans, however, while approving of the idea consider it impracticable to attempt to carry it out next year. Such of the regiments as have already met, have appointed dates for separate reunions, and it is feared that these could not be easily changed.

Next year, however, there will be an agitation for a grand reunion of all surviving Connecticut veterans, to be held during the summer of 1895. There are nearly 7000 members of regimental associations throughout the state, and at least 3000 more unconnected with any veteran society. It is believed that nearly all of these might be drawn to a general gathering.—[Bridgeport Farmer.

FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR.

An Eastern Connecticut Party Off on a Two Weeks' Trip.

The following party will leave Norwich at 9 30 o'clock on the Norwich & Worcester road today for the World's fair, going by way of Niagara Falls:

Frank H. Allen and wife, Joseph W. Gilbert and wife, C. Leslie Hopkins and wife, William P. Potter and wife, Charles Potter, John Eccles and wife, J. H. Gardner and wife, Alfred Moffitt, Mrs. Mary Bentley, Mrs Clara O'Brien, James N. Perry, Charles B. Lee and wife, Mrs. Sarah Young, Miss Etta Standish, Mrs. J. H. Myers, Charles W. Prentice and wife, Miss Ada L. Martin, Dr. Anthony Peck, Mrs. Ansel Beckwith, Mr. George C. Preston and wife and Miss Anne R. Vaughn of Norwich, Conn.

A. Kingsbury and wife, C Hicks and wife, Mrs. Nathan White, Mr. Hunt and wife and Mrs Ladoyt of South Coventry, A. N. Clark and wife, Dwight Clark and C. S. Frisbie and wife of Plainfield, Ellis Jones and wife of Hanover, and Misses Edith and Fannie Foulds of Manchester, Conn.

Miss Blanche E Tripp, Miss M. O. Tracy and William Watt of Boston, and Miss Mary E. Abbot of Woonsocket, R. I.

Mr. E. P. Turner, who has had charge of the business of making up the party will go as far as the Hudson river with them, and will then return to the city.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

EASTERN CONNECTICUT.

PUTNAM.

Funeral of Edward Messer—Graham Sentenced in the Superior Court.

The funeral of Edward Messer took place from his residence on North Main street Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. In memory of their business associate and friend, all the merchants closed their stores. The floral offerings were many and of rich and expressive design. Many friends followed his remains to their last resting place, in the Grove street cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Henry L. Burt, Erick H. Johnson, George E. Shaw and William H. Letters.

Judge Hall of Willimantic, presided at the superior criminal court at Putnam on Tuesday. The first business were the burglary cases of William Arnold and Charles Haggord. They pleaded guilty and were sentenced, to eighteen months each in state prison. Lawrence P. Graham was next called to answer to a charge for passing bogus checks, he pleaded guilty and asked for mercy, and was sentenced to two and a half years in state prison. These cases were disposed of: Frank Levine, four years for burglary; H. R. Hall, fined $1 and sentenced to three months in jail for burglary. The case of Henry W. Lester, charged with embezzlement, was nolled. The cases of Benott and King, the boy highwaymen, will be called Wednesday.

Work on the new armory building has begun. The structure will be completed about November 1.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NEW MAGAZINES.

The Review of Reviews for September presents as leading attractions "The Situation in Colorado," "Professor von Holst on Silver," "A Character Sketch of Lady Henry Somerset," "Joan of Arc—the Story Retold," and "Mr. Ferris and His Wonderful Wheel." The frontispiece is a map of Siam showing the recent changes made by France in the map of Asia. There are twenty-five portraits of distinguished people and timely illustrations. Every department of this composite magazine of many features is full of instructive and entertaining reading matter. Published 13 Astor place, New York.

The North American Review for September opens with a paper upon "The Political Situation," by ex-Speaker Reed. It contains an English and French view of the situation in Siam; "Polar Probabilities of 1894," by Greely; "The House of Lords and Home Rule;" "The Wealth of New York;" "Christian Faith and Scientific Freedom," "Playwriting from an Actor's Point of View;" "Counting Room and Cradle;" "The League of Heredity," "A Word to Wage-Earners;" "The Present Crisis;" "The South Carolina Liquor Law;" "The Briggs Controversy, from a Catholic Standpoint," and "Needed Prison Reforms." Published at No 3 East Fourteenth street, New York.

The Century Magazine for September opens with a full page portrait of Daniel Webster, accompanying which is a paper entitled: "A Glance at Daniel Webster." The illustrated contributions are: "Sights at the Fair," "William James Stillman," "Six Bulls to Die," "The Tavernier Note Book," "The Angel with the Flaming Sword," "A Woman in the African Diggings," "When Polly takes the Air," "Balcony Stories," "In Her First Youth," "The Author of Robinson Crusoe." The topics of the time are: "Idleness and Crime," and "A Word Further as to Gold and Silver." Open letters: "The Use and Abuse of Executive Clemency," "Our New National Forest Reserves," "Money and a Day's Work," and "Christianity Outside of the Churches." Century Company publishers, 33 East 17th street, New York.

The Musical Record for September is brim full of interesting miscellany, notes, helpful hints and musical instructions. The music is a waltz, "Joys of the Dance," by Adam Geibel, "It Came with the Merry May, Love," words by Whyte Melville and music by Paoli Tosti, and "Bridgie Brown," song and chorus, words by Jennie McKinley, Record and music by Carlotta Bourne. Published by Oliver Ditson Company, Boston.

The Cosmopolitan for September is a World's fair number, and contains descriptions of the fair by ex President Harrison, Walter Besant, and many others, with one hundred fine illustrations. This book is a wonder in the art of Magazine making, and it presents the most complete compendium of the fair yet offered to the reading public. It also contains "Joss," by William E. Lighton; "The Stronghold of the Gods," by J. V. Cheney; "Is He Living, or is He Dead?" by Alice Barber Stephens; "A Traveller from Altruria," by W. D. Howells. The three frontispieces are "The Midway Plaisance," "The McMonnies' Fountain," and "The Lagoon."

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

It is rather curious that the early discoverers and explorers of the country should have been ignored. There are 30 Columbuses and 27 Columbias. There are five towns named Americus and three America. Raleigh, De Sota, La Salle, Marquettes, Hennepin and Hudson are remembered. Champlain has a single place named in his honor. Roberval, De Monts, Argall, Iberville, Frobisher, Gorges, Cartier, Balboa, Dablon, Brasurl, Baffin Bering and Goswald have none.

Georgia is estimated to have realized $350,000 on her watermelon crop this year.

An Englishman has patented a submarine gas stove for heating the water in bath-tubs.

DOCTORS LISTENED

To Words of Welcome from President Cleveland.

PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS MEETS.

Great Gathering of Learned Physicians from All Sections.

Washington, Sept. 5.—The president of the United States gave welcome to the Pan-American Medical congress, whose four day's sessions commenced in the national capital today, and the business of the gathering was entered upon under the most favorable conditions of weather, attendance and public interest. The parquette of Albaugh's Opera house, where the congress met, was well filled, and the galleries also had an attentive audience, including many ladies, at 10 a. m., when Dr. William Pepper of Philadelphia took the chair. The band of the Third Artillery occupied a place on the stage and the orchestra enlivened the preliminary proceedings with familiar airs.

Many of the more prominent delegates took seats on the stage, but others occupied the body of the theatre. There were probably between 800 and 1000 doctors in attendance.

Shortly after 10 o'clock President Cleveland passed from behind the scenes in front of the stage, escorted by Dr. Pepper, and was greeted with hearty applause. He wore, as usual, a black Prince Albert coat, tightly buttoned over a figure displaying no undue tendency to corpulence. The president walked with a firm step; his face wore a pleasant smile, and when he subsequently spoke his voice was even clearer and more resonant than when he addressed the assembled thousands from the eastern portico of the capitol in the memorable snow storm of the fourth of March last. The band played "Hail to the Chief" while the president was walking to his seat.

The President Speaks.

After prayer by Bishop Paret and a few remarks by Dr. Pepper introducing President Cleveland, the latter stepped forward, and without waiting for the applause which greeted him to subside spoke without manuscript or notes as follows:

"The part assigned me on this occasion admits of few words. It, however, affords me the opportunity to say how pleased I am to be in any way related to an assemblage such as this, called together in furtherance of the highest and noblest purposes and desires. I hope I may also be permitted to add that the protection of the public health and the prevention of contagious diseases are objects properly brought under consideration at the Capital of a nation which appreciates fully the serious importance of everything which aids in making intercourse between civilized countries and commerce between them safe and easy.

It is also fitting that those who devote themselves to saving human life and the alleviation of human suffering should consider the modes of reaching these beneficent ends at the seat of a government whose greatest regard is the welfare and happiness of the individual citizen. It only remains for me to declare this congress of the Pan-American Medial society open for the transaction of the business which has called it together."

President Cleveland then resumed his seat amid loud applause.

LIVELY FRACAS.

Two Well Known New Haven People in a Stabbing Affray.

New Haven, Sept. 5.—Details of the Draine-Inne stabbing affray at midnight last night alter the general account of the affray and implicate two well known local people. William Inne, proprietor of the hotel Mozart, the victim, was attacked by a knife, contrary to the first report and slashed badly on the body and face. He had bled profusely and lies very weak from loss of blood this morning. He will lose the sight of one eye as the result of one of the cuts. Nineteen stitches were taken in his wounds and it is thought that he will rally.

His assailant, Benjamin Draine, is the proprietor of a die-sinking establishment, and had built up a large business, which of late he has neglected through dissipation. The row last night originated through a dispute arising between Draine's mistress, Kate Morgan, and the proprietor, Mr. Inne, of whom the Morgan woman made a request. She threw a plate at Inne and Draine sprang to her assistance. Both were arrested. Draine's face was badly pounded. He and the Morgan woman will be given a hearing tomorrow.

CAUSED A FIGHT.

Cholera in Sulmona Leads to a Riot and Loss of Life.

London, Sept. 5.—A dispatch from Rome gives an account of a riot in the town of Sulmona, in the province of Aquila, yesterday, which originated in the appearance of cholera in that place.

A number of cases of the disease had occurred in the town, and, as a precautionary measure, the officials attempted to stop a religious procession. This led to serious trouble, and an encounter between the military and the police and the paraders was the result.

During the fight a captain of chasseurs was killed and several gendarmes were wounded.

NEEDED MORE MONEY.

Failure to Obtain It Broke Down Dr. Graves' Tottering Mind.

Providence, Sept. 5.—Miss Sellie Hanley, the chief witness for Dr. Graves in the murder trial at Denver, is at present employed in a large dental establishment in Denver as an assistant. Unusual interest has been manifested here since the doctor's suicide as to her present whereabouts. She was the former maid of Mrs J. B. Barnaby.

Mrs. Graves, the doctor's mother, has been confined to her bed for more than two months, and the doctor's wife is in wretched health, living with the family of Judge Macon.

Letters received here about August 1 showed clearly that the doctor was breaking down, worried chiefly over the inability of friends to raise the $15,000 necessary to go on with the second trial.

Clergyman Reed and merchant Batchelder of Denver were hopeful of getting the necessary funds until the panic tied up the deposits in the suspended banks.

On Aug. 6, when this condition of affairs was reported to Dr. Graves, he collapsed and besought his counsel to go ahead with a lesser fee than $15,000, but they were inexorable, saying they could make no headway without that sum to cover the extraordinary expenses of the trial.

New evidence of an important character had been procured, it is stated, by one of the interested lawyers, and the defense had been very materially strengthened.

A quarrel which arose and became very bitter between Mrs. Barnaby and a woman who had been intimate with her, for a long time enjoying her luxuries and her purse, recently came to light, and the lawyer in question had indisputable evidence of it.

New witnesses from the east and California in his behalf could not be obtained without the requisite cash, and this fact also deluged the doctor in distress, and broke down his already tottering mind.

CAREER AT AN END.

John S. Dwight, Editor and Musical Critic Is Dead.

Boston, Sept. 5.—John S Dwight, the veteran musician, editor and critic, who has been lying seriously ill at his residence on West Cedar street, for some time past, died this morning at 6 o'clock.

This announcement means that the life of one who has been most closely identified with the musical history of Boston for nearly half a century, and who, perhaps, has done more than any one man to develop the highest musical taste among New England musicians and the general public, is at an end.

Mr. Dwight was born in this city on May 13, 1813. After his early studies in the public schools and under private tutors, he entered Harvard college in 1828 and was graduated four years later. He was pastor of Unitarian churches for about five years, finally giving up his ministerial duties to devote himself to music and literature.

In 1852 he established Dwight's Journal of Music, which he owned and edited until 1881, making it one of the foremost musical journals of the day. He was largely instrumental in the founding of the Harvard Musical association back in 1837, of which organization he was president for 19 years, and at whose headquarters he made his home.

DANA'S MILLS BURNED.

Severe Loss to City of Westbrook, Me. Fire of Incendiary Origin.

Portland, Me., Sept. 5.—The manufacturing portion of the city of Westbrook known formerly as Saccarappa, had a fire scare at an early hour this morning, and one that it will not soon forget. It proved very disastrous, as Dana's mills were destroyed, and as they were about the only mills in the little city, with the exception of the Cumberland paper mills, the loss is especially severe to the townspeople.

The mills were situated on Dana's island, almost in the heart of the village of West Brook, and employed about 250 hands, and its pay roll was about $2000 per week. Its weekly product was about 6000 grain bags and 20,000 pounds of warp yarn each week. Today the looms are silent for the first time in over 30 years.

The value of the machinery, fixtures and stock was $147,000, and that of buildings $25,000, making a total of $172,000. The insurance amounts to $124,000. There is no doubt but what Mr. Dana will rebuild his plant. The only theory advanced as to the cause of the fire was that it was of incendiary origin.

FRANCE AND CHINA.

Likely to Have Serious Trouble Over the Territory of Siam.

London, Sept. 5.—The Times' Bangkok correspondent reiterates that England is attacked throughout Siam, and has already lost prestige in the east thereby.

He adds that the Chinese are preparing in southern Yun Nan and Quang-Si to protect their interests on the left bank of the Mekong river and that the French are likely soon to find themselves in a disagreeable dilemma unless they effectively occupied the annexed territory now being evacuated by the Siamese.

China may practically assert her rights of sovereignty over Siam, which she has never practically abandoned, while if the French do occupy the country, they will find their Chauvinism policy extremely expensive.

The French commander at Chantaboon has asked for reinforcements from Saigon, as he considered his position unsafe.

IRISH FRICTION.

Dissension Among the Members of the Irish Parliamentary Party.

London, Sept. 5.—At a protracted and agitated meeting of the Irish Parliamentary party, the report of a committee on a motion of confidence revealed dissension among the members. Mr. Barry caused a considerable stir by threatening to resign.

The Times says that the friction between the Healeyites and the followers of Sexton is growing rapidly on the one point of dispute, as to whether the American parliamentary party fund can be rightly appropriated to the relief of evicted tenants.

Inspecting the Arsenal.

Boston, Sept. 5.—Brigadier General Flagler of Washington arrived at the Watertown arsenal this morning at 9 o'clock. He is here on a tour of inspection and will probably remain at the arsenal two days. On his arrival a salute of 11 guns was fired.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Hon. Daniel T. Pike of Augusta, Me., is dead.

Dana's mills, Westbrook, Me., were burned.

The Roman Catholic congress opened at Chicago.

A case of cholera was discovered in Belfast, Ireland.

The Contoocook mills at Hillsboro, N. H., are closed.

The Amory mills at Manchester, N. H., have resumed work.

Railway mail service employes met in convention in Boston.

Fifteen human trunks were washed ashore in bags at Saloníca, Spain.

Directum is now king of stallions, having covered a mile at Fleetwood park in 2:07.

Bishop and Mrs. Huntington, at Hadley, Mass., celebrated their golden wedding.

Circumstances point toward murder in the case of Dr. A. J. Greeley of Providence.

A missionary from Ujiji brings word that there is no doubt of Emin Pasha's death.

The golden wedding of Hon Elisha S. Converse and wife was observed at Malden, Mass.

Unfortunates were murdered in Amsterdam in the same way as by Jack the Ripper in Whitechapel.

Uruguay's troops are prepared to meet an attack of Brazilians on the frontier of the former country.

Charlie Danforth distanced two horses in a 2:48 race at Bangor, Me., and proved too fast for another pair.

A dispatch from Kissinger says that Prince Bismarck's rheumatism is growing worse. He has suffered keenly.

Father Rooker of the American college, Rome, is the bearer of important letters to Mgr. Satolli and Cardinal Gibbons.

Grand Army proceedings opened at Indianapolis. Addresses were made by General Harrison and Commander Osborne.

Herr Paasch, the notorious anti-Semite, has been pronounced a dangerous lunatic, and has been sent to the asylum at Dald.

The total results of the first and second ballots in France show the election of 65 Conservatives and 512 Republicans of all shades.

Ex-President Harrison is not to begin his course of law lectures at the Stanford university until February. There seems to be no doubt that the university is cramped for funds, but the embarrassment is only temporary.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Life Was a Burden
Because of the intense pains in my stomach and side, and also on account of gall stones. After eating I would be
In Great Distress
I became so reduced in flesh that my friends thought I would not live long. I grew worse and my removal to a hospital in Syracuse was under advisement, when my father had me give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. There was an improvement at once and I have continued taking it, until I am now well. I have gained in flesh and
Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures
can eat heartily without distress. I now enjoy life and I owe it all to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. Mary [illegible]

HOOD'S PILLS assist digestion and cure headache. Sold by all druggists. 25c. aug15tw

MARKETS

Fresh Boiled Lobsters.
Also CHOICE OYSTERS, at
POWERS BROS'.
Telephone 125-4. sept2d

SEE WHAT YOU CAN BUY FOR CASH!

Porterhouse Steak	-	-	20c
Sirloin Steak	-	-	18c
Round Steak	-	-	12c
Shoulder Steak	-	-	10c

JAMES DAWSON, JR.,
sept2d [illegible] MAIN ST.

LAMB and CHICKEN
—AT—
J. D. Murphy's,
jy26d MARKET STREET.

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. H. VAUGHN & SONS
IRON CASTINGS.
aug7d FERRY ST., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON
of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for immediate delivery.
REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Sable" brand.
SHEET IRON. Galvanized "B. B." Black and Plate.
STEEL. "Black Diamond" and "Silver," warranted Cast Steel. Machinery Steel, Tire Steel, Calking Steel.
FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.
IRON AND STEEL I BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.
A. T. CONVERSE,
Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf,
may19d 18 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.
Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Wool Machinery, Mill Gearing, Shaftings, Pulleys, Hangers, etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds. Gearing, Cuttings, Forgings and Castings at short notice, 122 Franklin Street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second-hand machines bought and sold on commission. jy14d

SADLERY, ETC.

LANE BROS.
—Have a—
Seven - Foot Delivery Wagon
Which you can turn around in a ten-foot circle.
67—69 Water St. aug14d

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF
HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,
AT MODERATE PRICES
At 115 Main St., J. G. STANDISH. je6d

NOTICE.
Ceilings Whitened,
Woodwork Painted,
and Walls Papered
with Gilt Paper
For From $6 to $12 a Room.
GEO. C. BUCHANAN,
House Painter and Paper Hanger.
Wall Paper of all kinds. All paints mixed to order. Estimates cheerfully given.
58 Shetucket St & 188 Central Ave.,
feb1WFM NORWICH, CONN.

REMOVAL.
We have removed
From 11 to 81 Chestnut St.,
Where we have superior facilities for doing a kinds of work in our line
Steam Carpet Cleaning.
Ladies' garments, cloth of all description dyed, Dying feathers a specialty. Promptness and thoroughness guaranteed.
WILSON BROS aug14d

—IF YOU—
Want money,
Want a cook,
Want boarders,
Want a partner,
Want a situation,
Want a servant girl,
Want to sell a farm,
Want to sell a house,
Want to rent a house,
Want to exchange anything,
Want to sell plants or grain,
Want to sell groceries or drugs,
Want to sell or trade anything,
Want to find customers for anything,
Want to sell or buy horses, mules or cattle.

Advertise
IN THE BULLETIN.

There are No Flies on

OLD HONESTY PLUG

It's the standard Chewing Tobacco of the world—for quality, substance and flavor. You can tell better by testing it.

Sold by all dealers.

JNO. FINZER & BROS,
Louisville, - Ky.

INSURANCE.

World's Fair Accident Tickets.
$3,000
[illegible]
For Sale at STORY'S INSURANCE AGENCY.

L. and L. and G.
IRVING BOYCE, Agent.

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y
[illegible] Organized 1797.
[illegible] Agt.
[illegible] MAIN STREET.

[illegible]

B. P. LEARNED
Insurance in all Forms.
Bonds of Indemnity.
Foreign Drafts.
[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell
COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A Fine Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

A. B. KINGSBURY.

ELY'S CREAM BALM
[illegible]
Try the Cure.
CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM.
HAY FEVER
[illegible] Price 50 cents at Druggists [illegible]
ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

Murphy & Blackburn,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
and EMBALMERS.
37 Franklin Street.
[illegible]

WE CALL YOUR ATTENTION
[illegible]

SAVE THAT
Lawn Mower
Put in Good Order
and it will be as good as new.
M. A. BARBER!
Industrial Building, Falls Ave.

FRANK G. SWEET,
Medical and Surgical Nurse,
Graduate from Mills' Training School for Male Nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York city. Call at 366 or 489 FRANKLIN Street, city. TERMS REASONABLE.

Before Buying Elsewhere,
Call and examine my complete line of new styles of
—WALL PAPERS.—
Lowest Prices.
E. L. GREENE,
Painter, Glazier and Paper Hanger.

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin office for printing of all kinds and get the work "living prices."

The Bulletin.

AS GOES THE WORLD.

But the thirsty of soul soon learn to know
The moistureless froth of the social show;
The vulgar sham of the pompous feast
Where the heaviest purse is the highest priest;
The organized charity, scrimped and iced,
In the name of cautious, statistical Christ;
The smile restrained, the respectable cant,
When a friend in need is a friend in want;
Where the only aim is to keep afloat,
And a brother may drown with a cry in his throat.

—John Boyle O'Reilly.

THE WRECKERS.

The following story told to me in my official capacity as chaplain in one of her majesty's largest convict prisons touched me very much at the time. The narrator having been dead some years, I see no harm in presenting his history to the public in as nearly as possible his own words. By way of preface I may remark that the prisoner was a quiet, well behaved and apparently inoffensive individual, entered in the prison books as H 81.

He had evidently received a fair education. At the time of telling me his story he had the greater part of a 10 years' penal sentence to run, his crime being a barefaced, well planned burglary at a large jeweler's shop in the west end. His constitution was not one to withstand the severe discipline of the prison, and he lay in hospital on what turned out to be his deathbed as he made his astonishing revelations without any reservation as to secrecy. He said:

I expect I don't seem to you, sir, quite the usual cut of the long term burglar, and you would be quite right in so thinking. I never did fancy the profession, and that jeweler's shop business was all a sham and an excuse to get here out of the world and safe from a worse fate at the hands of deadly enemies. Aye, sir, you may stare. Few people, I imagine, are so fond of prison that they will stretch a point to get there. No, sir; my offense was a much more serious one than ever transpired at my trial, and as I feel that I am not likely to trouble the prison authorities very much longer I might as well give you the true reason for my being in this place.

I started in life as a respectable middle class tradesman and in due time married the truest and best of women. Shortly after the birth of a son my wife was stricken down with illness, to which she succumbed. My grief was such that I could not go about my ordinary duties. I sent the boy to some friends. I gave up business and became a wanderer on the face of the earth.

I drifted to Paris, and there, destitute and starving, I made the acquaintance of a man who was a prominent member of one of the most extreme socialistic societies in the capital. He took care of me, and partly out of gratitude and partly out of sheer restlessness and a growing distaste for life I agreed to join his society. I found that the principles of this secret association were even more dreadful than I had supposed. It essayed to strike a blow at all monarchies or constituted governments, and the throned heads of Europe were especially marked out for its prey.

From time to time various attempts, though hitherto unsuccessful, had been made to assassinate some of the foreign rulers, and soon after I joined it happened that Great Britain fell under the ban of the society. At a largely attended meeting, secretly held in the outskirts of Paris, it was resolved that Queen Victoria and as many as possible of the high persons surrounding her throne must die. It was thought that a deadly and sweeping blow could be dealt if, while on one of its frequent journeys to or from the north, the royal train could be wrecked.

So it was decided.

It remained but to draw lots for the men to do the deed. By a strange fatality Scraggs (the name of my friend) and myself were deputed to carry out the vengeance of the society.

I received the intelligence with a callousness begotten of long enduring misery and want. What cared I now what befell me? Just at this time, too, I learned of the whereabouts of my son. He had entered the service of a well known Scotch nobleman in the capacity of page and personal attendant and was doing well.

Even this news did not awaken me to a true sense of my position. The instructions of the society were clear and to the point.

The train with her majesty on board had to be destroyed in any way we chose. Success would mean a handsome reward and a high position in the society. Failure—and there were no extenuating circumstances—meant sudden and certain death at the hands of the society. A certain period was given us to bring about the desired result, and we lost no time in arranging our plans. Her majesty was at this time, the autumn, staying at her usual residence in the north of Scotland, and we found we had some time before us ere we could hope to deal our blow on her return journey.

Crossing to England, we made a careful survey of the railway route and decided upon a likely spot on the system of one of the best known English railways by which royalty usually travels. The place in question was an unusually long bridge spanning at the height of 80 feet a broad but shallow stream. Just before the approach to the bridge the line took a sharp curve, which lent itself to our fell purpose. Our plan was to prepare two short, handy pieces of rail faced at one end like points and the other end curving gradually outward. The thin ends of the rails would be pierced for bolts of the same size as those used to fasten (by means of a fishplate) the ordinary rails together. We should then, on the night preceding the passing of the train, loosen the bolts of the particular rails we pitched upon, trusting they would be overlooked by the patrolling surfaceman.

On the following night we should conceal ourselves in the recess of the bridge, and as soon as the pilot engine (which always precedes the royal train by 15 minutes) had passed we should take out the bolts, release the fishplates on the outer side of one rail and on the inner side of the other, replacing them by our specially prepared rails.

The wheels of the engine of the coming train would take those short rails like points, and as the ends curved off toward the parapet of the bridge the whole train would leave the rails and be precipitated from the frightful height into the stream beneath. There would be no escape for a single soul in that train. And so, calmly and in cold blood, we arranged the wholesale destruction of the south bound train which would contain the head and many important members of the royal family.

We knew that every precaution was taken by the railway company and their servants to observe a clear and safe passage for their royal patron, and that extra patrolmen were out along the route, while to prevent the risk of accident all less important trains were shunted to one side. The contents of all goods trains on the down line were carefully inspected in order that no projections should endanger the safety of the special, and signalmen were more than usually put upon the alert.

The greatest obstacle we had to contend against was the pilot engine. We could do nothing till it passed (the loosened bolts would not affect its passage), and that left only 15 minutes to prepare the rails for the doomed train. Still, we practiced the screwing process on dummy metals and soon got very expert. The night arrived. The previous evening we had managed, unobserved, to loosen the bolts necessary for our purpose near the middle of the bridge, and we could only trust they would not be tampered with before our arrival next evening.

The fateful night was dark and stormy, which favored our purpose. Disguised as railway laborers at a village in the vicinity, and having previously concealed our tools near the bridge, we made for the scene of our enterprise. Ensconcing ourselves within the shadow of the parapet, we waited for the pilot engine to come along. At last her lights appear in the distance, and she thunders safely over the bridge.

Now to work.

Hastily securing our respective rails, we make for the selected spot and commence to withdraw the bolts. While thus engaged my companion with a bloodcurdling chuckle remarks:

"We shall bag more of the high and mighty than we first expected. The Duke of K—— and his suit are, I understand, on board the train."

"The Duke of K——?" I started and dropped my rail in my excitement. "My boy's master," I gasped, "and he never travels without him."

"So much the worse for your boy, then," said the heartless brute as he proceeded with his work.

In an instant my horrible position flashed upon me. Here was I calmly preparing to slaughter the heads of England (to whom before I had never given a thought), and with them my own flesh and blood. I nearly swooned as the awful revelation burst upon me, but in a moment I recovered, and then my decision was prompt. True, the failure of the scheme meant certain death to my companion and myself, but what of that? There was still time to save ourselves from becoming wholesale murderers. I shouted, while I replaced my bolt, to Scraggs to drop his rail and fly. He, however, had no such scruples and had too great a regard for his own skin and the promised reward. When he saw I was determined to spoil his plans, he dropped his rail and made for me with a knife, the glitter of which as he closed with me I saw just in time through the darkness.

As we struggled the roar of the approaching train was heard in the distance. Making a frantic effort, as the train was close upon us, I managed to throw Scraggs off. He fell across the off rail. With a rush and roar the royal train swept safely over the bridge, while a stifled shriek from Scraggs prepared me for his fate as I fell in a faint against the stonework of the bridge.

I revived in what must have been a few minutes after the passage of the train. The headless trunk of my late companion was the first object that met my eye. I shuddered to think how nearly the occupants of the train had escaped an equally certain death.

The train had not pulled up, the driver evidently not having felt the obstruction. I hastily replaced the bolts on the other rail, threw the tools into the stream, and with a last glance at the remains of Scraggs fled from the spot. Unsuspected, I made my way to London, but only to live in deadly fear of the swift and sure vengeance of the secret society.

The failure of the enterprise must be already known to them, and hide as I might I knew their hand would ultimately reach me. My money exhausted, I conceived the desperate idea of the daring burglary of which I was convicted. If I failed to enrich myself, my life would at least be safe in jail. I failed miserably enough, got caught red handed and received my sentence.

Before I threw away my liberty I saw from the papers that at the inquest on Scragg's remains a verdict of "accidental death" was returned. The dastardly attempt therefore remained unsuspected by the general public, and since I came here I have heard that the secret society has been broken up and its members scattered. I feel now that I shall escape them after all, but I shall die happy, knowing that my boy's future is assured, and that he will never know (I was convicted under a false name) how near to annihilation his own father had brought him and his country's queen.—London Tit-Bits.

Two Once Happy Men.

W. H. Vanderbilt, some time prior to his death, spoke of himself as a goner and said: "All this money isn't worth a rap. I would give it all for your health," to which a friend half laughingly and half seriously replied: "Well, too much money is a nuisance. The happiest time in my life was when I was worth $600,000." "And the happiest time in my life," rejoined Vanderbilt, "was when I was working on my Staten Island farm."—San Francisco Argonaut.

From Chicken Fixings is clipped this recipe for scaly legs: Mix 2 drams of coal oil in 2 ounces of vaseline and use twice a week until cured.

A Texas apiarian says: Never leave a newly hived swarm near the place where it clustered, as you may be surprised by its taking to the woods. Remove it to a stand at a distant part of the yard at once, whether all the bees are in or not.

Farm Poultry says that the white and barred Plymouth Rocks are supposed to be equal in merit, but the barred have been longer bred and are consequently better known and more popular. We like both, but if we could keep but one of those two should take the barred.

FARM, FIELD AND GARDEN

HARVESTING CORN.

Familiar Talks by Farmers Who Cut Their Crops With Machinery.

Within the past few years many devices for cutting corn in the field have been introduced. Most of the cheaper tools work on the principle of a sled with knives at the side to slice or cut off the corn. The knives project at each side of the sled, so that when it is drawn alongside the row the knives slice off the stalks close to the ground, while a man or two men standing on the sled catch the stalks and pull them into bundles as they fall. The Rural New Yorker, which sent a series of questions to farmers who have been using one of the best of these corn cutters to ascertain how this method of cutting corn compares with the old hand plan, received among other replies the following:

An Iowa farmer writes: "The scientific corn cutter does the work more easily and cheaply. It won't work well in corn that is badly down. It does best on drilled corn. From one to two acres can be cut by one horse and two men in a day. The knives have to be sharpened once a year. It will cut two rows at once."

A Maryland farmer made this reply:

"One can cut eight acres a day if he has a fast walking horse. The cost here would be $1.60 per day, or about one-fourth that of the old way. If the corn is not down too badly, it works very well. It works just the same on drilled or hilled corn. One does not have to stop so often to put an arm load down. It takes two men to work the cutter, and one horse and two men will cut eight acres a day. There have been no accidents, though I have used it four years. I have sharpened the knives only three times since I got it. We cut two rows at once. In the first place, cutting corn in this way is much easier than doing so in the old way, and, in the second, one can do much more in a day. We cut 16 hills before we stop to put them in a shock. That makes a good armload. I consider a corn cutter or harvester an indispensable tool on a farm if there is much corn to be cut and would not be without one for any money."

A farmer who has had one year's experience only in cutting corn by machinery said:

"When operated by two men and one horse, it can perform the work of four or five men. My test was made in corn that was fairly erect. It would not work so successfully in corn that was blown down. I should say that it would cut drilled corn quite as well as hilled. There have been no accidents with it. It is not necessary to sharpen the knives any more frequently than one would sharpen other tools. It cuts two rows at one time. Its superiority over hand cutting consists in the rapidity with which it dispatches the work and the saving involved therein. I do [illegible] sider it an indispensable tool upon the farm, although it is a valuable one."

Digging, Harvesting and Storing Potatoes.

In clean, mellow soil our modern potato diggers do good service. Where none is available, a common one horse plow (or a shovel plow) often answers very well. Small patches may be dug with a potato hook or a digging fork, or even a common hand hoe. If dug by machine or plow, the ground, after the crop is picked up, can be harrowed over with the smoothing harrow, thus bringing into sight for gathering the few tubers that had been covered up and hidden. The tubers may be left on the ground for a short time, and are then gathered in box crates holding a bushel each, and thus drawn to market, cellar, roothouse or pit. The simplest, cheapest, and generally most satisfactory manner of storing for wintering over, next to that in root cellar, is in pits, provided the potatoes are covered up when cool and protected sufficiently to keep them from contact with frost, writes the author of "How to Make the Garden Pay."

Corn Fodder.

Being impressed with the fact that in many sections of Maryland there was much valuable food material going to waste, which if properly preserved would save the expense of purchasing hay and also enable farmers to keep more stock, a feeding experiment was undertaken at the Maryland station to test the most economical method of preparing and utilizing corn fodder and determining the digestibility of various parts of the plant. These experiments, which were conducted during 1891-3, form the subject of a bulletin recently issued from the station. Here is a summary of the reported results:

First—All parts on the corn plant contain valuable food materials, the dry matter having nearly the same composition.

Second—The corn stubble and husks contain 60 per cent of the total digestible matter produced by the plant, and the blades only 11 per cent of the total digestible matter.

Third—Corn husks or shucks contain [illegible] per cent of digestible matter.

Fourth—Corn stubble or butts contain [illegible] per cent of digestible matter.

Fifth—Corn blades or leaves contain [illegible] per cent of digestible matter.

Sixth—Topped corn fodder (stover) contains [illegible] per cent of digestible matter.

Seventh—There is more digestible matter contained in the corn fodder from one acre than in the corn ears from one acre.

Eighth—The corn fodder, or stover, from one acre, yields as much digestible matter as two tons of timothy hay.

Ninth—There is enough digestible matter produced by the corn fodder grown in the southern states to winter all the live stock existing in these states if it was properly preserved and prepared in a palatable form.

Tenth—By cutting and crushing the corn stalks, cattle will eat and utilize nearly all of them.

Eleventh—Corn fodder (stover) furnishes a food rich in digestible carbohydrates.

Twelfth—Corn fodder, when fed alone, will nearly maintain cattle, but should be supplemented with some food rich in nitrogen when feeding for the production of growth, flesh or milk.

Agricultural News and Notes.

The Massachusetts cranberry growers report a good crop.

The Baldwin apple crop seems to be more or less a failure everywhere.

The potato crop of Great Britain and the continent are said to be extremely prolific this year.

The New England peach crop is said to be the largest in many years.

Reports make it appear that a short potato crop is inevitable.

Queen bees are sent from this country to Australia and Japan, and arrive there safely.

The idea of sending an exhibit of live sheep to Chicago to represent the flocks of Australia has been abandoned.

THE APIARY.

The General "Roundup" After Swarming Is Over—Queenless Colonies.

After swarming is over and the flow from white clover is passed in the interim following its blooming and that of fall flowers, a general "roundup" of the apiary is in order, says Mrs. Harrison in her bee notes prepared for The Prairie Farmer. There is a colony that has swarmed itself to death. It has a laying queen and about a pint of bees while the combs are full of honey and pollen. Here is a swarm hived upon combs at nearly the end of the honey flow. It has plenty of brood, but little honey, and if a comb of it is exchanged for one of honey both will be benefited. It may be wisdom to extract the honey from some of the combs of the colony that is depleted by swarming and exchange one of these combs with a populous colony for one of sealed brood.

The queen of the populous colony will soon fill the empty comb with eggs and be no detriment to the colony, while the young bees will soon cover the comb in the other hive. Combs of brood should not be given to the depleted colony faster than there are bees to cover it. If there are eight combs in the hive, four combs of sealed brood will be sufficient, and as there is a young, vigorous queen and plenty of honey it will be in good condition for the fall flow and for the following winter.

The queen of an afterswarm is always young and unfertile. She does not go out for fecundation until her rivals, if any accompanied the swarm, which is often the case, are destroyed. When she is the acknowledged queen, she flies out on her excursion. Occasionally she is wrecked by some accident or devoured by birds and fails to return. When a queen is lost during the swarming, the bees immediately return to their old home, but do not after they are established and have acknowledged a young queen. When she does not return, the bees sing a mournful dirge and hunt around the entrance.

At this juncture let a queen enter the hive, and no questions will be asked as to whether she belongs to a good family or is capable of performing her duties, but the band plays a tune of welcome, she is affectionately welcomed and royal food given her. The cry, "We are saved!" is heralded quickly through the colony, and listless idleness gives way to activity, and workers are off on the double quick to bring honey, pollen and water. If eggs or larvæ are furnished such a colony, the cry is heralded. If no such aid comes to their assistance, the colony must eventually perish.

In this general roundup the operator must depend largely upon his good judgment as to what is best to do. If a case of sections is discovered upon a colony where there are but few bees and only partially completed, it should be transferred to a colony having plenty of workers to complete it during the fall flow. Every effort should be made to have as many sections completed as possible, as those partially filled cannot be marketed, and to have every hive with plenty of bees to stand the following winter.

It does not pay to try to winter a small colony you may feed and tuck up, and all you will have in the spring will be the hives and empty combs, and those could be had with less work and in far better condition. Do not wait until the honey season is past, but before the fall flow unite afterswarms which contain young vigorous queens with queenless ones, and if there are any colonies of little blacks, not much larger than flies, remove their queen and unite them with an afterswarm containing a young queen.

Profit In Roasters.

There is more profit in roasting chickens that weigh, dressed, about seven pounds to the pair than in broilers, and an experience we had this season illustrates it, writes the editor of Farm Poultry. He says:

We hatched an incubator lot of chickens of five or six varieties Feb. 24, and sold 10 of them on June 7 at 30 cents a pound, live weight, they bringing $10.72. On June 26 40 more were sold, they bringing $44.33, and on July 6 41 were sold for $44.26. The two last lots fetched 35 cents a pound alive.

Here were 91 chickens sold for $99.31. It isn't difficult to see a good profit there. As showing the better profits in roasters than broilers, we find the market quotations of July 8-10 to be: Spring chickens (roasters), 23 to 27 cents per pound, and broiler chickens, 17 to 20 cents per pound. Not only is the last 1½ to 2 pounds of growth easier to put on, but it pays the best.

Home Mixed Fertilizers.

The analyses and study of home mixed fertilizers and fertilizing materials afford subject for an interesting bulletin issued by the New Jersey station. Following are some practical conclusions briefly drawn from the report alluded to:

First—That the use of fertilizers in the state is increasing, and that the present annual expenditure of over $1,500,000 may be very materially reduced by a definite knowledge of what and how to buy.

Second—That in the preparation of formulas the quality of plant food is of prime importance, and that the proportion of the different elements, as well as the amount of the application, should be determined by the object of their use.

Third—That farmers can make mixtures which are equal to the best manufactured brands and superior to the average—first, in mechanical condition; second, in concentration; third, in quality, and, fourth, in point of cost.

Fourth—That in buying manufacturers' mixtures distinct advantages in quality and cost are secured when bought direct from the manufacturers instead of from local agents.

Bees and Poultry.

Crowding fowls into close quarters will breed thousands of lice, but precious few chicks, remember.

Stoddard says to utilize the feathers of the ducks, chickens and turkeys generally thrown aside as refuse, trim the plume from the stump, inclose them in a tight bag, rub the whole as if washing clothes, and you will secure a perfectly uniform and light down, excellent for quilting coverlets and not a few other purposes.

According to The American Bee Journal, shade cannot be relied on to prevent swarming, but it has a tendency in that direction, a colony in the open sun being more likely to swarm than one in a dense shade, and swarming sooner in the warm season.

As soon as chicks leave the hen they should have a place to feed unmolested.

Strong colonies protect themselves against robbers and bee moth.

Women In Siam.

To a European eye the good looks, if they anywhere exist, of both men and women in Siam are irremedially destroyed by the universal use of the betel, which blackens and corrodes the teeth and causes them to protrude, which renders the spittoon an indispensable article of furniture and is responsible for the great splashes of red saliva that may be seen everywhere adorning the ground as they have been ejected from the mouths of passersby.

Like their fellows in Anam, the Siamese women enjoy great freedom and influence. Being of a most mercantile and managing temperament, they become the self constituted stewardesses, treasurers and hucksters of the house or shop or store. They may be seen by the hundred going to market, each seated alone in her own canoe, with her wares spread out before her.

The last king kept a bodyguard of amazons, with red coats and trousers and small carbines, but the present sovereign has converted them into a species of interior palace police. The national character is docile, indolent, light hearted, gay.—Fortnightly Review.

Why the Guests Abstained.

Bishop Utterton's mother was a remarkable woman and inherited much of the vivacity of her father. When she and her husband were at Gibraltar during the peninsular war, the latter was known to be particular about his shaving water. From his friend, the Spanish governor of Algeciras, he received the sympathetic present of some dozens of rainwater in bottles, which the butler, thinking it to be wine, duly took charge of.

Some time afterward the colonel gave a dinner party, but at the last moment was called off by official duty, and a brother officer was asked to take his place at the table. In due course the hock was handed round, but it was observed that the guests were singularly abstemious in regard to it. The explanation was discovered when they had departed. The well stored and savory shaving water had been supplied for hock!—Notes and Queries.

Origin of the Red Cap of Liberty.

The red cap of liberty had a very prosaic origin. Instead of being the "Phrygian bonnet" it is just the galley slave's headgear. The Swiss of the Chateauroux regiment sent to the galleys for their share in the Nancy riots were released and came into Paris with the red caps still on their heads. "They are the victims of despotism," said the people, forgetting the circumstances of the riot, and so the red cap became the favorite with the extreme party.—Washington Star.

A Proud Ex-Minstrel.

I saw Andy Leavitt, the ex-minstrel, the other day. The old man is chatty as ever. He loves to think and talk about his patriotic ancestry.

"My great-grandfather," said he, "was one of the men who fought the redcoats at the battle of Bunker Hill. Further than that I can't trace him, but he made a good beginning, and I am proud to know that my blood flowed in the veins of one of the soldiers at Bunker Hill."—Boston Globe.

Dishwashing In Chicago.

Every housewife who goes to the fair wants to see the dishwashing department in the Machinery hall. The dishwashing machines are operated by girls and are used in cleaning the tableware of the many restaurants on the grounds. The plant cost $30,000. The dishes are washed in huge revolving horizontal cylinders. Inside these cylinders on the outer edges of the wire cages the cups and saucers are placed. Outer revolving attachments carry warm water up and dash it against the soiled dishes, which are afterward dried by heat.—St. Louis Republic.

Short.

The Bud—Why does Mr. Spatts wear such short trousers?

Brother—Because they fit him. I asked him for a small loan, and he said he was so short his corns made his head ache.—Truth.

In Austria servants and people of menial rank of every kind are accustomed to kiss the hand of their employers, a somewhat oriental fashion to which it takes some time to get accustomed.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.

Large and Complete Line
FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE
ARTISTIC WALL PAPER
[illegible]

SPECIAL SALE.
Large Art Carpets and Rugs
$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.
Other sizes in proportion.

Japanese Rugs and Mats.
$25.00 Japanese Carpets for $20.00.
$12.00 Japanese Rugs for $8.00.
$4.00 Japanese Rugs for $2.75.

Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels
75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.
Quantities, 1 1-2 Yards to 10 Yards

Parties Wishing
FURNITURE,
CARPETS OR
WALL PAPER,
Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock
That we are offering at Low Prices.

CONFECTIONERY.

ICE CREAM
ALL FLAVORS.
Wholesale and retail.
GEO. A. LEWIS.
[illegible] CENTRAL AVE.
Telephone.

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

FOR THE LADIES.

Profit Is Nothing
But a Memory Today.

It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.
Hats reduced to less than cost, both trimmed and untrimmed.

Trimmed Hats at 98c.
Cost or value no consideration.

RIBBONS.
All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.

Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.
Don't have to talk much about them. At our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.

New York Bazaar.
112 MAIN ST.

JUST RECEIVED.
Another lot of those Denim Spreads and Sofa Pillows at the Bouquet Millinery and Fancy Goods Parlors, No. 3 Lower Broadway. We also carry a full line of B. and A. Wash Silk, Art Threads, Fringes, and everything pertaining to Fancy Work.
STAMPING AND PINKING A SPECIALTY
Everything in the Millinery line will be sold regardless of cost.

REDUCTION
In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.
We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits, which we will close at the following prices: $6.00 and $7.98. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, as they must be sold.
Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close, at
A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St.

MILLINERY.
Hats, Bonnets, Elegant Ribbons, Laces and Flowers.
—AT—
MRS. G. P. STANTON'S,
No. [illegible] Shetucket Street.

HEAR! HEAR!
18— DIFFERENT ROUTES —TO— WORLD'S FAIR. —18
For rates, reservations in Sleepers, etc., apply to the undersigned.
G. L. CROSGROVE,
Union Station, Norwich, Ct. Ticket Agt.

NORWICH BIRD STORE.
Parrots, Rabbits, Squirrels, Guinea Pigs, African Finches, etc.
Bird Seed and Mocking Bird Food; and all kinds of Bird supplies.
Bird Cages in great variety.
56 Main St., Norwich, Conn.

IF YOU ARE IN WANT OF
A Good Carriage or Wagon
At a reasonable price, call at [illegible] and [illegible] No. Main St.
JOHN H. SCOTT

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY.
Goods called for and delivered free of charge. Lace Curtains and all Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.
145 Little Water St.
Family Washing at special rates.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES
—AT—
40C. PER THOUSAND.
They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.
COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.
The Bulletin Co.,
NORWICH, CONN.

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.
Established 1858.

NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.
Established 1796.

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 12 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 3 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application to the business office. No cuts or electrotypes inserted in either paper.

To guard against mistakes, advertisements should be sent in manuscript. We cannot be responsible for errors that occur in messages received by telephone.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their own immediate business, and their contracts do not include Wants, To Let, For Sale, etc.

All news letters should be addressed to THE MORNING BULLETIN; all business communications to THE BULLETIN COMPANY.

Money orders and checks should be made payable to THE BULLETIN CO.

All communications must be signed. Anonymous letters or news items will not be read, but thrown into the waste basket.

No manuscript preserved or returned, unless stamps are enclosed fully to prepay postage.

Entered at the post office at Norwich, Conn., as second class mail matter.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Wednesday, September 6, 1893.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

POLAR PROBABILITIES.

Gen. Greely, at present the best American authority upon polar subjects, does not anticipate any surprising discoveries from the three arctic expeditions now making their way to the Polar regions for various purposes. The project of Nansen to reach the pole by the polar drift impresses him as unwise, impracticable and little short of suicidal, principally because the winds are apt to be variable, and the ice floes not certain of following the same course toward the Greenland coast as those which carried the wreckage of the Jeannette from the mouth of the Lena delta.

The way of Jackson north over Franz Joseph's land he regards as the most promising route to the pole, and from this expedition he predicts quite extensive additions to our knowledge of Arctic lands, and possibly the attainment of an unprecedentedly high latitude.

Its reference to Peary's expedition, he sees difficulties in the way of his reaching the pole which seem insurmountable; and while he recognizes the endurance, determination and skill of Peary, he expresses his opinion that his party will trace the land-ice southward from Independence bay to the vicinity of Cape Bismarck, but he does not believe they will ever travel 100 miles to the northward of Independence bay.

The value of these opinions can only be known when the explorers return, but General Greely's Arctic experiences qualify him to speak with boldness upon the possibilities of such expeditions to the far north.

UNCERTAINTY THE CAUSE.

Ex-Speaker Reed of Maine, discussing the present political situation in The North American Review, comments thus with reference to manufacturers and their relation to the proposed tariff reform: "The manufacturers of this country do not know what is going to happen to them. Nothing but uncertainty is their lot, and uncertainty is the great paralyzer of business. Nothing the democratic party can do is half so bad as the state of not knowing what they are going to do. No manufacturer can know whether it is safe to buy his raw material. Every manufacturer knows it is unsafe to manufacture beyond his orders. The manufacturer also knows that he has got to deal anew with the price of labor. Labor is the prime element of cost in most manufactures. The price of labor has steadily gone up until a year ago it was higher than ever before. If the manufacturers' goods are to come into competition with the goods of other manufacturers of this country then the wages of the country may be safely maintained; but if the goods are to compete with those goods which are made where the price of labor is much less, then there must be a readjustment of the price of labor here or the manufacture must cease. This is another reason for shutting down mills; for the question of labor can be better adjusted from a closed mill than from one running. This uncertainty in the price of labor is the worst element in our unfortunate situation and the one which will create the most distress and unhappiness. Men and women measure the happiness of each moment by the happiness which has been meted out to them in the past. It would have been better to have let well enough alone."

A JUST BILL.

The action of the pension bureau, which has brought a scandal upon the administration and disgusted the country, has prompted a movement to have the rights of pensioners more carefully guarded by law, and steps in that direction have been taken. Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, has introduced a bill to the senate providing that, "except in cases where fraud is established, no pension shall be suspended without full investigation and ninety day's notice to the pensioner." This is a bill which ought to be passed to prevent in future the insults and injustice which has been heaped upon seven thousand worthy pensioners of this country. The necessity for such a law was not made apparent in all the republican administrations since the first pension law was passed, but the presence of a southerner in the pension department with his prejudices has made it plain that the managers of the pension bureau should be controlled by stricter laws and be given less option.

THE WAKE OF THE HURRICANE

What seemed at first to be an exaggerated statement of the loss of life as the result of the hurricane in South Carolina, in view of later news proves not to have told a quarter of the terrible destruction wrought in the wake of the last hurricane along the coast. From six hundred the number of drowned has increased to 2,000, and the property loss cannot be estimated. The crops and houses on the islands along the coasts have been wholly destroyed, and within a few hours' ride of Charleston there are thousands of people who are on the verge of starvation, and must receive prompt relief or die. They are without money, shelter or food, everything they possessed having been swept from them. Their helpless condition calls loudly for aid from the well-to-do in all parts of this Christian nation.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Cardinal Gibbons dubs the city of Chicago "the City of Wonders."

An exchange says: "Black Crook is just as young as it used to be, and twice as gorgeous."

If you want that money you drew from the banks to save to draw interest soon, get it on deposit by October 1.

In North Dakota "the boot-legger" supplies whiskey to the harvesters of that prohibition state. He receives half a dollar "a swig!"

It will be a happy day for every New England community when all the whistles of industry are blowing again, and the unemployed class is reduced to the minimum.

H. C. Frick has had his salary reduced from $50,000 to $35,000 a year. He will not probably receive the sympathy of the Amalgamated Union of Iron Workers.

The work of the news fakirs was exposed Tuesday by the arrival of the Falcon in St. John eleven days ahead of time. She reports the Peary party landed at Radcliffe, well supplied with everything, in good health and with favorable prospects.

The Boston Journal says: "There begin to be ominous reports in the administration organs that the advocates of the repeal of the state bank tax have the sympathy of the administration and are counting on its active aid. Also that the administration has begun making preliminary inquiries looking in that direction."

Bermuda doesn't like it because the balance of trade against her with this country is about half a million a year. Her representatives want the tariff taken from all her produce. It has been discovered by a democrat that such a proceeding as this would injure the interests of the farmers of the south! A democrat will recognize the advantages of protection when he has to!

The newspaper men of the state will be interested in the new venture of Wm. H. Backus of Danielsonville, an old Boston newspaper man, who believes in "speakin' right out in meetin'," and who proposes to do so in "White Light; A Free Lance with a Conscience." The electric light is white, and it produces black shadows and weird effects. In "The White Light" of Mr. Backus we hope the truth will never appear to be distorted or the shadows black. Mr. Backus should not forget that "the truth should not be spoken at all times." Many a newspaper man has been sued or flogged because some one thought the time and the truth were for them, at least, out of joint.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

Where Holman Is At.

Judge Holman is now in a position where he can co-operate with Secretary Hoke Smith in his great Cherokee cow milking bee.—[Washington Post.

The Married Editor Counted 'Em.

No wonder it takes a woman longer to dress than a man. Did you ever count how many more things she has to put on? Fully eleven.—[From The Atchison Globe.

Dr. Graves' New Trial.

Dr. Graves will be tried now before the tribunal where there is no district attorney to be accused by the prisoner of exciting any undue influence.—[Boston Globe.

Unconstitutionality No Drawback.

It is altogether likely that the unconstitutionality of the economic system under which we are now suffering will not prevent our reform administration from holding back its tariff bill until after the November elections.—[Boston Journal.

A Beautiful Truth.

Once in a while a newspaper writer's pen will drip a truth so manifest, so striking, so apropos, so admirably put, that the reader involuntarily pauses a moment to gaze at it in rapt admiration. For instance, Marshall Cushing's Capital says this week: "Now is the time to advertise."—[Boston Globe.

If!

If the passage of the silver repeal bill was secured by any dangerous compromise, as some of the administration organs are intimating, the ugly truth is certain to come out sooner or later. It would be deplorable and disheartening if it should be discovered that the unexpectedly large democratic vote for repeal was simply the fruit of a secret bargain.—[Boston Journal.

Holidays.

There's still one more Monday holiday this year, which has been replete with holidays on the first day of the week. Christmas comes on that day, but Thanksgiving will come on Thursday, of course, and, as that festival is usually appointed for the last Thursday in the month, it is likely to come on the last day of the month. In 1871, 1876 and 1882 Thanksgiving day was celebrated on November 30, and it is likely to be so celebrated in 1893.—[Boston Herald.

No Cholera.

Just a year ago the people of New York were in the midst of a cholera scare, and it was on September 5 that the Normannia came in, to begin a series of experiences which those so fortunate as to undergo them will never forget. Now there is good reason to believe that we shall escape the dread disease altogether this year. It is certain that what occurred a year ago has taught us a number of valuable and important lessons. Not the least of these is the senselessness of a panic simply because a vessel with cases of cholera on board has arrived in the harbor. That in itself is a substantial gain. Then, too, the necessity of the utmost vigilance on the part of quarantine officials and city authorities has been made evident; and even Dr Jenkins has felt the educative influence of his experience last autumn.—[New York Tribune.

The Treasury Deficit.

The assertion of a democratic contemporary that the McKinley act is responsible for the falling off in the customs receipts and the prospective deficit in the treasury is not true. The statement shows one of two things—gross stupidity or rank partisanship.

At the present moment the bonded warehouses of this city and of Brooklyn are bursting with imported goods. They are so full that they can hardly hold any more. Under ordinary circumstances these goods would have been taken out of bond and the duties paid on them, but the importers are hoping that the duties will enable them to make a handsome margin of profit on their speculation.

Every business man knows that these are the facts in the case. Why misrepresent them?—[New York Recorder.

NEW BOOKS.

THE SCARLET LETTER: Couplet series; Publishers' Premium and Manufacturing Co., New York.

This series opens with a good reprint of Hawthorne's masterpiece. The type is good, the paper is fair, and the general make up of the book all that can be desired in a low-priced publication. For sale by Noyes & Davis.

Asbestos was known to the ancients, who made towels, napkins and other like articles of it, and used to clean them by throwing them into the fire.

Manufactured gold is worth $1 a pennyweight and any value in excess of this represents workmanship.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

With Ely's Cream Balm a child can be treated without pain and with perfect safety. It cures catarrh, hay fever and colds in the head. It is easily applied into the nostrils and gives immediate relief. Price 50 cents.

My catarrh was very bad. For thirty years I have been troubled with it—have tried a number of remedies without relief. A druggist advised Ely's Cream Balm. I have used only one bottle and I can say I feel like a new man. I make this voluntary statement that others may know of the Balm.—[J. W. Mathewson, (Lawyer) Pawtucket, R. I.

Those persons who do not need Iron, but who are troubled with Nervousness and Dyspepsia, will find in Carter's Little Nerve Pills a most desirable article. They are mostly used in combination with Carter's Little Liver Pills, and in this way often exert a most magical effect. Take just one pill of each kind immediately after eating and you will be free from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. In vials at 25 cents. Try them.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth, send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums and reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP."

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

The Best in the World.

Senator Henry C. Nelson, of New York, writes:

"On the 27th of February, 1892, I was taken with a violent pain in the region of the kidneys. I suffered such agony that I could hardly stand up. As soon as possible I applied two ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS, one over each kidney, and laid down. In an hour, to my surprise and delight, the pain had vanished and I was well. I wore the plasters for a day or two as a precaution, and then removed them. I have been using ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS in my family for the last ten years, and have always found them the quickest and best remedy for colds, strains and rheumatic affections. From my experience I believe they are the best plasters in the world."

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

A Young Girl's Fortune.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: "Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed but 75 pounds, and although she has taken only three bottles of Nervine she now weighs 106 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nervine has brought her.

When my brother recommended the remedy I had no faith in patent medicines, and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, we began giving it to Blanche, and the effect was almost immediate."—[Mrs. R. S. Bullock, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

Sold by N. D. Sevin & Son and Lee & Osgood.

may15MWFaw

INTERIOR and EXTERIOR
Decorative House Painting.
D. S. UNDERWOOD,
1y2d Residence 125 Franklin St.

STORAGE.
Storage of non-hazardous or imperishable goods or [illegible] may be obtained in my Warehouse [illegible] Commerce Street.
may15d A. T. CONVERSE.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.

Monday, Sept. 4,
Tuesday, Sept. 5,
Wednesday, Sept. 6
Will Be

HERMSDORF DAYS,

and will be celebrated all over the United States in recognition of the great services which Louis Hermsdorf, the great Saxon Dyer, rendered to humanity in giving to the world a True Fast Black. We shall present our customers on these days with the beautiful

EXPOSITION SOUVENIR

furnished by Louis Hermsdorf as a compliment to his customers in America. This Souvenir was prepared for the World's Fair and was presented to visitors there until Sept. 1, when it was withdrawn to be presented to the patrons of the Hermsdorf Fast Black through the retail merchants of the country.

To Make This Occasion Eventful

we will on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday offer the following special prices on HERMSDORF FAST BLACK HOSIERY:

Infants' Fine Ribbed Imported Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—11c a pair, 3 for 30c.

Infants' Plain and Ribbed Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—19c a pair. Regular price 25c.

Infants' Plain Lisle Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—38c a pair. Regular price 50c.

Ladies' Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—20c a pair, 6 for $1.00.

Ladies' Fine Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—29c a pair, 3 for 85c. Regular price 37½c.

Ladies' Fine Hose—in Lisle and Cotton—Hermsdorf Fast Black—35c a pair, 3 for $1.00. Regular price 50c.

Men's Half Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—12½c a pair. Regular price 17c.

Men's Embroidered Half Hose—Hermsdorf Fast Black—20c a pair, 6 for $1.00.

Ask for an Exposition Souvenir. They are Unique and Useful.

PORTEOUS & MITCHELL.
sep4daw

FINE ARTS.

REMOVED.
McNickle, Picture Frame and Gilding Manuf.,
Has Removed to 20 BROADWAY. You will always find a Complete Line of Artist Proof Etchings, Engravings, Prang's Studies and facsimile Water Colors.
oct1d

DURGAN'S PHOTOGRAPHIC ART STUDIO is the finest and best equipped in Norwich, centrally located, opposite the Wauregan House. Everything that taste, skill and experience can do has been done to facilitate the carrying on of the business in a high-class manner, and all customers patronizing my establishment will be sure of first-class work.

Photos made in every style, and all work satisfactorily finished. Special attention given to large work, such as Crayons, India Ink and Water Colors, or Solar Photos. Copying in all its branches. A large variety of Picture Frames always on hand. J. C. DURGAN.
febl4MWFaw

REMOVED—Laighton Brothers have removed their photograph gallery from the Chelsea Bank Building to No. 36 Shetucket St., in the building with the Henry Bill Publishing Co., where all old patrons will be welcomed and new ones be heartily greeted. Their new rooms are neatly furnished, their facilities for doing first-class work have been much improved. New backgrounds have been put in, and the light for producing photographs has been arranged according to the best methods known to the business. All work promptly attended to.
mar3d LAIGHTON BROTHERS.

YOU WILL FIND

School Bags, - - - -	10c
Sponges, - - - -	1c, 5c, 8c
Tablets, - - - -	5c, 8c
Desk Slates, -	50c and $1

All of these at HOUGH'S.
sep4d

Alonzo H. Converse,
PAINTER.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging. Wall Tinting in all its branches.
149 Little Water St.
mar5d Graining done for the trade.

I HAVE AN ODORLESS PUMP
and Barrel apparatus for cleaning Vaults and Cesspools. Orders sent to my address will be promptly attended to. CHAS. WOOD, Box 351 Norwich, Conn.
mar2d

DROP ME A POSTAL
and I will call on you with a fine line of Photos and Designs of
MONUMENTAL & CEMETERY WORK
and samples of Granite and Marble of various kinds of colors.
LEVI W. CROUCH, Norwich, Conn.
may16daw

ESTABLISHED IN 1861.
Adam's Tavern,
NORWICH TOWN,
A. A. ADAM, Proprietor.
The following is a list of the best brands of ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT'S and PARK & TILFORD'S WHISKEYS that I introduced 11 years ago. They have become intensely popular. They sell on their own merits:
Imperial Bourbon, Zeb Ward, 1883, Maryland Rye, Monogram Rye, Blue Grass, Hermitage, 1881, Union Club Rye, Mayfield Bourbon, Hermitage Sour Mash, Keystone Rye, Cabinet Bourbon, Union Club Wheat.
N. B.—The above goods do not have to be rechristened every six or nine months with a new name in order to make them sell, as is a customary feature with compounding liquor dealers. A. A. ADAM.
Telephone call 15-4. 1y6d

S. S. THRESHER,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Notary Public.
mar8d Nos. 5 and 6 Broad Hall, Norwich

DRY GOODS.

--ON SALE TODAY--
AT LOWEST PRICES YET
A LARGE LINE OF
-:-REMNANTS-:-
CLOAKINGS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.
We invite inspection and guarantee buyers will find bargains.

Hallville Mills Store,
29 Commerce St.
Open until 8 o'clock. ap19daw

DRUGS, PAINTS AND OILS.

No Notice Required.

Duggan's Soda Fountain
is prepared to stand all runs upon it by depositors of 5 cents and upwards. Its draughts are pronounced by all as good as gold.

DUGGAN'S SODA FOUNTAIN,
aug2d [illegible]

LEE & OSGOOD,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
DRUGGISTS,
129-133 Main St. and 150-154 Water St.
ESTABLISHED : 1788
SOLE PROPRIETORS OF
DR. DODD'S
Nervine and Invigorator,
A NERVE TONIC
—AND—
STOMACHIC.

Dodd's Nervine aids digestion, insures good appetite, gives tone and vigor to the system, guarantees sweet and refreshing sleep and restores enfeebled and nervous constitutions to PERFECT HEALTH.

WE HAVE A FINE LINE OF
Atomizers and Perfumes
COLGATE'S EXTRACTS IN BULK.
TOILET ARTICLES
IN GREAT VARIETY.
We make a Specialty of
Tooth Brushes.
Large Invoice Just Received.
25 AND 35 CENTS.
LEE & OSGOOD
NORWICH, CONN.

LUMBER AND COAL.

E. CHAPPELL & CO.
COAL,
LUMBER,
SHINGLES.
Greatest Variety. Largest Stock.
Branch Office, 207 Main St. Franklin Square. Office and Yard, Central Wharf.
Telephone at both offices. mar30daw

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRY
H. F. & A. J. DAWLEY
If you want good
BUILDING LUMBER & SHINGLES.
They have the largest stock in the city and will make you low prices.
Telephone 69-4. may19d

51 John A. Morgan & Son, 51
Coal & Lumber,
51 West Main St., Central Wharf.
Family Coal a Specialty.
Estimates furnished at short notice. Telephone.
51 [illegible] 51

FINE COMMERCIAL, BANK, BOOK and Job Printing done at The Bulletin Job office at short notice.

REAL ESTATE

TO RENT.
Tenement of 5 Rooms. Hot and cold water, Bath and closet, pleasant and convenient. No. 237 West Main street. Rent moderate.
aug8d E. R. ROBBINS, 40 Cliff St.

TO RENT.
ONE FURNISHED ROOM, also Room suitable for office, over Adams Express Co's office, Shetucket Street. aug4d

TO RENT.
A DOUBLE HOUSE OF TWO TENEMENTS,
each with all the modern improvements, on Boswell Ave., of ten rooms each. Apply to JAMES MURPHY, 3 Water St. may24d

TO RENT.
Tenement 112 River Avenue.
apr19d Inquire of NICHOLAS TARRANT.

TO RENT.
A Flat with all modern improvements including open plumbing, furnace and gas, 7 rooms, bath room and ample closets. Ready for occupancy May 1st. Can be seen at 8 Grove street, or inquire of E. M. BREWSTER, 45 Water Street. apr1d

TO RENT.
The Large Store with fine Cellar in the Sterling Building, on Water Street, at the corner of Market Street, formerly occupied by Sturgis & Gleason. Apply to aug8d GEORGE D. COIT.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.
A fine line of Carriages, Market and Delivery Wagons also the most complete Short Turning Grocer Wagon.
Horseshoeing in all its Branches.
—11—13—15 Chestnut Street.—
jy17daw

TO MANUFACTURERS!
A new and decidedly superior invention, which combines cheapness and efficiency. WEEKS'S ATTACHMENT FOR LATHE, for cutting and threading pipes and rods, from the smallest to the largest. It will save time and material. It will do the work of any pipe or bolt cutting machine. It will cut and thread the shortest nipples to the longest pipe and can be attached to the lathe in one minute without altering the lathe. Agents wanted. State rights for sale. M. L. WEEKS, Yantic, Conn., Inventor and Manufacturer. nov14d

SUMMER TRAVEL.

STEAMER GYPSY.
CHANGE OF TIME.
On and after FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, until further notice, this steamer will leave here on her morning trip at 8.30, or on arrival of 6.55 electric cars, and on her afternoon trip at 1.30, a half hour earlier than heretofore. This change will give patrons the usual time at the beach and enable them to reach home at 6.30 instead of 7 p. m.
Hereafter when the Gypsy cannot land at beach with safety, car tickets will be furnished to patrons for that point free to and from New London by the agent on board.
aug4d PALMER SMITH.

Steamer Ella.
SEASON OF 1893.
— ON —
Friday, June 23
And during the season the Steamer Ella will make daily excursions to the shore resorts, leaving Norwich at 8.30 A. M., New London 9.45, Ft. Griswold House 9.50, Mystic Island 10.30, arriving at Watch Hill about 11.15.
Returning, leave Watch Hill at 3.30 P. M., stopping at Mystic Island and Ft. Griswold House and will leave New London for Norwich at 4.30, arriving about 6.
Special Rates to Excursion Parties.
Every Sunday to Watch Hill, leaving Norwich at 9 A. M.
Commercial Wharf on signal.
je21d JAMES WALKER, Manager, Norwich Ct.

PLUMBING, ETC.

A. TROLAND & SON
Will Give You Close
[illegible]
PLUMBING and GAS WORK.
mar3d

—TRY OUR—
"Big Box" Stove Polish.
—ALSO GET—
RUTLAND LINING.
TO FIT ANY STOVE.
It remedies loose linings, Repairs broken lining. Prevents clinkers from forming. It makes a solid fire box, as well as being cheap. For sale by REIDS & WHOLEY, 1y20d Plumbers 13 Ferry Street.

WE HAVE THE BEST
Water Filters and Garden Hose
in the market at Very Low Prices.
Estimates cheerfully furnished on all classes of Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting.
MONAHER & BREED,
may13d 41 West Main, Central Wharf.

Telephone 133—3.
ROBERT BROWN
Steam and Gas Fitting,
Plumbing and Steam Heating,
Pipe Cutting and Threading by Power Machinery.
All Work done Promptly and Neatly.
Pequot Building, Central Wharf.
Electric cars every half hour. oct14d

DENTISTRY.

ALBANY DENTAL ASSOCIATION
Scientific Dentistry at Moderate Prices
Best Set of Teeth on Rubber, $8.00.
No better made, no matter how much you pay. All work guaranteed.
je8daw 49 BROADWAY.

A. F. HOWARD,
DENTIST,
Over Boston Store, opp. Wauregan House
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. nov28d

DR. J. H. ELDRED.
DENTIST.
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas, Ether or Cocaine administered.
OFFICE—214 Main Street,
Thompson's Block Franklin Square. Residence 31 BROADWAY. mar6d

THE BULLETIN JOB DEPARTMENT equipped with all the facilities for doing work promptly and in the most approved style.

JEWELRY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES
—OF—
DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, and WATCHES.
As Administrator of the Estate of the late Charles C. Elias, 132 Main St., Norwich, Conn., I offer for sale, at a large discount, for cash, his entire stock of goods,
CONSISTING OF
Diamond Jewelry,
Gold and Silver Watches,
Sterling Silver Ware,
Gold Chains,
Brooches,
Rings,
French Black Marble Clocks,
French Onyx Clocks,
American Clocks,
Silver Plated Ware,
Pocket Books,
Fancy Goods,
Gold and Steel Specs and Eye Glasses, etc., etc., etc.
je9d JOHN ELIAS, Administrator.

BOOK BINDER.

BLANK BOOKS made to order. Paper ruled to any pattern. [illegible]
Bound from 1 to 128,000.
MAGAZINES BOUND
in any style of binding. Old books rebound. Back Nos. furnished to complete volumes, by JOSEPH BRADFORD [illegible]
Bulletin Building, up stairs,
mar24daw Norwich, Conn.

COWAN, the Bookbinder.
will after this date be found on the ground floor,
108 Broadway.

TRAVELERS' DIRECTORY.

N. Y. & N. E. R. R.
NORWICH & WORCESTER DIVISION.
For Boston, Worcester, Providence, Hartford, Waterbury, Newburgh.
Commencing Monday, June 12, 1893.
"Eastern" Time Standard.
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NORWICH UNION STATION.
6.10 a. m. (Mondays excepted) Steamboat Express. Connects at Putnam for Boston, arrive Boston 9 a. m. At Worcester for all points north, Portland, Rochester, etc.
5.35 a. m. Way Passenger Train. Connecting at Plainfield Junction for Providence, arrive Providence 8.25 a. m.; at Putnam for Boston arriving at 9.40 a. m.; at Putnam for Willimantic and Hartford, arrive at Hartford 10.12 a. m. At Worcester for Boston, Springfield and intermediate stations, Albany and the west.
9.30 a. m., connecting at Putnam for Boston [arrive at 1.10 p. m.] At Plainfield for Providence [arrive at 12.21 p. m.] At Worcester with roads north, east and west. At Webster with train for Southbridge.
2.40 p. m. Way Passenger, connects at Putnam for Hartford and Boston, arrive at Boston 5.10 p. m. At Webster for Southbridge. At Worcester with Boston & Albany Railroad, B. & M. R. R., and Fitchburg R. R.
3.35 p. m., for Plainfield, Providence and intermediate stations, through car, arrive at Providence 5.20 p. m.
5.15 p. m. Way Passenger. Connects at Plainfield for Providence and from Providence.
A train leaves Providence at 7.10 a. m. and connects at Plainfield with train for Putnam, arriving at Putnam 8.00 a. m. [Leaves Plainfield at 9 a. m.]
TRAINS GOING SOUTH LEAVE WORCESTER.
6.45 a. m., Way Passenger. Connecting at Webster for Southbridge, at Putnam with train for Hartford, Waterbury and intermediate points and New York, at Plainfield for Providence.
9.35 a. m., connects with trains from B. & M. R. R., F. R. R., and Boston and Albany R. R. at Webster for Southbridge. At Putnam with train to and from Boston. Takes this train for Hartford, New York, Waterbury, Fishkill on Hudson and at Plainfield from Providence.)
12.[illegible] p. m., Way Passenger. Connects at Webster with train from Southbridge, and at Putnam with 12 o'clock express from Boston for Willimantic, Hartford and New York. At Norwich for New London.
4.50 p. m., Way Passenger. Connects at Webster for Southbridge at Putnam for Willimantic and Hartford, and with 3.30 p. m. express train from Boston.
5.50 p. m., steamboat Express for New York [via New London.] (Sundays excepted.) Connects with trains from B. & M. R. R. and Fitchburg R. R. This train leaves Norwich for New London at 9.05 p. m.
6.00 p. m., Plainfield and Norwich, connecting at Plainfield with 4.30 p. m. train from Providence; arrive Norwich 6.45 p. m. through car.
W. R. BABCOCK, Gen. Pass. Agt.
F. E. DEWEY, Supt.
Norwich, June 12, 1893. je12d

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.
NEW LONDON DIVISION.
Change of time.
On and after Monday, June 26, 1893,
TRAINS GOING NORTH LEAVE NEW LONDON AS FOLLOWS:
5.30 a. m., Norwich at 6.05 a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Palmer, Springfield, Ware, Gilbertville, Brattleboro, St. Johnsbury, Burlington, Montreal, Ogdensburg, and intermediate stations.
7.40 a. m., Norwich 8.15 for Brattleboro, connecting at Willimantic for Boston, Hartford, Colchester, Middletown, New Haven, New York; at Palmer with Boston and Albany R. R. for Springfield, Westfield and Albany, and for points west; also for Ware and Gilbertville, and at Brattleboro with Express for St. Albans, Montreal, and principal intermediate points. Also to points west via Grand Trunk R. R.
10.05 a. m., Norwich at 10.35 a. m., for Willimantic, Hartford, Waterbury, Middletown, Colchester, etc.
11.55 a. m., connecting from Providence, Boston, and intermediate stations.
1.30 p. m., connecting with express from Boston, Providence, New York and New Haven, at Norwich with Norwich & Worcester Railroad.
2.30 p. m., Norwich 3.00 p. m., connecting at Willimantic for Hartford, and at Palmer for Springfield, Albany and the west.
5.30 p. m., Norwich 5.05, for Brattleboro connecting with train leaving New York at 1 p. m., and with N. Y. P. & B. R. R., from Providence and way stations; also Steamer Block Island from Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island, and connects at Willimantic for Hartford and Bristol, Putnam, Boston and Providence; also for Colchester, Middletown, New Haven and New York, and at Palmer with Boston & Albany R. R. for Springfield, Albany and the west, and at Brattleboro with night express for St. Albans, Montreal and Quebec, reaching Montreal and principal points in Vermont the same evening.
8.24 p. m., for Norwich. This train connects with 5 p. m., express from New York.
9.15 p. m., (Sundays only) connecting with express train from New York and Boston.
GOING SOUTH.
PASSENGER TRAINS LEAVE NORWICH AS FOLLOWS:
6.15 a. m., connecting for Stonington, Providence, New Haven and New York.
8.15 a. m., for New London, Stonington and Providence and Boston, New Haven and New York, connecting with steamer Block Island for Mystic Island, Watch Hill and Block Island.
10.55 a. m., for New London, New Haven and New York, Providence and Boston.
12.00 p. m., for New London, Stonington, Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.
2.00 p. m., for New London, New Haven and New York.
4.00 p. m., for New London, Stonington and Providence, Boston, Newport, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York and intermediate stations.
7.33 p. m., for New London, connecting with Shore Line express reaching New York 11 p. m., with express train for Providence and Boston, and accommodation train for Westerly and intermediate stations.
9.25 p. m., for New London and for New York, by boat from New London.
9.50 p. m., for New London and for New York via boat from New London.
7.00 p. m. (Sundays only), connecting with express train for New York and Boston.
my24d D. MACKENZIE, Supt.

FINANCIAL.

MONROE, MILLER & CO.,
Bankers and Brokers,
16 and 18 Broad St., New York City,
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.
DOMESTIC and FOREIGN BANKERS

Securities bought and sold for cash or on margin. Deposits received subject to Sight Draft. Interest allowed on deposits, Foreign Exchange, Commercial Credits, Cable Transfers. Circular letters for travelers available in all parts of the World. 1y28mwy

The Co-operative Building Bank
—HAS OVER—
$120,000.00
Maturity Value of Shares IN NORWICH. A greater amount than all others together. IT [illegible]
[illegible] G. J. WOLCOTT, Treas.
[illegible] 118 Franklin St.

LIVERY STABLES.

Livery Stables.
Orders for Coaches, Landaus, Landaulets and Coupes promptly attended to.
O H REYNOLDS,
[illegible] TELEPHONE CONNECTION

EDMUND GEE,
Livery, Boarding & Feed Stable.
Good Teams at Reasonable Prices.
363 to 369 East Main Street, Preston Bridge.

Livery, Boarding & Sale Stable
Hacks and teams to let, also a [illegible] wagon and 'bus, convenient for parties and picnics, at reasonable prices. Horse clipping done by Gardner Improved Power Machine.
A. T. GARDNER, Chestnut Street

ATTORNEYS

Charles H. Carpenter,
PENSION ATTORNEY
Office with A. Irving Bryce, over Thames National Bank. Special attention given to the execution of vouchers for quarterly payments. Advice free. No fee unless claim is allowed.

ARCHITECTS

C. H. PRESTON,
Architect, - - - - Central Building
Telephone 144-4, Norwich, Conn.
Specialist on modern construction and strength of materials.

JAMES A. HISCOX,
ARCHITECT
[illegible] Main Street, Rooms 7 and 8.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened, Bicycles Repaired,
CARRIAGE AND BOAT TRIMMINGS
NICKEL PLATED by
A. GOULD,
Industrial Building, near Union Station.

HORSES
TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES
at Gardner's Stable, Chestnut St. by the new Veterinary, DR. R. L. TOWER, graduate from [illegible] Veterinary College.

J. S. GARDNER, JR., D. V. S.
VETERINARIAN,
Office—Chapman's Stables, 16 Bath Street. Telephone 128-11.

CAUTION.
There are a few men in town soliciting orders, claiming to represent the REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO. We have no agents in Norwich.
C. H. TRAFTON, Mgr.,
REMBRANDT CRAYON PORTRAIT CO.,
Office 21 Shetucket St., Norwich Ct.

Removal.
BRECKENRIDGE BROS.
have removed their shop to CORNER WILLOW and CHESTNUT STS. and are prepared to give estimates on all kinds of wood-work

Rapidly Taking the Lead.
Convenient for Guests,
Indispensable to Clerks,
Profitable to Proprietors,
Indorsed by All Hotel Men.

Where we have the benefit of advertising to reimburse us for our loss, we will furnish to HOTEL KEEPERS ONLY

THE NATIONAL INDEX PAGE HOTEL REGISTER
AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES.
Books Registering

300 Arrivals,	Canvas Cover		$1.
400	"	Tight Back	2 00
600	"	Tight "	2 40
800	"	Spring "	3 00
1000	"	Spring "	3 5

Size of page, 8 x 11.

These are the cheapest and best registers on the market.

Other parties wanting Registers for their customers will be charged full cost of the books, and also a reasonable profit, as they cannot expect to get such favorable rates as we give our hotel patrons.

Remember, it is the only Register made having this Wonderful Indexing System.

Correspondence or Interviews Solicited.

INDEX PAGE PUB. CO.,
Manufacturers of Plain and Advertising Registers, Transfer Registers, Letter Forwarding, Cash and Call Books [illegible]
Norwich, - - Conn.

THE OUTLOOK BUSY.

Members of Congress Piling Up Many Bills.

TWO HUNDRED AND TWO ON FILE.

Many Others in Course of Preparation—Tax on Incomes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—In anticipation of the adoption of the code of rules reported and now pending in the house, members have already filed 202 bills, which will be placed on the calendar in the order in which they were received, if there is any benefit to be derived from priority of position, these measures will be in a position to receive it.

Mr. Coombs (Dem. Brooklyn) is the author of a lengthy amendment to the national bank act, intended to secure additional currency. It authorizes the secretary of the treasury to issue circulating notes to national banks upon the following securities deposited with him to the amounts named: On United States bonds, 100 per cent on state railway and municipal bonds of at least par market value, on which interest has not defaulted for 10 years, 90 per cent, on first mortgage loans guaranteed by corporations with $150,000 capital, 75 per cent on certificates of deposit of gold and silver coin or bullion in the treasury or mints, 100 per cent on warehouse receipts on pig iron, cotton and wheat, issued by companies with paid up capital of $250,000 75 per cent.

Several bills to repeal the 10 per cent tax on state bank circulation are included in the list, and two to establish an income tax. One by Mr. McRae (Dem. Ark.) is a moderate measure, and one by Mr. Richardson (Dem. Tenn.)

Is in Its Provisions Quite Radical.

He proposes to lay a tax of 3 per cent on $3000 to $5000; 5 per cent on $5000 to $10,000; 15 per cent on $20,000 to $50,000; 20 per cent on $50,000 to $100,000; 30 per cent on $50,000 to $100,000, and 40 per cent on all over $100,000.

Mr. McRae has also a bill designed to increase the circulating medium, by directing the secretary of the treasury to issue at the end of each fiscal year treasury notes to an amount equal to the total taxes and revenues collected by the government during the previous year, and to replace the national bank currency by an equal amount of treasury notes.

Mr. Harter (Dem.) Ohio, has prepared a national bank bill, under the provision of which national banks may issue circulating notes up to 75 per cent. of their paid in capital and surplus without depositing bonds to secure it, and bonds now on deposit with the treasury to secure circulation may be withdrawn. The United States is to have of any failed national bank to secure its guarantee of the bank's circulation, and in case the assets are not sufficient to reimburse the government, the comptroller of the currency is to make an assessment upon all the national banks of the state in which the derelict bank is located, divided pro rata, according to their capital and surplus to make up the deficiency. Beside the 75 per cent. of circulation provided for as stated, the banks may issue an amount equal to 50 per cent of their capital and surplus, to be known as "emergency circulation," secured by United States bonds, and to pay a tax of 6 per cent, until retired.

A First Lien on the Assets

Mr. Harter has also prepared a bill making it unlawful under heavy penalty for any officer or employe of a national bank to borrow money of that bank; also to authorize the secretary of the treasury to sell United States bonds when he deems it necessary thereby to maintain the parity of paper and silver money in the United States with gold; also to authorize the issue of national bank notes to the par for their redemption; also directing the president to open the mints of the United States to the free coinage of silver whenever he shall have been officially advised that not less than six nations of Europe, including Great Britain, Germany and France, have likewise opened their mints.

Value of Bonds Deposited

Mr. Walker (Rep.) of Massachusetts, is prepared to introduce, with some amendments, the bill offered in the last congress by Mr. Bacon of New York, to increase the volume of bank currency and for the better control of banks by the officers of the United States.

Bills have been prepared for the erection of public buildings at the following places, to cost the sum mentioned: Fitchburg, Mass., $150,000; Gardiner, Me., $65,000; Waterville, Me., $40,000; Brockton, Mass., $75,000; Waterbury, Conn., $100,000.

BIG BELL RINGS.

Two Thousand Operatives at Lawrence Resume Work—Hopeful Feeling.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 5.—The big bell in the Pacific mills tower rang out its familiar peal this morning for the first time in three weeks. Work was partially resumed in the upper mill, and the yarn mill started.

The print works and the lower mill did not resume, but will probably do so next week. Employment was furnished this morning to over 2000 operatives who have been idle three weeks. There is a decidedly more hopeful feeling in Lawrence, and business is beginning to take a new life.

Slate Works Will Shut Down.

BENNINGTON, Vt., Sept. 5.—The slate manufacturers of Granville and vicinity have agreed to shut down all the quarries Oct. 1 for an indefinite period, or until there is a demand for slate. Norton Brothers have nearly 30,000 squares of slate on hand, and nearly every quarry is loaded up. The shut down will effect nearly 2000 employes, many of them having families.

Will Not Accept Reduction.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 5.—An official of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad said yesterday that he did not think the company would make a reduction in the wages of the employes for a month. The engineers will not accept a reduction unless a guarantee is made that it will be in the nature of a loan, to be repaid within 90 days. This feeling is said to be shared by the other trainmen.

Investigation Begins Wednesday.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—Special Agent of the Treasury Cross of New York officially notified Appraiser Dodge this afternoon of the intention of the treasury department to investigate the office of the latter. There will be no further notice to Mr. Dodge. The investigation will begin Wednesday.

Seventeen Were Drowned.

ROTTERDAM, Sept. 5.—During the fire which occurred in the forestry opposite the Boate quay at Rotterdam, Sunday night, 25 onlookers who were on board a lighter, rushed to one side, causing it to capsize. Seventeen were drowned.

Too Confiding.

Jimson—I hear Blankem has failed.

Bilson—I don't wonder. He was always buying new contrivances warranted to save their cost in a year.—New York Weekly.

ENGLISH MYSTERY.

Young Hamborough Shot While Hunting May Have Been Murdered.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Public interest in the case of young Hamborough, the son of a major in the British army, has been renewed by the exhumation of his body at Ventnor, Isle of Wight.

Hamborough was shot while hunting near Loch Fyne last month. His life was insured in a New York company, and the inquiries made by the agents of the company caused the Scotch authorities to make an investigation. The result was that the body was disinterred today.

The fact that the fatal wounds were in the back of the head, and the additional fact that the shot which inflicted the wounds had come from the gun of his friend Munson, a cousin of Lord Houghton, the Irish viceroy, who was his companion at the time of the shooting, led to a suspicion that the death was not accidental.

The father of Mr. Hamborough, who was present at the examination, said that his son's life was insured in two policies of £10,000 each. These policies had been assigned to Mrs. Munson.

Mr Hamborough expressed the opinion that his son had been the victim of foul play.

The post mortem examination made by the coroner showed that young Hamborough's hair was not singed, as would have been the case if he had accidentally shot himself, and the inference is, therefore, that the fatal shots were fired from a distance.

GONE BACK TO JAIL.

Thomas Dow Throws Lighted Lamp on His Son for Revenge.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 5.—A little more than one month ago Thomas Dow was arrested in North Providence and brought to this city for trial for a violent assault upon his wife, having broken her jaw. Dow, who was a regular drunkard, was sentenced to jail for 30 days.

Yesterday he drifted back to North Providence and tacked a sign on his house advertising the place for sale. His son, William Dow, took the sign down, and, as the son had also testified against the father in the former trial, the father set about to square accounts with him. He waited until the son had gone to bed at night, and then stealing to his son's room, threw a lighted kerosene lamp at him.

The lamp struck on William's arm and was broken, the glass cutting him quite badly and the oil setting the bed on fire. The flames were extinguished before any material damage was done. This morning Judge Cook gave Down another 30-day sentence in the county jail.

HIS TRUNK STOLEN.

Also Nearly $3300 in Cash Belonging to Farmer James Crowley.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 5.—One of the heaviest burglaries reported for years in this section occurred some time between Saturday night and this morning at the farmhouse of James Crowley, situated in Andover on the Lowell road, about two and one-half miles from Lawrence.

Mr. Crowley reports that on Saturday he left $3415 in a trunk at his farmhouse. $615 of this sum being in silver dollars and the rest in bills. This morning he found the kitchen window partially open and the money gone. The police are at work upon the case. It is a peculiar one, first from the fact that a farmer should have so much money in a trunk, and, secondly, from the fact that the exact time of the break cannot be located.

Mr. Crowley says he did not discover the broken windows until this morning, and that he did not look for his money since Saturday at 2 o'clock. There is no clew to the thieves.

RAILWAY CLERKS.

Gather in Boston For Their Nineteenth Annual Convention.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—Railway mail clerks from Vermont to Texas and from Washington to South Carolina were gathered in Faneuil hall this morning. And not only railway mail clerks, but their wives, sisters and daughters helped to rock the cradle. Then there were general officers of the service, inspectors and superintendents, in short, representatives of all departments.

They were attending the 19th annual convention of the United States Railway Mail Mutual Benefit association, which today begins a four days' convention in Boston.

Several hundred members and delegates were on hand today, all ready and eager to make it a rattling convention, and more are on the way.

CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

Government Majority Not More Than Fifty-two in Some Cases.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Times Paris correspondent classifies the chamber of deputies as follows: Republicans, including their Radical supporters, 333; "Ralliés," 35; Radical Socialists forming the opposition, 137; Reactionaries, 58.

He makes an apparent majority for the government of 88, but this will be reduced in certain cases to 52 by the secession of doubtful "ralliés." Further, the opposition will have a double advantage in the leadership of M. Goblet, who is more to be dreaded than M. Clemenceau, and their program is certain to strike the imagination of the masses, while the Republicans have neither leader nor program.

EMPEROR WANTS PEACE.

Address to People of Metz Says He Sends His Efforts That Way.

METZ, Sept. 5.—The governor of the Metz district has sent out this address to the people:

His majesty the emperor has been exceedingly gratified during his sojourn at Urville by the loyal demonstrations of his subjects. His majesty's most earnest efforts are to preserve the peace and to promote and encourage peaceful industry. It will be his majesty's special endeavor to secure for his subjects in Lorraine a lasting period of tranquility. His majesty expresses his warmest thanks for the enthusiastic welcome extended to him.

Monongahela at Queenstown.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 5.—United States training ship Monongahela arrived this morning. All aboard are well. The Monongahela will proceed for Cadiz on Sept. 11.

One Cholera Death at Hull.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—One person died of cholera in Hull last night.

THE HOUSEKEEPER.

The cambric gown is improved by a thorough brushing as well as the wool one.

Wrinkled silk may be smoothed by sponging on the right side with very weak gum arabic water and ironing on the wrong side.

A bunch of sweet peas placed on a piece of newspaper makes an excellent "fly trap." The flies are said to suck the deadly sweet of the flower and then die.

If a mirror be placed where sunlight or very strong light falls directly upon it, the quicksilver will be liable to dissolve, leaving dark spots on the glass.

The snowy bed draperies of a daintily devised bedstead in white enamel with pink tracery are caught up in front and at the sides with great clusters of natural looking cherries.

IN BOSTON MARKETS.

Butter Lower at the Hub Than at Other Centers.

FAIR DEMAND FOR VEGETABLES.

Tomato Crop Very Uncertain—Large Receipts of Potatoes.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—The butter trade at Boston stands fully one cent lower than any other centre. But this may not long continue for all predict a general rise in prices before long. One reason for this is the growing demand being made on the cold stored stock which is none smaller than it was a year ago. Fresh receipts are moderate, the extreme heat of last week being unfavorable to butter production. The close of the vacation season, and the return of the city people will be felt by an increase of demand on the local market and should the financial tangle be early solved, good trade with better prices may be expected.

Fine western creamery butter is selling at 23 to 24 1-2 cents per pound, fine northern 25 cents and New York and Vermont dairy lots 20 to 22 cents.

Vegetables.

A fair demand is reported in the vegetable market which bids fair to increase with the return of city people from the country and shore. Trade is such that offerings are generally cleared up each day which is certainly satisfying the farmer. Some of the important varieties at this time of the year quote very irregular prices for a week. For instance the tomato crop under the influence of the intense heat of last week rapidly came to perfection and their cost dropped from $1 to $1.25 to 50 and 75 cents.

This crop the farmers many years ago found to be uncertain and today there is an agreement among them not to sell a bushel of fruit in Boston market for less than 25 cents. Rather than do this they will carry the stock back to the farm and consign it to the manure pile.

The Potato Trade

is in large receipts for this season. Good Houlton, Rose and Hebrons being 60 to 65 cents per bushel; and Rose and Hebrons from Rhode Island in barrels bring $2 to $2.50.

Some prices for vegetables are: Summer squash $2 per 100, marrow 75 cents per 100, Crosby corn 50 to 75 cents a box, green peas $1.50 to $2.50, radishes 50 cents to $1 a box, onions $1 to $1.10 a bushel, cucumbers 75 cents to $1 per 100, beets 60 to 75 cents per bushel, cabbage $5 to $6 a hundred, and spinach 50 cents a bushel.

The Fruit Trade.

High winds the past week sent a great deal windfall fruit on the market from near by orchards. This is usually in poor condition, and it did not command a fair price. Some fine pears are to be had, however, at reasonable prices. Bartletts, 25 cents to $1 a bushel, and Clapps Favorite $1 per box.

Peaches do not run as even now as earlier in the season. Nice yellows, if well culled, bring from 75 cents to $1.25 a basket.

The William apples continue the most sought for and are worth anywhere from $1.25 to $2.25 a barrel.

Whole Family Poisoned.

DELPHI, Ind., Sept. 5.—The family of William Sagus, living north of Burrows, in this county, was poisoned recently by something in their food. Two children died last evening, and three other members of the family are not expected to live.

MOST PECULIAR CASE.

Stray Bullet Thought to Have Ended Life of Seigfried Alder.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Sept. 5.—The most peculiar case of violent death which has occurred in Great Barrington in years was discovered yesterday when Charles Kellogg found lying at the rear entrance to T. B. Prindle's residence on Mahawie street the body of Seigfred Alder, 65, with a rifle bullet wound in his right breast. Kellogg at once informed Medical Examiner Small, who viewed the body and had it taken to Calvert's morgue where an autopsy was performed this morning. Where the shot came from that ended Alder's life is a mystery.

His story is peculiar. Alder was a Swiss weaver and his first appearance in town was about two years ago. He was a tramp and found lodgings in the roundhouse, where he paid his way by helping clean the engines. His food he found where any person would give it to him, and his time between light and darkness was put in doing odd jobs for any who would employ him. He was a steady, hard and good worker, and found plenty to do. Yesterday he had been mowing the grass and cleaning up the premises of T. B. Prindle. The last seen of him alive was when he was trimming the hedge between Mr. Prindle's and Representative John N. Easland's yard.

When Dr. Small saw the body life had not been extinct more than three-quarters of an hour. On the man's body were found $12, some knick-knacks, his declaration of intention of citizenship, filed in New York city in 1878, and a letter worn and dirty that had apparently been dear to the unfortunate.

NEW ENGLAND FAIR.

"Woman's Day" a Success—Tomorrow Will Be "Governor's Day."

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 5.—The second day of the New England fair proves as much of a success as was yesterday, which was an unusually good first day. The combination with the labor societies was a happy experiment, and resulted in an attendance of fully 5000. Today is "Woman's Day," and this morning ladies listened to addresses by Mrs. Ormiston Chant and other leaders among women. This afternoon there was trotting and special features, and this evening a hook and ladder tournament was the chief event. The exhibits are complete and in every way excellent, and the award of premiums is progressing rapidly.

Tomorrow "Governor's Day" will probably draw the largest crowd, but each day will be a success, and Saturday will end the most successful affair of this kind ever held in New England.

THE EXPLORER.

The total amount of bog land in Ireland is 2,830,000 acres. The average depth of an Irish bog is 26 feet.

Roland's Breach, the natural mountain pass leading from France into Spain through the Pyrenees, is 200 feet broad, 300 feet high and 50 feet long.

In Hillsborough county, N. H., there is a solid rock with a channel 70 feet deep and 30 feet wide cut through its side. A flight of rude natural steps leads to the top, where there is a natural pulpit and pool for baptism.

A large promontory in the Ægean sea, known as Hayos Horos, extends 3,000 feet above the level of the water. As the sun swings around the shadow of this mountain touches one by one a circle of islands, separated by regular intervals, which act as hour marks. It is the largest sundial in the world.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Dealings in Leading Securities in Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—In the outside market call money is quoted at 8 to 15 per cent, and time money is nominally 6 per cent.

The increasing confidence and cheerful feeling which has sprung up in the stock market the past week was strengthened by the excellence of the bank statement, and all are looking for better prices. The advices yesterday from London reported favorably but did not speak of any widespread activity in American securities. United States bonds upon which to base the national bank currency are becoming scarcer and more difficult to obtain every day. The demand however is constantly increasing as is the cry for a larger volume of currency.

Many bankers favor a new issue of bonds, and that plan has already been suggested as the first step to follow the repeal of the Sherman silver purchasing law. The whole matter has been discussed informally and has resulted in being left for Mr. Carlisle to have a bill drafted looking to a change in the banking law.

The market opened at higher prices all along the list, the importation of gold and the increased circulation being the prime cause of the strength. London bought Atchison and some of the lower priced stocks; but the general disposition was to sell to take profits. Atchison opened at an advance of ¾ to 23¼, and remained at that figure with a slight reaction to 22⅞, later at 22⅝. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy came out, selling at 83, an increase of ⅝. Toward noon it ran off to 82½, but then was strengthened and sold up to 83. New York and New England was strong, selling at ⅝ better to 22¼, and soon gained ground to 23. Old Colony, on sale, advanced 3 points to 172. West End railway ½ better at 57, and Union Pacific selling at 24.

The sugar stocks came out strong and were freely traded in. The preferred up ¼ to 85, with the common selling at 87½. Later is fell off to 85½. General Electric closed on Saturday at 42. The opening price this morning was 43¾. This stock remained firm at about that figure during the first hour, and then came a weakness which carried the price down to 42⅝. Boston and Maine came out during the morning at 145, which is gain a 1½ per cent increase over the last sale.

STOCKS—CLOSING.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	23
Bell Telephone	182½
Boston and Albany	200½
Boston and Maine	145
Bay State Gas	10
Calumet	282
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	83¼
Fitchburg	75
Lamson Cash Railway	16¾
Erie Tel.	40
General Electric	47¼
Mexican Central	[illegible]
New England Tel.	[illegible]
Old Colony	172
Pullman	160¼
Sugar preferred	85½
West End Land	14
West End R. R.	57½
Wisconsin Central	7¼

New York Stocks.

Canada Southern	47½
Chicago Gas	59¾
Cotton Oil	32
Delaware, Lackawanna and Western	136
Erie	13¾
Lake Shore	120½
Louisville and Nashville	57¼
Manhattan	122¼
Michigan Central	[illegible]
Missouri Pacific	27¼
National Cordage	22¼
New Jersey Central	107½
Northwestern	100½
Northern Pacific	7¼
New York Central	100½
New York and New England	23¼
Pacific Mail	14
Reading	19¾
Rock Island	63¼
St. Paul	61¼
Sugar, com	87¼
Union Pacific	24¼
Western Union	83¼
Whisky	21

THE MODISTE.

There was never a season when ribbons played so important a part in the dress question. Worth makes entire dresses of them.

The fashion for high shoulders is rapidly passing away, and with it one of the chief elements of smartness known to woman's dress.

Fabrics for autumn cloaks and jackets are imported in nasturtium brown, petunia, silver, imperial Russian green, friars' gray and admiral blue.

The large sleeve is doomed. Those of simple coat shape, with slight fullness on the shoulder, and the Garibaldi shape will presently occupy our attention.

New skirts from Paris are not of the early Victorian style, but slope outward round the hem, are absolutely tight fitting at the hips and button down the side of the front.

The Eton jackets we are all wearing so contentedly are really becoming only to women with small waists and small hips and are infinitely better adapted to short women than to tall ones.

The new low and flat crowned hats in Italian straw, with the wide open brim in front, and worn far back on the head to fall over the nape of the neck, are sure to be reproduced in felt and promise to be becoming.

Guipure lace will be supplanted by point d'Argenton as a decoration for gowns. The new lace will be distinguished by its exquisite yellow tone, its net clear and rather broadly meshed and scattered with conventional designs in a series of stitches that look like the patient grouping of a myriad of millet seeds.—New York Sun.

THE JEWELER.

A new belt is made of shells fastened together with flexible links.

Fine large pearls are superb sleeve buttons surmounted by tiny diamonds.

A new thermometer is a silver circle supported by a back leg like a photograph frame.

A charming chatelaine pin is an overlapping wreath of white enamel leaves with a tiny pearl between.

A handsome design is a diamond fleur-de-lis holding by two diamond chains a bar made of four lustrous colored pearls.

The Roman fasces of white enamel and gold tied with ribbons and hung with a white enamel wreath is a distinctly novel and pretty brooch.

Hairpins with gold enameled balls are among the prettiest novelties. The ball may be of white enamel with gold markings, or gold and dark blue.

A necklace is made of small cryoberyls and pale lilac sapphires. These are connected by little gold disks and have two lower festoons similarly combined.

There is a distinct fancy for circular brooches. One is of white enamel circles each holding a small pearl, with pearls on the outside. Another is of alternate sapphires and diamonds.

Imperfect pearl growths are used in the handsomest jewelry. A brooch was made of leaf shapes in dead rough gold with indented edges set around a central disk. Each held a large imperfect pearl.—Jewelers' Circular.

An Author's Bitter Cry.

"Here I've been hard at work 18 hours out of 24 during the last fortnight on my new treatise, in which I am trying to demonstrate the necessity of an eight hours labor day."—Lustige Blatter.

Summer Joy.

A slender waist, just slightly clasped
As [illegible] around [illegible] they stroll;
A small white hand, just lightly grasped,
Two heads beneath one parasol.
—Boston Courier.

THE PRATTLER.

Miss Eileen Ahern, the new state librarian of Indiana, is making a special effort to place in the library copies of all books published by Indianians.

Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, whose late husband was Senator Hearst, is one of the leading club women in California, as Mrs. Senator Wolcott is in Colorado.

Mrs. Lynde Craig has been admitted to practice before the supreme court of California. She has been for 10 years past a teacher in the girls' high school in San Francisco.

Lady Tryon, who was an heiress to the peerage when she married the late admiral (it was a love match), has declined to accept the $5,000 pension to which she is entitled as his widow.

The Duchess de Maille is always recognized in the Bois de Boulogne by her immense coach. It dates from the last century and is equipped with postilions and outriders in livery.

Miss Beulah True of Hancock, Me., who furnished the illustrations for a recently published history of Castine, is acting as purser on one of the Maine steamers, of which her father is captain.

Lady Amherst has distinguished her noble name by admission to the honorary list of turners. She has extraordinary skill as a manipulator of the lathe, and her house is full of specimens of her work.

Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer, in a plea for coeducation, asserts that nothing will take the foolish and romantic notions out of a girl so quickly as to set her at work with young men and let her find out how little they know.

Mrs. Samuel Gamble of Grassy, Ky., has been gaining in flesh rapidly for the past four years, and, it is reported, now weighs 605 pounds. When she married 10 years ago, she weighed only, according to the informant, 105 pounds.

The Hon. Mrs. Charles Hardinge, who has just been appointed bedchamber woman or lady in waiting to the princess of Wales, is a daughter of the prince and princess' intimate friend, Lord Allington, popularly known by the sobriquet of "Bunnie."

Mrs. Bayard, the wife of the ambassador to England, has already been successful in her appearance at court. She made a pleasant impression during her stay at Windsor, and her charm of manner and brilliancy of conversation have won her an enviable place in the best London society.

Mrs. Matilda Simpson of Harrodsburg, Ky., who died recently, has been known as the "sad lady" for a third of a century, during which time she has never been seen to smile. Her husband's mysterious disappearance changed her disposition instantly. Her life was devoted to charity.

THE JOCKEY.

The Sir Modred mare Gloaming has a stride of 26 feet.

Range horses are phenomenally free from all natural blemishes, such as spavin and splint.

If a colt measures 15 inches, he will grow to be 15 hands high; if 15½ inches, he will be 15½ hands high, and so on.

The big sale of Palo Alto stock probably means the breaking up of the late Senator Stanford's great breeding farm.

The Duke of Portland has remitted 20 per cent of the rents of his tenants in consideration of times being not so well with poor people just now.

The examination of Dictator's limbs by the veterinarian that attended him in his last sickness shows that he was absolutely free from spavin.

Smith Scott of Andersonville, Ind., is the oldest driver in the state. He began racing in 1843, drove Blue Bull in 1847 and in 1853 built the first track in Indiana.

In 1892 the average value of a farm horse in the United States was $65.91 and of a mule $75.55. In 1893 the average farm horse is worth only $61.22 and the mule $70.68.

It is not often that a horse starts in a hurdle race at 3:10 p. m., gets beaten a head and then comes out again at 4:15 p. m. and wins a steeplechase over 3½ miles. This is what Horizon did recently in England.

A novel tunnel is projected for the Neva at St. Petersburg. It is to be cylindrical in form, 43 feet in diameter, and to have four floors or decks for pedestrians, vehicles, cars and telegraphic cables respectively.

Machines for making boots have been so highly developed that in New York a pair of boots has been actually made from beginning to end, including the sewing on of the buttons and the packing of the pair in the box, in less than 16 minutes.

CORPORATION NOTICES.

To whom it may Concern:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT at a meeting of the Court of Common Council of the City of Norwich, held September 4th, A. D., 1893, the following report was accepted and approved.

Attest— ARCHIBALD S. SPALDING,
City Clerk and Clerk of the Court of Common Council.

To the Court of Common Council of the City of Norwich:—

The Committee on Streets to whom was referred the petition of W. B. Richer and others asking that a concrete walk be ordered on the easterly side of Mt. Pleasant Street from West Main Street to Elizabeth Street, beg leave to report that they have given the matter their attention and they recommend the passage of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That owners of the land fronting on the northeasterly side of Mt. Pleasant Street between West Main and Elizabeth Streets be, and they hereby are, ordered to duly form, curb, and pave with concrete, at their own expense, the sidewalks in front of their respective premises in accordance with the grade and width established by the Court of Common Council, and all of said work must be completed on or before the 15th day of October, 1893, to the satisfaction and acceptance of the Street Commissioner.

And Resolved, That provided said walks are not formed, curbed, and paved [illegible] as directed in the foregoing [illegible] to the acceptance of the Street Co[illegible] by the 15th day of October, 1893, [illegible] Commissioner is hereby directed to [illegible] pave with concrete the same in [illegible] with the intent of the foregoing [illegible] the City Sheriff is hereby directed to notify the parties aforesaid at once by leaving with them a copy of this report and accompanying resolutions.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. B. AIKEN,
J. B. HENDERSON, } Committee on Streets.
VINE S. STETSON.

Norwich, Sept. 4th, 1893.

Resolved, That the consideration of the foregoing resolutions recommended by the Street Committee relative to sidewalks on the northeasterly side of Mt. Pleasant Street, in said City of Norwich, be postponed to a meeting of the Court of Common Council, to be held at the Council Chamber in said city, on the 18th day of September, A. D., 1893, at eight o'clock p. m., and that due notice of said meeting be given to all parties interested to appear, if they see cause, and be heard in relation thereto.

I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true copy of record.

Attest—ARCHIBALD S. SPALDING,
City Clerk.

Squash -:- Pies
FRESH EVERY DAY AT
MRS. CHAPMAN'S Bakery,
No. 7 North Thames Street.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Five Gallon Oil Can.
LIPPITT, SWAN & CO.,
91 Water St.,
AT WHOLESALE ONLY.

GROCERIES.

GREAT FIRE SALE
—OF—
GROCERIES.
Our entire stock to be sold at ONE-HALF its actual value. Sale opens WEDNESDAY, Sept. 6, at 100 FRANKLIN ST.
J. A. STODDARD & SON.

FILL YOUR Lunch Baskets
—AT—
RALLION'S.
45 Broadway, Central Building.

FRUIT JARS.
Mason's Improved.
A. T. OTIS.

FLOUR
Is the lowest ever known, and Bread is the cheapest Food that can be used. The Flour that makes the Best Bread and the most loaves of Bread is
"PILLSBURY'S BEST"
For Sale Everywhere.
SMITH, NORTHAM & CO.,
HARTFORD, CONN. MILLER'S AGENTS.

WE'RE STILL HERE!
AT 360 FRANKLIN STREET,
AND WE ARE GOING TO TRY AN STAY HERE.
Pay 100 cents on the dollar and take anything that comes—either gold, silver or greenback.
Come and see us and bring the children.
H. D. AVERY.

Cliquot Club Ginger Ale,
Cowdry's Deviled Meats,
Richardson & Robbins' Boned Chicken
—AT—
R. S. BARTLETT'S,
4 and 6 Broad Opera House.

Concentrated Claret Lemonade
Lime Juice and
Imported Ginger Ales, at
A. L. ALLEN'S

REMOVAL.
Dr. W. S. C. Perkins has removed to 31 Broadway. Office hours, 1 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m. Residence, 10 Broad street.
Dr. Chas. H. Perkins, 31 Broadway. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 6 p. m. Residence, 10 Broad street. Telephone at residence.

THE TIME TO BUY IS WHEN THE OTHER FELLOW WANTS TO SELL

WE WANT TO SELL

OFFICE STATIONERY WILL NEVER BE CHEAPER

The Bulletin Co.,
BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Baking Powder?
"If you want the best,
buy Cleveland's."

CAR 14.
Another car Peaches this morning ready for inspection. Remember this is the last week for preserving peaches at reasonable prices.
J. C. WORTH,
sep5TuF 31 WATER ST.

THE LATEST
Lamson & Hubbard
HAT.
For Durability, Style and Comfort,
the best hat made.
FOR SALE BY PERKINS & MONTGOMERY
sep2MWF

THE BOSTON STORE

FABRIC
GLOVES.

We are making a General Clearance of all SUMMER GOODS. To do this effectively reductions of some consequence have been made all along the line, very noticeable are those in our Glove Department.

Cotton Lisle Gloves in Black and Tans at 8c, reduced from 12 1-2c.

Taffeta Gloves in Tans, Black and Greys at 19c, were 25c.

Taffeta Gloves in Black at 29c, from 37 1 2c.

Taffeta Gloves in Greys, Tans and Modes at 30c, reduced from 50c.

Taffeta Gloves in Black at 35c, from 50c.

Silk Gloves in Black, Tans, Modes and Greys at 30c, from 50c.

Keyser's Double Tipped Fingers in Black and Colors at 55c, from 75c.

Keyser's Double Tipped Fingers in Black at 75c, were $1.00.

Mitts reduced to 10c, 19c, 25c and 34c.

Reid & Hughes.
sep6d&w

Do You Know Any One
Who is Hard to Suit?
Bring him in. We can make all sorts of Suits for the different kinds of days to be lived through this summer and fall. Suits to make every day enjoyable.
GEO. E. CLARK,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Room 4, Shannon Block.
jy1d

REMOVAL.
OFFICE DR. BRIGDEN
OCULIST and AURIST,
To Shannon Block, Corner Main and Shetucket Sts., Rooms 18 and 19.
Special attention given to correcting all forms of abnormal vision with proper Spectacles or Eye Glasses. No fee charged in such cases except in ASTIGMATISM or where it is necessary to prescribe in addition to fitting Glasses.
tottd

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE your goods is when business is dull. Try THE BULLETIN and note results.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Wednesday September 6 1893.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before 6½ a. m.

Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to the Bulletin Co.

The Weather Today

Fair weather, northwesterly winds, cooler.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

CITY NEWS.

The Sturtevant bridge at Bean Hill is closed until further notice.

A movement is being made in New London for a University extension course of lectures.

The Rev. F. J. O'Niel of St. Patrick's parish took young John O'Connell to New Haven Tuesday.

The lighthouse at Watch Hill is receiving needed repairs at the hands of carpenters and plasterers.

Manager Joseph Plaut is rapidly converting the upper story of the Spear building on Main street into modern flats.

Miss Hannah Norman of Ledyard has added a $1,000 to the Norman fund of the Methodist church at Gale's Ferry, making it $4,000.

The steamer Watch Hill will stop running between Westerly and the peninsula on Thursday, Sept. 14, and then the season may be considered as ended.

The fair and festival of the Mohegan Sewing society will open today. Teams will convey passengers, free of charge, from the depot to the church.

King's orchestra opened the season in Lisbon Tuesday evening. The members this season are King, cornet, Bartlett, piano, Frank Fitch, clarionet and Caryl, violin.

The Bible training classes of the Young Men's Christian association will meet every Wednesday at 7.45 p. m. The aim of these classes is to develop personal workers and study practical methods of Christian work.

The Adams Express company has decided that the season at Watch Hill is ended, and accordingly closed its office on Monday. This is another of the "falling leaves" which mark the beginning of cool weather.

The members of Thames lodge, G. U. O. O. F., of New London, will go to Bridgeport Wednesday for the purpose of taking part in the parade of the New England members of the order which takes place in the Park city.

The steamer City of Richmond will leave for Block Island at 8 a. m. tomorrow, stopping at New London and Watch Hill. This excursion is under the auspices of Tubbs' Military band and the Blackstone Hose Co., and tickets are for sale by members of both organizations.

The election of a vice president to succeed Lucius Tuttle, may be held at the meeting of the directors of the Consolidated road to be held next Saturday, or it may be deferred until the October meeting. A railroad man says that the vacancy might remain open until after Mr. Tuttle became president of the Boston & Maine on October 11. It has not been decided as yet when the matter will receive attention.

City Court—Kellogg, Judge.

In the city court Tuesday, Edgar L Morrison of Willimantic paid $10 and costs, $17.49, for breach of the peace, and August Johnson of Greeneville, for drunkenness, settled his case for $8.86.

To Play at Block Island.

The Clipper base ball nine go to Block Island on the steamer City of Richmond Thursday, and during the time of the vessel's stay at the isle, will meet the regular club, which the summer residents think is invincible.

A Frightened Horse.

A horse belonging to Grant, the Taftville livery man, became frightened at the electric cars on Franklin square Tuesday afternoon, and got beyond the control of his driver. The animal rammed his carriage into a lamp post and freeing himself, ran up Main street to be stopped at the Wauregan house. The vehicle was slightly damaged.

The Waiters Defeated.

The game of ball Tuesday between the Neptunes and the Wauregan house waiters resulted in a score of 14 to 3 in favor of the former. Manchester and Ferguson were the battery for the Neptune nine, and Draper and Gilbert for the Waiters. The Neptunes are anxious to arrange a game for Thursday or Friday with the Brotherhood team.

Policeman Lewis on Duty.

Policeman Henry B. Lewis, appointed at Monday's council meeting, was put on active duty last night and was assigned to the Laurel Hill beat by Chief Bowen. Supernumerary Brown patrolled Officer Ebberts' beat last night.

Mr. E. P. Parker, Jr., has secured the position of night watchman at the bank corner, vacated by Officer Lewis.

Attended a Notable Celebration.

Mr. Abraham Plaut and wife and Mrs. A. Gadden and daughter, Miss Carrie Cadden of this city attended the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Hollander of Hartford Monday night. Over 250 guests attended at 5 in the afternoon to witness the marriage rite and sat down to the wedding feast, and nearly 400 more came to the reception in the evening. The celebration was a marked occasion not only on account of the rare occurrence of golden weddings, but also because Mr. Hollander is honorably known to almost all of Hartford as a business man of great probity and a gentleman of most upright record and kindly disposition; and Mrs. Hollander is beloved by a large circle of friends for gentle courtesy, unselfish deeds of kindness and great sweetness of character.

Kellar.

Kellar the magician, who has not been seen in this city for several seasons will be at the Broadway theater next Saturday night. It is said that his entertainment is positively new and unequalled in feats of modern magic. Such as "Flyto," "Astarte, the Maid of the Moon" who dances upon air, "Oh" which is the mysterious disappearance of a human being into nothingness, "Cagliostro, the Phantom Bride," the Davenport seance, and "Karmos" in which Mrs. Kellar assists.

A Willimantic Horse Thief

The police were notified last night from Willimantic to be on the lookout for Joseph Bureau, a Willimantic agent for the People's Insurance company, who is charged with stealing a sorrel mare and end-spring Whitechapel top buggy from that borough. No trace of the man or turnout could be found in this city.

The Trout Had Disappeared.

Thomas B. Hewett of New York drew off the water in his pond in North Stonington, Tuesday, in the hope of saving the trout, with which it had been stocked, from the voracious pickerel. When the acre which had been covered by the water was drained, it was found that all but one solitary trout had fallen a prey to the larger fish. Among the fish captured by the process was a pickerel tipping the scales at four pounds and three ounces, and a bullhead weighing two pounds and a half, besides numerous giant eels.

A Justice Case on Trial.

The case of James M. Hopkins of the Boston Branch grocery store of Water street against D. B. Sullivan and Constable George C. Park, in which damages of $250 are claimed, was on trial before Justice John C. Kellogg in the police court room Tuesday. A number of witnesses were presented, and at 5.30 an adjournment was taken to today.

This case, it will be remembered, grew out of the fact that some time ago Messrs. Sullivan and Park tried to dispossess Mr. Hopkins of possession of the store in the Coon building on Water street. Messrs. Sullivan and Hopkins both claim to have leases of the store. The present case is the first of a series of three that will be tried.

PUT IN FINE CONDITION.

What the West Chelsea Board of Education Has Been About.

The West Chelsea school district opened the doors of its three buildings Tuesday, after a summer vacation, which Chairman Robert Brown of the board of education has taken advantage of to thoroughly modernize and renovate the property.

The Mt. Pleasant street quarters have been equipped with new hall floors and a steam heater, while the second story has been fitted into two rooms with ninety seats.

At High street the yard has been concreted and the fence relaid, and the basement of the building has been vacated for the more suitable first story. The junior and intermediate departments of this school have been transferred to Mt. Pleasant street.

The Pearl street school is supplied with natty new seats, the walls have been whitened, and two new floors put down.

OUR FOLKS AND OTHER FOLKS

Mayor Harwood is in New York on business.

John A. Caryl, 2d, is visiting friends in Plainfield, N. J.

Prof. E. F. Harding is in town for a few days, well burned by Block Island sun.

W. M. Bushnell and wife returned from Fisher Island, where they have been spending the summer at their cottage.

Miss Belle T. Service of Greeneville will enter upon her third year as teacher of the East Great Plains school on September 11.

Mrs. Edward Kenney and daughter, Miss Mamie Kenney of New York, who have been visiting friends in Greeneville, have returned home.

J. R. Peckham and wife of Preston are spending two weeks with relatives in western New York. They will visit Niagara before they return.

The oldest man in New London is Charles Chapman, who will be 93 years old Wednesday. He was born in Waterford in 1800, is hale and hearty and gives promise of rounding out the century.

EASTERN CONNECTICUT CONVICTS

Who Ask for Release From State Prison.

The following prisoners hailing from this part of the state were before the board of pardons Monday, praying release:

Henry Hawarwas of Tolland county, burglary, in for thirteen years; case carried over.

John M. Young of Windham county was sentenced for life in April, 1886, on a charge of murder in the second degree. Young was 17 years old, and he was induced to try an experiment upon an old colored woman, to procure abortion, by one Tucker, a colored man, who was the author of the woman's trouble. The woman died. Young knew little of what he was doing. Judge Park, who sentenced him, testifies that he ought to be pardoned, as does Judge John M. Hall.

Robert Edwards of New London county, in for two years, horse stealing. Said he was sick and could not bear to stay in prison.

Dwight F. Steere of Webster, Mass., had petitioned before. A Methodist minister of Webster made an earnest appeal for him. Steere was sentenced in April, 1878, for life. He inveigled a young man from Worcester to go with him on the cars, enticed him to a lumber yard in New London, and killed him with a long-bladed knife. Then he robbed the man of money and watch, which was found on the prisoner. A colder blooded murder was never committed in New London county.

Frank E. Munn wanted a pardon. He approached a man who was sleeping on a barge in New London, put a pistol to his head, and demanded his clothing or property. Sentenced for four years October, 1890.

Emanuel Montario, a Portuguese sailor, was sentenced for life from Norwich in 1878. His case has been before the board several times. He is a vicious, ill-tempered man. Judge McManus made an appeal for the old man, who had become useless, wandering around the prison. He had no friends. But the judge promised to send him home to Portugal, if the board would pardon him. He is a dangerous man and should not be released.

Ocean Steamers.

At New York—Norwegian from Glasgow; Paula from Stettin; American from Bremen.

At Southampton—Chester from New York.

DIED.

GRAY—In this city, Sept. 4, Phillip Earl, son of Hadley G. and Mary M. Gray, aged 1 [illegible].

Funeral from the residence of his parents, No. 23 Quarry street, this Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED
A Competent Girl for General Housework
Inquire at 33 CLIFF STREET. sep6d

PIANOS and ORGANS
Tuned and Repaired.
Country Tuning solicited. sep1MWFaw E. E. BAKER.

LOST—Monday afternoon, between Otis Library and German Lutheran Church, Russia Leather Card Case with Pair Skeleton Glasses enclosed. Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving at store of A. HOUGH, Broadway. sep6d

JUST RECEIVED A NEW LINE OF CAPES and JACKETS.
MRS. H. D. SYDLEMAN, sep6MWF 281 Main Street.

SOUP.
NO SOUP LIKE THE NATIONAL PURE FOOD CO.'S SOUPS.
TRY THEM.
WELCOME A. SMITH.
sep6d

SAVE MONEY
By buying Second-Hand School Books at about One-half the Regular Prices. We have a big lot in splendid condition. Early buyers get the Best Books.
Noyes & Davis.
sep6d&w

SCHOOL BOOKS.
WE HAVE STILL MANY GOOD SECOND-HAND BOOKS.
BARGAINS IN TABLETS AND NOTE BOOKS.
Bring in SECOND-HAND ACADEMY BOOKS.
Cranston & Co.
sep6d&w

BROADWAY THEATER.
SATURDAY, Sept. 9.
Direct from DALY'S THEATER, New York City, the Greatest of Wonder Workers, KELLAR.
All the New and Startling Features produced during the 3 Months' Run at Daly's Theater, New York City.
THE PHANTOM BRIDE. THE SIMLA SEANCE, a reproduction of the Theosophic Wonders of the late Mme. Blavatsky. "OH!" a Manhattan Marvel. CAGLIOSTRO! A New Spiritualistic Enigma. ASTARTE, the Maid of the Moon. The Mahatma's Dream, or, The Projection of the Human Double into Animal Shapes. Kellar's Latest and Greatest Achievement, FLYTO! the Ne Plus Ultra of the Magic Art. Regular Prices. Seats at Herrick's Thursday morning. sep6d

During the Rest of the season, the fare to Watch Hill and return on Steamer Ella will be 50c.
JAMES WALKER, Manager.
sep6d

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR Fire Wood
—TO THE—
PARK WOOD YARD!
301 Franklin Street.
A discount will be made on all purchases of Four Dollars or more.
J. ROURKE.
aug8d

TO RENT.
A Large Store No. 108 Water St. and Frame Building on Commerce St., formerly occupied by T. H. Eldredge as a Hardware store. For further particulars call on or address NICHOLAS TARRANT, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, 9 Main street. mar29d

IF YOUR EYES TROUBLE YOU,
CALL AT
FRISWELL'S,
who has had 20 years experience, and latest improved method, and be properly fitted with spectacles and Eye Glasses.
jy2d 25 & 27 FRANKLIN ST.

AMUSEMENTS.

WELCOME TO THE WIGWAM!
THE LADIES OF THE
MOHEGAN SEWING SOCIETY
WILL HOLD THEIR
THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL FESTIVAL
Wednesday and Thursday,
Sept. 6 and 7, 1893.
Bedquilts, Baskets, Aprons, Fancy Articles, both useful and ornamental. Oysters, Succotash, Yokeag, Ice Cream, Cake and Confectionery will be offered for sale. We would respectfully invite our friends and patrons to give us a call. Teams will be at depot to convey passengers, free of charge, from the Depot to the church. ADMISSION 15 CENTS.
N. B.—If said day be stormy, the sale will take place next fair week day. sep1tw

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOTICE.
The Sturtevant Bridge at Bean Hill will be Closed until further notice.
THURSTON B. LILLIBRIDGE, sep6d&w First Selectman.

FALL HATS
—AT—
T. J. FALVEY'S
In All the Leading Styles.
INSPECTION INVITED.
sep4MWF

TO THE SCHOOL CHILDREN!
A few Sailors left in Navy Blue, Brown and Black, just what the girls want to start to school with.
Boys' Extra Heavy Seamless Hose at 15c a pair, worth 25c.
Children's Dark Gingham Dresses, Hamburg Trimmed, in sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10 years, at 50c, usually sold at 75c.
Fleece Lined Dresses, same sizes as above, at $1.00, regular price $1.50.
Boys' Shirt Jackets in all sizes and qualities, from 25c up.
White and Gingham Aprons in all sizes and prices.
All Trimmed Hats at your own price.
B. GOTTHELF & CO.
100 MAIN STREET.
sep6d Wholesale and Retail.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD AT Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 4th day of September, A. D., 1893.
Present—CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge.
Estate of E. Y. Thomas, late of Norwich, in said district, deceased.
The Administrator, de bonis non, having made written application to said Court in accordance with the statutes, for an order of sale of the whole or part of the real estate described therein, it is ordered, that said Administrator sell said property which is described in said application above referred to either at public auction or private sale as he may deem to the best advantage, first giving notice of such sale by advertising in a newspaper having a circulation in said probate district and return make to this Court of the notice given, pursuant to this order.
Attest— CHAS. W. CARTER, Judge.

FOR SALE.
By order of the Honorable Court of Probate for the District of Norwich, the premises No. 55 Union Street, Norwich, belonging to the estate of E. Y. Thomas, deceased.
S. H. THRESHER, sep6d Administrator, de bonis non.

No Better Place to Buy a --HAT--
THAN AT PRENTICE'S.
Fall Styles now ready. sep4MWF

WHY?
—NOT USE—NORWICH
FOLDED
PAPER
CARPET
LINING.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS. jel2MWF

Butter, Cheese, Eggs,
At WHOLESALE ONLY, by
ALLEN, WORTH & CO.,
sep1MW Norwich and New London, Ct.

CROCKER'S
Magical Stomach Powders
Make good health possible to all through good digestion. Bad digestion reduces vitality—weakens the circulation of the blood, which alone makes disease possible. sep6d

As it is Nearly Time to House the Plants, be prepared with the necessary sizes of
FLOWER POTS.
We have them in all the sizes and our prices are low.
SMITH BROS.
sep6d

SHOE TALK!
The close attention we give to our Shoe Department to make it satisfactory to the people is rewarded by a constant increase in our sales, and we are very thankful to know that our efforts are well appreciated.
We offer this week:
Men's Genuine Kangaroo Shoes, Lace and Congress, $2 25, were $3.00.
Men's Genuine Dongola Lace and Congress Shoes, $2 00, were $2 50.
Men's Light, Stylish Lace and Congress Shoes, $1.50, worth $2 00.
Boys' Tap Sole Shoes, Strong and Serviceable, 95c.
Boys' Base Ball Shoes, Genuine Calf Trimmed, 50c, worth $1.00.
Men's Tennis Shoes, 40c.
Boys' Tennis Shoes, 38c.
Child's Tennis Shoes, 35c.
Alling Brothers,
sep1d&w Bread Opera House Block.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DR. N. P. SMITH,
Office No 8 Broadway.
Hours 11 a. m., to 1 p. m., 4.30 to 5.30 p. m.
aug29d RESIDENCE 322 MAIN ST.

Horizontal Water Wheels,
Head Gate Gearing,
Water Racks,
Power Transmission Machinery.
Collins Turbine Machine Co.
je6d

A WOMAN'S CHANCE TO MARRY.
¼ of 1 per cent. from 50 to 56 years of age.
¾ of 1 " " 45 to 50 " "
2½ " " 40 to 45 " "
3¾ " " 35 to 40 " "
15½ " " 30 to 35 " "
18 " " 25 to 30 " "
52 " " 20 to 25 " "
14½ " " 15 to 20 " "
Wedding Shoes a Specialty at
Herren'S,
Opposite Porteous & Mitchell's.
Agent for W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe. aug24d

LOOK OUT
—FOR—
FRUIT JARS
Preston Bros.
SELL THEM
CHEAP.
aug26d

WORTH KNOWING.
FRUIT JARS,
JELLY GLASSES,
TUMBLERS,
CROCKERY,
CAN BE BOUGHT
CHEAP
—AT—Wholesale or Retail,
—AT—
WHITNEY'S,
41 BROADWAY, CENTRAL BUILDING.
sep1d&w

-:-FURNACES.-:-
Now is the time to have your Furnaces put in order, or if you need a new one now is the best time to have it set. If you wish a
Steam or Hot Water Heater
The Richmonds
are ahead of anything with the latest improvements, and
J. P. BARSTOW & CO.
Will make you the Lowest Prices possible.
RICHMOND RANGES!
A SPECIALTY.
HOUSEFURNISHING GOODS,
Quality the best and prices lowest.
Call and see us.
23 and 25 Water Street
aug9d&w

REID'S
ICE CREAM
Delicious as Nectar.
PLEASES
The Perfection of Delicate Flavor.
ALL.
N. D. SEVIN & SON.
sep1d&w

All Kinds Of
Picture Frames
And an elegant line of FRAMED
—AND—
UNFRAMED PICTURES
Can be found at
M. J. Farrell's
Art Parlors,
61 Broadway.
jy31d&w

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

UNITED STATES
Savings and Loan Company,
Paid in Capital..................$1,250,000
Subscribed Capital.............. 6,100,000
3 Classes of Certificates are issued.
7% Guaranteed Bond Certificates @ 12.
6% Partial Dividend Bond Certificates @ 8.
Installment Bond Certificates, payable monthly. Denominations $1,000 to $10,000.
H. O. MACK and GEO. S. SMITH GEN. AGTS.
Office 9 Shannon Building, Norwich.
aug7WS

E. P. BREWER, M. D.,
18 Washington Street.
GENERAL
PRACTICE
AND THE EYE.
Office hours: 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 p. m. Telephone 33—3. may9d

MILLINERY.
INFANTA
Have received the above in light weight Felt in Navy and Black; also in Velvet and Cloth. It is THE Hat to take the place of the Sailor.
Felt 69c, value $1 00.
Velvet and Cloth 79c, value $1 25.
T. E. McCLENATHAN.
Wholesale and Retail. sep1d&w

THE BEST SPONGES
For Washing Carriages
Can be found at HOWE'S.
aug31d WF

TO RENT.
3 minutes from Post Office, Lower Tenement, 7 rooms, hot and cold water, with separate bath and closet. J. BRADFORD, aug5d Bookbinder, Bulletin Building.

NORWICH BUSINESS COLLEGE
Norwich, Conn.
EARL M. SWIFT,
[illegible]
Fall Term Begins
Tuesday, Sept. 5
On and after Aug. 15 the College office will be open from 9.30 to 3.30 to receive applicants for membership. aug15d&w

Why Not Kill Your FLIES With
SURE KILL FLY PAPER
5 Cent's a Package,
-Steiner's Pharmacy-
aug18d SHANNON BUILDING.

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK
A. PLAUT,
The well known Bargain Dealer, will commence MONDAY, Aug. 28th, to close out the balance of his Bicycles regardless of value or cost. Headquarters at 20 Main St. aug28d

HAMMOCKS, HAMMOCKS,
HAMMOCKS, CHEAP.
AT [illegible]
jy26d 420 No. Main St.

Ten Days' Room Accommodations at
HOTEL SOUTH SHORE
On Lake Michigan, four blocks from the entrance to
The World's Fair Grounds.
One First Class R. R. ticket to Chicago and return with stop over at Niagara Falls.
All for $36.00.
R. R. ticket going by any route and returning by any other route furnished with or without Hotel accommodations by
E. P. TURNER, 187 E. Broad St.,
aug18d Norwich, Conn.

CLOTHING.

THE PUBLIC
Are invited to call and look at some of the very latest styles in Men's and Children's FALL SUITS!
—AT—
MURPHY & McGARRY.
aug8d

FOOT WEAR.

LADIES!
Our $4.00 and $5.00 French Kid Button Boots are selling for $3 00. Call and see them.
Geo. W. Kies & Co.
aug8d&w

School
Shoes.
See our new lines at
$1.00, $1.25 and $1.50.
Frank A. Bill,
sep1d&w 98 MAIN STREET.

Norwich Morning Bulletin.

VOL. XXXV.—NO. 11,694 NORWICH, CONN. THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1893—SIX PAGES SIX DOLLARS A YEAR

THIS MORNINGS NEWS.

City and Vicinity

Fair and warmer weather.
A North Stonington farmer's sudden marriage.
Mr. Charles E. Hilton's new position.
Norwich travellers home from abroad
Death of Miss Emma N. Converse
Grossman Hopkins loses his suit.
James B. Palmer's cattle win premiums.
Mrs. Wilson of Willimantic's death from consumption.
A floating body near Mystic island.
The superior court in session.

State

A bootblack shot and robbed in Ridgefield.
Congregational pastor at Rockfalls asked to resign.
The Ansonia lamp factory resumes work.
A New Haven constable in trouble.
Italians arrested in New Haven for passing counterfeit money.
The I. O. O. F. celebration at Bridgeport.

General

Wednesday's ball scores.
Events of the turf.
The prohibition convention at Worcester.
North Attleboro selectmen puzzled.
Southern and western congressmen favor repeal of state bank tax.
Two New York bankers missing.
Royal Victoria Yacht club's race for the gold cup.
Boston produce market quotations.
Russia's terrible death list from cholera.
Attempt to wreck a train near Wallingford, Vt.
Election of officers by the G. A. R. at Indianapolis.

SPECIAL.

STATED CONVOCATION

of Franklin Chapter, No. 4, R. A. M., Thursday, Sept. 7th, 1893, at 7.30 o'clock p. m.

Work M. M. Degree.

Per Order M. E. H. P.

HENRY L. BENNETT, Sec'y.
sep6d

We offer the balance of our fancy light-weight Suitings and Trouserings, for sale by the yard, at cost. This gives particularly good value for the money and is worthy the attention of those economically inclined.

R. B. JONES & SON,

Merchant Tailors, ... 139 MAIN ST (over C. C. Mann's) sep6d

USE
Shipman's
CARBOLIC
OINTMENT,
The most healing preparation in the world
FOR MAN OR BEAST.
For sale by all druggists. jy5d

DO NOT
SLUMBER
UNTIL YOU HAVE
Dr. Hough's
COUGH AND LUNG BALSAM
Ready for immediate use.
Sure Cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc.
PRICE 25 Cents.
Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers.
jy5daw

FREE
Ask your druggist for a sample bottle.
ELIXIR OF LIFE
The great family medicine,
guaranteed to cure
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION,
SICK-HEADACHE,
DYSPEPSIA,
And all ills arising from a disordered stomach. Trade supplied by LEE & OSGOOD. ap23daw

Sick Headache
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, etc. They regulate the bowels and prevent constipation and piles. The smallest and easiest to take. Only one pill a dose, 40 in a vial. Purely Vegetable. Price 25 cents. 5 vials by mail $1.
Carter Medicine Co., Proprietors,
NEW YORK.
Sold by all Druggists. ocl4daw

Most People Like to Know
The name of a good Cough and Cold Remedy, as they frequently have occasion to use one.
Mrs. Bird's Lung Cure
IS THE BEST. TRY IT.
Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.
At wholesale by LEE & OSGOOD.

Norwich Line to New York.

Trains leave Union Station, Norwich, daily (Sundays excepted) at 9.25 and 9.55 p. m., connecting at New London with steamer "City of Worcester" or "City of Boston," for New York.

Steamer "City of Lawrence" leaves Norwich on Sundays at 7 p. m., New London at 9 p. m., for New York.

Returning, steamers leave New York daily (Sundays excepted) at 5.

For state-rooms and further information apply at Office of the Company, 53 Shetucket street. Telephone call 149-3.

THOMAS CLARK, President.
O. L. JOHNSON, Jr.,
Secretary and Treasurer.
je5d

CONNECTICUT OFFICER ARRESTED.

A Rockfalls Pastor Chides His Flock —Other State News.

NEW HAVEN'S IDLE MEN.

Board of Selectmen to Take Action in Behalf of the Unemployed.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 6.—The demands of the unemployed workmen in this city have become so pressing that a special meeting of the board of selectmen will be held Friday night, to devise some plan for the emergency. The number of paupers and town dependents is increasing at a phenomenal pace, and 240 more persons are in the local almshouse than were last year. A hundred and eighty-eight people are receiving aid outside of this and the board has determined to provide work in some form. Several thousand people are out of work here. An accurate estimate is not possible.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 6.—It is now assured that the addition to Battel chapel will not be completed by the opening of the fall term Sept. 28 and Yale men are rejoicing at a chance to escape from compulsory chapel temporarily. It is rumored that President Dwight intends to checkmate them by holding chapel for the different classes in separate rooms. It is thought that the college chapel will not be ready for occupancy before Thanksgiving.

INVITED TO RESIGN.

A Congregational Pastor at Rockfalls Speaks Out in Church.

MIDDLETOWN, Sept. 6.—The trouble that has been growing in the Congregational church at Rockfalls culminated a few days ago, when the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Nott, was requested to resign.

He preached his farewell sermon on Sunday, and intimated to certain members of his congregation pretty strongly his opinion of them. He chided some of them for underhanded work and ended his sermon by wishing the church God-speed. The sermon has been the subject of much comment since Sunday, and many take the pastor's view of the matter.

I. O. O. F.

Annual Parade and Celebration at Bridgeport—The Visiting Lodges.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 6.—The annual parade and celebration of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows consisting entirely of colored men was held here today.

Fully 1,000 visitors are in the city. Four Providence lodges, 100 in number, under command of John C. Barnes; Canonchet lodge of Newport, Commander Wm. H. Jackson, and Patriarch No. 81 of Providence, Captain Samuel Abrahams, arrived on the steamer Frances at 9 a. m.

Other lodges in line were Christian Star and Elm City of New Haven, Celestial of Hartford, Waterbury, Ansonia, Norwalk, Thames of New London, Brass City of Waterbury, and Marine of this city.

Delegations were present from patriarchies in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania and members of the House of Ruth, an order for women closely allied with the G. U. O. of O. F. rode in carriages.

Prisoner Shot While Escaping—Lodged in Jail.

DANBURY, Sept. 6.—George Simons, a negro, who escaped from the officers last February while being brought to this city to be tried for burglary, was re-captured last night in Sherman. He was surprised in a farm house where he was working and was shot in the thigh while trying to escape. He was brought to the jail here this morning. He has served one term in the state prison for rape, and is "wanted" for several burglaries.

Constable Shay of New Haven Under Arrest.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 6.—Constable John J. Shay was arrested this morning on a fraud writ served at the instigation of George Reif, councilman from the Sixth ward. It is alleged that Shay obtained the sum of $200 from Mr. Reif on the pretense that Mrs. Gates, an ex-matron at the county jail, desired to borrow it. Security has never been given, and it is alleged that Mrs. Gates never authorized Shay to borrow the money for her. This is a criminal case, and Shay had to get bonds of $300.

Socialist Element Objectionable in New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 6.—Trouble is brewing in local labor unions. The socialist and anarchist elements have been growing unusually lively of late, aided by material encouragement from New York headquarters, and now whether the tail or the dog will do the wagging must be settled. The first time the new anarchistic-socialistic combination showed its strength was in the preparations for the Labor day parade last Monday. It put forward candidates for all the official places, and what is more, in only a few cases failed to elect these candidates. The result was that over a hundred members of the various unions were disgruntled and refused to parade. They are now active in organizing an opposition to the successful combination, and the question of supremacy in the labor unions will be fought out by the two factions.

Jailed for Passing Counterfeit Money.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 6.—Gerose Gistro and Victor Ferelli, the two Italians who were detected in passing counterfeit money here this afternoon were detained at police headquarters till United States Marshal Loveridge appeared with a writ of mandamus from United States Commissioner Wright. Marshal Loveridge asked if they could procure bonds, and was answered in the negative. They were then handcuffed and taken to jail to await trial.

Bootblack Waylaid and Robbed.

DANBURY, Sept. 6.—There was a shooting affray in Ridgefield, Sunday night, which has just been reported to the officers. An Italian and a boy have been at work this summer for a Mr. Schenck, a wealthy New Yorker, who is summering there. The Italian is known as "Johann, No. 3," while the boy goes by the name of "Asbury." Sunday the boy was given permission to go into the village, where he earned a neat little sum by blacking boots. While returning home Sunday evening he was waylaid by the Italian and shot and robbed. The Italian has disappeared and officers are looking for him. The boy is fatally injured.

Yale University Preparing for Return of Students.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 6.—The Yale campus has resumed in part its bustle and activity. Superintendent Hotchkiss has a large force of men at work clearing away the remains of dormitory house cleaning, which takes place each summer. The building will soon be opened for an airing, and in a short time everything will be in readiness for the return of the students in the latter part of the month. Work is progressing rapidly on the new Vanderbilt dormitory. This promises a luxurious abode for wealthy students. Students will find it harder than ever to secure boarding places. The number of students rooming off the campus will prove a bonanza for the local landladies and will prove the need for the new dormitories.

The Cut in Wages Said to Be but Temporary.

ANSONIA, Sept. 6.—The lamp department in Wallace & Sons works resumed operations under the receivership this morning with about two-thirds of the usual number of employes. A general cut, averaging 20 per cent., has been ordered by the receivers, and the employes are working under it. It is expected to continue work, and other departments will start as soon as possible. The cut is said to be temporary.

Death of a Congregational Pastor.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 6.—The Rev. George S. Pelton, pastor of the Congregational church at Higganum, died there this morning of heart trouble, aged 48 years. He was a graduate of Amherst college and the Hartford Theological seminary, and spent many years in the west engaged in mission work. At one time he had charge of a mission church in Worcester, Mass. He had been settled at Higganum about four years.

Saved from Instant Death by a Boy.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 6.—William Hughes of 262 Thayer street, Providence, a porter on the steamer Frances, which brought the colored Odd Fellows to this city today, was struck by a train at Park avenue. He was lying intoxicated upon the track, and was saved from instant death by a boy, who pulled him from in front of the train. The cylinder of the engine struck him in the head, and it is thought his skull is fractured.

Wesleyan University.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Sept. 6.—The alterations in North college, Wesleyan university, are nearly all completed. The cost is $20,000, and the money was given by John Emory Andrus, one of the trustees.

TROTTING AT WORCESTER.

Sultan Wins the Unfinished Three Minute Trot—The Summary.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 6.—Three minute trot was finished and the 2.33 trot, the four-year and colt and the 2.33 pace filled out the programme of today's races. The crowd was very large though hardly as large as yesterday. Summaries:

Sultan won the unfinished three minute trot in two heats. Time 2.31 1-2, 2.33. C. T. K. was second.

Four-year-old; colt stakes; purse, $[illegible], divided.

Likewise, br. f.	1	4	1	1
Baron, b. f.	2	1	2	2
Zeke, b. f.	3	2	3	4

Time—2.30¼, 2.29¾, 2.30½, 2.32¾.

2.33 trot; purse, $500 divided.

Doc Smith, b. g.	4	1	1	1
Toney, ch. g.	1	2	2	2
Benton, M. ch. s.	2	3	3	4
Franklin P., b. g.	3	4	4	3
Lookout, g. m.	5	5	6	6
Star Girl, b. m.	6	6	5	5

Time, 2.29, 2.27¾, 2.31½, 2.30¼, 2.30½.

2.35 class; pacing; purse, $500 divided. (Unfinished.)

Bay George, b. g.	1	2	1
Lady Westmont, b. m.	7	1	6
Critt, c. g.	2	3	2
Combination, b. s.	4	4	5
Charlie Mill, r. h.	3	5	4

Time—2.19¼, 2.18, 2.20.

RACING AT POINT BREEZE.

Only Two Events on the Card—Little Daisy Wins the 2.19 Pace.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—At the grand circuit meeting at Point Breeze today there were only two events on the card and both were for pacers. In the 2.19 pace, Little Daisy was first choice. She went off her feet in the first half, finishing almost last. Maud Adair took the heat, but had no show for the race. Little Daisy won the next two heats in good form. Things looked so easy in the fourth heat for the favorite that Goldsmith got careless, the result being that Peary crept up on the outside and by outfooting Little Daisy at the wire made a dead heat of it. Little Daisy won the fifth heat and the race very handily.

Berkshire Courier was a red hot favorite in the 2.25 pacing event. He won in straight heats and went so fast that the others had to run occasionally to keep up with him. He distanced three of the six starters. Berkshire Courier established a new record for himself of 2.18¼. The track was in good condition and fast. Attendance about 500. Summaries:

2.19 pacing class; purse $1,500.

Little Daisy, b. m.	4	1	1	0	1
Maud Adair, b. m.	1	2	2	2	4
Peary	2	3	3	0	2
Dude Dobbin	3	4	4	4	3
Jim Wilson	5	5	5	5	dis.
Mary Louis	6	6	dis.

Time—2.16½, 2.17¼, 2.17, 2.16¼, 2.17.

2.25 pacing class, purse $1,500.

Berkshire Courier, b. s.	1	1	1
Mamie	2	3	2
Clarbonnet	3	4	3
Branchwood	4	2	4
Soubet	5	5	5
Bye	dis.

Time, 2.19½, 2.18½, 2.18¼.

Massachusetts State Convention of the People's Party.

LYNN, Mass., Sept. 6.—The state convention of the people's party at Lester's hall, Lynn, this afternoon, was called to order by Henry R. Legate of Boston, who was chosen permanent chairman, with Lyman B. Taylor of Lynn as secretary. There were some 200 delegates present, as the convention was a mass meeting open to all who vote the people's party ticket. The chair appointed as committee on platform Lyon B. Porter of Cambridge, and he reported a long preparation of principles, which was adopted.

The following state ticket was nominated by acclamation: Governor, George H. Cary of Lynn; lieutenant governor, Joseph B. Harris of Haverhill; secretary of state, Isaac W. Skinner of Waltham; treasurer and receiver general, Thomas Watson of Braintree; attorney general, Conrad Reno of Boston; state auditor, Maurice T. Landers of Pittsfield.

The executive committee was empowered to fill vacancies on the ticket and the convention adjourned.

BODY WASHED ASHORE.

Appearances are That the Man Had Been on a Pleasure Craft.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 6.—The body of an unknown man about 35 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches high, 175 pounds, wearing black serge suit, hair tinged with gray and wearing a mustache, was washed ashore at Portsmouth grove this morning. Appearances are that he must have been on a pleasure craft rather than a coaster, as he had a well-to-do refined look. The medical examiner has gone from here to view the body.

Dropped Dead While Wrestling.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 6.—John Ryan, aged 55, a blacksmith at Sixteen Acres, dropped dead while wrestling with his friend William Sodden. The struggle was over a pipe in the possession of Ryan and took place in the front yard of the house of Mrs. Julie Rochefort. The only injuries found on the body of Ryan was a broken leg.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, J. B. ADAMS.

Election of Officers at the Indianapolis Encampment G. A. R.

SKETCH OF HIS CAREER.

Report of Adjutant General Gray—Meet Next Year at Pittsburg.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 6.—Commander-in-Chief Weissert's address today before the veterans was devoted almost entirely to pensions. The commander said that recently scores of old soldiers, many suffering from disease incurred while in the army, had been cut off the pension rolls without first making proper investigation. More recently thousands of worthy soldiers, who at large expense, have proved their cases to the satisfaction of the pension bureau, have had their pensions stopped upon one pretext or another. The Grand Army does not favor giving pensions to those who deserted their country in the hour of need. Neither does it favor pensions for bounty jumpers or shirks. Neither does it favor any system that permits those whose loyalty was ever justly proven to pass upon the merits of veterans who served honorably in the union army, or which takes away or cancels that payment of a pension, fully granted without first investigating the case and permitting the pensioner to be heard, which should be done at the expense of the government. No pension should be cancelled until the government has proved it fraudulent or undeserving. Action should be taken to secure the reinstatement of all worthy veterans who have been dropped or suspended from the pension rolls.

This evening the following officers were elected, practically without opposition: John B. Adams of Massachusetts, commander in chief; Colin Walker of Indiana, senior vice commander, and J. C. G. Bigger of Texas, junior vice commander.

The new commander in chief, Mr. Adams, is one of the most popular veterans in New England. For years he has been identified with the Grand Army as one of the most active and influential members of the department of Massachusetts.

In 1861 he enlisted as private in the battalion which became the nucleus of the 19th Massachusetts. He served through the war, rising to the rank of captain. When not disabled by wounds, he participated in every march and in every battle of the army of the Potomac in which his regiment took part. He is a member of Lander Post of Lynn, second in membership, in the country. He has been prominent at Lynn and deputy sheriff of Concord reformatory and is now sergeant at arms of the commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Last year his friends presented his name to the republican convention for the candidacy of lieutenant governor, and he received a large vote. He will be 50 years old in October.

The report of Adjutant General Gray showed that the order had gained 36,666 during the year, and lost by death, discharge and suspension 59,025, the total membership in good standing is 397,223.

During the year the order has disbursed $297,100 in charity. The Grant monument fund has a balance on hand of $9,000.

General Harrison was today elected president of his old regiment and made a brief speech. Governor McKinley this afternoon addressed 5,000 in Armstrong park.

The next encampment goes to Pittsburg.

Meeting of Ladies of the G. A. R.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 6.—This morning, at 9 o'clock, the Ladies of the G. A. R. held their meeting. This is a separate and distinct organization from the W. R. C., the latter admitting all loyal women to membership, while the former admits only mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of veterans, representing the families of the soldiers exclusively.

The national headquarters of the association is at Pittsburg, Pa. The officers are: President, Mrs. Carrie A. Sheriff of Allegheny, Pa.; senior vice-president, Mrs. Amanda V. Winters; junior vice president, Mrs. Martha Stevens; secretary, Mrs. Josie Sticker, Pittsburg, Pa.; treasurer, Mrs. Edna H. Gruiebe, Camden, N. J.; national councillor, Mrs. M. O. Cartlidge; council of administration, Mrs. Florence George, Mrs. Julia Gordon, Mrs. Sophia Dermott.

WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE.

President Wilcomb of the Bedstead Co. of Birmingham, Conn., Heard.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Arguments before the ways and means committee today were opened by W. O. Wilcomb, president of the Wilcomb Metal Bedstead company of Birmingham, Conn. He said that while engaged in importing he became convinced that the increasing demand for metallic bedsteads would warrant their manufacture here. The industry, which was started three years ago, with an investment of $160,000 in buildings and plant, had as yet yielded no profit. It was just getting on its feet.

He asked that no change be made in the present tariff, which was considered fair, and was necessary to enable them to compete with foreign manufactures. The workmen have received nearly four times as much in wages as the workmen abroad. His company would not get out of business if the tariff was reduced, but they would then have to scale down wages. About 35 per cent of the selling price of the goods was labor. The manufacture of these goods had proved a decided advantage to the consumer. The price had been reduced and goods could be sold for $7 or $8, while imported are now being made here and sold for $6. The domestic goods were also superior. If the duty was taken off and the wages paid there continued, his company would probably have to go out of business. Mr. Wilcomb thought that if the industry here was destroyed, imported goods would go back to former figures. Mr. Wilcomb also said that the sale of the imported beds was about three times as great as that of the domestic. The tendency of his company was to sell as much as possible at a fair price.

A. J. Toopey, a member of the New York produce exchange and a manufacturer of high grade macaroni, advocated the retention of the present duty of two cents a pound on imported macaroni.

Navahoe Again Beaten.

RYDE, Eng., Sept. 6.—The time taken in the race of the Royal Victoria Yacht club today is as follows: Britannia, 4 40.31; 5 5.15.

The Yale Track Athletic Team Coach.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 6.—Michael Murphy of Southville, Mass., was tonight announced as the coach of the Yale track athletic team for next year. He acted in the same capacity for the Yale track athletic team of last season.

LATE ADVICES FROM CHINA.

Mob Destroys Roman Catholic Chapel—Earthquake in Japan.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 6.—The North China Daily News of Aug. 2 received by the steamship Empress of China yesterday, contains the following notes from Hankow under date of July 29:

News has arrived of the destruction by a mob of the Roman Catholic chapel in the town of Genkiawana, near the city of Mienyang, about 100 miles west of Hankow. The foreign priests in charge escaped to the neighboring town. As far as known no lives were lost, though several native houses shared in the destruction. The affair happened on the 20th ultimo, and the French consul is inquiring into the circumstances.

Japan has during the past month experienced fires and earthquakes. The former, on Aug. 16, reduced to ashes the entire village of Loenohami, in Tamba province, and caused the loss of sixty four lives. The village of Hon Tomari, Kitami province, was destroyed twelve days previous, 124 houses being consumed, but fortunately without fatality.

IN CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—In the senate today Mr. Morgan called up his finance commission resolution and made a long speech upon it.

Debate was resumed on the repeal of the Sherman law.

New Code of Rules Adopted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The house has adopted the new code of rules and adjourned until Saturday.

Rev. Frank H. Sheffield Has a Preliminary Examination.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 6.—At Apponaug yesterday afternoon the Rev. Frank H. Sheffield of Westerly, who killed his little daughter Margaret at Rocky Point a few days ago, was arraigned for preliminary examination. Judge A. B. Lewis, his counsel, entered a plea of not guilty. Several witnesses were examined, who testified to the circumstances of the murder, after which Judge Lewis said that there would be no contention that Sheffield did not kill his child. There was no defence offered, and Sheffield was held for the grand jury. The accused was sent to the Kent county jail, from which his friends propose to remove him on a habeas corpus proceeding, and have him brought before a lunacy commission under the new insane laws.

Just before being removed from the court room Sheffield had a severe paroxysm and had to be forcibly restrained.

Strike of Hoe & Co.'s Employes.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The 800 machinists in the employ of R. Hoe & Co., printing press manufacturers at Broome and Sheriff streets, were notified a few days ago that the firm intended to reduce the wages 20 per cent. This caused great excitement among the men, and a committee was sent to confer with the firm and protest. As a result, the firm finally consented to split the proposed reduction in half and cut wages only 10 per cent. This proposition did not meet the views of the machinists and they all went on strike yesterday afternoon. No disorder was reported.

Incendiary Fire at South Dartmouth, Mass.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 6.—The handsome barn of the Lawton house, South Dartmouth, was burned tonight and the hotel was saved with difficulty. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin and the police are looking for a man whom they think set the fire. Loss between $10,000 and $15,000; partially insured.

New York Yacht Club Regulations.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Regulations governing the trial races tomorrow were issued tonight by the regatta committee of the New York Yacht club. The start will be at 11 a. m., off Sandy Hook or Scotland lightship, as may be signalled.

The course will be thirty nautical miles in length, with a time limit of six hours.

September 7th fifteen miles to windward or to the leeward and return.

September 9th, a triangle, ten miles to a leg.

Nominated for Comptroller of Maryland State Treasury.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 6.—Joshua Horner, president of the American National bank, was nominated for comptroller of the state treasury by the republican state convention today. The convention wiped out the entire republican organization in Baltimore city, placing the management of party affairs here in the hands of the men to be named by the chairman of the state committee.

Patrolman Killed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Patrolman Thomas Gleason of the Broadway squad was killed at his post, Broadway and Tenth street, last evening. He was run down by a cab driven by one White. The hoofs of the horse crushed Gleason's skull and the wheels of the vehicle passed over his neck. White was arrested.

Bismarck is Better.

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—Dr. Schweninger, Prince Bismarck's physician, telegraphed from Kissingen today that the prince is much better.

For a week or more Bismarck's condition caused great anxiety to his family, but he is now regarded as out of danger.

To Attempt to Establish a Bicycle Record.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 6.—Fred C. Graves, well known as a long distance bicycle rider, will attempt to establish a round trip record between this city and Boston. He will start from the Springfield Bicycle club rooms at 12 o'clock tonight and will attempt to ride to Boston and return in twenty hours or less.

Teller and $15,000 Gone.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 6.—Philip M. Scheig, paying teller of the bank of Minneapolis, is said to have left the city with about $15,000 of the bank's money.

Internal Revenue Receipts.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The receipts from internal revenue today were $236,131; from customs $381,938; and miscellaneous $17,647.

The national bank notes received today for redemption amount to $86,247.

Zimmerman Makes a Mile in 2 43 2-5.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 6.—In the bicycle races here, Zimmerman won the mile open, with J. P. Bliss and Dernberger tied for second place. Time—2 43 2-5.

Carpet Mills Shut Down.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 6.—The Bigelow Carpet mills at Clinton have shut down for an indefinite period in several departments.

MAY THE SHERIFF BE SUCCESSFUL.

Attempt to Wreck the New York Sleeper on the B. & R.

RAIL SUPPORTS REMOVED.

Sixty Feet of Bridge Lies in the Stream Below.

RUTLAND, Vt., Sept. 6.—An attempt was made to wreck the New York sleeper on the Bennington & Rutland road near Wallingford early this morning, two important supports from under the rails on what is called the Childs bridge, having been removed.

The train was running about 40 miles an hour and only the last car, an empty sleeper, was wrecked. No one was injured, although the colored porter in the rear car had a narrow escape.

About sixty feet of the bridge is wrecked and lies in the stream fifteen feet below.

No clue to the wrecker has been found although the sheriff has been at work on the case.

BASE BALL.

At Boston:

Boston	0	2	0	0	4	0	0	1	2	—10
Louisville	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	— 5

At Troy:

Troy	4	3	0	0	1	1	0	5	1	—15
Springfield	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	0	0	— 4

At Wilkesbarre:

Binghamton	0	5	1	4	0	0	0	0	0	—11
Wilkesbarre	0	0	0	0	4	0	1	0	1	— 6

At Brooklyn:

Brooklyn	2	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	1	— 5
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	1	— 4

At Pittsburg:

Pittsburg	1	1	0	0	0	0	5	5	0	—12
Baltimore	0	0	3	0	1	0	0	0	0	— 4

At Buffalo:

Buffalo	0	1	0	3	0	0	1	0	5	—10
Erie	4	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	— 6

At New York:

Cincinnati	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	— 4
New York	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	— 5

Trotting at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Five thousand people attended the races at the Northwestern Trotting association today. The track was fast and the weather perfect.

Directors Flower, the favorite, captured the Columbia stakes for two-year-olds. Cicerone was the original favorite in the 2.19 trot. After he lost the first heat, Maud C., Baron Cassie and Marvel in turn became favorites.

Miss Lydia, the favorite, won the 2.17 class, and Uncle Tom landed the 2.30 class for four year olds, defeating Arion, who in his work trotted a mile in 2.08 this morning.

Nancy Hanks will trot against her record of 2.04 next Wednesday.

Meeting of Fall River Weavers.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 6.—A large meeting of the weavers of the city was held tonight in Armory hall. President Thomas J. Connolly of the National Weavers association and Treasurer James Whitehead of the Fall River Weavers association, together with the local labor leaguers, addressed the meeting. The speakers urged all non-union weavers to join the union, and spoke of the present labor crisis and reductions.

A committee of five was appointed to ask a conference with the manufacturers and secure the reasons for the cut down.

Emma Goldman's Case.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The grand jury this morning made its first presentment in the court of General Sessions before Judge Fitzgerald by filing a true bill against Emma Goldman, the anarchist, charged with unlawful assemblage and inciting riot. As soon as she arrives in New York from Philadelphia she will be arraigned in General Sessions to plead to the indictment, and her case will be brought to trial as speedily as possible.

Vanderbilt's Newport House Closed.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 6.—W. K. Vanderbilt left in his new steam yacht, Valiant, for New York today. He was accompanied by his family and left his servants orders for closing the house for a long period. It is understood that he starts in a week or two for England.

WILLIMANTIC.

Death of Mrs. Wilson—A Fire at Mill No. 4—Wedded.

The death of Mrs. Wilson occurred at her residence on Church street Wednesday morning about 7.30. Some three years ago she was a victim of la grippe and never fully recovered therefrom. The disease developed into consumption, which finally ended in her death. She leaves a husband, Frank M. Wilson, the druggist, and a young son. Both have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

The fire department was called to No. 4 mill at 4.15 Wednesday morning where they found a lot of the coal contained in the new bin on fire. Several streams of water were turned on and kept playing nearly all day. A good portion of the coal had to be taken out before they could reach the bottom. Cause, spontaneous combustion.

The marriage of Edward J. Ottenheimer to Miss Mary J. O'Loughlin was solemnized at St. Joseph's church Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock, the Rev Father Lawlor officiating. The presents were numerous and valuable and they left for Boston at 4.09 on their wedding tour.

SPECIAL.

ROYAL BAKING
POWDER.
Absolutely Pure.
A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—[Latest U. S. Government Food Report.
Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

ANDREW HYDE, D. V. S.,
VETERINARIAN.
Office 21 Bath Street. Office hours 1.30-3. Telephone [illegible]
mar14d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

GUNS
EATON, CHASE & CO.
HAVE A FINE STOCK OF GUNS,
Rifles and Ammunition
Are Agents for the sale of
'Dupont's' Celebrated Gunpowder,
and will guarantee to give you
MORE FOR YOUR MONEY
than any other house.
EATON, CHASE & CO.,
HARDWARE DEALERS, Franklin Street.
sep7d&w

TO THE UNFORTUNATE,
CONSULT DR. Z. J. LEWIS,
130 FRIENDSHIP ST., Providence, R. I.
Specialist on private Chronic Diseases of men. Cure guaranteed, no matter of how long standing. Office hours, 9 to 2 and 5 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 1 and 5 to 7. Consultation free. Medicines, $3. Out of town patients successfully treated by mail. Symptom blanks forwarded free.) je5d

DIAMONDS
Mounted and repaired in first-class shape.
W. B. ROBERTSON,
227 Main Street.
sep7MTuThS Over N. & S. Office.

MANICURE and CHIROPODIST,
SHAMPOOING,
Hair Cutting and Curling, Face Massage.
MISS H. A. GAVITT.
au8TuThS Room 10, Shannon Building

During the Rest of the season, the fare to Watch Hill and return on Steamer Ella will be 50c.
JAMES WALKER, Manager.
sep6d

SEND YOUR ORDERS FOR Fire Wood
—TO THE—
PARK WOOD YARD!
301 Franklin Street.
A discount will be made on all purchases of Four Dollars or more.
J. ROURKE.
aug5d

Cholera Infantum
The most dreaded of all summer complaints promptly cured by using RUSSELL'S
White Drops
FOR SALE.
25c. All druggists.
aug24d

AMUSEMENTS.

BROADWAY THEATER.
SATURDAY, Sept. 9.
Direct from DALY'S THEATRE, New York City, the Greatest of Wonder Workers, KELLAR.
All the New and Startling Features produced during the 5 Months' Run at Daly's Theater, New York City. THE PHANTOM BRIDE, THE SIBYL SEANCE, a reproduction of the Theosophic Wonders of the late Mme. Blavatsky. "Dar," a Manhattan Marvel. CAGLIOSTRO! A Spiritualistic Enigma. ASTARTE, the Maid of the Moon. The Mahatma's Dream, or, The Projection of the Human Double into Astral Shapes. Kellar's Latest and Greatest Achievement FLYTO! The Ne Plus Ultra of the Magic Art. Regular Prices. Seats at [illegible] Thursday morning. sep6d

EXCURSIONS.

THE LAST OCEAN EXCURSION
OF THE SEASON
UNDER THE AUSPICES OF TUBBS' MILITARY BAND
—AND THE—
BLACKSTONE HOSE CO.,
on the Excursion Steamer
CITY OF RICHMOND,
—TO—
BLOCK ISLAND,
THURSDAY, Sept. 7th, 1893.
Steamer leaves Norwich at 8 a. m., stopping at New London and Watch Hill. A stay of 3 hours will allow passengers plenty of time for boating, bathing and fishing. Also a chance to visit the many places of interest on the island. TUBBS' BAND will render good concert music. Steamer will arrive home early.
Fare for the Trip Only 75c.
And the tickets are for sale by members of both organizations. sep5d

A FINE DAY'S OUTING
New scenery and no seasickness.
THE STEAMER BLOCK ISLAND
will make her third annual Excursion to
BRIDGEPORT, on FRIDAY, September 8.
Jarvis' full Military Band and Yeager's Orchestra will furnish music for dancing.
The sail offers a fine view of Long Island Sound by daylight and the scenery along the shores of Connecticut is picturesque and beautiful.
The steamer has been chartered for this trip by her officers, and will leave Norwich at 6.15 a. m., Montville 6.45, New London 8 a. m., giving two full hours' stay at Bridgeport to visit their friends and view the many interesting points of interest. Patrons should visit the famous Seaside Park. Horse cars run direct to the Park. Plenty of refreshments and a first-class dinner at reasonable rates. For state rooms and tickets call at Bruce & Davis, Norwich, [illegible] Greeneville, and W. H. Parmelee, New London.
Fare for round trip, - 75c.

A BRAVE OHIO VETERAN.

Frank P. Chase of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Sandusky.

SANDUSKY, O., Sept. 6.—In view of the extraordinary interest in the Grand Army encampment at Indianapolis this week, the following letter from Frank P. Chase of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' home here is particularly timely. He writes:

"I have taken six bottles of Paine's celery compound, and it has done me more good than all other medicines that I have ever used, and I have spent hundreds of dollars for them. When I commenced to use the compound I could not write my name, was in pain all the time, and would have to get up and walk the floor in agony; now, I have scarcely any pain."

Paine's celery compound permanently cures nervous debility, exhaustion, and kindred diseases; neuralgia, hysteria, headache, nervous dyspepsia, rheumatism and kidney troubles. Try it. sep7d

WANTS.

WANTED
A Competent Girl for General Housework
Inquire at 66 CLIFF STREET. sep6d

YOUNG MEN and WOMEN
Can find employment at the Colchester Rubber Works. Steady employment and fair wages. Apply to COLCHESTER RUBBER CO.,
Colchester, Conn.

COLUMBIAN HOUSE,
No. 4 Franklin Square.
Permanent and Transient Boarding. Also Table Board. All modern improvements. Terms reasonable.
jy1d G. A. BURLINGHAM.

BATES, THE AUCTIONEER,
No. 7 Water St.,
Will pay spot cash for all kinds of Second-Hand Household Goods.

WANTED.
Four or Five Experienced Broad Silk Weavers.
Apply to the BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO., New London, Conn. mar4d

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

George A. Kies
Will resume lessons on and after
FRIDAY, SEPT. 1st, 1893.
aug29daw

CAR NEW STRAW,
(in bundles) just received.
C. J. Wolcott.
sep6daw

American House Hack, Livery, Boarding & Feeding Stables.
Large Hitching Sheds by the hitch or year. [illegible] Coaches, Landaus and [illegible] for weddings, funerals, parties and theater work.
Also a fine line of LADIES' and GENTLEMEN'S DRIVING HORSES, not afraid of Electric Cars, with any style of Carriage desired.
Best of attention paid to all orders.
Telephone connection 88-4.
All work done at moderate prices.
Stables in rear of Hotel on Shetucket St.
All orders left in the Hotel Office will receive prompt attention.
sep6d C. B. BRADY.

Prepare for cold weather by having your Furnace cleaned and repaired.
E. M BREWSTER
will do it for you very Cheap
45 Water Street.
aug24d

ALFRED HUNT, Florist,
Funeral Designs and Choice Cut Flowers
Next to Yantic Cemetery, Lafayette street.

Steamer : Chelsea.
Leave Norwich Monday and Thursday at 5 P. M.
Leave New York Tuesday and Friday at 5 P. M.
aug18d

The Connecticut Concreting & Gravel Roofing Co.,
Sole agents in Norwich for the
New England Felt and Roofing Co.
BEE HIVE BRAND
Also Two and Three-Ply Ready Roofing, etc., etc. Work guaranteed.
Office No. 3 Thames St., Norwich, Conn.

FREE !
If you have a Roof that Needs Repairing, I will repair same Free of Charge, to advertise Fiske's Superior Asphalt Roofing Paint. This Paint has been used extensively upon many roofs, including those of W. A. Slater, Mill roofs in the vicinity of Norwich, Conn., also the roofs of residences of many prominent people in this city and elsewhere. This Paint is used upon all kind of roofs, viz: Tin, iron paper and shingles. One great advantage of the Paint is that it will dry within a few hours after application with a beautiful lustre. For references see circular, which will be sent to any one giving their address. I also put on Five Ply Gravel Roofs at 5c per square foot, Three Ply at 4c per square foot, and Two Ply at 3c per square foot. All kinds of Concrete work at the lowest figures. Dressing Walks at 1c per square foot. Concrete and Cement Cellars a specialty. Fiske's Asphalt Paint for sale by L. W. Carroll & Son, Water Street, H. F. & A. J. Dawley and Lee & Osgood, Norwich. For further particulars address CHAS. S. FISKE, Norwich, Conn., P. O. Box [illegible]. Residence 50 Oak Street. jy1d

The Bulletin.

OFFICIAL TIME TABLE
— OF —
Norwich Street Railway Co.,

Taft., Greeneville, Franklin Square and West Side.	Franklin Sq., Falls and Bean Hill.
[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDAY TIME.

[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]
novl2d E. P. SHAW, Jr., Supt

LOCAL NOTICES.

Snap shot Kodac for sale cheap.

Fine Chickering piano for sale or rent.

Competent woman wanted to do washing.

Dodge & Holloway have their new lines of fall suits.

Invest 25c. in soap at Hough's and you will never regret it.

Compounding prescriptions is a specialty at Steiner's pharmacy.

Get your fire wood at the Park wood yard, 801 Franklin street.

J. C. Perkins advertises a list of choice confections this morning. Call and get some.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills absolutely cure rheumatism and neuralgia. Entirely vegetable. Safe.

Students of the violin, also, 'cello or for French lessons are referred to the card of Eugene Wallner.

All who are in want of a fall suit will find an elegant assortment of material at Smith & Gilbert's to select from.

Geo. R. Clark is ready to give you anything you want in clothing. His goods are all in and ready for inspection.

J. C. Worth will unload car 15 of fine Maryland peaches this morning. The season is growing short, so get them now.

Geo. W. Kies & Co. are paying special attention just now to school shoes. They advertise good wearers this morning at low prices.

Cranston & Co. have ready Academy books, new and second hand, and printed lists for free distribution. They pay highest price for second hand books. See advertisement.

With the September issue of Snap Shots, a decided change has been made for the better. The paper has a colored cover and contains a greater and more extensive variety of reading matter than before. For sale on all the newstands this morning and at the Boston store.

The ladies always expect bargains at Porteous & Mitchell's, and their expectations materialize every time. The firm is on the watch for bargains for their patrons! When they see a good thing they nail it. It is so today. They offer bargains this morning at closing out prices. See their advertisement for particulars.

Noyes & Davis have ready the books to be used in the Free Academy the coming term. Scholars are invited to call and get printed lists free—now ready for distribution. They have many second hand books in good condition, and money can be saved in buying them. They allow the highest price for second hand books in cash or exchange.

NORWICH AND VICINITY.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

The City Court.

In the city court Wednesday morning, Clark Porter paid $10 and costs—$19 48—for breach of the peace. James Shea, charged with a similar offence, had judgment suspended for sixty days, and furnished a bond of $50.

The Fall of Apples.

Farmers living near here say that the apple crop this year will be a comparative failure. The recent cyclones stripped the trees of fruit before it was far enough advanced in development to even make good cider. There will be plenty of cider in a short time, but it will not be of the first grade.

The Waning Season.

The Bushy Point season ended with the trips of the steamer Summer Girl Wednesday. It has been a profitable resort for its managers and will be reopened next year with additional attractions and very probably a steamer to make trips between there and Norwich.

The Appropriation Exhausted.

The $14,000 appropriated by the last congress for Block Island harbor improvements is now about exhausted. Dredging has been done to the depth of fifteen feet and the filling in of the harbor by sand will be remedied by the building of a substantial [illegible] breakwater around the basin, leaving an entrance of 100 feet. This work is now well under way.

Largest of the Season.

The Willimantic Chronicle says: Edward Alcott of Norwich, who is visiting his brother-in-law, W. C. Lattimer, at South Coventry, angled a 5½ pounds black bass from the waters of Wangumbaug lake Labor day. This is much the largest fish taken from that fine sheet of water this year.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

A Taftville Wedding.

A leading social event in this place was the marriage Wednesday of Mr. John Nolan to Miss Mary Duff. The best man on this occasion was Mr. W. H. Nolan, brother of the groom, and Miss Nellie Murphy was best lady. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock in the morning in the Catholic church, the Rev. Father Kelly officiating. The bride was the recipient of numerous and handsome gifts. In the evening a wedding supper was given at the home of the bride, followed by a dance at the groom's home.

A Big Catch of Bluefish.

The fishing smack Ada R. Terry, came into New London Tuesday afternoon with a catch of 2,800 bluefish on board, which were hauled in off Montauk earlier in the day. The fish were shipped to Fulton market Wednesday. Captain Forrest reports plenty of "blues" in the neighborhood of Montauk.

CRANBERRIES DAMAGED.

Frost Works Havoc With a Noted Eastern Connecticut Bog.

Henry Upton of Ashford owns probably the finest natural cranberry bog in eastern Connecticut and the present season the vines were loaded, a conservative estimate of the crop being one hundred bushels. The cold wave of Saturday night, however, developed into a frost Sunday morning in that location of sufficient severity to destroy fully 90 per cent. of the crop. It is a serious loss to Mr. Upton, it being the most remunerative product of his farm.

NEW ENGLAND FAIR.

Mr. Palmer's Stock Wins.

Mr. James B. Palmer's Guernsey cattle and Dorset horn sheep on exhibition at the New England fair in Worcester, Mass., were examined Wednesday and with five competing herds he won a first premium on bull and progeny, second premium on herd, every first premium on Dorset sheep, and several first premiums on cattle. His premiums amount to $123 in cash and he captures one medal.

Francis Shaw of Putnam was a sharp competitor with Mr. Palmer with Guernseys and took first premium on herd; first and second for best one-year-old bull; first and second for best bull calf; best three-year-old cow, first, second and third; best cow, two years' old, first and second; best heifer, one-year old, first and third; best heifer calf, third.

C. W. Comins of Stafford Springs took many premiums on his fowls.

GROCERMAN HOPKINS LOSES.

No Case Against D. M. Sullivan and Constable George C. Park.

The case of J. M. Hopkins against D. M. Sullivan and Constable George C. Park, in which he claimed $250 damages for alleged dispossession of a room in the Ossa building on Water street, was finished before Justice John C. Kellogg Wednesday afternoon. The petit jury, Messrs. C. A. Kinsberger, J. W. Baird, F. R. Parker, F. A. Bill, J. H. Truesdale and J. B. Doyle, retired shortly after 3 o'clock and returned at 4.10, with a verdict against Mr. Hopkins, that the defendants recover costs. The consideration of the case consumed four days.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

SUDDENLY MARRIED.

Mr. Bliven of North Stonington Takes Unto Himself a Wife.

Mr. Samuel D. Bliven, a well-to-do farmer and widower living near Pendleton Hill, decided to make a third matrimonial venture by advertising for a partner. In due time a letter came from a lady in North Scituate, R. I., inviting him to come and see her.

Here his courage seemed to fail, for he decided not to go. However, last Wednesday morning the lady came to see him with a horse and carriage and invited him to go with her to the peace meeting at Mystic.

The day was passed agreeably, and on their return through the village they stopped at the town clerk's office, procured a license, visited the Rev. Mr. Carey, where they were married, and then quietly proceeded home.

The minister has kept his part of the story quiet but the town clerk records account for the sudden appearance of a new wife in Mr. Bliven's house.

A BODY AFLOAT.

Seen by the Crew of the Ram Island Light Boat.

The crew of the Ram Island light boat, near Mystic Island, saw the body of a man floating by Monday afternoon in the direction of Watch Hill. They did not pick it up because they thought they would be violating the law if they did so, before first notifying a coroner. So they went ashore at Noank and gave the information to Coroner O. E. Miner, but when they returned to the locality where they had seen the corpse it could not be found. It probably drifted out to sea. It is supposed to have been one of the unfortunate Norwich men who put off from Fishers Island last week and was drowned.—[New London Day.

THE DEATH OF MRS. LILLIE.

The Coroner Satisfied that It was From Natural Causes.

The attempt to surround the death of Mrs. Flora M. Lillie of Willimantic with a mystery and attribute it to the result of criminal malpractice has fallen through as a result of a thorough investigation by Coroner Bill.

The trip to New Haven was the only thing which furnished any grounds for suspicion, and as Mrs. Lillie had told her reasons for going and the places she visited while there, Coroner Bill went to New Haven Tuesday and succeeded in accounting for every moment from the time she landed at New Haven until she returned and they tallied in the minutest particular with the woman's statements. Coroner Bill returned to this city on the white train Tuesday evening and instructed Dr. Wilcox to issue a death certificate, giving the cause of death as acute peritonitis. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 1 o'clock at the residence of her mother in the Oaks.

No Dessauer Opera This Season.

Prof. Max Dessauer of the Dessauer Opera company has returned to New Haven after several weeks spent at Chicago and Atlantic city, and in conversation as to his future undertakings in the line of operatic entertainments said that so far as he knew now, he would have no part in producing an opera this year. "For the last three seasons," he said, "we have produced an opera with varying success, and we think it is about time to have a rest, and therefore we shall not undertake anything of the kind this season."

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

Not Off the Island for 58 Years.

Much has been written about the oddities and peculiarities of Block Islanders. Just now an amusing story is being told of a man 58 years old who recently visited the main land for the first time in his life, having been summoned as a witness in a law suit at Westerly. They say his description of a locomotive and other things not seen on Block Island is worth hearing.

However, this man is an exception. Many of the Block Islanders have traveled extensively, and all of them have abundant opportunity to come in contact with people from various points of the world as well as their own country. They are abundantly able to take care of themselves in other matters besides fishing, boating and farming.

TAFTVILLE.

Arthur Dawson has returned to his business in Providence after a short visit with relatives in this place.

George Fillmore is enjoying his annual two weeks' vacation.

Miss Adeline Wallace has returned and will teach in the Wequonnoc school.

Miss Kramer of Willimantic, is the guest of Miss Jennie Freestone for a few days.

Mrs. Geo. Thompson has returned from a visit to relatives in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. James Farrar of Woonsocket, R. I., are the guests of Mr. Joseph Robinson of Front street.

Geo. Whittlesey and family have returned from a few days' outing at Block Island.

Messrs. Paisley and Fenton of this village captured [illegible] bluefish near the drawbridge, Tuesday.

Messrs. Lee Heap and James Woods are spending a few days in New York city.

DEATH OF MISS CONVERSE.

She Expires in Wakefield, N. H., from Pneumonia.

News was received in Norwich, Wednesday morning of the death of Miss Emma N. Converse of Providence, R. I., in Wakefield, N. H., where she was summering, of pneumonia. She is the sister of Col. Charles A. Converse and Mr. Albert T. Converse of this city.

Miss Converse was born in Salem, Mass., but her early life was passed in Norwich. She was a well-equipped teacher and taught schools in New York, New Bedford, Mass., and Providence, R. I., where she has lived for the past thirty years.

She is a well-known writer for the press and the magazines, and as a popular writer upon astronomical subjects she made a national reputation. For a great many years she has contributed a monthly paper upon the astronomical events for the month, and these papers have been copied by papers in all parts of the union. She was the first writer in this special field, but she has had many followers, but not one of them has equalled in brilliancy and interest the papers from her pen.

She has contributed able papers on her favorite theme for The Scientific American, The Youth's Companion and other standard and widely circulated papers.

She was a woman of high repute in literary circles, and her high attainments and fine social qualities lent a charm to the social circles in which she moved.

Miss Converse's body will be brought to this city for burial, and the funeral will be held from the house of her brother, Mr. A. T. Converse of 159 Broadway.

The Norwich Weekly Courier is the best weekly newspaper in New England at 50c a year.

EASTERN CONNECTICUT.

PUTNAM.

Result of the Trial in the Superior Court on Wednesday.

Before Judge Hall on Wednesday morning in the superior court George Wood, a seventeen-year-old boy who resides in Danielsonville, pleaded guilty to the charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon the person of William Danielson. Wood, who claims he had been drinking, was caught stealing fruit on William Danielson's land. A few words were exchanged, when Wood drew a revolver and fired two shots at Mr. Danielson, one taking effect in his wrist. Judge Hall said that the sentence in such cases as this was 10 years, but on account of the boy's age he would make it 4 years in state prison.

Juda Benoit, on his plea of guilty, was sentenced for 60 days in Brooklyn jail. The charge was changed from highway robbery to assault and battery.

Arthur Page, for the larceny of goods from the New York & New England Railroad company, was fined $100 and sentenced to fifteen days' imprisonment in the county jail.

John R. Loomer, accused of stealing a horse, pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to thirty days in Brooklyn jail.

Michael Riley was then arraigned for an assault upon a five-year old girl. After being out about an hour the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty, on the ground that he was of unsound mind. The court then ordered him conveyed to the Middletown asylum for the insane for three years.

The case of John Doyle of Willimantic, for burglary, was nolled.

The court then adjourned till Thursday.

The shoes of the Norman-English kings were of yellow, blue, green, and red cloth [illegible]

FIRST IN THE FIELD

Prohibitionists' Convention at Worcester.

THEIR PRINCIPLES ANNOUNCED.

Notable Address Full of Bristling Points by Professor John Bascom.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 6.—Bright and early this morning the delegates to the Prohibition convention were up and astir, and in the corridors of the Lincoln House discussion was rife concerning the possible developments of the day. The committee on resolutions did not finish its labors until 4 o'clock this morning.

The morning trains brought a goodly number of delegates, and at 10:30 o'clock, the hour set for opening the convention, Mechanic's Hall was about half filled with an audience of 1200 delegates and citizens of Worcester, friends of the cause. In the number were about 150 women. The first and only colored delegate to arrive was J. W. Carney of Charlestown.

The members of the state committee headed by Hon. Walcott Hamlin and Secretary Clark, were expeditious in getting affairs in shape, and at 10:55 o'clock all was ready for

The Opening of the Proceedings.

Mr. Hamlin accordingly mounted the platform with Secretary Clark and William H. Partridge of Newton, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Beveridge, the sweet singers from Nebraska. After singing by this couple the call for the convention was read by Mr. Hamlin, and Rev. Dr. A. Miner was called to the platform and invoked the divine blessing.

Chairman Hamlin occupied just one minute in an opening address and C. B. Knight of Worcester nominated Temporary Chairman Hamlin for permanent chairman. The motion was seconded and carried by a unanimous show of hands.

Temporary Secretary F. W. Clark of Boston was elected permanent secretary. Committees on permanent organization, credentials and resolutions were then appointed by the chairman.

The committee on resolutions, of which Robert F. Raymond was chairman, presented the following Declaration of Principles.

The Prohibition party of Massachusetts, with renewed courage and unwavering faith in the triumph of its cause, looking unto God for strength, reaffirms its allegiance to the National Prohibition party and continues its conflict with the legalized liquor traffic.

First—We rejoice that we stand on Massachusetts soil; soil dedicated to freedom from all tyranny by the pilgrims, by our revolutionary fathers and by those who at a later day gave liberty to a race. We feel that we are but following the footsteps of Bradford and Endicott, of Hancock and Adams, of Phillips and Garrison, of Sumner and Wilson, in our attempt to overthrow the liquor power and its intolerable tyranny.

Second—No power can adequately portray the evils of the saloon. We ask all thinking and patriotic citizens in view of the lives lost, crime, pauperism, and insanity produced, homes destroyed, men debauched, women dishonored, and children defrauded; in view also of its corrupting influence in politics, its enormous waste of material resources and its exhausting drain on the earnings of the laboring man, are we not justified in declaring the liquor traffic to be the chief menace to free government, and the most gigantic evil in our country at the present day?

Third—In 1875 Massachusetts abandoned the policy of prohibition and entered upon a series of experiments with license and local option. After a period of nearly 20 years of such legislation what have we gained? We find that the number of legalized saloons has been largely diminished, and that the number of towns and cities annually voting for prohibition has been somewhat increased. But, on the other hand, we learn by [illegible] statistics that the quantity of liquor consumed per capita has largely increased, the amount of drunkenness has reached appalling proportions, and that crime and pauperism due to drink have in no wise been lessened. Has not the result of these experiments been the centralization and intrenchment of the liquor power? We find fewer saloons, but larger, more elegant and with a vastly increased business, fewer cities and towns voting license, but these centers of population, from which constant streams of liquor flow into the neighboring no-license communities, rendering the enforcement of law increasingly difficult therein. Confronted by these facts can any one claim that the power of the liquor traffic has been broken or even seriously impaired in Massachusetts by any local option or license policy?

Fourth—In Massachusetts both of the old political parties stand for the legalized saloon. They have given us the legislation we have upon this subject. Is there any one who maintains that such legislation is at all commensurate with the urgent needs of our commonwealth? The Democratic party is opposed to all so called sumptuary laws. The Republican party is hopelessly divided. If in the many years of its unquestioned supremacy it was unable or unwilling to enact adequate legislation, how can we expect better results when it is obliged to struggle with the Democracy for its very existence. Who can [illegible] to hope for effective legislation against the saloon from these sources?

Fifth—A majority of the people of Massachusetts are opposed to the legalized saloon. This is clearly shown by the returns from the last local option elections. Divided among three or more political parties our efforts, however honest, however earnest, are utterly unavailing. United politically the temperance forces could banish the dram shop from our state. Hence the great need of the times is that all enemies of the liquor power unite for the election of men pledged to the enactment and subsequent enforcement of such laws as will make the saloon an outlaw. The only candidates which today stand distinctly pledged to such a course are those put in nomination by the Prohibition party. We therefore invite to full party fellowship all those who agree with us that the overthrow of the saloon power is the supreme need of the hour. We stand pledged to the enactment and enforcement of prohibition, state and national.

Sixth—We believe that the same logic which has led Massachusetts to grant school suffrage to women irresistibly demands that suffrage be extended to her also in all matters that pertain to the interests of the commonwealth.

Seventh—Believing that the foundation of all true American citizenship lies in the education of the youth and that loyalty to American institutions is essential to the preservation of the Union, we pledge ourselves to maintain in their integrity the public schools of America, and we will resist any attempt to cripple the public school system, and we declare ourselves utterly opposed to any appropriation of the public funds for sectarian education or any other sectarian use whatsoever.

Eighth—We declare ourselves in favor of all wise and honest measures which will secure for the laborers a fairer share of the products of industry than he receives under present economic conditions. We are opposed to trusts, monopolies and combinations of capital which arbitrarily and unjustly fix prices and oppose the people. We demand that women receive equal wages with man for an equal amount of work equally done—in a word, that justice be the foundations of all relations between labor and capital.

Ninth—We demand at the hands of the next legislature such a modification of the present so called Australian ballot system that fair and equal consideration shall be bestowed upon both old and new parties alike, and that no longer shall unjust and ruthless discrimination be made against minority parties.

Professor John Bascom followed the reading of the resolutions with a strong and stirring address full of bristling points.

After a recess at 1:05 for dinner the following state ticket was placed in nomination.

For governor—Rev. Louis Albert Banks of Hyde Park.
For lieutenant governor—H. C. Smith of Haydenville.
For secretary of state—Samuel B. Shapleigh of Boston.
For treasurer—Wilbert B. Farnham, Jr., of Somerville.
For auditor—Alfred E. Evans of Ashburnham.
For attorney general—Robert F. Raymond of New Bedford.

DOWN THE MERRIMACK.

Boston Boot and Shoe Club Goes For an Annual Outing.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Sept. 6.—The second annual outing of the Boston Boot and Shoe club was enjoyed here today. At 9:30 o'clock the committee on reception of guests, headed by Thomas Saunders, received the club and guests at the station, thence by electric cars they were taken to city hall and presented to his honor the mayor and the local committee.

At 10 o'clock the steamboat was taken down the beautiful Merrimack river to "Chain Bridge." Lunch was served on the boat.

At 12 o'clock on return of the steamer, carriages were taken via Summer street, Belvidere, Birchbrow, Winnikenni, Castle and Kenoza avenue to Kenoza club grounds, where at 1 o'clock a banquet was served, followed by short speeches from distinguished guests.

At 3:30 o'clock carriages were taken for a drive to points of interest about the city, including the shoe district, Mt. Washington, the Highlands, Lake View heights, etc. The club returned to Boston by the 5:10 train.

MOONEY'S FLAT IRON.

Fractured His Wife's Skull and Placed Him in Hands of Police.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 6.—Thomas Mooney, 45 years of age, is held to await the result of a serious assault upon his wife Bridget, 30 years of age and the mother of five children.

Last night the neighbors heard a row in the Mooney tenement and looking toward the door saw Mooney pound his wife on the head with a flat iron. She fell over the threshold and Mooney fled.

She was removed to the hospital where it was found that her skull had been fractured. Mrs. Mooney is in a critical condition.

Mooney kept in hiding all night and at 5 o'clock this morning sneaked into his house. The police had been watching for him and he was promptly arrested.

SARCOPHAGUS DEDICATED.

Formal Exercises Over the Knights Templar Monument at Lynn.

LYNN, Mass., Sept. 6.—The elegant granite sarcophagus monument presented Olivet Commandery, Knights Templar, of Lynn, by Sir Knight John N. Collamore of Boston Commandery of Boston, was dedicated at the Masonic lot at Pine Grove cemetery, Lynn, this afternoon. After the ritualistic work of the order at the asylum the commandery formed and paraded the principal streets, going to the cemetery, where the exercises peculiar to the order took place.

The sarcophagus weighs 34 tons, and is of the finest Quincy granite. The base is 11x8 feet, plinth 9x3, die 8x6, cap 8x4. On the top of the sarcophagus is a Knights Templar chapeau with plumes, and the delicate tracery of the lace band. On the side is the rosette of the order with the monogram of the commandery. On the cap piece rests a pair of crossed swords and around the top of the die is a border of acacia leaves broken in the center, both front and back, by the Maltese cross of the order, with the motto, "In Hoc Signo Vinces." On each end is a Maltese cross, all of highly polished granite. The monument stands 10 feet high, and on the front of the die is the inscription:

OLIVET COMMANDERY,
KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.
A. O. 775. A. D. 1893.
Presented
SIR JOHN N. COLLAMORE.

The sarcophagus contains in the corner of the base a strong box, in which have been deposited various articles of local interest and portions of the ritual and history of the order and of Olivet commandery. At the conclusion of the ceremony the Sir Knights and the visiting grand officers were banqueted at the asylum of Olivet commandery.

STREETS ARE SILENT.

Deplorable Condition of Soolina Since the Cholera Broke Out.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A dispatch from Varna to The Times describes the deplorable condition into which Soolina has fallen since cholera broke out. The scourge continues to spread, all business is stopped, and the streets of the town are silent. Six hundred cases of cholera have occurred in Danubian ports in a fortnight, and the mortality has been high.

The town of Kalafat, on the Danube, opposite Widin, is infected, and it is officially admitted that there have been deaths from cholera in Bucharest. Great distress prevails in Smyrna, where 48 cases and 46 deaths have been reported in three days.

The Standard's correspondent at Constantinople says that five deaths from Asiatic cholera have occurred in a lunatic asylum at Scutari, and that several deaths from the disease have occurred in Constantinople, which have been hushed up to avoid alarming the sultan.

ANOTHER FARMHOUSE ROBBED.

Frank Williams Loses $661 From His Trousers in the Night.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 6.—This morning Frank Williams reported to the police the loss of $706, which had been stolen from the Williams farmhouse in Methuen some time last night. The house is situated on a cross road which extends from the Lowell road to the one between Methuen and Pelham.

This morning when he arose Mr. Williams found his trousers lying outside the house, and $661 which they had contained was gone. The trousers of his father, S. W. Williams, had also been taken from the house and $45 secured from them. One of the bills taken was of $500 denomination.

Entrance had been effected through the stable and thence to the house. The thief exchanged his shoes for a pair which he found in the house, and left his own in a field near by. The robbery is thought to have been the work of a tramp.

DEAD IN HER ROOM.

Alice Leighton, a Boston Widow, Commits Suicide by Shooting.

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Alice Leighton, a widow, 28 years of age, committed suicide by shooting, some time last night at her rooms in Hotel Plymouth, 220 West Newton street.

Mrs. Leighton occupied the second story flat, and shortly after 7 o'clock this morning was found dead in her room with a bullet wound in her left breast, while beside her body, which was cold when found, indicating that the shooting had occurred some hours before, was a Smith & Wesson 32-calibre revolver. Occupants of the other flats could assign no reason for the act.

Did Not Offer the Loan.

LONDON Sept. 6.—Messrs. Glyn, Mills, Currie & Co. deny the truth of the statement that they have offered the India office a loan of £3,000,000.

Cottolene
What is it
?
It is the new shortening taking the place of lard or cooking butter, or both. Costs less, goes farther, and is easily digested by anyone.
AT ALL GROCERS.
Made only by
N. K. FAIRBANK & CO.,
[illegible]
Produce Exchange, N. Y.,
[illegible] State Street, Boston.
Send three cents in stamps to N. K. Fairbank & Co., Chicago, for handsome Cottolene Cook Book containing six hundred recipes, prepared by nine eminent authorities on cooking.

MARKETS

Fresh Boiled Lobsters,
Also CHOICE OYSTERS, at
POWERS BROS'.
Telephone 121-4.

SEE WHAT YOU CAN BUY FOR CASH!

Porterhouse Steak	20c
Sirloin Steak	18c
Round Steak	12c
Shoulder Steak	10c

JAMES DAWSON, JR.,
[illegible] MAIN ST.

LAMB and CHICKEN
—AT—
J. D. Murphy's,
MARKET STREET.

IRON AND IRON WORK.

A. H. VAUGHN & SONS
IRON CASTINGS.
FERRY ST., Norwich, Conn.

FOUNDRY PIG IRON
of the most Reliable Quality and grades. Full stock kept in Norwich for immediate delivery.
REFINED BAR IRON of the well-known "Sable" brand.
SHEET IRON. Galvanized "R. B." Steel and Plate.
STEEL. "Black Diamond" and "Silver," warranted Cast Steel. Machinery Steel, Tire Steel, Calking Steel.
FINISHED STEEL SHAFTING.
IRON AND STEEL I BEAMS AND CHANNELS for structural purposes.
A. T. CONVERSE,
Office, Warehouse and Shipping Wharf,
may12d 8 COMMERCE ST.

The Sibley Machine Co.
Manufacturers of Paper, Cotton and Wood Machinery, Mill Gearing, Shaftings, Pulleys, Hangers etc., etc. Jobbing of all kinds, Gearing, Cutting, Forgings and Castings at short notice. 129 Franklin Street, Norwich, Conn. New and Second hand machinery bought and sold on commission.

SADLERY, ETC.

LANE BROS.
Have a
Seven-Foot Delivery Wagon
Which you can turn around in a ten-foot circle.
67—69 Water St.

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF
HORSE SHEETS & LAP ROBES,
AT MODERATE PRICES.
At 115 Main St., J. G. STANDISH.

—IF YOU—
Want money,
Want a cook,
Want boarders,
Want a partner,
Want a situation,
Want a servant girl,
Want to sell a farm,
Want to sell a house,
Want to rent a house,
Want to exchange anything,
Want to sell plants or grain,
Want to sell groceries or drugs,
Want to sell or trade anything,
Want to find customers for anything,
Want to sell or buy horses, mules or cattle,
Advertise
IN THE BULLETIN.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Lee & Osgood. [nov16mthsw

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood.—Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers.—For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters—entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.—Price 50 cts. and $1.00 per bottle at Lee & Osgood's Drugstore. dec1mthsw

It Should Be in Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free Trial Bottles at Lee & Osgood's Drug Store. Large bottles, 50c. and $1.00. dec1mthsw

INSURANCE.

World's Fair Accident Tickets.

$3,000

Insured for 5 days, cost .30

[illegible]

For Sale at STORY'S INSURANCE AGENCY. sep6d

L. and L. and G.

IRVING ROYCE, Agent. aug8d

Norwich Union Fire Ins. Soc'y

Norwich, England, Organized 1797.
H. TARRANT, Agt.
39 MAIN STREET.

[illegible]

—LIABILITIES.—

[illegible]

H. TARRANT, Agent, 39 Main St., Norwich, Conn. apr1d

B. P. LEARNED

Insurance in all Forms.
Bonds of Indemnity.
Foreign Drafts.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Tortoise Shell
COMBS and HAIR ORNAMENTS

A Fine Selection and Lower Prices than Ever Before.

A. B. KINGSBURY. ly20d

MAYERS DYE WORKS,

All kinds of Dyeing promptly done. Bed blankets thoroughly cleansed. Ladies' and Gent's garments dyed in the best possible manner.

Watering Silk a Specialty.

Orders left with J. E. MYERS at Circulating Library, No. 164 Main St will receive prompt attention.

FRESH FLOWER SEEDS.

[illegible]

MRS. S. M. HOWIE, 19 Franklin Street.

Murphy & Blackburn,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS,
37 Franklin Street.

Open day and night. [illegible] may15d

HAVE THAT
Lawn Mower
Put in Good Order
and it will be as good as new. Send it to
M. A. BARBER
Industrial Building, Falls Ave.

FRANK G. SWEET,
Medical and Surgical Nurse,

Graduate from Mills' Training School for Male Nurses, Bellevue Hospital, New York City. Call at 300 or 400 FRANKLIN Street, city. TERMS REASONABLE.

Before Buying Elsewhere,
Call and examine my complete line of new styles of
—WALL PAPERS.—
Lowest Prices.
E. L. GREENE,
Painter, Grainer and Paper Hanger.

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS AT The Bulletin for Job Printing of all kinds [illegible]

The Bulletin.

The Literary Girl.

Girl in hammock
Reading book;
Man comes by and Takes a look.

Girl is anxious
That the man
Think's she's built on Bookish plan.

He's from Boston,
And the gal
Thinks he's intel-Lectual.

Man steps up; ad-
Mires her gown;
Sees the book is Upside down.
—Detroit Free Press.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

QUEER BATHING SUITS FOR GIRLS.

They Were Men's Everyday Clothes, and the Spectators Couldn't Stand It.

In a cozy cottage by the beach at Lake Bluff there dwells this summer a lot of girls. They are not all real rosy faced girls, especially when they came there, for most of them leave the shop and the office only for the two or three weeks that they can get for a vacation at the Chicago working girls' home cottage. But they are clever girls. Their wits have been sharpened by the grind of work. Their sports are light, especially when reveling in an outing. If they came with pale cheeks, they are quite apt to go back to the crowded city with pink ones. And this largely comes about, they say, by tumbling in the invigorating waves of Lake Michigan, which roll within sight and hearing.

Now, a bathing suit is all right, provided a girl has got one. But it costs money. Fathers and big and little brothers are very cheap, though, and very often it is great fun for big and little girls to dress up, even just for home enjoyment, in the coats and trousers of their fathers and brothers. So it occurred to some of these innocent fun loving girls that such untrammeling attire would be a jolly bathing suit. Fun is no sooner proposed than it is accomplished, and when a chattering company of merry girls gathered at the Minnetonka bathing house yesterday, with suspicious looking bundles under their arms, nobody but the girls knew what was going to happen.

But they found out all of a sudden when almost 100 graceful figures clad in coats and trousers ran splashing into the water from the bathhouse. The coats and trousers were none of your dress reform makeshifts, but the real kind that fathers and brothers or some kind friend of the doughty wearers had dedicated to this gentle immersion. While these laughing mermaids felt nothing worse than the chills of Lake Michigan's sturdy temperature to cool their enthusiasm, horror ran hot in the veins of some well meaning elderly persons of short memories and precise opinions who live in the neighboring cottages. They were shocked. It was awful. It must be stopped. So they ran to the agent of the boathouse, and he ran to the water's edge.

"Ladies," he said, "this will not do."

"What'll never do?" from the bathers.

"Why—this—of course—you mustn't think me rude, but I refer to these costumes."

"Never mind the costumes," replied the leader. "We have paid for our bathhouse, and we'll wear what we please. So there, now."

There was a chorus of approvals just as a big wave came and filled open mouths with water, which drove out the bottled up shrieks of mingled delight at the bath and indignation at the interruption. The lonesome man gracefully retired. Then some of the other bathers, solemn and staid, thought it was awful that such goings on be allowed, and they began to withdraw unto themselves on the beach. The confabs grew serious, and the agent was called. It looked like a break in business patronage, and he ordered the girls to leave the beach under penalty of losing their bathhouse.

They did. One by one they staidly walked in single file and bedraggled coats and trousers and sober faces, and disappeared from view. "The mean things!" they all said.—Chicago Cor. Minneapolis Tribune.

A Yankee Woman's Scheme.

Every busy woman these warm days finds that toward evening she has "too much foot in her shoes." The wise of course buy larger shoes in summer than in winter to comfortably provide for the inevitable expansion the feet undergo during the dog days. Laced boots are stylish, but are looked at askance by girls and women who belong to the workaday world, for it requires more time to lace a boot than to button one. The laced shoe is far more comfortable in summer than any other, and the ease it allows the foot fully compensates for the extra time it takes in lacing it up. A Yankee woman who is "doing" New York laces her shoes up loosely in the morning, tying the laces in a double bowknot. In the evening the laces are taut and her shoe fits snugly, but comfortably. The Yankee woman's scheme is worth trying. There is nothing destroys the pain caused by a tight shoe that has to be kept on except the toothache. The greater misery includes and nullifies the less.

A Cape May Bathing Suit.

The combination was the work of a genius. The bodice was of light blue serge, with a complete waistcoat of white linen duck. The deep V cut at the neck was filled with white celluloid, and there was a collar and also cuffs to match. The tie was of loose black silk. The skirt was of the same material as the waist. To complete the picture, the stockings were white, as were the sandals. Her hair was blond and short and was blown hither and thither by the breezes. Her venturesome spirit was embodied in the outfit. She did not tempt the bounding billows to infold the outline in a watery embrace, but wandered about only for exhibition purposes.—Philadelphia Press.

"Society" at Bar Harbor.

The line between "hotelers" and cottagers is very strongly drawn this year. There used to be a distinction between the "mealers" and "roomers," but it was as naught to what now exists. The gulf seems to be almost impassable, and the unfortunate "would be's" who have gone to Bar Harbor in the hope of thus securing an entree next winter will sadly fail in their endeavors.—Cor. Vogue.

A Glimpse of George Sand.

I remember neither the name of the theater nor of the play, only the look of the bright lighted stage and the pretty white house full of spectators. Mrs. Sartoris was using a pair of turquoise eyeglasses, through which she looked about, and presently she whispered to me, "There, to your left, in the box on the first tier." I looked, expecting I know not what, and my first impression was disappointment.

I saw some figures in the box—two men standing at the back and a lady in a front seat sitting alone. She was a stout, middle aged woman, dressed in a stiff watered silk dress, with a huge cameo, such as people then wore, at her throat. Her black, shiny hair shone like polished ebony. She had a heavy red face, marked brows, great dark eyes. There was something—how shall I say it?—rather fierce, defiant and set in her appearance, powerful, sulky. She frightened me a little. "That is George Sand," said Mrs. Sartoris, bending her head and making a friendly sign to the lady with her eyeglasses. The figure also bent its head, but I don't remember any smile or change of that fixed expression.

The contrast struck me the more, for my hostess, as I have said, scarcely needed to speak to make herself understood. Her whole countenance spoke for her even if she was silent. George Sand looked half bored, half far away. She neither lighted up nor awoke into greeting.—Mrs. Ritchie in Macmillan's Magazine.

Jewels at Newport.

American women, as a rule, wear very few jewels in summer. Even at Newport, except on special occasions, such as a Vanderbilt or an Astor entertainment, only solitaire diamonds in the ears, a star for the hair and a brooch or two to catch the laces of the corsage are considered good form. But in London, where the height of the season is at midsummer, the great display of jewels is at drawing rooms and court balls and at dinners and dances among the higher nobility. This season royalties have been so prominently to the front that the blaze of diamonds has been more blinding than ever before, and as the style of wearing the hair has changed very much since last year many ladies have been obliged to alter the setting of their jewels to suit the prevailing mode. Last year the small crown, which exactly fitted the Psyche knob at the back of the head, was universally worn, but this season tiaras have come into favor again, and everybody is expected to possess one.

The latest novelty of course is the white rose brooch, which is an exact copy of the first present given by the Duke of York to his bride and which can now be purchased for a very trifling sum. An American girl would scorn to wear it and would say if she could not have the real thing she preferred to have none at all. But high born English women think differently and have no hesitation whatever about displaying the spurious stones.—Cor. Vogue.

Women In British Trades Unions.

In the way of organization there stand three principal obstacles, backed by the inertia and incapacity of the women themselves. Women workers fear their employers and are intimidated from forming unions. This obstacle is passing away with the prejudice against trade unions generally and does not count for as much as home employment, with its isolation and deplorable conditions. If tenement house labor at the trades could be prohibited and women workers gathered into factories, it would be much easier to bring them into the unions. An amendment is pending to the law governing employers which would go far toward producing this result.

All obstacles could be overcome, however, if it were not for the seeming incapacity for organization of the mass of women workers themselves. They lack the clear sightedness, steadiness of purpose and devotion to the common interest which is the essential of organization. The best hope for the future lies in the combination of men and women. This practice is spreading, and many of the male organizations which have heretofore kept women out are now welcoming them to membership.—Miss E. M. Phillips in Fortnightly Review.

What the World's Fair Teaches.

The most wonderful and suggestive study at the World's fair is not the work of the male brain and hand, but of the feminine. The lesson that it teaches is that the coming man is woman. In fact, she is not merely coming; she has arrived. The new era is not about to dawn for her she has already inaugurated it for herself. She has proved her equality of capacity in nearly every direction. All she asks now is equality of opportunity and equality of reward. She can obtain both of the latter in time by her own efforts, but she ought not to be compelled to wait for what she is entitled to at once. True, woman's rights are exemplified at the fair—the right to work in every field for which she may be qualified on an equality with the male sex. Judged by the progress which the Columbian exposition shows that she has made within the last few decades, man will have to look to his laurels at the next international exhibition that may be held in this country.—Baltimore Sun.

Bedspreads In a New Role.

Country cousins who receive visits from city relations are warned to put their blue and white homespun bedspreads under lock and key. Since these once despised articles became the fashion for portieres—and very effective they are, too, and inspected by artistic taste—country houses are being stripped of them as they were of blue canton ware and mahogany furniture.—Exchange.

Recovered Her Lost Diamond.

A month ago a Baltimore girl lost one of a $1,000 pair of diamond earrings while shopping. The missing ring got tangled in the lace trimmings of a bonnet which traveled all the way to Alabama. The purchaser of the bonnet sent it back.

Stemming Currants.

The suggestion of an exchange about stemming currants has its value to the housekeeper at the present moment. If currants are placed in a flat colander and a small stream of water allowed to run over them from the faucet, the stems can be separated by making a circular motion with the fingers through the currants.

FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

Alice and Her Cubs.

Alice is the big yellow lioness in the park menagerie. She is as big as the biggest lion you ever saw in Barnum's show and very fierce.

This spring Alice had three of the cunningest little lion cubs you ever saw. They were 10 inches long—about as long as a loaf of homemade bread—and as yellow as gold. They had hair very long and very silky, and their pink noses peeped out from under a pair of eyes as yellow as amber beads.

One day Alice was very naughty—naughtier than anything you could imagine if you were to guess ever so long. It was the naughtiest day of her life. And what do you think she did?

Early in the morning, before her keepers were up, this naughty Alice killed one of her cub babies by biting its head off. And before the keepers found her she had eaten it all up and was getting ready to eat the second one. The third cub was way over in a corner of the cage crying as loudly as it could. For fear Alice would eat this one, too, the little baby lion was taken out of the cage and was given to a nice, friendly dog, who took a fancy to it right away and treated it like one of her own family.

Alice was not put to death for killing her babies in this cruel way. But do you not think that something should have been done to show her that this was not a Christian way to treat her little ones?—New York Ledger.

A Little Feller.

Say, Sunday's lonesome for a little feller,
With pop and ma'am a-readin all the while,
An never sayin anything to cheer ye,
An lookin 's if they didn't know how to smile;
With hook an line a-hangin in the wood shed,
An lots o' 'orms down by the outside cellar,
An Brown's creek just over by the milldam—
Say, Sunday's lonesome for a little feller.

Why, Sunday's lonesome for a little feller
Right on from sun up, when the day commences.
For little fellers don't have much to think of,
'Cept chasin gophers 'long the cornfield fences,
Or diggin after moles down in the wood lot,
Or climbin after apples what's got meller,
Or fishin down in Brown's creek an millpond—
Say, Sunday's lonesome for a little feller.

But Sunday's never lonesome for a little feller
When he is stayin down to Uncle Ora's.
He took his book out right out in the orchard,
An told us little chaps just lots o' stories—
All truly true—that happened once for honest,
An one 'bout lions in a sort o' cellar,
An how some angels came an shut their mouths up,
An how they never teched that Dan'l feller.

An Sunday's pleasant down to Aunt Marilda's.
She lets us take some books that some one give her,
An takes us down to Sunday school 'n the schoolhouse,
An sometimes she has nice shortcake for dinner,
An once she had a puddin full o' raisins,
An once a frosted cake all white an yeller.
I think when I stay down to Aunt Marilda's
That Sunday's pleasant for a little feller.
—Michigan Christian Advocate.

A Blind Beggar's Faithful Dog.

A very curious story of a canine musical ear is told of a London organ grinder's dog. The organ grinder was blind and aged, and the dog used to lead him about. One night, after a hard day's work, the old man and his faithful companion lay down to sleep with the organ beside them. They slept soundly, and when they woke the organ was gone.

They were in despair. Their means of earning a living was gone. But the dog led the old man through the streets where he had been accustomed to play, and persons who had given him alms before continued to befriend him.

Weeks went by. One day the old man heard a hand organ played a few feet from him. It reminded him of his lost instrument, but he paid no special attention to it. Hand organs were common in London, and he heard them often.

Not so the dog. He showed signs of excitement, barked violently and led his master in the direction of the organ.

He sprang at the robber's throat, dragged him away from the stolen organ and led his master eagerly up to it with expressions of recognition and delight.—Youth's Companion.

Young Inventors.

Children have taken out a number of profitable patents. The youngest inventor on record is Donald Murray Murphy of St. John, Canada, who at 6 years of age obtained from the United States exclusive rights in a sounding toy. Mabel Howard of Washington at 11 years invented an ingenious game for her invalid brother and got a patent for it. Arthur G. Smith of Richwoods, Ills., at 12 years invented and patented a rowing apparatus.

When only 17 years old, Benjamin F. Hamilton of Boston took out patents on a number of devices for electric and elevated railways. A dispute over a contract which he desired to escape from on the ground of his minority made an interesting case not long ago before the commissioner of patents. Samuel Kar, 18 years old, has patented a self feeding pen. Other boys have invented useful devices for electric signaling, telephoning and cigarette making. George C. Pyle of Wilmington, Del., at the age of 15 patented a machine which turns out 60 horseshoes a minute. He sold it for a sum sufficient to lift the mortgage off his father's house. In fact it was this purpose which inspired him to undertake the task of invention.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

A Maine Boy Catches a Big Fish.

The day is yet to come when the professional angler can beat the record of the small boy with his widely improvised rig. Fred Olmstead, a Caribou lad, 15 years old, now has the record of having caught the largest salmon ever taken out of the Aroostook river with a hook and line. While this young man was fishing Saturday with a cheap pole and using angleworms for bait he hooked a large salmon. He had about 15 yards of linen on a 25 cent reel, and without attempting to "play" the fish he caught the line in his hands and pulled the salmon to the edge of the shore and secured his prize by throwing himself bodily upon him. The salmon weighed 16½ pounds, and the young fellow was almost crazy with delight with his success, as he had a good right to be.—Lewiston Journal.

Excited by Heavy Thunder.

A little 3-year-old Rockland girl awakened by the pealing thunder the other morning exclaimed earnestly, "God has done it now!" "Done what?" questioned her mother. "Why, spilt all his thunder things!" with a pitying compassion in her voice that her mamma was so ignorant.—Bangor Commercial.

Why Grow Old.

I find that if old people are put on a good meat diet in the way of strong soup, beef tea and animal food, and only just sufficient farinaceous food and fats and sugar to maintain the heat of the body, they increase wonderfully in energy and, as they often express it, feel 20 years younger. This is only natural; it is a food of energy—the food that builds up muscle, nerve and constitutional stamina.

The requirements of the system in old age as a rule are not great, and more harm is done by taking too much food than by taking too little. I have known people considerably over 70 to derive the greatest benefit from a thorough change in diet. It seems to rejuvenate them. Of course in old age care should be taken that the body is not subjected to rapid changes of temperature. When the nervous power is decreasing as the result of age and the system is losing its power of combating cold and strain upon its energy, a stimulating diet invigorates and is conducive to maintaining constitutional stamina better than any other.

Any natural death but from old age and general decay is an accidental death—that is, it is due to causes which might, and even perhaps could, have been entirely avoided and remedied in earlier years.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Most Young Men Are Afraid of Babies.

"The average young man," said a traveler, "has no great fondness for young children. I don't know how many times I have heard a mother who was carrying a little child, and who had halted in the aisle of a railroad car say, referring to the vacant seat and addressing the young man by the window, 'Is this seat taken?' And I don't know how many times I have seen the young man's face lengthen as he answered politely, 'No.' The mother takes the seat and the young man begins to grow restless. He reads the paper still, but he keeps his eye on the baby, and you may be sure the baby has its eye on him—a beaming, good natured eye it is, too—and the young man finds it not the easiest thing in the world to appear wholly unconstrained with attention thus drawn to him, but he makes a bluff at it and does pretty well until the infant moistens one chubby fist in its mouth and reaches out to make a print of it on the lapel of the young man's coat. Then the young man rises. 'Madam,' he says, 'let me give you this seat,' and he steps out into the aisle. And he doesn't look for another seat in that car. He makes a bee line for the smoker."—New York Sun.

The Food We Eat.

Hardly a day passes that we do not receive some shock, that we are not asked to give up some favorite dish around which clusters a host of tender early memories, and after eating of which we have for 20 years on and felt ourselves grow fat and childlike and undyspeptic. But the modern hygiene says it must go, and if we retain it on our list we do it in an anxious and guilty mood sure of itself to beget internal trouble.

Seemingly simple things like dry toast, oatmeal and apples we have heard forbidden of late as hard to take care of, and bananas, or, for example, the delicious, but as we supposed deadly, fried bacon cried up as food for babes and sucklings. This is puzzling—it goes against personal experience, it upsets all our dietary plans and pleasures, and it awakens the shrewd suspicion that mere fashion is at the bottom of the change.—Hartford Courant.

Cold Air In Place of Ice.

I predict that 10 years from now the familiar ice wagon will be a novelty upon the streets of a city, so general will have been the adoption of artificial refrigeration. For a long time brewers, pork packers and storage men have been independent of the ice crop, and the introduction of the cold air pipe lines down town has supplanted the use of ice in hotels, restaurants and barrooms except wherein it is desired to make a display of the crystal commodity. In time the distribution of cold air will be as general in cities as is gas or water, and the system will be perfected whereby the refrigerating gas necessary for attachment to a family refrigerator will be delivered in a tank just like carbonated water is to the soda fountains, once a month or as required.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Dueling In France.

Until within a few years dueling in France was so common that 5,000 such encounters were fought every year. The vast majority of these occurred in the army, but in 1890 M. de Freycinet, the minister of war, discouraged the practice and rendered it optional under circumstances in which it had been considered imperative. Among civilians, however, the game goes merrily on, being chiefly sustained by angry politicians or excited journalists. It was calculated in 1886 that since 1870 847 duels had been fought in France outside the army. In only nine instances were any of the combatants disabled, while 98 per cent of those engaged left the field unscathed.—London Tit-Bits.

A Sharp Passage.

The English marriage service was the subject of conversation. Lowe said in his dashing way that it was full of nonsense. "Why," he exclaimed, turning to his wife, "it made me say 'with all my worldly goods I thee endow,' when I had no worldly goods wherewith to endow you."

"Ah, Robert," she replied, "but there were your brains!"

"Well," he said, "all the world knows that I did not endow you with them."—"Life and Letters of Viscount Sherbrooke."

Popular National Songs.

We have a number of songs that seem to lay about equal claims to distinction as national songs. "Star Spangled Banner," "America" and "Columbia" are three of the first class. Then comes "Yankee Doodle," which is unquestionably the song and tune representative of New England, while "Dixie" has just as firm a hold upon the hearts of the southerners.—Chicago News-Record.

Only One Time More.

He—I've asked you three times to marry me. How many more times do you want me to ask you?

She (tenderly)—Only once, and let that once be 20 years hence.—Detroit Free Press.

A Central Sun In the Universe.

Suppose that in the wide extent of the Atlantic ocean there was one individual diatom of a specially interesting character—I do not mean one species with its myriad individuals, but one solitary specimen of a particular microscopic organism, which happened to flourish somewhere or other in the north or south Atlantic ocean at some depth or other from the surface.

Suppose that absolutely nothing further was known as to the whereabouts of this individual object, it might, for anything we could tell, lie beneath a mighty ice floe in the arctic regions; it might be miles deep in the Caribbean sea; it might be basking on the surface in the equatorial regions; it might be tossed in the surf on the shores of St. Helena; it might be floating at the mouth of the Amazon; it might be off the Cape of Good Hope or amid the Antarctic icebergs.

Would any reasonable man who desired to obtain that unique and extraordinary specimen for his collection imagine that if he went down to the coast of Cornwall and lifted a single drop from the Atlantic he would have such inconceivably good fortune as to find in it this rare diatom of which but a single individual existed throughout the millions of cubic miles of water which compose that mighty ocean? Of course the mere statement of such a case is sufficient to show its absurdity. But the improbability that the ardent naturalist would secure the prize in the way I have described is not one whit greater than the improbability that even if there were a central sun it should lie within the domain of our scrutiny.—Sir Robert Ball in Fortnightly Review.

Pleasure In the Heavens.

There is a satisfaction in learning the names and positions of the stars that does not belong to the study of the planets. The stars apparently never change so far as their position relative to each other is concerned. The planets are always moving, and to those who do not watch the heavens with particular attention it is a cause of surprise very often to find a "new star" adorning a certain section of the heavens. If, however, this newcomer be carefully observed from night to night, it will be found to change its distance from the fixed stars, and the observer will discover that it is a planet and at liberty to wander about from place to place under the sole condition that it obeys certain rules of motion. When the bright stars that grace the heavens become familiar to observers, they will know just what to expect on each succeeding season.—New York Times.

Orchids In Guiana.

In paddling up the smaller rivers of Guiana the visitor is struck with the beauty and variety of the orchids and other epiphytes perched on every limb and branch above his head. Coming from a temperate climate, where only mosses, lichens and perhaps a fern or two can live under such circumstances, he sees great arums with rosettes of leaves six or eight feet in diameter, crowded groups of hard leaved tillandsias, mistletoelike bunches of rhipsalis, orchids, ferns and mosses, all struggling for places where they can find room to enjoy life and propagate their species.

In the dense gloom of the forest, where the branches interlace with each other, they cannot secure enough light, but wherever the continuity is broken by river or savannah the trees on the borders are decorated with a wealth of these interesting plants. From the river nothing but a sloping bank of foliage is visible, but by paddling through the outer screen which comes down into the water, a very pretty scene is revealed overhead. Although the direct rays of the sun are shut out, there is generally sufficient light for the epiphytes, and here they give quite a festive appearance to what would otherwise be a tangle of bare limbs and branches.

Protect the Eye From Foreign Bodies.

Never needlessly expose the eye to foreign particles, but when necessary wear plain glasses or goggles. When experimenting with chemicals, always turn the mouth of the tube or bottle away from the face and eyes. Whenever an eye is injured severely, says the hygienic doctor, place the patient immediately in a dark room and under the care of a skilled physician, whose directions must be implicitly followed.

The foreign bodies may be solids, as sand, cinders, hair, dirt, etc., lime, acids or alkalis. [illegible]

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

N. S. GILBERT & SONS.

Large and Complete Line
FINE CARPETS AND FURNITURE
ARTISTIC WALL PAPER
At Reduced Prices.

SPECIAL SALE.

Large Art Carpets and Rugs
$15.00 Art Squares for $10.00.
Other sizes in proportion.

Japanese Rugs and Mats.
$35.00 Japanese Carpets for $30.00.
$12.00 Japanese Rugs for $8.00.
$4.00 Japanese Rugs for $2.75.

Remnant Axminster and Body Brussels
75c. to $1.00 Per Yard.
Quantities, 1 1-8 Yards to 30 Yards

Parties Wishing
FURNITURE,
CARPETS OR
WALL PAPER,
Will find it to their advantage to call and examine our Large Stock.

That we are offering at Low Prices.

BILLIARD and POOL TABLES
— FOR SALE BY —
J. J. COATES, 75 West Main St.
Supplies of all kinds constantly on hand. Repairing done.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Swellings in the Neck

Grateful for Permanent Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough. For twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula and swelling of the glands in the neck. I consulted several physicians and took many medicines. My neck was also operated upon at the Mount Sinai Hospital, but this did not give me any permanent improvement. One day I read in a paper about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and on trying a bottle I found it was doing me good, so I took two bottles more. The swelling has entirely disappeared, and I am as healthy as anyone in the city. Anyone who should see my picture two years ago and now, would notice marked improvement." THOMAS FAHRENKOPF, 25 Willett St., New York city.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

HOOD'S PILLS cure Constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Profit Is Nothing

But a Memory Today.

It is too late in the season to think of profit, we think of loss.
Hats reduced to less than cost, Both trimmed and untrimmed.

Trimmed Hats at 98c.

Cost or value no consideration.

RIBBONS.

All styles, colors, widths, 5c, 10c a yard.

Untrimmed Hats 10c, 25c.

Don't have to talk much about them. At our prices are going like ice cream on a warm day.

New York Bazaar.

112 MAIN ST.

REDUCTION
In Ladies' Suits and Shirt Waists.

We have a few of our First and Second Quality of Ladies' Serge Suits which we will close at the following prices: $6.00 and $7.95. We guarantee them to be the best VALUE EVER offered in Norwich. We have also a few wash and other suits that we have marked very low. Our Fine Shirt Waists we have marked less than cost, as they must be sold.

Ladies' Navy Blue and Black Blazers regardless of cost to close, at

A. McJENNETT'S, 44 Main St

MILLINERY.
Hats, Bonnets, Fancy Ribbons, Laces and Flowers
—AT—
MRS. G. P. STANDISH'S,
No. [illegible] Street.

TROY STEAM LAUNDRY,
Goods called for and delivered free of charge. Lace Curtains and all Fine Work warranted to give satisfaction.
145 Little Water St.
Family Washing at special rates.

Complete Manhood
AND HOW TO ATTAIN IT.

A medical work that tells the causes, describes the effects, points the remedy. Scientifically the most valuable, artistically the most beautiful medical book ever published; 96 pages, every page bearing a half-tone illustration in tints. Subjects treated: Nervous Debility, Impotency, Sterility, Development, Varicocele, The Husband, Those Intending Marriage, etc.

Every man who would know the Grand Truths, the Plain Facts, the Old Secrets and New Discoveries of Medical Science as applied to Married Life, who would atone for past follies and avoid future pitfalls, should write for this WONDERFUL LITTLE BOOK.

It will be sent free, under seal, while the edition lasts. Address the publishers, ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ENVELOPES
—AT—
40C. PER THOUSAND.

They are suitable for church or manufacturers' purposes.

COME AND GET SOME BEFORE THEY ARE GONE.

The Bulletin Co.,
NORWICH, CONN.

NORWICH MORNING BULLETIN.

Established 1858.

NORWICH WEEKLY COURIER.

Established 1798.

Subscription rates, MORNING BULLETIN—By mail or carrier, $6 a year; $1.50 a quarter; 50 cents a month; 15 cents a week. Single copies 2 cents.

Subscription rates, WEEKLY COURIER—50 cents a year; 25 cents for six months in advance. Single copies 2 cents.

THE MORNING BULLETIN (Six Pages) is the largest, oldest and most complete morning paper published in Eastern Connecticut. At $6 a year it is also the cheapest.

THE WEEKLY COURIER (Eight Pages) is the best weekly issued in Eastern Connecticut.

Advertising rates furnished on application to the business office. No editorial directory put inserted in either paper.

